CHILDREN IN COURT

Judge Malcolm Hatfield.

A young man who recently returned from visiting relatives in a city where a labor dispute was in progress today learned in court that the world did not owe him a living.

When apprehended in the act of burglarizing a gasoline station, he suddenly informed officers that it was no sin to rob a large oil company. In this particular instance, years of splendid home training were cast aside after an adolescent boy had witnessed the violence and hatreds that accompanied the labor dispute. The sons of rich and poor alike should be carefully shielded from such scenes for they not only cause youngsters to act in an anti-social manner but tend to stimulate class hatreds.

OUR NEIGHBORS

STOCKBRIDGE—It has been about 20 years since a wind storm of much importance has hit Stockbridge, but last Friday at noon a deluge of water accompanied by a wind that was little short of a cyclone passed over the town, uprooting trees and scattering limbs all over the streets. A great many people took refuge in their cellars (if there wasn't too much water coming in the cellar windows, as was the case at the printing office). A tree about seven inches through in front of our office was uprooted, missing the editor's car by a few feet. A huge tree back of Miss Chappel's studio was uprooted, and happened to miss the house. Bert Snyder reported every shade tree in his yard down. A huge tree came down, just missing Bert Park's house and landing where he had always been in the habit of leaving his automobile. Telephone lines were down in several places, and a few small buildings were blown down. At the Ackley farm southeast of town, the barn was blown across the road, and nine apple trees uprooted. —Brief-Sun.

SALINE—Rev. F. I. Blanchard died on Sunday, June 6 at his home in Denver. He is survived by his wife and a brother, C. J. Blanchard of San Francisco, Calif.—Observer. Rev. Blanchard was a former minister of the Chelsea Baptist church.

LONG-TERM SERVICE RECORD
A personal survey, just completed by Michigan Bakeries, Inc., reveals that 51 employees have been with that company continuously for upwards of 10 years.

Approximately 25 of the Michigan Bakeries' employees have been with the company over 20 years, the survey also discloses.

The summer months of this year mark the 25th anniversary of a substantial number of Michigan Bakeries' employees, which occasions customarily will be observed by special dinners honoring the veteran employees.

In keeping with many such testimonial occasions in the history of Michigan Bakeries, Inc., these honored employees will be presented generous gifts by the company in recognition for long-time and faithful service.

"Our company is proud of its employment record," Percy Owen, president of Michigan Bakeries, Inc. commented. "We believe it proves our policy, in effect since the beginning of this company, of encouraging and fostering a spirit among our employees of self-betterment and following this up with promotions whenever and wherever possible. The record of hundreds within our company is that of having started in at a minor job and later on having attained, through company recognition of efficiency and service, to more responsible and better-paying jobs."

Habits of Swan Family
Swans are not reared extensively in this country but are favorite ornamental birds in England. The female makes her nest of sticks and rubbish near water, in which she lays from six to eight large greenish white eggs and hatches them in about six weeks.

State Law Forbids Use of Luminous Plugs

Lansing—The use by fishermen of the new-style luminous casting plugs or any other type of artificially-lighted lure is illegal in Michigan.

That is the opinion of the Attorney General here, given at the request of the department of conservation.

A transparent casting plug, lighted from the inside by a small battery and bulb, has been introduced by a tackle manufacturer, and is being advertised in sportsmen's magazines this year.

Under a literal interpretation of Michigan's fishing laws, which forbid the use of artificial light in taking game fish, this plug cannot legally be used in this state.

The law also specifically forbids the possession of artificial light for use in taking of game fish.

GRANDFATHER'S CLOCK

My grandfather's clock was too tall for the shelf.
So it stood ninety years on the floor;
It was taller by half than the old man himself.
Tho it weighed not a pennyweight more.

It was bought on the morn of the day
That he was born,
And was always his pleasure and pride;
But it stopped short, never to go again.

When the old man died.
In watching the pendulum swing to and fro,
Many hours had he spent while a boy;
And in childhood and manhood the clock seemed to know,
And to share both in woe and in joy;
For it struck twenty-four when he entered the door.

With a beautiful young blooming bride,
But it stopped short, never to go again.

When the old man died.
Ninety years without slumbering—
Tick-tock, tick-tock,
His life seconds numbering—
Tick-tock, tick-tock,
But it stopped short, never to go again.

When the old man died.
It rang an alarm in the dead of the night,
An alarm which for years had been dumb;
We knew that his spirit was taking its flight.

That the hour of departure had come;
Still the clock kept the time with a soft and muffled chime.
As we silently stood by his side;
But it stopped short, never to go again.

When the old man died.
Ninety years without slumbering—
Tick-tock, tick-tock,
His life seconds numbering—
Tick-tock, tick-tock,
But it stopped short—never to go again.

When the old man died.

Mound Builders Made Salt

The mound builders, forerunners of the Indians, manufactured salt from natural brine springs.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—What is the meaning of aste, and how is it pronounced?

Ans.—Aste is a kind of wine of the Burgundy type. It is called aste because it is made in Asti in northern Italy. The word is pronounced ah-ste, with accent on the first syllable.

Ques.—Are acorns good to eat?

Ans.—Yes. Acorns are an important article of human diet in various parts of the world.

Ques.—When was the President's salary raised from $50,000 to $75,000 a year? And what President was first to benefit by the raise?

Ans.—The law to make the President's salary $75,000 instead of $50,000 was passed by the 60th Congress in 1909. That was during Theodore Roosevelt's administration. As the Constitution prohibits the raising or lowering of the president's salary during his administration the law did not take effect until Taft, who succeeded Roosevelt, was inaugurated President.

Ques.—What is the largest lake in the world?

Ans.—Lake Superior is the largest freshwater lake in the world, with 32,000 square miles.

Ques.—Does Father Coughlin's Social Justice proclaim that the United States should own all banks?

Ans.—No. The sixth point of his 16 points demands the abolition of the 12 Federal Reserve Banks and the establishment of one government-owned Central Bank, and all other banks to be privately owned.

Ques.—When did Spain adopt the republican form of government?

Ans.—Spain was proclaimed a republic on April 14, 1931, and on that same day King Alfonso XIII and the royal family sailed for France as self-imposed exiles.

Ques.—Do the Turks still wear gaudy colored clothes and the red fez?

Ans.—No. The national costume of the Turks was abolished shortly after that country turned down the monarchy and became a republic. They now wear clothes like all other European nations. However, the manufacturers of the gaudy-colored clothes, which was the national costume, were compensated by the government for the loss of their business.

Ques.—How long has Lindbergh been flying, and how many miles has he covered?

Ans.—Col. Charles Lindbergh has been flying about fourteen years, and in that time has flown more than 600,000 miles. Also he has landed in more American cities and more foreign ports than any other pilot living or dead.

Ques.—Is the average American family of today larger than the average family in colonial days?

Ans.—No. The average American family is approximately 25 per cent smaller than the families of colonial times.

Ques.—Isn't it just hard to be poor?

Ans.—It might be bad, but we think it's darned easy to be poor.

Ques.—Before the advent of rubber what was used for erasers?

Ans.—Before rubber was discovered for that purpose bread-crumbs were used to erase pencil marks.

Ques.—Did Admiral Byrd's discoveries at the South Pole give the United States a claim to Antarctica?

Ans.—Yes. International law recognizes discovery as the prime test of ownership. Charles Wilkes, an American, is generally credited with the first sight of land in what is now known as Antarctica. The discoveries of Admiral Byrd he made on his expeditions simply strengthens the claim of the United States.

Ques.—What kind of wood is used in building airplanes?

Ans.—Most of the wood used in airplanes, pontoons and life preservers is balsa wood. This is taken from a tropical American tree, the wood of which is lighter than cork. However, it must be treated with preservatives, as it decays rapidly in its natural state.

MASON—One of the most modern buildings in the world is located here in Mason. It is the office and hospital building being completed by Dr. Joseph C. Ponton on Park street. Glass brick is used in the construction. The lighting fixtures are the latest word, every room is air-conditioned, the heating plant is the latest development in hot water systems. Doctors, builders and other interested people come many miles to inspect the new building. There are bigger buildings elsewhere. There are few containing more modern fittings anywhere. —County News.

Electric Waves From Brain

Simple Tombstones Used

for the Kings of Egypt
Kings of Egypt from the first dynasty, almost 3400 B. C., had round-topped stelae—the familiar tombstone shape—included in their simple tombs, with inscriptions on them.

Then came the age of giant pyramid tombs for Egypt's kings. The pharaohs who planned their pyramids with keenest interest included in the rooms a place or places where the faithful living could go to put offerings for the dead. These offerings, explains a writer in Science Service, would be deposited on an offering-table and let down into the ground before a niche inscribed under the owner's name and titles. And the niche was so shaped that archeologists call it a "false door." For through this fake doorway, never intended to swing open to human touch, the spirits of the dead kings were supposed to pass, when they returned from the realm of the dead to eat and enjoy the offerings.

Later in Egypt, the common man copied kings and began to provide cautiously for his own welfare in the future world.

His tomb was relatively small and simple, but the false door of the old Kingdom had survived in the guise of a tombstone or stela set up to mark his resting place.

PRIMARY FUND BENEFITED BY TELEPHONE CO. TAX PAYMENT

Michigan's public school system benefited on Wednesday, June 30 through the payment into the primary school fund by the Michigan Bell Telephone Company of one-half of the Company's state property tax bill of $2,624,092.47. The remaining half, to be paid by November 1, also will go into the primary school fund. A check for $1,312,046.24, for the first half, was handed to State Auditor General George T. Gundry at Lansing by Frank L. Hall, tax attorney for the Michigan Bell.

The Michigan Bell Company makes the largest payment into the primary school fund, from which tax money paid the state by this and other utility companies is returned each year to the 85 counties of the state in proportion to the school population of each, thus going directly into local school channels.

Payment of the Michigan Bell's total tax bill for 1936, to the State, Federal Government, and various municipalities, amounting in all to $4,429,000, requires the net earnings from 174,000 telephones, or almost one-third of the average number the company had in service during the year. The tax amounts to $7.91 for each telephone in service. The company's total tax bill is divided as follows: To the State of Michigan, property tax, $2,624,000; other Michigan State taxes, $107,000; to the Federal Government, $1,666,000; to others, principally municipalities for taxes on property that is not at present devoted to the operation of the business, $32,000.

Applying the average "tax per telephone", $7.91, locally, would mean that approximately $4,564 of the amount telephone users in Chelsea paid for telephone service last year is required by the Michigan Bell Company in meeting its tax bill. The company operated an average of 577 telephones here last year.

Under the Michigan law, telephone companies, and telegraph, express, railway, and car-loaning companies pay taxes to the state, in lieu of local taxes, on property and plant used and useful in conducting their businesses.

Dogs Look Like Monkeys
Not only do Affenpinscher dogs look like monkeys, they resemble simians in certain mannerisms. They walk with their hind quarters close to the floor, climb almost as well as monkeys and screech excitedly when agitated.

It has often been said, and in this column, too, that accidents do not happen.

The cause of any particular accident may be attributed to a careless driver, to a pedestrian, to a defect in the highway, to a mechanical defect, to hazardous weather conditions, or to a combination of a number of these factors.

Yearly statistics, as prepared by all states and bureaus, indicate that the human element is the outstanding cause. The driver of the automobile is usually the cause of all the trouble.

When the actions of drivers have been carefully checked according to the statistics given in recent years, it is found that two-out of every three accidents involve mistakes by drivers. Excessive speed caused 7,240 deaths in 1935. Driving on the wrong side of the road caused another 3,940 deaths, and so on.

We are to blame—not the machine!

TO A MERRY LITTLE GIRL
by Lawrence Hawthorne

Oh, little girl with eyes of blue
And heart so merry, kind and true,
May each glad hour bring joy to you
And fill your world with cheer!

May all the little folks you meet
In home and school, in park and street,
Find you unselfish, thoughtful, sweet
Each day through all the year.

May you help others learn to play;
And may you scatter sunshine gay.
Along life's busy, happy way,
And hold your friendships dear.

Horses To Be Tested at Farmers' Day Program

A new type of endurance contest for horses is to be the opening feature of the annual Farmers' Day program which will attract thousands of farmers and their families to Michigan State College on Friday, July 30.

In the annual view of better farming which rural businessmen of Michigan will get on the campus and farms, all of the agricultural departments of the college will offer demonstrations and information. Tests, research, new methods and new knowledge of fruit, grain, forage crops, pastures and truck crops, livestock, forestry, veterinary, agricultural engineering, soils and entomology are to be a part of the morning program.

This endurance test for horses, as announced by Ralph Hudson, farm superintendent, offers opportunity to any team in Michigan to match its heart and willingness against one good college pair of sorrel Belgian geldings.

The college animals are not trained specially for contest pulling. Although they weigh 3,000 pounds, any team of any weight has a good chance in this contest, which will be run from 10 to 10:30 a. m. to start the annual program.

Even a pair of light mustangs, if in good condition may win the endurance trophy offered by the Michigan Horse Breeders' association. Each team, of any weight, will pull a load of half the team's weight. The winning team will be the one that goes the best distance in the trials.

Hudson has set Wednesday, July 21 as the closing date for entries. He suggests training any entries by giving them pulls on a stoneboat. After departmental programs, there is to be a central program in the afternoon in the center of the landscaped part of the campus.

Law's Enforcement
Brings Its Repeal

Abraham Lincoln once said: "The best way to get an unpopular law repealed is to enforce it." Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, apparently feels the same way, and one of the acts of the recently adjourned legislature proved Lincoln was right. The law authorizing the Secretary of State to collect a $25 investigation fee for every car bought out-of-state for registration in Michigan, was repealed by a bill passed during the last day of the 1937 regular session. Case had favored the bill repealing the two year old law.

Figures of the Department of State show that during the first six months of 1937, investigation fees collected totaled $7,050, in contrast with collections for the first six months of 1936, during the previous administration, when $775 was collected on this account.

The law was passed to protect border motor car dealers from losses occasioned through evasion of the state's retail sales tax. The so-called "use-tax" act of the last session, if not found to be legally faulty, will afford similar protection; it provides, in effect, for collection of a 3 percent sales tax on all goods bought out-of-state, for use or consumption in Michigan.

"Hanging Stones" May Be Work of the Phoenicians

There are "hanging stones" or Stonehenges in Southern America and Southern Africa, all believed to be the work of the Phoenicians, whose city, Atlantis, lies, so we suppose, beneath the waters of the Atlantic. So it is possible that Stonehenge and other similar temples were erected by people of the Phoenician Empire, who were sun-worshippers and members of a great civilization, states a correspondent in Pearson's London Weekly.

After the destruction of Atlantis, it is thought that the Venetians descended from the Phoenicians, for the names are remarkably similar. Stranger still is the fact that the people of Biddulph Moor, in Staffordshire, are "different." Their red-gold hair and straight features seem to prove that they do not come from the native stock.

It is said that, centuries ago, a Lord of Biddulph engaged Venetian stone-masons to build a church, and they settled down in the district and formed a colony, so it is possible that those living on Biddulph Moor are descendants of those Venetian masons. It has been said that the Phoenicians were a race of people with red-gold hair and fair, straight features, so that if all this is true, there is the startling possibility that descendants of the inhabitants of the Lost City of Atlantis are living in England.

Making of "Puns" Old Form

The making of "puns" is an ancient form of wit. Aristophanes and Cicero employed it.

Sources of Tea
The botanical plant from which all tea comes has been grown on every continent on the globe, including even the United States, and is successfully produced in 23 countries. Only nine nations, however, produce it in marketable quantities and it is from these nine countries that the bulk of the world's supply comes. Although China is the world's largest producer of tea, the local consumption in China is so heavy that exports of Chinese tea are much smaller than the exports of many other countries. Below China, in order of production, come India, Ceylon, Java, Sumatra, Japan, Formosa, Indo-China and sections of Africa.
Grenada, Famous Island
Grenada, the most southerly island of the Windward group of islands, is as individually British as Martinique is French. St. George's, the port of call, was for nearly two centuries named "City of Conception." It was there that Columbus, in 1498, discovered the queer inhabitants recorded in his diary as the "unusual race," and later called the people of Caribs. On the island are over 5,000 descendants of the native Caribs. In the St. Vincent district they form a distinct peasantry by their odd dwellings, habits and language.
Terminilla, a Festival
Terminilla was an ancient Roman festival held annually in honor of Terminus, the god of boundaries. Neighbors on adjoining lands met at the boundary stones and there united in offering sacrifices, after which they feasted, danced and played games.

True Courage

WHAT is courage? Many people like to be considered brave, but there is a difference between mere physical bravery and true courage. Alexander Pope, the renowned English poet, gives his concept of a brave man in these words: "A brave man thinks no one his superior who does him an injury; for he has it then in his power to make himself superior to the other by forgiving it."

Courage it takes courage to forgive an injury, but if the sense of forgiveness should be overshadowed by a belief in one's own superiority,
the act of forgiving could in no wise be termed courageous. It certainly would fall far short of the standard set by Christ Jesus, who said (Matthew 5:44), "Love your enemies,
bless them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you." This admonition calls for true courage, for it requires humility and selflessness to meet its requirements.

Christ Jesus was the most courageous man that ever walked the earth because he was the meekest and most selfless. Never did he hesitate to say or do what he knew to be right, and always his speech and actions were prompted by unselfed love. He rebuked sinners unhesitatingly, and he sacrificed his human sense of life to show them the way of salvation. His ministry of healing and teaching stands for all time as the acme of selfless devotion to sin-burdened and suffering humanity. He was absolutely convinced of the truth of all that he said and taught, and neither threats nor efforts to destroy him could swerve him from his convictions or make him fearful. He urged his followers to do as he did, and thereby earned the hatred of selfish materialists. He knew, however, that immeasurable blessings would flow to all who should courageously and understandingly obey his admonitions.

In the world today there are many millions of professed Christians, but alas, too much diversity of opinion concerning the teachings and words of the master Christian. Why should this be so when Jesus so clearly mapped out the course to be taken by his true followers? They were to do the works that he did, works of healing as well as regeneration; they were to practice self-denial; they were to promote love and peace throughout the world; and they were in all circumstances to put their trust, not in material things, but in God. And, said he (Matthew 7:20), "By their fruits"—their accomplishments along such lines—"ye shall know them."

Courage of the right sort is sorely needed in the world today; the moral courage to subdue self, to be humble, pure-minded, free from resentment, ready to return good for evil.
Such courage is a rebuke to animal courage, of which there is a superfluity. Concerning this, the Discover and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, states in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (pp. 28, 29): "There is too much animal courage in society,
and not sufficient moral courage.
Christians must take up arms against error at home and abroad. They must grapple with sin in themselves and in others, and continue this warfare
until they have finished their course.
If they keep the faith, they will have the crown of rejoicing."

This much-to-be desired crown should not be considered as something to be hoped for in some future existence, but as a joyous sense of harmony and spiritual dominion to be striven for and attained here and now. It requires real courage to win and wear this crown, courage to stand firmly on the side of Principle against selfish desires, and oftentimes against the scoffs of sinners.

There is nothing more ennobling
than courageously forsaking material beliefs for spiritual understanding,
for this transition requires humility and unselfed love. Also, it affords deep satisfaction to know that whatever is accomplished through courage born of unselfed love, blesses not only the individuals directly concerned, but, some degree, all mankind as well. —The Christian Science Monitor.

First came the original bill sponsored by the governor, drafted by his legal adviser with the aid of the attorney general's office. Labor objected to a requirement of mediation before the right to strike, so a substitute bill was brought out of the house-labor committee with the governor's personal endorsement. This measure swung to the other extreme, in the opinion of employers.

The senate sought a compromise through three democrats and three republicans and a separate substitute
bill emerged for the house substitute bill. Passed by the Senate, the new substitute bill went to the House where laborites protested loudly.

It was about 1:30 a. m., June 26—
90 minutes after technical adjournment—that the fourth bill arrived from Murphy's office with the blessing of the A. F. of L. It was later that morning when the new bill was finally passed by both the house and the senate. A threatened house revot was averted by Speaker George Schroeder who proclaimed the measure to be as near ideal as Michigan
legislators could make it.

The C. I. O. Objects
While the American Federation of Labor approved the setup for peaceful picketing—really the heart of the new bill—the Committee on Industrial Organization has announced vigorous objection. What is liberal to the A.
F. of L. is reactionary to the C. I. O.

All of which merely proves that labor is in disagreement over policies and principles.

Murphy has refused repeatedly to require compliance with state law, as contrasted with the democratic governors of Ohio and Indiana. He has been consistently friendly with labor
in its struggle for new power.

If he signs the new labor relations
bill over the protest of the U. A. W.
and the Conference for Protection of Civil Rights, mass picketing of plants
by non-employees will become illegal.
(The Monroe incident would, have been a violation of law.) The C. I. O.

thus will find its greatest weapon
suddenly taken away by the state.
As the final bill was passed only through his personal pleadings, Murphy is again at the crossroads.

Weather Is News
Southern Michigan is mired from heavy rainfalls. Rivers have been pouring flood waters into nearby lowlands. Vegetable gardens are a disappointment, as crops rot in the wet ground. Rain and hot sunning in too close succession have ruined much of the celery crop.

Up-state, however, farmers have been complaining of drought. Cloudy skies but no rain has been the rule.

The combination bids well to assure higher prices for the consuming public next fall and winter.
