US-12 Determination Expected This Week

Preliminary condemnation proceedings to obtain land needed for completion of the US-12 wider highway between Ann Arbor and Jackson were completed last Wednesday at the court house in Ann Arbor, after a two-hour hearing. State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner will await receipt of the recommendations of T. Thane Bauman, of the land and title division of the state highway department, who conducted the condemnation proceedings, before making public the findings of the hearings. The report is expected this week.

Mr. Bauman's recommendations will cover two points: Whether there is sufficient necessity for the highway department to justify the state's relocation and condemnation of the necessary land; and the amounts to be offered property owners whose lands are affected by the proposed rerouting of the highway. The next step will be for the highway department to tender payment of the amounts determined as a result of the hearing, and should any property owner refuse to accept the check, their cases would be taken into probate court, where a three-member commission would be appointed to appraise the land involved. Only three witnesses testified at the hearing, all of whom are connected with the state highway department.

An appeal from the commissioner's decision if he favors the relocation,
and the case would be taken to circuit court. A meeting of farmers and business men of this vicinity was held at Kolb's hall Wednesday afternoon to consider what action will be taken if the state plans to go ahead with the condemnation of land.

Boy Scouts Have Full Program of Activities

The Council office of the Washtenaw-Livingston Boy Scouts has announced a series of activities covering the next few months which will mean busy hours for Scouts and leaders. Included among them are a trip which many troops are planning to take on Saturday, September 25, to the state capital, spending the afternoon as the guests of Michigan State College to witness the Michigan
State-Wayne football game.

Scouts will assist in the ushering
at the stadium in Ann Arbor on October 2 and 16, November 6 and 20.
Scouts and leaders from groups in Washtenaw and Livingston counties will participate in this service.
Other events of unusual interest include a conference for patrol leaders and other key boys in Scouting to be held at the Newkirk Reservation near Dexter on October 8 and 9.
Later in October a Sunday afternoon and evening program and supper will be given at Camp Newkirk
for Scoutmasters and their ladies.

The Order of the Arrow Camp Honor Society is planning its annual autumn encampment to be held at Camp Newkirk on Thanksgiving week-end.

STUDY CLUB OPENS SEASON

The Child Study Club opened the year's activities with a meeting on Tuesday evening at the summer home of Mrs. Martha Schable, Cavanaugh Lake, taking the form of a pot luck supper and hamburger fry. Fifteen members and one visitor were present. The new president, Mrs. Jean Eaton, opened the meeting by reading a Diagram for Home-Making.
This was followed by a short business session.

A reading, "Are Parents Necessary?" by John Anderson, was given by Mrs. Matilda Hinderer.
"Give the Boy a Chance," by George Sokolaky, was read by Mrs. Lois Palmer.

The program closed with a book review on "And So Victorious," by Wilkins, given by Mrs. Eaton.

FROST DAMAGES GARDENS

Cheelsea and vicinity was visited by a frost on Monday night. Several people report that their garden produce and flowers had been frosted.

Lansing—This week-end brings the deadline for action by local legislative bodies on sale of liquor by the glass. Midnight Saturday (Sept. 18) affords the final opportunity for localizing hard drinks by municipal council vote.

Extent of the state legislature's liberalizing act is just coming to a focus. According to Lawrence D. Ra-hilly, acting secretary of the Liquor Control Commission, the trend of Michigan communities is distinctly "wet." In fact, he forecasts an increase of approximately 150 per cent in the number of townships, villages and cities which are permitting sale of hard liquor in "restaurants or hotels" for the first time since the previous referendums, years ago.

The state capital city, Lansing, favors its present policy of permitting
the serving of only beer and wines.
The city council voted three-to-one against a proposed change.

Increased revenues from the state's monopoly of liquor are expected to follow the spread of wet areas in Michigan. The commission is planning a step-up in liquor prices this fall.

"Second Dillinger"

Capture of Al Brady's "Second Dillinger" gang is the immediate objective of state police forces in Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Kentucky. Leaders met at Indianapolis and mapped plans for coded radio messages and emergency interstate highway blockades.

The Indianapolis conference is considered an effective answer to the charge of J. Edgar Hoover, head of the G-men, that the Indiana state police captain was "not cooperating" with federal operatives who are leading the Brady manhunt. Hoover's statement led to the resignation of the Indiana official.

Michigan's state police commissioner, Oscar G. Olander, preaches cooperation with all the fervor of a farm bureau organizer. Whereas jealousies formerly thrived between local law enforcing authorities and the state troopers, friendly teamwork
has been established in Michigan.
"Horse and buggy" conditions have been outmoded by speedy automobiles
and wide highways.

Public Enemy No. 1

America's foremost motor-minded
state is Michigan.

There is no speed limit on its highways.

The fact that automobile accidents
during the first seven months of 1937 showed an increase of 30 per cent over the corresponding period of 1936 constitutes a shameful record—one which has induced state authorities to seek drastic remedial steps.

"Something must be done," insists

Counties Get Final Payment for Highways

Lansing—The state highway department vouchered $1,890,393 to the counties this week as the final payment of the year under the McNitt law abolishing township roads.

Five counties were not included in the list to which current returns were vouchered by reason of their failure to file satisfactory reports to the department covering the purposes for which this money was spent last year.
Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner said the returns will be held up pending the receipt of satisfactory reports as prescribed by law.

McNitt law returns are used by the counties for the maintenance of the 62,200 miles of roads that formerly comprised the township road system.
They are now under the jurisdiction of the county road commissions.

Commissioner Van Wagoner said
that current payments increase the total returns to the counties this year from highway revenues to $22,536,- 274. Previous returns embraced $4,- 550,000 from gasoline tax revenues and $16,086,881 from weight tax collections.

Current returns included $38,453.11
for Washtenaw county and $25,594.65
for Jackson county.

CLARENCE TRINKLE INJURED

Thursday forenoon at his home in Lima township, when he was attacked by a brood sow, which he was trying to separate from her pigs. His face, arm and hand were bitten before he could extricate himself from the animal. He was treated at the office of a local physician.

Young Man Killed By Train Friday Evening

An unidentified young man, between 20 and 25 years of age, was instantly killed Friday night when he threw himself in front of the 11:15 westbound freight train near the Michigan Central depot here.

The man had been noticed about town during the evening and appeared to be acting queerly. Later, when Howard Oesterle learned that he had molested his little brother, he started after the stranger, running toward the depot. As the train approached, the man jumped in front of it, grasping the rail with one hand and Oesterle, who attempted to pull him from the tracks barely missed being crushed beneath the engine himself.

The man's body was cut in two by the wheels of the locomotive. Deputy William Atkinson was called to the scene but could find no papers on the body that would identify the guide.
Fingerprints were taken by sheriff's officers in an effort to establish identification. The remains were taken to the Staffan funeral home, Ann Arbor.

Secondary Road Funds Set Up for Counties

Lansing—Minimum allocation of secondary road construction funds for the 83 Michigan counties were set up this week by State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner.

Under the secondary road program, $1,196,910 will be available to the counties during the next two years for construction on county roads. The counties, however, must match these allocations to qualify for this work.

The state highway department is allotted $420,502 from the Federal government for construction on secondary trunklines under the same two-year program. It likewise must match available funds.

The minimum allocations accompanied by questionnaires and additional information on the program will be mailed by Commissioner Van Wagoner this week to the county road commissions. They will be given until December 1 to notify the department as to their ability to match available funds. The commissioner pointed out that this deadline would permit the commissions to confer with their boards of supervisors over the program.

Allocations that will not be matched for one reason or another will go into a fund for later redistribution, the commissioner said. The allocations set up by the commissioner today are based upon the population, area, and county road mileage in the various counties. This is similar to the formula that is used in awarding Federal Aid funds to the states.

"This is the start," the commissioner commented, "on a future statewide and continuous system of secondary roads. In submitting projects on this program to the Bureau the state highway commissioner must certify that they will be a part of such a system.
The road that is not a connecting link in such a system will not qualify for improvement."

Commissioner Van Wagoner said
that he anticipated bids can be taken on the projects this winter and construction started early next spring.
The state highway department will award the contracts upon the approval of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads and the affected county road commissions.

Minimum allocation for Washtenaw county is $16,086.00 and for Jackson county, $17,976.00.

UNITED CLUB MEETS

velt, Bridgewater and Dexter. John Bradbury was elected president, to arrange for the 1938 reunion, which will be held at the home of Mr. and

THIEVES ENTER SCHOOL

Culprits entered the school house in the Freer district over the week-end, stealing a number of pens, pencils, a camera and other articles. It is thought they gained entrance through a window. Officers of the district are making an effort to apprehend the petty thieves, being anxious to stop such actions, as this was not the first time it has happened in that district.

CHILDREN IN COURT

Judge Malcolm Hatfield

A young mother who shielded her son in everything recently proved the means of laying a foundation for a delinquent career.

Her first step started years ago when she wrote an excuse to the teacher after Junior had played truant. It didn't take long for the budding youth to reason that mother could always be counted on to protect him. Consequently, his activities expanded until he reached an age where the law was forced to step in and take over the training and discipline which the parents had been unable to administer.

A few words to parents. Schools are again starting all over the country and thousands of children will be required to leave the protection of their homes to make the daily trips back and forth to their places of instruction. In doing so it will be necessary for them to use their own judgment in crossing streets and walking on the highways.

Eddie Cantor once said in one of his broadcasts: "Drive Slowly — We Love Our Children."

I sometimes wonder whether certain parents really do love their children. If they did, they would show more concern about their safety and conduct at crossings and on the highways.

Teach your children to cross streets only at the regular crossings and to be careful when doing so. If it is necessary for your children to walk on the highways, instruct them to walk on the left hand side and step off the road if necessary. Remind them daily!

"UNCLE ROBERT"

I dedicate this little poem to Uncle Robert. He has been dead for a good many years but his influence still lives and will live for a good many years to come:

In Sylvan when the sun was low,
There lived a man you all well know,
He was always busy, he never laid down on the job;
His name was Robert, for short they called him Bob.

When I had the blues I always planned
To go up to Uncle Robert and Aunt Ann,
They all for fun had quite a hunch,
They certainly were a genial bunch.

Uncle Robert never drove a car, never rode a bike,
He always went to church on a hitch-hike;
Uncle Robert's heart of love and joy
Always was full.

He was the best man I ever knew—
If he was Johnny Bull!

—E. S. Prudden, Merrill, Mich.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—How large is the whole universe? And do stars exist everywhere?

Ans.—There is no limit to space in the universe. Nothing is known of the universe beyond the limit that the most powerful telescope of modern times can reveal. With such a telescope we can reach out to a point which astronomers call the "galaxy," which is nearly two quintillion miles. These figures are vastly inconceivable, as it takes nineteen digits to represent one quintillion. As there is no end to space it is believed that an unlimited number of stars and suns exist beyond the limit reached by scientists' powerful telescopes.

Ques.—What is the difference between dynamite and nitroglycerin? And why is the former called "dynamite"?

Ans.—Nitroglycerin was invented by an Italian in 1846. Its use was not practical because it exploded too easily from slight shock. In 1867 Alfred Nobel invented dynamite by combining silicious earth with nitroglycerin. The silicious earth was known in Germany as "Kieselguhr." The name "dynamite" is from a Greek word meaning strength.

Ques.—What causes earthquakes.
Ans.—Steam is believed to be the most common cause of earthquakes. Water finds its way through the fissures of the earth's crust to heated rocks where it is suddenly converted into steam and subsequent explosion. Some earthquakes occur from various gases that result from internal heat. Others are caused by the falling in of the roofs of enormous subterranean caves formed by the solvent action of water on deposits of rock salt, limestone and gypsum. The general contraction of the earth's crust, resulting from the radiation or conduction of heat, will cause slight earthquakes and tremors.

Ques.—What was Thomas A. Edison's vocation before he became known as a great inventor?

Ans.—Thomas A. Edison was an expert telegraph operator just prior to his development into a wizard as an inventor. Earlier in life he was a news butcher on the Grand Trunk railroad and for a time published the "Grand Trunk Herald" in the baggage car of the train on which he was at work.

Ques.—How can I tell whether a certain piece of jewelry is made of platinum or silver?

Ans.—Put a very small drop of nitric acid on the back of the jewelry. If it is platinum the acid will not affect it at all. If it is silver, the acid will boil and turn brown, and a black spot will be made on the metal. Wash off the acid at once or it will eat into the silver.

Ques.—How much farther west is Los Angeles, Calif., than Reno, Nev.?

Ans.—If you are serious about this question we will advise you that Los Angeles, Calif., is not as far west as Reno, Nev. Reno is 82 miles farther west than Los Angeles. This is because the Pacific coast line extends southerly the entire length of California—Los Angeles being at the lower end.

Ques.—How do ships at sea get fresh water?

Ans.—As a rule ships usually carry enough fresh water to last on long cruises. Many of them, however, make fresh water from salt water by distillation—that is, make steam of it and then condense this steam back into water again. The salt cannot be made into steam, so it stays behind and thus it is separated from the water.

Ques.—Is it true that ants have little cows?

Ans.—Not exactly. The "animals" they keep are not little cows as some people call them. They are little insects called aphids which live on plants and produce a sweetish liquid that looks like milk. The ants gather this liquid and carry it off to the ant-hill for winter food. This is one of the ways in which the ant colony makes sure of its food for the winter.

Dr. C. C. Slemmons, state health commissioner. The Labor Day week-end toll was 39 lives.

Following a state-wide study, the head of the Michigan State Police uniformed division recommends a fixed speed limit of 50 miles an hour. The careless driver, Public Enemy No. 1 in Michigan is held responsible for 1,913 deaths in 1936.

Paralysis Preventative

Out of Michigan may emerge a much-sought preventive of infantile paralysis.

Such is the hope of scientists who are watching anxiously the outcome of tests being conducted by researchers of the University of Michigan medical school.

In a quest for some medical weapon to check the paralysis virus which enters the body through the nose, Dr. Erwin W. Schultz, bacteriologist at Leland Stanford university in California, developed a nasal spray consisting of a solution of zinc sulphate. The spray was tried out repeatedly on monkeys and found to be 100 per cent effective.

The Michigan medical school added a local anesthetic—pontocaine—to zinc sulphate. A close check is being kept on the human "test tubes". Medical history may be in the making, right at home.

Second Special Session

Now that the civil service issue has been sidetracked temporarily at least, Gov. Murphy's No. 1 problem is to find a labor relations formula which will be acceptable to the senate's solid republican phalanx and the handful of democratic stalwarts.

Lawmakers are to be recalled probably in January for the chief purpose of passing an act. Labor trouble has persisted throughout the state. Because the law now prohibits picketing, injunctions have been issued by the courts in several cases which have not been to organized labor's liking.

The Pennsylvania legislature, produced by Governor Earle, passed a "Little Wagner" labor relations act which is distinctly pro-labor. According to statehouse observers, Murphy wants a Michigan law as liberal as the one in Pennsylvania.

In Detroit the U. A. W. and A. F.

of L. cannot agree on a candidate for mayor. The division is illustrative of the labor schism, nation-wide in scope, which makes political unity of action very problematical. It is a touchy situation, one that complicates Murphy's problems.

I'M TWELVE

Maria said, "I don't doubt it. I'm twelve."

That's all there is about it! I guess she ought to, 'ought to know, that's not so very long ago. Though, somehow, I can't just remember.

But anyway, 'twas in September twenty-two, My birthday came, I'm sure she knew. My Pa and Ma and sister Ruth are mine, all mine!

I love them all, and Grandpa, O! but he's nice, We both went one day after ice, And O! 'twas hot, we nearly wilted, The ice? That too was mostly melted.

It's queer, and here I'll stop to say how much may happen Through the days of twelve short years.

Once when I was dreadful sick, my Grandma came, She came so quick, and watched with me an' I got well, There's more to this than I can tell.

And all the days that I have had, And Kitty's too, that made me glad; Canary bird, and flowers, and lawn, That our back yard and home adorned.

And though I'm only twelve years old, The joy I've had cannot be told; My Pa, and Mother, sister Ruth, I love you all, I love in Truth.

—Arthur Carlton.

White Snakeroot Poisonous

White snakeroot is said to be the most important poisonous plant on the farm. This is a common woodland species with opposite leaves, fibrous roots and masses of hand-some little pure white flowers that come into bloom during the late fall. From this innocent looking plant a poisonous principle called trematol has been extracted, a chemical that not only poisons live stock but in addition may enter the milk and cause human disease known as milk sickness. This is believed to be a malady that decimated the pioneer population of the Ohio River Valley region during the early days, and it is held responsible for the death of Nancy Hanks, the mother of Abraham Lincoln.

CHELSEA WINS, 7 TO 4

The Chelsea baseball team gained an even break in the season's play with Ann Arbor, third place holders in the Tri-County League, by winning the final game between the two teams here Sunday. The score was 7 to 4 in a seven inning contest which was shortened by mutual agreement before starting. Barth, Chelsea pitcher, struck out 8 men in five innings, twice retiring the side on strikes after two men were on the bases. P. Novess finished the game, allowing but one hit and one run and striking out two in two innings.

The Ann Arbor team was short-handed and had to fill in with a Chelsea player and several substitutes, the regular shortstop being forced to do the pitching. The local lads bunched 4 hits with 3 walks in the big fifth inning to overcome a two-run margin held by the visitors.

Next Sunday, Saline ends the 1937 season here. By winning this one Chelsea can claim undisputed possession of fifth place.

Y. M. S. C. OPENS YEAR

The Young Mothers' Child Study club's new year was opened Tuesday evening by Mrs. Martin Steinbach, who read "The Scaples" from the Road Side Philosopher. So long as one's philosophy of life is out of balance with the everyday life around them nature will in some way, maybe illness, balance that life. Mrs. Hill, inaugurating her presidency, gave her plan for club cooperation and the changes in club procedure for the coming year, and received the heartiest approval of the members.

During the business session ways and means were discussed of obtaining for Chelsea a summer playground park, a place families in a group could enjoy themselves or where a mother could safely send her children alone, knowing they would be under competent supervision. The young mothers felt there is a great need of this project in Chelsea, the same as other towns.

Each member was presented by the program committee, with her copy in printed book form of the club's activities for the entire year. They are many and interesting, ranging from private parties for the club children, reports on current novels, discussions of the child in his daily life, public parties, through guest nights, with guest speakers, taking into consideration the fact each member could allot but little time to a program more civic in scope.

Mrs. Steinbach, as hostess, concluded the evening with refreshments.

Music for "Home, Sweet Home"

The music to John Howard Payne's "Home, Sweet Home" was composed by Sir Henry Rowley Bishop.

Feeds Determine Purchase of Cattle

Increased supplies of feed on Michigan farms and the attractiveness of cattle and meat prices is stimulating the purchase and the idea of purchasing cattle for feed this year.

"But don't forget that it takes good management to make a profit in feeding for beef," warns George Brown, head of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College.

To a great extent he suggests purchasing the type of cattle that will fit the available feed. Older cattle, such as yearlings or even two year olds can best utilize feeds that are more in the nature of roughages.

This is true of hay and silage. Younger animals may be best for utilizing greater amounts of concentrates.

Barley, oats, corn and wheat usually are available for purchase in Michigan for feed. At Michigan State College, feeding trials indicate ground barley is about equal to shelled corn. Oats of standard weight are only 11 per cent less valuable than No. 2 shelled corn. Ground wheat is practically equal to shelled corn, except that not more than one half of the grain ration should be wheat. Shrunken wheat is equal to full and plump wheat kernels.

Beef production from corn silage is being stimulated by the college through recent tests. For cut shocked corn the feed was found to have a value of $15.46 an acre.

When similar corn was placed in the silo, the feed was worth $32.91 an acre. One dollar a bushel was realized for feeding in the form of silage, but only 46 cents for ground or cut shocked corn, and 63 cents a bushel for corn fed as shocked corn.

STAGE SHOWS OPEN AT REGENT

Manager W. S. McLaren of the Regent Theatre, Jackson, announces the return to the Regent of the stage shows that proved so popular last season. Starting Sunday, September 19th, and every Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the Regent will offer a stage show together with first run feature attractions.

For the opening stage show, Loretta Grey and "Her Streamlined Revue" will be the stage offering. Miss Grey, who by the way, was the opening attraction last season, returns with a brand new show with all new acts. Miss Grey is a small bundle of personality who was discovered by Henry Santrey, the famous band leader of a few years ago. She is possessed of one of the most infectious personalities on the American stage, and is dynamic of energy when on the stage. Her latest Revue has just completed a tour of the Eastern States where she was a sensation. Miss Grey presides as Mistress of Ceremonies and introduces the different acts, which this year are, Bobby Carbone and Company in "A Stage Hand Goes Wrong", Fole and Mason in "Artistic Comedy", ReChards and Monnette in "Singing and Dancing", June Page the "Champion Ball Swinger", Paoli, a "Hawaiian Robinson", Joe Clauser and "His Tuensmiths" and Miss Ollie Heitz who was "Miss America" back in 1936.

Ambitions to become a writer are realized for handsome young Tom Brown in "Jim Haney" Detective, Guy Kibbee's great starring comedy which will be the screen attraction. Lovely little Lucie Kaye plays the romantic lead with Brown, while the superb supporting cast is headed by Catherine Doucet, Edward Brophy, Ed Gargan and Howard Hickman.

Each Monday evening Manager McLaren will offer an "Opportunity Contest", open to all over 16 years of age. The winner will be given a three-day stage engagement at the Regent Theatre the following Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, and if they show sufficient talent, will be given a steady position with that Stage Unit, as they are always looking for new faces and talent. Anyone desiring to enter these contests may contact the Regent Theatre.

The usual Amateur Contests, open to everyone no matter what age, will start again at the Regent Theatre on Friday, September 24. Cash prizes are awarded each week and these amateur contests are open to anyone in Jackson county.

$34,000 BOWLING SWEEPSTAKES

OPEN TO CHELSEA BOWLERS

Imagine a bowling tournament with $34,000 in cash prizes and valuable merchandise awards without an entry fee; without bowlers having to leave their own alleys; without the need for any extra bowling as all play is part of regular A. B. C. sanctioned league play and with five classes to give an equal chance for all to win. Sounds too good to be true but Chelsea bowlers are given this unique opportunity through the cooperation of the proprietor of the Chelsea Bowling Alleys.

Qualifying round-play consists of any seven consecutive weeks play between September 13 and December 19 on the Official Red Crown Sweepstakes Bowling Alleys. Listed above, all teams will be divided as follows: Class A, 5-man teams whose three game series scores in qualifying play average 2950; Class B, from 2650 to 2949; Class C, between 2490 and 2649; Class D, between 2100 and 2399; Class E, under 2100.

Official entries will close on October 24. This will permit qualifying rolling to start as late as the week of November 1 and still complete the seven weeks of play before December 19, the close of qualifying round play.

Official Sweepstakes Prize Play will start the week of January 24 and continue for six weeks until the week ending March 5, 1938. There will be prizes for each of the six weeks play as well as a grand prize list based on total pins scored during the six weeks play.

The team with the highest score in each of the five classes each week will receive $250; the second highest team in each class, $150; the third highest team in each class $100. The fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh highest teams in each class each week will be awarded a "Custom Fit" mineralite ball.

At the end of the six weeks of prize play the first grand prize of $750 will be given to the team in each class with the highest total pins for the six weeks. Other grand prize awards are as follows: The second highest team in each of the five classes will receive $250; the third, $150; the fourth in each class, $100. Teams finishing in fifth, sixth, seventh, eighth and ninth places with the high total pins in each of the five classes, will receive a custom fit mineralite ball for each member of the team. Team members with the next ten highest total scores for the six weeks of prize play, in each of the five classes, will each receive a pair of Brunswick bowling shoes.

The Red Crown Sweepstakes is run without any entry fee. Bowlers desiring to enter may get entry blank and full particulars at the Chelsea Hotel.

Football News

This year, after two years of preparation, our new athletic field will be opened. It will be dedicated on September 17, Friday of this week. A great deal of work has gone into preparing this great convenience for our high school. Therefore, we, the student body and faculty, hope to see the public out cheering our teams on to victory.

Well, now to get down to real football. Under the careful and tactful supervision of our new coach, Mr. Cameron, our fellows have gradually worked into an unbeatable combination. Anyone having seen them work out will readily say the same thing.

The letter men who returned this year are as follows: Belser, Brueckner, Bahmiller, L. Niehaus, Rowe, Koebe, Fletcher, Strietter and Spaulding. Our captain this year is Fredrick Belser. The new material and the reserves of last year are: Joe Bartok, Ted Combs, Howard Haselswerdt, George Knickerbocker, Harvey Knickerbocker, Arthur Lindauer, Frank Novess, Earl Osborne, Andrew Policht, Donald Parsons, Edward Rabley, Oramel Schiller, Paul Schneider, Camer Slocum, Charles Slocum, Larry Tish, David Thomas, Royden Watson, Richard White, Donald Wheeler and Philip Atkinson. Although many have dropped out there is a sufficient number for a good squad.

Before closing, the school as a whole would like to thank the parents who made possible this magnificent gift to our great high school. We hope we can repay you with our victories and fighting courage to win.

P. S.—The band will be there to entertain you if they can find a drum major. Rally is in the football squad.

Frosh Initiation

True to the traditions of Chelsea high school the Freshmen were initiated Friday night. The gym was dark except for a single light at the top when they were led in to start the ordeal. Some were scared, some were nonchalant, and some were resigned to their fate. The committee was on the stage anticipating their first victim. Among the tortures our Freshmen friends suffered were an electric shock, a goosey mixture to stick your hand in and a cooler one to eat "Vicks" under their noses and numerous other things to be ended up by two lines of boys with straps to sort of polish it off. Then we got a change of heart and treated them to ice cream and cookies, after which there were games and dancing.

Attention, Public!

The seniors are again doing their best to earn money for a trip. Last week we sold "Chelsea Pins". They were all gone like a flash but don't worry, more are coming and if you didn't get yours before, they will be on sale at the game Friday. Starting September 17 the seniors are selling hot dogs and candy at the football games. Get your money's worth at a bigger and better stand than ever before. Last but not least, be sure to save all your magazine subscriptions for the seniors. They will be more than glad to serve you.

Journalism Club

Once more Journalism Club was called to order with the largest attendance in the history of the club. The following officers were elected: Editor-in-Chief—Ruth Boyce. Assistant Editor—Mary Jane Tucker. A committee on By-Laws was appointed—Pep Palmer, chairman; Esther Bruckner and John Fletcher. In the future the most serious High-Light news to be published by the club will appear weekly in the Chelsea Standard.

New Faculty

Mr. Charles Stuart Cameron, graduated from Kalamazoo high school and received a B. A. from Kalamazoo College. He says quite "I like the Chelsea high school and students." Miss Jessie Elizabeth Neill, graduated from Albion high school, received an A. B. from Albion college. She thinks it's a fine school and that she has a fine group of students.

Gossip!

The new Freshman boys certainly are making the city gals' hearts beat fast these days. What is it the open air gives them that the "Freshie" demands for?

The romances that were in full swing last year, and seemed to go on the rocks this summer, have all the earmarks of starting again, better than ever. Are you thinking of the same couple that I am?

We are beginning to put Ted in the "Unfair to Ladies" class. At any rate he hasn't been giving any of the Chelsea girls a break lately. Has something happened to make him a "woman hater"?

Dates for the All Hi party are certainly filling the air. Everyone's date book seems to be all filled up for the evening, anyway.

What were two boys doing down in a cornfield by Lover's Lane? They had their cars there too. Let's hope they weren't waiting for someone. We've heard they were plenty angry.

Guess Who - -

Certain Freshie boys really have something this one especially. His silver-rimmed specs and immature mustache give him an air of distinction. And, his being an excellent clarinet player in the band and being rather shy do not detract from his personality. Can you guess who? One of our up and coming Senior girls seems to think her German legs (beautiful German legs) do plenty for her. Her glossy blue-black hair and dark beady eyes give her olive complexion a thing or two to think about. She wears size 4½ shoes and is small in stature. As for her temper—wow! Watch out for it! Now, who is it?

Activity Period

This year there is an extra period in the daily routine of the high school. It is known as the "Activity Period," and occurs in the afternoon between the sixth and seventh hours. The period is 25 minutes in length and is devoted to the various business and social activities of the pupils. Thus, the school routine will not be interrupted while business is transacted.

All-High Party

There will be an All-High party on Friday the 17th, which will last from eight to eleven. The committees are:

Program—Seniors.
Decorations and advertisements—Juniors.
Refreshments—Sophomores.
Clean-up—Freshmen.
Miscellaneous invitations.

Elementary News

Kindergarten
We have 25 girls and boys in our room this year. Most of us are taking chocolate milk during our rest period.

First Grade
We have thirty children in First Grade—twenty-one girls and nine boys.

Last week was toy week. We brought to school the toy we liked best and enjoy the most. We shall bring out pots this week and write stories about them. Joyce Hughes brought her kitten, Fluff, this morning.

Miss Bollore read little "Black Sambo" Shirley Temple at Play. The Cricket, The Three Bears, The Folio Picture, Story of Milk and some poems to us. We had a very nice time dramatizing Black Sambo, and The Three Bears. We are making a large freeze of The Black Sambo story.

We made a fruit book. The book has four pages. Each page has a picture and a story. We can read our book.

Can all of our friends use the treat.

He lights correctly? We went on a trip last Tuesday and learned how to cross the street with the traffic light. We have a traffic light in our room which we like to use.

Every day Mr. Weinberg comes to school with chocolate milk for most of us in First Grade and Kindergarten. The chocolate milk is very good and costs each boy and girl just fifteen cents a week. We hope the milk will make us strong and healthy.

Mary K. Palmer returned to school this morning. Everyone was happy to see her.

Second Grade
Second Grade has an enrollment of thirty children, eighteen boys and twelve girls.

We are all glad to be back in school. Even the extremely hot weather could not keep us at home.

You should see our new Spelling books and our Arithmetic pads! It's going to be fun to work with them.

We are reviewing our First Grade Elson book. During vacation we forgot quite a bit but we hope soon to have a real Second Grade reader.

Wilma Paul has been away visiting her grandmother. She came to school this morning and we were so glad to see her.

Betty Low Aldrich has moved into the country, so she will be going to another school. We shall miss her.

Third Grade
August 30 brought 18 boys and 9 girls to the third grade room. Since then we have been very busy people. We are glad to have so many new books to work with. We hope Bobby D. Paul, and George will be back soon to share them with us.

Marceline and Robert S. play in the band and Thelma, Helen, and Ray play violins in the orchestra.

The perfect spellers for last week were Loren, Robert S., Lewis, Helen, Murray, Frances, Richard, Jack W., Eunice, Eldean and Marceline.

We got weighed and measured. Harry is the heaviest in the class. Eunice is the lightest. Doris is the tallest and Eunice is the shortest.

Fourth Grade
We have an enrollment of 29-15 boys and 14 girls. We have two new pupils. Evelyn Otto from the Spiegelberg school and Billy Gale from the Roosevelt school, Ypsilanti.

In our Language class we heard about many of the trips the children had taken during their vacation. Barbara Eaton went to the Atlantic coast. John Walz went to St. Louis, Missouri. Edwin Lantis traveled in northern Michigan. Robert Britten, wischer went to Toledo. Laverne Holbrook went to Canada. Marion Dietle traveled in northern Michigan.

Eleanor Lamberton celebrated her birthday Friday in school. She had a lovely birthday cake with nine candles. Eskimo pies were also served. Miss Neil, our music teacher, was invited to Eleanor's party.

Fifth Grade
We have 38 girls and boys—every seat full.

We have enjoyed different snapshots taken by some of our girls and boys on their vacation trips and during our conversation period we who did not go on a vacation have enjoyed hearing them tell about their trips.

We are sorry that Philip Tompkins is ill. We understand he will be back with us soon.

In Art on Tuesday we had Samuel Baxter and Naida Olson pose for us in our picture. The first day of school, Leon Loeffler and Phyllis Hoppe got first places in their drawings. Jimmy Gaken has been chosen to take charge of the basement at recess. He will have as his helper, Frank Langowski.

We were very glad to have Esther Riemschneider and Eleanor Harper come over and help us re-organize and check our books in our Elementary Library. Esther and Eleanor were our librarians last year.

Sixth Grade
The sixth grade is studying about the thin and thickly populated areas in the Old World. Those who have ancestors from the Old World are writing their names on the board. After each name, their homelands are written.

A penmanship teacher from the A. N. Palmer company came to our room and gave us a lesson in penmanship which we enjoyed very much. She helped us begin our geography notebooks. Last week we received our new penmanship books.

We have been bringing carot worms to school to watch. Two of them stuck to paper so we pinned the paper on the wall, about a day later it shed its skin and was altogether a different shape. Next spring it will be a beautiful butterfly. Carlton Christwell took a carot worm home Saturday night. We could see threads which kept him to the paper Sunday night. Carlton said that he was losing his skin. His skin split at his head.

The Crossbowman
According to an early writer, the crossbowman was the gentleman sportsman of that time.

Many of the wealthy noblemen of the Middle Ages, who liked to hunt, lavished money on their crossbows. Just as some hunters of a later day liked their shotguns beautifully engraved and inlaid with gold and silver, so the wealthy sportsman of the Middle Ages called upon the best workers in ivory, silver, mother of pearl, and gold to ornament their favorite crossbows. This was especially true of the sixteenth century crossbows made on the continent.

Sunday Island is one of the isles of the Kermadecs. They were the landfall of the Maoris who came sailing over the Pacific to colonize New Zealand, and they have been known to the West ever since a British ship, the Lady Pembyn, found them in 1788. They were a part of call in 1791 of D'Entrecasteaux, who named them after his captain, Huon Kermadec.

John Eliot Was Known as "Apostle to the Indians"

John Eliot, known as "the apostle to the Indians," is probably even less known to persons interested in Indians than Sequoyah, who invented the Cherokee alphabet, although Eliot, a native of England, obviously faced a task so monumental that only a man with a broad love of humanity and an indomitable will could have seen it through, relates a writer in the New York Sun.

After arriving in this country he came to share the opinion, widely held in his time, that the Indians were the lost tribes of Israel; that in process of time they made their way after the captivity from the extreme parts of Asia into America. He believed that in their language he would find some traces of the Hebrew.

But although a good Hebrew scholar there never was any evidence that his knowledge of that language assisted him in any way in understanding the Indian language. In 1643, when thirty-nine years old, he began to study that language. He told how he set out on his task.

"I found," he wrote, "a pregnant-witted young man who had been a servant in an English house, who pretty well understood his own language and had a clear pronunciation. Him I made my interpreter."

And thus I came at it . . .

Three years later Eliot began to preach to the Indians in their own language. Fitting symbols to sounds and teaching his wards how to read and comprehend was a task that caused many of his friends to look on his efforts as hopeless.

A biographer has written: "One is appalled, humiliated as he thinks of the remarkable labors of this wonderful man." One can hardly imagine the difficulties which beset Eliot in the work of translation into the Indian language.

India Has More People Than the United States

India accounts for more than two-thirds of the population of the British empire. It has nearly three times as many people as has the United States, though its area is only a little more than half as large. But the more than 351,399,000 Indians crowded into the triangular peninsula that juts out from Asia are far from unified—culturally, religiously, or politically, according to a writer in the Chicago Tribune. The land is a crazy quilt of presidencies, native states, provinces, protectorates, tribal areas, and even a few foreign owned patches. Some parts have been governed by modern British law; others by native princes ruling with Arabian Nights splendor, holding the power of life and death over their minions, maintaining their own armies, and subject indirectly to the king.

India is usually thought of as entirely British, but France and Portugal keep tiny toeholds on the edges of the huge British domain. Of these remnants of the days when all three powers were competing for Indian trade and riches France has about 200 square miles of colonies along the east and west coasts, while there are 1,461 square miles of Portuguese territory on the western side of the peninsula.

Epsom Downs

Epsom Downs comprises 387 acres near the town of Epsom, Surrey, 15 miles southwest of London. It is said that horse races were run there as early as the reign of James I (1603-1625); but they were not held regularly until 1730. Grandstands were first erected in 1829. The principal races run are the "Derby" and the " Oaks." In 1780, the twelfth earl of Derby originated a race for three-year-olds, and it was referred to as the "Epsom Derby," after the town where it is held and the man who originated it. It is still known officially by that title, but the world knows it better as the "One Mile Derby." The course is "one mile, four furlongs (one-half mile) and 29 yards. From the starting point the ground rises about 154 feet in less than a mile and before the barrier rises at the finish it drops about 100 feet.

Finding Wives in Spain

In Spain many a man sees his future wife first on the street. If she appears attractive, he follows her to find out where she lives, and thereafter she spends a part of every day in silent courtship beneath her balcony or before the barred windows. If her parents approve, some day he will see a little white hand pluck a blossom from the vine that climbs on the patio within and throw it to him. Then the real wooing begins. If the girl lives on the ground floor, the path of love is smooth, but the dark eyes that flash from windows higher up must pining in their gaze to convey the words that can not be uttered.

Holding Up Bridal Party

Holding up the bridal party after the wedding is common, especially in old English villages. A flower-decked rope is stretched across the street and kept there until the bridegroom pays the toll to Cupid's highwaymen. In French Savoy when a girl marries a young man from another village, her friends barricade the road until the groom "sets them up." Far from resenting this custom, the bride judges her popularity by the size of the crowd that stops her.

Russian Note Shies Italy

FURTHER evidence of the complete accord of the two great Fascist governments was revealed when Germany joined Italy in refusing to be represented at the Nyon, Switzerland, conference to end "piracy" on the Mediterranean. The Nazis gave the same excuses as Italy: That the action of Soviet Russia in accusing Italian submarines of sinking two Russian merchant ships and demanding full indemnity made impartial conclusions of the parley impossible, and that the whole affair might better be ironed out by the committee for non-intervention in the Spanish civil war.

So heated were the differences between the Italians and the Russians, it was feared the incident might lead to a break in diplomatic relations, if not to actual armed conflict.

Great Britain, Russia and France went right ahead with their plans for the conference. British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden was instructed, however, to make no proposals which would tend to divide the Mediterranean powers into Fascist and anti-Fascist groups. It was believed he would propose that merchant ships be allowed a naval convoy through the danger zones.

Britain, one of the chief sufferers from the submarine attacks on shipping, was embarrassed shortly before the conference was to begin when a Spanish insurgent cruiser (Italy is known to be aiding the insurgents) commandeered a British merchantman off Palermo, Sicily, and confiscated her cargo of Russian oil consigned to the Spanish loyalist government.

Yanks in Far East 'Kick'

AMERICANS in Shanghai, constantly in danger of their lives, cabled Washington, demanding the protection of United States ships. The American Chamber of Commerce in the war-torn city asked Secretary of State Hull for immediate clarification of the State department's stand. Some of them were bitter toward President Roosevelt, who, from his yacht, had told newspaper men that Americans in the war zone would remain there at their own risk. No deadline for evacuation had yet been set, and when rumors spread that the United States flagship Augusta was making ready to leave Yangtze waters, panic spread among the Yanks in Shanghai.

Many business men, with lifetime savings invested there, vigorously urged the President to adopt "a foreign policy with a strong front and keep the American flag waving." One veteran Yank resident circulated a petition demanding that the President "get off his yacht, get on his feet and get some guts above them."

American missionaries and business men protested that the United States' position in the Far East was largely the result of their life's work, and insisted on a more steadfast attitude to keep the American stake in China. The State department replied that there was a broad distinction between getting out of the line of fire and relinquishing privileges established over the years. Vice consuls in many Chinese ports were ordered to leave their posts.

Opposition Surprises Nippon

JAPANESE naval guns and bombers carried the war 600 miles south of Shanghai when they attacked the port of Amoy, which houses a huge Chinese fort and arsenal, opposite the island of Formosa. Their bombs carried little effect and the shore artillery chased the warships, completely disabling one. The battle was but thirty miles from Hong Kong, recently ravished by a typhoon.

sions, were successful in holding back 80,000 Japanese; it was said to be the severest opposition the Japs have met since they fought Russia in 1904.

Japanese aerial bombardments continued in the Chapei, Kiangwan, Taichong and Yangchow districts of Shanghai. The continued peril of the international settlement and the French concession spurred the American, British and French consuls to demand of both the Japanese and Chinese that their forces be withdrawn from that vicinity. Scoffs of noncombatants were daily being killed and wounded there by falling bombs and shells.

But Japan's long-awaited "big push" had not yet materialized. It was believed large reinforcements were being awaited. The Chinese war power was beginning to tell against the inferior numbers of the Japanese.

One of the war's most sensational military coups occurred in the rocky hills west of Peiping when 4,000 Japanese troops were reported wiped out by the Chinese in ambush. The Japanese line was said to have been driven back five miles by the terrific onslaught, and Japanese commanders were reported more worried than ever over the success of their invasion in this sector.

Another of the war's great horrors was perpetrated when the Japanese bombed a refugee train 300 miles south of Shanghai, killing 300 and wounding 400 noncombatants. Chinese bombers' efforts at reprisal were ineffective.

Only in the northern province of Chahar did the Japanese make real progress. There they captured the capital city of Kalgan. A commission of 100 "prominent" Mongols and Chinese (many of them known to be associated with the Japanese army) was setting up a new "popular" autonomous government under Japanese control.

Plague Upon a Plague

JOHN L. LEWIS, fire-eating chairman of the Committee for Industrial Organization, let fly a rebuke at President Roosevelt for implied backwatering on campaign promises and hinted at the possibility of a third party in the elections of 1940. In a radio speech he declared:

"It behooves one who has supped at labor's table and who has been sheltered in labor's house to curse with equal fervor and fine impartiality both labor and its adversaries when they become locked in deadly embrace."

This was regarded as an answer to the "plague on both your houses" which President Roosevelt called down on extremists of both sides in the "little steel" strike. In his campaign for re-election he had "supped at labor's table" to the extent of a half-million-dollar contribution to the Democratic national committee by the C. I. O.

Lewis suggested that it would be a wise move for labor and agriculture to wage their battles together politically.

"Labor has suffered just as our farm population has suffered," he said, "from a vicious unequal distribution of the national income."

"The exploitation of both classes of workers has been the source of panic and depression, and upon the economic welfare of both rests the best assurance of a sound and permanent prosperity."

16,098,000-Bale Cotton Crop

THE fifth largest cotton crop yield in the nation's history was forecast by the Department of Agriculture, which estimated a 1937 crop of 16,098,000 bales. The cotton crop September 1 was 75 per cent of normal, indicating an average yield per acre of 226.5 pounds.

"The Petticoat Candidate"
Gen. William Henry Harrison, first Ohio president, was called "the petticoat candidate" during his hard cider campaign of 1840, and here's how the nickname started: Before the battle of the Thames, several Indians, friends of the Americans, told Harrison that the British general, Proctor, had promised his Indian allies that he would turn Harrison over to them if the American general was captured. In turn, Harrison replied that if Proctor was captured, he would hand him over to the Indians on the American side so that they could dress him like a squaw. For this courageous response, a group of ladies presented Harrison with a petticoat that might be used as a starter if Proctor was captured, and later his opponents tried to make something out of this by labeling him "the petticoat candidate."
