Rev. Mumby Writes of Recent Trip to England

Editor's Note: Believing that details of the recent trip to England and France of Rev. F. D. Mumby, pastor of the local Methodist church, would be of interest to everyone in the community we have asked him to write a story for publication. Rev. Mumby kindly consented to furnish the article and the first installment follows:

By Rev. F. D. Mumby.
A trip to Europe calls for a little advance planning to those of moderate means and possibly one of the interesting ingredients is the saving and planning previous to setting out for lands afar.

In planning a visit to foreign lands five things are essential. First, the decision is made. Second, you save, and save, until you think you are far enough ahead to go next summer. Third, secure your passport. Fourth, steamship and other transportation. Fifth, the necessary leave of absence to take such an extended vacation, which in my case was very graciously given, and then when the day arrives you put your passport (in which you have already secured the necessary visas, or permits, to visit all the countries in which you plan to tour or travel), tickets, travellers checks, etc. in your pocket, overcoat on your arm, grab a couple of bags, and you are ready to depart.

Naturally the first voyage is the most interesting for any traveller because no matter how much advice he has acquired it remains in the realm of a great experiment, however, if you are ever to become a seasoned traveler you must go through the initiation ceremony because there are many things that can only be learned by doing. The writer is well beyond the experimental stage, hence he travels light and in a class where it is unnecessary to dress for dinner every evening. The main object being to arrive at the port of destination, you travel on any ship that suits your fancy and the tourist and third passengers get there the same day as the cabin and first, so take your choice.

On July 8, having completed the preparatory stage, I left Ann Arbor for Montreal. The day was hot and so was the night. We arrived about 7:30 next morning and steamship biases were in waiting to take us and our baggage aboard. After finding the dining saloon and breakfast and locating my cabin there was little to do but watch preparations for departure. We left Montreal about 11:30 and the thermometer said it was 95 so we were glad to be out in the St. Lawrence, and on our way. The next thing on the program was to go ask for mail at the purser's office. I found three letters there and later I found a very wonderful book had been delivered. (Continued on next page)

ACQUITTED OF RECKLESSNESS
A jury in Justice Jay H. Payne's court, Ann Arbor, on Friday acquitted A. E. Jones of Chelsea of a charge of reckless driving preferred by Deputy Sheriff Erwin Klager following a double automobile collision August 29 on US-12 near Dixboro. Mr. Jones' car hit the rear of one driven by Geo. Jillick, Kalamazoo, driving Jillick's car into the rear of an ambulance in which were being loaded some of the 14 persons injured in an earlier collision during the early morning fog.

According to testimony of witnesses, there was an ambulance parked on the left side of the pavement, without lights, loading people who had been injured in the wreck which happened about an hour before Mr. Jones collided with the car. No warning flares had been placed and nobody was stationed to flag traffic. The accident happened before daylight. The only damage to the Jones car was a slightly damaged bumper and fender and with his party they continued on a trip to Cass City. Mr. Jones states that he has driven cars for 30 years and this was the first time he had ever collected collision insurance.

CAVANAUGH LAKE GRANGE
Cavanaugh Lake Grange will entertain North Sylvan Grange Thursday evening, Sept. 30 at Salem M. E. church. Booster Night will be observed. The public is invited to attend this meeting. Program will begin at 8 o'clock. Program:

Song—"The Grange Leads On To Victory."
Booster Night Message—T. G. Riemen-schneider.
Recitation—Elmer Weinberg.
Violin solo—Mrs. P. Broesamle.
Reading—Mrs. Roy Ives.
Address—"Boosters"—Rev. F. D. Mumby.
Song—"We Are the Grange of the Future."

WILL SPEAK AT HOMECOMING
Rev. F. D. Mumby will give addresses at the homecoming services of the Methodist Episcopal church at Memphis, Michigan on Sunday afternoon, September 26. The church of which Rev. Mumby was pastor, 1917-1920, was destroyed by fire about a year ago. A new church has just been completed and is being dedicated at this homecoming.

Lansing—Wielding a vigorous axe on legislative appropriations, Gov. Frank Murphy's budget chief, Harold D. Smith, has stirred a storm of controversy here.

While the governor was busy mediating labor strikes last spring, the legislature authorized expenditures totaling $18,000,000 in excess of prospective revenues. A last-minute bill was rushed through both houses giving the executive department the right to take a lateral cut in all appropriations.

Among the beneficiaries of the legislators' generosity were public school teachers, as the state's public school aid was increased from $38,000,000 to $43,000,000. Smith pared it down to $40,800,000. Immediately a flood of protests poured into the statehouse from all parts of the state. The Michigan Education association, headed by Harley V. Holmes, president, declares that the reduced appropriation left most school boards with only two alternatives—either to finish the school year with a deficit or to cut teachers' pay.

Since adoption in 1932 of the 15-mill tax limitation amendment, the customary school tax limit is four mills.

A bit of irony, however, is seen in the legislature's 11th hour action last June, increasing the budget director's salary from $5,000 to $7,500.

Old Age Pensions

Old age pensions are next on Smith's economy list, as the legislative appropriation is $10,000,000, an "increase of $3,000,000 over the 1936 amount." The state relief fund of $3,000,000 has been lowered 2 per cent, while the children's aid total of $4,000,000 has been cut $240,000.

Dole cases last winter numbered 91,000, and it is estimated that the coming peak load will be 10 per cent less.

While state old age pensions are given only to indigent persons, federal old age benefits under the social security act are payable to employed persons who reached the age of 65 in 1937. Federal old age pensions total $1,100,000 a month in Michigan. Approximately 1,700,000 persons are taxed for pensions, and 60,000 are receiving public assistance.

At Lansing, a federal old age benefit bureau has been opened. The state director, B. C. Schustle, asserted: "It is apparent that hundreds of persons have reached 65 without realizing that they are entitled to lump-sum payments under the social security act." Payments can be made only to persons who contributed by wage deductions since Jan. 1, 1937 and prior to their 65th birthday.

August's cost of state old age assistance was $869,115, distributed among 48,422 persons with an average amount of $18.02. The cost is steadily rising.

"Speed-up" Results
The "speed-up" of the automobile assembly line is accredited by federal.

Van Wagoner to Open US-12 Bids October 6

A telegram received by The Standard Wednesday afternoon from Murray D. Van Wagoner, state highway commissioner, stated that bids for grading and drainage work on the 4.5 mile unfinished gap of US-12 south of Chelsea will be opened on October 6. The complete statement contained in the wire was as follows:

The Chelsea Standard, Chelsea, Michigan.
Opening bids October 6 on 4.5 mile gap US-12 south of Chelsea. Project limited to grading and drainage. Estimate $160,000.00. Surfacing next summer.

Murray D. Van Wagoner.

Bowlers to Organize

A meeting will be held at the Chelsea Hotel on Tuesday evening, September 28 for the purpose of organizing a bowling league. All those who are interested in entering a team in the tournament or playing with a team are invited to attend the meeting, which will be held at 8:00 o'clock. League bowling will start on Oct. 11. Adv. Harold Gneutal, Prop.

ENROLL IN COLLEGES

Several members of the 1937 graduating class have enrolled in the various colleges in Michigan. Eileen Adam and Paul Pielmeyer will attend the U. of M.; Bernice Howe and Ralph Quillen are attending the M. S. N. C. at Ypsilanti; Monica McKernan, Nurses Training Course at Mercy hospital in Jackson; Harry Bleeker, Albion College; George Prinzinger, W. S. N. at Kalamazoo, and Doris Rogers, M. S. C. at East Lansing.

Chelsea Kiwanians Attend Charter Night

Members of the local Kiwanis club, their wives and guests, numbering about forty, were in Dexter on Tuesday night where they attended the Charter Night program of the Dexter Kiwanis club. More than three hundred attended the meeting, including representatives of the thirteen clubs in this Division, as well as from several clubs throughout the state.

During the banquet, which was served in the high school gymnasium, group singing was led by Paul F. Niehaus of the local club, with Mrs. Niehaus at the piano. The banquet was followed by a program, with Frank J. Hutchinson of Wayne, Lieut. Governor of Division No. 6, presiding as toastmaster. Gretings to the assembled guests were given by Dr. A. G. Wall, Dexter village president, and vocal solos were rendered by William Urquhart and John F. Hoy, members of the Dexter club, with Mrs. John C. Thompson as accompanist.

Gifts of a Kiwanis banner, United States and Canadian flags and a bell and gavel were presented the newly formed club by the clubs of this Division. District Governor Stanley Johnston of South Haven presented the Charter to the club, giving an inspiring presentation address. The acceptance speech was given by Joseph Schnebelt, president of the Dexter club, whose well chosen words were filled with the sincerity exemplifying the objectives of Kiwanis.

The principal address of the evening was given by United States Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, a native of Dexter. Senator Copeland enumerated some of the dangers confronting the American people if they fail to call a halt to the reckless spending and wild schemes of the present administration in Washington. The supreme court and the appointment of a Ku Klux Klan member to this body were mentioned caustically by the Senator.

Following the program the floor was cleared for dancing, with music by Ray Carry's orchestra.

The Dexter club was sponsored by the Chelsea Kiwanis club, and they now have a membership of thirty.

GIVES HYMNALS TO CHURCH

The Methodist Episcopal church is now using the latest edition of The Methodist Hymnal, thanks to the generosity of Mrs. P. M. Broesamle. On his return from Europe the pastor discovered a large box containing 150 copies of this fine Hymn and Service book which is being put into use by thousands of churches this year and is acclaimed as one of the best collections of hymns and forms of worship used in this country.

A book plate has been printed locally and will be affixed to the inside front cover of each volume stating that these books are "Presented by Mrs. P. M. Broesamle in Memory of Mrs. J. W. Notten."

Mrs. Broesamle has been the faithful organist of the Methodist church for years and her loyal service as well as her generous gifts are greatly appreciated by a grateful pastor and congregation.

The hymnals were promptly put into service on September 12, and a brief dedicatory service will be conducted at the morning service on September 26.

FELLOWSHIP CLUB ELECTIONS

The men of the Fellowship club of the Methodist church held their annual meeting and election of officers at the home of Edwin Gaunt on Monday evening, September 20. After partaking of a splendid dinner the meeting was called to order by the pastor and the reports of last year's work were read by Secretary Spiegelberg. Officers elected for 1937-8 are:

President—George McClure.
Vice Pres.—P. M. Broesamle.
Secretary—M. Spiegelberg.
Treasurer—Ed. Hammond.
The first regular public meeting of the club will be held on Tuesday evening, October 12. The elected officers will be the first supper committee; Mrs. Roy Ives, readings, Mrs. Wirt Ives, music, and by request the pastor will give an account of his European wanderings which will be illustrated with motion pictures.

MRS. WADDELL HONORED

Mrs. Carl Waddell of Springfield, Mo., who is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Zeab at Cavanaugh Lake, was very pleasantly surprised last Thursday by a number of her former schoolmates and friends. Those present were Miss Mabel Notten, Mrs. Chester Notten, Mrs. Truman Lehman, Mrs. Nelson Peterson, Mrs. Bertie Towery, Mrs. John Miller, Mrs. Walter Riemen-schneider and Mrs. P. H. Riemen-schneider. The afternoon was spent in visiting, and refreshments were served.

Rev. Mumby Writes of

livered to my cabin, "An American Doctor's Odyssey." This book and "In the Steps of St. Paul," another sailing present, kept me busy all the way across the Atlantic. I certainly appreciate the thoughtfulness of my many friends.

Having received letters and gifts
the next duty is to write some letters.
The day is glorious and the scenery is interesting, so you write a letter and then go on deck in order not to miss anything, taking a few sheets of ship's stationery and your trusty fountain pen, and a new book, outside, where you finish your correspondence. These letters will go ashore at Quebec which we reached about 9:30 p.m. There will be a last opportunity to mail letters back home when the pilot leaves the ship at Father Point which was at 7:45 a.m. Saturday.

After receiving passengers at Quebec our last port of call we get our table assignment and find that we are at number 14. The "we" includes a young man from S. Dakota, a student at Chicago Univ., whom I met on the train soon after leaving Ann Arbor.
Our baggage tags introduced us, and finding we had much in common we stuck together throughout the voyage.
There were six other members of our table party and the octet turned out to be as jolly a group as one would wish to meet.

We are taking the northern passage and eight Anticosti Island soon after lunch. This island is 150 miles long, and was formerly owned by Meunier
the "Chocolate King" of France. On Sunday morning we are in the Gulf but land is visible to the north. In the afternoon we reach the Straits of Belle Isle and the rugged Labrador coast. The temperature is falling, the sunset is gorgeous, and we pass Belle Isle about 9:00 p.m. This is the last land we shall see on this side of the Atlantic. The lights on either end of Belle Isle wink regularly, the wind is keen and the thermometer has dropped to 35. The rolling swell of the ocean becomes more pronounced. The "arctic" currents bring plenty of ice down the stormy coasts of Labrador, and with mingled feelings the passengers seek their berths leaving the ship in the capable and experienced hands of the officers and crew.

On Monday, July 12, owing to the "strong, wind, rough sea" and the "heavy, confused swell" posted in the ship's log, I am all alone at the breakfast table. After a walk on deck and a look at my suffering and shivering fellow passengers, I discover a deserted writing room on the other side of the ship and settle down to read.

The next day a decidedly optimistic tone seemed to be returning and the attendance at tables began to increase.
A sea voyage always makes me hungry and sleepy, and as there is little else that really needs to be done, I always take advantage of the opportunity to get as much food and sleep as possible. There are always plenty of interesting people to talk to, games
to play, books to read, pictures to take,
etc.

Divine services are held every Sunday morning in the big cabin dining saloon. An improvised altar, which is easily arranged on the backs of two chairs with appropriate draperies, is carried on all ships and Catholic services are held every morning. Other services are held by interested groups and special dinners and evening concerts keep us entertained. There is a swimming pool on deck which is too chilly to use, but the sea is calmer and by Friday evening we are off the coast of Ireland. The Caledonia passed over us about 5:00 a.m., but being asleep
I didn't see her. While a grand "farewell concert" was taking place in the main dining saloon we met a fleet of British "destroyers" which for many proved a greater attraction than the concert.

On Saturday morning we sighted Land's End through a drifting sort of fog which opens up and closes down again in a tantalizing manner and by 8:20 we were abeam the famous Eddystone lighthouse, and in less than half an hour we were in Plymouth Harbor.
Several passengers and two American cars were placed aboard the tender and by 10:30 we were steaming across the channel to Le Havre. Arriving about 11 p.m., too late to discharge a large number of Continental and Canadian passengers, many of the latter being on a pilgrimage to Vmoy Ridge to attend an anniversary reunion.

Shore leave was prohibited on account of the absence of French official but several members of the crew went anyway. Most of them were placed under arrest by the master at arms, although a few, including our table steward, managed to get aboard again unseen. Fines of $5.00 each were imposed at the ship's court the next day.

On Sunday morning, July 18, the passengers, after an early breakfast, went ashore at 6:00 o'clock and by 6:30 we were leaving for London. It was a beautiful morning, the sea was perfect and full of jellyfish of all sizes and tinted with all the colors of the rainbow. Ships of all sizes from all the far away places, coming and going, and after sighting Folkestone we skirted the English coast in sight of the chalk cliffs, until we came to the treacherous Goodwin Sands and the Tongue lightship which marks the mouth of the Thames river.
All our table crowd was still intact
and after a pleasant dinner we went on deck and took pictures and watched the bustling traffic of one of the world's busiest and most famous rivers until the ship reached her berth in Surrey commercial dock about midnight.

It was too late to go ashore and the word was passed around that we should breakfast at 7:00. On Monday morning all was bustle and activity.
Your baggage is taken ashore and placed under a great initial letter of your name, you try to convince the immigration officials that you are just a visitor and do not intend to try to get work while in the country, answer
a lot of questions giving information
as to your business, place of birth, why you are there, and specially, when you are planning to leave. This latter seems to be such an all important item that about every third question seems to be a skillfully arranged variant. After assuring the official that I had no desire to do any work of any kind in England, having travelled three thousand miles to get away from it, that I had a return ticket in my pocket and intended to use it personally to get away from a country that insisted on bringing up even a suggestion of "work," I was permitted to go ashore to satisfy the customs officials which proved not too difficult, and about 10:00 a.m. found myself at liberty to proceed with my journey
after a ride across London in a bus operated by the steamship company.

Etesian Winds
Etesian winds are winds blowing at stated times of the year, applied especially to north and northeast winds which prevail at certain seasons in the Mediterranean regions. They are due to the heat of the African Sahara, which causes the huge displacement of air due to superheating. This is supplied by the cooler air from Southern Europe.

authorities for a large amount of unemployment in Michigan, among men over 60 years.

"Men are often 'washed up' at 50,"
said P. D. Fahnestock of Washington, D. C., social security board executive,
in an address in Lansing.

"You can't have men sitting around worrying and brooding until they are 65 when they become eligible for old age assistance. This is where our new program of vocational rehabilitation comes in. This will mean a great deal to automotive centers."

The federal movement is designed to provide new means of livelihood for middle-aged men who can't stand the pressure of industrial work and who are ineligible for old age pensions.

C.I.O. Indictments

Out of the epidemic of "sit-down"
strikes in Michigan automobile plants
—both authorized and unauthorized
—came dire predictions that C.I.O.
irresponsibility would induce manufacturers to move factories to other states—preferably in the Tennessee Valley Authority where government-made electricity is available at low rates.

One answer to these speculations
was provided at Flint a few days ago when Harlow H. Curtice of the Buick Motor company informed newsmen that the company has spent $40,000-000 in three years for plant expansion and retooling—$10,000,000 of this amount within the last year. Under the new program, 300,000 Buick units
will be produced in 1938.

The strongest indictment of the C.I.O. in many months was made by Flint delegates to the third Archdiocesan Catholic Action convention of the Federation of Catholic Study Clubs, meeting in Detroit. The Catholics declared that the C.I.O. in Flint, was lawless and terroristic, forcing many workers to join against their will.

Cheap Electricity

One of the cards in Governor Murphy's "New Deal" for Michigan has been rural electrification through federal co-operative associations. The movement is intended to furnish cheap electricity to farmers.

At Uby in the "Thumb" district, a huge electric generating plant is to be constructed. The government is loaning several million dollars to the Thumb co-op.

According to the state utilities commission, private power companies have been purposely building rural power lines in the better farm areas, leaving sparsely populated districts for the federal co-ops to serve. The commission now seeks an injunction to restrain the Consumers Power company of Jackson from building any more rural power lines until the commission has approved plans and specifications. A bill specifically granting this supervisory power to the state commission was introduced in the 1937 legislature, passed by the house, but died in senate committee.

Michigan now leads all mid-west states in per capita progress of rural electrification, according to national statistics.

No Drouth Here

Fall trade prospects continue to improve throughout Michigan, as the conditions of crops remain good and as fall planting is made without handicap of drouth. In many states, Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Kansas, and Nebraska—drouth conditions prevail for fall plowing and planting.

Whereas Wisconsin's cherry and potato crops were greatly reduced this year due to widespread drouth, Michigan growers enjoy fine yields.

Proof of the economic improvement is seen in bank deposits which have soared $67,154,000 and reserves have climbed $24,000,000.

Beer Embargo Unpopular

An embargo in Michigan against Indiana-made beer would be very unpopular with Michigan growers of fruits and vegetables, judging from protests which have reached Lawrence Rahilly, secretary of the state liquor control commission. Indiana provides a big market for Michigan fruits and vegetables, and growers fear retali-
tory embargoes.

The 1937 legislature made mandatory an embargo on beer in states which imposes a higher tax on out-of-state brews than on home beer. The law is now before Attorney-General
Starr for a ruling on its validity.

Apples Vs. Doctors

If there is any truth to the old saying, Michigan doctors can take a vacation next winter.

Michigan's apple crop is bumper in size, enough to provide father, mother and all the kids with an apple a day.
In fact, the big crop has worried officials of the Michigan Apple Institute, headed by Roscoe J. Martin of Bangor. The federal government through the AAA has offered to buy 600 carloads of apples for distribution among relief recipients. Another factor to help stabilize the apple market will be participation of chain store and independent food retailers in a statewide sales program this fall.

How to dispose of Michigan apples is not so easy as it would seem. More Washington-grown apples have been sold in Michigan than Michigan apples, and Institute leaders believe the answer lies in an advertising campaign to acquaint Michigan and the Mid-West with merits of our home-grown product.

Michigan Miscellany
A survey by the United Press reveals that two-thirds of Michigan legislators are opposed to a special session this fall.

The legislative investigating committee into gambling has reached the point where members are promising criminal indictments. The House voted to legalize slot machines and dog racing.

Millions of white pine, Norway spruce and red pine seedlings are being planted this month in national forests by C.C.C. -ouths.

New state park sites will be bought this fall on the great lakes and the St. Clair river. The legislature appropriated $300,000.

BLOWING BUBBLES

The life of a bubble is very short. As soon as it is over-inflated, it bursts. Speculation is just like blowing bubbles. A Cooking Machine

as exact as the engineer's watch on the 20th century limited!

The engineer's watch which controls the operation of a limited train must be accurate to the second, for upon it depends the convenience and well-being of the passengers entrusted to his care. The controls of an Electric Range are as accurate as a fine watch, and rightly so, for they must conduct the cooking operation alone, without the guiding hand of an "engineer." Two scientifically exact instruments do this—the electric clock and the electric thermostat. The clock gives you automatic control of the time for starting the meal and the period during which it cooks. The thermostat assures an absolutely fixed heat by means of accurately regulated temperature at all times. These two vigilant watchmen insure perfect results.

Stephen L. Gage died at his home in Sylvan, on Wednesday, September 24, 1913.

Fred H. Trinkle, a former well known resident of Lima township, died at his home in Manchester on Thursday, September 18, 1913.

Fred Schultz has sold his residence property on Jefferson street to P. G. Schable.

Wesley Canfield has purchased the residence property of Mrs. James Mullen on Jackson street and is making arrangements to move there in the near future.

The Baptist society has extended a call to Rev. A. W. Fuller of Illinois. The L.C.B.A. gave a farewell party for Mrs. Jas. Mullen on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. L. Burg. Mrs. Mullen has gone to Detroit to make her home.

Martin Wenk has purchased the property of Mrs. C. Schettler in Freedom and will move there this fall.

A double eagle which was believed to have been lost in a fire that destroyed the house of Stowell Wood on April 6, was recovered last Saturday in the ruins, while excavating for a new house to be built on the site of the old one. The $20 gold piece was not even scratched.

A tribe of Cherokee Indians made several calls at North Lake on Sunday.

34 YEARS AGO

Thursday, September 24, 1903

The annual reunion of the 17th Michigan was held in Chelsea on Thursday, September 17. Sixty-one members were in attendance.

The onion crop in this vicinity is nearly ready for the market. Some of the growers state that it will probably be less than half a crop for the acreage planted.

Mrs. John Clark died at her home near Four-Mile lake this morning.

Albert B. Storms, a former well known Chelsea resident has just been made president of the Iowa State College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts.

Mr. and Mrs. Simon Weber celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Friday.

OUR NEIGHBORS

DEXTER—The old school building has been again put in presentable condition by having the metal cornices repaired and painted, the clock tower and dial repainted and repaired and the roof repaired. The old building again looks somewhat like it did years ago when it was the pride of Dexter. It is probable that we may soon again hear the town clock sound its hourly call. The condition of the tower was such as to make it impossible for the clock to operate successfully. The School Board should be commended for its activity in making these repairs.—Leader.

TECUMSEH—Plans for a new post office in Tecumseh were realized last week when an appropriation of $70,000 was approved by the postoffice department at Washington for the construction of a federal building in this village. Mrs. Frank S. Gillespie, postmistress, was notified of the appropriation late last Thursday.—Herald.

NORTHVILLE—B. A. Hodge of East Base Line road, is telling a story this week about a young fellow in a yellow roadster who lost his lavender shirt stealing apples.

It all happened about five o'clock Sunday afternoon at the Hodge farm where voices coming from the orchard sent Mr. Hodge down by the fence to see what was happening. He was just in time to watch a man climb over the fence, his arms filled with a lavender cloth stuffed with apples.

"Come on, there," in no pleasant tone of voice brought the bundle of apples to Mr. Hodge who started back to the house with them, only to hear the unhappy "picker" tell him that the apples were in "his" shirt. Then he started throwing apples at Mr. Hodge who just kept going.

Today Mr. Hodge has the apples and the shirt.—Record.

JACKSON—Warm days and a complete absence of rain failed to make the 1937 Jackson county fair the success its directors had expected. Gross receipts fell some $1,200 below last year.—Evening Star.

NEW GASOLINE ANNOUNCED

FOR 1938 AUTOMOBILES

Chicago, Sept. 21.—Anticipating the fuel requirements of the 1938 model automobiles, Standard Oil Company of Indiana has perfected a new gasoline which will be advertised during the fall and winter in some 1,800 daily and weekly newspapers in the central west.

The newspaper advertising campaign will begin today, and will feature a typical American newsboy in action. Each copy in bold type will be used to present the facts about the fuel.

According to the announcements, this new gasoline will give faster starting, longer mileage, more power and has a higher anti-knock quality. No increase in price is contemplated.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Was William Penn a Quaker? And are the Quakers a sect which embraces Christianity?

Ans.—Yes, William Penn was a Quaker, having joined the Society a few years after its founding in 1648 by George Fox of England. The word "Quaker" is a blanket term covering three divisions of the Society of Friends—the Orthodox; the Hicksite and the Wilburites. In the main they agree with the other sects of Christianity. However, they deny the necessity of the practice of the sacraments of baptism and the Lord's supper. The Hicksite division which was organized in 1827 do not believe that all the Scriptures are inspired, and deny that the spiritual conception and divinity of Christ. The Wilburites are followers of John Wilbur of Rhode Island who founded this division in 1843. They dissented from the Orthodox Friends on the grounds that their position inclined too much toward the evangelical.

Ques.—Is the Python snake and the Boa Constrictor the same?

Ans.—No. They are distinct species, but very closely allied. The Python is a little more powerful and easily strangle deer, tigers and other animals. They have a prehensile tail with which they suspend themselves from the branches of trees near places where animals come to drink, and take them unawares by casting their coils about the neck and body.

Ques.—Is it true that rabbits pair for life, as I have heard?

Ans.—Rabbits in their wild state pair for life. Rabbits in captivity or domestication cease to pair, but breed the same as other animals or rodents.

Ques.—Why are the "Thousand Islands" in the St. Lawrence river so named?

Ans.—These islands in the St. Lawrence river were named "Thousand Islands" because they were so numerous. All are productive of vegetation—even to the tiniest islet—thus presenting a fine view for sightseers.

Ques.—What are the rings of Saturn composed of? Does the planet go around the sun the same as the earth does?

Ans.—Scientists are generally agreed that the rings of Saturn is an immense multitude of small satellites. The planet travels around the sun in the same manner as the earth. However, Saturn's mean distance from the sun is 886 million miles and makes the circuit once in 29 earth years. In other words, it takes 29 of our years to make one year on Saturn.

Ques.—On what day of the week was the battle fought between the Monitor of the Federal government and the Merrimac of the Confederate States in the American Civil War? Which won the battle?

Ans.—This memorable naval battle was fought on Sunday, March 9, 1862. After several hours of close-range fighting, the Merrimac was compelled to withdraw. Later it was destroyed by the Confederates when they evacuated Norfolk.

Ques.—I would like to ask you how did the mocking bird get its name?

Ans.—The mocking bird was so named because of its ability to imitate the songs of other birds and other sounds in the same manner that a parrot does. They make their imitations only in the daytime. At night they sing their own natural notes, which are bold, rich and full.

Ques.—In what city in North America is located the largest church? And what is the denomination?

Ans.—It is believed that the Church of Notre Dame in Montreal is the largest religious edifice in North America. It has two towers, each of which are 227 feet high, and the church has a seating capacity of 10,000. The church is Roman Catholic.

Ques.—Was October named after Emperor Octavius of Rome?

Ans.—No. It was so named because of its position as eighth month in the Roman year.

School is again in session. This requires additional care in driving our automobiles and trucks.

Special attention should be paid all rules and regulations that the town, city, village, or Board of Education has built or inaugurated around these school buildings. Let's pay attention to these signs.

You will expect this courtesy, care, and consideration shown your children while on their way to school and consequently you are obligated to show the same consideration to other children.

Safety education is given the children in the schools regularly now and with everybody cooperating these accidents should be eliminated.

A LOVE SONG OF 60 YEARS AGO

The Faithfulness of Love
(From the Old Attic Chest)

When the curtains of night are pinned back by the stars,
And the beautiful moon leaps the sky,
When the dewdrops of heaven are kissing the rose,

It is then that my memory flies;
As if on the wing of some beautiful dove
In haste with the message it bears,
To bring you a kiss of affection and say,

"I'll remember you, love, in my prayer
When the beautiful angels are guarding the good
As God has ordained them to do,
In answer to prayer I have offered to him,

I know there is one watching you;
And may his sweet spirit be with you through life,
And guide you up Heaven's bright stair,
And meet with the one who has loved you so true,

I have loved you too fondly to ever forget
The love you have spoken to me,
And the kiss of affection still warm on my cheek
When you told me how true you would be,

I care not if fortune be fickle or friend
Or if time on your memory wear,
I know that I love you wherever you roam,
And remember you, love, in my prayer.

Chorus
Go where you will on land or on sea,
I'll share all your sorrow and care,
And at night when I kneel by my bedside and pray,
I'll remember you, love, in my prayer.

—Arthur Carlton

CHILDREN IN COURT

Judge Malcolm Hatfield

An unusual case was recently referred to the juvenile court in which an adolescent girl displayed a pronounced hostility toward the church, school, and public officials.

A careful investigation by an officer of the court revealed that the girl's parents had on numerous occasions ridiculed the appearance of certain teachers, ministers, and police officers in her presence. Consequently, her respect for these institutions and law and order was greatly undermined for she felt that religion was a racket and the average public official a grafting politician.

The wise parent upholds the church and school teacher in all she says even though she has made a somewhat hasty decision. It is far more satisfactory to approach a teacher privately and frankly discuss a grievance than abuse her in the child's presence. Once a youngster learns that the home, school and church stand united, she will think twice before she breaks the rules of either.

Profits In Dairy Are Cut By Long Hours

Proof that Michigan dairymen who spend their time most efficiently in caring for their herds are the same dairymen who produce butterfat at lower cost and get better returns for each hour of labor is found in a summary of the efforts of 123 typical dairy farm owners and operators.

This summary was compiled by members of the farm management department of Michigan State College as the final year of a five-year study.

Forty-one dairymen produced butterfat with an average labor charge charges, 42 for ten cents a pound, and 40 of the group found that butterfat cost them fifteen cents a pound for labor spent on their herds.

What's the reason?

In the low cost group only 107 hours per cow were spent during the year and the 14-cow herds averaged 366 pounds of fat. In the high cost group, 186 hours of labor were recorded, yet the 12-cow herds averaged but 312 pounds of fat.

The low labor cost dairymen spent 51 fewer hours milking their higher producing cows largely because three times as many had milking machines. Records indicated the milking machine expense added $2.42 for each cow for a year. The low labor cost men also spent less time in feeding and other care of the cows. Labor and equipment charges were nearly $20 a cow lower for the efficiently handled herds.

Dairymen who cared for their herds most efficiently earned a return of 72 cents an hour, while those spending the most time found a return of only 34 cents an hour for their time in caring for their cows.

Indians Valued Life
One of the few cases of suicide by an Indian ever reported—if it was one—was that of Ma-Saw-Boy, of Isabella county, says a Mt. Pleasant, Mich., correspondent in the Detroit Free Press. After the white man had invaded his country there more than 80 years ago, Ma-Saw-Boy became despondent and made several trips to Washington to protest his possession of the Indians. One day he was found dead with a knife plunged in his abdomen. The official verdict was suicide, but Indians, unwilling to admit that one of their race had taken his own life, always after protested that he had been murdered.

Hunting Season Opens In U. P. on October 1st

Lansing—Hunting for small game birds and animals becomes legal in the upper peninsula Friday, Oct. 1, when the season opens on ruffed grouse, prairie chickens, sharpshinned grouse, cottontail rabbits, snowshoe hares, fox squirrels and woodcock.

As in past years there will be no open season in the upper peninsula on ringnecked pheasants.

Upland small game hunting in the lower peninsula of Michigan does not open until Friday, Oct. 15. On that date ringnecked pheasants, ruffed grouse, cottontail rabbits, snowshoe hares, fox squirrels and woodcock become legal game generally throughout the lower peninsula.

In the case of prairie chickens and sharpshinned grouse there is an open season in the lower peninsula throughout the area north of the north line of Township 16 north and west of Saginaw bay. South of that line and including all of Huron county there will be no open season on prairie chickens and sharpshinned grouse.

The hunting season on ducks, geese, brant, coot, jacksnipe, rails and gallinules opens Saturday, Oct. 9 in both the upper and lower peninsulas.

ENTERTAINS WOMEN'S UNION The September meeting of the Women's Union of St. Paul's church was held Thursday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Otto Lucht. Thirty-two members and six visitors were present at the meeting, which opened with scripture and prayer, after which Mrs. Lucht presented the topic "The Call from the City Streets." Refreshments were served with Mrs. Mary Eschelbach as assistant hostess.

Mrs. Mary Faust, who with her daughter Ruth, left Friday for a winter's stay in Los Angeles, Calif., was presented with a shower of letters by the members to be opened after arriving at her destination, each on a different day.

power of sale contained in said mort-

power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative;

Now, Therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described therein at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the southerly or Huron Street entrance to the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor, in said County of Washtenaw, that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw is held, on Saturday, the 9th day of October, A. D. 1937, at nine o'clock in the forenoon of that day, which said premises are described in said mortgage as all those certain pieces or parcels of land described as follows:

Lots number forty-three and forty of South Park Addition in the Township of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, Michigan, according to the recorded plat thereof, recorded in Plat Book number two on page 38. Subject to the building restrictions placed upon said lot as more fully shown in deeds recorded in Liber 202 on page 285, in Liber 198 on Page 281, in Liber 200 on page 6.

Also, the north twenty-two feet of the east half of lot nine and the east half of lot number ten in block three south of Huron Street, range two east, according to the original plat of the Village (now City) of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, Michigan.

Dated: July 13, 1937.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE

Default having been made in the conditions of a certain mortgage made by Wayne S. Ramsey and Hulda A. Ramsey, husband and wife, Mortgagees, to The State Savings Bank, a corporation organized under the banking laws of the State of Michigan, with its banking office at Ann Arbor, Michigan, Mortgage, dated June 20th, 1928, and recorded on June 20th, 1928; in the office of the Register of Deeds of Washtenaw County, Michigan, in Liber 181 of Mortgages, on Page 180.

And Whereas, the said mortgage was assigned by The State Savings Bank, a corporation organized under the banking laws of the State of Michigan, with its banking office at Ann Arbor, Michigan, through an instrument dated July 7th, 1928, and recorded on September 7th, 1927, in the office of the Register of Deeds of Washtenaw County, Michigan, in Liber 27 of Assignments, on Page 90, to Anna A. Muehlig.

And Whereas, there is claimed to be due on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of $4250.00 principal, $311.66 interest, together with an attorney fee of $35.00, making a total amount due on said mortgage of $4596.66 and no suit or proceeding at law having been instituted to recover the money secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof.

Therefore, by virtue of the power of sale contained in such mortgage and the statute in such case made and provided, notice is hereby given that on Saturday, the 18th day of December, A. D. 1937, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, Eastern Standard Time, the undersigned will sell at the south front door of the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor, Michigan, that being the place where the Circuit Court for Washtenaw County is held, the premises described in said mortgage, or so much thereof as may be necessary to pay the amount due thereon with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum and all legal costs incident to these proceedings, together with an attorney fee of $35.00 as provided in said mortgage. The said premises being described as follows:

All that certain place or parcel of land, situate and being in the City of Ann Arbor in the County of Washtenaw and State of Michigan, and described as follows, to-wit:

A part of lots 102 and 103 Baldwin's Third Addition; beginning at the northwest corner of said Adams' lot on the east line of said lot 102 at the corner of said Adams' lot and on iron stake; thence west 20 feet to iron stake on J. NOTICE OF MORTGAGE SALE
Whereas, default has been made in the payment of the money secured by a mortgage dated the 20th day of December, A. D. 1933, executed by Carl A. Benz and Grace Vincent Benz, husband and wife, of the City of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, Michigan, to the First National Bank and Trust Company of Ann Arbor, which said mortgage was duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Washtenaw, Michigan, in Liber 196 of Mortgages on Page 476, on the 21st day of December, A. D. 1933, and which said mortgage was also duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for the County of Livingston, Michigan, in Liber 129 of Mortgages on Page 238 on the 23rd day of April, A. D. 1936; and,
Whereas, said mortgage, together with the note or obligation mentioned therein was thereafter duly assigned by two deeds of assignment by the First National Bank and Trust Company of Ann Arbor to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, one of which was dated the 14th day of February, A. D. 1936, and was thereafter duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Washtenaw County, Michigan, on the 16th day of February, 1936 in Liber 25 of Assignments on Page 277, and the other of which was dated the 24th day of April, A. D. 1936 and thereafter duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Livingston County, Michigan, on the 20th day of May, A. D. 1936 in Liber 133 of Mortgages, on page 31; and,
Whereas, the amount claimed to be due and unpaid on said mortgage at the date of this notice is the sum of Three Thousand Six Hundred Dollars ($3,600.00) for principal, the sum of Four Hundred Forty-Four Dollars ($444.00) for interest, the sum of One Hundred Ninety-Nine Dollars and Ninety-Seven Cents ($199.97) for taxes paid, and the sum of Thirty-Five Dollars ($35.00) for an attorney fee as provided in said mortgage, making the total now due upon said mortgage the sum of Four Thousand Two Hundred Seventy-Eight Dollars and Ninety-Seven Cents ($4278.97), reserving the right given in said mortgage to pay any or all unpaid taxes at any time before sale, and to add the amount thereof so paid to the amount secured by said mortgage; and, no suit or proceeding having been instituted to recover the debt now remaining secured by said mortgage, or any part thereof, whereby the power of sale contained in said mortgage has become operative;
Now, Therefore, Notice is hereby given, that by virtue of the said power of sale, and in pursuance of the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described therein at public auction, to the highest bidder, at the southerly or Huron Street entrance to the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor, in said County of Washtenaw, that being the place where the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw is held, on Saturday, the 27th day of November, A. Continuity of Benefits

SOMETIMES we hear people say when they have just received some concrete benefit, that it cannot last, and that they will just suffer some calamity to counteract the good received. This is the result of ignorance of the cause, nature, and purpose of the beneficial effects which we experience. It is due to the false belief that evil is as real and powerful as good.

John tells us (1 John 2:17), that "he that doeth the will of God abideth for ever." Now the prospect of abiding forever, would not be very satisfactory if we had to continue to ever experiencing calamity, disaster, and suffering. Evidently John's disclosure of immortality included health, harmony, that is, perfection, not intermittently but continuously, real being there is a steady and uninterrupted manifestation of that which is wholly beneficial. Whatever else seems to have existence appears only as a mistake, a misconception. There is no sorrow of any kind, no pain, no maintained and reversed by an operative divine Principle, the source of all that is beneficial. Mary Baker Eddy says (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 124); "Spirit is the life, substance, and continuant of all things." Since Spirit could do no wrong, it is evident that it has no evil or oppressive. It is apparent that discords are illusions, not actualities.

Christ Jesus was always willing and able to benefit mankind in whatever way seemed necessary, and his acts were in accord with spiritual law and order. He was able to heal the lame, give sight to the blind, and raise the dead. It is apparent that he recognized no interruption in the spiritual order and continuity of his universe and perfection. The Bible tells us (Proverbs 28:10) that "the upright shall have good things in possession;" so Jesus cast out evil from the hearts of his hearers, and bestowed benefits for humanity. Health, peace, joy, and prosperity are natural, and their manifestation in experience is inevitable when we consistently express the qualities which support them, namely, honesty, goodness, righteousness, and spiritual understanding. It is our privilege to protect ourselves and our affairs by knowing that there is no law operating in opposition to our well-being, and that there is no power apart from eternal Love that can destroy it, as established and provable fact.

We may, deprive ourselves of great many benefits by a misconception of our true spiritual nature. God is the creator of perfect man, and this spiritual man is the indestructible, immortal expression of our immortal Soul. Every thing that we possess or reflects he derives from the mortal life and Love. Mrs. Eddy states (Science and Health, p. 225) "When spiritual being is understood in all its perfection, continuity, and might, then shall man be found to be God's image." This is scientific reasoning, because the unbroken line of beneficent activities that are inherent in true consciousness are expressed in the ideal man. As we rid ourselves of the old, worn-out concept of man as material and mortal, we put on the true or new man with all the attendant benefits. The ever-available Christ-idea impels us to relinquish the false concept of God, man, and the universe which is responsible for a limited, intermittent, and uncertain sense of harmony, satisfaction, and peace.

We derive unceasing benefit out from that which inspires us to spiritual thinking and living for his is the only way by which we come to regard good as more normal than evil, and so escape the penalties exacted by the belief of evil as real. This is the only way by which we can maintain the true thinking which unfailingly contributes to the highest spiritual good.

Reaction, relapse, and retrogression are human concepts, which can never hinder or stop the continuous and eternal unfoldment of infinity. Truth, from which emanates all that is constructive and beneficial, it is normal for us to be happy and healthy, and to have a peace of mind to be operative and valuable to establish harmony in individual consciousness and experience. —The Christian Science Monitor.

Hat Fit for a Queen

CHARLTON GALLAGHER says that his annual income is the highest in Chicago. That's because he manages the Board of Trade observatory, more than one-ninth of a mile above the pavements.

Gallagher's office is directly below a statue of Ceres, pagan goddess of grains and harvests, whose featureless face and aluminum form serve also as a smokestack for its own and an adjacent building.

"Some folks are difficult to please," Gallagher philosophizes, squinting up at the statue. "That building next door is so much lower a terrific draft is created by our smokestack. It's necessary for shovels and other articles to be fastened in the engine room, else they'll come flying out around the feet of Ceres."

"One sparkling day a woman visitor arrived in the tower. The wind was light and even the sand dunes across Lake Michigan were visible. But the marvelous sight failed to impress the lady.

"As she turned her back on it a handful of woman's apparel came scooting out of the smokestack, a small hat actually whirling until finally it rested at a rakish angle across the smooth brow of Ceres.

"Accuties told me the chances are 148,497 to 1 against such a remarkable performance. But the woman visitor merely shrugged her shoulders and departed. The hat, she remarked coldly, was a last year's model."

CHELSEA WINS OVERTIME, 8-7
The last Tri-County League game of the season for the Chelsea nine resulted in a victory for Manager Reed's team, 8 to 7, over Saline. It was Chelsea's first victory over Saline this season, the visitors having won all three previous contests. Forced to go into extra innings for the first time this season, Chelsea scored two runs in the 7th to tie the score. By previous agreement the game was to have been a seven inning battle but the tie score held until the last of the tenth when Chelsea put across the winning run with two hits and a stolen base, with no one out. Chelsea used three pitchers, Barth, LaSavage and P. Novess, while Saline used two, Crittendon and Hoelt. The local fans outnumbered the visitors; 18 to 10 but were fortunate to win out even with many substitutes and extra Chelsea players Saline was forced to use.

There will be a game at the local diamond next Sunday, weather permitting, against an unnamed opponent, probably either Dunbar Giants or Waterloo.

LIMA DEFEATS DEXTER
Sunday afternoon at South Ferry field, in the final game of the season, Lima 4-H club defeated Dexter 4-1 by a score of 8 to 7, in a well played game. This victory gave Lima the championship and the cup. Paul Bristle pitched for Lima, with Don Smith catching. D. Rethig pitched for Dexter, with A. Rethig catching. The game was featured by the good fielding and hitting of John Alber and Carl Bristle; Lima's first and second basemen.
