This year's show has many surprises in store for the audience. The theme of the production is "Down Memory Lane to the School of Happiness."

BEWARE OF STRANGERS!
Reports of strangers accosting children who walk along the highways have been received by local officers from rural school districts. Parents are urged to warn their children that they should never get in a car with a stranger, and if possible it would be wise to escort the children to and from school. If older children are advised to get the license number of any car bearing men attempting to molest the youngsters it would be easy to apprehend the degenerates.

BE SURE AND SEE the Corn Husking Contest at the Kiwanis Hall on Saturday evening, Nov. 13, featuring Rambling Bill Hurley, famous dance caller and his orchestra at high school gym, Friday evening of this week.

Lansing—A welfare tug-of-war is raging in Michigan this week as the October 29 deadline nears for a showdown on whether a state-wide referendum will be held Nov. 8, 1938 on the new welfare law.

M. S. Van Gieson, Flint, state contact man for the county supervisors who are opposing the new plan, has been confident that the quota of 90,000 signatures would be obtained by tomorrow (Friday).

Attorney General Raymond Starr has ruled that filing of petitions would prevent the new welfare plan from being put into effect, but it would not stop administration of funds. Michigan spends $3,000,000 a year in old age assistance and $2,000,000 for dependent children. The federal government matches these sums.

The Michigan State Farm Bureau may become a factor in the referendum fight. Among its members are rural county supervisors and superintendents of the poor many of whom are opposed to the new code whereby Lansing retains centralized supervision over administration of welfare money in each county.

The Farm Bureau holds its annual convention Nov. 11 and 12 at Michigan State College.

Centralized Authority
The trend towards centralization of government at Lansing has been under way for years.

When the legislature in 1937 passed an occupational disease compensation law and a labor relations board act (since vetoed by the governor), it gave more power to State government.

The same inclination to administer affairs of state from Lansing is seen in the legislature's decision increasing state advertising funds from $100,000 to $150,000, but retaining $50,000 for (Continued on next page)

HONECK-SECKINGER WEDDING

The ceremony uniting in marriage Miss Bertha Helen Honeck, daughter of Mrs. Clara Honeck of Chelsea and Gregory Seckinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Seckinger of Clark's Lake, was solemnized Monday morning at 8:15 at St. Mary church. The nuptial mass was read by Rev. Lawrence Dorr. A gown of medium blue velvet with matching hat was worn by the bride, who carried an arm bouquet of bridal roses and white baby's breath. The maid of honor, Miss Frances Seckinger, sister of the groom, was attired in navy blue crepe and carried Briarcliff roses. Joseph Honeck, brother of the bride, performed the duties of best man.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast for 35 guests was served at the home of the bride's mother on Garfield St. A color motif of pink and white was carried out in the decorations, a miniature bride and groom surmounting the wedding cake which formed the centerpiece.

The bride is a graduate of St. Mary's school, class of 1928. Mr. and Mrs. Seckinger left on a motor trip to Dayton, Ohio, where they will visit relatives. They will make their home in Jackson.

Guests were present at the wedding from Jackson, Kalamazoo, Clark's Lake, Ann Arbor and Dexter.

A pre-nuptial party and miscellaneous shower, honoring the bride-to-be was given Friday evening at the home of Mrs. Joseph Dreyer, with Mrs. William Hafner, Misses Thelma Honeck and Bertha Merkel as co-hostesses. Bridge and buncos furnished diversion for the evening and a feature of the entertainment was a mock wedding, with W. L. Stanley as the minister, Julia Juergens the bride, Thelma Honeck the groom, Mrs. Wm. Hafner the ring bearer, and Mrs. F. W. Merkel, father of the bride. Ice cream and cake were served.

Son of Former Pastor Captured In Spain

The following article, taken from the Fort Wayne (Ind.) News Sentinel of October 16, will be of interest to the many friends of Rev. Martin Lee Grant, former pastor of the local Congregational church, now of Terre Haute, Ind.

Terre Haute, Ind.—Dispatches disclosing capture of Walter Grant, former Hoosier, while fighting against Franco's fascists in Spain, came as a distinct shock to the youth's father, Rev. Martin Lee Grant, he said here today.

His family thought young Grant, who attended schools in Marion, Ind., and studied at Indiana University, had gone to Spain last December as a war correspondent for a minor New York newspaper.

Press reports said Grant was captured by insurgent Spanish forces along with 17 other men fighting for the Loyalist cause, when Franco's troops stopped a truck on the Jarama front February 15.

Dispatches said young Grant had been fighting with the Abraham Lincoln Brigade, a unit of men in sympathy with the Spanish government.

The Rev. Mr. Grant said his son hated Fascism and felt he could do the most good fighting Franco's forces in Spain. Young Grant attended school in Marion while his father had a charge there, later receiving his baccalaureate and master's degree in English at Indiana University.

Lump-Sum Security Payments Are Due

Many persons in the Jackson area who are entitled to lump-sum payments under the social security act have failed to claim the money due them, it was said today by Richard H. Hendrick, manager of the old-age insurance bureau office in the Reynolds Bldg., Jackson.

"Early this year the field research section of the social security board estimated that during the calendar year there would be about 470 claims for lump-sum payments filed in the district served by the Jackson office," Hendrick said. This district includes Jackson, Lenawee, Washtenaw and Hillsdale counties.

"So far only 23 claims have been filed indicating that some 450 other persons who were expected to seek these lump-sum payments before the end of 1937 still must do so although the year is nearing its end. Any person who has been employed in an occupation included in the social security coverage is entitled to a lump-sum payment if he has reached the age of 65 this year," Hendrick added.

"Employers may file claims in behalf of these workers for whom no further contributions are to be made under the federal old-age insurance plan, once such employees reach the age of 65 years. These workers are entitled to a lump-sum payment equal to 3 1/2 per cent of the wages they have received while working this year in occupations covered by the social security act."

"Similar claims may be made in behalf of all persons who have died this year after working in covered employments. Relatives or the estates of such persons may claim these payments which are also 3 1/2 per cent of wages paid. It is not necessary to hire an attorney or an expert to file these claims as our office is prepared to give all necessary services in this connection," said Hendrick.

FARMERS' CLUB ELECTS

The Western Washtenaw Farmers' club met at the home of Mrs. Lina Whitaker and Mr. and Mrs. Dorr Whitaker, Thursday evening, October 21. A pot-luck supper was served at 7:00 o'clock. Election of officers was held, and the newly-elected officers are: President, P. M. Broesamle; vice president, N. W. Laird; secretary, Mrs. Elmer Smith; treasurer, Mrs. James Hendley. There were forty-four present.

SUNSHINE CHAPTER MEETS

Sunshine chapter of the Congregational church held their October meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Wacker. Twenty-four members and guests were present. A short program was held. Tea was served, with Mrs. F. E. Storms and Mrs. D. H. Wurster presiding at the tea table.

CHILDREN IN COURT

Judge Malcolm Hatfield

Judges recognize that fear is one of the most important emotions and frequently determines the future success or failure of children. Many men and women today are chained by fear to a life of drudgery when they could be in positions of responsibility and honor.

The importance of this subject was revealed last week when a mere boy was committed to a state hospital for the insane. As a small youngster, his relatives had amused themselves by watching his reactions when they related stories of ghosts, or explained frightful and gruesome incidents of murders and hangings.

Michigan Mirror

exclusive use of the state administration, the remaining amount to be divided equally between the four tourist associations.

Governor Murphy has predicted the ultimate shift of all state advertising funds to a central agency.

The West Michigan Tourist and Resort association, holding its annual meeting in Grand Rapids, revealed that it had spent from 1929 to 1937 a total of $340,000 in advertising Michigan.

Of this amount the state furnished $145,000, the remaining $195,000 coming from private citizens.

Norman H. Hill, executive secretary of the governor, has been given an extra responsibility of spending the extra $50,000 of state advertising money.

Governor's New Predicament

The Detroit C. I. O. mayoralty candidate, Patrick H. O'Brien, has jumped on the New Deal bandwagon, declaring that his election next month will be equivalent to endorsement of President Roosevelt.

Because Detroit's election system is non-partisan and the main issue is between the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L., O'Brien has put Governor Murphy politically "on the spot."

So far, the governor has resisted pressure to declare himself for O'Brien. At the annual convention of Young Democrats at Muskegon, he served notice to both factions that while he deplored union strife his administration would make no attempt to serve as mediator in settlement of their differences.

Norman Thomas, leader of the socialist party in the United States, pronounced his blessing on the C. I. O. campaign and urged organization of a national labor party.

In the meanwhile, Governor Murphy is at White Sulphur Springs, Virginia, taking medical treatment on order of physicians. Always a defender of the Detroit non-partisan plan for elections, he faces a new test in the C. I. O. - New Deal campaign in the motor-metropolis.

84 Per Cent to Worker

In these days of labor unrest—and spiraling commodity prices—have been a contributing factor—industry needs to take the worker into a partnership for the management. This was the theme of an address given before the Lansing Industrial Executives' club by Sherman Rogers, lecturer and former editorial writer for Outlook and Literary Digest.

Why? The economic research division, United States bureau of commerce, has issued a bulletin on "National Income in the United States," which proves that labor receives 84 cents out of every industrial dollar.

In Grand Rapids a threatened strike at the Grand Rapids Brass Works with a resultant loss of valuable business was averted last spring by intelligent management. Russell W. Geyer, president, spoke to employees on "company time," showing them records how the company had paid millions in wages to workers during the depression while the stockholders received very little in dividends.

Geyer, now president of the manufacturers' association there, has taken the employees into a working partnership. Both employees and stockholders are prospering.

Building tactics will not solve labor-unrest. Perhaps Uncle Sam's own findings of what labor gets out of the industrial dollar offer a key to a better understanding between capital and labor. The Grand Rapids incident indicates that it can be achieved.

More State Parks

As further recognition of the importance of state parks to Michigan's tourist industry, the state legislature voted $300,000 for acquisition of land.

The non-partisan state conservation commission has authorized expenditure of $265,000 to buy property in St. Clair, Monroe and Berrien counties. Four hundred acres are being acquired north of the city of Algonac for an ultimate 1,500-acre state park with a 2,000-foot frontage on the St. Clair river.

North of Port Huron the state is buying a large tract of scenic property on Lake Huron.

The Monroe State park will be expanded by 400 acres.

In Berrien county the Warren Dunes park will be enlarged.

State parks in Oakland and Grand Traverse counties also will be increased in size, it is announced by P. J. Hoffmaster, director of the conservation department.

Does Not Lose Citizenship

A natural born citizen of the United States does not lose his citizenship by living abroad, no matter how long he stays there, unless he renounces it by becoming naturalized in the country of his choice.

But if a naturalized citizen of the United States returns to the country of his birth, and remains there indefinitely without contact with the American government, it is assumed that he has forfeited his American citizenship, and it remains for him to prove that he has not.

Yet, a naturalized citizen who has, for instance, business connections which take him to his native land and keep him there may stay for years without forfeiting his citizenship.

Stammering, Stuttering, Marasmus and stuttering are not considered contagious diseases, but rather psychological disorders.

LANDON RALLIES G. O. P.

Calls on the Republicans to Put Curb on Roosevelt's Demands for Increased Power

Landon Calls on G.O.P.

ALF M. LANDON came to the surface in a radio address to 17,000,000 Americans who voted for him in the last election, and especially to the Republican party as a whole. He said he had called this "radio meeting" to suggest ways and means by which "we, the minority party," can be of outstanding service to the country. The Kansas declared President Roosevelt had failed as an administrator, had failed to follow the Constitution, and now was demanding increased power.

"What he really needs is less power," Mr. Landon asserted, "a position that will force him to take the advice and counsel of other men of both parties—men whose hearts also are in the right place, but men who have had more experience and who know more about the practical application of government than he does."

It is up to the Republicans, he said, to curb Mr. Roosevelt in his demands. He also discussed the war talk prevalent after the President's Chicago speech and said: "We are faced with a situation where he may make a mistake that would indeed be tragic, that might lead to war. Close observers have increasing doubt if he thought his recent declaration through to its logical conclusion."

In conclusion Mr. Landon said: "We have had a New Deal. Now what we most need in America is a new yardstick—a yardstick to measure the ability and the accomplishments, as well as the good intentions, of public officials."

"It is time to put a solid foundation of workable legislation under the air castles which the President forever is blowing."

"It is time to realize that we must apply the resources of the mind if we are to make the wishes of the heart come true."

Farmers Warned on Loans

EDWARD A. O'NEAL, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, headed a group of farm leaders who called on the President for the purpose of asking loans of 60 cents a bushel on corn to improve prices. It was understood Mr. Roosevelt warned that crop loans should not be pushed so high that the drain on federal revenues would become too heavy; and that he intimated that the budget would not permit great extension of loans at this time.

However, Secretary of Agriculture Wallace subsequently told a press conference a government loan on this year's large corn crop "should be exceedingly desirable." He declined to say what loan rate he favored, but conceded that a corn loan of about 45 cents a bushel would be comparable to the government's 9 cents a pound loan on this year's cotton crop.

Credit System Praised

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, speaking at the opening of the new Federal Reserve building in Washington, gave full praise to the federal reserve system as a most important part of the government's plans for economic stability and security. He said disastrous depressions and booms could be avoided only by the development of the credit and monetary machinery of the nation.

"That machinery, he continued, 'must be steadily perfected and coordinated with all other instruments of government to promote the most productive utilization of our human and material resources. Only in that way can we hope to achieve and maintain an enduring prosperity, free from the disastrous extremes of booms and depressions. Only in that way can our economic system and our democratic institutions endure."

Mr. Roosevelt avoided mention of the jittery condition of the stock market, but before delivering his address he had seen Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau and learned that the market was recovering, due to heavy buying by bargain hunters and perhaps to recovery of confidence by investors.

Among the many notable persons on the platform with the President was Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, who fathered the federal reserve system during the Wilson administration. The veteran senator was loudly cheered.

Roper Has a Program

DANIEL C. ROPER, secretary of commerce, also made a speech in Washington, under the auspices of the Rotary club. His subject was the economic relationships of the nations of the western hemisphere, and he proposed this four-point program, which he believed would benefit the entire world:

1. United action throughout the Americas for the publication of verified facts about every country, stressing constructive events and objectives rather than prejudice, crimes, and disrupting events.
2. The introduction into the educational system of every country study of other languages so that each country would be better prepared in attitude and knowledge to help develop its own country. "This means," he said, "that no country will exploit the resources of another country."
3. Encourage tourist travel among all the Americas by truthful advertising and better travel facilities.
4. Broader studies by the countries in the western hemisphere of each other's economic and social needs in the light of the individual country.

New Budget Figures

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT found his estimate of $418,000,000 as the probable deficit for 1938 fiscal year was much too low. So he gave out new budget figures putting the probable deficit at nearly $600 million. And it admittedly will be much greater unless the executive and congress achieve very considerable economies.

Felix Warburg Dies

FELIX M. WARBURG, of New York, one of the country's foremost financiers and philanthropists, died at his home at the age of sixty-seven. He was senior partner of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., international bankers. Between 1920 and 1930 he gave at least ten million dollars to various philanthropies, and for years he was active in the efforts to aid the Jews in Palestine and those driven from Germany by the Nazis.

Airliner Wrecked; 19 Dead

SMASHING against Hayden peak, in the Uinta mountains of Utah, a big transcontinental airliner of the United Air Lines was totally wrecked and its passengers and crew, numbering 19 persons, were killed. The debris was sighted by scout planes some 10,000 feet up the mountainside, but efforts of rescue parties to reach the scene were hampered by heavy snow.

Bela Kun Seized

ACCORDING to an official communist publication in Moscow, Bela Kun, Hungarian who has stirred up lots of trouble in the past, has been arrested by the Russians and charged with "Trotskism" activities, which usually means the death penalty. Kun was dictator of Hungary during the short-lived communist republic after the conclusion of the World war.

Rebels Take Gijon

GREAT BRITAIN, France and Italy—with Germany on the sidelines—were still trying to come to agreement for the removal of volunteers from Spain, but Generalissimo Franco wasn't waiting. His forces in northwest Spain pushed forward to surround Gijon, last important loyalist seaport in that area, and insurgent warships blocked escape by way of the sea. The commanders of the defending loyalist troops realized their predicament and surrendered the city unconditionally. The place was crowded with 130,000 half-starved refugees. The loyalists still were in possession of some strategic points in that sector.

Occupation by the Italians and Germans of two island groups off the coasts of Spain was reported in Paris newspapers.

It was alleged that the Italians had occupied the Columbretes Islands only 40 miles off the east Mediterranean coast and had established a submarine base there. Normally the islands are occupied only by members of a lighthouse crew.

Germans were alleged to have occupied Alboran Island, 50 miles off the south Mediterranean coast and directly in the path of all shipping to and from Gibraltar. The Germans were said to have established a submarine base on the island, likewise used principally heretofore as a lighthouse station.

Davis Sent to Brussels

NORMAN H. DAVIS is on his way to Brussels, Belgium, as head of the American delegation to a conference of the signatories of the nine-power treaty which, the optimists hope, will put an end to the warfare between Japan and China. More realistic observers of the course of events have no such expectation, for the pact has no "teeth," and the conferees can do little except talk.

Associated with Mr. Davis, the administration's roving ambassador, are Dr. Stanley K. Hornbeck and Pierrepoint Moffat as advisers. Robert T. Pell is the press officer and C. E. Bohlen is secretary of the delegation.

Before sailing for Europe the delegates received instructions from President Roosevelt and Secretary of State Hull, but these were not revealed to the public.

The invitation to the conference was issued by the Belgian government "at the request of the British government and with the approval of the government of the United States." China and Japan are both signatories to the treaty. The former accepted the invitation to the Brussels meeting, but it was believed Japan would not be represented there. Tokyo has maintained the policy that the Sino-Japanese troubles must be settled without the intervention of other nations.

Russians in West China

TOKYO newspapers stated that 15 Soviet Russian planes, co-operating with Soviet land forces, had bombed Kashgar, Yarkand, Karghalik, Khotan, Gumer, and other cities of Sinkiang, westernmost province of China, in a battle against Mohammedans. The troops were said to have occupied several of the cities.

Mine Disaster

COAL gas exploded in the Mulga mine in Alabama 12 miles from Birmingham, and the lives of 33 miners were snuffed out. Five hundred men were at work in the mine at the time, but fortunately the explosion was four miles from the entrance. The blast was the first since the operation of the mine was taken over by the Woodward Iron company, large producers of merchant iron in Birmingham. However, 56 men had been killed at Mulga in former years.

"Lindy" Still American

RUMORS that Col. Charles A. Lindbergh was planning to become a British subject seem to be false, for he has just accepted a five year renewal of his commission in the United States army air corps. Army officers expressed the belief privately he would not have renewed his air corps tie if he intended changing his allegiance. The airman has retained his military status since his graduation in 1925 from the air corps flying school at Kelly field, Texas.

Palestine Terrorism

BRITISH military authorities took stern measures to suppress the violence in Palestine, but apparently without success. The Arabs continued their attacks on the Jewish people and buildings and in Jerusalem began using bombs.

Gen. A. P. Wavell, commander of the 10,000 British troops in Palestine, ordered the homes of Arab terrorists burned, following the destruction of Kalandia airport, near Lydda, with an estimated loss of $50,000.

Sixty persons were arrested for breaking the twenty-four hour curfew which amounts to virtual martial law.

If this sort of thing keeps up, Great Britain is likely to make Palestine a crown colony instead of a mandate.

Why the Housewife Wants to Cook With Electricity!

It is CLEAN. No smoke, no soot, no blackened pots and pans, no soiled walls and curtains.

It is COOL. The heat is used to cook the food, not to cook the cook.

It is HEALTHFUL. No fumes, no products of combustion in the kitchen atmosphere. Tastier, better cooked meats and vegetables.

It is ECONOMICAL. Not only is the cost of operation reasonable in comparison to other methods, but there are many other savings such as less shrinkage of roasts.

It is MODERN. Nearly every housewife would like to have an All-Electric Kitchen.

It is SAFE. No matches, no flame, no chance for tragic burns or asphyxiation.

It is FAST. Modern electric ranges will cook as quickly as any other type of range—for some operations they are faster.

It is TIME SAVING. Less bother, less watching and with the timer control meals can be cooked while the housewife is away from home.

It is ACCURATE. The electric range accurate temperature control makes possible absolutely uniform results.

It is SIMPLE. Electric Cooking is now the easiest and simplest way to cook.

All set? listen: HERE'S THE ENGINEERING MUST STORY OF THE YEAR!

Featuring the DYNAFASH ENGINE and TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING — In the Most Modern Chassis in the World

YOU won't drive a hundred yards in a new Buick without realizing that something marvelously new and different is happening here.

It's something that happens in no other car, in no other engine.

Speeding through the intake manifold, the fuel charge hurries into the cylinder at something like 250 miles an hour.

Leaping to meet it is the piston, with a unique device called a Turbulator built into its face.

Then occurs something more than high compression—literally cyclompression—as swirling gasoline vapor is compacted about the spark plug.

The spark sets off a flat-size hurricane—and gasoline gives up more performance than it ever gave up in a commercial engine before!

This livelier, smarter power might seem enough for engineers to lavish on a car in a single year.

But matching DYNAFASH power in importance is Buick TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING and its arrolite ride.

Take a Buick over a railroad crossing—around a curve—over bumps.

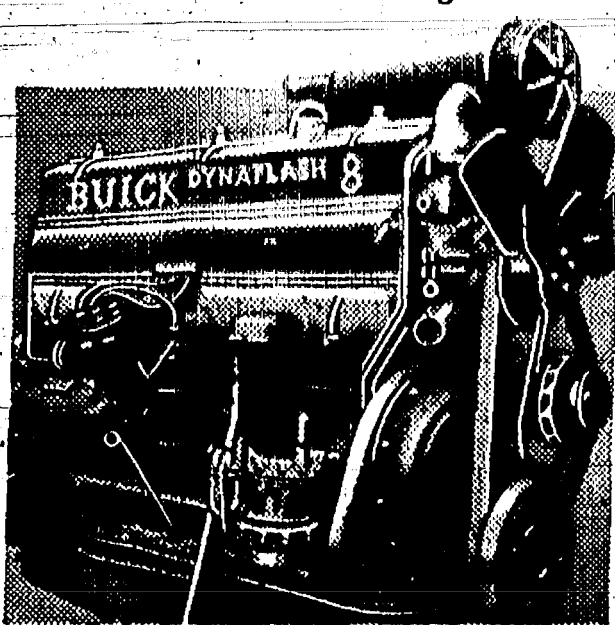

There's no thud and chatter, no tail-swing or roll; you cover rough going with the silk-smoothness of a panther on the prowl.

All because old-type leaf springs are gone! In their place, each wheel has a soft, shock-smothering cushion of stout coiled steel.

Skid risks are blessedly reduced. Rear tires last longer. The whole car handles more easily! That's TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING at work!

If it's power you're after, you'll want Buick's DYNAFASH engine. If it's comfort, you'll choose the TORQUE-FREE SPRINGING ride.

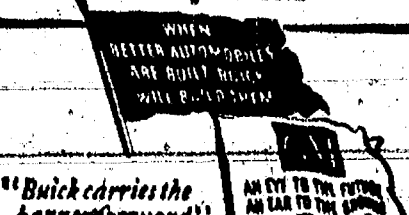

With either you get the other—plus half a score of features your Buick dealer is waiting to describe. See him now—for the engineering "must" story of the year!

"Better buy Buick!"

M. S. C. Dormitory Dedication Planned

Dedication of Sarah Langdon Williams dormitory, newest unit in Michigan State College's housing system for women students, is set by college officials for Sunday afternoon, Oct. 31. The building was named for the wife of Michigan State College's first president.

School home of 258 women students from all sections of Michigan and from other states, the dormitory opened in September at the beginning of the fall term, and with the dedication it officially becomes part of Michigan State College's housing plan for more than 700 women students.

Dedication activities will include a dinner at 1 p. m. Sunday, Oct. 31, for State Board of Agriculture members and their wives, dormitory committee members, President and Mrs. Robert S. Shaw and others connected with the building.

Students, parents and other relatives and Michigan State College faculty members will be guests at an informal reception from 3 to 5 o'clock the same afternoon, and between 7 and 9 o'clock that evening other friends of students and of Michigan State College will be greeted at an open house. The dormitory will be open for inspection at both afternoon and evening affairs. Admission to the afternoon open house will be by card only.

Actual dedication of the new dormitory will follow the dinner. After brief talks by administration representatives, student presidents of each of the dormitory's two wings will accept a lighted torch from President Shaw, and with light fires in fireplaces in the north and south wings.

Jean Bedford of Elkton, Mich., is president of the south wing, and Jean Shearer of Grand Ledge, Mich., is president of the north division. Misses Bedford and Shearer will be assisted at the dedication ceremony and at the afternoon and evening receptions by other students and by Mrs. Legah Robinson and Mrs. Edith Gilhooley, chaperons of the dormitory's two units.

This year's festival was held Saturday, and was attended by representatives from nearly every League and section of the District, estimated at about 300 in number.

The rather spacious north basement room was devoted to a display of the bountiful supply of fruits, vegetables and provisions of all description which had been assembled for this occasion, and which were tastefully arranged on tables and in booths of attractive nature by counties. Judges were appointed, prizes awarded, reports made and an interesting program presented at which Dr. Harrison, District Superintendent, was the principal speaker. Rev. Herbert Brubaker of Dexter acted as chairman.

About noon the entire company repaired to the Methodist church, where a fellowship dinner was served and an enjoyable time reported. Space will permit only the briefest mention of the bountiful donation which was left with the Home, and for which the management and household express their grateful appreciation.

In addition to pumpkins, squash, cabbage and miscellaneous supplies, Supt. Leeson reports 1998 cans of fruit and vegetables, 582 cans of jams and jellies, 352 tins of fruit and vegetables, 50 bushels of apples and 40 bushels of potatoes.

No Pure Black on White
White light must be broken up into its component parts before any colors are seen, and white objects are those which are said to reflect white light completely, showing no colors whatever. On the other hand, black is supposed to be the absence of all color or light, and black objects are said to absorb all light rays that strike them, thus reflecting nothing. Black objects are visible only because of lighter-colored objects around them. A black object could not be seen with the eye. However, there are no pure "colors" of black and white. All black that we see is partly gray, and all white is partly gray. In fact, there are more than 300 shades of both black and white known, but no pure form of either.

Teachers at Institute

Last Thursday and Friday school was dismissed in order that the teachers of our school would be able to attend the State Teachers' convention, held in Detroit.

Here we have the honest opinions of what part of the teachers thought of the convention:

Miss Allen: Attended junior high and classical section meetings. The open forum discussion, where each teacher was permitted to present her problem was very interesting in connection with the classical section.

Mr. Biecker: Demonstration of the motion picture machine was excellent and he hopes we can have one some day.

Miss Gibson: Very interested in choral speaking unit of convention.

Miss Hannigan: Attended a very good demonstration lesson of the sixth grade.

Miss Nelson: Witnessed talk from the chairman of Liquor Control Board. Miss Nelson is now a member of program committee of the commercial department of the M. E. A.

Mr. Johnson: Most impressed by New York news commentator whom he considered the highlight of the convention.

Mr. Cameron: Interested in general session. Mr. Cameron thinks it was a fine looking group of "gals" who attended the convention also.

Clubs

Glee Club: The day has been changed from Tuesday to Wednesday. We have ordered new books.

Band and Orchestra: We have at last obtained our sousaphone and bassoon so all our new instruments are now here. Instruction has been begun on all of them. We are hoping our sweaters will be here so we can use them for the Milan game.

Latin Initiation: The Latin I students were sent by Latin II students to Mt. Olympus to visit the Gods. They met nine deities who ordered them to perform certain labors under the supervision of the Gods. Fifteen new members were initiated this way. Taffy apples were served as refreshments and then the evening was closed by dancing.

Journalism: We started out with about 30 members but are decreasing slowly. We wish the members would hand in a statement whether or not they intend to keep their membership.

F. F. A.—Our president returned from the Kansas City Live Stock Exposition and is expected to give a talk for the Kiwanians soon.

Why Freshmen

Die Young

At last back to school again, he goes to study hall hoping for a few minutes' sleep. But Fate has something different in store for him. Only it isn't Fate, it's the teacher looking for someone to help the janitor wash blackboards. He manages to slip out just as the bell rings in plenty of time for Biology.

Being very hungry, having had only a bottle of horse-radish all day, the big pile of red apples on the desk tempt him. The teacher shouldn't miss just one, so he takes the worst one and starts to take a bite. But he is destined not even to have a little bite, for in comes that tyrant of tyrants, that cruel changer of seats, the teacher. Not knowing the hunger that is causing the Freshie so much pain, he orders him to put back the apple and stay an hour after school. O, woe!

Next hour there is still no chance for sleep, for the worst is yet to come. Band! Half asleep, he barely makes it to the gym. He is only ten minutes late and yet is bawled out. He sits down and blows. For some reason or other the right note just won't come out, but the wrong one does. One hour after school and practice, says the teacher. But such is life, all sour notes, and Algebra tests.

At 1:00 he wearily starts for home. Late again, and this of all times! The long used threat is put into force. To bed with no supper. So by sheer will-power he manages to get out upstairs and soon falls asleep in spite of the fact that he has had nothing but horse-radish all day. Again he dreams and in a few hours he will wake up to face another day like the one just over.

We sincerely hope that this, the true life of Freshmen, has shown you what a hard time he has and we appeal to you to pity the Freshie and do your best to make life a little easier for him.

Football News

Last Friday the Chelsea eleven went onto the field of battle with the good old Chelsea spirit of winning, no matter what the odds, and let me tell you, they were great! The first half ended with Chelsea lacking the speed to get at Dundee's shifty backfield, the score being 20-6, in Dundee's favor.

The second half Chelsea came back with much more fighting spirit than before, throwing Dundee for many losses, which they soon made up by intercepting our passes, and completing many of their own. The game ended with the score 48-6 in favor of Dundee. Three of their touchdowns were made by passes from Davis to Benham, two by Aicken.

Wilfred Davis, one of THE DAVIS boys, was called out of the game in its earlier stages, with a compound fracture of the wrist. Another player also had to retire from the game in the third quarter with a dislocated knee.

Finally, the student body and faculty would like to extend their hearty thanks to everyone for the large and loyal attendance.

The Week in Review

We always knew that Chelsea didn't appeal to those two inseparable Junior girls—but when the whole state of Michigan isn't good enough, that's bad!

"Vic" seems to be a regular ladies' man; how about it, Joan?

"Chet" Miller certainly has the right idea. Ain't it the truth, Ralph?

Rolly White sure was worrying about Martha Barber's sore throat Monday morning. Why, Rolly?

We thought when our little friend moved to Ann Arbor that Wilfred would lose all interest in Chelsea—but they tell me that he is honoring that blond Junior girl with his attentions.

Duane had better watch his step as the same girl mentioned above is doing a little two-timing. Aren't you, Ruth?

Usual Sayings of Teachers

Miss Nelson: I know a man . . .

Miss Gibson: Will that mess back there please break up?

Miss Allen: I'm warning you, I'm giving you your last chance.

Mr. Biecker: Come to the party.

Mr. Johnson: You're the teacher.

Mr. Wallis: You may do that in someone else's study hall, but not in mine.

Mr. Cameron: Would anyone else like to pop off?

Mr. Hargreaves: Get the lead out of your feet.

Editorial

This week we received our report cards and as usual grumbling was heard from every direction. We realize it is hard for a teacher to mark everybody just as they think they should be marked.

Since your department mark is counted in with your class average, this may account for some of the low grades received. So it seems if you want good marks, you must act accordingly.

Assembly

The assembly on Tuesday, Oct. 19 was devoted to a spelling contest between ten representatives of the Freshman class, and ten of the Sophomore class. It was a pretty close and well-fought battle, but, as the Sophomores would have it, they came out on top.

Then ten Seniors and ten Juniors betook themselves upon the platform and all was in readiness. Just then they were saved by the bell, and the second contest was postponed until another day.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—What is the population of Shanghai, China?
Ans.—The latest census of Shanghai and its suburbs is 8,241,100. These figures do not include foreigners.

Ques.—Where did life originate on the earth? Was it on land or in the water?
Ans.—No one knows for sure, but scientists are agreed that life began in the shallow sea water or in little pools along the shores of the ocean. It is almost certain that there was life in the sea long before there was any on land, and that all the land animals and plants are descended from ancestors who were sea dwellers approximately a billion years ago.

Ques.—Can you tell me in your valuable paper what makes the different colors of precious stones?
Ans.—This is caused by certain colored impurities. These impurities happen to get mixed in with the mineral crystals while they are forming. For instance, white sapphires, blue sapphires, rubies and emery powder are all composed of exactly the same material—oxide of aluminum. The white sapphires are almost pure. The blue ones and the rubies contain very small amounts of the colored impurities. Emery contains such large amounts of impurities that it is black and opaque.

Ques.—Will you please answer this question in an early edition? Why is sugar sweet to the taste?
Ans.—We will try. In the course of prehistoric ages men have learned that the particular way in which sugar affects the nerves of taste means that the thing which tastes that way is especially good to eat. This pleasure of man's remote ancestors at having found some good food is what we recognize as the pleasant taste that we call sweet.

Ques.—What was Theodore Roosevelt doing when Franklin D. Roosevelt was born?
Ans.—At the time Franklin D. Roosevelt was born in Hyde Park, N. Y., Theodore Roosevelt's permanent home was in New York City, but he was temporarily residing in Albany, N. Y., while he was serving three terms in the New York State legislature.

Ques.—Can you tell me whether there is a newspaper published at Fairbanks, Alaska, and its name?
Ans.—Yes. The News-Miner. W. F. Thompson, editor.

Ques.—Who is the biggest "kiddier" in this community?
Ans.—We can easily tell you if you will sign your full correct name.

Ques.—What is the size of Greenland? And what country owns it? Is it a continent or an island?
Ans.—The area of Greenland is 850,000 square miles, or about the size of all South America. Greenland was considered a part of North America until 1892, when Lieutenant Robert E. Peary discovered that it was an island. It is a protectorate of Denmark.

Ques.—Does a sleep-walker know what he is doing and what is going on?

Say what you like, preach what you like, teach what you like—nevertheless, children are bound to play in streets. Youth is reckless, youth is care-free, and accordingly does not take time to reason out possible dangers.

A ball suddenly rolls out into the street and the youthful player starts after it regardless of what might happen. His one ambition is to get that ball and get it back into the playing field before the runner can advance too far. The man driving an automobile should take into consideration these possibilities, and wherever children are playing in lots, school yards, or elsewhere, care should be taken while passing these premises.

Service and Dominion

WHEN Christ Jesus, the Way-shower, declared to his ambitious disciples (Luke 22:27), "I am among you as he that serveth," he revealed the essential relationship between service and dominion. Service, on the part of one universally acknowledged to be master, would seem anomalous did not spiritual understanding discern their inseparable nature.

According to the first chapter of Genesis, man, in the image and likeness of God, has dominion—even over all the earth. This declaration of truth, however, remains but an abstract statement until proved by demonstration. In demonstration it soon becomes apparent that the greater the service rendered, and the greater our understanding of the spiritual nature of right service, the more scientifically do we prove our spiritual dominion.

The meaning of service became elevated and ennobled recently in the thought of one who, seeking in a well-known dictionary for a definition of "servant," found among other renderings, "One consecrated to God." Because men are growing into a better understanding of spiritual values and proportionately relaxing their tenacious grasp upon material things, service is being recognized more and more as the way to happiness and progress.

When on that well-known occasion the Master, girding himself with a towel, proceeded to perform the humble service of washing the disciples' feet, he set a seal of solemnity upon the meaning of service.

service which it can never lose. "The first thought of mortal mind under like circumstances would be one of superiority to such an action. Yet but little study shows how there simply could not be anything in mortal thought superior to the spiritual qualities which man as Christ Jesus understood him—forever reflects. Of our mortal selves we do nothing. Man's true being is in God, and is manifested in the reflection of the Godlike qualities of love, kindness, usefulness, activity and service. In short, in these qualities man expresses the divine Principle. The expression of God being one's chief end, it is obvious that whatever the human capacity may be, whether that of father, son, merchant, client, master, or servant, one is endeavoring to practice one's highest conceivable concept of spiritual service.

The history of many Bible characters provides interesting illustrations of the inseparability of the spiritual qualities of service and dominion. Of Moses we read (Numbers 12:3): "Now the man Moses was very meek, above all the men which were upon the face of the earth." Yet, who was more active or more useful in true service? And who, in the Old Testament, made a better demonstration in leading, clothing, and feeding God's people than did Moses serve and proved his dominion, because he discerned that true power lies in the reflection of spiritual qualities, including humility which perceives activity to be in divine Principle alone. Did not the Way-shower himself ask men to learn of him because he was meek and lowly? And did he not specifically promise that service, as he served, would bring rest and dominion? Because he knew no selfishhood apart from God, his service consisted of the continual reflection of spiritual being, full, active, unceasing, ideal!

In Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures (p. 3) Mary Baker Eddy writes, "Prayer, watching, and working, combined with self-immolation, are God's gracious means for accomplishing whatever has been successfully done for the Christianization and health of mankind." So clear to her was the revelation of the aliveness of Spirit and of man as God's spiritual expression, that she wanted to use the term "self-immolation" to indicate the path which leads through service to dominion.

Our goal is to fulfill the command of the Way-shower in preaching the gospel, casting out demons, cleansing repulsive thoughts, and doing today the wonderful things he accomplished. Such may be achieved only through first proving in experience the perfection of God and man. Devotion is service in its truest sense. It consists of the hourly elimination from thought of the material, and in proving the superiority of the spiritual. This is the service in which we indeed "by love serve one another." Genghis Khan, Founder of Mongol Empire, Barbarian
An anniversary recently celebrated in China as it has been for a number of centuries was that of Genghis Khan, the founder of the Mongol empire, which in the Thirteenth century extended from the Danube on the west across Asia to the Pacific. The career of conquest of this remarkable character in history surrounded the world of his day by whom it was thought to be solely the result of the seemingly irresistible power of the hordes of Mongol horsemen he had at his command. But in the light of research, says R. A. Berry in the New York Herald-Tribune, it is seen that while Genghis Khan was the leader of one of those periodical uprisings and migrations from central Asia like those of the Huns and the Turks before him, yet it was his quality of leadership that made the vast Mongol conquests and empire possible.
Like all nomad empires, that of Genghis Khan was purely military and administrative, a sort of framework overshadowing but only occasionally disturbing the land. It centered in the personality of the leader, and its relation with the mass of the population was simply one of taxation for the maintenance of the strength of the military. The most complete religious toleration was granted, and only when tribute was refused or insurrection attempted did the subject people, once they were conquered, feel the heavy hand of the ruler. But in such instances punishment was sure and swift and often went to the extreme of wiping out whole populations, for, although civilized to a certain extent, Genghis Khan was a true barbarian in this respect.
Genghis Khan died in 1227 in the midst of his triumphs, and shortly after his passing the dissolution of the great Mongol empire began. On the death of Kublai Khan in 1294 the title of Great Khan lapsed and the descendants of Kublai became the Yuan dynasty whose rule was confined to China and Mongolia.

Sec. 59. Liability of Shareholders. The shareholders of every bank shall be individually liable, equally and ratably, and not one for another, to satisfy the obligations of said bank to the amount of their stock at the par value thereof, in addition to the said stock; but persons holding stock as executors, administrators, guardians, or trustees, and persons holding stock as collateral security, shall not be personally liable as shareholders, but the assets and funds in their hands constituting the trust shall be liable to the same extent as the testator, intestate, ward, or person interested in such trust funds would be if living or competent to act; and the person pledging such stock shall be deemed the shareholder and liable under this section. Eyeglasses Reflect Customs Throughout history, glasses have been as significant, symbolically and in relation to social custom and dress, as they have been important to improved eyesight, declares Meta Rosenthal in Hygeia, the Health Magazine. Their origin goes back to antiquity and China, where symbol and ceremony govern life. In the latter half of the Fifteenth century, literate folk, particularly the mandarins, wore them; and the more important the man, the bigger were the circles of glass, and the heavier and more elaborate were the horn or shell frames. The humble in station wore plain bamboo frames. Glasses came to represent virtue, prudence, wisdom and clairvoyance; and doctors, magistrates, bibliophiles—all men of distinction in the Seventeenth century wore them.
