A Thanksgiving Prayer

For what we have, though small it be,
We thank thee, Lord,
For the simple joys of serenity,
We thank thee, Lord,
For the gentle touch of the friendly hand
Of those who love and understand,
We thank thee, Lord.

Of all thy gifts the greatest three
Are friendship, love and fidelity,
Let others pray for the harvest's yields,
For the golden grains of the fruitful fields,
Humbly our prayer to thee we send
That when we've reached our journey's end,
Someone may say: "Jarvis, good friend."

Michigan Press Association
Lansing—In a mood of Thanksgiving this week, the average citizen of Michigan has many reasons to be grateful.

Counting his "blessings" one by one, he finds:

That November business in Michigan remains above the national average, according to federal reserve figures.

That retail sales are one billion dollars ahead of last year's, making a 19.4 per cent gain for Michigan as compared with Dun and Bradstreet's 5 to 18 per cent retail gain in October.

That Michigan agriculture, because of its diversity of crops, "faces winter with a relatively better outlook than does the average farmer in the United States," according to a federal report this month.

That the increase of dollars earned by workers during August showed a 30 per cent jump over August, 1936.

Figures of the Michigan Unemployment Compensation commission for October 1 showed that Michigan workers had received $150,000,000 more in wages than during a like period in 1936, a gain of 30 per cent.

Autos and Accidents
As Michigan automobile plants, for the most part, adopt short week schedules again due to slackening of new orders, automobile dealers are wondering how the following changes will affect 1938 sales:

1. Announced policy of finance companies that contract be limited to 18 months, starting Jan. 1. This will require higher monthly payments, a new sales resistance.

2. More stringent operators' licensing requirements will take effect Jan. 1 in a legislative effort to reduce traffic.

Your Pots and Pans Will Reflect Your Smiling Face!

To have beautiful hands is a woman's delight, and electric cookery banishes the principal household task that causes rough, reddened hands—the constant scouring of pots and pans. Electric heat is just as clean and pure as sunshine and leaves no sooty, grimy deposit on materials.

Old-fashioned flame cooking requires much air for fuel combustion and fuel ovens must have large quantities of air which pass off, carrying the fume-laden, grease-freighted air that is deposited on your walls and draperies, with an ultimate heavy cost for re-decorating. On an Electric Range, the heating element takes no air and is completely enclosed in the oven, so that nothing is carried off. Not only is your home kept clean; the range itself has no stopped-up, greasy burners. It is as easy to keep spotless as a china dish!

Electric Cookery Is Economical

Michigan Mirror

The fatalities which totaled 1913 for the first nine months of 1937, as compared to 1,564 in the same period in 1936. According to Oscar G. Olander, state police commissioner, and his chief of safety and traffic work, Capt. Caesar J. Scavarda, the tightening of licensing rules may remove 300,000 unfit drivers from the highways.

Farm Bureau Acts
Bearing out predictions made in this department, the Michigan State Farm bureau voted at its annual meeting in East Lansing to oppose a 40-hour working week for industry, as proposed in the wages and hours bill already passed by the senate and now before the house of representatives at Washington.

Farmers fear that revival of the NRA idea will raise the cost of merchandise the farmer buys, but would not raise the price of produce which he has to sell.

They read with interest an Armistice week statement by Roger Babson that in England where one-half of all industrial workers are members of a trade union, as compared with one-fourth in the United States, "intelligent and skilled women workers are satisfied with $10 per week."

How wages can be lifted to a national minimum without also lifting prices is something Michigan Farm bureau delegates cannot discern, hence their opposition.

Housing Problem
Better housing facilities for industrial workers is the goal of the Wagner-Steagall act, passed by Congress. Michigan's present housing act, however, limits application of the federal act to Detroit, Flint, Jackson, Saginaw, and Pontiac—all automobile centers—cannot qualify for federal housing loans.

Housing experts want Governor Frank Murphy to include revision of the housing law in his call for the 1938 special session. At Flint, for example, community leaders are ready to create a housing authority along non-partisan lines to buy land and construct modern small homes which will rent at about $5 per room monthly.

Robert Gerholz, home builder, is proceeding with a privately-financed housing plan as a test of consumer acceptance in that Buick-Chevrolet stronghold.

It all fits nicely into Uncle Sam's policy of giving an economic lift to the heavy capital goods industries as a means of checking declining trade.

$100,000 Rentals
The state administration at Lansing knows something about the housing problem—it has one on its hands, in fact.

Expansion of state departments, plus creation of new agencies due to legislative generosity, has added some 9,000 persons to payrolls in the last few years. The state capitol and the nearby state office building have failed long ago to meet increased demands for office space.

The state is paying nearly $100,000 a year in office rentals.

Governor Murphy is determined to better the facilities of state hospitals and other institutions; as a hike in liquor prices is to raise $3,000,000 for this purpose. But there appears to be little likelihood that the state will do anything about its own housing problem at Lansing.

Dry Encouraged
At the same time that Governor Murphy demanded that the state liquor commission eliminate "factionalism and schisms" and improve its accounting system, the Michigan Anti-Saloon league, convening in Lansing, mapped plans to seek local option in nearly 15 counties.

Drys are encouraged by voters' rejection of liquor-by-the-glass in Lansing, Kalamazoo and Royal Oak.

The drys are also making good use of a statement made by a traffic expert in Detroit that a large number of automobile fatalities there was due to mixing alcohol and gasoline.

Bribes With Nickel Fail To Aid Child

Candy and nickels are poor child builders when used as bribes for milk drinking or going to bed for naps or for the night.

Suggestions of better methods of training children are offered by Miss Ruth Wagner, assistant in the nursery school at Michigan State College.

"Do we fail to realize what we are doing when we make a deal with our Jimmy or Jerry?" Miss Wagner asks. "If we offer him a nickel to drink his milk but to hold out for nickels or more."

"There is a real distinction between bribery and reward. A bribe is an attractive prize offered as an inducement to behave in a given way or to produce certain results. Reward comes as a result of action. It may be a favor or prize granted in recognition of good work done or even better it may be interest in the task, as pride in accomplishment may be sufficient reward for the completion of a job."

So it seems that in Miss Wagner's opinion it's just plain bribery when you offer candy if that young boy or girl will go to sleep within 10 minutes. But to explain that if the boy or girl goes to sleep right away then he or she can get up in time to go to the store with you is to indicate that by conduct there is earned the right to an added pleasure.

Bribes and rewards, then, are two different animals. The nickels and the candy perpetuate poor behavior. The reward system, even if the reward is just an expression of pride, in the child's ability, is the real character and behavior builder.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Mike Cerwinka, who passed away three years ago November 25th.

The month of November again is here. The saddest of the year.

Because it took away a dear one Three years ago.

A little grief, a shock severe,

To part with one I loved so dear; My loss is great, I'll not complain, But trust in God to meet again.

His wife—Celia.

Raymond Ives Writes of F. F. A. Convention

Raymond Ives, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. Ives, was selected by the local chapter of the F. F. A. as delegate to the 10th annual F. F. A. convention, held at Kansas City in October. The expense of the trip was paid by the F. F. A. chapter, the Kiwanis club and by Raymond, who has written an interesting account of his trip, as follows:

On October 16th, 98 F. F. A. boys from Michigan left Jackson enroute to Kansas City via Michigan Central Railroad to visit the 10th Annual National F. F. A. convention and to visit and participate in activities at the American Royal Livestock Show. At Chicago we were joined by boys from the eastern states, and changed to the Illinois Central Railroad. On the way we stopped at Springfield, Ill. to visit Lincoln's home and tomb. We stayed over night in St. Louis and visited the Shaw Botanical Gardens which contain a great variety of plants from all over the world. Here we also visited the Jefferson Memorial which contains Lindbergh's trophies.

We stopped at the Purina Mills farm and made a tour of it. They gave us a dinner and W. E. Danforth, president of the mills, talked to us on youth problems.

In Kansas City we attended meetings of the 10th F. F. A. convention. We visited the American Royal Livestock Show, which is next to the International Show at Chicago. Swift & Co. packing plant, stockyards, and toured the city.

On the way back we came through Iowa. At Chicago we visited the Chicago Board of Trade building and saw the pits where buying and selling takes place, and a 2000 to 1 scale of their grain elevators.

There were 8000 boys there in all. The Iowa high school won first place in the national dairy judging campaign.

We stayed in hotels at Kansas City. I met boys from all over the United States and Hawaii, and in this way learned a lot about other farming land, and I also saw a lot of country.

I wish to extend my appreciation to those who made this trip possible for me.

—Raymond Ives.

ON THE FIFTIETH ANNIVERSARY OF A FRIEND

Just a few impressive gleanings, Just memorials of the day; Just some thoughts of love and comfort.

As a cheering word we say; Just a "Peace, Good-Will" to wish you, Just a useful life of cheer, As the pictured memories cluster Thru the months, and thru the years.

Few have been your crushing sorrows, Few the bitter griefs and tears, Bravely have you met the morrows, Handed down throughout the years; And today, tho' fifty winters Tinge your hair with silver gray, May each sunset be a forecast Of a bright tomorrow's day.

So when stock is all accounted, When the invoices are through, And receipts are handed you, May the balances all total You, a never ending cheer, And a birthday greeting follow, Through a never ending year.

—Arthur Carlton.

America Does Not Forget

1620, a bleak year, saw the landing of a small party on the wild coast of America. Their terrific struggle for a foothold in this new soil is known to every schoolboy. Then, after their first harvest—knowing that success, no matter how small, was theirs, the Pilgrims paused to give thanks! Again, 317 years later, the nation commemorates that custom. Forgetting the confusion of the modern world, and calling their families and friends about them, Americans gather once more to enjoy the riches of their tables—and to give thanks for the blessings of this land!

The gold shipments were handled by the stabilization fund and were regarded as an operation under the tri-partite agreement, which binds Great Britain, France and the United States in a "gentleman's pact" to maintain currency stability.

More "Piracy"

ITALY'S latest twist of the lion's tail came in the form of the bombing and sinking of the British steamer Jean Weems in the Mediterranean by a "private" airplane.

The London Daily Herald's Barcelona correspondent reported that the Spanish loyalist government asserted that the plane bore markings showing that it was piloted by Bruno Mussolini, son of the Italian premier. The pilot gave the freighter's crew only five minutes to take to lifeboats and then sank the Weems with bombs.

The British battle cruiser Hood was sent at full speed from Palma, Majorca, to Barcelona to investigate the attack.

In parliament the critics of the government, led by David Lloyd George, demanded a stronger British Mediterranean policy. Lloyd George flayed the government for bolting-up the international committee on non-intervention in Spain, whose history after 14 months he denounced as "discreditable and dishonorable."

Case Checks Delay In License Issuing

Two changes in procedure of issuing operators' and chauffeurs' licenses have been ordered by Leon D. Case, Secretary of State.

In cases where applications for operators' licenses are received in Lansing from local examining officers too late to permit return of the license within the 20 day temporary permit period provided by law, postcards advising applicants of this fact, will be sent to them. The date any such application was received at the Department of State will be noted on the card. This move is one to forestall queries from applicants as to their applications after the 20 day period has expired. Case expects to demonstrate that the delay in issuing occurs before the application reaches his Department.

Chauffeurs' licenses and badges for 1938 will be placed on sale Dec. 1, saving applicants applying that month the $1 fee for a 1937 license and badge for the remainder of the year. The full year fee is $2. There are in excess of 4,000 more chauffeurs registered at present than at the corresponding time last year. It was explained. The Dec. 1 deadline will eliminate delays; badges must be secured by Jan. 1, each year. Previously, badges and licenses were placed on sale Dec. 15, or later.

The prints are to be used primarily for identification in case of accident or kidnapping. — County News.

The primitive man met dangers which were inevitable. We meet dangers which are preventable.

Automobile accidents can be prevented. In fact, all accidents can be prevented. What makes the moral significance of this safety movement is the fact that we can, if we will, eliminate to a very large degree the appalling dangers of modern life.

We should realize and appreciate the value of a human being. Not all people seem to realize or appreciate that.

The carelessness regarding human life is the great tragedy that hangs over human industry. Only recently has there developed a regard for human life, and we hope that this regard will increase.

The motorist can help considerably in solving this problem by driving carefully, courteously, and thoughtfully on our highways.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of beloved brother, Mike Cerwinka, murdered Nov. 25, 1934. Three years have passed in sorrow and tears.

Your memory still goes with us. Still! That vacant chair remains around our Sunday table.

God knows what a sorrow and pain has brought us since you were slain. We know not how to pass the days without you.

Your wife so true! Your friend so dear.

Who slew and took your life away? Each day I look toward the churchyard dear.

Where your dear body lay.

Our happy days are past.

They knew we loved you dearly, Sincerely the crime was done; Thinking of the past when you were with us last.

God knows the sinful, painful crime. They paid toward us at last.

So by God's will we'll travel on Until we meet again;

Where no more sinful souls can take you from us.

Soon by the gate we'll stand to greet you by the hand,

We know you are a resting As always true you've been.

We truly know we miss you, No more your face to see, too sad to tell.

By God's will we'll meet again.

Sister.

CHINESE QUIT NANKING

Chiang Will Lead His Armies Against the Invaders . . . Congress Is Expected to Enact Tax Law Revision

Looking as if he had just bitten into a sour, very sour, pickle, Norman H. Davis, chief of the American delegation to the nine-power conference in Brussels, is pictured chatting with British foreign minister Anthony Eden (left) and French foreign minister Yvon Delbos (right).

Chinese Flee From Capital

NANKING, capital of China, was abandoned as the seat of the government because of the rapid advances westward of the Japanese forces. Officials were being scattered in several cities, the central point being Hankow, on the Yangtze 300 miles west of Nanking. One army of the invaders was moving from Shanghai on Nanking, and another was about to attack Tsinan, capital of Shantung province in North China.

Chiang Kai-Shek, however, was giving up the fight. It was reported in Shanghai that Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek had resigned as president of the executive council in order to lead his troops in a final effort to stop the Japanese and win the war. H. H. Kung, it was said, would succeed Chiang in the presidency. He is finance minister. Thousands of civilians and foreigners were fleeing from Nanking. But military authorities remained there and declared the city would not be surrendered to the Japanese without a desperate fight.

If the Japanese penetrate the powerful "Hindenburg line" anchored on Soochow, Changshu, and Kashi, the Chinese were expected to fall back to new positions stretching from Kiangyin, on the Yangtze river to Wushih, 100 miles east of Nanking.

Britain Woos Hitler

VISCOUNT HALIFAX, lord president of the council in the British cabinet, was in Germany ostensibly for the purpose of visiting a hunting exhibition but actually to negotiate with Hitler and other Nazi chiefs for the establishment of more friendly relations between Great Britain and Germany. Public belief was that he was authorized to hint to Hitler that there was hope Germany might regain some of its lost colonies if Germany would abandon its economic isolation and cooperate with other European powers in a revised League of Nations. The British want to detach Germany, and Italy, too, if possible, from their alliance with Japan. Halifax was a fitting messenger to send to Berlin, for he is an outstanding friend of Germany among British officials.

Leaving It Up to Uncle Sam

UNLESS congress changes the neutrality act, it is probable the nations that signed and adhered to the nine-power Pacific treaty will take no positive action against Japan for violating that pact. The delegates to the Brussels conference, with the exception of Italy, voted to censure the Japanese for mulling war on China, and then adjourned to get further instructions from their governments.

Great Britain and France agreed to join in any effort "short of war" which the United States may decide should be made, this meaning economic sanctions against Japan. But the isolationist policy of this country would have to be abandoned if such sanctions were to be of any avail.

A long document was submitted to the conference by China asking that the war be ended by the infliction of penalties against Japan. The memorandum gave statistical tables that showed economic sanctions could halt Japan because of that nation's dependence on foreign markets and foreign sources of supply. Norman H. Davis, chief American delegate, in addressing the conference, was rather conciliatory toward Japan, he said.

The question in its final analysis, is whether international relations shall be determined by arbitrary force of law and respect for international treaties. In fact, that seems to be the greatest issue facing the world today.

Airplane Crash Tragedy

GRAND DUKE GEORGE OF HESSE, his wife, mother and two little sons and six other persons were killed when a Belgian air liner crashed and burned near Ostend. They were on their way to attend the wedding of the duke's brother Ludwig in London. Ludwig succeeded to the title and the marriage ceremony was performed privately with him and his bride, Margaret Campbell Geddes, daughter of Sir Auckland Geddes, in deep mourning. Ludwig was the third grand duke of his line within a week, for his father died only a few days before the airplane tragedy.

Extra Session Opens

WITH the evident intention of doing what it can to aid business, congress began its extraordinary session. His first business was to listen to a rather long message from Mr. Roosevelt in which the Chief Executive committed himself to limited tax law revision for the purpose of removing admitted injustices suffered especially by small business and non-speculative investors.

Mr. Roosevelt proposed tax "modifications adequate to encourage productive enterprise," but explained that he sought primarily to aid at the expense of individual or partnership undertakings. The President said exercise of "ordinary prudence" would protect the nation against prolonged business recession.

He reiterated his intention to balance the next fiscal year budget, and demanded that congress find and provide new revenue for any added expenditures authorized now. The President asked congress to provide:

1. Wages and hours legislation.
2. An "all-weather" crop control program.
3. Reorganization of executive departments.
4. National planning for better use of natural resources.

It appeared certain that a vigorous opposition to all or part of this program would arise, but nearly everybody seemed in favor of tax law revision.

Plot to Kill Stalin?

FROM foreign diplomats stationed in Moscow came reports that a plot by German agents to assassinate Dictator Stalin of Russia had been uncovered, and that it might compromise Maxim Litvinov, foreign commissar, who left the Brussels conference suddenly and apparently seriously worried. Investigations by the G. P. U. already have resulted in the recall or disappearance of many leading Russian diplomats. The German consul general in Leningrad was ordered to leave the country immediately. It is believed two German agents arrested some weeks ago confessed the conspiracy to murder Stalin and involve the country in a civil war.

"Fireside Chat"

CALLING on the nation for full cooperation in the taking of the voluntary census of the unemployed, taken by the Post Office department, President Roosevelt in a "fireside chat" by radio said that permanent cure of the unemployment problem lies in finding jobs in industry and agriculture. Nevertheless, he said, it is still the policy of the administration that no one shall starve through lack of government aid.

He gave assurance that the government will try to stimulate private industry enough to enable it to re-absorb the jobless, and after the results of the census are tabulated, a long-range program will be launched. This program, he said, will apply to employers as well as to workers, and it was well received a note of encouragement to business.

The President said prosperity of the nation depended upon national purchasing power, and added: "Our far-sighted industrial leaders now recognize that a very substantial share of corporate earnings must be paid out in wages, or the soil from which these industries grow will soon become impoverished. Our farmers recognize that their largest customers are the workers for wages, and that farm markets cannot be maintained except through widespread purchasing power."

Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that America will not try to solve the employment problem by a huge armament program, as other nations are doing.

Thalberg's Millions

AN INVENTORY filed in probate court at Los Angeles placed a gross value of $4,489,013 on the estate of Irving G. Thalberg, motion picture producer. The net estate will amount to about $2,244,000. After several cash bequests to members of the family, the remainder will be divided into three trust funds of about $629,000 each.

The income from one of those will go to Norma Shearer, his widow, for the remainder of her life. Their two children are to receive the income from the remaining two funds until they are thirty-five years old, then the principal.

Lewis Back from Europe

SENATOR LEWIS of Illinois returned from a tour of Germany in which he sought to arrange for payments to American holders of German municipal bonds. The group of which he was a member has submitted a report to Secretary of State Hull.

In France, England, and Germany, the senator said he found a strong increase in American exports to the three countries but expressed himself at a loss to see how the nations could pay for their purchases, because they are all in debt as a result of feverish preparations for or against war.

Row in Coal Bureau

GEORGE E. ACRET, acting director of the division of examiners of the bituminous coal commission, resigned and suggested a congressional investigation of the agency. He says it has almost completely broken down, and for this he blames Secretary McAdoo of California and McGuffey of Pennsylvania.

ACRET revealed that there has been a row in the commission for several months over patronage, which he alleges has been "hogged" by the senators; and that another cause of dissension has been the fact that the commission has been seeking to grant railroads below-cost fuel at the expense of general consumers.

Here's Wallace's Program

SECRETARY WALLACE offered a program which he said would "promote security for both farmers and consumers" in his annual report to the President. To finance it he recommended a moderate processing tax on cotton only. Crop control when necessary, and the "ever-normal granary" are parts of his plan.

These are the six points of the program which Wallace said would harmonize with the general welfare:

1. Farmers should have a share in the national income to re-establish the prewar ratio of the average farmer's purchasing power to that of the average non-farmer.
2. The people who live on the land must have security of tenure, either as owners of land or renters on a long-time basis.
3. The soil must be used properly and conserved for future farmers and future city dwellers.
4. Farmers through sound co-operatives must come into control of those marketing, processing, purchasing and service functions which they can manage efficiently.
5. Family sized farms should be favored by federal programs, benefit payments and other such aids to rural income.
6. Federal and state funds should continue to be spent to promote agricultural research and farm efficiency.

Death of Atlee Pomerene

PNEUMONIA put an end to the career of Atlee Pomerene, former senator from Ohio. He died in Cleveland at the age of seventy-three years. Pomerene gained fame as a special prosecutor in the Teapot Dome oil inquiry, and President Hoover made him chairman of the Reconstruction Finance corporation.

Push Gobbler as National Bird

Los Angeles, Calif.—The American eagle will have to give up its job to the turkey gobbler, if the Northwestern Turkey Growers association gets its way. Senators and congressmen of 14 states were asked to make the turkey the national bird at the next session of congress. It was argued that the turkey, besides being the symbol of Thanksgiving, is native to America. Misses Edith Lawrence (left) and Pat Gergen are pictured above showing how the turkey would look in the eagle's place against the American shield.

Ye Council Eats Right Well After Ye Slick Barter

Deer Is Thanksgiving Meal and Indian Is Goat.

IF AMERICANS this Thanksgiving are well able to appease both their consciences and their appetites, their moral dexterity is no better than that of their forebears on the town council at Danvers, Mass., in the year 1714. Venison, rather than turkey, made up the piece de resistance on a Thanksgiving feast there, but religious complications arose, as recorded by Rev. Lawrence Conant, of that city.

"After ye blessing was craved by Mr. Garrick of Wrentham, word came that ye buck was shot on ye Mr. Shepard's conscience was tender, and so was poor Pequot's back.

Lord's day by Pequot, an Indian, who came to Mr. Epes with a lye in his mouth like Ananias of old. Ye council therefore refused to eat ye venison, but it was afterward decided that Pequot should receive forty stripes save one, for lying and profaning ye Lord's day, restore Mr. Epes ye cost of ye deer, and considering this a just and rightful sentence on ye heathen, and that a blessing had been craved on ye meat, ye council all partook of it but Mr. Shepard, whose conscience was tender on ye point of ye venison."

In nearby Boston a few years later.

er the arrival of autumn with its storing of the winter supply of salt

Beat meat is no longer generally available for the Thanksgiving dinner.

pork brought mingled thanksgiving and chagrin to a boy named Benjamin Franklin, who often became restless during the long graces which accompanied Massachusetts meals. So one day after the pork had been dutifully stored away, he suggested that if his father would only "say grace over the whole oast, once for all, it would be a vast saving of time."

In the latter half of the same century, whenever a feast was in order in the back country of Virginia and the Carolinas, young Daniel Boone or some other hunter would go out to find venison or bear meat to mix with pork in the habitual "great stew" of such a celebration. With it were served roast pork or bear or broiled venison.

Bear and venison are no longer generally available for the Thanksgiving dinner, but turkey is still one of the mainstays.

Brazil Has a Dictator

GETULIO VARGAS, president of Brazil, is now dictator of that country. In a coup that was unopposed he dissolved all legislative bodies and put into effect a new constitution with corporative features. He issued a manifesto declaring the suspension of payment on all government debts abroad.

The foreign relations ministry in Rio de Janeiro said Vargas' coup was not connected with European political ideologies and denied reports Brazil planned to join the German-Japanese-Italian pact against communism.

Reasons for Thanks

AMERICA can be thankful for the blessing of peace. President Roosevelt asserted in a proclamation designating November 25 as Thanksgiving day.

"A period unhappily marked in many parts of the world by strife and threats of war finds our people enjoying the blessing of peace," he said. "We have no selfish designs against other nations."

At the outset of the proclamation the President said, "the harvests of our fields have been abundant and many men and women have been given the blessing of stable employment."

Bloch to Head Navy

ABOUT the first of next February the American navy will have a new commander-in-chief in the person of Admiral Claude Charles Bloch, nominated by Secretary Swanson to succeed Admiral Hopperburn. The son of a Czechoslovakian immigrant and a native of Woodbury, Ky., he is now fifty-nine years old.

After his graduation from the naval academy Bloch served under "Fighting Bob" Evans on the U. S. S. Iowa in the Spanish-American war and was cited for "meritorious" service in rescuing Spaniards from burning ships of Cervera's squadron. During the World war, as commander of the transport Plattburg, Bloch won the navy cross for "distinguished service."

Judge Graham Passes

WILLIAM J. GRAHAM, presiding judge of the United States Court of Customs and Patent Appeals, and for nine years a Republican congressman from Illinois, died of heart disease at his home in Washington. He was sixty-five years old.

Our Navy Grows Rapidly

CLAUDE A. SWANSON reported to the President that the navy is stronger than at any time since war days and is moving steadily up to the full strength permitted by the treaties abrogated by Japan. It will not go beyond the limitations in those pacts unless other nations do so.

Under its big replacement program the department has two new battleships and has appropriations for 80 other warships. These include three aircraft carriers, one heavy cruiser, nine light cruisers, fifty-five destroyers and seventeen submarines.

Five years ago the total number of under age vessels was 101 of 728,000 tons, with twenty-three vessels of 122,500 tons under construction. Today the navy has 113 vessels of 889,230 tons under age, and eighty-seven vessels of 335,565 tons under construction.

Farm Measure Ready

VOLUNTARY crop control for wheat, corn, rice and cotton; and compulsory limitation of tobacco production, are provided for in the new farm measure drafted by the house committee on agriculture for action in the extraordinary session of congress.

Secretary Wallace's "ever-normal granary" plan is included in the bill. The measure also provides for "tariff equalizing taxes" which would be actually a revival of the processing taxes which the Supreme court declared unconstitutional. These taxes would be applied only to wheat, cotton and rice—3 cents a pound on cotton, 20 cents a bushel on wheat and 1/2 cent a pound on rice.

For the protection of consumers the bill provides that when prices of the respective commodities exceed parity by 10 per cent the secretary of agriculture shall call outstanding commodity loans, thus releasing stored commodities and in this way preventing excessive prices.

President's Birthday

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT has authorized the use of his fifty-fifth birthday, January 30, for the promotion of the nation-wide fight on infantile paralysis. As in previous years, the day will be celebrated in many cities with balls. This time the funds raised thus will not be handed over to local agencies but will all go to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis which was created recently by Mr. Roosevelt. The President has approved the appointment of a committee headed by Keith Morgan of New York to arrange for the celebration.

January Floods Reveal Strength of Red Cross

Aid Given 1,062,000 Persons Through Set-Up by Agency

The elasticity and scope of Red Cross disaster work is shown in a recent report on Red Cross relief measures during the unparalleled Ohio-Mississippi Valley flood of this year.

At the height of the emergency Red Cross relief offices were established in 182 inundated counties and in 176 counties where refugees were cared for, the report stated. Eight regional headquarters offices controlled the 328 county offices, and were in turn supervised by the National Red Cross in Washington, D. C.

A statistical summary of persons aided by the organization indicates that the floods constituted the greatest peace-time emergency ever faced by the nation. The Red Cross gave some form of assistance to 1,082,000 men, women and children from January to August—hundreds of thousands helped by thousands of volunteers administered to the sufferers.

A Red Cross rescue fleet of 6400 boats was organized, according to the report. Emergency hospitals established totaled 300 and 3600 nurses were assigned to flood duty. In more than 1,000 refugee centers the victims of the flood were sheltered, clothed and fed. Through the Red Cross medical health program and the work of public health agencies sickness was kept to normal for the time of year in an inundated area.

Because of its disaster experience the Red Cross was directed by the President of the United States, the also president of the Red Cross, to coordinate the efforts of all federal relief groups. Government and Red Cross officials met daily at the Red Cross headquarters building in Washington to plan relief measures and prevent duplication of effort.

"We were fortunate in having 10 years of disaster relief experience call upon in meeting the emergency," Admiral Gary T. Grayson, chairman of the Red Cross, said.

It was found that 97,000 families composed of 436,000 persons had to have their resources supplemented by an entirely new start provided by the Red Cross, the report stated. Red Cross emergency and rehabilitation assistance was as follows: rescue, transportation and shelter for 82,000 families; food, clothing, and other maintenance for 193,000 families; building repair for 27,000 families; household goods for 99,000 families; medical nursing and sanitation help for 186 families; agricultural rehabilitation for 10,000 families; other occupational aid for 2,000 families; and other types of relief for 4,000 families.

"Credit for this largest peace-time relief operation in the history of the nation must go to the American people who contributed a Red Cross fund of more than $26,000,000," said Grayson.

During the year the Red Cross aid to the victims of 105 other disasters in 38 states, Alaska and the District of Columbia. The Red Cross financed the majority of these relief operations from money contributed through memberships during the annual Roll Call last November, since it only in cases of large-scale disasters that a national drive for relief funds is made.

This year the Roll Call is from November 11th to the 25th. The Red Cross seeks a greater membership to meet its disaster relief and other service obligations during 1938.

Carving "Turk" Is Easy—When You Know How

SURE, you can carve a Thanksgiving turkey—simplest thing in the world. Follow these easy rules and you're sure to be the envy of all the guests who are usually awed by the dire prospect of having to whittle the festive fowl themselves. What's more, this simple method will give you time for a few nibbles at the white meat yourself before the first diner you served is howling for more.

Make sure the knife is sharp. Advance confidently upon the enemy, carving the side next you first, as it lies with the breast to your left. Fig. 1 shows leg being removed by placing knife between thigh and body, cutting from left to right. Pressing leg outward with knife and bending it to the breast bone. Note fork is held straight or almost straight up and down.

Another position of the fork is shown in Fig. 2. It is inserted in the side through the ribs. Flatter is turned at right angles to the carver. White meat is sliced downward away from the keel bone or upward, as described above. The meat service will be made complete by placing two slices of white meat over the dark meat (usually two pieces) and the dressing.

By following this procedure an attractive service is assured and the meat is kept as hot as possible. If the carver is being assisted in such manner it is best to carve white meat as needed for each individual service. Otherwise sufficient slices for all guests may be cut and placed on the platter along the edge in readiness to serve or on a separate plate.

With leg removed to a service plate, as shown in Fig. 2, the triangular piece of dark meat is cut first from the thigh, then ligaments between thigh and drumstick are cut, just over round bone to the thigh side. Small portions of dark meat are prepared from thigh and drumstick or latter is left whole. The wing, after being removed, is left on the platter or served, as you prefer.

Now for the breast. To avoid damaging the meat with fork holes, insert fork astride keel bone and beyond its point, one line on each side along the bone. Slice meat down from the keel bone, as shown in Fig. 3, or, starting just above the joint where the wing was removed, slice upward to the keel bone parallel of the north line of the Detroit, Jackson and Chicago Railway, said point also being the south west corner of the Lucy E. Gates Second Addition to the Village of Chelsea, and running thence south parallel with the east line of Main Street to the south line of Mary Wackenhut lands; thence east along the north line of said Wackenhut lands and the north line of the National Peat Fuel Co. lands to the south line of the Detroit, Jackson and Chicago Railway lands; thence north west along the south line of the said Detroit, Jackson and Chicago Railway lands to the place of beginning.

Animal Noses Know Needs
Animal noses are particularly suited to their needs, points out Nature Magazine. The deer, with its narrow nasal slits, located on either side of its muzzle, is especially proficient in picking up the scent of enemies from cross breezes. The sharp-edged pug nose of the pig is admirable suited for rooting up the garden. The ant-eater's long, narrow nose is just the thing for turning up anthills and the dog is adept at following the scent because his nose is flat and can be held close to the ground.

I can't hardly get away after S. S. no more, but it isn't so bad since the preacher declared in favor of athletics and etc.

slavery in school starts off with a bang. I don't mind the work and the learning and etc. so much as having to set and look at all them kids all day. Except Jane. She isn't hard on my eyes.

nervous and he cured her by only saying it was a case of getting old and diddant haff to have no Dr. whatever.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—To settle an argument will you kindly answer in your good paper on what day of the week was the first battle of Bull Run in the American Civil War? The date, according to my history, was July 21, 1861.

Ans.—The first battle of Bull Run was fought on Sunday.

Ques.—What is meant by the
"swan-song", which is a well-known expression?

Ans.—The swan has been the subject of much legend and poetry. It was sacred to Apollo and was the favorite bird of the Muses. It was fabulously celebrated for its melodious song, especially when it was about to die. From this latter legend we get the expression "swan-song", which is the last effort, or production, or achievement of an individual. According to his own announcement, Tony Lazari of the New York Yankees sang his swan-song in the recent World's Series with outstanding brilliancy.

Ques.—Do dogs enter into another life when they die? Or are they just simply dead?

Ans.—This is a matter of personal belief whether animals other than man are immortal. The American Indians were and are now firm believers in the immortality of the dog, and they look forward to being re-united with their faithful companion in the Happy Hunting ground beyond the grave.

Ques.—Is there such a thing as a plant that catches flies and eats them?

Ans.—There are several such plants. While they don't eat the fly, the plant makes use of the nutritious element in the fly. The most singular instance is the plant called the Venus Fly Trap, which is found growing in the bogs of the Carolinas.

Ques.—What causes the beautiful coloring of the sky at certain times of sun-rise and sun-set?

Ans.—The clouds, floating in the atmosphere, absorb the more refran-gent rays of the sun, and reflect the less. At sun-rise and sun-set, when the light traverses the greatest depth of atmosphere, all the colors are absorbed except the red and the yellow; and these, being deflected from the particles of vapor, produce the brilliant coloring seen at sun-rise and sun-set.

Ques.—Can you tell me what was the origin of kings as rulers of the people?

Ans.—According to the earliest historical records (about 6000 B. C.), certain victorious warriors proclaimed themselves descendants of the gods and therefore ordained to rule. Therefore he was called "King", and likewise his successors.

Ques.—Can you tell me the name of the horse that won the Kentucky Derby in the year 1900, and what the time was for the 1 1/4 miles?

Ans.—The winner of the Kentucky Derby in 1900 was Riley, and the time was 2:45 for the 1 1/4 miles.

Ques.—When was Hawaii made a territory of the United States? And who was the first governor?

Ans.—Hawaii was created a territory June 14, 1900, and George H.
Carter was the first governor.

Ques.—How are passports obtained and how much do they cost?

Ans.—Blank forms for passports are furnished upon application to the State Department in Washington or may be obtained from United States ambassadors and ministers. The fee for each passport is $1.

Ques.—When did Paul Dresser, the song writer, die?

Ans.—Paul Dresser, the song writer, died Jan. 30, 1906.

President's Building Plan

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT, in a conference with several business leaders, laid out his new plan for checking the threatening depression by stimulating private home building by private capital. He revealed no details, but Chairman Eccles of the reserve board said the President would reach full scope next year. Eccles was unprepared to say whether the undertaking would be directed through a new government agency, but thought legislation of some sort probably would be necessary.

One suggestion is that the social security reserve be used for loans for home construction. At present it is being used to pay current government expenses.
The recent decline in residential building is generally held responsible to a large extent for the slump in steel mill activity from 60 per cent of capacity to 40 per cent.

The Name "Chautauqua"
The name "Chautauqua" first applied to the lake in western New York, is from the Seneca language and is said to signify "here one has caught fish." It became the name of the summer educational assembly
first held on the shores of that lake in 1874, and then to the educational and entertainment system patterned after the Lake Chautauqua gatherings.

Dog, Guardian in Death
for Ancient Egyptians

"A dog's life" in ancient Egypt
apparently wasn't so bad. A splendid tomb for a dog, unearthed near Giza, revealed from the inscriptions, the canine was buried with the greatest of honors.

Supposedly, writes a correspondent in the Washington Post, it was so entombed to be the guardian in death, as well as in life, of its master. In Egyptian mythology, the humble dog was the god and protector of the dead. At one time, dog worship was the principal feature of Egyptian religion.

Such veneration was not limited to the land of the Nile, however. It spread to Greece, Rome, was found in western Asia. Even now, in parts of Java, natives enshrine the red dog, and each family keeps one in its house.

Indians of our own Pacific Coast respected the dog, believing it could take the form of a handsome youth.

Regarded as Auto Inventor
In Europe, Karl Benz, who died in 1893, is regarded as the inventor of the automobile. When he began his first experiments in 1883-84, he had to do so secretly for any time that he was occupying his time with horseless vehicles would have brought a stop to whatever slender financial support he had, even if it would not have exposed him to the risk of being an engineering crack or a harmless lunatic.

Related to Garden Pepper
All paprikas are made from the fruit which belongs to the same family as the common red pepper which is raised in our vegetable gardens.
Climate and soil determine the intenseness of flavor and make possible degrees of pungency. Much of the heat, sting or bite resides in the seeds and the surrounding membrane.

The Flying Pond

NEAR Buffalo, N. Y., lives a farmer who once had a pond back of his barn but he doesn't have it now.
George H. Schlicker, tells the reason thus:

One evening last winter the farmer saw a flock of wild-geese settle down on his pond. He ran for his shotgun but before he arrived at the pond it was too dark to see the geese plainly enough to shoot one. So he decided to wait until morning to try to bag a goose.

That night there was a sudden drop in the temperature. In the cold frosty dawn the farmer hurried out to the barn and peered around the corner.
Sure enough, there were the geese sitting quietly out in the middle of the pond. He stepped out into the open and raised his weapon. Immediately the geese set up a terrific clamor. The next moment their thrashing wings were carrying them high into the air and with them went the farmer's pond—frozen solidly to their legs.

Citizens of northern New York now look forward with dread to the coming of every winter. They are afraid that a large flock of wild-geese may some time alight on Lake Ontario, that a sudden change will freeze it to the legs of the big birds and that they will lose their lake just as the farmer lost his pond. Residents of northern Ohio are also said to be alarmed over the possibility that the same thing may happen to Lake Erie.
