"And the angel said unto them,

Fear not:

For behold, I bring you tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people."

St. Luke 2:10

ALL YEAR LONG, year in and year out, this, your newspaper, brings you the tidings of the world. Not all of them are joyful, certainly none so glorious as the Christmas story which St. Luke announced 2,000 years ago in the glowing words of promise above. But most of them are important to you, and all of them are as honestly reported and fearlessly, fairly presented as your newspaper's conviction of its obligation to serve all the people can make them.

☆ Fear not, in this world of ominous change and strife, when your newspaper, because it is an American newspaper, can dedicate itself unhampered to a life of truthfulness, education, moral and civic leadership. Fear not for the world when its people can and do still forget their petty selfishnesses in the Christmas spirit of fellowship and giving.

☆ There is no other news we bring you that fills our own hearts with gladness as the tidings of another Christmas fill them. And so, a Merry Christmas to you all, and may the love and peace and hope of the Great Birthday mellow your cares throughout the year.

Chelsea Men Accused Of Thefts From Cars

With the arrest of three Chelsea men, William Tompkins, 27 years old, L. Policht, 28, and Joseph Langowski, 21, police and sheriff's officers believe they have solved a number of robberies and automobile lootings that have occurred during the past few months. In Tompkins' car were found many stolen articles, including automobile accessories, clothing and blankets.

Part of the loot was stolen from the car of F. D. Parker, Ann Arbor, between 8 and 10 o'clock Saturday night and some was taken from the car of Walter R. Darling, also of Ann Arbor. Other articles were taken from the car of W. P. Croxton, Detroit, while the car was parked in Chelsea the night of October 28.

Darling was responsible for the gang's arrest. Returning to his car, which was parked on South State St., Ann Arbor, at 11 o'clock Saturday night, he noticed a man, later identified as Tompkins, leave his car, climb into another and drive away with two other men. An hour later he saw the car in a gasoline station and stopping alongside, he accused the driver of looting his car. When he disclaimed any knowledge of the theft, Darling telephoned police and Tompkins was arrested by Officer Geo. W. Camp.

After spending the night in jail, Tompkins admitted the thefts and implicated Policht and Langowski. They were arrested here. Both of these men have prison records. Policht was recently released from the southern Michigan prison at Jackson, where he served a four-year sentence for larceny. Langowski had served a minimum term of six months on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

The possibility that this gang may be guilty of the recent looting of the office of Chelsea Lumber, Grain and Coal Co. is being investigated. Tools which were found in their car correspond to the type used in gaining entrance to the office, and there was paint on the tools of the color on the door that was broken.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Seitz of Ann Arbor announce the birth of a son, Eugene Kenneth, on Sunday, December 19, at South Side hospital.

FISHING LAW CHANGE

Beginning January 1, 1938, ice fishermen may use two lines with a total of not more than four hooks on all lines. Lines must be under immediate control at all times. The regulations are the same as for fishing in open water.

These changes were included in the amendments to the inland fishing law enacted at the last legislative session and made effective as of Jan. 1, 1938. Ice fishermen formerly were restricted to not more than two lines with a single hook on a line.

Wool of Geo. E. Haist Awarded First Prize

Geo. E. Haist of Lima township has the honor of exhibiting the fleece of wool at the Chicago International live stock show which was awarded the grand championship of the show—the coveted goal of all exhibitors.

Mr. Haist is secretary of the Black Top Delaine Merino Sheep Breeders' Association of Michigan and for 10 years has been exhibiting at the international show. He has won many firsts and seconds and his fleeces have never ranked lower than third, but this is the first time the grand championship has come his way.

For 34 years Mr. Haist has been breeding sheep in this county. In the Haist flock are approximately 140 sheep, including 65 breeding ewes.

The reputation of this Washtenaw sheep farm is spreading rapidly, and rams for breeding purposes were shipped the past year to California, Ohio and Illinois.

FARMERS' CLUB MEETS

The December meeting of the Western Washtenaw Farmers' club was held in the Congregational church basement on Friday evening, with Mr. and Mrs. James C. Handley and Mrs. M. W. McClure entertaining. A pot luck chicken supper was served, with covers for 40, after which P. M. Broesamle led in the singing of Christmas carols, opening the evening's program. Christmas thoughts were given in response to roll call, followed by a reading by F. E. Storms. A duet, "Silent Night" was played with piano and bells, by Mrs. P. M. Broesamle and Mrs. Adam Kalmbach. The address of the evening, "Christmas", was given by Rev. E. D. Mumby. Following the program gifts were exchanged.

MRS. GAUNT INJURED

Mrs. Edwin I. Gaunt fell Friday night while descending the steps at her home on M-92, Sylvan township, fracturing her left leg in two places between the knee and ankle. She was attended by a local physician and later taken to St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor for an X-ray. Mrs. Gaunt is being cared for at the home of her sisters, Misses Jennie and Florence Ives.

He Sure Was Here*A Christmas Awakening

WITH Christmas drawing near, why can't we get together and make a plan? Robert Dutton read no further. With calm deliberation, he put the heavily scrawled letter back into its envelope.

"Always the impractical Hal," he said slowly. "No wonder he never gets anywhere." A list of appointments waited upon his desk. Visits from two of the most important men in town, a delegation about a right-of-way through a tract of land he had just purchased, a reminder of a talk he had promised to make at a luncheon. Important things, he thought, things Hal would never be called upon to do.

Hastily he went through his mail. A square envelope in a familiar hand caught his eye. He opened it a little curiously. What could Miss Denby be writing him about? His long fingers drew out an artistic Christmas card. A conservative wish and an old Christmas carol printed in English letters. That was all, except the signature, "Eleanor Denby."

A flush stained his face, an undefinable something sent the blood singing through his veins. "Eleanor," he said softly; "a beautiful name; how queer that I never heard it before."

Then, as if resenting his weakness and sentiment, he dug into his mail again. But try as he would, he could not concentrate on the things that had meant anything to him before. Something had happened to Robert Dutton; a Christmas greeting from a secretary whom he had scarcely noticed left him visibly unsettled.

Christmas memories surged through his heart. He was back in the old home again. Everybody was rushing around in circles. He saw the big tree in the corner of the parlor; the kitchen table piled high with good things to eat. And Mother and Dad, with happiness beaming upon their faces.

He picked up Hal's letter again. After all, maybe his kid brother wasn't so crazy? The thought was pushing through his mind that maybe it was he who lacked real sense. This time he read the letter in a

Safetygrams

Streets are crowded with Christmas shoppers; traffic is congested. These conditions call for additional care on the part of both the pedestrian and the motorist. Pedestrians, intent on the serious question "What shall I buy Mary?" are very likely to dash across intersections heedless of traffic signals. Arms will be loaded with packages; observing the shopper's vision. Motorists will have to anticipate any emergency and be alert at all times.

Let us all do our part to make this a Merry Christmas. Not one of us would want to be responsible for an accident which would spoil the peace and happiness of anyone during the holiday season. Let us keep the thought of safety uppermost in our minds at all times.

Remember—A safe Christmas is a happy Christmas.

different mood. "Let's give Dad and Mother the surprise of their lives. Let's go down and make one grand Christmas for them. You can turn everything over to someone else for a week—anyone can handle things like that—there's nothing personal or precious about them."

"Nothing personal or precious about them!" He turned the words over in his mind. Hal was right. Someone else could handle the things that had seemed so terribly important. A few hours of confusion, perhaps; then things would go on as before. The world would forget him in a day.

His fingers reached for the pen upon his desk. "Dear Hal," he began, "I heartily agree with your proposal that we get together and make plans to give Dad and Mother the biggest surprise and the grandest Christmas ever." He was smiling broadly, almost laughing aloud, as he finished the letter with a flourish.

Five minutes later Miss Denby entered his private office to find a new Robert Dutton. She almost dropped her book in surprise at the expression upon his face, and the new way in which he greeted her.

"I'm ready to begin, Mr. Dutton," she began nervously, when he made no motion to start the routine of the day.

"We're going to forget business for today, Miss Denby, and go Christmas shopping, that is, if you want to help me out." He fumbled with his tie as he spoke, noticing for the first time the soft curving of her white neck. "Your Christmas card," he went on, "wrought some miracle. I've found out that business and making money aren't everything in life. They're both fine in their way, but there are other things, too; precious things that I've been overlooking." He came closer to her side and looked hard into her eyes. "For instance, going shopping with a good-looking and adorable secretary."

Mrs. Byron Defendorf died at her home on East street on Tuesday, December 25, 1913.

Mrs. Anna Sears has had her household goods packed and moved to Ann Arbor, where she will make her home. Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leach are leaving this week for Phoenix, Ariz., where they will visit his brother, Charles Leach, and from there they will go to California.

The first cutter and sleighbells of the season appeared on the streets of Chelsea Tuesday afternoon. The outfit was driven by Santa Claus and many small boys and girls enjoyed a sleighride with Santa.

No special services will attend the opening of the new Michigan Central depot in Detroit for traffic on January 4, 1904.

The Western Washtenaw Farmers' club held their annual meeting and oyster dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Burkhardt on Friday and the following officers were elected: President, N. W. Laird; vice-president, Mrs. O. C. Burkhardt; secretary, Mrs. J. F. Waltrous; treasurer, George K. Chapman; chaplain, Rev. C. J. Dele.

34 YEARS AGO

A number of young people enjoyed (?) a sleighride last Saturday evening. It might be well to add that it was enjoyed in the rain.

Lansing—More than 110,000 farmers in Michigan will receive checks from the U. S. Treasury for participating in the federal government's 1937 soil conservation program.

It will be somewhat of a post-Christmas present, as mailing will begin about the first of the year, according to an announcement here by Grant G. Thompson, manager of the Michigan Agricultural Conservation committee.

Last year 108,221 Michigan farmers received $8,654,000.

This year the individual checks will be higher.

Aerial maps are being made to provide measurements for land use. A contract has just been let for air mapping 2,512 square miles in Allegan, Van Buren, Berrien and Cass counties.

Consumers Next

The state government is going to undertake another socialized venture: Advising consumers how to get the most for their money.

The new bureau will operate out of the state department of agriculture and will be the first state unit of its kind in the United States. Mrs. Stuart A. Frazer of Detroit, chairman of the Wayne County Consumers' Council, is credited with having sold the idea to administration leaders.

The consumers' bureau will serve as a clearing-house for general information about products. In other words, it will seek to advise the consumer on what points to look for when he is buying an article. No advice would be given on any brand product.

Other objectives: Make advertising more factual, promote fair trade practices, watch state legislation, encourage grading of goods by labels, and discourage over-selling of installment payments.

Work Projects

Every unemployed man in the automobile industry who has no savings account in reserve may be absorbed on WPA projects this winter, according to ambitious plans advanced by Louis M. Nims, state WPA director.

Cities are being asked to speed up plans for new work projects which four years ago provided relief checks for 187,000 persons and last year for some 75,000.

Street and sewer improvements and grade separations are favored. Congress appropriated one and a half billion dollars to keep unemployed persons at work during the present fiscal year ending next June 30. Within one month the Michigan relief load has increased 7,000 cases. State funds anticipated a load of 48,000 persons; today it is "over the top" by many thousands.

FORD HOUSING IDEA

Amendment of the present Michigan Housing Authority act to permit municipalities to participate in the federal loan benefits is sought by housing leaders.

The governor is being asked to include housing in his call for the special session, if and when it is held in 1938.

From Detroit comes interesting news to the effect that the Ford Foundation, a non-profit corporation operated for the "welfare of mankind" may construct 4,000 homes in Dearborn, each house on a quarter acre of land.

The foundation owns and operates Greenfield Village and the Edison institute.

Gambling Again

One week after Attorney General Raymond W. Starr declared at Traversa City that slot-machines and organized gambling had been nearly eliminated in Michigan, Speaker Geo. Schroeder revealed here that the legislative council was considering revival of its gambling investigation.

The probe, as authorized by a house resolution, stirred up a lot of publicity but that was about all. One of the investigators, Representative John F. Hamilton (D) of Detroit, resigned from the committee in apparent disgust at the ruling by the attorney general that the committee lacked legal authority.

DISTRIBUTING ALMANAC

Copies of the 1938 edition of the Telephone Almanac, written and printed in much the style of the old time almanacs, are being made available by the offices here of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

The Almanac contains information of interest to farmers, businessmen, housewives, students, and others. It also presents significant anniversaries for each day of each month, astronomical calculations, the time of sunrise and sunset and moonrise and moonset, the morning and evening stars, eclipses for the year, a table showing the normal temperature and rainfall for representative cities in the various states, a two-page rebus for young folks, a compendium of information with regard to the telephone, its invention, and development, and other data and facts.

Reminder of Polish Peasant Life
The most vivid reminder of peasant life in old Poland is to be had by religious processions celebrating the feast of Our Lady's Nativity. These days are observed throughout the country by peasants who go on long processions wearing their native costumes, carrying sacred banners and singing hymns to shrines of the Blessed Virgin to pray.

OUR NEIGHBORS

PINGKEY—Quite a few are fishing through the ice on the pond and nearby lakes but most of them are not enjoying very good luck.—Dispatch.

MILAN—Weather permitting, Milan will hold its first ice carnival on Saturday afternoon of this week. This is a real innovation for this community, for never before in the history of the community has there been a skating place large enough to hold such an event. Plans are being completed to stage the carnival on Ford Lake, next Saturday afternoon, starting at one o'clock and the event will be repeated every Saturday afternoon through the winter as long as the ice is suitable for skating. Hockey games, skating races, sled races, barrel jumping on skates, fancy skating contests, speed contests are among the many features that are being planned for the afternoon program.—Leader.

MASON—Money has been appropriated by the Ingham County supervisors for the marking of roads and numbering of houses within the county. While the naming of highways has not been definitely completed and many of the names have been only tentatively chosen, it is unalterably settled that three colorful names will be discarded by the commissioners. The Hungry Hollow road, the Teaspoon road and the Podunk road will be changed to something else. The present generation, so Commissioner Earl said, does not like such unusual names.—County News.

HOLD CHRISTMAS PARTY

The local Kiwanis club entertained at an enjoyable Christmas party on Monday evening at Kolb's hall, with the wives and friends of members as guests. Christmas candles illuminated the tables, where a chicken dinner was served at 6:30 with covers for 53.

The hall was gay with Christmas greens and winter scenery was arranged about the fireplace. Featuring the decorations was a lighted Christmas tree, around which the gifts were placed and distributed by Santa Claus. These gifts were later turned over to the local Red Cross for distribution to needy Chelsea families and also to the crippled children's ward at the U. of M. hospital, Ann Arbor.

The evening's entertainment was in charge of Robert Hargreaves, and musical selections, "The World is Waiting for the Sunrise" and "The Bells of St. Mary's" were rendered by the brass quartet: Don Parsons, Maynard Oesterle, Philip Novess and Duane Weiss. They were accompanied by Mrs. B. I. Plankell at the piano and Mrs. P. M. Broesamle with the bells.

CHELSEA LADY HONORED

A very pleasant time was enjoyed Monday afternoon when several friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mrs. Mary Dewey to help her celebrate her 82nd birthday. Mrs. Dewey received her guests in her usual charming manner and made them feel that, because of friendships enjoyed, life was well worth living. She received many lovely and useful gifts, which served to remind her that she still has, as always, a very warm place in the hearts of those who know her best. Her sister, Mrs. Terrill, in a very gracious and friendly manner, presided as hostess and served a very delicious as well as attractive luncheon. Covers were laid for eight.

The Hi-Light

Edited By The PUPILS OF THE CHELSEA PUBLIC SCHOOL

Eulogies to Paul P.

Following is a letter from the School of Music of the University of Michigan, received by Mr. and Mrs. P. P. Plemmer.

"We were all shocked at the tragic passing away of Paul Plemmer a short time ago. While a student in the School of Music he endeared himself to his fellow students and made a very fine impression upon his instructors. We want you and other members of his family to know that we deeply sympathize with you all. Very cordially yours,
Chas. A. Sink, Pres.

The following is from his organ teacher:

"It was a great shock to all of Paul's friends here in Ann Arbor to learn of his death. As his organ teacher and friend since he first visited here at the age of twelve, may I extend my deepest sympathy to you at this time. No one who knew him for some time could doubt that he had a great future in whatever profession he chose. That he was unable to carry out these plans is a loss to 'Music' and a deep personal loss to all of us who were interested in him here. Sincerely,
E. William Doty.

Basketball

Last Friday Chelsea played host to the Belleville quintet, who by the way, are rated as one of the Huron League top contenders. However, our team walked away with the game, beating them 23-14. The score at the half was 10-6, our favor. The outstanding feature of this game, our first league game, was that only two men from the opposing team scored their buckets. This brings to the surface the fact that our players are really working on their defense as well as offense.

The second team again scored a decisive victory over the Belleville second team by beating them 24-11. The high point man again was Schneider, with 12 points.

Our next game will be a non-league game with Napoleon on January 4.

Editorial

You may recall that during our last singing assembly, our musical-minded merry-maker, Mr. Hargreaves, mentioned that it would be a good idea to get together more often and try a little group singing in different parts or harmonizing. Well, this idea is going to be carried out. Mr. Johnson is planning a series of assemblies to start about the beginning of the year for singing only, and when Mr. Johnson said "singing only," he meant just what he said. For those who do not like to sing or would rather study there will be a special study hour in happy Christmas by exchanging gifts and making preparations for a party on Thursday.

We wish all our friends a very Merry Christmas and we will see you again in the New Year "1938".

Second Grade

These days are busy days. We are trying to help Santa get ready for Christmas and we have to work pretty steadily.

David Slane is back to school with us. We are so glad to have him here again.

Mary Paul and Wilma Paul, Clare Knickerbocker and Junior Niehaus are the only ones in our grade who were neither absent nor tardy in the last seven weeks of school.

We have a nice fireplace in our room and these days we are having our story period beside it. We have a lighted candle and lots of pictures of jolly old Santa around it.

Recess is lots of fun these days. We have a fine sliding place and some of us bring our sleds and share them.

Some of us are bringing bread crumbs and scattering them on the window sill for the birds. Sometimes the pigeons come and help themselves. We like to watch them.

Third Grade

We gave our program about Cave People and First Village People on Wednesday, Dec. 15 at 10:20 a. m. Our guests were Mrs. Daniels, Mrs. Hill, Mrs. Hinderer, Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Lehman, Mrs. Schable, Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. Vail, Mrs. George Hart, Miss Ruth Liebeck, Miss Thelma Vail, Miss Lindersmidt and the Fourth Grade.

The perfect spellers for last week were Richard, Marceline, Betty, Dale, Loren, Thelma, George, Henry, Murray, Robert S. Helen, Jack Winans, Lewis, Elsie, and Bobby D.

Our tree is lovely. We each brought some money on Thursday. Then we all went and looked at Christmas trees. Each child brought some decoration for it. Paul and Bobby D. each brought a string of lights.

George lent us some candles and holders for the fireplace.

Fourth Grade

Each one of us has been working on a special topic in geography. Some of us drew pictures of things in Nandla's land to illustrate our topic.

We chose Jane Downer for our bulletin board monitor several times because she brought such good pictures. Some of us painted pictures on the windows.

Last week we were invited into the third grade room to hear about the Cave People and the early Villagers. We enjoyed their program.

Some of us have had a chance to be helping teacher in arithmetic. We think it gives us good practice. We are glad that Charles is back with us again.

We were divided into two teams for a contest in drawing Christmas trees. Jean E. was one leader, and George S. the other leader. Each one drew something on the tree. Jean's side finished first.

Fifth Grade

We have a new teacher this week. Her name is Miss Blecker. We like her very much. We hope that Mrs. Steiner will be back soon.

We are glad that Melva Myers is back with us. We thought that she wouldn't be back with us until after Christmas.

We wrote Christmas stories in Language. We haven't our Christmas tree yet. We have our trimmings for it.

Our pigeon is getting tamer every day. We feed it bread and cake. We are going to have our party in the gym Thursday afternoon. We give out presents to every person.

Sixth Grade

Miss Canfield has been ill this week. We miss her when she is gone.

We are glad that Virginia Miller is back with us, for she has had scarlet fever. Monday, Dec. 20 there were four people absent and we hope they will be back soon. They are: Eugene Aldrich, William Lang, Mary Woods, and Mary Ruth Christwell.

We have a beautiful scene of Alaska. Miss Canfield is going to try and get some more scenes of Europe and Asia.

In our Reading Workbooks we are writing an outline of some Christmas stories.

CHRISTMAS BELLS OF LONG AGO
Christmas cheer is here again—my dear,
The sound of greeting gleams
With pictured scenes of long ago.

They bring a pleasant memory
Of the ice and snow, the jingle bells,
The tally-ho, with coach and four,
That galloped over hill and moor
And passed our door.

We had a counterpart with them
When we were young,
Before the setting sun had cast its shadow;
These antique pictured scenes were real.

The horse and sleigh, the coach and four
We see no more.

How changed,
The memory of those days remain,
A charm so strong and clear,
We almost listen in our dream
To hear the Christmas Jingle Bells of long ago.

—Arthur Carlton.

Dolls Of Yesteryear

by Frances Grinstead

TWENTY-FIVE years ago a little girl's letter to Santa Claus went something like this:

Dear Santa:

Please bring me a new head for my dolly. Her name is Christina. She still has a nice body, but her head has so many dents it won't last another year. I would like one this time with real hair made into curls and eyes that open and shut.

Your trusting friend,

What has become of those Christmas dolls whose bodies could outlast half a dozen heads? When the curls went straight, or the wig dropped off, or little brother Johnnie picked the wax off the eyelids, and sister was consoled by promising her a new head. Mother took her to a department store where there was as large a display of doll heads as of dolls. There were china heads, metal heads, and heads of papier-mache. There were heads with wigs and some without. There were heads with parted lips and dainty teeth showing, while others hid their smiles behind firm mouths and staring eyes.

One thing these varied heads had in common. Their necks widened into four-square bibs front and back with holes at the corners for applying the needle to the old body. The bodies in those days were of cloth, their inner substance sawdust. Where now are those torsos that could withstand endless repairing, fresh sawdust, and new heads?

They probably found their way to the attic in time and sister was promised a whole new doll. Then her trip to the department store was a matter of deciding between a "dressed" and an "undressed" dolly. Mothers preferred the latter because they would bear closer inspection as to materials and workmanship. Dolls' clothes were easily made out of the family scrap-bag, or by the willing hands of the family seamstress, who did the job for recreation. Moreover, the undressed doll cost a little less. But sister liked to linger over those in silks and satins with poke-bonnets and plumes covering their golden curls. They wore petticoats and often they held their fragile fingers in tiny muffs of mink and sable.

The "Murphy Movement"—a movement to bring about temperance through personal pledges to abstain—spread over Ohio in 1877, the year after Francis Murphy originated the idea in Pennsylvania. Volunteer campaigners staged meetings in practically every community of the state and made individual contacts to solicit signatures on the dotted line. Many signed and many didn't.

METHODIST HOME

On Tuesday of last week Mr. and Mrs. G. P. Dorr and their small daughter Sally called on their aunt, Miss Leeman.

Mrs. Susan Baldwin celebrated her ninety-fourth birthday last Friday and shared her birthday cake with her neighbors.

Tuesday afternoon we had a great treat. Prof. Henry S. Curtis, executive secretary of the Huron-Clinton Parkway committee, brought a set of fine stereoscopic views showing the location of the proposed Huron River Parkway drive. Many of the scenes along the Huron and Clinton rivers were recognized and identified by members of the Home family. We will not soon forget the kindness shown us by Prof. Curtis.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taylor of Farmdale made a hurried call on Mrs. Turnbull last Saturday and left a pile of Christmas packages which she heroically refrained from opening that day.

On Sunday afternoon Mr. and Mrs. John Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Seelye, all from Holly, called on Mrs. Morley, Mrs. Gilbert and Miss Jerard.

On Saturday, Mrs. Lloyd Pandoe from Pontiac called on Miss Harris; and on Sunday her sister-in-law, Mrs. C. A. Harris, and son Jack, also from Pontiac, came to bring their Christmas tributes.

Sunday afternoon the Silver Key class of St. Paul's M. E. church in Highland Park sent over a delegation to bring gifts and good wishes to the Home family. They were accompanied by Mrs. Wm. Hughes, who is their teacher and the wife of their pastor, and Mrs. Lottie Cox, chief adviser. They brought gifts for every member of the family, and gave us a short program. Only about fifteen members of the class came, as because of the very dangerous traffic conditions it was thought unwise to risk the safety of the entire class. We hardly knew what to most admire, their generosity in giving, or their temerity in coming.

We were most happily entertained on Monday evening by a group of sixteen girls from the seventh and eighth grades of the Chelsea school who sang to us and gave two dialogues, "Christmas Resolutions" and "Sandy's Christmas", which delighted the entire audience. The girls were accompanied by their music teacher, Miss Neil. We hope they enjoyed it as much as we did.
