

The Rexall Store

Luxor Hand Cream 55c - $1.00
Adrienne Cosmetics—Creams, Powders and Lotions 50c
Fine Quality Hair Brushes 49c - $1.00 - $1.50 up
Albomist Nose and Throat Drops 25c - 39c
Brewer's Yeast Tablets, bottle of 100 for 60c
Alarm Clocks $1.19 - $1.59 up
Wrist-Watches $2.95 to $5.95
St. Regis Watches, unbreakable crystal $1.00
2 qt. Kanteek Hot Water Bottle, 5 year guarantee $2.00
500 sheets Klenzo Facial Tissue 29c
Mi-31 Antiseptic Mouth Wash, 16 oz. 49c
250 Dennison's Baby Pads $1.00
Large can Albaline Baby Powder 25c
Valentines 1c to 50c

SPECIAL!

Lord Baltimore Pastel Deckle Stationery
12 Letter Sheets - 12 Note Sheets - 24 Envelopes
All for 49c

HENRY H. FENN

Friday and Saturday Specials

2 lbs. Pure Lard 25c
1 Large pkg. Magic Washing Powder 19c
2 cans Gold Dust Cleanser 9c
5 lb. bag Granulated Sugar 28c
2 size 2 cans Old Tavern Spinach 19c
Large pkg. Post Toasties or Corn Flakes 10c
1 lb. Clown Brand Egg Noodles 15c
2-1 lb. cans Armour Pork and Beans 15c

3% Sales Tax Included

HINDERER BROTHERS
GROCERIES and MEATS

Our charges are less than most people imagine. Visit us and learn the facts.

PLANKELL FUNERAL HOME
Phone No. 6 Ambulance

There Is Reason - -

Why more and more people are using Vitality 32% Poultry Mash Supplement with their own grain - - For better and cheaper egg production.

Farmers' Supply Co.
PHONE 184 ROY C. IVES

We Have Some Very Good

Buys in RADIOS

TERMS TO SUIT YOUR PURSE

Washers - Radios

Refrigerators

SERVICE FOR ALL MAKES

LLOYD R. HEYDLAUFF

PHONE 413-W CHELSEA, MICH.

Kiwanians Observe Anniversary Week

Anniversary Week, celebrating the founding of Kiwanis, was observed by the local club at their meeting on Monday evening. The first Kiwanis club was organized in Detroit in January, 1915, and there are now about 100,000 members of the organization throughout the United States and Canada.

Dr. Faye Palmer was in charge of the Monday evening program, and gave a brief outline of the history and accomplishments of the local club since its organization on March 21, 1924. He read a list of the 88 charter members, and of those who have served the club in the capacity of president. With his characteristic dry humor Dr. Palmer entertained the club by relating many of the humorous incidents which have happened within the club during the fourteen years of its existence.

The principal address of the evening was given by Oliver B. Crager, senior student at Michigan State Normal, Ypsilanti, who was introduced by Prof. Fred B. McKay of the Normal College. Mr. Crager, who is president of the Honor Speech Society, delivered a forceful address on world conditions, and the relationship of the United States with other powerful nations of the world. He deplored the fact that, with such troublesome times and rumblings of war throughout the world, the United States is not a member of the League of Nations, which is making every effort to avert a new world war. He stated that of the great nations of the world who are not members of the League the United States is the only democracy, the others being dictatorships, and that it certainly would be a safer situation for this country to cooperate with the democracies.

New Events Add To Farm Week Program

New events added to the 23rd annual Farmers' Week program at Michigan State College, January 31 to February 4 include new forms of entertainment and means of gathering information for the thousands of farm families intending to attend.

Under the direction of E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture, and R. W. Tenny, short course director, the more serious portions of the week's program continue to offer a literal short course in agriculture in all phases. A better farm and community life program is linked up with efficient production and profitable marketing.

Less educational will be the husband calling contest Wednesday afternoon and evening, February 2. Men will get a chance to call their hogs on Thursday, February 3.

High school drum majors are going to kick up the tanbark in Demonstration hall Wednesday afternoon and evening as another new event for all state honors.

World champion draft horses are coming in from Plano, Ill., and Springfield, Ind., to compete against some picked Michigan pulling teams. These tests will culminate the Wednesday and Thursday evening events.

Three sales will offer a chance to visitors to take away some of the best Michigan livestock produced recently by Michigan farmers. A brood ewe sale, a horse sale, and a fat stock sale of calves and hogs are scheduled. The first two are on the program Friday, Feb. 4, while the fat stock and hogs are to be sold Thursday at 11 a. m.

Community groups will compete in the State Grange singing contest and in the Rural Drama contest sponsored by the extension service of the college. Both of these events are scheduled Friday.

VERA BLEECKER HONORED

Vera Blecker of Chelsea has been appointed basketball manager for the team of women in her group of the Women's League of Western State Teachers' College, Kalamazoo. This team will participate in a basketball tournament which is being sponsored by the department of Physical Education for women at Western State. Miss Blecker is enrolled as a senior in the Later Elementary department and is a graduate of Pontwater high school.

WILL ENTERTAIN SONS

Olive Lodge, No. 156, F. & A. M. members will entertain sons at its next regular meeting Tuesday, February 1. During the evening there will be films showing the growing of rubber trees and the gathering of latex on the island of Sumatra, modern coal mining, and a cartoon comedy. Games and stunts for both young and old are planned. Lunch will be served at the closing.

MISS WATSON ON HONOR ROLL

Miss Betty Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Watson of Chelsea, is named among students whose high grades throughout the autumn quarter at Montana State College, Bozeman, Mont., entitled them to "honor roll" citation, according to Registrar W. H. McCall. Miss Watson is a senior student of home economics.

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Aleman
Michigan Press Association

Lansing—After making a steady "buildup" on the fairness of a state income tax, administrative leaders have decided not to inject this issue into the 1938 Michigan merry-go-round. Instead it will be kept for possible warming up next year when the legislature convenes in regular session.

George Schroeder, speaker of the house, first mentioned the income tax. Then the governor proclaimed its merits at the Jackson Day dinner in Detroit. About that time the tax commission's new consultant, Charles Darwin Ross, a Wisconsin progressive added his views by denouncing the sales tax and asserting that Wisconsin's income tax had not hurt business and industry.

Thirty-six states have income tax laws in effect.

Michigan's constitution, however, requires a uniform base of taxation, permitting no graduated and no exemptions as to children and so on. Four times the plan was submitted by referendum to the voters, and four times it has been defeated. To have some substitute for a graduated income tax would be obviously unfair for the low wage-earner who is already paying more than his fair share in sales taxes.

$12,000,000 Tax Relief

By substituting indirect forms of taxation, such as the sales tax, for the property tax as a main source of its revenue, the state government gave tax relief to corporate property in Michigan to the tune of $12,000,000 to $18,000,000 each year since 1933.

Representative Vernon J. Brown, editor at Mason and past chairman of the house taxation committee, points out that industrial corporations pay no retail tax or very little. The 15 (Continued on next page)

Gundry Talks With County Treasurers

Lansing—After completing a series of meetings that included interviews with nearly all of the 83 county treasurers in the State, Auditor General George T. Gundry stated that he believed the tax sale next May would in most instances cause little confusion.

Gundry pointed out that one difficulty remaining unsolved was the publication of some descriptions as delinquent when payment of taxes had been made. This situation is unavoidable, it was explained, and has developed as a result of the law which demands publication of delinquent lists five weeks prior to the last term of Circuit Court held prior to the tax sale.

As a result the lists in some counties are published months in advance of the sale and tax payers make payments while the lists are being compiled and published.

Gundry said that published descriptions on which payment has been made would be withheld from sale by the county treasurers.

PREDICTS CRIME INCREASE

St. Joseph, Mich., Jan. 26—Judge Malcolm Hatfield today stated that courts cannot compete with the cheap dance hall, divorce mill, road-house, pool room, and questionable theatre and magazine. He asserted that thousands of children will soon turn to crime if indifferent parents are not educated to their duties and responsibilities.

The judge lays down specific means for treating disobedience, dishonesty, temper tantrums and other symptoms that indicate future criminal careers in his book, "Children in Court", which is being released by the Paebler Co. of New York City. Judge Hatfield, whose work with youthful offenders is closely followed in parent-teacher, religious and educational circles, added that the ten million children who are affiliated with no church cannot be expected to develop character and high ethical standards of morality.

TICKETS FOR BALL AVAILABLE

The local committee in charge of ticket sales for the President's Birthday Ball to be held Saturday evening, January 29 at Michigan Union and Michigan League, Ann Arbor, and Manchester high school, report that tickets are still available. The tickets are $1.00 each and admit one couple. If the tickets are not used Saturday night they may be used at a dance to be held at the Chas. McKenny hall in Ypsilanti on Monday evening. In addition to the committee announced last week, Carl J. Mayer has tickets for sale at Chelsea State Bank.

ANNUAL FISH SUPPER

The annual fish supper, given by the U. B. church in Waterloo, will be held at Gleaner hall on Friday evening, Feb. 4, at 6 o'clock. Price 40c and 25c.

Seek Prevention Of Fish "Winter-Kill"

Methods of preventing "winter-kill" which took a heavy toll of fish in a number of southern Michigan lakes in 1935-36 are being sought in an investigation now underway in the Waterloo district in Jackson and Washtenaw counties.

"Winter-kill" is the result of ice and snow completely covering the surface of a lake so heavily as to prevent sunlight from reaching the plants in the water. The plants then decay, consuming the dissolved oxygen in the water, and the fish suffocate. During the winter of 1935-36 thousands of fish died in this manner in several lower Michigan lakes.

Examinations are being conducted on several selected lakes in the Waterloo district by John Greenbank, research assistant of the Institute for Fisheries Research of the department of conservation, with a view toward finding out more about conditions which are responsible for winter-kill, and in the hope of discovering means of preventing it or minimizing its effects. The dissolved oxygen and dissolved carbon dioxide contents of the waters of the lakes under examination are being measured periodically so that the variations in the amounts of these substances through the winter may be determined.

Conditions in the Waterloo lakes remained fairly good all of last month. Although the ice was eight to ten inches thick, it was clear and had little snow on it.

However, the early appearance of ice this winter, the large number of dark days and the lack of "thaws" have raised fears that suffocation may occur again in some lakes this year unless there are some breaks in the weather before spring.

Special Auto Tags Called "Democratic"

Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, approaching the end of the annual season when special automobile license plates are requested by thousands, today defended the practice of issuing them, as "democratic."

"Any citizen of Michigan who has wanted some special number, for any reason whatever, has always had the privilege of making his request," Case said, as the supply of 30,000 specially numbered plates was reaching its end. "The making of these plates involves not a dime extra part of the time of less than half a dozen clerks in the department throughout the State, accounts for the handling of these requests," the State Department head observed.

Case has followed the custom of several of his predecessors in office by reserving in advance license plate numbers for citizens, regardless of political affiliation, who have held them for some years in the past. "There are relatively few of these, and for the balance, anyone may ask for any combination we have, and if it's available, they get it. It's a matter of first-come-first served," Case said.

He added: "I believe that as more special plates are made to meet the demand, fewer people will want them in the future. So long as people can be made happy with certain combinations of numerals and letters, I'll be glad to accommodate them, so far as I can."

CAVANAUGH LAKE GRANGE

Cavanaugh Lake Grange and the Ladies Aid will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller on Wednesday, February 2. Pot luck dinner will be served at noon. Program:

Song—America.

Roll call—Give an anecdote from a President's life.

Lincoln's Gettysburg Address; Outstanding Events in the Life of Lincoln—Mrs. Nina Lehmann.

Reading—America for Me—Mrs. Proctor.

Washington, the Father of His Country—Mrs. Anna Lehmann.

Songs—Old Tunes—Men of Grange.

Flag Salute.

SEEK FUNDS FOR CHINESE

In cooperation with the National Red Cross, the local chapter of the Red Cross announce a drive to raise funds for Chinese relief. President Roosevelt has issued a call in an effort to raise $1,000,000 for this cause and the Red Cross has been asked to make the drive for funds. The local chapter will place containers in the bank, post office, and other places of business to raise funds for their share of this worthy cause.

HOLD ANNUAL MEETING

The annual meeting of the Chelsea Co-Operative Co. was held Thursday afternoon in the council room at Sylvan town hall. All of the directors were re-elected for 1938, the following being members of the board: Geo. T. English; Alvin D. Baldwin; Fred Riemenschneider; John Steinbach; Oscar Lindauer and Fred J. Seitz. Officers of the company are: President, G. T. English; secretary-treasurer, A. D. Baldwin.

Used Cars

We have several 1935 - 1936 and 1937 cars in different body types.

Trade your present car for a later model Used Car - - You will like it!

W. R. DANIELS

Phone 269

THIS WEEK'S SPECIALS

1 Large and 1 Small pkg. of Dreff 23c
1 large can Dole Pineapple Juice 31c
2 cans Defiance Cut Wax Beans 23c
3 lbs. Blue Rose Rice 19c
1 lb. pkg. Premier Egg Noodles 16c
2 cans Babbitts Lye 19c
1 lb. M. J. B. Coffee (Regular price 39c) 29c
2 lbs. Bakers Cocoa 25c
1 Extra Large can Campbell's Pork and Beans 10c

Have the Kiddies try the new Chocolate Ovaltine

SCHNEIDER & KUSTERER

FEED SPECIALS

Egg Mash $2.00 cwt.
Scratch $1.85 cwt.
16 2/3% Dairy $1.50 cwt.
Meat Scrap $2.50 cwt.
Tankage $2.80 cwt.

Coal and Building Supplies of all kinds.

CHELSEA
Lumber, Grain & Coal Co.
PHONE 112 CHELSEA

More Potatoes

Just received another truck load of Northern Michigan Sand Potatoes. Give them a trial!

Per Peck 23c
Per Hundred $1.30
2 doz. 288 Oranges 27c
Large Pink Grapefruit 5c
Peanuts, per lb. 12c
Gold Medal Flour, 24 1/2 lbs. 95c
Ford Bread Flour, 25 lbs. 90c
6 cans Pet Milk 45c
3 lb. can Crisco or Spry 50c

A. B. CLARK

The Chelsea Standard

Published Every Thursday
M. W. McCLELLAN, Publisher
Entered in the postoffice at Chelsea, Mich., as second class matter.
Subscription price: $1.00 per year in advance.
15 cents; four months, 50 cents.

Consolidation of
The Chelsea Herald, established 1871
The Chelsea Standard, established 1899
The Chelsea Tribune, established 1907

24 YEARS AGO

Thursday, January 29, 1914
This morning at 10 o'clock a M. C. freight, in switching a car of coal in on the tracks of the Flanders Mfg. Co., sent it through and into the engine room of the power plant of the company. The heating plant was put out of commission.
Miss Nellie Maroney left Tuesday for Temple and San Antonio, Texas to spend several weeks.
Henry Niehaus of Freedom had his right leg broken last Thursday while chopping wood and was caught by a falling tree.
The Ladies' Bridge club gave a banquet to the 12 members of the club at the Chelsea House on Thursday evening.
Eugene McIntee, Sr. died at his home in Lyndon township on Wednesday, January 28, 1914.
Miss Bertha Grieb and Gottfried Eisele, both of Lima, were married on Wednesday, January 28, 1914.

34 YEARS AGO

Thursday, January 28, 1904
W. F. Hatch died on Sunday, January 24, 1904.
Mrs. Wilhelmina Ulrich of Sharon township died on Friday, January 22, 1904.
John Wade of Lima died on Saturday, January 23, 1904.
Miss Susie Parks of Waterloo died on Saturday, January 16, 1904.
Miss Katherine Haarer, a former well known Chelsea resident, was

WEST SIDE DAIRY

Pasteurized

Milk and Cream

Try our Dairy-Rich Chocolate
Delicious Hot or Cold
Sold At HINDERER BROS.
RED & WHITE STORE

West Side Dairy

SAVE WITH SYSTEM

Saving is the surest road to old-age security as well as to present day serenity of mind! The building and loan plan of saving is one of the best to follow—it is saving made easy and financial upbuilding made assured.
You can start an account with this Company for amounts as low as $5.00 and add as little or much as you care to. Get full information from our local representative, A. G. Hindelang, or write us direct.

CAPITOL SAVINGS & LOAN COMPANY

112 E. Allegan St., Lansing, Mich.
Local Representative—A. G. HINDELANG

FARMERS!

Bring Us Your Light Weight
Wheat

We Will Take Wheat
Testing As Low As 51 Pounds

Chelsea Milling Company
CHELSEA, MICH.

married on Thursday, January 21, at Tucson, Arizona, to Guy Brooks of that city.

Those who believe in nature's promises say that we are to have an early spring and point to the fact that buds on maple trees and lilac bushes already appear, even if surrounded by ice on the twigs.

Attorney John Kaimbach of Chelsea has formed a partnership with Frank A. Stivers of Ann Arbor under the firm name of Stivers & Kaimbach.

Owing to the severe cold weather and consequent contraction in the iron part of the well known trestle bridge of the Ann Arbor railroad over the Huron river at Ann Arbor, two sections of the structure gave way on Wednesday afternoon. Ten loaded freight cars, of a freight train of 29 cars and two engines, were dumped 40 feet into the river. Nobody was injured.

OUR NEIGHBORS

MASON—V. I. Brown, who is on a motor trip to Florida, writes as follows: We stayed at Lake Wales over night and the next morning we drove to Avon Park for breakfast. Avon Park is in the midst of great orange and grapefruit groves. We passed miles of orchards laden with luscious grapefruit, tangerines and oranges. We were hungry when we sat down to breakfast in the Hotel Jacaranda—coffee shop. We called for grapefruit—and they had none. We compromised on oranges—but the hotel was out of oranges. Did they have some tangerines? Sorry, but they did not. We finally accepted some Libby's Hawaiian pineapple juice for our breakfast. I threatened to "write 'em up" and I have done it. County News.

MORENCI—Harold Wolf reports seeing a fawn on his farm five miles northeast of here Monday forenoon. Mr. Wolf drove into one of his fields with a team of horses. He said he did not notice the deer until it jumped up from the ground about 30 feet ahead of the team. It ran a few hundred feet and laid down again. He said the animal was about three and a half feet high and would probably weigh about 70 pounds. The deer stayed around in the vicinity where Mr. Wolf was working the remainder of the day. Observer.

HOWELL—The Pere Marquette Railroad has purchased 15 new locomotives (the largest and most modern in the middle west) which will be placed in service on the Michigan rails. Nine of the locomotives have been delivered and are in service, while the others are nearing completion. These freight locomotives are capable of hauling 125 cars at more than 60 miles an hour. Twenty-five new steel cabooses have also been placed in use in Michigan. County Press.

Try Standard Linters for Results—25c

Many Fail To Claim Soc. Security Benefits

Many persons in the Jackson area have failed to claim Social Security benefits now due them, through misunderstanding, it was said today by Richard H. Hendrick, manager of the Old Age Insurance office in the Reynolds Building.

"Inquiries at our office have revealed this misunderstanding which may be the reason why hundreds of persons who are entitled to this money have failed to claim it," Mr. Hendrick said.

"Many workers believe their employers have filed claims for the lump-sum benefits which are due two groups of persons at the present time, these inquiries reveal. One group is composed of those who reach the age of 65 after working in occupations covered by the Social Security Act. The other is composed of the heirs of persons who have died after having been employed in such fields.

"As a matter of fact employers do report to the United States Collector of Internal Revenue when contributions cease for a worker who has reached the age of 65 or who has died," Mr. Hendrick continued.

"But these reports are not claims for the lump-sum benefits which are due in all such cases. The claims must be filed in behalf of the worker, through the Old Age Insurance office. A mere report of an employer that he has ceased making contributions for a worker is not a claim for the payment."

Mr. Hendrick also called attention to the fact that no expense is involved in filing a claim for these lump-sum payments.

Commenting on misunderstanding of this subject he said:

"Recently we learned of a woman who was entitled to a fairly large lump-sum payment due her as the result of the death of her husband. This woman had erroneously been told she would have to go to her original home, many miles distant, to get her marriage license and other records, before she could receive the money."

"While we do require certain records, these usually can be obtained without expense. No one should permit reports of this character to discourage them in the filing of claims of this sort. Expert services are not required and the forms which are used for this purpose are simple," Mr. Hendrick concluded.

So far 154 claims for lump-sum payments have been certified from the Jackson field office which serves the counties of Jackson, Washtenaw, Lenawee and Hillsdale. This is only a fraction of the known number of persons who are entitled to these payments, Mr. Hendrick declared. He urged all who know persons who are entitled to these payments to have these claimants get in touch with the Jackson field office at once.

Ewes Need Feed To Grow Good Lambs

Harvest time is approaching for the careful flockmaster. The bulk of Michigan's lamb crop is born in March. Care given the flock during the next two months has much to do with the success of the lambing season.

From now on, the flockmaster who is not studying his animals carefully and increasing the quality of the ration to meet the increased needs of the ewes in developing the unborn lambs, will have trouble and perhaps some losses.

Each year at this time, members of the animal husbandry department at Michigan State College receive many complaints of paralysis or so-called "pregnancy disease" in breeding ewes. This trouble is not a disease, but rather is caused by a lack of sufficiently nourishing feed to meet the needs of the breeding ewe and the requirements for the development of the unborn lambs. At this season of the year, the quality of the ration should be increased by feeding more leguminous hay, such as clover or alfalfa. Any members of the flock, which for any reason are losing in weight or appear thin, should be separated from the remainder and given extra feed.

In many sections of Michigan, even the leguminous hay is of very poor quality this year due to the heavy rainfall during the hay making season. Careful flockmasters thus will find it desirable to add a small amount of some protein supplement to the grain ration fed. Grain should, by all means, be fed to the extent of one half pound per head daily the last 30 days preceding lambing. This year it would be advisable to add enough linseed meal, cottonseed meal or soy bean meal to the grain so that each ewe gets one tenth pound per head daily.

Where cull beans are available, they may be fed in place of the above protein supplements, allowing one-third of the grain ration to consist of cull beans.

Earthly Comforts for Dead
As is well known, the Egyptians originally placed every earthly comfort in the tomb for the dead—food, liquids, rouge, perfumes, eye paint, weapons, and jewels. Later, according to a Scripps-Howard science editor, they used small clay models and even included statues of slaves. The Egyptians believed that these statues would come to life when the soul returned to the body.

Michigan Mirror

(Continued from page one)

mill tax limitation on corporate property, plus the substitution of the sales tax for the state property tax, have benefited industry more than it has home owners and farmers.

As Representative Brown points out, "Home owners, farmers, smaller business concerns have been relieved of some property taxes but they have paid more, much more, in sales tax than they have saved in property tax. Some new form of taxation applied to physical corporate property, the revenues to be used to provide exemptions for home owners, would do much to promote justice."

It would also serve as a stimulus to home ownership, to home building, to modernization and improvement, Mr. Brown adds.

Sixth in Taxation

Michigan ranks sixth among the states in the amount of taxes collected. The first five states, in the order, are New York, Pennsylvania, California, Ohio and Illinois.

On a per capita basis, Michigan residents pay $23 of which $5 comes back to the home communities. Ohio retains about $10 per capita for state expense, and Michigan spends $18.

These figures were gathered by the Tax Policy League, an interstate institute for the study of taxation matters.

Although the sales tax virtually exempts industrial corporations and imposes a heavy load on the small wage earner, the 3 per cent payments bring approximately $55,000,000 to the state treasury in a normal year. The state income tax, rejected four times by the electorate, is still far distant as a possibility for Michigan.

Michigan Agriculture

Dairying is the most important farm enterprise in Michigan. There are 1,287 creameries and milk plants in the state.

Grains and forage crops are second.

Poultry ranks third. Since last fall Michigan eggs have been graded by the state and federal governments at three points in the state, and Michigan graded eggs are now commanding the highest market price in Chicago and eastern markets.

Michigan grows more cherries than any other state—cherries for pies and cocktails.

Michigan was first last year in onions—shipping 7,000 cars to the market.

In potatoes Michigan will ship 25,000 cars of table stock spuds to the market; one million bushels will be used for potato chips alone.

Diversified

That Michigan agriculture is unusually diversified is quite apparent from examination of facts as recently given to the public by John B. Strange, commissioner, state department of agriculture.

In Benton Harbor is located the largest fruit and vegetable market in the world, doing an annual business of four millions and shipping truckloads to 38 states.

Yet, due to a lack of grading, Michigan fruit and vegetables do not command top prices with the public. Michigan is a top bean producer; yet Idaho grown beans sell from 36 cents to 40 cents more per hundred weight in Chicago than Michigan grown beans.

From Maine and Idaho come thousands of cars of potatoes each year—over 800 cars to Detroit alone—because buyers had confidence in federal-state inspected and graded potatoes.

Western apples command higher prices than Michigan apples. Washington licenses every apple grower and collects a tax of 1 cent per bushel on all apples sold commercially. This tax is used for advertising. New York state has a fund of $400,000 for advertising milk. Idaho's new law providing 1 cent per hundredweight tax on prunes, apples and potatoes for advertising was challenged and upheld by its supreme court.

WATERLOO

The Ladies' Aid served dinner to 37 guests and members at the Walter Vicoary home on Thursday.

The annual chicken and noodle supper, given by the Gleaners, will be held on February 22.

Little Charles Uhrig had the misfortune to cut a deep gash in his hip while riding down hill on his sled. It took several stitches to close the wound.

The T. H. club girls decorated the church for the wedding of a member, Miss Mildred Beaman, who is now Mrs. Kenneth Carty. After the wedding they served refreshments at the Beaman home, to the wedding party and immediate families.

Mrs. Louis Ramp of Oak Park, Ill., spent the week-end with her husband, Miss Isabella Hitchcock and Mr. Thompson of Detroit were Sunday visitors at the Hitchcock home.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Wahl spent Sunday at the Geo. Stoffer home near Stockbridge.

Bees Never Domesticated

There are no domesticated bees. Those living in man-made hives are as wild as those inhabiting hollow trees in the jungle.

Popularity of Fan in United States

The fan attained its greatest United States popularity during the latter half of the Nineteenth century.

COUNCIL PROCEEDINGS

Council Rooms, Jan. 3, 1938.
Council met in regular session.
Meeting called to order by President Pro-tem Weber.
Roll call. Present: Trustees Adam, Merkel, Hinderer, Williams.
Minutes of Dec. 20 read and approved.
The following bills were read by the Clerk:

Protective
Wm. Atkinson, 1/2 mo. salary $ 50.00
Engineering and Public Works
Ross Munro, 13 1/2 hrs. at 50c. $ 6.75
Geo. Alber, 4 1/2 hrs. at 50c. 2.25
Otto Schans, 1/2 mo. salary 55.00
Charles Meserve, 1/2 mo. salary 50.00
Washtenaw Co. Board of Road
Comm., grading and snow removal R. R. St. to Village limits 10.00
Merkel Bros., supplies 1.82
Chelsea L. G. & C. Co., supplies and coal 22.35
Ralph Collins, 2 hrs. at 50c. 1.00
L. Lantis, coal 18.13
I. H. Weiss, 18 lbs. sand at $1.50 24.00
J. A. Carmichael, repairing 1.75
J. F. Alber, sewer repairs 15.25
Public Utilities
E. L. & W. W. Dept., Order No. 1 $1000.00
Legislative, Executive and Advisory
Roy Harris, partial payment, Village Pres. $50.00
Chelsea Standard, printing, December 25.00

Motion made by Adam and supported by Hinderer that bills be allowed and orders drawn for the amounts.

Roll call: Yeas all.

Motion carried.

Motion made by Merkel and supported by Hinderer that President and Clerk be authorized to sign contract pertaining to maintenance of M-92 from Van Buren St. to M. C. R. R., through the Village of Chelsea, with the State Highway Dept.

Roll call: Yeas all.

Motion carried.

Motion made by Williams and supported by Adam that the Village of Chelsea sell and convey to Norbert Merkel the following described lands: Commencing at the northeast corner of lot two in block fourteen, of Elisha Congdon's Second Addition to the Village of Chelsea, and running thence south on the east line of said lot two to the southeast corner of said lot two; thence westerly along the south line of lot two, twenty-eight feet; thence northerly parallel with the east line of lot two to the north line of said lot two; thence easterly along the north line of said lot two, twenty-eight feet to the place of beginning, excepting the south fifteen links in width off from the south end of the above described parcel, all being a part of lot number two in block number fourteen, according to the record-

Some Seek Drivers' Permits Too Soon

Indications that many motorists of Michigan are seeking to evade the coming examination for operators licenses are offered from applications received from persons whose present license will be valid for some time to come.

Leon D. Case, Secretary of State, has warned that the state's licensing act prohibits the issuance of a license to any applicant whose present license does not expire in less than six months. Several thousand premature applications have been returned to applicants in the past few weeks.

This process adds to the cost of administration of the license law because of the involvement of the procedure. Credit of 15 cents to local governments for each license, has already been posted on departmental books when applications are checked; in instances where applications are rejected, such credits must be withdrawn. The entire refunding process to the counties is slowed up by the increasing volume of such operations.

James Munro, Clerk.
Roy Harris, President.

Try Standard Linters—Only 25c

NOTICE

Sylvan Taxpayers

I will be at Chelsea State Bank on Tuesdays and Fridays, all day, and Saturday afternoons, until further notice, for the purpose of collecting Sylvan township taxes.

Mrs. Theo. Bahnmler

Sylvan Township Treasurer

January Clearance

OF Gas Ranges and Refrigerators

MAGIC CHEF RANGE

- 1—2501-0 Series
- 2—2106-0 Series
- 3—1570-7 Series

Detroit Jewell

- 1—6702 Series

25% DISCOUNT

on RANGES

Includes Old Stove Allowance

ROPER RANGES

- 3—1700 Series
- 4—1500 Series
- 1—400 Series

$1.75 Down—24 Months to Pay the Balance

ELECTROLUX GAS REFRIGERATORS

1937 Models

The Silent Refrigerator

10% DISCOUNT

ON REFRIGERATORS

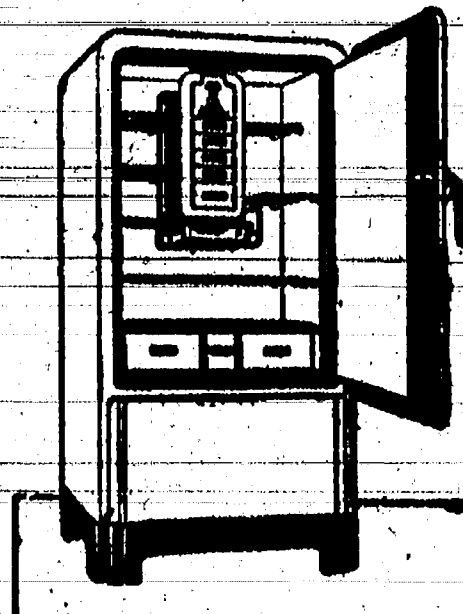

- 1—10 cubic ft. Electrolux
- 2—6 cubic ft. Electrolux
- 1—5 cubic ft. Electrolux
- 2—4 cubic ft. Electrolux

(Liberal Allowance for your Ice Box)

$1.75 Down—24 Months to Pay the Balance

Washtenaw Gas Co.

211 East Huron St. Ann Arbor

Highest CASH Prices Paid for GOOD USED CARS
Sells Chevrolet Sales
Dexter, Michigan
Open Evenings and Sundays

Phone: Office and Res. 62-1
Office Hours: 10-11; 1-4; 7-8
MODERN X-RAY and FLUOROSCOPIC DIAGNOSIS
SHOCKPROOF X-RAY!

Dr. R. D. Quillen
Physician and Surgeon
CHELSEA, MICH.

CHILDREN IN COURT

Judge Malcolm Hatfield
A court officer discovered that a delinquent girl shared two rooms with her parents, nine brothers and sisters and two additional relatives. She was practicing communism in its broadest interpretation. As this child owned nothing herself, she had no conception of the fact that police are provided for the protection of the individual and his property. Therefore, she came to regard police officers as enemies who were constantly prying into what she considered a legitimate means of adding to the family income. When this child was placed in a country boarding home, and given a bedroom of her own and various personal belongings, her entire attitude toward property rights underwent a decided change.

FARMERS

Why gamble when you can protect yourself with a sound fire insurance policy in Michigan's Largest Farm Mutual Fire Insurance Company.

ISSUED NEW POLICIES TOTALING OVER $12,000,000
FROM JANUARY 1st TO NOVEMBER 30th

Featuring a blanket policy on personal property, which in case of loss, often pays double amount which a classified policy will pay. Other broad and liberal policy provisions. Credits for lightning rods, fire extinguishers and fire resisting roofs. Careful underwriting and systematic inspection, eliminating hazardous and undesirable risks. Assessment rate as low as $2.94 per $1,000. Buildings on State Experimental Farms insured in this Company by the State Board of Agriculture.

DON'T JUST BUY INSURANCE—BUY PROTECTION!

Our record of fair and prompt settlement speaks for itself. For further information see representative or write Home Office.

ALVIN D. BALDWIN—CHELSEA, 318 McKinley St.
PAUL G. SCHAEFER—CHELSEA

State Mutual Fire Insurance Company of Michigan

702 Church St., Flint, Michigan

W. V. BURRAS, President E. K. FISK, Secretary

REPORT OF THE CONDITION OF

Chelsea State Bank

of Chelsea, in the State of Michigan and a member of the Federal Reserve System, at the close of business on December 31st, 1937.

Published in accordance with calls made by the Commissioner of the Banking Department and the Federal Reserve Bank of this district on a date fixed by the Commissioner of the Banking Department and the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System pursuant to the provisions of Section 52 of the Michigan financial institutions act and the Federal Reserve Act respectively.

ASSETS

Loans and discounts	$ 441,679.37
Overdrafts	88.12
United States Government obligations, direct and/or fully guaranteed	118,925.00
Other bonds, stocks, and securities	600,410.65
Banking house, $13,910.00; Furniture and fixtures, $3,250.00	17,160.00
Real estate owned other than banking house	13,149.10
Reserve with Federal Reserve bank	115,901.18
Cash, balances with other banks, and cash items in process of collection	72,549.88
Other assets, F. D. I. C.	69.39
TOTAL	$1,877,832.69

LIABILITIES

Demand deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations	$ 282,997.61
Time deposits of individuals, partnerships, and corporations	892,061.05
State, county, and municipal deposits	37,226.19
United States Government and postal savings deposits	1,038.74
Deposits of other banks, certified and officers' checks outstanding, etc.	3,609.55
TOTAL OF ITEMS 14 TO 18, Inclusive:
Secured by the pledge of loans and/or investments	$ 10,000.00
Not secured by the pledge of loans and/or investments	1,206,833.14
TOTAL DEPOSITS	$1,216,833.14
Capital Account:
Common stock, 1100 shares, par $50.00 per share	$ 55,000.00
Surplus	55,000.00
Undivided profits, net	32,861.17
Reserves for contingencies	18,638.38
TOTAL CAPITAL ACCOUNT	160,999.55
TOTAL, Including Capital Account	$1,877,832.69

Memorandum Loans and Investments Pledged to Secure Liabilities
United States Government obligations, direct and/or fully guaranteed	$ 10,000.00
Other bonds, stocks, and securities	None
Loans and discounts	None
TOTAL PLEDGED (excluding rediscounts)	$ 10,000.00
Pledged:
Against State, county, and municipal deposits	10,000.00
TOTAL PLEDGED	$ 10,000.00

I, John L. Fletcher, Vice-President and Cashier of the above-named bank, do solemnly swear that the above statement is true to the best of my knowledge and belief.

JOHN L. FLETCHER,
Vice-Pres. and Cashier

Correct—Attest:
P. G. Schaefer
A. A. Palmer
Otto D. Luick
Directors.

State of Michigan, County of Washtenaw, ss:
Sworn to and subscribed before me this 10th day of January, 1938.

Paul F. Niehaus, Notary Public

My commission expires March 1, 1940.

The Hi-Light

Edited By The PUPILS OF THE CHELSEA PUBLIC SCHOOL

Basketball

A crushing defeat over Clinton on Friday paved the way to Dundee for Chelsea's fighting five.

The final gun found us with a twenty point lead over the Clintonites—the score being 35 to 15. The boys are hoping to repeat this performance next Friday at Dundee.

Koebbe was the star with 12 points—the "Great" Alber was a close second with 9.

The second team carried on the Chelsea tradition with a 22-22 victory. Rabley was in the starring role as usual, with Schneider tossing in 15 points on the side, and Andy a meager 10.

By the way, why don't you make it a point to give us your support at Dundee on the 28th—and I do mean you!

I Like Boys Who - -

Dance on their own feet, like John Fletcher.

Do not talk an arm off you, like Earl Koch.

Aren't always bringing up other girls while with me, like we have yet to find one.

Wear plaid shirts, checked socks, and striped ties, like Onie N.

Don't pull the "he man" act, like Wayne Van Orman.

I LIKE GIRLS WHO - -

Don't talk all the time about nothing, like Mary Jane Riker.

Know enough to stay away from red finger and toe-nails, like Betty Seitz.

Don't discuss wearing apparel with the other girl on a double date, like they always do.

Don't be a very sincere compliment, say: "Oh, I bet you tell that to all the girls" or just plain, "I betcha!"

Like not to drive your car, like Joan Walworth.

No More Gossip

The trials of an editor are many and rare are his joys. Recently we have been firmly requested by several students to print a gossip column, telling "who goes with who, and where". So two issues ago we printed seven inches of "red-hot" gossip in an effort to provide for the curiosity of those students who are much interested in the boy-girl romances of everyone else in the high school. That column, full of question marks and sly innuendoes, was, as Johnny Hildinger remarked, "pretty cheap stuff."

You can read columns ten times more "oaty" than that one of ours in some of the high school papers the Optimist receives. But those papers are cheaply printed on coarse paper, contain little news, seldom have pictures. The Optimist has always been a clean paper, cleanly printed and cleanly written. We cannot afford to jeopardize that high standard.

The Optimist this year will print more gossip columns.

Remembering that number one axiom of a journalist, "Names, make news", we shall try to fill our columns with news of the eyes-front kind. The key hole peeping technique is not for us.

The Optimist Column,
Ann Arbor, Michigan.
Thursday, Dec. 16, 1937.

In Answer To a Boy's Request

Listen dear brothers, and you shall hear the girl's opinion—so lend me your ear! Just in case you may have forgotten, two weeks ago one of our dear brothers wrote an editorial on (shall I use the common term "gold digging"?). He had some very good ideas and also some that weren't so good. For some unknown reason you seem to think that when a girl suggests going to a show or getting a coca cola she is gold digging, but really boys, most of the feminine sex in Chelsea, at least, when they suggest going any place expect to pay their share. I'll admit there may be a few girls here that don't believe in doing their part, but they will grow up some day and see their mistake. You know, "share and share alike."

You also seemed to throw all the blame on the girls but did you ever stop to think that there are some boys just as bad? When you start talking about the girls, stop—and think it over.

We certainly hope that all of you boys haven't the same idea as our co-author seems to have, and if you have—please take it from me, some of us are different.

Senior Statistics

Name: Wilfred Lane; age, 17; height, 5 ft. 11 in.; weight, 180; favorite hobby, driving a car; favorite sport, baseball; favorite food, chile; favorite flower, bachelor button; favorite pet, dog; nickname, Will.
Name: Eugene Martin; age, 18; height, 5 ft. 11 in.; weight, 159; favorite hobby, going to the basketball games; favorite sport, baseball; favorite food, chicken; favorite flower, rose; favorite pet, dog; nickname, Gene.

Clubs

Journalism—This year our club has literally told tradition to "go hang".

We have dropped our annual Christmas Tea Dance and are instituting in its place a new party for the Journalism members. This will include dancing, table games, refreshments, and many other enjoyable features. Each member may invite a guest and club as a whole invites the entire teaching staff of Chelsea public school.

F. F. A.—The F. F. A. defeated the Saline basketball team; the scores were: 2nd team, Chelsea 8, Saline 7; 1st team, Chelsea 16, Saline 13. The F. F. A. boys heard Dr. Kellham of Michigan State College talk on parasites of horses, and have begun a project to encourage the farmers in the vicinity of Chelsea to free their horses of parasites. They are earning money from this project by collecting a commission on each horse so treated by Dr. Lane.

Band and Orchestra—The band attended the clinic in Ann Arbor last Saturday and went over the pieces for their Spring Festival. Some of the members are planning to hear the Michigan State Band in Ann Arbor.

Latin Club—Did the recent members of the club go through the initiation of the spine-quivering experience of doing nothing? After all, you can't depend upon your adviser for everything. Ahem!

If Only

Mr. Cameron wouldn't look so bored his classes might be more enlightening.

Jenny Dreyer didn't date the alumni all the time, Dave Strieter might be a lot happier than he is right now.

Ruth Luick didn't live out in the country, and Willie Lane's car ran that far, we might have another happy couple around here.

Betty Fletcher cut down on her numerous dates with other boys, Charlie B. would get over the idea that she doesn't like him.

Larry Tisch didn't work on Saturday night. He says he worries an awful lot when Mary Jane is out with other "men".

Elementary News

First Grade

Helen Jarvia's reading group are reading from "Peter's Family". We enjoy this book very much.

We are learning to spell words and write them. Nine of our people made perfect scores in spelling last week. We also are learning to add to the sum of ten and to count to one hundred.

We are very glad that Bobby Barton has returned to school after a long absence.

Second Grade

Mary Paul brought us a nice big calendar. We are glad to have the big figures.

Every one is back in school now. We like it this way.

We are learning about the Eskimos—How and where they live, what they use for clothes, how they get about, what they eat, etc. They are very interesting.

Those who have been neither absent or tardy these last six weeks are: Richard Carlson, Lyle Christwell, Allen Krantz, Ralph Guenther, Clare Knickerbocker, Jimmie Miller, Junior Niehaus, David Slane, Douglas Vogel.

Junior Niehaus brought us a splendid bird's nest. Thanks, Junior.

Fourth Grade

Some of us are now working on a radio play called "Tom to the Rescue". The part of Tom is taken by John Wellnitz; Eleanor Lambertson is Cynthia; Barbara Eaton is Martha; Thora Hill is Gretchen, and Marion Dietle is Dr. Stevens.

Last week we chose Barbara E. as our new judge. Laverne H. was chosen for secretary.

Our Junior Red Cross poster came last week, also our buttons. We like the stories in the magazine which comes each month.

In spelling last Friday we had our sectional review oral and then written. Audrey White was the last one standing the first time, and Thora Hill the second time.

Sixth Grade

Virginia Spaulding gave a report on tea. She showed us some pictures of the tea while being fixed. They were all very interesting.

Bob Eaton gave a very good report on rubber. He told how rubber was grown, collected, and manufactured. Bob made a ball of rubber for us out of rubber latex and vinegar.

Eugene Townsend gave a good report on astronomy.

In geography we are going to have a test in British Lands in Asia. In geography we are going to hand in a notebook for "The British Lands in Asia."

Thursday afternoon Miss Canfield took us to the post office. Mr. Withersell told us about canceling and sorting mail, dead letter office, money order, savings bonds, stamp collection.

While we were there Clare Rowe cancelled some letters. We thank Mr. Withersell for his time in showing us around the post office.

In reading we have started a new unit. The name of it is: Airways and Roadways. We read the first story.

The name of it was: "From Indian Trail to Air Mail." It was very interesting. We were surprised when Miss Canfield told us we were going to the post office after having discussed this story.

People are prone to blame accidents on weather conditions. The human being never wants to blame himself for failing to do something that might have prevented an accident.

A study of highway conditions made recently indicated that 75 per cent of the accidents occurred on dry roads. 85 per cent of the accidents happened in clear weather.

Here is an amazing fact—95 per cent of the vehicles involved in all automobile accidents in 1935 were apparently in good condition. We have repeatedly warned that brakes should not be overlooked. Braking power is needed; good lights are needed. These are mechanical contrivances that must be checked regularly to keep the automobile in perfect condition.

But the driver must be in perfect condition also.

SEA SCOUTS TO HOLD BRIDGE OF HONOR ON FEBRUARY 22

The Sea Scout Ships—groups made up of Scouts 15 years of age and over who work on a special program geared up to their interests and abilities—will hold a joint meeting and Bridge of Honor on Tuesday evening, February 22, at the Tappan school, Ann Arbor, with Sea Scouts present from Chelsea, Ypsilanti, and Ann Arbor.

The Skippers of the three Sea Scout groups are Kenneth Marantette, of Ann Arbor; Dr. A. L. Brock, of Chelsea; and Donald Stadler, of Ypsilanti.

A Bridge of Honor has as its function the presenting of awards to Sea Scouts who have advanced in rank. It also serves as an official gathering at which Sea Scouts may bring their friends and through which the public can learn more about the Sea Scout program.

Jade Symbol of Long Life
Jade has been regarded as a symbol of long life among the Chinese for thousands of years. The gift of a piece of jade was equivalent to wishing the receiver happiness and long life.

Panama Rocks, Panama, N. Y.
Panama rocks are a succession of rich strata curiously and beautifully formed, at Panama, N. Y., about six or eight miles west of Chautauqua lake. The rocks afford a wealth of material for the geologist.

Gas Gas All Time

Mr. J. A. Miller says: "Gas on my stomach was so bad I couldn't eat or sleep. Gas even pressed on my heart. Adlerika helped me—quick relief. Now I sleep and eat and never feel better."

ADLERIKA

BILLY GRIMES, THE DROVER

Tomorrow morn I'm sweet sixteen,
And Billy Grimes the drover
Has popped the question to me ma,
He wants to be my lover;
He says tomorrow morn mama,
He's coming here quite early
To take a pleasant walk with me,
Across the fields of barley.

My daughter dear, you shall not go,
So there's no use in talking,
You shall not go with Billy Grimes
Across the fields a walking;
To think of his presumption too,
The dirty, ugly drover,
I wonder where your pride has gone,
To think of such a lover.

Old Grimes is dead you know mama,
An' Billy is so lonely, beside, they say
Of Grimes' estate, that Billy is the Only surviving heir to all that's left,
And that you know is nearly
A good ten thousand dollars ma,
About six hundred yearly.

My daughter dear, I did not hear
Your last remark quite clearly,
But Billy is a clever lad,
And no doubt loves you dearly;
Remember then tomorrow morn,
Be up bright and early,
To take a pleasant walk with him
Across the fields of barley.

—Arthur Carlton.

Town Creek Used as Laundry
Elmhurst, Austria, uses a mountain stream which runs through the main street of the town as its laundry.

NOTICE—LIMA TAXPAYERS

I will be at Chelsea State Bank every Saturday afternoon until further notice for the purpose of collecting Lima township taxes.

MARY TONEY,
Treasurer.

NOTICE—LYNDON TAXPAYERS

I will be at Chelsea State Bank on Saturday afternoon, January 8, and every Saturday afternoon thereafter until further notice, for the purpose of collecting Lyndon township taxes.

ROSE MCINTEE,
Treasurer.

Many Deaths Preventable
About 1,300,000 die in the United States each year, and of these deaths it is said that almost 600,000 may be prevented by proper medical treatment.

HOW TO GO TO SLEEP EASILY

Hold your eyes open and see how quickly you go to sleep. If bladder irregularity wakes you up use kidney evacuant. Help drive out excess acids and waste which may cause the irritation. Get 25c worth of green tablets made from juniper oil, buchu leaves, etc. Just say Bukets, the kidney evacuant, to any druggist. Locally at J. V. Burg, Druggist. Adv.

Why the Housewife Wants to Cook With Electricity!

It is CLEAN. No smoke, no soot, no blackened pots and pans, no soiled walls and curtains.

It is COOL. The heat is used to cook the food, not to cook the cook.

It is HEALTHFUL. No fumes, no products of combustion in the kitchen atmosphere. Tastier, better cooked meats and vegetables.

It is ECONOMICAL. Not only is the cost of operation reasonable in comparison to other methods, but there are many other savings such as less shrinkage of roasts.

It is MODERN. Nearly every housewife would like to have an All-Electric Kitchen.

It is SAFE. No matches, no flame, no chance for tragic burns or asphyxiation.

It is FAST. Modern electric ranges will cook as quickly as any other type of range—for some operations they are faster.

It is TIME SAVING. Less bother, less watching and with the timer control meals can be cooked while the housewife is away from home.

It is ACCURATE. The electric range accurate temperature control makes possible absolutely uniform results.

It is SIMPLE. Electric Cooking is now the easiest and simplest way to cook.

Chelsea Electric
& Water Dept.CHECK CHEVROLET'S
LOW DELIVERED PRICES...

and learn what the words
"LOW PRICES"
really mean!

CHEVROLET

THE CAR THAT IS COMPLETE

the only low-priced car

with all these modern features:

General Motors Equipment Plan—Convenient, Economical Monthly Payments, A General Motors Value.

CHEVROLET MOTOR DIVISION, General Motors Sales Corporation, DETROIT, MICHIGAN

*On Motor Dr. Lane models only.

55-H.P. VALVE-IN-HEAD ENGINE

PERFECTED HYDRAULIC BRAKES

GENUINE KNEE-ACTION*

ALL-SILENT, ALL-STEEL BODIES

FISHER NO DRAFT VENTILATION

TIPTOE-MATIC CLUTCH

"You'll be AHEAD with a CHEVROLET!"

SPAULDING CHEVROLET SALES

CHELSEA, MICHIGAN

PERSONALS

R. C. Collins of Stockbridge is a patient at South Side hospital.

Mrs. Maria Eppler and Mrs. Carl Mayer motored to Concord on Monday to visit friends.

George W. Beckwith has been confined to his home on Washington St. by illness for several days.

Mrs. Albert Forner was in Ann Arbor on Monday to attend the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. David Kay.

Miss Amalia Huss, who has been the guest of Mrs. D. E. Beach, has returned to her home in Seio township.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Schmidt and children spent Sunday as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Earl, Ypsilanti.

Mrs. Horace Phipps and family of Grass Lake visited Monday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Schmidt.

Dr. and Mrs. L. J. Paul and daughters motored to Forest Hill on Sunday, visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thiel Post.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schneider spent Wednesday in Coldwater with their sisters, Mrs. Samuel Schultz and Mrs. N. E. Phelps.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bolts and children of Monroe were Sunday guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Staphis.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Love of Jackson spent Sunday in Chelsea as guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Atkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Merle McVay spent Sunday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Heselshwerdt of Sylvan township.

Edward Chandler and Mr. and Mrs. John Haselwerdt spent Sunday in Detroit as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Haselwerdt.

Mrs. E. W. Crafts and Mrs. Winifred Lake of Grass Lake were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Wurster on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Freeman and son of Ann Arbor were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. T. Freeman on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Snyder left Saturday morning on a motor trip to Bradenton, Florida, where they will spend several weeks at the home of his sisters, Mrs. F. E. Taylor and Mrs. William Kettle.

Mrs. Leo Poulette of Sudbury, Ont., is a guest at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Luick and children of Lima were dinner guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Wenk.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Spaulding and son of Ann Arbor were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Spaulding on Sunday.

Mrs. Howard Everett of Grass Lake and Harmon Everett of Mason were dinner guests at the home of Miss Jessie Everett on Sunday.

Miss Helen Louise Burg, Tom Guirey, Miss Helen Guirey and friend of Pontiac were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Burg on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Irwin and Miss Maxine Irwin of Sharon were Sunday visitors at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Lawrence.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cook and sons of Milan and Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Vickers and daughter Doris were entertained Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Knickerbocker.

A burning chimney at the home of Mrs. Susie Hulce on W. Summit St. called out the local fire department at 9 o'clock Monday afternoon. No damage was done.

Mrs. Fred Gentner spent several days of the past week in Jackson at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Klingler.

Mrs. Ellsworth Fletcher, Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Everett and family of Mason, Mrs. Howard Everett of Grass Lake, Mrs. W. S. Davidson and E. S. Spaulding were guests of Miss Bertha and Warren Spaulding on Sunday.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Schiller the past week were Mrs. Floyd Spencer and daughter of Pontiac, Mrs. Kenneth Royal, Mrs. Albert Eisele, Mrs. Leo Eisele of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wacker of Chelsea, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lumby and son Junior of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. Emanuel Eiselein and son Harold, Mrs. Michael Schiller and family, and Rev. Brueckner of Rogers Corners.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Faber and son of Saginaw, Mrs. John Faber and daughter Thelma of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wolfe and family of Grass Lake, Mrs. Ethel Foster and daughter Luettele of Clarks Fork, Idaho, Lewis Kilmer and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Kilmer of Sylvan were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kilmer on Sunday.

ENTERTAINS TACHEZ

The members of the Tachez club were entertained at the home of Mrs. Norbert Merkel on Monday evening. 500 furnished the diversion of the evening, with three tables in play, and honors were awarded to Miss Bertha Merkel and Mrs. Henry Werner. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

INJURES WRIST IN FALL

Mrs. E. E. Smith had the misfortune to fall, Tuesday evening of last week, while standing on a chair fixing a stove pipe, and sprained and dislocated her right wrist. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were brought to the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. J. Munro, where they are being cared for. Mr. Smith has been ill for some time.

SUNSHINE CHAPTER MEETING

Sunshine chapter held their January meeting on Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Jane Walker. Thirty-one members and guests were present. A short program was given and the devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Clara M. Hutzler. Refreshments were served. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Harry Knickerbocker and Miss Josephine Walker.

ENTERTAINS FOR DAUGHTER

Mrs. L. J. Paul entertained 26 little boys and girls Saturday afternoon at her home on South St. for the pleasure of her daughter, Mary Margaret, on her seventh birthday. Games were arranged for the entertainment and prizes were awarded. Delores Eiselein, David Longworth, Phyllis and Patricia Hopper—A pink and white birthday cake featured the lunch which was served at the close of the party. Many pretty gifts were presented the honor guest.

SCOUTS TO ATTEND CHURCH

Every Scout is expected to be in his own church or Sunday school on Sunday, February 6, the beginning of Scout Week, a nation-wide celebration on the part of all Scout Troops.

In addition to observance of Scout Sunday, practically every Troop is planning some form of Parents' Night or other public observance as their part of Anniversary Week. A large number of live demonstrations and store window displays are being planned for Saturday afternoon, February 12. Such displays are being arranged by individual Patrols and Troops.

FARMERS' CLUB MEETS

The Western Washtenaw Farmers' club met Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Broesamle, and opened with a pot luck supper. The group singing was in charge of T. G. Riemenschneider. After the opening song, New Year's resolutions were given in response to roll call.

Musical selections, "Andante," by Gluck, and "Melody in F," by Rubenstein were rendered by Mrs. Broesamle and Mrs. B. I. Plankell.

Readings—"No Use Complaining," and "Family Signals" were given by Mrs. F. D. Mumby.

A club "Sing" closed the program.

SHAWER-MITCHELL WEDDING

On January 22, 1938, Miss Zilpha Shaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. LaRue Shaver of Detroit, and Mr. Edward J. Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoagland of Lincoln Park were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony at "The Little Church Around the Corner" on 9th St., New York City, with Rev. Randolph Ray officiating. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Scofield, aunt and uncle of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Chelsea high school, class of '35, and also a recent graduate of The Felt and Tarrant Comptometer School. Mr. Mitchell is a graduate of Lincoln Park high school, class of '35, and a graduate of the Business Institute of Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell will reside in New York City, where Mr. Mitchell has a position at R. H. Macy & Co.

Question And Answer Dept.

Ques.—Is the widow of William E. Gladstone still living?

Ans.—No. The widow of that distinguished statesman of England died on Friday, June 14, 1900—very nearly two years following the death of her husband.

Ques.—Can you answer if the Jewish, Mohammedan and Chinese calendars are the same as our Gregorian calendar?

Ans.—No.—The Gregorian (Christian) calendar dates from the time of Christ; the Jewish calendar from the time of Adam; the Chinese calendar from the time of Confucius.

Ques.—Where and how high is the highest smokestack in the world?

Ans.—We have no late and definite data on smokestacks, but it is believed that the smokestack of the Oxford-Copper Company at Bayonne, N. J. is the highest in the world. It is 355 feet high.

Ques.—What is the official nickname and flowers of Pennsylvania and Michigan respectively? I am told both have the same official flower.

Ans.—The official nickname for Pennsylvania is the Keystone State, but Pennsylvania has no official flower. Michigan's nickname is the Wolverine State, and the official State flower is the Apple Blossom.

Ques.—How many men were in the service of the United States armed forces in the American Civil War?

Ans.—In the American Civil War the soldiers that were enlisted or were drafted were 2,212,363.

Ques.—Will you please tell me in your good paper what is the seventh wedding anniversary?

Ans.—The seventh wedding anniversary is "Woolen".

Ques.—When it is 12 o'clock noon here what time is it in China?

Ans.—When it is 12 o'clock noon here, it is twelve hours and forty-five minutes later on the following day. For example: If it is 12 o'clock noon on Monday here, it is 12:45 a. m. Tuesday in China.

Ques.—What is the meaning of a white flag flown over a weather bureau station?

Ans.—A white flag means "clear and fair weather"; a blue flag is "rain or snow", and a half-blue and half-white means "local rain or snow".

Ques.—Is there any State or Territory in the United States where no license is required to get married?

Ans.—Every State and Territory in the United States has a marriage license law except Alaska, where no license is required.

Ques.—Who was Ellen Terry?

Ans.—Ellen Terry was a world-famous actress whose home was in Small Hythe, England. She was born on Feb. 28, 1848, and died July 21, 1928, aged 80 years.

SOUTH WATERLOO

Mr. and Mrs. Duane Wildt and family spent Sunday with her father, Guy Baldwin and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Selvig and son spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Raymond.

Miss Clara Baldwin and Mrs. Joseph Baldwin spent Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. W. E. Reynolds of Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Katz and Mrs. J. Baldwin visited Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Wolff and family, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Rothman spent Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Parks and family of Jackson.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lee and family of Vandercook Lake spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Rothman and family.

Dr. and Mrs. D. L. Katz and son of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Katz and son of Munith spent Sunday evening with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Rothman.

Mr. and Mrs. Dillman Wahl and daughter of Chelsea spent Sunday evening with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Wahl.

Ernest Riemenschneider and Miss A. O'Connor of Cleveland visited Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Moeckel, Saturday afternoon.

The Cross on the Land

Had young Prince Henry the Navigator not crossed over from Spain to northern Africa in 1418 he would never have learned from the Moors there of the vast riches along the unexplored western coast. He would never have issued his royal edict to Diogo Cam to "Plant the Cross on some new headland." Because of this command there was carved in 1488 upon solid rock a cross, the sacred symbol of the Rock of Ages upon enduring stone.

Porcupines Kill in Self-Defense

Though it's unusual for a porcupine to kill larger animals, it's by no means rare. Bears have been laid low by the needle-like spines. defense. When in danger, it erects its quills which are sometimes 10 inches long. The quills are not shot, but are so loosely attached they come free at the slightest touch, are barbed so that once imbedded in an enemy's flesh they can hardly be removed.

American Cabinetmaking

Began in Massachusetts

American cabinetmaking, like many of the other crafts, had its beginning in Massachusetts, writes Paul H. Burroughs in the American Collector. Nor is this hard to understand when one realizes that the Massachusetts Bay colony was from the start more than a mere settlement or trading post and was peopled primarily by men of substance, rather than penniless adventurers. Granted a charter in 1629, there were by the next year eight plantations besides the old one at Plymouth. These were Salem, Charlestown, Dorchester, Boston, Watertown, Roxbury, Mystic and Lynn.

Some 15 years before Capt. John Smith had explored the coast of what was then known as North Virginia from the Penobscot river to Cape Cod and renamed it New England. Further, on his return to England he made a map of the coast and dotted it with English names, some of which, Plymouth, Cape Ann, Cape Elizabeth and Charles river, stand as he placed them.

By 1640, when the Puritan exodus from England came to an end, exports of salted fish, lumber and furs were bringing such marked prosperity to the colonists of the Massachusetts Bay colony that their early log cabins had given way to well-built houses. For both these simple homes and the more pretentious ones of the wealthier settlers, furniture was needed, and craftsmen were found working early in the history of the colony. Even the Mayflower carried John Alden, cooper, and Francis Eaton, carpenter. Also working as a joiner for a time was Governor Winslow's brother, Kenelm, who came to Plymouth nine years afterward. To him was apprenticed Samuel Jenney in 1633. About 40 years later the records show that one John Jenney was working there as a cabinetmaker.

Dog Selects His Friends;

Can Detect Undesirables

A dog's memory is perhaps greater than that of any other animal, despite the age-worn expression, "an elephant never forgets." The behemoth of the jungle only remembers the person who has played it a mean trick or harmed it in some manner, whereas, the dog remembers both friend and foe alike, asserts an authority in the Philadelphia Inquirer.

The dog appears to have the uncanny ability of picking his friends and only those that are desired by his master. This faculty of sorting out various characters makes the dog an able guardian of the home. He appears to detect the undesirable stranger in the home from the guest he has never seen before. In the majority of cases the dog will investigate thoroughly before he grows suspicious.

It has been discovered by intimate study, a dog can detect a person "putting on a front" better than his own master. This holds true in a situation where a crime is planned, whether it be a confidence man, a fake salesman or a well-dressed hold-up man. The growls of a dog at such strangers have often warned the intended victim.

Romans in China

Blakeslee's "China and the Far East" mentions that from some cause which may be neither understood nor explained, commercial and friendly missions between the Emperor of China and the heads of various Asiatic and European states first were dispatched at about the beginning of the Christian era. In the year 61 A. D., the Chinese emperor sent an envoy to the west for teachers and books of the true religion, but this envoy, dreading the hardships and perils of the deserts, deflected his course to the south, to India, and returned with Buddhist writings and priests. In 128 A. D., a Chinese general reached the valley of the Caspian sea and carried the grapevine back to China. In 163 A. D., the Roman Emperor Marcus Aurelius Antoninus (An-Tun in Chinese annals) sent an embassy by sea to Kattigora in Cochin-China to procure the rich silks made by the people of the empire. The Roman merchants traveled inland to Lo Yang. A later Roman expedition to China in the reign of Theodosius, in the Eighth century, led to the culture of the silkworm in Europe.

Chinese Burial Custom

Since the dawn of paper making, according to "Natural History," Chinese and Japanese have burned paper-images of many objects at funerals. Life-sized paper horses and carriages are cremated so the departed spirit will be able to ride. Paper money also is burned. In China and Tibet, prayers are written on sacred paper, put on prayer wheels. And in Japan, even blank pieces of paper may be offered as prayers because the Japanese word for paper, "kami," also means "God."

Finger Nail Fashions

Finger nails have long been linked with social standing. In China, long pointed shapes at one time signified high rank or birth while in ancient Egypt and other Oriental countries dyed finger nails set royalty apart from the commoners. Among Americans of refinement, contour, length, and coloring are largely matters of taste.

He's Looking for a Shadow!

In South Africa he's called the "aardvark," to scholars he's the "marmot" or "woodchuck," but to millions of Americans he's just a plain groundhog, emerging from his hole on February 2 in search of a shadow. For years popular tradition has held that the groundhog, upon seeing his shadow, will scurry back to cover for another six weeks, during which the weather will turn cold and gloomy again. But if February 2 is a cloudy day, there'll be an early spring.

Meadows Combination Washer and Ironer

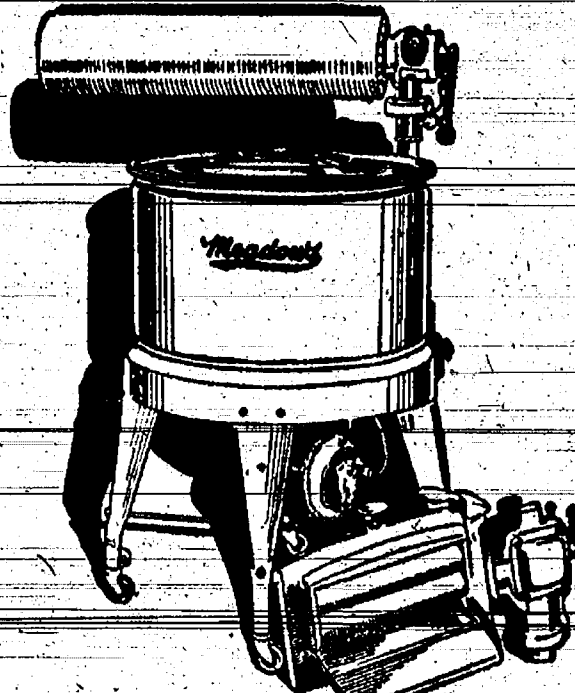

All one convenient unit—A Washer with an efficient 3 Vane Agitator and an Open End Iron—

$59.95

Porcelain Enamel Tub

Lovell Safety Wringer

Ironer With Open End

E. J. CLAIRE & SON, Inc.

CHELSEA, MICH.

Telephone 128-W

Acme Quality Paints and Wall Paper
Electrical Appliances. Sewing Machines Serviced.
Electric Lights for any Sewing Machine.
We sell Pennvernion Window Glass.
Cold Solder - Plaster Paris - LePage's Glue.
Sewing Machine Oil that will not gum.
SKATES SHARPENED—25c per pair

J. F. HIEBER & SON

106 E. MIDDLE ST.

PHONE 136

HARNESSES

BREECHING and SADDLE STYLES

Complete Line Repairs and Accessories

John Deere SPREADERS

The Low Down, Beater on the Axle Spreader

Easier to Load - Easier to Pull
Does Better Work - Lasts Longer

AGENCY MAYTAG WASHER
BOYDELL PAINTS

Chelsea Hardware Co.

Phone 32

Semi-Annual CLEARANCE of MEN'S SUITS

Save by buying your New Suit now - -

$20.00 Suits $16.00 $25.00 Suits $20.00

Annual Clearance of Men's Overcoats

Either heavy or year 'round weights. Correct models, made by best makers - -

$18.50 Overcoats $13.88 $25.00 Overcoats $18.75

Men's Wool Jackets 1/4 Less Men's Hats 1/4 Less
Men's Dress Trousers (alterations extra) 1/4 Less

VOGEL & WURSTER

KROGER'S BIG VALUES ON

FLOUR
GOLD MEDAL PILLSBURY'S
COUNTRY CLUB FLOUR
COUNTRY CLUB Cake & Pastry Flour

24 1/2 lb. sack 85c
24 1/2 lb. sack 85c
24 1/2 lb. sack 85c
24 1/2 lb. sack 85c

Spotlight, Hot-Dated COFFEE 1b. 17c 3 lb. bag 49c
Country Club COFFEE lb. can 25c
Creamer Shortening CRISCO lb. can 19c
CRISCO 3 lb. can 49c

EATMORE OLEO
SLICED PEACHES
SANDWICH BREAD
CAMPBELL'S TOMATO SOUP
PLAIN FRIED CAKES

2 lb. 25c
2 No. 2 cans 25c
2 20-oz. loaves 17c
4 cans 25c
doz. 10c

COUNTRY CLUB, VACUUM-SEALED GRAPEFRUIT JUICE No. 2 can (20-oz.) 10c

NAVY BEANS Michigan Hand Picked 4 lb. 19c
LIBBY'S OLIVES Olives Variety 16-oz. jar 29c
CIGARETTES All Popular Brands carton 1.15

Strong, Durable CANVAS GLOVES, pair 10c P&G SOAP 7 giant bars 25c
Weeco, Scratch FEED 100 lb. bag 1.89 BLUING 10-oz. box 10c
Weeco Tested EGG WASH 100 lb. bag 1.99 AMMONIA qt. bot. 15c

APPLES--McIntosh 3 lbs. 10c
HEAD LETTUCE--large heads each 5c
RADISHES--Texas 2 bunches 5c

PORK ROAST--picnic style lb. 15c
BEEF POT ROAST lb. 21c
LARD 2 lbs. 25c

KROGER GUARANTEED BRANDS

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. Louis Helm of Sylvan township entertained at a party Sunday afternoon, celebrating the 14th birthday of her son Roland. Games were enjoyed and lunch was served.

Princess Theatre

First Show 7:15 - Second 9:15

FRIDAY and SATURDAY
JANUARY 28 and 29"Knight Without Armor"SUNDAY and MONDAY
JANUARY 30 and 31"Manhattan
Merry Go Round"Starring Phil Regan, Leo Carsillo, Ann Dvorak, James Gleason,
Ted Lewis, Oba Calloway,
Joe DiMaggio, Henry Armetta and Gene Autry.

Matinee Sunday

WEDNESDAY and THURS-DAY
FEBRUARY 2 and 3

"Hideaway"

Starring Fred Stone.

—ALSO—

"40 Naughty Girls"

Starring James Gleason and Zasu Pitts.

PERSONALS

Mrs. P. R. Palmer of Clear Lake is a patient at South Side hospital.

Fred Osterle of Royal Oak spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Baldwin.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wheelock and family of Ypsilanti visited Chelsea relatives on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Osterle spent Sunday in Milford as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Park.

Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Kern of Detroit spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bagge.

Miss Florence Laird was home from Lansing for a Sunday visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. W. Laird.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Eisele of Ann Arbor were callers on Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Eisele.

Mrs. Frank Steckmayer of Monroe was a guest at the home of Mrs. Fannie Naekel from Thursday to Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winans were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Park of Milford from Thursday to Sunday.

Miss Imogene Schulze of Oakton, Ind. has been the guest of her brother, Lester Schulze and family for several days.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Peabody and son Bruce Earl of Plymouth spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Martha Weinmann.

Mr. and Mrs. Harley Hatt of Sylvan township are the parents of a son, Lewis Harley, born Thursday, January 20, 1938.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Niehaus and son of Ann Arbor and Mr. and Mrs. William Kuebler and daughters of Manchester spent Sunday afternoon and evening with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Koch.

BEEMAN-CARTY WEDDING

A wedding of simple, but beautiful appointments, was solemnized Sunday afternoon, January 23, at 2 o'clock at the United Brethren church in Waterloo, when Mildred Virginia Beeman, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alva Beeman, and Kenneth Glenn Carty of Jackson, formerly of Coleman, were united in marriage. Rev. Robert Uhrig officiated, using the double ring service.

Preceding the ceremony Miss Leona Moeckel, accompanist, rendered a piano selection, followed by a violin solo, "I Love You Truly," by Miss Daisy Beeman. To the strains of the "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin, the wedding party took their places before the altar. The couple were attended by Annabelle Vicary of Waterloo and Norman Beeman of Detroit, brother of the bride. The ushers were Orson Beeman, Jr. and Richard Vicary.

Miss Beeman, who was given in marriage by her father, made a beautiful bride, in her mother's wedding dress of soft white lace and veil, over white satin, and carried a long, long handkerchief given her by her cousin, little Peggy Ramsayer, for the occasion, and her corsage was white gardenias.

Miss Vicary was lovely in a canary yellow gown of rayon embroidery and her corsage was yellow rose buds and narcissus.

Following the ceremony a luncheon was served at the Beeman farm home under the direction of Mary Boyce, the bride's table being centered with a lovely bouquet of spring flowers and a cake. The high bride's cake, made by Mrs. Olive Beeman, with its miniature bride and groom on top, was cut by the happy couple. Odessa Moeckel, Gladys and Wilma Runciman, Lila Mae Uhrig and Doris Stunfield served, and also decorated the church with potted plants for the occasion.

The bride is a graduate of Chelsea high school, and the groom of Coleman high school.

Late in the afternoon the couple left for Tawas, Michigan, the bride wearing a frock of pale pink silk crepe with accessories to match. Mr. and Mrs. Carty will reside in Jackson.

For the pleasure of her niece, Mildred Beeman, Mrs. Olive Beeman entertained thirty ladies at a miscellaneous shower last week Wednesday afternoon. Much merriment was created by the group, giving the bride a box of slips entitled "Do's and Don'ts for the Bride" and each one writing her favorite recipe in a book. Miss Beeman received many beautiful gifts. A buffet luncheon was served, the dining table being centered with a bouquet of yellow and pink spring flowers. Mrs. Walter Hatt presiding over coffee.

LIMA CENTER

Mrs. John Steinbach is on the sick list.

Andrew Bartok of Detroit spent the week-end here with his family.

Mrs. Milford Smith and Mrs. Azdell Rogevore of Detroit called on Mrs. John Steinbach on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Burkhardt and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wiseman spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Boettner of Bridgewater.

Sunday callers at the John Steinbach home were Mr. and Mrs. Harold Chalmers and Mr. and Mrs. O'Brien and son of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Storms and Mr. and Mrs. Martin Steinbach of Chelsea.

Herman Stierle of Ann Arbor called on his aunt, Mrs. Rosina Seitz, Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Theo. Wolff and Mrs. Harold Chalmers of Ann Arbor called on Mrs. John Steinbach, Wednesday.

NOTTEN ROAD

Mrs. Kenneth Rowe and children of Wayne visited her mother, Mrs. B. G. Whitaker, Saturday.

Dr. Lavern Riemenschneider of Detroit visited Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Riemenschneider, Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Ballard, who has been spending some time with her mother in Detroit, returned to the home of Mrs. Chas. Riemenschneider recently.

Albert Schweinfurth and family and Rev. Lenz visited your correspondent Thursday evening.

Oscar Kalmbach and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Heydlauff of Lima.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Notten were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Heydlauff on Sunday.

Glenn Allen is spending the rest of the winter in Florida.

The Ladies' Aid and Grange will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller on February 2.

Animals Suffer From Seasickness

Animals, as a rule, suffer very much from seasickness, the polar bear being one of the exceptions. The tiger is said to be one of the worst sea travelers. Elephants have to be treated with whiskey and quinine as a medicine. Horses and cattle suffer greatly, yet there are plenty of domestic pets that travel regularly. They seem to be very much like human beings, for once having their sea legs the movement of the ship does not affect them.

U. S. Has Most Seals, Churches

The United States contains more seals and differing churches than any other country in the world.

Animals Have Third Eyelid

All animals, including the dog, are provided with a third, or inner, eyelid as extra protection.

METHODIST HOME

Last Sunday, James and Robert Daniels of Chelsea made an early morning call on Miss Leeman.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepherd from Ypsilanti called on Miss Switzer on Wednesday. On Monday, Miss Switzer, Mrs. Robtoy and Miss Fleming happily shared a visit from Mrs. Ida Penniman, Mrs. George Kenny and Mrs. Paul Hatch, all from Ypsilanti, and Miss Harriet Shanklin from Ann Arbor.

Miss Carterton's Sunday guests were her brother, Arthur Carterton, and four members of his family, from Detroit.

Sunday afternoon, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Burk of Detroit called on their aunt, Miss McCalla, and all had supper in Chelsea.

Rev. and Mrs. Butt from Fenton called on Mrs. Bullock on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Ostrander from Marshall called on their sister, Miss Ostrander, on Sunday afternoon.

On Sunday, Mrs. Russ enjoyed a call from Mrs. Clara Russ and her daughter, Miss Marjorie, of Highland Park, and Mrs. Charnley of Ann Arbor.

Dr. Brown spent Monday in Monroe.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy M. Carlton and Mrs. N. M. Trad, all from Highland Park, visited Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carlton on Sunday.

Mrs. F. J. Elliott and son George and Miss Donna Smith, all from Tecumseh, called on Miss McCowan on Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Welles and Mrs. Girardin were visited on Monday by Rev. and Mrs. North, and their two bright children, from Grass Lake. The children charmed the ladies by their sweet songs and delightful manners.

Fish Planting in Lakes

Increased Last Year

Lansing—Encouragement for the hope of all anglers for still better fishing in Michigan in 1938 and succeeding years lies in the fact that not only were more fish planted in 1937 than in 1936 but more of them were adult size.

The stocking of lakes and streams with yearlings and adults was increased last year by the fish division of the department of conservation in the belief that the percentage of survival from predators, environment deficiencies and other limiting factors will be much greater among the larger fish than among fry. As stated by Fred A. Westerman, chief of the fish division, the bigger the fish when planted, the more likelihood there is of it becoming the proud catch of some happy fisherman.

"It's not so much a question of how many fish are stocked as of how many reach 'keeper' size for the taking of fishermen. That is the question which determines how good fishing will be," Mr. Westerman says.

Fry are naturally easier prey for hungry predators and are more quickly affected by unfavorable conditions of environment, Mr. Westerman pointed out.

In the instance of brook trout, 28,985 adults and 41,800 yearlings were planted in 1937 compared to 23,695 yearlings and only 350 adults in 1936. Of other species, 20,468 adult brook trout were stocked last year compared to 8,777 of the same species and age in 1936. Rainbow trout plantings included 29,075 yearlings and 28,207 adults compared to 3,630 yearlings and only 745 adults in 1936. A total of 18,194 small mouth black bass of adult size were placed in various waters last year compared to 8,839 the year previous while the increase in bluegill plantings included 21,950 adults as contrasted to only 59 in 1936.

Total plantings of all fish from fry to adults, in both the Great Lakes and inland waters, numbered approximately 286,448,000 or about 89 million more than in 1936. Nine different species were planted.

The largest number of any one species stocked was 231,536,368 pike perch or wall-eyed pike of which 118,605,000 were fry which were placed in waters of the Great Lakes. The rest, including 10,778 adults, were planted in inland waters.

The second largest planting numbered 14,701,475 bluegills.

Counting all ages, a total of nearly 10 million brook, brown and rainbow trout were included in the year's stocking activities. Of this number, 4,050,250 were brook, 3,112,418 were brown and 1,788,192 were rainbow.

Yellow perch comprised another of the largest plantings, 4,080,506 of this species ranging from four months to adults being stocked.

Other species stocked included 4,467,000 lake trout of which 4,228,000 went into the Great Lakes and the other 239,000 into inland waters; and 447,686 large mouth black bass.

Hening's Statutes

Hening's statutes were the first complete collection of the laws of any American state, including those of its Colonial times, those repealed, and those dropped in revision.

These were the Statutes at Large of Virginia, 1619-1792, in 18 volumes, published at Richmond 1809-23 by William Waller Hening, clerk of the Court of Chancery. Jefferson is said to have suggested the publication, which is highly valued as an historical source.

Wear Old-Style Boots

Modern natives of Mesopotamia wear boots similar to those appearing in 4,000-year-old Hittite carvings.

WOMEN'S UNION MEETS

The Women's Union of St. Paul's church was entertained Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. John Metzger for their January meeting, which opened with devotionals by Rev. P. H. Grabowski and community singing, "The Church in the Wildwood." A reading, "Excuse from Giving Permission" was given by Mrs. W. J. Beutler. The topic for consideration was "My Church an Out-reaching Church," which was represented as follows:

Leader—Mrs. Beutler.

Songs—Mrs. O. Lindauer, Mrs. W. Breitenwischer.

Churches—Mrs. Otto Lucht, Mrs. Julius Eisele, Mrs. H. L. Paul, Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer, Mrs. Roland Wenk.

Missionary Fields—Miss Cora Feldkamp, Mrs. Dale Claire, Mrs. Oliver Walker, Mrs. Martha Weinmann, Mrs. Norman Schmidt.

The program closed with the song, "Scatter Sunshine."

Heads of the various departments of work were appointed by the president, as follows:

Missionary—Mrs. Oscar Stierle.

Flower Committee—Mrs. Dale J. Claire.

Sick Committee—Mrs. H. L. Paul, Mrs. C. F. Dietle, Mrs. E. E. Adam, Mrs. M. Weinmann.

Organist—Mrs. Oscar Lindauer.

General Education—Mrs. O. Lucht.

Devotional Life—Mrs. W. Hinderer.

Missionary Life—Mrs. O. Walker.

Christian Stewardship—Mrs. A. Schaefer.

Social Welfare—Mrs. N. Schmidt.

Christian Citizenship—Mrs. W. Beutler.

Church Decoration—Mrs. O. Lucht.

Plans were made for the Get-Together banquet to be held February 16. Officers of the Union will serve on the menu committee and the entertainment committee will consist of Mrs. O. Lucht and Mrs. W. Breitenwischer.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer, and lunch was served to 38 members and six guests, with Mrs. Charles Meserva as assisting hostess.

FRANCISCO

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Towner of Lansing brought their son, Richard, back Tuesday following a ten day illness.

Miss Nadine Lehmann was absent from her classes in Grass Lake high school one day last week on account of illness.

R. H. Bettiger, who spent a week with Raymond Ball, returned to his home in Lansing with Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Towner.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Walz announce the birth of a daughter, Sally Jean, on January 14.

Ben Ahling and family of Ann Arbor spent Sunday with Albert Walz and family.

Sheldon H. Frey and family of Detroit were Sunday guests at the Cadwell home.

Miss Winifred Rank is having her house east of town wired for electricity. Walter Gardner is helping in the installation.

Washington Explains Senate

Thomas Jefferson was in Europe in the interests of his country during the framing of the Constitution, and upon his return, called Washington to account for several things in that document, particularly, for having agreed to a second chamber or house for congress. "Why," asked Washington—they were dining together—"did you pour your coffee into your saucer?" "To cool it, of course," answered Jefferson. "Even so," said Washington, "we pour legislation into the senatorial chamber to cool it off."

NORTH LAKE

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Van Gammeron and daughter, formerly of Detroit, have moved onto the Harvey Pearce farm. Mr. Van Gammeron will work the farm.

Dr. and Mrs. Harvey G. Pearce have returned to their home here after spending two weeks in Detroit. Dr. Pearce conducted a two weeks' evangelistic campaign in Whitefield, Me. church.

Miss Irene Stoffer, Jackson, spent the week-end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Stoffer.

The North Lake Roadway Telephone Company held its annual meeting at the home of John Mester on Monday evening, January 17. Officers for the coming year are: President, John Sullivan; secretary, Mrs. E. W. McDaniels; treasurer, George W. Webb; manager, R. Vergin.

Mrs. Lynn Eisenbeiser is in Detroit assisting in the care of a friend.

The L. A. S. held a meeting at the home of the pastor, Rev. and Mrs. Herbert C. Brubaker, Dexter, on January 20. The following officers were elected for the next year: President, Mrs. Homer Stoffer; vice-president, Mrs. Lynn Eisenbeiser; secretary, Mrs. Henry Gilbert; treasurer, Mrs. E. W. McDaniels.

Mrs. John Mester, Mrs. William Fox and son Henry, Mrs. Herbert Hudson, and Miss Geraldine Carr spent Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Kinner, Plymouth.

The Young People's Sunday school class will sponsor Family Night at the church Friday evening, January 28. At 7 o'clock supper will be served. Rev. Frederick Mumby of Chelsea will show slides taken in England and France last summer and give an interesting presentation of his visit to these countries. Mrs. Stroop will play a violin solo; Mrs. Fred Glenn will accompany her. A free will offering for supper and program will be taken. Come and bring your family.

North Lake Church News

During the month of February the Sunday school will give the gospel of Matthew to all who have a perfect attendance record. During the month of January pupils with perfect attendance will be given the Book of Mark.

The women of the parish will give an International Tea on February 8 at the home of Mrs. Homer Stoffer.

Sunday, January 30—
11:30-1:00 o'clock—Unified service of worship and church school.
6:30—Epworth League.

WATERLOO

Mrs. Emanuel Walz of Williamston spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ezra J. Moeckel.

Mrs. Mary Barber is spending some time with Mrs. Emanuel Walz in Munith. She spent a few days of last week with relatives in Munith.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. W. Beeman are spending some time at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harvey, while they are on a trip to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Henry Lehmann of North Francisco spent Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Victor F. Moeckel.

The Gleaners will give a card party at their hall here Friday night. Everybody invited. Pot luck supper.

Mrs. Elmer Marsh and daughter Shirley spent a day last week with her sons, Mr. and Mrs. Francis Marsh and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Marsh in Jackson.

On Washington's birthday, Feb. 22 the Gleaners will have a chicken and noodle supper at their hall here.

Try Standard Liners—Only 25c

CENTRAL MARKET

VALUABLE AWARDS for TRADING STAMPS

Defiance Tomatoes No. 2 cans 2 for 19c

OLEO--- pound cartons 2 for 25c

Fels Naptha Soap 10 for 43c

Post Toasties---lge. box 10c

Butter Maid Crackers lb. box 17c

Chocolate Covered Cherries--- lb. 20c

PITTED DATES . . . 2 lbs. 19c

Butter--grade A lb. 35c

Serve Hot Toasted Nuts

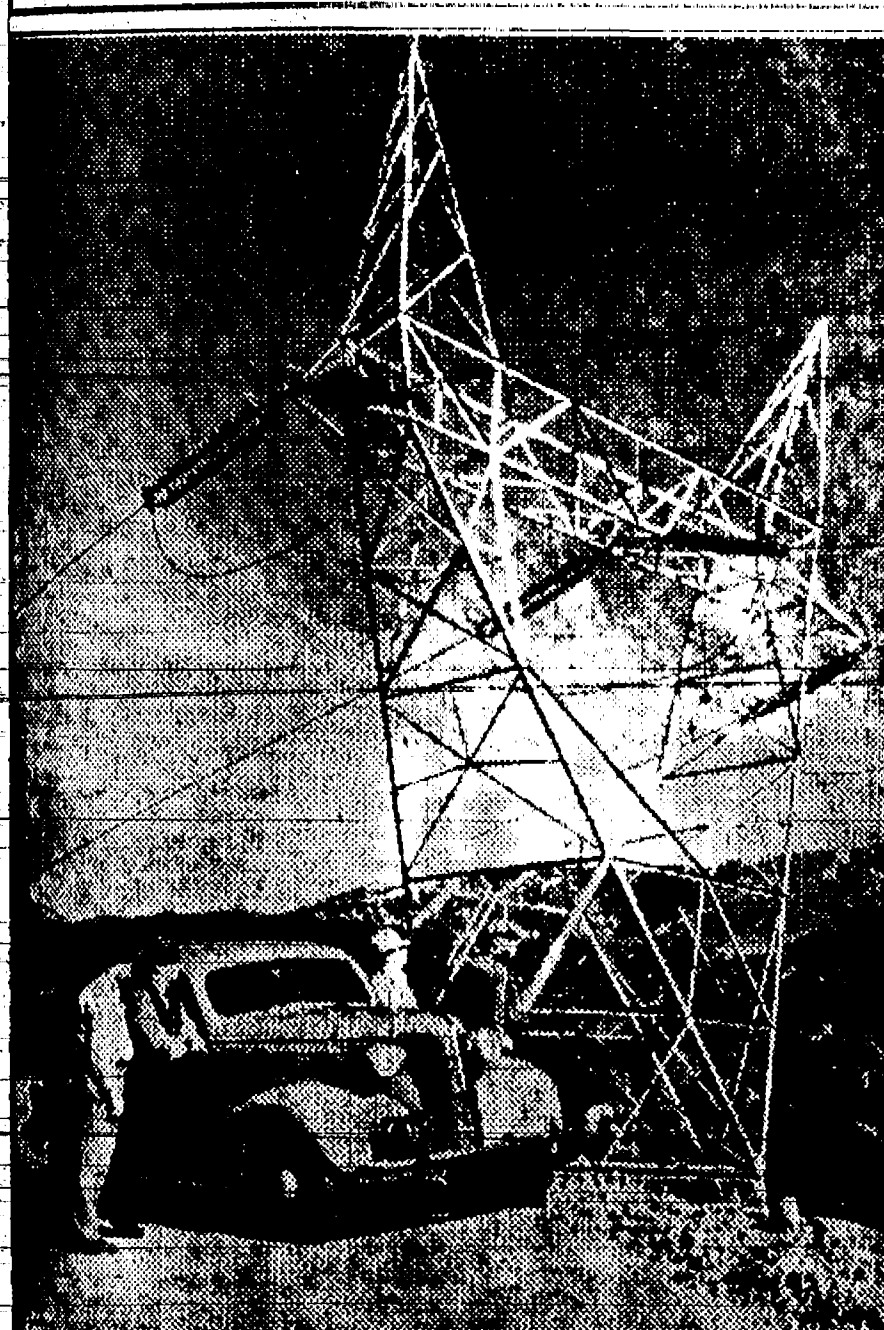

MEAT DEPARTMENT

Loeffler & Son

GROCERY DEPARTMENT

Rob Hall

Making Good on Tough Job

Rugged mountains and arid desert land stand in the way as sturdy steel towers carry the high transmission line in a steady march from Boulder Dam to Los Angeles to supply power for the industries, hospitals, homes, and offices of the nation's fifth city.

The Boulder High Line road, one of the most difficult and trying highways in the world, follows the transmission line through the tortuous 266 miles of its length, carrying a crew of trained patrolmen in a fleet of 14 Chevrolet on their continuous rounds of inspection.

The Chevrolet patrol cars were especially selected for their performance, their economy, and their ability to stand up under the grinding punishment of extreme road and weather conditions.

The photograph above shows a Chevrolet scout car halted on a summit, looking the Boulder Dam end of the road, beside one of the 2700 line towers.

Model 710-A

$66.50

PRIME

ELECTRIC FENCE CONTROLLER

Complete with Special Willard Battery and Ground Rod

The Most Practical, Efficient and Economical of All Electric Fence Controllers!

Charge Battery Each Fall—50c per Year Cost of Operation. Guaranteed by Willard for 10 Full Cycles.

Probable Life Period of This Battery 15 to 18 Years. This Same Battery Used by U. S. Government Light House Service.

Will Positively Fence SHEEP, Hogs—large and small, under ALL weather and soil conditions—including extreme drought, frozen ground, ice, sleet, rain, snow. Absolutely Fences All Animals!

Strictly Portable - - Weather Proof

Can be Locked and Chained to Corner Post or Tree. Does Not Require Lead-out Wire from Buildings. Connect Direct to Fence Line.

Ball Bearings and Trust Ball Bearings on Moving Parts are Permanently Packed in Oil, thus Assuring Many Years of Service Without Attention.

L. E. Riemenschneider, Inc.

Michigan-Ohio Distributor: Chelsea, Mich.

You are missing something if you don't treat yourself to a share of Michigan's invigorating winter fun! Few states offer such excellent facilities for skating . . . ice boating . . . skiing . . . hunting or fishing . . . tobogganing. There are winter carnivals in many sections. The trip is part of the pleasure—thanks to good rail way and air service and the efficient winter maintenance of our splendid motor roads.

Choose a date . . . and help yourself to fun and health in Michigan's great outdoors!

MICHIGAN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

SPORTS CALENDAR

WINTER CARNIVALS

Hennepin . . . Feb. 4 to 6

Potosky . . . Feb. 4 to 13

Sault Ste. Marie, Feb. 18-19

Calumet . . . Feb. 15 to 18

Iron Mountain, Feb. 19 to 20

Isipeming . . . Feb. 19 to 20

Winter Sports All Season at Brighton, Cadillac, Cassville, Charlevoix, Chubbuck, Detroit, Grayling, Harrison, Ludington, Mackinac, Marquette, Oriskany, Rosport, Traverse City.

SHINING PALACE

By CHRISTINE WHITING PARMENTER

COPYRIGHT BY CHRISTINE WHITING PARMENTER
WNY SERVICE

THE STORY

CHAPTER I—James Lambert tries to dissuade his beautiful foster-daughter, Leonora, from marrying Don Mason, a young rolling stone, whom he likes but whom he disapproves according to his conventional business-man standards. He tells her, "Unless a house is founded upon a rock, it will not survive." Leonora suspects the influence of her half-brother, Ned, always jealous of the girl since the day her father brought her home from the dead bed of her mother, abandoned by her Italian baritone-lover. Don arrives in the midst of the argument, and Lambert realizes the frank understanding between the two.

CHAPTER II—Sitting up late into the night, Lambert reviews the whole story of Nora as a child, at boarding school, studying music abroad, meeting Don on the return trip. In the morning he delivers his ultimatum, to give Don a job with Ned for a year's show-down. When Nora suggests the possibility of running away with Don, Lambert threatens disinheritance. Don agrees to the plan, but before a month is over, his nerves are jumping, he cannot sleep at night, he is too tired to go out much with Nora, and admits to her that he feels ill. Nora soothes him with her music. He falls asleep and his face is more peaceful than it has been in many weeks.

CHAPTER III—Nora grows quieter, and broods over Don, complains to her father of Ned's spying on him, and decides that rather than see Don's spirit broken, she will run away. She urges her father to put an end to the futile experiment. James Lambert is obstinate and angry. Lambert tells her that if Don quits she will put with him, and he will be through with her. He adds that if she tries of her bargain it will be useless to come to him for help. Later Don and Nora discuss the situation. Don promises to buck up and take life more calmly. "We'll stick it out," he says.

CHAPTER IV—With the coming of spring, Don is full of unrest and wanderlust, and takes long walks at night. One evening a poor girl speaks to him, and in his pity tells her that if Don quits she will put with him, and he will be through with her. He adds that if she tries of her bargain it will be useless to come to him for help. Later Don and Nora discuss the situation. Don promises to buck up and take life more calmly. "We'll stick it out," he says.

CHAPTER V—At the height of the heat wave, when Don is finding everything in his supportable, Ned speaks of having the goods on him, having seen him give a girl money. When Ned scots at the true story of the episode, Don tells her that he feels ill. Nora soothes him with her music. He falls asleep and his face is more peaceful than it has been in many weeks.

CHAPTER VI—Nora, she, hanging up the receiver and sat quite still for a time, thinking. It seemed incredible that after all Don's patience and forbearance, this was the end. Another tragedy for her father. (How could she bear it?) Happiness rained by regrets for herself and Don. Yet there was no other way—could be no other way for them now. James would believe Ned's version of the encounter. He would be angry past all forgiving. Nora knew. Anything she might say to him would be quite futile—useless. A scene would only hurt them both, but could she do the easy thing—leave him as her mother had done so many years ago with merely a letter of farewell? Being Nora, remembering the refuge his arms had been to a frightened child, who had watched with death, she could not. Her father deserved better than that, though he would be unyielding. Nora knew how unyielding he would be.

She arose at last, going up the wide staircase slowly, almost reluctantly. Somehow this home had never seemed so dear to her, nor so desirable. Passing her father's room she paused a moment, recalling the many times a little girl, waking to bad dreams, had scampered into his big bed for comfort. And now she must leave him—hurt him cruelly. Would he understand some day—forgive her?

Nora packed, slipped into the cool, dark dress that would be her wedding gown, forgot her father's picture (the one taken specially for her when she went to college), opened her suitcase and placed the photograph where it would not be broken. A queer, hard lump rose in her throat. It hurt her. She worked fast—fast, so that she would not weep; and when all was done, stood at the door a while, letting her eyes dwell lovingly on every detail of the room—her own first room.

Would her father leave it just as it was, she wondered—just as they'd furnished it together for her sixteenth birthday? James was fastidious about such things. It was the point on which they never clashed. What a time they had had over her rose-filled bathroom! Her father had fussed. Each fixture must be the finest—the most perfect. The antique bed they had picked up at an auction in the country. How he had glowed over the satin-smooth mahogany—dear Dad! As for the rug—they had hunted the city over for that rug. It must be Oriental, James insisted, yet it must blend with the soft rose hangings at the windows. They had found it at last—an exquisite Persian that might have been woven for a queen's boudoir. Even Nora, thoughtless about money, had blinked at the price; and her father had laughed at her.

Well, that was over! The girl took one long look and turned away. It was so dreary to go without her father. Even dear Martha Berry, James Lambert's housekeeper, who, steadiness: "I'm afraid so, I can't let you quarrel with your father for my sake, Nora."

"Doesn't it take two to make a quarrel, Don?"

"Not with a man like him. Besides, what, dear?"

"Only what I've said before. I guess he's right about me, Nora. He's shown me up in my true colors. I'll never be that important member of society—a good provider. I'm just a wash-out; and in the end you'll be better off if you let me go."

The girl said, after a moment in which something told her lover that she was fighting tears: "Is that what you want, Don? Are you so weary of everything that I seem a burden?"

This was too much. Don simply couldn't bear it.

"Oh, Nora!" he said gently. "Nora—my dear!"

It was the heartbreak in his voice that decided Leonora. She said, drawing a quick breath: "Listen, Don. (It's all right, Central. I know we're talking over time.) Listen, dear—Have you had lunch yet?"

This practical question brought him, a little smiler, as one smiles sometimes in the face of tragedy.

"Not yet. Forgive me completely. It's not every day I knock a fellow down, Nora! And it's so hot. My head—"

"Is it still bad?"

"It's fierce, Nora."

"Well, get some bread and milk. Don. You need it. (This call will set you back a whole week's pay, darling!) Then go to your room and pack. I'll be outside there in a taxi as soon as possible. If I'm late, wait for me. I've got to see you. Promise you'll wait, Don?"

What else could he do?

As for Nora, she hung up the receiver and sat quite still for a time, thinking. It seemed incredible that after all Don's patience and forbearance, this was the end. Another tragedy for her father. (How could she bear it?) Happiness rained by regrets for herself and Don. Yet there was no other way—could be no other way for them now. James would believe Ned's version of the encounter. He would be angry past all forgiving. Nora knew. Anything she might say to him would be quite futile—useless. A scene would only hurt them both, but could she do the easy thing—leave him as her mother had done so many years ago with merely a letter of farewell? Being Nora, remembering the refuge his arms had been to a frightened child, who had watched with death, she could not. Her father deserved better than that, though he would be unyielding. Nora knew how unyielding he would be.

She arose at last, going up the wide staircase slowly, almost reluctantly. Somehow this home had never seemed so dear to her, nor so desirable. Passing her father's room she paused a moment, recalling the many times a little girl, waking to bad dreams, had scampered into his big bed for comfort. And now she must leave him—hurt him cruelly. Would he understand some day—forgive her?

Nora packed, slipped into the cool, dark dress that would be her wedding gown, forgot her father's picture (the one taken specially for her when she went to college), opened her suitcase and placed the photograph where it would not be broken. A queer, hard lump rose in her throat. It hurt her. She worked fast—fast, so that she would not weep; and when all was done, stood at the door a while, letting her eyes dwell lovingly on every detail of the room—her own first room.

Would her father leave it just as it was, she wondered—just as they'd furnished it together for her sixteenth birthday? James was fastidious about such things. It was the point on which they never clashed. What a time they had had over her rose-filled bathroom! Her father had fussed. Each fixture must be the finest—the most perfect. The antique bed they had picked up at an auction in the country. How he had glowed over the satin-smooth mahogany—dear Dad! As for the rug—they had hunted the city over for that rug. It must be Oriental, James insisted, yet it must blend with the soft rose hangings at the windows. They had found it at last—an exquisite Persian that might have been woven for a queen's boudoir. Even Nora, thoughtless about money, had blinked at the price; and her father had laughed at her.

Well, that was over! The girl took one long look and turned away. It was so dreary to go without her father. Even dear Martha Berry, James Lambert's housekeeper, who, steadiness: "I'm afraid so, I can't let you quarrel with your father for my sake, Nora."

"Doesn't it take two to make a quarrel, Don?"

"Not with a man like him. Besides, what, dear?"

"Only what I've said before. I guess he's right about me, Nora. He's shown me up in my true colors. I'll never be that important member of society—a good provider. I'm just a wash-out; and in the end you'll be better off if you let me go."

The girl said, after a moment in which something told her lover that she was fighting tears: "Is that what you want, Don? Are you so weary of everything that I seem a burden?"

This was too much. Don simply couldn't bear it.

"Oh, Nora!" he said gently. "Nora—my dear!"

It was the heartbreak in his voice that decided Leonora. She said, drawing a quick breath: "Listen, Don. (It's all right, Central. I know we're talking over time.) Listen, dear—Have you had lunch yet?"

This practical question brought him, a little smiler, as one smiles sometimes in the face of tragedy.

"Not yet. Forgive me completely. It's not every day I knock a fellow down, Nora! And it's so hot. My head—"

"Is it still bad?"

"It's fierce, Nora."

"Well, get some bread and milk. Don. You need it. (This call will set you back a whole week's pay, darling!) Then go to your room and pack. I'll be outside there in a taxi as soon as possible. If I'm late, wait for me. I've got to see you. Promise you'll wait, Don?"

What else could he do?

As for Nora, she hung up the receiver and sat quite still for a time, thinking. It seemed incredible that after all Don's patience and forbearance, this was the end. Another tragedy for her father. (How could she bear it?) Happiness rained by regrets for herself and Don. Yet there was no other way—could be no other way for them now. James would believe Ned's version of the encounter. He would be angry past all forgiving. Nora knew. Anything she might say to him would be quite futile—useless. A scene would only hurt them both, but could she do the easy thing—leave him as her mother had done so many years ago with merely a letter of farewell? Being Nora, remembering the refuge his arms had been to a frightened child, who had watched with death, she could not. Her father deserved better than that, though he would be unyielding. Nora knew how unyielding he would be.

She arose at last, going up the wide staircase slowly, almost reluctantly. Somehow this home had never seemed so dear to her, nor so desirable. Passing her father's room she paused a moment, recalling the many times a little girl, waking to bad dreams, had scampered into his big bed for comfort. And now she must leave him—hurt him cruelly. Would he understand some day—forgive her?

Nora packed, slipped into the cool, dark dress that would be her wedding gown, forgot her father's picture (the one taken specially for her when she went to college), opened her suitcase and placed the photograph where it would not be broken. A queer, hard lump rose in her throat. It hurt her. She worked fast—fast, so that she would not weep; and when all was done, stood at the door a while, letting her eyes dwell lovingly on every detail of the room—her own first room.

Would her father leave it just as it was, she wondered—just as they'd furnished it together for her sixteenth birthday? James was fastidious about such things. It was the point on which they never clashed. What a time they had had over her rose-filled bathroom! Her father had fussed. Each fixture must be the finest—the most perfect. The antique bed they had picked up at an auction in the country. How he had glowed over the satin-smooth mahogany—dear Dad! As for the rug—they had hunted the city over for that rug. It must be Oriental, James insisted, yet it must blend with the soft rose hangings at the windows. They had found it at last—an exquisite Persian that might have been woven for a queen's boudoir. Even Nora, thoughtless about money, had blinked at the price; and her father had laughed at her.

Well, that was over! The girl took one long look and turned away. It was so dreary to go without her father. Even dear Martha Berry, James Lambert's housekeeper, who, steadiness: "I'm afraid so, I can't let you quarrel with your father for my sake, Nora."

"Doesn't it take two to make a quarrel, Don?"

"Not with a man like him. Besides, what, dear?"

"Only what I've said before. I guess he's right about me, Nora. He's shown me up in my true colors. I'll never be that important member of society—a good provider. I'm just a wash-out; and in the end you'll be better off if you let me go."

The girl said, after a moment in which something told her lover that she was fighting tears: "Is that what you want, Don? Are you so weary of everything that I seem a burden?"

This was too much. Don simply couldn't bear it.

"Oh, Nora!" he said gently. "Nora—my dear!"

It was the heartbreak in his voice that decided Leonora. She said, drawing a quick breath: "Listen, Don. (It's all right, Central. I know we're talking over time.) Listen, dear—Have you had lunch yet?"

This practical question brought him, a little smiler, as one smiles sometimes in the face of tragedy.

"Not yet. Forgive me completely. It's not every day I knock a fellow down, Nora! And it's so hot. My head—"

"Is it still bad?"

"It's fierce, Nora."

"Well, get some bread and milk. Don. You need it. (This call will set you back a whole week's pay, darling!) Then go to your room and pack. I'll be outside there in a taxi as soon as possible. If I'm late, wait for me. I've got to see you. Promise you'll wait, Don?"

What else could he do?

As for Nora, she hung up the receiver and sat quite still for a time, thinking. It seemed incredible that after all Don's patience and forbearance, this was the end. Another tragedy for her father. (How could she bear it?) Happiness rained by regrets for herself and Don. Yet there was no other way—could be no other way for them now. James would believe Ned's version of the encounter. He would be angry past all forgiving. Nora knew. Anything she might say to him would be quite futile—useless. A scene would only hurt them both, but could she do the easy thing—leave him as her mother had done so many years ago with merely a letter of farewell? Being Nora, remembering the refuge his arms had been to a frightened child, who had watched with death, she could not. Her father deserved better than that, though he would be unyielding. Nora knew how unyielding he would be.

She arose at last, going up the wide staircase slowly, almost reluctantly. Somehow this home had never seemed so dear to her, nor so desirable. Passing her father's room she paused a moment, recalling the many times a little girl, waking to bad dreams, had scampered into his big bed for comfort. And now she must leave him—hurt him cruelly. Would he understand some day—forgive her?

Nora packed, slipped into the cool, dark dress that would be her wedding gown, forgot her father's picture (the one taken specially for her when she went to college), opened her suitcase and placed the photograph where it would not be broken. A queer, hard lump rose in her throat. It hurt her. She worked fast—fast, so that she would not weep; and when all was done, stood at the door a while, letting her eyes dwell lovingly on every detail of the room—her own first room.

Would her father leave it just as it was, she wondered—just as they'd furnished it together for her sixteenth birthday? James was fastidious about such things. It was the point on which they never clashed. What a time they had had over her rose-filled bathroom! Her father had fussed. Each fixture must be the finest—the most perfect. The antique bed they had picked up at an auction in the country. How he had glowed over the satin-smooth mahogany—dear Dad! As for the rug—they had hunted the city over for that rug. It must be Oriental, James insisted, yet it must blend with the soft rose hangings at the windows. They had found it at last—an exquisite Persian that might have been woven for a queen's boudoir. Even Nora, thoughtless about money, had blinked at the price; and her father had laughed at her.

Well, that was over! The girl took one long look and turned away. It was so dreary to go without her father. Even dear Martha Berry, James Lambert's housekeeper, who, steadiness: "I'm afraid so, I can't let you quarrel with your father for my sake, Nora."

"Doesn't it take two to make a quarrel, Don?"

"Not with a man like him. Besides, what, dear?"

"Only what I've said before. I guess he's right about me, Nora. He's shown me up in my true colors. I'll never be that important member of society—a good provider. I'm just a wash-out; and in the end you'll be better off if you let me go."

The girl said, after a moment in which something told her lover that she was fighting tears: "Is that what you want, Don? Are you so weary of everything that I seem a burden?"

This was too much. Don simply couldn't bear it.

"Oh, Nora!" he said gently. "Nora—my dear!"

It was the heartbreak in his voice that decided Leonora. She said, drawing a quick breath: "Listen, Don. (It's all right, Central. I know we're talking over time.) Listen, dear—Have you had lunch yet?"

This practical question brought him, a little smiler, as one smiles sometimes in the face of tragedy.

"Not yet. Forgive me completely. It's not every day I knock a fellow down, Nora! And it's so hot. My head—"

"Is it still bad?"

"It's fierce, Nora."

"Well, get some bread and milk. Don. You need it. (This call will set you back a whole week's pay, darling!) Then go to your room and pack. I'll be outside there in a taxi as soon as possible. If I'm late, wait for me. I've got to see you. Promise you'll wait, Don?"

What else could he do?

As for Nora, she hung up the receiver and sat quite still for a time, thinking. It seemed incredible that after all Don's patience and forbearance, this was the end. Another tragedy for her father. (How could she bear it?) Happiness rained by regrets for herself and Don. Yet there was no other way—could be no other way for them now. James would believe Ned's version of the encounter. He would be angry past all forgiving. Nora knew. Anything she might say to him would be quite futile—useless. A scene would only hurt them both, but could she do the easy thing—leave him as her mother had done so many years ago with merely a letter of farewell? Being Nora, remembering the refuge his arms had been to a frightened child, who had watched with death, she could not. Her father deserved better than that, though he would be unyielding. Nora knew how unyielding he would be.

She arose at last, going up the wide staircase slowly, almost reluctantly. Somehow this home had never seemed so dear to her, nor so desirable. Passing her father's room she paused a moment, recalling the many times a little girl, waking to bad dreams, had scampered into his big bed for comfort. And now she must leave him—hurt him cruelly. Would he understand some day—forgive her?

Nora packed, slipped into the cool, dark dress that would be her wedding gown, forgot her father's picture (the one taken specially for her when she went to college), opened her suitcase and placed the photograph where it would not be broken. A queer, hard lump rose in her throat. It hurt her. She worked fast—fast, so that she would not weep; and when all was done, stood at the door a while, letting her eyes dwell lovingly on every detail of the room—her own first room.

Would her father leave it just as it was, she wondered—just as they'd furnished it together for her sixteenth birthday? James was fastidious about such things. It was the point on which they never clashed. What a time they had had over her rose-filled bathroom! Her father had fussed. Each fixture must be the finest—the most perfect. The antique bed they had picked up at an auction in the country. How he had glowed over the satin-smooth mahogany—dear Dad! As for the rug—they had hunted the city over for that rug. It must be Oriental, James insisted, yet it must blend with the soft rose hangings at the windows. They had found it at last—an exquisite Persian that might have been woven for a queen's boudoir. Even Nora, thoughtless about money, had blinked at the price; and her father had laughed at her.

Well, that was over! The girl took one long look and turned away. It was so dreary to go without her father. Even dear Martha Berry, James Lambert's housekeeper, who, steadiness: "I'm afraid so, I can't let you quarrel with your father for my sake, Nora."

"Doesn't it take two to make a quarrel, Don?"

"Not with a man like him. Besides, what, dear?"

"Only what I've said before. I guess he's right about me, Nora. He's shown me up in my true colors. I'll never be that important member of society—a good provider. I'm just a wash-out; and in the end you'll be better off if you let me go."

The girl said, after a moment in which something told her lover that she was fighting tears: "Is that what you want, Don? Are you so weary of everything that I seem a burden?"

This was too much. Don simply couldn't bear it.

"Oh, Nora!" he said gently. "Nora—my dear!"

It was the heartbreak in his voice that decided Leonora. She said, drawing a quick breath: "Listen, Don. (It's all right, Central. I know we're talking over time.) Listen, dear—Have you had lunch yet?"

This practical question brought him, a little smiler, as one smiles sometimes in the face of tragedy.

"Not yet. Forgive me completely. It's not every day I knock a fellow down, Nora! And it's so hot. My head—"

"Is it still bad?"

"It's fierce, Nora."

"Well, get some bread and milk. Don. You need it. (This call will set you back a whole week's pay, darling!) Then go to your room and pack. I'll be outside there in a taxi as soon as possible. If I'm late, wait for me. I've got to see you. Promise you'll wait, Don?"

What else could he do?

As for Nora, she hung up the receiver and sat quite still for a time, thinking. It seemed incredible that after all Don's patience and forbearance, this was the end. Another tragedy for her father. (How could she bear it?) Happiness rained by regrets for herself and Don. Yet there was no other way—could be no other way for them now. James would believe Ned's version of the encounter. He would be angry past all forgiving. Nora knew. Anything she might say to him would be quite futile—useless. A scene would only hurt them both, but could she do the easy thing—leave him as her mother had done so many years ago with merely a letter of farewell? Being Nora, remembering the refuge his arms had been to a frightened child, who had watched with death, she could not. Her father deserved better than that, though he would be unyielding. Nora knew how unyielding he would be.

She arose at last, going up the wide staircase slowly, almost reluctantly. Somehow this home had never seemed so dear to her, nor so desirable. Passing her father's room she paused a moment, recalling the many times a little girl, waking to bad dreams, had scampered into his big bed for comfort. And now she must leave him—hurt him cruelly. Would he understand some day—forgive her?

Nora packed, slipped into the cool, dark dress that would be her wedding gown, forgot her father's picture (the one taken specially for her when she went to college), opened her suitcase and placed the photograph where it would not be broken. A queer, hard lump rose in her throat. It hurt her. She worked fast—fast, so that she would not weep; and when all was done, stood at the door a while, letting her eyes dwell lovingly on every detail of the room—her own first room.

Would her father leave it just as it was, she wondered—just as they'd furnished it together for her sixteenth birthday? James was fastidious about such things. It was the point on which they never clashed. What a time they had had over her rose-filled bathroom! Her father had fussed. Each fixture must be the finest—the most perfect. The antique bed they had picked up at an auction in the country. How he had glowed over the satin-smooth mahogany—dear Dad! As for the rug—they had hunted the city over for that rug. It must be Oriental, James insisted, yet it must blend with the soft rose hangings at the windows. They had found it at last—an exquisite Persian that might have been woven for a queen's boudoir. Even Nora, thoughtless about money, had blinked at the price; and her father had laughed at her.

Well, that was over! The girl took one long look and turned away. It was so dreary to go without her father. Even dear Martha Berry, James Lambert's housekeeper, who, steadiness: "I'm afraid so, I can't let you quarrel with your father for my sake, Nora."

"Doesn't it take two to make a quarrel, Don?"

"Not with a man like him. Besides, what, dear?"

"Only what I've said before. I guess he's right about me, Nora. He's shown me up in my true colors. I'll never be that important member of society—a good provider. I'm just a wash-out; and in the end you'll be better off if you let me go."

The girl said, after a moment in which something told her lover that she was fighting tears: "Is that what you want, Don? Are you so weary of everything that I seem a burden?"

This was too much. Don simply couldn't bear it.

"Oh, Nora!" he said gently. "Nora—my dear!"

It was the heartbreak in his voice that decided Leonora. She said, drawing a quick breath: "Listen, Don. (It's all right, Central. I know we're talking over time.) Listen, dear—Have you had lunch yet?"

This practical question brought him, a little smiler, as one smiles sometimes in the face of tragedy.

"Not yet. Forgive me completely. It's not every day I knock a fellow down, Nora! And it's so hot. My head—"

"Is it still bad?"

"It's fierce, Nora."

"Well, get some bread and milk. Don. You need it. (This call will set you back a whole week's pay, darling!) Then go to your room and pack. I'll be outside there in a taxi as soon as possible. If I'm late, wait for me. I've got to see you. Promise you'll wait, Don?"

What else could he do?

As for Nora, she hung up the receiver and sat quite still for a time, thinking. It seemed incredible that after all Don's patience and forbearance, this was the end. Another tragedy for her father. (How could she bear it?) Happiness rained by regrets for herself and Don. Yet there was no other way—could be no other way for them now. James would believe Ned's version of the encounter. He would be angry past all forgiving. Nora knew. Anything she might say to him would be quite futile—useless. A scene would only hurt them both, but could she do the easy thing—leave him as her mother had done so many years ago with merely a letter of farewell? Being Nora, remembering the refuge his arms had been to a frightened child, who had watched with death, she could not. Her father deserved better than that, though he would be unyielding. Nora knew how unyielding he would be.

She arose at last, going up the wide staircase slowly, almost reluctantly. Somehow this home had never seemed so dear to her, nor so desirable. Passing her father's room she paused a moment, recalling the many times a little girl, waking to bad dreams, had scampered into his big bed for comfort. And now she must leave him—hurt him cruelly. Would he understand some day—forgive her?

Nora packed, slipped into the cool, dark dress that would be her wedding gown, forgot her father's picture (the one taken specially for her when she went to college), opened her suitcase and placed the photograph where it would not be broken. A queer, hard lump rose in her throat. It hurt her. She worked fast—fast, so that she would not weep; and when all was done, stood at the door a while, letting her eyes dwell lovingly on every detail of the room—her own first room.

Would her father leave it just as it was, she wondered—just as they'd furnished it together for her sixteenth birthday? James was fastidious about such things. It was the point on which they never clashed. What a time they had had over her rose-filled bathroom! Her father had fussed. Each fixture must be the finest—the most perfect. The antique bed they had picked up at an auction in the country. How he had glowed over the satin-smooth mahogany—dear Dad! As for the rug—they had hunted the city over for that rug. It must be Oriental, James insisted, yet it must blend with the soft rose hangings at the windows. They had found it at last—an exquisite Persian that might have been woven for a queen's boudoir. Even Nora, thoughtless about money, had blinked at the price; and her father had laughed at her.

Well, that was over! The girl took one long look and turned away. It was so dreary to go without her father. Even dear Martha Berry, James Lambert's housekeeper, who, steadiness: "I'm afraid so, I can't let you quarrel with your father for my sake, Nora."

"Doesn't it take two to make a quarrel, Don?"

"Not with a man like him. Besides, what, dear?"

"Oh! Nora, tell me I'm not dreaming."

away from all that clamor—to be where it's quiet—to be back here, dearest, with you—with you!"

And what could a loving woman say to that?

No hardships or inconveniences are ever so hard and inconvenient to man, as they are to woman. In that moment Nora grasped this first lesson she was to learn of marriage, and was forever thankful that no word of hers had cast a shadow on Don's happiness.

For things were not so bad as she had feared. Slipping into a paint-stained smock discovered in a closet, Don declared cheerfully that when all else failed he could always earn his living as a houseman. It was amazing how rapidly he did away with all that dust. And what seemed stranger still, the bewildered bride, he appeared to derive pleasure from the performance.

The revolting cobwebs vanished as if by magic while Nora was hunting through her luggage for some costume suited to the task in hand.

"But I didn't realize the crying need of aprons in the life of a married woman," she admitted with chagrin. "Where are the towels, Don? Perhaps I can do my share if I pin one round me. I mustn't

CHURCH CIRCLES

ST. MARY CHURCH
Father Lawrence Dorr, Pastor
First Mass 8:00 a. m.
Second Mass 10:00 a. m.
Mass on week days 8:00 a. m.

ST. PAUL'S EVANGELICAL
P. H. Grabowski, Pastor
Sunday, January 30th—
10:30 o'clock—English service.
11:15 o'clock—Sunday school.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL
Rev. Frederick D. Mumby, Pastor
Mrs. P. M. Bressan, Organist
Morning worship at 10:00. Senior choir. Anthem. Sermon: "Jesus Begins to Choose His Disciples." Come to church.
Sunday school at 11:15. Installation of officers. Come.
Epworth League at 6:30. "A Christian Citizen in Action."
Evening worship at 7:30. One night revival. Bolshevism in Russia, and Communism in the United States. Rev. M. B. Hinkle, of Jackson. Entire service illustrated on the screen, including "The Old Rugged Cross." Free-will offering.
Another special for Sunday evening, February 6. A Temperance play, "In the Best of Families." Presented by six young people.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH
Rev. Ray W. Barber, Pastor
Harmony Chapter will meet with Mrs. Barber at the parsonage, 211 E. Middle street today (Thursday) at 2:00. All the ladies are cordially invited to attend.
The church choir will meet for practice Thursday at 7:30.
The Communion of the Lord's Supper will be held next Sunday morning at 10:00, to which all Christian friends are welcome.
The Sunday school meets at 11:15 with a welcome for all.

SALEM METHODIST EPISCOPAL
Rev. Henry Lens, Pastor
Sunday school at 10 a. m.
Preaching service at 11 o'clock.
The Ladies' Aid Society will meet in conjunction with the Cavanaugh Lake Grange on Wednesday, February 2 for dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Miller.
The Epworth League will meet with Clifford and Raymond Peterson on Thursday evening, February 8.

WATERLOO CIRCUIT
U. B. CHURCH
Rev. R. E. Uhrig, Pastor
Order of service for Jan. 30
Morning worship at 10 a. m. Special music by Junior choir.
Sabbath school at 11 a. m.
Please do not forget the annual fish supper Feb. 4 at Gleaner hall. Everybody welcome.

NORTH LAKE M. E. CHURCH
Rev. Herbert Brubaker
(Dexter, phone 203)
9:00 o'clock—Morning worship.
10:00 o'clock—Church school.

Marriage of Two Kimonos
One of the most famous weddings in Japan in many years was the marriage of two kimonos, solemnized in a Shinto ceremony in Kyoto in 1934. The bride was a celebrated 332-year-old hand-painted silk garment, says Collier's Weekly, while the groom was a renowned, 110-year-old hand-embroidered cotton robe. This marriage was such an important event, in fact, that those owning copies of the wedding invitation will not sell them at any price.

Lighthouse Built About 331 B. C.
The light emitted from the ancient lighthouse at Alexandria, one of the seven wonders of the world, came from a huge wood fire which was kept burning at the summit continuously during the night. It has been stated that this illumination was visible for a distance of 40 miles, but modern knowledge disputes this. The lighthouse was built about 331 B. C.

Much of Ocean Bed Revealed
A hundred square miles of ocean bed is revealed when the tide goes out at Mont Saint Michel, France. When the tide comes, it comes in rapidly.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

Regular meeting of Olive Chapter, No. 108, O. E. S., Wednesday evening, February 2, at 7:30 o'clock. A grand officer will be present at this meeting for the purpose of holding school of instruction. Pot luck supper at 6:30 o'clock.

Fraternal card party will be held at Masonic hall tonight at 8 o'clock. The February meeting of the Philadelphia circle will be held Friday, February 4 at the home of Mrs. Leigh Palmer. Potluck luncheon at 1 p. m. Regular meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary, Tuesday evening, February 1, at Kolb's hall.

The January meeting of the Second District Legion and Auxiliary will be held in Monroe on Sunday, January 30, at 3:00 o'clock, at Masonic Temple. The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's church will meet at the home of Mrs. G. Hopper on Friday, Feb. 31 at 7:30 o'clock. All Pythian Sisters requested to come.
The American Legion Auxiliary will entertain the members of the Post and their wives at a card party this week Friday, January 28, at 8 p. m. at Kolb's hall.

SLATS' DIARY

Sunday—I bin a wandering why the labor unions dont want Eddy and Wally to cum to are fare land and bleeve I got it figured out. It are becous they are seart they will get a job and work and not ask Green and Louis for permishen.

Monday—Pa sprang 1 on Ma that I think from the way she lookt at him she diddnt like so good. Pa said that Christmas he sed to a frend, in a store he was trying to get sum thing for his better 1/2 and the man replide and sed Well have you had any ofers.

Tuesday—Jane and Elsy both of them otto have a garden to go around with them. Today they was in the hotel ofis and had a 5c nickel and put it in a telephone booth slot and that they wood get sum gum. They had nothing to say when they found out what they had bot.

Wednesday—The teacher told the class to all of us set down the names of the gratest 1 doz. men in the world today. I writ down Aberham Linken, Napoleon, G. Washington and a lot of others I fot of. Jake writ N. Y. Yankes 9, Dick Tracy, Popeye and Bin Gump and I wander if he was sent right. But tho he didnt grade up with the leaders. As the teacher isent modern I suppose.

Thursday—In school this p. m. are class was ast by a ladie state inspeckter to define the word accident. Blisters spoke up and sed when a rattlesnake bites you but Jake sed not that aint no accident becous the snake done it a purpose. I wander which were right. Becous the ladie never did disside. To much laffing and giggling I reckon.

Friday—As I was dancing with Jane at the partie last evening I ast her isent there no way I can make her more tenderer. She sed yes they are. Just go ahead stepping on my sore toe. Just for that dirty crack and others I may not marrie that dame after all. I will haft to think it over a hole lot I bet you.

Saturday—Slats kept a having a hed ake or sum thing and his mother took him to the Dr. and sed to the Dr. its his hed and he has been a having it off and on for sum time. The Dr. haft out loud. But I happen to know his hed is eneyhow about 1/2 off very frequent.

Blue Point Oysters
The original blue point oysters get their name from Blue Point, a village on Long Island near the eastern end of Great South Bay. In this vicinity deliciously flavored oysters of a small variety were found in natural beds. Any similar small-sized round oysters suitable for being served raw are called blue points.

Peacock Feathers Pigmentless
There is no pigment in a peacock's feathers. The rainbow coloring is due to rows of prism-like cells that break up the light cell-rays.

Undiscovered Islands
The South seas still hold undiscovered islands and islands that have appeared and disappeared as the result of volcanic formations.

'WAY BACK WHEN

FROM LUMBER YARD WORKER TO VICE PRESIDENT OF U. S.

TO KNOW whether you have chosen the right vocation for success in return for your efforts is sometimes difficult to decide. But once it begins to dawn upon you that you could go further in another occupation, it is time to change. The greatest advancement lies where your talents and interests are greatest. Charles Dawes, who made the under-sliding pipe famous which he became Vice President of the United States, might have been relatively unknown if he had not changed his mind about the occupation he would follow.

He was born in Marietta, Ohio, in 1865. He attended the public schools there and entered Marietta college, graduating at the age of nineteen. During the summer months he worked in a lumber yard, shifting lumber. It is easy to imagine that without vision and analysis, he might have set the proper torchship Dawes was always fond of music. He played both the violin and the piano and music has been his chief diversion. He composed "Melody in A Minor" which Fritz Kreisler, famous violinist, included in his repertoire.

After college, Charles Dawes went to work in the engineering department of the Toledo and Ohio Central Extension railroad, working up to chief engineer in charge of construction. He decided to study law, or he might have been simply a good civil engineer. Graduating from the Cincinnati School of Law, he practiced for some years and became interested in politics. President McKinley appointed him controller of currency and, after four years of service, Dawes organized the Central Trust company of Chicago. He was general purchasing agent for the A. E. F. during the World war and director of the budget bureau under President Harding. In 1924, he was elected Vice President of the United States under Coolidge.

Pommes Soufflees Was Discovered by Accident

Pommes soufflees, the gastronomic creation, was discovered by accident because a train was late, reveals a Paris United Press correspondent.

This accident occurred in Saint Germain-en-Laye, historical town near Paris, about a century ago. A banquet was to be held in Saint Germain for the bluebloods who were passengers on the first train to run between this town and the capital. Louis Philippe, ruler of France at the time, was at the station to welcome its arrival.

Colinet, the famous chef who was to prepare the banquet, knew that the king liked fried potatoes, so he endeavored to prepare some to the best of his ability. When the train failed to arrive on time, he took the potatoes off the fire for fear of drying them.

When the guests were finally announced, Colinet put the potatoes back into the butter upon the fire. Suddenly the upper crust expanded and turned golden. Colinet was heartbroken, thinking he had spoiled his monarch's favorite dish.

Unknowningly, Colinet had discovered the famous pommes soufflees, now served the world over—but it required the palates of the princely diners to make him aware of his triumph.

Try Standard Liners For Results—55c

CHILD STUDY CLUB

The Child Study club met Tuesday evening, January 25 at the home of Mrs. H. L. Blocker. Mrs. Geo. Walworth and Mrs. Bruce Plankell discussed the topics "How can we as parents help in the musical growth of our children?" and "Influence of music in the home". They also rendered piano solos, Mrs. Walworth playing "The Seaf Dance", and Mrs. Plankell "The Fifth Nocturne". Mrs. A. W. Wilkinson gave a brief book report on "Orchids on Your Budget", and Mrs. W. R. Daniels reviewed "They Seek a Country". Seventeen members responded to roll call with a favorite composition and the story of it.

ORDER FOR PUBLICATION

Annual Account of Administrator
No. 29042
State of Michigan, the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw.

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, in said County, on the 24th day of January, A. D. 1938.

Present, Hon. Jay G. Pray, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of Ella C. Smyth, deceased.
Clyde Gieske, having filed in said Court his Annual account as Administrator of said estate, and his petition praying for the allowance thereof.

It is Ordered, That the 23rd day of February, A. D. 1938, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Probate Office, be and is hereby appointed for examining and allowing said account. It is Further Ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Chelsea Standard, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Jay G. Pray, Judge of Probate.
A true copy. Jan 27-Feb 10
Nora O. Borgert, Register of Probate.

ORDER FOR PUBLICATION

Sale of Real Estate
No. 23451
State of Michigan, the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw.

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, in said County, on the 24th day of January, A. D. 1938.

Present, Hon. Jay G. Pray, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of Edna M. Smyth, Incompetent.
Clyde Gieske, Guardian, having filed in said Court his petition, praying for license to sell the interest of said estate in certain real estate therein described, for the purpose of paying debts, charges and expenses of managing said estate and for the maintenance and support of said ward.

It is Ordered, That the 23rd day of February, A. D. 1938, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, at said Probate Office, be and is hereby appointed for hearing said petition, and that all persons interested in said estate appear before said Court, at said time and place, to show cause why a license to sell the interest of said estate in said real estate should not be granted.

It is Further Ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order, for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing, in the Chelsea Standard, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Jay G. Pray, Judge of Probate.
A true copy. Jan 27-Feb 10
Nora O. Borgert, Register of Probate.

Oil Once a Nuisance

Oil was regarded as a nuisance by American brine-well operators in early days, because the fluid contaminated the salt beds, forcing abandonment of many salt sources.

Habits of the Lion
The black mane of the lion, which is not so noticeable as he lies at ease, bristles out conspicuously when he's mad. He also waves his tail over his back, showing its black tip.

You Deserve The Balance

Saving or not saving is simply a matter of paying less for the same quality.

When you pay less you keep the difference for yourself. It doesn't take long for such savings to add up to a neat sum. You might as well have that money. There are plenty of things you can do with it.

Every time a sale is rung up for you from the ads in this newspaper a saving is added up for you to keep in your pocketbook.

Editorial by Andy

LINER COLUMN

WANTED—To buy 200 bu. corn, either shelled or on cob; also barley. Wm. Banonis, Dexter, R. 1. -26

WANTED—To rent farm, at least 100 acres, if owner will furnish all stock and tools, and give one-third. Can give good references. Wilber Gray, Chelsea, R. 1, one mile east of Vermont cemetery. -26

WANTED—Experienced man wants work on farm by the month. Ren Bennett, Spaulding farm, R. 1. -26

FRESH PORK SAUSAGE, Lard, Choice Lean Ham, Shoulders, and Loin Roasts; dressed hogs. Finest quality, meats obtainable. 5 miles west of Chelsea on old US-12. Harold H. Evers. -28

FOR SALE—The Jacob Hummel estate farm, consisting of about 70 acres. L. P. Vogel, administrator. -26

FOR SALE—Used circulator coal or wood heater; also Round Oak heater. L. R. Heydlauff. -20

FOR SALE—1936 Chevrolet coach, with radio and heater—a good car for $875.00. Waterloo Garage, Glenn Rentschler, Prop. -26

HARNESS OILED—Until March 15 we will oil harness for $1.50 per set. Get your harness oiled now! Merkel Bros., phone 91. -20

WANTED—Ear or shelled corn. Farmers Supply Co., phone 184. -26

WANTED—Good ear corn, red clover seed, and good yellow seed corn; also good work horse. No fancy prices. Adam J. Sauer, phone 60-F8, Dexter. -27

YOU CAN GET Express Money Orders at Burg's—Days, nights, or Sundays. -26

WANTED—Have work to cut on shares or will sell on the ground. Also oak wood for sale, $3.00 a cord delivered. Ben Kuhl, phone 142-F28. -15

REAL ESTATE BARGAIN—Fine four-family residence in Detroit. Excellent location. Would take acceptable Chelsea property in exchange. An opportunity to get good income property at the right price. Call or write D. L. Williams, 224 Farwell Bldg., Detroit. -28

COUPON—Good for Two (2) Dollars on each tire bought at our January Clearance Sale. Hurry! Palmer Motor Sales. -26

WANTED—Experienced office girl for typing. Must be able to take dictation. Apply at Chelsea Milling Company. -26

USED TIRES AND TUBES—All sizes and prices. Mack's Super Service. R. A. McLaughlin. -26

SMOOTH TIRES cause accidents. Get new ones now at our January Sale and enjoy driving. (See Coupon in this paper). Palmer Motor Sales. -26

OUT FLOWERS, Potted Plants and Floral Designing. WAYSIDE FLOAL GARDENS, On U. S. 12 Tel. 380. Bonded Member of the F. T. D. -26

FOR PROMPT DELIVERY of gravel, sand, black dirt or general trucking. Call 211-F12. Floyd E. Gentner, 12005 Scio Church Road. -26

WANTED—Keys to make, locks to repair and shears to sharpen. A. L. Baldwin, 702 South Main. -26

EYES EXAMINED—Best glasses made at lowest prices. Oculist, U. of M. graduate, 45 years in practice. Dr. L. O. Gibson, 649 Packard St., Ann Arbor. -26

Ghost Stars Emit "Black Light"
Ghost stars that emit only black light and cannot be seen with the most powerful telescope have been discovered to be vaster and heavier than even the visible red giant stars.

Heart, Head in Place
Saying that a man's heart is in the right place usually seems to imply that his head isn't.

Requirements for Scoutmaster
The requirements for a scoutmaster as set forth in the by-laws of the Boy Scouts of America are: He shall be at least twenty-one years of age and shall be chosen because of good moral character and his interest in work for boys. He should be able to command the respect of boys in the management of his troop. He should make use of different experts in the various activities included in the Scout program. He, with the co-operation of the troop committee, is responsible for the general program and supervision of the work of the troop. All recommendations for commissions for men to serve as scoutmasters shall originate with the troop committee.

Developed the Clarinet
The clarinet was developed by Joseph Christopher Denner at Nuremberg in 1690.

Cash Paid for Dead or Disabled Horses and Cattle
$1.00 each
Small Animals Removed Free

Millenbach Bros. Co.
Phone Collect—Jackson 2-2177
The Original Concern to Pay for Dead Stock

REWARD!
Dead or Alive!
HIGHEST PRICES PAID!
Farm animals collected promptly. Sunday service.
HORSES $1.00
COWS $1.00
Floyd Boyce (Dixie Service Station), Agent
Phone COLLECT, Chelsea 109 or Ann Arbor phone 22244
CENTRAL DEAD STOCK CO.

You couldn't buy better coffee if you Paid $1.00 a pound

GREEN & WHITE
Coffee . . lb. 16c The Blue Bird

BLUE & WHITE COFFEE	RED & WHITE COFFEE	QUAKER COFFEE	RED & WHITE MILK
lb. 25c	lb. 29c	lb. 29c	TALL CAN
FRESH GROUND	VACUUM TIN	VACUUM TIN	6 for 41c

SOAP FLAKES Red & White for dainties large package 17c
CORN Blue and White — Golden Bantam — Cream Style 2 cans 25c
PEAS Blue and White — Early June — No. 2 can 2 cans 29c
Red & White Fruit Cocktail—No. 1 can 17c Home Style Peaches — No. 1-2 can 21c

OUR JAY
CATSUP large bottle 10c
HAND PICKED Beans 5 lbs. 23c
Lettuce solid heads 2 for 15c
Wax Bagas . . . 3 lbs. 10c
Celery Hearts..bunch 10c
Oranges Calif. Sunkist doz. 25c
DRY LIMA Beans 2 lbs. 21c
RED & WHITE Shrimp . 19c No. 1 Can

Sun Grazed Corned Beef . . No. 1 can 19c Corned Beef Hash . . can 17c
TOMATO JUICE Quaker — Large 50 ounce can each 25c
APPLE BUTTER Dutch Girl — Large 28 ounce jar jar 15c
FLAV-R-JELL Gelatin Dessert — 6 fruit flavors 3 pkgs. 13c

UKELELE Matched Slices	TABLE KING Table Syrup	HOME BAKER Pancake Flour	CORN MEAL
Pineapple 2 No. 2 35c	22-oz. jug. 17c	Plain or Buckwheat 5 lbs. 23c	5 lbs. 17c

→ ALL of Our Grocery Prices INCLUDE the Michigan 3% Sales Tax ←
We Deliver MEAT SPECIALS Phone or Send the Children

Picnic Cuts
Pork Roast lb. 14c
Fresh Pork Liver 2 lbs. 25c
Tender Pork Steak lb. 22c
Sugar Cured Bacon . . lb. 16c

GROCERY DEPARTMENT MEAT DEPARTMENT
NORM GRIMWADE Phone 226 BILL WHEELER

Beautiful Lotus Beds Near Monroe

Among the most beautiful of natural river gardens are the Lotus beds near Monroe. Dr. Henry S. Carle, representing the Huron-Clinton Parkway committee, recommends development of many such beauty spots along the Huron and Clinton rivers.