Many Improvements Being Made at Burg's

During the past two weeks a number of improvements have been started on the interior of Burg's Corner Drug Store which, when completed, will make it one of the most attractive and modern stores of its kind in this part of the state.

First on the remodeling program was the construction of a 20x11 ft. storage room in the alley space at the north of the rear part of the store. The rear partition in the store was then moved back 6½ feet, this being allowed by rearrangement of the prescription room. Enlargement of the sales room allows for an extra display window at the rear on the south side, which provides ample light for that part of the store.

A new tobacco and cigarette section will be added on the south side of the store, and all open shelves will be enclosed with glass doors. A single door will replace the double doors at the south entrance, and a telephone booth installed in the additional space made by this improvement.

The greatest improvement in the store was installation of a new soda fountain, back bar and counter. The counter is of low type, marble construction, the green Verde Antique marble used coming from Africa and pink Breck Rose marble from France. It is 20 feet in length and provides seating capacity for eleven at red-top chromium base stools. In all, the ice cream seating capacity in the store has been increased to 31. The back bar is constructed of light oak panels, with dark oak fluted pillars, and mirrors are flesh-colored. The soda fountain includes a sandwich unit, and has a 70-gallon ice cream capacity.

An aid to the attractive appearance of the store is a display of Indian arrowheads which has now reached a total of more than 2000, neatly displayed on arrowhead-shaped plaques above the display shelves. In addition to the arrowheads are many old coins and Indian relics which are in the display cases. All the Indian relics are from the personal collection of Mr. Burg, which have been gathered by him within a 15-mile radius of Chelsea over a period of 40 years.

Mr. Burg plans to have all improvements in his store completed within the next two weeks.

Lansing—Like a financial juggernaut rolling down upon Michigan is the unemployment or welfare problem.

Even with the federal government allotting 80 per cent of the WPA extra appropriation for use in Michigan, Governor Murphy was moved to release a statement to the press that he had talked directly to the White House and had appealed for a grant of 10 to 15 more millions. Cheerless newspaper headlines chilled the citizenry: "110,000 face starvation, says Murphy."

Last week-end the governor flew from Wichita, Kan. to Washington to plead personally for additional federal cash.

Gone long ago was the hope that the state treasury would be balanced and that a huge deficit could be diverted. Tearing the care of unemployment "the major responsibility of state government," the governor has let it be known that he insists upon full and adequate treatment of the jobless not only in food and clothing but in medical care.

12th Million

The state legislature appropriated $16,000,000 for welfare needs during the biennium ending June 30, 1939.

By the middle of April—the 10th month of the first fiscal year—the state had started on its 12th million dollars, and the end is not yet in sight. State revenues have been falling, general state expenses are the highest in history, and relief costs have been mounting steadily. The combination is enough to give any budget-director the jitters.

Friday night's program is sponsored by the Kiwanis club.

Justin Cline will come for a talk at the Kiwanis club meeting on Monday evening.

SUPERVISORS NAME CHAIRMAN

The Washtenaw county board of supervisors, at their April session last week, unanimously elected Supervisor Carl Mast of Webster township as chairman of the board, succeeding Supervisor Albert Trinkle of Scio township. Herbert L. Kennott, second ward, Ann Arbor, was elected vice chairman, without opposition. The April session opened with the seating of four new supervisors, giving the Republicans a majority of 23 to 10 on the board, as compared with 19 to 18 last year. Another "Ypsilanti" member increased the membership to 33.

Local Youth May Win Extra Scholarship

East Lansing—Among the freshman agricultural scholarship winners at Michigan State College believed to have an excellent chance to win an extra year of study under the auspices of the Sears-Roebuck Agricultural Foundation Scholarships program is R. Vincent Ives of Chelsea.

A student of agriculture, young Ives is among the scholastic leaders in the freshman class, a study of first semester grades discloses. The grades were announced by Dean Ernest L. Anthony.

Competing with him for the sophomore scholarship are the other 18 Sears-Roebuck students. All are listed among the class leaders for the first half year.

In addition to aspiring to being presented with the extra year, the Chelsea youth is cheered on by the ambition to get a degree in his subject. It is possible for him to do so under the project.

It is the plan of the company to provide sophomore scholarships to one student in each of the 17 states in which a college or university is participating in the program. The program provides that in the summer of 1939, the 17 winners will be judged by an impartial committee delegated to choose two of the 17 for advanced work.

A junior and senior year scholarship will be presented the student who makes the most favorable impression, scholastically and personally, on the judges. A junior year scholarship will be awarded the second most qualified boy. In the judging, the accomplishments of the individual students will serve as the basis for grading.

On the board of judges will be Dr. Henry C. Taylor, of the Farm Foundation, Chicago, an organization sponsored for the betterment of American agriculture, who will serve as chairman; a member of the United States department of agriculture, and a professor of agriculture in a university which is not associated with the scholarship program.

The first step in Mr. Ives' effort to gain further aid in carrying on his education will be taken at the conclusion of the present school year when he and the other freshman scholarship winners will be judged by a committee of Michigan State College.

In the examination, which will be standard in all of the 17 universities, 50 per cent of the grade will be based on scholastic attainment; 25 per cent on leadership; 15 per cent on personality, and 10 per cent on business acumen.

SEA SCOUT BRIDGE OF HONOR

The public is invited to be present at a Sea Scout Bridge of Honor to be given by the local Sea Scout Ship Commodore Perry No. 226, to be held in the high school auditorium on Friday evening, April 29, beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

OUR NEIGHBORS

PINKNEY—Dr. H. G. Porter of Detroit has moved here and expects to open an office this week. The village has been without a resident doctor since the death of Dr. Claude Sigler in May, 1937.—Dispatch.

WILLIAMSTON—Although practically all of the files of the Enterprise were lost in the fire, it is expected that it will be possible to resume publication of the "51 Years Ago" feature which many of our subscribers have eagerly sought each week. Eber S. Andrews, for more than twenty years owner of The Williamston Enterprise, informs us that he has duplicate files for many of the volumes that were lost. As soon as we can get settled in our own plant, so it will be possible to have convenient access to the files, we will undoubtedly resume publication of this feature.—Enterprise.

Michigan Mirror

who follows a conservative policy, protests that state expenditures for relief "must stop somewhere."

Experience of other states has also shown that unemployment compensation, whereby temporary "stop-gap" aid is given to a worker when he becomes unemployed, has proved wholly inadequate to meet present living costs.

Men on WPA projects have been encouraged by CIO leaders to believe that collective bargaining with the government would benefit their lot—fewer hours and more wages—all through the payment of CIO dues.

To say that the present situation is bewildering and confusing is to put it mildly.

Perhaps you have a better name for it.

Gasoline Taxes

Taxes are high enough, according to the governor, and yet additional money must be obtained in some manner to solve the present crisis.

First as a revenue-getter is the sales tax. Last year it raised over $54,000,000.

Second is the gasoline tax paid by motorists and truck and bus companies for building and maintenance of highways. This includes such costs as snow removal, sanding icy roads, and chemical treatment to lay the dust.

The gasoline tax is particularly profitable in Michigan because so many tourists visit us from other states. A sizeable part of the $180,000,000 tourist income last year was paid by outstate visitors in the form of the little gasoline tax.

Tax Diversion?

The third major source of revenue is the automobile weight tax, also paid by the motorist. This income exceeded $19,500,000 during the past fiscal year.

Here are two financial wells that had a combined flow of $47,000,000.

In the quest for additional relief money it is inevitable that somebody at some time will rise to suggest: "Why not divert some of these millions?"

No official at Lansing has publicly declared himself in favor of motorist tax diversion. And the matter is a bit involved because 1938 happens to be campaign year.

Grand Rapids Rally

President Roosevelt originally proposed that Congress reduce the highway aid fund for matching state expenditures without a similar reduction in the federal gasoline tax. The reaction was unquestionably unfavorable. Local communities rose in protest against tax diversion because it would mean that projected local road improvements would not be undertaken.

In the spirit of "safety first," good roads promoters of Michigan—members of commerce, city officials, tourist leaders, county road commissioners and engineers, the road builders and the state highway department—will meet next Thursday, April 28, at the Grand Rapids Civic Auditorium.

The good roads movement has many supporters. The tourist business depends upon good highways for future development. Enterprising civic leaders see in the extension of concrete highways a hope for expansion of their trade territory.

In a state as motor-minded as Michigan it is inevitable that automobile owners should think also in terms of highways.

Tax Sale Likely

Attorney General Raymond Starr's recent opinion that public officials "must proceed with their duties" in connection with the May tax sale is believed to have clinched the certainty that delinquent properties will go on the block as scheduled.

The governor had previously hinted his intention of calling the legislature into session to authorize another tax moratorium. The idea fits in with labors' demands at Flint for a "debt moratorium."

Auditor General George T. Gundry discouraged Murphy. Few homes were involved in the tax sale, he said.

Starr's logic, however, is coldly irrefutable. Property owners will have 18 months to redeem property sold for non-payment of taxes.

Unless all signs fail, the tax sale will be held as authorized.

Where Yale Is Buried

All around the Welsh village of Bryn-Eglwys, writes H. V. Morton in "In Search of Wales," lies property which once belonged to the Yale family, one of whom, Elihu, did so much toward founding Yale university. Elihu lies buried, however, not in the Yale chapel attached to the church of Bryn-Eglwys, but at Wrexham, ten miles away. Both places are much visited by Americans traveling in Wales.

CHILDREN IN COURT

Judge Malcolm Hatfield
An Expensive Bus Ticket
The price of a half fare bus ticket landed a thirteen year old girl in the juvenile court.
Twenty-four hours before her apprehension by juvenile authorities for stealing from a ten cent store, this child heard her mother tell a bus driver that her daughter was only eleven years old. While the parent saved a few cents by misrepresenting her daughter's actual age, this proved to be the most expensive ticket she ever purchased with a lie, for she set a most effective example of dishonesty for her child.

"I'm glad we've Telephone"

WORRY... grandmothers, mothers and wives are especially subject to it. But they have fewer causes for worry when there's a telephone in the house!

For the telephone can cheer an anxious heart and fill a day with happiness. It can send warning of a tardy arrival... make a last-minute change in plans. It protects in emergencies as nothing else can. It lightens housework... increases social pleasures... often saves carfare or traveling expense. It enables employers to reach you easily and without delay.

And the telephone does all this so economically that it pays its way in service rendered daily.

A WONDERFUL SAVIOUR

A wonderful Saviour is Jesus, My Lord,
A wonderful Saviour to me.
He hideth my soul in the cleft of the rock,
Where rivers of pleasures I see—
He hideth my soul in the depths of the rock
That shadows a dry thirsty land,
He hideth my life in the depths of His love
And covers me there with His hand.

When thrilled with His raptures, transported I rise
To greet Him in clouds of the sky;
This perfect salvation, His wonderful love
I'll sing with the millions on high.

He hideth my soul in the cleft of the rock
That covers a dry thirsty land,
He hideth my life in the depth of His love
And covers me there with His hand.

A special selection—

Question And Answer Dept.

Problem—Two women who were twin sisters were talking about relationship. Suddenly one of them said to the other: "There goes a young lady down the street who is my niece, but she isn't your niece." How come? (Answer elsewhere in this column).

Ques.—To what race of peoples do the Javanese and the Siberians belong?

Ans.—The Javanese belong to the brown race, and the native Siberians are of the yellow race. As Siberia has been owned by Russia over a long period of time the population of Siberia is about equally divided between the yellow and the white races.

Ques.—What were the punic wars?

Ans.—The Punic wars (three in number) were between the Romans and Carthaginians of ancient times. The first war began in 264 B. C. and lasted 23 years; the second began in 218 B. C. and continued 16 years, and the third began in 149 B. C. and ceased after three years' conflict. The Romans were victorious in the three wars, and Carthage was completely destroyed by fire, burning for seventeen days. Thus ended the history of the Carthaginians.

Ques.—Does the United States have a national holiday?

Ans.—None. It has many legal holidays, and the most important is the Fourth of July—anniversary of the Declaration of Independence.

Answer to Problem: One of the twin sisters was an aunt to the young lady, while the other sister was the mother of the aforesaid young lady.

Ques.—Is there such a river known as the Swanee River? If so, where is it?

Ans.—The Suwannee River, made famous by the Southern ballad, "Old Folks at Home," is a stream that rises in Georgia, flowing south across a portion of Florida and empties into the Gulf of Mexico. It is navigable about 200 miles from the gulf.

Ques.—Was Theodore Roosevelt related to President Franklin D. Roosevelt?

Ans.—Yes, slightly. Theodore and Franklin were fifth cousins.

Ques.—What is the salary of the King of England?

Ans.—The King of England gets $2,350,000 a year—the third highest paid monarch. The sultan of Turkey drew $7,500,000 a year until that country became a republic.

Ques.—What is the Einstein Theory of Relativity?

Ans.—It is an entirely mathematical theory of physics and of astronomy, worked out without taking for granted the usual ideas of space, time and motion. For instance, as particles of matter moving with speeds as great as a hundred thousand miles a second, the Einstein Theory indicates some small inaccuracies in the ordinary theories.

Ques.—What causes rainbows?

Ans.—Falling drops of water will split light up into the seven primary colors—blue, yellow, violet, indigo, green, orange and red. If the sun shines onto such a cloud of falling drops of water, the light reflected back to you from the drops will be split up in this way and you will see a rainbow.

FARLEY WAS ONCE A BOOK-KEEPER

NOT everyone can be an individualist and blaze his own trail to fame. Some of us are better fitted for falling into line as part of an organization. James A. Farley's rise in politics is an example of the rewards which may come to the good lieutenant.

Farley was born in 1889 in Grassy Point, N. Y., a small village on the Hudson river. There were five children, and the father was a saloon keeper. When Jim Farley was ten years old, his father died and his mother started a combination saloon and grocery store. The boy often tended bar or worked as grocery clerk on the other side of the store. Through these jobs he learned to meet the public, be friendly with strangers and show sympathy for their problems. He attended the Stony Point high school and the Packard commercial school in New York. Graduating in 1908, he was employed as a bookkeeper. Jim was always interested in politics; and, before he was old enough to vote, he called house-to-house, getting out the Democratic vote in Stony Point.

His first political job was as town clerk of Stony Point. He was courteous to all, jolly, a hale-fellow-well-met sort of man who had a pat on the back for everyone. Through Alfred E. Smith, whom he helped elect governor of New York, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, for whom he was faithful lieutenant in the Presidential campaign, Farley forged steadily ahead. He won the top political plum in the United States, postmaster general.

Even though he has few other qualifications for success, there is a lot of hope for the fellow who cooperates.

Irrigation in Early Days

Relatively small areas of the United States were irrigated by the inhabitants of the Southwestern portion of the United States in prehistoric times. These methods were improved by the Spanish conquerors and their descendants. Modern irrigation by the Anglo-Saxon race began in 1847.

Early Circuit Riders

The early circuit riders were itinerant preachers of the Methodist church. The circuit system was devised by John Wesley, and introduced into America by Bishop Asbury. A circuit rider preached every day and twice on Sunday, covering his circuit every four or five weeks.

HOW TO BE HAPPY THOUGH HARRIED!

SURE, we know—you've had your troubles! You've fretted, worried, wondered where do you go from here.

Well, what has it got you? What you really need is a change of outlook—and we know where you'll get it!

You'll get it in the front seat of a sparkling new Buick like this one pictured here.

You'll get it as your spirit lifts to the buoyant surge of a power plant that can leave even your cares behind.

You'll get it as you forget dull care in a ride so enjoyable that it's a pleasure again to travel—just for the sake of traveling.

Yes, you'll be happy in this car that can make it clearer with every mile that there isn't any better way to invest your money!

Look at the record a minute. Others have had their problems, too. Others have wondered if they should wait a while before they buy.

But they didn't wait. They looked at this handsome big eight, they measured its value, they checked what it could do, for them and to them—and they bought!

They bought because Buick is too good to do without! They bought because they could get more for their money—not just more automobile, but more fun, pleasure, solid satisfaction!

Go now and do likewise! This great straight-eight lists at lower prices than some sixes—drive it and you'll know how to be happy though harried!

"Better buy Buick!"

Safetygrams
BY FRANK W. BRAUN
The Safety Man

Public condemnation of convicted drunken drivers is reaching high proportions. And justly so.

Is there any reason under the sun why a man should be permitted to drink more liquor than he can control, step into a high-powered automobile, and drive recklessly down our highways, injuring and killing people? There is none.

It is regrettable that in many cities and counties throughout our nation enforcement officers and even courts have been somewhat reluctant to enforce laws to protect citizens of their communities from these drunken drivers.

Licenses of drunken drivers should be revoked. No man who has been convicted of drunken driving should be permitted to drive an automobile. The use of our highways is a privilege. It should be considered so and not abused.

First Quarter Weight Tax Revenue Declines

Lansing—Weight tax revenues available to local governmental units are off 8 1/2 per cent for the first three months of the year; State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner disclosed this week in turning over vouchers for first-quarter payments to the auditor-general.

Current vouchers total $10,223,762, compared with $10,595,445 for the first quarter of 1937. All of the weight tax revenue is turned over to county treasurers for county and municipal road and street purposes including debt services. The total weight tax revenue in 1937 amounted to $10,692,702.

Commissioner Van Wagoner attributed part of the reduction to an increase this year in the number of half-year automobile license plates issued by the secretary of state.

The current payment to Washtenaw county is $193,558.75.

KIWANIANS ENTERTAIN LADIES
Chelsea Kiwanians were hosts to their ladies as well as the Dexter Kiwanians and their ladies at a meeting held Monday evening in the Methodist church dining room, with about 70 in attendance. Following the banquet, which was served by ladies of the church, P. F. Niehaus led in group singing, and the program opened with two numbers by the brass quartet from Chelsea high school, directed by Robert Hargreaves, with Miss Jessie Neil at the piano.

Carlton F. Sturdy, a representative of the American Can Company, addressed the gathering, telling the story of how the nation's foods are grown and harvested and sealed in all their freshness. He gave a most interesting description of the growth and development of the great food industries of today. He told of the great research work sponsored by the industry, described the fascinating story of the nation's harvests from the garden to the finished products in the store; how machinery uncanny beyond belief does the work without the touch of human hands; how foods just a few minutes from the garden are prepared and sealed in all their goodness in the twinkling of an eye.

The "tin can" Mr. Sturdy explained, is not made of tin but of the finest pure steel and is turned out by magic machines at the rate of 325 per minute. The proper way to buy and use canned foods was interestingly described and the many new improvements and varieties of foods now in the market explained.

Mr. Sturdy devotes his entire time to the lecture platform and addresses groups all over the United States who write in requesting his talks.

May Day Will Be Child Health Day

May Day will be celebrated as Child Health Day by school, health and welfare agencies in Michigan and throughout the nation, it was announced this week by Miss Marjorie Delavan, director of education for the Michigan Department of Health, who has been appointed as state May Day chairman.

Since 1924 the first day of May has been set aside to call attention to those permanent community services which promote the health, happiness and well-being of every child, the chairman announced. The objective of May Day observance this year, said Miss Delavan, is to urge every community to make full use of its resources in order to insure to children safe birth, normal growth, and protection against disease and accident in their progress from infancy to maturity.

Suggestions for exhibits, demonstrations, programs, plays and games have been prepared by the Michigan Department of Health to assist local groups in the observance of May Day—Child Health Day. These materials may be obtained upon request of the State May Day chairman at Lansing.

UNEMPLOYED MAY COLLECT

Many persons who are now idle are entitled to lump-sum benefit payments under the old-age insurance portion of the Social Security Act, according to Richard H. Hendrick, manager of the Jackson field office of that agency of government.

"There are many persons who are now temporarily unemployed who are entitled to but have failed to claim these benefits," Hendrick said.

"Persons who have worked in commerce or industry covered by the Act since January 1, 1937, are entitled to lump-sum benefit payments equal to 8 1/2 per cent of such wages. It is not necessary to retire to receive these benefits. In many cases employers place the names of furloughed workers in an inactive file and thus do not report to the U. S. Collector of Internal Revenue the fact that such employees have reached the age of 65 years and cease to be covered under the old-age insurance plan," Hendrick added.

He said the fact that no such report is made deprives the social security field office of an opportunity to contact workers who have reached this age and are entitled to lump-sum benefit payments. Any person who has become 65 after having been employed in an occupation covered by the Social Security Act should apply at once for a lump-sum benefit payment, Hendrick said. His office serves all of Jackson, Washtenaw, Lenawee and Hillsdale counties.

METHODIST HOME

On Tuesday, Miss Bidwell celebrated a birthday with the assistance of her niece, Miss Eikenstock, and her friend, Mrs. Rustling, both of Brighton. They brought a sumptuous dinner, from which a cake came down to the supper table. After each one at the table had enjoyed a generous serving of the birthday cake, Miss Bidwell well not to confine herself to merely one birthday each year. It was suggested that several be observed.

Mr. Palmateer was cheered on Thursday by a visit from his son and daughter-in-law from Detroit.

Home of Beautiful Women
From time immemorial Arles, France, has been the home of beautiful women. It is one place where feminine beauty is so general that it becomes monotonous. In the ruins of the amphitheater here may be seen the gladiators' cells and the cages in which the wild beasts were kept between their battles in the arena. At Montmajour, near Arles, is the famous abbey of the Benedictines, dating from the Tenth century.

Plan Immunization Program In County

The Washtenaw County Health Council, under the direction of Miss Pearl Hulet, is planning a county-wide immunization program for smallpox and diphtheria.

Do you know that in 1937 there were 842 cases of diphtheria in Michigan and 152 cases of smallpox with a total of 74 deaths? This is not necessary as we have a preventative for it.

State Commissioner of Health, Dr. Gutekunst, is warning all parents to have their children vaccinated against smallpox because the number of cases are increasing very rapidly in Michigan. We have five cases within Washtenaw county.

The clinic will be held in the Chelsea high school gymnasium Thursday morning, April 28 at 9 a. m. At this time the toxoid and Schick test for diphtheria, also the vaccination for smallpox will be given.

We ask the cooperation of every mother who has children between the ages of six months and 12 years to have their children immunized either by their family doctor or through the clinic.

We wish to thank the mothers for their cooperation during the tuberculosis campaign and are pleased to give this information in regard to it: There were 2,645 children tested in Washtenaw county. 200 X-Rays were given and just one boy, from Whitmore Lake, had a positive chest. He is now in a tuberculosis hospital.

Sincerely hoping you will cooperate with us again during this campaign. (Signed) The County Health Council.

Production of 1939 Plates Starts May 1

Manufacture of 1939 motor vehicle license plates will begin at the State Prison of Southern Michigan, at Jackson, about May 1, immediately after completion of the last of the 1938 half-year plates.

Use of Michigan-made materials in the making of these license plates has increased by about a third because of the replacement of the old windshield "sticker" with metal plates.

The manufacture of 1938 motor vehicle license plates involved 1,245 tons of steel and approximately 10,000 gallons of paint. There were 2,439,800 pairs of plates made for 1938. To handle them required an equal number of envelopes, and 49,792 cartons for shipment from the prison to the branch offices of the Department of State. Plates for 1939 will show black letters and numerals on a buff background.

Mountains in Scotland
Scotland, which is a small country, contains wide valleys, immense moors, great estuaries and lofty mountains, which give an appearance of vastness. While these lofty mountains are found to measure a height of barely 4,800 feet, the towering paradox is explained that they rise from sea level so that the full majesty is visible to the eye, giving the appearance of great heights.

Soc. Security Numbers Increase in Michigan

Social security account numbers had been issued to 1,810,207 Michigan workers at the end of March, Richard H. Hendrick, Jackson manager of the Social Security Board, announced today. The state increase in account numbers during March amounted to 15,696, Hendrick said.

The national total at the end of February was 37,781,710, according to a Social Security Board report received at the Jackson office.

"For each account number issued there is a ledger sheet set up for the purpose of recording the wages paid to each employee," Hendrick explained. "Wage records submitted by employers showing wages paid to each employee are now being posted to the individual employee's account. These wage records will be the basis upon which the employee's monthly retirement annuity at age 65 will be computed."

Four Important Groups Form Parakeet Family

Parakeets are classified with the parrots from which they differ as a group mainly in their general small size, and in having longer tails, whether pointed or rounded, than the rather short and squarish tails of the parrot members of this family.

There exist four important groups of these birds. The group best known to this country, states a writer in the Montreal Herald, contains the conures, or American tropical parakeets, of which about 30 species are listed in books, all prevailing green, with brown faces and throats, and long-tailed; sometimes these may be taught to say a few words. A second group includes the ring-necked, most of the 25 or so species of which are marked by a collar of distinct color behind the head. All of these are natives of southern Asia or of Africa.

Of the third group, or true lovebirds, some ten kinds are commonly imported, all of African origin.

A fourth group comprises the broad-tailed "grass" parakeets of Australia, of which the only well-known species brought to America is the popular budgerigar, or shell parakeet, frequently called "love bird."

After all, parakeets are only small parrots, and in nature live virtually in the same way.

Highest Peak in Alps

Mont Blanc, the highest peak in the Alps, is in the French province of Haute Savoie near the Italian border. It is often erroneously supposed to be in Switzerland due to the fact that many travelers and tourists see the peak from Geneva, only 40 miles away.
