More Home Rule In Rural Areas Would Reflect 'Main Street'

Lansing—Michigan's state government today is thoroughly "Main Street."

Only one of six recently elected officials (Secretary of State Harry Kelly of Detroit) comes from a town that has more than 7,000 population. And Mr. Kelly is the only novice in state politics, the governor and lieutenant governor and treasurer and auditor general and attorney general all having served in various capacities of responsibility at Lansing.

The legislature, too, reflects the "Main Street" flavor of the Fitzgerald administration, as most of the members of the house and senate come from so-called rural areas—towns under 10,000 population and farming districts.

Therein has developed some interesting trends which merit watching.

More Home Rule?

Whereas the legislature two years ago (with the Republicans putting up little resistance) gave in to home pressure groups and went on a spending spree $17,000,000 in excess of anticipated revenue, the 1939 law-makers have been talking much about economy and "home rule."

Backed by the State Association of Supervisors, Representative Audley Rawson of Cass City (the governor's own choice for the post of majority leader in the house of representatives) has introduced a bill to restore more local control in administering relief.

In brief, this bill would allocate one-third of a $1,500,000 welfare appropriation to counties on a basis of population, one-third on a basis of relief cases during the past three years and the remainder on the basis of immediate needs.

While officials in industrial centers suspect that rural supervisors are using "home rule" as an excuse to get their hands on more welfare funds, the administration appears to be sincere in its belief that present handling of relief is top-heavy with salaries and unnecessary expenses. Economy is the key word.

Will home rule effect this saving? If costs are reduced at the expense

Kiwanians Hear New Lieutenant Governor

The new lieutenant-governor of Kiwanis division 6, "Bud" Schrader of Plymouth, made his official visit to Chelsea on Monday evening. After the regular order of business was completed, he spoke on the Kiwanis objectives for the year in Michigan and in International. Regular rather than perfect attendance is to be emphasized this year. Michigan will seek to create two new clubs during the year, and add 130 new members to the rosters of the existing clubs. Every member of every club should be placed on some committee, and the committees made to function. The reports from the Chelsea club, according to Mr. Schrader, show it to be active in every department.

Next week, Ed. Eaton, the program chairman will have charge of the meeting. He will present the program for underprivileged children carried on by the Alpena Club last year. There will be a discussion on the Boy Scout work, and whether Kiwanis will continue to sponsor this activity in the village as a part of its regular objectives.

Wildlife Stamp Series Are Very Interesting

Lansing—The poster stamp put out by the National Wildlife Federation for the second annual Wildlife Restoration week beginning Sunday, March 19, is said by stamp experts to be one of the most interesting ever distributed in the United States.

The sheets, of 80 stamps each, include trees, birds, wildflowers, mammals and fish. Noted wildlife artists, including Lynn Bogue Hunt, Roger T. Patterson, Francis L. Jacques, Fred Everett, Morgan Stinemetz, John J. Epsteiner and Leslie Ragan, contributed the drawings.

Coloring of the stamps is generally regarded as their most impressive feature. All the assorted coloration of the outdoors is vividly represented.

Purpose of the federation is printed at the top of the stamp sheet; "For uniting the efforts of all friends of outdoor America to the end that future generations shall have their rightful heritage of wildlife."

Jay N. (Ding) Darling, nationally known cartoonist and president of the federation, terms the stamps descriptive of two phases of the outlook of the federation. "First, they convey the rich beauty of American wildlife as pictured by a man who knows the outdoors and its creatures, and second, they show the range and variety of this country's wealth of wild spectacles."

Explaining the meaning of the stamps, he said "the antelope represents the great plains; the cougar, the mountainous west and the southern wilderness; the woodchuck and beaver, the northern woodlands. Every section of the United States has a portrait in this wildlife 'hall of fame.'"

Money from the stamp sale will be divided between the organizations making the sale and the National Wildlife federation. The stamps will be sold in Chelsea by The Rod and Gun Club.

Finest opportunities for observing Michigan ducks are encountered during the spring migrations, from March 1 to April 15, when the ducks are in full plumage and are less timid than during the fall hunting season.

24 Years Ago

A general push will be made in the vicinity of North Lake this week to open up the roads in their natural courses. It will take lots of shoveling. Gus Barth and family and Julius Barth left Monday for Cove, Oregon where they expect to make their home.

Dan Wacker and family are moving from the C. E. Whitaker farm in Lima township to his own farm in Lima in the near future.

Miss Martha Paul and Fred Bahmiller were married in Ann Arbor. They will reside on the farm of Wm. Paul in Lima.

W. F. Riemschneider, treasurer of Sylvan reports that all of the taxes levied in that township for the year 1904 have been paid except $6.41 and he expects that he will be able to secure most of that. This is a fine record.

L. Miller and sons, Frank and Dwight, who have resided in Chelsea the past 21 years have bought a drug and grocery store in Union City and will move to their new home next week.

34 Years Ago

Mrs. Harmon Holmes died at her home on Saturday, March 6, 1915.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Ward of Sylvan will leave next Tuesday for California to visit relatives and will attend the exposition at San Francisco.

Harry J. Pratt of Dexter a member of the hardware firm of Quish and Pratt, died at his home in that village Tuesday evening.

Mr. Pratt was a member of Olive Chapter R. A. M. of this place.

Miss Ruth Burgess and George T. Hatley both of Sylvan were married on Sunday March 7 at St. Paul's parsonage.

Simon Jedebe has sold his 55 acre farm in Freedom to Wm. Altenbent.

Daniel Davidson died at his home in Lyndon township on Monday, March 6, 1915.

Mr. and Mrs. Davidson purchased the Geo. A. Runman farm a year ago.

More Home Rule In Rural Areas Would Reflect 'Main Street'

of cities, how will the voters in cities react? (Alderman Kronk of Detroit reflects some of the resentment against upstate control; he is sponsoring home rule for Detroit by a movement to create a 49th state.)

A Brake on Spending

Governor Fitzgerald is not an advocate of state centralization of power. He, too, talks of "home rule."

In conferences with legislators he has suggested that the state administration should not solve home problems by acceding to fresh demands for more state funds. If the treasury is to be solvent, home communities must refrain from asking Lansing to shoulder more of their responsibilities, he has pointed out.

In the cause of home rule, therefore, lies the administration's hope of effecting economy in government. The trend for several administrations have been to create more bureaus at Lansing. Fitzgerald is trying to apply the brake.

Gambling Is Involved

When it comes to moral issues such as gambling, however, home rule is a horse of another color.

The governor at first took the attitude that gambling was a matter for local law enforcement by the sheriff and of prosecution by the prosecuting attorney. Slot machines and gambling resorts, he said, should be controlled by county authorities and not the state. "The reception of this policy was not cordial among rural people in general and among church people in particular."

In Macomb county irate citizens obtained a court injunction when a resort re-opened with brazen publicity. Last week the slot machines began to re-appear. Operators anticipate a busy season in the resort sections of northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula where home rule in morality has been lax, especially when visiting tourists arrive with pockets well filled with cash.

The latest deviation of the home-rule policy in gambling is that the administration will not tolerate syndicate control—a syndicate being an organization reaping profits from gambling in several counties. The complications are easy to forecast.

Civil Service

Eight bills on civil service have been introduced so far at Lansing.

Developments to date indicate that the legislature will yield to patronage pressure, repeal the present civil service law and open many jobs to competitive examinations.

Blanketing many Democrats in state jobs was accomplished by the 1937 legislature under the title of "qualifying" examinations for all those hired prior to January 1, 1938. For example, one state elected official discovered recently that the man on whom he was dependent for publicity releases is a Democratic county chairman. This state employee is protected by civil service. What is the Republican official going to do about it?

A check into the number of state employees added during the Murphy administration, however, has revealed the interesting fact that outright repeal of civil service might jeopardize the jobs of approximately 10,000 persons who were hired prior to January 1, 1937—many of them during the first Fitzgerald administration.

Senator Brake's Bill

Among the bills is one sponsored by Senator D. Hale-Brake of Stanton which would compel all employees, hired between January 1, 1937 and January 1, 1938, under "qualifying" examinations, to take competitive examinations.

This bill would also eliminate all present eligible lists and would exempt from civil service all divisional heads who were in a position to make policies.

Under Senator Brake's bill the Democratic county chairman, for example, could retain his job by proving his competence through an open competitive test. The fairness of such an examination would depend, of course, on the civil service commission and its director—as would be the case in any administration, Republican or Democratic.

The Stanton Republican, chairman of the Senate Judiciary committee, is one of the outstanding influential leaders in that chamber. Hence his views are of significance in the present civil service controversy.

Spring Election

With the spring election only a month away, the legislature is proceeding more cautiously on controversial issues that might develop into campaign issues.

The labor mediation board plan is one.

This measure, proposing a 10-day "cooling off" period between declaration of strike and the actual walk-out, was originally drawn up with numerous restrictions on both employer and employee. Among other things it outlawed sit-down strikes which were responsible more than anything else for the downfall of the Murphy administration last fall.

The United States Supreme court has taken the sit-down strike problem off Fitzgerald's hands.

And with another campaign in the offing, legislators are inclined today to postpone action on the labor bill until after votes have been counted. Many teeth in the present bill will be removed, it is believed, more dependency being put on public opinion than on legal penalties.

Hunting Supervised By Farm Operators

More than 6,000 farmers in Michigan participated in 1938 in co-operative game management activities on their farms.

Projects in which the farmers operated were sponsored through service of the agricultural extension service of Michigan State College and the game division of the Michigan State Department of Conservation.

Cooperatives of farmers were organized under the "Williamston Plan" which has been in operation in the vicinity of that town since 1931.

In the 20 counties which found farmers using the plan last year, there were 450,000 acres of farm lands involved.

Primary reason for organization was to control trespass, but other wild life aids are being followed by the farmer cooperators.

These include curtailing unnecessary burning and draining of lands that offer cover and feed for game, and the protection of natural growth on unused or eroded areas. In exchange for these activities, members of the groups are furnished necessary signs for posting lands, and tickets which may be issued to desirable hunters.

Advice on proper administration by farmers of these hunting areas also is furnished by the college and the co-operating state conservation department. R. G. Hill, college specialist in game management, is aiding in the wider distribution of use of this plan.

Paper Wall Hangings Used Paper wall hangings were originally used as inexpensive substitutes for costly brocades and tapestries, and first appeared, to any noticeable degree in the Seventeenth century.

Senior Play

The Senior play "Is Zat So" will be presented tonight instead of tomorrow night, as previously announced. The story centers around a prize fighter and his manager who come to live with a Fifth Avenue family. Complications arise because of the "ring-side" saloon of these boys and the romantic element that floats through the play combine to make "Is Zat So" one of the best plays ever presented in Chelsea high school. The admission is 20 and 25 cents.

Junior Play

The final Junior play tryouts were held Monday and work on the play will begin soon. The story, "The Late Christopher Bean," was a successful comedy. The Junior class will put "all they've got" into it and you may be sure of a fine play as a result.

Senior Annual

Edwards Brothers, Ann Arbor, with whom we have contracted to print the 1939 edition of the senior reminder, put a representative to confer with the staff. It was decided to have eight instead of seventy-two pages, as has been the custom. It was also arranged to have photographs and cartoons throughout all of the advertising section. This is a departure from the usual procedure. All in all the annual is expected to be bigger and better than ever so place your order with any senior early!

Senior Trip

A representative of Youth Travel visited the Senior class Monday. Color series of the 1938 Senior Mackinac trip were shown. He also explained the very popular Toronto trip via the Walpole canal. Both the Mackinac and Toronto are three day trips. The Mackinac trip consists of: leave Detroit, sail up Detroit river to Lake St. Clair past St. Clair Flats to the Walpole Indian reservation; to Algona, Marine City, St. Clair, Port Huron and the new Blue Water bridge; out into Lake Huron. The evening would be spent in parties and dancing. The next day the boat would dock at Mackinac Island. The day will be spent in exploring the island. The boat will leave in the late afternoon for a night of sailing down Lake Huron. The third day would bring us down the river to Detroit where the boat will dock at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The rest of the day would be spent in tours of Greenfield Village, radio stations and the many other interesting places in Detroit.

This trip was taken by the Seniors last year.

"District Champs"

Chelsea High's Basketball team has again won the district tournament held this year at Michigan Center. This is the second time in two years. Chelsea drew Michigan Center in the first round and defeated them by the score of 39-21. Kelly Schneider led the locals with 9 points. Stevens led Center with 12 points.

Friday night we played East Jackson who had drawn a bye. This was a rough and hard fought battle with Chelsea on top at the final whistle score 26-18. John Alber led with 10 points.

Saturday night Grass Lake played Chelsea for the championship. The local lads were slightly over confident but managed to take the ball game 24-19. Kelly Schneider again led gathering 10 points. Another feature of the game was Jake Alber accurate foul-shooting, his foul-shots were the margin of victory.

Chelsea now has "one trophy and will be passing and shooting for another at Albion this weekend. The least we can do is to give the boys our fullest support.

Children In Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield

A very talented and attractive young girl was brought into court by her parents because they had been unable to control her. Their recital of her misdemeanors was touched with a sort of pride; the review of many of her pranks provoked their laughter. This young lady had a good home and a fundamentally good training, but her parents had always typed her cute and had laughed at her disobedience from the time she was a little girl.

The girl was shrewd and learned to circumvent parental discipline. This girl had learned to avoid punishment by playing on her parents' sense of humor. The time had come, however, when the school authorities and other persons failed to appreciate her clever pranks. Such an attitude of indulgent good humor often engenders conceit, selfishness and flagrant misdeeds in the offspring of parents of high standing.

Monday morning at the Ford factory building project in Brooklyn brick work was started on the north side of the building. Much of the north face of the building will be glass, but the piers and panels will be outlined with this red brick veneer over the heavy walls and piers of reinforced concrete. —Exponent.

Your best friend should have told you: You can buy a Buick for—

*Subject to change without notice. Transportation, state and local taxes, if any, optional equipment and accessories extra.

The model illustrated is the Buick SPECIAL model 41 four-door touring sedan $896 delivered at Flint, Mich.*

WERE talking about that friend of yours who owns a 1939 Buick—

You've heard plenty from him, naturally, about the fresh-as-the-morning-breeze styling of his taut and trim new Buick—and the way it perks abody up just to look it over!

You've listened while he sang the praise of a ride that's like a lullaby—soft and gentle as a tender touch, but sure, unwavering, steady, in cross-wind or at speed.

No doubt you've sensed his joy at those eight eager Dynaflex cylinders, that need only the gentlest sort of hint to hike you straight to the forefront—and the snug and reassuring steadiness of this low-swung, stable stepper's gait!

All of which is well and good, and not to be disputed. But has your good friend told you this:

... That Buick's prices are easily the lowest prices for the value you'll find anywhere on automobile row?

... That this far-ranging, great-hearted eight—with all the sky-larking life those extra cylinders give it—still costs less than some sixes?

... That factory list figures run anywhere from $51 to $102 less than a year ago—and that they buy worlds more in self-banking Knee-Action, Handshift transmission, 15% softer BuicOil Springing, visibility stepped up as much as 412 square inches, any number of so-called "extras" such as the Flash-Way direction signal?

If he hasn't told you this, it's plainly time to do this:

Get dollars-and-cents figures on what the model of your choice will cost delivered in your driveway!

That will prove, we think, that Buick's the car and the value of the year. And we're certain—sure it will tell you what your best friend may have forgotten—this shining star is in your reach, so why should you be without it?

Hi-Y Activities

Bean porridge hot; Bean porridge and apple pie a-la-mode were the outstanding features of the Hi-Y and F. F. A. joint meeting last Tuesday in the gym. The a-la-mode was an F. F. A. product furnished by Martin Merkel.

The after-dinner program in charge of Richard Riemenschneider and J. D. West, consisted of the opening F. F. A. ritual and comments by Mr. Roy Walls, leader. Hi-Y Fellowship cards were presented to the new members by Mr. V. W. Downing.

leader, Rev. Lawrence Dorr gave a short inspirational address to the boys which concluded the formal part of the evening.

While the privileged few washed the dishes the rest of the boys were assigned the task of filling the buckets at either end of the gym.

The Hi-Y club expresses its appreciation to Dr. A. L. Brock for printing the special order of two hundred key cases, and to Mr. David Ois for the making of leather tools. The club is also grateful to a group of Chelsea men for their interest and investment in the Hi-Y work. Mr. J. N. Strieter has been receiving investments from these men at his place of business for the Hi-Y club.

Hi-Y is a new organization in the Chelsea school for the older boys. It centers around the promotion of clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living. Its program is varied and directed largely by the worthwhile interests of the State and National Hi-Y Fellowship and is working to meet its local and State obligation in the amount of twenty dollars. The club is also collecting a library of books for boys.

In the near future the club will enjoy an evening of swimming in the Men's Union pool at Ann Arbor. Mr. Howard Holmes is making the arrangements for the club.

Our Neighbors

Samuel Denton was born Nov. 7, 1888, on the farm south of the village of Gregory, where his brother, Dan H. now lives. He married Elizabeth Johnson who passed away several years ago. Because of an accident he lost his sight while yet in his twenties, but he led a useful life and cared for his family. He made brooms for a living for several years before going into the store business where he also operated a telephone switchboard for 40 years. He had remarkable hearing and could distinguish voices after hearing them once. Being in ill health a few years, he was stricken February 21, and passed away February 26, aged 80 years, 8 months and 18 days. — Brief-Sun.

Mr. Denton was well-known in Chelsea and sold brooms to the merchants here.

Dundee was the scene of another major accident last Saturday when a freight train on the Ann Arbor Railroad was derailed at the US-23 crossing, closing the highway for 24 hours and causing damages to railroad property estimated at $50,000.00.

The bridge, built in 1920, was badly damaged. All the rails were torn up on the bridge and great gaping holes were made in the rows of ties. Bridge girders bulged outward. Two cars, gondola cars plunged in the river one on either side of the bridge, with the upper ends resting on the bridge tracks. Two other freight cars tumbled into the river Sunday when wrecking cranes were unable to hold them while other cars dangled in the bridge girders were being moved. At least five other freight cars were in the jumbled mess on the bridge. 19 cars were wrecked. — Reporter.

Honey Institute

Issues Report

First assembling by the newly organized Michigan Honey Institute of reports on supplies and prices of Michigan honey has issued with the co-operation of G. N. Motta of the economics department of Michigan State College.

In the first two weeks of February there was 110,000 pounds of honey marketed by 45 Michigan producers. Many beekeepers express discouragement at comparatively low prices, but state and national marketing reports indicate that a search for outlets by some of the most active producers is resulting in sales.

Most prevalent in the market is the white extracted Michigan product. This represented 94,765 pounds of the 110,000 pound total. Prices ranged from five cents in carlot to the top of 18.4 cents a pound when sold in pound glass jars.

Encouraging in the bee business has been the favorable weather. Colonies appear to be coming through the winter in satisfactory condition. Bees have had winter flights in southern and eastern Michigan, although elsewhere in the state the colonies are in need of weather favorable for an occasional flight.

Michigan's national ranking in second place in honey production is apparent in important honey marketing centers. Michigan honey predominates in Detroit, Chicago and New York markets over that from other states.

Check your tires regularly. Keep them at the right pressure. Underinflation can wear out a tire in a hurry and will cause the wheels to "shimmy."

Overinflated tires, on the other hand, make for harder riding.

You can't tell if a tire has enough air by kicking it. The only way to be sure is to use a gauge. Check your tires frequently. "It's Smart to Drive Carefully!"

Mrs. Wm. H. Lehmann who is in an Ann Arbor hospital, is reported to be improving nicely and her little son has been brought to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Harvey north of town, where he will be cared for until the return of Mrs. Lehmann.

The high school pupils who have been ill have recovered and resumed their classes, except Naomi Bohne who had ear complications, both ears having abscessed. She has been in great pain but is improving satisfactorily now, it is thought.

Dwight to illness, Walter Gardner was unable to report for work in Hillsdale Monday. Mrs. Gardner and Evelyn are also on the sick list. Roy John who was ill last week is able to be about again.

Relatives here received word Sunday of the auto accident in which Mr. and Mrs. Milton G. Bohne were passengers. While waiting at an intersection in Monroe where they had been visiting a truck approached from the rear and bumped into them. They were badly shaken up, and the automobile damaged, but they were able to return to their homes in Jackson. Mrs. Bohne was suffering from shock, as well as bruises, and was taken to a Jackson hospital for care.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lyon entertained friends from Detroit over the week end.

Mrs. Robert Rearden and Miss Mildred Bohne of Jackson spent Sunday evening at the Herman Bohne home. Monday afternoon Mrs. Olin McCurdy and Clifford Bohne were visitors.

Michigan Leads In Pickle Crops

If the nation's pickle eaters fail to get their fill in 1939, it isn't Michigan's fault; for growers in this state last year harvested 25,000 acres of cucumbers to get an estimated billion pickles.

That's a fourth of the national production, as figured out by E. L. Seaton, horticulturist, and F. W. Fabian, bacteriologist of the staff of Michigan State College.

The two men were leaders at East Lansing in the recent midwinter technical school for pickle and kraut packers which attracted plant managers and technicians from 15 states and Canada. The schooling is designed annually as a service to the industry, utilizing so much of the Michigan production of cucumbers for pickles and cabbage for kraut.

One of the men attending the conference was Roy Jones, Clyde, Ohio, secretary of the National Kraut Packers' association. He placed Michigan fourth in kraut cabbage, yielding a large share of the 1,200,000 cases packed in 1938 and now being consumed. The 192,000 tons fill 254,000 average size cans.

Insects and crop diseases were discussed at the conference, as well as new information on vitamins, flavors, control of bacteria and use of various sugars and acids in processing the food products.

Short Course at M. S. C. Graduates 323

From the record enrollment in the winter short courses at Michigan State College the annual commencement program Friday, March 3, provided diplomas for 323 men and women.

Fifty-five counties and four other states are represented in those completing the work. Graduates from Washtenaw county completing the two year General Agriculture course include Robert H. Gilbert, North Lake.

Courses in which the students were enrolled included the two-year schedule of 16 weeks in general agriculture. Eight weeks courses which began January 3, included work in general agriculture, W. K. Kellogg Foundation Scholarship courses for men and for women, dairy production and dairy management, poultry, agricultural engineering, practical floriculture, home economics, forestry and wildlife conservation, commercial fruit production and park maintenance, and arboriculture.

E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture, served as chairman of the exercises for those who had completed the courses under the supervision of R. W. Tenny, short course director.

'Firewater' Appropriate Name
"Firewater" was an appropriate name for some of the liquor once sold to the American Indians. Often, says a writer in Collier's Weekly, it was a boiled concoction consisting of alcohol, ginger, molasses, tobacco and red pepper that made real whisky seem mild.

Tracing Word 'Eclipse'
In spite of the fact that you generally associate the word "eclipse" with the moon and sun, it might just as well apply to things closer home. For by going back far enough, you can see that the Greeks joined "ek" ("out") to "leipo" ("to leave") to give them "eclipse" and ultimately furnishing our "eclipse."

Pineapple of American Birth
The exotic pineapple is of American birth. Wild pineapples, growing in highland forests of interior Brazil and Paraguay, resemble the ancestors of the cultivated fruit—a fat-like three-inch "apple," full of black seeds and topped by a tuft of grassy spears of leaf. Several centuries of domesticated life have improved the species to a size approaching 12 pounds in weight and to a state of complete seedlessness. New plants are started from slips of old ones. Air plants, such as the Spanish moss festooning with delicious gray the trees of Florida and Louisiana, are cousins to the pineapple.
