Local Library Provides Adequate Public Service

The Chelsea Public Library is used by the people of the adjoining townships, especially Lima, Sylvan, Lyndon, Sharon, and part of Dexter, the first two also contributing directly to its support.
Anything that would tend to injure the service that the Chelsea Library can give to these townships should naturally be very carefully considered.
Recently many of our people have received literature promoting a county library, this propaganda painting a glowing picture of benefits to be derived if the county will add this new expenditure of money.
Everyone knows that each community can afford only a limited amount of expense for library service so it seems obvious that the Chelsea Library would suffer if another unit, which would largely duplicate such service is established.
On this account the Chelsea Library Board called together a group of people who have, through the years, been in active touch with this matter as it affects the interests of the people of the northwest part of Washtenaw county. This group of people was unanimous in its feeling that a county library would be injurious rather than helpful to this part of the county.
If the present arrangement is changed, State funds now being used very frugally in such communities as Chelsea, will be transferred and used to establish just another organization which cannot help but largely duplicate the work now being done by the local communities.
It is felt by those directly interested in these smaller communities that we can serve our immediate surrounding territory very much better and at much less expense than can the larger and more cumbersome county organization.
The Chelsea Library has had full village aid for only one year, and State aid for only a few months, and yet it is serving the surrounding territory to a marked degree, and will continue to extend this service.
No outside unit can possibly command and stimulate the interest of our people in library service as can an organization like the Chelsea Library located in our midst.

Local Lenten Services
Are a Great Success
The united Lenten services held by the local churches have been a great success this year. Every Wednesday night the churches have been filled with worshippers to the very doors. One night was designated as young people's night, when the Methodist young people entertained those from the other churches. After the service a get-together was held in the basement of the church, and refreshments were served.
Each minister has taken his turn at the preaching. The program has included Rev. Henry Lenz of Salem church, and Rev. H. Addis Leeson from the Methodist Home. The choir of the various churches added to the value of the services by special anthems.

One service remains of the present series. It is the Community Good Friday service, which will be held at the Methodist church under the auspices of St. Paul's church, its minister, Rev. P. H. Grabowski, and its choir. Last year there was an overflow attendance at this meeting. Not only was the sanctuary packed with worshippers, but the large room at the back was filled. The ministers hope for an even greater response at the coming service. Each of the resident pastors will speak for ten minutes on some word from the Cross. The Kiwanis club will attend in a body. The service begins at 1:30 promptly, and will close as promptly at 8:00.

NEW GAS STATION PARTNER
Alvin Foor, who has been employed at Palmer Motor Sales for several years, has acquired the interest of R. F. Wenk in the Mobil service station, South Main and Lincoln streets, and is now associated with Lewis Wahl in conducting the station. The station is now operated under the firm name of Wahl & Foor, and they will continue to sell all Mobil products, Firestone tires, etc.

S. A. ENTERTAINED AT SALINE
The S. A. club motored to Saline Friday evening where they were entertained at the home of Mrs. Theo. Stimpson. Mrs. Norbert Morkel held high score in bridge and also won the traveling prize. The hostess served refreshments.

SPECIAL SERVICES AT ST. MARY
On Good Friday morning services will be held at St. Mary church at 8:15, and in the afternoon from 2:00 to 3:00 the Stations of the Cross service will be conducted.

CHICKEN SUPPER
The Ladies' Aid Society of St. Paul's church will serve a chicken supper at the public school gym on Tuesday, April 11, starting at 5:30. Price 35c and 50c. Adv.

PROCLAMATION

To the People of Chelsea:
According to an ancient practice in Christian civilization, Christian people have reverently observed the anniversary of the death of our Lord. From time immemorial on the day called "Good Friday" they have reflected upon the truths connected with His death.

To make it convenient for all Christian people of Chelsea to attend their respective places of worship, and to lend encouragement to such a wholesome practice, I, Roy Harris, President of the Village of Chelsea, request that on Friday, April 7, 1939, the year of Our Lord, 1939, all commercial enterprises discontinue business from twelve o'clock noon until three o'clock.

By Order of Village President,
Roy Harris.

Administration At Lansing Faced With Taxation Problem

Lansing—To tax or not to tax, that is the question.

Once again an administration at Lansing is confronted with the very distasteful prospect of imposing additional taxes. If the estimated $25,000,000 deficit for the current fiscal year is to be reduced and if expenses and receipts of the forthcoming fiscal year are to be balanced, the state administration must obtain more money from one source or another.

And there's the rub—who is going to pay the Piper?

State Treasurer Miller Duncel believes that the sales tax should be increased from 3 to 4 cents. The revenue from the additional cent would be segregated for the sole purpose of paying off the $25,000,000 deficit. Treasurer Duncel would have it tagged the "Murphy tax".

Brown Opposes New Taxes

Auditor General Vernon J. Brown offers a seven-point budget balancing program to solve the state's financial problem without creating another levy or increasing an existing tax.

1. Abolish payroll increases ordered by the civil service commission, and thus save "at least" $1,000,000 a year.
2. Abolish most commissions, bureaus and boards created by 1937 legislation, thus saving "more than" $1,000,000 a year.
3. Revise formula for distribution of state aid to public school to equalize districts that raise no school taxes locally and other districts which get more than they need, thus saving $13,000,000 a year. School aid this year was $28,000,000.

4. Revise property tax law and tax intangible property at a special low rate. Intangible property is now taxable at the same rate with real estate property, the rate being higher than the yield and hence not being enforced. The 1937 state tax commission started a movement to enforce (Continued on next page)

Evening School To Hold Pot-Luck On April 12

A get-together of members and guests who have attended the 1939 evening school at Chelsea high school will be held Wednesday evening, April 12 at 7:00 o'clock in the public school gym. Those who attend are requested to furnish their own dishes, sandwiches, and one additional dish.

Under the mastership of Roy Ives, a short program of word and fun will be presented. Mr. Morse, superintendent of Grass Lake schools, will give a talk on Evening Schools. Roy Wallis will present certificates of achievement to members attending a high percentage of the past meetings.

George Brettschneider will outline future plans for the 1940 Agricultural Evening School. Entertainment will be presented by the brass quartet, under the leadership of Robert Dunstan.

All arrangements are being made under the direction of Henry Heim.

WRITES FROM FLORIDA
Rev. Harvey Pearce of North Lake, who with Mrs. Pearce has been spending some time in Florida, wrote the following note to the Standard last week:

"Last night Mrs. Pearce and I had delicious strawberry shortcake and a wonderful visit with Sam Mapes and his wife at Lakeland. Sam remembers everyone around Chelsea for the last fifty years and regaled us with stories about friends of the other days. Later in the evening we all called on Mr. and Mrs. Herchel Watts from North Lake. The Watts' are tanned brown and looking healthy and happy. We expect to get back to the farm some time in the first week of April."

ATTEND LENTEN PLAY
The Junior Choir girls of St. Mary church were guests of Rev. Fr. Lawrence Dorr at a Lenten play, "Barter," given Sunday afternoon by the academy girls of St. Joseph's College, Adrian.

Republicans Win At Election On Monday

Voters of Michigan gave the Republican ticket a complete victory at Monday's election, all candidates on that ticket winning in the state election by a comfortable margin. The winners include two supreme court justices, superintendent of public instruction, two university regents, two members of the state board of agriculture, and a member of the state board of education.

Approval was given the proposed amendment to the state constitution providing for the non-partisan election of judges. The proposal which would have broadened the powers of circuit court commissioners was defeated.

In the only contest in Washtenaw county, Julius W. Haas (R) of Freedom township defeated Miss Cora L. Haas, Democratic incumbent, by the small majority of 70 votes. Mr. Haas will assume the duties of the office on July 1.

Supervisor Fred G. Broesamle (R) was re-elected in Sylvan township without opposition, as was Robert A. Wheeler, Democratic clerk. Paul F. Niehaus (D) was re-elected justice of the peace, and William Schatz (D) was re-elected constable. Republicans won all other offices in Sylvan.

The vote for township and county candidates in Sylvan and nearby townships was as follows:

Bowling Champions To Appear In Chelsea

Chelsea bowling fans will have the opportunity next Monday evening of witnessing a championship team in action at the Chelsea Hotel alleys, when the Silver Foam-Eldorado team of Jackson will oppose the Daniels Traveling team.

The Jackson team won the city championship this year, and they recently defeated the world champion Strohn team of Detroit in an exhibition game. Included on the Jackson team is Don Beatty, world A. B. C. all-events champion in 1938. He carries an average of 220.

Daniels' team consists of James Munro, Geo. Seitz, Julius Eger, Harold Gueatal and Geo. Mansfield. They ordinarily roll about a 2700 game, while the visiting team's average is about 3000. The local boys will have the regulation handicap—but in spite of that local betting apparently favors the champs from the west.

This event has been arranged through the efforts of George Seitz. The management of the hotel alleys is making arrangements to seat an added number of spectators so that as many as possible may witness this outstanding event. The game will start at 8 o'clock.

SEE ENGLISH TRAIN

Many Chelsea people lined the Michigan Central right of way on Monday night to view the Coronation Scot, new British luxury streamliner, which went through here about 10:20. The train is making a tour of the East and Mid-west previous to being exhibited at the New York World's Fair.

The train consisted of eight cars and went through Chelsea about 85 miles an hour. It was well lighted and with the help of a brilliant moon local residents had a good view.

The locomotive weighs 262 tons, can travel at 114 miles per hour and has a working boiler pressure of 250 per square inch and a tractive effort of 40,000 pounds. Its tender carries 10 tons of coal and 4,000 gallons of water. The engine is fired by hand. The train crew were assisted by New York Central men.

LAFAYETTE GRANGE

Lafayette Grange will meet at the hall Tuesday night, April 11. Program:

Opening song—Walter Beutler.
Reading—Helen Sias.
Recitation—Helen Sias.
Vocal solo—Paul Niehaus.
Reading—Mrs. Grossman.

Moving pictures will be shown by James Park of their pleasure trip to Florida the past winter. He has a better line of pictures than last year. The public is invited to come and see these worthwhile pictures.

Program will begin at 9 o'clock.

Administration At Lansing Faced With Taxation Problem

the intangible property tax, but Gov.
Murphy called it off.
5. Plug sales tax loopholes, thus collecting "several millions".
6. "Adopt a sane and sensible welfare plan."
7. Strict economy by the administration to the end that there is "severe pruning of every item of public expense."

Hope on Sales Tax

The auditor general is confident that efficient enforcement of the state sales tax, together with certain changes contemplated to aid collection, would result in many millions more for the state treasury.
Senate bill 114 by Senator George McCallum of Ann Arbor, chairman of the senate taxation committee, would require auto dealers of new and old cars to pay sales tax to secretary of state at time of registration or transfer.

This bill is expected to net approximately $5,000,000 more annually in sales tax collections.

McCallum's Tax Plan

Senator George McCallum, taxation committee chairman, has introduced a bill requiring the state tax commission to assess personal property at either of the following rates: 5 per cent of the annual income derived from stocks, bonds, etc., or one quarter of 1 per cent of the par value, whichever is the greater.

The present personal-property tax (now unenforced) averages 2.7 per cent of the par value, or 19 times as much as the McCallum proposal.
Exemptions: Government bonds, armory bonds, possessions of benevolent institutions, G. A. R. and Y. M. C. A. and similar groups, banks and trust companies, and insurance companies and utilities that now pay a specific tax.

Liquor Jitters

Liquor interests are slowly recovering from a bad case of jitters.
Because Governor Dickinson is an ardent dry in his personal life, many retailers and vendors of alcoholic beverages jumped to a hasty conclusion that Dickinson would try to return prohibition to Michigan.

The governor, president of the Michigan Anti-Saloon league, has let it be known that it was his duty to carry out the will of the people to the best of his ability—in other words, to permit sale of liquor under rigid control.

"Control," however, may be tightened up to require midnight closing for roadhouses outside of municipalities, enforce the prohibition of sale of liquor to minors, and perhaps to ban

Sunday liquor sales.

Mass production methods in industrial centers complicate the liquor enforcement picture somewhat. A worker whose "day" begins at 4 p. m. and ends at midnight usually abstains from taking a drink prior to going to work. When he finishes work at midnight, he is often in a mood for "relaxation"—a glass of beer or eg.

Muri DeFoe of Charlotte, "personal representative" of Governor Dickinson on the state liquor commission, formerly was convinced that the state store system was wrong and that the state should get out of the "liquor business". Today, looking from the inside out, he finds that he has changed his mind—that state monopoly is the only sure way to effect decent control.

Chorus News

The mixed chorus, which now consists of nearly forty members, has been busily engaged during the past weeks in learning the musical selections which have been chosen for the annual Chorus Festival. This festival is to be held Tuesday evening, May 9, at Grass Lake. Chorus from seven high schools in this vicinity—including Manchester, Grass Lake, Saline, Clinton, and Chelsea—will participate. This is the first year Chelsea has entered such a project.

Numbers for the festival include those for mixed voices as well as for boys' choruses and girls' choruses.
Rehearsals here have been scheduled for full chorus three times weekly, while various choral sections meet more frequently.

The girls' chorus is preparing a group of numbers to sing between acts of the Junior play, which is to be April 21.

Track!

Mr. Wallis issued a call to arms of all able-bodied students of Chelsea High with or without "flat feet" to assemble a track squad for competition with the Huron League schools.

The response included veterans and untried material in Oesterle, Atkinson, W. Birch, Combs, O. Schiller, Cook, Chas. Slocum, R. White, J.
Fletcher, Stricker, Eaton, Rabley, Loveland, and E. Osborne. Two new managers are being introduced to handle the daily chores in "Stan" Policht and Kusterer.

Regular attendance and eligibility requirements with condition, knowledge, interest in running and field events, and cooperation of every member on the squad will put Chelsea where it wants to be.

There will be three home meets and four away, starting May 3.

It is hoped more of the fellows will come out for track to make at least three entries in each event, which are:
100-yd. dash, 220 yd. dash, 440 yd.
run, 1/2 mile run, 1 mile run, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, shot put, 120 yd. low hurdle, 1/2 mile relay (220 yd. dash).

Mr. Cameron will assist in coaching.

Children In Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield

Running Away to Avoid Punishment
A nine year old boy was brought into court for running away from home. He had been taken off a box car sixty miles distant. According to the boy's mother, he had fled from home on two previous occasions. The cause of his flight, in all instances, it was soon revealed, was that the child feared parental punishment for slight misdeemeanors.

The father believed in the old adage "spare the rod and spoil the child" and meted out punishment entirely out of proportion to the child's mistakes. At no time did he take into consideration the cause or motives for such misdeemeanors, nor did he give credence to a possible accident or to other mitigating circumstances.
The boy had lost his school books;
fearing drastic punishment, he left home.

Smart Riding Habit that's Easy to Acquire

The model illustrated is the Buick Special, model 41 four-door touring sedan $895 delivered at Flint, Mich.

YOU'VE probably noticed that most of the folks who drive Buicks come back again and again to this great automobile when it's time to buy a new car.

There are two reasons for that. One's a money reason; the other's a pleasure reason.

Sticking to Buick means you're sure every year that you're getting top value, and no hunting all over town to find it.

Repeating on Buick means that season after season you ride behind the ablest eight of its size in the world—the Buick valve-in-head straight-eight, that Dynaflex power-house that's livelier and smoother and thriftier than engines of other type.

Year after year you'll travel in comfort—the smooth, easy, level-going comfort of the torque-tube drive and BuicOil Springing, sailing along on a staunch and sturdy chassis that holds you true and steady to your course.

You always have room in a Buick—and this year you've a new and broader outlook through 412 added square inches of safety plate glass. And you're leading the style parade—no doubt about that—with appearance that's like a leaf from tomorrow's book.

All of which adds up, you'll find, to satisfaction so complete that once you've got the Buick driving habit, no other car quite seems to measure up.

Now this big strong resilient straight-eight costs less than you think. It's priced lower than a year ago—even below some sixes.

So why not simplify your car-buying for all time—get that smart Buick riding habit now.

In no other way that we know can you make sure of having so much fun. Or of getting so much value for every penny you spend!

Better buy Buick!

IN MEMORIAM
In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Mary Bollinger, who died one year ago, April 7, 1938:

Oh! that dear one, how we loved her,
Oh how hard it was to give her up,
But an angel came down for her,
And took her from our flock.

No matter where we go,
Mother can be seen,
For she's gone but not forgotten,
Oh, how we wish she were here.

For her place never can be filled,
Sad were those hours and those fatal days,
When God called our dear one away,
A loving mother so true and kind,

No other friend like her we find,
For all of us she did her best,
So may God grant her eternal rest—
Our Mother.

The Champion Speller

This year, for the first time, the Chelsea grade school entered the Detroit News spelling bee. The spellers were all taken from the 5th, 6th, 7th and 8th grades of our school.

Last Friday, March 31, forty students assembled in the gym to participate in the final bee held in our school. The introductions were made by Miss Hannigan and Maynard Oesterle was the pronouncer. The list of words used in this contest were taken from the spelling books of the four grades and the contest lasted for about one-half hour.

The winner of this spelling bee was Mary Ruth Christwell from the seventh grade. She became the school champion by successfully spelling the word "persuade". The runner-up was Jean Schrader of the eighth grade.

Mary Ruth will receive from the Detroit News a handsome bronze medal, designed by the great sculptor C. J. Vander Haef. It bears the head of the "Winged Victory", Pallas Athena, who was the goddess of wisdom. Also the winner will compete in the district contest which will take place on Friday, April 21. The place for this bee has not been announced. The judges for the spelling tournament were Miss Hannigan, Mr. Downing and Mr. Dunstan.

Hi-Y Activities

The Hi-Y club held its regular weekly meeting on Wednesday of this week in the club room. President Maynard Oesterle conducted a short business meeting and presented each member of the club with a Hi-Y triangle. These pins represent the investment of a few Chelsea business men in the Hi-Y boys and their work. The interest shown by our city is appreciated by the club and in turn it hopes to render service to the school and community.

The program for the meeting, led by the secretary, Robert Roy, and the treasurer, Frank Novas, centered around choosing a vocation. Much valuable material on this important question has been received from the State Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Lehman, who is assisting the Social Science department of our school was a guest at the meeting and contributed to the discussion of the topic.

MOUNTAIN MAN

HAROLD CHANNING WIRE

COPYRIGHT—HAROLD CHANNING WIRE W. N. U. SERVICE

Returning to where he had left Kit and the man, both tied to a tree, Breck mounted immediately, then gave his prisoner over to Sierra.

"He's all yours, Slim. Which way do you go from here? I'm dropping down to Temple where I can call Cook."

"Me, I'll head straight north," Sierra answered. "Just you sleep light from now on."

That was his casual farewell. It was past one o'clock in the morning when Breck reached Temple's cow camp. He rode through a meadow with cattle lying in dark blobs on silvery, dew-laden grass, then came to the corral, and continued beyond them, purposely avoiding the two cabins as he approached the forest service telephone. So far he had aroused no sign of life. He hoped to put in his call without waking Temple and Louise.

But as he cranked four rings and stood waiting, one cabin door opened and the old man peered out. Temple had not stopped to dress, but was prepared with a rifle across the bend in his arm. Breck turned away as headquarters answered.

"Hello, Cook," he said, and let the sound of his voice give identity. Nor in the brief report did he tell his location. "All OK," he offered tersely. "Slim is bringing back my mail."

The line became silent. Then, "Good enough. I'll call you later," Breck closed the iron box. Tom Temple had drawn on his boots and breeches and stood a short distance from his cabin. Breck motioned with one arm, saying as the man approached, "Sorry to get you up. Those bells do sound loud at night."

"No matter," Temple asserted, "I heard you before you rang. Thought maybe someone was looking over my horses." He pointed his rifle toward the corral. "Got some good stuff in there tonight; JG sent 'em over for the rodeo."

Temple shivered. "Gettin' cold out here. Will you put up, Ranger?"

"Thanks, but I've got to go on," Breck swung into his saddle, and then, riding away from camp, cast a swift glance backward.

Curtains at one window of the other cabin moved slightly. It might have been the wind.

In the first light of dawn he came again into the bowl of Rock House, for he had pushed Kit rapidly, calculating that Sierra would reach headquarters about the same time he returned to his own station. Cook would then call him at once.

His deduction was right. The telephone rang shortly after he had unsaddled.

"I'm coming over," was the whole of Cook's message.

That meant four hours in which Breck could sleep; and he suddenly felt the need of it. A few minutes later, when he lay fully dressed upon his bunk, Sierra Slim's parting words came back, and he dropped into the shadows with the Luger on a wall peg near his head.

It seemed his hand was still on the gun, placing it, when the thud of a horse aroused him. Instantly he swung his legs from the bunk. An animal had come up to the tie rack beyond the cabin window. Then he saw Dad Cook.

The door opened and the ranger came in, throwing down his saddle bags and giving his hat a fling toward the table. "Howdy, son. Gettin' a little shut-eye? Guess you need it. Pretty good 'job' of work you did last night."

Breck stood up, thoroughly awake now, and curious.

"What's our next move?" he asked.

"Ain't ours; it's theirs," Cook dropped onto a bench.

Breck returned to the edge of his bunk. "What do you mean?"

"A man in Jud Tillson's business," Cook explained, "can't have his plans go wrong more than once. You jumped onto his fire and took a prisoner. Jud's going to find out how come you knew all that before he does another thing. He's going to settle with someone and that means getting out in the open."

"Won't he settle things in his own camp first?" Breck asked.

"The ranger's gray-brows knitted sharply. 'You don't say a Tillson talked?'"

Breck nodded. "Art and a girl." "Well by God!" Cook paused; surveyed his boot toes, then looked up with a slow smile. "Don't that beat well. I never thought that was how you come to find out."

"Don't mistake Art," Breck advised him. "He probably doesn't know he told, and the girl is ignorant of it. I put things together and took a chance."

"And it worked," the ranger finished, "that's all we care about. What I said first still goes. Jud is bound to come out of his hole now. He may light on you. That's why I'm here—we'll go double for awhile."

"Where's Slim?" Breck asked. "Gone to Lone Tree with your prisoner. He'll bring a couple of good men back and meet us at Temple's rodeo, tomorrow. I'm guessing some more, but I don't think I'm far off. That gathering over there will be a good place to start trouble. In this country lots of parties end up in shooting. Women make dam fine excuses for gunplay. Tillson may add to his gang for this special occasion. On our side there'll be me, and Sierra, and the two he's bringing along; and you'll be the center of interest. How do you feel about that?"

Breck shrugged.

Cook smoked in silence. Presently he stood up. "Is your Senator friend around? I'd like to spend the afternoon getting acquainted." A quizzical smile spread over his leathered face. "And I'd sure admire to meet the girl that could make a Tillson talk!"

CHAPTER XXI

In matters of rodeo entertainment, Tom Temple was no short-horn. He knew the fundamentals, and how to supply them. This was his day.

About noon Breck came over the ridge trail and halted his party where they could look down on the cattleman's meadow. The scene had changed miraculously. The camp that had always been a quiet, secluded spot, now swarmed with life; horses filled the corral and were tied among the trees; men and girls moved in front of the cabins; smoke rose from barbecue pits in a clearing close to the stream; and the forest echoed with shouts, talk and laughter.

"Looks like quite a festa," the Senator observed, halting beside Breck.

The party moved down and was at once engulfed by the festa. Eating had already begun, with Temple himself, red-faced, beaming behind his gray beard, master of ceremonies at the barbecue pit. He wielded a long knife over quarters of beef, raked potatoes from the coals, poured coffee from five-gallon pots, and all the while kept up a running banter with those who passed around him.

"Howdy, ranger folks!" he called, brandishing his knife, "grub's up; set in!"

Sutherland waved to him. Irene nodded, though her eyes were sweeping over the throng. Breck, too, scanned the faces, looking for Louise. Presently he saw her sitting on a log near her cabin, a cowboy on either side and two standing in front. All were thoroughly enjoying themselves and the sight brought a sudden stab of jealousy. But Breck's duty was with the Sutherlands.

He felt responsible for them, and so while Cook rode off with the horses, he found places where they might sit, then, with the Senator, began to bring food.

Irene shrieked at the slabs of meat he brought. "My dear, a whole cow! Please give me just the leg."
