CHILDREN OF COMMUNITY INVITED TO HALLOWEEN PARTY NEXT TUESDAY

County Health Plan Is Adopted By Supervisors

The Washtenaw County Board of Supervisors, after two days of bitter controversy, adopted a proposal to establish a county health unit. The board passed the motion late Thursday afternoon by a vote of 18-14.

Voting for the health unit were the five Ypsilanti supervisors, and twelve rural supervisors, while six Ann Arbor members of the board and eight rural supervisors voted against the proposal.

The board also voted to refer the proposed budget of $18,900 to the finance committee, which will have the authority to recommend a larger or smaller budget for the board's approval later.

As outlined in the proposed health unit budget, the department staff will consist of a director, at a salary of $4,000; a sanitary engineer, at $2,000; three nurses, at $1,700 each; and a clerk at $1,200. Traveling expenses totaling $2,700 will be provided, plus $600 for rental of quarters and $500 for office supplies. It is expected that the state government will pay $3,000 and the federal government $4,500 toward the cost of the department. The approved motion specifies that Miss Pearl Haist, county nurse, is to be a member of the staff.

Voting for the health unit plan in addition to the five Ypsilanti supervisors were Albert C. Stein, John Cosner, Fred Blumhardt, Harry Cole, Homer Stoffer, Freeman Weber, Albert Riden, C. W. Carr, Emory Mulholland, Fred Broesamle, Carl Mast and Herman Oelke. Rural supervisors voting against the plan were Gilbert Madden, Edwin Schable, Leigh Beach, Charles Waltz, Mrs. George Alber, Edward E. Foster, Samuel Morgan and Albert Trinkle.

Plates for 1940 Ready For Branch Offices

The 1940 plates have been manufactured and are now being delivered to branch offices according to Harry E. Kelly, Secretary of State. This means transporting and checking in approximately 2,000,000 plates including Passenger, Commercial, Trailer, Motorcycle, Farm Commercial, Dealers and Manufacturers. Delivery must be completed and receiving reports checked and audited before consideration can be given to the date plates can be issued. Accompanying the plates are instructions to the branch managers which should set at rest any doubts as to whether or not special numbers will be issued for the next year.

Despite numerous public announcements to the effect that a uniform system of numbering will be in effect, Mr. Kelly reports that there still seems to be an impression in some quarters that exceptions will be made to this rule. The branch managers will be informed by their chief that plates must be issued in their numerical sequence and that every motorist from the Governor of Michigan down will be treated in the same manner.

"If all those persons who are asking me for special rulings that would enable them to retain their old license numbers, or to obtain new ones specially designed for them, understood the reasons for the adoption of the uniform system, I am sure they would withdraw their requests," said Secretary Kelly.

"First of all it should be understood that the uniform numbering system saves the taxpayers of Michigan no less than $40,000 a year. This in itself should be sufficient reason for the adoption of this plan. We make this saving of $40,000 by eliminating special mechanical operations in the production of the plates and reducing the amount of clerical service in handling them. In thus simplifying clerical operations, it naturally follows that departmental efficiency is improved."

FARMERS' CLUB MEETS

Local Man Wins Wool Trophies at Expositions

Fleeces from flocks in Michigan won more than their share of trophies and other awards in two recent expositions on the west coast.

In the Golden Gate Exposition wool show which drew 483 entries from various states and from Australia, New Zealand, Scotland, South Africa, Argentina, England, Canada and Uruguay, five fleeces from Michigan State College and other entries from individual flock owners drew high awards.

Other entries in the Pacific International Livestock exposition at Portland, Oregon, did not include entries from the college but Michigan farmers took four trophies and other prizes.

In the Golden Gate show, George E. Haist of Chelsea won first and second on two Black Top Delaine Merino ewe fleeces and also a first in the market wool class for wool graded as 80's and above which is the finest-bered wool produced. A. M. Borte and Son of Britton took first and fifth prize on Dorset fleeces. B. F. and W. E. Barnett of Pontiac showed fifth prize Cheviot fleeces. H. M. Calhoun of Bronson exhibited second prize American or Delaine Merino fleeces. O. W. Sober and Sons, Fowlerville, were awarded third, fourth and sixth on Shropshire wool. The college had fifth prize Southdown fleeces, third prize Black Top Merino, first prize Oxford and first in market class for wool graded as 48 to 50 or one-quarter blood combing.

At Portland, three exhibitors from Michigan won trophies. O. W. Sober and Sons took the Oregon Shropshire Breeders' association trophy for the best Shropshire ram fleece and the association trophy for the best Shropshire ewe fleece as well as two firsts. George Haist entered a fleece that was awarded a championship fine wool trophy as well as a first prize. Harry Crandell, Caro, exhibited wool that received the Williamette Valley Wool Growers' trophy for championship braid wool and four firsts for ewe and ram fleeces of the Cotswold and Lincoln breeds.

Michigan averages more than eight million pounds of wool annually, worth at times nearly three million dollars a year. Even higher returns, says George A. Brown, head of the animal husbandry department at the college, would be realized if flocks could be kept healthier, better fed and away from burrs in weed patches. Tying with sisal or binder twine also is poor practice, often helping reduce wool prices to a third of what they should be.

JANE WALKER INJURED

Miss Jane Walker suffered a severe head wound on Sunday afternoon in Toledo. The Misses Walker, accompanied by Miss Minnie Alexander, motored to Toledo and when forced to a sudden stop at a street intersection their car bumped the car ahead of them. Miss Walker was sitting on the back seat and was thrown forward and her head struck a brace in the top of the car. The wound was across her forehead—just below her hair and required more than 20 stitches to close the wound. She was taken to St. Vincent's hospital in Toledo, and she expects to return to her home this week. The car they bumped was not damaged and the occupants were uninjured. The Walker car was damaged slightly, but no glass was broken. The peculiar thing about the accident was that the glasses which Miss Walker was wearing were not broken.

Deer Hunters Spend Huge Sum of $4,000,000

By Gene Alleman

Lansing—Within a few days Michigan will harvest from thousands of acres of idle waste land a $4,000,000 crop.

Visitors to the No. 1 summer vacation-state may wonder at the apparent uneconomic worth of the vast forest acreage in the northern counties of the Lower Peninsula and those in the Upper Peninsula.

The fact still remains that 34,529 square miles of this territory in Michigan yielded last year an annual income of well over $100 per square mile.

Soon more than 160,000 red-clothed hunters will take to the Michigan woods in pursuit of the wily buck. Questionnaires distributed among the thousands of hunters indicate that the average hunter spends more than $25 during this 16-day hunting season, a grand total of more than $4,000,000 annually. This is a business appraisal and does not include the recreational benefit of a fall vacation in the north woods.

"Slaughter"

To the man on the street the idea of 162,301 hunters in 1938 (an average of 4.7 hunters per square mile) all seeking to kill deer might lead to a conclusion that deer are being slaughtered.

The state legislature in 1939 defeated bills which would have permitted the legal removal of additional deer from areas where large numbers of deer starve to death each winter.

Are deer decreasing in number?

Should the state protect them from wholesale "slaughter"? These are some pertinent questions which are important to the future of this $4,000,000 annual crop in Michigan. From the state conservation department in Lansing we have gleaned some timely information.

Where Hunting Is Best

Of the hunters who ventured forth last fall, those hunting in the Upper Peninsula were 43 per cent successful, while in the Lower Peninsula 23 per cent succeeded in killing bucks.

This wide variation might lead one to believe that deer were most plentiful in the Upper Peninsula. Quite the contrary is true. Of the 44,908 bucks bagged by lucky hunters, 26,482 came from the Lower Peninsula. This was brought about by the fact that 77 per cent of the hunters hunted below the Straits.

It raises the annual query of just how long the deer herd can stand this "slaughter" of males and continue to reproduce.

During the summer of 1938 conservation officers in the Upper Peninsula saw and identified 4,094 deer of which 19 per cent were bucks and 49 per cent does, a sex ratio of approximately one buck for each 2.53 does. This does not seem to be a serious situation after 18 years hunting under a "one buck" law. In the Lower Peninsula of the 4,758 deer seen and identified 766 were males or one buck for each 3.22 does. Fawn production seems to be decreasing slightly each year in comparison with the number of does seen, but it still holds to slightly less than one fawn for each 1.5 does.

Million Deer

Are deer increasing in number? During the past four years it has been possible, through the vast manpower in the Civilian Conservation Corps, to obtain fairly accurate counts of deer on measured areas. These counts indicate an average of more than 15 deer per square mile in the Upper Peninsula and over 42 deer per square mile in the Lower Peninsula. If these figures are accurate, and they are certainly more desirable than mere guesses upon which deer management practices have been based in the past, the conclusion is reached that there are more than one million deer in Michigan today.

Now comes a serious side to the deer question.

After the hunters go home, deep snows completely change the picture. Deer that during November roamed the entire deer area are soon confined to the more sheltered locations by deep snows. As snow depths increase and travel becomes more and more difficult, the winter range is restricted to smaller and smaller areas. By the time the winter is half gone, food begins to run low in the more heavily used wintering areas or "yards." In the Upper Peninsula only about ten per cent of the entire deer range is suitable for winter use. This restricted area is heavily grazed. In the vast Cusino yard in Alger and Schoolcraft counties, for example, the present deer herd that winters there is estimated to be less than one-tenth of what it was a few years ago.

Of the 253 wintering areas covering more than 1300 square miles in the Upper Peninsula investigated up to and including 1939, only 10 per cent contained an abundance of food for the deer using them. The rest of the land was either in poor or medium condition for winter browsing.

10,000 Deer Perish

The conservation department reports that lack of food caused the death of more than 7,000 deer, mostly fawns, in the Upper Peninsula and 3,000 in the Lower Peninsula during the winter of 1938-39.

In the Lower Peninsula serious conditions are not quite so widespread, but are much more severe where they do occur because of the much heavier concentrations of deer.

But these losses are not new. They have been reported from various locations in increasing numbers for past fifteen years. Similar conditions also prevail in Wisconsin, Minnesota, New York, Pennsylvania and other hunting states.

Artificial feeding has been found to aggravate the condition by causing increasing concentrations about the feed areas and resulting in larger and larger food bills year after year.

It has been proposed that Michigan hunters might profit from the experience of other states such as Pennsylvania or Arizona and harvest the surplus deer in the fall before they are forced to starve on inadequate range. To conservation authorities it has been evident that an insufficient number of deer are being removed under the existing buck law. We present this viewpoint not as our own, but as that of experts who have made a study of the subject.

Damage to Crops

Another increasingly serious problem arising in connection with the growth of the deer herd is damage to farm crops.

In a number of good agricultural areas farmers adjacent to wild land have actually been forced to quit farming because of the deer.

The conservation department at present is experimenting with 22 different types of deer-proof fencing. These are entirely experimental and appear far too expensive for general use. Summer trapping and removal have been contemplated, but baits are lacking which will attract deer away from the field and into traps.

As for the future, with a present shortage of winter food and continued growth of the forest killing off the low-growing, food producing vegetation, it is quite apparent to conservation students that the herd will decrease in many places. However, natural forest growth will always produce food with a certain deer carrying capacity. While it is likely that Michigan will always offer fair deer hunting, it is also likely that unless the remaining food is conserved and the herd properly managed, future hunting will be far below what it has been during the peak of the last few years.

Chelsea Wins

Last Wednesday two fumbles almost spelled the defeat of Chelsea, but Chelsea came back in the fourth quarter to score two touchdowns and capture her second victory in five starts. Roosevelt's first touchdown came after Chelsea fumbled on her own 20 yard line, Roosevelt took advantage of this and marched the remaining distance. Burrell scored the touchdown, however the extra point was no good.

Roosevelt's second touchdown came in the second quarter when Chelsea again fumbled the ball, on a kick-off, on her own 30. This time Skinner scored the touchdown, however they failed to kick the extra point again.

Chelsea looked very weak until suddenly, with eight minutes to play, Schneider ran off tackle for twenty yards and a touchdown. He also kicked the extra point. Chelsea's second touchdown came in the last four minutes of play, after he had run twenty yards on a statue-of-liberty play, Policht smashed over the Ypsi goal line for another score and Schneider again added the extra point.

In the last minute of play Roosevelt was deep in Chelsea's territory but their advance was cut short when Schneider intercepted a pass on his own five yard line, and Chelsea retained the ball until the gun sounded.

Sixth Grade

John Wellnitz and Walter Freysinger, Reporters.

Leroy May has the job of watering the larvae instead of each person watering his own. We watered our cocoons Wednesday, October 18, and we are going to take good care of them so they will come out next summer. We water them every time it rains.

The sixth grade have new language work books now and we think that we will like them well.

Miss Sprague is having an operetta and some of the sixth grade boys are in it.

Some of the boys in our room lost their activity tickets because they didn't pick up paper after the football game Friday. It doesn't pay to be slack on the job. We have been talking about citizenship and we are going to try to be dependable.

Joanne Shutes put some new war maps on the bulletin board.

Most of us are very interested in learning how the blind people work with their "Seeing Eye" dogs. We have many questions to ask about it. Miss Canfield said if we do our work well she will ask a blind teacher in Ann Arbor—who has a dog to come and answer our questions.

The girls' ball had been torn and Edwin Lantis sewed it up. The girls all thanked Edwin for sewing up the ball.

This is the time of the year when windshield equipment is necessary for proper vision.

Late in the afternoon of one day a short time ago, while we were riding with a friend we ran into considerable fog and rain. The windshield wipers were not in working order, and as a result we had very poor vision.

We shall soon have fall weather which brings fog and rain, and in some sections sleet. Get your car tuned up for winter driving, and when you do so, do not fail to check your windshield equipment.

It's smart to drive carefully!

Children In Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield

Reflected Insecurity

The grandparents of a small boy appeared in court and informed the judge that they could not persuade him to return to his parents. They admitted that it was useless to send the boy home because he would surely come back and beg to be permitted to remain.

After a psychiatrist interviewed the child and made a report of his findings to the court, the judge called the parents to his chambers and said, "You will no doubt be surprised to learn that even though Junior loves you very much, he prefers to live with his grandparents. This would not be the case if an atmosphere of tolerance and harmony prevailed in your home, for then Junior would possess a feeling of security. As matters now stand, your family is torn by constant strife and the child merely reflects the feeling of insecurity that exists in the home."

Drunkenness Viewed With Good-Natured Tolerance

An employer once came to court and stated that unless one of his employees would be admitted to a state institution to receive alcoholic treatment, he would be forced to discharge him. Knowing that this employee was the father of nine children, the judge immediately contacted the superintendent of the state hospital and had him admitted for treatment.

Following a period of treatment at the hospital, the man was discharged. About nine or ten months later, he started being a "good fellow" once more.

He was so weak-minded that he could not resist the various invitations to "goat" with his friends. Consequently, his employer discharged him, and as a result, his entire family was thrown on relief, and had to exist on a few dollars a week, whereas the former income of the family was approximately two thousand dollars a year.

The liquor question must be given serious consideration. In the past, the public has regarded drunkenness with a great deal of good natured toleration. Motion picture producers frequently portray a person under the influence of liquor as a humorous individual. Certain conventions and football games throughout the country are notorious examples of a few drunkards displaying their so-called wit before crowds of guffawing spectators.

It is probably because of this toleration that courts are unable to solve a problem which is doing inestimable harm to tens of thousands of children throughout the United States. How anyone can gain pleasure from the drunken antics of a father or a mother when children are starving in the wretched home is beyond comprehension. There is little need for the police to continue their practice of simply locking intoxicated persons up over night. Even a period of incarceration in a so-called liquor or alcoholic cure sanitarium is not permanently effective. If the castor oil treatment were substituted for good natured toleration, drunkenness would undoubtedly undergo a rapid decline.

PINGKNEY—The state conservation commission took no action last week on a petition asking that it close Big and Little Portage Lakes and Mud Bay to winter Blue Gill fishing. The fish division recommended that it await a creel census being taken in the lower peninsula. Last winter thousands of bluegills were caught through the ice here to such an extent that fishermen fear they may be exterminated if this type of fishing is allowed to continue.—Dispatch.

MASON—Two startling pies, one with the breasts of 210 birds and the other with the breasts of 175 birds, have been cooked in the fall kitchen the past week. The birds were some of the hundreds shot out of the trees around the court house square. Those who tasted the dish reported that starling pie is savory. Whether the barrage loosed on the starlings was effective or whether the birds have started to migrate is not known. However, the colony around the court house has moved on.—County News.

TECUMSEH—Qualified electors, by an eight to one majority, last Friday endorsed a plan to purchase the Harry Warner property, north of the high school building, as a site for Tecumseh's new athletic park. The election was held at the high school building, and more than 300 ballots were cast. Under the proposal as endorsed by the electors, the district will bond for $7,500. Of this amount, $3,200 will be paid for the property and the remaining $4,300 will be spent to equip and improve the park for athletic purposes. Just when the work will begin the school board has not announced. Included in the purchase is a house and lot and other buildings, there being about 15 acres in the total property. What disposition the board will make of the property not needed for the park has not been announced.—Herald.

PLYMOUTH—When William Garrett, well known barber shop operator over on Plymouth's "Wall Street," Joseph Hudson, of Plymouth, and Dan Lebel, of Detroit, returned home from a hunting trip Wednesday night, they didn't bring a pheasant with them, but one of the best pheasants "hunted" in the world—a big red fox they had shot over in Lenawee county near Hudson. The three hunters, as they tramped through a field, suddenly saw a hen pheasant run out of the grass into the open. To their amazement they saw, slyly following it, a big fox. All of them fired almost at the same instant. The pheasant flew away and the fox dropped dead in its tracks. It is being mounted and will be placed on exhibit within a few weeks. Farmers told the hunters that fox in that locality had practically destroyed all small game hunting.—Mail.

HALLOWEEN

● Traditions which had their origin back in pagan times are revived each year on October 31 when Halloween is celebrated in many lands. Modern customs and symbols reflect the elaborate ceremonies of Roman times.

Today, however, an appropriately festive setting for Halloween is easily achieved with scissors, paste pot, crepe paper and ingenuity.

Some pumpkin! This young lady is well pleased with her efforts as she surveys the reflection in her full-length plate glass dressing mirror. Her costume is made from gold-colored crepe paper, topped by pumpkin cap.

The custom of bobbing for apples is derived from ancient times when the Romans celebrated their harvest festival, forerunner of Halloween, by offerings of fruit and viands to the goddess of fertility.

This young lady returns to her plate glass mirror. Tradition says that she who sees her reflection in a mirror by candlelight on Halloween will see her "fate"—or future mate—over the right shoulder.

And no Halloween party is complete without a cheery blaze in the fireplace. Here guests may roast wieners and marshmallows, exchange ghost stories, and join in a song before hopping their automotive broomsticks for home!

Wiring In Modern Homes Carries Heavy Electrical Load!

Most homes more than ten years old were wired for lighting purposes only. Today they are forced to carry an appliance load that is too much for efficiency. This extra load in the usual home is equivalent to an increase of approximately two-thirds the original load.

Overloaded wires leak, lack power and run up costs. The lights dim, appliances do not function properly, and each task takes longer than it should.

Not only should the wires carry a load adequate for present needs, but they should be able to take care of reasonable expansion. The need for this is readily understood when a home owner reflects on present-day household uses of electricity and compares them with those of fifteen years ago. Not only are more appliances being used, but modern homes are planned for more light.

Women's Union Holds Meeting at Mayer Home

The October meeting of the Women's Union of St. Paul's church was held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Elmer Mayer.

Repeating of the "Collect" in union was followed by devotionals by Rev. P. H. Grabowski. Mrs. C. F. Dietle gave an interesting report of the convention at South Bend, Ind. and the convention song "Behold How Good and Pleasant" was sung by the assembly.

The topic of the month was "That They All May Be One." The Believing Women, The Praying Women, The Working Women, The Sacrificial Women were presented by Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer; the Prayer of Unity was given by Mrs. Hinderer, the Prayer of Leadership by Mrs. Martha Weinmann, Prayer of Joy and Service, by Mrs. Samuel Bohnet, and Prayer for Courage by Mrs. P. H. Grabowski. A vocal duet was rendered by Mrs. Otto Lucht and Mrs. Oscar Lindauer.

At the business session it was voted to save Christmas cards to be sent to a children's home in Biloxi, Miss., and Mrs. Charles Mohrlock was appointed to collect the cards.

Mrs. Walter Eschelbach was chosen as delegate to the Ann Arbor Federation convention to be held November 15 at Jackson.

A joint meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society and the Women's Union will be held in November and Mrs. Otto Lucht and Mrs. John Metzger were chosen to arrange the program.

Mrs. B. E. Crocker, Mary Faust, S. J. Bohnet and M. Weinmann will act as nominating committee for the annual meeting.

A pot-luck supper was served to 28, with Mrs. Elmer Lehman assisting.

ADAM HOUCK
Adam Houck, 68, died early Wednesday morning, October 25, at his home in Sharon township. The son of Fred and Magdalen (Wurster) Houck, he was born August 28, 1871 in Saline township. He had resided in Sharon for several years.

Surviving are a brother, Charles, and two sisters, Martha and Katie, all at home. Funeral services will be held Friday afternoon at 1:30 at the residence, with Rev. M. W. Bruckner officiating. Burial will be in Manchester cemetery.

HALLOWEEN PARTY
The Pilgrim Fellowship of the Congregational church held their mid-week meeting and Halloween party in the church dining room on Tuesday evening. Autumn leaves and candles decorated the tables. White ghosts on black paper formed wall decorations and the lights were covered with orange-colored shades. A short business meeting was held. During the social hour a guessing contest was held. The girl's prize was won by Catherine Barber and the boy's prize by Dwight Gadd. Games were the diversion for the remainder of the evening. Refreshments were served.

Oboe First Used in 1671
In the Opera 'Pomone'

Often called the hautboy, the oboe is a wooden instrument of a conical bore played with a double reed. Built in three sections—"top joint," "lower joint" and "bell"—the instrument contains many keys and bores, writes a correspondent to the Chicago Daily News. The chief improvements are due to research conducted by Barre and Triebert. Like the bassoon, it evolved from that group called pommers, schalmeyas and bombards. The tone, peculiarly distinctive without being powerful or obtrusive, is penetrating. Cambert first used it in the score for his opera "Pomone," produced in Paris in 1671.

The cor anglais, not a horn, differs in build from the oboe in that the tube is longer and ends in a globular or pear-shaped bell, and the crook which holds the reed is bent back at an angle. Its tone quality is melancholy and good examples may be heard in the shepherd's pipe melody in Act III of "Tristan," or in the slow movement of Dvorak's "From the New World." Gluck wrote for it in "Alceste" and "Orfeo," but these parts were played by the clarinet because the cor anglais was not yet a member in good standing of the orchestra. Although Mozart, Haydn and Beethoven composed for it occasionally, it did not become a part of the symphonic group until Wagner demanded it.

Consisting of a single beating reed, the clarinet is constructed with a tube pierced with many side holes terminating in a bell. The alto and bass clarinets, however, have keys instead of holes.

Girls Spend More at College
Detailed budgets kept by university students reveal it costs more to send a girl to college than a boy. Largest item in the average male student's budget is meals, $20.67 monthly, with clothing second, $12.29 monthly, while clothing only tops the female budget, $22.50 monthly, with meals secondary, $19.78 monthly. Coeds' room rent expenditures also exceeded those of the men, $8.50 per month for the males. The study showed the average coed smokes only a fraction as much as the average man student and spends little more per month on barber and beauty shops combined than he spends on the barber shop.

FRANK E. STAPISH
Frank E. Stapish, 72, a resident of Bay City for practically his entire life-time and a retired railroad employee, died Sunday evening, October 15 at his home following an illness of two years.

Born in Lyndon township on Sept. 3, 1867, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Stapish, he went to Bay City as a youth. For many years he was employed as a store-keeper by the Michigan Central railroad. He was a member of St. Mary's church and of the Holy Name society of the church.

Surviving are his widow, Ellen; a daughter, Catherine, at home; a son, Raphael D. Stapish, Bay county coroner; one sister, Kate Stapish, of Detroit; two brothers, George, of Channahon, Wash., and Thomas B., Bay City; and four grandchildren.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, Oct. 18 at 8:30 a. m. at the home and at 9 o'clock a solemn requiem high mass was sung at St. Mary's church with the Rev. Frs. Charles Van Coten, Carl Cahill and William E. Simon participating. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, Bay City.

SURPRISED ON BIRTHDAY

Mrs. William Merker was pleasantly surprised on Saturday evening when her children and their families arrived to help her celebrate her 74th birthday. Pink and white decorations were used. The dining table was covered with a lace cloth and was centered with a beautifully decorated birthday cake flanked by lighted pink tapers in crystal holders. A delicious dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock. Mrs. Merker received many lovely gifts. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Merker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Merker and family, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McArthur and family and William Werner of Detroit, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Lyons and son of Kalamazoo and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Werner and son of this place.

CASSIDY TRUCK CRASHES

On Wednesday afternoon of last week the Cassidy Lake station wagon was coming south on the North Lake road, and just before it broke over the top of the hill at the intersection of M-92, apparently the speed was excessive or the driver lost control of the car. He applied the brakes and the car slid several feet before striking a willow tree located about three feet off the right hand side of the road. The car hit the tree squarely with the right front wheel. At least two of the six occupants were evidently thrown through or against the windshield and all were badly cut and bruised. They were brought to the office of a local physician for first aid treatment and later taken to Cassidy Lake hospital. The station wagon was brought to Hart's garage.

Lost Books
The Toledo, Ohio, public library has decided that there is no way of telling where lost books will be found. A messenger who spends his time hunting lost, stolen and overdue books found one in a used automobile—it had been turned in with the car.

Question And Answer Dept.

Problem—There were six people standing crowded under one ordinary-sized umbrella, and not one of them got the least bit wet. How did it happen? (Answer elsewhere in this department).

Ques.—I am in a cross-word puzzle contest, and would like to know if you can tell me the name of a European perch which has five letters in it?

Ans.—We usually ban all contest questions, but as this is a simple one which is generally known, we will say that "Barge" is a five-letter word for a European fresh-water perch. See your dictionary.

Ques.—What kind of plant is the heliotrope, and where is it grown chiefly?

Ans.—The heliotrope is a genus of plants, including both annual and perennial species. They occur mostly in the warmer climates as herbs or undershrubs, but are now cultivated extensively in all countries as ornamental plants and for the manufacture of perfumes.

Ques.—I am told that King Henry VIII of England had six wives. Is that true? And how did it happen?

Ans.—Yes. Henry VIII was married six times to the following in the order named: Catherine (whom he divorced), Anne Boleyn (whom he executed), Jane Seymour (who died two years later), Anne of Cleyes (whom he divorced), Catharine Howard (whom he executed), Catharine Parr, who outlived the king.

Answer to problem—No one got wet because it wasn't raining.

Ques.—What is mean by "heresy"? Ans.—"Heresy" got its origin in the New Testament when it was employed as a word to denote a sect or a school of opinion among the Jews. In modern times the term came to be applied to any person who differed from the standards of church law, notwithstanding he professed Christianity.

Ques.—On what day of the week was the Battle of Manila Bay of the Spanish-American War?

Ans.—This famous battle was prose-cut by Admiral George Dewey on Sunday morning, May 1, 1898, and resulted in the total annihilation of the Spanish fleet in the bay at Manila.

Ques.—What is the difference between a herring and a heron?

Ans.—Herring is the name of a family of soft-rayed fishes, while Heron is a wading bird allied to the storks, flamingoes, and spoonbills.

Ques.—Why is Ireland sometimes called "Hibernia"?

Ans.—Hibernia is the name that was given to Ireland by Julius Caesar and the classical writers. Though the island was never conquered by the Romans, it was well known to them.

Ques.—Was Washington Irving the father of Sir Henry Irving?

Ans.—No. However, both are from the same family tree, but not closely related. Washington Irving was an eminent author and an American; Sir Henry Irving was a celebrated actor and an Englishman.

Ques.—Can you answer what a jackal is?

Ans.—It is a wild animal resembling a dog, and is native to many parts of Asia and Africa.

Miniature Garden

A miniature garden which took first prize at a flower show in Providence, R. I., is watered with a medicine dropper. Ruth Ely's garden is perfect as to scale, but measures only 30 by 22 inches.

Girl Graduates Marry

Three out of four feminine college graduates, but only one-half of the male grads, expect to be married within five years after graduation. Four out of every five women graduates are willing to work to help earn enough to make marriage possible, but only two out of every five male seniors will let their future wives work. Of the coeds questioned, 41 per cent prefer marriage to a career; 28 per cent prefer a career while 31 per cent want both, and believe a career and a happy marriage are compatible. Of the men students, 66 per cent intend to own their own homes sooner or later; 85 per cent of the women have the same ambition. Over three-fourths—77 per cent—of the men expect to own a car when first married; 68 per cent of the girls have the same hope.

POTATO MEN HAIL M.S.C. IDEA

In early tests, use of this three wheeled crawler to pick up potatoes seems to make play of what has been a back-breaking job ever since potato production began. Agricultural engineers at Michigan State College have shown this machine to but a few of the many thousands of farmers in the state, yet the idea has been given a hearty welcome. Speed can be varied from one-tenth to nearly two miles an hour. Cost, if some used materials are adapted, could be about $50. Floyd Linebaugh, technician, above, is testing the ease of picking up the crop while sitting down.

1940 Chevrolets Make Their Point

Three series of passenger cars, re-designed in the new "Royal Chevro" styling, and embodying numerous mechanical improvements to secure greater safety and comfort as well as finer performance, comprise Chevrolet's new line for 1940, introduced today. All series are much larger, overall length being increased 4 1/2 inches. The new exclusive vacuum power shift (lower left) is now regular equipment on all models of all series at no extra cost. Special De Luxe series, the Sport Sedan of which is shown at center, has a new T-tube steering wheel with horn-throwing ring (upper right). The 1940 Chevrolet six-cylinder valve-in-head engine, which has been improved for smoother, quieter operation, and extremely long life.

MICHIGAN 4-H DAIRY TEAM TO WORLD'S FAIR

Six main steps in the production of quality milk formed the demonstration of the two 4-H Michigan boys above who won state honors and trips to the San Francisco world's fair. They will participate in the finals of the national 4-H dairy production demonstration contest at the National Dairy Show, Golden Gate Exposition, October 21-25. The boys are Clare McGhan, 17, who owns a small dairy herd, and

Lawrence Ecklund, 18, who helps care for a 30-cow herd and delivers milk in Charlevoix. They will represent Charlevoix county, and were coached by Orville Walker and B. C. Mollenkamp, county agent. * * * The six steps to produce quality milk are healthy cows and attendants, cleaning off the cow before milking, use of the small top milk pail and dome strainer with pad, prompt cooling and sterilized utensils. The contest is being conducted by the extension service for the third year to encourage clubsters to learn and practice good dairy methods and demonstrate them to others. * * * The team receives all-expense trips to San Francisco through the Kraft-Pheix Cheese Corporation which provides $250 and $100 scholarships, respectively, for members of the first and second placing teams among Central states.

Billy the Kid, Notorious Gunman, a New Yorker
Billy the Kid, one of the most famous outlaws of the Southwest, was born in New York city November 23, 1889. His real name was William H. Bonney, son of William H. and Kathleen Bonney. In 1892 the family moved to Coffeyville, Kan., where the father died. The mother, with her two children, moved to Colorado, where she married a man named Antrim. About 1895 the family moved to Santa Fe and in 1898 to Silver City, N. M.

The boy had some schooling, but by the time he was 12 he had become a frequenter of saloons and gambling places and an adept at cards. At 15 he quarreled with his stepfather and left home. Almost at once he embarked on a criminal career, and at 21 he had slain more than a score of men and had shot his way out of jail repeatedly. In July, 1881, Sheriff Pat Garrett of Lincoln county baited Billy to the draw and brought his career to a close. Garrett, who had been elected for the sole purpose of riding New Mexico of Billy, had captured him once and lost him when the Kid, under sentence of death, slew two guards and fled the jail.

Garrett traced him to the vicinity of Fort Sumner. The two men met with pistols in a darkened room. Garrett fired first.

Mental Shocks Harmful.
Mental shocks to children may be as harmful as physical injuries, psychologists declare.

Boats Go Off Cliff
Rather than face their pursuers, 600 wild boars fleeing from hunters near Genoa, Italy, jumped from a 300-foot precipice to their deaths.

Feminine Beauty Aids Used

In Automobile Finishings
Use of rouge is not confined to feminine faces. Enough rouge to paint a town red is consumed by the automobile industry for fine polishing operations. One company alone purchases 12 barrels annually.
Nor are diamonds alone used to enhance lady's beauty. The automobile industry values diamonds for another reason—they are used to drill and grind tough metal. Purchases for motor making may amount as high as $1,000,000 a year.

About 2½ bars of soap and a gallon of liquid soap for every 10 cars are consumed by one plant. It takes five Angora goats to provide enough mohair for the average sedan, so the raising of Angora goats has become a major industry. Texas produces about 14,000,000 pounds of mohair annually.

Supplying brushes for motor plants is a big business. Annual consumption in motor-manufacture totals 23,000 camel and badger hair brushes, and 75,000 with stiffer bristles.

About 500 pounds of sand is used in the molds made for casting each automobile engine block.

The rag man is a big man in the motor factory. For washing and polishing cars, one plant buys 120,000 yards of gauze and 1,200 pounds of tacking each year.

Among other unusual materials used in the motor industry are agate, arsenic, borax, garnet, gold, lute, mercury, mica, onyx, platinum, radium and silver.

France Reoccupies Vast

Central African Region
Another headache for the mapmaker is the shifting boundary between Italian and French territory in north-central Africa. Tibesti, a 50,000 square mile area between French Equatorial Africa and the Italian dependency of Libya is being reoccupied by France, according to reports from Europe. This action follows the repudiation by Italy last December of the Rome pact of 1935.

"Under the agreement at Rome," points out the National Geographic Society, "Tibesti, along with other territory, was ceded to Italy by France in what was then called the final settlement of their long-standing colonial account."
"This region, wild and mountainous, holds the highest peak of the entire Sahara area—the volcano of Emi Koussi, with an altitude of some 11,000 feet. Mountain and desert at the same time, Tibesti has conditioned its inhabitants to a marked degree. These natives, the Tibbus, have tremendous qualities of endurance, coupled with monkey-like agility. An independent African race, black without the typical physical characteristics of the Negro, they number no more than 10,000, a figure which represents a sparse population of only one person to every five square miles. As fighters, the Tibbus use, among other weapons, the knife, which they throw with great skill."

Glass Reduces Spoilage

Discomfort of humans and spoilage of show-window goods, caused by the hot rays of the sun, are being reduced by a new type of glass scientists call aklo, which absorbs the infra-red rays that carry approximately one-half of the sun's heat. The glass is being used by merchants to lengthen the lives of their show-window displays by keeping flowers from wilting, bakery goods from spoiling and fabrics from fading, for example. Outer panes of heat-absorbing on sides of a house or office most exposed to the sun have been found to assist greatly in controlling temperatures and reducing the load on air-conditioning equipment. Railroad companies are using the new glass on coaches to eliminate passenger discomfort caused by the hot sun pouring through car windows.

Moon Cycle Regular

The moon is a dark body, and we see it only because of the sunlight falling upon it. As the moon revolves around the earth once each month different portions of its illuminated surface are turned toward us. When the moon is between the earth and sun, it is new, and when it is on the opposite side of the earth from the sun, it is full. Two or three days after new moon, a thin crescent is seen in the west after sunset. The crescent increases in size until the line dividing the light and dark portions runs straight across. This is first quarter. The lighted portion increases until full moon occurs. The phases are then repeated in reverse order as third quarter, and new moon succeed. The phases cover a period of a little more than 29½ days on the average, from new moon to new moon.

Joshua Tree

The Joshua tree (Yucca brevifolia) is a genus of plants of the lily family. It has rigid, sharp-pointed leaves and large greenish white flowers borne in huge terminal clusters. Mormons gave the plant its name because it seemed to point the way to their promised land. It is also known as the "Praying tree" because its branches seem to be extended toward Heaven in prayer. California has established a Joshua tree national monument, including 825,340 acres, where these plants grow in abundance.

Happiness Perennial

WHO has not noticed the hardihood of certain plants which withstand the coldest winters and in the spring put forth buds and flowers? The cold does not injure them. And under the warm sunshine they respond to the call of spring!

True happiness is like that. It endures under unfavorable conditions, and springs up continually anew. Its extraordinary vitality is explained by the fact that it reflects the nature of God. "Happiness is spiritual, born of Truth and Love," writes Mary Baker Eddy on page 57 of her Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures." "Even human happiness, in its highest sense, hints at the qualities of the divine."

Happiness is as natural as sunlight. It needs no forcing. To possess it, we have only to look for it where it is—in the sunshine of Truth and Love. In the Psalmist sang (Psalm 103:20, 21): "Bless the Lord, ye his angels, that excel in strength, that do his commandments, hearkening unto the voice of his word: Bless ye the Lord, all ye his hosts; ye ministers of his, that do his pleasure." The greatest happiness is to know and do God's will, and everyone can have a share in this.

Mrs. Eddy writes (Science and Health, p. 298): "When the rest is attained, which is announced by Science, joy is no longer a tremble. It is hope a cheer." One who has found happiness in Truth and Love does not fear that he will lose it. The darkest clouds of seeming sorrow pass, and joy appears when thought has in measure discerned the limitations of the flesh. God, who contemplates the clouds of error or affirm their presence makes them seem darker and more real. The writer had her first glimpse of a happiness that is "no longer a tremble," that is independent of human relationships, after she had been afflicted with an instantaneous healing of a serious disease. She was lifted in a few moments from agony to perfect comfort, and a sense of happiness new in her experience. She found herself repeating over and over, for days, these words: "The knowledge of God is happiness enough for me." And so it has proved during the succeeding years. Enduring satisfaction always follows the perception of spiritual bliss.

Even though discordant voices of sense, seeming to be real and strong, may silence it for a time, happiness remains for it alone is real, and discord is unreal. Those who have discerned the fact of immutable harmony have had a great burden lifted from their hearts. No longer do they have to try to be cheerful and assume an appearance of optimism. If hard experiences come and prospects are discouraging, or if sad memories persist, they patiently endure until the clouds lift, refusing to be cast down. To mourn for that which is unreal would be like groping one's way in the bright sunshine while keeping one's eyes closed. Divine Love, compassionate and tender, is ever ready to lead one safely through the seeming night of sorrow until he sees the light of reality.

A sense of sadness sometimes becomes a habit, so that the happier almost feels to be a normal, happy individual. Such a one will find that the moment he glimpses his unity with God, sorrow is seen to be abnormal, and happiness within is reached. "God's being is infinity, freedom, harmony, and boundless bliss" (Mind, p. 481). Self pity dissolves as one meditates upon this great vision of reality. . . . —The Christian Science Monitor.

The rubber industry has a world-wide investment of $3,000,000,000, turning out products retailing at almost $2,500,000,000 annually.

Average Perspiration

The amount of perspiration normally discharged by a healthy person varies from about 1½ to 5 pints a day, increasing with exercise and high temperature.
