Youth Conference Will Be Held In Ypsilanti

The 1940 Washtenaw County Youth Conference will be held in Ypsilanti on Sunday, March 31. The decision to accept this invitation of the Ypsilanti delegation was reached at a meeting of the Conference Planning Committee on Saturday in the Ann Arbor Y. W. C. A. Two previous conferences were held in Ann Arbor.

This annual conference is held under the auspices of the County Council of Churches and Religious Education with Rev. Edward Lantz of First Methodist church, Ann Arbor, as chairman. Cooperating with the Council are the young people's societies of the churches, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., 4-H Clubs, Boy Scouts, Dumbat Center, and student councils and clubs in the high schools of the county.

The theme for the conference is "Youth Looks at Its World." While the theme is broad, the speeches and discussions will center upon those areas of unsolved problems faced by the majority of high school aged youth. Chief among these appear choice of vocation, achieving pleasing personalities, boy and girl relations, adjustment in the home, use of leisure time, giving expression to religion, causes of war and ways to peace.

Further perfecting of plans and clearing of details will be made when a representative from each club and society cooperating in the conference attends a meeting in the Ypsilanti high school library on Tuesday, March 5.

State Will Apply 10,000 Gallons of Yellow Paint

Lansing—The state highway department is preparing to spread 10,000 gallons of yellow paint as pavement marking warning strips on hard surface state trunklines.

State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagener has ordered that all pavement markings be renewed as soon as higher temperatures and dry surfaces permitted.

"It should be called again to the attention of all motorists," the commissioner said, "that these yellow lines are placed on curves and hills to warn them against short sight distances ahead and keep them from passing other vehicles at these danger points. Crossing these yellow lines is a violation of the state law."

Abrasive action of materials used to overcome slippery conditions on the highways during the winter months has dimmed the pavement markings. Replacement will be done by a machine process with the return of warm weather driving conditions.

The 10,000-gallon supply is expected to last through the 1940 season.

GIVES RECREATION REPORT

At the Kiwanis meeting on Monday evening E. W. Eaton gave a detailed report on the activities of the Community Recreation Committee for the past year. The club voted to again contribute to the committee for their projects during the year. Wm. G. Robinson of Ann Arbor, district representative of the National Recreation Association, gave an address in which he outlined the benefits of a planned recreational program as a community project.

DRUNK DRIVER ARRESTED

Hobert Rudd of Ypsilanti was arrested by Chief of Police W. Grossman on Saturday when his car skidded and struck a car belonging to Lynn Kern which was parked in front of the postoffice. Rudd was charged with drunk driving and was taken to the county jail in Ann Arbor. He pleaded guilty when arraigned before Justice Payne on Monday morning and was fined $50 and $10 costs, or 60 days in jail, and his driver's license was revoked for one year.

LENTE MESSAGE

By Rev. Darwin Clupper
Pastor Waterloo U. B. Church

John 8:34—Every one who commits sin is a slave.

These words, which John wrote to the persecuted Christians of the second century, still hold great truth for us who today strive to follow Christ.

The common fault of the human race in every generation has been, that in spite of all advance, men still fall short of their duty, and to miss the mark of duty is to sin.

He who consistently sins will become a slave of sin. The experience of men has proven these words. It is a dark picture to present, if man is to be left alone with his mistakes and evil deeds. Christ in His living and death offered a prevention and cure for this slavery. He chose to call it righteousness (or right living).

There has been, since the dawn of human conscience, three enslavements from which righteousness will free any man.

The Jew of the time of Christ was a slave to all of the law that had been enacted by his ancestors. For centuries Jews had watched each other fail to do what was right. The cry had gone up, "there ought to be a law." The laws were made; until finally men had bound themselves in the effort to force men to live righteously.

We are still making laws and men are still breaking them. From the fiendish hunter who shoots anything in sight, to the dealer in war supplies, who profits by the spilling of innocent blood, we try to stop both by law. But to the follower of Christ as he moves among men in all the activities of life there need be no law for he has a higher principle of living.

The second enslavement is that of the human body. Many a man believes the fact he has ill health or his physical frame is not properly constructed. But deeper than this we may become so enslaved to our physical welfare that we are useless to God and society.

There is the example of the person who though financially free cannot enjoy a social hour because there is nothing in the wardrobe that will fit the occasion. There are others who because of physical agony are able to rise above their own affliction. Speaking to the one, Christ urges, "don't be concerned about what you eat and wear, all your efforts cannot rival a single wayside flower." To the latter He offered a healing hand. Jesus condemned over-stuffed wardrobes and stomachs, likewise he fought hunger and nakedness. By doing away with both evils, men were to be brought more closely together.

Men again have become slaves to their thinking. Our actions are to a large extent the products of our minds. A mind that is tormented with a single thought becomes ill and unstable. Pure and wholesome, well-balanced thought goes a long way in producing a useful citizen.

Christ never turned away from a man who had become a slave to false thinking. The individual was turned to a useful life by the simple act of living right before his God.

In the righteousness of God, man has the tools to combat his own sin.

MISSION SERVICES WILL BE CONDUCTED AT ST. MARY'S

A Mission will be conducted by the Rev. Seraphim Oberhauser, C. P. S. of Fort Wayne, Ind. at St. Mary's church from March 3 to 10, inclusive. Services will be held each evening at 7:30. Everyone is invited to attend the Mission services.

VILLAGE BUYS WINTERS LOT

Village authorities have purchased the vacant property on West Middle street known as the Winters lot, acquiring the property by withholding it from the state tax sale of delinquent property now being held at the county treasurer's office, and paying taxes now due to other governmental agencies.

According to reliable information received by The Standard this week, the Hoover Ball and Bearing Co. of Ann Arbor has sold its Chelsea building to a Detroit manufacturing concern which will take possession on March 1.

The transaction was consummated through the efforts of an agency which has not yet divulged the name of the concern that will occupy the building. However, it is understood that the company will be engaged in the manufacture of automotive equipment and that at least 50 men will be employed as soon as operations can be started here.

The Hoover Ball and Bearing Co. used the Chelsea building for many years as a branch of their Ann Arbor factory, but consolidated their operations in the Ann Arbor plant several months ago, and moved all their equipment from Chelsea.

Detroiters Buy Foundry

A group of Detroit men have purchased the foundry building of J. A. Merrill and Ray Whipple and expect to start operations here within 60 days. They will be engaged in a jobbing foundry business.

The name of the new corporation and the names of those interested in the venture have not been made public, as incorporation of the concern has not been completed.

Work of getting the plant in readiness for operation will begin soon in order that production may be started at the earliest possible date.

Central Fibre Co. Buys No. 12

Central Fibre Products Co. announces the purchase of the No. 12 building from Ray Whipple and J. A. Merrill. The building is located at the rear of the Central Fibre plant and will be used as a warehouse.

HENRY WILSON-HOME BURNS

The farm home of Henry Wilson on the Jerusalem Road in Lima township was burned to the ground Friday night, with all of its contents. The fire started in the kitchen and when discovered by Mr. Wilson had gained such headway that nothing could be saved. Neighbors who responded to the operator's call along the line could render no assistance. There was no insurance.

WITHDRAWS FROM TICKET

Because of the fact that James Munro is employed by the State Highway Department under the Civil Service Act which became effective last year, he has been advised by the department that he is prohibited from holding a public elective office, so his name has been withdrawn as a candidate for re-election as village clerk. Jay E. Weinberg will be the candidate for clerk on the Independent ticket.

GRADES WILL GIVE PROGRAM

Next Friday afternoon, March 8, the members of the first six grades will present a musical program in the high school gymnasium. The program will begin at 2:30 p. m. and all parents and friends are cordially invited to attend. Each grade has prepared its group of songs as part of its class work since Christmas. The first and second grade rhythm bands will also have a part in the program.

Sales Tax Regulations
Mailed to Taxpayers

The postal system of Lansing and all Michigan was the target this week for a barrage of one hundred thousand 62-page booklets released by the State Sales Tax Board...

These booklets contain the official rules and regulations governing the application of the sales tax representing more than $55,000,000 annual revenue to the state...

The new rules and regulations represent months of painstaking study, research and investigation, in addition to more than 300 conferences with taxpayer groups...

precaution has been taken to eliminate inequities and provide a fair basis of uniformity in the application of the tax that it may not be a means of creating unfair competition...

Cassidy Lake Events

Woodshop

Many of the boys in shop are nearing completion on their shop courses which are somewhat new. By the way the boys study it seems to be a great improvement over the practical experiences which in the past happened to be the only form of study here.

Each boy is required to keep up a folder on all the studying he has completed and all the articles he has constructed which in turn may prove very valuable as an aid in his future shop file if he carries on where he is now starting.

During a past period there has been completed numerous articles such as a panel typing desk and filing cabinet. Also now in completion are five drafting tables which are being made for NYA at Marshall.

Drafting

We regret the absence of our drafting supervisor, Mr. Spiesz, a very worthy man indeed. Nevertheless, we are glad that he has obtained a good position with the Martin Aircraft Co. of Baltimore, Maryland. Mr. Prin, former principal of Lake Orion high school, and whose home is in Ishpeming, Mich., has been engaged to fill the vacancy left by Mr. Spiesz.

At a program on Washington's birthday, which was held in the recreational building, several boys were presented with Certificates of Completion in Mechanical Drawing in their high school drawing.

Anniversaries

February seems to be the month of important births—Lincoln, Washington, etc.—if this be the case and I'm sure it is, then we too have important men here at Cassidy. They may not be Lincolns or Washingtons but they are pretty swell people—Wm. Gunther, M. Skovers, and D. L. Miller, our camp director, are very proud to celebrate their anniversary on the same day as Washington's, although their anniversary was the 21st. And here is where Mr. Miller pulls a fast one. Proclaiming a holiday on the 22nd, the boys were permitted to go to town, then to make sure the boys were up at six Mr. Miller puts out a fire alarm. "You'll have to get up early in the morning to get ahead of me," says Mr. Miller. A foxy fox is he.

Radio

The sun is still shining for the boys of the Radio Club, and promises to really keep on the go. Since they have entered their new lab in the Craftshop the lab is a regular industrial beehive with the buzzing of hams and all-tool racks, oscillators, power equipment, receivers, amplifiers and communication systems. Yes, there is no doubt—Radio is here to show the rest of the project up.

It is reported that Mr. Papsdorf's amplifier has been returned from the exterminator's shop and is almost bugless. It was used last Wednesday for the movies; also, a new turntable and pickup has been built and it too was tried.

A certain individual by the name of Dibble is interested in building an osculator. Mr. Owens would appreciate any help in drawing a schematic for this piece of equipment. What are the requirements, girls? He's handsome! Milford Delno has stepped out with a radio course from the National Schools.

Texas Week-End Accidents

Residents of Jasper, Ala., not only gather to clean their graveyards, but make a picnic out of it besides. An ad in the Jasper paper recently read: "There will be a graveyard cleaning at Tubb's cemetery. All interested come and bring tools and dinner."

Michigan Mirror

Lansing—The woods are full of despairing causes.

But few of them have the heart-throb appeal of old age pensions.

Here is an issue for politicians that is made to order, and it is becoming of greater importance each year. Pension checks have been known to increase suddenly on the eve of a state election; nominees shed salty tears as they pledge oratorically to give better treatment to the aged and infirm.

In Michigan all public officials apparently agree that the state should find funds, somehow and somewhere, to put 25,000 to 30,000 persons on the old age assistance rolls who have already been qualified to receive such aid.

The merit of the cause is conceded. No one is going to argue about that.

McPherson's Forecast

When the chairman of a state tax commission predicts that both the old age assistance roll and the amount of individual payments will be increased by the next legislature (it convenes in regular session in 1941), then it's time to re-appraise the plan and inquire how it is going to be financed.

Furthermore, Melville B. McPherson, who holds this tax job at Lansing, confidently believes that the next step by state government will be the granting of an adequate pension to all elderly people, whether they need it or not. In a talk at Michigan State College recently he explained its justification as follows: "The present method penalizes those who have saved their money during their productive years, and such a system cannot endure."

The original federal social security act, (modeled upon European experience) became a law August 14, 1935. Although it contained provisions for relief of seven different kinds, the public thinks of the act usually in terms of two: old age benefits (pension and assistance) and unemployment compensation.

Old age benefits are paid to retired workers on the basis of their previous earnings and are not to be confused with relief payments to aged indigent persons—this relief being called "old age assistance" in the federal act and the Michigan act which complements it.

Michigan and the federal government each pay one-half of these last mentioned payments or "pensions"; that is, provided the total per amount is not in excess of $30.

1939 Amendments

The old age assistance parts of the Social Security Act was materially changed by 1939 amendments made by Congress. The reserve feature was mostly eliminated, the basis for benefits changed, and benefits included for dependents and survivors. The rate was frozen at 1 per cent for the next three years, both employer and employee paying 1 per cent. Except for this amendment it would have been 1 1/2 per cent for 1940, 1941 and 1942. However, it still will go to 2 per cent in 1943 unless another amendment is made in the meantime.

The former basis for old-age pensions (apart from assistance for the indigent infirm) was largely dependent upon the total wages earned over a period of years; also no benefits were payable until 1942.

Now the basis for benefits is the average monthly wage, and the length of time worked is an insignificant factor in the benefit, being only an addition of 1 per cent of the benefit for each year worked.

Furthermore, benefits for the person of low monthly wage are made larger in proportion to said earnings, and benefits are payable beginning Jan-minimum of 25,000 persons to the assistance roll, then how is this deserving cause to be financed? Mr. McPherson points to the intangible tax revived in 1939. The state association of township supervisors, meeting recently in Lansing, went on record as favoring a return of one-third of all sales tax revenues to the township for unemployment, relief and welfare purposes.

Many of us drive along at 60 miles an hour feeling perfectly safe and assured that nothing can happen. If weather and traffic conditions are favorable, and the vehicle is in the best possible condition, this does not present such an unusual problem.

However, inattention to traffic conditions, recklessness or thoughtlessness in driving, and the many other driving faults we all have, make 60 miles an hour too fast a speed.

Let us remember this: When you hit a stone wall or other immovable object when driving at 60 miles an hour, the force of the impact is as great as if you were to drive off the top of a ten story building. Can you imagine that shock?

It's Smart to Drive Carefully!

Children In Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield

Scolding at Character Building Group. Five cases heard in juvenile court plainly revealed that young men and women must be associated with the church and character building groups if they are to avoid the unwholesome influence of the questionable dance hall and the beer garden.

As long as parents and adults at the church and the efforts of character building groups, the United States will continue to lead the world in organized crime. Adults, especially parents and educators, should blame politicians when taxes are high for it costs approximately $8,500.00 to construct a cell block for a single youth who has developed into a hardened adult offender.

Alarming Trends

Those interested in preventing juvenile crime are alarmed to note that during the past four years attendance at our churches has declined 80 per cent, while the sale of whiskey has increased 220 per cent.

During the same period crime benevolence declined 28 per cent, while the sale of beer increased 317 per cent. Contributions to The Community Chest decreased 24 per cent, while the sale of cigarettes jumped up 48 per cent.

Mathematics Class
 The Chelsea high school mathematics class has been making an interesting study of the use of graphs and how to make them. This class is under the supervision of Mr. Johnson. The class was divided into pairs and each pair was given a project. Some of the projects given were percentage of A's and B's given first marking period, attendance at dancing class, number of books taken out of school library, number of people using telephone, number of long and short shots taken at basketball games, financial state of high school, number of people leaving study hall certain hours, number of students tardy, number of students absent. These and many other projects were assigned. The graphs are planned according to classes and on a percentage basis. Some of the projects were completed and the following facts were discovered: Total number of B's for first semester of school year 1939-40, 634 of which 149 or 24 per cent were Freshmen, 146 or 23 per cent were Sophomores, 172 or 27 per cent were Juniors, 167 or 26 per cent were Seniors. Absentees for one week: Seniors 16; Juniors 22; Sophomores 12; Freshmen 10. Tardiness for week of Feb. 5: Freshmen 11, Sophs 7, Juniors 6, Seniors 14; and number of seats vacant in grade classes: 8th, 1 out of 37; 7th, 7 out of 35; 6th, 5 out of 36; 5th, 5 out of 36; 4th, 8 out of 35; 3rd, no vacant seats; 2nd, 7 out of 34; 1st, no vacant seats.

Dancing Classes

Under the direction of the Ford Dance Master the high school students are fast becoming a group of superior dancers. The Juniors and Seniors are all looking forward to the Junior-Senior reception and any other high school dance. The teacher who started with the dancing classes has left and started a dancing class at Coldwater. The new teacher has started several students calling square dances.

Home Ec. Club

At our last meeting on February 19 we enjoyed a lovely talk on "Personal Grooming and Personality," given by Miss Piper, a student of Home Economics at Michigan State College. Miss Piper is the chairman of the Home Ec. Club at the College and thought that we could do some tall celebrating because our club has a name, which we think is the best ever. The name is "The Goodwill Club," submitted by Ethel Hale. Ethel received a lovely prize, and I know everybody wants to congratulate her.

Saline Defeats Chelsea

Chelsea took a severe drubbing at the hands of Saline, the final score being 26 to 13. The contest turned into a free-for-all during the last half with the boys mixing it up a bit. Sixth Grade
 Editors: Robert Faber and Marion Dietle
 The sixth grade sent Miss Canfield a box of fruit. She replied with a note of thanks.
 The first signs of spring have arrived—boys playing marbles and spinning tops, while girls are roller skating.
 A good recipe to remove early morning cobwebs in the brain: "Start the day with string problems."
 For Washington's birthday some of the sixth grade girls gave a play. The name of the play, "An Afternoon at Mount Vernon." The girls gave the play in full costume of the colonial days. The play was given after school at Barbara Eaton's, and a good crowd attended.
 Thursday, Feb. 22 we took the word "Washington" to find how many words we could get out of it.
 We had a spell-down. Barbara Eaton stayed up the longest, Doris Nagy second, and Walter Frynsinger was the last to go down on the losing side.
 Feb. 21 the class wrote a story on why "I like to live in New Zealand." We made believe we lived in New Zealand and were writing to a friend and trying to make them come and live in New Zealand.
 We read the stories aloud. We learned a patriotic poem this week entitled "America For Me," by Henry Van Dyke.
 What has ties and no shirts? Answer: Railroad.
 When should any pig be able to write? Answer: When he's turned into a pen.

Hi-Y News

The end of the second Hi-Y year is in sight and already the club is looking toward the new year. Election of officers will be held in the near future. These officers will be delegates to either the Third National Congress of Hi-Y in Oberlin, Ohio or to the Michigan State Hi-Y Camp on Torch Lake. The first and second National Hi-Y Congresses were held in Berea, Kentucky, in 1936 and 1938, each lasting four days. These meetings gave Hi-Y members from the entire country an opportunity to exchange experiences and study problems critical to high school youth.
 Oberlin College, Oberlin, Ohio will furnish a natural setting for the 1940 Congress. The College and the campus represent years of Christian atmosphere and hospitality.
 Since Michigan's quota is 48 boys and 12 leaders, Chelsea is fortunate to have the privilege of sending one boy to the Congress. Vernon Downing, principal of the high school, and advisor to the local club, has been selected as one of the leaders and will accompany the Michigan delegation. The Congress dates are June 20 to 24. Camp Hayo-Went-Ha is scheduled for the latter part of August. This camp of over three hundred acres is equipped to handle 125 boys in modern log cabins, a large lodge, and one of the finest dining halls for campers in the state. The Hayo-Went-Ha experience will give our new officers a thorough training for their jobs during the coming year.

 No financial campaign will be made this year in Chelsea for Hi-Y work. This does not mean that the club has enough money to carry out its projects, but the boys will pay part of their own expenses to the Congress and to Hayo-Went-Ha. The club plans to pay part, and it is hoped that several men and women will find it possible to invest in the Hi-Y program. The boys have earned some money through a leathercraft and Christmas card sale. Most of this money has been used to buy books, to help send delegates to the Older Boys' Conference, and for similar projects.
 The purpose of the club is "To create, maintain and extend throughout the school and community, high standards of Christian character." Its platform is "Clean speech, clean sports, clean scholarship, and clean living."
 At the regular club meeting last week, Albert Johnson, our superintendent, gave an inspirational talk on "Points in Securing a Job." Mr. Johnson told us that among the many qualifications he considered that character, knowledge, interest, punctuality, and ability to get along with people, were of value to the applicant for a position. Each point was illustrated by a story or an experience.

Yessiree — it Pays to Pay Enough!
 TO SOME people, this spruce and sprightly Buick SPECIAL may be just one of those ambitions they hope some day to achieve.
 But if you ask owners—especially those who have stepped up to Buick from the lowest-price field—you'll find it's really an eye-opener to a new and sounder slant on automobile buying.
 Actually, the money difference between lesser cars and this nimble traveler is smaller than most people think. And when you've driven a Buick a while you find that spending these few extra dollars is really the soundest kind of economy.
 They buy more power. They buy more room. They buy the matchless comfort of all-coil springing and the welcome feeling of having come up in the world.
 They also buy more automobile. A bigger, solidier, more durable frame. A husky, time-defying chassis. Top-grade materials, superfine precision, "on the money" craftsmanship, things that make the difference between an adequate car and a good one.
 You get your money back in tangible things, such as engines balanced after assembly, wider outlook through Safety Plate Glass only, some six dozen features from automatic choke to the Flash-Way Direction Signal with automatic cut-off.
 Every mile you drive you'll see how you profit by spending enough to get something really good.
 And what you spend, as you'll see if you call on your Buick dealer, is less than you're asked to pay in some places for a six!
