Problem of Drinking Driver To Be Discussed

Michigan traffic law enforcement officers will soon be better equipped than ever before to meet the problem of the drinking driver on the state roads and streets.

Sheriff's police officers, and prosecutors attending the Michigan State-Wide Safety Conference in Lansing, May 22, 23 and 24 will hear one of the nation's foremost authorities on this problem describe the most modern methods of dealing with it. Judge Harry H. Porter, of Evanston, Illinois will address a luncheon session of the Conference on Thursday, May 23. Judge Porter is chairman of the committee on tests for intoxication, street and highway traffic section of the National Safety Council.

Enforcement officers have found it difficult to obtain air-tight evidence of drinking in preparing cases for the courts. Judge Porter has made a study of various tests that may be used to reliably determine the amount of alcohol that a driver may have in his system. He will discuss and illustrate these tests for the Conference luncheon. Actual tests will be conducted. Special equipment developed for this purpose will be demonstrated. State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner, general chairman of the Conference, said that this session was expected to be a highlight in a series of meetings covering three full days. Other sessions are devoted to programs on home safety, school safety, industrial safety, and public safety.

Members of the quartet are Arthur Lindauer, Billie Stierle, Bobby Strider and Luther Kusterer. The district includes Lansing, Jackson, Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Saline, Manchester, Dexter, Owosso, Albion, Frankenston and Rogers Corners.

Standard Liners Bring Quick Results!

"Dickinson versus Van Wagoner" will be the Michigan gubernatorial issue next November, according to best bets today at the state capital.

Although neither the present governor nor the state highway commissioner have formally tossed their hats into the political ring, observers take it for granted that they will do so at the proper time.

Two recent events are seen as harbingers of Dickinson's nomination for the Republican choice for governor. First, Dr. H. Allen Moyer of Charlotte, personal physician of Governor Dickinson, announced that the governor was fit as a fiddle to make a campaign and, in fact, was in better health now at 81 than he was a year ago.

Second, 80-year-old former Governor Chase S. Osborn released a 16-page letter in which he expanded on his previous criticisms of Mr. Dickinson, releasing such barbed epithets as "Michigan's chief bartender," "inflated egotist," and "conscious hypocrite." Osborn concluded with a tart plea for Dickinson to step aside. Intimates of the governor are smiling. If anything was needed to induce the governor that he should run again, Osborn's front-page statement was regarded as removing any doubt. Of course, Dickinson seldom if ever is a candidate. He merely has been nominated with regularity and has been elected much in the same way.

Threat to Harmony?

In the judgment of one Lansing newspaper correspondent, Osborn's heckling attitude is "somewhat of a threat to the peace and harmony of the Republican party."

Joseph H. Creighton, a veteran observer of the capital scene, interviewed a number of the "top notch" Republican leaders and reported that one of them remarked caustically: "Why must the old man run, after all?" This same person informed Creighton that "one strong candidate could defeat Dickinson in the primaries."

Offsetting these statements was Creighton's personal conclusion that "Dickinson probably couldn't be stopped with a baseball bat and that he'd win the Republican primary just as he won seven others when running for lieutenant governor."

The latter analysis was prompted by a feeling that Dickinson's lieutenant in his official cabinet and party leaders generally could not agree among themselves upon a candidate other than Dickinson.

Thus, the administration aspirants for the governorship having largely neutralized each other's chances for the nomination, Dickinson is forecast as an easy winner in the September primary. At least, that's the prevailing thought at Lansing today—not prompted by favoritism for one candidate or another, being solely but a cool summary of the political situation as it exists at the moment.

Osborn for Murphy

In connection with the former governor's blast against Dickinson, it is recalled that Chase Osborn has been noted for his political independence, having been a Bull Moose in the 1912 campaign and as late as two years ago having jumped upon the Democratic bandwagon to support Frank Murphy for reelection as governor.

This spring, Osborn remains in the same seat, the only change being that he is against Dickinson instead of the late Governor Fitzgerald and that he favors a Democrat "of the type of Murray D. Van Wagoner" instead of Mr. Murphy.

But the Osborn attitude of political independence is a disturbing sign, to say the least. Whether it represents the viewpoint of a large number of voters is quite another matter which time will reveal in its inevitable way.

If Fitzgerald's election was due more to an anti-Murphy reaction following the sit-down strike in 1937 than to a positive action in behalf of Fitzgerald—and such a conclusion has been voiced privately by leading Republicans—then what will be the popular trend in Michigan next November if Dickinson is the Republican nominee and Van Wagoner is the Democrats' choice?

Party leaders are scanning the skies hopefully for a sign.

The answer will depend to a large degree upon whom the Republicans and Democrats nominate for President. For 1940 is a national campaign year—don't forget!

Dewey Movement

More than a year ago two Michigan-born Republicans, Thomas E. Dewey and Arthur Vandenberg, agreed to stay out of each other's home field—Dewey out of Michigan and Vandenberg out of New York.

Regarding Vandenberg as the state's favorite son for the Presidency, the state republican organization has been plumping enthusiastically for the Grand Rapids senator, and it is a foregone conclusion that Vandenberg will receive Michigan's support on the first vote at the Philadelphia convention next month.

Howard Lawrence, former state treasurer succeeding Frank D. McKay, launched a Vandenberg boom a year ago. Leslie Butler, personal secretary of the governor, has been active in behalf of the Vandenberg-for-president movement. But when the Michigan senator declined to leave Washington to compete in person with Dewey in western states and the state primary verdicts showed a definite trend towards the New York jacket-busting prospector, certain Republican leaders began to get nervous.

Melville B. McPherson of Lowell, who was a candidate against former Governor Fitzgerald two years ago, and Senator Herman H. Dignan of Owosso, seized upon the opportunity to launch a Dewey movement in Michigan.

Dignan was careful to explain that the "Dewey organization is being formed without Mr. Dewey's permission, because of the Dewey-Vandenberg agreement."

He said: "His campaign is gathering momentum in Michigan, as well as elsewhere and it seems advisable that something be done to organize the sentiment here."

McPherson is chairman of the state tax commission. Dignan is an independent hardware dealer at Owosso.

And so it goes. Michigan's political pot is beginning to boil.

of these, Lincoln's Gettysburg Address, is to be memorized for Thursday.

Our class has found this course interesting as well as instructive, and most of us have enjoyed it a great deal.

12th Grade English Lit.

Recently the class in English Literature have been studying the life of Byron and his contributions to the world of literature, including "The Prisoner of Chillon" and "The Corsair." Mr. Chandler, our instructor, brought to school a number of postcards showing the Castle of Chillon and Lake Geneva, in Switzerland, where Byron wrote many of his poems.

Last week the class handed in their book reports on "The Tale of Two Cities" by Charles Dickens.

JOSEPH L. SIBLEY

Joseph L. Sibley, 82, died suddenly Monday morning, May 6 at his home in Sylvan township. He was born July 8, 1857 in Rochester, N. Y., the son of Ezra and Angelina Sibley and had resided in Chelsea and vicinity since 11 years of age. In 1893 he married Miss Alma Baldwin, who died several years ago.

He is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Susie Congdon of Grand Junction, Iowa, and Mrs. Hallock of Flint. Mr. Sibley was a member of the Congregational church.

Funeral services were held at the Plankell funeral home at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Rev. Ray W. Barber officiating. Interment was in Oak Grove cemetery.

MRS. WILLIAM P. SCHENK
Jessie Fremont Curtis, daughter of Zenas and Mary Eustis Curtis, was born July 2, 1861 in Ferrisburg, Vt., and passed away at her home in Chelsea on Wednesday evening, May 1, 1940.

She moved with her parents to Grand Lake in 1868 and on February 6, 1884 was married to William P. Schenk. They resided in Chelsea since the fall of 1885. There were six children born to this union—three sons: Herbert Winfield, Rollin Jay and Sidney Warren; three daughters, Mrs. Esther Mary Belser, Mrs. Grace Thayer and Miss Gladys Schenk, all of whom are living. Also surviving are the husband, 15 grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Schenk was a member of First Congregational church and a life member of Olive Chapter, 108, O. E. S.

Children In Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield

Some Welfare Groups Fail To Meet The Delinquency Problem

Despite an annual appropriation of thousands of dollars to various character training groups, one city could not understand why more and more of its children became delinquent each year. An investigation revealed that such groups frequently do not reach the children who need the training most. Possibly the greatest single factor contributing to such a failure is that directors of character training do not think in terms of community life as a whole, but rather concentrate on only one phase of the problem. Such groups should co-ordinate and fuse their work into one unified program which will cover all phases of delinquency prevention.

It is a recognized fact that if a normal child is placed in an unwholesome neighborhood which has no supervised recreational center, he is likely to form the same views which the other youngsters in the neighborhood hold. Groups of undisciplined and unprincipled boys who herd such neighborhoods influence thousands of normal youngsters who might otherwise have been restrained from becoming delinquent. If organizations can adequately control the out-of-school activities of children in questionable districts, they will effectively retard the development of youthful offenders.

One of the principal reasons why our rural districts and small cities provide approximately half as large a per capita delinquency rate as do large cities, is that children living in such communities have no means of finding wholesome recreation.

If small cities and villages are unable to provide recreational facilities, the county or state government should supply them. Since rural teachers serve only eight or nine months out of the year at salaries ranging from forty to eighty dollars a month, many of them would be delighted to supervise recreational centers. The National Playground Association, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Y. M. C. A., Y. W. C. A., etc., could undoubtedly be called upon to furnish correspondence courses to teachers who are employed by local school boards to supervise their recreational facilities.

is making!

What to do when the bug bites you!

Buick prices
begin at $895* for Business Coupe (Illustrated)

FIGURES show that about one out of every five able-to-purchase new-car buyers really wants a Buick more than any other car.

Not all will buy one.

Too many of them without even getting actual figures will shake their heads and sigh, "Nope! A car that big and handsome must be out of my reach!"

You'll be smarter than that, we know.

When the bug to own a Buick bites you, you'll figure that a car as talked-about as Buick must be looked at first—if you're going to have anything to go on in judging 1940 values.

You'll realize it doesn't cost a cent to find out how one feels under your own hand and what the delivered prices are.

So you'll walk in, please, to the nearest Buick dealer and boldly say:

"Let me have a good look at that car that's showing the rest of 'em what modern style is."

"Let me try out that big straight-eight engine that's electrically balanced after assembly for smoothness to match a wrist watch's works."

"Show me those big soft coil springs you talk about and how they smooth out that rough stretch down the street—and what's the business about recoil-mounted Knee-Action, heaviest frames at the price, five-foot front seat room in SUPER models, and six dozen new 1940 features?"

When you've got the answers through a good long ride—ask one more question: "How much?"

Current prices start at $895* for the business coupe, delivered at Flint, Mich. To this add transportation based on rail rates, state and local taxes (if any), and optional equipment and accessories—though there will be few such "extras" you'll need.

That totals up to low delivered prices that are often only a few dimes more a day than on cars in the lowest-price class—so why hesitate or haggle?

When the bug bites you, get the facts—and you'll get a Buick and be happy!

*Prices subject to change without notice.

Modern Diets Contain Many Protective Foods.

Diets have tended to improve in the last 50 years when measured by the protective foods—such as milk, green leafy vegetables, tomatoes, and citrus fruits—consumed by city and village families.

The current Yearbook of the department of agriculture includes a table compiled from many scattered dietary studies ranging back to 1885 and covering three ranges of expenditures—comparatively low, medium, and above average.

The table shows sharp declines in grain products and meats in the diets and a rise in four groups of protective foods.

Families spending $1.25 to $1.87 a person a week bought 294 pounds of grain products for each individual in the period 1885 to 1904, but dropped consistently to 165 pounds in 1935-37. Meat, fish, and poultry consumption dropped from 123 pounds in the earlier period to 65 pounds. Increases are noted in milk and its products, from 41 quarts to 118 quarts; eggs, 12 dozen increased to 16 dozen; leafy, green, and yellow vegetables from 24 pounds to 53 pounds; and tomatoes and citrus fruits from 10 pounds to 45 pounds.

Shifts in the medium expenditures and above average groups were generally in the same direction but not quite so pronounced. The drop in grain-products consumption in the families spending on the 1935 basis of from $2.50 to $3.12 a person a week (a fairly liberal allowance) was from 218 pounds to 174 pounds; meats down from 204 pounds to 139 pounds. Increases were: Milk group, 84 quarts to 191 quarts; eggs, 20 dozen to 27 dozen; vegetables, 48 to 69 pounds; and tomatoes and citrus, 59 to 98 pounds.

This table shows that the lowest of these three income groups is now buying more milk and more protective vegetables than the more liberal spenders were getting in the 1885 to 1904 period, and almost as many eggs and as much of the protective tomato and citrus fruits as well.

Speedy Flowing Glaciers

A glacier flows much like a river, except more slowly. One of the fastest-flowing known is the Upernivik in Greenland which has been found to have a velocity of 99 feet per day at one point. The Muir glacier, Alaska, has a velocity of about seven feet per day near tidewater. A world record for short-time glacial movements was set by the Black Rapids glacier, near Fairbanks, Alaska, in the winter of 1936-7. The glacier advanced five miles in four months with a speed average of 220 feet per day.

Wildlife Fire-Wagon

Light, fast-towing trailers packed with spray-pumps like the one being loaded here, together with enough water cans, axes and shovels to equip 25 fire fighters, are the department of conservation's newest answer to the threat of fires on the grasslands and woodlands of southern Michigan. The first four trailers are going into service at Allegan, Jackson, Ithaca, and in Tuscola county.

CELEBRATE 55TH ANNIVERSARY
Another milestone in the lives of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Palmer was passed Sunday, May 5, with the celebration of their fifty-fifth wedding anniversary at their home, Clear Lake.

The occasion, planned by the nephews and nieces of the couple, was a real surprise. When Mr. and Mrs. Palmer returned from attending services at their church in Waterloo, they found their home in the possession of the invaders. Dinner was served at 1:30. Food was blessed by little Mary Kay Palmer, eight years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Palmer of Chelsea. A centerpiece of yellow rosebuds graced the long table. Two large wedding cakes decorated in yellow and ice cream with the numbers "55" in gold on each serving comprised the dessert.

An original poem, composed by Howard Smith for the occasion, was read by Dr. Faye Palmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Palmer were married in 1885 at Chelsea, and celebrated their golden wedding in 1935.

There were guests from Detroit, Grand Rapids, Kalamazoo, Jackson, Ann Arbor, Lake Charlevoix, and Chelsea. Flowers and gifts were brought to Mr. and Mrs. Palmer and greetings came from relatives and friends who were unable to be present.

Direct Mass Parking
New Hampshire state police, by use of a high observation tower, believe they have another solution to the problem of directing mass parking at such huge sport events as championship ski jumps, football games and prize fights. An observation tower first was used at the national championship ski jump at Milan, N. H. It was placed in the center of the parking area—an airport—and the operator given large placards bearing the numbers of the various parking lanes below. When the operator saw that lanes in one section of the parking area were being filled, he blew a whistle to attract attention of the traffic directors, and held up the number of the lane to which he wished traffic directed. This kept the flow of automobiles continuous and uninterrupted. The method is similar to the one used by New Jersey state police, who use observation balloons in directing Sunday traffic during the summer months.

Japanese Language Characters
Only 3,000 characters are needed to express every-day thoughts in good Japanese, says Professor Onishi, of Hosei university. He asserts that 80,000 characters are in everyday use, but that in 92 per cent of the cases 3,000 different ones practically cover the field. He has written a dictionary of these characters, which he hopes will supersede all similar lexicons. He holds that the 1,859 ideograph list compiled by the Education Ministry of Tokyo is too short, while half the 7,000 characters usually found in ordinary printing shops are practically unused. It is his idea that the type in use can be reduced to 3,000 and that the saving in labor and expense will be enormous.

Ephobic Oath
The Ephobic or Athenian oath was taken by the youth of Athens after completing their secondary education. It is as follows: "We will never bring disgrace to our city by any act of dishonesty or cowardice, nor ever desert our suffering comrades in the ranks; we will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city; both alone and with many; we will reverence and obey the city's laws and do our best to invite a like respect and reverence in those about us. We will strive unceasingly to quicken the public's sense of civic duty; and thus, in all these ways, we will strive to transmit this city not only not less but greater, better, and more beautiful than it was transmitted to us."

Districts Announced for Baseball Program

Lansing—Orin W. Kaye, state administrator of the National Youth Administration, has announced districts over which commissioners of the junior baseball program, fostered by the N.Y.A., will have jurisdiction.

The commissioners are John Koback of base ball at Michigan State College, East Lansing; Lloyd Olds, director of track and intra-mural sports at Michigan State Normal, Ypsilanti; and Judson A. Hyames, director of athletics at Western State Teachers' College, Kalamazoo.

Mr. Koback will be in charge of District No. 1, comprising the counties of Oscoda, Chippewa, Newaygo, Mecostha, Isabella, Midland, Montcalm, Gratiot, Ionia, Clinton, Shiawassee, Eaton, Ingham and Jackson.

Mr. Hyames will be in charge of these counties, comprising District No. 2: Muskegon, Ottawa, Allegan, Barry, Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Berrien, Cass, St. Joseph and Oceana.

Mr. Olds is in charge of District No. 3, which covers these counties: Huron, Tuscola, Sanilac, Lapeer, St. Clair, Macomb, Livingston, Oakland, Washtenaw, Wayne, Hillsdale, Lenawee and Monroe.

These officials will visit the various teams in their districts at intervals during the season, settle any disputes which may arise and offer advice and counsel to sponsors and players.

They will begin their duties when the season starts after the close of schools in June. Each county in the state will be formed into a league, making approximately 40 leagues in all. At the close of the season there will be regional tournaments to be played by the leaders of each league. Winners of the regional event will participate in the state tournament to decide the championship team of Michigan.

Question And Answer Dept.

Problem.—It is known that there is a license on all black, blue, green, red and yellow cars. Cars of all other colors do not pay license. How come? (Answer elsewhere in this department).

Ques.—How many pitchers are in the baseball Hall of Fame, and who are they?

Ans.—Up to 1939 there were four pitchers in the baseball Hall of Fame. They are: Christy Mathewson, Walter Johnson, Cy Young and Grover Cleveland Alexander.

Ques.—Will you kindly answer in your valuable paper what is the meaning of "fjord"? Also how is the word pronounced?

Ans.—"Fjord" is a Scandinavian word which means a narrow inlet of the sea with high banks or rocks on both sides. It is pronounced "fyord", but slurred as one syllable.

Ques.—How does a thermometer work?

Ans.—Quicksilver (mercury) expands and contracts more easily than any other known fluid. Therefore, when it is placed in glass tubes it will rise or fall with the temperature of the air. The scale on the tube simply registers in degrees just how much the quicksilver has expanded or contracted.

Answer to problem.—Owners pay the license, not the cars.

Ques.—How do we know that man did not live in the moon?

Ans.—Because the moon has no air and no water—at least in liquid form; and because it is too cold to generate life, even if other conditions were favorable.

Ques.—Are insects necessary to the growth of most fruits?

Ans.—Yes. The plant produces a fruit because it contains a seed. Seeds are produced only from fertilized flowers—that is, from flowers in which grains of pollen have been carried to the living cell which is to become the seed. This fertilization is done when the insect crawls into the flower in search of honey and carries the pollen grain to the waiting germ cell.

Ques.—What is meant by the expression "paying through the nose"?

Ans.—It means to pay a fancy price for anything—more than it is worth. In other words, to get "stung."

Ques.—What is meant by "lame duck" in Congress?

Ans.—A "lame duck" congressman is one who serves from November to January following the election, but who was defeated for re-election. He does not represent true public opinion as expressed by the election.

Inspection of Eggs Is Consumer Protection

Lansing—In view of the widespread interest in the public in egg exhibits which the Department of Agriculture has shown recently at food expositions, Elmer A. Beamer, Agricultural Commissioner, stated this week that the amount of eggs graded and inspected by federal-state inspectors in March was the greatest since the program was started in 1937.

485,240 dozen eggs were inspected and graded in federal-state grading stations during the month of March. This is almost as many as were inspected during the entire last four months of 1939 when 484,086 dozen went through the grading stations. Beamer said, "Although egg production is now at its peak, these figures show that both producers and consumers are showing increased interest in the program."

Since the federal-state egg grading program works in conjunction with the state egg law, both producers and consumers are reaping benefits. Producers are finding that with inspection and grading of their eggs they are receiving higher prices. Consumers are receiving quality fresh eggs in a variety of size and grades, each suitable for a different purpose. "The bad egg," said Beamer, "which has for years been a nightmare to housewives, is at last being kept off the market."

An Amazing Fact!

*More People Have Switched To Pfeiffer's Beer During The Past Three Years Than To All Other Beers Made Or Sold In Michigan!

THERE MUST be a reason for a sales gain that is greater than the combined total of all other beers! Perhaps it's because Pfeiffer's Beer is made from the finest and purest ingredients, carefully brewed to a secret old-time recipe. It is, always uniform—never changes or varies. Pfeiffer's is patiently aged until it reaches the peak of the mellow flavor that has what it takes to make new friends and keep the old. Your taste will tell you why the big swing is to Pfeiffer's!

Our Neighbors

DEXTER—Dr. A. G. Wall, of Dexter, has opened a dental office in Jackson, where he will continue the practice of dentistry in conjunction with his Dexter office. He plans to be in Dexter Thursdays and evenings and Sundays, to take care of his local practice.—Leader.

PINCKNEY—We are informed that some of the village streets are to be blacktopped this year. The village has enough money in the treasury to blacktop part of them, we understand.

This work will be done as soon as the weather gets warm enough. This will be welcome news to many people as many of the streets such as Mill, Unadilla and Putnam have gotten into a very poor condition.—Dispatch.

MILAN—The basement of the Dundee Reporter, neighboring weekly newspaper office at Dundee, was badly damaged by fire, early Friday morning. Mrs. Clara Adams, owner, and her son, Jack, narrowly escaped being trapped in their living quarters over the shop when flames threatened to destroy a wooden staircase leading to safety. The fire started in the basement where the large presses are located and damaged all the paper stock also located there. An aluminum sheet under the linotype machine on the ground floor probably saved it from going to the basement as a radiator four feet away from the machine went through the floor. Rollers on the press were melted and a ton of newsprint was destroyed. More damage was caused by smoke than by the actual flames, it was stated.—Leader.

TECUMSEH—The origin of which has not been determined, at 1:30 o'clock last Friday morning damaged the Tecumseh Hotel, the United Savings Bank, McCann's Clothing Store, Ann's Beauty Shop and the local postoffice, the loss being estimated at $30,000 to $35,000. Some 40 guests in the hotel when the fire broke out fled from their rooms, many of them escaping through windows, assisted by firemen.—Herald.

HOWELL—The State Highway Department has made an announcement that the contract for construction of 5.244 miles of 22 foot concrete surfacing on US-23 from M-59 north, has been awarded to the R. D. Baker Company of Royal Oak for $235,408.63. Grading by the Weir Construction Co. on this new portion of US-23 has been proceeding for about a year.—County Press.

It Comes Only Once a Year Now.
But Wait Until He Grows Up!

1 "Nobody's consulted me about Mother's Day! Guess they think I'm too young to understand, but I'm really not! Yes, I've cried a lot and acted ungrateful-like, but you can't say I haven't appreciated everything my Mommy's done for me. For instance:"

2 "She keeps me scrubbed spick and span. Every morning after Daddy goes to work, I get my bath and see, I feel it's more darned fun! Mommy seems kind of tired sometimes so I laugh at her. Pretty soon she starts smiling again and everybody's happy."

3 "Guess I make quite a bit of fuss for Mother. I've heard her say that life is just one diaper after another, but I've never seen always a fresh one when I need it. After a while I won't need diapers any more (that's what Daddy says). When Mommy can rest!"

4 "Best part of the day comes when Mommy takes me riding every afternoon. She tells folks I need the fresh air. The fresh air helps Mommy, too, but sometimes I think she'd sooner stay home and rest. But then I guess she's kind of proud to show me off, too!"

5 "I'm getting to be a big boy nowadays. Sitting up in my high chair or every-thing! It's fun eating with a spoon, too, but maybe I'm not doing a very good job of it. Well, Mommy will clean up the mess—she always does. I guess that's what Mothers are for!"

6 "Little boys get awfully tired after a busy day. It's easy to fall asleep after Mommy has tucked me into my crib and hummed a lullaby. 'Guess it's 'cause I know Mommy will watch over her little man 'til morning comes. Some day I'm going to make every day a Mother's Day!'"

Growing Children
Need Food Energy

When children are growing fast and playing hard, they need foods that will produce strong bones and teeth, build tissue, make red blood and furnish energy. But children's "tummies" are small and quickly filled. So every bite they eat must be as full of food value as possible.

Milk is the most economical source of the materials needed for growth, say home economists at Michigan State College. Eggs are also excellent body builders, rich in protein, vitamins, and minerals. Some include from three to four glasses of milk a day, and from four to five eggs a week.

Fruits and vegetables are also important, and at least four servings are needed for every member of the family during the day. Cereals are another "must" in the well-planned diet. Whole-grain cereals are especially important for their vitamin and mineral content.

Lean meats are suitable for children once a day. The meat that can be liver or kidney sometime during the week.

If sweets do not take the place of more important foods, they may be served as a special treat at the end of the meal. Desserts that the entire family will enjoy are custards, puddings, ice cream, fruit sherbets, plain cookies and plain cake. Dried, canned or fresh fruit also makes a wholesome dessert.

Long Service Fabrics
Fabrics made of evenly sized yarns give longer service than those made of uneven ones, because with unevenly spun yarns, the thin places are likely to break easily when strain is put upon them.

Special Telephone Directories
Telephone companies in more than 20 American cities have special directories, for lease to anyone, in which subscribers are listed according to street address instead of alphabetically by name, says Collier's. In New York this service, which includes a new book every six months for each of the five boroughs, costs $270 a year.

NYA Helps Youth In Washtenaw Schools

One hundred fifty-eight Washtenaw county youth are being aided in continuing their education through the NYA school work program currently operating in 11 high schools in the county, according to Michigan National Youth Administration figures.

These young people work part-time at jobs selected by school officials who are also responsible for administration of the program in their particular schools. A maximum of $6.00 a month may be earned by a student for actual work performed.

In the majority of cases it has been learned that this money (averaging less than the maximum because the need for aid is nearly always over the allotted quota for the school) means the difference between staying in school and dropping out.

Besides receiving much needed financial assistance, students benefit from exploratory opportunities in different vocational fields. The present trend of the NYA has been to encourage the assumption of jobs so that students will receive experience in types of work they may follow in later life, in this way helping them to determine which work they have the interest and abilities to perform with greatest satisfaction.

Jobs to which students are assigned in no way infringe on the work of regular school employees.

In addition to those receiving help in this county, 16,087 are helped in 804 high schools throughout the state, and 6,345 are receiving similar help on the college and graduate work program operated by the NYA in 43 institutions.

Louisiana Indian Tribe

A recent census of Choctaw Indians, who once overran the bayou country near Lacombe, La., has revealed only six members of the pure strain. None is young enough to voice a good war whoop. An intermittent cultural "Ugh" is their only uncivilized remark.

Japanese Cherry Trees

The famous Japanese flowering cherry trees that have attracted millions of tourists to Washington, are soon to have rivals at Marysville, Calif. One hundred of the trees have been presented to the city by the Japanese American Citizens league of the four surrounding counties, who imported them from Japan.

"PAT-A-CAKE, PAT-A-CAKE, BAKING DAY;
NEVER A FAILURE FOR ME;
THE MEASURED HEAT IS EVEN AND TRUE,
WHEN I BAKE ELECTRIC-LEE!"

As Modern as an Airplane

A buggy is a vehicle that runs on four wheels, but there is similarity to the latest model automobile stops. So far as its outer shell is concerned, an Electric Range has much the same appearance as the old-fashioned cooking equipment, but again the similarity stops right there. It operates upon entirely different principles and contains features that cannot be duplicated by any other method, regardless of the efforts of imitators.

The Electric Range is a truly modern cooking machine that applies pure electric heat directly to the cooking operation. In this one respect, it is as different from all devices that use flaming fuel as is a present day airplane from the old balloon that floated over the fairgrounds.

The modern housewife desires the utmost in service, convenience, appearance, and economy. Measured by these requirements, today's Electric Range outclasses every form of cooking the world has ever known.

Building on 'Air-Lots'
The Merchandise Mart, largest building in Chicago, is built over tracks of the Chicago & North Western railway. The railroad retains ownership of the area on which its tracks operate. It sold air lots, representing possession of the space above ground occupied by the entire building, and numerous miniature ground lots necessary to sink caissons. The air was actually subdivided into lots and the diagram of the aerial real estate filed in the office of the recorder of deeds of Cook county, Ill.

Cloth Shine Removed

It is possible to take the shine from the back of trousers and skirts by sponging the shiny worn place with water containing a little ammonia, and then pressing with plenty of steam. When the garment is dry the surface should be roughed up with a piece of emery paper.

Maie Housekeeping Students

Two men students, intrigued by pots, pans and cook books, have made a successful invasion of the woman's world on the University of Minnesota campus in Minneapolis.

The two men, Maynard Anderson, an agriculture college freshman, and John Case, junior in business administration, have "cooked" their way through a home economics course ordinarily taken only by co-eds.

Instructors reported the two did a good job at "slaving" over a hot stove. The boys studied and fretted over the selection and preparation of food, food and food nutrition, meal planning and preparation, along with tips on bedmaking and "how to care for the baby" thrown in for good measure.

Melungeons of Tennessee

There is little authentic knowledge of the Melungeons, a people found in certain parts of Tennessee and Virginia. They are about the same color as mulattoes, with no other discernible Negro traits. According to their own tradition they are of Moorish descent, probably descendants of the ancient Phoenicians. They settled in Portugal and later crossed the Atlantic before the Revolutionary war, settling in South Carolina. Due to discriminatory taxes and ostracism they emigrated in a body and settled in Hancock county, Tenn.

Sacred Human Head

In the Fiji islands the human head is held to be sacred and it is an insult to reach above the head of another person. Women in consequence crawl on their hands and knees when men are at leisure inside a house. Persons who have been insulted are likely to commit suicide to eradicate the shame.

Airplane-Insect Trapping Developed Into Science

Pioneer work by federal entomologists in collecting insects from the upper air by means of traps mounted on airplanes started as early as 1928, when P. A. Glick made the first of a long series of collecting flights using a trapping device which was improved repeatedly in the course of the experiments.

Results of these flights aroused scientific interest in what has come to be known as aerobiology and has indicated the need for further definite investigations, entomologists believe. They think that insect collection over seas and oceans and at a distance from land might clear up questions as to whether destructive insects can and do enter the country by flight or drift across broad expanses of water.

Col. Charles A. Lindbergh cooperated with the late C. F. Meier of the department of agriculture in studying plant spores and micro-organisms, and Colonel Lindbergh invented the "sky hook" or trap used for this purpose. Mr. Meier lost his life in the wreck of an airplane over the Pacific while on a collecting trip. Amelia Earhart was using the Lindbergh trap on her plane when she was lost.

Under the National Research council, research in this field has been organized under the committee on aerobiology which is arranging for cooperation of scientists from the universities and government bureaus, and flyers as represented by the commercial airlines, and the army and navy aviators.

Pioneer Model Railroad Discontinues Operations

A pioneer American railroad, operating out of Washington, D. C., has been discontinued, but it was done quietly, without the intervention of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Arthur P. Gambrell, chief electrician at the government printing office, moved and took with him the miniature railroad he built 25 years ago as a pioneering step in a hobby that has swept the country.

Christened the Maryland Central railroad, Gambrell's toy operated on a 200-foot circular track in the side yard of his home at Hyattsville, Md.

The first locomotive used on the Maryland Central, a mechanical one powered by a vacuum cleaner motor, has been replaced by a 4 1/2-inch Iron Mogul that pulls cars 9 1/2 inches high and 38 inches long. The remainder of the rolling stock consists of baggage car, caboose, box-car, two steel flat cars and a trailer coach.

As Gambrell, a former railroad man, dismantled the road, he recounted the difficulties that attended the growth of the hobby.

"Model train building has become quite a pastime now, but when I started, it was a new thing. It was almost impossible to get the accessories. My locomotive was a mechanical engine. I installed a vacuum cleaner motor in it. The tracks are made of Parker rail, which was used extensively once for cornice work in plastering. I had to have the wheels cast, and I had to go to Frederick to have it done. Most places wouldn't bother with such small work."

Now, all the cars have automatic couplings, springs, and hand-brakes, and the motor car is powered by two 50 volt motors.

Story Printed in Paris Was Original 'Canard'

It is interesting to note the manner in which we have come to apply the term "canard" to any slander or outrageous story. "Canard" is the French word for "duck." About 60 years ago a French journalist set all Paris talking by an article in one of the daily newspapers purporting to tell of a wager he had made with some other newspaper men to the effect that, "given one day to prepare, he could eat 20 ducks at a sitting."

According to his tale, his wager was eagerly taken by all who heard it. Then, according to his story, he went to the market, bought 20 ducks and, by the process of hourly killing one duck and feeding it to the others, he arrived, in 20 hours, at a final duck with all the others inside it. This, the journalist wrote, he promptly killed, roasted and ate "at one sitting."

The story caused endless comment, was copied all over France and in other countries until some curious person raised a public demand to know whether this procedure was accepted by the other bettors as a bona fide performance of the wager. Eventually the journalist had to explain that the whole story was a fake, written merely to "excite comment." As a result we have the word "canard" to define just that kind of a yarn.

Wild Bird Longevity Record
Few wild birds live to be over 10 years old. Twenty-one years is the greatest longevity record thus far recorded for any bird in the banding files of the bureau of biological survey. An osprey banded at Gardiner's island, N. Y., in June, 1914, was found dead at the same place in June, 1935. One of the oldest birds recorded in the past few years was a 17-year-old Louisiana heron, which was banded at Avery Island, La., in August, 1920, and retrapped at the same place in January, 1937.

Sun's Diameter
The sun is 40 times greater in diameter than the moon, which is 2,100 miles. Its heat is about 12,000 degrees. This is five times greater than that necessary to heat iron or steel so it can be poured like water.

Inside the car, where bigness really counts, you find a Ford V-8 extra "big for its size." Big by any measure, it's especially so at the important comfort points shown below. Check them now, then come in and try a Ford. It's got a lot of things like this that are just too good to miss!

A Measured from windshield to rear window, a Ford Sedan is 100 1/4 inches... this is longer than in a number of much higher-priced cars today!

B Kneeroom for rear-seat passengers in a Ford is considerably greater than that of any other car in its price class!

C With its compact V-type engine, the Ford is designed to carry rear-seat passengers farther ahead of the rear spring than any other car at this price—toward the center of the car where riding quality is best!

SURPRISING is the word for a 1940 Ford. Surprising because it gives so much you wouldn't expect at its low price. Surprising all-round performance, as proved when it won the big 3700-mile Argentine Grand Prize Race. Surprising gas economy, as proved when it gave most miles per gallon of all standard-equipped cars at its price in the Gilmore-Yosemite Economy Run. Surprising in its big-car ride and room.
