Fishing Season Opens On Tuesday, June 25

Next Tuesday is that day which is awaited so eagerly every year by considerably more than a half million Michigan fishermen—the day on which the black bass, bluegill and sunfish season opens.

And this season, unless all present indications are upset, Michigan fishermen will be joined by a record number of out-of-state anglers.

June 25 is marked by the lifting of restrictions on fishing on all inland waters of the state now open to fishing and it will be legal to take all species of fish except grayling and sturgeon.

The fish division of the conservation department reports that an unusual number of inquiries concerning places to fish and kinds of fishing in Michigan have been received to date from outside the state. Residents of eastern states, particularly, are displaying increased interest in what Michigan has to offer the fisherman.

More than eight hundred thousand fishing licenses may be sold in Michigan this year. Resident fishermen, for the first time, are buying $1 licenses which entitle holders and wives to fish for all legal species, including trout. Of the $1 license fee, 40 cents is earmarked for acquisition of lands which provide public access to fishing waters, for research and lake and stream improvement. Non-resident anglers pay $2 for licenses good for one year; $1 for special 10-day licenses. In the case of non-resident fishermen, wives may obtain licenses upon payment of a 50-cent fee.

Michigan expects the biggest tourist business of record this season and the quality and type of fishing offered in the state is primarily responsible for attracting a large proportion of visitors.

As usual, the lowly bluegill will be the fish which lures most fishermen to Michigan's inland lakes.

Recreation News

The Community Recreation Committee met Monday, June 10 for the purpose of hiring a playground director for the summer vacation months.

Mrs. Emmet Hanked was elected treasurer to fill the vacancy left by the resignation of Mrs. Paul Schaible. The Kiwanis club, Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, Herbert J. McKune Unit No. 31, Child Study club, Knights of Pythias and St. Mary Altar Society have donated to the fund needed to carry on the work.

Miss Brown, fifth grade teacher, was hired as playground director for the period from July 8 to the last week in August.

The playground work is to be held on the public school grounds during the afternoon from 1 to 5 o'clock for children from 4 to 12 years. Older girls will be present to assist with the games. The school has consented to leave the playground equipment for use of the children.

The president, secretary and treasurer were appointed as a committee to assist Miss Brown with any problems which may occur during the summer months.

GROOM-TO-BE HONORED

Covers were laid for 15, the places being marked by nosegays of white roses and bachelor buttons. A church with a miniature bride and groom centered the table which was lighted with white tapers. Mrs. Storms, her mother-in-law, Mrs. A. Eisen, and Miss Waackenhut were attired in the dresses worn at the wedding.

A social time was enjoyed after the luncheon. Mrs. Elba Gage and Mrs. Edward Eastert were assisting hostesses.

Work Started On New Buildings At Chelsea Spring Co.

O. W. Burke, general contractor, of Detroit has been awarded the contract for construction of three new buildings for the Chelsea Spring Co. which will add approximately 20,000 square feet of floor space to the plant.

Excavations for footings for the heat-treat building to be erected to the north and west of the "L" shaped building were started last week, as was the excavating for the tunnel which will connect the basement of the present plant with the new manufacturing building to be built north of the entire plant, on the north side of the railroad siding.

The heat-treat building will be 90x90x7½ feet, the north side of this unit curving with the railroad siding, and the unit north of the siding will be 40x150x7½ feet, the south side of the building curving with the tracks.

A shipping room, 35x60 feet, will be constructed at the south side of the present plant, equipped with loading docks for trucks. All the new buildings will be one-story, of structural steel construction.

About 15 men are now employed on the construction work, and the contract calls for completion by August 1.

State Schools To Stress Citizenship Program

American citizenship will be the keynote of the program of instruction now being developed in the public schools of Michigan. Increased emphasis on the whole program and greater stress on its various phases has enlisted the attention and support of school administrators all over the state. Patriotic exercises such as reciting the flag and repeating the oath of allegiance will still be emphasized, according to Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, Superintendent of Public Instruction. But citizenship implies more obligations than these, he believes.

The good citizen, in the school, in the home, or in the community, has a deep sense of obligation to those who live or work with him and responsibility for the maintenance of our common institutions, our common property, and our form of government. These duties and these loyalties can and will be taught in the schools.

This is not a new program for the schools, but the additional emphasis to be placed upon it during the coming months is the result of greater public consciousness of its importance. New instructional materials now being developed will aid materially in focusing the attention of school administrators on citizenship and suggest more avenues for teaching and living.

Senior Classes Present Gifts To The School

The graduating class of 1940 has presented the public school with a cash gift of $97.00 to go into a fund for the purchase of a new stage curtain in the gymnasium. The school is in need of a new curtain and the seniors are to be commended for their foresight in starting a fund for the purchase of a new one.

The senior class of 1939 also presented the school with a cash gift which was used in helping to pay for the public address system now installed in the gymnasium. The acoustics in the gym are very poor and this system has been a big help in making it possible for the audience to hear speakers from the stage (providing the speaker talks into the microphone). The system is not completely paid for but plans have been started for staging another amateur show in the fall, the proceeds to be used for completing the payments.

The school and the community wish to thank the senior classes of 1939 and 1940 for these gifts to the school.

Twilight Softball News

By Rolland Spaulding

More than 200 spectators watched "Speedball Al" Mayer warm up last Thursday night while Mac McClure caught. Then "Long Hank" Schneider stepped up and slammed out a good triple to open the softball game between Spaulding Chevrolet and Hi-Speed. Spaulding Chevrolet defeated Hi-Speed by the score of 10 to 4 and I am sure everyone left the field planning to turn out to every game they possibly could in the future.

Monday night Federal Screw defeated Cassidy Lake Tech by securing an early lead and despite a stirring 6th and 7th inning rally, came out the victors by a narrow margin. Tuesday night Spaulding Chevrolet managed to boost their winning streak to five straight after defeating the Chelsea Spring Co. in a close game that almost turned out to be an upset for Spaulding Chevrolet.

Results

Thursday—Spaulding Chevrolet 10, Hi-Speed 4.

Monday—Federal Screw 10, Cassidy Lake Tech 4.

Tuesday—Spaulding Chevrolet 7, Chelsea Spring 2.

Cassidy Lake Events

By Clyde Melton and Charles Satterlee

Wednesday evening, June 12, "So Red the Rose", starring Randolph Scott and Margaret Sullivan, was shown in the recreation hall. The picture was enjoyed by all.

Cassidy Lake Softball is at a standstill due to wet grounds and rain. On Wednesday, June 12, the Aviation class enjoyed a field trip to Battle Creek municipal airport.

The painting and decorating class plans a field trip to Ann Arbor airport, where they will do a painting job.

Cassidy Lake is pushing a safety campaign this summer.

American Red Cross life guards are available at the bathing beach during all swimming periods. In all the cabins rules and regulations have been posted regarding swimming.

Badminton is rapidly gaining in popularity at Cassidy Lake. Two of the outstanding players in this game are Wilmore "Chief" Yaw and Hubert Johnson.

Tuesday, June 11 proved to be a busy but most enjoyable day for the Cassidy Lake quartet which is composed of John Bosman, John Quinn, Joe Mahoski and Duncan Joliceur. In the afternoon the boys traveled to Tecumseh where they sang at a dinner sponsored by the Tecumseh Rotary club. On Thursday the band journeyed to Jackson to play at a Jackson county NYA meeting.

President Elected By Telephone Pioneers

In a state-wide mail election, members of Wolverine Chapter, No. 10, Telephone Pioneers of America, have named Earl P. Reynolds of Grand Rapids the chapter's 19th president. It has been announced.

Reynolds, who is plant supervisor of safety for the Southern Division of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, succeeds Henry Dakin, of Detroit. Dakin becomes a member of the executive board of the organization.

Pioneers in the four divisions of the company's organization elected division vice presidents as follows: Detroit Division, Cletus Kennelly, district traffic superintendent for the company; Central Division, Ralph B. Doh, Flint, district plant superintendent; Southern Division, T. H. Dawson, Lansing, district commercial superintendent; Northern Division, Miss Emma Hoelt, Bessemer, chief operator.

Frank L. Curtis, of Detroit, assistant secretary of the company, was re-elected secretary of the Pioneers organization and Arthur C. Kuhn, Pleasant Ridge, company auditor of disbursements, was re-named treasurer.

Reynolds has been with the Bell System more than 30 years, having started work as a messenger boy at Battle Creek when he was 17 years old. Except for a year with the Rocky Mountain Telephone Company in Idaho, his entire telephone career has been with the Michigan Bell Company. He has spent the last 12 years at the Southern Division's headquarters, Grand Rapids.

The Telephone Pioneers of America is comprised of men and women with 21 or more years of telephone experience. Wolverine chapter was organized in 1922 and now has 1,262 members.

Farmers of State Buy
Total of 3,586,000 Trees

Trees enough to plant more than 3,000 acres of non-agricultural land were sold at cost this spring from the nursery operated by the forestry department of Michigan State College.

Another million trees or enough for another 1,000 acres for reforestation were sold by the Michigan State Conservation department.

In Washtenaw county the tree orders filled by the college numbered 17 for a total of 26,200 trees.

Three principal uses are being filled by farmers utilizing these seedlings, says W. Iva Bull, extension forester at the college.

Wind and water erosion control is one purpose. The others include eventual timber or pulpwood production on non-agricultural land, use as windbreaks, and for an ultimate Christmas tree crop.

Special allotment of as much as $30 a farm, earned by planting forest trees on farms, at the rate of $7.50 an acre, was an inducement this year from the federal Agricultural Soil Conservation program. This, says forester Bull, had some effect in boosting the recent planting to a 2,000,000 tree increase over the number of seedlings sold from the college nursery a year ago.

Some of the leading counties in the 3,586,000 total of trees purchased were Muskegon with 701,000 seedlings, Oceana with 260,000, Mecosta 185,780 and Van Buren with 140,000.

Price lists for reforestation stock to be sold this fall and next spring will be available about August 1. Landowners seeking supplies are advised to write to the forestry department at the college for cost price lists and to place their orders early in the fall before supplies of some of the species are exhausted.

Dangerous Ammonia Leaks
Scenes reminiscent of a war-time gas attack occurred in Johannesburg, South Africa, when an ammonia pipe in a giant refrigerator burst. Fumes filled the store containing the refrigerator and poured into the street. Passersby choked and ran. Motorists coughed and were blinded by the fumes. Firemen in gas masks, with the aid of an expert in refrigeration, stopped the leak.

Record of Planting Is Published By Fish Div.

Stocking operations involving more than 175,000,000 fish, listed by counties, lakes and streams, are tabulated in the Michigan Fish Planting Record for 1939, just published by the fish division of the department of conservation.

These fish plantings in the state's inland waters are further identified in the case of lakes by township names, and in the case of streams by township, range and section numbers.

Plantings of another hundred million lake trout and walleyes in Great Lakes waters, of interest principally to commercial fishermen, are not listed.

Copies of the fish planting record are kept at state fish hatcheries, state parks, regional and district headquarters of the conservation department, state forest headquarters and tourist and resort associations.

Many experienced anglers make a practice of referring to the planting record, especially when fishing waters are new to them. Copies of the publication are available at Lansing at 60c each.

Brook, brown, rainbow and lake trout, walleyes, large and smallmouth black bass, perch and bluegills are the species planted in inland waters in 1939. The majority are planted in the young fry stage, but in the total are included more than 450,000 fish of legal size to keep if caught — mostly brook, brown and rainbow trout.

Many NYA Workers In Schools Are Graduated

Lansing—More than 24,675 of Michigan's high school and college graduates and those leaving school for the summer were enabled to continue their education through part-time work provided by the National Youth Administration.

In Washtenaw county 174 youth were employed on a part-time basis in 11 schools during the past school year for which a maximum of $6 per month was paid in wages by the NYA for work assigned by school officials, supervised the selection and assignment of 17,698 needy high school students during the past school year found all sorts of useful jobs to be done which, if possible, were correlated with the type of study in which the youth was specializing in order to give practical work experience in this field.

As an example, youth taking commercial courses assisted in the school office doing typing, mimeographing and general clerical work; some did landscaping and repair work; other youth assisted in chemistry laboratories or in the school laboratories. In no case were regular maintenance personnel displaced.

In 43 Michigan colleges, 6,980 needy students did similar types of work with perhaps more specialization because of the advanced character of the instruction and facilities.

Evidence of the earnestness with which these NYA youth are pursuing their education are reports from practically every college in the state that NYA students show superior scholarship records to the average prevailing in the institution.

There are 50 per cent more applications for NYA part-time work than can be assigned to the program because of the limited funds available. A study just completed of applications made for student work in both the high school and college programs show that the largest single group of needy students report family incomes of between $1,000 and $1,249 a year.

Hundreds of Michigan educators heartily endorse the school and college work program in letters received at the Lansing NYA office and stress the fact that nearly all these students would have been forced to abandon their education had they not received financial assistance through the part-time work provided.

MASON—V. J. Brown returned to Mason Wednesday. He made the trip from Los Angeles to Chicago by plane, leaving Oakland, across the bay from San Francisco, at 3:30 a. m. and arriving in Chicago at midnight with stops at Sacramento, Salt Lake City, Denver and Omaha. It was Mr. Brown's first flight. The takeoff was delayed an hour by fog and on arrival in Chicago Tuesday night the plane could not be landed. Chicago was blocked out by a severe storm and after cruising above the clouds for an hour the captain headed his ship for Milwaukee where a landing was made. On Wednesday morning Mr. Brown took the train to Chicago and then took another train from Chicago to Lansing.

Mrs. Brown and Miss Dorothy Brown are returning from the coast by automobile. They are accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh J. Brown and Miss Helen Brown of Detroit. —County News.

WILLIAMSTON—For the first time in many years, at least a pair of deer have been paying regular visits in the village of Williamston this spring. In recent days, tracks have been observed on numerous occasions in the soft ground to the east of the ball diamond, in McCormick Park, which lies along the Red Cedar River between Cedar and North Putnam streets. And within the past few days, residents on High street have reported seeing a couple of deer in that vicinity at about dusk. Just what route they followed into and out of the village is not known although they probably followed the river bank down from the east. Otherwise, it is not known from which direction they may have come. —Enterprise.

SOUTH LYON—A showing of oil was found Wednesday in the Traverse sand at the oil well being drilled on the Wilburn Smith property on Ten-Mile road two miles east of South Lyon. The well was down 530 feet when the oil sand was hit. A considerable quantity of gas was also found, having enough pressure to force tools some distance up the pipe. When first struck the gas pressure measured two to three million feet. Most shallow wells in southern Michigan are found in the Traverse sand. The objective of drillers in the Smith well, however, is the Trenton sand at around 4,000 feet, provided oil in paying quantity is not discovered before the Trenton sand is reached. —Herald.

TECUMSEH—By a vote of more than 10 to one, the qualified electors of the Village of Tecumseh on Tuesday approved a $25,000 bond issue, the money to be used in the building of an addition to Tecumseh Hospital, nearly doubling the size of that institution. The vote was 250 in favor of the project, and 21 opposing it. "The taxpayers of the village have done their part," was the comment of Ray W. Herrick, president of the hospital board of trustees, when he learned of the outcome of the election. "Now it's up to the board and to the council to get busy with the project. I think that we can build the addition and have it opened to the public in October. That's the goal we will work to, and I think that we can hit it." —Herald.

PLYMOUTH—School financing conditions are the best they have been in several years, according to a report made Monday night at the annual school meeting. The report was for accounts as of May 31, and showed an increase of $4,998.27 over the balance on hand at the close of school last year. Three funds make up the total balance which this year stands at $30,221.84 as compared with $25,423.57 of a year ago. The general fund shows a balance of $14,350.42; building and site fund, $3,884.68; and the debt service fund, $11,986.74. —Mail.

Lansing—The shadow of labor discord has appeared again in Michigan. Coming at a crucial time when the United States government is leaning heavily upon our industrial plants for armament, a threat at production output could easily become a national affair.

The situation is something like this: (1) The C. I. O. is fearful that industrialists may seize upon the preparedness issue as a pretext to deny them the "right" of higher wages—and the "right" to strike for them.

(2) Industrialists recall the activity of Communists in the 1937 sit-down strike, and they insist that unions shall give a five-day notice of strike only as a last resort in negotiating grievances. They want authority also to dismiss employees, alien or otherwise, whom they believe to be involved in sabotage.

(3) Commissioner Oscar G. Olander of the state police says 100 additional men are needed to investigate "hundreds of reports of subversive activities in this state." While Olander did not divulge where the additional men would be detailed, it is understood that officials are apprehensive that sabotage may hinder production of important war orders.

(4) And, this being a democracy, don't forget this one: National and state elections are due to be held next November. That means votes—and lots of them.

Dictatorship

With the European war possibly coming to our shores (this is believed inevitable should England move its capital to Canada), Michigan's automobile plants occupy key positions in the national defense of the United States.

Our involvement in the war would probably evoke a war-time dictatorship. Rights of management and labor could be limited drastically by federal decree, all in the interest of national security.

Hence, the peace-time actions of industrial labor leaders and workers in the rank and file may prevent or invite stern war-time regulation.

The alternative would be to risk the price paid by France where production of necessary war supplies even two years ago was insufficient to meet urgent needs of national defense. In a remarkable report to the president of the French Republic on Nov. 12, 1938, M.M. Deladier and Reynaud declared:

"The gravest failure, from which the others follow, has been the persistently low level of production... If production is insufficient it is primarily because its possibilities of development have been paralyzed."

"The idea of a reduction in the length of the working day had been entertained on the assumption that, as a result of increased efficiency of labor and more extensive use of machinery, the same output could be obtained with fewer hours of work."

"But the efficiency of labor has not increased and the hopes founded on technical improvement have not been realized. How could it have been otherwise, when the majority of factories and shops were closed two days out of seven?"

rest upon management, capital and labor.

Mr. Reynaud, co-author of the 1938 report, is now Premier of France. Like Winston Churchill, he is bearing a heavy task of trying to overcome the dreadful waste and lost time in the years prior to the war.

In the light of French experience, it is clear that every element of our population may be called upon for new sacrifices—perhaps by longer working hours, perhaps by heavier taxes, and perhaps by postponing the satisfaction of former wants in favor of present wants of a more urgent nature.

In a democracy such as the United States and in a state of advanced technological development such as Michigan, the challenge of 1940 is whether we can solve the problem of defense as efficiently as a totalitarian state. Cooperation of capital and labor will be put to a new test. Upon the success or failure of this teamwork depends the security of millions.

Ford, Peace Apostle

Henry Ford, America's outstanding genius of mass production, financed a "peace ship" to Europe in 1916. When this nation entered the conflict, Ford swung his huge plants into the manufacture of tanks, submarine chasers and ambulances.

Still an apostle of peace, the Dearborn manufacturer a few weeks ago received worldwide attention when he declared in an interview that the Ford organization could produce 1,000 airplanes a day through mass production methods "if" he were guaranteed no governmental "meddling"—presumably by the National Labor Relations board.

The army department rushed one of its latest models to Dearborn for Ford engineers to examine.

Because Ford's management policies have always been liberal to labor, the C. I. O. has been unsuccessful to date in efforts to unionize Michigan plants. How popular the automobile maker is with labor was revealed recently by a Gallup public opinion survey which placed him high up on the list—along with John L. Lewis!

CCC Youths

Non-combatant military training in the CCC camps in Michigan appeared to be a probability as Congress rushes plans to integrate federal relief and national defense.

The youths would not be trained with guns for military combat, but they would be given instruction in bridge and road construction, cooking, first aid, radio, photography and mechanical work. The camps may help to train young men for industrial employment in an effort to break the present bottleneck due to lack of machines and skilled machinists.

(near) MRA camp at Cassidy Lake (near Chelsea) is already training young men in vocational fields such as aviation and automobile engineering.

Michigan national guardsmen will train this summer at Sparta, Wisconsin, and at Cramling, Wis. CCC camps would "prove valuable assets in case of mobilization," it was stated at Washington by Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff.

G-Men in Michigan

Federal investigators of the department of justice have developed leads in Michigan "as challenging as those we received in Louisiana," so admitted Dr. John Rogge, assistant United States attorney general, in Detroit.

The Louisiana inquiry consumed eleven months before the lid blew off. The Associated Press intimated that the federal grand jury was looking into charges of graft in connection with liquor dealings.

After Wayne county's mess involving the sheriff, prosecuting attorney, and a couple scores of policemen, the prospect of a Louisiana-style scandal being uncovered in Michigan fairly takes your breath.

The Washington probe may end in indictments of a startling nature.

Several weeks ago I wrote about the stupidity of dumb animals.

Dumb animals take to safety naturally. Ducks fly in a "V" formation for safety, and it is said that if any source of danger is spotted, a scout flies out to investigate.

Beavers are some of our smartest loggers. Have you ever seen a dead beaver in a section where beavers have cut down trees? Of course not. Beavers also detail one of their number to watch out and warn the rest of the "loggers" when a tree is about to fall.

How often, however, have you seen automobile drivers, as well as pedestrians, drive and walk right into hazards that are as plain as day. We may laugh at dumb animals and call them such, but it makes us wonder sometimes if we aren't really to be placed in the "dumb animal" class because of some of the things we do in our driving and walking.

Think it over.

Case Dismissed

Two automobiles can collide at a street intersection without either driver being criminally reckless or careless, a Hopkinsville, Ky., judge believes. Two drivers hailed into his court were vehement in accusing each other. Both demanded an arrest. Officers charged one with recklessness and the other with carelessness. The judge held only a question of civil damages was presented by the case and "police court is no collecting agency."

Balance Is Required In Outdoor Meals

Even when dinner or supper is served outdoor-style or at a picnic, the meal requires balance, suggest home economics staff members at Michigan State College.

Despite summer temperatures one of the easiest methods is to plan the picnic meal around some hot dish. A vacuum jug will keep food either hot or cold for hours. If the family has such a jug, prepare soup, stew, chili or other foods at home and serve hot at the picnic. If not, take a covered casserole of scalloped potatoes, tomatoes, or mixed vegetables that will hold its heat for an hour or so.

The fireplaces in local, state, and national parks make it easy to cook at the picnic grounds. One can prepare meat and vegetables at home, and then reheat them over the picnic fire. Canned foods can be heated quickly at the picnic or steaks or hamburgers can be broiled.

Raw vegetables as a relish or salad should be included in the picnic menu. If greens are crisp in the refrigerator they will stay quite fresh wrapped in waxed paper. Pick carrots or cucumber sticks, celery, radishes, or green onions into a covered glass jar.

For the beverage, plan to have milk for the children at least. If there is no way to keep the bottles cold, the milk will keep best in a vacuum bottle.

Fruit is ideal for the picnic dessert. Apples, bananas, grapes, plums, fresh pineapple, melons or other fruit in season are suggested. Crunchy cookies, tarts, turnovers, or cup cakes also make good desserts for the outdoor meal.

Cover for Animals and Birds To Be Preserved

Lansing—State Highway Commissioner Murray D. Van Wagoner has named another reason this week for preservation of roadside vegetation along Michigan highways.

In an instruction letter to field employees the commissioner asked that every effort be made to preserve roadside plant material as a protection for game birds and animals. These orders will apply to roadside operations such as mowing of the grass on road shoulders, tree and shrub trimming and tree spraying.

The department's action was taken as a measure of cooperation with the Michigan United Conservation Clubs. In a letter to the department this organization pointed out the value of preserving wild life cover to afford nesting places for birds and animals which in addition to providing targets for sportsmen also destroy insect pests.

Horn of Plenty
According to mythology, the infant Zeus was fed with goat's milk by Amalthea, one of the daughters of Melisseus, king of Crete. Zeus, in gratitude, broke off one of the goat's horns and gave it to Amalthea promising that the possessor should always have in abundance everything desired. This gave rise to the expression, "horn of plenty."

Sports Equipment

Used in Ancient Times

Steel or iron have been favored for sports equipment since ancient times, when Greek athletes hurled the javelin in their games, and then thrown through the Middle ages, when armored knights tested their skill in tournaments. Today steel is more prominent than ever in sports and games, and every year millions of pounds of steel are bought in thousands of sports and recreation equipment. When many modern sports developed, wood and leather were used widely, but the trend is toward steel where speed, strength and safety are important.

Golf, a game in which little steel is used, once, in 1838 absorbed about 1,098,000 pounds in the manufacture of new clubs, exclusive of other uses on the courses.

Of the total for golf clubs 175,000 pounds of steel were used for the shafts of wood-headed clubs, while 1,000,000 pounds were used for the shafts and heads of irons. On the average, indeterminate amounts of steel were used for pins to mark the steel cups and for watering equipment, pails, mowers and other machinery for upkeep.

True Contentment

MOST PEOPLE would agree that contentment is a valuable asset, and would willingly give much to be assured of its lasting possession. Considered, however, from the material standpoint, this state of consciousness seems to be of a fleeting nature. It may temporarily experience a sense of contentment or satisfaction over some material possession, or over some human condition or situation, but such a source of contentment is never lasting, for material possessions may suddenly be lost, or circumstances be altered, and erstwhile contentment give place to bitterness, dissatisfaction and resentment. One may feel the gaining of certain desires or the realization of some territorial ambition will bring contentment, only to find that such attainment, when secured, have failed to bring the expected satisfaction.

What is true contentment? May it be a sense of contentment or satisfaction of spirit, as serenity and peace of mind?—Paul declares (Philippians 4:11): "I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content." The answer came to Paul the wonderful sense of peace and contentment that did not get disturbed or changed by any adverse conditions or circumstances? It came from his knowledge of understanding of God, his recognition of the value and permanence of spiritual things and the nothingness of that the material senses hold desires and valuable.

Man reflects the substance and influence of God, the omnipotence of Truth, the quality of Life. Man, as the idea God, possesses by reflection all the that God has, even as the beloved Father, Christ Jesus, implied in his table of the elder brother, (Luke 10:1) and said to the elder brother, "I am that I have is thine." True contentment, then, comes to us in the free of our spiritual understanding, the fact of man's eternal unity with the source of all good. It is an attribute of divine Mind, and therefore a natural quality, which man forfeits, unless he surrenders to the attributes of God, spontaneously and without effort.

When we gain the assurance that there is ever one with God, that he is spiritual, perfect, and complete, lacking nothing that is necessary to God, and perfect, existing in a glorious state of Life and Love; we shall have attained to spiritual contentment, and will be unchangeable and enduring.

Nothing can mar it or take it from us, this exalted spiritual consciousness that of necessity destroy those dissatisfied and unhappy conditions of life, which find expression in dissatisfaction, covetousness, jealousy, selfishness; and greed, and some lovely traits as pride, and ambition, and the craving of the human mind for constant acquisition of material things, and dissolves the carelessness and continual urge for the worldly pursuits and the indulgence of sensuous pleasures, which never brought, and never can bring, happiness or contentment.

It is the satisfaction of the worldliness worldly knowledge with spiritual life and joys, and enables us to understand and appreciate the words of Mary Baker Eddy, the Discoverer, Founder of Christian Science, where she writes in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" (p. 202): "It is the fragrant intellect, repast with contentment and virginal with the luxury of learning with wisdom and vice."

Again, "true spiritual contentment is not mean surrender to idleness, or self-satisfaction in what has already been accomplished, a resignation of the self-surrender to God, divine achievement, with things attempted but not completed. On the contrary, dissatisfaction with oneself, a discontent that calls one to greater effort in a worthy undertaking or cause, is helpful and strengthens spiritual understanding and desire to attain higher spiritual growth and achievement."

Who possesses true contentment possesses great spiritual riches, a treasure of priceless worth, and all that is to attain to it who are willing to pay for it and pay the price. And the self-surrender to God, divine willingness to put aside our being in a material selfhood and our material sense of things, and joyously, gratefully, humbly, as little children, put our trust and faith in the omnipotence and omnipresence of the infinitely tender, compassionate Father-Mother God, and let Him liberally and spontaneously all good to all His loved children. Thus may we prove the truth of Mrs. Eddy's declaration (p. 494), "Divine Love always meet and always will meet every man's need." What need we more than this joyous assurance to bring lasting contentment?
