Bing Miller To Speak At Football Banquet

Chelsea Kiwanians have been fortunate in securing Bing Miller, Detroit Tigers coach, as guest speaker for the annual football banquet to be held in the high school auditorium next Monday evening, December 2.

Mr. Miller was a member of the Philadelphia Athletics during the years they were the world champions, 1927-29. Other members of that famous team were Mickey Cochrane, Lefty Grove, Jimmy Fox, George Earnshaw, Jimmy Dykes, and many other names familiar to the followers of baseball. Having been connected with baseball for so many years, Mr. Miller has a large store of baseball tales of bygone days and is a very popular speaker with both old and young.

The seniors of Chelsea high school are sponsoring the dinner which will be held in the auditorium at 6:30 p. m. The program to follow the dinner will feature Bing Miller as guest speaker. Coach Charles Cameron will award letters to the football team of 1940, and Captain Andrew Policht will introduce the captain-elect for next year.

Tickets for the banquet may be obtained from any member of the Senior class. Everyone is invited to attend for an evening filled with enjoyment.

The first meeting will be held Thursday night, December 5, in the agriculture room. Every farmer is invited. As yet the subjects to be taught have not been definitely decided upon but they will be announced next week.

In an effort to increase the attendance over last year, the meetings will be held on Thursday evenings during the same time the Home Economics evening class is in session. In addition, postcards will probably be mailed to prospective students before each meeting.

Any farmer wishing to have his name on the mailing list please notify Roy Ives or Thomas Bust.

Aliens Must Register By December 26, 1940

Alien registration will end on December 26 and all non-citizens who have not yet registered are warned that severe penalties will follow failure to comply with this Federal law.

All aliens, 14 years of age and older, must register in person and be fingerprinted. Alien children, under 14, must be registered by their parents or guardians.

Registration takes place at the post offices and there is no charge of any kind connected with alien registration. The Department of Justice warns aliens to beware of racketeers. The Post Office Department and the Department of Justice will willingly assist the alien in every possible way.

Earl G. Harrison, Director of Alien Registration of the Department, suggests that those aliens who have not yet registered do so as soon as possible and avoid the Christmas rush at the post offices.

All aliens are also warned that, having registered, they are required to report any change in their permanent residence address within five days to the Immigration and Naturalization Service of the Department of Justice in Washington. Forms for this purpose are obtainable at all post offices.

No alien need be unprepared for the questions he will be asked. Sample registration forms which show him exactly what information he will need at registration are available in all post offices.

A very important factor in the prevention of automobile accidents is the prompt reporting of all accidents that do occur. It is only by studying the reports of all accidents that we can eliminate the conditions that cause accidents.

Even today, cities, towns, villages, and counties in many parts of the country keep no record whatever of automobile accidents. Some states have passed legislation requiring that accidents be reported and have provided the proper forms for that purpose. A driver is required by law to report to the police in the community in which the accident occurs, and the police will in turn send the report to the state authorities.

The responsibility for an accident usually rests with the driver of the car. Senseless machines have never caused an accident. Therefore, we must have an accurate record of accidents so that a careful study can be made of them and their causes removed wherever possible.

Every citizen should be vitally interested in an accident-reporting system for his community.

Improved Valve Seat Rings
Greatly improved fits for valve seat rings on airplane engines, with less risk of engine failure, are reported to result from chilling the parts with a solution of "dry ice" and an alcoholic-type solvent.

Sizes in Gold
Gold has been mined in a greater variety of sizes than any other metal reports Collier's. Some nuggets have weighed more than a hundred pounds, while some particles have not weighed as much as one ten-thirtieth of an ounce.

Chains of Ancient Origin
Chain stores are known to be of ancient origin. An official notice posted on the walls of the forum in Pompeii advertised for sale or for rent a chain of 1,200 retail stores. It was not until the nineteenth century, however, that multiple-unit systems began to be an important factor in distribution.

Hunters on the farm of Charles Haggerty one day last week shot a fine ewe in his flock of sheep that were in the pasture lot. Leslie Gilmore and family have moved from the Negus residence on Harrison street to the Taylor farm near Gregory. The smallpox situation at Ypsilanti has so improved that the students will be permitted to go home for Thanksgiving vacation. The board of canvassers of Jackson county has left the contest between Congressman Samuel Beakes, democrat, and Mark R. Bacon, republican, for the 2nd district's seat in the house up to Congress. The returns for the city are correct except in the first precinct of the second ward in Jackson, where Beakes claims votes for him thrown out through an error would insure his re-election if counted. As it now stands, Mr. Bacon has a lead of 37 votes.

History of St. Paul's Evangelical Church

By Lillie Wackenhut It was 75 years ago when a group of Lutheran people gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Wackenhut, Sr. on South Main street (which home still stands), for what they believed to be an important mission, and for many years the little group gathered at various homes. As a result of their services the St. Paul's church was organized. The congregation was organized by Rev. Frederick Schmid, the pioneer missionary of the Lutheran church in the State of Michigan, coming to this country from Germany as a graduate from the Basel Mission Institute in Switzerland. He was ordained to the ministry and left his old home in 1833, arriving in Detroit. After coming to this country he found 30 Lutheran families from his home land, preaching, teaching and administering the rites of religion to thousands before needed helpers came. His journeys to Jackson, Waterloo, Chelsea and other places were made on horseback from his home in Ann Arbor, preaching at the various places once every three or four weeks. He continued his labors as a Home Missionist until 1883 when he died, with his life work remaining a blessing to many. All services were conducted in the German language and continued for many years, but at present all services are in English with the exception of the fourth Sunday in the month, which is German. Following Rev. Schmid came Rev. Christian Spring who was pastor then at Waterloo. He conducted services at the various homes until 1868 when the first church was erected. The pastors of the church were as follows: Rev. J. Schlademund of Waterloo during the first few months held services in the new church once in two weeks and in the fall of 1868 the congregation had grown to such an extent that a resident pastor was desired and Rev. Tiek assumed pastoral charge of the church. The pastors following were: Revs. M. Graupner, W. Bunge, M. Metzger and C. Bach. In 1867, the Rev. G. Robertus took charge; he was succeeded by Rev. C. Haag, who took charge from 1888 until 1895, when the present church was built. Rev. G. Elson was succeeded by the Rev. L. Koelbing. In 1901 the Rev. A. A. Schoen, now of Dexter, became the pastor, remaining until 1920. Rev. G. Krause followed. Rev. P. H. Grabowski, the present pastor, came to Chelsea in 1922, and under his supervision the church has been redecorated and remodeled, and the present new hall built. There are four pastors who served this church who are still living: Rev. C. C. Haag of Walled Lake; Rev. A. A. Schoen of Dexter; Rev. G. Krause of Loudenville, Ohio, and Rev. P. H. Grabowski, all of whom we hope may take part at the anniversary service, a church hall had been the desire of the congregation for a number of years and finally a building fund for that purpose was started by Mrs. Elizabeth Wackenhut, the oldest charter member of the Ladies' Aid Society and also of the church. The hall is now completed and will be dedicated at the afternoon service.

Sylvan Home Ec. Club

Thirteen members of the Sylvan Home Economics club met with Mrs. Albert Bachman on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 19. A discussion on various kinds of bed spreads was given by the leaders, Mrs. George Heydlauff and Mrs. Walter Kalmbach. Patterns and finished articles were shown, using a heavy thread worked in designs, on coarse net. Mrs. Harold Widmayer will entertain the club at her home on December 17. This will be an all day meeting, with a lunch at noon.

Farmers in Ancient Ireland

Pre-war discovery of a grain of wheat below the foundations of a prehistoric settlement at Island McHugh, in Baranocourt lake, County Tyrone, Ireland, throws an entirely new light on the life of the first inhabitants of Ireland. Two archeologists, Oliver Davies of Queen's university, Belfast, and C. F. Mitchell, Trinity college, Dublin, report that the grain was found at the new Stone age level, dating about 2000 B. C. The settlement is on an estate of the duke of Abercorn. It has been thought that the earliest men in the country were hunters and fishermen only, but the wheat grain proves them to have been farmers, the archeologists maintain. It is their opinion that cereals, and the knowledge of their cultivation, were taken from the Mediterranean to Ireland by the tomb builders.

Vagabond Collegian

"The Vagabond Poet" of Michigan State college can justify his title. At 24, Rex B. Naugle Jr., has lived in every state in the Union and in all provinces of Canada. Naugle was born in York, Pa., while his parents were on their way from New York to Tulsa, Okla. His father, an engineer, has had a position keeping the family constantly on their travels, and in the last three years of high school he attended 10 schools.

Unique Time Piece

The Chinese tell time with considerable accuracy by looking at a cat's eye. The pupil of the cat's eye becomes narrower as noon approaches, and wider as the afternoon wanes.

The raw food craze is a lot of the roughage-fad. The average, normal individual may well eat some raw food daily. But in spite of occasional "freak" cases, the use of an exclusively raw food diet is not conducive to the best state of nutrition. Many foods are more completely and easily absorbed if cooked. Vegetables are not only made more appetizing by cooking, but what is still more important, the starch cells under the influence of heat burst and permit the digestive juices to reach the contained starch.

The words of the wise man, "To everything there is a season, and a time to every purpose," may well be applied to the use of foods. There is a place in the diet for concentrated foods as well as for moderate amounts of roughage. Difficulties result from the overuse of either.

Lansing — Michigan celebrated Thanksgiving last week with more than customary gratitude for its blessings.

Business is ahead of last year. The Business Week Index stands at 106.6, a new high point for the year which dipped to 103 last April.

Because of heavy arms contracts, Michigan industrial plants have a total of future orders well past the half-billion mark, and this amount is being swelled each week by new authorizations at Washington.

Employment for the nation has already exceeded our 1929 peak, being 48,404,000 persons in 1940 as compared with 47,925,000 for the final boom year.

Price Inflation? In the judgment of leading Michigan industrialists, we are due for at least two years of record-breaking prosperity.

Business are two-fold: 1. Huge defense orders, highlighted by a Morgenthau post-election statement that the Treasury borrowing limit may be raised 20 billions.

According to the United States News, whose editor was pro-Willkie, this "spells the greatest sustained boom in the history of this or any other country as far as industrial volumes are concerned."

New Economy Drive? Almost in anticipation of this situation, a new economy drive is being launched by the Michigan Public Expenditure Survey, an affiliate of the Chamber of Commerce of Michigan.

The economy platform runs counter to these Michigan trends: 1. Every recent state administration has augmented powers at Lansing—new bureaus, new commissions and new increases in payrolls.

The civil service amendment, which becomes a part of the state constitution, has rigid provisions that are far-reaching in effect. They will put Michigan into the front rank of merit system states.

According to a commonly accepted interpretation of the amendment, a state officer will be limited to two appointments—presumably a deputy and a personal secretary.

All other employees will be hired and fired by the civil service commission, whose director is a czar beyond reach of the legislature.

Furthermore, funds for operating the system are automatically provided for by the amendment. Again legislators are powerless to interfere.

The prospect of Governor-elect Murray D. Van Wagoner being unable to bring more than a legal advisor and a personal secretary to the executive office on January 2 is astonishingly unorthodox, to say the least.

Mr. Van Wagoner is studying selection of the commission, and it is possible that Governor-Dickinson may go through the legality of naming his successor's appointments on the commission in order that advance preparations can be started at once.

Shift to Small Town — Merchants in Michigan — "small towns"—places with population under 10,000—have new reasons to be thankful.

The U. S. Census for 1940 shows that Michigan was the second in 17 states with an increase in the percentage of inhabitants living in small towns and rural areas.

Other states which show a greater population of small towns and rural population than in 1930 are: California, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Kentucky, Maryland, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, and Washington.

Thirty-seven of the 48 states are more than 50 per cent "small town." The spilling-over of metropolitan population into suburban areas has been a factor in this trend.

In these days of foreign crisis and national security, much talk is heard about "national unity."

To achieve a semblance of coalition government, President Roosevelt included four Republicans in his cabinet: Harold Ickes, Frances Perkins, Frank Knox and Henry Stimson.

Michigan's new state government will also be bi-partisan. Its governor, lieutenant governor, state treasurer and highway commissioner will be Democrats. Secretary of state, attorney general, auditor general and state superintendent of public instruction will be Republicans.

The state legislature will remain under Republican control. The above situation, however, has its complications. An opportunity exists for evading responsibility, or in other words, for "back-passing."

If the state deficit is not reduced, if pressure groups are denied promised increases in state appropriations, who will be blamed—the governor or the legislature?

Expecting that better times in Michigan will increase sales tax revenues substantially, the taxpayers' program, as just announced, presents three demands:

1. Reduction of state budget at least 5 per cent for next biennium. 2. Enactment of state budget control system, including standardizing reporting between local units and the state.

3. Centralized tax collection system. The economy platform runs counter to these Michigan trends:

1. Every recent state administration has augmented powers at Lansing—new bureaus, new commissions and new increases in payrolls. 2. The state legislature is usually susceptible to pressure groups.

3. Home taxing units favor more rather than less, state aid.

A bank can only make money by loaning money—by selling the use of money in return for a reasonable fee—interest. Naturally, we want to make loans.

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield. The Effect of Long Summer Vacations On Children. Authorities in many sections of the country note that juvenile crime immediately increases as soon as schools are closed for the summer vacation.

Authorities in many sections of the country note that juvenile crime immediately increases as soon as schools are closed for the summer vacation. During this period many of the desirable habits and attitudes which the school has built up in children are lost because of the pernicious influences exercised by the community.

Long vacation periods should be eliminated so that the schools can keep a closer check on the outside influences detrimental to the lives of children. If the public at large and teachers themselves will not insist on shorter vacation periods, then the schools must be permitted to supervise all juvenile recreational activities during vacations.

Many educators are thoroughly in accord with the theory that school buildings, playgrounds, gymnasiums, libraries and auditoriums should be open to children for recreational purposes every day in the year.

Such a program would entail an immediate expense to taxpayers, but would result in a saving, because it is much cheaper to utilize buildings for recreational purposes than to eventually build additional prisons and reformatories to regiment youngsters who are forced to seek recreation in questionable places.

The unattached fatherly man who frequents picture shows, libraries, street corners, etc., is often a menace to small girls and boys. The activities of these degenerates often cover a wide range. One of them was found begging pennies and nickles from the youngsters who befriended him.

Another was distributing illicit literature to young boys. The worst offender of this type is the man who tries to gain the confidence of young girls for immoral purposes. This is not a rare occurrence. Unless a young girl is completely fortified with a thorough knowledge regarding such persons and their evil practices, she should not be allowed to frequent public places without the protection of an older person.

Children In Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield. The Effect of Long Summer Vacations On Children. Authorities in many sections of the country note that juvenile crime immediately increases as soon as schools are closed for the summer vacation.

Authorities in many sections of the country note that juvenile crime immediately increases as soon as schools are closed for the summer vacation. During this period many of the desirable habits and attitudes which the school has built up in children are lost because of the pernicious influences exercised by the community.

Long vacation periods should be eliminated so that the schools can keep a closer check on the outside influences detrimental to the lives of children. If the public at large and teachers themselves will not insist on shorter vacation periods, then the schools must be permitted to supervise all juvenile recreational activities during vacations.

Many educators are thoroughly in accord with the theory that school buildings, playgrounds, gymnasiums, libraries and auditoriums should be open to children for recreational purposes every day in the year.

Such a program would entail an immediate expense to taxpayers, but would result in a saving, because it is much cheaper to utilize buildings for recreational purposes than to eventually build additional prisons and reformatories to regiment youngsters who are forced to seek recreation in questionable places.

The unattached fatherly man who frequents picture shows, libraries, street corners, etc., is often a menace to small girls and boys. The activities of these degenerates often cover a wide range. One of them was found begging pennies and nickles from the youngsters who befriended him.

Another was distributing illicit literature to young boys. The worst offender of this type is the man who tries to gain the confidence of young girls for immoral purposes. This is not a rare occurrence. Unless a young girl is completely fortified with a thorough knowledge regarding such persons and their evil practices, she should not be allowed to frequent public places without the protection of an older person.

CHILD STUDY CLUB
A meeting of the Child Study club was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. A. W. Wilkinson. Following a short business meeting, Mrs. A. A. Palmer, chairman of the program committee, introduced Mrs. Preston Slosson of Ann Arbor as guest speaker. Mrs. Slosson, with Mr. Slosson and several members of their family, spent several years in England, where Prof. Slosson, son of the Carnegie Endowment for International Peace, lectured at English universities.

Mrs. Slosson is not a stranger to the Chelsea Child Study club and was warmly received, and Tuesday evening will be remembered with a great deal of pleasure.

The hostess served dainty refreshments. The next meeting of the club will be held Monday, Dec. 9, with Miss Melitta Hutzler as speaker.

Proves Fish Story
Dr. Alex R. Anderson, Van Nuys, Calif., veterinarian, told the biggest fish story of his life here recently. He claimed sole ownership rights to the first fish that ever entered a hotel through the front door and he proved it. The sportsman landed a 325-pound swordfish in San Diego waters and at the end of the cruise rushed back to the hotel to report his prize catch. Under stress of heckling from doubting Thomases who confronted him, he returned to the dock, hoisted the fish into his car, drove back to the hotel, and hauled his catch into the lobby.

Their Parents are Worried

Healthy, happy youngsters, this pair of twins—yet their mother, and father ARE worried. By the time these babies start school they will have been immunized against almost every dangerous communicable disease except tuberculosis. There is no serum for tuberculosis, and the parents are aware that the little boys could pick up tuberculosis germs in most any Michigan town or city. So to protect their own and other children they are today buying the only form of tuberculosis insurance they know—tuberculosis Christmas seals.

Fruits Canned With Pits
Apricots, pickled peaches, and peaches of the clingstone variety are sometimes canned whole without removing the pits, but when the stones or pits are removed the fruit is in smaller pieces and will cook in shorter time. That means the texture of the fruit is better, according to economists of the U. S. department of agriculture.

Neon Lights
Neon, used in neon lights, was discovered by Sir William Ramsay and W. M. Travers in 1898. The development of a gaseous conductor tube employing neon gas dates back to about 1911, but the use of neon in commercial advertising is comparatively new. Ramsay, distilling liquid air chilled to the cold temperature of more than 400 degrees below zero Fahrenheit, obtained a strange gas boiling off, which he named "neon," meaning new.

Innocent, Guilty
Defendant charged with selling liquor to Indians learned something about American law when he appeared before Judge James H. Baldwin in federal district court at Helena, Mont., and pleaded guilty. The judge, after talking to him, declined to accept the plea. Instead he postponed the trial and appointed an attorney to defend the man. Under the United States Constitution, said the judge, the defendant was entitled to legal counsel. There was a question whether his car, alleged to contain whisky, was searched legally.

Repairs Needed
Owners of summer homes, lodges or cabins which are used only occasionally may find that such places of recreation require repairs after the ravages of severe summer electrical storms. Roofs may need new covering, windows may have been shattered, screening ripped, flooring warped, basements inundated, terraces washed away, or other minor disasters which may have occurred are the natural consequences of such storms.

Longer Life
Longer life for stoker coal conveyors is achieved by the development of a new process which replaces the old casting method. The new screw-type conveyors are made by twisting a cold bar of steel around a steel core and fusing the two into a solid piece.
