Capacity Crowds At Dedication Services

The anniversary and dedication services held Sunday at St. Paul's Evangelical church were well attended, a capacity crowd being present at each of the sessions.

Rev. O. C. Haug of Walled Lake who was to speak at the morning service, was unable to attend because of illness and the anniversary sermon was preached in English by Rev. F. Lueckhoff, who also gave a brief talk in German.

Attendees at the services included many former members of St. Paul's church, and much favorable comment was expressed in regard to the new improvements, especially the new dining room and kitchen, with their up-to-date facilities.

Many beautiful flowers and plants were received in honor of the celebration.

The public will have an opportunity to see the new hall at the chicken supper to be held Thursday evening, December 12.

Tigers' Coach Speaks At Football Banquet

Bing Miller, coach of the Detroit Tigers, was the guest speaker at the football banquet sponsored by the Kiwanis club at the public school auditorium on Monday evening. He gave an encouraging talk to the boys on how to pursue sporting activities with profit to themselves and their fellows.

Other numbers on the program were a clarinet solo by Robert Dunstan, music by the high school dance orchestra, two numbers by the triple trio, directed by Miss McNeil, and the presentation of letters by the coach, Charles Cameron. The captain for 1940, Andy Policht, introduced Lawrence Dietz, the new captain for 1941. Group singing was led by Jerry Niehaus, with Mrs. Niehaus at the piano. Walter Harper showed moving pictures of local scenes, which were very interesting.

Varsity letters were awarded to O. Schiller, G. Krueckerbocker, F. Novess, A. Policht, L. Dietz, Jr., Miller, R. Schmidt, N. Niehaus, R. Perkins, R. Kern, E. Slane, R. Scister, C. Downer, J. Merkel, D. Gadd. Reserve letters were awarded D. West, M. Schiller and H. Orbing.

Next week the Kiwanis club meets at the high school in joint session with the Child Study clubs and others to hear Miss Hutzel, of the State Department of Health.

K. of P. District Meeting Held Here On Monday

The District meeting of the Knights of Pythias was held on Monday evening, December 2, with members present from Ann Arbor, Brighton, Ypsilanti, and Chelsea. The members gathered at the Congregational church where the Pythian Sisters served a fine dinner at 6:30, after which they adjourned to the K. of P. hall.

Past Chancellor Alvin Yall called the meeting to order, introducing Charles Andrews of Ypsilanti as chairman, who gave the address of welcome. Samuel Taskins of Detroit, Grand Master of Arms of the Grand Lodge, was the main speaker of the evening and gave a very fine talk. This was followed by a general discussion for the good of the order.

MERKEL SUMMER HOME BURNS

The summer home of Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Merkel, which was situated on the north shore of Cavanaugh lake, was destroyed by fire about 12:30 Sunday afternoon, only a few pieces of furniture being saved. Mr. Merkel had returned from the lake, after starting a fire at the cottage, and the blaze was evidently caused from overheated pipes. It was discovered by a neighbor and Jackson state police who were patrolling the lake. The local fire department responded to a call and kept the fire from spreading to the nearby cottages. The loss, estimated at $2500, is covered by insurance.

NOTICE

Lighted Trees Will Add Cheer During Christmas Season

At the regular meeting of the Village Council on Monday evening arrangements were made for the purchase of 70 Christmas trees to be used for sidewalk decorations during the holiday season. As has been the custom in recent years the trees will be placed in front of each business place and the merchants will furnish the strings of colored lights to decorate the trees. It is expected the trees will arrive early next week, so that the streets will be attractive during the Christmas shopping season.

Merchants report that Christmas shopping is increasing daily and they anticipate a considerable increase over last year. With more than 500 people now on local industrial payrolls the volume of business available should prove very satisfactory to the merchants who have made preparations for the Christmas shoppers. Stores are well stocked with gift suggestions and window displays are very inviting with their attractive displays and decorations.

It's a pleasure to shop in Chelsea—there's plenty of parking space—and you'll find friendly service at every store! Save time and save money by purchasing dependable merchandise at local stores!

Dept. of Health Speaker Will Address Parents

Miss Hutzel, from the State Department of Health, is scheduled to speak to the students of Chelsea high school on December 9 and 10, and arrangements have also been made for her to speak to the parents. It was necessary to make arrangements a year ago in order to secure her for the two day conference with the pupils of the high school on next Monday and Tuesday.

On Monday evening, December 9, there will be a luncheon served at 6:30 in the auditorium and Miss Hutzel will speak at 7:30. Members of the Kiwanis, Child Study, and Young Mothers clubs, teachers, and parents are invited to attend. Reservations for the luncheon should be placed with Miss Muzzall, Home Economics instructor, before Friday noon, Dec. 6.

Anyone who is unable to attend the luncheon will find it well worth their time to hear Miss Hutzel at 7:30.

Miss Hutzel is a well known, accomplished speaker, and Chelsea high school is very fortunate in obtaining her for conferences with the pupils. This is the first year she has been able to speak to the parents and her topic will be "Social Problems of Our Boys and Girls." It is hoped that everyone interested in this topic will be able to hear Miss Hutzel and discuss this problem with her.

4-H Livestock Show To Be Held In Detroit

In 26 Michigan counties some last minute feeding and grooming prepares the 213 animals entered in the 11th annual 4-H livestock show to be held at the Detroit stockyards Dec. 10-12.

Animals enter pens the first day and are given "show numbers." The second day the judges will rate the 87 steers and the 42 pens of three lambs each. The third day sees the annual auction when the year's work on the animals brings rewards of special prices. Last year the sales totaled more than $12,000. Andy Adams, Litchfield, will cry the sale again this year.

From Washtenaw county, entries include Mary Lesser, Angus steer; Carl Lesser, Angus steer; Norvin Lesser, Angus steer; James Henning, Hereford steer; George Howens, Shropshire lambs; Charles Downer, Shropshire lambs; Loren Koenigter, Shropshire lambs; Janet Mullreed, Southdown lambs.

Sponsors include the State Department of Agriculture, the 4-H club department of Michigan State College, Detroit Stock Yards, Michigan Livestock Exchange, the Detroit Junior Livestock Society and the two Detroit commission firms of Bishop-Hammond and Company, and Ridley and Marshall.

One of the highlights of the three-day show will be the annual banquet on Wednesday evening, Dec. 11, at the Statler Hotel.

Toastmaster is to be H. J. Gramlich, Chicago. "Citizenship in 4-H Club Work" will be the address of the evening, delivered by A. G. Kettunen, state 4-H club leader. Nevels Pearson, assistant club leader and spark-plug of the event, is to present "Why a Show?" P. B. Stewart, president of the Detroit Junior Livestock Society, is assigned to welcome the guests. E. L. Benton, livestock extension specialist of the college, will announce results of the judging. D. A. Beamer, state commissioner of agriculture, Lansing, is to offer official greetings.

Congregational Fair and Supper Tonight

The Congregational church will hold their annual fair and chicken supper in the church parlors and dining room this (Thursday) afternoon and evening.

Booths in the parlors will be conducted by the three groups of the Ladies' Guild and the Men's club. The ladies will have plain and fancy articles, baked goods, nut meats, etc. for sale. The men's booth will feature farm and garden produce as well as miscellaneous articles.

The fish pond, which is always a delight to the children, will be in charge of the Pilgrim Fellowship group.

Chicken supper will be served in the dining room from 5:30 o'clock until all are served.

COUNCIL BUYS NEW FLAG

Chelsea's flag pole will soon stiffen with pride! The village council has purchased a new flag, 9x15, which is to adorn the pole—and let no man say that the council is extravagant in this expenditure, as the old flag in its present ragged condition is no credit to any flag pole or to any village. Villagers will look up at Old Glory with a feeling of greater pride when she comes out in a brand new dress!

The council also voted to contribute $50.00 to the local chapter of the Red Cross, for use in this community only.

24 Years Ago

Thursday, December 7, 1916

John and Herman Jensen, A. R. Shutes and Julius Barth are attending the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago this week.

Edward S. Spaulding of this place and Mary A. Boardman of Chicago were married on Thursday, November 30, 1916.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Waltrous will occupy the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Leach this winter. Mr. and Mrs. Leach are leaving next week for Phoenix, Ariz., where they will spend several months.

Announcement is made that after the holidays Jackson Lodge, No. 4, I. O. O. F., will visit Chelsea in an endeavor to help start a lodge here. Many years ago Chelsea had a flourishing lodge of Odd Fellows, but a fire burned their lodge room and paraphernalia.

Mrs. William Martin, a former well known Chelsea resident, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. George Hathaway, in Los Angeles, Calif., on Saturday, November 25, 1916.

George Eder has sold his farm in Sylvan township to John Hessel-schwerdt.

Mrs. John P. Buss died at her home in Freedom township on Tuesday, December 5, 1916.

Miss Anna Hindert of Chelsea and Arthur Schairer of Seio were married on Thursday, December 7, 1916.

MRS. CATHERINE MIESTER

Mrs. Catherine Miestler, 96 years old, died Wednesday, November 27, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Alve Faber on South Main St., following a brief illness.

She was born July 30, 1844 in Zurich, Switzerland. Her home was in Fayette, Ohio and she had resided in Chelsea for one and one-half months. Besides the daughter, she leaves several relatives in Switzerland.

The body was taken to Fedrow, Ohio, where service and burial took place at Union cemetery, with Rev. T. J. Klautz officiating.

Starvation Wages

A certain philanthropist was highly respected because he had donated a park to the city which bore his own name. A short time later a young woman who had been arrested for snatching a purse, was admitted to the county tuberculosis sanitarium for treatment.

An investigation revealed that her employer, the highly respected philanthropist, had forced this woman and his other female employees to work long hours in his store at seven and eight dollars a week.

The meager salary which this young woman received was not sufficient to secure adequate nourishment. Rather than become a woman-of-the-streets after working hours, to increase her earnings, as several of the other clerks were doing, this young woman chose to snatch purses.

Social diseases and malnutrition will continue to be prevalent as long as young women are forced to work for starvation wages. No Chamber of Commerce can afford to allow any employer who does not pay his employees sufficient wages, to settle in its city.

Society Can Reduce Juvenile Crime

Soon after a gang of thirteen youthful offenders had been placed on probation, the judge called a meeting of all public spirited citizens in the county and remarked, "I am firmly convinced that the indifference of the public, and the somewhat half-hearted attempts which have been made to prevent delinquency, are the primary factors which will cause the thirteen boys I placed on probation to become repeated offenders. Unless their homes and their communities can be improved, these children, who could develop into worthwhile future citizens, will be found among the ranks of the four million criminals who prey upon society at an annual cost of fifteen billion dollars. In other words, the indifference of so-called public spirited citizens is one of the foremost reasons why these youngsters will engage in future criminal careers."

Continuing his remarks, the judge said, "These thirteen boys have very little control over their destinies, for they are unable to change their environment, which, in turn, furnishes the stimuli and early determining factors that will ultimately lead them into criminal careers. Of course, there may be exceptions, as three or four of these boys may possibly be gifted with inherent aptitudes, which, in spite of their environment, may enable them to overcome the pernicious influences that surround them now. However, the remaining youngsters in this gang, less fortunately endowed with will power or moral strength, are likely to succumb to their environment and develop anti-social tendencies and traits."

The causes of traffic accidents often reveal faulty driving methods and show conclusively that inexperienced or inept motorists who have not been properly trained are responsible for many accidents. From the information secured through a proper system of accident recording, it is possible to learn the shortcomings of drivers, to improve the testing and training of drivers, and to enforce traffic regulations more strictly.

By a proper study of the records developed from accident investigations, the police department can develop a more selective enforcement program. If accident investigations disclose that speeding and reckless driving are prevalent in certain areas, these areas can be patrolled and the unsafe practices checked.

If the accidents are being caused by a condition of the road, then the road commissioners or others in authority should be consulted so that the physical defects can be eliminated.

Good accident records are essential for practical and sensible accident prevention work in any community.

Nothing Smells New

Stink bombs are not new. Practical jokes make them today from chemicals. A century ago they used herbs, or simply tossed pepper on a hot stove. Hagerstown boys broke up so many public meetings that way that an indignant city council passed an ordinance in 1850 levying a fine of $1 to $10 on pepper or bomb tossers.

PREPARED against
big or little

A squirrel is perhaps the last thing you'd think of as a menace to telephone service... but he can do a lot of damage by gnawing through the lead sheathing of a telephone cable. To guard against damage from punctures, many cables are kept filled with gas. The instant gas escapes, the lowering pressure automatically sounds an alarm in a central office. The location of the break is determined within a few feet, and often the damage is repaired without interruption of your service. Whether the emergency is large or small, this Company is prepared to protect telephone communication, a vital factor in national defense.

Lansing—Post-Thanksgiving reflections.

"Didn't I say last week that Michigan is headed for at least two years of record-breaking prosperity? And all because Mr. Hitler's military monkey-business across the ocean has forced both Great Britain and the United States to spend recklessly for huge armaments."

"Yes, I did write that, and I believe it is true. But it does sound like prosperity. Pollyanna, this pulling ourselves up by our own bootstraps into a false Utopia. There must be another side of the story. Why don't you tell it?"

"You can't feed a kid on candy and then take it away from him without stirring up a fuss. How will all this war economy affect Michigan people? Will they tend to favor our participation in the Battle of Britain in order to keep our factories going?"

"Come on, mister, don't keep your head in the sand!"

"Here is something vital in the lives of your readers. Tell them about it."

Arms and Michigan

How will the national defense program affect Michigan?

Editor and Publisher, national magazine for newspaper and advertising people, places Michigan second of the 48 states in volume of government contracts let from July 18 to Oct. 26 and reported by the department of labor at Washington.

Michigan contracts totaled $125,820,000.

October awards aggregated $41,423,000.

And these sums are only a modest beginning. National expenditures during the third quarter (July, August, September) totaled $500,000,000. The fourth quarter will double this amount, while the first quarter of 1941 is expected to bring another 50 per cent increase.

This federal expenditures are spiraling upward, and by July, 1941, they are due to reach $600,000,000 to $700,000,000 monthly until the billion-dollar peak is hit. Compare this billion goal with our current money's estimated spending of about $500,000,000, and you get some idea of what this astronomical spending will mean to our U. S. A.

Mass Production

It was inevitable that a state where mass production methods had been widely applied in industries would be relied upon to achieve quick output of munitions and arms.

Since the day that Detroit, Flint, Saginaw, Lansing, Pontiac and other cities became automobile centers, Michigan had been world-famous for its assembly line and the efficiency of its workers.

That has not been without its penalty, however. When automobiles are in demand, times are good in Michigan. When the reverse takes place, times are hard.

The assembly line, the crux of mass production science, and the adoption of annual models assures either steady employment or layoffs. A sit-down strike in one supply factory can cause the entire line to come to a stop. Flint automobile workers who went deer hunting the other day accomplished the same thing: The line couldn't function.

These industrial centers consequently have experienced recurring periods of boom and depression. Unemployment dips to an extreme, or rises to a near vanishing point. This does not happen also without the fringe of suburban communities being directly affected. Scores of small-town industries are kept alive by the big motor business. Thousands of workers reside in nearby towns, commuting daily by automobile between work bench and home.

President Roosevelt in his Chautauqua speech referred to war profits as "fools' gold" and warned of "the inevitable penalties, the inevitable day of reckoning."

Ambassador Page in 1917 advised Woodrow Wilson: "Perhaps our going to war is the only way in which our present pre-eminent trade position can be maintained and a panic averted."

Secretary McAdoo in 1915 favored credit for the Allies as a protection to "great prosperity" for farmer and factory worker. Even Secretary Lansing said that neutrality should not stand in the way of "our national interests which seem to be seriously threatened."

The principle of cause and effect still functions. Will Michigan's coming prosperity help to create a public attitude, as history says it did previous to the last war, in support of our direct participation in the present war as a fighting ally of Great Britain?

Or, in other words, will history repeat?

You can surmise what the future holds. We strive to interpret the news.

Cherokees Involved

The legal status of the North Carolina Cherokees is somewhat involved. The Indians are at once wards of the federal government, citizens of North Carolina and a corporate body under the state.

Jail Was Empty

Farmington, N. M., citizens are all on their good behavior according to a census taker who called at the Farmington jail recently to take the census of the inmates. His call was a total loss, as there was no one in jail.

Measles Cases Rising In Advance of Epidemic

An early rise in measles cases suggests that Michigan may have an even bigger epidemic this winter than occurred in 1935 and 1938, the Michigan Department of Health announced this week.

"As a protective measure for children under five, all children who appear to be coming down with a cold should be isolated," said Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner. "For the first day or two, the symptoms of a cold and of measles are the same: fever, running nose, red eyes, cough, sneeze. Measles is communicable even before these symptoms develop, but it is wise to protect young children and babies by keeping children away from them if they apparently are coming down with a cold."

Most measles deaths occur in children under five.

Just before the epidemic years of 1935 and 1938, the number of measles cases reported was only 6,000 a year. Already this year the cases reported total 16,000 and the number is apparently rising. Before the month ended, Detroit had reported 600 cases. County totals for most of November included: Calhoun 26, Kalamazoo 102, Mecosta 19, Montcalm 89, and Washtenaw 17.

Physicians can administer an immune treatment to children which will shorten and modify an attack of measles, if the treatment is given soon enough after an exposure to a case and before the symptoms develop.

P. F. HOLDS MID-WEEK MEETING

The Pilgrim Fellowship of the Congregational church held their mid-week meeting at the church on Wednesday evening, Nov. 27.

At the close of Junior chorus practice the group passed to the dining room where a birthday dinner was served, celebrating the birthdays of the entire group. One table seating twenty-six was used and was lighted with fifteen red candles, arranged in groups of five. A feature of the decorations were two red and white birthday cakes. Before being seated the Pilgrim Fellowship sang "I Will Be True" was sung and invocation was read.

After the birthday cakes were lighted by Bob Eaton and Virginia Spaulding, the entertaining host and hostess, the group sang "Happy Birthday" and the birthday bowl was passed.

The devotional service was held in the primary room before an altar on which was placed an open Bible and the Cross, and lighted on either side with tapers.

The arrangement of the altar will be changed for each meeting to conform with the Christmas season.

This service was in charge of Peggy Almond and was as follows:

Hymn—"Oh, Come All Ye Faithful."

Explanation of hymn, and Scripture reading—Marilyn Lyons.

Responsive Reading:
The Meaning of Christmas—Dwight Gadd.

Lesson and Poem—Martha Barber.
Hymn—"O, Little Town of Bethlehem."

Closing Prayer—Jeanette May.
Accompanist—Mary Christwell.

A business meeting was held, after which entertainment was provided in the dining room by the committee in charge.

F. F. A. News

Three weeks ago 15 boys, under the sponsorship of Mr. Bust, gathered in the Agriculture room to organize the Junior Dairy Herd Association. The purpose of the organization is to test, once a month, 150 head of cattle for milk and butterfat. In this way they are able to determine the healthy cows from the unhealthy ones. By the same manner it will be possible to change the races.

The following officers were elected for the club: President—Roy Broesamle. Vice President—Ormal Schiller. Secretary—Leroy Loveland.

Assembly

Miss Barbara Tinker of Chelsea spoke on life in China at an assembly sponsored by the Seniors on Tuesday, November 26.

Miss Tinker spent two years in China visiting friends whom she had met at the University of Michigan, and returned to the United States since the war broke out.

While in China Miss Tinker had opportunities to live with the very wealthy and the very poor so that she could give first hand information about the customs of both classes. Her talk was very interesting.

At the assembly Wednesday of this week Rev. Lawrence Dorr of St. Mary's church, Chelsea, gave a talk.

Office News

The Chemistry classes have been discovering the properties and the physical and chemical reactions of hydrochloric acid and chlorine.

This year the teachers have been taking turns remaining at the school each week during the noon hour. This week Mr. Chandler is staying at noon.

The Student Council publication was issued on Monday, Dec. 2. On Thursday, December 5 (today) James Bondy, a local attorney, will address the Hi-Y Club during their weekly meeting. His talk is entitled "My Experiences While On the Draft Board."

Miss Hitzel, a noted speaker on social problems of boys and girls, will speak before the parents in the gymnasium next Monday night, Dec. 9. Dinner will be served at 6:30. Those wishing to attend the dinner must make reservations with Miss Muzzall before the noon of Friday, Dec. 6. The lecture will begin at 7:30 and those who do not want to attend the dinner may come to hear the program.

The evening classes in Home Economics and Agriculture will begin tonight (December 5) at 8:00. Miss Muzzall is in charge of the Home Economics classes and Mr. Bust is in charge of the classes in Agriculture. The faculty is having a Christmas party in the Homecoming room on December 18.

A very interesting pamphlet on school regulations, organizations and officers, traditions, assemblies and social calendar has been published by the Student Council.

Classes Take Tour

Promptly at 8:30 a. m. on Nov. 28 and 29, found a group of students of the American Government and Economics classes gathered in the lobby of the Chelsea State Bank. Mr. Schaeble conducted tours of the bank so they might more thoroughly understand its work.

The class learned of all the precautions the bank takes to protect the depositors' money; the improved machines they have to shorten their work.

The most interesting was the photograph machine used to take pictures of all checks cashed every day. If any misunderstanding occurs about checks they may, by a little adjusting, use this same machine to protect the pictures of the checks, together with the endorsement. This clears up any misunderstanding the customer might have.

Hit and Miss by Mac

What keeps every Freshman From always being the same. What keeps every Freshman From going quite insane. What keeps every Freshman From softening at the brain NOTHING!

And so the Freshman takes his punishment! But we have it from reliable sources that the old tradition of the Freshman being forced to look at the upperclassmen as being "Holler than thou" is at last diminishing. For years a hostile relation was existent between the upper and lower classes. The younger members of the school would have to clear the way so that these so-called "big shots" could pass. A ninth grader doesn't speak to a 12th grader for fear of being reprimanded. This may sound exaggerated, but it isn't. But at last, as I already mentioned, the big shots are no longer so "high and mighty" but are becoming "one of the crowd". And a mighty fine thing it is, too!

And a popular discussion with this year's typing classes (now that cussin' has become unpopular?) is the cheese on the radiator. It's delicate aroma permeates the sheltered air as a fragrance from heaven—and that isn't quoting Shakespeare!

And at this point I wonder who will be Santa Claus this year for the high school. I have in mind a certain gentleman who holds firmly to Aristotles and who was proportioned with an eye to a perfect Santa Claus.

A while ago I promised you a Thumb-Nail Sketch of one of our local teachers, and so here you are.

The teacher who struggles with her Journalism club, and still has to admit she likes it is Miss Elizabeth McDonald. Born in Mt. Pleasant, Michigan, she sought her learning in the school of that city, and being that there was a fine teachers' college there, she completed her work on a B. A. at Central State Teachers' College in Mt. Pleasant. She has now about completed her work for an M. A. at the U. of Michigan.

Miss McDonald taught in the high school at Fowler, Mich. before coming to Chelsea. She likes it in Chelsea, and thinks it compares very favorably with other towns she has been in.

Besides her work in Journalism, she also sponsors the Latin Club, and is doing an admirable job (at least that's most of the girls' point of view) in coaching Girls' Athletics. Besides these extra-curricular activities this teacher has ninth and tenth grade classes in English, and tenth and eleventh grade classes in Latin.

As far as vocational adjustment in the case of Miss McDonald, the task was not at all difficult. As she herself put it, teaching is just "hereditary" in her family. She told me the day I talked to her, that while teachers never become capitalists, she thought it was a fine profession, and thought that any young person might find the teaching profession an ideal choice for them.

On being asked what her favorite subject is, I think her answer ought to go down in the annals of history. She not only said that she liked Latin the best, but that she thought it was the easiest subject for her to teach.

Band and Orchestra

The band and orchestra are now busily working on a number of new pieces they received a week or so ago. These pieces will be learned for future concerts to be given this year of 1940-41, which will be arranged to raise more money toward uniforms. The band and orchestra are also planning to have a party sometime in the near future as one of their four group parties throughout the year. Sometime, shortly after the Christmas vacation, it will again be time for the Band Clinic of the Huron Valley Band Association. No definite news is known at present.

Senior News

Seventh Grade (Edwin Lantis and Barbara Eaton) We have now received nine new books for our room library. We thank Miss Brown and Mr. Johnson for their help in getting them. Stanley Czapl has read the largest number of books this year. We have been making book reports.

Eldore Carlson brought some maps for our new bulletin board. Jean Eisenbeiser brought us a rab while we were studying fish. On Nov. 18 the pictures came which we had awaited so eagerly. Everyone bought at least one picture of himself.

For English we have written our fifth theme, a business letter; for geography we are trying to mount some sample wood blocks that some previous class left. In arithmetic, we are working on percentage. We took the national Current Events Test, which we thought very hard, and only hope we all passed. We have learned three verses of "The Star-Spangled Banner." The quotation for this week is from Shakespeare: "Neither a borrower nor a lender be, for the loan oft loses both itself and friend."

Michigan Bell Ready For National Defense

George M. Welch, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, said this week that the company is especially prepared by "the experience of its people" to assume full responsibility in connection with the National Defense Program.

Speaking before an audience of more than 1,000 persons gathered at the Masonic Temple in Detroit for the annual meeting of Detroit members of the Telephone Pioneers of America, Welch pointed out that nearly 65 per cent of the company's employees, including 70 per cent of the men, have had 10 or more years of service in telephone work.

"I know that material aspects of our company's National Defense structure are important," the president said. "We must have and do have good credit and the ability to raise funds promptly for needed expansion—the buildings—the central office apparatus—the outside cables, lines and other plant—motor vehicles, and all that to do the job."

"Yet, without an experienced personnel, we could not say that we are prepared. There is no substitute for experience in the telephone business. These times remind us of our gratitude for an employee organization geared for the job by many years of experience and attuned to its responsibility by an enduring loyalty to the public service."

"We may look forward to the future with confidence and assurance that the Michigan Bell Telephone Company will prove equal to the coming and perhaps the greatest test in all its history. Great results in this grave emergency will be achieved because of the utmost devotion to the service of these seasoned employees applying their best energies to their individual responsibilities."

Few Escapes Only seven inmates have escaped from Northeastern Federal penitentiary at Lewisburg, Pa., since the institution was opened seven years ago. All were recaptured and given additional sentences.

All Cattle In United States Tested for TB

All the United States is celebrating an epic in livestock health attained but recently, although Michigan had the rating exactly 10 years ago.

When the last two counties in California recently were accredited tuberculosis tested and the entire United States thus became area tested, Michigan dairymen began to recall pioneer steps within this state which led to a modified accredited classification for the entire state in 1930, first major dairy state to gain such a disease-free rating.

North Carolina, Maine and Michigan gained the rating in that order. Michigan began cooperative testing for bovine tuberculosis in 1917, when other states also considered such work.

First in the United States for any cooperative area testing was that in Hilledale county in this state in October, 1921, it is recalled by Dr. B. J. Killham, then state veterinarian and now extension veterinarian on the staff of Michigan State College.

A Michigan legislative act in 1923 provided for county-wide testing on a compulsory basis if such work was requested by a board of supervisors. First complete testing over the state indicated an average infection of four per cent although portions of one county showed cattle tuberculosis to the extent of 27 per cent. Counties attained a modified accredited rating when testing showed one-half of one per cent or less infection and the state gained that rating as in 1930, when the entire state showed a low enough incidence. Current tests now show approximately one-tenth of one per cent or one-fifth of that allowable.

California Celebrates Celebrations are what Californians live for—almost. The 1940 calendar of the travel committee of the state chamber of commerce listed 500 annual celebrations including historical pageants, flower shows, dog shows, pilgrimages, state and district fairs, fiestas, rodeos, barbecues and sports events.

Grand Canyon Didn't Impress

The first white man to gaze upon the Grand canyon was Don Garcia Lopez de Cardenas, a captain in Coronado's expedition, who reached the gorge in 1540. He was unimpressed by what now is regarded as one of the world's greatest scenic spectacles.

Flying in Co-operative

Plane Not Expensive

Want to buy a tail skid that's still attached to the plane?—You would you like one-third of a rudder that's still doing duty? If so, Jerry Kelsey of Philadelphia is the man to see.

In January, 1939, Girard D. Kelsey got his idea of cutting up a plane to help boys who wanted to fly but either ineligible for the government's college program or lacked the money to finance flying training.

Jerry owns a plane repair hangar at Philadelphia's municipal airport. About 15 months ago he noticed an increase in the daily visitors watching him tinker. Speaking with several of the more persistent ones, he learned what attracted them.

Stored in his hangar and seemingly doomed to a life of inaction was a new Arrow Sport plane—a two-seat winged monoplane with a V8 motor—which Jerry had just purchased for $1,500. Jerry thought of the fellows, thought of the plane, and thus was born the Kelsey Co-operative Flying Club.

Starting with five charter members, Jerry figuratively sliced his plane into 15 equal shares, each selling for $100. The plane belonged to the club from the first, and as new members joined, Jerry was paid back.

In the club's 15 months the boys have flown safely a total of 550 hours. Twelve members have soloed and one has done his 35 solo hours for a pilot's rating.

Recently the club traded in its arrow plane for a new Aerona Arrow, a 65-horse-powered cabin monoplane with a cruising range of 390 miles and a maximum speed of 115 m. p. h.

Tea-Drinking Americans

Figures indicate that America is beginning to vie with England as a tea-drinking nation. Tea imports to this country for the fiscal year ending June 30 were 160,000,000 pounds, according to the Tea Bureau, Inc. This was a gain of 17 per cent over the preceding 12 months and was the second time in two centuries United States tea imports have risen to this level.

First Presidential Election
The first election of a President was called for on September 13, 1788. By that time, 11 of the original states had ratified the Constitution. North Carolina and Rhode Island had not yet ratified and took no part in the first election. The 11 states were advised to choose electors, who should meet the following January in their respective states and cast their electoral ballots. There would have been 91 electors if all states had been in the Union. As it finally developed, New York did not choose any electors, and two electors each in Virginia and Maryland were absent when the electoral college met. These absences, with the two missing states, left 69 electors who actually voted. George Washington was elected President.
