DEXTER—An accident occurred at Dexter high school Tuesday afternoon early when a test tube was being cleaned in the chemistry laboratory. A blaze started immediately when carbon disulphide caught fire from a gas jet being used by other students and as a result four people received burns. Leonard Spiegelberg was burned about the face, right hand and neck; Adelbert Johnson was burned on the face; Carl Lesser was slightly burned on the face; Martin Jack, instructor, was burned on the hands when he extinguished the fire on Spiegelberg. The burns were painful but not serious. The Dexter fire department was summoned but the motor failed and the fire engine was unable to get up the hill to the school. In the meantime William Bates, student, had extinguished the blaze in the room, and the school had been emptied of students.—Leader.

MANCHESTER—Manchester's new dial telephone system will go into operation at 12:30 next Monday afternoon. At that time all of the 495 phones connected with the Michigan Bell Telephone Company's new central office here will be changed from the present magneto (crank type) operation to dial service upon a signal by Mayor Raynor B. Haeseler. —Enterprise.

Give Motorists Advice For Holiday Driving

State Police Commissioner Oscar G. Olander and State Highway Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy join in giving motorists something to think of in making plans for holiday driving.

During the five week period from Dec. 1 to Jan. 4 last year there were 120 fatal accidents in Michigan, according to state police reports, as compared with a total of 97 for the same period in 1938.

Contrary to popular belief, the commissioners revealed that Christmas was the most dangerous day of the entire holiday season to be on the highways, surpassing even New Year's eve or New Year's day in the number of fatalities recorded.

Said the commissioners:

"Accidents increase in number and seriousness as the Christmas-New Year week approaches. Last year 10 fatal accidents were listed from 4 p.m. on Christmas eve until 12 p.m. on Christmas day, an increase of three over the preceding year and the greatest number for any like period during the entire season."

"It would seem the greatest Christmas present Michigan motorists could give one another would be a determination to eliminate careless driving which accounts for most of the deaths."

The New Year holiday was shown as being a comparative safe period as compared with Christmas. Last year five fatal accidents were recorded on New Year's eve and New Year's day, an increase of one over the previous year.

Motorists were also warned to be on the alert while driving in rural areas, especially during the late afternoon and at night, under which conditions the big majority of fatal accidents occur.

Of the 120 fatal accidents during the five week holiday season last year, it was revealed 98 of them occurred in rural areas after 5 p.m.

"This would indicate," the commissioners said, "that the safest way to assure a merry Christmas for everyone would be to plan your trip so as to be able to reach your destination without taking any unnecessary risks. In rural areas many safeguards are not available that are provided in cities and the motorist must discipline himself against indiscretion accordingly."

The percentage of drivers found to have been drinking prior to fatal accidents was only slightly higher during the holiday season, according to the state police reports. From the yearly average of between 12 and 13 per cent, the number advanced to 14 per cent during the five week holiday period.

Voluntary Control
It was seven years ago that the eighteenth amendment was repealed, and the liquor distillers have yet to solve the problem of stabilization through voluntary control.

Faced with a certainty that a repetition of liquor abuses, or lack of proper control, would invite the ultimate return of prohibition, leading distillers sought to impose self-regulation. They proposed for themselves a perpetual headache. The Michigan situation, if so determined in court, was apparently just one annoyance of many.

The Institute sought to police its own affairs. The Michigan situation, wherein distillers are said to have made graft payments for the questionable (if not mythical) "privilege" of selling their products in Michigan, became just one of the numerous worries. However, disagreement among the distillers disrupted the liquor czar plan. Dr. Sturges resigned. A price war recently broke out in New York City and Chicago. The U. S. Treasury department, successor to the defunct federal alcohol administration, is threatening to invoke powers against unfair trade practices, while the Federal Trade commission is swinging a club against so-called collusive fair-trade enforce-

At home that night, thinking it over, I asked myself these questions. What about the people we met? What about the drivers coming off the football field after the game who passed as our car cut in dangerously ahead of them? They aren't all fatalists, surely. Yet everyone in a hundred cars that day was a possible victim of an accident, just because one person believed that fate had a predestined calendar worked out for him.

The following contribution was sent to me by one of the readers of this column:

"We were going to a football game and I was nervous as I sat beside the driver. His old jalopy was gunned along in the 70's despite heavy traffic, frequent curves, blind hills, and the fact that the jalope had old, accident-inviting tires.

"Listen, fellah," I protested, "we'll be in plenty of time; and after all I'd rather miss the kickoff than the rest of my life!"

"Hell, don't mind me—I always drive like this. You see I'm what they call a fatalist, see? I figure some day my number's coming up, some day I'll probably get mine; but, in the meantime, nothing much will happen."

Cow Psychology Controls Milk Yield

Cows are creatures of habit.

One of the deductions drawn from that fact offers many of Michigan's dairymen a chance to increase butterfat production from 10 to 20 per cent if they will milk just instead of slow.

"Milkers do not milk," asserts G. F. Huffman of the Michigan State College dairy department staff. "The milkerman merely excites the cow and mechanically forces out the milk that the cow lets down from action of involuntary muscles."

"Thus a prolonged period for milking permits some of these muscles to tire and all the milk is not obtained. The fast but gentle milker gets more milk and butterfat from the average cow. Milking time is no time for day-dreaming."

This creature of habit idea has some more angles profitable to those dairy-men who observe regularity in operations. Most ideal for twice-a-day milking is to split the clock—milking each 12 hours. Thus the time could be 5 a. m. and 5 p. m. or 6 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Another point is not to be radical

Wrap up a THRILL in this Year's Holly Wreath!

Buick SPECIAL Sedan,
$1052. White sidewall
tires extra.*

Suppose, come Christmas morning, you took your wife to the front door, pointed out through the holly wreath—and there let her see a brand-new Buick standing at the curb!

A thrill? You bet—for the whole family! Out of the question? Not at all. Look:

We're not suggesting that you add the cost of a new Buick to your Christmas budget.

But you probably will be buying a new car soon and we are simply proposing that you buy it now, a few months ahead of time—and make this a holiday long to be remembered.

We're suggesting that there's no time like the present to get back of that big FIREBALL Eight—no time like right now to start piling up gasoline mileage economies that run as high as 10% or 15%.

There's no time like holiday time to dress up yourself (and family) in smart, fresh Buick aerodynamic styling, or to introduce your brood to the roomy comfort of this BuicCoil-cradled traveler.

You can do that—if you act promptly.

A trial ride to give you a hint as to what

Buick can do—a little figuring on your present car's worth (at today's trade-in values, not next spring's)—a little working out of convenient terms—and you'll have a FIREBALL to celebrate this Christmas!

How about it? It's one thing your wife would never expect—and just about the finest gift any man could give his family!

Physical Clue to Insanity

Revealed by Experiments

An experiment giving the first physical clue to the nature of insanity, indicating its seat is in the ends of nerves, has been announced recently by the American Philosophical Society.

The novel experiment was reported by Dr. Carl Gaskay Speidel, professor of anatomy at the University of Virginia, who discovered how these endings are affected by metrazol, which along with insulin, is used in the new shock treatment that has cured many hundreds of human cases.

Dr. Speidel gave the metrazol to tadpoles, whose tails are so transparent the nerves, built on the human plan, are visible.

The chemical caused prompt damage to the tadpole nerves, including destruction of the tendril-like nerve endings. If the tadpole metrazol was stopped in time, new endings grew from the nerves and formed new bridges. The result was a realignment of nerve channels.

This rerouting of nerve channels is a physical confirmation of the brain geography explanation of insanity given by the discoverer of the shock treatment, Dr. Manfred Sakel, who, from watching recoveries of nearly 1,000 shock-treated persons, concluded mental trouble is probably due to confusion in the geography of the countless nerve channels in the gray matter of the brain.

The shock, he said, seems temporarily to extinguish these channels. Afterward new connections are established, and often the new channels are in a less confused arrangement, with the result that sanity reappears.

LET'S GET DOWN TO ACTUAL FACTS!

ABOUT THE NEW DRIVES

Oldsmobile's "no clutch" Hydra-Matic Drive has proved such a sensational success that many manufacturers have brought out new devices for 1941—with similar sounding names and, with claims to similar advantages. There are new kinds of shifts, new kinds of transmissions, new clutch systems, new controls, new "drives." What these devices really do, in comparison with Hydra-Matic Drive, is shown in the chart below. Check their accomplishments carefully.

Names of the devices compared with Hydra-Matic Drive in the chart below will be furnished upon request.

	DOS IT ELIMINATE THE CLUTCH PEDAL?	DOS IT DO AWAY WITH ALL-CLUTCH PUSHING?	DOS IT GIVE FULL AUTOMATIC SHIFTING?	DOS IT GIVE FULL ACCELERATING POWER WITHOUT MANUAL SHIFTING?	DOS IT HAVE A SPECIAL PICK-UP GEAR?	DOS IT ALWAYS REMAIN IN GEAR WITH NO FREE WHEELING?

The Hi-Light

Edited By The PUPILS OF THE CHELSEA PUBLIC SCHOOL

Editorial

Last week we were privileged to have Miss Hutzel of the State Health Department visit our school and discuss with students, faculty members and parents some of the social problems of our young people. Among the topics discussed was the importance of getting the proper amount of sleep each night. Not 5 or 6 hours sleep one night and 10 the next, but rather 9 or more full hours of sleep each night. Tired people are unable to do the kind of work they could do if the element of fatigue were removed.

Many athletic coaches are more interested in having their players get the proper amount of rest each night than any other single thing. The coach knows that a team of tired athletes will not go far. When the going gets tough in a game the boys who have trained properly are the boys who usually come through. How pitiful it is to see a tired boy whose energy is exhausted in the third quarter.

During the past several years circumstances have made it necessary for some of our pupils to accept jobs that have kept them up late at night. In almost every case the result has been a very decided decline in their scholastic work. These people come to school in a very tired condition. They managed to drag themselves through the day physically but as far as their appearance in school it would have been much better for them to have been home in bed. A tired pupil is in no mood to study or take an active part in class discussions and the results in nearly all cases have been along similar lines. Difficulties in study halls, difficulties with teachers and pupils, tiredness, absence, and lack of interest in themselves and in their school work. In a few of these cases the pupils reached a point where they have lost complete interest in their school work and have dropped out.

We hope our pupils will put into practice some of the things Miss Hutzel told us about getting the proper amount of rest. May every parent and pupil work together toward the goal of having each growing boy and girl get 9 or 10 hours sleep every night and if that is not possible at least on nights preceding a school day.

Office News

The Journalists club held a Christmas party on Tuesday evening, Dec. 17 in the gymnasium at 7:30.

A new ping-pong table has been bought by the school and is now being used at noon and after school by the students.

The dancing classes are still being held every Tuesday afternoon. The instructors are sent out by Henry Ford and they are teaching old-time dancing to the students.

After the Christmas vacation the Hi-Y club will hold a party. The members are asked to bring a girl from the student body and these people will discuss the good and bad sides of the topic, "Dating a Girl on a 50-Basis."

The boys and girls who stay at the school during noon play basketball, ping-pong, and other games during the noon hour. The girls have the gymnasium to play basketball on Mondays and Wednesdays; the boys on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays.

Through the cooperation of Mr. Chandler and the library staff, a Christmas card post office will be held at the school this week. The Student Council, who is sponsoring this post office, says that no stamps will be necessary if you mail your cards at school.

School will be closed Friday, Dec. 20 and will re-open Thursday, Jan. 2 because of the Christmas holidays. The administration is asking that the parents cooperate in getting their children to school on Thursday.

The new curtain for the gymnasium has arrived and been placed in the gym. It was bought by the senior class of 1940 and the Board of Education.

Miss Martha Jeffers, assistant to Miss Pearl Haist, the county nurse, will visit our school the first Tuesday of each month for inspection and consultation with the teachers and parents.

Over 100 people attended the lecture given by Miss Hutzel on Monday, December 9.

The mixed chorus is presenting a Christmas program this (Thursday) evening, December 19, in the gymnasium.

Girls' Basketball

Last Friday the first girls' basketball team in several years for Chelsea played against U. High.

The uniforms of the two teams were so similar that the spectators found it hard to distinguish them. Incidentally, Chelsea's squad had very attractive new uniforms.

Those starting for Chelsea were Margaret Harper, Grace Riemenschneider and Eleanor Harper as guards; Lois Palmer, Betty Fletcher and Virginia Lucht as forwards.

Chelsea had the ball first, but during the first quarter Mary Ann Olson of U. High made the first two points of the game. However, during the same quarter Virginia Lucht made a basket for Chelsea.

There were many substitutions during the game for both teams. When the final whistle blew the score was 11-2 in favor of U. High.

Home Ec.

The "Home Making Club", held every Thursday evening, which is made up of the parents of the school, were entertained by the girls of the first and second class of Home Ec.

The girls of the first class gave speeches on "Personal Grooming".

The girls of the second class modeled the dresses which they have made this year, in school.

Sophomore News

The Sophomore class has been selected to take charge of the assembly on January 28, 1941. Plans are progressing rapidly for this. A committee has been appointed to decide on the program. The plans are to be completed by January 20. This will give the committee all of the Christmas holidays to prepare themselves.

So far this year the Sophomore class has been very active in decorating, providing entertainment and serving refreshments at the All-Holiday party. They also sponsored the Annual Amateur Hour, which was a big success.

Elementary News

Don't forget to attend the free matinee at the Sylvan Theatre on Saturday which is being sponsored by The Chelsea Standard. The show starts at 2 o'clock, lasting until 4:00, and is a special Christmas gift from The Standard to the children of the community up to and including 14 years of age.

Kindergarten

The boys and girls are both making calendars for their mothers and fathers. We have a very pretty Christmas tree in our room. We are planning for our Christmas party which is to be on Friday morning of this week. We also have drawn names for exchanging gifts in our room and the presents are coming in fast under our Christmas tree.

Second Grade

We have had a splendid attendance in our room—all this year. We are sure Santa Claus is coming to see us. He'll find us here.

Every morning we have Christmas stories by the fireplace. And that fun!

Each one has made a Santa Claus to hang on our tree at home. And we've been learning carols to sing for him when he comes.

We surely are having a happy time.

Seventh Grade

(Doris Nagy and Donna Perkins)

Our quotation for the week is from Shakespeare: "Tis the mind that makes the body rich."

We are hurrying in our geography because we are all anxious to start history. We are studying hydroelectric power, its creation and uses. In English we are working on speech habits, trying to develop good habits and to avoid double negatives, incorrect verb forms, and so on.

Our nine new books have been read by thirty-one people so far.

In our Current Events class we spent one period in an informal debate on the current war situation. It was fun, but we became sadly tangled, and some of us became a little over-enthusiastic.

Both boys' and girls' quartettes are going to sing at the Christmas program, directed by Miss McNeil.

We voted to have a Christmas party, and appointed a decorating committee.

Eighth Grade

The eighth grade is planning a Christmas party to be held on Friday afternoon of this week. Names were drawn and presents will be exchanged.

Last Wednesday the class was given a musical aptitude test. Mr. Dunstan says that this test is given to determine the natural music ability of the students. It was something quite different, and the class seemed to enjoy the test. Results will be posted either this week or immediately after the Christmas vacation.
