Gregory Man Stabbed To Death Here Monday

Price Osborne, a 24-year-old farm hand of Route 2, Gregory, was stabbed to death early Monday morning during a quarrel with his brother, Beecher Osborne, 21, of Chelsea, at the home of their brother-in-law, Dona Joseph, at 113 North St., where Beecher and his wife lived.

Beecher was taken into custody by sheriff's officers after confessing to Deputy Charles Meservy that he slashed his older brother with a 3½ inch fishing knife. He claimed that he struck Price in self-defense, after Price had hit his wife, Murrel, in the nose, knocking her down, and had then swung at him. Beecher and his wife told officers that the fight culminated from an argument which started that evening as they were driving to Battle Creek with another brother, Robert, a soldier, who was returning to Fort Custer. The stabbing occurred a few minutes after their return home at 2:45 a. m.

Price was stabbed twice, once in the back and once in the chest, just above the heart. Dr. E. C. Ganzhorn, coroner, who was called, said the chest wound apparently severed an artery, causing Price to bleed to death.

Prosecutor George Meader announced that Beecher would be charged with second-degree murder, a charge which carries a possible sentence of life imprisonment.

Price Osborne, formerly of Kentucky, had lived near Chelsea for about 10 years. He and a sister, Nellie, lived on the Van Riper farm near Island Lake.

Beecher and his wife, who have a three-year-old daughter, Mary Lou, moved to Chelsea about a year ago from Royalty, Ky. A brother, William Osborne, 18, also resides in Chelsea, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Ray.

Construction Starts On Telephone Office Bldg.

The Michigan Bell Telephone Company's $80,000 expansion and improvement program here was off to a good start this week as the Peckham Construction Company, of Jackson, began excavation for the company's new building, on West Middle St.

Jerome E. Johnson, manager for the company, said the building is expected to be completed about March 1. Upon its completion, the Western Electric Company will begin the installation of the central office equipment. Dial service is scheduled to start here early next summer.

The building, which, with the land, calls for an expenditure of about $8,000, will be a one-story brick veneer structure. In addition to the new dial central office equipment, it will house the company's business office, which will be located in the front of the building.

Besides the new building, the expansion program here provides for gross additions of $22,700 for the central office equipment, $13,000 for dial telephones in the homes and business establishments of customers, $9,600 for outdoor plant improvements, and $26,000 for the rehabilitation of the rural telephone plant in this vicinity.

Johnson said the change from the present magneto (crank type) of telephone system to dial service will involve several special operating features. Subscribers will make general local calls merely by dialing the proper numbers. Calls for information, time service, repair service, or the telephone business office will be made by dialing "0" and asking the operator for the desired department or service. There will be no message charge for such calls. For a long distance connection, the subscriber also will dial "0" to reach the operator.

Other features of the new system will include the dial tone and the audible ringing and audible busy signals. The dial tone is a steady humming sound, heard when the telephone receiver is lifted. It indicates that the central office equipment is ready to take the call. The audible ringing signal is a soft "bur-r-ring" sound that is heard in the receiver by the calling party when the bell of the called telephone is being rung. The audible busy signal is a rapid "buzz-buzz-buzz" heard in the receiver when the called telephone, or another telephone on the line called, is busy. Johnson said these new features involved in dial operation will be explained to subscribers in advance of the change to the dial service. Representatives of the Michigan Bell Company will give instructions in the use of the dial instruments at the time they are installed.

An Editorial

Chelsea has been forging ahead industrially during the past two years—new factories have been added and those which have been established here for some time have expanded to no small extent.

These concerns have faith in our community and its progress. The Federal Screw Works, with the largest payroll of local industrial plants, has added materially to their production capacity through expansion which has necessitated full use of the tower building in addition to their South Main street plant, and further expansion is contemplated, according to reports.

The community has also greatly benefited by the location here of the Chelsea Spring Company and the subsequent construction of new buildings to add to their manufacturing facilities.

Central Fibre Products Co., the Chelsea Milling Company and other enterprises have also contributed to the industrial growth through their continued development.

The above facts are well known to every resident of Chelsea—but what are we doing to keep pace with this industrial growth so far as cooperating in civic development?

There are rumblings and grumbings that the lack of housing facilities is acute.

Local employment brings scores of people to Chelsea who are unable to obtain a house to live in. Countless others are seeking apartments and there are none available.

Yet there is no movement, organized or otherwise, to remedy the situation. Added payrolls in local plants means little to Chelsea unless those who receive the wages reside here. If they drive here from other towns to work their pay check is cashed and spent in their home town.

Public recreational facilities for factory workers is also another great need. Many complaints are heard regarding this situation. The public school gymnasium is engaged for weeks in advance and there is no other place available. Some groups are making an effort to lease quarters for club rooms.

Children of the village must not be forgotten and there is a decided need for more ice skating ponds, and summer playgrounds.

There is also agitation for a filtration and water softening plant for the village water system; for a city form of government which many say would be more efficient in its operation.

Flourishing industries are in our midst and others could, no doubt, be induced to locate here because of our favorable location. These industries are a distinct asset to the community.

Isn't it about time the community does something to warrant this good fortune?

Let us suggest that a public meeting be called for the purpose of discussing the problems and opportunities which face us. Certainly no harm could come from such a meeting and we believe there would be some accomplishment.

Bankers of County Met Here Thursday

About 90 members of the Washtenaw County Bankers' Association were in attendance at a meeting held Thursday night at the Chelsea State Bank.

Gerald Allen, executive vice-president of the Dexter Savings Bank, was elected chairman of the organization, succeeding Paul G. Schallie, president of the Chelsea State Bank, and Creston Myers of the National Bank of Ypsilanti, was named secretary to succeed John R. Meadows, assistant cashier of the Ann Arbor Savings and Commercial Bank.

After the meeting, dinner was served at St. Paul's church hall by the Women's Guild of the church. With George Meader, prosecuting attorney, presiding, informal talks were given and community singing was led by Paul F. Niehaus, with Mrs. Niehaus at the piano.

Motion pictures of the Michigan-Ontario State football game were shown by Coach Elmer McGoy and of the bankers' picnic at John Meadows' summer home by David Beach of the State Savings Bank, Ann Arbor.

GLOVERS REACH SEMI-FINALS

Chelsea is still represented in the State Boxing Tournament. Only one boy remains in the running, but local fight fans have high hopes he will survive the Jackson tournament this week Thursday. The boy remaining is Walter LaSavage, 135 pounds. Since the season started LaSavage has won six consecutive bouts. In doing so he has won two tournaments, and championed at Ypsilanti and Adrian.

Ralph and Earl Holbrook, local boys, also gave fine accounts of themselves but were eliminated in their last bouts at Jackson.

Grief struck Morris Hoffman's fight stable when Price Osborne, promising light heavyweight was the victim of a local murder. Osborne fought a week ago at Jackson and although he lost, boxing authorities at Jackson kept a keen eye on him and predicted a bright future for him. In the ring Osborne displayed fine sportsmanship. He will be sadly missed by his trainer as well as his stablemates.

O. D. Schneider Taken By Death Wednesday

Oscar D. Schneider, life-long resident of this community and associated with Chelsea's business interests for 27 years, died suddenly early Wednesday morning of a heart attack at his home, 610 South Main St.

The son of David and Anna M. (Wagner) Schneider, he was born Oct. 19, 1880 in Lima township. He was married Dec. 6, 1911 to Mary Lambert and he has since made his home in Chelsea. Mrs. Schneider died December 8, 1939.

Mr. Schneider engaged in the grocery business in Chelsea in 1914 and in 1923 he entered into partnership with Waldo Kusterer. He was president of the Board of Education, a director of Oak Grove Cemetery Association, and for a number of years was a member of the village council. He also was an active member of St. Paul's church.

Surviving are two sons, Carl at home and Paul, who is attending Albion college; a daughter, Mrs. Anna Flintoft of Grand Blanc; his mother, Mrs. Anna Schneider of Chelsea; a brother, Reuben Schneider, of Chelsea; and three sisters, Mrs. Clara Ladd of Detroit, Mrs. Anna Arner of Bellevue and Mrs. Bertha Finkbeiner of Lima township.

Funeral services will be held on Friday afternoon, 2:30 at the residence and 3:00 o'clock at St. Paul's church. Burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

Business places will close during the services, from 2:30 to 4:00 o'clock.

March of Dimes Drive Closes Saturday Night

Committees working on the campaign to raise funds for combating infantile paralysis report that it is well under way. Nearly a thousand cards were mailed to people of this vicinity on Saturday. Those wishing to contribute to the "March of Dimes" in this way may place their dimes in the card and mail according to instructions.

The special gifts committee chairman, Mrs. Waldo Kusterer and Mrs. F. W. Merkel, have named Mrs. J. V. Burg, Mrs. J. J. Munro and Mrs. W. F. Kanteleiner to assist with the soliciting. These contributions of a dollar or more should be paid directly to the local committee. Anyone wishing to contribute who has not been solicited is requested to contact one of the above mentioned ladies.

The car ticket sales are also progressing favorably, having started on Wednesday by high school students.

Coin boxes have also been placed in both schools and in local business places, and civic organizations have been contacted.

Contributors in this campaign are not merely helping to provide funds for individual patients suffering with the disease, but are aiding in research work to conquer the disease itself. Part of the money contributed in this present campaign will be sent to the National Foundation for conducting research to control the disease. One of these research laboratories receiving funds from the Foundation is located near Lansing.

Here is an opportunity for everyone to help, by contributing dimes and dollars to enable this polio investigation to continue.

The campaign for funds closes Saturday night, Feb. 1.

Local History Project

By Julius W. Haab
(County School Commissioner)

In our study of history we should not overlook our local community, which oftentimes is studded with jewels rich and intriguing if only brought to light. We are prone to go to the distant places of the world and to overlook the wealth of information encompassing our own homes and communities. Practically every community, in tracing its history from the origin, finds some facts that are stimulating and worthwhile, such as the origin of the name of the community, early customs, humorous anecdotes, stories exemplifying heroism, loyalty and patriotism on the part of some of the early settlers who have left their footprints upon the "sands of time."

In order to stimulate a feeling of interest and pride in the community I have asked the pupils of our rural schools, under the guidance of the teacher, to write up the history of their respective districts. All the pupils are participating in this project. However, the major responsibility of organizing and assembling the facts and pictures collected falls upon the pupils in the 7th and 8th grades. They will serve as captains and will use this course in local history to supplement their course in history and civics in the regular school curriculum. The teacher is acting in the capacity of chairman and general advisor of the project. Information will be gleaned from all available sources, such as old records and pictures, present and former school officers and teachers, elderly patrons of the district, etc.

The enthusiasm with which teachers and pupils, as well as the people of the community, have enlisted their services in writing the history of their community is exceedingly gratifying. After the histories of the individual schools are completed, they will be transcribed on uniform paper and compiled in a book which will be kept in custody by the office of the Commissioner of Schools. The book should be a storehouse of treasure and will be available to any interested patron who might wish to inspect it at any time.

As Commissioner of Schools and a native of Washtenaw county, I am greatly interested in anything pertaining to Washtenaw, and particularly its schools. To me, the early log house of the candle-stick days, with its straight benches and hand-hewn puncheons around the wall, the succeeding frame school house of the kerosene lamp days with more comfortable seating and heating facilities, and the ultra modern school with electric lights, running water, and automatic heat, stand out as three glowing milestones of progress in the history of our country.

SUNDAY SCHOOL PARTY

Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer's class of St. Paul's Sunday school held a party on Wednesday evening of last week at the church hall, beginning with a dinner at 6:30. Rev. and Mrs. P. H. Grabowski and Mrs. E. H. Kraft also were guests at the dinner. In games which furnished the evening's diversion, prizes were won by Mesdames Paul Niehaus, Lewis Schneider, Reuben Grieb, Frederick Young and Elmer Schairer.

MASON—To Walter Illsley, a student in agricultural economics at Michigan State College, the European war is something more than newspaper headlines. He was in Germany when Russia and Germany signed their peace pact, when England and France declared war on Germany, and when Poland fell before the blitzkrieg; he was in Denmark when the Germans invaded the country; he visited in Sweden and was turned back from Finland when Russia and Finland were fighting; he was employed at the American embassy in Berlin when France fell; and eventually he returned to America on the American Legion by way of Finland and the Arctic ocean. He told of his experiences at a meeting of the Mason Kiwanis club Tuesday night. Last summer he, along with other Americans, was ordered to return to the United States. They traveled through Sweden and Finland to board the ship which brought them home. The Michigan State student said the common people of Germany did not want war and did not believe that Hitler would get them into war. Now that they are in Illinois, said, the Germans are united in waging it and are convinced that England is the aggressor. Illsley told of the ease with which Denmark was invaded by Germany. Damage by R. A. F. raids into Germany was described as heavy by Illsley. He said the English bombs had damaged many factories and homes and that in one morning raid 600 German casualties were announced. County News.

SCOUT WEEK TO BE OBSERVED

Each Scout Troop and each Cub Pack in Washtenaw and Livingston counties has been requested to make some special observance of the 31st birthday of the Boy Scouts of America some time during National Scout Week, February 7 through 13.

In many cases this observance will take the nature of a party, a pot-luck dinner or other event to which parents will be invited.

All Scouts are asked to wear their Scout uniforms throughout Scout Week and to attend their own church on Scout Sunday.

A nation-wide broadcast is being arranged for Saturday evening, Feb. 8, at 7:30 o'clock. It is expected that many local Scout people will tune in on this broadcast.

Orchids from a Holly Grower

Sedan, $1185.*

ORDINARILY we don't go in for owner-testimonials.

But every now and then, along comes a letter that so perfectly portrays the way Buick owners feel about their cars that we haven't the heart to keep it from you.

Here, for example, we quote from Mr. Ambrose Brownell, English holly grower of Milwaukie, Ore.

"... When I drove that '41 SUPER out of Flint... and started a circle trip home... I jotted down each gas purchase and mileage to sort of figure my expenses...

"It wasn't long before I got suspicious of something wrong... The gas gauge needle just didn't go down fast enough...

"But, Roy, all the way home it was the same story. The Buick wormed through miles of city traffic... made numberless stops to inquire directions, purred along in sizzling heat that made my feet feel like two fried eggs, breezed over the Rockies at 9,000 elevation... and finally fairly stole home through the sinuous Columbia Gorge.

"Statistics? Of course, 3,200 miles; 165 gallons... Ethyl gas; 19.51 miles per gallon; gas expense—1¹⁰/₁₀₀¢ per mile; total out-of-pocket expense—1²⁸/₁₀₀¢ per mile.

"... Roy, I'm glad I bought a Buick."

Mr. Brownell has other nice things to say about his Compound Carburetion-equipped 1941 SUPER.

But the point is that everywhere Buick is running up such astonishing records for thrift that letters like this are commonplace.

Why not drop in on your local dealer and try out the thrifty traveler that brings us orchids from a holly grower?

LIBRARY NEWS

The Chelsea Public Library records show a very fine growth during the past ten months, especially since located in the new building. This is very decisive evidence for the firm conviction of the library board in the belief that the new location would help materially in offering better service to the public.

There has been an almost unbelievable increase in the library registration since March 1, 1940. 835 more people are using the library. The total registration March 1, 1940 was 889, which was considered a good number for the size of the village. January 1, 1941 records show that the registration has increased to 1224. A very fine patronage!

A similar growth is shown in the number of books circulated. Last year for the twelve months beginning March 1, 1939 to March 1, 1940, 11,658 books were loaned to patrons. This year for 10 months from March 1, 1940 to Jan. 1, 1941, 13,346 books have been loaned.

The improved library facilities have helped this growth in several different ways. The location of the library—that is, the nearness to the shopping area and the street floor, has made it more attractive and inviting to the general public. The fine reading facilities have encouraged visitors to drop in and become acquainted. And increasing the library hours to every afternoon has offered a greater convenience to its patrons.

It is very gratifying to the library board and to the many patrons especially interested in the library, that such a fine service can be offered to the people of Chelsea, and that the people are availing themselves of this service.

Within the last few months many requests have come to the librarian for material on the history of Chelsea and neighboring community including Washtenaw county. The library being comparatively new, not much of such material is available. Anyone having such material is invited to loan it to the library for several months. Bring the material to the library and make arrangements with Mrs. Walworth. These loans will be greatly appreciated and will render vital service to the interested patrons.

The library has received a complimentary copy of "Smoke Screen" from the National Committee to Uphold Constitutional Government; also a copy of "Ohio Builds a Nation" presented to the library by Mrs. Chester C. Bolton in memory of the late Hon. Chester C. Bolton.

Vocational Education Programs Approved

Twenty-six programs of vocational education have been approved by the State Board of Control for Vocational Education during the past month.

George H. Fern, Director, has announced. Adult education programs in home-making have been approved for Chelsea, Marysville, Marine City, Fowlerville, Coleman, Lakeside, Consolidated School of Battle Creek, Sunfield, Homer, Ann Arbor, Charlotte, and Copenhill. Adult education programs in agriculture have been approved for Chelsea, Sunfield, Rockford, Wayland, Sand Creek, Trenary, Barryton, Bellaire, Richland, and Lakeside Consolidated School of Battle Creek.

The purpose of the Chelsea adult class in Home-making is to help housewives with their particular problems in care of the home and family. The meetings so far have included the making of fancy sandwiches, public health, tailored finishes in sewing, and how to use sewing machine attachments. The rest of the meetings for the year are: January 30, "Slip Covers for Furniture"; February 13, "Finishes in Sewing"; by Miss Argis; and February 26, "Meat Cookery"; a demonstration by Mrs. Ruth Bush of the Michigan Consolidated Gas Co. in Ann Arbor. All women are invited to attend the meetings in which they are most interested.

The Chelsea agricultural evening school includes ten instructional meetings. The major part of these meetings are on dairy feeding and management with two meetings on poultry and one on care of the ewe flock. The first meeting of this class was held December 11 with John Donath of Michigan State College leading the discussion on practices that pay Michigan farmers best. The last instructional meeting will be held February 27 with Everett Benton as the speaker on sheep management. It is also hoped that a specialist may be obtained to discuss poultry problems.

KIWANIS NEWS

On Monday evening the chairman of the various committees of the Kiwanis club summarized the activities which were successfully completed by their groups during the past year. The committees accomplished many worthwhile community projects during this period which endured to the benefit of the inhabitants of the Village of Chelsea and to the vicinity in general. A few of the most important activities carried on by the Kiwanians include the reorganization of the Boy Scout Troop, the Halloween party for the children of the vicinity, the football banquet, and the donation of a sum of money to the University Hospital of Ann Arbor which is to be applied for the use of the underprivileged children of Washtenaw county. The Kiwanians have determined to continue these activities in addition to their fervent desire of cooperating with the community in fostering other social activities for the residents of Chelsea and environs.

The Kiwanis club is essentially a service organization and its primary purpose is to aid in the further growth of the community and its institutions. The Kiwanians want the inhabitants of this vicinity, both young and old, to cooperate with them in carrying out projects which will be of value to this community. In order to get the young people of Chelsea interested in their village activities and to take part in possible measures to improve the community, the Kiwanians are sponsoring an essay contest for the students of the Chelsea high school. The plan is to encourage each student of the high school to write a paper of not more than 500 words upon the subject: "What Community Projects Would Be Most Beneficial to Chelsea." The Kiwanis club is offering a first prize of five dollars, a second prize of three dollars, and a third prize of one dollar to the high school students who write the best themes on this subject. The students are free to request suggestions from their parents and friends, but the actual organization and writing of these essays must be by the students themselves. The scope of these papers must be limited to enumerating group activities in which the community may cooperate and it must not be a criticism of the village administration or its policies. These themes must be completed and submitted to Supt. Albert C. Johnson before Monday noon, February 17, 1941.

These essays will be impartially judged by a committee appointed by the Kiwanis club who, in turn, will give the greatest credit to those papers which show good organization and material. Each student shall sign his or her name to the essay together with his grade in school, and due consideration will be given by the committee to the respective grade in school of each of the writers in judging his paper. The prizes will be awarded to the successful students by President Alfred D. Mayer during the first meeting of the Kiwanis club in March of this year. The Kiwanians want to stimulate the young people of this community to participate more in group activities and request them to utilize their time in carefully planning and writing this essay.

Henry C. Schneider and Alfred D. Mayer attended the Mid-Winter Kiwanis Conclave which was held in Detroit last week. On Monday evening Mr. Schneider spoke about some of the matters which were stressed at this conference. One of the most important features of this discussion was the relationship of the Kiwanian and his church. Mr. Schneider adroitly pointed out the five roles which the Kiwanian should play in his church program. He mentioned that each individual first of all should interest himself in the spiritual program of his church and aid in its growth. He should take a part in selecting good leaders or speakers who will present the material on religion clearly, vividly, and enthusiastically. He should work toward the goal of overcoming intolerance in the community. He then should organize larger groups and meetings in order to discuss and to seek a solution to the problems which are presented in the community. Lastly, each Kiwanian should demand the group to underwrite every youth activity which is affiliated with the church. Mr. Schneider concluded his interesting talk by suggesting that the Kiwanians and the community should cooperate in planning and developing programs to attain these ends.

Editorial

We present herewith an object lesson; an object lesson proving that two basketball teams can play a clean game, with equal chance for approval from both cheering sections, and at the same time have everyone having the time of their young life. If you must bring it to something concrete, we mean the Chelsea-Manchester game which was played there a week ago Tuesday night.

Last fall, you remember, when those noble Dutchmen from 'way down south, played our boys on the athletic field, the show of sportsmanship was practically nil. The administrators of both schools saw there and then that something had to be done, and done immediately. So what did they do? They gave the students of both schools an extra large dose of that bitter-tasting but effective medicine called "Honor". They explained to the young people that they could have just as much fun, if not more, by listening to the other side give their cheers, and then give their own just twice as loud as if they had tried to drown out the others. The players were also given a good talking to, and had this business of sportsmanship explained to them. And did it do any good? You bet it did! The game last week was said to be the cleanest, hardest-fought, fairest and squarest of all the games we have ever played with Manchester. And those adjectives aren't a bit over-done, because it was exactly that.

Manchester comes to Chelsea February 4 and we hope to give them the same fine reception that they gave to us, and in order to do that we must have the cooperation of not only the school student, but all those who come to the game.

Let's show them Chelsea can be just as good sports as Manchester!

Our first half year has ended.

Therefore, it will be a good time for us to take an inventory of our achievements in scholastics and citizenship.

As we look back over the half year's work do we see an improvement in the following things?

First: Did we come to school on time, thereby starting the day off right?

Second: Did we come to class with our work prepared or did we try to "bluff" our way through?

Third: Did we participate in class discussion or did we sit in our seats like bumps on a log and "let George do it"?

Fourth: Did we tolerate other persons' opinions, although they conflict with our own?

Fifth: Did we listen when assignments were given or did we wait until class the next day and come whining to the teacher, "I didn't hear the assignment"?

Sixth: Did we bring other things to class to work on that did not belong in that particular class?

Seventh: Did we make up work when we were absent?

Eighth: Did we bring our materials to class or did we forget and have to get permission to get them?

Ninth: Did we do our own work or did we rely too much on our neighbors?

Tenth: Did we compare our marks with our neighbor's marks? For instance, when we saw that they had received good marks and we hadn't, we immediately said: "I did just as much as he did and yet I got the least credit". Perhaps it was true.

However, we must realize that we are not all possessed with the same abilities, therefore, we should see to it that we are showing improvement in relation to ourselves and not our neighbors!

Now that we have taken inventory, have we shown improvement in scholastics and citizenship? Most of us have. However, let's keep this list and during the second half year try to say about each of the points: "This is a far, far better thing I do, than I have ever done before."

Office News

(Mr. Downing's Office)

The semester will officially end on Friday, January 31. At that time these seniors taking American Government will change to Economics and those taking Economics will change to American Government.

On February 12, Mr. Chandler's Speech II class will go to Manchester high school to present a one-act play and program. Later the class at Manchester will come to Chelsea to present a program. The Student Council is sponsoring this.

Marie Alber, one of the students of the Junior class, has left Chelsea and returned to Manchester. The administration, the faculty, and the students wish to say to her, good-bye and good luck!

The Hi-Y club has a new bulletin board. The members intend to paint it and put a light above it.

It looks as if the old "bucket brigade" is back again. The students of the Chemistry classes have been carrying water around because of repairs in some of the pipe lines.

The teachers have been taking turns staying at the school during the noon hour. This week Miss Muzzall is on noon duty.

(Mr. Johnson's Office)

We were very much pleased with the game turned out at the basketball game at Manchester on Jan. 21. We do not mean the score only, but the attitude of the spectators as well. It is hoped that Chelsea will receive Manchester on February 4 when they come for a return game, as well as Manchester received us.

The Speech class under the direction of Mr. Chandler, will present a patriotic program at the meeting of the Kiwanis club on February 17.

Dr. Courtis of the University of Michigan will meet with the faculty on February 14.

Evening classes are being held every Thursday evening at 8:00 at the high school in both Agriculture and Home Economics. Mr. Bust directs the Agriculture classes and Miss Muzzall directs the classes in Home Economics. The attendance at the last meeting was very good. The classes will be held tonight (Thursday).

Samuel Grathwell, who speaks about the activities of the Federal Bureau of Investigation of which J. Edgar Hoover is the head, will address the students at an assembly on February 11 at 8:30 a. m. He will tell the students about some of the activities of that organization. Parents are invited to attend.

Industries Involved in Pictures
There are approximately 278 different industries involved in the making of motion pictures.

Hi-Y News

The activity of the Chelsea Hi-Y club is evidenced in its calendar of events for the future. These include an evening meeting with the Chelsea F. F. A. a swim in the Michigan Union pool in Ann Arbor next Monday, a dinner with the Chelsea Kiwanians, and a meeting with the Hi-Y boys from the Ann Arbor high school.

Last Wednesday the Hi-Y, under the auspices of the Michigan Y. M. C. A., brought Rev. Glenn Frye to Chelsea to address the student body.

Mr. Frye is well known throughout Michigan for his talks to high school boys and girls on problems that concern them. He addressed our young people on the subject of alcohol and its effects. Although working with a subject which, if not ably handled, would not be interesting to young people, Mr. Frye has so intense a personality, in combination with his accomplished ability of making any situation funny that every one enjoys listening to him. His subject matter was good and his delivery was excellent. The Chelsea Hi-Y club should be commended on bringing Rev. Frye to our school.

Going into the game an underdog last Friday, Chelsea emerged the victors with a score of 26 to 21. Pollett led the Chelsea team by sinking 10 points, while Imhoff led the opposing team with 8 points.

Chelsea's second team showed up better in last Friday's game than in previous games. The final score was 25-18 in favor of Lincoln, but it was not until in the third quarter that Lincoln got so far ahead of the Chelsea boys. L. Pollett and D. Alber came out with 8 points each.

Student Council

The Student Council is planning to make two large signs, designating the different cheer sections—that is, Chelsea's cheer section and the visiting team's cheer section. These signs will be placed in the balcony, reserving the north side for the home fans.

The purpose of making these signs is in order for the cheering, for all those for the same team, to be together, thus helping the cheer leader.

The Student Council is planning for the exchange of assembly programs with different schools and Chelsea. The first of these will be with Manchester. On January 28 the Sophomores will put on an assembly during activity period.

Girls' Basketball

At a recent meeting of the Girls' Athletic Association, Betty Fletcher (a senior) was elected captain for the 1940-41 season.

At this time the girls' schedule is nearly complete and some of the dates are already set. On February 4 Manchester will come to Chelsea for the return game which will be played at 5:00. Following that Chelsea will have two teams to U. High on Feb. 21.

The girls are trying to arrange a game with Pinckney the following week.

Home Ec.

The girls in the Home Ec. club have begun doing their part in keeping the girls' lavatory clean. The way in which they are proceeding is that each girl, in the club, will spend one period each day for one week in the rest-room, to check on all the things to help keep our rest-room more convenient, neat and clean.

The girls began doing this work on Monday, January 27.

The Home Ec. class II will begin soon to make a cover for the cot they purchased for the lavatory.

It was a long hard struggle, yet I liked that class a lot! The teacher was understanding and my fellow students cheerful and always helpful. We did a lot of work together, problems right and problems wrong. This is our last week together, Old Algebra Class, for next week we greet the new—Solid Geometry!

The Sophomore class is putting on an assembly program for the high school students. They have been working on it for quite a while, and are sure it will be a good one.

Chorus News

Last Thursday evening the boys and girls of the high school chorus journeyed out to Cassidy Lake for an ice skating party.

After having enjoyed their evening of this amusement they came back to school and had refreshments, then they danced.

Transportation was given by cars, and an enjoyable evening was enjoyed by all.

They came here in 1834. Main street now stands on the line dividing their farms. Soon more pioneers came, stores were built and a town was planned.

Fourth Grade
Last Friday our radio program was about Switzerland. We have finished all the orders of private purchasers and for free distribution to schools and communities maintaining com-

At our club meeting on Thursday we elected new officers. Joyce Hughes was elected president; Joyce Crawford, vice-president; Mary Jane Jarvis, secretary, and Mary K. Palmer, treasurer.

The following people have not been absent since school started: Doris Downer, Helen Jarvie, David Knickerbocker, George Miller, and Priscilla Popp.

This is the season for tests, it seems. Miss Kasambi tested us Monday, January 20 and Friday, January 24, and on Wednesday we had different tests from another young lady from Ann Arbor. We had a brief current events test January 24, and will have a geography test over everything we have studied this semester about January 30 or 31.

We took a collection for the "March of Dimes".

Our attendance is improving somewhat, but there are still several absent; most of the absentees are boys.

Audrey White suggested most of the news for this week.

Many in this room get hot lunches; on some days ten people sign up.

Carlyle wrote our quotation for the week: "Out of the lowest depths there is a path to the loftiest height."

The bulletin board exhibit has been changed. The history of transportation collection has been changed for one on early Americans, meaning Indians.

We find that there are forest Indians, plains Indians, and in Central and South America, some highly civilized tribes, the Aztecs, Mayas, and Incas.

Eighth Grade

We have started an Infantile Paralysis drive in our room. We have $1.05 and hope to get more.

The boys in the 7th and 8th grade science class made an experiment Friday. They dropped a large steel ball and a small steel ball out the window to see if they both hit the ground at the same time and they did.

Many of the pupils are returning to school after having the flu.

We are reviewing for semester tests the first part of this week and will have our tests the last part of the week. We will receive different books in History and Literature next week.

Does Farm Pay? Expert Tells How To Determine

How to apply a new "thumb rule" to determine if an average Central Michigan farm could pay or is paying a fair return to the operator is announced by C. O. May, farm management specialist on the Michigan State College staff.

He takes the average Central Michigan farm in which the total investment in real estate, machinery, livestock and feed add up to $15,000. Then he asks the question, within how many years should the gross income total the entire investment?

Records kept on Central Michigan farms during the past six years show that if it took a farmer eight years to take in enough gross to equal the investment in the entire farm business, that farmer was actually paying for the privilege of operating his farm.

In fact, he averaged in the red $41, after deducting from the gross income, the farm operating expenses, depreciation on improvements and machinery, and 5 per cent on the investment.

On farms where the gross income in six years equalled the total investment the income was sufficient to pay expenses and 5 per cent on the investment and leave $461 annually for the operator's labor income.

More rosy is the picture as the rate of turn-over of the investment goes at a faster rate. Those farmers who showed gross incomes equal to the investment in 4.9 years had $870 a year for their labor income. Those where it took only 4.3 years had $1,111 left. Then there were one fifth of the farms where it took only 3.3 years for the gross to equal the investment and these men had $1,563 for their year's work.

Millions of Seedlings Will Be Distributed

Lansing—Fitting its spring planting program to the CCC labor supply available for this type of work, the conservation department's forestry division plans to plant 3,224 acres with young pine trees in the season beginning in mid-April. In the spring of 1940, 8,046 acres were planted.

Besides the 2,500,000 pine seedlings and transplants reserved for state forest plantings this spring, another 8,000,000 small pine trees are on hand at the big Higgins Lake nursery in all the orders of private purchasers and for free distribution to schools and communities maintaining community forests. Public demand for seedlings reached unprecedented volume in the last year.

CCC crews totaling 300 enrollees from seven camps will work on the state forests, setting out the young trees at seven-and-a-half foot intervals along rows that are seven and one-half feet apart, resulting in plantings of 800 trees to the acre.

Sod is scalped from the planting spots beforehand, and the seedlings, packed in wet moss, are delivered directly by truck from the nursery.

The five state forests sharing the 1941 spring planting program, which normally is more extensive than the fall planting, are the Black Lake, Higgins Lake, Houghton Lake, Lake Superior and Au Sable forests.

WINDSTORM COMPANY HOLDS ANNUAL MEET

The annual meeting of the Michigan Mutual Windstorm Insurance Company was held at the home office in Hastings on January 15.

During 1940 the company made a nice gain in amount of insurance in force and number of policyholders, but it has been so deluged with claims for losses from the storm of November 11 that a complete statement could not be made at this time. The one big windstorm of the year, Nov. 11, brought the company over 27,000 losses, amounting to about $1,250,000.

The action of the officers and directors of the Michigan Mutual in starting a cash reserve fund several years ago has proven to be a wise policy.

This substantial, well managed company has made an enviable record, both in growth and service to its members. It will pay these heavy losses of 1940 in full and still have a substantial sum with which to carry on in 1941. The overwhelming number of losses from this November storm have been handled with the greatest speed possible, so that each claimant might receive remuneration as promptly as possible.

No doubt the widespread storm and the losses sustained from it will lead to an increase in the volume of insurance this year, as it has done in the past. Those who carried windstorm insurance in this company and suffered losses were mighty fortunate. The losses will be paid 100 cents on the dollar, and the company will not have to borrow nor levy an extra assessment, as it has the needed cash.

BOY SCOUT NEWS

The Chelsea Boy Scouts held their regular weekly meeting Monday night in the Hi-Y room of the Chelsea high school.

Dr. A. A. Palmer gave a very thorough demonstration on bandaging and first aid. He was assisted by Miss Theuer, who is nurse at the NYA camp.

Dick Bahnmiller has taken over the duties as Troop Scribe. He succeeds Bob Perkins, who has done an excellent job but feels that, owing to other activities that would hinder his regular attendance, it would be more beneficial to the Troop to have a regular Scout like Dick to handle the records.

John Wellnitz and Jimmie Gaken have been chosen by their Patrols as Patrol Leaders. Marion Dietle is doing a very commendable job as Leader of his Patrol.

The Troop is developing very rapidly into an organization that Chelsea can be very proud of.

If any boy in Chelsea, or vicinity, who is over twelve years old wants to be a Scout, he needs only to come to the regular meeting on Monday night at the Chelsea high school or see any of the Patrol Leaders.
