LIBRARY NEWS

The Chelsea Public Library is the one civic project of which the citizens can be truly proud. This library has meant untiring outlay of service and material needs by a small group of interested people during the first years of its development, and the loyal support of all the citizens of the community during the past few years. Because of this fine interest, the library has been able to improve and progress a little each year in spite of the curtailment of funds and the lack of adequate facilities.

As was mentioned in the news of last week, the growth of the past year has been a more adequate building which helped considerably to stimulate interest in the use of the library by the public. Naturally the adequate building and improved service meant an additional expenditure of funds. A reserve fund set aside last year helped to meet this added expense during the first part of this fiscal year. Since November, barely enough funds have been available to meet the extreme necessities. State aid, which amounted to $344 annually, was withdrawn Sept. 1, 1939.

The state law allows a taxation to exceed one mill to be provided for libraries in municipalities such as Chelsea. Up to date the Chelsea library has used only one-half mill taxation. It was believed by those in authority that the original ballot, as voted March 1938, would be sufficient to allow for the use of the one mill taxation as needed by the library. But minor discrepancies in the first ballot necessitated bringing this to the vote of the people once more.

At the village election in March a proposal will be submitted to the vote of the people to increase the one-half mill tax for the library to one mill. Loyal support of all the electors is urgently solicited.

INTANGIBLE TAX EXPERT WILL BE AT CO. TREASURER'S OFFICE

County Treasurer Clyde D. Fleming has been notified that Mrs. Amy R. Curtis of the State Tax Commission will be in his office on Friday, Feb. 7 to answer questions concerning the intangible tax law. Mrs. Curtis is said to be one of the best informed persons in the state on this subject and her services will be available all day Friday.

Benefit Games Will Be Played for Boy Scouts

By Roland Spaulding—Under the leadership of Lowell Davisson and Dud Foster, the local Boy Scout Troop is developing into a troop that will be a real credit to this community.

And of course this development depends partly upon financial aid from the community it represents. Therefore, moreover and henceforth, to start the ball a-rolling, Merkle Bros. have scheduled a double header basketball game for this Saturday night and are turning the entire proceeds of the ticket sales over to the local Boy Scouts.

This basketball game, or rather these basketball games, will be held at the high school gym this Saturday night, starting at 7:15. There will be a short ceremony by the Boy Scouts before King-Seely's basketball team of Ann Arbor and Merkle Brothers' Bucketeers stage the first game of the evening. Following immediately after the game the Ford All Stars of Jackson will engage our home town team in the second game.

Now remember—You don't have to be the proud parents of one of these Boy Scouts to have a reason for attending this game. Just turn out for the purpose of seeing two fast, thrilling play-a-second basketball games and I promise you that both you and the Boy Scouts will get your money's worth!

Half Year Auto Plates Are Now Available

Harry P. Kelly, Secretary of State, announces that half year auto license plates are now on sale in all branch offices.

It is estimated that throughout the state there are 1,500,000 owners of motor vehicles operating with 1940 plates which expire at midnight, February 28.

In Wayne county alone, Mr. Kelly figures that approximately 525,000 motorists are still using '40 plates.

The half year plates have maroon letters on a white background, this color combination having been found to have the highest visibility rating in tests conducted by Mr. Kelly. Police officers, traffic engineers, and auto club officials at the General Motors proving ground, in Milford.

The half year plates will be good until August 31. Full year 1941 plates, good until March 1, next year, have been on sale since October 14, last, and 85,000 sets have been sold in Wayne county. The total sale of '41 plates throughout the state is 227,545 as compared to 186,220 sets of '40 plates sold for the comparative period a year ago. Mr. Kelly attributes the increase in purchase of full year plates to improved business and employment conditions.

The half year plates, like the full year, are uniform, two letters and four numerals, and Mr. Kelly says that there will be no deviation from the rule requiring issuance of plates in numerical order on a basis of absolute equality to all buyers.

Extra help has been employed in all offices to assure prompt service. Uniform plates have simplified book-keeping and all other operations in the department. During the last rush period it was found that the average waiting time was cut to four minutes per applicant. The longest wait, in the main Detroit office, where the rush was heaviest, was only six minutes.

State Capitol, Lansing—One month of the 1941 legislative session has faded. The time is again at hand when followers of democracy droop in pessimism and pronounce with sadness that the two-chamber system of reflecting the people's will is hopelessly inefficient and utterly unproductive.

True, little has been outwardly accomplished.

A host of bills have been introduced, few of them possessing major interest to the state.

While perennial talk has been heard that law makers would get down to business and make this a short session, old-timers merely smile at such rashness and predict that the fates of May or June will roll around before adjournment is possible.

The first month, like all others in recent years, has afforded the preliminary bout to the main fight. Governor Murray D. Van Wagener and the Republican legislature have engaged in some nimble sparring to test each other's powers.

Courtin' the Farm Vote

For years prior to the New Deal, the Republican party held title to the farm vote. Democrats fared best in metropolitan areas.

The Roosevelt landslide of 1936 brought Frank Murphy and a Democratic legislature to Lansing, but the 1937 legislative session did little to cultivate the agrarian. Problems of labor dominated the scene. The 1939 legislature, led by a Republican administration, reflected interests of numerous members who came from rural and small town areas, and the pendulum swung back towards home rule in letting local government take the initiative in solving its own problems. Many farm laws were enacted.

Governor Van Wagener, undaunted by the traditional hold which the Republicans have retained on the up-state farm vote, is contesting that control by insistence that the 1941 legislature, even though it be under G. O. P. leadership, take the state department of agriculture out of politics by creating a non-partisan commission.

Here is an issue, the governor believes, that merits farm support. It is just good business to provide for a continuity of effort and to stop the needless turnover of department heads every time a fickle bloc of independent voters in Michigan swings over to the other side and elects a new governor. Such has happened five times in the past ten years with clock-like regularity.

"Playing Politics"

The new civil service amendment, telling thousands of state employees with protective rights, was an almost cataclysmic blow to politicians. Patronage pay has sweetened many a campaign follower. It has also plagued state officials to the point where they were devoting most of their time to appeasing job-seekers and organization sponsors.

The civil service barrier to patronage was bad enough in the politician's mind, but then to go out deliberately and take away a tree full of choice sweet plums was something that called for a party caucus. The non-partisan commission for the department of agriculture has provoked a storm of discussion to the point that tempers are already ragged and hot words are being aired.

Here is the situation: A bill to create a non-partisan commission for the agriculture department was introduced by Rep. Walsh, Democratic floor leader in the House, as an administration measure.

Republicans countered promptly by pushing a bill introduced by Rep. Maurice E. Post to reorganize the state department by investing the state board of agriculture, governing body of Michigan State College, with power to appoint the state commissioner of agriculture. Furthermore, Republicans are inclined to a conviction that if non-partisan control is good for the agricultural department, why is it not good for the highway department, too?

(Administration answer: Has Michigan suffered from the elective system of highway commissioner? Since 1913 the state has had only three commissioners—Frank F. Rogers, 1913-1920; Grover C. Dillman, 1920-1933; and Murray D. Van Wagener, 1933-1941. G. Donald Kennedy is filling the latter's unexpired term.)

When Governor Van Wagener issued a public statement calling on farm groups to support his stand, Republican legislators flung the retort "playing politics" and declared that the governor was trying to crawl out of a bad political hole.

So the feud has been raging.

Legislative Miscellany

The 30-day notice of strike, which the state mediation board requires where national defense contracts are involved, may receive support of the governor's office. The growing gravity of the British situation and the resultant need for speed in American defense are given as reasons. State aid for advertising Michigan's tourist industry would be doubled from $100,000 to $200,000 a year by the Bishop bill which was passed by the Senate with only two negative votes.

A bill to empower the state land office board to construct state-owned homes for welfare clients in metropolitan areas will be introduced soon at the request of Auditor General Vernon J. Brown. This experiment in low-cost state housing was advocated recently by Mr. Brown. Radical as it sounds, the plan follows the successful experience of socialistic Sweden and Norway and it illustrates how far our thinking has gone in the past decade.

The University of Michigan is receiving $446,000 less per year in state funds than in 1933 when there were 3,804 fewer students. Additional money is imperatively needed, according to President A. G. Ruthven.

SAVAGE SCHOOL NOTES

The following were neither absent nor tardy: Paul and Oscar Bollinger, and George Young. This list is small because we have had an unwelcome visitor, old man "Au". But we are gradually coming back with more determination than ever to finish the last half of our year.

Due to illness in the homes, the Savage School Club met at the school house for their January meeting. Because we have no eighth grade, the mothers and other members of the club will assist in writing and organizing a history of the school district. The club has bought a set of Blockraft and Zookraft for the Primary department. They have also put rubber tips on the kindergarten chairs. Mrs. Franklin has brought us a Victrola to use in our music appreciation work, along with our Friday music hour from the M. S. C.

The third and fourth grade have constructed an Eskimo sandtable as a result of their January seatwork project.

Several people will have a reading certificate earned when Mrs. Robinson makes her second visit. Allen Geer Co. No. 3, 243; Prin. Cassidy Lake, 237.

Hunters Lag In Filing Report of Game Kill

Lansing—With February 15 the deadline for return of compulsory game kill reports by Michigan resident and non-resident hunters, considerably less cards have been mailed to the conservation department than had been received in late January last year.

Falling off in these returns which reflect hunter success or lack of it may be explained, in part, by possible declines in sales of deer and small game licenses last fall. Delay of license dealers in reporting such sales has held up final tabulations but conservation department auditors will not be surprised if it is shown that increased employment has kept some hunters out of the fields and woods in recent months. As of January 20, this year, 40,345 small game and 32,823 deer hunters had complied with the law which requires the return of report cards attached to hunting licenses. On the same date last year 46,886 small game and 43,842 deer hunters had reported.

The law provides fines and jail penalties, either or both, may be imposed upon conviction of failure to return the report cards. The department, however, has not sought convictions under the law.

Instead, conservation officers in Michigan's 83 counties last year were supplied with lists of hunters who had failed to return their cards. Each officer was supplied a list of 100 names. Reporting reasons given by hunters for such failures, officers listed forgetfulness, claims that cards had been mailed, or had been lost, and unawareness of the law as the more important excuses.

What action may be taken by the department to speed return of cards in future weeks is not determined yet.

HOMEMAKERS' CLASS

BEWARE OF CHECK FORGER

Michigan State Police issue a warning to merchants that a check forger has been operating in various localities in Michigan recently. He is described as being 55 to 58 years old, 5 ft. 5 to 8 inches tall, weight, about 185 pounds, smooth talker and fairly well dressed, passes as a state employee and passes small checks in amounts from $9.50 to $12.00 which are supposedly for expense accounts on State Highway Department, Auditor General and State Conservation Departments. He is also known to have passed township and county checks. He generally purchases a small item and obtains the balance of the check in cash. Recently he has cashed checks in garages, using the following names: Chester Parker Sr., Peter T. Bogan, James H. Carter, George W. Clark, Charles H. Carlisle, The name of the city, the bank, the title of the person signing the check, the name of the Department, etc. is inserted with a typewriter. He also uses a check protector. If this man appears here it is requested that local police be notified.

OSBORNE HEARING TODAY

When arraigned Thursday afternoon before Justice Harry W. Reading on a first-degree murder charge for the fatal stabbing of his brother, Price Osborne, Beecher Osborne of Chelsea demanded an examination in order to obtain time to talk to his relatives. He had pleaded self-defense, but Prosecutor Meader said the state would charge that he stabbed his older brother from behind. He was ordered held in jail without bond for a hearing February 6.

Funeral services for Price Osborne were held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Staffan funeral home, with Rev. F. D. Mumby officiating. Burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

MRS. ELIZABETH YEARENCE

Mrs. Elizabeth Yearence, 82 years old, died Wednesday night at the home of her brother, George Savery, in Lima township.

She was born in 1858 in New York state and in 1884 was married to Albert Yearence of Lima township, who died in 1920. She had been a resident of Dexter for 35 years.

She is survived by the brother, George Savery of Lima township, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Rohde of Detroit. Funeral services were held at 2:30 Saturday afternoon at the Gorman funeral home, Dexter, with Rev. William Hainsworth officiating. Burial was in Forest Lawn cemetery.

KIWANIS NEWS

On Monday evening Arthur E. Crippen of Ann Arbor, Lieutenant Governor of Michigan, Division Six, spoke to the Kiwanis club on the subject: "Good Citizenship." The speaker aptly stated that the term "a good citizen" denotes both honest, upright, individual conduct as well as cooperative efforts by the citizen with the group in fostering worthwhile projects for the community. Mr. Crippen concluded his talk by suggesting that good citizenship is at the very foundation of successful living and urged the Kiwanians to strive for that objective in their social activities and everyday affairs.

At this meeting two young men of Chelsea presented a plan to have a community house for the young people of this town. Their plan is to rent a building in Chelsea, equip it adequately, and supervise it properly in order to furnish recreational facilities for the young people and the townspeople of Chelsea generally. This "Chelsea Community House" will have ping-pong, billiard, and pool tables in addition to magazines, papers and games in the rooms downstairs, while the large rooms on the second floor will be used as a gymnasium, lecture hall, and as a place where the young people may dance on Friday or Saturday nights. The Boy Scouts will have one of these rooms on the second floor for their meetings and it will be a place where they may store their equipment. This organization is to be non-profit and for the people of Chelsea and all money which is provided will be used exclusively to equip and maintain the community house. The sponsors plan to sell memberships for a reasonable sum to the young men of the various Chelsea plants, the merchants, and townspeople in order to finance and maintain this community project. Watch for further details.

The young men have scheduled a George Washington Birthday Ball in order to assist in raising funds for the Chelsea Community House. This dance will be held at the Chelsea high school gymnasium on February 22, with dancing to be held from the hours of 8:30 to 12 o'clock. The committee has appointed John Lamb and C. Stanley Evans to be the co-chairmen of this affair. These men have secured an excellent Ann Arbor orchestra to furnish the music for this occasion, and they plan to have good music and novelties which will satisfy all those persons who attend. The band will combine waltzes with modern music and various novelty illustrations in order to furnish maximum entertainment for the whole evening. This dance will be supervised and will furnish one of the means of uniting the community to cooperate in assisting this very worthwhile endeavor. The Kiwanis club unanimously endorsed this community project as being sound and desirable for the young people of this community.

The Kiwanians concluded their meeting by commending these young men on their initiative and hoped that they might aid in some way to further more and more social activities for Chelsea.

Three Big Questions For 4-H's To Answer

Three things every farm family would like to know are (1) Will the farm make money this year? (2) How can our cost of living be wisely reduced? and (3) What are our best paying crops?

Any family with a boy or girl who can do simple arithmetic can have answers to those very important questions. Thousands of families have had them last year after year, and will again in 1941.

Handy books with easy-to-follow blank forms for keeping just such information may be had of county extension agents or club agents. Get them at once and enter the few necessary figures before the last date for the starting, which is March 1.

Records may be kept on one of three phases: (1) farm; (2) home; or (3) crop enterprise, but all should be done as a 4-H activity. The figures may be retained at the close of the designated period, which is 12 months for farm and home accounts, and the production period for a crop. A set also may be submitted in confidence for hand-some awards offered through the Extension Service by the International Harvester Company, and the records recovered after being judged, and analyzed to suggest ways of improving the farm income.

Awards consist of gold medals in all qualifying counties, 12 college scholarships of $200 each, and 32 trips to the 1942 National 4-H Club Congress to be given best accounts in participating states. All winners are to be announced at the close of the accounting keeping period in the spring of 1942.

ANN ARBOR BUILDERS SHOW
The Masonic Temple, Ann Arbor, will again be the scene of a Builders and Merchants Exhibit on February 7, 8 and 9, from 2 to 10 p. m. This will be known as the Second Annual Builders and Merchants Exhibit and will again be sponsored by the Ann Arbor Junior Chamber of Commerce as a project for civic progress and education. This show was enthusiastically received last year, several thousand attending.

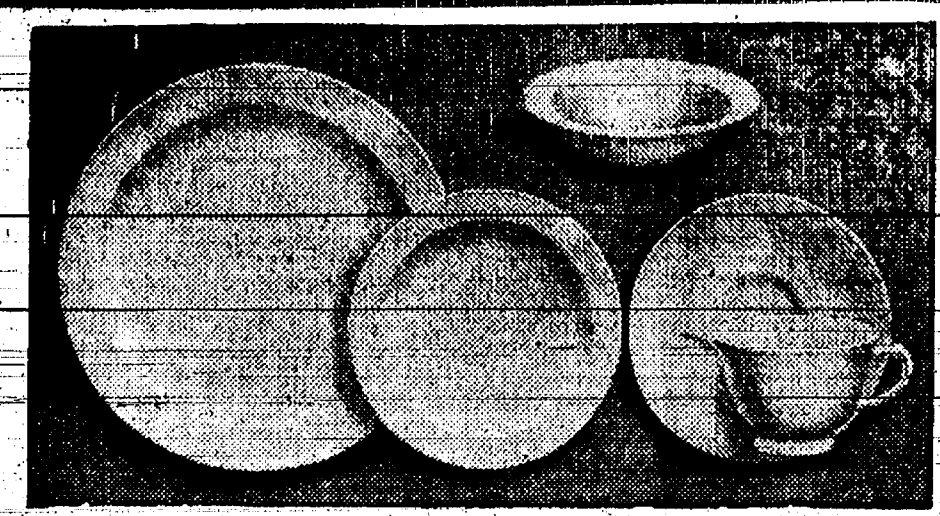

The F. H. A. will have their representative at the show to answer all questions pertaining to this agency and its work. The Ann Arbor Society of Architects in conjunction with the University School of Architecture will also have a display of model homes.

Chelsea Loses Close One

By Dwight Gadd
Looking not at all like the team which defeated Lincoln last week, Chelsea was beaten by a strong Viking team from Dundee by the score of 34 to 31 last Friday night. The team couldn't seem to get them through the hoop in the first half. The Dundee team was a big team and had a good scoring punch when they got within range. Chelsea was close all the way but couldn't seem to close the distance between the remaining couple of points.

Euther Kusterer and Stanley Policht shared the high scoring honors with 10 points each, while J. Halle paced the Viking attack with 11 points.

The second team keeps improving all the time. They suffered only a 26 to 18 defeat at the hands of the Dundee second team and began to show some form. Richard Foor led the hometowners with 11 points.

Manchester Wins

The Flying Dutchmen from Manchester took the floor Tuesday night to even things up with Chelsea—and they did. The final score was 24 to 22 in favor of Manchester. It was as thrilling a game as the game at Manchester, with the visitors coming from behind to win. The game was a clean game, considering the speed, and now both teams are hoping to meet in the tournaments.

Stanley Policht paced the Chelsea attack with 9 points while Clark led the Dutchmen with 14 points.

The second team, showing much improvement in their playing, were defeated 26 to 17 in a good game.

The crowd showed a fine type of sportsmanship during the game.

REV. FRANKLIN A. STILES

Rev. Franklin A. Stiles, 70 years old, formerly of Chelsea, who died at his home in Middletown, Ohio on Thursday, January 23, retired from the ministry on May 28, 1939. He had been pastor of the First Baptist church of Middletown for 18 years.

He was entitled to the degree of Doctor, but he would have "no fancy handles". He was an advocate of religious, civic, welfare, literary and educational enterprises, he assumed many responsibilities in those fields and was one of the outstanding contributors to their developments.

A week before his death, Mr. Stiles was re-elected to the board of trustees of the Public Library. He had been superintendent of Garfield Mission for 20 years and had built it up from an insignificant movement to one of the most vital religious and welfare agencies in Middletown. Despite his inborn idealism, Rev. Stiles was practical in the theory of making religion workable to all, regardless of denominational differences.

Mr. Stiles was a poet by nature, his "Helps to Happiness", a collection of original poems, was one of his most interesting of the several volumes he had written.

He is survived by his wife, the former Leora Laird of this place, an adopted son, Harvey Kurth of Middletown, Ohio, two grandchildren, two sisters, Mrs. Frank Welch of Wyandotte, Mich., Mrs. A. E. Day of Norwalk, Ohio, and a brother, A. P. Stiles of Wyandotte.

BIRTHDAY DINNER

BOY SCOUT NEWS

At the regular meeting of the Scouts on Monday night much time was spent preparing for the basketball games that are to be played Saturday night, Feb. 8 at the school gym.

These games between the Merkel Bros. Hardware vs. King-Seelye, and Merkel Bros. Hardware vs. Ford All Stars are to be played for the benefit of Chelsea Boy Scouts. The Boy Scouts have charge of selling tickets, keeping score and keeping time.

All proceeds will go into the Chelsea Boy Scout Troop fund.

This is another wonderful example of the splendid cooperation of the youth of Chelsea.

706 TELEPHONES HERE

At the first of January, 1941, there were 706 company-owned telephones in service in the Chelsea exchange, representing no gain or loss during December, according to J. E. Johnson, manager in this area for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company.

The company as a whole operated 820,062 company-owned telephones as of January 1, or a gain of 9,577 during December, compared with 8,048 during November. Gain for the entire year of 1940 was 77,007, compared with 61,604 for the year 1939.

Sheep Make More Wool When In Good Health

Michigan sheep grow more wool when they are in good health.

Proof of this has been obtained in a study of wool clipped from 34 ewes. Although they had aged a year, the 1940 crop of wool weighed by a farmer showed a total of 39 pounds more than the wool 1 got in 1939 from the same ewes.

The secret was entirely in the health and in the feeding and care of the ewes, reports C. L. Cole, professor of animal husbandry at Michigan State College.

In 1939 these ewes were in poor condition. They had stomach worms from running on permanent pasture with poor nutrition. They averaged six pounds of wool that spring. So the flockmaster began drenching them every 30 days in summer, and three times in the winter. They went out on improved pastures that summer and in winter were fed high quality legume hay and corn silage.

Only two ewes failed to increase in wool clipped from the 34 animals. Normally, a year older, the average should have decreased. Another contrast in the two wool crops affected dollar returns. In the 1939 wool there was a high percentage of clothing wool or short staple worth less money. This was 17.6 per cent. In 1940 this percentage dropped to 5.9.

So the flockmaster not only got more wool but a better quality, Cole reports, for the better feed and better care given his flock of 34 ewes.

M. S. C. Offers Course To Aid Rural Ministry

Michigan State College offers a practical aid to the state's rural ministry in approving and scheduling a four-year course agricultural background for theological students.

The course leads to a degree of Bachelor of Science in Agriculture and includes certain minimum requirements for strictly agricultural studies. Extra emphasis is to be placed on the social sciences in preparation for the rural and small-town ministry.

E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture, in announcing approval by the college of the new course, reports there are no new courses involved in any of the college divisions and that no new instructors are required. Students selecting the theology major begin their optional training in their sophomore year.

Action of Michigan State College is similar to that being taken in several other leading agricultural colleges in the United States: "E. B. Hill of the farm management department has laid out the course schedule and has participated in conferences with representatives of other schools.

In addition to the agricultural background the pre-theological major would study rural sociology, philosophy, psychology, history and political science, English, speech, agricultural economics and farm management.

Another conference including educators at agricultural colleges and representatives of theological seminaries is scheduled at Urbana, Ill., March 30. Professor Hill will attend and present his version of some of the problems involved in rural ministry training. Seminars contend the college preparation should be followed by three years of training in a seminary.

In Memoriam

Our school has lost a very dear friend. A friend who was vitally interested in the progress and welfare of the school and who unhesitatingly gave of his time and effort to help the school. Mr. Schneider was a living example of honesty, industriousness and sacrificial help for pupils to follow; a man who uncompromisingly gave his best for his family and community. Perhaps no one could list all of the things Mr. Schneider did for the school, church, and community, but we feel sure that this community is a better place in which to live for his having lived in it. He will be greatly missed, but we should all gain strength and inspiration by thinking of the principles he stood for and carried out in his life. Our school humbly pays tribute to its late leader. May his spirit live on.

Office News

(Mr. Johnson's Office)

The new lunch program which was started a few weeks ago, is progressing very nicely. The girls are eating a variety of foods. Part of the food is brought by the school and the rest is received from the surplus food commodities. This food is prepared by Lorraine Weatherwax and Mary Sullivan. During the last week about 75 people have been served each day. The cost is ten cents for the main dish, milk, and a dessert.

Mr. Clark of the State Board of Control for Vocational Education visited the Agricultural Department of our school on Tuesday, Feb. 4.

Three of our students are applying for the University of Michigan scholarship offered by the University of Michigan Club. They are: Grace Riemenschneider, Helen Miller, and William Rademacher.

The evening schools are still being held each Thursday evening in Home Economics and Agriculture. These classes start at 8:00. Mr. Bust is in charge of the Agriculture Department and the Home Economics Department is under the direction of Miss Muzzall.

(Mr. Downing's Office)

We wish to express our appreciation to Mr. Hanson for the help which he gave us for use at the basketball games. It makes the games a lot easier. Dwight Gadd assembled it and he also receives our gratitude.

The Hi-Y boys enjoyed a swim at the Michigan Union last Monday evening, Feb. 3.

This week Mr. Downing is staying at the school during the noon hour. Next week Mr. Chandler will be on duty.

This week marks the beginning of a new semester. Those students who have been taking Advanced Algebra will change to Solid Geometry. Those who have been taking American Government will change to Economics and those who have been taking Economics will change to American Government.

The office girl, Ruth Riemenschneider, has left. Mary Jane Bahmiller of the Class of 1940 is taking her place.

Assembly

Sam Grathwell will speak before the students of the school on February 11 at 8:30 a. m. His talk is entitled "The Story of the 'G' Man."

Mr. Grathwell was born in Cincinnati, Ohio, tenement. His father died when he was seven and he was raised in an orphanage. He left school when he was in the fifth grade but re-entered the sixth grade night school when he was nineteen. He worked his way through Berea College, attended Pacific University, and graduated from Leland Stanford University with highest honors when he was thirty. He is listed in the 1940 edition of "Who's Who in America."

Mr. Grathwell is a living example of what thinking, honest effort, and decent living can accomplish.

This program is made possible through the cooperation and approval of J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation. It is brought to us through the facilities of the National Program Service. The public may attend.

Student Council

At their last meeting the Student Council discussed various ways of improving the noon lunch system. It was finally decided to post the menus for a week in advance, on the various bulletin boards throughout the school. This will eliminate those who go down and then grumble because they didn't like something which was on the menu.

They also arranged who would be in charge of the rest of the pep meetings. The first, January 31, for the Dundee game, the Seniors had charge. George Knickerbocker was master of ceremony. First there was a short pep talk by Mr. Cameron, followed by a couple of cheers and it was closed with school song sung by all and played by Margaret Harper.

Band News

On January 28 the band held the concert for which they have been planning for some time.

The affair was very successful and money to help finish paying for the new uniforms was raised.

A prize was offered to the band students for selling the most tickets, and was won by the youngest member of the organization, Paul "Junior" Nicholas, who sold almost 50 tickets.

On Wednesday of that same week (January 29) the Band Parents' Association also met and discussed new ways to raise the remaining money needed.

The music for the annual Huron League Band Festival is beginning to arrive and the band is now beginning to practice these pieces.

I Want To Be a Lawn

The lawns are soft once more and once more we ask all young people to please stay off the lawn! Whenever the snow starts to melt we know that the ground is becoming soft again. The small tender roots of the grass once more seek to find a way to expand. When you tramp across the grass you deprive your school of a great deal of its beauty.

They say you can always judge a lady by her hands. I think the same is true about schools. You can always tell how thoughtful and considerate the students are by the outward appearance of the building.

So let us give our school greater beauty with a nice lawn.

Senior News

Saturday the Class of '41 held their first bake sale, and thanks to the cooperation of the townspeople everything was sold. The Seniors hope to hold another bake sale in the near future.

The Seniors who took Economics the first semester are now taking Government, and those who have taken Government are taking Economics from Miss Leffer.

George Knickerbocker had charge of the pep meeting Friday, and because of examinations it was cut short.

Pep Meeting

A pep meeting was held on Friday, Jan. 31 at 8:30 a. m. with the Seniors in charge. The program consisted of a short talk by Mr. Cameron and three cheers under the leadership of the cheer leaders. The singing of the school song, with Margaret Harper as accompanist, concluded the program. The meeting was short because of final examinations. George Knickerbocker did a fine job as master of ceremonies.

Class News

The Freshman class had an ice skating party at Cassidy lake on February 3. The party was chaperoned by Mr. Johnson and Mr. Bust, who is their class adviser.

Warns of Fifth Column!

At what point shall we expect the approach of danger? By what means shall we fortify against it? Shall we expect some transatlantic military giant to step across the ocean and crush us at a blow? Never. All the armies of Europe, Asia and Africa combined, with all the treasure of the earth (our own excepted) in their military chest, with a Bonaparte for a commander, could not, by force, take a drink from the Ohio, or make a track on the Blue Ridge, in a trial of a thousand years.

At what point, then, is the approach of danger to be expected? I answer, if it ever reaches us, it must spring up among us. It cannot come from abroad.

If destruction be our lot, we must ourselves be its author and finisher.

As a nation of freemen, we must live through all time, or die by suicide.

The above is an extract from a speech by Abraham Lincoln, which remained in practical obscurity for over 100 years, and which has taken on new significance today. It was made when Lincoln was but 28 years old.

As though he could project himself into a new century and into new world conditions, Lincoln spoke with something of prophetic vision against what today might be termed "Fifth Column" and other dangers from within to American liberty.

Always a mystic, Lincoln comes to us over the vast expanse of years again as a man who "belongs to the ages."

There is no record of the exact reason for Lincoln's choice of subject on that now memorable day. At the time he was a comparative unknown. He had served in the Legislature from New Salem but without any particular distinction. He had run a little store in New Salem, which he gave up because of a debt that accumulated against it for one reason or another that kept him painfully at the task of repaying it for the next 15 years. He had been admitted to the practice of law but a few months before, but when he made the speech to the Young People's Lyceum of Springfield, Illinois, January 27, 1837, he spoke in the quality of a statesman.

ed in experience and speed, failed to score in the first half. In the second half the local girls outscored their opponents by a count of one, leaving the final score at 31-10.

Chorus News

The mixed chorus is busy making plans for a concert to be given sometime in March.

The Triple Trio has received new music for the concert and they are even now working hard on the pieces to help make the concert a success.

March seems to be a busy month for during it the chorus will sing for a combined meeting of the women's groups of the Methodist church.

We finished our semester tests last Friday. Most of us are satisfied with our marks.

We got our new history books Monday, but we will not get our new literature books until the end of the six weeks marking period. The boys in the science class are also getting new books.

The girls in the Home Ec. class took their brush and comb to class last Thursday and brushed their hair properly. We also had a quiz Friday over personal care.

Kansas Weather

A recent national health survey discloses that Kansas is just about the most healthful state in the Union. It is one of the first three in the longevity of women and among the first six in longevity of men. The survey discloses that Kansas has fewer communicable diseases, such as tuberculosis, than most any other state. And the reason ascribed, according to experts, is the Kansas weather. Midsummer sun provides health-giving ultra-violet rays, say the experts, and there is milder summer sun in Kansas as in few places elsewhere.
