President Mayer Makes Annual Appointments

Appointments for the year were made by President A. D. Mayer at the regular meeting of the council on Monday evening, as follows:
President Pro-Tem—S. W. Schenk.
Street Committee—Harold Spaulding, John O'Hara, D. A. Riker.
Sidewalk Committee—D. A. Riker, John O'Hara, David Beach.
Finance Committee—David Beach, Dale Claire, S. W. Schenk.
Fire Chief—Howard F. Brooks.
Health Officer—Dr. M. L. Sibbald.
Village Attorney—Jas. C. Hendley.
Light and Water Committee—A. D. Mayer, S. W. Schenk, Dale Claire.
The appointment of a marshal or marshals was deferred until a later date.

Other action taken by the council included the awarding of a contract for garbage collection for one year to Wm. Schwartzmiller, and the one-sided parking zone on South Main street was extended to include the space between Van Buren and Lincoln streets. This ruling has included only the space between Summit and Van Buren.

A major operation on the village storm sewer system has been ordered by the State Health Department, as the sewer in the northwest part of the village is too near the wells from which the village gets its water supply. About 800 feet of new 18-inch sewer will be necessary to meet the requirement of the health department. A special meeting of the council will be held within the next few days to discuss and make definite plans for street improvements, which will involve some new surfacing. Many streets are in extremely bad shape and 17 tons of asphalt patching mix has already been purchased by the village to be used on street repair work.

The latest improvement in the village was the painting of the flag pole, which was done on Tuesday by Jack Bard and a helper from Jackson.

Grading Starts for New Road South of Chelsea

Work of grading and providing the drainage structures on the new road which will give Chelsea a more direct connection with new US-12 has been started by the Cheney-Wright Co. of Williamston. It is expected the work will be completed by July 1.

The new road continues from the end of South Main street, across the Pierce farm diagonally to connect with the Manchester Road near the Pietermeier farm. Because of the work which is being done at the intersection with the Manchester Road, that highway has been closed to through traffic.

According to information from the State Highway Department when the contract was awarded in December, it is planned to surface the new road-bed with gravel, and after that is properly packed a five-inch compacted plant mix will be applied for the permanent surfacing.

HONORED ON ANNIVERSARY
Friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rowe on Thursday evening to help them celebrate their 21st wedding anniversary and also Mr. Rowe's birthday. They were both presented with lovely gifts.

The highlight of the evening was a surprise party honoring Mr. and Mrs. Duane Rowe, whose marriage was an event of the past week.

Cards furnished amusement for the evening, after which a lovely luncheon was served.

WOMEN'S GUILD ENTERTAINS
Members of the Women's Guild of St. Paul's church entertained their husbands at a pot-luck supper on Thursday evening, the tables being decorated with red, white and blue candles. After the supper a business meeting was held. A Battle of Sexes furnished amusement for the evening, the men being the winners. The hostesses were Mesdames W. M. Hinderer, M. Weismann, E. Fitzmaier and C. Messner.

BIRTHDAY CELEBRATED

Nine Teams Enter For Competition In Local Ball League

By Rolly Spaulding
Due to the great increase of softball interest in and around Chelsea we have had so many teams petition to enter the local league that the previously set limit of six teams has been changed to nine. All in all there were twelve teams who wished to take part in the league but as our league must be adapted to local facilities, the following nine teams will make up the 1941 Softball League: Spaulding Chevrolet, Federal Screw, Hankard's Hi-Speed, Chelsea Spring, Central Fibre, North Lake, Cassidy Lake, CCC Camp, and a team as yet unnamed to consist of Kiwanis and Chelsea Community association members.

Starting Monday, May 5, there will be games scheduled for every Monday, Tuesday and Thursday night, with two games being played on each Tuesday, and any postponed games being played on the Friday night of the week in which they are scheduled. Playoffs between the top four teams at the end of the season will be played the last week of August.

With the starting of our season but two short weeks away things are shaping up fast. Negotiations for two paid umpires are in progress. Chelsea Spring has been placed in charge of laying out and conditioning the two softball diamonds. Al Johnson and Rolly Spaulding are drawing up the schedule, and teams or parts thereof are practicing almost every night.

If you town folks show but a small percentage of the enthusiasm of any one of these teams a petition for more bleachers for our local athletic field is in order. Any organization entering a team in this league is assuming quite an expense, both financially and in time and effort required to make this league a success—and while in some cases it helps to form a more friendly bond between employers and employees, the real reason for the formation of the league is so much more important. We want you to feel that this league was formed for the recreational interest and benefit of the community.

Every effort will be made on our part to provide you with a league of quality and sportsmanship that you will be proud of. I hope the efforts of these organizations do not go unappreciated by you.

HINT—One way of showing your appreciation is by attending these games. Set yourself a quota of at least one night each week. I promise you that you won't drop off to sleep watching any game you attend!

HOWE-HOOVER WEDDING
Miss Bernice A. Howe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Howe, became the bride of Albert J. Hoover, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hoover of South Bend, Ind., at a ceremony performed at 10:30 Saturday morning at St. Mary's rectory, with Rev. Lawrence Dorr officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Paul A. Eisele were the attendants, the latter a sister of the bride.

A beige dress, brown plaid coat and brown hat were worn by the bride, while Mrs. Eisele was gowned in navy blue. Both wore corsages of rosebuds and sweet peas.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the Regent Cafe, Jackson, after which the couple left for South Bend, where they will make their home.

SEVERE ELECTRICAL STORM
During the severe electrical storm on Saturday morning between three and four o'clock several trees in the village were struck by lightning and the residence of William Birch on McKinley street was struck and three windows were broken. ## Community Association Sponsors Spring Dance

Chelsea Community Association announces that its Spring Dance will be held this Saturday, April 26, at the Chelsea high school gym between the hours of 8:30 and 12. G. Stanley Evans and John J. Lamb are co-chairmen of this dance, and they have secured the fine college band of Gordon Hardy and his Orchestra from Ann Arbor to play the music for the affair. This orchestra has been currently featured at the Michigan Union and the Michigan League, as well as at the various fraternity and sorority parties in Ann Arbor. The committee has arranged a diversified program and excellent decorations in order to guarantee the patrons of the dance maximum enjoyment for the entire evening.

The association has scheduled this series of benefit dances to stimulate interest in dancing here, as well as to raise funds for the maintenance and equipping of the Chelsea Community House which will be open to the public in the very near future. Tickets for both dancing and balcony space may be obtained from the committee or at the door.

For several years he worked at his trade in New York City, and shortly before his twenty-first birthday he came to Manchester, and began his newspaper career here with equipment bought by a $1,000 subscription. And for more than 72 years he edited and published the Enterprise, having sold the paper in December of 1899. He is believed to have been the only person to have owned, edited and published a newspaper continuously for so many years without interruption.—Enterprise.

Poll of Opinion Favors General 4-H Program

A poll of opinion among the nation's 1,500,000 leaders and members would clearly favor, authorities assert, the projects and activities for girls which best prepare them for home and community life. It is reflected in the acceptance by this state and 39 others of the national girls' record contest.

In the 19 years it has been conducted by the extension service its influence has been felt by some 4,000,000 girls enrolled in that time. It has also honored great numbers with awards of merit and thousands of dollars in scholarships.

What girls may achieve in an all-around program is shown by the records of 1940 state winners in Massachusetts, Minnesota, Mississippi, Montana, Oklahoma and Oregon. During the years of their enrollment they collectively earned 16,346 points and 5,954 pounds of food, sewed 494 garments, prepared 1,226 meals and 5,448 dishes, and made 5,711 bakings. They also made 197 home articles, planted 483 trees and plants and handled 832 fowls. Other activities were of dress revues, art exhibits, demonstrations and 127 judging contests. A value of $10,048, inclusive of over $1000 in cash awards, was assigned the work.

This year's awards comprise special medals for county winners, also trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago for state winners, and six $200 college scholarships.

Fly Fishermen Will Get Better Than Even Break

Lansing—Fly fishermen may expect better than an even break when within a few days they wade Michigan trout streams again for the first time since Labor Day. According to reports received from conservation officers, spring runoff has been early and gradual over most of the north country, and streams will have time to clear up and return to normal levels by opening day.

Heavy rains before April 26 may roll the waters and raise levels, but it is believed fishermen will be forced to use bait instead of flies on a lower stream than in recent seasons. For best stream conditions, anglers are expected to try first the more southerly streams.

Reports of the conservation department's geology division indicate that ground water levels are higher than usual this year. O. F. Poindexter said. Definite correlation between ground water levels and levels of rivers and lakes has not yet been established, however. Houghton lake is six inches higher and Higgins lake is four inches higher than last year, while St. Helen lake near Roscommon and Lake Margrethe near Grayling are slightly lower.

Kalkaska is greeting the season opening with a festival. Anglers setting out for trout on the opening day will need new 1941 fishing licenses, and are advised to be extremely careful with fire in the hazardous period before dry vegetation becomes green again.

The 17-year locust gets its name because it lives underground for that many years.

Wasted Gold

Gold has been found in the civic center, in Great Falls, Mont., but as far as the people of that town are concerned it will stay there, as no practical means have been found to recover it. The gold, worth about $760, is in the gravel and sand used in the erection of the building.

In order to assure the unvarying high quality and purity of Pfeiffer's Beer—to guard that mellow flavor brewed from choicest barley and the blossom of the hop—Pfeiffer Brewing Company now registers each bottle of this mellow Michigan brew. # No Clothespin on this Car's Nose!

WOULDN'T a sprinter or a long-distance runner look silly trying to race with a clothespin firmly clamped on his nose!

Yet, in a sense, something fairly close to that happens in nearly every car that lacks Buick's sensational Compound Carburetion.†

For your engine has to breathe in huge quantities of air to be mixed with gasoline before it is burned in the cylinders.

But single-carburetor fuel supply systems can handle only a given volume of air.

To that extent, then, an ordinary engine has a clothespin on its nose—a limitation on air supply for big power operation.

We remove that clothespin very simply—by having two carburetors; one that handles all casual driving smoothly and efficiently, another to jump in with more air and more fuel when you call for extra power by stepping on the gas treadle!

Simple? Very simple indeed.

And simply marvelous in the extra FIREBALL wallop it gives you and in the gas savings you get—15% to 10% over previous Buicks with the same-size engines.

Maybe you'd better go see your Buick dealer now.

WHEN BETTER AUTOMOBILES ARE BUILT BUICK WILL BUILD THEM

1,000,000,000
IS A LOT OF EGGS

Fresh eggs for a million breakfast tables are rushed daily from Michigan hen-houses—collected, graded, boxed and delivered to grocery stores in every part of the state.

CHICKENS are kept on more than 8 out of every 10 farms in Michigan. Flocks range from a few hens up to many thousands. Producing about a billion eggs a year—20 dozen eggs for each man, woman and child in the state—and supplying broilers, fryers and roasters as well, the poultry industry contributes $26,000,000 yearly to Michigan's farm income.

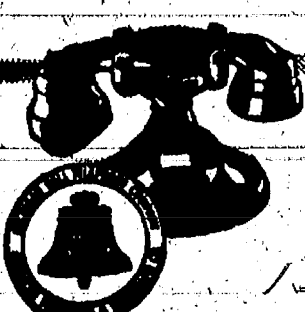

To the farmer's wife, who very frequently cares for the flock, the telephone is a constant aid. She uses it to buy feed, to get the best prices for her eggs and chickens, or to order baby chicks from the hatchery. But even more important is the service the telephone renders in directing the flow of eggs and poultry from country to city, and helping maintain adequate supplies in every market throughout the state.

Each spring millions of baby chicks are shipped from Michigan hatcheries, by rail, truck, plane. The telephone helps guard them by directing routes and warning of bad weather.

Athletic Fields Are Proposed At Custer

Fort Custer—An elaborate series of athletic fields and tennis courts has been laid out by the Constructing Quartermaster's office as part of the huge Fort Custer landscape development plan which was forwarded to Washington for approval this week.

This plan, if approved, will insure every soldier on the post ample facilities for outdoor recreation this summer and should bring organized sports to a high peak.

Anticipating the creation of these outdoor sports fields, Post and 5th Division officers have sent in an order for nearly $7,000 worth of athletic equipment. The funds were provided by the American Red Cross. This order includes baseball and softball equipment, volleyball and soccer equipment, boxing equipment, footballs, badminton and table tennis equipment. The equipment is expected to be available for distribution by May 1.

The landscaping plan provides for 31 tennis courts, 4 baseball or softball diamonds, and five large athletic fields. Also proposed is an additional bathhouse at the Eagle Lake bathing beach.

Most elaborate of the five athletic fields is the big amphitheater planned for the area on Dickman Road, the main road through the post. Extensive automobile parking facilities are planned for this amphitheater.

Cold Showers for Colds

If you suffer from colds, take a cold shower morning and night, advises Dr. Lloyd Arnold, University of Illinois bacteriologist. He says that is the best thing in the world for those who persistently suffer from colds.

His five year experimentation, he declares, has established a relationship between colds and the temperature of the mucous membranes of the nose. The showers were found helpful in maintaining normal nose temperatures, he added.

An All-Hi party will be held to-night (April 24) in the gymnasium at 8:00. The Student Council has voted that no guests be invited to this party. The party will be from eight to eleven o'clock.

Junior Play

"Romance Comes To Willie Parker," the Junior play this year, is written by that popular writer of young people's plays, Tom Taggart. The plot was born from two magazine articles, one about a farm boy in "Life" and another the story of the "aero-generator" in the "Readers' Digest."

The story centers around the Giddings family, the head of which is Father Giddings (Wesley McAtee), who is the "terribly tempered Mr. Bangs type" (and I don't mean me), and his sweet, gentle, and hard-working wife, Mrs. Giddings (Jane Schlosser). Their second eldest daughter, Marian (Jeanne Meservey), can't quite make up her mind whether she loves Willie (Roderick McDonald) or a debonaire young "flash" from the city, Eugene Nelson (John Hale). Their younger son, "Dink" (Donald Heurion) divides his time between eating raisins and worrying his mother, Barbara (Alda Rudd) is a neighboring girl who has a crush (to put it mildly) on Willie. The married Giddings daughter, Beatrice (Peggy Almond) is always condemning him, but nevertheless is in love with her husband Clarence (Carl Heselshwerdt), who is a side-kick of Willie's.

Supporting these players are Ed Dexter (Art Schiller), Mrs. Parker, who is Willie's mother and a good friend of Mrs. Giddings (Nancy Fleming) and Clara (Christina Samels), who turns out to be the "fly in the ointment" (for some parties concerned).

Briefly, the plot is about a "city slicker" and his pal who are trying to "roll" a Ruba (a) farmer and run away with his daughter. The boy from the neighboring farm also considers the girl as his "Big moment" and sets out to see what he can do. There's lots of laughs, with plenty of suspense to keep you "frighten" mad" at the villain. Corny, but delightfully corny. An evening's entertainment you won't forget for many a moon! Remember the time and date, Chelsea high school gym, on May 16, at 8:00.

Chorus News

Third Grade

We found two cocoons last fall. We kept them in a screen cage all winter long. One spring day we found a cocoon, moth in the cage. It had crawled out of a cocoon. It had rust, brown and white stripes on its body. It is short, fat and furry. It measures 6 or 7 inches across its wings. Each wing has a half moon. Each front wing has a spot that looks like an eye. Our cocoon laid many eggs. Then it died. Its mouth is not fitted to eat.

We had another cocoon. We saw a moth come out of it. It was a cocoon, but it was larger. Its wings were damp and wrinkled. Its body shrank and its wings grew larger. The wings dried, the feelers are larger than the other's feelers. So we know it is a male cocoon.

He came from Miami, Fla. He eats ant, eggs, dried worms, flies, shrimp meal, and other dried worms.

He had an exciting adventure last week. When Dwight Gadd came into our room to clean he opened the closet door. The alligator was staring at him with his mouth open. It scared Dwight so much that he picked it up in his jacket and threw it in the waste paper basket. Dwight hasn't visited the sixth grade room since without shaking in his boots.

This is the best theme for the week: MAN'S REAL POSSESSION—CHARACTER.

By Eva Geddes

Wealth, possessions, and luxurious living—these are man's real possessions? They do not comprise his real worth.

Once there was a man who had a costly estate, dozens of servants, and millions of dollars. He was continually spending money on himself. His constitution might be expressed as indolent, self-satisfied, and malicious. He tried to conceal his shortcomings by black-mailing and other devices which only the rich have the evil power to employ.

Several miles from this expensive domain dwelt another man. To this credit was an extremely small revenue, earned by many years of difficult labor and saving. His family resembled his own noble, upright, and unselfish manner. Everyone admired him—he was as someone has said, "A friend to all and a foe to none." All of the money which he earned with the exception of his small savings and enough to support his family, was spent on someone less fortunate than himself.

One of these men had money—the other, things which make a good character. Which one possessed the most genuine wealth?

Character is something lasting which no one can deface or mar. Wealth may be gone in one short flying moment. What became of the men in the great Wall Street crash? They lost everything they had in wealth at one time, in fact, many of them became penniless. Character cannot be lost like that. It is built on firmer, finer ground.

Hungarian Certificate

A relic of a foreign loan of 100 years ago, acquired by Dr. James Taggart has been presented to the Dallas, Texas, Historical society. Certificate similar to that one were apparently sold to raise money for a revolution in Hungary, in the region around Illinois, at the time Abe Lincoln was getting his fingers deep into politics. The certificate promises to pay, a year after the establishment of an independent Hungarian government, a dollar to the bearer at New York or London, or to accept the certificate as payment on government securities.

"Yes, yes, yes."

"You love me with all your heart?"

"And soul?"

"Yes."

"Fully and completely and passionately?"

"Yes, yes, you know I do."

He had begun this catechism in tones derisive, but under her earnestness, his derision faded. He was so lost without her, wanted so much to believe her, that he began to do so.

She saw with a slow rising hope that he did begin to believe her; and she thought fear would live with her always now, fear lest he discover the truth. She thought: All my life I'll have to lie to him, pretend, make him believe I love him. If he knew I don't, he would die.

He caught her to him, held her close, the thin muscles in his arms tightening in nervous spasms.

Then George freed himself and stood erect again and turned to Richard, while he still held Mary's arm like an owner in possession. He spoke haltingly.

"I'm sorry, Cap'n Corr," he said. "I was wrong." He coughed twice. "You must lie down," she said.

"I'll tuck you in. You're cold and sick and tired."

"Come," he tugged at her. "I'm not tired. I'm strong now, Mary."

The cabin was small, with a high bunk against the ship's side, a lock-fast at one end, drawers beneath the bunk, a seat and a drop-desk where his Bible and his two or three other books lay. George shut the door and turned to her and caught her hands and whispered hoarsely: "You do love me, Mary?"

She said mechanically: "Of course I do."

He threw up his head, half laughing. "There's no 'of course' about it," he cried. "I know you do, now; but I never knew what it meant before, Mary. I love you too, today. I always have, without knowing it. I love you, Mary."

"I know you do, George dear! I know you do!"

Then George began to cough again, and had to release her; and she stood, watching him, as removedly as she watched herself, thinking how little he was, and thin, and weak, and frail.

He coughed and coughed, half-sitting on the bunk, clinging to the edge of it behind him with both hands, trying to stand; till he began to bow forward; and she realized that he was slipping down, lower and lower. Then suddenly he was a sprawled heap, all legs and thin arms in a coat too big for him on the floor at her feet.

She was strong enough to lift him, with what help he could give, into the bunk; and to wipe his stained lips gently, and to loose his garments and take off his shoes and cover him. She brought blankets from her own bed to warm him; but when she felt his body under the blankets he was cold, cold, cold.

Sometimes, minutes later or hours later, Peter came down to speak to her. He stood in the doorway, asked warily: "What happened?"

"George is sick."

"What happened to him?"

"Nothing. I think he caught cold. He started coughing."

"Anything upset him?"

"No, no. He's just sick, Peter."

Peter said, watching her narrowly: "Dick's gone crazy!" She looked up at him in quick concern. "Crazy as a cat?" he said, in a fretful anger. "He came on deck and piled every stitch on her. He just said he was in a hurry to get home."

Richard did not come below for dinner or for supper.

CHAPTER XVI

Mary stayed beside George's bunk all that night. She thought the motion of the ship had eased. There was no longer much roll. Once next day Mary went up the companion-way. She saw, standing somewhat sheltered by the companion, that the great seas astern were forever about to overtake them. Solid water piled up behind them higher and higher, seemed to hang above them for a while, moving nearer and nearer till its crest broke into wind-driven foam, and the mass subsided. There were two men at the wheel, fighting it hard. Peter came to Richard's side and shouted something; but Richard, staring stonily ahead, did not even nod. Peter turned to the companion, and Mary backed down into the cabin with him following.

He said, hoarse with panic: "He's crazy, I tell you."

She saw that he was shaking with simple fear; but she was not afraid.

Richard. The spinning track with the foremast broke a foot above the cap warned Richard what was happening forward. The stick as it fell caught Eddie Few a sideways crack that stunned him or killed him outright. He slid overboard as the great sea suddenly relinquishing the attack, drew off from the decks of the Venturer.

Gibbons freed himself from the skylight and, heedless of his lacerated leg, returned to duty at the wheel. Richard kept the wheel with him, and since Peter was useless he sent Mat Forbes to clear the wreck, age forward. Holding a precarious footing against the pressure of the screaming wind, Mat cut away the topgallantmast and let it go overboard; and under his driving, men secured the fragment of the topmast to stop its banging, and caught the tangled web of rigging and controlled it with many lashings. The reefed foresail began to draw again, they got other useful rags of canvas on her; and an hour after that gale sea, Richard went below to reassure Mary, he had the Venturer in hand. In that hour the gale, having done its worst for their destruction, had somewhat relented. The pressure of the wind began to ease, and before daylight, though the seas still were mountainous, the immediate danger was over.

Later that day they dropped anchor in a large bay which Peter identified as Hoakes Bay. Here Richard planned to repair the Venturer. (To be continued)
