AAA Is Designated As National Defense Unit

Official designation of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration as a National Defense Agency emphasizes the role that the Triple-A has been playing in providing food for the Nation's defense needs, according to Harry M. Cole, secretary of the Washtenaw county AAA committee.

All governmental agencies contributing directly or indirectly to national defense are rated as defense agencies, Mr. Cole said. He added that the new Food for Defense program announced by Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard recently is based on the need for providing an abundant supply of certain essential foods needed by the people of this country, and for England and other nations resisting aggression.

Through its Ever-Normal Granary plan of storing up a reserve supply of essential feed and food grains, the Triple-A program has placed Agriculture in the ranks of preparedness, Mr. Cole explained. Most of the intended expansion in pork, eggs, poultry, and dairy products under the new food program will be produced from feeds now on hand in the Ever-Normal Granary, he added.

Agriculture's part in providing food not only for this country but for other parts of the world may play a decisive part in peace negotiations when the present war is over, Mr. Cole said, and the American farmer working with the AAA will be ready to adjust his farming operations to meet whatever demand is made for feeding hungry people of other lands.

Grain Storage Capacity
Reported for Michigan

Practically complete returns from a grain storage capacity and stocks survey in Michigan, as of March 1, show a rated bulk storage capacity of 13,112,000 bushels, a sacked capacity of 3,491,000 bushels, and corn-crib space of 157,000 bushels—a total of 16,760,000 bushels. Very little new storage construction is under way or contemplated, the capacity of such being reported at only 362,000 bushels.

The survey covers all commercial storage facilities, including idle facilities that could readily be placed in operation, but does not include farm storage. The collection and tabulation of the information was performed by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration and the Michigan Cooperative Crop Reporting Service. This nation-wide project was primarily for the use of the National Defense Advisory Commission in formulating policies with respect to distribution of vital commodities and the certification of new construction; and by the Commodity Credit Corporation in determining available storage space for grain. All establishments storing wheat, corn, oats, barley, rye, rice, flaxseed, soybeans, dry beans, and grain sorghums were covered. The establishments included elevators, warehouses, flour and feed mills, corn, soybeans and flaxseed products mills, malting plants, breweries, distilleries, bean-cleaning plants, and rice mills.

March 1 stocks of all commodities in these plants were reported at 6,328,000 bushels. While this quantity represents only about 38 per cent of the total capacity, all of the remaining space cannot be considered as available unoccupied storage. The various grains are ordinarily stored in separate bins, many of which are not full. Much space is also required for working operations of the plant. Unoccupied space on March 1, as reported aggregated 5,404,000 bushels, and was expected to be about 5,132,000 bushels on June 1.

Steel in Bridge
One hundred and ninety thousand tons of steel were required to make the Golden Gate bridge.

State Capitol, Lansing—A medley of state topics occupies attention of the state legislature, now in its final weeks of session—national defense, school aid, the $200,000,000 biennial budget, revenue consolidation, dog racing and crippled and afflicted children.

(Bi-partisan support is being given to an extensive program of state defense as Michigan's part in national defense).

An 11-member council of defense, supported by a $85,000 appropriation, is to be created with general authority to coordinate state and local activities. The house approved the bill 83 to 6 after Republican and Democratic leaders pleaded for its enactment.

Shadow of the darkening war clouds was felt as legislators discussed the bill. "If we knew the truth, we are at war and don't know it," reminded Rep. John P. Esple of Eagle, chairman of the house ways and means committee. "The state police commissioner and the adjutant-general of Michigan have called this bill necessary. We don't know what faces us in the next few months."

"Short of War"

If the decision of Senator Prentiss M. Brown (D) of St. Ignace is any index of Michigan public opinion and Brown is expected to run for re-election next year, Michigan voters are still cool to the idea of America getting into a "shooting war" on the side of Britain.

Senator Brown has announced he is opposed to use of the United States Navy to convoy defense products to Great Britain. Instead, he would turn over more destroyers and other naval craft to British and Canadian sailors of which an ample supply is said to be available.

In taking this stand Senator Brown is in agreement with Senator Arthur Vandenberg (R) of Grand Rapids. Both Brown and Vandenberg voted against the selective service draft; Michigan representatives were overwhelmingly opposed to the act.

In giving his reasons Senator Brown pointed out that the American people, as shown by frequent Gallup public opinion surveys, are opposed to an "all-out" participation in the European war with all that this would mean—transporting of a huge expeditionary force 3,000 miles to a Nazi-dominated continent, unreserved use of our naval and air force, and a sky-high boost in our national debt. Right or wrong, public opinion continues to influence the actions of men who depend upon ballots for re-election.

School Aid

More school aid for rural districts would be forthcoming under the Michigan Education association bill, now before the legislature.

The MEA formula of school aid, for example, would give Detroit only $300,000 more out of $46,000,000 than it received last year out of $41,000,000.

The minimum amount would be $42,000,000, an increase of a million dollars; the maximum would be $46,000,000. The former amount is more likely than the latter.

$200,000,000 Budget

State payrolls for the first quarter of the Van Wagoner administration were substantially higher than for the same period one year ago.

Furthermore, a $200,000,000 budget is in prospect for the coming biennium. Governor Van Wagoner asked the legislature to appropriate $5,000,000 and $6,000,000 to apply directly on retirement of the state's $28,000,000 debt. The legislature's decision, as shown by passage of a bill by Senator Bishop, would not earmark definite money for debt retirement but would take pot-luck with chances of surplus revenues. The Bishop measure, already adopted by the senate, would prohibit expenditure by a state agency of any money in excess of the legislature's appropriation.

Governor Van Wagoner would be without executive power to trim state spending through the budget director. All budget prerogatives would be held by the legislature; the "little legislature" council would be abolished; any emergency funds would require a special session of the legislature.

Tax Collections

A bi-partisan measure that faces a doubtful fate is a bill to consolidate tax collecting agencies.

Sponsors claim that the plan would effect an annual "saving" of $5,000,000 to $20,000,000. Critics say this is nonsense, that it would only clip Republican branches of state government of present prerogatives and that economies would be disappointingly small, if any at all.

Governor Van Wagoner has cast his support to the bill with a flat declaration that its defeat would be "outright betrayal" of the wishes of the people.

Crippled Children

A hard fought battle is raging between the probate judges and county supervisors and a group of other interests headed by the State Medical society over authority to dispense state aid for crippled and afflicted children.

In 61 out of 83 counties doctors receive no fees for services performed in behalf of either crippled or afflicted children. Hospital fees are now $8.50 a day, and only hospitals in Ann Arbor, Detroit, Grand Rapids, Traverse City and Marquette possess surgical equipment to take care of crippled children.

Because medical care has been authorized by the probate judges and the bill has been turned over to the state, doctors charge "political patronage" while the judges decri "high medical fees". It has been a "bitter controversy."

The medical society's plan, which is endorsed by the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign War, Michigan Welfare league, Michigan Hospital association, Michigan Crippled Children's society and members of the state crippled children commission, would establish a "filter" system, first to determine the economic need through the local department of social welfare in each county, and second to ascertain the medical need by medical examiners who would donate their services.

The probate judges' bill, House Bill 297, would continue power in hands of the probate judges. The medical society's bill, House Bill 317, would effect a double check on economic and medical needs, while permitting applications to be received by the probate judge.

Installment Inflation?

Retailers are being cautioned by the Michigan Retail Institute not to rely heavily on installment selling. In fact, the use of extensive credit for merchandise has reached such a proportion that it is said to be headed for a disastrous collapse.

J. Anton Hagios, credit executive of the Retail Dry Goods Association of New York, recently warned in an address at Muskegon:

"Installment selling is destined for a fall—yes, a terrific fall—unless steps are taken now to restrict and re-adjust the installment terms structure. Credit volume is much greater, time payment terms are excessively long, and above all, we are granting credit to customers in very much lower income levels than at the end of the last World War, or even eight years ago."

THERE'S A BIG ONE CALLING YOU!

With five thousand miles of rivers and streams where brook trout, browns and rainbows are jumping—five thousand inland lakes, teeming with bass, lake trout, pike, walleyes and "muskies"—is it any wonder that Michigan tops every other state in the number of fishing licenses?

In the past year, millions of fish, many of them of legal size, have been placed in Michigan waters by the state hatcheries and feeding ponds. A splendid system of state highways leads to the lakes and rivers and the deep-water fishing grounds, offshore. And all Michigan is dotted with hotels and camps for the comfort of anglers. Telephone ahead for reservations; boats, guides or information. Then pack up your tackle and go where the fish are calling!

THERE'S a rule for your guidance you may not find in the copybooks—but that doesn't subtract one whit from its truth.

Because when you buy a new car this spring you want one that will see you through many a summer.

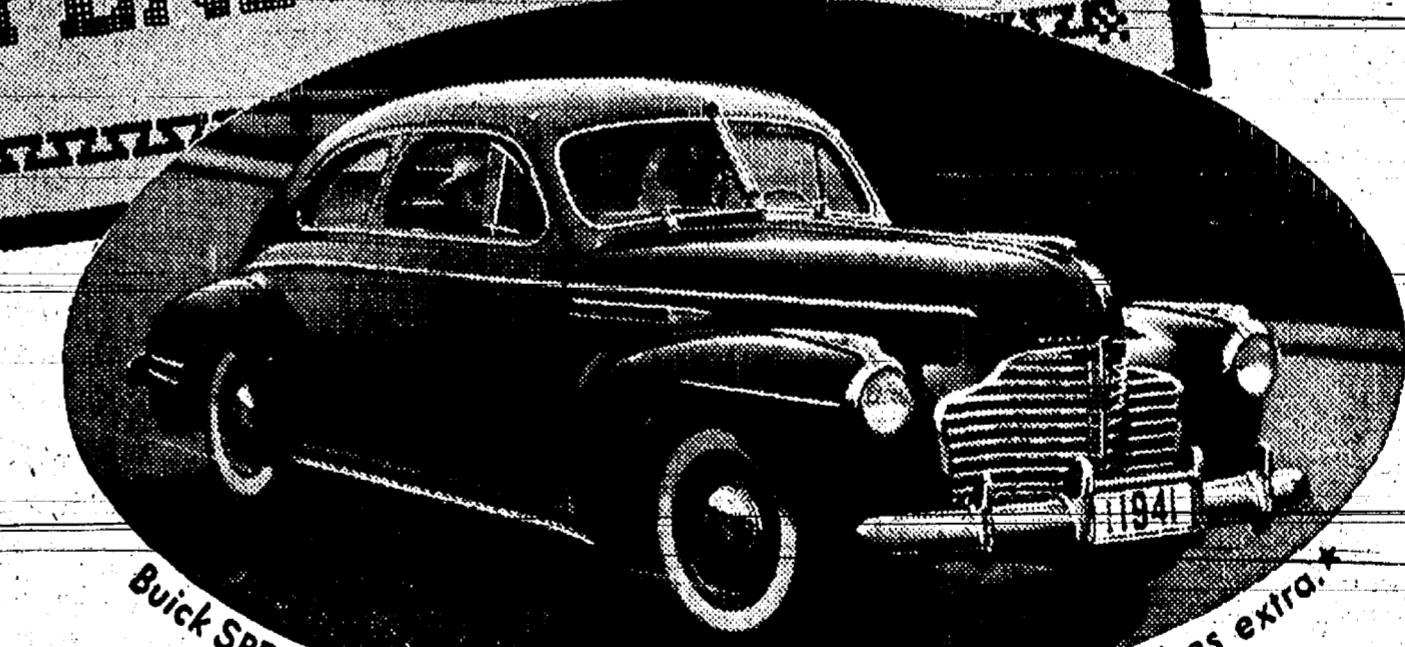

So while you're trading it's good sense to trade up—up to something solidly good through and through.

Trade up, for instance, to the FIREBALL power of Buick's more efficient valve-in-head straight-eight.

ORDINANCE 34

An ordinance to license and regulate the maintenance and use of housecars or trailers used for human habitation, and to license and regulate trailer camps within the Village of Chelsea, and providing penalties for the violation thereof.

The Village of Chelsea ordains: Section 1. The Common Council of the Village of Chelsea hereby declares that the regulation, maintenance and use of housecars, trailers, and trailer camps is necessary for the protection of public safety, health, and morals of said Village.

Section 2. For the purpose of this ordinance the word "housecar" or "trailer" shall mean any structure intended for or capable of human habitation, mounted upon wheels or other devices and capable of being moved from place to place, either by its own power or by power supplied by some vehicle attached or to be attached thereto.

Section 3. It shall be unlawful for any person, persons, firm or corporation to place, keep, or maintain any housecar or trailer while the same is being used for human habitation upon any public street, public alley, public property, or upon any lot, piece or parcel of land within the Village of Chelsea except as hereinafter authorized.

Section 4. No person, persons, firm or corporation shall place, keep, or maintain any housecar or trailer for the purpose of using the same for human habitation upon any lot, piece or parcel of private property within the said Village of Chelsea except upon a license duly granted by the Common Council for this purpose.

Section 5. All excreta and liquid waste shall be collected in proper receptacles and emptied into suitable sewer connected fixtures. Spilling or draining of any waste water whatsoever upon the ground or upon paved area is prohibited.

Section 6. Any person, persons, firm or corporation desirous of using any private property within said village for the purpose of parking any housecar or trailer must first obtain a license therefor from the Common Council. Application for such license shall be submitted in writing, giving the name and address of all occupants, the location of the same, the health and sanitary conditions that are available, the name and address of the owner of the premises, and such other information as the Council may require.

Section 7. The term "trailer camp" shall mean any site, lot, field or tract of land upon which one or more occupied camp trailers or travel cars are harbored whether or not a charge is made for the harboring, and shall include any building, structure, tent, vehicle or enclosure used or intended for use as part of the equipment of such trailer camp.

Section 8. No person, firm, or corporation shall establish, maintain, conduct, or operate any trailer camp within the limits of the Village of Chelsea without first obtaining a license therefor.

After duly investigating said application, the Village Council may in its discretion issue a license for a period of one year upon the payment of the fee of five dollars ($5.00). All licenses shall expire on May 1 of each year, and all licenses granted may be revoked by the Council at any time it is deemed necessary and expedient.

Section 10. The Village Council shall pass all reasonable regulations to govern the use and maintenance of house cars, trailers, and trailer camps in order to preserve the public health, safety and morals of said Village.

KIWANIS NEWS

The Kiwanians commemorated National Music Week by enjoying a diversified musical program on Monday evening. The Kiwanis Octet opened this program by singing several modern airs. Carl J. Mayer obligingly sang a fine solo number.

The Music Committee under the able direction of Paul F. Niehaus, staged a music contest for the Kiwanians. Mrs. P. F. Niehaus played a series of tunes on the piano and each Kiwanian competed for the prize by attempting to identify the songs. Edwin W. Eaton and Carl J. Mayer won the two fine prizes by compiling almost a perfect score in the contest.

The Swing Band of the Chelsea high school then entertained the group with many fine musical arrangements. This organization, under the supervision and leadership of Robert C. Dunstan, played many popular and classical numbers and many of the members were featured as soloists on the various pieces.

The committee in charge of underprivileged child work announced that the Kiwanis club had contributed a substantial sum to the University Hospital for the furtherance of this worthwhile endeavor. Each of the Kiwanis clubs in this district aids those children who are crippled by contributing money to equip a hospital of rooms in the University Hospital in Ann Arbor in order to make life more enjoyable to those children who are unfortunately confined in the hospital.

Saluting Flag

The army regulations say: "Do not dip the flag of the United States of America to any person or anything. The regimental colors, State flag, organization or institutional flag will render this honor." The navy regulations state that "No ship of the Navy shall lower her sails or dip her ensign unless in return for such compliments. Of the colors carried by a naval force on shore, only the battle ensign of the regimental color shall be dipped in rendering or acknowledging a salute; the national colors shall not be dipped except when passing in review before the President or as a compliment to the sovereign or ruler or a member of the royal family of another country."

Sheepmen of Michigan Plan Picnic for June 3

One of Michigan's most productive farms has been selected as the site for the annual picnic of the members of the Michigan Purebred Sheep Breeders' association on Tuesday, June 3.

The farm is that of H. D. Woodworth and Sons, northwest of Potterville in Eaton county. Delmont Chapman, South Rockwood, in Monroe county, as president of the state association has called for full attendance for an inspection of the farm in the morning and a discussion on sheep management and the sheep outlook for the afternoon. Members of the animal husbandry department of Michigan State College are scheduled to appear on the program.

The Woodworth farm is gaining prestige for several activities. There is a flock of 36 registered Shropshire ewes called rigidly each year to maintain Shropshire type.

The farm also has 35 registered Holsteins with cows producing an average of more than 400 pounds of butterfat each of the past 10 years. Other attractions are the 21 registered Percheron horses which won trophies and ribbons at five fairs in 1940, and the Woodworth's seed corn drier that handled 1,400 bushels of seed corn for 1941 planting.

Leaders among Michigan's sheepherders are sponsoring other ventures for 1941. Exhibits of sheep and wool at county fairs and the State Fair are being encouraged, as well as competition in the annual International Liva Stock exposition in Chicago and operation of the ram truck for distribution of better breeding stock.

Northern sheep counties are to be visited by the ram truck this year, according to E. L. Benton, extension specialist in animal husbandry at the college. This is scheduled late in October.

NORTH SYLVAN GRANGE

Opening the program, a reading, "Who But Mother?" was given by Mrs. Kalmbach and "Who But Father?" by Roy Ives. A paper on the "Achievements of the Grange" was read by N. W. Laird. Several ladies gave short readings on "What to do to help husbands."

After the closing song by the Grange refreshments were served by the hostesses.

CAV. LAKE GRANGE MEETS

Cavanaugh Lake Grange was entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Broesamle for their May meeting on Tuesday evening.

After the opening song, "Long, Long Ago," the members responded to roll call with the name of a new seed or plant they will plant in their garden or field this year.

Readings were given as follows: "The Things That Make the Soldier Great"—Mrs. Max Hoppe.

"Mother's Day"—Mrs. Donald Waters.

"Nobody Knows But Father"—Kenneth Proctor.

A co-operative supper was served to 25 members.

Many legislatures are at the present time working overtime to pass some type of legislation in regard to motor vehicles. Every community, every legislature, and every man on the street has some idea of what type of law we should have to control certain things about motor vehicles.

Since they are all contemplating the passage of laws, we ought to suggest one, too. How about the pedestrian?

This topic has been frequently discussed in this column, and very little is being done about pedestrian traffic control. Why shouldn't pedestrian traffic be regulated? Why should the automobile driver be to blame for every pedestrian fatality or accident, and why should he always give the right-of-way to the pedestrian?

More than two thirds of the pedestrians killed last year were committing a violation or were engaged in some obviously unsafe act, according to data from thirty-seven states.

I firmly believe that pedestrians ought to be included in any regulation. Do you?

Asks Cooperation In Prevention of Fires

In an effort to protect roadside trees and shrubs, State Highway Commissioner G. Donald Kennedy this week appealed to property owners and motorists to cooperate in preventing ruinous fires.

Kennedy pointed out that each spring grass fires started by property owners engaged in burning brush and other refuse spread onto the right-of-way and cause serious damage. He added that such fires are sometimes started by motorists throwing lighted matches or cigarettes from car windows.

Said Kennedy: "The State Highway Department is anxious to keep Michigan roadways attractive. A. D. Taylor, landscape consultant of the U. S. Forest Service, has credited Michigan with having the most beautiful road-sides in America, and we want to maintain that reputation."

The Commissioner explained that young plants just starting in the spring are frequently killed by fires; that evergreens are sometimes seriously damaged, and that nesting places for birds and other wildlife are destroyed.

"Smoke billowing across highways," Kennedy declared, "and damage to warning signs and guard-rail posts in some instances have even threatened the safety of motorists. This is another reason why we should be exceptionally careful of this time of year in guarding against roadside fires."

Chelsea High School Treasury System

By N. H. Miles, Cent. Treas.

Chelsea high school has an efficient yet simple system of recording all financial transactions pertaining to our student body. This method is known as double-entry bookkeeping, recording it first in the journal (receipt or check book), and then in the ledger.

These records are centralized in a hard-cover binder designed for durability and convenience. Each class, club, or other school organization has its individual treasurer whose responsibility it is to receive any money turned in by a member of that group as dues, assessments, etc. Besides having to give receipts it is up to him to write any requisition for a debit contracted by them. Each treasurer needs the signature of his advisor to withdraw any money so the sole responsibility does not rest upon him.

Superior to the individual treasurers is the central treasurer, to whom they deposit all money received in return for a personal receipt and present all requisitions for checks. It is his responsibility to see that the treasury system functions properly, to give receipts, to write checks, record all deposits and disbursements in the ledger and see that all these centralized records are balanced at all times.

All checks must be signed by the central treasurer and the commercial teacher who is advisor of the school treasury system.

The treasurers are responsible for a monthly financial report to be given to the central treasurer and advisor at the first meeting of each month. Our meetings are held semi-monthly and any questions or possibilities of improvement are discussed at this time. These reports are made out in triplicate so each treasurer retains one. The central treasurer also makes out a financial statement in triplicate, keeping one himself, giving the others to the advisor and the superintendent of Chelsea High School.

To briefly summarize let us follow out a simple transaction: We will say that a senior class member took in $15.00 on a class project out of which $5.00 was expenses. He gave the senior class treasurer the whole $15.00 and the bill for $5.00; then the treasurer gave him a receipt for the total amount and wrote a request for a check, which he had signed by the class sponsor. After writing the receipt and requisition, the treasurer took the requisition, and the money that was turned in, to the central treasurer and he writes out a receipt for the money and a check. After having the check signed by the treasury advisor the central treasurer gave both the receipt and check to the class treasurer, made the entries in the ledger and deposited the money in the Chelsea State Bank under the Chelsea high school student fund account. This system has proved very satisfactory in the receiving and paying of money throughout the school system and with a little improvement and sufficient cooperation will continue to be so.

We wrote Himericks Friday and voted on whose was best. Betty Scribner's was chosen. It was:

I wish I had something to do, Won't someone please give me a cue? This fooling around is getting me down.

For a prize she got a candy bar. The boys played the seventh grade boys at baseball last Tuesday after school. We got beat. The score was 20 to 16. They played nine innings. Miss Brown was the umpire.

Seventh Grade.

Our quotation for the week is from George Washington: "I hold the maxim no less applicable to public than to private affairs, that honesty is the best policy."

For once the seventh grade is athletically victorious. Both boys and girls defeated the sixth grade at baseball.

Report cards came out Wednesday. Our reports were not so good as usual.

SEEING GENE AUTRY.

We had planned a very interesting afternoon. First we were going to see Gene Autry's radio program at the CBS broadcasting station at 3:30 p.m. Then we were going bowling in the largest bowling alley in the world. After that we were going to see Vera Vague and Jack Carson's radio program which came on earlier in the evening.

We reached the broadcasting station located on Sunset Boulevard in Hollywood, Calif., a little early. We had to line up with a lot of other people in front of the doors and waited until a quarter past three. Then we went in. It was the first time any of us had ever been in a broadcasting station so it was very interesting to us. We got a good seat where we could see well. The program was very good and we were very sorry when it was over. Gene surely is a good singer.

After the broadcast we went up on the stage to see Gene Autry, Smiley Burnette, and Mary Lee. We shook hands with Gene. After that we went out to the parking lot behind the broadcasting station to wait for Gene. On the way out they gave each person a stick of gum, which Gene Autry advertised on his program. There was a large crowd waiting in the parking lot, as you would imagine.

Finally Gene came out. He was greeted by a large crowd. Everyone wanted his autograph but he said he would only have time for a few. I was almost the first one there so naturally I got his autograph. My mother took three pictures of him and I took four. I also took one of Mary Lee. Altogether it turned out to be a very enjoyable afternoon.
