Veterans Lead Drive To Gather Scrap Aluminum

The collection of scrap aluminum in Chelsea and vicinity, to be made on July 24 and 25 in the interests of national defense, will be under the direction of The American Legion. It was announced this week by Merle S. Barr, Legion Commander. Village President A. D. Mayer will serve as co-chairman. The drive in the surrounding rural area will be made by farm organizations under the direction of H. S. Osler, county agent. The campaign will be carried on simultaneously by every other community of the United States in a gigantic effort to collect enough scrap-aluminum to give us 2,000 more fighter planes.

Co-operating with the veterans and farm organizations in gathering the urgently-needed metal include all fraternal, church and civic organizations in the community. A thorough house-to-house canvass will be made, with the aid of Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Instructions for marketing the donated aluminum make clear that each community will learn within a short time exactly how much it contributed to the defense cause, both in weight and money value. The information will be sent to each community by the smelter, who will pay for it by a check made out to the "National Scrap Aluminum Fund" and deposited in a Federal bank. The money will be used by the United States Government for civilian defense purposes.

The names of waste material dealers to whom the metal is to be delivered after collection will be announced by the Michigan Council of Defense before the campaign opens. If the designated dealer's yard is at some distance from Chelsea, transportation will be furnished by county or State Highway Department trucks. The dealer is to bale the scrap and send it to a smelter on the approved list of this Office of Production Management.

Great care is to be taken in guarding the scrap collected here, according to Mr. Barr. As the OPM points out, scrap aluminum has a high value, and to dispose of it illegally is comparatively easy. Waste material dealers are being warned not to buy scrap aluminum from unauthorized persons while the campaign is in progress.

Col. Harold A. Furlong, administrator of the Michigan Council of Defense, warned everyone again this week not to give aluminum articles which would have to be replaced with something else.

"Give us only those things you can spare, preferably worn-out or discarded articles and utensils," Col. Furlong urged. "Bulky articles having only a small percentage of aluminum are of little value, for the labor of stripping the aluminum from the other materials is prohibitive in cost."

Col. Furlong cautioned campaign workers not to overlook hotels, restaurants and industrial plants as potential sources of large donations of scrap.

The bin in which this community's aluminum contribution will be stored will be erected in Chelsea, the location to be announced next week. It is expected that articles collected from farm homes on rural mail routes running out of Chelsea will be brought here and made a part of this community's collection.

Chelsea Represented In NYA Baseball League

By Charles Bahnmiller

Chelsea is again represented in NYA baseball in the Western Washtenaw League. Participants range in age from 13 to 18 years old. The American Legion Post 31 of Chelsea is sponsoring the local line as it did last year. With this help and that of the National Youth Administration, boys who have a love for the grand sport of baseball have a chance to participate in games played each Tuesday and Thursday during the summer months.

Chelsea has lost one game, winning four, which puts the local line in second place behind Ann Arbor's Edwards Bros. team which has been undefeated in five games.

Standard Commended For Safety Drive Aid

G. Donald Kennedy, State Highway Commissioner, in a letter to The Standard, commends this paper for its support in the Fourth of July safe driving campaign. The letter follows:

Mr. M. W. McClure, Editor, Chelsea Standard, Chelsea, Michigan.
Dear Mr. McClure:

Several weeks ago I wrote to you and other publishers of Michigan weekly papers requesting your support in a Fourth of July safe driving campaign.

Your response was magnificent. As a result, Michigan drivers not only prevented a repetition of "49 Too Many" fatalities but reduced the expected death toll to an unusually small number for the amount of driving that was done.

The Michigan State Police and local enforcement officials are to be complimented on the splendid job they have done in this selective safe driving campaign.

The Michigan State Highway Department is also grateful to the Michigan Councils of the Boy Scouts of America and to the member organizations of the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce for their splendid cooperation in distributing the "49 Too Many" stickers.

Hoping that we can continue this safe driving effort throughout the summer, may I thank you for your part in this campaign.

Most sincerely,
G. Donald Kennedy,
State Highway Commissioner.

WILLIAMSTON—Dr. F. D. Watts, formerly of Chelsea, and a brother of Mrs. J. H. Gaylord of this place, was the victim of a sudden heart attack on Tuesday, June 17, in Portland, Oregon, where he has enjoyed an enviable practice as an eye, ear, nose and throat specialist since 1924. Dr. Watts was 75 years of age. Enterpriser.

SALINE—Last Thursday morning a small airplane, a Cub cruiser, owned by the Huron Flyers, landed in an oat field about a half mile east of the Saline-Pleasant Lake road intersection. Frank F. Lahr, a flying student and member of the Huron Flyers, was in the plane with pilot Edward Stack, an instructor in the Ann Arbor Air Service. The student was practicing motor stalls. When about 2,000 feet above the ground, the engine stalled. The instructor took the controls and brought the plane safely to earth in the oat field. Leaving the student on the ground pilot Stack attempted to take off but the huge-oats caught in the landing gear and flipped the plane on its back. The ship was slightly damaged but the pilot escaped injury.—Observer.

NORTHVILLE—Roasting the lowest accident rate in the village since records have been kept, Chief of Police Richard Loomis told councilmen Monday evening that there were only three minor traffic accidents here during the month of June. The accidents involved a property damage of $24. No persons were injured. The drop in accidents is due, in the opinion of the police department, to the strict enforcement made possible by the use of maneuverable equipment.—Record.

PINCKNEY—William C. Devereaux, 67, son of the late John and Elizabeth Caffery Devereaux, died at a Cincinnati hospital Sunday night after an illness of several months. He was born in Pinckney, Mich. It was his science that cheated raging Ohio river floodwaters of much toll in life and property in 1913 and 1937. Senior meteorologist at the U. S. weather bureau at Abbe observatory since May 1, 1911, Devereaux made his last weather forecast June 27. The veteran weatherman was regarded as the nation's No. 1 flood forecaster. In 1937 when an 80-foot-high mass of muddy destruction swirled through part of the Ohio river valley, he worked day and night predicting expected rise of the water. His predictions gained valuable hours over disaster for stricken valley residents, just as they had done in the famous 1913 flood which roared down upon the city from the Miami valley. The body was brought here Wednesday morning and the funeral held from St. Mary's church, Rev. Fr. Murphy officiating. Burial was in St. Mary's cemetery.—Dispatch.

CONFERENCE HELD IN INDIANARev. Darwin Clippner of Waterloo attended the Western Great Lakes United Christian Adult Movement Conference last week at Oakwood Park, Lake Wawasee, Syracuse, Ind.
Dr. Chester Miao of Shanghai, China, in addressing the representatives of the major Christian communities of Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois and Kentucky in session at Lake Wawasee, stated:

"In the present Sino-Japanese conflict Japan has only succeeded in penetrating certain large cities and strategic centers and railroads or highways connecting these centers. Outside of these areas the Chinese guerrillas are active. For that reason, the Japanese have to station strong garrisons in those cities and along those roads. But even then these garrisons have to contract at night for fear of guerrilla attack."

"The Christian church," Dr. Miao stated further, "has worked both in the penetrated areas and in free China. It is the conviction of the Christian Church of China that it should minister to the people, no matter where they are, although this is not in harmony with the 'scorched earth' policy adopted by the Chinese government. What the church has decided to do has been proved realistic and wise, for it is in the penetrated areas the people need help most badly. Through relief, child welfare centers, informal education and Christian witness the Christian Church of China has rendered a ministry of very high quality."

Dr. Miao is secretary of the United Christian Council of China, as well as the National Committee for Christian Education in China. He will be attending the International Congress on Christian Education in Mexico City, July 16-20. Dr. Miao has participated in a number of the United Christian Adult Movement Conferences being held across the United States this summer, in an endeavor to improve the religious education methods of adults in the church.

The adult movement is concerned with ways and means of furthering adult work in the church by emphasizing use of the Bible, social work, more vital Christian growth and experience, and better family life.

Ancient Arrow Heads
Indian arrow heads estimated by archeologists to be more than 10,000 years old recently have been discovered near Oxford, N. C.

Lansing—Michigan's much ballyhooed bi-partisan government has gone plumb into a dizzy tail-spin.

And if you, as the celebrated "man of the street", are getting a wee bit confused as to what it is all about, have hope and take cheer. Maybe it isn't yourself but the times which seem out of kilter—what with Wendell L. Willkie urging the United States to establish an American military "outpost" in Scotland or Ireland and with President Franklin D. Roosevelt moving American troops into the European war zone via Iceland, all for national defense.

The capital situation is something like this:

Our Democratic governor vetoed 31 acts of the Republican legislature. The Republicans tried unsuccessfully to over-ride the governor's vetoes, although it may be possible for the senate to do so in the case of 13 acts by concurring in action taken last week by the house.

And so, in open retaliation, the Republicans voted to recess 90 days until Oct. 9. This technically (unless the supreme court would rule otherwise) prolongs the 1941 legislative session.

Branch Banking Veto

The underlying cause of the Republican rebellion was the governor's veto of the famed Senate bill No. 1, known as the branch banking act which would forbid chain systems of banks throughout Michigan.

Michigan's state constitution requires a two-third vote by the legislature to enact any measure pertaining to banks; and the anti-bank chain bill had to mount this hurdle before it could arrive at the governor's desk.

With a clear-cut majority of the legislature in favor of the measure, the governor's veto aroused the Michigan Bankers Association to "all-out" war. Bankers in hundreds of small towns, fearful that a spread of chain banking would ultimately undermine their independence, brought pressure on upstate legislators whether Republican or Democrat. Enough pledges to override the veto were obtained by the state association.

But Governor Van Wagener had his own ideas. When the legislature convened for the final session prior to scheduled adjournment, Republicans discovered that the executive office had exacted a promise of cooperation from enough Democratic legislators—pledge or no pledge—to stymie their well-laid plans.

House Overrides 13

Just to show their fettle, members of the house over-ride 13 of the governor's vetoes. However, the Senate Republican majority was less certain and in the only test vote there the Republicans fell short of a two-thirds margin necessary to over-ride a veto of an act to expend state police powers in handling of riots and labor disputes.

A legal complication arose in the fact that the legislature previously had agreed by resolution to adjourn at noon Wednesday, July 9.

Attorney General Herbert J. Ruston, a Republican, tried to be helpful with an informal opinion that the house should suspend rules, rescind acceptance of a date set by the senate for sine die adjournment, and substitute a recess instead.

When Lieut. Governor Frank Murphy announced at 12:30 p. m. that "The Senate is adjourned", Republicans quickly squelched his decision. Byron L. Ballard, the governor's legal advisor, thus opined: "It is our contention and belief that the legislature is not legally in session. There is not much use discussing actions which have no legal force."

All of which was interesting, but merely muddled the muddle a bit more.

McPherson To Go

A factor in the legislative situation is the popularity of Melville B. McPherson, state tax commission chairman, with upstate Republican legislators.

McPherson, always a staunch advocate of "home rule" as against centralized state control, has been the friend of small town law-makers in their effort to retain (or get back) state aid for local governments.

He has been a candidate for governor in competition with the late Frank Fitzgerald and later with Luren D. Dickinson, but he always has managed to keep in the good graces of the administration in power. However, McPherson's term will expire in September, and he knows that he cannot be re-appointed.

Under the state act setting up the centralizing tax collection system, the position of tax director is to be filled by the civil service commission and the act states that the commission must select a man who has had years of experience in tax matters. McPherson is one of the few persons in Michigan who could qualify. Another individual is Louis Nims, now director of the state sales tax administration and former state administrator of federal public works.

However, the 90-day recess, just ordered by the legislature, will tie the governor's hands in appointing McPherson's successor, and McPherson thus is likely to continue to draw his state checks each month and to remain at Lansing as the unofficial spokesman of rural interests.

What Delay May Mean

Whether public reaction will be favorable or unfavorable to the legislative muddle was a topic of discussion among Republican elective officials, several of whom were apprehensive that the voters will not take well to it.

For example, here are some of the complications:

If the federal government decides not to continue matching old-age pensions until Public Act No. 186 takes effect (90 days after final adjournment), the recess would cost the state approximately $5,000,000 in federal aid.

The state revenue department cannot be established until January.

The anti-sabotage law will not go into effect until January.

Milk prices also cannot be fixed by the new milk marketing act; farmers may be deprived of these benefits for another 90 days.

On the other hand, Republican legislators point out that the international situation is rapidly becoming critical; that there has been much press comment on the possibility of a special session to consider financial matters; and that, all in all, the legislature should not adjourn during such an emergency.

Whatever your verdict may be, the fact still remains: Michigan's bi-partisan government is a myth. The political feud is on at Lansing.

Grasshoppers Threaten
Farm Crop Destruction

Grasshoppers are a million dollar prize this year, with Michigan farmers facing that much in loss unless they put out poison bait and the hoppers facing partial destruction and a goal of only part of that loss in crops.

The zooming of the pests began earlier than usual this year, reports C. B. Dibble, extension specialist in insect control, Michigan State College.

He is serving as advisor in counties where farmers are organized to distribute bait, much of which is supplied by the federal government. More than 25 counties saw baiting operations under way last week and the total this week is around 35 counties, according to Dibble.

If the grasshoppers aren't scurried they could easily cause a total of a million dollars in losses sustained by Michigan farmers, Dibble estimates. Weather conditions brought the hoppers along earlier than usual, but the baiting also is ahead of schedule.

Acting on the theory that it's easier and cheaper to get the hoppers while they are young, farmers are spreading the recommended bait at the rate of 20 pounds broadcast to the acre. The usual practice now is to broadcast the bait from the rear of a wagon or truck, covering a strip of pasture or field at a time.

One tactical move this year is to bait the hoppers in the pastures before the pests move into the crops. Another defense scheme is to watch hayfields right after cutting, especially alfalfa, to see if young hoppers are hatching and thus to bait them before they migrate into crops in other fields.

Are You a Part Time Citizen?

By Ruth Taylor

Being a citizen in a democracy is a full time job. In other forms of government, the citizenry make up the background, appearing only in mob scenes to cheer on the rulers of the nation.

But there is no room for part time citizens in our form of government. Our government is us—what we make it. Ours is the fault if the wheels of government do not run smoothly, for the laws we made are the roadbed, and the men we elected are the machine.

Are you a part time citizen? Do you fulfill all your duties as a voter—or do you just show up at election time to cast your vote without due consideration of the full qualifications, record and principles of all candidates?

Are you a part time citizen? Do you obey the laws you have had a hand in making—or is your only thought when you break what seems like an inconsequential little law that if you get away with it, it's all right?

Are you a part time citizen? Do you evince interest in all issues or only in those problems which directly concern you—and then object when other groups do the same and infringe on your prerogatives? Only as citizens work for the common good of all can democracy progress.

Are you a part time citizen? Do you lend an ear to alien subversive elements who tell you how much better conditions are or would be for you were there a different form of government? Do you thoughtlessly pass on these tales without checking on their accuracy or considering their source?

Are you a part time citizen? Do you stand up for democracy or do you condemn its mistakes without consideration for the good it has to offer? Do you stress only its shortcomings and never its long range program which slowly but surely and in spite of stumblings, discriminations and detours is making this country of ours the best in which to live?

Now as never before the United States needs the full time allegiance of all its people. Don't be a part time citizen!

HASTINGS WINDSTORM CO. REPORT SHOWS FINE RECORD

The July meeting of the directors of the Windstorm Insurance Co. of this city was held at their offices last week. They were pleased to learn that the company had paid, since the November 11 storm, 30,474 adjusted losses, amounting to $1,190,755.20 and still had a cash balance of $368,811. Over 1,000,000 of that loss was due to the November storm. Judging by past experience, the large cash balance will be more than sufficient to meet all demands until the new assessment of 15 cents on the $100 shall be collected. The only unpaid claims are for a small number of recent losses which have not yet been adjusted.

The 30,474 claims are more in number than the total for the first 37 years of the company's history. Every one was paid as soon as the loss was adjusted. For a company to do that and still have a cash balance of over $368,000 is very creditable. Every policy holder must be pleased with, and proud of, that record. It proves that the officers and directors have wisely managed the company's business.

The directors, unanimously voted last week to levy the usual 15 cent assessment next fall on the nearly $460,000,000 insurance carried by the company. They are confident that this assessment and the large cash balance will more than provide for losses during the following year. It will be good news to the company's 125,000 patrons that the assessment rate will not be increased. The officers and directors, with more than sixty years of company history to guide them, are confident that that assessment will be ample.

The writer was one of the men who, under the leadership of the late D. W. Rogers, formed the Windstorm Insurance Co. He is told that the records now show that he is the only survivor of the group who launched that company. He was never more pleased with, nor more proud of, its record than he is right now. It is a wonderful record for the company to pay over 30,000 claims, which called for nearly $1,200,000 and still have a cash balance of over $368,000.

The November 11 storm was the most severe and widespread in Michigan's history. It brought a windstorm loss to practically one of every four Windstorm Co. members. It was an exceptional, as well as exceptionally severe, storm. Judging by the past, it is unlikely that anyone living will see its equal in extent and destructiveness. But the Windstorm Co. weathered it beautifully, and on July 1 had a cash balance of $368,868.81. That's some record, we'll say.

Work Experience Aids NYA Youth In State

As a result of work experience gained on NYA projects in the state, a total of 6552 youth were able to obtain private employment during the first six months this year, it was revealed by Orin W. Kaye, state NYA administrator.

Turnover to private industry during the month of June was 1395, the report shows, which was the second highest monthly turnover during the period, being surpassed only in May when 1717 found good-paying jobs. A majority of those leaving NYA rolls were placed in industries vital to national defense, it was reported.

Placement for the first six months this year was almost equal to last year's total, when slightly over 7000 young people left the NYA for private industry.

The National Youth Administration has been emphasizing work experience for defense industries during the past several months. The sharp increase in placement was attributed largely to this change in program which enables youth to obtain experience in fields where the greatest employment opportunities exist.

Motorist, Pedestrian Blamed

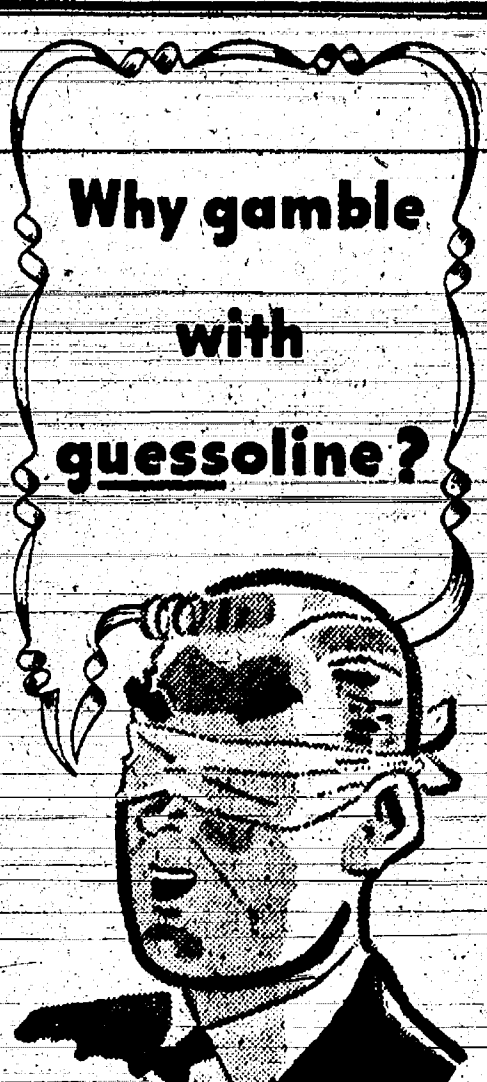

Both motorists and pedestrians are to blame for the high pedestrian death rate, the Michigan State Safety committee states. Twenty-six pedestrian deaths accounted for a fourth of the state's June traffic death toll. "When blinded by approaching lights, motorists must slow down," the committee's statement said. "There is no excuse for maintaining speed when visibility is seriously reduced. Pedestrians share the blame when they fail to walk on the left side of the highway as required by law. Three-fourths of all pedestrian deaths occur between 5 p. m. and 1 a. m. By concentrating upon the factors known to contribute to such night fatalities, it should be possible to reduce the death toll."

FARMERS' PROTEST
Michigan and other state's farmers are loudly protesting against the paying of a penalty of 49¢ per bushel on surplus wheat now being harvested, because at the time of planting the administration had set a rate of 15¢ per bushel penalty.
On May 31 the farmers were called on to vote about restricting production of wheat. However, on May 26, unknown to most growers the President had signed a bill to increase the penalty to 49¢ in connection with a plan to loan 98¢ per bushel.
The wheat situation is: The May inventory showed a total of 395,000 bushels carried over from last year. The 1941 crop is now estimated at 1,300,000,000 bushels, or sufficient wheat to last America over two years.
On Tuesday of this week a Washington authority suggested that farmers hold the surplus off the market until next year when the penalty might be removed. Altogether it is quite confusing, as our foreign markets are small due to the fact that England buys wheat from Canada and South America and munitions and planes from the United States.

Thursday, July 17—Hankard Hi-Speed vs. Federal Screw.
Monday, July 21—Chelsea Spring vs. Cassidy Lake Fac.
Tuesday, July 22—CCC vs. Federal Screw; Hankard Hi-Speed vs. Spaulding Chevrolet.

Standings

| Team | W | L | Pct. |
|---------------------|---|---|------|
| Chelsea Spring | 8 | 2 | .800 |
| Hankard Hi-Speed | 5 | 3 | .625 |
| Spaulding Chevrolet | 6 | 4 | .600 |
| CCC | 6 | 4 | .600 |
| Federal Screw | 4 | 3 | .572 |
| Cassidy Lake Fac. | 4 | 5 | .444 |
| Central Fibre | 3 | 7 | .300 |
| Kimunity | 2 | 7 | .222 |

Last Thursday night while Spaulding Chevrolet was defeating Wally Grossman, who represented the Kimunity team, a postponed game was being played off on the south diamond. Hankard's Hi-Speed and Central Fibre, second place team and last place team, were going at it hot and heavy. Central snapped out of the rut and played some real ball and handed Hankard's Hi-Speed one of their very few defeats so far this season.

Monday night Central Fibre played again and reverting to their old form lost to the CCC boys.
The following night saw the scheduled double-header in full swing. Spaulding Chevrolet led the Cassidy Lake teachers by one run until the last of the seventh inning when the teachers proved too much for them and knocked in two runs to win, 10 to 9.

Meanwhile, up on the north diamond Kimunity led Chelsea Spring by the score of 4 to 3 in the seventh inning. But, as usual, Chelsea Spring came through and secured two runs to win over Kimunity, 5 to 4.

Open letter to all you readers—
Dear folks:
Look over our schedule and pick any game at random, then try and get out and see it. This is the best week of thrillers that have been scheduled so far this year, and any one of these games will be well worth seeing. We'll be saving you a seat.
Yours—til Kimunity breaks down and buys a ball or maybe even a bat.
Rolly Spaulding,
League Secretary.

ONE WAY ONLY! Fear of injury keeps you from ignoring man-made signs — yet the warnings of nature, created to save you from even greater dangers, go unheeded.

Fatigue, headaches, mental discomfort, illness, are signs of defective eyesight—signals that can be ignored only at the risk of severe penalties—and the older you get the greater the price you pay for disobedience.

Modern conditions are a challenge to nature, but science has accepted the challenge and points the ONE WAY to safety. Obey the signs—avail yourself of the trustworthy methods of eye-care—the skill and knowledge of one whose life is devoted to the preservation of good vision and whose chief concern is your welfare.

Question And Answer Dept.

Problem—In what sport does a winning team go backward, while the opposing team goes forward? (Answer elsewhere in this department).

Ques.—I wonder if you could tell me how to remove ink stains from a garment?

Ans.—Try ammonia, alcohol, or weak oxalic acid. Lay this garment over a blotter and apply the solution gently with a clean white rag or sponge. Usually this does the trick.

Ques.—How many different colors are the small silk threads in the United States currency?

Ans.—Only two—red and blue.

Ques.—What is a "piscayune"?

Ans.—This is a word derived from the language of the Caribs and applied to a small Spanish coin which was current in the United States until the Civil War. It is now applied to something small, paltry or insignificant.

Ques.—Was Plus I, Pope of Rome, murdered? If not, how did he die?

Ans.—Very little is known of Pope Plus I. It is certain he was Pope of Rome from A. D. 142 to A. D. 157. It is thought he was born at Aquileia, Italy, and that he suffered martyrdom during his reign as Pope.

Ques.—Why do the Jews refuse to eat pork?

Ans.—The Moslem law forbade the use of swine as food, and the Jews still regard the animal as unclean. Similar views are held by other peoples of the Old World and by several Christian sects in America.

Ques.—When did the last Russo-Japanese war occur? Which country won the war?

Ans.—The Russo-Japanese war began in February, 1904, and lasted until August, 1905, with Russia suing for peace. President Theodore Roosevelt exercised the friendly offices of the United States for a peace conference to be held at Portsmouth, N. H., the first session being held on Aug. 9, 1905. The terms were agreed upon and the treaty was signed by the warring nations and President Roosevelt, ending the war.

Ques.—Why is the Suez Canal so important in this European War now going on?

Ans.—The Suez Canal is Great Britain's lifeline from the Mediterranean Sea to the Red Sea to reach her far-flung eastern empire. It would be a most serious blow to English shipping if this lifeline was severed.

Answer to problem—Tug-o-War. (Rope-pulling contest).

Ques.—Are there any sounds we are not able to hear at all?

Ans.—Yes, unless assisted by artificial means. We cannot hear a sound if it has less than thirty vibrations per second; nor can we hear a sound if it has more than 40,000 vibrations per second. One is too high and the other is too low in pitch to be audible.

Children In Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield

Sex Theories Over-Emphasized

Courts and social workers are becoming confused by that school of thought which advocates that sex alone is to be regarded as the vital problem of child delinquency. While judges and parents should not close their eyes to the importance of sex too many without any knowledge of the subject are advancing theories which never can be applied to juvenile procedure, their net theory being that sex is the cause of all anti-social acts committed by children.

To be candid, the average judge or parent will render society a great service if he would continue to instill and develop honesty and truthfulness in youthful first offenders, rather than start out on a tangent regarding inferiority complexes, repressions, etc. The same counsel may be used by various groups who attempt to curb youthful delinquency.

Nevertheless, the sincere efforts which psychiatry is making to explain the various drives and urges which affect mental lives of adolescents deserves utmost admiration. By means of reports which their courts receive from psychiatrists, they are able to determine the various conflicts and frustrations which came into play before the child committed its first anti-social act. It is regrettable that every court in the nation cannot be afforded the services of a full time psychiatrist to interpret and recommend individual treatment for every child that appears in court.

An Improper Example

A young man who returned from visiting relatives in a city where a labor dispute was in progress, learned in court that the world did not owe him a living.

When apprehended in the act of burglarizing a store, the youth was not loathe to tell the arresting officers that he felt it was not sinful to rob a large company. In this particular instance, years of splendid home training were of no benefit to him, after he had witnessed the violence and the hatreds that accompanied a labor disagreement. The song of the rich and the poor alike should be carefully shielded from scenes of labor disputes and industrial strife and violence because they stimulate class hatreds, and cause youngsters to become anti-social.

Concrete Blocks Work for Trout

To provide both resting places and food producing riffles for trout in straight-dredged Downglac creek, Cass county, the conservation department is improving the stream with structures made of huge concrete blocks, two feet on an edge, weighing 1,200 pounds each. The block structures so defect the current as to make it dig deep pools, form quiet eddies over which log-booms will furnish added shelter, and create stretches of fast white water, where organisms on which trout feed thrive in abundance. Forty cents of each resident fishing license dollar is earmarked for such lake and stream improvements, and for purchase of other both for improvement and to assure public access.

Any Amateur Can Catch

Columbia River Salmon

It does not require an expert to catch salmon on the Columbia. It is pointed out by the Oregon State Highway commission. The Pacific salmon rarely feed, if ever, after entering fresh water on their way to the spawning grounds after three years at sea, but he will strike a spinner or wobbler. These are trolled from boats, and it's largely luck which determines who hooks into the biggest fish.

But while he does not eat in fresh water King Chinook is vicious and mean. Anything which he believes may thwart his determined trek to the gravel bar where he himself was spawned angers him thoroughly and he will fight it with all his fury. And once hooked he is far from beaten. With amazing strength and tenacity he will fight until he is half drowned before he can be brought to gaff.

Salmon fishing is almost a year around sport in Oregon streams. Running in different streams at different times the silver horde is in the rivers from February until the winter freshets in December. Somewhere there is nearly always good salmon fishing to be found in one or more Oregon rivers.

The Columbia river's commercial salmon industry amounts to around $10,000,000 a year. From it comes the world's finest canned and smoked salmon. By law nets are removed from the river from August 25 to September 10 each year, and during this period the sports fishermen have their field day at the mouth of the river where great schools of the fish congregate.

America is now vacation bound.

For the next few months, thousands upon thousands of automobiles will cross the country in all directions.

Here are a few tips to follow on your trip:

1. Watch the road, watch the other fellow, but chiefly watch yourself.
2. It's a lot better to take a little time being careful than to spend a lot of time being sorry.

3. Signal what you are going to do before you do it.

4. Stay on your side of the road.

5. Don't trust the other fellow; check on yourself first.

6. Your pleasure trip has no right to promote the other fellow's funeral trip.

Mastering Circumstances

BUSINESS men are constantly called upon to face conditions or circumstances which must be mastered if they are to be successful. To ignore them is to invite defeat and failure. Occasionally one hears it said that religion and business do not mix. This indicates a lack of understanding of what constitutes a successful business enterprise and of what true religion consists. The first three verses of the first Psalm give a recipe for attaining true success in whatever undertaking one may be engaged. Here we read: "Blessed is the man that walketh not in the counsel of the ungodly, nor stablisheth in the way of sinners, nor sitteth in the seat of the scornful. But his delight is in the law of the Lord; and in his law doth he meditate day and night. And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season; his leaf also shall not wither; and whatsoever he doeth shall prosper."

Thus one who would attain true success must not listen to the counsel of those who ignore God's laws and are therefore unqualified to give sound advice. Neither does he seek help of the dishonest and sinful; nor is he found in the company of the boastful and worldly wise. He looks alone to the one source of true wisdom, infinite Mind, God, for guidance in the solution of every problem. Turning to the Bible, which contains the statement of God's law, he finds therein valuable counsel which he puts to practical use in his daily activities. . . .

On page 254 of Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, Mary Baker Eddy makes a statement which, when understood in its spirit-

This meaning, removes the idea of a false sense of responsibility, with its attendant fear and worry. She says, "When we wait patiently on God and seek Truth-righteously. He directs our path." It is not to wait passively on God. Patience is not simply sitting down calmly and waiting for something to turn up, nor is it putting up with evil conditions and grudgingly bearing them. Patience is really the persistent expectancy of good. To seek Truth-righteously is to endeavor to learn God's plan and purpose for man. So, when we wait on God, persistently seeking only good; and through prayer endeavor to learn God's plan and purpose, the right human footsteps will surely be made plain to us. And it is not necessary for us to know today the human footsteps which may be necessary for us to take tomorrow.

The business man who is persistently seeking only good for his customers, for his employees, and for himself, and prays understandingly for divine guidance, may be sure that the right way will unfold to him and true success will be certain.

The one who is without remunerative employment may feel that the circumstances which which he is faced are beyond his control. While the immediate condition may have been brought about by events or circumstances which he could not foresee or prevent, the mastering of adverse circumstances is to be achieved within his own consciousness, with spiritualized thinking based on a right understanding of God. One may well begin to see the realization that his real business is to express or reflect God in his every thought and activity. Mrs. Eddy writes (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 307), "God gives you His spiritual ideas, and then, day by day, un-ple's." The message, then, of all true ideas or thoughts is infinite. Mind, God and as one turns with confidence to Him in fervent prayer for guidance, the right human footsteps will appear. Christ Jesus said (Matthew 6:33), "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and his righteousness; and all these things shall be added unto you." Just before Jesus gave utterance to this profound spiritual admonition he had been speaking of the ordinary human needs for food and clothing, so we may be sure that when we apply this rule intelligently in working out our human problems of em-employment, business, and supply, every need will be met.

Whatever the conditions or circumstances with which one may be faced, if one seeks first a right understanding of God and of man's spiritual relationship to Him, he may be sure that "whatsoever he doeth shall prosper."—The Christian Science Monitor.

housewife, when a feeble but boyish voice on the telephone complained that he had lost his father. "We'll find him for you, son," Moses replied. "Just don't get frightened. You go to the nearest man with a uniform and ask him to bring you here. We'll have some nice things for you to play with while we find your father, sonny."

"Sonny" the voice came back, tartly. "Don't give my any of that kid stuff. I'm old enough to find my way around. My father's 80 and I'm 82, so I don't need any young upstart of a cop." Everything turned out all right when the father came around later to report the loss of his son.

NOW A 5-DAY WEEK FOR A&P EMPLOYEES THROUGHOUT THE NATION

Stores Will Be Open Six Days A Week As Usual
But No Employee Will Work More Than Five Days

Two months ago this company tried the experiment in a few eastern states of a five-day work week for our retail store employees. Now we are able to announce that we have adopted the five-day week as our national policy.

• This, we believe, constitutes the first five-day week and the shortest general working hours of any major retail food establishment.

• This shorter work week will be in effect before Labor Day in A&P food stores in thousands of communities throughout the country. It will be extended as far and as fast as possible. Frankly, however, we must recognize that in a few states and a number of cities the introduction of this policy may be delayed or even prevented by state or local labor regulations or local agreements.

• A&P food store employees affected by this policy will work only five days a week although stores will be open six days a week as usual. Their weekly salaries will not be reduced by their shorter work week. Our policy is to continually improve working conditions and salaries as evidenced by the fact that during the past year alone we have been able to make actual wage increases and to pay added compensation to our employees in an amount totaling more than $4,000,000.

• Many people are utterly astounded at the new low prices for quality foods in A&P Super Markets. They are getting so much more and better food for the same money that they wonder how we can do it. Frankly, it is simply because A&P Super Markets represent a new, more efficient, more economical way of distributing food to the public.

• This new, shorter week is still further evidence that the tremendous savings you can now make in buying groceries, meats and fresh fruits and vegetables in the great, new A&P Super Markets are made possible by savings through efficiency and that no part of these savings comes out of the wages of our employees.

FOR many years it has been a source of pride to us that we have been able generally to maintain the highest average wage scale and the shortest general working hours in a field where long hours have been traditional. Since we first cut the work week eight hours in 1916, there has been a long record of further reduction in hours, increases in wages and vacation schedules.

Because our new low prices have resulted in increased patronage, we have been able to further reduce our operating expenses and increase our efficiency and still further improve the working conditions of our employees.

At the same time thousands of families will testify that they buy their foods today at lower average prices in A&P Super Markets than in any group of stores in the highly competitive retail food field. Today, when you spend a dollar in one of our stores, more of that dollar actually purchases food and less of it goes to cover distribution costs and profits than ever before in the history of the food business.

There is no conflict between low prices and good working conditions. We have achieved both by constantly improving methods of bringing food from producer to consumer, cutting out waste and unnecessary handling operations along the distribution route.

The new A&P Super Markets have made possible savings so astounding that we would not have believed them possible five years ago. This year we are paying the highest wages for the shortest work week in the history of the food business and yet our customers throughout the country will save more than $50,000,000 on the food they buy as compared to the lowest prices we could charge on the basis of our own operating expense only five years ago.

We are more than ever conscious, in these unusual times, of an obligation to make every possible contribution to the American standard of living. We know that we are making it possible for the average family to buy more good food for the same money, or to buy the same quantity of food for less money.

We are happy to tell you that you can enjoy these savings with the knowledge that the people who serve you in our retail stores are sharing more than ever before in these good things. This means a better standard of living for you and for those who serve you.

This plan will necessitate slight adjustments in store hours which will be announced locally. We respectfully ask our customers for their cooperation and assistance in making this new schedule a success.
