The Alien Problem

By Ruth Taylor

The alien problem has raised its ugly head again. With the increasing tension, men are looking suspiciously at their neighbors, wondering if those who bear foreign names or speak with an accent different to their own, are loyal to this government of ours. In the hurry of things we frequently do not stop to differentiate between the good and bad. We too often argue from effect to cause, not from cause to effect.

Certainly there are subversive alien elements in our midst. And when we come across them we have a definite duty—that of reporting them to the proper Federal authority. But these are only a small proportion of those of foreign blood among us.

After all, when we get right down to it, we are all of us immigrant-born. I know I am. My father's fathers had one of the earliest of the Pennsylvania grants, shortly after Penn. they were immigrants. My mother's mothers' people were early settlers in the Shenandoah Valley when that was the farthest outpost, devastated regularly by the Indian raids—they were immigrants. My mother's fathers were sturdy Scotch Presbyterians who crossed the seas to Canada in the trek for liberty of conscience—they were immigrants. My father's mothers' people came from Germany long before Forty-Eight, after a political upheaval—they were immigrants. And so am I, though I was born here, as truly an immigrant as the newest arrival to our shores.

This country has been built on and by immigrants. They have given of their history, their minds, their hearts, their lives, and their talents to this country of their choice. It is for us who can call ourselves Americans because of the accident of birth to do as our fathers did before us, hold out the hand of welcome to these Americans by adoption, and make them feel at home. Don't condemn without good reason, nor discriminate against them. Give them the privilege of joining in and working for the good of this nation.

Whether or not they are disappointed in this country depends on each and every one of us. If we live up to the principles which we claim govern America, if we show that democracy is a living faith and that freedom is workable, we can sell them the creed by which we live and gain their complete loyalty to American ideals. The alien problem is our—and your problem—and it is up to us (and that includes you) to solve it.

24 Years Ago

Thursday, August 2, 1917

Mrs. Sylvia A. Collins, died on Sunday, July 29, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Geo. A. Runciman of Sylvan.

The storm Wednesday afternoon in some localities leveled the corn and oats as thoroughly as though a roller had passed over them.

The barn on the Emory Chipman farm in Lima burned on Monday afternoon. The fire was caused by sparks from a passing threshing engine.

Mrs. Wm. Secord of Unadilla died on Tuesday, July 31, of lockjaw. Mrs. Secord stepped on a rusty nail a few days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Dunkel have moved into their new home on the corner of Main and Summit streets.

W. F. Eschelbach died at his home in Freedom township on Tuesday, July 31, 1917.

Monday was the warmest day of the season, the thermometer registering 98.

The county exemption board is in session at Ann Arbor. Out of the first 15 called and were given the physical examination, five were rejected.

34 Years Ago

Dr. Verne Riemenschneider left for Three Rivers this morning, where he will open a dental office.

The fine row of maple trees along the front of the E. S. Spaulding farm were planted 34 years ago this spring by Wm. Denman of Chelsea, and George Moore, who at that time resided on the farm.

D. C. McLaren and his auto party returned from their trip last Saturday, having covered a distance of about 500 miles without a single mishap.

The barn of Elmer Weinberg was partially destroyed by fire Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. S. A. Barlow, a former well-known Chelsea resident, died in Sewickley, Pa. on Tuesday, July 30. Funeral services and burial were held in Chelsea this morning.

Mrs. Emory Chipman of Lima died on Wednesday, July 31, 1907.

Children In Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield

Does Crime Pay?

Judges throughout the country are well aware of the fact that many youthful, as well as adult criminals, successfully evade detection. These persons usually possess nimble, alert minds, and an uncanny ability for organization. One such individual was able to organize a series of ventures which were reputed to have netted him an income of approximately $75,000 a day. Numerous law enforcing officials, making cursory investigations of this particular phase of the problem, have learned that a highly intelligent individual, with no financial or social connections, can frequently make rapid advances in the field of crime. Upon further investigation, these have "discovered" that such persons believe that to be successful in business today, it is not always what you know but whom you know that makes possible the large dividend. Furthermore, the highly intelligent criminal no longer is impressed by the time-worn belief that "crime doesn't pay." The four million criminals who are preying upon society today know that crime is exceedingly profitable, and that the chances are about twenty to one that the clever thief will never be apprehended.

It is worthy of our consideration to discuss the ideals which motivate the millions of individuals who are today operating outside the dictates of the law. Can it be that certain of these persons acknowledge and adhere to a philosophy which admits that to succeed in business it is essential to have a "pull"? If this is true, would it not be a wise policy for our great corporations to insist that promotion goes to the individual who can produce, rather than to the social butterfly who achieves an important post merely because of intimate social relationship with someone who controls the voting power of a large block of common stock?

Understanding His Sentence

A boy who had been searching his mind in court for some ways and means of escaping the probability of being sent to the reform school, was surprised to hear the judge say: "Suppose you were the judge and I had made an error but realized my mistake, would you be inclined to permit me to go free?"

The youngster thought for a few minutes before replying. Finally he said, "If I were the judge—in this case, I would let you go free, but would make you do certain things until school is out next spring."

When the judge inquired what those certain things were, the boy answered, "You would have to be a good boy in school, make a C average in your studies, obey your parents and go to church."

That was the sentence the judge imposed on him; the boy diligently lived up to the requirements.

Slats' Diary

Sunday—Are family was a going out in the country for dinner at Ma's bridge friends sisters house. We was foolish enough to take Jake and Blister with us and the both of them made pigs out of themselves eating 2 mutch. They were off on the fride chicken but I was ashamed when they lit into the pie and ice cream and cake and etc. But we had em with us and they was no way to stop em. Or I didnt know of none.

Monday—The both of them got sick this a. m. and haft to have a Dr. Wich sed it lookt like indyjeschen to him but guest it couldnt be becous there Mas sed they haddent eat hardly nothing for breakfast. There Mas didnt know nothing about how they preformed yesterday noon. Or the green appels they et in the p. m. after noon.

Tuesday—Pa and Unkel Hen went to a stag partie last evening and got home at 2 a. m. Ma and Ant Emmy lockt the doers and ast them what do they want here when they arrived. They sed they wanted to spend the night here so our wimmern flang them a couple pilloes and sed. Well get started to spending it then. So they alep on the porch. If any.

Wednesday—Me and Jane have made up with she does all the time. So at the sochel this evening where 15c gets you ice cream and cake I found out she had been served and ast her to have 1 on me. I wasent much seprized when she xcepted but hoped she woodnt. So where are my 30c now.

Thursday—Fell out with her agen and am done with dames of all seckes. She cum over to are house and I shode her a pitcher of me a settin on Pa's knee when I were only 6 yrs. old age. Oh she sed so your father ust to be a ventrillikeat. It reely made me sore and I am threw.

Friday—Me and Jake and Blister is a going to take a fote down the crick for 3 wks. and have saved up are money for xpenses. We got 43c. Jake ernt 25c passing bills and Blister made 15c moon a lon. I ernt 3c when the groserie clerk gimme back 2 mutch change. So all we need now is a bote and a tent and a few groserys and etc.

Saturday—The fote trip have been called off. We found out we will be gone the 4th of July and they woodnt be no fire crackers whair we are at. And neether no fire works and etc. And then maybe we get a better bote and tent and more groserys some other time. We dissided at a conrents to let it go till after the 4th. But I wander whair are 43c will be then.

Lightning Has Not Destroyed Forests
S. B. Shaw, regional forester of the United States forest service for California, on "The Role of Fire in Western Forests" explained why natural fires started by lightning for thousands—or millions—of years had not wiped out the tree cover of California mountain areas. Fire, the speaker said, is pretty bad, but like all destructive elements, it fights a losing battle in a world where life is in the ascendant as it is on earth today. For instance, in a forest cleared by fire or washed by rains, young growth is stimulated by unshadowed sunshine and a fertilizing layer of the ashes of burned trees.

Old Magazine Predicted

Terrible Warfare in 1938

"Terrible explosions," wrote Arthur B. Reeve, "will rend huge, jagged holes in the earth; tons of metal will crash suddenly from the clear blue sky."

The year was 1908, and Reeve was writing a magazine article on "Newest Man-killing Devices and the Warless Age."

Among the devices, he said, would be aerial torpedoes, anti-aircraft guns, mine-laying motorcycles, electric artillery.

"This," he declared, "is war—war in 1938."

The prophetic article, which appeared in the November, 1908, issue of Hampton's Broadway magazine, has been brought to light by J. N. Farrar, a salesman who discovered the issue in a collection of old periodicals.

Some of Reeve's predictions for the 1938 war:

Dirigibles advancing under the protection of manufactured clouds.

Spectroscopes used to detect presence of aerial gases.

Tiny submarines which would be launched from battleships.

Describing a battle scene—in the war of 1938—where "a constant rain of steel bullets whips about everything that moves," Reeve wrote:

"Nothing can be seen in that valley of death except effects; the causes are hidden with all the ingenuity of which the human brain is capable."

"Everything is tense with a nerve-racking suspense such as ancient warfare never knew. Heroism has taken on a new meaning; it consists in being here at all."

Styles That Irritate

And Climax in Divorce

Husbands and wives can hurdle a crisis, pick themselves up and be on their own united way. But it's the little things that irritate to the breaking point. They may seem inconsequential at first, but daily repetition of annoying habits frequently lead husband or wife to confess, "I want a divorce."

There's the fellow who was probably a star halfback at college. Right now he follows the old Indian custom of letting his wife walk five paces behind him, never holds a door for her, and always lets her carry the groceries.

There's the sloppy woman, her house usually in a mess, ash trays flowing over, and never a clean towel in the bathroom.

Then there's the energetic male who is always going to do great things, gets up early Sunday morning and fools around under the car until wife calls breakfast. After breakfast he retires to the living room and lounges in her best chair, eventually dropping ashes on the new rug.

And that frivolous female whose feelings are easily hurt. She can't make up her own mind about anything. Wants to be pampered.

The Battle of the Sexes starts from just such annoyances as these. You can probably think of many others. Like the energetic wife who won't let her husband relax, and the rover boy who never knows when to come home. But stop. Check your own marital habits against these minor irritations before the light of your life starts mumbling something about "I want a divorce."

Liquid Saves Hosiery

To make sure you get the most out of your stocking budget, try carrying a certain little tube of stocking-saver in your bag. Its name is Run-R-Stop and it's a godsend to every woman who's had the annoyance of sprouting a run in her best (or even second-best) hose, either in a public place, where it's embarrassing—or at home where she's dressing against time.

To apply this quick-drying, convenient preventive, just squeeze a drop on the damaged spot. If it's a run, seal the ends with the fluid; if it's a snag, be sure to catch all the loose threads. Tests have shown Run-R-Stop to be just as effective on Nylons as on silks.

First Church Introducing Chanting
The honor of being the first church to introduce chanting into this country is divided between Christ church, Philadelphia, and the church in Marblehead, Mass., where it was first introduced in 1787. The popularization of chanting was the work of the Rev. William Smith, a Connecticut clergyman. The first Sunday School in New York was started in 1803 by Mr. and Mrs. Divie Bethune and Mrs. Isabella Graham. In 1809 the movement reached the West with the founding of a Sunday school in Pittsburgh.

University Gets Ancient Manuscript
Yale university has been given a musical manuscript written in 1470. The donor was Paul Mellon of Pittsburgh. The manuscript was written for the court of St. Charles the Bold and contains 87 compositions in five languages. It was lost for about 500 years. It is designated by the French name, "chansonnerie" and is initialed and bordered in gold, crimson and blue. Three of the languages are in English, establishing Great Britain's influence on the music of the continent. Fourteen original pieces are included in one of them, "L'Homme Arme," has been sought for almost a century.

Our Neighbors

GRASS LAKE—On Sunday, July 20, the St. Jacob's Evangelical Lutheran church of Waterloo observed the 100th anniversary of its founding. St. Jacob's church was established in 1841 by the Rev. Frederick Schmid, the pioneer missionary of the Lutheran church in Michigan, who was sent to Ann Arbor in 1838. Once every three or four weeks on week-days he came here from Ann Arbor to preach. He did so until 1858 when a resident pastor was called by the local congregation. The early Lutheran settlers in Waterloo held their religious services in a log house in Trist. They then moved to the old church that stood at the cross road to Trist, some two miles from the present location. In 1858 the movable property was taken to the present site where the present church was built on land presented to the congregation by Jacob Harr. Since that time this has been the permanent place of worship of St. Jacob's congregation.—News.

MILAN—That it pays to be a good neighbor and a useful member of society in your own community is well demonstrated by the 30 day furlough granted Pvt. Johnnie Prochaska of Azalia. He is stationed at Fort Sheridan, Ill., and was quite surprised when released for this period. A letter written and signed by 57 of his neighbors read: "Please permit Private Prochaska to return home. The grain now is ripening and he is the only one in these parts who can run a threshing machine." Brig. Gen. John L. Homer, commandant of that post, announced that a special order had been issued granting the soldier a 30 day furlough so that he could work in the fields and also that if he is needed again in the autumn he can have two weeks more.—Leader.

STOCKBRIDGE—M-92, the road north of Stockbridge, is under construction. Workmen began work last week. There is a lot of work to be done as the road bed has to be built up. It was so low in places last spring that on parts of the road water seeped through and many cars were stalled. It has been reported that on the lower ground the road bed is to receive eighteen inches of new gravel. The road is to be 120 feet wide which will mean most of the trees, brush and telephone poles and possibly two houses may also be removed. The road is an experimental road and is of cement construction. It seems that the road bed is built up from a clay on red soil rolled and packed down with sheep-foot rollers, later the gravel and cement are put together and mixed with much dragging and grading, and later, when well mixed, is applied and dragged down and at last rolled with a heavy roller similar to those used in making blacktop roads.—Brief-Sun.

PLYMOUTH—Never again will the farmers of southern Oakland, Washenaw and Wayne counties hear the mighty voice of one of the Lovewell clan of South Lyon calling for bids at an auction. The last auctioneer of the family passed into eternity a few days ago when death terminated the activities of Lloyd W. Lovewell of South Lyon. For more than one hundred years the Lovewell family provided the wool buyers and the auctioneers for that substantial farming section of Michigan. Lloyd was a lad of barely 16 summers when he became a wool buyer and started to help his father, Lucian Dewey Lovewell, in conducting auction sales. The famed Admiral Dewey, of the U. S. navy, was a cousin of his mother.—Mail.

Flying Mammal

Officials of the Smithsonian Institution in Washington say that although bats generally fly around in the dark, they are perfectly capable of seeing and flying in daylight without being dazzled. It is believed by many scientists that they "hear" their way through blackness. They are the only mammals capable of true flight.

Tree Rings Denote Age

The long-established belief that the number of rings in a tree trunk denotes the age of the tree, seems to be exploded by Professor Emmanuel Fritz of the University of California. According to the professor, redwood trees, inspected by him, gave a higher ring count at the upper point than at the butt of the tree.

Lansing—Five little girls—Yvonne, Marie, Annette, Cecile and Emilie—are Canada's greatest tourist attraction. They are also an indirect benefit to Michigan.

This latter fact dawned upon us rather belatedly after we had returned from a weeks' escorted tour of Ontario scenic points with American editors from seven other states. For this reason Michigan has a peculiar interest in the world famous quint of Callendar.

The vogue for "circle tours" is chiefly responsible. The modern automobile gypsy, possessed with a passion for mileage, has revolutionized traveling customs. What our ancestors would regard as an "expedition," fraught with numerous uncertainties and tribulations, is today regarded as little else than a week-end jaunt.

Good highways and dependable automobiles make it possible for Michigan people to swing around to North Bay, neighboring city to Callendar, Ontario, by way of Sault Ste. Marie.

Town the Quints Built

Until a country doctor, Dr. Allen Roy Dafeo, brought the five little girls into the world just seven years ago last May, North Bay was a mere trading center in north Ontario; Callendar was just another spot on the map.

As every newspaper editor well knows, we are interested in ourselves more so than anything else. Every mother and every father who visit Callendar and who see Ontario's five little sweethearts have a personal interest in these children. Instead of having French names, the quintuplets might have been given other names—

Like finding a gold mine or striking a rich oil field, Mother Nature chose a cross-road corner by the name of Corbell, just outside the village of Callendar, for Canada's No. 1 tourist magnet. Douglas Oliver who heads the Ontario Travel and Publicity bureau estimates that approximately 250,000 persons traveled to Callendar last year to see the quint.

Million-Dollar Babies
By courtesy of Keith Munro, business manager of the quint, our party was accorded the rare privilege of a private showing of the Dionnes, the fifth since their birth, and a meeting with Dr. Dafeo.

The girls live in a cottage-like house, surrounded with a tall steel fence and guarded constantly by watchmen. Other members of the family reside outside, but they have access to the cottage at all times.

From 10 to 10:30 a. m. and from 3 to 3:30 p. m. each day the children go outside to romp, while visitors watch them from small glass windows in a four-sided wall that encloses the playground. Cameras are forbidden, as the King Features syndicate and the Newspaper Enterprise Association have exclusive rights for all photographs. From revenue of tourist admissions and their contracts, the quintuplets now have approximately $1,000,000 in investments.

They not only look like a million, but they're actually worth it!

They Sing in French
The five little girls, each dressed identically in blue even to their hair ribbons, emerged from the cottage, accompanied by two nurses.

Dr. Dafeo was asked to identify them. He smiled and declined.

"I frequently get them mixed up myself," he said.

However, the Quints themselves came to the rescue each bowing, demurely and announcing her name. Natural and unspoiled, the children sang a number of French songs, executed an old-fashioned dance and rendered "Oh Canada."

They concluded with "There'll Always Be an England" but after singing two lines they became a bit confused with the words and finally gave it up. It was then that H. A. MacLennan of Hamilton, president of the Hotel Association of Canada, put us "on the spot" by suggesting that we play the accompaniment on a miniature foot-organ.

We had heard the song only twice before, but arose to the occasion gallantly as best we could. And thus it was that a Michigan newspaperman became the first person to accompany the French-speaking Quints of Canada in singing a British song.

Canadian Contrasts
Sale of beer and wine by the glass is restricted in Ontario to licensed hotels, and this governmental action has been a blessing to the tourist industry.

In all towns, large and small, you will find splendid, modern hotels. Room rates are reasonable. Food prices are about the same as they are in Michigan. The Royal York, the dominion's largest hotel, is owned and operated by the Canadian Pacific railroad, while Ottawa's famous Chateau Laurier is operated by the Canadian National Railroad, a government-owned agency. Canada accepts public ownership of its largest hotels as a matter of fact.

Because of long distances, highway development has been slow. Yet the roads are kept up in good condition. However, Canada today does not have a transcontinental route.

Gasoline and oil restrictions limit purchases from 7 a. m. to 7 p. m. and none at all on Sundays. No passports are required at the border, only personal identification and an automobile license card being necessary.

Travel Boom Is On
From a recent visit into Northern Michigan and the Upper Peninsula, we are convinced that the travel season this year has almost reached the proportion of a "boom."

While the demand for cottages in some sections is not up to expectation, the hotels and overnight cabins are doing a thriving business.

Traverse City, for example, is having a record year. Its 1941 Cherry Festival, nearly rained and frozen out by November weather, attracted a tremendous throng. Petoskey and Harbor Springs merchants are happy. Mackinac Island and Sault Ste. Marie are receiving throngs.

Tourist towns along Route 27 from Lansing to Mackinaw City are enjoying a marked increase in business over last year. Upper Peninsula's cool climate is pulling thousands to resorts from Ironwood to Menominee and St. Ignace.

Warm weather and general prosperity are partly responsible. Another reason is a conviction of many persons that this summer may be the last one in a good many years when they can do exactly as they wish.

Secretary of the Interior Harold Ickes continues to fret about the probability of gasoline rations. Two weeks ago the Association of American Railroads requested roads in the Southeast to eliminate all excursions in order to facilitate troop movements. Compulsory deductions for defense saving bonds, plus a stiff federal tax on middle-class incomes, would put a serious crimp into 1942 vacations. And so it goes. Result: Increased travel this summer.

We're Travel Minded

For many years the Canadians were good customers of Michigan. They enjoyed coming to our state. They spent their money here freely.

Today, because of the imperative need for American dollars to help pay for a $1,000,000,000 purchase of American munitions in 1941, Canadians are restricted from travel abroad. They can't subscribe to American newspapers or magazines. No order of the foreign-exchange board at Ottawa ever aroused more resentment and disapproval.

And so while Canadians do not visit American resorts, more Americans are visiting Canada this summer than ever before—unless the gasoline restrictions frighten those who are timid. It is a safe bet that Michigan is going to receive a benefit from the world renown of the five little girls at Callendar. While we are selfish about our own resort industry, we generously acclaim Canada's attractions in a neighborly and friendly spirit—especially Yvonne, Marie, Annette, Cecile and Emilie.

Defense Labor Demands-Hurry Fair Preparations

Detroit, July 30.—Maintenance work and new building on the Michigan State Fair Grounds is nearing completion although a month remains before the ninety-second annual State Fair is scheduled to open August 27. General Manager Bernard J. Youngblood reports.

Forty-five carpenters, laborers and electricians have been at work for the last three weeks, Youngblood said, and now are engaged in putting the finishing touches on the exhibition buildings and grounds.

"So far as the plant is concerned we could open next week," Youngblood said. "The early start had two purposes. One was to get the work done while skilled labor was still available without taking the men from national defense work. The second purpose was to be absolutely certain that when the gates open to the public on August 27 the Fair will be ready down to the last dab of paint. This year the Fair will be ready when the public is ready—there will be no last minute construction or maintenance work to spoil the show."

Work has been under the supervision of Jack Jones, building and grounds superintendent. All buildings have been washed and the cattle and agricultural buildings are awaiting disinfection.

In the Coliseum two giant stages comprising 1,800 square feet have been erected for the streamlined super-circus which will appear in that building during the Fair.

A new lighting system has been installed over the entire grounds and lawns have been reconditioned. In the race track infield where a world's championship Rodeo will be held, workers will erect 20 rodeo chutes—10 more than were needed for last year's Rodeo.

This year's Fair has been designated as the first Defense Fair in the United States, symbolizing the ideal tie-up in Michigan between industry and agriculture as the two basic qualities of National Defense.

Spreading Viper.
The habit of the hogsnake, or "spreading viper," of spreading its head flat, in the manner of the cobra, when alarmed, has given it a reputation as the deadliest snake in the United States, next to the rattler. An article in the magazine Natural History, however, reveals that this snake is entirely harmless.

Governor's Daughters Start Retail Store Defense Stamp Drive

LANSING (Special)—Ellen and Jo Ann, are pictured above with their father, Michigan's Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner, purchasing U. S. Defense Savings Stamps at a retail store. According to Frank N. Isbey, Chairman of Michigan's Defense Savings Committee, Defense Savings Stamps went on sale in 50,000 Michigan retail stores, July 10.

How often have you read this in the paper, "DEAD ON ARRIVAL?"

That can be avoided. I wrote some rather sharp comments on the Fourth of July behavior of some of our automobile drivers, but I still feel justified for making them. It is difficult to call some of our drivers "dumb-bells," but in reality that is just exactly the term they deserve for the bad habits they exhibit when driving an automobile. Probably my comments were too severe; however, I hope that the readers who believe they were will write me.

Sometimes it takes a shock to bring people to their senses about their responsibility when they sit behind the wheel.

"It's smart to be careful!"

Legion Convention Plans Are Completed

All plans and details for the 23rd annual convention of the Department of Michigan American Legion were completed this week according to George Kramble, general chairman of the convention corporation. The convention will be held in Grand Rapids on August 9-12 inclusive and pre-registration of Legion members indicates the largest attendance of all meetings held in Michigan. Committee chairmen and members of the various committees have been hard at work for over three months, completing necessary arrangements for entertaining their "Buddies" during the four days of important sessions.

Official opening of Department Headquarters, under the direction of Department Commander A. C. Futtres, will take place at 8 a. m. Saturday, Aug. 9. At the same time the registration and housing offices and headquarters will be opened. Both offices will be in the Civic Auditorium. Housing accommodations are set up for an attendance of over 7000 Legionnaires and their families. One of the many highlighted features of Saturday night will be the Forty & Eight parade to be held in downtown Grand Rapids at 11 p. m. The ladies of the Forty & Eight will hold their annual convention dinner in the Rhine Hotel at 7:30 p. m. The convention will get under way officially at 10 a. m. Sunday morning with Rev. Captain Wm. C. Davis, Department Chaplain, as the principal speaker. Rev. Davis will deliver the memorial address honoring departed Legion and Auxiliary members.

Another outstanding feature of the convention will be the Sunday afternoon and evening exhibition and competition drills of Drum and Bugle Corps and Bands to be held at Houseman Field. The afternoon meet has been scheduled for 2 p. m. The evening meet will start promptly at 6 p. m. Afternoon exhibition will include Legion Drum & Bugle Corps and Bands, Ladies' Drum and Bugle Corps, and Sons of the American Drum and Bugle Corps and Bands. Evening competition will be made up of all senior class A Drum & Bugle Corps who will compete for $2000 in prizes with a top prize of $550. The organizations will come from all parts of Michigan. Last year's first prize went to the Cook-Nelson Post of Pontiac. Both meets will be open to the public and a small admission will be charged. Business sessions will be held starting Monday morning and the big annual convention parade will start at 2:30 p. m. Monday; it is expected that the parade will consume more than three hours of marching time.

Comrades and Auxiliary members going to Grand Rapids for the convention will find a city that has everything the ideal convention city should have plus the hospitality that has been extended to all of the largest national meetings.

Sun 'Hard-Bolls' Eggs
Alabama's heat wave had other than human casualties last summer. Mrs. Z. L. Clayton of Boaz, Ala., reported that eggs she gathered from a bird's nest had been "hard-bolled" by the sun.

NYA Baseball Tourney To Be Held In Lansing

Lansing—The Junior Chamber of Commerce board of directors announced recently that it will sponsor for the second consecutive year the state NYA Junior baseball tournament to be held here August 17 through August 22.

This announcement was made by R. M. Reames, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce. For the second year, the Youth Welfare Committee of the Junior chamber will handle the details of feeding and providing quarters for the young baseball players who come to Lansing to compete for state honors. Harris K. Miller, Michigan State college, is chairman of the committee.

Eight teams will compete in the state tournament. The state is divided into eight districts, where tournaments will be earlier in the month. The district winners will meet in Lansing to decide the state championship. County leagues are divided into districts as follows:

District One—Berrien, Cass, Van Buren, Kalamazoo, Branch and St. Joseph counties.
District Two—Huron, Tuscola, Bay and Midland counties.

District Three—Allegan, Barry, Kent and Newaygo counties.
District Four—Sanilac, St. Clair, Lapeer, Macomb, Genesee and North Oakland counties.

District Five—Ingham, Livingston, Gratiot, Shiawassee, Jackson and Calhoun counties.
District Six—Wayne, West Washtenaw, Monroe, East Washtenaw counties and Farmington and Ferndale.

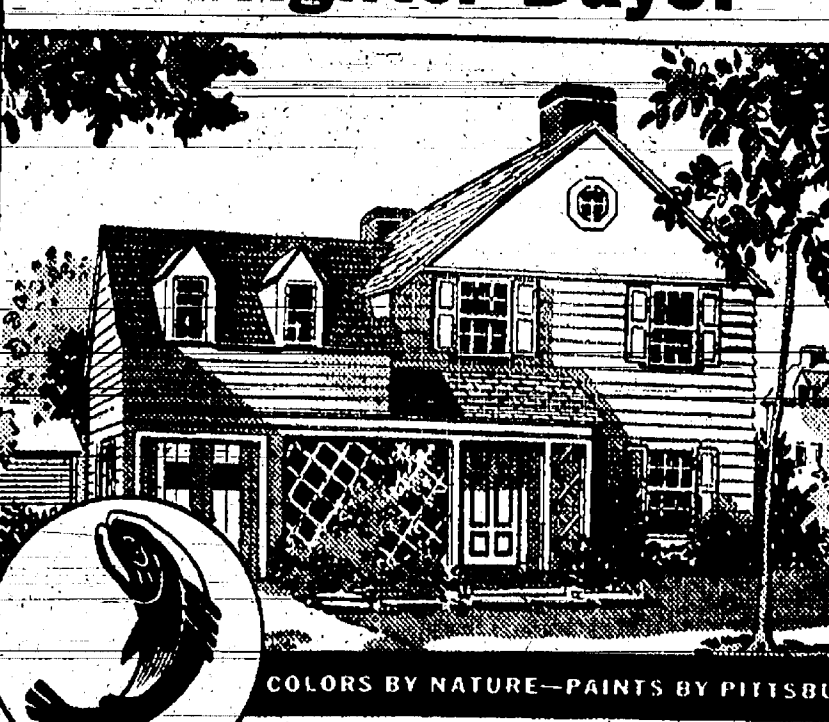

District Seven—North and South Hillsdale and East and West Lenawee counties.

District Eight—Northwestern Michigan. Arrangements are being made for the playoff.

Sites of the district tournaments will be announced later.

Love Bug Hit Napoleon
The love bug hit Napoleon in a big way when he became infatuated with the 16-year-old daughter of a rich Marseilles banker, Desires Clary. When the family turned him down, he wrote letters threatening to commit suicide and fumed like a cobra. She finally married, some years later, one of Nap's generals, whom he generously set up as king of Sweden and his fair Desires reigned as queen of that land.

Francisco

Mrs. Stanley Binkowski entertained Chelsea friends one day recently. Mrs. Walter Gardner, accompanied by Mrs. Albert Bachman, went to Skeels, Gladwin county, last week to visit Mrs. Gardner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Uhl. On their return they brought Evelyn and Roy John, who had spent a couple of weeks there, also Mr. Gardner's niece. The Grass Lake fire department was called to the Herman Bohne farm one day last week to put out a grass fire that threatened to reach the grain stacks. A passing train set the grass on fire, and on the same day a small patch of hay was burned on the Cadwell farm, also caused by a passing train. Mrs. Lawrence Hill and daughter, Miss Ethel, of Manchester, spent an afternoon recently with Mrs. Stanley Binkowski. Several from here went to help, if they could, to extinguish the Clarence Eschbach barn fire. But it was too far gone by the time help arrived. Mrs. Charles Wakeman, who has been ill for some time, was taken to Mercy hospital in Jackson on Saturday evening. X-rays disclosed an abscess on one of her lungs. It is hoped she will soon be much improved. Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Bohke returned Sunday evening from a five-day vacation in northern Michigan. Part of their stay was above the Straits.

Paralysis Defense
Must Start In Home

Michigan's defense against infantile paralysis this summer must begin in the home, says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner. "Parents everywhere must remember that August is the month when polio cases usually rise toward a peak," says Dr. Moyer. "As yet, we are not able to control outbreaks, but we can prevent much of the crippling effects of infantile paralysis by prompt medical care. "Hot weather is polio weather, and parents should be on guard for the first symptoms of the disease. Fever, vomiting, pain or stiffness in the neck—these are common signs of polio. The physician should be called at once. So far this summer, polio has shown no sign of a big upswing, but this cannot be taken as indicating that there will be only a moderate number of cases this year. Polio moves rapidly as it did in last year's outbreak when a record number of cases developed after only 28 cases had been reported in July. Three hundred cases were reported in August last and 500 in September. In the first three weeks of July this year, 20 cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the State Health Department. "Many communities had polio last year, and especially in these areas both parents and physicians will be on the watch for the first suspicious signs of the disease," said Dr. Moyer. "Parents must be alert in order to get medical attention for their children when they need it most—in the early stages of the disease. Rest and splinting at the beginning will largely prevent crippling after effects of polio. Last year's epidemic totaled 1,228 cases, slightly larger than the 1931 record of 1,137 cases. The Upper Peninsula felt the heaviest weight of the 1940 epidemic. The case rate there was 115 cases per 100,000 population as compared with 24 for the Lower Peninsula. There were 27 Upper Peninsula deaths and 44 in the Lower Peninsula.

CELEBRATES 96TH BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Adella Keusch attained her 96th birthday on Thursday of last week, the noonday luncheon celebrating the event being attended only by members of her immediate family. A pink and white birthday cake with 96 miniature candles formed the table centerpiece. Covers were laid for her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Edw. Keusch, her daughter, Miss Ida Keusch, and her grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Keusch of Cavanaugh lake, and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Weber and son of Battle Creek. She received many gifts and cards. Mrs. Keusch has been a resident of Chelsea for 60 years. She was born in Reidselz, Alsace-Lorraine, coming to America when two years of age with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Staffan. The family resided in London township before coming to Chelsea.

North Francisco

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Walz of Chelsea and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Henon spent the week-end near Clare, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Helridge. Other guests included Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Horvath and son of Saginaw. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Spry and son Kenneth and daughter Carol of Detroit, Mrs. Wolfe of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. J. Mitchell Reid of Dearborn were Sunday afternoon callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Erle Notten. Mr. and Mrs. Walter Herman and son of Jackson spent Saturday evening at the Erle Notten home. Sunday afternoon callers at the Herbert Haney home were Mr. and Mrs. Millard Haney and daughter and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Haschle and son and Mr. Brower from Detroit. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Harvey were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gage. Doris Sager was in Jackson on Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Erle Notten were in Jackson on Thursday. Mr. and Mrs. Will Havens, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Schelenberger and son of Lake Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. John Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Roy D. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Riemen-schneider were Sunday dinner guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Peterson. Mrs. Frank Moore spent several days last week with her daughter, Mrs. Florence Fauser. Mr. and Mrs. Keith Harvey and family called at the Harvey home on Saturday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Loveland and Mr. and Mrs. Dillman Wahl and daughter have returned home from their northern trip. They report a very fine trip. Ed. Loveland of Battle Creek is spending some time at the Loveland home.

AN APOLOGY
The American Legion wishes to apologize to the public for the fact that the "Sky Man" free act did not appear at the carnival last week. They were advised at four o'clock Thursday afternoon that this act would be unable to appear here because of broken equipment. The Fisher & Graham trapeze act appeared on the scene and took over the free act entertainment, and was an excellent substitute. The lack of announcement concerning the balloon ascension on Thursday and Friday evenings was due to the fact that it was not known until 1 o'clock Thursday that the balloon act would be here. This event was partially financed by local business men.

BAHNMILLER REUNION

Lansing, Ann Arbor, Manchester and Chelsea and vicinity were represented at the annual Bahnmillier reunion, held on Sunday at Dexter-Huron Park. The pot-luck dinner was followed by a business meeting, at which officers and committees were chosen as follows:

President—Gottlieb Bahnmillier.
Vice President—Elmer Weinberg.
Secretary-Treasurer—Mrs. Clarence Nicolai.
Table Com.—Mrs. Louis Kuhl, Mrs. E. J. Weinberg, Mrs. Oscar Eschelbach.
Sports Com.—Mrs. William Bahnmillier, Jr., Mrs. Gertrude Loeffler, Clarence Nicolai.
Mrs. Adeline Eschelbach and Chas. Grieb were honored as the oldest members present, while Norman Loeffler was the youngest. The 1942 reunion will be held at the same place.

Schedule

Thursday, July 31—Chelsea Spring vs. Federal Screw.

Monday, Aug. 4—Hankerd Hi-Speed vs. Cassidy Lake Faculty.

Tuesday, Aug. 5—Spaulding Chevrolet vs. Chelsea Spring; CCC vs. Kimunity.

Very important managers' meeting this coming Monday night, Aug. 4, right after the ball game at the school. Be there!

Standings

	W	L	Pct.
Chelsea Spring	8	3	.727
Spaulding Chevrolet	8	4	.666
Hankerd's Hi-Speed	7	4	.636
Federal Screw	6	4	.600
CCC	6	6	.500
Cassidy Lake Fac.	5	5	.500
Central Fibre	4	7	.363
Kimunity	2	10	.166

Last week's paper contained a credited win to Federal Screw over Hankerd's Hi-Speed which was in reality the other way around. Hankerd's Hi-Speed defeated Federal Screw by the score of 5 to 1.

Last Thursday night Kimunity took the field and quite a ball game followed but Central Fibre ended up on top.

Monday night the Central Fibre-Cassidy Lake Fac. game was postponed but Federal Screw and Kimunity played off their postponed game, in which Kimunity lost by one run. Kimunity seems to be picking up again after their slowdown in mid-season. They're playing some very good ball. Jerry brought three bats, thus giving Kimunity a little equipment of their own to use.

Tuesday night Hankerd's Hi-Speed defeated Kimunity by three runs after a closely contested ball game. Kimunity had part of their old team on the field and almost put Hankerd's boys on the losing end. While this game was in progress Spaulding Chevrolet was defeating CCC to put the camp boys out of the playoffs.

Coke Lanning, pitching for Spaulding Chevrolet, pitched the first no-hit, no-run game in the two-year history of this league—and against an outfit like the CCC team, that's something.

This week's prediction—Chelsea Spring will defeat Federal Screw; the game between Hankerd Hi-Speed and Cassidy Lake Faculty will be close but the teachers will win; Spaulding Chevrolet will defeat Chelsea Spring (I hope) and Kimunity will lose to CCC.

Further predictions—any one of these first three games will be a close, hard contested game and at least one upset can be expected.

Apology (if in order)—There is a rumor that Jerry Niehaus only furnished one bat and that Kimunity actually had the other two. If so, I apologize quite humbly.

P. S.—But Federal Screw furnished the balls.

HONORS RECENT BRIDE

Miss Catherine Barber gave a linen shower last Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Paul Boyce, a recent bride. Cootie furnished the diversion of the evening and four tables were in play. High score was held by Mrs. Elden Harris of Ann Arbor and low score by Miss Virginia Hummel. At intervals throughout the evening alarm clocks rang, giving the signal for the quest of honor to hunt for the many lovely gifts she received. Clusters of blue and white balloons decorated the rooms and the dining table was centered with a wedding cake. Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

PARKER REUNION

Forty members were present at the Parker reunion which was held on Sunday at E. J. Parker's grove, Lima township, coming from Ulica, Detroit and Ann Arbor. E. J. Parker was elected president and Miss Grace Parker of Ann Arbor, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Carrie Parker, 78, of Ann Arbor was the oldest member attending, and Stanley Parker of Scio township, two years old, was the youngest. The next reunion will be held at the same place.

DEXTER YOUNGSTER DROWNS

Janet Leone, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Agan of Dexter, was drowned Tuesday afternoon when she fell into a swimming pool at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Steinbach, on the outskirts of the village. She would have been three years old on October 7. Funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock this forenoon at St. Joseph's church, Dexter. Mr. Steinbach is a former well known Chelsea resident.

MRS. ALTA MOFFITT

Mrs. Alta Moffitt, 82 years old, died Tuesday afternoon at the Methodist Old People's Home, where she had been a member since April 14, 1941. She is survived by a son, Cortina Moffitt of Willis. A brief service will be held at the home at 10 o'clock this morning, followed by funeral services at 1:30 at the Methodist church, Milan. Interment will be in Milan cemetery.

ATTENDING SCOUT CAMP

INJURES FINGER

Miss Florence Ives badly injured her right forefinger the past week, when she caught it in a machine at the plant of the Chelsea Milling Co.

Irrigated Pasture May Pay Good Dividends

When drouth tends to dry up pastures and gardens, two "ifs" determine whether there is any profit in providing some artificial rain.

Advice of George Amundson, agricultural engineer on the Michigan State College staff, says the ifs include if there is a drouth and if there is a water supply available. The water should be within a thousand feet of the field or garden.

Creeks or ponds usually are the sources. One to three inches of water should be applied at a time in order to benefit the watered area. One acre of irrigated pasture, for instance, easily produces better feed than will five or six acres of dried up pasture, according to Amundson.

"A $25 pump will deliver sufficient water to irrigate three acres in a day," says Amundson. "The fuel cost will depend on distance and relation in height of the field to the water source. If it is possible, the best and easiest system is to pump the water to a knoll and let gravity do the rest of the job."

Pipes and hose are suggested for conducting the water. Old fire hose often is used, or even eaves' trough or canvas hose. For emergency some farmers merely use a knoll as a starting place and let the slope do the rest. Soil type will determine how far the water will reach.

More elaborate systems involve use of sprinklers. For more permanent irrigation systems, Amundson suggests farmers contact county agricultural agents or obtain information directly from the agricultural engineering department at the college.

Use Tax Collection To Show Increase In 1941

Following validation of the use tax law, Act No. 94 of 1937, by the Michigan Supreme Court last May, use taxes collected by the Sales Tax Department show substantial increase. Yield for the six months ending June 30 was $734,214. Use taxes paid in June, 1941 were $138,312, an increase of $51,584 over June, 1940. Should this rate be maintained throughout the current year, total use tax collections would amount to $1,772,540 and might reach $2,000,000. Receipts from this source were $674,678 in 1939 and $1,236,702 in 1940.

Following the favorable court decision Managing Director Louis M. Nims sponsored a publicity program that is producing results. Many taxpayers, honestly in doubt as to their liability, are writing the State Board of Tax Administration for determination as to the application of this tax. They are advised that all purchases of tangible personal property for storage, use or consumption in this state are subject to the use tax. The use tax is a specific privilege tax rather than an ad valorem or property tax. The levy is a just and equitable measure affording protection to home merchants and manufacturers against tax evasion by those who buy tangible articles without application of tax. Failure to declare liability may bring a heavy fine and even imprisonment.

Farm Tenant Purchase Program Is Expanded

The U. S. Department of Agriculture's tenant purchase program, administered by the Farm Security Administration, will operate in four new counties in Michigan during 1941-42 as well as in the twenty-three counties previously designated for this program, it was announced today by Donald Kline, Farm Security supervisor in Washtenaw county.

The new counties are Montcalm, LaPeere, Eaton, and Branch. Secretary of Agriculture Claude R. Wickard approved these 1941-42 designations on recommendation of the state Farm Security Advisory Committee, and the official announcement came to Donald Kline from State FSA Director Roswell G. Carr of East Lansing.

Under the tenant purchase program, loans are made to a limited number of qualified farmers who do not own any farm property, to enable them to buy family-type farms of their own. Washtenaw County has been on the designated list for one year and five loans have been made. The making of tenant purchase loans in any county, Mr. Kline said, depends largely on availability of satisfactory farms at reasonable prices, and on the type and extent of local interest in the program.

The previously designated TP-counties are Antrim, Berrien, Gratiot, Hillsdale, Oseola, Tuscola, Alcona, Cass, Huron, Isabella, Kent, Lenawee, Livingston, Shiawassee, Allegan, Clinton, Ingham, Jackson, Kalamazoo, Monroe, Saginaw, Sanilac, and Washtenaw.

Mr. Kline said the approximate goal this year for the twenty-seven counties is eighty new loans, with each of the new counties to have at least five. Since the Bankhead-Jones Act put the tenant purchase program into effect in 1937, the supervisor said $1,416,542 had been allocated to Michigan including the year ending June 30, 1941; and that in the four years, loans have been made to 184 Michigan farm families.

He added that Harry S. Muir, director of the Minnesota-Wisconsin-Michigan region of Farm Security, and James H. Dance, regional chief of the tenant purchase program, are working with the state FSA Advisory Committee and the local tenant purchase committees on plans for carrying out this year's broadened activity. Congress has made $50,000,000 available for the program again this year, the same as last year.

Farmers successful in obtaining tenant purchase loans may purchase locally approved family-type farms at 8 per cent interest with a possible 40 years in which to pay. The "variable payment" plan, under which many TP-borrowers are now operating, will be extended to all new borrowers during 1941-42. Under it, a borrower is permitted to make small repayments in years when farm income is low, and correspondingly larger repayments in good years.

Question And Answer Dept.

Problem—An aviator is poised at North Cape, Norway, ready to hop off for Chicago. If he takes the shortest air route, in which direction will he take off—west, southwest, north, northwest? (Answer elsewhere in this department.)

Ques.—Why does Hitler always talk from a beer hall?

Ans.—Dunno. Probably he wants the rest of the world to think he has something on tap.

Ques.—What do you think of a fellow who comes to a drattee's farewell party, drinks his beer, gorges himself with all the good things that makes a date with the poor boob's girl for the next week, and then presents him with a package of corn plasters?

Ans.—That's shocking. We haven't the vocabulary to describe our opinion of such an unprincipled human rat.

Ques.—Why are the members of Congress called "Solons"?

Ans.—"Solon" was the name of the greatest legislator of ancient history, and was one of the seven wise men of Greece. He was born in 638 B. C. and died in 558 B. C. Because of his great wisdom, the name "Solon" is applied to Congressmen or other high legislative bodies.

Ques.—I would like to ask in your good paper, what is the "Southern Cross"?

Ans.—A very interesting group of stars in the Southern Hemisphere is named by astronomers "the Southern Cross." The four principal stars form a cross—two of them pointing directly east and west, while the upper and lower ones point to the South Pole. Fairly good views of it may be had at the Tropic of Cancer, but it is seen much better farther south.

Ques.—If President John Tyler was not elected President, how did he get that office?

Ans.—John Tyler was nominated as a candidate for Vice-President as a running mate to William Henry Harrison in 1840 on the Whig ticket and succeeded to the Presidency on the death of President Harrison on April 4, 1841.

Ques.—In court proceedings why is Tuesday always set for the opening date?

Ans.—Tuesday, which was named after Tiw or Tyr, the son of Odin, the Scandinavian god of war, was the beginning of the war of litigants. Thus Tuesday was set aside appropriately as the beginning of the war in the courts.

Ques.—I find toads in my garden. How can I get rid of them?

STATE FAIR COMING UP!

Thirty-five thousand copies of the 1941 Michigan State Fair premium book are off the presses and on their way to prospective exhibitors. Here, Henry R. Josman, Pontiac, representative of the State Department of Agriculture, receives the first copy from Bernard J. Youngblood, Fair manager. Premiums totaling $70,000 are offered this year and a record number of exhibitors is expected. Premium books may be obtained by writing Michigan State Fair, Detroit. The Fair opens August 27 and continues through September 7.

Dog Days

Torn trousers mean nothing to a barefoot lad who has his father's fishing outfit for the day, and a friend and his dog for good companions. Sooty "dog days" are idyllic for Michigan youngsters who find good fishing waters near home in practically all parts of the state. Memories of happy, carefree days on well-stocked streams have made devoted anglers of many men.

AN INNER LINE OF DEFENSE

Among WPA welfare projects unable to home defense are the "inner line" of defense. At top left, a WPA worker, one of the 800 in Michigan assigned to the summer garden program, raises vegetables for canning which makes possible the feeding of a well balanced lunch daily to 60,000 Michigan school children. WPA Housekeeping Aides, above, are trained by expert home economists and nurses for all duties necessary to keeping homes intact during times of emergency. Workers sent into low-income homes provide improved sanitation standards, well-balanced meals, simple home care of the sick and child training. The making of surgical dressings for hospitals, at left, by a unit of the WPA sewing project is another valuable home defense activity.

of them. Toads are worth their weight in gold in the destruction of insects, grubs, worms and bugs that are so injurious to garden vegetation. You would do well to place a number of toads in your garden specifically for that purpose.

No. 696N

Order for Appearance

At a session of the said Court held in the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor, Washtenaw County, Michigan, on the 10th day of June, A. D. 1941.

Present: Honorable Geo. W. Sample, Circuit Judge.

On reading and filing the Bill of Complaint in said cause and the Affidavit of Russell D. Parr attached hereto, from which it satisfactorily appears to the Court that the defendants above named, or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, are proper and necessary parties defendant in the above-entitled cause, and

It further appearing that after diligent search and inquiry it cannot be ascertained, and it is not known whether or not certain ones of said defendants are living or dead, or where they may reside if living, and if dead, whether they have personal representatives or heirs living, or where they or some of them may reside, and further that the present whereabouts of said defendants are unknown, and that the names of the persons who are included therein without being named, but who are embraced therein under the title of unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cannot be ascertained after diligent search and inquiry.

On motion of Russell D. Parr, attorney for plaintiffs, it is ordered that the said defendants Lyman Pettibone, Milton Pettibone, Jason Cross, Malinda Cross, John Brizze, Edwin Cotton, Andrew C. Leach, Hannah Drury, Emily C. Place, Josephine A. Drury, John L. Hibbard, and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cause their appearance to be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this Order, and in default thereof that said Bill of Complaint be taken as confessed by the said defendants, their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns;

It is further ordered that this Order be served or published in accordance with the statutes in such cases made and provided.

Geo. W. Sample, Circuit Judge.
 Take notice, that this suit, in which the foregoing Order was duly made, involves and is brought to quiet title to the following described piece or parcel of land:

Commencing on the east and west quarter line of section four in the center of the highway known as River Street; thence east on said quarter line to the southeast corner of four, twenty-three chains and eighty-eight links; thence north on the east line of said section, twelve chains and fifteen links to a stake; thence north eighty-four degrees west, twenty-one chains and thirty-nine links to the center of the highway; thence south nine degrees west along the center of said highway fifteen chains and nineteen links to the place of beginning, containing 30 and 76-100 acres of land more or less, excepting and reserving therefrom the west half thereof deeded to Pattee by deed recorded in liber 40 page 97 of deeds, also excepting 3 and 15-100 acres deeded to Thomas K. Andrews from off the south side by deed recorded in liber 74 page 151 of deeds, also excepting and reserving the north five acres of that parcel of land (which contained 12 and 1-2 acres more or less) deeded by Ida B. Millage to Christ Baker and wife, by deed recorded in liber 232 page 398 of deeds, also excepting and reserving the north three acres deeded by Benjamin Stevenson and wife to Ernest J. Gregg and wife by deed recorded in liber 248 page 302 of deeds, hereby conveying a parcel of land containing four and one-half acres of land more or less, said land being a part of the northeast quarter of section four, Ypsilanti Township, Washtenaw County, Michigan.

ORDER FOR PUBLICATION
 State of Michigan, in the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw, in Chancery.

William Reule, and Armilla Reule, husband and wife, Plaintiffs,
 vs.
 Tally C. E. Fenn, William Denman, William Judson, Jr., William Judson, Adair Prudden, Adair Prudden, Horace A. Smith, Helen M. Smith, Edmund T. Prudden, Ellen Jane Prudden, Matthew Jensen, Mathias Jensen, Barbara Jensen, Barbara Jensen, James Barth, Julius Barth, Julius T. Barth, James H. Palmer, Julius T. Barth, Julius Barth, Little Barth, Nathan Pearce, Nathan Pierce, or their respective unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, and assigns, Defendants.

At a session of said Court, held at the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor, in said County, on the 30th day of June, A. D. 1941.

Present: Honorable George W. Sample, Circuit Judge.

It appearing to the Court from the allegations contained in the Bill of Complaint filed in this cause and from the affidavit annexed thereto that the above named defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, are necessary and proper parties to said cause, and that the said plaintiffs do not know and have been unable, after diligent search and inquiry, to ascertain the places of residence of the persons named as defendants herein and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, and assigns, or any of them, and cannot ascertain in what state or country the said defendants or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, reside;

Therefore, on motion of James C. Hendley, attorney for the plaintiffs, it is ordered that the defendants and each and every one of them do cause their appearance to be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order, and in case of their appearance that they cause their answer to the plaintiffs' Bill of Complaint to be filed and a copy thereof to be served on the attorney for the plaintiffs within fifteen days after service on them of a copy of the Bill of Complaint and notice of this order, and that in default thereof said Bill of Complaint be taken as confessed by each and all of said defendants, and also that within forty days of this order the plaintiffs cause a copy of this order to be published in the Chelsea Standard, a newspaper printed, published and circulated in said County of Washtenaw, and that each publication be continued once each week for six weeks in succession, or that the plaintiffs cause a copy of this order to be personally served on at least twenty days before the time above fixed for their appearance.

Geo. W. Sample, Circuit Judge.
 Countersigned:
 Luella M. Smith, County Clerk.

To Said Defendants:
 The above suit involves title to certain lands and premises and is brought to quiet title to the following described lands situated in the Township of Webster, County of Washtenaw, to-wit:

A strip of land off the East side of the E. 1/4 of the N. W. 1/4 of section number six (6) Town three (3) South, Range five (5) East, containing one and eighty six hundredths (1.86) acres, being thirty-two (32) chains and ten (10) links long, sixty-four (64) links wide on the north end, fifty-two (52) links wide on the South end. Also eighteen and fourteen hundredths (18.14) acres off the west side of the west half of the northeast quarter of said section number six (6), the East line of which is to be parallel to the north and south quarter line, and so far East of it as to contain, including the first described piece, twenty (20) acres of land, all on the north half of section number six (6) town three (3) South, range five (5) East, Lodi, Washtenaw County, Michigan.

STATE OF MICHIGAN

In the Circuit Court for the County of Washtenaw, In Chancery.
 Paul Whiteman and Freda M. Whiteman, husband and wife, Plaintiffs,
 vs.
 Norman A. Phelps, Benjamin Culy and Nelson H. Wing, and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, Defendants.

vs.

At a session of said Court held at the Court House in the City of Ann Arbor in said County on the 19th day of July, A. D. 1941.

Present: Hon. George W. Sample, Circuit Judge.

On reading and filing the bill of complaint in said cause and the affidavit of Rowan Fasquelle, attached thereto, from which it satisfactorily appears to the Court that the defendants above named, or their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, are proper and necessary parties defendant in the above-entitled cause, and

It further appearing that after diligent search and inquiry it cannot be ascertained, and it is not known whether or not said defendants are living or dead, or where any of them may reside if living, and if dead, whether they have personal representatives or heirs living or where they or some of them may reside, and further that the present whereabouts of said defendants are unknown, and that the names of the persons who are included therein without being named, but who are embraced therein under the title of unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cannot be ascertained after diligent search and inquiry.

On motion of Burke and Burke, attorneys for plaintiffs, it is ordered that said defendants and their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns, cause their appearance to be entered in this cause within three months from the date of this order, and in default thereof that said bill of complaint be taken as confessed by the said defendants, their unknown heirs, devisees, legatees and assigns.

It is further ordered that within twenty days plaintiffs cause a copy of this order to be published in the Chelsea Standard, a newspaper printed, published and circulated in said County, such publication to be continued therein once in each week for six weeks in succession.

Geo. W. Sample, Circuit Judge.
 Countersigned:
 Luella M. Smith, Clerk of Circuit Court.

Farms on Boundaries
 Many international boundaries cut across individual farm properties, and special regulations may allow a farmer to cross from one point of his farm to another to harvest his crops and transport them across the line to his barn, according to a study issued by the Columbia University Press.

Women Poor Parkers
 Speaking of parking: why is it women are such poor parkers of cars? It is because their clothes are too tight around the arms and they are afraid if they turn the steering wheel too much they will rip their sleeves.

Coordination Is Needed For Long Golf Drives

A beginner at golf usually bends his body during the stroke. It is a natural impulse, for the powerful muscles of the back are normally used to augment the strength of the arms. In consequence, he either swings down, as though trying to drive a pick into the ground, or swings up as though lifting a bushel of potatoes into a wagon. And usually he is inclined to argue against correction.

"But I have to get power some way," he is likely to expostulate. "You don't need power in this," the teacher will explain patiently. "You have a long club, which first of all calls for accuracy. In the next place the weight of the club-head is enough in relation to the weight of the ball so that its own momentum at impact is a major factor. A long drive comes largely from the last instant speed of the club-head."

"If at the moment of impact your body is turning slowly, your arms moving a little faster on that base, and your wrists snapping the club forward on top of that, the speed will be the sum of all three—like a flea jumping forward on the head of a man running forward on the top of a moving freight train."

One could apply this to many things, but the application which occurs to us at the moment is industrial good will. If a superintendent plans wisely, a foreman drives ahead vigorously, and there is underneath this a basis of plant cooperation and good-will, the sum total of efficient output may be surprising. Just jerking on any one of the three is likely to slice into the rough.

Suppose the image were that of a germ, and that it were magnified millions of times. Wouldn't that give us the most powerful microscope? Dr. Vladimir K. Zworykin, the scientist who gave us television as we know it today, thinks so, and has built an experimental instrument which, when it is perfected, will enable science to penetrate still more deeply into the unknown of the infinitely small.

The potentialities of such an invention surpass prediction. For example, there are about 20 diseases caused by viruses—among them infantile paralysis, smallpox, chickenpox, the common cold, typhus, rabies, measles, mumps and encephalitis (the so-called sleeping sickness). What are these viruses? Nobody knows. If they are germs that lie beyond the microscope, as some believe, the electron microscope should reveal them.

When the electron microscope is perfected—a matter of 10 years or so—prepare yourself for another Pasteur. In some university laboratory, in some hospital, he may be already at work; a youngster of 25, doing the best that he can with such magnifying lenses as the most skillful experts can produce. What a bound medicine will make when he studies the ultramicroscopic with electron tubes!

Poor Readers, Intelligent Otherwise
 The discovery that as many as four out of every five persons retarded in reading ability have normal or superior intelligence has prompted the Reading Clinic at the Pennsylvania State college to enlarge its program of instruction.

"Too many people believe that reading problems are solved in the first six grades of a child's educational experience," explained Dr. Emmett A. Betts, who is in charge of the clinic. "On the contrary, between 8 and 25 per cent of all school children have reading faults and as high as 50 per cent of adults display little interest in reading."

In the face of these findings, it is the job of educators through modern methods, to correct reading difficulties while the person is still in school, he said.

He'll Take the Suit
 Gabriel Gallardo figures he's just as good as in the army now. He's 25, lives in San Francisco, and thinks the conscription chiefs have his number already. So why should he buy himself a new suit if Uncle Sam is taking his measurements? Arguing along that line, he told his tailors he didn't think he'd keep the suit they made to order for him for $35. He wouldn't be needing it now, thanks. The tailors felt differently about the work they had done and brought suit against Mr. Gallardo in the small claims court. Municipal Judge Kaufman pointed out that, even if he is conscripted, Mr. Gallardo will appreciate a change into "civilian" on his day off, and told him to start paying.

'Emerald Isle' of Ireland Noted for Green Foliage

Among the islands of the world, Ireland ranks high in public interest. It is not the largest but it is the homeland of the Irish people and that has set it apart in the minds of men.

Ireland is nearly the same size as the State of Maine. It is not much more than one-third as large as the nearby island of Great Britain.

If Ireland had as many people per square mile as Great Britain, it would have a population of more than 16,000,000. As it is, the population is less than 4,500,000.

An old name for Ireland is "Emerald Isle." This name refers to the fact that the island is extremely rich in plant life, with green grass, shrubs, and trees. An emerald is green, and so is Ireland. An Irish poet, Dr. William Drennan, is believed to have been the first to use the term "Emerald Isle," when he composed a poem about a century and a half ago.

Other names for Ireland are "Eirinn" and "Eire." They are two forms of the same name.

"Eire" is pronounced "Air-eh." It is used as an official name for the part of Ireland formerly known as the Irish Free State. It includes all of Ireland except six counties in the north.

At the start of the European war, Eire declared herself "neutral." Northern Ireland, on the other hand, stood by Great Britain from the outbreak of warfare. The people were firmly for the British in their fight against Hitler.

Game Fishing Possible In So. Michigan Streams

The possibility that southern Michigan waterways now furnishing no game fishing can be improved for smallmouth bass grounds will be tested soon in a stretch of Red Cedar river where Michigan State College owns half a mile of frontage west of Doble road.

Casting of two-foot-square concrete blocks, weighing 1,200 pounds each, begins August 1. Wing dams of the big blocks will narrow the channel and so speed the current as to scour the sand from the rubble bottom. The old rubble bottom is productive of fish food where the sand is barren. In still water behind the dams, the material dislodged will build bars.

Fishing could not be expected on the improved section before next season, according to Peter I. Tack of the college's zoology department. Dr. Tack, directing the work, is proceeding under supervision of O. H. Clark of the conservation department's fish division, and in consultation with the conservation department's institute for fisheries research.

Fish censuses before and after the improvements are installed will measure their effectiveness. Success of the Red Cedar experiment would open the way to development of many other streams as game fish waters. With improvements financed by the 40-cent fishing license fund, the Red Cedar fishing ground will be open to public use when completed.

Grass Seed Crop Pays $200 From Test Acre

When there's a market for a million pounds at 40 cents a pound, and a demonstration plot yields 500 pounds an acre, then research and demonstration at Michigan State College indicated Michigan farmers can share a new-found market. The crop is the seed from Cheung's fescue, a perennial grass used in grass seed mixtures especially for light soils or shady areas and also as a cover crop in sandy soil orchards.

Boyd R. Churchill of the college crops department has propagated the fescue. Seed was drilled in 24-inch rows in August, 1939. No crop was taken in 1940. In fact, little was done with the fescue except two spring and two fall cultivations.

This summer, however, a combine was run down the rows. From a half acre the harvest was 250 pounds. The only other production in the United States apparently is in Oregon, indicating an opportunity for domestic production.

Imports have been coming from New Zealand. Over a period of years the price has ranged from 14 to 60 cents a pound, with an average of about 30 cents and the present price, 40 cents a pound.

Although the yield obtained on the college planting may be higher than would commonly be obtained, there apparently is a market for the seed from at least two thousand acres planted to the fescue.

MISSION CLUB MEETS
St. Paul's Mission club held their July meeting on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Albert Widmayer. Devotionals were in charge of Mrs. Louis Eppier. A reading, "Through Fellowship of Prayer" was given by Mrs. Alvin Vail and "Latin America" by Mrs. Albert Widmayer. The afternoon was spent in rolling bandages. The hostess served lunch.

ENTERTAIN S. A. CLUB
Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Haselwerdt entertained the members of the S. A. club and their husbands at a party on Friday evening at the Chandler cottage, Cavanaugh lake. Nine tables of bridge were in play. Mrs. Clyde Thrasher and Paul Eisele holding high score. A two-course lunch was served.

GRADUATES AT CHANUTE FIELD
Mr. and Mrs. Wirt Ives have received word that their son, Roy Ives, who since May 1 has been studying meteorology in the Air Corps at Chanut Field, Ill., was graduated on Saturday. Starting Monday, he began his duties as instructor at this field, where all are enlisted men.

GIVE FAREWELL PARTY
The Pythian Sisters gave a farewell lawn party on Tuesday evening for Mrs. Russell Olson at the home of Mrs. O. D. Luick. Bingo was the diversion of the evening. Ice cream and cake were served. Mrs. Olson was presented with a gift.

New Glasses Bear Numbers
Hosts, your worries are over—no more danger of mixing your guests' glasses when you gather them up for refills. Solving this bothersome entertainment problem are the new numbered Zombie tumblers, smartly styled with large frosted numbers, so that each guest can easily single out his own from the proffered tray. Sets come numbered from one to eight, and other features include the "safe edge" that guarantees no chipping, a heavy sham bottom, and 13-ounce capacity.

Pound of Feathers
There is considerable difference in weight between a pound of gold and a pound of feathers. Gold is weighed by the troy system in which there are 12 ounces to the pound, while feathers are weighed by the avoirdupois measure, in which there are 16 ounces to the pound. A troy pound therefore is less than the avoirdupois pound.

SOME FISHERMAN!
J. V. Burg proved his skill as an expert fisherman on Monday morning when he landed a five-pound large mouth bass while fishing in Crooked lake. Earlier in the season J. V. caught a nine-pound pike while fishing in the same lake.

Type of Claustrophobia
Women tend more than men to be middle-of-the-road drivers, according to the psychopathic clinic of the Detroit automobile court. Psychologist L. S. Selling says that some women tend to drive in the middle of the road because they suffer from a "type of claustrophobia"—the fear of being shut in—and they seem to feel safer farther away from the sides of the road. Just one more indication that auto drivers ought to be subjected to about 10 times the tests and examinations they have now before being allowed on the highway.

Zoning Proposition Will Be Submitted To Voters

With the State Planning Commission. Q. Will every property holder have a right to be heard on any zoning ordinance the Board of Supervisors may propose?

A. Yes. The statute provides that any zoning ordinance shall be passed only after public hearings.

Q. Can any ordinance the Board of Supervisors pass be later amended as conditions change?

A. Yes. Amendments can be made to the ordinance itself, and whenever two-thirds of the property owners on a highway desire that to be restricted to residential areas they may petition the County Board so to do.

Q. Can appeals be made over the decision of the Planning Board or Supervisors by a dissatisfied citizen?

A. Yes. A special appeal board on which the State Planning Commission is represented will hear the petitions of any dissatisfied property owner.

Q. Will a county zoning ordinance affect present city or township ordinances?

A. The law says that whichever set of regulations is the more stringent, that is local or county, shall prevail. To illustrate, if Ann Arbor township has zoning restrictions in force which are stricter than those provided for by the County Planning Board, then the former shall prevail.

Q. What determines how the county shall be zoned and the property classified?

A. The law gives the County Planning Board the authority to make these designations but only subject to the approval of the State Planning Commission. Property owners can confidently rely on the judgment of their own officials, plus their right to a hearing, and finally their right to an appeal, provided they disagree with the provisions of the zoning ordinance which affect their property or their neighborhood.

Q. Who is the Planning Board?

A. The law says the Planning Board should be comprised of the chairman of the County Board of Supervisors together with from two to six other qualified citizens of the county. The chairman of the Board of Supervisors shall be the chairman of the Planning Board.

Q. Who is privileged to vote at the special election on August 4?

A. Any registered voter may take part in the election. He need not be a property owner.

KIWANIS NEWS

The Kiwanians held their regular meeting this week on Tuesday noon at the Congregational church. The group helped the Michigan Bell Telephone Company to commemorate the opening of the dial system for Chelsea and vicinity. President Alfred D. Mayer introduced the speakers who intelligently sketched the improvements made in this vicinity which will accrue to Chelsea as a result of the new telephone system.

The program chairman mentioned that the Kiwanians would hold a joint meeting with the South Lyon club next Monday evening. He stated that the softball teams of the respective clubs would play a conference game at the high school field here in Chelsea at 6 o'clock, and that the members would meet at 7:45 o'clock at the Congregational church for their dinner and an inter-club meeting.

HOLD SPECIAL MEETING
The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Methodist church held a special meeting on Monday evening. The Society agreed to pay for the repairs on church windows, to purchase one dozen new tables for the church dining room, and to sponsor an ice cream social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prudden on Tuesday, August 12.

NONEMAN-MESSNER REUNION

The Noneman-Messner reunion was held on Sunday at Potter Park, Lansing, with 47 members attending. A social time was enjoyed after the pot-luck dinner. Mrs. Waldo Eismann was elected as the new president and Paul Noneman will serve as secretary-treasurer for another year. The 1942 reunion will be held at Newport Beach.

ENJOY EXCURSION
Many hundred children from Washington county enjoyed an excursion to Bob-Lo last Thursday. The trip was made by boat and train. Among those attending from Chelsea were Mrs. J. V. Burg and Jerome, Mrs. John Hummel, Rosemary, and Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Rowe and Rose Mary and Teresa Lyons.

Bed Ridden, Bull Business
A bed-ridden victim of crippling arthritis, Miss Beulah Hawke, Ash Grove, Mo., a former nurse and resident of The Plains, has built up a prosperous coal business. When stricken five years ago, Miss Hawke refused to permit her illness to interfere with a business career, and set about soliciting the coal business by telephone from her bedside. Sidelines in her extensive business include the sale of sand and gravel. Her affliction forced her to learn to write with her left hand.

Cooling Off Guns
