Golfers Qualify For Amateur Tournament

Thirty-one of the leading men and women golfers of this vicinity qualified for the first annual Chelsea Amateur Golf Tournament at the Inverness Country Club during the past week.

Many of the players turned in very good scores for their 18-hole qualifying round, but Robert G. Foster won the medalist prize by scoring a sparkling 78.

The committee in charge of the tournament divided the players into two flights in accordance with the USGA rules, and requested all the participants to complete their first round matches by Sunday evening, August 10. The rules of the USGA shall generally apply in this tournament except as changed by the rules and regulations promulgated by the committee in charge.

Participants in both divisions shall play each round by match play until they are eliminated from the tournament by his or her opponent winning the hole-by-hole matches.

Qualifying scores of the players in this tournament are as follows:

The first round pairings for the championship flight are as follows: Robert Foster, Joseph Policht; Russ Birchard, C. Stanley Evans; Albert Johnson, Rev. Grabowski; Red Eder, David Colquhoun; Clare Rowe, John P. Keusch; Frank Frysinger, Frank Edgar; George E. Sperling, Jr., Paul Young; Dave Reid, Bud Edgar.

The first round matches for the second flight are as follows: James Allen, Kush Howe; E. O. Maple, Bill Kuhn; Leo Tuttle, Paul Schneider; Sue Westgate, Maurice Howe; Ed. Miller, Carl Schneider; Fred Hall, Audrey Harris; Agnes Groves, Luther Kusterer; L. A. Petticrew, Dudley Foster.

Feature matches for this week include the Al Johnson-Rev. Grabowski and Red Eder-Dave Colquhoun affairs in the championship flight, while in the second flight, the matches between L. A. Petticrew and Dudley Foster and the one between Fred Hall and Audrey Harris should be very close and well-played throughout. Every match should provide plenty of competition to the participants with the winner in doubt until the last putt is sunk.

WARNING!

Local residents are warned not to call the fire telephone number to inquire as to the location of a fire following the sounding of the siren. This telephone is for use ONLY when turning in a fire alarm and to use it at other times involves the risk that someone might be attempting to place an emergency call when the line was busy. This ruling will be enforced, and if necessary the calls will be traced and severe penalties will result from violations, according to President A. D. Mayer.

Village authorities also warn motorists who are in the habit of following the fire truck that recklessness which has prevailed on most all occasions when the truck is on a run will not be tolerated. Cars must stay at a reasonably safe distance behind the fire truck.

WE THANK YOU!

Miller for donating the use of his pickup truck; the leaders of the Boy and Girl Scouts and the young people themselves for their house-to-house canvass; the Standard for liberal use of space; the County Road Commission for transporting this scrap aluminum to Ann Arbor, and all others who helped make this the successful drive that it was.

1941 Wheat Loan Program Announced

A 1941 wheat loan program based on the recently enacted 85 per cent of parity loan law has been announced by the United States Department of Agriculture, according to Harry M. Cole, Secretary of the Washtenaw County Triple-A Committee.

Mr. Cole pointed out that wheat producers in the national referendum on marketing quotas held May 31 voted in favor of the quotas by a majority of 80.8 per cent and under the law, the 85 per cent of parity loan is mandatory when quotas are approved. Loans for 1941 rye and barley also have been announced.

The wheat loan rate is based on the July 1 parity price for wheat, and the Department of Agriculture estimates that 85 per cent of parity on that date will represent an average national loan rate to farmers of approximately 98 cents a bushel.

With farm loan values averaging about 98 cents a bushel for the Nation, and 1941 wheat parity and conservation payments under the Triple-A Program amounting to 18 cents, the program cooperator will receive a total return approximately equal to the parity price, Mr. Cole said. "In other words, wheat farmers this year are going to reach their goal of parity for the first time since the farm depression hit American agriculture in the early 20's."

All growers who comply with their acreage allotments will be eligible for wheat loans. In addition, farmers who overseeded will be eligible for loans at 60 per cent of the regular rate on wheat produced on their excess acreage. The loans, which are callable on demand, will be made up to December 31 and will fall due April 30, 1942. Interest will be at 3 per cent.

Loan rates to farmers are based on terminal rates, taking into account the location, handling charges, grade and quality of the wheat.

Loan values are as follows for these terminal markets: Washtenaw county loan values are:

No. 1—Red or white wheat, 1.07
No. 2—Red or white wheat, 1.06
No. 3—Red or white wheat, 1.04
Less 3 cents per bushel for mixed wheat at above values.

Arms and farms go hand in hand towards National Defense, Mr. Cole continued. Well-fed people make a strong nation. By providing feed for all, the Triple-A makes it possible for our Nation to prepare for any emergency.

TRUCK DRIVER INJURED

Fred Meschko, 44, of Battle Creek, was seriously injured Saturday night when the large truck he was driving, which was loaded with beer, overturned in a ditch on US-12, five miles west of Chelsea and caught fire. He was severely burned on both his arms from shoulder to fingers and he also had burns about the body. He was taken to Foote hospital, Jackson.

Fire departments from Grass Lake and Chelsea, and the Jackson county pumper answered the alarm.

State police had difficulty in keeping traffic moving, as hundreds of motorists halted nearby, many of them closer than the 500 feet minimum established by law, and many of them helping themselves to the bottles and cases of beer strewn about the wrecked truck.

WILL HOLD REUNION

The third annual reunion of the Past and Present Supervisors of Washtenaw county will be held Sunday, August 10, at the Dexter-Huron park. A program for the event is scheduled to start at 10 a. m. The reunion will feature a potluck dinner at 12 o'clock, with coffee, lemonade and other refreshments, and the entertainment committee has announced that there will be games, sports and entertainment for the entire family. Officers in charge of the reunion are:

President—Fitch D. Forsythe.
Vice-President—John Lawson.
Secretary—Harry M. Cole.
Treasurer—Carl Mast.

The Children I Knew

By Ruth Taylor

The other day when I walked across Central Park, I paused to watch the happy children playing unafraid, and I thought of the children I had known in lands across the sea.

There was a little girl in a garden in Norway. She picked the first snow-flowers for me. She spoke no English, but when I said the German word "Schneeglockchen," it was close enough to the Norwegian to strike her fancy and she ran gaily from one object to another, teaching me their names in her tongue and getting me to tell her what I called them in the strange gibberish I spoke. I wonder what has happened to Ingeborg now in her quiet garden under the hill! Are the strange words she is learning names for friendly things or are they the commands of a conqueror?

Then in Paris, there were Miki and Nini. Miki's starved little body proclaimed him a baby of the last war. Did he go out to fight for the France he loved? At seven he delighted in telling me in exquisite rippling tones of the glorious history of his beloved France. And his sister, studying German because one must always know the language of the enemy. Does she still read "Westerns" at every spare moment? She explained, "Mais, Mademoiselle, they are so free. When they fight, they fight so openly and they are so kind always. Do you know many cowboys?" Where are Miki and Nini now?

And Andrew, the little boy who, in a quiet home in Connecticut, looked at me so solemnly and said he was very lucky—he had two countries, America and Poland, and when he grew up he was going to see his "born" country. He did—and the last we heard he was in a concentration camp in German occupied Poland. What fate has befallen him?

Under what dread does Raoul live by Lake Lemán? He was steeped in the traditions of freedom—for every holiday his father would take him to some national shrine, so that he might learn as a child what being Swiss meant and that the Confederation was a confederation of free peoples. How does he feel as the ring of slave countries draws closer and closer about his peaceful mountains?

Then Felicity—she was two when I first saw her. A golden-haired doll who found the world so enchanting, she laughed and beamed on everyone to the pride of her adoring brothers, whose joy it was to show her off to discerning guests. What has happened to her? Where was she when the quiet English university town in which she lived was bombed? Have those proud brothers of hers gone flying off never to return? Were they in Norway, at Dunkerque, at Crete?

The children overseas have borne, and will bear, the heaviest load of this relentless war upon free peoples. Let us do what we can to help these others in the name of Him who said, "Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not; for of such is the kingdom of God."

Children In Court

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield

Immediate Action Necessary

There are few, if any, actual life prisoners in this country. The average criminal, sentenced to a penitentiary for a life term, spends less than ten years in confinement. Such a situation prevails even though, during the next twenty-four hours, thirty-two people will have met their death by criminal violence. Seventeen per cent of all crime is committed by youngsters of immature age simply because our civilization does not meet their needs.

Dr. Lowell Julliard-Carr of the University of Michigan, recently completed a survey in which he estimated that there are 50,000 problem or pre-delinquent children in the state of Michigan alone, who definitely require immediate psychiatric and medical attention. Unless they receive adequate remedial treatment, many of them will end up in federal and state penitentiaries in the near future.

Heredity vs. Environment

Those who in recent years have been closely associated with the problem of juvenile crime, note that in an effort to discover certain disabilities and special aptitudes in problem children, present day psychologists are using a far wider range of tests than they did in former days.

With so many diversified schools of thought always being evolved in the field of psychiatry, it is possible that judges frequently become more partial to the concepts of a given group. As there is so much overlapping, it often is hard for the average parent to distinguish definitely between the different groups of teaching. The numerous schools which are holding front rank in this field today can usually be classified as belonging in the passive, active, insight, attitude, educational, psychological and relationship groups; all are merely closely related aspects of the science of psychiatry.

There is no need to enter into a prolonged examination of the relative merits of heredity and environment, for both are involved as causative factors in the cases of numerous boys and girls who appear in court each year for treatment. The ordinary judge is not so much concerned over which of these factors is the more important; he is primarily interested in determining which created a specific delinquency problem, and how the causes can be eliminated or controlled in the future rehabilitation of the individual delinquent.

To illustrate: A judge recently was asked to explain why he required a thorough investigation of the family histories of all children brought before him, charged with delinquency, even though it was known that he was not an advocate of the theory of heredity. To this he replied, "The family histories of all delinquents are probed simply because such an examination throws considerable light on the home conditions under which delinquent children passed their earliest years."

JOINS NAVAL TRAINING STATION AT GREAT LAKES

Great Lakes, Ill., Aug. 5.—Edward Joseph Turk, 24, 303 W. Middle St., Chelsea, Mich., arrived at the Naval Training Station at Great Lakes, Ill., on July 30 to begin training as an apprentice seaman for the U. S. Navy. Prior to enlisting in the Navy, Turk was employed as screw machine operator in the Federal Screw Works, Chelsea.

Turk will remain at the Training Station for a period of six weeks, undergoing instruction in basic seamanship and naval procedure. At the end of this instruction period Turk will either be assigned to active duty aboard a ship of the U. S. fleet or will be chosen for further training in one of the Navy's trade schools.

Of the more than 600 young men from the Middle West who arrive at Great Lakes every week, 60 per cent are chosen for further special training. Turk has registered his preference as training for the rate of Machinist's Mate.

TO HELP THE TANKS START ROLLING!

The first tank from the U. S. Army Arsenal's production line "comes out fighting"—ready to put work in American defense.

ON THE outskirts of Detroit, the Army Tank Arsenal, the Navy Arsenal and the Dodge Truck Addition—all new plants—are rushing production of fighting equipment.

In January, Michigan Bell was asked to plan telephone service for those projected defense centers. That required, among other things, the construction of 4 miles of subway, and 7½ miles of large underground cable in conduit. Manufacture and delivery of the cable alone normally would not be expected in less than 4 months.

But defense must not wait. Western Electric produced the cable and began delivery in 5 weeks! In spite of frozen ground, and with a great part of the cable laid under concrete streets, the job was ready for service in 13 weeks.

Plans under way to date involve expenditures by this Company of $11,000,000 to serve camps, arsenals, factories and others engaged directly in defense work. In addition, business and home telephone demands are growing at the fastest rate in history. To meet all those needs, the Company this year will expend more than $26,000,000.

The telephone has a little part in almost every National Defense effort. And a little part in every effort adds up to pretty big figures.

Background of Modern War For Vets Memorial Rites at State Fair

Against a background of the greatest collection of modern instruments of war ever assembled in the United States, 50,000 Michigan war veterans will hold memorial services on Sunday, September 7th, during the State Fair.

The services will be held in the State Fair Shell centering the Mall where the great U. S. Government exhibit of planes, tanks and guns will be located. Veterans of all wars in which this country has engaged, including the Civil War, will attend.

Fair Manager Bernard J. Youngblood announces. On that day, also, all veterans with suitable identification will be admitted to the fair free.

The handful of G. A. R. veterans yet remaining have been designated honorary chairman of Veterans' Day. Other organizations already accepting invitations to attend include:

United Spanish War Veterans, Disabled American Veterans, Veterans of Foreign Wars, The American Legion, Jewish-American War Veterans, Military Order of the Purple Heart, Red Arrow Division, Polish Legion of American Veterans, Canadian Legion, South African War Veterans, and their Auxiliaries.

Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner will be the principal speaker, according to present plans, and an invitation to speak has been extended the National Commander of The American Legion.

All departmental commanders will occupy the reviewing stand to inspect the marching organizations when the speaking is over. Flowers will be placed at the base of the Memorial shaft in the Fair Grounds near Woodward avenue. This monument was completed two years ago with each veterans' group in Michigan contributing a specially engraved boulder.

Following the services here twenty-five drum and bugle corps, each comprising from 35 to 50 men, will compete for $1,000 in cash prizes offered by the State Fair management.

The fair opens August 27, and continues through September 7. This is the exhibition's ninety-second year.

Fishermen With Empty Creels Is Very Common

Winter and summer, the percentage of fishermen who go home with empty creels is fairly constant. O. H. Clark of the conservation department's fish division reports in presenting figures for six seasons' intensive creel census on five typical southern Michigan lakes.

On three or four trips in every ten the average angler may come home empty handed, and it will be nearer three in the winter, nearer four in the summer, if the five lakes censused are a fair sample. The lakes are Bear in Hillsdale county, Craig in Branch county, Christian in Cass county, Paw Paw in Berrien county and Stearns Bayou in Ottawa county. Census crews checked almost all the anglers using the lakes.

The percentage of luckless fishermen fluctuated widely on different weeks—from 15 to 70 per cent—though the season averages kept a constant level.

Evidence that even the expert fishermen cannot catch fish when weather and other conditions on the lakes are not right may be found in graphs showing both the catch per hour and the per cent of fishermen catching no fish. The charts show that when many anglers are unable to land any fish, then the catch per hour of those who do reel them is correspondingly low. When even the quiffers are landing a few, then the catch per hour of the other fishermen is high.

In other words, in the light of the census figures, "fisherman's luck"—the real thing—is a community asset, widely shared.

Servicing Fishermen Is Now Big Business

Lansing, Aug. 6.—Servicing Michigan's million fishermen has become big business, and authentic and up-to-date information is essential if the state is to make the most of it, Fred A. Westernman, chief of the conservation department's fish division said today in commenting upon the department's adoption of the Michigan Lakes and Streams directory.

The 1941 edition of the directory, listing 6,454 lakes, is the first revision in 10 years. From now on, Westernman said, a new edition will be brought out each spring. Both conservation officers and field men in the fisheries districts will check and correct information on fishing waters in their home territories.

Some lakes gain boat livaries while on other lakes the livaries may close, road numbers change, resort development often is rapid, and every month more public fishing sites are purchased by the department, Westernman pointed out. Annual revision will keep pace with these and many other changes. The department has, for instance, made trout lakes of waters that recently were pike or bass lakes. Designed in the main for fishermen, the directory is used also by campers, duck hunters and tourists generally, as swimming and resort as well as fishing facilities are recorded. Since it was adopted by the department, supplementary information about fishing regulations has been added. State forest campsites also are listed.

When the conservation department took over distribution of the directory as a service to fishermen and tourists, it cut the price from $1 to 50 cents a copy, mailed.

Vacationists going home should be well-rested, refreshed, and ready for the ordeal of facing traffic.

Do not plan your return trip so that the entire driving distance must be completed within one day. Frequently people drive more than 300 or 400 miles a day; and near the end of the trip when darkness comes, they are tired and unable to pay attention to the increased traffic.

That's the time of day that driving is bad, and that's the time of day drivers should be alert.

Use your head and keep it above water—plan an early arrival and an early departure so that you will be on your toes and watching traffic all the time. That is your responsibility for your own protection and your family.

It's smart to be careful.

State's Cows Eat Beans, Vines, Pulp

No better idea of the state's diversification in agriculture can be portrayed than to scan the list of feeds that are eaten by Michigan's nearly a million dairy cows. They munch such things as baked cull beans, pea vines, mint hay, beet tops, skim milk, apple pomace and tomato pomace.

In turning out milk and butterfat from such byproducts and cull materials, the cow deserves great tribute in being able to keep up with modern industry, explains A. C. Baltzer, Michigan State College extension dairyman. He recently made a survey to find out what dairy cows were eating and what the values of these products are as dairy feeds.

Even in pioneer days when the Conestoga or covered wagon were rolling westward, the motive power was supplied by oxen or family cows. Natural feeds were the grasses available along the way, yet the animals supplied power to pull the loads, used up energy in walking and even produced milk for the family en route.

The "Gay Nineties" arrived, comments Baltzer. Industry had much to do with revision of the dairy cow's diet.

Flour mills on the Mississippi, breweries on the Hudson and on the Ohio rivers, cotton mills in the south, flax mills in Minnesota and Wisconsin, cider mills in New York and Michigan and other industries began turning out byproducts that soon became extra feed for dairy herds.

ore recent, but more important today in the feeding of dairy animals, are Michigan's own farm feeds and byproducts. Top rating for feed today goes to feeds with perhaps less romance. Cows in Michigan thrive on alfalfa hay, alfalfa-molasses silage, corn, cereal grains, corn silage and pastures of alfalfa, alfalfa-brome grass, rye in spring and fall and sudan grass in midsummer.

Where byproducts are available, Baltzer recommends their use if they will help produce milk, help cut costs of rations and reduce labor in feeding. Mint hay, for instance, has a value equal to clover hay in feeding. Cull beans, cooked, are worth half the feed value of soybeans or cottonseed meal. Beet pulp and molasses serve as appetizers and either is worth three-fourths the feed value of grain. Many farmers feed cull potatoes and cull apples.

Beet tops or apple pomace are almost equal to corn silage containing just a little less protein and total digestible nutrients. Tea viney refuse, usually ensiled and often "smelly" to the tourist, rates slightly better than well-matured corn silage for dairy feeding.

Even stale bread obtained from bakeries is used at times by the wide-awake dairyman. The bread is ideal as a feed and is equal to alfalfa hay in protein or to corn for total energy. Wet brewer's grain has a value equal to silage. Skim milk is rated at one gallon equal to a pound of concentrate such as soybean meal.

From the south the dairyman purchases such byproducts as cottonseed, cottonseed meal, cottonseed hulls, peanut meal or even peanuts. Southern dairymen feed such byproducts as orange peel, pineapple pulp, grapefruit pulp or grape pomace.

Pittsburgh's tinplate industry frequently but seasonally puts out a byproduct that has been fed Michigan dairy cows. This is known as palm oil. Palm oil is used in tinplating. The excess oil is removed after a portion of the process by scouring with wheat middlings. The wheat middlings soak up the palm oil and the resultant byproduct, palm oil, is sold as a dairy feed.

Those are some of the reasons why Baltzer rates the dairy cow as a willing cooperator in these modern and more scientific days, decades since the Conestoga pioneers whose cows ate what could be found and only delivered milk if they had sufficient energy left.

KIWANIS NEWS

The Kiwanians of South Lyon and Chelsea held an inter-club meeting in Chelsea on Monday evening. The softball teams of the respective clubs played an interesting game at the high school field which was finally won by the Chelsea club, 10-5. Every member of the winning club played a nice game with the result that the local Kiwanians won their fifth consecutive conference game without a defeat. The group afterwards enjoyed an excellent supper at the Congregational church, with the South Lyon club cooperating in providing the music and entertainment.

The program chairman announced that the Chelsea club would hold an inter-club meeting with the Plymouth club here in Chelsea next Monday evening. The softball teams of the two clubs will meet at the high school field shortly after 6 o'clock, and then the members will again convene at the Congregational church after the game for their dinner and a short meeting.

Six Leagues Compete in NYA Tournament

Winners of the six leagues comprising district six of the NYA junior baseball program will compete in the district tournament to be held August 12, 14, and 15. It was announced today by Orin W. Kaye, state NYA administrator.

On August 12, the winner of the Wayne county league and the winner of the West Washtenaw county league will meet at Ypsilanti; winners of the South Oakland and Livingston county leagues will meet in Farmington; winners of the Monroe and East Washtenaw county leagues will meet in Ypsilanti.

Semi-final games will be played at Ypsilanti on August 14 and the final game will be played at Ypsilanti on August 15.

The tournament is under the direction of Lloyd W. Olds of the athletic department of Michigan State Normal college.

In the first round games it is very likely that the Garden City team will meet Edward Brothers team of Ann Arbor and that either Carleton or Dundee will play the winner of the Livingston county league.

The district champions will compete with seven other district winners in a state tournament to be held in Lansing and East Lansing on August 20, 21, and 22.

The first round and semi-final games will be played at Michigan State College and the final game will be played on August 22 under the lights of Lansing's municipal stadium.

NYA Aids 158 Students In Washtenaw County

Lansing—During the past school year, the National Youth Administration aided 158 students in 12 high schools in Washtenaw county in earning part of their expenses through part-time jobs. It was revealed in a report issued from the state office in Lansing by Orin W. Kaye, state NYA administrator.

These young people were employed at various jobs around the schools for which they earned from $3 to $6 a month which was paid to them by the NYA. Hourly rates of pay were based on those prevailing in the community.

Although this amount seems small, the report shows that the majority of youth benefiting from this aid spent their NYA wages for lunches, car fare, school supplies, a pair of much-needed shoes, and similar items that must be met by every school student. Many of these young people would have been forced to drop out of school if it were not for NYA help, Kaye said.

Work assigned under the program is the responsibility of local officials who administer the program in their particular schools. None of the work is of a character that would displace any regular employee.

Kaye pointed out that new emphasis has been given the NYA student work program through the use of these jobs in determining vocational aptitudes. Students are assigned to various jobs during the year to enable them to determine what types of work they are most interested in and what types they can perform best. In addition, the work experience obtained through the job provides young graduates with additional qualification for obtaining employment.

GRASS LAKE. Fire, with damage estimated at $6,000, destroyed two barns, 80x36 and 40x30, a silo and tool shed on the Clarence Eschelbach farm Saturday, starting at 8:30 p. m. and believed to be from spontaneous combustion. The blaze burst from the roof with a roar. The Grass Lake fire department and county pumper, with the aid of volunteers, managed to save the home which was threatened at first. The loss included about 50 tons of hay, a quantity of wheat, 200 bushels of corn, 100 bushels of oats, valuable farm implements, a horse, two calves, a bull, and 50 chickens, and is partially covered by insurance.—News.

PLYMOUTH. Harold S. Stuart, a clerk employed in the Plymouth post-office for nearly 22 years, arrested last Saturday upon a charge of depredations in handling U. S. mail in the postoffice, has pleaded guilty and will appear in federal court in Detroit in September for sentence. His arrest follows investigations that have continued over a period of more than a dozen years by United States post-office department investigators into the thefts from the Plymouth post-office of letters containing money. Most of these letters were addressed to the Daisy Manufacturing company and contained small sums ranging from 25 cents to a few dollars.—Mail.

SOUTH LYON. A loss of approximately $5,000, partly covered by insurance, is what the Herald hears concerning the fire at Lyons theatre Sunday afternoon. The fire started in the booth, where the machines were operated. A film broke and not being noticed at once, heat from the lamp house set it ablaze. The fire started just after the first afternoon show. The building was cleared of its occupants without any panic whatever, through front and rear exits.—Herald.

Foreign Countries Purchase. During the six-month period following the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, foreign countries purchased $127,000,000 worth of American chemical products, a 60 per cent increase over the corresponding period a year ago, reports Industrial and Engineering Chemistry.

Religious Liberty. Standing in Fairmount park, Philadelphia, is one of the few statues in the United States that symbolize and are dedicated to religious liberty. It was given to the American people in 1876 by the B'Nai B'rith, the famous international Jewish organization.

Monday, Aug. 11—Spaulding Chevrolet vs. Federal Screw; CCC vs. Cassidy Lake Fac.

Tuesday, Aug. 12—Hankard's Hi-Speed vs. Chelsea Spring.

Thursday, Aug. 14—Spaulding Chevrolet vs. Central Fibre; Cassidy Lake Fac. vs. Kimunity.

Here we are with but one more week of our league schedule—before the championship playoff. The standings have been gone over and two corrections made so this week's printed standings are absolutely correct.

During the past playing week, Federal Screw strained a—everything and defeated Chelsea Spring; Central Fibre played off a postponed game with Cassidy Lake Faculty and defeated them, then Hankard's Hi-Speed taught the teachers on the rebound and handed them another defeat, Chelsea Spring lost to Spaulding Chevrolet and, according to "Wautmer" Grossman, CCC was afraid of his pitching so they failed to show up, thus allowing Kimunity a win by a forfeit.

As the schedule indicates, there is now little or no doubt which teams will end up in the top four playoff positions. There will be quite a battle this coming week as to just which team will be which, so—

Be sure and see Spaulding Chevrolet play Federal Screw this coming Monday and try and save a few yells for the Hankard's Hi-Speed—Chelsea Spring game the night after. And to pep things up further, Central Fibre—the most unpredictable team in the league, will get a crack at both Spaulding Chevrolet and Federal Screw while Central Fibre will have no chance to break into the playoffs there may be quite an upset in store for either of their opponents.

If I remember right (and I do, darn it) Central Fibre defeated Spaulding Chevrolet by the score of 2 to 1 early in the season. We'll know all the answers next week.

Watch this column next week for all the details of the playoffs—who's who, what's what and when!

P. S. When CCC failed to show up, Kimunity hose up sides and had a scrub game and, unless CCC sent in their bats and balls, Kimunity must have had some equipment of their own. Three cheers for Kimunity!

Every one of these timely values reflects DEPENDABLE ECONOMY—the maximum quality at the minimum cost. Look into them and see how much YOU can save by coming to BURG'S this week for beauty needs, home drugs and playtime accessories. Japanese Movements in Far East Bring Freezing of Assets by U. S. Plus Philippine Troop Mobilization; Nazis Claim Gains on Three Fronts

(EDITOR'S NOTE:—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

LOS ANGELES, CALIF.—Japanese are shown intently reading "extra" news bulletins posted at a newsstand in Los Angeles "Little Tokyo" telling of President Roosevelt's order freezing all Japanese assets in the United States.

JAPAN: Shows Hands

Dwarfing even the Russo-German war, with all its action, the Japanese situation because of its closeness to involvement of the United States, stole the world spotlight.

While there were indications that the Japanese were to continue the war with China, perhaps on even a more vigorous basis, and that Nippon was attempting to strengthen its hand on the Russian front, the main move was the military and naval occupation of French Indo-China.

While this had been foreseen as a major Japanese objective, and even regarded as a probable one during and after the period of the change in government in Tokyo, the actual occurrence fell with a sense of considerable shock on the United States.

For once the nation began to feel the hot breath of actual war blowing upon it, and the feeling that "all that" was far, far away began to be a distinctly shaky sort of thing.

For the action taken by this government was swift, drastic and met with complete collaboration by Great Britain, Canada and Australia. It consisted of this, as the first steps:

The freezing of Japanese assets. The limiting of all trade with Japan under special license. The mobilization of the troops of the Philippines.

In addition to the British empire's collaboration with the first two plans, Britain's far eastern troops were on the qui vive for action and a request by Thailand for British aid in case her territory was violated was met with instant assent.

In fact, it seemed extremely likely that Britain would move into Thailand in order to create a buffer state that might prevent Japanese attempt to cut the Burma road, which lies only a short distance, relatively speaking, from Hanoi in the northern part of Indo-China.

REACTION:
And Results

The immediate reaction of Japan was what amounted to a "sparring for time." Nippon was caught with several ships tied up at American wharves, automatically, by this government's declaration, prevented from moving.

Some 40 additional ships were en route here, and were to be at sea. And if the Pan-American republics were to take similar action to the United States, they might find it hard to make a port where they would be able to unload. One of the vessels was carrying a $2,500,000 silk cargo and nearly 500 passengers bound for the U. S.

Most serious result, however, was seen as the immediate stoppage of oil exportation to Japan from American sources. Utterly dependent on foreign supplies of petroleum, and for much of her scrap metal as well, Japan was visualized as practically forced to move on the Netherlands East Indies for the former and for supplies of tin as well.

Most observers felt that if and when such a move was made, it would find the United States taking some sort of direct naval action of a preventive nature.

Tokyo, immediately after President Roosevelt's outline of American action with regard to the Indo-Chinese incident, broadcast an appeal to the United States to "reconsider." The government took immediate retaliatory action, freezing all American, British, Canadian and Australian assets, and the head of the Japanese Board of Information, said:

"If the United States refuses to understand Japan's real intentions and is now bent on taking measures to exert pressure on Japan, the conclusion is inevitable that it is the United States that disturbs the peace. The responsibility rests entirely with that government."

Thus Japan, and this was recognized as the most militant statement against this government that had been made in the history of the relations, many times strained, between the two nations.

NOTICE: Served on Japs

The reaction of Tokyo, as expressed by Ito, was coupled with a none-too-veiled threat in the newspaper Nichi-Nichi as follows:

"The United States may be confronted with a perilous situation fraught with the danger of war." The newspaper Asahi said:

"This is no longer an economic problem which could be dealt with economically, but provokes the fundamental determination of the Japanese people."

These words were particularly significant, because they bespoke the nation's inability to face the withdrawal of the exports of the United States and Britain and her dominions, or to replace these missing goods without going to war to get them.

Thus observers saw in the Philippine mobilization order that this government was serving notice on Japan that the United States is getting ready to defend her territory in the South Pacific and her trade lifelines to that part of the world with armed force.

Gen. Douglas A. MacArthur, former chief of staff of the United States army, was called out of retirement to take command of all the far eastern forces. The handsome, socially debonair general, still vigorous for all his years, immediately went to work.

The forces involved total now in the neighborhood of 150,000 trained or partially trained men, and with draft machinery already at work in the islands, and equipment ready to be rushed there, an armed force considerably larger was a possibility.

RUSSIA: Holding Hard

While it was still practically impossible to make any definite sense out of the German and Russian claims, the consensus was that the Russians were making a surprising good fight out of the war.

As time wore on the battles were admittedly severe according to both sides, and the main objectives were clarified as Smolensk, Kiev and Leningrad.

There was nothing definite to indicate that any of these three German claims had actually been carried out.

This lent general credence to the belief that if the Germans were not stalled, they at least were able to make only thin forays past these points, and were probably having a hard time of it.

German dispatches tending to prove this to be so told of "bad roads" and "unfavorable weather," plus "still resistance" of scattered units of the Red army as making it difficult to advance.

The Finns were more frank, and stated "there can be no talk of a blitz campaign. We are advancing but have to take one bunker after another."

From time to time there were indications that Moscow was taking the offensive, certainly at some points in the front.

Dancing—As a holiday from pressing problems, meritorious and deserving as they may be we present a medley of Michigan news oddities, gleaned from hometown newspapers and guaranteed positively not to solve a single thing!

Hamburger Train

Bill Brooks of Birmingham warns his customers at the door, "This is not a professional restaurant." After your order is taken, Bill disappears into the kitchen. On the U-shaped counter are two miniature railroad tracks. The first thing you know, a whirling sound commences and from a tunnel emerges a shaft of light followed by a locomotive and two flat cars.

The train stops in front of you. You grab your hamburger from a flat car. The train backs up and disappears into the kitchen.

Gay Nineties Epidemic

Future historians may record Michigan's summer as an era of "gay nineties" masquerades, a psychological escape from headline jitters.

Dexter citizens July 3 celebrated a centennial. Men grew beards. Women wore bustles. The famous DeWitt Clinton train of 1831 was brought to Dexter. Result: A village of 1100 persons was visited by 60,000 persons.

Perry township, Shiawassee county, held a centennial pageant July 25 and 26 with covered wagons, old-time costumes, broad-brimmed hats.

Lawton held a "Gay Nineties" party July 26. Fifty business men grew beards and mustaches. Girls became "bells."

MacKenzie Island July 24-26 relived history of 1820 with a pageant. Governor Van Wageningen, as a territorial governor, wore a top hat.

Reclaiming the Desert

In Newaygo county is a 1,000-acre phenomenon, known as Big Prairie desert. Here is its story:

Back in 1852 a group of settlers—James Barton, Alexander Dalziel, William Barton and Benjamin F. Olney—located on a tract of prairie land in four townships.

Because it was a prairie, the land was all under the plow the first year. The surface seemed to be a dark loam. It required little labor to put it under cultivation. Many fine farm buildings were erected.

Late in the '30s sand began to tear up the beautiful farms, cover fences, undermine buildings. Farmers gradually vacated their lands.

Today an estimated 1,000 acres is a lifeless desert. Not a blade of grass can be seen.

Only the farm of the late Judge Barton was spared.

Today the Manistee National Forest Service is planting pine seedlings, installing snow fences to check the sand.

Wild Life Notes

Art Moore and Ted Ingalls, both of Munising, parked their car near Cusino and started walking down a trail. A half-mile away they came suddenly upon two bear cubs, each one about 30 pounds in weight.

Art and Ted then heard a growl. Behind them was the mother bear. "Wholly unarmed, the men started running."

"That is a good deer and rabbit country," related Art afterwards. "We ought up to and passed a dozen of the critters getting away from that bear."

Mrs. William E. Mori, North Caton, Ohio, went fishing for trout in Lake Superior off Munising. Her catch: A 35-pound, 2-ounce trout; 4 1/2 inches long.

Pop Bottle Starts Fire

From Three Rivers comes this tale: Fire destroyed the straw stack of Elmer Pulver near Corey Lake.

The blaze is believed to have been started when intense heat rays of the sun focused through a pop bottle.

Roller Skating Fad

"The roller skating fad, which flourished about 40 or more years ago, has struck the country again and is becoming a rage," notes Frank M. Weber, country editor at Atlanta, up in Montmorency county.

"Lawson and Hillman have both had skating rinks for some time, and now Atlanta will furnish a place for you to break your neck if you want to."

Open air motion pictures are another small town vogue. Lester M. Rogers, country publisher at Camille (Hillsdale county) reports:

"It is estimated that 700 people attended the street pictures Wednesday evening. There were seats for 500. Many bring their own chairs and others sit in their cars while many use the standing room."

Girls Run Own Farm

The red-headed Williams sisters—Arlene, Hazel and Belle—have run their own farm of 120 acres near Quincy since their father, Frank Williams, died in 1930.

Last year they raised 1,000 leghorn chickens. They paint and repair their farm buildings.

Hazel teaches school in the winter. Asked how she likes farming, Arlene said: "I'd rather do it than anything else in the world."

Catch a Dog

Fishing on Six-Mile lake near East Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. Berkert caught a three-pound bass on the first cast; a two-pound bass on the eleventh cast. Suddenly the wind started, and a bad storm threatened. The Berkerts started for shore, a half-mile away, letting the plug troll behind the boat.

"Look at the beaver following us," exclaimed Mr. Berkert. Just then there was a "strike" on the line.

Scottie dog, "Wags," who had swam the half-mile, had been hooked in the leg with the bass plug. "Wags" was promptly rescued.

Waits 43 Years

A. V. Brown, Spanish-American war veteran of Fennville, encamped in Arkansas for a week before he received his honorable discharge.

Two weeks ago he found an envelope in his mailbox containing a check for $3.40. "In full payment for services in the Spanish-American war," the check was signed by the Adjutant-general of Arkansas and was his wages for that week of service 43 years ago.

Wicked Big City

Jack Kelly's "big tent show," proclaimed to be "Michigan's biggest and best stock company," invaded the tourist town of Charlevoix the other day. Offering competition with the Chicago smart set's summer playhouse, Kelly offered a special matinee on Saturday with "Freak's Bad Boy."

He closed Sunday evening "with the big New York society comedy, 'In the Wrong Bed.'"

Question And Answer Dept.

Problem—Here are five historical or cultural landmarks of the United States. How many of them can you match the State or Commonwealth to which each one is identified: (1) Faneuil Hall. Ques.—What is a perfect husband, if there is such a thing?
Ans.—Any married man at a baseball game who rushes home while the score is tied in the ninth inning.

Ques.—Is it true, as I am told, that sponges belong to the animal kingdom?
Ans.—Yes. This has been definitely described by naturalists. Their close resemblance to vegetable forms caused them long to be regarded members of the vegetable kingdom; but their animal nature is evident from internal structure, and from the delicate skin surrounding the body.

Answer to problem: (1) Pennsylvania. (2) Maryland. (3) Tennessee. (4) Florida. (5) South Dakota.

Ques.—Where are the dividing lines for standard time in the United States?

Ques.—Why were the Thousand Islands in the Saint Lawrence River so named?
Ans.—A certain group of islands in the St. Lawrence River near the outlet of Lake Ontario had a vast number of islands estimated to number not less than a thousand. However, when a check-up was made after complete exploration of this group of islands, it was found that the exact number is 1,752, but the name was never changed from "Thousand Islands."

Ques.—I have a personal reason in asking if you will state in your very good paper just what "thought" is. Thank you.

Ans.—"Thought" is the power of the mind to form and rationally apply general conceptions. It involves the mental processes of comparing, judging and reasoning. The function of apperception is primarily involved, but afterward it works upon the more abstract material used in arguments and reasonings.

Ans.—Aug. 4, 1901, was Sunday. Hence that is your birthday.

Ques.—When did President Woodrow Wilson die?
Ans.—President Wilson died on Monday, Feb. 3, 1924.
