DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. Can my children buy Defense Savings Stamps?

A. Yes. Hundreds of thousands of American children are buying Stamps regularly as their share in the national savings program.

Q. Why should children be encouraged to buy Savings Stamps?

A. Because by buying Stamps they write their names on a Roll of Honor of Americans who are doing their part to show the dictators that united America will never flinch to preserve her sacred liberty.

Ques.—After my child has collected enough Stamps to exchange for a Bond, can the Bond be registered in the child's name?

A. Yes. A minor may own a Defense Savings Bond. Many parents are registering Bonds in their children's names to prepare for future educational needs.

Note.—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., for a mail-order form.

Local Petitions Ask for Blacktop to North Lake

Several local civic groups, led by the Kiwanis club, are circulating petitions which will be presented to the County Road Commission, requesting that the Winkler Road, from M-92 to the North-Territorial Road, be surfaced with blacktop. Portions of the road are now being widened but no provision has been made by the road commission for surfacing the highway.

For several years local groups have attempted to secure a good road leading into Chelsea from the north but have so far failed. It is believed by the committee in charge of obtaining signatures on petitions that a concerted effort may now bring results.

Chelsea has been almost entirely neglected by the state and county highway departments for a period of years and in all fairness to a community of this size there should be some action taken to give us some good roads from the north, south and east. The road to the north should be blacktopped by the county, and the state should continue the good road to Chelsea; the Manchester-Chelsea road should be blacktopped from the new US-12 to Rowe's Corners; the Chelsea-Dexter road should be completed from the old cement plant crossing to Chelsea.

The western portion of Washtenaw county, as well as other parts of the county, pays taxes, and certainly some consideration should be given to the highway needs of this district!

Local Boys Attending Hi-Y Training Camp

Three boys from the Chelsea Hi-Y left Saturday, August 16 for Camp Hayo-Went-Ha on Torch Lake near Central Lake, Michigan, where they are attending the State Hi-Y Training Camp for one week. They are Roderick McDonald, Maynard Oesterle and Donald Heurien.

The Hi-Y training camps are conducted by the State YMCA for the purpose of training Hi-Y officers and leaders for their club work in the local school and community. One hundred eighty Michigan boys attend the two one-week periods held each year during the last two weeks in August.

The camp program includes a combination of leadership training through worship, talks, discussions and classes, and sports and recreation activities. The latter include sailing, canoeing, softball, tennis, riding, riflery, handicrafts, swimming, and hiking.

George B. Corwin of New York City, National Hi-Y Secretary, will attend both periods. Other leaders are: Dr. Royal G. Hall, of Albion College; John Price, Michigan State College; Boyd I. Walker, Detroit YMCA; and Cliff Drury, Bruce Tullman, and Merrill Eynart, all of the State YMCA staff, Detroit.

LEGION OFFICERS INSTALLED

At the regular meeting of the Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31 of the American Legion on August 7 the following officers for the ensuing year were installed by the 40 & 8 drill team, Vulture 102, of Detroit: Commander—Paul Maroney. Senior Vice-Commander—Leon Fox. Junior Vice-Commander—Jack Dumas. Adjutant—Carl Chandler. Finance Officer—Harold Craven. Chaplain—Ed. Miller. Sergeant-at-Arms—Julius Eiselo. Historian—John Bird.

The meeting was held jointly with the Legion Auxiliary, who served a very nice lunch after the installation.

INDUSTRIAL WORKERS MEET

About 300 people attended a general meeting of the Chelsea Industrial Workers' Association, Inc., which was held Tuesday evening at the Sylvan town hall. Berchman Crocker introduced John P. Keusch who explained the objectives of this association. David Miller, as acting president, also addressed the gathering. The next meeting of the association will be held on Sunday, September 14, so that employees from all shifts can attend.

ASK FOR FEDERAL GRANT

At their meeting on Monday evening the village council voted to make application to the Federal Government for a grant of approximately $16,000.00 for improvement of the sewage disposal plant to take care of oil and acid coming from industries working on national defense projects.

The council persuaded W. Arnold Steger, clerk, to withdraw his resignation which was submitted at the previous meeting, and appointed Olen Hart as deputy clerk to assist Mr. Steger.

An ordinance dealing with the issuance of revenue bonds to finance the filtration plant now under construction was passed by the council.

MODERNIZE OFFICE BUILDING

St. John's To Celebrate Golden Anniversary

The 50th anniversary of the organization of St. John's Evangelical church, Freedom township, will be celebrated with a Golden Jubilee on Sunday, August 24, with services at the church both in the morning and evening. Rev. J. Fontana, pastor of the church, will be in charge of the services, and several guest pastors will take part. (A complete program for both services will be found on another page of this issue).

In the early part of 1891, families in the vicinity of Rogers Corners opened their homes for religious services, which were conducted by Rev. Paul Irion, who was then pastor of Bethel Evangelical church of South Freedom township. Feeling the need of a regular church organization, a meeting was held on July 31 of that year and a committee of five was appointed to draw up a constitution to be submitted to the members. It was decided to name the new church "St. John's Evangelical Congregation of Freedom Township." The members of this committee were: Frederick Eise-mann, John G. Feldkamp, Arnold Heinrich Kuhl, Frederick Breiten-wischer and John Moessner.

The proposed constitution was unanimously adopted at a meeting on August 24 and the congregation was immediately organized by electing a church council of three trustees: John Moessner for three years, Arnold H. Kuhl for two years, Frederick Eise-mann for one year, and two elders, Gerhard Esch for two years, and Heinrich Kuhl, Jr. for one year. Rev. Irion continued to serve the congregation as its pastor.

In a special meeting on the 9th of January, 1892, it was decided to build a church 36x46. Subscriptions were taken and the sum of $2237.00 was

Advisory Council for County Named by FSA

Ten Washtenaw county citizens will serve on an advisory council which has just been organized to advise and assist in the operation of the rehabilitation and tenant purchase programs of the United States Department of Agriculture, Donald Kline, County Supervisor for the Farm Security Administration, announced today.

The advisory council consists of a three-member RR (rural rehabilitation) committee, a three-member farm debt-adjustment committee, a three-member tenant purchase committee, and three council members-at-large who do not serve on any of the committees. The appointments were made by Roswell G. Carr, state director of the Farm Security Administration at East Lansing, Michigan.

Committee members are:
RR (rural rehabilitation) committee—Mrs. Hattie Frederick of Ann Arbor, Walter Breuninger of Dexter, and Horace Whitney of Ann Arbor.

Farm debt adjustment committee—Alvin F. Gross of Saline, Horace Whitney of Ann Arbor, and Walter Breuninger of Dexter.

Tenant purchase committee—Chas. McCalla of Ann Arbor, C. A. Carr of Saline, and Arthur J. Lutz of Saline. All ten persons were chosen because of their concern for the welfare of small farm operators and their interest in the efforts of the Farm Security Administration to help small farmers overcome the difficulties which stand in the way of their achieving security on the land and a better standard of living, Supervisor Kline said.

Farm Security makes standard rehabilitation loans to farm families who are unable to obtain adequate operating credit from any other source. These loans are for five years, at five per cent interest, and are based on sound farm and home management plans which the families work out with the cooperation of the county RR supervisor and home management supervisor. More than 200 farm families in Washtenaw county already have been helped by the rehabilitation program.

Services of the farm debt adjustment committee will be available free to all farmers who are involved in debt obligations beyond their capacity to pay. Commitment will help farm debtors and their creditors come to agreements based on the ability of the farmers to satisfy their debts.

The tenant purchase program helps a limited number of qualified farmers to acquire family-type farms under provisions of the Bankhead-Jones farm tenancy act. In this county five farmers have received tenant-purchase loans with which to buy farms of their own. The loans are for 40 years at three per cent interest.

Meetings of the council and of the individual committees will be held at intervals during the year.

St. John's To Celebrate Golden Anniversary

The contract was let to Geo. W. Beckwith of Chelsea and the church building and a small church schoolhouse were completed in late fall. The church was dedicated in November of that year.

In 1894 the congregation had grown to such an extent that they could call their own local pastor. In October, Rev. J. B. Meister of Adrian accepted a call, beginning his pastorate on December 16.

In August, 1895, the congregation bought the house with one acre of land from William Beuerle, which still is used as the church parsonage.

Rev. Meister resigned as pastor in March, 1902, after which Rev. Julius Reichert of Adrian accepted a call but could not begin his duties until October. He served the congregation until the beginning of the year 1908.

There was a vacancy of several months before the new pastor, Rev. Gottlieb Eisen, was installed on May 3, 1908. Under his leadership the congregation enjoyed a number of years of quietness and peace; then Rev. Eisen followed a call to another field on June 30, 1917, and there was again a vacancy of two and a half months.

The new pastor, Rev. P. W. Krueger, stayed only a few years and resigned March 27, 1921. A month later Rev. Gustav Ronte was installed and after a pastorate of eight years, illness of Mrs. Ronte made it necessary for him to resign July 21, 1929.

The following pastors served only a short time each: Rev. F. G. Weber, who came from Deaconess Hospital in Chicago, died Nov. 2, 1931 and was buried in St. John's cemetery. Rev. W. G. Mauch served from Feb. 11, 1932 to Oct. 27, 1935. Rev. H. Nie-demhoefer came Dec. 15, 1935, staying only 19 months. During the vacancy that followed Rev. Niedemhoefer's resignation, Rev. Hans Zumbach of Ann Arbor preached regularly until the arrival of the present pastor, Rev. J. Fontana.

The church board now consists of Clarence Trinkle, president; Herbert Hinderer, secretary; Clarence Buss, treasurer; Gustav Esch, Benjamin Breitenwischer, Officers of the Ladies Aid are: Mrs. Benjamin Breitenwischer, president; Mrs. Gustav Esch, vice-president; Mrs. Walter Beuerle, secretary; Mrs. Henry Niehaus, treasurer. Churchmen's Brotherhood: John W. Fontana, president; Henry Buss, vice-president; Clarence Haussler, secretary; Walter Beuerle, treasurer. Sunday school officers and teachers: Rev. J. Fontana, superintendent; Miss Elsie Hinderer, secretary-treasurer; Clarence Klose, Mrs. Clarence Klose, Mrs. Walter Beuerle.

More than 100,000 species of beetles are known to mankind.

Shortage of Rainfall Lowers Level of Lakes

Inland lake levels in the lower peninsula will be as low as they were last year, if not lower, unless rains are frequent and abundant for the next two or three months, O. E. Poindexter of the conservation department's geology division announces after checking a survey of ground water levels.

Several months ago Poindexter predicted inland lake levels would be higher this summer if rainfall was normal. The statewide rainfall deficiency since May, however, has caused a sharp decline in lake levels.

In December, 1940, lake levels were a foot higher than for the corresponding month of the previous year. By May of this year, the levels were still three-quarters of a foot higher than in May, 1940, in spite of below-normal spring precipitation. During May and June the level average dropped another foot, with the July level this year just two-tenths of a foot higher than the July, 1940, mark. Present indications point to even lower levels. Extreme low levels cause considerable concern to cottage and resort owners.

Houghton lake, which was a foot higher in April of this year than it was a year earlier, has declined sharply, losing a foot and one-half by July. Higgins lake and Lake Margrethe showed lesser decreases during the same period.

Livery.
The word "livery" is an adaptation of the Anglo French livree, from livrer, to deliver, in the special sense of distributing.

THE ENLARGED Michigan Bell Central Office building at Flint on May 14, ten weeks after the roof was taken off the original structure.

FLINT—Fastest growing Telephone City of its size in America

Among the industrial centers working night and day in the national emergency, none is busier than Flint.

A year ago there were 31,500 telephones in Flint. Now there are 38,500—an increase of over 22 per cent. And telephone growth is still climbing faster than in any other American city of comparable size.

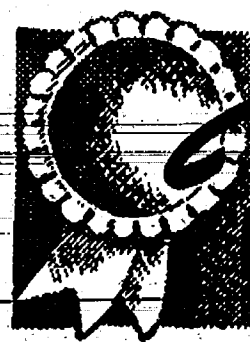

As a part of the soundly financed Bell System, the Michigan Bell is enabled to obtain capital funds with which to meet that growth. The Company will spend more than $1,000,000 in Flint this year for new equipment, cable lines, and an addition to the Central Office building. But Flint is only one of many places in Michigan where such situations must be met. $11,000,000 is programmed to serve camps, arsenals, factories, and others engaged directly in defense work. And the Company's total 1941 plant construction program exceeds $26,000,000.

The telephone has a little part in almost every National Defense effort. And a little part in every effort adds up to pretty big figures.

Chelsea Golf Tourney
Enters Final Round

The first annual Chelsea Amateur Golf Tournament has progressed according to schedule with all the players completing their quarter-final matches, and with the remaining players in the Championship Flight entering the final round. In the quarter-final matches for the Championship Division, held during the past week, medalist Robert G. Foster continued his winning ways by blasting C. Stanley Evans out of the tournament 7-6; Al Johnson defeated Red Eder 3-2; Frank Frisinger upset one of the tournament favorites, Clare Rowe 2-1; and Paul Young outstroked David Reid 4-2.

In the Second Division, William Kuhn won by default over Osh Howe; Paul Schneider showed his courage by staving off a nice rally by Maurice Howe to win on the 18th hole 1 up; Ed Miller edged out Audrey Harris 1 up in 20 holes in one of the best matches of the tournament; and Dudley Foster defeated Luther Kusterer 6-4.

In the semi-finals of the Championship Flight, Robert G. Foster earned his right to enter the finals by eking out one of the best competitive golfers in this vicinity, Albert Johnson, 2-1, while the long hitting Paul Young showed his championship calibre by edging out Frank Frisinger 1 up in 21 holes. The Championship match between Robert G. Foster and Paul Young will involve 36 holes of match play which will be held at Inverness on Sunday, August 24th. It is hoped that the golfers in this vicinity will take advantage of the situation by watching these two fine golfers match strokes at that time.

The semi-finals in the Second Division must be completed by Saturday evening, August 23rd, and the Finals will be played the next day. The winner of the William Kuhn-Paul Schneider battle will encounter the winner of the Ed Miller-Dudley Foster tussle for the championship. These matches should be very close throughout with the champion undecided until the last putt is dropped.

The best matches last week were the Paul Young-Frank Frisinger match in the Championship Flight and the Ed Miller-Audrey Harris battle in the Second Division. Both matches involved players who are good competitors, and the medal scores were very good considering the constant pressure surrounding the extra-hole battles. The Finals promise to exhibit fine golf by the players and would be well worth the time of any golfer in this vicinity to follow the players in their matches.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

Steel Placed Under Defense Priority; Government Moves to Check Inflation With Installment-Buying Regulations; Tension Grows in Far East Situation

(EDITOR'S NOTE:—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

Wm. S. Knudsen (2nd from right) OPM director, finds himself in a sea of motors during his inspection of the Curtiss-Wright aircraft plant at Paterson, N. J. The OPM chief on the same day also visited the company's Caldwell, N. J., propeller plant where 300 machinists went out on strike on the day of his inspection.

STETTINIUS: Issuing Orders

The priorities director of the Office of Production Management, E. R. Stettinius Jr., moving rapidly to get the economic condition of the nation geared into the defense production machine, announced that all steel would be placed under full priority for defense.

Stettinius announced that there was a growing shortage in certain types of steel products, and said that his order covered not only steel but also certain alloys.

It means that the steel companies already operating to capacity and with growing backlogs of orders, are forced to accept all defense orders in the future even if this means the shelving and deferring of non-defense orders.

The preference given defense orders applies not only to the army and navy, but also to British orders and those of the lend-lease program.

It goes into effect September 1, after which any order for steel will have to be accompanied by a special form which will set forth what purpose the steel is to be used for.

The priorities control over steel rolled the ball a little higher as far as governmental economic action was concerned. Already in August pig iron had been placed on the list, and the recent order concerning the manufacture of silk hosiery, and placing of the entire national output of silk at government and defense disposal sent women chasing pell-mell to department store counters.

Also the Stettinius office was ordering other goods out of production to conserve materials. How far-reaching this was could be noticed in the order outlawing "white-wall" automobile tires.

Stettinius' order stated that 8,000 tons of rubber per year could be saved in this way, and that quantities of zinc, in the form of zinc oxide, also went into the manufacture of these tires.

JAPAN: 'Crisis'

Increasingly "tough" measures against Japan by the British-American front were predicted by London as the crisis grew more acute in the Indo-Chinese area; with the Dutch East Indies, Malaya and the Philippines regarded as equally menaced.

The Japanese demand on Portugal for an air base at Delhi, town on the Portuguese half of the little-known Dutch-Portuguese island of Timor in the Malay archipelago, was the latest move of the Nipponese to raise tension in the South Pacific.

London stated that the granting of such a base would enable the Japanese planes to fly right over the center of the Dutch East Indies, and to throw a loop of military airplanes around the Philippines.

It did not make the tension any easier when it was learned that Nazi Germany was putting pressure on the Portuguese government asking air and submarine bases on Lisbon's colonial territories in return for a Nazi guarantee of Portuguese territorial integrity.

A German base in the Azores, London pointed out, would largely nullify the American aid to Britain on the Atlantic. Also a base on Portuguese territory in West Africa would do the British no good in the Mediterranean battle.

At the same time an article by Chen Chieh, former Chinese ambassador to Berlin, expressed the conviction that stiffer economic pressure on Japan by Britain and the United States might checkmate any of Nippon's demands.

Chieh said that the entire Japanese southern-Pacific campaign was the result of prodding by Germany, who had underestimated the strength of the Russian army, and while realizing the strength of the Chinese army, thought a bluff would close the Burma road.

BUYING: Curbing Installments

In an action designed to put a check on inflationary trends in the nation's defense boom, an executive order was issued by President Roosevelt which called on the Federal Reserve system's governors to regulate installment buying.

This order gave the Federal Reserve virtually complete control over consumer credits in the country and will become effective in about a month.

It was indicated by Marriner S. Eeles, Federal Reserve board chairman, that the first steps in the regulation would not be to prohibit installment buying, but merely to control it. This meant that the board might put through an order regulating the size of the down payment to be made and the length of time allowed the consumer for repayment of the credit.

Eeles also said that initial regulation would be issued promptly following consultation with representatives of the trade and financial institutions affected.

DRAFT: Extension Fight

The passage by the senate of a bill providing for an 18-month extension of the terms of service of all men in the army and navy did not end the battle by any means, nor did it have the effect of quieting opposition in the house.

First intimation that this was so came from administration circles themselves, with the apparently unauthorized statement that any extension at all from the house would be acceptable.

When the bill went into the senate, the first goal of the administration leaders was for an unlimited extension. The opposition bloc countered with the Taft bill, calling for six months; later a vote was taken on a year, and the 18-month provision was finally passed, by a fairly strong, though lessened majority.

It was considered significant that on the eve of the first test of strength, house administration leaders were admitting that a "down the line" fight for the senate 18-month extension might risk a complete defeat for the bill.

BATTLE: Of Propaganda

The rival claims of Russians and Germans to successes on the east front continued to feature the war news to the despair of the reader and observer, and the beclouding of any clear understanding of the action.

Official London, usually ignoring such matters, warned the public to "take the German claims with reserve," but to realize that a serious and dangerous threat to the Black sea port of Odessa was shaping up.

That was one direction in which the Germans were claiming relatively little. They did claim the capture of an army general in the south, and thousands of prisoners, but most of the claims were in the territory closer to Kiev, Smolensk, and Leningrad.

Stories came out of Berlin with an undercurrent of dissatisfaction with conditions, however, one dispatch stating that the Russians, despite huge losses, were still hurling "millions" of fresh troops into the fray with no count of the cost.

BERLIN: Under 2 Fires

The German capital, since the Russian war started, was placed under two bomb fires; in fact, in recent attacks, people could not tell whether the bombing planes were coming from the east or the west.

Britain, relieved of much of the necessity of protecting her own cities, was hammering away day after day, night after night, when suddenly came reports from Berlin of bombings of the city and territory by Red planes.

Michigan Mirror

By Gene Alleman Lansing—What is going to happen the waterfalls of the Upper Peninsula?

Here is a question that involves a controversial issue, and like everything else you find many sides to it. Isn't all one-sided by a long shot. The two Tahquamenon Falls in the county are now under state ownership, having been transferred by a federal government to the state conservation department in a swap of land. But many other scenic waterfalls in the Upper Peninsula are owned privately, and two of these—Victoria and Bond falls in Ontonagon county—have been exploited for commercial purposes by private power interests. Having just returned from a 1,200-mile trip into this fascinating country between Lake Superior and Lake Michigan, we have some first-hand impressions. You may be disturbed by them. We were.

National Defense National defense is doing things to its northland region.

Strangely enough, while it has stimulated the greatest tourist season in many decades if not in all history, it is creating a new demand for conservation of two natural resources—waterfalls and timber—which are needed to be valuable tourist assets. Iron and copper ore are imperative needed for America's defense. Old mines are being re-opened, while new ones are contemplated. Wisconsin industrial towns also need electric power.

To meet this existing and prospective demand, the Wisconsin-Michigan Power Company, for example, recently completed building of a dam and reservoir on the Michigamme river at Crystal Falls. It is called the new Way Dam. A new large lake has been created which will add to existing fishing grounds in Iron county.

Below this reservoir the power company is contemplating the building of a hydro-electric plant. A possible site for the dam and plant is the Michigamme Falls, a picturesque scenic spot in a deep narrow gorge through which waters of the Michigamme river roar madly.

Horseshoe Rapids Land around the Michigamme Falls has been acquired by the power company.

This utility has also bought land around the Horseshoe Rapids, another scenic spot on the Paint river and some ten miles or more from Crystal Falls through a blueberry plain. A possible hydro-electric development is in the offing for this location.

You may recall having read about the Victoria Falls on the Ontonagon river which was converted by the Michigan Copper Range Power company into a commercial hydro-electric plant. In order to assure a steady flow of water to the Victoria Dam, the utility (formerly an Inland subsidiary) has diverted water from a branch of the Ontonagon river just above Bond falls.

A controversy ensued with the state conservation department which happened to own acreage below Bond falls and consequently had riparian rights. A "gentlemen's agreement," which has been made into legal contract, resulted whereby the power company is maintaining a sufficient flow of water over Bond falls to preserve its scenic appeal. Furthermore, the company has even "patched" the face of the falls with concrete, and not one tourist in ten thousand would ever notice it.

What Should Be Done? It is easy to express snap judgment and say that the power company is to blame.

Actually, if anyone is to be blamed at all, it is probably the indifferent and apathetic citizen who takes little interest in esthetic affairs of this kind. "If he can drive his automobile right to the falls and view it from the car, then he will enthuse," observed a state conservation official at Lansing. "But otherwise, it seems that the average man-and-woman doesn't care."

$3,000 a Park a Year Is the conservation department to blame? Well, figure it out for yourself.

The department has 56 parks to maintain and administer. Its annual budget is $160,000 or just about $3,000 per park per year. The department also administers the upkeep of some 4,500,000 acres of forest land in Michigan. Two million acres of this were acquired in the 1938 tax sale.

Obviously with $3,000 to spend on each of its 56 parks in Michigan, the conservation department is barely able to maintain the grounds and provide occasional improvements. Unlike other states, Michigan does not charge an admission fee into its public parks, and there is little likelihood that this precedent will be changed by the legislature.

The fault, if any, lies in the apathetic attitude of the average Michigan citizen.

Miner's Falls, near the Pictured Rocks at Munising, can be reached only by going through a cheap hot dog stand at the entrance by the road. You trespass over private land to see the falls, a 70-foot drop of water that is enjoyed by tens of thousands of visitors annually.

Unless enough citizens demand that scenic waterfalls be preserved through public ownership, then you can expect private interests to continue to exploit them for profit. This is not criticism of power companies. After all, they own the land and pay taxes on it.

SUPPLEMENT TO THE CHELSEA STANDARD

Lansing Industrialists Visit Cassidy Project

Representatives of various industrial plants of Lansing were guests of the National Youth Administration for Michigan at a day's outing at the NYA resident project at Cassidy Lake, last Thursday.

Arriving during the morning, they inspected the various workshops where Michigan youth are receiving work experience to enable them to accept jobs in national defense industries and at noon were served a luncheon in the mess hall at the camp.

Following luncheon the group saw groups of boys at work in auto mechanics, aviation mechanics, sheet metal, wood shop, welding plant and the various other projects at the camp.

The outing was arranged by the Lansing Chamber of Commerce and the state office of the National Youth Administration and is one of several similar trips to NYA projects in the state being planned.

Among the Lansingites who attended were: A. H. Brandel, director of employee relations, Oldsmobile; Harold Good, supervisor of educational training at Oldsmobile; Ed Rioridan, personnel department, Fisher Body corporation; Fred Wohler, president of the Wohler Machine company; Barney Cox, manager of the forge plant, Mettling Forging Company; T. A. Emerson, chief inspector of the Atlas Drop Forge company; Frank McKim, secretary of the Reo Motors Incorporated; Marvin Kanouse, assistant factory manager at Reo; T. A. Downing, Lansing manager of the Michigan State Employment Service; C. W. Otto, secretary-manager of the Lansing Chamber of Commerce; Dr. J. W. Sexton, superintendent of schools; and Harold Shaw, employment manager of the Motor Wheel corporation.

Slow Up!

By Ruth Taylor Do you remember the carpet laying examples in your old arithmetic and how you stumbled and puzzled over them until you finally learned that you had to allow something for the stretch?

In solving the problem of living in these days of stress and strain—we are going to have to do just that—allow for the stretch.

There is so much to be done, so many ways in which we want to help, that there is danger in overprowding our lives, in taking on too much, in cramming our hours so full, that we make a fetish of being busy and are so continually haunted by the hands of the clock that we don't do justice to anything we tackle.

Slow up. Plan your time so that there will be enough stretch to your day to take up the delays and unforeseen emergencies that will arise, no matter how wisely you plan. Do what you can. See to it that you do it thoroughly and as well as possible, but don't try to do the things you can't. And don't try to crowd everything into one day.

It is conceded that we have not done enough in the past, that we are in arrears on defense and in straightening out our own national, local and personal economy. We have years of negligence to make up—and precious little time in which to do it.

But—we can make haste best by going at an even pace, filling our time to the brim but not to overflowing. Make time by giving up some of the non-essentials, not by adding to an already full schedule.

Leave time for living—for thinking—for recharging the batteries of your spirit. Each and every one of us is needed in some definite activity for the welfare of this democracy to which we owe allegiance—but we are needed strong in body, clear in mind, and courageous in spirit. And we cannot be these three if we run on nerve alone.

These be perilous times and they may be worse. The strain and stress will continue, unless a miracle happens, and demand of us a hundred percent efficiency. Let us therefore prepare for such a call by coordinating ourselves and conserving our energies, working hard—but all times allowing for the stretch.

Do the best you can and trust in the goodness of Divine Providence for the rest, remembering the words of the Prophet Isaiah, "He that believeth shall not make haste."

Question And Answer Dept.

Problem—Which is the only bird of the air that does not throw its head back to swallow when it takes a drink of water? (Answer elsewhere in this department).

Ques—Who was Ellen Terry? And was that her real name?

Ans.—Ellen Terry was a famous actress born in Coventry, England, on Feb. 27, 1848. That was her maiden name, but being married twice, she was known as Mrs. E. A. Wardell, the name of her second husband. She began her stage career when only eight years old, and achieved much success in most all of the Shakespearean plays before she retired to private life.

Ques—To settle an argument please state in your good paper the year in which ex-President Theodore Roosevelt died?

Ans.—Theodore Roosevelt died in 1919.

Ques—What is the difference between the Fahrenheit and the Centigrade thermometers?

Ans.—In Fahrenheit the freezing point is 32 degrees above zero, whereas in Centigrade the freezing point is called zero.

Ques—What is a white lie? Does this stick you? If not, give us an example.

Ans.—A white lie is one that is not malicious. Example: If you are not entirely satisfied with our product, return the unused portion and get double your money back.

Answer to problem—The pigeon, "Timbuctoo" if it is not fiction?

Ans.—Timbuctoo is a city of about 12,000 inhabitants, and located in the Sudan near the southern boundary of the Sahara desert, seven miles north of the Niger river, in Africa. The city is about 900 years old, and was slowly wasting away for lack of thrift. However, French occupation stemmed the tide and has greatly increased Timbuctoo as an important foreign market.

Ques—They say that it was the pen of Harriet Beecher Stowe that brought about the Civil War in this country. Is that a fact?

Ans.—No, that is not true. Our Constitution says that "no State can secede from the Union." However, Mrs. Stowe's book entitled "Uncle Tom's Cabin", and published in serial form in 1850 at Washington, was a strong factor in solidifying northern sentiment against slavery, and in this sense it served to widen the breach between the abolitionists and the secessionists. There is no doubt the war would have been fought even though the book "Uncle Tom's Cabin" had never been written.

MILAN—Kasmir T. Pietrzak, warden of the Federal Correctional Institution at Milan, died suddenly while attending a performance in a Chicago theatre Saturday afternoon. He had been stricken with a heart attack and passed away before medical attention could reach him. He had apparently been in good health for the past few weeks although he had known for some time that he was subject to a heart disorder. Mr. and Mrs. Pietrzak left Milan early Saturday morning en route to Denver where they were to attend the annual conference of Federal Wardens. Mr. Pietrzak was to have led one of the discussions during the session. They had stopped in Chicago between trains.—Leader.

Softball News

By Rolly Spaulding

This week saw the start of the Twilight Softball League playoffs, with Spaulding Chevrolet scheduled to play Federal Screw on Monday night. Due to bad playing conditions this game was postponed until the next night.

Spaulding Chevrolet got off to an early start with four runs in the second inning and increased this lead, despite two desperate rallies on behalf of Federal Screw, to win their first game of the playoffs.

While this postponed game was being played on the west-diamond the regular second scheduled game of the playoff series between Handerk's Hi-Speed and Chelsea Spring was in full progress. Handerk's Hi-Speed won the toss and took the field where they held Chelsea Spring scoreless for the first two innings while they themselves scored four runs. Chelsea Spring rallied and drove in two runs to make the score 4 to 2. Handerk's boys got going again and started piling up their lead. They had a real slugging spree well in progress which was ended when Charlie Panarites was tagged out sliding into home plate. Talk about all h— breaking loose—it did! Legion Is Collecting Funds for the U. S. O.

Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31, The American Legion, has been designated in this area by the National United Service Organization to secure funds for our enlisted personnel in the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps.

The Post has already mailed its check for $200.00 for this cause, and the profits from its ice cream and soft drink stand during the recent carnival have also been earmarked for this splendid work. The Post has placed among the business houses of Chelsea and vicinity small boxes for the use of the public to make their contributions. A neat sign has been placed near these boxes, so the public may know for what purpose their money will be used.

Some twelve million dollars has already been raised for the purpose of establishing recreation centers wherever training camps are located. This will include hostess houses for housing at moderate cost any relatives or friends who may visit at these centers; it will also provide entertainment for the soldiers, it being recognized that the average small town, near which most camps are located, has inadequate facilities for this purpose.

It is further recognized that an efficient enrollee is a happy soldier and not one who has no place to go and is homesick.

The response has been generous and this article is written so as to further acquaint the public with the purpose and object for which funds are being collected. Your small change dropped in these boxes will go for a good purpose—to help keep our boys happy and contented while they are away from home and offer them a place where they may go and receive clean entertainment and recreation. This should ease the minds of anxious fathers, mothers and other relatives as to what their sons are doing while away from home and when not occupied with training.

All money contributed and collected in these boxes will go to buy cigarettes, candies and gum for our boys from this vicinity.

Committee.

HOLLY—On Monday evening about 7 o'clock a violent storm struck in and about Holly with great violence of wind that almost reached the velocity at times of a hurricane. At the Cass Waters cottage located at Taylor Lake three large poplar trees were uprooted and blown upon the house. The branches were so thick about the house that neighbors had to cut them away before the people on the inside could get out. In the woods near the lake thirty trees were said to be down. A number of large trees were also uprooted in the Holly cemetery. Mr. Leary's Log Cabin at Taylor Lake was quite badly damaged when a large oak tree near the house was blown down and fell, striking the house. It has not yet been ascertained as to what damage will be revealed when the trees are cleared away from the Waters cottage.

Grandfather Mountain
One of the mysteries shrouding Grandfather mountain, near Linville, N. C., is the appearance of tiny lights that twinkle and dance at night. Though many people have seen the lights from distant points, nobody has ever been able to find their cause or source.
