Mail Delivery Service Starts in Chelsea Oct. 1

Chelsea will have city mail delivery service, starting October 1, according to information received last week by Postmaster H. D. Witherell from the Fourth Assistant Postmaster General at Washington.

Application for this service was made by Postmaster Witherell last April. A survey of the village was made in June by C. E. Knudsen, postal inspector, and his recommendation for local delivery service was approved in Washington on August 19.

Mail delivery will be made by two carriers, one regular carrier working on a yearly basis, and one auxiliary carrier who will be employed on an hourly basis. There will be two deliveries daily, except Saturday, when one delivery will be made. Carriers will leave the post-office at 8:00 a. m. and 12:15 p. m. daily, and the one Saturday delivery will start after the foreign mails have been distributed.

Parcel post will be delivered by the auxiliary carrier in the business district and part of the residential district at 10 a. m., completing the residential deliveries at 2:30 p. m.

It will be necessary for all who desire delivery service to have their houses properly numbered and to furnish their own mail receptacles. The general delivery service at the post office will be eliminated except for non-residents, but anyone desiring to retain their lock box may do so. All letters for local delivery must bear two cents postage, regardless of whether the patron has delivery service or retains his box at the post office.

Civil service examinations to fill the two carrier positions will be held in the near future, although Mr. Witherell has not been advised definitely concerning the procedure.

Inauguration of mail delivery service is another step forward for Chelsea and Postmaster Witherell is to be commended for his efforts in obtaining this service.

Foster Brothers Win 1st Prizes in Golf Tourney

Robert G. Foster and Dudley Foster, golfing brothers of Chelsea, won the first prizes for the championship and second division of the Chelsea Amateur Golf Tournament by playing very good golf in their 36-hole final matches at the Inverness Country Club on Sunday, August 24. Robert won the trophy in the championship flight by defeating Paul Young of North Lake in a close match 3-1, while Dudley edged out William Kuhn in an interesting match 3-2 to capture the cup in the second flight. All four players participating in the final round of the tournament had good medal scores, but the winners exhibited greater courage in the closing stages after both matches were tied at the end of 27 holes of play. Robert G. Foster, by winning the championship, overthrew the usual tournament jinx which holds that a medalist seldom wins the tournament. He shot a nice 75-81 for his 36-hole medal total, while Paul Young had a nice pair of 79's for the 36 holes.

In the 18-hole semi-final matches, which were held during the past week to determine the finalists for the second division, William Kuhn bested Paul Schneider, 2 up, while Dudley Foster eked out a victory over Ed. Miller 1 up. Both of these matches were very close throughout and were won by nice putts on the last hole.

The Chelsea Community Association expresses its thanks to two fine golfers of Chelsea, C. Stanley Evans and Clare Rowe, for their excellent management of this tournament. The committee attempted to be fair and impartial in both pairing the players and in promulgating the rules for the tournament play with their sole desire to provide good competition for the golfers of this vicinity. The association plans to make this tournament an annual affair and hopes that next year there will be even a larger group of players competing for the worthwhile prizes.

CULHANE-IMMEL WEDDING

The ceremony uniting Miss Frances Culhane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Culhane, and Kenneth E. Immel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Immel of Sandusky, O., took place at 5 o'clock Saturday, August 23 at St. Mary's rectory, with Rev. Lawrence L. Door reading the marriage service.

The bride was gowned in pale pink satin with a finger tip veil of pink tulle and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli. Her sister, Mrs. William Buehler, as matron of honor, wore a dress of blue satin, while Marcella Immel, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, was attired in deep rose, their dresses being fashioned alike. They also carried gladioli. The groom was attended by his brother, Robert, of Sandusky, and his brother-in-law, Mr. Buehler.

A reception for 50 guests was held after the ceremony at the home of the bride's parents, and the couple left for a motor trip to Ohio. They will reside in Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. P. G. Schaible and family are spending a few days in northern Michigan.

Football Practice To Start Next Tuesday

Coaches Chas. Cameron and George Miller, of Chelsea high school, will be on hand to greet the football candidates at their first practice session scheduled for Tuesday afternoon, September 2. The first day will be taken up largely with issuing of equipment, and calisthenics.

A large number of candidates are expected to try out for the team, and keen competition is anticipated for some of the positions, particularly for those positions formerly filled by Policht, Knickerbocker, Schiller, and Norvas.

Major and Minor letter winners from last year's squad returning are Captain L. Dietz, E. Miller, C. Downer, R. Schmidt, R. Strieter, J. Merkel, R. Perkins, R. Kern, D. Gadd, M. Schiller, D. West, and H. Orbring. Charles Lane, who had an injured knee last year, will also be among the candidates.

The schedule will be as follows: Sept. 26—Chelsea at Saline. Oct. 3—Dundee at Chelsea. Oct. 10—Chelsea at Flat Rock. Oct. 17—Romulus at Chelsea. Oct. 24—Chelsea at Milan. Oct. 31—Belleville at Chelsea. Nov. 7—Roosevelt at Chelsea.

HARRISON-BULL WEDDING

The ceremony uniting Miss Gladys Harrison, daughter of Mrs. Alfred Faulkner of Chelsea, and D. S. Bull, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. William Bull of Luther, was performed Saturday afternoon in the parlors of Zion Lutheran church, Ann Arbor, with Rev. E. C. Stelhorn reading the service. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. William Sly of Chelsea.

The bride is a graduate of Chelsea high school, class of 1940. The groom graduated from Luther high school in 1937. Mr. and Mrs. Bull will reside in the Wolf apartments, 220 South street.

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. Why should Americans buy Defense Bonds and Stamps now?

A. Among the reasons are: (1) It is the quickest way in which every citizen can both serve his country and conserve his earnings, and (2) the purchase of the Bonds and Stamps helps not only to finance National Defense but also to prevent high prices and increased cost of living.

Q. Can I pledge a Defense Bond as collateral for a bank loan?

A. No. Bonds are registered and not transferable. They are payable only to the persons named on the Bond.

Note—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C., for a mail-order form.

Spaulding Chev. Wins Softball Championship

By Rolly Spaulding

Last Thursday night saw the final of the local Softball League for its second year. Hankert's Hi-Speed and Spaulding Chevrolet, each having won one game in the playoffs, were scheduled to play for the league championship. And believe me, each team was loaded for bear! Hankert's Hi-Speed had all their stars out in full strength with the exception of the great Charlie Panarites. Wayne Rossbach, Joe Policht, their pitcher, catcher and first baseman from Ann Arbor, Dexter on points east, and the rest of Emmet's first stringers all were there. Spaulding Chevrolet took the field with their regular lineup of nine men plus, in view of the approaching battle, a roving fielder which they have seldom used this year.

The game started out with both teams going at it full speed. But after the first two innings the speed got a little too high for the Hi-Speed boys and Spaulding Chevrolet piled up a few runs to win by the score of 9 to 0.

This win gave Harold's team the championship for the second consecutive year and a good time was had by all, with Junior Miller winning the slow-it-away championship right after the game. Junior stowed away three hamburgers, one milkshake, a double chocolate sundae and when he ordered a root beer and another hamburger the rest of the team left for elsewhere.

Well, all's over for another year but the shouting—the same of which will take place when you all attend the East Side - West Side Donkey Softball game which will be held the 8th of next month. This will be the second annual donkey game between these two factions, with Jerry Niehaus leading the West Siders and Jule Strieter leading the East Siders. If I remember right we West Siders won last year by the score of 74 to 3 and Jerry Niehaus, who kept score on the side, says this is absolutely correct. However, Jule Strieter claims the East Side won 98 to 24 and promises to prove it this year. Watch next week's Standard for further particulars.

IMPORTANT MEETING of all softball team managers this Thursday (tonight) at the school. Please be there! Have injured players' bills with you.

Donald Clark Killed When Car Crashes

Donald Clark, 17, of Chelsea was killed and Alvin Kolderer of Dexter was seriously injured early Sunday morning when the automobile in which they were returning from Lansing to Dexter left the highway on Grand River Rd., US-16, crashing into a tree. The accident occurred about a mile east of Williamson.

When found at 4 o'clock by a passing truck driver, Clark was dead and Kolderer, who had been thrown from the car, was unconscious. The latter was taken to Sparrow hospital, Lansing. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kolderer, Dexter. The car was demolished.

Donald Orman Clark was the son of Mrs. Dale Keezer and the late Leon Clark, and was born Aug. 24, 1924 in Lyndon township. He was employed at Palmer's garage.

Funeral services were held at 2:00 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the Plankell funeral home. Rev. Darwin Clapper officiated, and burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

TECUMSEH—What was probably the smallest wheat field in the United States, made what was probably one of the best showings, so far as yield was concerned. The field, which was about four feet by eight feet, and containing twelve rows of wheat, each with 30 kernels, was planted on land owned by Henry Ford, a few rods east of the Hayden Mill, on M-50 just east of the village of Tecumseh. The seed, certified Bald Rock wheat grown by C. D. Finkbeiner of Saline, was planted on a piece of ground that had never grown a crop of anything but quack grass within the memory of those living today. Had an acre of wheat, with two bushels of this same seed, attained the same yield, it would have amounted to 100 bushels per acre.—Herald.

The Voice of Silence

By Ruth Taylor
Silence may be far more eloquent than speech. It may shout more loudly than a strident voice. It may be more expressive than the most grandiloquent oratory. It may damn by the omission of praise—or it may grant consent to the most nefarious of acts.
The Psalmist said: "These things hast thou done, and I kept silence; thou thoughtest that I was altogether such an one as thyself."
If we keep silent when we see a wrong committed, we give consent to it and we become an accessory after the fact. "Speech may be silver and silence golden"—but when silence abets a wrong, its gold is as dross.
"There is a time to keep silence, and a time to speak", and now when the world is torn by cruelties and hatreds, when the forces of evil are let loose, is the time for speech.
The silence of the German people while Hitler rose to power and committed his first acts of cruelty condemns them. The silence of the Communists and their friends, when the Soviet first thrust out its tentacles to enslave neighboring nations condemns them.
If we are silent in the face of evil, we, too, are condemned. This is not a situation through which we can sit on the side lines. If we believe in the principles laid down in our own Constitution and above all in those statements of freedom given utterance in the Bill of Rights, we cannot keep silent.
All over America the voices are rising. Party lines are forgotten, differences of opinion and real grievances are being laid aside, as the country becomes one in stating its real stand for right and for the four great freedoms. It is not a matter of taking sides with one country against another. It is the coming to the defense of right against wrong, of justice against injustice, of liberty against oppression, of religion against paganism, of the sanctity of the individual against the supremacy of the State.
Now is the time to speak out for those principles of equality and freedom for all, which are the cornerstone of our liberty. Let not the thunders of silence condemn us!

Good Price Era Facing State's Agriculturalists

Take 16 typical Michigan—farm products and find that 10 of these are above the parity price ratio that existed in 1910-14 and that the average is 138 per cent of that pre-First World War period.
That is the recipe for optimism displayed in Michigan among farmers, according to R. V. Gunn, author of the current quarterly Agricultural Economics News issued at Michigan State College.
Gunn attempts no far-flung forecast of the future of the state's rural economy. He credits much of his information to surveys made by the federal-state crop statistician's office in Lansing, with prices received by farmers about 30 per cent above a year ago, Gunn contrasts a 7 per cent increase in prices paid by farmers for commodities and an increase of about 25 per cent in hired labor costs.
Hog producers can expect an encouraging price outlook for at least two years, according to Gunn's estimates. Even with corn at 85 per cent of parity, present prices for hogs mean that 100 pounds of live hogs are equal in value to 14 bushels of corn—a ratio favorable to the hog feeder.
Lamb prices can be considered good. Wool prices are the highest in a decade, indicating lamb and wool prices will continue favorable to the producer. Consumer demand, also is expected to hold up dairy prices at a favorable level.
Bean prices are two cents a pound higher than a year ago. In spite of a possible record crop in Michigan, Gunn uses the government promise of supported bean prices as an indication the 1941 crop will fluctuate around the supported level, which is $5 a hundred on an eastern seaboard basis, or about $4.05 to the Michigan grower.
Michigan's estimated 1941 million-bushel potato crop in 1941 is expected to bring a higher total return to growers—consumer demand offsetting a smaller Michigan and national crop.
GRASS LAKE—A toy balloon filled with hydrogen was sent up at Ft. Sheridan, Ill. and Tuesday the balloon was found by Seymour Smith on his farm south of Grass Lake. G, 61st C. A. (A. A.), Ft. Sheridan, Ill. P. S. This was sent up in a balloon filled with hydrogen as an experiment regarding military efficiency. Thank you."—News.

Will the tires you buy be safe when roads are wet and slippery?

DID YOU KNOW... that more than four times as many fatal accidents are caused by skidding than by blowouts? That quick-stopping tires are tops in accident prevention insurance?

Tires bought for low price alone may have a swell, husky-looking tread when they're new but after five to ten thousand miles the non-skid is apt to be worn SMOOTH. And S-M-O-O-T-H spells DANGER in wet, slippery weather. That's when your car deserves the protection of tires with the kind of non-skid tread that will last.

By Gene Alleman

Lansing—"Woodman, spare that tree!" goes an old sentimental saying. Despite all the conservation education which Michigan has had in the last generation or two—and surely our state is far ahead of most others in this regard—we still are a long way from solving the forestry problem.

This fact was impressed upon us forcefully during an automobile trip through a section of the Upper Peninsula which, according to the 1941 state highway map, is "roadless" and apparently impassable.

Two newspaper editors, both lovers of the Michigan outdoors, were our companions. Al H. Weber, Cheboygan, and Oscar Schumann, Grayling, know their outdoors—particularly "Hudson Bay" as we affectionately nicknamed Mr. Weber—who has visited the Hudson Bay country and was once introduced by Philip T. Rich of Midland to a New York group by that title. Incidentally, Weber rose to the occasion with long and tall tales of his life there.

It was Schumann's first trip west of Sault Ste. Marie, and it was our first experience in following Lake Superior from Munising to Emerson, all within a few miles of the shore. We spent the night at Weber's log cabin, 36 by 18 feet, located in a stand of virgin white pine.

Selective Cutting
First of many impressions about the forest resources was received on a visit to a logging camp operated by the four Lindahl brothers of Iron River—Harold, Walter, Oscar and Arthur. This camp is near Penelon Creek, some 20 miles from Iron River, and is situated in a 3,000-acre tract of fine timber which the Lindahl brothers have been holding for some time as taxpayers.

Because of a recent rise in lumber prices due to national defense needs, the Lindahls now find it profitable to cut their timber. A modern camp has been erected in the woods; lumberjacks work only 40 hours a week, and their food is excellent as we can personally testify.

Is the timber being cut on a selective basis? The answer is: No. The Lindahls are not to blame for such is the competitive condition in the North, plus the economic handicap of longer growing season for timber in the South and lower labor costs there. We understood from good authority that the Ford Motor Company at L'Anse aux Lacs in the same manner. Slash or waste timber is left in large amounts.

Scenic Resources
To utilize timber stands for commercial purposes is obviously necessary and worth-while industry. Furthermore, the federal and state governments have recognized the public value of preserving large tracts of timber. The map of Michigan is generously "green" in the North.

If the economic future of the Upper Peninsula lies in the development of its tourist resources, and you will find many persons today who preach this gospel, then it must be apparent also that scenic resources should be conserved if not restored for the future welfare of this region.

Let us cite an interesting example.

Automobile Tourist
With the Cheboygan editor as a guide, we explored by automobile through a forestland region of both cut-over and virgin timber, all lying just south of Lake Superior between Munising and the Soo.

The modern tourist travels by automobile, for the most part. If he goes by train, he usually supplements the trip with side-trips by motor.

Consequently what he sees from his automobile—except for lakes and streams—constitutes 90 per cent of his outing enjoyment.

North of Newberry and south of Lake Superior lies a wild timber country. You go through miles of land where stumps of pine trees, three feet from the ground, stand like an army of cemetery tombstones. You traverse through blueberry plains which the Indians burned frequently to provide pruning of plants by fire.

You go through virgin timber, some of which is being logged right to the road's edge and which leaves a desolate wasteland, ugly to behold. Traveling is a slow job, and you are lucky to make 15 miles an hour. Incidentally, we passed automobiles from Detroit and North Dakota, loaded with tourists seeing the sights.

Strips of Timber
To safeguard against this desolating of scenery along tourist-traveled highways, Iron county pioneered in Michigan by acquiring during the early twenties a 446-foot strip of timber along U. S. Route 2 between Crystal Falls and Iron River.

We'll let H. F. Larson, engineer-manager of the Iron county road commission, tell the story.

"During the early twenties, a party of us went on a short tour through a section of northern Wisconsin's famous lake region," he explained. "We found it difficult to locate a place to eat our lunch without someone kindly reminding us that we were on private ground and that we would have to move on. Unaccustomed to that sort of treatment, we hoped these conditions would never exist in Upper Michigan. The thought occurred that as soon as the Upper Peninsula was discovered by resorters, lake property would go up by leaps and bounds.

"Thus in the early twenties roadside parks and tables were erected along our highways so people who went motoring could take their lunch and enjoy it.

Virgin Pine Scarce
"This section was at one time covered with a beautiful stand of pine and hardwood. Within a space of 90 years the pine was wiped out and a beginning was made in the putting of other kinds of timber.

"There are old lumbermen who came here among the early settlers. They saw the Menominee Range before the woodman's axe had sounded throughout the forest. It was their belief that the pine would last forever—that it would be impossible ever to cut it all, and that hardwood timber would never have much, if any, value.

"These men lived to see the virgin pine practically exterminated and the so-called hardwoods disappearing at an alarming rate.

"Hence the idea was conceived by Iron county officials acquiring strips of timber 466 feet in width along main highways and thus having a permanent snow fence in the winter and a pleasing scenic view in the summer. Iron county's example was adopted later on by the state highway department.

Historical Markers
"Where ancient Indian trails now cross our main highways, suitable markers have been erected. We have included in Pentoga Park on Chicaugon Lake an old Indian village and cemetery which today is one of our most popular places.

"A marker has been placed where iron ore was first discovered in 1851. (The first recorded discovery of iron ore in this district was made by Harvey Mellen, a U. S. surveyor, who reported Aug. 8, 1851, an outcrop of iron ore five feet high on the west face of Stambaugh Hill. The Gaspar Mine in this vicinity has shipped more than 6,000,000 tons of ore since 1903.)

"A suitable monument is to be placed on the site of the first lumber camp near Stager opening up by the K. C. Lumber Company in 1877.

"Since 1918, when we made our first park purchase, we have acquired a total in parks and parkways of 2,500 acres. Probably no other factor all through the depression has contributed more enjoyment and pleasure in helping people keep troubles off their hands by the use of our county parks."

State Highway Policy
The practice of acquiring timber strips along tourist roads has been followed diligently by the state highway department. Furthermore, thousands of pine trees have been planted in some sections along state routes by the Civilian Conservation Corps.

"Yet this policy has been only introduced in a small way for obvious reasons, chiefly the cost involved. County governments could follow suit.

It's something worth thinking about. If the public was awakened to its need and demanded positive action, such a dream could readily become a delightful reality.

A splendid new road was opened last year between Guadalajara and Mexico City, and some sections of the road between Nogales, Ariz., and Guaymas are in excellent condition.

Applications Should Be Filed for F. S. A. Loans

"Washtenaw county farmers who wish to purchase farms under the Farm Security Administration Tenant Purchase program are urged to make their applications early," states Donald Kline, local FSA supervisor.

Appraisals of farms which tenants hope to buy can be made to advantage early this fall before bad weather sets in. Action can then be taken on a loan application before the tenant has to renew his lease or before he has to look for another farm for the next year.

Five farms were purchased in Washtenaw county last year. Farm owners and others who have farms to sell are requested to list such farms with the local office located at 333 S. Main St., Ann Arbor, or any one of the three county committee members may be contacted. These members are Chas. McCalla, Ann Arbor, and C. A. Carr and Arthur J. Lutz, both of Saline.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS By Edward G. Wayne

World War II Enters Into New Phase As Roosevelt-Churchill Conferences Indicate Continued Soviet Resistance, Unrest Report in Occupied Nations

EDITOR'S NOTE:—Views expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper. Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Back in Washington after his momentous sea conferences with British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, President Roosevelt conferred immediately with Secretary of State Cordell Hull. The two are shown here in an auto leaving the railway station for the White House. Secretary Hull carried a number of important papers for the President and the Far East situation was said to be the vital topic of their first discussions.

NEW ROUTE:

For Planes

What was declared by the White House to be "an important step to speed delivery of planes to the British forces in the Middle East" came when the President announced a new plan for ferrying aircraft to Africa.

Under terms of the arrangement worked out with Pan American Airways, planes needed by the British will be flown from the U. S. to Bermuda, thence to Natal, Brazil, and across the Atlantic to Africa. Pan American will return the fliers to the United States.

It was pointed out in the President's statement that the route was so arranged that at no time would the U. S. fliers pass through the zone of actual warfare.

UNREST:

Taking Substance

The unrest stories from occupied portions of Europe, which had been largely couched in general terms, as though the writers of the reports, figuring that the Germans had re-organized large numbers of troops for the war with Russia, and had let their imaginations run riot, now began to take some real substance.

The stories came from Norway, from occupied France, and from within Germany itself, though the details in the latter had to be gleaned from the highly propagandized Russian war communications and were somewhat discounted therefore.

The Norwegian story was that the Quisling government was tottering. These sources were Swedish newspaper stories, and the Swedes, though generally unfriendly to the Axis, were staggering along the fence of neutrality and so far had been able to keep their country uninvaded.

The Swedish stories had considerable detail. They told of Quisling himself doubling and trebling his bodyguard, and being on the verge of a nervous breakdown; of one of the cabinet ministers seeking to take poison and of others who had been ordered to take "rests" of three months because of the utter failure of their several objectives.

The French story also had substance and came from Nazi-organized Vichy itself, which, throwing off censorship, announced that the Paris police were offering a million francs reward for information leading to the arrest of train wreckers who were menacing the food supply of the former capital of France.

Those commenting on the dispatch, said it brought to mind the statement of Petain that he "felt an ill wind rising in many sections of France." The disorders at first blamed in dispatches entirely on Communists and Jews, brought from General Stoenagel, commander of the German armed forces, that if the train wrecking continued, the entire public of France would be held responsible.

This statement, added to the million-franc reward story, gave the unrest almost the tone of a revolution, and coming on the heels of the Petain-Darlan-Laval surrender to the Axis, made some think that perhaps loyal Frenchmen had been asked to surrender more than they would stand for.

JAPAN:

Official Washington was given a good idea of the narrow peace margin maintained by present Japanese-American relations when a ship sent to Japan for the purpose of evacuating somewhere between 120 and 140 American nationals was refused permission to enter a port.

The Japanese announced that they would let the ship in if its only purpose was to return the 20 U. S. officials involved, but that the private citizens and missionaries would have to remain in Japan.

WORLD WAR II:

New Angle

The many-faceted chances of war, which had seen Hitler reaching another peak of successes, suddenly seemed to turn more to the British-American side following the dramatic conclusion of the Roosevelt-Churchill talks at sea.

Not only did the eight-point pact between the two executives strike with a powerful sound across the front pages of the globe, but the promise of aid to Russia was reportedly based on the assurance felt by Britain and the United States that the Soviet troops would be able to hold the Germans at bay throughout the winter.

Indeed, Mr. Roosevelt on his return to this country, made such a positive statement, declaring that "consumers goods, such as foodstuffs, would be made available for Russia during the rest of the summer; that it was assumed the Russian winter would bring at least a partial halt to hostilities, and that more substantial aid could be made ready by Britain and the United States for the opening of the spring campaign."

All in all, there was a quiet confidence as to the outcome of the war, and its continuance through a considerable period of time, that was in sharp contrast to the feelings of menace and of instability that had been marking the news at the outset of the President's dramatic "vacation trip" on the Potomac.

Beside this sort of feeling, through out Britain and the United States and particularly since the President said he did not believe this country was "any nearer in the war" than it was before the conference, the rumbling criticism of congressmen and the byplay of press criticism over mere matters of pictures and the identity of reporters at the scene seemed "small potatoes."

Because Churchill, presumably being well informed by the British military mission in Moscow as to the real carrying on of the war in the East, and if the President was so broadly confident of the continuance of the Soviet defense, it was reasoned that he must have good authority.

PRESS:

Its Reaction

The press reaction to the Roosevelt-Churchill conference, and the eight-point statement was far from unanimously favorable. The criticisms, however, ranged all the way from an echoing of the Berlin reaction that it was a "poor plagiarism on Wilson's 14 points," down to a milder reproach that Roosevelt should have risked his life on the battlefield of the Atlantic.

In the main, however, the leading independent papers of the country agree with the philosophy and the idealism of the statement, though almost all of them agreed that it was a carefully turned and dramatically staged "counter peace offensive" against that expected to be launched by Hitler now that his campaign against Russia was about one-third accomplished.

There were many smaller sidelines of criticism, however. Some papers had headlines about "one-way censorship," apparently believing that certain British newspapers and press associations had been permitted to be represented.

Most of this did a quick death when it appeared that the London papers were much upset by the fact that the American press, not represented by photographers, got the pictures first.

Newsreel men expressed annoyance when these pictures showed a movie man in action, and the following day, when they saw the movie reels, they primly announced that they were a rotten job, the work of a "rank amateur" apparently—"Off center out of focus and under speed"—and that 1,800 out of 2,000 feet had to be thrown away.

Public opinion is a vital factor in any traffic safety program. Without it, the police, motor vehicle administrators, school people, and other responsible official agencies are deprived of a most powerful force. Once the public knows, not alone what the officials are doing, but why they are doing it, the official task is simplified.

Any group of safety-minded people conducting a community safety program ought to see that the public is informed of all activities regularly. Minutes of their meetings should be published by the local press. Newspapers all over the country have cooperated splendidly and have been a remarkable factor in giving this information to the public and thereby have helped in safety work.

Hide nothing. If some influential person in your community is brought in because of some traffic violation, he should be given the same treatment as anybody else. Favoritism should not be allowed in the enforcement of a safety program; and once the public knows this, you will get public support, and public opinion will help your program.

It's Smart to Drive Carefully.

Along came the skunk and found himself overwhelmed with a delicious plenty of the things he holds best in life. And grub worms make a tasty morsel for skunks.

Take Notice, that sale has been lawfully made of the following described land for unpaid taxes thereon, and that the undersigned has title thereto under tax deed or deeds issued therefor, and that you are entitled to a reconveyance thereof, at any time within 6 months after return of service of this notice, upon payment to the undersigned or to the Register in Chancery of the County in which the lands lie, of all sums paid upon such purchase, together with 50 per centum additional thereto, and the fees of the Sheriff for the service or cost of publication of this notice, to be computed as upon personal service of a declaration as commencement of suit, and the further sum of five dollars for each description without other additional cost or charges; Provided, That with respect to purchasers at the tax sale held in the years 1935, 1939 and 1940 the sum stated in such notice as a condition of reconveyance shall only be all sums paid as a condition of the tax title purchase, together with 10 per centum additional thereto. Watch Going Two Centuries

A silver key winding watch, belonging to Adon N. Thomas, 78, of Dorris, Calif., and which is more than 200 years old, is still ticking away as relentlessly as Father Time himself. It has been in possession of the Thomas family since before the signing of the Declaration of Independence in 1776. Thomas received it from his father in 1882.

That School Boy Figure

Does your husband bulge where he shouldn't? Does he have a dull, domesticated look? Cheer up, lady, he too, can be a Clark Gable. A New York outfit specializing in improving feminine appearance recently experimented with a man. In 50 days 50 pounds were taken off this fellow and his general appearance otherwise improved. Now this organization is thinking of opening a department devoted exclusively to bringing back to men their school-boy figures and complexions. However, it is not optimistic about men taking this up of their own accord and is hoping wives will force them to do so. One woman was asked if she would send her husband and she said emphatically, "Not me. He's enough of a hit with other women as he is. What would happen if he was fixed up to look like Robert Taylor?"

Delicious Advertising

"Beautiful royal red strawberries picked and specially selected are sent to us fresh each day from the sunny hills of Tennessee. These royal bits of juiciness have a superb flavor and when placed over an old-fashioned biscuit that is made with butter give you the perfect rhapsody of flavor for this ambrosia of tastiness." This is an ad by a Chicago restaurant.

Tenant Can Be Held

Few realize that it is possible for a tenant to be held to a lease which he has not signed but which has been signed by the landlord, that rent can be cut as much as 33 per cent, that a renewal clause in a lease may prevent the landlord from raising the rent. These facts are brought to light in Miss Beatrice Oppenheim's book, "Look Before You Lease."

Catching Fish Is Thrill; Preparing It Is Skill

Did you catch some perch or trout over the week-end? There's no doubt a thrill when you land a catch, but the satisfaction that comes from taking a perfectly browned fish from under the broiler or from a baking pan is nowhere equaled. With a trick or two up your sleeve in decorating the platter you have the makings for one of the most beautiful pictures ever eaten! Your reputation as a fine hostess is assured when the fish is served.

Small fish may be broiled without splitting them. Clean, wipe dry, dip in oil or melted fat; sprinkle with salt and pepper and broil until well
