MAIL DELIVERY SERVICE WILL START HERE NEXT WEDNESDAY

Conservation Stamps Will Be Sold Oct. 5-11

The use of Conservation stamps, to be sold here October 5-11, by placing them on mail to advertise Michigan's natural attractions, is urged by Governor Murray D. Van Wageningen in his proclamation designating that week as Michigan Conservation Week.

The special commemorative stamps will be issued by the Michigan United Conservation Clubs, an organization including 118 affiliated organizations, and will illustrate various aspects of Michigan conservation, such as deer, pheasant, trout, wildflowers, and scenes. Revenues from these stamps will help finance conservation programs, educational work, and other projects of direct benefit to Michigan.

The Chelsea Rod & Gun Club will have charge of local distribution of the stamps. Half of the proceeds will be used to finance projects carried on by the local clubs, and the other half will be used to finance state-wide projects.

"For several years the National Wildlife Federation has sold conservation stamps in Michigan," J. A. Park, president of the local club, said this week. "However, we believe that Michigan has much to offer, particularly when the stamps are used to advertise our own state. With our own stamps, all of the proceeds will stay in Michigan and be spent here to our own benefit." The stamps, he said, will be sold in sheets of 24 at 25c per sheet.

PRAY FOR VISION

By Ruth Taylor

"Where there is no vision, the people perish."

In this hour of trial and tribulation, when potent forces for evil are unleashed in the world, and the storms of intense conflicting opinions and prejudices are beating around us, let us pray for vision to see.

First, let us pray for vision to see with clarity what lies about us; to face the reality of things, uncolored by any shade of personal bias, whether it be the rose color of undue optimism, the deep green of pessimism, the flaming red of anger, the vivid yellow of pride or the gray of indifference. Pray for vision to see clearly things as they really are here and now.

Second, let us pray for vision to see with discernment; to look beneath the surface; to see what is motivating the actions and the speeches of the highly articulate groups recently banded together in this country; to weigh every statement, considering well its source and its possible effect; to judge carefully and with matured wisdom; not to be taken in by any wave of carefully-stimulated mob opinion, nor by any of the wild rumors so carefully set afloat by alien elements, and so well calculated to upset the morale and minds of our sincere, peace-loving, God-fearing people. Pray for vision to see through mists that veil the truth.

Third, let us pray for vision to see with understanding; to view with dispassionate but clear eyes not only what is going on, but also the people whom it affects; to see all of our people with eyes of compassion and sympathy, comprehending their problems and judging them as individuals, without regard for race, creed or color, never indulging in generalities or discrimination against any group. Pray for vision to see kindly.

Fourth, let us pray for vision to see with inspiration—to look ahead, toward a distant goal; to keep before us always as individuals, as a community, as a nation, a high ideal towards which we may strive; to place honor and integrity, courage and forbearance, duty and faith first in our lives; and to seek always what we may give to others rather than what we may get from life. Pray for vision to see ahead.

"Where there is no vision, the people perish; but he that keepeth the law, happy is he."

M. S. C. Short Courses Fill Many Farm Jobs

Wanted—A man to operate a farm.
Wanted—Man to manage dairy herd.
Wanted! Wanted!

There are so many requests filed in the office of R. W. Tenny, short course director at Michigan State College, that he takes new pride in the careers of the 17,000 who previously have taken short course training at the college. A new first and second year 16 weeks course opens Monday, October 27, at East Lansing.

Jobs are open, but training is necessary, Tenny declares. Many of the job openings include appeals from men who have purchased farm property but are forced to rely on experlenced operators to make the farms produce.

Poultry, fruit, power machinery, livestock, dairy and sheep flock management are included in the opportunities available to youths trained at Michigan State College in the winter months.

Shorter short courses confined to specific subjects open January 5 for eight weeks of training. These courses usually attract persons already participating in the special fields, but who seek additional background and training, Director Tenny explains.

Catalogs and information concerning cost of tuition, books and board and room are available by writing R. W. Tenny, Short Course Director, Michigan State College, East Lansing.

MORENO!—Since June efforts have been made to check the muck fire located a quarter of a mile north of North Moreno but to no avail until this week state conservation officers worked out a plan to bring it under control. The muck has been smoldering away and taking in its wake about five acres of a 40-acre wooded lot. The fire has covered an area a half mile long and about a half mile wide—Observer.

HOLLY!—Of great concern to Holly people right now is the fact that there are four definite cases of typhoid fever in the village and health officials are watching a possible fifth case. One death already has occurred this week from typhoid. A great aid, county officials state, is the willingness of the victims' families to cooperate in running down the source, a matter which has all the officials almost mystified. The city water, they state is absolutely safe, there being no suspicion whatever of its purity. They urge that everyone use only pasteurized milk from licensed dealers. A rumor that the local school would close is absolutely false, officials stating that children are "better off" and safer in school than out; also, it allows a more accurate check in their efforts which will continue until the source of the typhoid is found.—Herald.

NORTHVILLE!—With the Fair attendance reaching its peak Saturday, when some 8,000 persons went through the gates, the twenty-fifth Northville Wayne County Fair came to a close Sunday, running a five-day program for the first time. Sunday was second to Saturday in attendance count and Friday was a close third. Some 21,000 persons went through the gates during Fair week.—Record.

Fire Tagged As No. 2 Public Foe In State

Fire ranks with crime on Michigan's public enemy list.

A toll of 267 lives and property destruction exceeding ten-million dollars is the state's 1940 fire bill, according to a survey completed this week by the fire marshal division of the Michigan State Police.

Information from approximately 550 Michigan communities was collected in completing the most comprehensive fire survey ever taken in a state. Virtually every community in the state contributed its records to the completeness of the round-up.

The section on fire causes was particularly informative. It disclosed that even in the field of fires Michigan was the "automobile state," with car or truck fires the second-highest known source of fires. Records show 4,250 fires of such origin, with the list of known causes leading with 4,500 fires due to sparks on wood roofs.

Flying may have its other hazards but fire is not one of them. But nine aircraft fires occurred during the entire 12 months. "Old Man Carelessness" is as conspicuous in the fire picture as he is in the highway accident field. The survey shows him responsible for 1,353 fires in the period covered by the survey.

There were 37,257 fires in the state in 1940 according to Arnold C. Renner, chief of the fire marshal division of the Michigan State Police, who made the survey. His complete compilation of fire causes follows:—

Aircraft fires, 9; automobile or truck fires, 4,250; bonfires igniting buildings, 181; carelessness, 1,353; careless smoking, 1,888; children playing with matches, 849; defective chimneys, 2,097; defective electrical appliances, 890; defective stove pipe, 405; defective stoves or furnaces, 524; defective wiring, 573; explosions, 124; false alarms, 3,051; grass fires, 3,983; incendiary, 155; kerosene or gasoline stoves, 695; oil burners, 223; other causes, 5,874; overheated stoves, 1,254; petroleum used to start fires, 66; rubbish fires, 1,088; sparks on non-combustible roofs, 153; sparks on wood roofs, 4,500; spontaneous ignition, 381; unknown, 1,814.

Included in the 267 who lost their lives in fires during the year were three firemen. The record shows 495 firemen injured in fighting Michigan's Public Enemy No. 2.

OPEN YEARS' ACTIVITIES.
The Western Washtenaw Farmers club opened the year's activities with a meeting on Friday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. M. Brosamle, beginning with a pot-luck supper at 7 o'clock. The next meeting, for election of officers, will be held at the home of Mrs. Lydia Riemenschneider.

DEFENSE BOND QUIZ

Q. Do the retail stores receive any fee or percentage for the sale of Stamps?

A. No. The retail stores are offering their facilities as a patriotic service, just as banks, savings and loan associations, and others are giving their help in the sale of Defense Bonds.

Q. How can I form the thrift habit necessary for me to buy many Defense Bonds now, to help the Government?

A. The easiest way is to instruct your employer or banker to hold back a small fraction of your salary or other income. Even 10 cents a day and a dollar on your birthday will mount up in one year to $37.50, the purchase price of a $50 Defense Bond. Bigger savings—bigger bonds.

Note—To buy Defense Bonds and Stamps, go to the nearest post office, bank, or savings and loan association; or write to the Treasurer of the United States, Washington, D. C. Also, Stamps now are on sale at retail stores.

Feed Cows Well And They Will Produce

Keep Belinda well fed and comfortable if she is to earn her share of an annual income in Michigan of $60-240,000.
And who is Belinda?
She is typical of the 24,000 dairy cows that are in production on Michigan's 143,000 dairy farms, according to a Michigan State College survey.
He has devised pointers on what it takes to keep Belinda producing. Her production is important for fluid milk use, for supplying 200 creameries that annually produce 90 million pounds of butter, to 34 cheese factories which make 16 million pounds of cheese and to eight condenseries that turn out more than 130 million pounds of evaporated and concentrated milk products each year.

To keep Belinda full of feed, she ought to have 20 pounds of alfalfa daily, or even more if she wants more, water should always be available, silage should run between a third to a half bushel daily and grain would be between 5 and 12 pounds daily depending on the quality of alfalfa and whether she is producing 20 pounds of milk daily or up to 35 or more pounds of milk.

Deep straw bedding or sawdust or shredded-fodder are recommended. Good ventilation and windows for sunshine are included. Baltzer suggests reducing drafts, keeping yards clean, fighting lice and lousing ringworm.
Does the process pay with a good cow? Baltzer claims it does. An average cow stall requires 18 square feet of surface. A healthy, good producer can give an annual rental return of $4.70 a square foot, but a poor cow would return "rent" of but $1.50. Similarly a good cow pays back 60 cents an hour for labor, but a low producer gives a farmer only 18 cents an hour for the same work.

Study Sun From Peak
A mountain workshop for study of the secrets of the sun has been established on the slopes of Fremont pass, 11,513 feet up, in the Colorado Rockies, near Climax, Colo. It is the only one of its kind in the Western hemisphere and its completion is the culmination of six years work. The observatory is expected to give scientists their best information on disturbances of the sun.

Lansing—When the state legislature convenes Thursday, Oct. 9, following its unprecedented recess in protest against vetoes of Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner, Republican leaders will move for another 90-day extension.

That's the betting among well-informed observers at the state capital this week.

The arguments run something like this:

1. Legislative adjournment next month would be tantamount to confession that the Republican leadership "pulled a boner", that the Democratic governor was right.

2. Governor Van Wagoner is showing Dutchman traits of standing fast, unyielding to pressure for a bi-partisan compromise. No deal is in prospect.

Home Folks
3. Republican lawmakers who are in daily contact with the voters back home report cheerfully that the folks on Main Street and the rural routes are not particularly disturbed or critical at the legislature's recess.

"After all, Congress is still in session," so they say. "It isn't going to cost the taxpayers anything to have us available for instant call, if an emergency arises."

"Unlike a special session, a legislative recess does not allow payment of mileage for travel to and from Lansing. And anyway, our pay is going to be the same whether we meet for 90 days or 365."

4. Economic problems in Michigan may need legislative attention by January. We may be shouldered high by a shooting war. Inability of manufacturing plants to get materials and curtailment of automobile production may result in severe temporary unemployment in the state next winter.

The state defense council is hopeful that mounting defense production will cut down the unemployment lag in industrial centers, making the adjustment period comparatively short—say, 60 to 90 days. Manufacturers are not so optimistic, expect thousands of workmen to be jobless, blame too much Washington regimentation by priorities.

1942 Campaign
Backgrounding the tug-of-war between the governor and the legislature is the fact that 1942 is approaching fast, and 1942 will bring another political campaign.

At the Democrats' state rally at Mackinac Island, the keynote was "Van Wagoner and Brown" for the 1942 ticket. Leaders have taken it for granted that both the governor and senator will be re-nominated. It simplifies the problem for the Democrats tremendously to know, more than a year in advance, who is going to head their ticket.

Likewise, it puts the Republicans at a disadvantage.

G. Milton Kelly, Associated Press writer at Lansing, reports that Republican leaders have concluded that the time between the September primary and the November election is too brief for Republican opposition to a Democrat who is virtually unopposed in his own primary. Eight or more months prior to the 1940 primary, Van Wagoner was campaigning persistently as the conceded party choice for governor. The Republicans' primary battle is history.

The Associated Press correspondent observes: "When the 1940 campaign ended, it was taken for granted in most circles that 1942 would see the party's organization booming (Harry F. Kelly for United States senator and Vernon J. Brown for governor. A movement is now under way, however, to draft Kelly for governor, although he has made it no secret that he isn't enthusiastic about seeking that job."

Foreign Policy
Because of prevailing sentiment in Michigan for non-intervention or isolationism, call it what you may, it is predicted that issues in the 1942 campaign will center on the war to a large degree.

Michigan public opinion was reflected in the near-unanimous vote of Michigan members in Congress, Republican and Democrat, against enactment of the draft and its 18-month extension.

If shooting war is unpopular with a majority of voters in November, 1942, off-year campaign results may hinge on such non-state issues as national defense, foreign policy, conscription, inflation and farm prices.

Wendell L. Willkie has declared that isolationists will be given all-out opposition at state primaries in 1942. The subject of a legislative recess would be a mere peanut tossing on this turbulent political sea.

Capitol Miscellany
Charges that convict labor has been used at Jackson for private purposes are being investigated by the state corrections commission. Labor union officials insist that inmates were employed in construction of a house for Joseph Picard, brother of United States Judge Frank A. Picard, Detroit.

Michigan State Fair at Detroit earned a profit this year. Paid at tendance exceeded a half million persons, so reports Bernard J. Young, blood general manager.

May state departments and agencies hire their own legal counsel? Herbert J. Rushton, attorney general, says "No". Furthermore, he says that lawyers in his department are not under civil service and that dismissed lawyers will be replaced for the most part by Republicans.
A survey made by Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly indicates Michigan is "one of the last states" likely to have gasoline consumption curtailed for defense.

KIWANIS NEWS

The Kiwanians held their regular meeting this week on Monday evening. Albert C. Johnson had charge of an interesting program on Education, and he secured Walter MacPeck of Ann Arbor as the principal speaker of the evening.

Mr. MacPeck is one of the leaders in the Boy Scout movement in this vicinity and is the Scout Executive for Washtenaw and Livingston counties. The speaker ably discussed the value of the Boy Scout training as a character builder and as an incentive to live a clean, wholesome life.

Mr. MacPeck extolled the fine Scoutmaster of Chelsea, Lowell Davison, as a conscientious leader and character builder. He enthusiastically cited the progress the Chelsea troop had made under its leader during the past year and stated that he was personally sorry to see Mr. Davison retire from his key position in the local troop.

On behalf of the Kiwanis club Mr. Johnson presented Lowell Davison with a nice billfold in recognition of his excellent work with the Boy Scouts.

The Kiwanians at this meeting decided to stage another play in Chelsea on October 9 and 10 which will be as humorous as "The Womanless Wedding". The producer gave the details of this play to the group, and from all indications it will be even funnier than the performance staged in Chelsea last year.

Alfred D. Mayer stated that the committee will commence its search for talent to play the leading roles in this production the first of next week.

The program chairman announced that the Kiwanians and their ladies would meet at the St. Paul's Evangelical church next Monday evening at 6:30 o'clock for a Ladies' Night gathering. He urged the members and their guests to attend this gathering and stated that there would be a fine program to entertain the group.

ADDRESSES CHILD STUDY CLUB

Miss Louise Jotter, one of the two women members to go on the University of Michigan expedition down the canyon of the Colorado river, was enthusiastically received when she lectured to the members of the Child Study club on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Bruce Blankell.

The expedition, which was made in June, 1938, was undertaken by Dr. Elzada Clover of the U. of M. botany department and Miss Jotter to collect specimens of cacti, which grow along the borders of the river and which have never been previously collected. Several new varieties were found and more than 600 plants were brought back for study.

Starting at Green River, Utah, the 600-mile trip was completed in 42 days, ending at Boulder Dam, and was made in three sturdily built flat-bottom boats, which were especially constructed to withstand the terrific pressure of the swirling river. In all the length of the trip, only one portage was made. The rest of the time the boats were lined down the river by ropes, when the rapids were too dangerous to navigate.

Miss Jotter praised the efficiency and excellence of their boatmen, who were called upon to take the boats down the dangerous rapids, the longest of which was nine miles and had been formed by the running together of several separate rapids.

Excellent movies were shown, some of which were colored, and the group was able to have a real picture of what the trip was like.

Some 100 people have tried to navigate the canyon, with about 60 being successful, but Miss Jotter and Dr. Clover hold the distinction of being the only women to ever do it. At present, Miss Jotter is working on her doctorate in botany at the University and she will receive her degree in February.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting, on October 7, will be held at the home of Mrs. Ray Barber.

HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

DO YOUR EYES SMART OR ACHE?

Mother Nature never intended human eyes to stand the abuse that the average person gives them, such as reading fine print—using poor, artificial light—and subjecting them to long hours of overwork.

Nature does her best to overcome the handicap of eyestrain, but her best is not always sufficient for this strenuous day and age.

That is why everyone should consult a competent optometrist for a thorough eye examination at least every two years, and have any existing defects in vision corrected with properly fitted glasses.

Community Fair Notes

Hobby Show

This is the time to put the finishing touches on your hobby exhibits. Let's all join in the spirit and fun in the coming events of the Community Fair. The one thing that has made the Hobby Show outstanding in the past years is the spirit of co-operation and the willingness of individuals to display their talents, simple or elaborate as they may be. This spirit makes the Fair a real community project. The prizes, small as they are, are a fair prize, but it is very evident that prize winning is not foremost in the minds of the contributors. Every exhibit makes the show better.

A special feature of the hobby show this year will be a soap-carving contest. This is something everyone can try. There will be a pamphlet at the library that will suggest possibilities to beginners.

The committee chairmen are especially pleased in the willing response of all people called upon to help.

The committees for the Hobby Show will be as follows:

Novelty Collections—Mrs. W. Hinderer, Judges—Mrs. Carl Mayer, Mrs. Alfred Mayer.

Stamps and Coins—Bob Eaton, Judges: Dr. L. J. Paul, P. F. Niehaus.

Photography—Mrs. Layton Steger, Judge: Mr. McManus.

Handicraft—Mrs. A. A. Palmer, Judges: Mrs. Miller, J. Wellnitz.

Needlework—Mrs. M. W. McClure, Mrs. D. Colquhoun, Mrs. Edgar Gail, Judges: Mrs. Carl Bagger, Mrs. John Metzger, Mrs. L. P. Vogel.

Rug Making—Mrs. J. Hale, Judges: Mrs. Alice Roedel, Mrs. Carrie Maroney.

Serap Books—Mrs. LeRoy Mayer, Judges: Mrs. Philip Olin, Mrs. Leigh Palmer.

Red Cross—Mrs. A. L. Steger, Mrs. J. E. McKune.

Miscellaneous—Mrs. P. G. Schabbe, Judges: Mrs. W. Harper, Mrs. W. Kusterer.

Flower Show

Plans are marching right along for an exceptionally successful Flower Show at the Community Fair. The committee is extremely gratified at the interest already shown by Mr. and Mrs. Chelsea and they are planning some lovely surprises. Following is a list of chairmen:

House Plants—Everybody loves plants these days; it seems, from grandmother who has her big bay window filled with bright and sturdy geraniums and waxy begonias, to the young bride who has her modern kitchen spattered with wee gaily potted plants. Let's all bring our favorites and our oddities and display them at the flower show. Chairman, Mrs. Carl Mayer.

Holiday and Seasonal Center Pieces—We want all of your grand ideas. Here are suggestions: Halloween, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Valentine and Patriotic, St. Patrick, Easter and Spring, and do not hesitate to use artificial flowers. Chairman, Mrs. Bruce Plankell.

Specimen Blooms—This proved to be very popular last year and we are sure we will have even more specimens brought in this year. Chairman, Mrs. Vincent Burk.

Miniature Arrangements—This is fascinating when you get into it. Use your imagination and be sure and enter two or more. Chairman, Mrs. Norbert Merkel.

Winter Bouquets—You have lots of time to go out in the woods and gather material for this exhibit. Let's see how original you are and what you can do with a few berries and weeds. Chairman, Mrs. Waldo Kusterer.

Junior Division—We are so glad and happy to have the Juniors with us and hope this year you will all be enthused and have your special flower of plants right up there, maybe to win a prize. Chairman, Marceline Hinderer.

The committee needs a great many ferns for decoration and to use as backgrounds. If you have any to lend call Mrs. Warren Daniels or Mrs. Archie Wilkinson and they will call for them.

The Flower Show committee chairmen are as follows:

General co-chairmen—Mrs. W. R. Daniels and Mrs. A. Wilkinson.

Entry chairman—Mrs. J. Streiter.

Judging assistant—Mrs. Bertha Spaulding.

Reception chairman—Mrs. Dudley Holmes.

Flower Girl chairman—Mrs. Jay Weinberg.

Publicity—Mrs. Sidney Schenk.

All High Party

The first All High party was the main topic of conversation around school last week. Everywhere I heard "What are you going to wear?" "Have you got a date?" "Is the Swing Band going to play?" and the like. Anyhow by Friday night all of us were pretty excited and could hardly wait for things to get started. The girls all looked gay and colorful in their brightly colored skirts and sweaters but it was one of the boys in his "fire engine" red sweater that really caught everyone's eye. The party started off with a bang when we attempted the Grand March—but even if it wasn't the correct way to do it, the mixups broke the ice and soon everyone was dancing. The Swing Band sounds even better than usual this year and will really outdo itself with a little more practice.

After an hour or so of dancing we relaxed by way of a dish-of-ice-cream which tasted mighty good after all that strenuous exercise. Next a few games were played but everyone seemed pretty anxious to get back to their dancing—as the band members wanted to get in on the fun.

Came eleven o'clock and the freshmen got out their brooms and dustpans and went to work with a will. O the joy of being a Senior! The rest of us danced awhile longer, but finally taking the hint we tramped regretfully out the door. The end of a perfect day for most of us, though I did hear tell of a few who didn't go straight home.

Office News

The teachers of our school will be the guests of the members of the Jo-cal Kiwanis club at a dinner which will be served at St. Paul's church on Monday, September 29.

The Chelsea football team will engage the Saline team in Saline on Friday, September 26. On Friday, October 3, the Chelsea boys are scheduled to play Dundee at the local athletic field.

The annual Freshman-Sophomore party will be held September 26 in the gymnasium. At this time the Freshmen will be royally initiated.

The Chemistry class, under the supervision of Mr. Richards, visited the local sewage disposal plant on Tuesday, September 23.

Student Council

The Student Council is again busy planning activities for the student body. Among these activities is an assembly to be held Tuesday, Sept. 23 at 2:30 o'clock. The entertainment for this is to be furnished by the De Willo Concert Co., a musical institution known from coast to coast.

The Council has already sponsored a very successful All-Hi party which was held Friday, Sept. 19.

Senior News

The Seniors are still making themselves menaces to the public. That's right. The magazine sales are still in full swing. They were well satisfied with last week's sales. Of course, you know, they are divided into teams and to make it interesting, five pounds of candy goes to the winning team. So, to you the public, purchase your magazines now as the sale ends to night.

Junior News

Have you seen them? We think they are the best looking ones we've ever seen around C. H. S. You have probably guessed by this time that those cries are about the Junior girls. They arrived last Wednesday, and since that time many a Junior has had a cramped finger from sticking it out where it will catch the eye of the passerby. No fooling, Juniors—they really are nice rings and something to be proud of.

Sophomore News

The Freshmen are going to suffer Friday! At least that is what the Sophomores are saying for at last they have made final plans for their initiation party. After Freshmen go through this party they can consider themselves ready to take and hold their place among their fellow upper-classmen. A word to the Freshmen: Don't let it get you down. We all went through it once and though you suffer (?) a little while you bask in the thought of the revenge you'll have next year.

Assembly

The De Willo Concert Co. entertained the students at an assembly program on Tuesday, Sept. 23.

The company is an American institution known from coast to coast. They are professional artists of standing, presenting a pleasing, well balanced, artistic repertoire. The assembly was enjoyed by all.

Girls' Athletics

The members of the Girls' Athletic Association took a hike, Thursday, Sept. 18. They went about two and a half miles out in the country and ate their lunch in the woods. Everyone enjoyed it very much.

They are also making plans to play baseball and to form bowling teams.

Chorus

Miss McNeil and her chorus groups are now working on songs to be sung at the Community Fair on Friday, October 3. The girls will be wearing black skirts with white blouses and should make a fine appearance.

Band News

The first appearance of the high school band for this year will be on October 3 at the Chelsea-Dundee football game.

The band has been learning several new marches which they will play at the game and later they hope to arrange these to be used for victory songs for Chelsea High. The band will also play on Oct. 3 at the Community Fair.

Arrangements are going to be made so that the band will attend at least one game out of town, possibly more. Right now the band is searching through try-outs for a signal-drum major (or majorette) and twirling majorettes.

F. F. A.

The agriculture department is making plans for a game supper which is scheduled for about the middle of October. A W. L. S. show is also being planned for some time in November. They are going to try and have some educational exhibits besides the livestock at the Fair.

Home Economics

Last Friday the Home Economics club held a business meeting at which they drew up a constitution. At the end of the meeting they danced, played games, and served refreshments.

The girls of the first homemaking class have just finished making relish and are now making jams and marmalade, which they hope to exhibit at the Community Fair.

In the second homemaking class the girls are making skirts and jerkins of plain and plaid material. The eighth grade girls are making posters for exhibition at the Fair.

Safetygrams
BY
FRED W. BRAUN
The Safety Man

Fall weather is approaching, and with it we can expect fog, rain, and sleet. Streets will be wet and slippery, and windshields will be coated with ice. Driving under such conditions makes extra precautions essential.

In these articles I have tried to stress the importance of constant attention when driving—not one second should be given to any other matters while you are driving. Long strips of straight pavement encourages higher speed; driving becomes more or less monotonous and invites inattention. Just one moment of inattention, especially when weather conditions are not very favorable, may put you out of circulation forever.

Don't let anything distract you! Pay attention to your driving!

Mrs. Quigley suffered several bruises and cuts. Mr. and Mrs. Quigley continued to Chicago and returned to their home here on Friday.

Scientists have found that the water-balance of the brain is intimately bound up with the acid base equilibrium. The epileptic brain is an alkaline brain, it was discovered. Recent experiments at the University of Maryland indicate there is a "chemistry of human intelligence." It was further learned that the diabetic brain is an acid brain and, if not balanced by proper treatment, results in retarded mentation and stupor.

SHOOTING WAR:

Recapitulation

Repercussions among the non-interventionist opponents of President Roosevelt's general foreign policy were surprisingly calm, following his address in which he told U. S. naval skippers to shoot first and ask questions afterward. Beyond seeing it as a step toward war, there seemed to be an utter unwillingness on the part of the White House's opponents to sail into the President's teeth and toenails.

The request of Captain Halliday of the sunken Steel Seafarer, "give us guns and we will shoot, too," brought the discussion of arming of merchantmen into the fore. In this the pattern of the last war was being sharply paralleled.

The declaration by Germany of unrestricted submarine warfare was closely followed in those days by the arming of merchantmen, which, in turn, was followed by the country's active entrance into the war.

However, it was not immediately apparent that any such move was being sponsored on Capitol Hill.

'For All Flags'

Later the trend of U. S. policy became more clear as Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, in a speech before the national American Legion convention in Milwaukee, indicated that U. S. warships would "provide protection . . . for ships of every flag carrying lend-lease supplies between the American continent and the waters adjacent to Iceland."

While he avoided the use of the word "convoy" this appeared to be the plan for providing the promised protection and to most observers it looked like the logical follow-up to the President's former "shoot on sight" edict against German or Italian raiders.

REYNOLDS NIPPED:

A Repercussion

Cancellation of an address scheduled by Sen. R. R. Reynolds of North Carolina before the Advertising club of Newark, N. J., was another repercussion which bid fair to be a typical reaction of the times following the President's "shooting" speech.

The senator had been booked to speak September 24 "many months ago," and the statement made public by the club declared: "and the where fighting was reported showed definitely that there was an actual advance, and of no inconsiderable proportions. Three towns easily locatable on detailed maps of Russia which lie well behind Smolensk" were reported captured.

Absence of any further German claims on the Kiev and Odessa fronts were accompanied by simple Russian statements that the battles there were "continuing." One Russian commander said "Stalin's order not to yield Kiev is being complied with."

Many military observers believed that the long, waving line of the Nazi front was fraught with exceeding danger to the German campaign provided the Red army on the central front really has the enemy in an important retreat.

Perhaps the outstanding Russian claim was the recapture of several points on the west bank of the Dnieper. This, if true, did much to bear out the feeling that the second great Nazi blitz against Russia again was bogging down.

Investia stated "the Napoleonic record of 83 days from Warsaw to Moscow still remains unchallenged by Hitler."

IRAN:

Sends Nazis Out

Eighty Nazis were reported expelled from Tehran in carrying out the terms of the British-Russian-Iranian armistice, and that eight of them were sent to Siberia, "very glum"; the rest going to India.

The German legation had, by a variety of excuses, postponed the departure of the special trains for nearly 24 hours. The British and Russian diplomats had expected about 225 to be expelled, and were visibly disappointed when only 80 left.

The German legation was reported to be housing about 400 men, women and children rounded up in preparation for the expulsion.

HIGHLIGHTS . . . in the week's news

London: It was pure "blackout" for Britishers. The postman brought them their income tax bills. They called for up to one-half of all their earnings in the year ended April 5. New Orleans: Hurricanes of September revealed a new menace to defense. Five hundred and fifty war planes had to be moved to points of safety when a hurricane was reported in the vicinity.

RUSSIANS:

Hold and Advance

Conflicting reports from the Russo-German front continued to paint as near as it was possible to determine, a general picture of the Russians holding out in the siege of Leningrad, and making a steady and fruitful advance against the Nazis in the central sector around Smolensk.

Whether this was the natural sagging of a salient due to the removal of Germany's best troops to the Leningrad front, or whether, as the Russian communiques insisted, the Red victories were against the Reich's crack legions in full force, was of course a matter of conjecture.

Two names emerged from the daily dispatches—those of Marshal Semeon Timoshenko, general commander on the central front, and that of Gen. Jacob Kreutzer, leader of the Russian blitz forces who were doing much of the driving ahead.

The Russian daily claims of 7 to 10 miles advanced might be discounted, but the names of places
