Detroit Woman and Son Killed In US-12 Crash

Mrs. Joseph Sedlow, 35, and her adopted son, Ronald, seven years old, both of Detroit, were victims in a car-truck collision on US-12, a quarter-mile west of Lima Center at 10:30 Sunday morning.

Mrs. Sedlow and son, en route to Battle Creek, were riding in a car driven by John Beamblossom of Melvindale, in which were his wife and Theodore Addison, also of Melvindale. The boy was killed instantly and Mrs. Sedlow died a few minutes later. The others escaped with minor cuts and bruises.

The truck driver was Steven P. Fedor, 31, of Chicago, who was hauling 20,000 pounds of dressed turkeys from Chicago to Detroit. He suffered an injured left leg.

Mr. Beamblossom said that he was traveling west on US-12 and was passing another car when the east-bound truck swung into the middle lane towards him. He applied the brakes but was unable to avoid the crash.

Fedor was bound to circuit court on a manslaughter charge and was later released on $5,000 bond.

The bodies of Mrs. Sedlow and son were taken to the Staffan funeral home in Ann Arbor and later were removed to Detroit. The injured were treated at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital. Officers were on guard to prevent thefts until nearly 9 o'clock Sunday night, when the towls were loaded into another truck.

Officers Elected By St. Paul's Women's Guild

Members of the Women's Guild of St. Paul's church held a social evening in connection with their regular meeting on Thursday night, entertaining their husbands with a delicious chicken and pot-luck dinner. Covers were laid for 65. The men then amused themselves with games while the women held their business session.

Mrs. Elmer Pierce was elected vice-president and Mrs. Albert Ashful as president for 1942. Mrs. Norman Schmidt will continue in office as president and Mrs. Leroy Satterthwaite as secretary for the ensuing year.

The Women's Guild will hold a bake sale on Saturday, December 20, with the following committee in charge of the arrangements: Mesdames W. Hinde, E. Lohman, O. Lindauer, A. Lindauer, O. Lucht, W. Lucht, E. Mayer, O. Mayer, C. Meserva, and C. Messner.

Following the meeting all joined for an evening's diversion with games. Hostesses for the occasion were Mrs. Mary Eschelbach and Mrs. Lucht.

Donkey Basketball Will Be Played On Tuesday

Bob Foster will lead the East Side business men against Jerry Niehaus' West Siders in the annual donkey basketball game to be held at the Chelsea high school gym on November 25 at 8:00 p. m. Bob, who was a good basketball player himself, doesn't know whether he will be able to play or not, but he says with follows like Bill Schatz, Kent Walworth, etc., that his team can't lose.

Jerry Niehaus, manager of the West Siders who were beaten in the annual baseball game, says his boys are just waiting to get revenge for that baseball defeat.

Part of the receipts from this game will be used to help purchase new stage scenery and some of it will be turned over to the athletic association.

Tickets may be purchased from any Junior high school student. Buy your tickets before the game and save money—and by doing this a larger percentage of the money will stay in town.

ATTEND SODALITY MEETING
Seventeen members of the Young Ladies' Sodality of St. Mary church attended a meeting on Sunday afternoon at St. John's Parish hall, Ypsilanti. Miss Dorothy J. Willman of St. Louis, Mo. was the principal speaker.

WASHINGTON LETTER GIVES INFORMATION FOR FARMERS

Kennedy's Washington Letter to the Farmers' Union contains valuable information of interest to farmers, as follows:

Farm groups unite for price parity—The results of the national conference of representatives of Governors, farm organizations and the Commissioners of Agriculture of thirty-seven states are set out in the following salient points embodied in the statement of policy agreed upon:

"With regard to the great underlying principles of price policy we take this stand:

We oppose any price-fixing or price-ceiling legislation with respect to agricultural commodities that does not simultaneously control prices of industrial products and urban wages in an equitable relation to farm commodity prices.

We favor minimum guarantees of prices for agricultural products as a part of the defense program.

We favor parity, or its equivalent, as the standard of minimum prices for all agricultural commodities.

We ask that it be made mandatory for the government agencies to use all available funds for loans or purchase in such manner as to sustain both minimum prices and such above-minimum prices as may be determined to be necessary during the present emergency.

A new conception of price parity for farm commodities.

No loan stocks held by the Commodity Credit Corporation to be sold until Congress works out a formula for their disposal without depressing farm prices.

Opposition to price ceiling on farm commodities.

Further we declare our intention to resist any attempt by any official, or group of officials, in our government who by act, or statement, or otherwise affect the interest of agriculture adversely, until such a relationship as we deem essential to our own welfare has been established. Our resistance will be in the form of request to our Senators and Congressmen that they represent our views in appropriate legislation.

It is the purpose of this statement to give notice that agriculture realizes the importance of unified effort to protect and to insure the proper relationship in the distribution of our nation's income.

The Wheat Penalties—The control of the production of one crop breeds the control of another. The movement to overthrow compulsory marketing quotas and production penalties is being crystallized into a powerful and determined movement to test and force a decision in the Supreme Court on the constitutionality of marketing quotas and production penalties. The lead in this fight has been taken by the Ohio farmers who formed the Ohio Marketing Quota Protest Association. Closely allied with them are the Illinois Marketing Quota Protest Association and the Michigan Marketing Quota Protest Association. A similar movement in Indiana, Pennsylvania and Maryland is developing fast and these states are expected to throw their strength, weight and financial support back of the court fight headed up by Ohio. The Hon. William Lemke has been engaged as Chief Legal Counsel to carry the issue to the United States Supreme Court. The necessary funds are being raised through memberships in the respective state associations.

Avoid the Peaks and Help Defense

THE chart above shows the ebb and flow of Long Distance telephone calls during an average week-day in Michigan.

Notice the sharp peaks in mid-morning and mid-afternoon. That's when business activity is greatest—when many important defense calls must go through.

See the third peak around eight o'clock in the evening. That's when your out-of-town friends are most likely to be telephoning.

At these peak periods our switchboards and circuits carry their heaviest loads— heavier now than ever before, because of defense, increased business and new homes.

If you can time your calls to fit the "valleys" instead of the "hills," you'll get faster service and find more people free to talk.

Do You Know?

HOW BIG AMERICA'S BIGGEST INDUSTRIAL BOMBER PLANT WILL BE?

On 975 acres at Willow Run, construction on the Ford Bomber Plant has been progressing at a breath-taking pace since March of this year. Total floor area, including hangars, is to be 3,700,000 sq. ft. The plant will be 1,200 feet wide—3,200 feet long—requiring 25,000 tons of structural steel in building framework. End to end, the runways would make a roadway 44 miles long. A giant plant to build a giant plane.

HOW MANY BIG TANKS WILL FORD BUILD EACH MONTH?

Present plans call for a monthly output almost double that of America's entire tank production last year. $39,000,000 in added plant facilities would be required to handle this next big defense assignment given the Ford Motor Company. Already at its lower expense, Ford has undertaken the enlargement of its steel-casting facilities in order to meet more quickly the tremendous demands of such production.

HOW BIG IS THE WORLD'S LARGEST PLANT FOR THE EXCLUSIVE PRODUCTION OF PLANE ENGINES?

Built in record time to meet America's urgent need for big Pratt & Whitney engines... the Ford Airplane Engine Plant has total floor area of 31.3 acres. To support its 65 miles of steel foundation pilings were needed. Inside, 6,000 tons of refrigerating equipment draws 2,800,000 cubic feet of air a minute into the building to give six complete air changes per hour. Designed for use during blackouts, the plant is expected to produce 40 engines a day.

A LETTER TO.. Chelsea from Havana, Cuba

(Written in the home of Miguel Le Develre, Calle F-608 Altos Entre-21 y 23, Vedado, Havana, Cuba.)

My intentions were not to stop long in Havana, not to give it more than a paragraph or two. But Havana and Cuba are too important to us.

Havana is the heart of the Republic, and Cuba is undeniably a foreign land, just as foreign as would be Afghanistan were it placed only 210 miles from our shores.

It is, to most Americans, a sort of province. And Havana is a place in which to spend an utterly alcoholic week end, to develop a wicked humbug, to buy Bacardi rum and the best cigars in the world. This may be indicative of Kate's attitude and mine; while "Sloppy Joe's" is the ultimate goal for all tourists here, we have not yet seen it and probably will not before leaving for Santiago.

We are not "doing" Havana. But I swear we will know more of Havana and Cuba than 95 per cent do after an equivalent stay here. It is all a matter of method. We have lived with Cubans, spent all of our spare time in conversation. They are as fine a people as we have ever known. I hope we may now call some of them friends.

But while they wear our clothes, drive our automobiles, wax rabid over the Michigan vs. Minnesota game, they are utterly unlike us in many respects. Let me give you three examples.

Yesterday we talked with a football coach at the University of Havana, last year an All-American end in the States. He said: "A Cuban likes to play football—but not very hard. He makes one good tackle, carries the ball for one yard, and he is satisfied with his afternoon's work. Mostly he is anxious for the game to end so that he may have a date."

A Cuban will build a wall of the most exquisite mosaic tile. Then if he wishes to hang a picture from it, he smashes a gaping hole and lets the chips fall where they may. The wall is still beautiful to him.

One Cuban told us: "In your Federal Government perhaps 25 per cent of your national budget goes for graft. This is O.K. You are rich and you can afford it. But in our budget, maybe 50 per cent goes for graft, and it is too much. But there is nothing one can do."

Understand me: I will not have anyone say an American is better than a Cuban. If they had been blessed with our climate and our natural resources, they would perhaps have made no more mistakes than we. But they were not, and they are different, their way of life is different.

As a matter of fact, I have done disgustingly little writing since we landed. Kate yawns and swears it is the climate.

The very atmosphere is relaxed here. No one is tense; everyone is informal. Cuba is the perfect vacation land; I have not read a newspaper in a week. In the States I devoured them. By the way, is the war still on?

As I said on my last visit to Chelsea, I do not anticipate much difficulty with censorship. But one never knows, and from this date on when ever subjects of a delicate nature are discussed names will not be used.

In all cases my sources of information will be unimpeachable; otherwise I will stick to the beauty of sea and sky. In this instance they include pure-blooded Spaniards who have lived goodly portions of their lives in the States, a member of the American Consular Staff here, and American members of the faculty of the Colegio Aleman, the German school. Here are a few things of possible interest:

The government of Presidente Fulgencio Batista—a self-made president with a Rooseveltian flair for the theatrical—is not as popular as formerly. Batista played upon the forgotten man's theme until it was a cliche throughout the land, then lost all interest in music. However, the Cubans are more or less passive; this government grafts no more than those previous to it.

Incidentally, I was told that of the average American loan of $50,000,000 to the Cuban government, not more than twenty-five or thirty millions would eventually find their way into the public coffers. I have no comment; but it is interesting to note that the latest American loan contains the stipulation that it must be distributed under American supervision.

Estimates place the pro-Axis segment of the population at about 10 per cent of the total, with the pro-France percentage much higher. Frankly, the Cuban people are almost entirely for the Allies heart and soul. The V for Victory signs are everywhere, in street cars, buses, on houses, store windows, automobiles. Perhaps the blue Atlantic Ocean—always before Cuba's eyes serves as a reminder.

At any rate, everybody shrugs off the Nye-Wheeler-Lindbergh breezes from the north with sly smiles and the Spanish equivalent of "politics." It was good to find out that the Colegio Alemán has twenty-five American teachers out of a faculty of twenty-seven, and that they have seen no evidence of propaganda dissemination, at least not to the non-German pupils. However, public sentiment two years ago did force the school to take down the picture of Hitler and the swastika in the lobby. As I understand it, international politics are just not discussed at faculty meetings.

Incidentally, before I close, I seem to recall that A. D. Mayer was especially interested in labor conditions and unions. There is little unionization in Cuba. Labor is extremely cheap, especially negro labor. But even the lower-class Cuban labor is cheap and plentiful. For example, the leading dressmaker and designer in Havana is able to get from two to four hundred dollars for his creations. Yet the seamstresses who make these beautiful evening gowns, etc., are paid only 30 cent day. The price of labor, especially domestic, is relatively low.

two or three times as long as usual—it can take it, and keep on delivering, in that smooth, easy, heads-up fashion you go for now in such a big way.

Fact is, Buick's trim looks are only the outward dress of brawn that's the match for as many years as you want to name.

A Litany of Thanksgiving

Can we give thanks
In a world of crisis and confusion;
Misdirected, disintegrated, disillusioned;
Worn, torn, sad and suffering;
Foolish, fervid, felonious and fearful;
Can we give thanks?

FATHER, we thank Thee for Thy patience.
Sitting in silence, withholding Thy judgments,
Watching our willfulness, yet staying Thy wrath,
Grieved by our baseness, yet tenderly waiting,
Knowing our nature, yet the Friend who forgives us,
Father, we thank Thee.

FATHER, we thank Thee
For the dawn of life's true meaning,
For the courage to face what we once feared,
For our willingness to admit our social sinfulness,
And moral bankruptcy,
For our confession that we have acted insidiously,
Knowing the consequences,
For the prayer of the faithful for a new world,
Pattern of peace,
Father, we thank Thee.

FATHER, we thank Thee
For hearts that love and understand,
For dreams that haunt us into action,
For a hope that makes life livable,
For a faith in eternal verities,
For the open road to service and victory,
Father, we thank Thee.

Families Keep Records And Budget Expenses

Making the income cover all the needs of the family and still leave some left for savings, insurance and payment on debts on the house was no trick to the families who kept home accounts under the direction of the Michigan State College home economics extension department.

The 1940 record of family expenditures of 38 families in country and town in Michigan, 29 rural and nine urban, gave a good picture of the cost of living, according to Julia Horne, home economics extension staff who has released the figures compiled from home account books.

"By keeping accounts," says Miss Pond, "members of a family can see for themselves where their funds went."

Food was the big item for both farm and town families, with household operation, the auto and family clothing as the next items of the "big four" in family cost of living.

Expense families produced most of their own food. A total of 72 per cent raised over 50 per cent of the food they ate while all the families produced over 35 per cent. There is a wide variation in amount of money spent for purchased food. The least spent by any farm family was $71 and the most $525, as compared to $418.50 for the least among town families and $576.50 for the most. This probably is the best average, if one is needed, for raising a garden and having other food produced at home, according to Miss Pond. More than half or 55 per cent of the town families produced 12 per cent to 17 per cent of their food while 53 per cent did not raise any at all.

Clothing costs varied greatly from $97.84 for the "average" of the farm families to $175.83 for those in town. The farm men—55 per cent of them—spent between $10 and $40 while the wives ranged between $15 and $40. Comparing the personal expenses, 48 per cent of the men spent $5 to $20 and the women had $5 to $15. This item includes hair-cuts and permanents, which shows that farm women and girls mostly "do" their own hair.

Such articles as fuel, cleaning powder, soap and water softeners loom as a big item of household operation for the town families. In cleaning articles appear so frequently that Miss Pond suggests that families may well ask themselves: "Do I buy the most economical-sized package? Could I save money by making soap at home? Do I add water softener 5 to 10 minutes before soap is added and, thereby, decrease the quantity of soap used?"

Town families spent an average of $255 for furnishings and equipment compared to $80 for farm folks. Medical cost was $115 for town and $50 for farm with education costing an average of $80 in town and $30 in country and gifts and contributions $75 for town, $50 for country.

The families live in 20 counties of Michigan which range from Wayne to Gogebic, a distance of over 600 miles as the crow flies and representing a full spread in living conditions, while twenty-seven of the twenty-nine farm families own their farms and all but one town family own their homes, and all families in both farm and town have cars.

The average net income of $1262.86 for farm and $2211.64 for town is not as great a difference as it first looks considering the items involved. The town families average five persons and farm, four persons.

The total farm contributions to living varied from $331.80 to $576.60, the items included being food, fuel and housing. The money value of living ranges from $1331.90 for the high, $1291.58 for the medium, and $843.16 for the low.

Farmers Should Order Necessary Repairs Now

Washtenaw country farmers are being urged by AAA farmer-committees conducting the farm-to-farm canvass in connection with the 1942 Farm Defense Program to check over their present farm machinery for necessary repairs, to order necessary repair parts now so that the repair work may be done this winter, and to sell to junk dealers all machinery not worth fixing, and other scrap iron and metal, according to Harry Cole, secretary of the Washtenaw county AAA committee.

This move, Mr. Cole said, will serve two purposes: First, repairing usable old farm machinery rather than trading it in for new machinery will save the expected limited supply of new farm machinery for farmers who absolutely need it in 1942; and second, will release a huge quantity of scrap iron accumulated through the years on Washtenaw county farms to help meet the shortage of essential metals.

Although the drive for scrap iron is urgent because scrap iron is needed for the manufacture of steel, AAA Cole emphasized that farmers should repair any piece of farm equipment that may serve a useful purpose for another year or two, rather than to discard it for new machinery in the face of imminent shortage of new farm equipment next year.

Lansing—As predicted in this column last February, state aid for advertising of Michigan agricultural products is due to become a legislative issue.

An annual appropriation of $100,000, only $20,000 less than the amount granted for tourist advertising, is sought by a new agricultural advertising committee headed by W. F. Doyle, manager of the Michigan Chain Stores Bureau, and former state senator from Menominee.

This objective was determined at Lansing at a meeting called by Leo V. Card, commissioner of agriculture. The state legislature set aside $30,000 for allocation to state groups on a matching basis for advertising of Michigan products.

When the State Supreme court upheld the apple advertising tax last winter, the rush for funds began. Requests totaled $64,000, more than double the sum at hand. The agreement for a $100,000 grant followed.

Doyle's interest in the advertising programs springs chiefly from co-sponsorship of "Michigan Days" last spring by independent and chain stores. Under the new advertising plan, one-fifth would be set aside by a group for promotion of "Michigan Days" annually for Michigan food products.

Whether harmony can be maintained between the food groups, including the Michigan Food Council representing the retailers, distributors and producers, and the four tourist associations is a matter of speculation.

Whereas food advertising would be handled through the state department of agriculture, tourist advertising funds are allocated directly to the tourist groups which, in turn, must account to the state for their expenditures.

The tourist interests gave in to pressure from the administration this year by voluntarily setting aside

$5,000 from their $30,000 annual grants for use of a $20,000 state-wide advertising program and the establishment of a central office at the capitol. During Frank Murphy's regime, the associations were threatened with outright scalping. Centralized state control was staved off, but it is bound to be revived under pressure for more advertising funds.

Tourist Conflict

State tourist associations, each of which now receives $30,000 annually for advertising, have been cool to the inclusion of any amount for agricultural advertising in the legislative appropriation.

They have pointed out that farmers received a direct benefit from the influx of tourist dollars into Michigan from purchase of additional food-stuffs at resort centers.

Financial headaches, due to defense priorities and a rapid swing to "all-out" war production, are beginning to multiply.

Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner, speaking at Washington, estimated gloomily that between 100,000 and 150,000 Michigan automobile workers would be thrown out of employment between January and July as automobile plants re-tooled for defense.

This would place a new drain on unemployment compensation funds and a new burden on relief loads.

Another headache is being felt already in many small towns where non-defense industries are being hard pressed to get raw materials needed for defense.

Washington is being urged to speed the letting of arms contracts in advance of the 1942 unemployment slump. The lag in blueprints and tooling is always greater than the worker believes it should be. Even if the war must continue until 1943 and possibly 1944, as Washington is now assuming, industrial hard-times will prevail and inflated prosperity in many communities of Michigan unless red tape is slashed, action is ordered. Such is the governor's belief, and signs are bearing out his predictions.

The federal government's insistence that all defense equipment and production must be tax exempt has sent chills up and down backbones of both state and county officials.

In Wayne county it is estimated that shutting down automobile plants will remove millions of dollars annually from personal property assessments. If defense equipment is tax exempt, what is going to happen? Figure it out for yourself.

Louis M. Nims, director of the state sales tax board, foresees an immediate decline in revenue if the federal government's policy prevails to waive all taxes on defense operations. Estimates of potential losses run from $5,000,000 to $15,000,000 although it is felt that eventually when the readjustment to defense production has been made the return of purchasing power will offset the temporary loss of revenue.

Farm Prosperity

At the Sault Ste. Marie state convention of the Michigan Grange, Dean E. L. Anthony of Michigan State College school of agriculture counseled farmers not to buy larger farms and more equipment from the new profits from higher-priced products in 1942.

Avoid the temptation, he warned, as an economic letdown from today's crazy spending is inevitable when the emergency ends.

"We should know that as soon as this war is over, the world will return to its land, exhausted and too poor to buy our products. We will have a farm machine built for an excess demand."

Civil Service

Political control of Michigan's state prisons is the way out, according to Joseph Hays, state corrections director, who says that the new civil service amendment will prevent the frequent turnover of wardens and state employees and make for new efficiency in our penal system.

In civil service tests Warden Simon R. Anderson of Marquette prison and Warden Warren J. Dodge of Ionia prison failed to qualify for their positions.

Eligibles for their jobs include A. Ross Pascoe, chairman of the parole board; Joel B. Moore, former warden at Jackson (appointed by Murphy); Dr. Wellington B. Hunter, medical director at Jackson; and Hilmer Gelin, former corrections director.

Fur Harvest Begins

Careful preparation of pelts will get trappers better prices in the Michigan raw fur market that averages $1,500,000 in normal years. Prospects are good and prices are up for the month-long season that began November 1 in the upper peninsula and begins November 15 in northern lower Michigan. December 1 in southern Michigan for muskrats, the state's first rank furberers. The conservation department is advising against overtrapping, urging trappers to leave seed stock so they may take advantage of next year's anticipated good market as well as also, recommending greater familiarity with extra-jawed "stop-loss" traps for more efficient dry land sets.

TUBERCULOSIS CHRISTMAS SEAL FEATURES LIGHTHOUSE

The 1941 tuberculosis Christmas seal which will be placed on sale throughout the country on Nov. 24, features a lighthouse. Against the blue winter sky, which forms the background of the design the double-barred cross, in red, is spotlighted by the lighthouse beacon.

Steven Dohanos, a native of Lorain, Ohio, a well-known muralist and illustrator, is the artist of this year's seal.

Out of his own experience he conceived the theme of the lighthouse as the symbol of the tuberculosis work. For it was soon after he had begun to gain recognition that he discovered he had tuberculosis. He had just been asked to join an art studio in New York and was preparing to move there from Ohio.

Mr. Dohanos said that the temptation was great to work on and hope that he would regain his health. But the educational campaign of the tuberculosis association had taught him about the disease he had to fight. So he immediately went to a sanatorium and underwent treatment and complete rest.

KIWANIS NEWS

The Kiwanians enjoyed another fine meeting this week at Kolb's hall. The proprietor prepared a delicious turkey dinner for the Kiwanians and their guests and decorated the tables in commemoration of Thanksgiving day. The program chairman introduced Russell A. Smith of the Michigan Law School as the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Smith gave a very interesting resume of the various objectives of unionism and stated the results of union activity in the various communities. The members then asked the speaker various questions on the many problems which arise on the installation of a union in a community and Mr. Smith attempted to show some of the possible effects on a small town upon the installation of a labor union. The speaker concluded his brief talk by stating that one of the most important needs at the present time is more responsibility by the union and its officers to some form of governmental supervision and control.

R. A. McLaughlin gave a short talk on the present Boy Scout drive and requested the Kiwanians to see the townspeople on their lists at once, so that the drive may be successfully terminated by next Monday evening.

Office News

Mr. Johnson visited the Freshmen from our school who are enrolled in the University of Michigan on Thursday, November 13, and the Freshmen who are enrolled in Michigan State College on Saturday, November 15. There will be no school on Thursday or Friday, November 20 and 21, because of Thanksgiving.

The teachers held a party at the Cascades in Jackson on Wednesday, November 12.

The Senior class is sponsoring the annual football banquet which will be held in the gymnasium on Monday, December 1.

The chorus program originally scheduled for Thursday, December 4, has been postponed until Thursday, December 11.

Student Council

At their last meeting November 13, the Student Council discussed the problems of the Safety Patrol—what to do with violators, how they should be punished, and other things. They discussed the idea of having a Student Court to try these cases. The Student Council will act as the Student Court. Later other cases may be brought to the Court.

There was a discussion of the evening dancing classes. A vote was taken as to whether we should ask Mr. Payne. The vote was unanimously "No." Perhaps later in the year the Student Council may try to secure another dancing instructor if the school members are interested.

Plans for the annual Christmas program were begun.

Senior News

This has been a busy time for the Senior class. Last Wednesday at their class meeting many important things were discussed. Among the many things there was one in particular, fittings for cups and gowns. Mr. Chandler informed the class that a representative from the company would be here next Wednesday after school. The next issue was one concerning pictures. The class decided that it would be all right to have pictures taken from now until graduation. This year the Senior class is going to put on the annual football banquet to be held Dec. 4, but as yet no menu has been agreed upon.

Last Thursday night the Seniors had charge of the pep meeting. It has been the custom to hold a night meeting before the Manchester game. This year the group put on a very fine pep with the help of the school.

The pep party of the meeting was on the school grounds around a huge bonfire. After this the band followed by the Seniors and then the underclassmen paraded down through Main street.

Thanksgiving Day

Thanksgiving has been an annual celebration in the United States for the last Thursday in November. It is traditionally that day on which the New England colonists in 1621, acting on a proclamation by Governor Bradford, gave thanks to Providence for the good harvest. From the time of Lincoln's proclamation in 1863, Thanksgiving has been set aside each year by Presidential proclamation and by proclamation of the state governors as a day for giving thanks to God for the blessings of the year just passing.

One interesting thing to note is that in the last two years the President has recommended that Thanksgiving be held on the third Thursday of November. However, this has been left up to the Governors to decide; so, some states celebrate the holiday on the third Thursday and some the last Thursday of the month.

No matter what day Thanksgiving is held on the real spirit is never lost.

Armistice Day Program

On Armistice Day a program was held in the study hall at school. It was opened by the singing of "America." Rosamary Wallace gave a talk on the flag, which was followed by the pledge of allegiance to the flag. Irma Bruckner spoke about Armistice Day and its meaning. There was a moment of silent prayer for those who gave their lives and served in the last World war.

In memory of their son Glenn, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Shutes presented a flag to the school. Mr. Johnson made the presentation and Charles Lane accepted it for the students.

Our Seniors

In Onsted, Michigan, on Sept. 24, 1923, Lillian Allshouse was born. She spent her first years in Onsted and then moved to Chelsea. She enjoys eating chicken in the rough on any occasion. Faithfully every noon she listens to "When a Girl Marries," but in the evening she'd rather roller-skate or listen to the radio yield the soothing strains of "It's So Peaceful" while she plays with her cat. Frequently she attends the theatre and her favorite movie so far is "Shepherd of the Hills."

Hi-Y Club

The Hi-Y club will hold its first swim of the year this Monday night. It will be at the Michigan Union pool and the Manchester Hi-Y is expected to be there the same night. A few guests will be taken along.

Because of its occurrence during the Holiday Season, only one boy will represent the Hi-Y at the State Older Boys' Conference this year. That boy will be the president, Roderick McDonald. The speakers this year on the program are Dr. Henry Hitt Crane of Detroit and Dr. Stutz of Ann Arbor. It will be held in Highland Park on November 21 and 22.

At a cabinet meeting last week plans were discussed for a Parents' Night after the first of the year, and an after-the-game dance to be sponsored by the Hi-Y.

The club will again sell Christmas cards this year.

E. E. A.

Three boys formerly of this school, N. H. Miles, Loren Koenigster, and Paul Bristle, are attending Ford machinery school at Sault Ste. Marie. This school is sponsored by Henry Ford in cooperation with Wigham Motor Sales. Boys study farm machinery through correspondence courses from LaSalle University in Chicago and have actual experience in tearing down farm machinery. This school has meetings each week throughout the winter.

Pep Meeting

On Thursday evening, Nov. 13, the eve of the "great" Chelsea-Manchester game, an outdoor pep meeting, sponsored by the Seniors, was held. The meeting started with the "stunt" dancers gathered around a huge bonfire in the school yard and the band playing the "Victory Song." Martha Barber, mistress of ceremonies then called upon Larry Dietle, football captain; Mr. Cameron and Mr. Johnson for a few words. The cheer leaders, Madeline Rowe and Ruth Gracey, were on hand to lead us in a few rousing good cheers. Next the band played "On Wisconsin" and led the march up through town and back to school. The line was formed in order of classes starting with the Seniors. Arriving back at school the band again played the "Victory Song" and the end of our annual outdoor meeting came with the students loudly cheering for victory.

A great deal of credit is due to Virginia Barry, chairman of the meeting, for the grand program.

Girls' Athletics

The girls have begun to practice basketball in earnest for the coming of the first game with Manchester on Dec. 5. This will be the second year of playing and the girls hope to be a lot better competition than they were last year.

Here are the bowling scores for last week:

Lyons, Tigers	525
Wine, Moochers	450
Blow's, Boaters	410
Merkel's, Greenhorns	351

Competition is pretty keen and it is always a guess as to who will come out on top.

Band Will Play At Local Theatre Dec. 2

The Band members are completing their plans for the "Band Night" to be held at the Sylvan Theatre on Tuesday, December 2. The advertising, ticket selling and stage management committees have been appointed. They are: D. Gadd and Pat Richards, advertising; P. Almond and Esther Riemschneider, tickets; and R. Perkins, D. Poor and D. Umstead, stage management.

Members have been chosen for ticket-selling, with M. Hinderer and Jr. Niehaus as captains. Tickets will go on sale about one week in advance.

Eighth Grade
 By June Vail

The eighth grade are very glad that we have received three new Senior Thorndyke Century Dictionaries.

We have a new boy in our room. His name is Grant Gooley from Coldwater.

Seventh Grade
 Loren Munro and Eunice Lehman. The Safety Patrol is trying hard to do its duty to the satisfaction of public and officers.

Book reports have been given nearly a week early by nearly half the class.

Our tests are over for another month, thank goodness.

Dick Schanz spent last Wednesday night in Northville.

Our week's quotation is from Chuang Lu, "A man who knows that he is a fool is not a great fool."

Sixth Grade

Miss Brown loaned us some new books. We don't go over to the library, so she brought them to our room. We all thank her very much.

Sonja Weatherwax is out of school with a cold.

Mary Bell Lantis had a birthday party. Her birthday was Nov. 13.

Helen Hochrein and Robert Oesterle did not mind the Safety Patrol boys and have spent their recess at their desks this week.

Fifth Grade

We are sorry to have George Miller out with scarlet fever, but we are glad Phyllis Stoll is back with us again.

In the library we have had much business because of the new books.

We are making November calendars. The scenes are turkeys, log cabins, pilgrims, etc.

The Fourth and Fifth graders are playing Hit Pin baseball together at recess—boys against the boys and girls against the girls. The Fifth grade has had so much more experience that they won the first games. But our opponents are very good sports.

Third Grade

The third grade is making a library. The book-shelves are to be made from orange crates. The books will be brought from home and some will be borrowed from the library.

Second Grade

On Wednesday, Janet O'Dell became 7 years old. Every pupil was in attendance.

A few of us have had "froggy" throats but there have been many days when we've had a perfect attendance—every one being right on time. So we are hoping the scarlet fever germ will not catch any of us.

School men throughout the nation are making a splendid contribution to the safety movement. Every school, even the small country school, is adding its bit to the safety education that children need.

The proper way to walk along public roads, the correct way to cross streets, and even the proper method of handling an automobile are topics of discussion and instruction. Many cities are getting the dual-control car for driving instruction, and high school students are receiving this type of training from police departments. This is practical instruction in safe driving and should be helpful in years to come.

The automobile driver, however, who has graduated from all of these instructions and feels he is the most nearly perfect driver on the road is the one who needs to be frequently reminded of safe driving habits. He should constantly apply the principles of good driving and set an example of courtesy and of careful driving.

"Our Deepest, Most Heartfelt Thanks,
 O Lord, for the Blessings of Life,
 Liberty and Material Well Being, and for the Joys of Family, Friendship and Happiness"

PRAYERS such as that are being offered all over the nation today, just as they were when that first little group of grateful colonists offered theirs in celebration of the first harvest in their new land. Hundreds of harvests, hundreds of Thanksgivings have passed since then. As a nation, at each of these Thanksgiving observances, we have had much to be thankful for; each of them saw our country a little further down the road of history, a land growing in power, in area, in wealth . . . and, most of all, in the happiness and well being of a free people.

TODAY, Thanksgiving, 1941, we see our country engaged in a tremendous effort that is testing all of our capacities for ingenuity, for skill, for courage and patience. We can be Thankful—and with confidence in the future—that the past has proven our ability to meet problems and to solve them, and that while our present position is a new one in history, it is not without precedent in kind and most certainly will yield to solution by the combined efforts of a people made incredibly strong by the blessings of nature and three centuries of freedom.

As individuals, as a nation, as a people under God, we have much to be thankful for on this Thanksgiving Day. Let each of us individually, or as family groups, offer our thanks as we sit down to that bountiful feast that is the outward sign of our gratitude.

By Judge Malcolm Hatfield
In the Name of Science
Two college boys were convicted of the atrocious crime of murdering and mutilating another youth. At their trial they frankly confessed that they saw little difference in experimenting on a butterfly, a guinea pig or a human being. It is presumed that their experience in dissecting live animals, pets and insects for experimental purposes led them to form this cold blooded viewpoint towards all living things.

A veterinarian tells of a certain surgeon with a small practice who asked that he turn over to him all stray dogs. This the veterinarian agreed to do. A short time later the veterinarian happened to be present when this particular surgeon was performing an autopsy on one of the animals. To his intense surprise, the surgeon presented the appearance of a mad man as the saliva (spooled) from his mouth while he worked. The veterinarian never gave this surgeon another stray dog for vivisection.

Many fine animals are wantonly mutilated, burned and frozen each year in the name of science, so that certain would-be scientists, with a terrible mania for cruelty, can satisfy their fiendish cravings.

Slimming Exercise for Waistlines
Waistlines thicken when posture isn't good and exercise is postponed until day after tomorrow. Here is a good slimming exercise. Stand erect, feet fairly close together with the hands resting on the hips. Lift on the toes, lower the torso until heels and buttocks meet. Still on the toes, lift the body slowly to the erect position. Repeat 10 times, pause and take three deep breaths, lifting the chest high, pulling in the tummy muscles. Then at it again. Do not be limp and casual. Make the muscles work.

The New Warm-Buoy ELECTRIC STOCK TANK HEATER

At Last...The Answer to the Winter Stock Tank Problem...At Extremely Low Operating Cost

No Fire—No Smoke—No Ashes—No Cleaning Up—No Tinkering—No Fuss—No Bother—No Worry

No. 1—IT FLOATS
Ice floats. Consequently, if all we need to do is heat the surface of the water, and the rest of the tank cannot freeze. Therefore we place the Warm-Buoy Heater at the surface of the water.

No. 2—RUST-PROOFED
Float. Bonded to prevent rusting and to give long life.

No. 3—PILOT LIGHT
A convenient small light is provided which is visible through a jewel and comes on with the heating element so that the thermostat is more easily adjusted and the operation of the heater is visible.

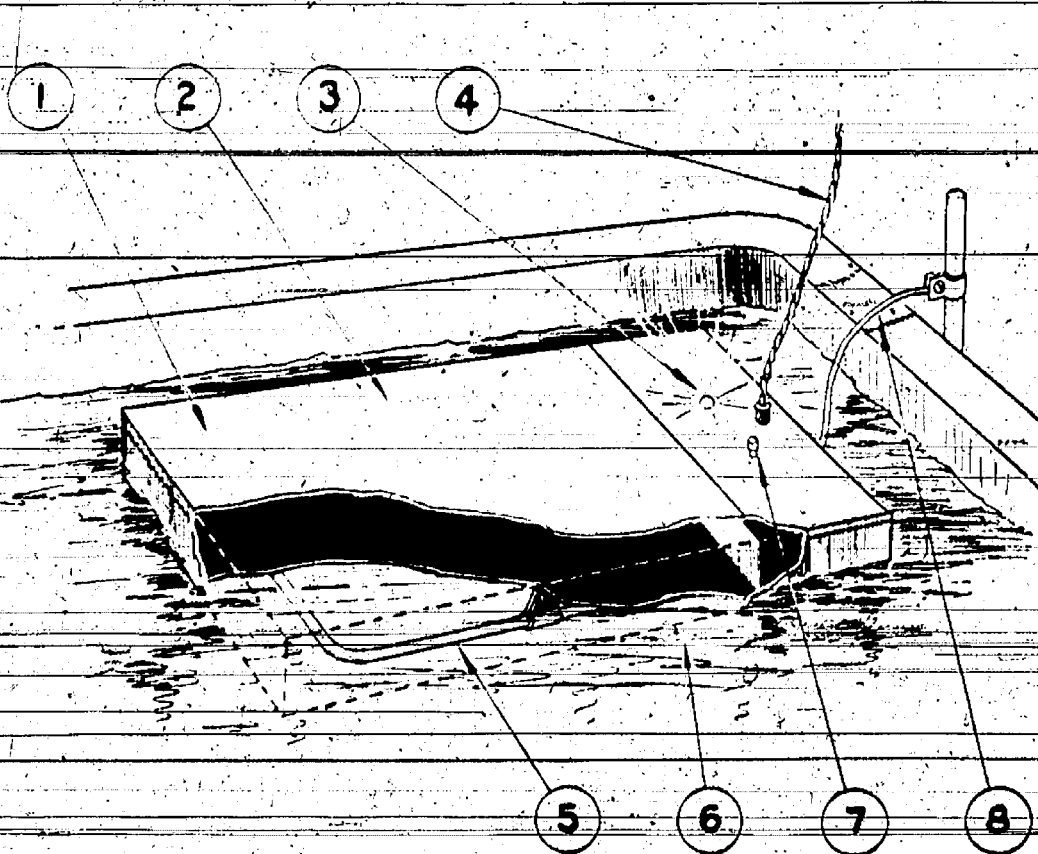

No. 4—SIMPLE TO INSTALL
Just plug into light socket and place the heater in the tank, attach a ground wire to the water pipe or a rod driven into the ground at the side of the tank and that is all there is to do. Six-foot rubber covered cord is provided.

No. 5—COPPER SHEATHED HEATING ELEMENT
Copper tubing is used so that it will give indefinite life without rusting or corroding. Also for rapid heat dissipation.

Keeps Stock Tanks open in coldest weather at lowest possible cost. Newest principal makes available the safety and convenience of electricity at operating costs as low or lower than that of any other fuel. Just plug in and the thermostat takes care of the rest. This new WARM-BUOY HEATER takes advantage of a principal in physics governing the motion of water under various temperatures.

COST OF OPERATION

The water may be kept at any temperature desired. Obviously, however, the lowest cost of operation will result if the thermostat is set so that well water coming in does not turn it on, and the heater does not operate until the temperature is down close to the freezing point. Of course operating costs will vary with temperature, electricity rate, size of tank, protection from wind, etc. Our tests will usually be somewhere between $1.00 and $2.50 per month during the coldest weather.

Price $14.95 F.O.B. Chelsea, Mich.

GUARANTEE

The WARM-BUOY HEATER is guaranteed against Mechanical, Electrical and Workmanship defects and we will replace free of charge for one season, any part or parts, if the heater is returned to us, providing it is not damaged through misuse.

No. 6—HEATS THE SURFACE OF THE WATER
As every one knows, warm water under normal temperature, rises to the surface. But, however, as water drops under 38.8 degrees Fahrenheit this is reversed and cold water comes to the surface as it starts to expand. Our tests show that this will reduce operating costs tremendously, due to the fact that the amount of water is limited that is heated.

No. 7—ADJUSTABLE THERMOSTAT
The Warm-Buoy Heater may be plugged in the fall, after once adjusted, forgotten until spring. On days when it is not needed, the Heater does not operate or consume current, as the thermostat turns it off automatically. The thermostat adjusting screw is on the top where it can be easily turned one way or the other.

No. 8—GROUNDED-ANCHORED-SAFE
Place the Warm-Buoy Heater in the tank, attach a ground wire to the water pipe or a rod driven into the ground at the side of the tank.

CONSTRUCTION
The WARM-BUOY HEATER is made throughout of the finest materials obtainable. The float and housing is made of 20-gauge, cold rolled, sheet steel, rust proofed and covered with a very high grade of Hammerloid finish and baked in enameling ovens. All seams are welded and soldered with the exception of the removable cover which is secured with Alumilastic caulking compound—the same as used to water proof the seams of the aluminum pontoons on scaphans. The heating element is constructed of the highest grade resistance wire made of 80% nickel and 20% chromium. The insulation is a Silica Magnesium compound molded to fit, and the entire element is housed in seamless copper tubing.

DIMENSIONS AND SPECIFICATIONS
The WARM-BUOY HEATER occupies a space 12x20 inches and is 3 1/2 inches high. The 750-watt floating WARM-BUOY HEATER is of sufficient size to handle all sizes of tanks. Of course the smaller the tank, the less the heater will operate.
