Rationing Of Tires To Start On January 5

Committee Appointed To Administer Plan Under Federal Orders

The rationing of tires and tubes under Federal regulations to conserve the nation's limited supply of crude rubber takes effect in Michigan on January 5. On and after that date, no tires may be sold except by official authorization. At the request of the Office of Price Administration, Gov. Van Wagoner has directed the Michigan Council of Defense and its subsidiary county and local councils to administer the program.

The rationing plan will be administered locally by a Commodities Distribution Committee appointed by the Defense Council. Its duties will be to receive applications for the purchase of tires, to determine the validity of claims, to determine priorities in accordance with Federal regulations, and issue certificates to approved applicants, if available.

The local committee consists of: Paul C. Maroney, Commander of The American Legion, chairman; representing the public; Olen Hart, deputy village clerk, executive secretary; Walter Harper, representing retail tire dealers; Tom Smith, representing service clubs; and David J. Miller, representing labor.

The Michigan Council of Defense will regularly allocate to tire dealers throughout the state Michigan's share of available tires and tubes. It is estimated that there will be enough to meet the state's defense, health and safety requirements, but not enough for private use.

The activities of those engaged in defense, health and safety services have been given priority ratings, and applications will be judged according to those priorities, subject to proof of need.

Federal rules and regulations under which the rationing committees will work will be distributed throughout the state as soon as possible in order that the public may thoroughly understand the system. The regulations have the force of law, and are backed up by the Federal criminal code.

This means hardships for many people, but these hardships will have to be accepted in a spirit of patriotism until such times as the menace to our sources of crude rubber in the Pacific can be eliminated, Gov. Van Wagoner said when he announced the rationing system.

Forty-Six Register For Protective Services

Forty-six men registered in Chelsea on Friday and Saturday for volunteer protective work in case of emergency. The registration was held at the Chelsea Public Library.

Results of the registration were very gratifying to the local Defense Council, who will select from the list the required number of auxiliary firemen and policemen for emergency in connection with civilian defense.

An effort will be made by the Defense Council to select those who will not be called for military service in the near future, and those who are available at all times. When selection is made, the auxiliary forces will be notified concerning the first aid course which they will receive under supervision of a Red Cross instructor, and such other instruction as is required.

The Chelsea Defense Council will attend a county meeting in Ann Arbor on Friday evening, when further instruction will be received relative to the protective volunteers. The committee also expects some definite information on the general registration for civilian defense, which will be held here in the near future.

Chelsea State Bank Capital Is Increased

Stock Dividend Of 100 Per Cent Issued By Bank This Week

A stock dividend of one hundred per cent has been declared by the board of directors of Chelsea State Bank. This information was given to stockholders in a letter from P. G. Schaible, president of the bank, dated December 29.

According to Mr. Schaible this stock dividend is being entirely paid out of undivided profits which have accumulated during the past few years. This action increases the capital stock of the bank from 1100 shares of $50.00 par value, to 2200 shares, with the par value unchanged.

Increase in the capital structure of the Chelsea State Bank is necessary to meet the requirements of Section 41 of the Michigan Financial Institutions Act which provides that a bank having deposits of $1,000,000.00 or more for a period of two years or more must have a capital of not less than $100,000.00. The stock dividend brings the capital of the local institution to $110,000.00.

A cash dividend of $2.00 per share was also paid at this time, making a total of $5.00 per share paid to stockholders this year.

In his letter to stockholders President Schaible said: "Your bank has made fine progress during the year about to close and with the declaration of the above stock dividend your capital holdings formerly held in each of the banks has been restored to the original amount."

With the splendid showing the Chelsea State Bank has made during the past few years, the community can be justly proud of its financial institution.

PRUDEN-LUICK WEDDING

Miss Mae Prudden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Prudden, and Gerald Luick, son of Mrs. Otto Luick, were married at the Methodist parsonage on Thursday morning, December 25, at 10 o'clock. Rev. F. D. Mumby read the service.

The bride wore a two-piece suit of moss green with a gold-colored blouse and hat, and brown accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of Hill's roses and white bebe mums.

Attendants were Mrs. Giles Heroy of Jackson, a cousin of the bride, and Harley Prudden, brother of the bride. Mrs. Heroy wore a two-piece suit in luggage brown, with brown accessories, and her shoulder corsage was pink roses and white bebe mums.

A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's mother on South Main street. The table was centered with a bouquet of white mums and silver bells and flanked by silver candles. Covers were laid for twelve.

After returning from a two weeks' motor trip through the south, Mr. and Mrs. Luick will reside in the Dietrich residence on Garfield street.

Mrs. Luick attended the Chelsea high school and is employed at the Federal Sew Works. Mr. Luick graduated from Chelsea high school and attended Cleary Business College, and is employed at A. B. Clark's store.

Chelsea's quota is $400.00 in the current drive for war-aid funds, but it is hoped a total of at least $1400.00 will be raised before the solicitation ends the last of January. Contributions may be given to Mrs. Steger or left at Chelsea State Bank.

Good Business Predicted For Defense Areas

Roger Babson Says Average for Nation Will Be Below 1941

Babson Park, Mass., Jan. 1—As long as World War II lasts, the total U. S. production will continue to increase. I estimate an increase in national income of 9 billions for 1942, thus bringing it up to 95 billions compared with 76 billions in 1940 and 86 billions in 1941. In forecasting this national income for 1942, I am taking into account probable increases in prices and wages. These figures do not mean that more goods will be produced; in fact 1942 will show a decline in the real wealth of America.

Unfortunately, the increase in the industrial production will be in the defense industries. Nineteen-forty-two will show considerable decline in the non-defense industries. It is well for my friend Odium and others to talk about shifting over manufacturers of lawn mowers to making battle tanks. To a certain extent this will be done in 1942, but a great many non-defense concerns will suffer if the war continues through 1942. Washington tells me that with Japan, Germany and Italy fighting us we may need 50 per cent of the wage workers of the country on defense works before Hitler is eliminated. This seems very high to me as Great Britain now has less than 30 per cent engaged in defense industries.

Will Bombing Win the War?

Most readers, whether employers or wage workers, should primarily be interested in whether World War II will continue in its present fury through 1942. If it will so continue, this is good news for those engaged in the defense industries, and bad news for those who are in certain non-defense industries. If the war is to end during 1942, then the reverse is true. In fact, we would then see some hectic times which would be detrimental to many readers, even though helpful to others. Therefore, let's bravely face the facts and answer the question, "Will World War II continue through 1942?"

It would be impossible to lick Hitler by an army of invasion before December 31, 1942. Most aviators are not very hopeful about the effects of bombing. They believe that cities gradually become immune to bombing as individuals become immune to almost everything which comes along slowly and lasts long enough. Of (Continued on page six)

Food Production Task Faced By Agriculture

Michigan agriculture faces the task of food production in 1942 with a well trained force of farmers better equipped than in any previous emergency era, but with certain preparations necessary if farm work is to get done through the next harvest without more than the present visible supply of hired help.

This is the sentiment of members of the Michigan State College agricultural engineering department. They suggest an adequate program on every individual farm to insure equipment will be ready for the job.

New equipment will be scarce, but tractors now on farms number more than ten times those used in Michigan in 1920.

"Repair, paint, grease, adjust and protect with housing," suggests A. J. Bell, college extension specialist in agricultural engineering.

"Considerable undue breakage occurs while machinery is out on the job because bolts are not drawn up tightly. Proper lubrication as simple as applying either hard oil or machine oil means a great saving. Old crank case oil had better be used only for covering unused plow bottoms or for heating up the repair shop. Its lubricating value is poor."

Bell suggests wooden parts be painted and metal parts sprayed with oil as a partial offset when housing of machinery is poor. January, February and March ought to see the machinery repair jobs completed so that a farmer will have ordered, obtained and installed repair parts in time to put machinery in order.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

What of the new year? What of 1942? What does it hold in store for us, here in our own community, here in our country, and elsewhere in the world.

Not soon will the wounds of a devastating war be healed. Not soon will the reverberations of the world conflict cease. Not soon will we cease paying the heavy penalties of bloodshed and destruction.

Withal, that, the bells of a New Year ring, and they tell us that happier days are due. The decencies of life which we know so well in our community, the neighborliness which people in American towns enjoy, the sturdiness of independence that characterizes us in rural areas, may yet find their proper influence throughout the world. The world, tested severely, will yet emerge to better, happier things.

Civilization has been rudely mangled, but it has not gone to pot. We face 1942 with higher hopes than seemed realizable in 1941. This is no little progress, no small cause for cheer. A happy new year, then, neighbors; we wish you prosperity and the continuance of the democratic way of life, the American way, an American heritage that will never die.

Lansing—Good journalism comes straight from the heart.

It also comes from country towns—those small towns of less than 10,000 population which serve as trading centers for surrounding rural areas.

This phenomenon in journalism has been noted often by students of American life. It was Simeon Strunsky, leading editorial writer of the New York Times, who observed in his book, "The Living Tradition." "With us the small-town and county newspaper which is most often a weekly journal is more influential than the metropolitan daily press."

Psychologically it is a sound contention that a single copy of a weekly newspaper slowly absorbed may succeed in driving home a point more effectively than ever daily newspapers repeating the same point in the course of a week to a metropolitan audience.

All of which is preface to a remarkable newspaper editorial, written by Schuyler R. Marshall, editor and publisher of the Canton County Republican-News at St. Johns. Marshall was both an isolationist and non-interventionist during the period of debate on foreign affairs, and his readers knew this well. The editorial on America's war aims as follows:

The War, and You, and Me

It was Sunday morning, December 7, 1941. Some people were at church.

Others were sleeping in—as is their habit on this day. In New York City it was late forenoon. In San Francisco, early morning. At Pearl Harbor in the Hawaiian Islands there was a dim light of daybreak. Despite the varying progress of daylight in these widely separated points, it was the same identical moment and all these places and all these people were under the same flag—the Stars and Stripes. The people, whether in mid-Pacific or on Fifth avenue, are Americans.

In Washington the representatives of Japan were conferring with the State Department—talking about a peaceful settlement of a dispute. This conference had been going on for months, and in the last week or two had been made much of. There was reason to believe an honest effort was being made by these Oriental representatives to arrive at some peaceful understanding. We did not want war with them—or with any nation. They had much to gain by a peaceful settlement. They had much to lose if war was resorted to. There was no precedent, no incident in the history of the past of any nation using open diplomacy as an instrument of treachery. But that is just what happened.

Treachorous Death

While the conferences were in progress and while the citizens, soldiers and sailors of the United States went about their usual duties and their usual activities, death and destruction rode the skies.

Out of the early morning skies came Japanese bombers. They dumped murderous explosives on barracks filled with unsuspecting soldiers. They blasted ships at anchor. They swooped over air fields and dumped their loads of treacherous death. Onto the heads of defenseless men, women and children, they rained explosives—and in a few minutes were gone.

They left dead American citizens strewn around amid burning wreckage.

They left amazement, astonishment and bewilderment.

But not for long.

They left something they will never forget.

They left something they will always regret.

In a few fateful minutes they kindled the rage of a people who had for months reluctantly withheld from accepting war with all its terrible consequences.

They aroused in one rash act one hundred and thirty million Americans who have never, and will never, let any of their citizens suffer such treatment without paying back ten fold.

Japan Will Pay

America is fighting mad.

Our people will fight as they always have fought when it was necessary.

They will work as they always have worked to win—produce more and more and then double that again and again.

They will make any sacrifices necessary—and do it quickly and just as long as there is a treacherous Japanese left.

Japan will pay for this—pay a terrible price. They asked for it. They will get it.

Yesterday is forgotten.

We have a job to do.

It will be an expensive and a revolting job. It will take lives, blood, sweat, toil and privation.

No one is afraid.

No one even flinches at the prospect.

War is no longer a theory. It is here. We are engaged in it. We are in to win. We are in to revenge the lives of our citizens and our boys in service who were not given the opportunity to defend themselves.

We'll Do Our Part

But what about you and I—what are we going to do?

You know, just as well as we, that we will do whatever is demanded and whenever it is needed.

Some of the boys will go to join others in army camps. Others will join the navy—and still others will pilot planes in the skies.

The rest of us will stay at home, doing our jobs to support the fighting men—to keep our homes, our farms and our factories functioning full blast.

There is food to be raised.

There are planes, tanks, munitions and equipment to be furnished.

There are vital industries, and strategic points to be guarded against sabotage.

There is the morale of the people at home and the boys away at camp or on the high seas to be maintained.

There is accurate information to be disseminated. There will be false rumors to be discredited.

An Unsavory Job

There is a free country to be preserved for millions of American children—future citizens who must never be the slaves of a slant-eyed Jap or a brutal Hitler.

All these and a thousand more jobs born of a war emergency will be waiting to be done.

Later—we hope not—there will be dead to bury. There will be wounded to rehabilitate. There will be men coming home no longer carefree, adventurous youths who will have to be helped to fit into a new place and a new life.

In time, there will again be peace.

But it must be an honorable peace and it will not come until the mad-dog nations of the earth are subdued.

Let us, in the meantime, be thinking ahead to the time when there can be a just peace. Let us, even the humblest, be thinking of the day when something can be substituted for the senseless and horrible penalties of war.

It is too late to speculate on the mistakes that have been made.

We have an unsavory job to do—and WE ARE GOING TO DO IT. No quibbling. No hesitating.

Come on! Everybody—let's go!

New Fishing Laws Effective January 10

Lansing—Winter fishermen buying their 1942 licenses early, so they will be ready to start when solid ice forms, will find half a dozen significant changes in the new fishing laws which become effective January 10, 90 days after the end of the legislative recess.

Under the new regulations the possession of bluegills and sunfish on the ice at night, as well as night fishing for them, is illegal, the conservation department points out. The bluegill sunfish creel limit is cut from 25 to 15, but the angler on inland waters still can take a total of 25 bluegills, perch, sunfish, warmouth bass, rock bass and crappies, so long as not more than 15 of them are bluegills and sunfish. Bluegill season continues until February 28.

Ice anglers after bigger fish next month will be able to take only five pike—either walleyes or northern or both—on inland waters, and 10 pike, of which not more than five may be northern, on Great Lakes waters. Formerly the limits were independent. When bass season, which closes December 31, reopens June 25, black bass also will be included within these group limits of five and 10.

Shad has been added to the kinds of fish that may be speared on connecting waters of the Great Lakes, but on the connecting waters between Lakes Erie and Huron spearing of muskies and whitefish is forbidden. The daily limit has been removed on lake trout taken through the ice. Trollers next season will be allowed 25 pounds and one fish.

All dealers in wigglers, the popular winter fishing bait, next month will need the same $5-licenses as are now required of dealers in minnows only. On January 10, use of goldfish for bait or as spearing decoys in any waters ends.

New licenses, the department reminds fishermen, will be required of all anglers after December 31.

Good Business Predicted For Defense Areas

course, if the British and Americans should invade Europe, bombing planes would tremendously help the invading army by destroying the enemy's communication lines, crops, and oil. But for merely scaring the people of a country, bombing has not been successful. Statistics indicate that the money lost in the cost of bombers destroyed amounts to more than the property loss caused by the bombers. The Multiplication Table, as well as the Ten Commandments, is bound to be a factor in bringing this war to an end; but when? The blockade—however—is becoming an important factor, but blockading takes time, whether against Germany or Japan.

Uprisings May Come
All of this means that the only hope of bringing World War II to an end during 1942 is an uprising of the Germans, Japanese, and Italians, or of the people of the conquered nations, or of the people of Great Britain, or of the United States. To have the people of any of these countries quit and go on a "sit-down strike" would bring the war to an end. I can visualize this taking place sometime after 1942; but I cannot visualize it as coming about in 1942. In this connection let me remind readers of what I said last January regarding the destruction of crops and fuel supplies during 1942. Therefore, I say that there will be no peace in 1942; that many non-defense industries will be depressed throughout 1942; and that business as a whole has already seen its peak. The war may even last two or more years after 1942; but after 1942, two months before it ends no one will foresee the end.

Real Estate Will Hold Firm
Prices of farm lands should strengthen during 1942. Farmers will be more prosperous. The only investment which farmers know is land. Many will be so foolish as to again get land, as they did following World War I. There also will be some purchasing of small farms as inflation heats up. It looks, however, as if other than in defense areas, the "small home" industry has about reached its peak and will begin to slump off in 1942.

Ordinarily this should result in increased rents and an increased demand for houses already built. It must be remembered, however, that when a third of the workers will have no wages and want to move into better houses, two-thirds of the workers will have no wage increases. Many will have wage decreases. Some will see their expenses so increased that they will be looking for cheaper homes as well as for cheaper cars. Readers who have real estate which they would like to sell should make a strong effort to sell it during 1942—at least sell enough to get out of debt.

What About Retail Trade?
Merchants in the defense areas should have a good year. I am not so hopeful for those outside defense areas. Certainly, the number of sales will be smaller, although the total gross may hold up. Expanding the draft area may have a dampening effect on retail trade later in the year, 1942; but not more than enough to affect the rise in the government cost-of-living index. Certain concerns engaged in the non-defense industries will be obliged to pay key people a little more to hold them. The great majority of workers in the non-defense industries will get no increases in 1942, while some will get their wages reduced. The year 1941 saw the peak of strikes and wage increases. The Canadian labor policy and the adopted by our Congress. The law of supply and demand is still working. Cost-of-living in the defense areas may have already seen its peak. The new workers who are flowing into these areas may so flood the market as to prevent further wage raises. Besides, I'm in hope the government will issue a supplementary table of living costs after providing for switches in purchasing and waste eliminations.

What Will Congress Do?
My forecast a year ago as to what Congress would do in 1941 was 100 per cent correct. Now, I am even surer of my ground. When Congress declared war it performed its most important single act until peace comes. From here on it will become a necessity somewhat of a rubber stamp. War emergency powers of the President will require but little action on the part of Congress. Remember that there are important Congressional elections on November 3, 1942. Incidentally, the results of these elections will be very interesting to watch. They will give us a good clue as to Republican chances in 1944; but this is something for me to discuss a year from now. There is another possibility, namely, the enacting of labor control legislation such as Canada has adopted.

Price Control and Rationing
If price control legislation is enacted in 1942, it will not be very successful. Price control, without rationing, is usually a failure. Of course, the entire set-up appears cooked-eyed to me. For instance, the purpose of price control is to prevent inflation and to discourage the purchase of non-essential goods. But, does keeping prices down discourage purchasing? No! The way to discourage purchasing is to let prices rise. But, you ask: How about the prices of essentials such as food? Well, strange to say, the prices of farm products are not being controlled! Even wages are omitted—"because we cannot force people to work" and yet wages are the most important factor in setting prices. Bernard Baruch is correct when demanding the freezing of everything on a given day—commodities, farm products, wages, rents, interest, and profits. Fine! But how can such a law be enforced? Remember—the boot-legging during prohibition days and apply this to 100,000 articles! The answer is in having price control apply to a few essentials and then ration these essentials.

Social Security Legislation
There will be a new tax bill in 1942. It will somewhat increase corporation and personal income taxes, but not seriously. Let me again remind readers that all the Congressmen and one-third of the Senators will be up for reelection on November 3, 1942! There will be a serious attempt by the anti-inflation group to further tax luxuries and unnecessary non-defense products as the easiest way to raise money. Social Security taxes on wages will be another easy way to get funds. They are really a sales tax of the most vicious kind; but the name and promises which go with them make them very difficult for Congressmen to oppose. "Social Security" is a poisonous pill, sugar-coated. The United States can easily commit suicide by taking too much "Social Security" poison. Of course, one fair way to collect more money would be for Congress to put an excess profits tax on wages identical with the present excess tax on profits. This would both raise all the needed funds and put an end to the labor racket for the duration of the war.

Rents and Strikes
Rents will not decline during 1942; but whether to make long or short leases is debatable. Those owning large, old style houses should sell them during 1942 for any price they can get. I say this because of the action of carpenters, brick layers, plumbers, and painters who are fast killing the geese which lay their golden eggs. You can no longer afford to make over a large, old house into apartments as you once could. Again I say—try to get out of debt during 1942.

There will be fewer strikes in 1942. The strike business has its "ups and downs" like the stock market. Labor leaders like Wall Street bankers strike while the iron is hot; they speed up while the going is good. With both labor leaders and bankers, their jobs are purely a business. The "business" of the average labor leader will not be so good in 1942 as in 1941. As the tax payers of the nation (and this includes every reader of this column)—realize that during 1941 they lost about 20,000,000 man-days (or five times the loss during 1940) the American people will wake up and stop this nonsense. Statistics show that 1941 had 3,500 major strikes involving over 2,200,000 workers. This is about double the average of the preceding five years. Congress should insist on a secret ballot by workers before a strike can be called.

Farm Prices Will Be Better
I estimate that if farm prices are not controlled, the farmers in 1942 may receive an increase of 20 per cent over 1941. This could increase the national income 10 per cent and raise farm consumer purchasing power to nearly double what it was a few years previous. Cash farm income in 1942 should reach about $13,000,000,000—the highest since 1920. This figure compares with $11,000,000,000 for 1941, and $9,000,000,000 for 1940. During 1941 food prices increased about 12 per cent, but 1942 should show a distinct tapering off of this upward curve. By substitutions and the elimination of waste, most people can absorb this food price increase without either further wage increases or a reduction in living standards.

High Living Standards
Readers who are squawking about increased prices should remember this fact: Considering 1929 wages and living costs at 100, the wage index has gone up to 106, while the retail cost of food has dropped to 80. In other words, the average American has today left for non-food purchases $1,045 compared with $887 in the boom year of 1929. To put it another way, all wage workers are at least 20 per cent better off today than in 1929. What possible excuse is there for more strikes or even wage increases? These high standards will hold up during 1942, notwithstanding our war with the Axis Powers.

Firm Commodity Prices
Wholesale prices will average during 1942 about 10 per cent over the 1941 average. But do not get excited! These prices are now about 10 per cent below the 1926 level which the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics considers "normal". Those who expect a less-than-10 per cent increase point to (1) the large stocks of food supplies, raw materials, and merchandise now on hand; (2) the heavy advance purchasing which consumers made during 1941 which could keep them going for some time; (3) the high taxes of various kinds which 1942 is to witness, together with the curtailment of installment credit; and (4) a gradual increase of unemployment in the non-defense industries.

Those who expect a greater-than-10 per cent increase point to (1) the steady decline in available non-defense goods regarding defense materials, the making of which goods will be curtailed; (2) the increased purchasing power which will come from the farm sections even if wages in the war industries are no longer increased; (3) a shortage and speculative buying and hoarding which cannot be prevented. Psychology and fear are more potent than law; (4) the fact that higher taxes and more bond sales will result in greater disbursements which must come back to increased purchasing and higher prices.

I believe that these eight reasons about balance one another and that the net result will be an increase of not over 10 per cent, as above indicated. This, however, does not necessarily require an equal increase in the cost-of-living for careful housewives.

Stocks To Go Up?
The stock market was a "selective market" during 1941 and will probably continue to be such during 1942. While the market as a whole was declining, certain stocks were moving upward. Among these were war stocks, movie stocks, motor coach stocks, chewing gum stocks, soft drink stocks, and certain chain-store stocks. On the contrary, the stocks of companies making mostly refrigerators, oil burners, auto parts, and the like have declined much more than the average market. This has also been true of the electrical appliance stocks and the "small-loans" stocks. As declining stock prices came in 1941 accompanying advancing business activity, it is logical that advancing stock prices should come in 1942 accompanying declining business activity. Certainly stock prices will recover sharply from present quotations even if not topping 1941 highs. The companies to buy into are those which are enjoying increased consumer demand and are having no government interference. Fire-insurance stocks look good to me for 1942 investments. Besides, they should be a good inflation hedge.

Defense Costs for 1942
During the calendar year 1941 our government spent about $16,000,000,000, with revenue of over one-half this sum. It is estimated that this will be nearly double in 1942. I estimate the government debt increased during 1941 about $12,000,000,000. Bankers recently estimated that on December 31, 1942, the government debt will be about $65,000,000,000, compared with only $20,000,000,000 in 1941. As a result we are slowly approaching state capitalism. The Federal Government may some day control banking, transportation, and farming. I am bearish on long-term government bonds.

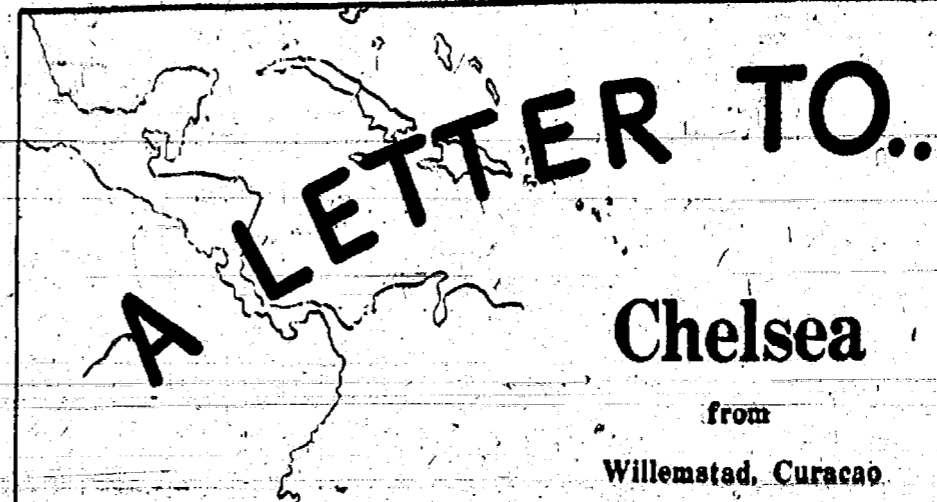

England is likewise increasing its debt by leaps and bounds. This makes me wonder why we talk only of an uprising in Germany. Could not the English, Japanese, Italians, or even American people get tired and quit? In this connection let me say that according to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, U. S. taxes in 1941 were higher than English taxes whether measured on a per capita or percentage basis. My estimate for U. S. federal, state, and local taxes for 1942 is $25,000,000,000. This gives a per capita figure of about $180 for every U. S. person; while the British figure will be only $173 per person. Based upon national income, it is estimated that U. S. taxes take 25 per cent of our national income while the British taxes will take only 22 per cent.

Closing Warning
Just a word to various groups who read this forecast: (1) To manufacturers and investors—Get out of the objective case. Stop kicking, but help more to row the boat. If you believe in "private enterprise" show more of this enterprise in your own plans and policies. If you love personal liberty, be willing to fight for it, to be taxed for it, and accept the risks that go with it. If you wish to avoid having the government make employment, make it yourselves. There never was any cyclone cellar for private property or for private enterprise.

(2) To wage workers and others—Smash the racketeers whether in labor circles or government circles. Insist that workers shall vote by secret ballot as to whether or not they shall strike after hearing arguments from both their labor leaders and their employers. I am willing to agree that no corporation be allowed to put on a "lock out" without a similar vote by its stockholders. I beg labor in 1942 to encourage the Department of Justice in eliminating all racketeers.

(3) The Babson chart shows total U. S. business today at an all-time high. Production and consumption records are being made all along the line. More are employed and at higher wages than ever before. But if 1942 is as good as 1941 we will be lucky. We should work, study, and cooperate as never before! On our shoulders rests a great responsibility. This is no time for politics or pettiness in any form. The stakes are too high. The very life of our country and our way of living hang in the balance. Let us join wholeheartedly in giving our all to serving humanity in this, its hour of need. Only real sacrifice, effectively co-ordinated, can tip the scales for righteousness and insure security. The fight calls for all we Americans can give of time, money, and blood. Most of all it means that we should ask of God forgiveness for our past selfishness and wastefulness. Let's begin the new year with an honest prayer that each of us as individuals shall be better men and women.

CASSIDY LAKE YOUTHS ENLIST
Six youths employed on the Cassidy Lake resident work project of the National Youth Administration for Michigan were accepted for service in the armed forces of the nation during the past week. Orin W. Kaye, state NYA administrator, has announced. A total of 21 youths from the project made application for enlistment and six were accepted. Mr. Kaye also announced that 65 youths employed on NYA projects throughout the state were accepted. A total of 211 made application during the week.

In the words of the American Consul here:

"Curacao is a nervous island. I should be careful what I wrote from here, if I were you."

And I shall be careful. But Curacao is too interesting not to take the chance of giving you as complete a picture as possible.

Curacao is both fighting and fueling the war.

It all began—that atmosphere of nervousness, tenseness, several miles up the coast from Willemstad. The S. S. Cuba was met by an armed Dutch cutter patrolling the coast, surveying all ships before they entered the harbor.

Next we noticed that the small boat which brought our harbor pilot out carried a large machine gun on a tripod.

The harbor authorities were very strict. We were forced to itemize all money upon our persons, and it must be checked when we leave. And no Europeans were allowed to leave the boat, even for an hour or so. I was warned to take no pictures of the harbor, or of the harbor mouth.

We were not long in seeing the reasons for such precautions.

After all, Curacao is an island at war. And it is playing an essential part in that fight. Armies move not alone on their stomachs today; oil is doubtless as vital as food. And what Adolf Hitler wouldn't give for the gasoline and lubricating oil that leaves Curacao daily!

Tankers come wallowing into the harbor every few minutes, heavy with crude Venezuelan oil. And every few minutes others leave, heavy now with the elixir of war. The refinery here is tremendous in size.

The other day I asked directions of a bronzed soldier in khaki shorts. He looked English. He was English! He is part of a large detachment of English troops which stand watch night and day over the refinery.

Again, the reason for this vigilance was soon obvious. For up in the harbor, standing sea-beaten and tired, was a large group of tankers. And from their masts fluttered the Union Jack. And they all mounted heavy-calibre guns and life rafts. One by one they go out of Willemstad, to a watery rendezvous in the Atlantic, there to be conveyed to the "embattled isle."

The war is very real to the traveller in Curacao.

An armor-plated reality lies also in the harbor, guns pointed out to sea. I had thought all of the Dutch fleet to be in the Netherlands East Indies, putting up a bold front against Japan's demands. But a large destroyer, the Von Kinsbergen, has been stationed here for some time. I understand from authoritative sources that she has already captured several German ships attempting to slip away from South America and brought them in for Allied use. Right now she is getting a much-needed coat of paint. She looks war-weary too.

Yes, the war is terribly real to many Dutchmen in Curacao. For most families have relatives in Holland and they dare not speak, they live only for the end of the war. It is very difficult to get information of any kind, and the people cannot be blamed for reticence.

English and Dutch are working together closely. It is a common sight to see an English Tommy and a Dutch sailor going down the street together—though I doubt if they converse at any great length.

A provincial government rules the island with an iron hand, necessitated probably by international conditions. And it, in turn, receives its orders from the Netherlands government-in-exile operating in London. Frankly, I would not be one whit surprised to learn this column had reached the U. S. A. censored to bits. One can only unscramble one's guilders and hope for the best.

I said last week that there is stark drama in Curacao. And there is. It is everywhere—in the teeming, oily harbor filled with gray, floating places of England and Holland; in the ever-present breeze which sweeps down the clean streets, bringing a hint of faraway places, faraway battles; in the phlegmatic Dutch faces, the realize that most of these people have no real home? That many whom they love are living only in a shadowy geographical memory, a place not now indicated upon the maps of Europe?

Another thing, this morning we saw truckload after truckload of Jewish refugees from Europe being carted through the downtown streets. Their faces showed the ravages of war, of a crowded, feverish Atlantic crossing. The notable thing about those faces was that they still carried fear. But there is peace, you say, in the Western Hemisphere! There is not peace in Curacao.

We were unable to find out what ship they came on, or how long they would stay. They were taken at once to the barren interior of the island.

And this drama, this utter reality is only fourteen hundred miles south of Miami, Florida. The war is far more real south of Miami than it is north.

This was our last day in Curacao; tomorrow we leave for Trinidad via the Cuticia of the Royal Netherlands Line. She stops at several Venezuelan ports on her way, so we shall have an opportunity to view that fabulously rich country.

Trinidad—gateway to South America—exciting island just one steamer jump from Rio de Janeiro!

We shall undoubtedly spend Christmas and New Year's on Trinidad, and leave for Brazil immediately afterward. Frankly, we do not particularly look forward to the holidays this year. They will be the strangest—I am afraid the loneliest—we have ever spent.

Simple Games Enliven Party On New Year's

New Year's parties are always fun, but they will achieve new life and interest if several new games are included with the old favorites. Spelling bees and guessing contests have been played for many years, but a few modern variations of these games can make them more popular than ever.

Spell sdrawkcaB
 Little enthusiasm will probably be noticed when a good old-fashioned spelling bee is announced. Before the game is over, however, the guests will probably be wondering if they ever knew how to spell, because the words in this contest must be spelled backwards.

A little competition will enliven the game, so arrange the guests into two or three teams, then tell them that to save embarrassment the words will all be simple ones. Each contestant will be eliminated from the game when he makes his second miss, and the first team to be spelled down loses the game. After casually announcing that the words must be spelled backwards and with no "second chance" if a wrong start is made, start the game going with simple words such as dog, cat, boy and so on.

When the players have caught on, make the words increasingly difficult. To keep the game moving and to dispel any possible suspicion of favoritism it is best to read the words from a list prepared in advance.

Guessing Time.
 Anybody can estimate the length of a second, but few people know how long two or three minutes will last.

Have the guests sit in a circle around the room and announce that you are going to ask them to estimate the amount of time it takes for four minutes to pass.

Clap your hands when the four minutes is to start. To prevent the guests from counting out the time to themselves, pass around some more refreshments, or if someone can play the piano, sing a song they all know. This will not last more than a minute or two, and it will throw the players completely off count. Then sit in silence, waiting for the time to pass. Soon the guests will begin calling out "four minutes," and from there on the game will take care of itself.

The "secret of success" at a party of this kind is to play each game only a short time before changing to a new game. No matter how much the guests are enjoying a game, it is advisable to stop the game after a few minutes and change to something else.
