Civilians To Register For Defense Tasks

Registration Will Be Held In Chelsea On Friday and Saturday

General registration of men and women for volunteer civilian defense service will be held in Chelsea on Friday and Saturday of this week, January 9 and 10, at the Chelsea Public Library, from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m.

This registration will be under the supervision of a volunteer committee, with Mrs. A. A. Palmer as chairman. Several members of the committee attended a county-wide meeting in Ann Arbor on Monday, when instructions were issued.

To make certain that the effort offered is expended most efficiently and where it will do the most good, more than 30 questions will be asked each volunteer for defense service. "What can you do?" and "What would you like to do?" will be asked every enrollee. The answers will be classified under one or more of 22 different types of work listed in the national defense program. Even if a volunteer has only three or four hours a week to devote to defense work their registration will be accepted.

Routine questions such as name, personal and business addresses and telephone numbers, marital status, and height and weight will start off the interview. Age, date and place of birth, citizenship and religion, as well as the number of children under six years old and the number in grade or high school will be asked volunteers.

More specifically involved in the defense program are the questions regarding types of work for which the volunteer is qualified, time available for volunteer duty, and special defense training desired.

Each volunteer also will be asked if his blood has been typed, if he would be willing to donate blood, if he is a licensed driver, if he has a car available, and if he can speak, read, or write any foreign language. In addition to questions about work skills, enrollees will be asked to list special interests and hobbies.

Information about education, schools attended, special subjects studied, other kinds of training and volunteer courses completed also will be entered on the cards and a record of the volunteer's work history will be taken.

In addition, there are spaces on the cards for a placement record under the program and for information about vision, hearing, telephone voice and physical fitness for chosen work. These will be filled in after the volunteer is assigned to a civilian defense duty.

Volunteers also will be asked to read and sign a civilian defense pledge, completing the registration interview. After the cards are filled in, they will be sorted and filed according to the work classification code. Jobs probably will not be available right away for all volunteers. However, volunteers will be put to work just as fast as requests for assistance come.

The 22 occupational classifications under which volunteers who register this week will be assigned include these types of work:

Artistic work, child care, computing, cooks, crafts, entertainment, farming, fishery work, forestry work, general clerical duties, heavy physical labor, light physical work, literary work, machine trades, managerial duties, musical work, personal service, protective services, public contact work, public service work, technical work and miscellaneous services.

Eventually there will be something for everyone to do under nearly all of these headings.

REPAIR DEMONSTRATION

According to an announcement made by H. S. Oster, county agricultural agent, and secretary of the county agricultural defense board, arrangements have been completed for a machinery repair demonstration to be held next Monday afternoon, January 12, from 1:30 to 4:00 p. m., at the implement headquarters of R. L. Savery, 206 W. Washington St., Ann Arbor.

George Amundson, of the agricultural engineering department, Michigan State College, will conduct the demonstration of the repair and adjustment of different kinds of farm machinery.

Opportunity will be given for questions and discussion. The importance of this cannot be emphasized too much on account of its relation to national defense and the probable difficulty in obtaining parts for repair, says Mr. Oster. The implement dealers are cooperating in bringing this demonstration to the attention of their patrons.

MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED

Announcement is made of the marriage of Mrs. Leora Grove and Lewis Noll, both of Chelsea, which took place on November 25, 1941, in Napoleon, O. The ceremony was performed at the Methodist parsonage by the pastor, Rev. John B. Taylor. Mr. and Mrs. Noll are residing at 627 S. Main St.

Chelsea Business Places Join In Sale Of Defense Stamps

Let Your Answer to Bombs Be BONDS!

We are fighting enemies who will stop at nothing. With our homes, our very lives at stake, shall we stop short of giving our dimes and dollars for Defense? Buy Defense Bonds and Stamps every day, every week. Buy as if your very life depended upon it. It does!

Sales Should Increase
Rapidly With Fifty
New Outlets Opened

Chelsea has gone all-out in the sale of Defense Bonds and Stamps in cooperation with the nation's war effort. The committee in charge of the sale of Defense Stamps and Bonds reports that Stamps are now on sale at about fifty business places in the village.

Sales of Stamps brings a later sale of Bonds, as the completed Stamp Books will be turned in for the Bonds, thus the united effort of practically every business place should help materially in the total purchase of Defense Bonds here.

That Chelsea is already doing well in the sale of Bonds is evidenced by the report that a total of $73,925.00 in Defense Bonds had been sold at the post office and Chelsea State Bank up to January 1. With the added "push" that is now back of the sale the total should reach at least $100,000.00 by February 1.

When you make a purchase ask for your change in Defense Stamps at the following places:

COMMUNITY FORUM

Ann Arbor Community Forum will be held at Pottengill Auditorium on Monday evening, January 12, at 8:00 o'clock. Topic: "The Victory Program". What can we in Washtenaw county do to further this program? This program is sponsored by the County Defense Council and gives you an excellent opportunity to find out what you can do for defense of our country, and also how you can help in other ways than joining the armed forces. This will be a frank discussion of the individual's responsibilities during this conflict.

Military Registration Will Be Held Feb. 16

Registration of all male citizens of the nation between the ages of 20 and 44 who have not registered previously has been ordered for February 16 by President Roosevelt. Men in this age group will be subject to military service.

Those between the ages of 21 and 35 having already registered, the February 16 registration will include those who have turned 21 since the last registration, those who are 20 years of age, and men between 36 and 44.

Complete information as to the manner in which local registration is to be conducted will be available at a later date.

Anniversary Celebrated By Mr. and Mrs. Young

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Young of Grass Lake township was celebrated at Salem Grove church on Sunday, January 4.

Guests and relatives numbering about 135 partook of a delicious dinner at 1:00 o'clock. The guests assembled at the tables while Mrs. Mae Platt played the wedding march. Just before being seated, the honor guests' only granddaughter, Gwili Hamp, sang "Somebody Loves You", and presented the bride of 50 years with a beautiful corsage of lilies, and the groom with a white carnation.

Tables were decorated with bands of yellow and lighted with yellow tapers. The bride's table was centered with a beautifully decorated tiered wedding cake.

Immediately after dinner, the company assembled in the church auditorium where the following program (Continued on page eight)

Ping-Pong Tournament

The officers of the Chelsea Community Association announce that they will hold a ping-pong tournament at the Community Hall during the next few weeks. This tournament will be open to men and women of this vicinity and will be played during the evening hours. The officers have selected C. Stanley Evans to have charge of this tournament and he will promulgate the rules for the tournament and will establish a schedule of the matches between the players.

There will be separate brackets for the men and women players. Each participant will play in the tournament until he is eliminated by some opponent. An entrance fee of 25 cents will be charged each player, and this money will be largely spent to provide prizes for the winners of the two divisions. There will also be a beginners' tournament for those players who are just learning to play the game, and experienced players will aid beginners in mastering certain shots and the fundamental rules of the game. All those who are interested in this tournament should consult C. Stanley Evans at once for further details or register with Thomas Torrance at the Community Hall.

The Chelsea Community Association urges all ping-pong players in this vicinity to take part in this tournament, as well as all those individuals who would like to learn to play the game.

Lansing—Life in Michigan will be different in 1942.

Looking upon an "all-out" tug-of-war with the Axis as ever a temporary interruption in the normal course of business, Michigan may expect changes during the coming year to include the following:

Added to the selective service list of 600,000 men will be 500,000 men between the ages of 36 and 45—or a total of more than one million Michigan men subject to war duty, if physically qualified and if needed by the nation. Of this group the men between the ages of 20 and 45 will be liable to call for combat service.

The registration call, issued last Monday (Jan. 5), affects 25,000,000 men between the ages of 18 and 45 years. Michigan's total thus will be about one-twentieth of Uncle Sam's potential manpower for prosecution of the war. Even a half million men, taken from normal economic use, would result in drastic changes throughout the state.

Yes, life is going to be different.

Old, Old Story

The blunt plain talk of Winston Churchill at Washington and Ottawa made a profound impression on Americans.

Just as our pre-Christmas prosperity was shattered by the treacherous Japanese raids on Pearl Harbor, later duplicating by bombing of Manila during the holidays, so our attitude on the war underwent a major readjustment during the Churchill-Roosevelt conferences.

Despite the encouraging headlines of Nazi defeats in Russia, the fact remains that Washington now plans for a three-year war. Production of arms, growing as it has been, is totally inadequate to meet new needs. Unless the German nation collapses, need for relaxation rises. Paradoxically, from weak morale or a lack of needed supplies, we must wait until 1943 and possibly 1944 before there are sufficient client arms and trained men to justify a full-fledged military offensive. Unless we strip for action quickly, we may be "too late."

It's the same old, old story of American unpreparedness which you find again and again in American history. Only this time, we have few Allies, less time in which to overcome the appalling handicaps.

Start of Sacrifices

And so when the news breaks that the United States, fighting a two-ocean war, must make greater sacrifices than ever dreamed of during the World War I, somehow or other it fits into the usual pattern which democracies can expect. Our sacrifices in Michigan are just beginning.

Michigan automobile factories are to be converted 100 per cent into war arsenals. What had been expected to be a gradual transition will become an arbitrary overnight halt to production of cars. Net result will be temporary unemployment of several hundred thousand workers, plus the readjustments imposed upon thousands of automobile dealers.

Automobile advertising will cease to emphasize new models, but will center on servicing present cars. Because of metal priorities, the manufacture of refrigerators, radios, washing machines, stoves, and many other household appliances may be temporarily suspended.

How world-wide the war has become was illustrated recently when the government revealed the extent of restrictions on sale of automobile tires. Only persons who have urgent and vital need for the rubber product will be permitted to buy in 1942. Thousands of automobiles may be forced off the highways. In England tire blowouts have caused thousands of deaths.

Tourist Business

The 1942 tourist business in Michigan should not be drastically affected by the tire restriction, but some curtailment may be anticipated. The 1943 season will be uncertain.

Retreaded tires will replace new tires, to a certain degree, just as automobile repair work is expected to replace sale of new models.

A 35 per cent reduction in demand of gasoline is also forecast. In turn, curtailment of gasoline will reduce the state's income from gasoline taxes for highway use. Fewer car licenses will be needed. The 1941 income of nearly $60,000,000 may shrink to $45,000,000 or $40,000,000. In turn this would force retrenchment in highway building, and so on. The cycle is long.

Experience of the Michigan tourist business during the last war was favorable. When pressure mounts, need for relaxation rises. Paradoxically, from weak morale or a lack of needed supplies, we must wait until 1943 and possibly 1944 before there are sufficient

Defense Needs

Last week the state deficit was wiped out, just one year earlier than Budget Director Leo Nowicki thought was possible.

A year-end check of $4,355,000 from the state liquor control commission, representing payment to the general fund from Michigan's liquor sale monopoly, was responsible. On top of this the commission paid $1,269,000 to the federal government in liquor taxes.

Thus the state ended 1941 with a balance of around $60,000 in the bank.

Augmented state income from sale and liquor taxes will be needed to meet new demands due to the war. If the legislature is called into special session—and such may be the case—around $5,000,000 may be asked for use of the state troops, state police, and other war-time functions.

Belts will be tightened in 1942 when Congress enacts higher income taxes and other war-time levies. When the Michigan wage-earner turns over in payroll deductions a fifth to a third of his annual wages to Uncle Sam, then we'll know he is in the war.

Yes, life will be different. The price of victory is just starting.

REUBEN STEINBACH APPOINTED LENNOX FURNACE DEALER

Reuben Steinbach has just announced his appointment as the exclusive local dealer for the Lennox Furnace Company, nationally famous manufacturers of riveted-steel furnaces and residential air conditioners.

This famous line of equipment is featured by a complete range of heating and air conditioning units, containing a type especially designed for high efficiency with every type of fuel, and a size for every heating or air conditioning requirement from the smallest home to theaters, stores, churches and schools.

According to Mr. Steinbach, riveted steel construction of the Lennox units is permanent insurance against the dangers of leaking fuel gases and against the excessive housework made necessary when dust and ashes from the furnace are allowed to enter the circulating air system. All units are extremely flexible, providing perfect comfort in every room, in the house regardless of weather conditions. Mr. Steinbach has had long experience and training in the installation and servicing of economical heating and air conditioning systems. With this new line of equipment now available, he can offer the home owner the right solution to his own particular heating or air conditioning problem.

A LETTER TO..

Chelsea

from

Carupano, Venezuela

(Written in a deck chair aboard the S. S. Cottica, enroute from Curacao to Port-of-Spain, Trinidad.)

Now that we are safely away from Curacao, and lying in a neutral port, I shall be able to write without the limitations of censorship.

You see, I almost got into trouble in Curacao.

You will recall that my last letter was at least descriptive, if not informative, of the intense military activity on an island at war. At that time I was unaware that all mail to and from Curacao is censored. And only on the way to the post office with it was I so informed. Five minutes later and Kate and I would have been summarily ejected from Curacao or shot at sunrise or something equally gruesome.

I certainly had no intention of writing anything strictly censorable—I only wished to describe the intensity with which the courageous Dutch are still fighting the war. Luckily, we were able to mail the column from La Guaira, in Venezuela.

At that, I was forced to go to the Military Commandant to retrieve two photographs I had taken in San Juan, one of a destroyer and one of a troop transport. The Dutch did not know they were American—and they also censor all films before they are returned from the developer.

Incidentally, Paul Niehaus might be interested in the following. The Dutch have hit upon a rather disagreeable method of financing the war. It is most effective, though certainly not encouraging to tourists. They have devalued all foreign money, including American. The dollar, before the war, was worth 250 Dutch cents, but now the banks and exchange offices allow only 188 cents. And the stores and shops allow even less. It is expensive even to carry American money around in Curacao.

For example, two Coca-Colas sell at most anywhere for ten cents. In Curacao, two Coca-Colas cost thirty Dutch cents, the equivalent of ten American cents. However, if payment is made in American silver, the shopkeeper will unfailingly demand twenty cents. Ingenious, isn't it?

Nevertheless, we went there one better. In the back room of a store on St. we sold our American dollars for 210 Dutch cents each.

We are now aboard the S. S. Cottica of the Royal Netherlands Line. She is a grand ship, clean as her whistle from how to stern. After the S. S. Cuba she is a welcome relief. The cuisine is excellent, the crew courteous and helpful, tea is served each afternoon, and we are entertained by a string trio after dinner.

Formerly on a trans-Atlantic run from Amsterdam to New York, to Dutch Surinam, she now plies the comparatively safe waters of the Caribbean. The run from Curacao requires four days, and we stop at the Venezuelan ports of La Guaira, Guanta, Cumana, Pampatar, and Carupano.

But, I must admit, she is having rather rough going at present. Kate is on deck with me now and then—mostly then.

The officers aboard the Cottica are a saddened group of men. Almost all of them have families in Holland; yet the war forces them to live and travel for years in strange waters, thousands of miles from home. The Third Mate, for example, has had three ships torpedoed from under him since the war's beginning, and he is only twenty-four.

Having had four hours ashore in La Guaira, I suppose I may set myself up as an authority on Venezuela.

The coastal region of "Get-Rich-Quick" Venezuela is extremely mountainous. The mountains rise directly up from the sea until their green peaks disappear in the clouds, and the villages cling to the mountainsides in grim desperation.

Here is the information gleaned from the following excellent sources: gossip, hearsay, incentive, and four hours ashore.

Venezuela is tremendously rich because of her tremendous oil fields and mineral deposits. Two classes of Venezuelans exist: the rich and the poor. The poor fish, farm, and sell lottery tickets and the rich have all moved to New York.

Now, with Venezuela out of the way we can turn our thoughts regretfully toward the fact that we shall spend Christmas over three thousand miles from Michigan. It is a horrible prospect. It is our first Christmas away from home.

We shan't even have a Christmas tree!

Certainly we shall make an attempt at gaiety. In Curacao I bought Kate her huge bottle of French perfume and hid it away in the camera case. And we shall have an American Christmas dinner if it takes our last Venezuelan bolivar.

I suppose the streets of Chelsea are decorated with colored lights now, and that you are all having a white Christmas.

Believe us, all the sunshine, blue skies and water, and white sands won't compensate for the loss of what

Editorial

R. McDonald

Editorials are written about many subjects—war, peace, education, courtesy, and many more which you doubtless know without being reminded. I believe most of these things can be summed up in one statement: "Recognizing the proper place for everything."

Sometimes the most well-meant remark, indiscreetly used, is reversed in meaning. Other things, too, follow this rule. The person who can maneuver situations is as great an engineer as one who can maneuver structures. Many are able to trace the situation facing the world today back to poor engineering in life.

Engineers follow given laws. So can we in life! The builder knows what will happen if he ignores these rules, and acts accordingly. We have rules in life, too, and most people recognize them but fail to heed their consequence.

Using these laws as a tool will help build a better life, but just as a master workman must be able to use his tools to their best advantage, we, too, must be able to "Recognize the proper place for everything."

Our Seniors

Her name is Nancy Fleming. She was born in Detroit, Michigan, on October 12, 1924. Many people know Nancy. First, she has attended five schools and secondly because of her pretty auburn (that's what she says) hair and brown eyes. Her favorite color is red—because she can't wear it, and she likes dogs. During vacation Nancy saw the "Shadow of the Thin Man" and enjoyed it very much. She also heard "Tonight We Love" on the radio and the New Year's day football games—her favorite sport. Nancy is a brave gal—she listens to the Hermit's Cave. She loves to talk and the only way to stop her is to place a dish of chow mein before her. Next year Nancy has not yet decided what she will do.

Defense Stamps

On Thursday, Dec. 19 the Freshmen Civics class sponsored the first sale of Defense Stamps.

The procedure followed in carrying out this program was to have the students sign for the amount and kind of stamps desired and on the following day the money was collected and the stamps distributed. The results of the sale were very gratifying and proved, beyond a doubt, that young Americans as well as old realize the great need of their country and are answering her call—"All-out for Defense."

Ramblings

Here we are starting a brand new year with resolutions that we'll honestly try to keep but maybe won't. Resolutions such as getting up in the morning the first time we're called and studying Latin instead of listening to our favorite radio program.

Which reminds me, have you heard one of the smoothest recordings recently made? "All Alone and Lonely" turned out by Jimmy Dorsey.

Another one of the "girls" reached the ripe old age of seventeen last week. Peggy celebrated the great event Monday night with a brawl for some of her special girl friends.

Friday will be a day cram full of excitement for us all. After school our girls' basketball team will play the Pinckney girls' team in the gymnasium. At night, Milan and Chelsea are scheduled for a game here. Personally, we're going to turn out for both games and also stay for the dance which the Hi-Y club is sponsoring after our victories. An added attraction will be the Swing Band which will play for the event.

Girls' Athletics

Vacation may slow some people up but not the girls on the basketball team! They are back in school practicing more vigorously than ever before. Friday the girls play with Pinckney. Last year Pinckney beat us but the team is determined to turn the "baskets" this year and win. Let's have a few more students come down and watch the game.

The girls have improved very much this year. Let's keep their spirits going. Give them all your support and they'll try to repay by being champions—they hope!

Vacation

From 3:00 p. m. on Dec. 19 until 8:30 on Monday, January 5 the students (and teachers) had a perfectly swell vacation.

It seems that the cry of all the students was "Catch up on my sleep!" But I guess they must have meant in the morning as, no matter where you went at night the place was flooded with vacationing youths.

Shopping and decorating trees seem to have taken up most of the time before Christmas but after Santa's visit everyone "cut loose". Madelyn Rowe trucked off to Detroit while Tommy L. stayed home and worked.

Jean F. visited Milan, her old home town, and I'll bet had a grand time. Ruth Ann S. spent the week-end in Plymouth.

A lot of boys and girls just stayed home, planning to do a lot of things but never quite getting around to doing them.

On New Year's eve the lads and lassies really celebrated! The midnight show was packed with them and afterwards—well, we know that. Pat R.'s house held ten "night owls" who were celebrating.

Jean D. went to Jackson for the affair and Mary B. spent the time in Detroit at the Book-Cadillac.

All in all the vacation seems to have been a roaring success for most of the gang and leave many pleasant memories to last until spring vacation when the students will again resolve to get more sleep and come back to school looking more tired than before vacation.

Freshman Debate

Six Freshmen students had a very interesting debate during their English class. The affirmative side was composed of Angeline Merkel, James Gaunt, and Barbara Buehler, while Ruth Ann Schenk, Dick Richards, and Dean Scott upheld the negative. The question debated was: Resolved, That every capable male citizen—between the ages of 18 and 21 should have at least one year of military training.

The negative argued that such training would be harmful to the young men's careers, that America cannot be invaded if England can't be; that only men who have an aptitude for military training would make good soldiers; and that compulsory training like that would definitely be wrong and un-American.

The affirmative stated that our country would not be attacked if we were strong enough and that this training would teach the young men the meaning of discipline, responsibility, make them healthier, and spoiled boys would soon change because all of the men are treated alike in the army. They said that our country was worth working for and defending.

Elementary NewsSeventh Grade

Maxine Ingram and Dick Schanz. The total amount of our Defense Stamps purchased the last week in December was $16.80. Loren Munro is also going to buy a Bond.

During vacation, several of our people went visiting. Paul Schaible went to Grand Rapids. Dolores Brown went to Midland. Bragdon Barlow and Mickey Grafson went to Detroit. Eldean Eisele visited Brighton. Naomi Gordon went to Lansing. Loren Munro and Mickey Grafson also went to Jackson. Mickey also went to Milan. Thirteen of us went to Ann Arbor. Several were visited by out-of-town guests. Bob Daniels helped entertain an aunt, uncle, and two cousins from Berea, Ohio. Norma Pierson entertained guests from Middletown, Ohio, and Bragdon Barlow had company from Midland, Mich.

The seventh grade basketball team has challenged the sixth grade to play basketball. The game is to take place January 8.

The Junior high school boys also have a basketball team coached by Mr. Miller and captained by Charles Slane. They expect to play Dexter Junior high school in the near future. Our Safety Boys are finding that the cold weather is making their work very difficult.

Sixth GradeJunior Nicholas

When we came back to school Monday morning the decorations were down and our Science pictures were up.

Betty Marshall went to Ashland, Kentucky, Douglas to Manchester, and Helen to Detroit, for Christmas.

The Friday before Christmas Mrs. Martin was here for our party. Friday at 2:30 o'clock we had our party. We had candy, peanuts, cake, coca-cola, ice cream and entertainment by Wilma, Helen, Sonja, Patsy and Minnie Mae.

Junior Nicholas celebrated the New Year by having his tonsils out.

NEW YEAR'S PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Wilson entertained several guests at a party on New Year's eve. Progressive euchre was played. J. V. Burg and Mrs. F. W. Merkel winning high prizes. A midnight lunch was served.

Deer Hunters To Report On Kill For Camp Use

Lansing—Every party of deer hunters that bought a camp deer license in the recent season will be asked shortly to report by mail whether the license was filled by killing a buck, doe or fawn; the conservation department has disclosed. The information is being gathered to get more facts on the controversial subject of doe killing, legalized in the state in the recent season after 20 years of the one-buck law.

Camp deer permit sales records still are being collected from the hundreds of agents throughout the state. To one of the signers of each permit will be mailed a double postcard, one half having the address and instructions the other for the report of the kill under the camp license, if any. The return cards will be stamped, and will cost the hunter nothing to mail.

Because of the intense interest in the doe-shooting question, prompt cooperation on the part of hunters is expected. No kill report was included in the camp license form because at the time of its preparation last summer the prospect that doe shooting would be allowed was far from certain, and continued so until the Legislature reconvened in October. Previously, under the one-buck law, camp deer permits accounted for a very small part of the kill. Only 700 permits were issued in 1940, where this season it is believed 25,000 or more may have been sold.

The postcard canvass of camp permit buyers is part of a survey of the actual working of the doe law which the conservation commission has ordered, so that authoritative facts and figures may be supplied for possible reconsideration of the law by the Legislature.

Have you been a courtesy driver? Do you give the right of way regardless of any legal right you may have? What will your resolution be for 1942?

America is at war, and we should do everything in our power to conserve man-power instead of causing accidents that take many lives.

It's smart to drive carefully! Let 1942 be a safe year.

Part of a $28,000,000 Program

Growing service demands due to Michigan's activities in the National Emergency have required increased telephone central office capacity, more equipment and more employees. Above are shown some of the new buildings and additions, started or completed during 1941, to help meet that demand. They are part of this company's $28,000,000 plant expansion program of the past year. That entire program is helping us to face the increasingly difficult problem of providing service when and where wanted.

Farmers Continue To Protest Wheat Penalty

Farmers in Washtenaw and Jackson counties are continuing organized protest of federally assessed penalties on excess wheat production and a meeting called by the Washtenaw County Penalty Production association was held Saturday night at Lima Center Grange hall. The association, organized last July, is headed by Fred W. Kennedy.

Protest groups are being organized throughout the state and members of the various associations and of the state association, headed by Harry M. Atchinson, president of the Michigan Farmers' Guild, hope to raise funds to start a protest suit in an effort to restrain the AAA from taking any action against wheat growers until the issue is decided by the United States Supreme Court. William Lemke, former North Dakota congressman, has agreed to serve as counsel in such a case.

Harry M. Cole, secretary of the Washtenaw AAA committee, says there are 18 county growers among 140 in the state who have failed to comply with wheat regulations, that he has received no change from earlier instructions from Lansing, and that the delinquent farms will be reported as such on January 10, the deadline date. It is probable that non-cooperating farmers will be given a "few more days of grace" for voluntary settlement before the cases are turned over to the federal auditor-general's department.

Chelsea has been experiencing some real winter weather for several days. After a warm and rather cloudy December, New Year's day was ushered in with a snow storm. By mid-afternoon the snow turned to rain. Colder weather arrived on Friday night and Saturday, making some of the dirt roads icy. Monday morning the mercury stood just above the zero mark, Tuesday morning below zero and Wednesday morning still a little lower. The wind blowing on Monday and Tuesday afternoon made the cold more severe. This is the first time in two years that the mercury has gone below zero.

Drugs for Treatment of Pneumonia Received

The Washtenaw County Health Department and St. Joseph's hospital have received a supply of Sulfathiazole, Sulpha-Diazine and Sulphapyridine to be distributed to physicians in the county for use in treating cases of pneumonia as part of a statewide pneumonia study program.

This supply of drugs was secured from the State Department of Health. These drugs are the most effective drugs known for the treatment of pneumonia. They are among the most highly refined members of the sulphagroup drugs which have been used so effectively by physicians in the past three or four years to combat the pneumococcus germ. In the hands of medical practitioners, these drugs have been instrumental in cutting the death rate from pneumonia to a fraction of the rate which existed before the sulphagroup drugs were employed.

Because these drugs are more effective when administered early in the disease, it is important that physicians be called in early in the course of an illness which may be diagnosed as pneumonia. Early symptoms of pneumonia are: chills, fever, pain in the chest, a cough occasionally tinged with blood or rust-colored matter, and rapid breathing. These symptoms usually follow a cold or an exposure to inclement weather conditions.

In all cases where these drugs supplied by the state are used, a full case progress report will be made by the physicians. These reports will be used by the State Health Department to accurately evaluate the merit of the drugs.

Physicians who wish to participate in this study program can secure these drugs from the Health Department at 213 N. Fourth Avenue, Ann Arbor, when they report their pneumonia cases. These drugs may be secured at St. Joseph's hospital after a period of a week or two.

Michigan Foods Reflect 'Good Neighbor' Policy

Inter-country diplomacy which has made "good-neighbors" of South and Central America countries reflects itself on the average Michigan dinner table.

Even when home economists at Michigan State College recommend wider use of homegrown produce including a wide variety of Michigan fruits and vegetables, the authorities still give credit for added variety and some of the spice of eating to more southern sources.

In a recent compilation by the federal bureau of home economics, some of these food sources are indicated. That morning cup of coffee, even when blended from varieties of several different countries, still means South America.

One of the world's largest vanilla producing areas lies in neighboring Mexico. Sugar, as a runner-up to coffee in imports, comes from insular areas and Latin America to supplant the one-third supply grown in the United States.

The holiday chocolates recently munched add credit to tropical Brazil, the Dominican Republic, Ecuador and Venezuela. Favorite tropical fruit available 12 months a year is "the banana grown in Mexico, Central America or Cuba."

Other food products grown by our southern neighbors include the coconut, pineapples and varying quantities of tapioca, cashew nuts, molasses, dry vegetables and fresh fruits, allspice, sesame seed, anise, aloe and tonka beans. The latter are a source of extract which serves as a basis for imitation vanilla and other flavorings.

BABIES COME FIRST!

Michigan's babies have first claim on health protection for 1942, says the State Health Department.

"The best foundation we can build in public health will be built by protecting babies against diseases which are preventable," says Dr. H. Allen Moyer, State Health Commissioner. "In 1941, more than 100,000 babies were born in the state, and every one of them should be guarded against smallpox, diphtheria, and whooping cough."

The first vaccination according to an approved Michigan schedule is against whooping cough. Those injections are made at six to nine months. At nine months, babies should be protected against diphtheria. The first injection of diphtheria toxoid is followed by a second a month later. At 12 months, the smallpox vaccination is given.

A smallpox death is a rarity in Michigan today, but in the first nine months of 1941, diphtheria took 11 lives and whooping cough 71.
