Community Joins In March of Dimes Drive

From coast to coast and nationwide, Americans have launched the 1942 annual "Fight Infantile Paralysis" campaign, which started Wednesday, January 21 and continues through January 31.

The March of Dimes is on! The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis was organized in January, 1938 and is strictly non-political. Its operations are confined to those of a medical and educational nature. It attempts to cover the entire field, including cause, prevention and amelioration.

Its growth has been so rapid that local chapters have been organized in nearly all counties and as a result 60 per cent of all monies raised here will stay in Washtenaw county.

Mrs. Howard C. Baker has been named general chairman of the local committee in their drive for funds. Those assisting are: Mrs. J. V. Burg, Mrs. Herbert Roy, Mrs. N. L. Merkel, Mrs. L. R. Heydlauff, for "Special Gifts"; Mrs. C. F. Dietle, Mrs. W. H. Kusterer, Mrs. P. C. Maroney, Mrs. A. W. Wilkinson, Mrs. David Mohrlock, and Mrs. Ray Krontz, club contacts and March of Dimes.

All who have been so generous in the past years with their donations will not be contacted personally but will have a chance to help as in the past.

All are asked again, in the name of humanity, to help children who cannot help themselves. Those who have healthy children with strong bodies and minds surely will feel grateful enough to give something to help build other children not so fortunate.

There will be a headquarters for these special gifts in Burg's Corner Drug Store, where all gifts of one dollar or more can be left and names of contributors will be published in The Chelsea Standard.

On Friday, January 30, the 60th birthday of President Franklin D. Roosevelt, there will be a space marked off in front of the Chelsea State Bank for the March of Dimes; also on Saturday, Jan. 31. Hours for the Mile of Dimes will be from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. All will have a chance to lay a dime on the space and see the Mile of Dimes grow into dollars for this wonderful cause. Watch for further details in next week's Standard.

Waste Metals Needed For Defense Production

Lansing, Jan. 21—Lying idle in Michigan backyards, attics and cellars, there are potential guns, cartridges, tanks, and important parts of great bombing planes, Lieut. Col. Harold A. Furlong, administrator of the Michigan Council of Defense declared today.

Uncovering and returning of this huge tonnage of critically needed material into war production is the task the recently named salvage committee of the MCD has set for itself. Current and impending shortages in most of the metals used in the manufacture of weapons of all kinds have brought the importance of salvaging so-called waste materials into the forefront as one of the most vital immediate war problems, Kenneth M. Burns, Detroit banker, who is chairman of the salvage committee, said.

"Under normal conditions the steel industry depends upon scrap for approximately one-third of its supply of raw material," Mr. Burns said. "With the vast expansion of our armament program, including the aid that we must continue to send to Britain, Russia and China, it is obvious that the salvaging of metals heretofore wasted or destroyed must be augmented to a tremendous degree. In frequent instances within the past few weeks, steel mills have been forced to curtail production because of lack of scrap."

Each county and local Defense Council is to form a salvage committee to handle details of the local campaign, Mr. Burns said. In addition, the State Salvage Committee has recommended that any person who has an accumulation of scrap metal call a nearby waste material collector or junk dealer, who will buy it at current prices. Persons who have been in the habit of giving such materials as waste paper, rags and scrap metals to charitable agencies are urged to continue that practice.

Probably no other metal is in demand in such vast quantities for war use as steel. It is needed not only for tanks, guns and airplanes, but goes into the hulls of new merchant ships, freight cars and new housing units and industrial plants.

ATTEND WEDDING
Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Schneider, Mrs. O. J. Walworth and Mrs. George Walworth and daughter Joan were in Ft. Wayne, Ind. on Saturday to attend the wedding of Miss Martha Ann Bacon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bacon, and Robert Marshall. The service was read at two o'clock in the Presbyterian church. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The young couple will make their home in Ft. Wayne, Ind. The bride is a granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Walworth and her parents are former well-known Chelsea residents.

Federal Screw Works Will Receive U.S. Navy Award

Selective Service Boards Need Volunteer Helpers

More than 20,000 volunteer workers will be needed by Michigan's local Selective Service boards to conduct the third registration, scheduled for Monday, February 16. It was announced this week by Col. E. M. Rosecrans, state Selective Service director.

Persons wishing to volunteer their assistance on registration day should get in touch with their nearest Local Board. Col. Rosecrans requested. With Michigan's registration concentrated in one day, it is expected that approximately 435,000 men will visit registration places in public schools and other government buildings. Special registration places are now being established by Local Boards in all major industrial establishments and colleges and universities.

Col. Rosecrans has issued printed copies of the President's registration proclamation and ordered Local Boards throughout the State to arrange for posting of the proclamation in board offices and all public buildings. The proclamation orders the registration of all male persons born on or after February 17, 1897, and on or before December 31, 1921. The registration will take place in the territories of Alaska and Hawaii and in Puerto Rico, as well as throughout the United States. Registration is required of every male citizen and every other male person residing in these areas. A person outside the boundaries of the United States on registration day shall present himself for registration as soon as possible after his return to this country.

Col. Rosecrans emphasized that all persons now registered under the Selective Service act will not be required to register again on February 16. All persons subject to registration should plan to register in their Local Board area if at all possible, he declared. Any person who must be away from home on registration day, however, may be registered at any Local Board registration place where he may be.

Local Boards are receiving excellent cooperation from school boards, city and county officials, and other public officials in making arrangements for the registration, the State Director reported. Every effort will be made, Col. Rosecrans indicated, to avoid disruption of war production industries. Local Boards have been authorized to establish special registration places in such industries wherever it may be necessary.

Citizenship Class To Be Held For Aliens

A class in Citizenship will be held at 7:30 o'clock Thursday evening, January 22, in room 13 of the high school building.

The class will be taught by Daniel H. Hall of Saline, and is primarily for those in the community who are not United States citizens and who desire to be.

This aid to citizenship is under the supervision of the National Citizenship Education Program and is sponsored locally by the American Legion. It is hoped that a good-sized class will be on hand Thursday evening to start a proposed series of classes to be held weekly at the same time and place.

It is the belief of the National Citizenship Education Program that there are a number of people in every community who for one reason or another have not taken out their final citizenship papers, and these classes will help them in every way possible to obtain them.

Fed. Screw Employees Buy Defense Bonds

According to Deane Rogers of the Federal Screw Works, about 600 employees of that company have volunteered to purchase Defense Bonds with funds which are withheld from their paychecks once each month. Although the amount withheld by the company varies according to the request of each employee, it was stated by Mr. Rogers that approximately 200 employees are purchasing a $25.00 Defense Bond each month. At the present rate the 600 employees who are using this plan will purchase at least $10,000.00 worth of Defense Bonds every month.

With the Federal Screw Works employees leading the way, the sale of Defense Bonds in Chelsea should show a marked increase during the months to come. The employees and management of this company are to be congratulated for instituting a program which encourages everyone to "Buy a Share in America."

Paul Boyce submitted to an emergency appendectomy on Saturday morning at Foote hospital, Jackson.

Because of "outstanding efforts in the production of ordnance material vital to our national defense," the Federal Screw Works of Chelsea will be awarded an "E" by the United States Navy on January 31. It was stated by Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox in a letter made public today by the company.

The "E" award is famous as an honor given in recognition for the excellent performance of Naval duty. It is the most coveted award, and ships and men compete constantly against each other for the right to display the "E" pennant and badge.

Now that the war is being fought at home in such factories as the Federal Screw Works, the custom of awarding "E's" for excellence has been extended to production of war materials.

The formal presentation of the pennant, flag and lapel buttons for employees of the plant will be held in the Chelsea high school auditorium at noon on Saturday, January 31.

Rear Admiral Henry V. Butler of Washington will present the awards on behalf of the United States Navy. Guests will include high Naval officials from the Ninth Naval District.

The Federal Screw Works of Chelsea, engaged in the manufacture of projectiles and fuses, is well ahead of schedule on all government contracts and in one instance is producing projectiles at a rate which will complete shipments eight months ahead of contract requirements.

Michigan Bell To Give Free Show On Tuesday

Something new in the way of entertainment awaits residents of Chelsea at 8 o'clock next Tuesday night. At that time the curtain will rise on the Telephone Show at the Chelsea high school auditorium. N. J. Prakken, manager for the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, promises abundant entertainment and interesting information in the stage production and exhibitions. There will be no admission charge, he says, and the public is invited.

The Telephone Show will take visitors behind the scenes of telephone operations and give them an insight into some of the outstanding research developments of today.

Ited on the entertainment program will include a motion picture comedy starring young "Joe Telephone"; a "Quiz Show" in which the audience will participate; a telephone "Magic" act demonstrating research developments; and a demonstration of the operation of Chelsea's dial telephone system.

The "Quiz Show" may well prove one of the highlights of the program. "Professor Askem" will quiz the audience on various telephone subjects with those giving the correct answers being awarded free long distance calls to any place in Michigan. The "Professor" promises the questions won't be too difficult. There also will be favors for the losers.

Exhibits will feature the "Voice Mirror", which enables one to hear one's own telephone voice while friends "listen in" to join in the fun. This exhibit was a hit at the New York and San Francisco fairs.

The oscillograph exhibit will enable one to "see" one's voice in the form of light rays. The so-called "Binaural Sound" exhibit will enable the audience to participate in a sound illusion featuring the voice of the "Little Man Who Wasn't There."

The stage show will last about an hour and a half. Prakken pointed out, however, that those attending may remain as long as they desire to view exhibits, ask questions, or "just visit."

DONATES ROOM TO RED CROSS

The Chelsea State Bank has kindly loaned the room at the front on the second floor, formerly occupied by the Library, to the Red Cross to use as their sewing room. It has been announced that beginning this week the sewing class will meet on Friday afternoons at 1:30 o'clock. Ladies, when you are shopping on Friday afternoons plan to spend an hour or two at the sewing room. The sewing class is greatly in need of sewing machines. A loan of some machines in good working order will be greatly appreciated. The entrance to this room is the second door on the right in the lobby of the bank.

ADULT HOMEMAKING CLASSES

Do you know how your choice of floor coverings add to the beauty of your home? There will be samples of rugs and linoleum for us to look at, which will help to give us some ideas to improve our home. The class will meet in the Home Ec. Room, Jan. 22, at 7:30 p. m. Everyone is welcome.

Mrs. John Metzger left on Tuesday evening for Maplewood, N. J., where she will spend two weeks at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Schumacher.

Federal Income Tax Facts No. 3

The Revenue Act of 1941 provides a simplified method of computing income tax in the case of individuals whose gross income is derived wholly from salary, wages or other compensation for personal services, dividends, interest, rent, annuities, or royalties, and does not exceed $3,000. A new Form 1040A has been provided for taxpayers who are entitled to and elect to use such method. A table on the reverse side of this Form shows the amount of tax on increasing amounts of gross income after the proper allowance of $400 for each dependent, if any.

The tax under the simplified method is the same for each $25.00 block of gross income and the taxpayer need only ascertain in which block his gross income (less allowance for dependents) falls to determine his tax. A flat reduction of 10 per cent has been made in arriving at the amount of tax shown in the table for deductions such as charitable contributions and taxes paid, so that the taxpayer who uses this method does not list these but gets an automatic deduction of 10 per cent.

Under the simplified method the status of a person on the last day of the taxable year is the governing factor in determining the exemption level ($750 for single persons and married persons not living with husband or wife, and $1,500 for married persons living together) as well as the credit for dependents.

A husband and wife living together on the last day of the taxable year may file separate returns on Form 1040A if the gross income of each is from the prescribed sources and does not exceed $3,000, or they may file a single joint return on that Form if their combined income is from the prescribed sources and does not exceed $3,000.

The use of the simplified method is optional with the taxpayer but once an election has been made for any year, it is irrevocable for that year. If a taxpayer files a return under the simplified method for the taxable year he may not thereafter file a return under the general provisions of the law for that year. Conversely, if he files a return under the general provisions for any taxable year, he may not thereafter file a return under the simplified method for that year. However, a new election is allowed for each succeeding taxable year.

Our Neighbors

NORTHVILLE—The pheasants which have found a harboring place in the vacant lot next to the Roy Matheson on North Center street, were frightened and one killed Monday evening when a neighbor fired on the birds. The Mathesons have harbored the pheasants, as many as 16 at a time, giving them food and protection. The police department has been notified and a close watch will be kept in the future to see that the birds are protected.—Record.

PLYMOUTH—Dave Nichol, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Walter Nichol of Plymouth, arrived in New York on Monday for a short stay in this country. His parents await more definite information about his expected visit to Plymouth. The young correspondent for the Chicago Daily News has been stationed in Bern, Switzerland for the past six months. He went overseas in September, 1940, as Bern correspondent for the Chicago Daily News foreign service.—Mail.

The Duce Gets It Too

BOMBERS OF BRITAIN'S R.A.F. Mediterranean Command keep up ceaseless raids on Italian mainland bases, factories and shipping as well as on the Axis forces in North Africa. Here another medium British bomber follows close behind the tail of the photographer's plane after both had dropped their loads on a factory at Locri, Calabria, causing the explosions visible well behind the little church. They barely skimmed the rooftops, as can be judged from this photo, and the pilots report they saw people wave to them as they flew so low over the target.

By Gene Alleman

Lansing—Michigan's harbor towns are again fighting threats to their shipping. Attorney General Herbert J. Rushton has notified Secretary of War Simpson that Michigan proposes to join the fight against a new "grab" of water from the Great Lakes by the Chicago Sanitary district.

Chicago wants to increase its permitted flow of 1500 cubic feet per second of lake water through the Chicago Drainage canal to 10,000 cubic feet for the duration of the war. Following a long fight which went to the U. S. Supreme Court, Chicago is permitted, by the high tribunal, to divert a maximum of 1500 cubic feet every second from Lake Michigan.

Michigan's attorney general declares the Chicago plea of impairment of health has no merit, and that demand for more water is merely an attempt to nullify the court's order. Rushton insists that the diversion of more water will greatly impair Great Lakes navigation at a critical time when water-borne commerce is so essential for the movement of defense material. He charges the Chicago Sanitary district would save $1,500,000 a year for itself, in wages by such an increase.

Shipping interests and commercial fishermen have consistently claimed that diversion of lake water reduces water levels in harbors and on shoals to the danger of lives and property. Rushton says he considers it his duty to vigorously oppose any attempt to take more water from the lakes.

Plates for Tanks

Automobile drivers will hereafter be compelled to give up the sentimental custom of tacking their out-dated license plates on garage walls. Collection of old plates will salvage hundreds of tons of scrap for use in tanks, armored cars, guns and projectiles, in the opinion of Secretary of State Harry F. Kelly.

To accomplish this salvage, the state will designate depositories for the collection of old plates. Drivers buying new licenses will be asked to remove their old ones and turn them in at the branch offices.

Discarded plates, dating back over many years, which have been religiously saved as a sort of curious family heritage to posterity, are being asked for to give our fighting men a break.

What About Schools?

Michigan schoolmen are a bit worried about what is going to happen to the schools under wartime conditions. Realizing that state government cannot hope to cope with the crisis in school financing and meeting the needs of boards of education, educational agencies are looking to the federal government for help.

Territory adjacent to industrial areas, where defense plants are operating, are finding the need for new school housing most serious. If a proposed Michigan school project is approved by the federal authorities a total of $41,242,194 will be needed for school building expansion and new construction.

Rural education problems are so increased by the threatened tire shortage that Superintendent of Public Instruction Elliott has asked Michigan educators to consider the task of getting 22,000 rural students to school.

Farming for Freedom

Michigan farmers should have a better idea of where they appear in the defense picture when they go back home from East Lansing after Farmers Week, Feb. 2 to 6, at Michigan State College. Agricultural Dean E. L. Anthony has announced that the theme for the 27th Annual Farmers' Week will be "Farming for Freedom."

Speakers who will tell farmers how they can help in the fight against the destruction of the American idea of self-government, will include M. Clifford Townsend, director of agricultural relations, U. S. Department of Agriculture, and Col. Harold Furlong, director of the State Council of Defense. Edgar A. Guest, Michigan poet, will be an inspirational speaker on one of the main programs.

Dean Anthony says the programs this year will stress poultry, dairy and meat products and more efficient family nutrition.

New Constitution?

An important question of state government, which must be answered by the voters next November, has been over-shadowed by the war crisis and other issues of more or less political complexion.

That is the proposal to revise Michigan's constitution.

A similar proposal was submitted in 1926 and turned down by the voters 285,000 to 119,000. The need for revision has been argued sporadically by various interests in certain sections of the state, but the question has not come to the voters since its turn down 10 years ago.

Justice George E. Bushnell of the state supreme court is chairman of a study commission of 32 members appointed by Gov. Van Wagoner. Twelve sub-committees will be assigned to study specific sections of the present 68-year-old constitution.

If the revision proposal is approved by the voters in November, a constitutional convention commission must be elected at the next spring election to do the revision job. The Governor's study group may recommend complete or partial revision, or some specific changes, or leave it to the voters to decide whether any change at all is needed.

The present constitution was adopted by the voters in November 1908.

Changed But Twice

It is interesting to note that the people of Michigan have changed their constitution but twice in 107 years. The original 1835 constitution lasted 15 years, until 1850.

The state then operated 50 years, until 1900, under the basic law adopted ten years before the Civil War. The constitution adopted in 1900 is still operative after 38 years of service. It took the 96 delegates to the last constitutional convention from October 1907 until March 1908 to frame the new constitution. It was approved by the voters in November 1908 by a vote of 244,705 to 130,783.

Constitutional conventions were called by the legislature in 1867 and again in 1873, but revisions recommended in both cases were rejected by the voters. The 1867 attempted change lost, 71,733 to 110,582. The second attempt in 1873 was rejected, 39,285 to 124,034.

Wariness in past years, on the part of Michigan citizens is indicated in the unsuccessful attempts to tamper with the state constitution. Whether that attitude still prevails remains to be demonstrated. Advocates for the new constitution have two hurdles to leap—the referendum relative to calling a constitutional convention in November, and the final approval of revisions, if made, by that convention.

War Jitters

Some folks, afflicted with war jitters, are still suffering from the shock of Japanese treachery at Pearl Harbor. They expect everything devilish from the little yellow men, from hideous poisoning to the destruction of whole families at the home hearth.

Some weeks ago certain sections of the country were warned against powdered glass in Japanese canned goods, mostly fish foods.

In Detroit recently, a woman arrived excitedly at police headquarters with a Japanese "mystery rug," wov-enwischer. The topic, "Where Nations Work Together," was presented in the form of a playlet, with Mrs. Paul representing "Humanity," Mrs. Sam Bohnet "The State" and Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer "The Church."

Resolutions of the fall conference of the Ann Arbor Federation of the Women's Guild, held at Salem church, Albion, were read by Mrs. Leroy Sattorwaite.

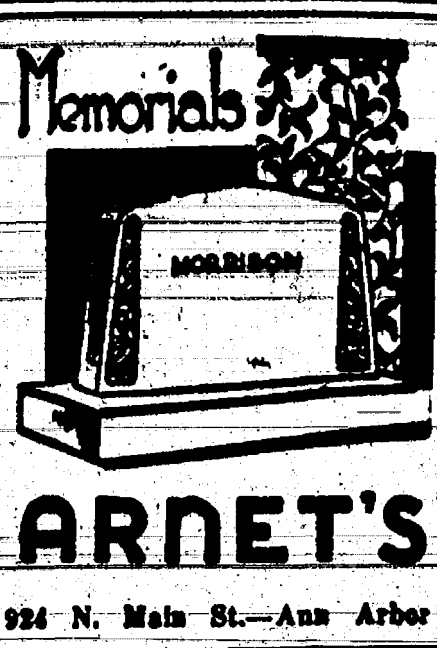

The Women's Guild will sponsor a Red Cross unit for St. Paul's church, with Mrs. P. G. Schable as chairman, and a meeting will be held Friday, January 23, from 1 to 4 o'clock in the old library room at the Chelsea State Bank.

Mrs. Breitenwischer and Mrs. Ernest Fitzmier were appointed as kitchen committee and Mrs. Paul and Mrs. Mary Eschebach in charge of the dining room for the Get-Together supper on Wednesday.

The following heads of Departments of Work were named by the president: General Education—Mrs. Julius Eisele. Missionary Education—Mrs. S. J. Bohnet. Devotional Life—Mrs. H. Paul. Christian Stewardship—Mrs. W. J. Beutler. Social Welfare—Mrs. Otto Lucht. Christian Citizenship—Mrs. Harold Widmayer.

Missions—Mrs. Mary Faust. Cards and Flowers—Mrs. John Metzger. Visiting Committee—Women's Guild. Organist—Mrs. Oscar Lindauer.

A LETTER TO.

Chelsea

from

Bridgetown, Barbados

(Written on the verandah of the Cromer House, Shot-Hall, Bridgetown).

We knew we should find a Paradise before we left the Caribbean for South America. Barbados is everything ice-bound Michiganders have dreamed. If any of you have ever repressed a desire to beachcomb for a while, here is the place to gratify it.

Beaches of silver surround a vehemently green island. The sea bathing is doubtless the best in the world; water is cool and clear to a depth of twenty-five feet and there is little danger from sharks or barracuda. The first few swims leave one completely relaxed, almost weak. During the first week here I did absolutely no work because of the bathing. My organic laziness had nothing to do with it.

Yesterday we swam at Freshwater Bay, where the beach is dotted with springs. The sensation of swimming one minute in salt water and the next in icy fresh water is extremely invigorating. The island temperature hovers around the 80 degree mark, but a constant breeze prevents any discomfort.

Our house is located on the ocean about one mile from downtown and two minutes walk from the Aquatic Club where Bridgetown does most of its swimming. We have joined the Aquatic Club and have been given a temporary membership in the Royal Barbados Yacht Club.

American dollars are worth $1.17 in Barbadian money and there are innumerable temptations to spend these dollars—Irish and English tweeds and flannels and ginghams, beautiful linen luncheon sets and table cloths, Geyman, French, and Portuguese wines. A man may have a suit tailored of the best Irish tweed for fifteen dollars. (Kate is going to try to smuggle a new sport coat of Irish tweed through the customs for me.)

Even if one is not extravagant it's worth spending an English penny and taking the bus downtown to see the sights. Great schooners from St. Thomas and Antigua line the wharf, donkeys hee-haw amusingly at the tourists, English cars—Vauxhalls, Morrisies, Austins—are always underfoot, the stores have names like Da Costa, Ltd., and Fogarty's Ltd. All sorts of exotic fruits are sold from heavy trays carried gracefully on women's heads. You may even quench your thirst in the street with a penny's worth of near beer from a great container perched atop a woolly canium.

We have seen many new things in Barbados. The awarding of decorations to the military by His Excellency, the Governor. A cricket match at Kensington Oval. The only night club in the West Indies, operated, enterprisingly enough, by a young American and his wife. The island's annual Exhibition, corresponding to our county fairs. Sunday service in the Church of England. I shall describe these latter two in detail next week.

Life is both leisurely and inexpensive here. Houses on the ocean may be rented for ten and fifteen dollars per month. Servants and chauffeurs average eight. My shirts are beautifully done by an ebony laundress for six cents each. At present, we have two large rooms, delicious meals plus tea every afternoon and time squashes in the morning, and two grinning servants, Oscar and Ellen. They cost us exactly $2.99 per day.

Food and flowers: At last I am able to give you ladies a recipe that you can make because you have the materials at hand. So many of these strange foods are native only to the islands. So, Mrs. Dudley Holmes, try this on your family. Pumpkin Soup: peel and wash one-half pound of pumpkin and cut into pieces. Place in saucepan with one pint of water. Boil. When pumpkin is soft, remove and mash, place back in the same saucepan, in the same water. Chop onion, while pepper, salt, and add to saucepan with a small tomato cut up. Add this mixture until it thickens. Peel a small lump of butter and remove to serve. This recipe will serve three people.

We have had many strange things to eat here in Barbados—sour sop ice cream, mandarins, a fruit similar to our tangerine, a soft drink made from a small red fruit called sorrel, a corn meal and akra dish called "cou-cou," and of course, the famous fried Barbadian flying fish. We've also had fresh coconut ice cream and a pudding which are delightful.

The flowers this time of year are beautiful. Any of you Garden Club members or flower-lovers would be thrilled to death at the sight outside our dining room window, for there in full bloom is a rose garden with every variety from white to American Beauty. There are about forty bushes, all bearing blooms, and at the edge of the plot are red hibiscus and croton plants forming a hedge. In the front of Cromer House are the ever-present poinsettia plants, called the "Christmas flower" by the natives, even though the plants bloom nearly all year round. And then over the archway into the drive and along the fence in front of the house is the gorgeous rambling bougainvillea in shades from a deep purple to magenta to a light salmon color. The whole color scheme is breathtaking, and every day I take a deep sniff of the roses on our breakfast table.

At the Exhibition which we attended there was a nice amateur orchid exhibit. Especially lovely were three large clusters of a small white variety and oddly enough, they were stuck haphazardly in a tin can.

Thursday's competitions include rifle shooting and the radio amateurs. In the afternoon the students' Little International fitting championships will be judged in the livestock pavilion. Lightweight draft teams will pull against the dynamometer in the evening program. Friday's contests include crowning of the 1941 Michigan onion king as part of the muck farmers' program. HOWELL—Mrs. C. L. Adams has returned from a trip to New York City where she spent a month with her place—County Press. Mrs. Adams was formerly Flora Kempf of this place.

BRIGHTON—Dr. H. L. Lewis, of this city, and Dr. R. H. Earle, of Island Lake, both of whom enjoy a good game of cribbage, were indulging in this popular pastime on Thursday evening, when Dr. Lewis had the good fortune to secure a perfect hand of 29 count. This is a rare occurrence, Dr. Earle stating that he had had the same thing happen some 35 years ago. Angus.

Ping-Pong Tournament

The officers of the Chelsea Community Association announce that 86 residents of Chelsea have entered the first annual Chelsea Ping-Pong Tournament. They have designated C. Stanley Evans and T. William Tompkins as co-chairmen of this event and the co-chairmen have divided the players into a Senior and a Junior Division. Each participant will play five games against his opponent and the player who wins three games out of the five will be adjudged the winner. The losing player will then drop out of the tournament and the winner will continue to play other opponents until he is eliminated from the tournament. All players must complete their first round matches by Sunday evening, January 25. There will be prizes awarded to the winners of each division. The pairings for the tournament are as follows:

Senior Division
T. William Tompkins vs. Norman C. Phelps; Keith Mann vs. William Rademacher; Dudley Foster vs. Len Novessa; George E. Spurling, Jr. vs. Malcolm Novessa; William Beaman vs. C. Stanley Evans; Albert C. All these matches will be played at the Community Hall during the evening hours and the public is invited to attend.

Chelsea B. B. League

At 7:00 last Wednesday, Central Fibre, paced by Reyn Houle's sharp eye and his 15 points, defeated Federal Screw 37-28. Will Beaman and Marshall topped Federal's attack with 11 points each, while Schiller backed Houle up with 8 points for Central Fibre.

In the second game of the evening Cassidy Tech displayed a spirited attack to obtain a 12-8 first half lead over the All-Stars. During the second half the All-Stars' superior floorwork won them the game 21-14. Andy Policht's 3 field goals paced a subdued All-Star attack while Murphy, a newcomer to the league, had 5 for Cassidy.

In the final game of the evening Kimunity stepped out to a early lead and were never behind as they trounced Chelsea Spring 32-16 for their third victory in four games. The scoring was very well distributed; with Bob Edgar, Al Johnson and Leo Tuttle each tallying 6 points as Howard Haselschwerdt led Spring with 11 points.

This proved to be a rather queer game as the half-time score was 30-16 and the only points scored by either team in the last half was George Spurling's field goal.

In the scoring race Marshall's 11 points kept him out in front in the scoring, with Reyn Houle's 16 points hitting him into second place.

The 10 leaders are as follows:
Marshall, Fed. Screw, 47 points.
R. Houle, Central Fibre, 38.
D. Houle, Central Fibre, 34.
G. Spurling, Kimunity, 34.
G. Novessa, All-Stars, 29.
Rademacher, Central Fibre, 28.
G. Miller, Kimunity, 23.
Beaman, Fed. Screw, 23.
Haselschwerdt, Chelsea Spring, 21.
R. Foster, Chelsea Spring, 20.

Standings
W L Pct.
Central Fibre 4 1 .800
All-Stars 4 1 .800
Kimunity 3 2 .600
Fed. Screw 3 2 .600
Cassidy Tech 1 4 .200
Chelsea Spring 1 4 .200

Schedule
January 28-7:00, Kimunity vs. Fed. Screw; 8:00, Central Fibre vs. All-Stars; 9:00, Cassidy Tech vs. Chelsea Spring.

It has been deemed necessary that after Jan. 22 all fellows who have left school within the past three months or are presently ineligible for high school athletics shall no longer be allowed to compete in the Amateur Basketball Federation.

Secondly all players present on all teams must play 10 minutes of the game. We ask the cooperation of all teams, as we feel these moves will promote fairer and keener competition in the League.

GRANGE HONORS BUTTLERS
The January meeting of Lafayette Grange, held on Tuesday evening at Lima Center hall, was turned into a celebration for Mr. and Mrs. Walter J. Butler, who on Sunday observed their 25th wedding anniversary.

As Lohengrin's wedding march was played by Mrs. W. G. Price, the 24 members and guests took their places at the table which was decorated with red, white and blue candles and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, topped by a bride and groom. A cooperative supper was served.

The evening program, in charge of Mrs. L. S. Grossman, was presented as follows:
Reading—"Mother Tells Her Story"—Mrs. Jack Bradbury.
Reading—"Father Gives His Version"—J. S. Grossman.
Song—"When You and I Were Young, Maggie"—Assembly.
Reading—"The Old Fashioned Friendship"—Mrs. Geo. T. English.
Closing song—"God Bless America."

Mrs. F. E. Storms, in behalf of the Grange, presented Mr. and Mrs. Butler with a purse of silver.

Uncle Sam Needs Men At Fed. Screw Works

Uncle Sam needs five men with factory inspection experience to work in Chelsea.

American citizens, 18 to 55 years old, engaged in non-defense work, and familiar with precision metal work, inspection techniques, and the use of gages and micrometers, are urged to report at once to the Army Ordnance Resident Inspector at the Federal Screw Works in Chelsea.

There are immediate openings for three grades of inspectors, salaries ranging from $1260 to $1620 per year.

The Minor Inspector position, $1260 per year, requires at least three months experience in testing mechanical materials such as metal parts and parts machined from castings, or six months experience in the machining of parts requiring the use of gages and micrometers. Courses in materials inspection and testing approved by the U. S. Office of Education may be substituted.

The Under Inspector position, $1440 per year, requires similar qualifications to that of the Minor Inspector, except that six months experience in testing or one year experience in machining work is asked.

Applicants for Junior Inspector, $1620 per year, must show at least one year experience in inspection or the completion of two years in a recognized college of engineering or metallurgy.

It is expected that these positions will help provide jobs for men who are becoming unemployed as a result of industry's changeover from civilian to war production.

Waterloo

Waterloo's Grand Old Man Observes His 90th Birthday

Nearly 100 guests came to wish Orson Beaman, Sr. many happy returns of the day last Sunday afternoon and evening when Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beaman held open house for their father.

Ninety years ago Saturday, Jan. 17 a little son was born to George Washington and Sarah Wessels Beaman, in a log cabin located east of the barns on the old homestead. Two years later, on Christmas Day, the family moved to the brick house on the corner, where his grandson, Orson II, now resides.

Mr. Beaman's stories of happenings years ago are very instructive and interesting. His tales of the spelling bees, singing schools, and of walking to many of these through the deep snow of the Gorton and Rowe boys cooking eggs down by the creek; and his description of the old fashioned oyster suppers, almost rivals those of "Della M. Lutes" in "Country Kitchen."

Since the death of Mrs. Beaman in 1930 he has lived with his son Earl and wife. He and one sister, Mrs. Minnie Ellsworth, are all that's left of seven children. Another son, Alva, lives in Stockbridge. He also has 7 grandchildren and 8 great-grandchildren.

Guests were present from Flint, Detroit, Jackson, Coleman, Stockbridge, Chelsea, and many from Waterloo and vicinity.

A dainty lunch was served from a lace covered table, centered with a lovely mixed bouquet.

The Ladies' Aid served dinner to about 45 guests last Thursday at the Arthur Walz home.

Bible study this week Thursday evening at the Walter Mearns home. Next week, Jan. 29, at the Wm. Woolley home.

Miss Isabelle Pritchcock of Detroit spent the week-end with her parents, Herbert Stafford and family of Hazel Park spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Stafford.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sager of Sugar Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Beaman were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Garfield of Jackson.

Miss Ruth Malcho and mother of Jackson were Sunday evening callers of Mr. and Mrs. Ezra Moeckel.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hess and daughter spent a day last week in Jackson.

Miss Odema Moeckel spent Saturday night and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wiseman in Lima.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lehmann of North Francisco were Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Moeckel.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Marsh and family of Jackson spent Sunday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Marsh.

KIWANIS NEWS

The Kiwanians devoted their regular meeting this week to the honoring of the Past Presidents of the Kiwanis club. Warren R. Daniels, the first president, introduced the Kiwanians who have been president of the local club during the past eighteen years and mentioned the many worthwhile projects which were completed during their regimes. He concluded his interesting talk by remarking that he thought the club would make even more progress this year under their new leader, Russell A. McLaughlin.

The program chairman then introduced Redmund Burr of Ann Arbor as the principal speaker of the evening. Mr. Burr has held many important positions in the various Kiwanis organizations and appropriately spoke upon the subject "Kiwanians As Builders." He glowingly commended his address by relating how Joseph France, an immigrant boy, originated the Kiwanis International as a means to aid underprivileged individuals. The keystone of the organization is unselfishness and the manifest object of the group is to complete functions and projects which accrue to the community rather than to promote their own individual ends. The speaker extolled the leaders of the Kiwanis groups throughout the nation and stated how they were playing their part in creating a unified and strong America which will be able to cope with the present world crisis. Mr. Burr concluded his fine address by asserting that spiritual growth may only be achieved by each individual when he forgets his selfishness and acts for the common good of his nation and his community.

The Kiwanians voted to purchase a United States Defense Bond. President Russell A. McLaughlin urged the Kiwanians to actively promote the sale of these bonds as one of their projects for the year and as a means of aiding their country in this time of stress.

All motorists who plan to drive their cars after February 1 will be required to have a federal use tax sticker pasted on their windshield, either inside or outside. These stickers must be on automobiles, trucks, motorcycles or motorbikes after that date.

Stickers may now be purchased at the local post office. The cost is $2.09, which will carry the motorist until July 1 when new stickers, good for a year, will be sold for $5.00 each. When the sticker is purchased an addressed blank card will be received by the motorist, to be filled out and mailed to the collector of internal revenue, Detroit.

Repeating the record chalked up during World War I, Chelsea is again going over the top in the country's war effort. Our record topped the county quotas in the current Red Cross drive, with a quota of $400.00, adding to a total of about $1400.00. And now, through the efforts of local Red Cross officials, practically every church, society or circle, and clubs of all descriptions have discarded their usual manner of conducting meetings and are sewing for the Red Cross. Numerous individuals are knitting at home, and scores of women gather at the public school every Monday night to make surgical dressings. You may bet your last dollar that Chelsea will do her bit—and a little extra!

Many people who have enthusiastically offered their services in the civilian defense work are directing criticism at the committees in charge of this effort with charges that there should be more action. It must be taken into consideration that an enterprise of this magnitude must be carefully planned and worked out on a national scale to be effective. Registration for protective services and for other civilian defense activities have taken place and training for the various phases of this service will be carried out just as soon as proper authorities give the order and furnish the instructors.

There are a number of ways in which everyone can help in the war effort. Housewives should take shopping bags, baskets, or even used paper sacks with them on their shopping expeditions to conserve the supplies of grocers which will be difficult to replace. Everyone should save their empty tooth paste and shaving cream tubes, etc. Waste paper should be saved—and in this connection we would like to see the village council provide a method for collection of paper, as is being done in some other towns. One method of collection which is being successfully used in a nearby town provides for a systematic pickup in the business district one day each week, with all cartons of waste paper being placed in the alley for the collectors. On another day all housewives are asked to place their cartons of waste paper at the curb for collection by the village truck. The paper is all taken to a designated place for baling and proceeds from the sale of the paper goes to the Red Cross or some other worthy agency.

One very un-American activity which is being indulged in by a relatively small group of individuals is the hoarding of staple groceries and supplies. It has been reported that some people have made purchases of sugar amounting to several hundred pounds, large quantities of flour, canned goods, etc. This is just the thing that will force the government to initiate the rationing system—and who will be to blame? We hope that the greedy practice of hoarding will be stopped voluntarily before it is necessary to have rationing forced upon us. We have the assurance of our government that there will be plenty of food for all if only a little common sense is used—but that is something which some people lack. There are many families who cannot possibly buy more than for their current needs, so why should the children in these families be deprived of the necessities of life because of the greediness of others?

In the final analysis everyone with even an average mentality knows what is American and what is un-American. Discard your selfishness and join wholeheartedly in this nation's war effort. You'll feel better satisfied with yourself if you do!

LEACH-ROBERTS WEDDING.

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the palm-decorated altar of the Methodist church of Plainfield on Sunday afternoon, January 18, at 1:00 o'clock, when Miss Fay Leach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gladstone, became the bride of Russell Roberts, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Roberts of Gregory. Rev. Edward Swadlow officiated at the single ring ceremony, before a large group of relatives and friends, which filled the church, following the usual Sunday morning services.

Miss Joyce Kinsey sang "I Love You Truly", accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Robert Sweet, who then played the processional from Lohengrin's Bridal Song.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore for her wedding a princess gown of white slipper satin, with a lace yolk in sweetheart neckline, and a skirt which extended to a train. Her fingertip length veil of net, edged with fine lace, fell from a crown studded with pearls, and she carried an arm bouquet of pink roses and white sweet peas.

Miss Donna Leach was her sister's maid-of-honor, and was attired in a pink faille print frock. A tiara of pink flowers held her shoulder-length veil of pink net. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas.

A sister of the bridegroom, Miss Kathryn Roberts, attended the couple as bridesmaid in a fitted bouffant gown of blue, with embroidered flowers of blue and touches of silver. Her blue net shoulder-length veil fell from a tiara of blue flowers, and she carried an arm bouquet of pink carnations and sweet peas.

Ralph Hummrich of Plymouth served as best man, with Darwin Shirley as second best man. Dale Holmes, uncle of the bride, and Arlo Wasson, cousin of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

Mrs. Sweet played as recessional Mendelssohn's Wedding March.

Following the ceremony and greeting the guests from Chelsea, Ann Arbor, Lansing, Pinckney, Williamston, Unadilla, Howell, Stockbridge, Plainfield, Detroit, and Gregory, a reception was held in the dining room of the church for 160 close friends and relatives.

The bride wore for a short wedding trip a green wool dress with brown accessories. They will reside with his parents, on their farm north of Gregory.

Hospital Briefs

(Written by a local physician)

The Michigan Hospital Service has proffered the use of a twenty-minute sound film entitled "White Battalions" which will be run at the Sylvan Theatre beginning the week of Jan. 25 through the courtesy of Mr. Wolvert.

Invitations will soon be mailed to a number of representative citizens for a dinner to be held in Kolb's hall on Feb. 3. The guest speaker for this occasion will be Dr. W. H. Hammill of Tecumseh, who has volunteered to give us his time to describe the problems met in that city in building their hospital, of which he had a leading part and of which he is very proud. He will be pleased to answer any questions that may be asked at that time.

Will a local Community Hospital pay for itself, or will it be a liability rather than an asset? Is the Ann Arbor competition too strong? We don't know of any good hospital ever having had to close its doors for lack of business.

It is estimated that within a radius of five miles of Chelsea in the summertime the population numbers about 6,000. In winter there are always some hospital cases.

CHAPTER I

Arthur Mulford's secretary faced him unsuspectingly across the massive mahogany desk.

"You wanted to see me, Mr. Mulford?"

The man surveyed the slender figure before him.

"It's like this, Joan," he said decisively. "I'll have to let you go."

Joan Leland stared at him in astonishment. "You mean I'm fired?"

Mulford shrugged. "That's it."

"But why? What have I done?"

He picked up a sheet of papers and reached for the telephone.

"I don't care to discuss it. You'll receive your next two weeks' salary, of course, but you need not finish out the month."

"You mean this is my last day?"

"Yes! That's all, Joan!"

The late October sunshine flowed in pale golden streams across the busy streets of San Francisco as Joan left the office for the apartment she shared with her sister.

Fired! There was something almost sinister about this abrupt dismissal. After two years on the job!

"Thank heaven, Sybil has a job!" Joan thought.

The apartment boasted a fireplace and long floor-length windows. It was part of one of the old mansions for which San Francisco is famous.

A regal building that had housed one of the great families of the city, now cast off by their grandchildren and subdivided into studio apartments.

True, there was seldom enough heat and the cooking facilities were inadequate, but the old house reflected the charm and graciousness of the past.

Joan glanced lovingly about the room. The girls had used their furniture left to them by their parents.

It was heavy, and rather old-fashioned, but it suited the high-ceilinged room.

A voice from the bedroom hailed her. "Joan? That you?"

"Why, Sybil! What are you doing home so early? I thought the beauty shop was staying open until seven this month."

Sybil appeared in the doorway clad in dressing gown and slippers, cigarette in hand. Her blonde hair curled meticulously; her blue eyes were a trifle hard.

The two girls seemed to have little in common in appearance or temperament. Joan, brunette, twenty, restless, impulsive; Sybil, seven years older, golden-haired, inclined to caution, especially where men were concerned.

Sybil had been married and divorced when she was twenty-one. Since then she had been determined to save Joan from making the same mistake.

"Never trust any man," was Sybil's motto, but Joan did not take it too seriously, suspecting that her sister's cynicism was covering a broken heart.

"What a day!" Sybil said, dramatically throwing herself upon the couch. "I have some news for you, Sis."

"I have something to tell you, too," Joan said grimly. "I've lost my job! Mr. Mulford gave me two weeks' salary and told me not to come back!"

Sybil sat up wide-eyed. "Oh, Joan! No!"

"He wouldn't even give me a reason," Joan continued heatedly. "I can't understand it. I'm sure there isn't anything wrong with my work."

There's something very strange about this, Sybil. Mr. Mulford seemed positively anxious to get rid of me."

"But Joan," Sybil interrupted, "I just my job today too!"

The girls stared at each other in alarm.

"The beauty shop is closing," Sybil said, breaking the silence. "This is my last week."

"Well, of course we'll find something else," Joan said, but her voice carried no conviction. "After all, we're both experienced. I'm sure Mr. Mulford will give me a reference."

"Jobs aren't easy to get..."

"Don't be a pessimist, darling!" Joan advised.

She tied a colored apron around her waist and went into the kitchen.

"There's nothing to worry about tonight. We've got enough money in our account to last almost a month."

Sybil's blue eyes were troubled.

Joan, that's just it. I checked that money out yesterday to pay for a new coat. I thought we didn't need it and I was going to pay it back a little each month. There's not a cent left in that account."

"Night had fallen with a suddenness which filled the apartment with a strange new silence."

"How much money have you in your purse?" Joan inquired, frowning.

"Two or three dollars. And you?"

"I have this check from Mr. Mulford. That will pay the rent for another month."

Sybil shivered and drew her quilted satin robe closer. "What are we going to do then?"

"You couldn't return the coat?"

"No. It's been altered."

"I'll start looking tomorrow," Joan said resolutely. "Mr. Mulford's usually at the store until late. I'm going to telephone him and tell him

"After all, there's no harm in applying for the job. If something is wrong with it, I can tell when I go down there."

I'll stop by the morning to get a reference. I forgot all about it this afternoon. I was so upset."

Sybil watched in silence as Joan dialed the number.

"This is Joan Leland. May I speak to Mr. Mulford?"

There was a pause before a strange feminine voice replied, "I'm sorry. That will be impossible. Mr. Mulford left town an hour ago."

Joan gasped. "Left town? Tonight?"

"That's right."

"Who is this speaking, please?" Joan inquired hotly.

"I am his secretary," the voice informed her and the receiver clicked.

"He's left town! And he's already hired a new secretary!"

"I told you there was something funny about this. And how can you get a reference if he's not here? You've never worked for anyone else."

"That's what worries me!"

"Let's eat," Sybil suggested. "I can't think when I'm hungry."

"Cheerful night," Sybil commented, as they ate.

"I know," Joan cried suddenly. "I'll look for a job in the want ads. Where's the paper?"

Sybil indicated the small coffee table.

Joan seized the paper and turned to the classified sections. "I need a job and I need it right now! Listen to this. Joan's voice rang with excitement as she read, 'Competent secretary wanted. Willing to work nights. Apply after 9 p. m.'"

"Wait," Sybil said seriously. "Why do they want you to work nights? And why apply after 9 p. m.?"

"What does it matter? A job's a job."

Sybil stared at her in disapproval. "You're not serious?"

Joan jumped up and ran into the bedroom. "I certainly am! I'm going to apply for that job right now!"

Sybil followed her. "You'll do nothing of the kind, Joan Leland! We're not that hard up. Even if we were, I don't want you to work nights."

Joan laughed recklessly as she ran a comb through the raven-black hair and touched a powder puff to the white skin. "You take every thing too seriously, Sybil. After all, there's no harm in applying for the job. If something is wrong with it, I can tell when I go down there."

Sybil was unconvinced. "I don't like the sound of it," she insisted stubbornly. "What's the address?"

"North Beach," Sybil said carelessly.

"North Beach? That's certainly not a very good place for a girl to be working nights!"

"How do I look?" Joan asked. Exasperated, Sybil stared at her. Joan looked sophisticated, too sophisticated, Sybil thought, because at heart Joan was just a kid. She didn't know anything about life, or about men.

"Be careful, Joan! And come right home afterwards, will you?"

"Of course! Stop treating me like a child! I'll call you after the interview if that will make you feel any better."

"I still don't understand why Mulford fired you without notice or reason," Sybil pondered. "And why did he leave town, if that girl is telling the truth? By the way, what is she doing at the office at night?"

"I don't know. Of course I worked at night once in a while. It's strange that he should start a new girl at night. But an importing shop is a little different from a regular office."

"I don't understand why he would hire another secretary so quickly. Maybe she was lying."

"But why should she? And why should Mr. Mulford try to avoid me?"

"I wouldn't know," Sybil admitted. "But I want you to be careful tonight."

Joan, however, was not even thinking of her sister's warning as she stepped from the street car into the damp, foggy streets of North Beach. With mounting curiosity, she walked to the address given in the paper.

"Why it's a night club!" she said aloud as she paused under the long canopy that led to the street.

A sign on the door informed the passerby that the Club Elite would be open for business the following Saturday night.

Joan pushed open the heavy door and went in. She paused a moment to accustom her eyes to the dim light. To the right she could see a large room filled with gilded tables and chairs and a band stand which seemed to crowd a small dance floor.

A man appeared suddenly out of the shadows and surveyed her from head to foot before he said, "Well, what do you want?"

Joan said uneasily, "I came about an ad that was in the paper for a secretary."

He seemed relieved. "Okay. Down the hall. Second door to the left. The boss will talk to you."

Joan, following instructions, opened the door into a large modernistic office. A powerful, bald, blond man stood before a filing cabinet. He turned quickly as she entered.

"I came about the job advertised in the paper," she faltered.

He flashed her a quick smile from steel-blue eyes. "Won't you sit down?" His voice was tinged with an accent. Joan saw a hard face, almost grim, yet amusement hovered in his eyes. His lips seemed not to move as he spoke. The hand that indicated a chair was beautifully shaped, the fingers tapering and artistic. There was something strangely magnetic about this man.

"I am Karl Miller. And you?"

"Joan Leland is my name. Until today I have been employed by an importing firm owned by Arthur Mulford."

"Ah?" He opened a large silver box and took out a cigarette. "I was in the importing business myself, but the war stopped that. I am now opening this night club. I need a secretary to take care of the office work."

"I'm sure you'll find me satisfactory, Mr. Miller."

"You have references, of course?"

She hesitated. "No, Mr. Mulford was called out of town and I have been unable to reach him."

"If you are able to do the work, that will be sufficient. I want you to be here at night, but you won't have to come until early afternoon. Two hours off for dinner. The salary is fifty dollars a week."

Her eyes widened. "Fifty dollars a week?"

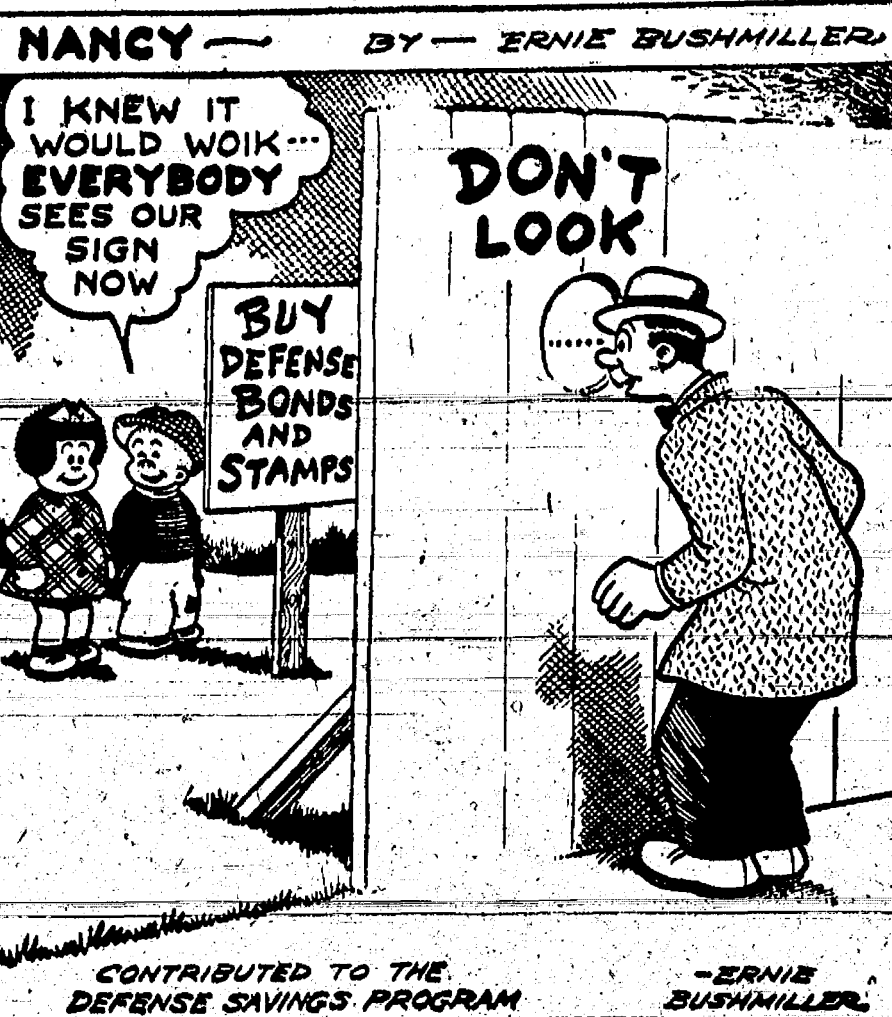

His expression did not change as he said, "Considering the unusual hours, I feel that a smaller salary would not be fair recompense."

"I understand. When do you want me to start?"

"Two o'clock tomorrow."

Joan rose to go.

HUEHL-MOHRHARDT WEDDING

The ceremony uniting Miss Irene Edith Huehl, daughter of Mrs. John Huehl of Freedom township, and Carl Lewis Mohrhardt of Dearborn took place Saturday, January 10, at the home of the bride's mother.

Before an improvised altar, formed of tall baskets of gladioli, daffodils, and carnations, with candelabra bearing tall white tapers, the marriage service was read at 4 o'clock by Rev. A. A. Weinert, pastor of Sharon Evangelical church.

The wedding music "O Promise Me" and "Lohengrin's Bridal Chorus" was played by Mrs. Weinert.

The bride wore a white wool dress with braid trimmings and carried a bouquet of tea roses and narcissus, tied with a large white bow. Her only attendant, Mrs. Lillian Agnew, Ann Arbor, sister of the groom, wore a dusty pink frock and a corsage of pink roses and carnations. Earl Huehl, brother of the bride, was best man.

Mrs. Huehl, the bride's mother, wore a dress of poudre blue, with a corsage of pink roses and white sweet peas.

Dinner was served after the ceremony.

Mrs. Mohrhardt is a teacher at the Nankin Mills school, while Mr. Mohrhardt is employed in the office at the Ford Motor Co. They will make their home at 22305 Sheridan, Dearborn.

Defacement of Desks

Many schools are faced with the problem of the defacement of school property—especially desks. The most obvious results from this situation are the graining on the school treasury for the refitting and replacing of the desks and added work for the janitor. Moreover, students cannot be expected to do their nearest work on unclean and scared desks. Besides punctured and illegible papers, the soiled desks do not create an atmosphere conducive to the students' best efforts. Since such destruction shows that the pupils lack respect for property, this is an important problem.

The reasons for such destruction follows: "When in class the pupils are supposed to be listening to the teacher or to the one reciting. While their efforts are exerted to catch the spoken word, some pupils having pencils in their hands have an urge to use them. If there is a groove on the desk top the pencil may be made to follow and dig the groove deeper. If there is an ink blot on the desk they may trace it. If there is a splinter they may pry it gently away from the rest of the chair. The carving and scratching of initials satisfies the egotistical self. Dull classes and uninterested students also contribute to this destruction."

It is clearly shown that the defacement is subconscious rather than malicious. If each pupil were required to refinish on his own time the surface of the desk he has marred the problem could be checked. The ultimate goal, however, is to inculcate into all pupils the civic pride for the respect of school property. May we depend on you to do your part?

Office News

The Bell Telephone Company will have a display in the gymnasium during the afternoon and night of January 27. They will present an assembly program for the students of our school in the afternoon. The public is invited to attend the program in the evening.

The boys' basketball team is scheduled to play at Dundee on Friday, January 23 and they will play at Dexter on Tuesday, January 27. The girls' team is scheduled to play Manchester in the local gymnasium on Thursday, January 22.

The high school band is planning to play at the program which is being arranged to commemorate the presentation of the Naval Flag to the Federal Screw Works on Saturday, January 31.

The District meeting of the Hi-Y was held at our school on Monday, January 19.

Student Council

At the Student Council meeting of January 15 a report was made of the noon-hour program. It was decided that students living in town should return to school at 12:25, with the exception of those participating in band or chorus who will return at 12:15.

A student monitor will be at each door. The one at the east door will always be a boy. The student monitors will be selected by the same committee who made a study of the problem. The committee was Wilma Schweinfurth, Tom McClear, Arlene Koengeter. They will choose only dependable and trustworthy students.

These new regulations were explained at the assembly on Tuesday. It will be voted on today (Thursday) and on Monday it will go into effect if passed.

There was a discussion concerning the girl-boy meeting like we had last year but no definite plans were decided upon.

Our Seniors

Tiny Barbara Lou Fraser was born Jan. 31, 1924. She is 5 ft. 1 in. tall in her stocking feet and weighs only 98 lbs. without even dieting. Girls say she is because her favorite isn't pie (like most of us) but fruit salad and olives. Barbara was named Lucinda after her grandmother, but finally has gotten it cut down to more her size—Lou. The favorite color is green (which she looks very well in) and she likes to go horseback riding best of all. As for Barbara's favorite song—your jitterbugs prepare for a shock! It's Beethoven's Moonlight Sonata. When Barbara finishes high school she wants to go to Albion College. Let's hope she gets there.

Next, we have George Freysinger who is as big as Barbara is small. George is 18 years old and was born on April 20, 1923. What George goes for in the way of food is most everything, but chicken (southern-style) is his specialty. He likes to go to the movies and his favorite was "Honky Tonk" with Lana Turner. George likes his music hot and when he isn't listening to that over the radio prefers "The Hermit's Cave." Aside from sleeping, George's favorite occupation is hunting (He didn't say for what). Shop his favorite subject and so I wouldn't be surprised if he kept on with it after he graduates this spring.

Girls Defeat U. High

Friday, Jan. 16, sixteen of Chelsea's basketball squad traveled to U. High for their fourth game of the season.

The starting lineup was: Meservia, captain; Lyons and Lehman, forwards; Harper, Spaulding and Richards, guards. In the first half Meservia scored a field goal and a free shot for Chelsea and MacKaye and Furstenberg made three points for U. High, making the score 9-3 at the half. When the third quarter began, Lucht, Almond and Schweinfurth were playing forward, and Collins and McClear came in to replace Feldkamp and Spaulding at guard.

During the third and fourth quarters U. High was field scoreless while Chelsea made two more free shots, making the final score: Chelsea 15, U. High 3.

This gives Chelsea a .680 average, having lost two and won two games so far this season.

At 4:45 Thursday, Jan. 22, Chelsea plays Manchester here.

Over There

Needless to say, the Chelsea girls played University High girls last Friday—and won!

U. High is in Ann Arbor and is a swell school. We found that out! When we came into the building some of us remembered the elevator. So we got in and signaled for the third floor. We reached the floor but before we could open the door we were on our way to the first again. And so it continued. Maybe it's a good thing we don't have these modern contraptions in C. H. S.!

Our game was played on the third floor. It really gave you the feeling of being up in the air. The U. High girls wore long white shirts over their shorts, instead of regulation suits. And I've just got to add—that some were barefooted while playing—no joke!

After the game we were invited to the clinic room and there we were served gingerale and cookies. Nothing ever "hit the spot" as much as this did. Of course, this wouldn't have been fun if the girls hadn't been so hospitable. They were really swell to us. Whether we won or whether we lost we know we have gained many new friends and a memorable experience.

P. S.—There was an after-game dance at Saline on Friday. Tom Rademacher said, "All Saline girls and Chelsea boys! Well—I didn't mind."

F. F. A.

On Monday evening, Jan. 12 the F. F. A. boys entertained the Freshmen boys at a party. The evening was spent in playing basketball and ping-pong, after which refreshments were served.

At present the boys are working out a plan to buy certified seed potatoes for a summer project. Jack Niehaus has purchased, for his project, a purebred Hereford steer.

Home Economics

The girls in Home Economics are being instructed in first aid. Tuesday morning a lady from the Alexandria School of Beauty will talk to the Home Economics 2 group on the latest hair styles. She will also suggest ways in which the girls can improve their own coiffures.

Band News

Last Friday the Chelsea band was enlarged somewhat by several players of the Napoleon band who came to visit. There were three clarinet players, a base player and their director—playing a baritone.

They were very glad to receive visitors and hope that other bands will send visitors, too.

On January 31 the band will play for the Federal Screw Works at the gym at 12:00 noon.

Several new pieces are being learned for contests the Chelsea band hopes to attend a little later this winter.

The clarinet section now boasts of eleven members and is hoping to set an example for the rest of the organization.

M. E. A. Meeting

JERUSALEM SCHOOL NEWS
The third period of school closed for the Jerusalem school on January 16.
The following were neither absent nor tardy: Donald Barth, Donald Koch, Wilma Koenigster, Doris Moore,
Doris Trinkle, Norman, Robert and Carl Koch, Raymond, Leona, Harold and Wilfred Moore, Loren and Ralph Trinkle and Leona Hatt.

The Risher children have left our school to attend the Chelsea public school. John, Paul and Aileen Lewis of Kentucky are now in our school.

We are trying to do our part to help our country by buying Defense Stamps. The following have bought stamps so far: Arlene and Doris Hatt, Donald Koch, Doris Trinkle,
Edward Schiller, Wilma Koenigster,
Joyce Eisenman, Donald Barth, Leona and Lewis Hatt.

With Christmas coming in this period we have been busy, but we also had a two weeks vacation. The 5th, 6th, 7th grades have been working on the study of Michigan. We have made three large maps—product, surface and industries. We have written stories and answered questions for our scrapbook. We are studying Lima township and Washtenaw county quite thoroughly.

The 5th, 6th and 7th grades are continuing making product maps for the countries they study.

In Art work we have been working on designs and cut-paper posters since Christmas. We have learned how to make snowflakes.

In our Music work, we have learned an upper grade and a lower grade dance, and have nearly all of our songs learned.

At Christmas time the Beginners,
1st, 2nd and 3rd grades made a Christmas scrapbook containing pictures with stories, clippings and stories and poems written by the children. We want to thank Miss Lillie Wackenhut of Chelsea for giving us so many good clippings for our Christmas book and also for so many others for our other work. We appreciate her thoughtfulness in giving us this helpful material.

The 7th grade has made several good language posters stressing the importance of good English.

The Beginners are doing well in their new book "Jim and Judy." They are making a word study booklet now in connection with their reading.

The second grade finished their reading project "At the Zoo".
The following have had the most Arithmetic papers hung up for this period: Donald Koch, Wilma Koenig-ster, Joyce Eisenman, Arlene Hatt and Loren Trinkle.

The president of our Civic Health club is Doris Trinkle; the secretary is Robert Koch.

The visitors during this period were Lelia Trinkle, Mrs. Mildred Robinson and Julius Haab.

News Committee Joyce Eiseman, Norman Koch.

Francisco

The Frisco Ladies' Club met last week with Mrs. Irving Kaimbach.
Following the dinner, bingo was played, and much amusement was occasioned by the "robbers". Before the meeting was adjourned, dresses were distributed to be made for the Red Cross. Several members will go to Grass Lake for knitting instructions as soon as yarn is procured. The 13 members contributed $6.50 to the second Red Cross drive, and the ladies of St. John's church contributed $10.

Several from this community attended the Farm Union dance in Chelsea on Friday evening.

Miss Sarah Benter is home from Grass Lake, where she spent a month helping care for Miss Bradley during her recent illness.

The pupils of the public school went to Jackson on Monday, where they were given TB tests. Those furnishing transportation were: Mrs. Charles Lockwood, Mrs. Walter Gardner, Mrs.

Walter Bohne and the teacher, Mrs.
Grundeman.

Miss Anna Grace Bennett was home
from Detroit the first of the week.
Miss Augusta Benter has gone to Detroit to visit relatives.

Ray Bohne, who was stationed at Camp Wallace in Texas, has been transferred to Camp Davis, in North Carolina.

Richard Haney, who resided here a couple of years ago and left when he joined the Navy, was home on an 8-day furlough to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lyon. Mr. Haney is a radioman 2C on the USS Pokomoke.

He was honor guest Saturday evening at a dinner at the Herman Bohne home. Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wyckoff and Mr. and Mrs.
Richard Alden of Jackson.

Mrs. Herman Bohne and daughter,
Miss Naomi, spent Monday in Jackson and were dinner guests in the evening at the Roy Wyckoff home.
