New Factory Will Be Built On Old US-12

Ground Broken For Main Plant of Dexter Machine Products Co.

Ground was broken last week for a new factory building which will be constructed here as the main plant of the Dexter Machine Products Co. The factory will be located on old US-12 about forty rods west of the Manchester Road intersection, on property purchased from Mrs. G. W. Palmer.

According to E. B. Sorenson, president of the company, the new factory building will be 80x120 feet, with an office building at the front, and an addition for the heat-treat department and heating plant at the rear. The building will be of cement block and face brick construction, with prefabricated plywood trusses.

This company is now engaged 100 per cent in war work, their principal product being gears, and the vast number of orders now on their books makes the expansion necessary. The Dexter plant employs about 70 men and according to Mr. Sorenson the employment in the main plant here should exceed 100 men.

It is planned to have the building completed by November 1, with production starting soon thereafter, and the plant should be in full production by January 1.

E. B. Sorenson, the president, resides on the Boyd farm which he purchased last spring. His son, H. E. Sorenson, is secretary-treasurer of the company and he will move here to manage the local plant.

Peter Loree of Ann Arbor is the architect for the new building, and the contractor is Henry De Honing of Ann Arbor.

Kimunity Still Leads In Twilight Playoffs

By Rolly Spaulding

Last Thursday night's scheduled game between Kimunity and Central Fibre was rained out but the game was played the following night, much to the sorrow of Central Fibre.

Kimunity's powerhouse playing put them off to an early lead that wasn't challenged at any point in the game.

Last Tuesday night perfect weather prevailed and Spaulding Chevrolet and Central Fibre met in a game that would definitely eliminate the losing team from the playoff series. Spaulding's boys got off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning and both teams really played tight ball all the way through. Central picked up one run in the third and Spaulding Chevrolet tallied two more in the fourth. Central Fibre staged a rally in the last of the seventh with two men already out and scored two more runs but a well hit ball dropped in Miller's glove out in Spaulding's left field and the game ended 4-3.

This brings about the final game to be played tonight between Kimunity and Spaulding Chevrolet, with the League championship going to the winner. These two teams have already met once in the playoff series and the outcome was most embarrassing. This is your last chance to see a Twilight Softball League game for this year and I urge as many of you as can possibly make it to drive out and see this game.

Surgical Dressings Unit Exceeds Quota

The Chelsea Red Cross surgical dressings unit completed its quota of 9000 dressings which it had promised to make, and an additional 1000, or a total of 10,027 dressings, in seven weeks ending August 27. The committee in charge of this work wishes to thank every woman for her loyal support and tireless effort in producing this large number, which is double the average produced for the past seven months. Of this 10,000 dressings about 700 were made at Cavanaugh Lake by a group of women working temporarily out of the Chelsea unit.

The September quota for Chelsea is 5000 dressings. It is hoped that more women will feel that this work is of such importance that they will consider Monday night as seven permanent "date." This work throughout the country is done only by volunteers, and the dressings are used by our Army and Navy for our own boys.

USO Committee Collects Total of $909 In Chelsea

The local USO committee has completed its survey of contributions and this week funds to the amount of $909.53 were sent to headquarters for use in establishing and conducting recreational and spiritual centers for our boys in service.

USO operations have now passed the 900 mark. Keeping pace with the recreational needs of America's rapidly expanding forces, the servicemen's organization recently inaugurated its 407th center since December 7, making a total of 908 USO operations to date. Wherever American men in uniform may happen to be in continental United States or adjacent bases, they are within reach of some form of USO service—562 clubhouses, 181 smaller units, 63 station lounges and 31 mobile units.

These units are attended monthly by a total average of 4,500,000 boys. Social activities are planned to meet their recreational needs and toward this end, your contributions are being assimilated.

Volunteers who called at your homes and places of business to receive your contributions appreciated very much your courtesy and cooperation. This project was yours and their patriotic gesture for Defense. The USO, the boys in service and your local committee are grateful for your generous response and the service of the volunteers.

Delegates elected to annual conference at Hastings, Mich., in September, were Maynard Stanfield of First Church and Mrs. Walter Vicary of Second Church.

Sixteen young people attended choir practice on Friday evening at the parsonage. After practice they surprised the minister's wife with a gift and home-made ice cream and cake in honor of her birthday.

Mrs. Mabel Woolley received a card from her son James, saying he arrived safely, but no destination given, since leaving California.

Auxiliaries Air-Raid Wardens

It has come to my attention that no auxiliary or air-raid warden has authority to act, but must report all violations to regular officers, even though they have completed their training and received their diplomas. As your next Sheriff A. C. Gaston said, I will place the following rule into effect, viz: All air-raid wardens, all auxiliary deputies, all auxiliary police and all auxiliary firemen after they have qualified and received their diplomas will immediately be given an opportunity to qualify as Deputy Sheriff's with full police powers. However, this will not alter their status while on G. D. C. duty.—Pol. Adv.

THESE ARE BATTLE STATIONS TOO

War calls must go through!

You probably never thought of central office switchboards as "battle stations." They are vital to the war effort today... and unnecessary Long Distance calls bottleneck the switchboards.

Normally, we'd build enough extra circuits to handle the load. But, today, war production needs the copper, steel, rubber and other materials required for adequate telephone expansion.

Here are a few ways you can help speed the war effort:

1. Make only the most essential Long Distance calls.

2. Keep all your conversations as brief as you can.

3. When possible, give the number of the telephone you are calling on Long Distance.

We can all help to make the most of present telephone facilities. For example: Never ask information for a number that is listed in the directory. It crowds the already busy equipment unnecessarily. Before you pick up the telephone—remember:

ALTES Lager

in the new QUART bottles

So get that big bottle habit! Split each one with a friend or someone in the family. It's just like "doubling up" in motor cars, to save gas and tires.

And you'll find it easier now to keep supplied with Altes bottle beer. Restrictions on the use of metal caps have been met partially by introducing a much larger bottle—the quart—which lets 3 caps do the work of 8!

What's more, Altes costs less in the big bottle, and you can get more of it in your refrigerator!

One thing sure—you'll never have any trouble finding someone to share. Altes with you! This superb brew is made in sealed vats—aged in air-tight casks. Nothing harmful can get in—all the delicious flavor is thoroughly protected.

Remember—no other beer can offer this. So ask for Altes in the war-time quart, today!

Deer Hunting As Usual, Says Conservation Dept., Neighbor Clubs Bring Families In War Effort

Lansing—Persistent rumors that Michigan will forego a deer hunting season this year because of the war have no basis of fact. P. J. Hoffmaster, conservation department director, in answering queries concerning the possibilities of a closed season, stated that, except for transportation difficulties, Michigan deer hunters will continue their sport "as usual" this fall.

"The economic value of the venison harvested would in itself justify an open hunting season," Hoffmaster said.

"Inasmuch as we have been hearing considerably of late as to the possibilities or even probabilities of fresh meat rationing, I think it is well to consider the millions of pounds of fresh venison that are harvested during each November's deer hunting season. According to hunters' reports, 75,692 deer were taken during the last season. This represents approximately 10,975,000 pounds of fresh meat. That is a rather startling figure, especially in these times when it is necessary that we release as much fresh meat to our armed forces and our allies as we can spare."

To the criticism that hunters use shells that might better be turned over to the army, Hoffmaster said that most Michigan deer hunters already have their shells and that the shells used in deer rifles cannot be used as army ammunition.

Hoffmaster pointed to the recreational value of hunting and to the need for "controlling" the deer herd from a biological point of view.

"We some day may appreciate more than now and need the training and experience obtained by more than 150,000 men armed with rifles who spend a couple of weeks in our north woods every fall," he said.

Rubber Moving On Schedule

Michigan's drive for rubber was a success. Scrap rubber is moving out of the state to the stock pile at Cleveland on schedule and at a rate to assure the removal of all rubber by Oct. 1. The few piles now remaining at filling stations are being picked up as rapidly as possible. Limited authorization for rail and motor truck facilities has tended to slow removal, but transportation has been greatly accelerated recently. There are only about a dozen reclaiming mills in the country.

OC D Gives Answers

The new handbook, "What Can I Do," issued by the Office of Civilian Defense, answers the questions of millions of citizens, who have been asking how they can serve their country in the war effort. The new manual, distribution of which started on Sept. 1, has complete information on qualifications, training and duties in all branches of the protective and home front services. The book will be distributed through the Michigan Council of Defense and local and county councils.

Invited To Michigan

Robert P. Patterson, Under Secretary of War, has accepted the invitation of Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner to come to Michigan on Sept. 12 to inspect the Ford bomber plant at Willow Run and the state's defense highway system leading to it. He will dedicate the Highway Department's tri-level grade separation structure at the plant. On a tour, sponsored by the Michigan Council of Defense in cooperation with local and county councils, the Under Secretary will share in Western Michigan War Production Day activities at Muskegon the same day. The tour will extend Sunday to Negaunee, where all Upper Peninsula counties will participate in a War Production Day program.

Neighbor Clubs Bring Families In War Effort

Lansing—Plans of the Michigan Council of Defense will bring Michigan families into all phases of the war effort in close cooperation with their neighbors. Under a program suggested by Don C. Weeks, Director of Civilian War Services of the MCD, neighborhood groups of as many as 50 families will organize War Clubs to take over salvage and other war effort campaigns. The neighborhood clubs will be available for service in all communities with an organization set-up ready to go on any project of the war effort, which may develop.

War Clubs will select their own leaders and hold regular meetings to receive and discuss information on all types of home front defense problems.

Neighborhood groups will form the framework for any community or state-wide campaign in which their service may be utilized. Through state-wide family organization, the Michigan Council of Defense expects to bring all efforts to the levels of well directed neighborhood activity.

Taxes

A minimum of $4,000.00 in taxes will be saved said A. C. Gaston who is a candidate for Sheriff in the Republican Primaries, Sept. 15. This will be accomplished, Mr. Gaston said, by reorganizing completely the Sheriff's department after I assume that office. I will reduce the number of paid deputies by two, which in turn will reduce the Sheriff's budget by $4,000 a year. I am certain that I can reduce the operating expenses of this department in many more ways. For one thing, I will dismiss every inefficient and incompetent deputy. The burden of proof will rest with the deputies. This in itself will increase the efficiency of this department and at the same time reduce the amount of taxes necessary to operate the Sheriff's department. Full co-operation with the State Police will also do its bit toward the reduction of taxes.—Pol. Adv.

MILAN

The torrential rain and windstorm Saturday afternoon did only a little damage to crops and gardens, according to observers in this community. The storm was local and did most damage between Milan and Maybee. According to Stanley Helzerman, local observer, who for many years has kept an accurate record of the weather, the 30 mile an hour wind increased in fury until at one time it had reached a velocity of more than 45 miles an hour. The total rainfall during the afternoon was recorded at nine tenths of an inch. The damage was mostly to field crops and to fruit trees. A number of shade trees were damaged.—Leader.

Here's what he's doing...

And here's what you can do to help him!

When his basic training's over and he's sent to fight the hard-hitting Nazis and Japs, you want him to have the finest fighting equipment a man ever had—and plenty

You—yes, you—can help him get it . . . by putting every dime and dollar you can into War Savings Bonds—at least 10 percent of your pay every pay day!

So take a look around. You could save more, couldn't you—for him—if you took the bus to work or shop instead of the car?—if you didn't go for a drive on Sundays?—if you didn't buy that "extra something"?—if you cut some useless spending here and some more there. Sure you could.

And just think! Those extra dimes and dollars put into War Savings Bonds might end the war sooner, bring him home safe and sound a day, a week, a month sooner than if you didn't save those dimes and dollars.

When you think of it that way, it makes you want to go out right now, doesn't it, and bring home the biggest Bond they've got at the bank or at the Post Office? Well, why not? There's nothing you could do that would help your boy more!

THE HOME FRONT IN MICHIGAN

Plain talk has become America's war language. The people asked for it. Price Administrator Leon Henderson gave it to them.

Battles in the far corners of the earth are tied by strong, invisible hands to what happens in our kitchens, our corner stores, shoe shops, laundry, lumber mill, motion picture theater, shop and farm.

We are learning that total war touches all of us.

This applies both to the individual and to our great pools of manpower. All sound and physically fit men face the possibility of being called into Selective Service.

Farms need manpower. Our great munitions factories call for more and more men. The production of raw materials grows more and more pressing.

definitely sabotages our war effort. To our mobilization of manpower and womanpower, we are about to add mobilization of our youth and of our children.

The Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Future Farmers, 4-H Clubs and other groups already have shown their mettle in various drives but the new program will go further.

All these far-flung and diverse efforts add up to just one thing—our common will to defeat our enemies—save America.

There was some brightness in WPB Chairman Donald Nelson's second war production report, recently issued. Munitions output in July was 3 1/2 times as great as our output in November, 1941.

The War Production Drive, with its 1250 labor-management committees, serving plants in which nearly 3 million men and women work for victory, has had a great deal to do with speeding production.

RURAL SCHOOLS READY TO OPEN TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8

Although several rural schools opened on August 31, classes for the great majority will not be resumed until after Labor Day.

About 115 of the rural schools will open Tuesday, Sept. 8. Approximately seven are open now and the remainder will open later in September.

This year there will be 128 rural schools in operation in Washtenaw county. One, the Howe school in Lyndon township, will reopen because of an influx of children after having been closed for four years, while the Lake View school in Lyndon township and the Valentine school in Pittsfield township will be closed during the coming year.

Throughout the county 18 rural schools will be closed because of an insufficient number of pupils in the various districts. Pupils in the closed districts are provided tuition and transportation to other schools.

The 128 schools which will hold classes include one seven-room, two five-room, three three-room, three two-room, one parochial, and 118 one-room buildings. Changes include Whitmore Lake from four to five rooms, Platt from four to five rooms, and Spencer, where four new rooms were constructed, from four to seven rooms.

To conduct classes in the 128 schools, there will be 151 rural teachers, an increase of four over last year. 52 of these teachers are new this fall. The teachers will assemble in the courthouse at Ann Arbor on Saturday morning, September 12 for the annual Preliminary Institute called by Commissioner Haab for instructions and supplies. New teachers will return in the afternoon for an extra session.

Our Neighbors

BRIGHTON—Horace Taylor seems to be doing a pretty good job of emulating Ireland's St. Patrick, according to word reaching this office. In cutting oats on his farm, near Kenneth Hyne's place, Horace killed eight rattlesnakes in three days—and he has the proof. The "grand daddy" of them all had 26 buttons on his tail-eyes, we said 26! Two of the reptiles had 20, two had 16, two others had 14, and one had 18.—Argus.

MANCHESTER—Thursday noon a truck belonging to the Andrews Truck Line which had been parked in the alley back of the stores, rolled down the hill toward the river and as it reached a point back of The Peoples Bank, it swerved to the left off the roadway and the cab crashed through the corner of the barn back of the Arbeiter building. Slight damage was done to the truck and a considerable hole poked in the barn.—Enterprise.

Let's reopen the Briggs murder and the Wurster suicide at the polls. Supposing that a member of your family died under mysterious circumstances, would you be satisfied to have the case solved as these Manchester cases were solved? If not, vote for A. C. Gaston for Sheriff on Sept. 15.—Republican.
