Chelsea's Scrap Collection Starts At One O'Clock This Afternoon

BUSINESS PLACES WILL BE CLOSED ALL AFTERNOON SO THAT ALL MAY HELP; PLACE SCRAP AT CURB IF POSSIBLE

Today is the big day in Chelsea's drive for scrap. Business places will close all afternoon so that additional trucks will be available for the collection and so that business men themselves may help in the scrap pickup.

If you have not already done so, get busy this morning and get all your scrap metal, rubber or rags together (tin cans will not be accepted) and have your scrap at the curb if possible so that loading will be easier for the truck crews. However, if you have too much scrap to place at the curb or are unable to do so, the material will be collected as advance units of the collection crews will call at each house where a scrap pile is not in evidence at the curb.

According to reports received by the committee, rural school children and farmers have been doing a good job, as many of the rural school grounds have several tons of scrap ready for the local trucks to collect this afternoon.

The big drive starts at one o'clock this afternoon—and remember, men, this is no child's job—it will be necessary that every able-bodied man of any age who is not working today report at the Harper garage on West Middle street not later than one o'clock to assist in this work—be it butcher, baker, candlestick maker, or what have you—get on your old clothes, a good pair of gloves, blow up your muscles and get into the scrap! This war is not being fought for just a few of us—we've all got everything at stake, so let's all pitch in and help.

As it is expected there will be plenty of scrap for a carload or more, the committee has made arrangements to have all metal collected today dumped adjacent to the Michigan Central siding west of the old freight house. This will make it possible for the junk man buying the scrap to load it here rather than haul it by truck to Ann Arbor or Jackson for loading. Any scrap brought in this week may be dumped there, after which Walter Harper's used car lot will again be used.

DON'T FORGET—stores close at 12 o'clock—collection starts at one o'clock—fly your flag for this patriotic holiday when everyone can and is expected to get behind this country's war effort 100 per cent.

Community Fair Was Very Successful Event

Chelsea's sixth annual Community Fair was held at the public school on Friday and Saturday, October 2 and 3. The fair was well attended and good programs were presented both evenings.

On Friday evening the program was in charge of the high school and the Saturday program was arranged by the local Defense Council.

Friday night the Chelsea High School Band played a number of selections which were followed by several chorus numbers and a "Juvenile Parade," a tap-dancing act under the direction of Mr. Payne. Mr. Johnson's physical fitness class demonstrated some calisthenics. This class is in accordance with the Nation-Wide Physical Fitness Program. The program was announced by Phil Vogel.

The exhibits this year were many and very interesting. The judges for the exhibits were as follows:

Stamps and Coins—L. Kusterer, Dr. L. J. Paul, Mrs. E. W. Eaton.

KLINGLER BEATS THE RECORD!
Fred C. Klingler, who has been keeping his license plates as souvenirs tacked up in his garage at 217 Harrison St., has the longest unbroken string so far reported in the county. Twenty-two sets were turned over to the village "scrap pile" this week.

HONORED ON ANNIVERSARY
Twenty neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schneider assembled at their home in Freedom township on Sunday evening, as a surprise for their fifth wedding anniversary. A social time was enjoyed and a rug was presented in remembrance of the event. A pot-luck supper was served.

JOS. KASTL GETS MEDAL
Private Joseph J. Kastl, who has finished his seven weeks of basic training in San Diego, Calif., has been awarded a medal for marksmanship. Joseph enlisted in the Marine Corps on August 10, 1942.

Local Defense Topics

This Fall finds the Red Cross training classes getting under way with a new urge.

Chelsea ladies are fortunate in being able to be a part of the Defense Program by joining a class in "Motor Mechanics". This class will be under the capable direction of Miss Virginia Schumacher of Ann Arbor, who has been actively engaged in the project for several months. The local class will meet for its first instruction on Thursday evening, Oct. 15 from 7:30 to 9:30 in the shop at the high school building and each succeeding Thursday at the same hour for ten weeks.

Eighteen ladies have already registered and it is hoped that the enrollment will reach the 25 mark.

This project has grown to be one of the most important in the Red Cross training field, for, with existing conditions, women will be called upon through necessity to apply their knowledge of motors, their handling and functions, more than at any time in Peace or War.

May we have an enthusiastic enrollment in response to this call?

Early in the month of December a unit for Blood Donors will be set up in Chelsea for the purpose of giving local citizens an opportunity to aid in War Relief by giving their blood to be made into Dry Plasma.

A mobile unit will come to Chelsea and through the cooperation of a local committee, a station will be established where the blood donors may report for their service.

A number of persons signed up for this emergency at the time of Civilian Volunteer registration and since then additional volunteers have called in to offer blood donations.

Mrs. A. L. Steger and Mrs. A. A. Palmer will accept registrations for the above mentioned projects.

SUGAR RATIONING

One hundred thirty men from this vicinity have been called to the armed forces of the United States. Their War Ration Books No. 1 must be turned over to the Rationing Board; also the books of those who have passed away must be surrendered. Very few books have been turned in and to avoid difficulties this should be done at once.

DWIGHT BEACH PROMOTED

Mrs. D. E. Beach received two important notices last Wednesday; one was that her son Dwight, who is stationed in the Canal Zone, had been promoted from Major to Lt. Col. The second was the birth of a daughter, Lillian Clem, to Lt. Col. and Mrs. Beach on September 30, at San Antonio, Texas.

GEO. DOE FULL-TIME MARSHAL

At the regular meeting of the council on Monday night, Geo. Doe was appointed a full-time marshal. Mr. Doe has been employed on a part-time basis. The new arrangement will give the village 24-hour police protection.

War Bond Auction Nets Total of $10,700

Chelsea's Victory War Bond Auction, held Saturday night at the public school auditorium, produced the sale of War Bonds with face value of $10,700.00. Although the advance announcement that there would be a War Bond auction evidently kept many people away from the Community Fair program that night, sufficient advance work was done by the local committee to make the event the greatest success of any special effort made here so far for stimulating the sale of War Bonds.

Wm. G. (Billy) Rogell, former Detroit Tiger shortstop and at present a Detroit City Councilman, was the auctioneer for the event, and he was highly elated over the success of the auction. In fact, Bill showed his usual good sportsmanship by purchasing a sizeable bond himself.

Dozens of prizes were donated by local merchants and others, so that everyone purchasing a bond that night received a nice gift, and the bidding added much enjoyment to the occasion.

Preceding the auction Yeoman Frey of the Naval Recruiting Service, Jackson, showed three reels of moving pictures on the activities of the United States Navy.

Hunters Asked To Save
All Gun-Shell Casings

Lansing—The half-million small game and deer hunters invading Michigan's woods and fields this fall are asked by the department of conservation to cooperate with the Michigan Salvage Committee by saving all their shotgun and rifle shell casings.

The Michigan Retail Hardware Dealers' association has been enlisted in the drive, and all hardware stores in the state will serve as collection centers. They will cooperate with the various county salvage committees.

With use of several million shells likely during the small game and deer seasons in Michigan, it is believed that a huge quantity of valuable metal could be salvaged. The Michigan Salvage Committee has suggested that hunters cut off the cardboard and paper sections of their used shotgun shells and turn in just the metal bases. Sportsmen's clubs, it was said, could perform a valuable service by salvaging what may in some cases be enormous quantities of brass now lying about rifle ranges and trap shooting grounds.

While it was announced a short time ago that sportsmen would have no difficulty this fall in obtaining shotgun shells, it was reported then that ammunition for the more popular caliber deer hunting rifles was practically off the market. The Michigan Salvage Committee, in asking sportsmen to save shell casings, said, "Hunters should be convinced that if they salvage used shells, they may be able to hunt for a much longer time. It may be that we will be able to obtain ammunition loads but not shell casings, and in that situation, salvaging the brass shells is in order."

CHILDREN TELL THE TRUTH

Maurice, Basil and Marcella Beck, the three children of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Beck, Sr., who returned to their home on Pierce Rd. the past week, after a six-day search for them had been conducted by sheriff's officers, explained their disappearance by telling that they had hitchhiked to Milwaukee, Wis., earning money along the way by shining shoes.

When further questioned by Under-sheriff Fred Sot, the trio finally admitted that their original story was false and that they actually had been hiding in a house trailer and cottage not more than two miles from their home. The owners, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Franklin, were away on a trip to South Dakota. The children subsisted on canned goods found in the cottage.

CHAS. RITTER COMMISSIONED

Mrs. Clara Hutzel and Mrs. Ren Hutzel left Tuesday night for Chattanooga, Tenn., and this morning they will witness the graduation of Charles Ritter at the Military Police Training school, Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. He will be commissioned a Second Lieutenant. Mr. Ritter, a native of Pittsburg, Kansas, made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Ren Hutzel before entering the service in January, 1941.

TIM DOOLITTLE and His Gang, WJR radio stars, will appear at the public school auditorium on Friday night, October 23. Sponsored by the Chelsea Kiwanis club. Proceeds for the annual Kiddies' Halloween party. Good dance music and entertainment. Buy your tickets early! Adv.

Editor Gives Answer To Scrap Queries

Marshall Tells Of Conference With Government Official

By Gene Allenman

Why doesn't the government do something about it?

There is an answer. Take it from Schuyler L. Marshall, weekly publisher at St. Johns, a community in Clinton county that has never been over enthusiastic in recent years about the way Washington does things. Clinton county regularly votes Republican, but there is no politics to this story.

Spare a minute or two if you have a question about the scrap metal drive. Listen to this country editor as he "talks" in his editorial column to his readers.

A tall, tired-looking man stood at the end of a hotel room. There were about twenty newspaper publishers there. The tall man, his face lined, turned his tired eyes toward a sharp-tongued critic. "Why don't you move the scrap we have piled up for you?" the critic demanded. "We've done our part. The people have done their part. You government fellows are the ones who are falling down. No wonder the people are fed up etc., etc."

The newspaper man quit talking and glared.

Patience, as if he had told it a thousand times, the government man started speaking quietly.

"You are right . . . and you are wrong. Listen. You have done your job. The people have done their job. I want you to believe that we are doing our job, just as fast and as well as we can. But there are a lot of things you don't know. I'll tell you about them if you will be patient and listen."

"You have done a good job, but you are going to do a better job. We need more scrap metal. We need it right now, before snow flies. If we don't get it now, we will not get it this winter. We are 5,000,000 tons short of our needs, and that's counting what you have already piled up. If we fail to get that 5,000,000 tons, we may lose this war. . . . and I'm not trying to fool you or scare you."

"Stop and think a minute. Thousands of tons of scrap is piled up all in a week or two in a thousand or more widely separated points. The woven wire fencing coming from farms must be baled before it can be shipped or used. The old auto bodies have to be cut before they can be shipped or used. We are short of metal balers. We are short of shears—cutting equipment. We cannot do that all at once in a thousand different spots in 88 counties in Michigan." The tired-looking government man went on.

"Scrap metal does not walk to the steel mills. It has to be shipped. That takes freight cars. It takes trucks. It takes manpower. You know, without me telling you, that the railroads are being rushed. You know about trucks and their tires. You know about men . . . how many of them are already in service."

"Be patient, mister. I have been working twenty hours a day—hard work without much sleep, and eating when and where I can. Have you been doing that much? I'm asking you and all the people everywhere, in every county and every neighborhood, to take our word for it when we say we need more scrap metal. We want it now—before snow flies—or we won't get it this winter."

"Yes, I know. There have been mistakes. I've made 'em. Maybe you've made 'em. I know you are wrong when you think no effort is being made to move this scrap. It is moving right now, but we can't move it all at once. We will move it, all of it, in the next three or four months. It is now being dumped in huge quantities at the mills. We want enough to keep those mills going full blast—100 per cent capacity—all winter."

"Yes, I'm tired. I've been damned uphill and down. I don't blame people who do not understand. That's why I'm here talking to you fellows today. I want you newspapermen to help them understand. I want you to help me. I want you to help your own boy in service. I want you to help lick Hitler and the Japs."

"If you don't . . ."

The tall, tired-looking government man's voice trailed away and he just stood looking into the eyes of about twenty newspapermen who had become very quiet.

They believed him. Don't you?

At the close of the meeting—lunch was served, with Mrs. Conrad Lehman and Mrs. C. Mayer as assisting hostesses.

Lima Couple Featured In National Magazine

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Reddeman

of Lima township are featured in the October issue of "Successful Farming." A picture of Mrs. Reddeman and daughter, Olive Ann, is the colored cover feature, and Mr. Reddeman, with his father, Frank Reddeman, and nephew, Robert Burgett, are pictured on inside pages of the magazine. The articles concerning this young couple is as follows, in part:

If one were looking for a young couple whose home background and education have fitted them particularly well for farm living, Clarence and Katherine (Outwater) Reddeman of Washtenaw county, Michigan, would be a likely choice.

Mrs. Reddeman, who with her three-year-old daughter, Olive Ann, is pictured on the cover of Successful Farming this month, was a 10-year 4-H club member, and a leader from the time she was 15 years old until she entered college. Because of her leadership activities in the community and on the county 4-H council, she was delegate to the 1931 National 4-H

Encampment at Washington, D. C. She completed four years' clothing, three years' food preparation, and four years' canning, winning state championship in each project at various times.

After graduating from Michigan State College in 1934, she taught home economics in Smith-Hughes high schools in Bensonia and Plainwell, Michigan, for two years each. In June, 1938, she and Clarence Reddeman were married and moved to the Reddeman farm. The old farmhouse has been remodeled into two spacious, six-room apartments for themselves and for Mr. Reddeman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. Reddeman.

A member of the Home Economics Extension clubs in Washtenaw county for four years, Mrs. Reddeman has served on the executive board for three years and is now in her second year as county chairman. She knows the value of extension club work for home and family. "It keeps me posted on home economics things since I left the teaching field to take up home-making," she says.

Operating a 160-acre diversified farm in partnership with his father gives Clarence Reddeman ample opportunity to capitalize on his earlier training at home and in 4-H club work in livestock and crops management. He was in club work for many years, winning a trip to the International Livestock Show for poultry judging and as an alternate for crops leader. He also served as club

Dairy cattle, hogs, sheep, and poultry are the chief cash crops on the Reddeman farm. There are 24 cows at the present time, some purebred and some grade; about 50 Shropshire and Delaine sheep, 800 chickens—White Leghorns and Barred Plymouth Rocks. The hogs are Ohio Improved Chester and Hampshires.

The farm-management methods employed on the Reddeman farm are about the best in the county, according to County Agent H. S. Osler. Commercial fertilizer is used on all crops, and Clarence Reddeman and his dad have long known the wisdom of balanced rations for all livestock. The proof is in the farm record books. The farm is almost entirely mechanized. Mr. and Mrs. Reddeman are representative of the type of young farm families whose industry and initiative in everyday living are genuine contributions to the community in which they live.

how to get the best service from your gas water heater

in the series of messages on the care and use of your gas appliances

Long since you have discovered that your gas water heater is one of the most faithful and useful servants in your home. Hardly an hour of the active day when you do not need hot water for some purpose. During hot weather one of the most satisfying ways to keep cool and comfortable is to take frequent baths.

If your gas heater is the automatic type with temperature control, it requires a minimum of attention. About once a month a few quarts of water should be drained out through the faucet at the bottom, to prevent sediment accumulating in the base of the tank. Do not neglect dripping faucets. It is surprising how much water can be wasted by a faucet which does not shut off tightly. To economize on water and gas, correct immediately any faucets which leak.

If your heater is of the type which has to be lighted, it is important not to heat more water than is needed, as water stored in an uninsulated tank cools rapidly. If your tank has a faucet at the bottom, about once a month drain off the sediment collected in the bottom, in order to insure clear water.

Drive Will Stimulate Sale of War Bonds

The United States Treasury War Savings Committee for Michigan, of which Frank N. Isbey is the chairman, with the cooperation of Radio Station WJR and the Farm Forum Program which Duncan Moore conducts for that station, are about to inaugurate a county-by-county drive throughout the state to stimulate the sale of War Bonds.
The initial program of this series started on Monday, October 5 on the Farm Forum hour and was directed at Monroe county. On Saturday, October 10 at 1:30 p. m., Mr. Moore, accompanied by Frank McGlogan, Tim Doolittle, and the Michigan Mountaineers will make a personal appearance in Ann Arbor, and conduct a War Bond Rally, one-half hour of which, from 9:00 to 2:30 p. m., will be broadcast over WJR. LIMA CENTER SCHOOL NOTES
Donald Pierce is the only one who has been neither absent or tardy in the first six weeks period.

Miss Haist, our county nurse, has been out to see us twice this year.

If we have a cold we must stay at home in bed for a day or until it is over.

Our school sent some things to the Chelsea Fair. Loretta and Barbara sent a flower book and some butterflies. Dorothy Mae sent two notebooks. There were some posters also.

This week we are having six weeks test. Pauline and Rita had their Geography last week when they finished Brazil and two small countries.

The first grade made posters showing fruit seeds and one of nuts in Michigan and elsewhere.

The first grade is still reviewing their Jim and Judy books.

There are 14 pupils in our school this year—4 boys and 10 girls.

We made a V-FOR-VICTORY chart to keep track of how many stamps each one buys. We try to buy at least one a week, some buy many more.

The eighth grade girls made a Health Chart to keep track of weight. Those on the road of health are all right, over weight are above, under weight below.

The eighth grade Science girls made a bird feeder. They have collected many bugs and butterflies.

Loretta has brought a clam and a baby rabbit to school to look at. Barbara brought a snail. If we had eyes like the snail we wouldn't have to go to a baseball game, we could just look through a knothole and by sticking our eyes out could look all around.

HOME DEFENSE EXHIBIT

Home Defense was represented at the Community Fair Hobby Show by several interesting and educational exhibits. The exhibit on Nutrition, prepared by Mrs. Russell Altstaetter, consisted of a right and a wrong way to prepare a child's school lunch-box. Also under Nutrition was an emergency basket of foods to have in your bomb shelter. The Surgical Dressings exhibit, prepared by Mrs. John L. Fletcher, showed the steps in folding a 2x2 dressing. A large and interesting display, prepared by Dr. A. L. Brock and Chief Air Raid Warden Carl Mayer, showed desirable preparations for a raid, including pump with hose and reel, sand bags, shovel, hoe and bucket of sand, incendiary bomb (facsimile), and many posters pertaining to the work.

BLIND ARTIST ENTERTAINS

Chelsea high school students had an unusually fine assembly program on Monday afternoon, with Pierce Knox, blind xylophonist, as the featured artist, who has been acclaimed as one of the greatest blind musicians in America. With him were his wife, a bride of three months, and three assistants who helped explain the work of the National Transcribers Society for the Blind.

In the evening the group appeared at the regular meeting of the Kiwanis club in the Congregational church and presented another thrilling program. Both students and Kiwanis members contributed liberally to the work of this Society for the Blind.

Fire Hazards Increase When Winter Starts

Michigan farmers face a season greatest of the year in fire hazards as heating plants are started up and forced to keep homes, barns, mill houses and watering tanks usable in winter months.

Three fire preventive pointers and some advice on protecting against freezing those spray rig tanks kept filled to fight possible fires are offered by C. H. Jefferson of the agricultural engineering department of Michigan State College.

First of the fire preventers is to have good roofs so that if sparks fly out of chimneys they will be less apt to start blazes.

If sparks fly out of a chimney the chimney probably has an accumulation of soot or carbon. The soot ought to be cleaned out. Similarly if smoke comes out of flues or cracks in a chimney, there is need for timely repairs, Jefferson points out.

Heating plants should be kept in shape, cleaned out around the grates and dampers kept under control to prevent overheating.

Recently the college recommended greater use of the estimated 20,000 power potato and fruit spray rigs as fire fighting devices. Water under high pressure can be used to smother a fire with fog and put out a blaze with a small quantity of water.

Two county fair programs recently proved spectacular demonstrations of the idea. At Allegan a corn-crib fire was extinguished in 55 seconds with 30-gallons of water. Similarly, at the Newaygo county community fair, a spray rig put out a fire in about one minute, too soon to permit C. C. Mullett, county agricultural agent, to obtain photographs.

In zero weather the spray rig tanks need an anti-freeze solution, such as one made by adding 2.87 pounds of flake calcium chloride to each gallon of water. For 10 below zero weather, another three-fourths of a pound of the flake should be added to a solution-safe at zero. For 20 below, still another half pound is added to the 10 below zero solution.

Breakfast in Bed
One of the 85th infantry's trainees crawled into his bunk to dash off a letter home before "lights out." A barracks playboy had sprinkled cornflakes between the sheets. Undaunted, the soldier remained in bed, starting his letter with: "Dear Mom: Things are looking up in camp. Right now I'm having breakfast in bed."
