Fuel Oil Consumers To Get Application Blanks

Specified types of fuel oil application blanks will be mailed by fuel oil dealers in Washtenaw county to all consumers within the near future, according to a statement by Louis E. Burke of Ann Arbor, chairman of the fuel oil panel for the war price and rationing board. The mailing of these applications has commenced, but more time than was first announced will be required before dealers send the blanks to all their customers.

The other two members of the fuel oil panel, in addition to Mr. Burke, are William T. Rose of Ann Arbor and Luman Seamans of Ypsilanti. The panel estimates the number of fuel oil consumers in the county at about 11,000, including those using kerosene for cooking and lighting.

Applicants for fuel oil rations are instructed to fill out these blanks at home immediately after they are received from the dealers and mail, not bring, them to the rationing board, Ann Arbor, in accordance with directions printed on the application sheets.

Consumers of petroleum products will receive different types of application blanks according to the nature of their premises and different fuel oil requirements. Consumers should check to see if they have received the proper form from their dealers. Some applicants, who use petroleum products for different purposes, will have to fill in more than one form.

Applications for private dwellings where fuel oil including kerosene is needed for heat and hot water must be made on Form OPA R-1100. This includes trailer houses.

Applications for all premises other than private dwellings, including rooming houses, apartments and stores, where fuel oil including kerosene is needed for heat and hot water must be made on Form OPA R-1101. This includes apartments over store buildings heated by the same unit also churches and schools.

Applications for industrial, commercial and governmental uses of fuel oil, Diesel oil and kerosene for other purposes than heating such as machinery must be made on Form OPA R-1102. This form is not to be used (Continued on page five)

Housewives Asked to Save All Tin Cans

Housewives of Washtenaw county are requested by the county salvage committee to save all tin cans for collection by the various municipal governments at a later date. No payment will be made for the cans, but the municipalities will receive $15.00 per ton. F. O. B. Pittsburgh, for the tin cans. According to the quota announced by the War Production Board, one ton of cans per 1,000 population per year is expected.

Each can must be washed and paper cover removed; then remove with can opener the top and bottom of the can, flatten the can, and place the top and bottom between flattened sides. Last, stack carefully in a paper carton or wooden box, put in a dry place and hold until collection date is announced.

REPORT FOR ARMY DUTY

The following young men from Chelsea and vicinity were inducted into army service the past week, reporting to Detroit on Saturday, whence they were sent to Fort Custer:

Paul Koch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Koch of Lima township, was born July 6, 1920. He graduated from Chelsea high school in 1938 and for the past two years was employed at the Federal Screw Works.

Veryl Haffley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Haffley of Sylvan township, 22 years old, also graduated from Chelsea high school in 1938 and has been employed at the Chelsea Milling Co.

Grant Senecal, 21 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Senecal of Sylvan township, was an employee of the Federal Screw Works.

Edward Eder, son of John Eder of Chelsea, was born Oct. 10, 1906 and is a graduate of St. Mary's high school. For several years he was employed by the Washtenaw County Road Commission and had recently been at the Federal Screw plant.

Halloween Party For Kiddies On Saturday

The Chelsea Kiwanis club is sponsoring its annual Kiddies' Halloween party, which will be held on Saturday evening, October 31 at 7:00 o'clock at the high school gymnasium. The parade, led by the High School Band, will start at 7:00, and those who wish to participate in it should assemble in the gymnasium, where noisemakers and favors will be distributed.

Awards will be made by the judges for the parade under the following classifications: spookiest, most original, and neatest costumes.

The route for the parade will be from East street south to Orchard street, west to Main, south to Summit, west to Congdon, north to South, east to Main, north to Middle, east to East, south to Park, and east to the playground entrance where the parade will pass the judges' stand.

Following the parade, cider and doughnuts will be served around a bonfire on the school playground. After the judges have decided on the prizewinners, a program will be held in the gymnasium. Walter Harper will show moving pictures of cartoons, sports, travel and novelty pictures.

After the completion of moving pictures, which will last about one and one-half hours, the boys and girls will be asked to go directly to their homes. The Kiwanis club of Chelsea wishes to thank the citizens of the community for their very excellent turnout at their Tim Doolittle dance. Enough revenue was obtained from this party to finance the Halloween party.

The Kiwanis club believes this annual party is a very worthwhile community project. It requires the full cooperation of boys, girls and adults to put on a party of this type.

The various committee members for the party are as follows:

Co-Chairman: Jerry Niehaus, James Hendley.

Cider and Doughnuts: L. R. Heydlauff, C. H. Schwieger, L. A. Davison, R. W. Wagner, J. L. Fletcher, Tom Smith, Howard Holmes, P. M. Broesamle, Chas. Hunt.

Favors and Noisemakers: M. W. McClure, H. C. Schepelder, P. G. Schable, H. H. Fenn, Faye Palmer, M. E. Miller.

Parade: Howard C. Baker, Marshall Richards, E. J. Quirk.

Bonfire and Roping: C. L. Staffan, Orlas Cameron, John P. Keusch.

Prizes: Alfred D. Mayer, Gurney Hopper.

Law and Order: George Doe, H. T. Moore.

Program: Albert C. Johnson, W. R. Daniels.

Judges: Mrs. John Hale, Mrs. J. V. Burg, Paul Maroney, George Miller.

SUGAR RATIONING

The local rationing board announces that industrial and institutional sugar registration for the months of November and December will be held at the high school on Friday, October 30 from 8:30 to 5:00 p. m.

Chelsea's Second Scrap Drive Nets 20 Tons

Chelsea's official drive for scrap metal came to a close last Thursday when the second collection in as many weeks was participated in by the entire community. Although the amount collected on October 22 was much smaller than on October 8, the metal was of a better quality, and the pile of scrap, estimated at 20 tons, was sold to the City Iron and Metal Co. of Jackson for $180.00. The scrap collected on October 8, estimated at 100 tons, was sold to the same concern for $350.00. The money received from the first collection goes to the Salvation Army, and that received last week will also go to a charitable organization to be decided upon by the committee.

The local salvage committee wishes to thank the business men for closing their establishments for both collections and for helping to collect the metal; their appreciation also goes to the business firms who donated their trucks for the drive; to the school boys from the Chelsea public schools who helped so loyally, and to the rural school children and their teachers who worked so hard to accumulate scrap metal on their school grounds for collection by local trucks.

Although it is impossible to obtain accurate reports of the amounts collected by the various rural schools, special recognition goes to the North Lake school, in addition to the Sylvan Center and Riemenschneider schools which have been previously mentioned. The North Lake youngsters collected about six tons of scrap for the first drive and continued their efforts in collecting more for the drive last week. Although this school has an enrollment of 15 pupils, only ten of the older children participated in the collection of metal, with their efforts providing a very enviable record.

In spite of the fact that two drives have been held, there is no doubt much scrap metal in the community which should be converted into implements of war to aid our country in its all-out war effort. Those who still have such scrap should contact a junk dealer at their earliest convenience in order that there will be a continuous flow of scrap into the steel mills from this vicinity.

Annual Booth Festival Held By Youth Group

The Youth Group of the Ann Arbor district held their annual Booth Festival at the Methodist Home last Saturday and a large number came with their gifts of fresh and canned fruits and vegetables. The district was divided into six sub-districts and each had their booths. Prizes were awarded to the sub-district having brought the largest amount, the booth most artistically arranged, and the most unique.

At noon the group ate luncheon at the Chelsea Methodist church, which provided coffee. The young people of the local church, under the direction of the General Counsellor, were in charge. Seventy-five young people were in attendance. After the lunch, songs were sung and there was an opportunity for the various groups to become better acquainted.

After a return to the Home, there was a football game which was followed by a program in the lounge of the Home. Over $600.00 was brought in by the young people on this particular day and more will come from those unable to be present Saturday, but who are cooperating in the work.

This Booth Festival has been a custom for many years and is one of the ways in which the youth of the district are made familiar with the work of the Home and also find a practical means of Christian service in their own neighborhood. None get any greater pleasure from the presence of these young people than the members of the Home family who love to have them about.

PAUL KOCH HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Alber of Sharon township entertained a company of neighbors and friends on Thursday evening at a farewell party for Paul Koch, previous to his departure for army service. In progressive euchre, which furnished pastime for the evening, high prizes were won by Fred Alber and Mrs. Amanda Gage, and consolations by Miss Wilma Alber and Roy Widmayer. Lunch was served and Paul was presented with a traveling kit.

ENLISTS IN NAVY

Harold S. Hanselman, son of Mrs. Emanuel M. Eisemann, who enlisted for service in the U. S. Navy on October 19, reported for duty on Friday. He was born May 10, 1924 in Ann Arbor. Since his graduation from Chelsea high school in June, he has been employed at the Federal Screw Works.

NOTICE

Basketball managers and players who wish to enter the Chelsea City League are requested to meet at the Chelsea high school gym on Wednesday evening, November 4 at 8 o'clock.

Miss Maxine Irwin of Ann Arbor was a Sunday guest of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Lawrence.

TECUMSEH—The daily display of the American flag in downtown Tecumseh was ordered today by Mayor J. Floyd Elliott in a brief proclamation, which reads as follows: "I, J. Floyd Elliott, mayor of Tecumseh, hereby request all retail establishments to display their flags for the Duration of the War, daily except Sundays, from this date, and thereby show our patriotism for our country."
—Herald.

MILAN—September temperatures averages nearly normal, according to a Willis man. The first 19 days were normal but a decided change to cooler took place on the evening of the 19th and continued nearly to the end of the month. The most unusual features of the month were four heavy to killing frosts, with three days freezing temperatures. On the 29th the frost formation was extra heavy with a temperature of 25 degrees. This is three degrees lower than the old record set Sept. 1929. The 1942 growing season between killing frost was 156 days, which is about normal for this section of the state of Michigan. The last killing frost in spring was April 22 which is about 10 days to two weeks earlier than usual and the first freezing date in autumn was Sept. 25 which is about 10 days earlier than usual. The total rainfall for the past September was 3.29 inches.—Leader.

BRIGHTON—Other towns have been bragging about tall flowers and large fruits, etc. Here's one from Hamburg: Mrs. William H. Keedle had a canna that was seven feet high; a sweet potato that weighed three and a half pounds, and an egg plant with a large V on each side, the Vs being very plainly marked and about one inch and a half high. Can you beat it?—Argus.

Rationing Of Gasoline Set For Nov. 22

Registration for "A" Cards Scheduled To Start On November 9

By Gene Abeman
Quick, an aspirin! Gasoline rationing will start in three weeks.

Sunday, Nov. 22, is the big day. If you drive an automobile, you must register it beginning Monday, Nov. 9. You'll be limited to five tires, numbers of which you must declare. A fine of $10,000 and imprisonment for 10 years are provided if you falsify your tire statement.

You will explain why you need your car and how much you drive it in a month. Then the sad news will follow. It's just like that.

For most Americans, transportation rationing means four gallons of gasoline a week, or enough, according to OPA reckoning, to take you 2,600 miles a year. This is the "A" card, in effect.

If the local rationing board approves your plea for more mileage and more gasoline, you will get a "B" card which permits you to purchase additional gasoline in the rationing time period.

If you have more than six automobile tires, you must sell or give them to the government through the Defense Supplies Corporation which has $150,000,000 available to buy idle tires at ceiling prices. The Railway Express agency will collect the tires and transport them to a nearby warehouse. After the tire has been inspected at the warehouse to determine its value, the government will mail you a check, or war bonds and stamps if you prefer. No deductions will be made for services performed by the Railway Express.

Will this gasoline rationing work in the Middle West? You ask. A lot of people don't believe it will, and they are not hesitant to say so.

In the East, where this type of rationing was first introduced, distances between homes and factory are comparatively small. Highway transportation is secondary to railroads, buses and street cars.

In one day you can drive through three or four states in New England. And then slow down—the driving speed to 35 miles an hour, and you get the next best thing to a headache itself. Detroit, for example, has been an automobile town in more ways than one. Thousands of workers drive to work daily.

"Share-the-ride" is being promoted as one feasible solution for defense workers, but even this scheme has its limitations.

Hundreds of Michigan resorts in northern Michigan and Upper Peninsula are accessible only by automobile. A "ghost" season is feared in 1943.

That the Middle West is more dependent upon automobile transportation than is the East and consequently is going to require plenty of "education" before they accept it, is a possible deduction which could be made from appeals sent by Governor Murray D. Van Wagoner and Senator Prentiss Brown to Leon Henderson, the OPA czar at Washington.

Van Wagoner and Brown, democratic nominees for re-election, reflected the popular attitude in Michigan with respect to gasoline rationing, when they urged Henderson to reconsider the stringent restrictions.

Obviously there was a political reason for such action, but it was an admission that the average Michigan voter doesn't like what is in store for him, and he is saying so.

Even President Roosevelt gave weight to this conclusion when he returned to Washington from his coast-to-coast tour and said that the nation's capital was out of step with the rest of us.

Dissatisfaction with the conduct of the war is rampant. Here are some examples:

1. Local selective service and rationing boards are confused. Orders sent from Washington and state headquarters are not clearly understood. Washington announces that such-and-such industries are "essential" to the war. Then local boards refuse to consider deferments; they inform petitioners that rules do not permit such action.

2. Fabulous wages are being paid to city workers in war industries on a 40-hour basis. Farmers cannot compete either in pay or in hours. Then the draft takes farm labor, while the government urges the farmer to grow more food.

3. Small business is being slowly strangled to death economically. The parallel freeze of wholesale and retail prices as of last March was the first blow. Certain retail operators have large inventories; others have few goods on hand. You can't stay in business without goods to sell.

4. Disruption of homes due to drafting of married men and 18 and 19 years old. The December quota for Michigan cannot be filled without the calling of 5,000 to 10,000 married men.

The spirit of sacrifice is still strong, of course. People are patriotic. But this upsetting of normal lives cannot be effected without upsetting of emotions. Like the soldiers at camp who "beef" about army life, civilians are only human.

5. High prices of staple commodities such as butter, eggs, and meat. We're right in the middle of inflation, and some of us don't know it!

6. The government is withholding information from the people. "Of the record" talks by government officials clinches this point. Their excuse: Military reasons. Illustrations: Three American cruisers—the Quincy, Vincennes and Astoria—were sunk on Aug. 9. The Japanese said the next day that they had sunk "two heavy cruisers of the Astoria class". On Aug. 19 Prime Minister Curtiss announced the loss of the Australian cruiser Canberra sunk in the same engagement. The American navy department withheld news of our losses until sixty days after the event of Aug. 9.

The aircraft carrier Yorktown was sunk on June 6. Three months afterwards the government revealed its loss to the public.

Inevitably this policy of withholding news of major disasters for months will injure American morale. It will lead us to discount announcements of success.

These are only a few of the reasons why the average American is disturbed at the headlong trend of our war economy. Right or wrong, he is inclined to blame what he calls "Washington bureaucracy".

That's why the next regimentation hurdle on Nov. 22 is not being enthusiastically heralded in Michigan by a democratic governor and a democratic United States senator. We'll probably do what we're told, but we are not happy about it.

Harold E. Carpenter of Detroit, a former well known resident of this place, died on Monday, October 28, 1918.

Leo Heatley has purchased the Willis Benton farm in Dexter township. Old settlers have begun to predict an open winter, due to the early fall of leafage, thin husks on corn and thin shells on hickory nuts, while muskrats are not building any houses.

School will open next Monday after being closed two weeks on account of the "flu" epidemic.

Eugene Froer of Ann Arbor, a former well known resident of Lina township, died on Monday, October 28, 1918.

Oscar Lindauer met with an accident on Wednesday. He was on top of a corn husker and to keep from being drawn into the rollers jumped to the barn floor. His right ankle was broken and several bones had to be removed from his foot.

Miss Frances Hindelang died on Monday, October 28, 1918.

George P. Smith of Chelsea and Luella May Sweet of Salem were married on Wednesday, October 30, 1918.

Thursday, October 29, 1908
Frank Barnum, 31, of Unadilla and Ernest Pickell, 18, of Lyndon were drowned in Joslin Lake on Saturday afternoon while duck hunting.

Romaine P. Chase of Sylvan township died on Monday, October 26, 1908.

Mrs. Nancy Curtis of Detroit and George W. Richards of Chelsea were married on Monday, October 26.

The contract for digging Mill Creek drain in Lima has been let for the sum of $14,250 to Fosket & Hanna of Howell.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Wedemeyer and daughter Frieda will spend the winter in Denver and Los Angeles. H. L. Stanton, manager of the stove works, has leased their residence on Orchard street and will bring his family here from Lansing.

Saturday, October 31 is the anniversary of the dedication of the Old People's Home at this place. The marriage of Miss Cora Burkhardt and Elmer E. Winans will take place this evening at the home of the bride.

NIGHT AND DAY IT RAGED!
Do you remember? It was November 11, 1940!
This picture shows how completely a windstorm can destroy a fine building in a moment. This is a Livingston County loss of May 29, 1942.
Consternation and destruction were left in the wake of Michigan's worst windstorm—Armistice Day—Nov. 11, 1940—Hardly a county in the State was missed. The losses sustained by the policyholders of this company were enormous and terrifying—
Approximately 30,000 claims were adjusted just as quickly as was humanly possible, and checks were sent to our members, covering their losses which totaled well over a $1,000,000.
About this time of year there is ever this question in mind—Will another such windstorm ever visit Michigan and when? You answer it—and then write this company about your windstorm insurance.

TRAINS AT PENSACOLA

Richard W. Riemschneider, 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur E. Riemschneider of 233 Jefferson street, recently completed preliminary training at an apprentice seaman at the Naval Air Station in Pensacola, Fla., according to an announcement from the public relations office of that station.

Riemschneider, who was employed as an electrician's helper, enlisted in the Navy at the Detroit recruiting office last month, and is among the first group of recruits ever to be sent directly to the "Annapolis of the Air" in Pensacola for preliminary indoctrination. Upon completion of the primary training course, he was assigned to duty at that station.

He is one of the many men in the Navy today who have voluntarily joined their country's fighting forces for service wherever they may be needed, and at the same time are building their futures in profitable, established trades.

Achievement Day Will Be Held For 4-H Clubs

The annual 4-H club achievement day program for Washtenaw county youth, sponsored by the Ann Arbor Kiwanis club, will be held in the Michigan Union on Monday night, Nov. 9. Following a banquet, short talks will be given by County Agricultural Agent H. S. Osler, Miss Frances Wilson, county home extension agent, H. J. Hart, assistant 4-H club leader, and other club officials.

Achievement records and pins will be presented 4-H workers who have successfully completed their summer projects and highlighting the meeting will be the naming of the second winner of the State Savings Bank trophy, a large plaque awarded to the club compiling the best aggregate record for its work. The award, based on a point system, rates clubs for attendance records, number of members exhibiting produce at fairs, and similar endeavors. Lima township S. L. S. Cooks, led by Helen Sias, were winners of the trophy in 1941.

Election Will Be Held Next Tuesday, Nov. 3

Register of Deeds—Katherine W. Skau, R.

Drain Commissioner—Cornelius W. Tuomy, R; Otto K. Laubengayer, D.

Circuit Court Commissioners—Albert W. Hooper, Lee N. Brown.

There will also be submitted to the electors at the general election next Tuesday, the following proposals:

Proposal No. 1: Revision of the Constitution of the State of Michigan, Article XVII, Section 4 of the Constitution, provides that in 1926 and each sixth year thereafter, the question of a general revision of the Constitution shall be submitted to the electors. If a majority of the electors voting thereon vote in favor of revision a constitutional convention will be called to draft and propose to the electors a general revision of the Constitution.

Proposal No. 2: Proposed Amendment to State Constitution Permitting Wayne County to Adopt a Charter. Sufficient initiatory petitions have been filed requiring submission to the electors of an amendment to the Constitution to stand as Section 15b, of Article VIII, permitting Wayne County to adopt a charter.

Proposal No. 3: Referendum on Act 369, Public Acts of Michigan of 1941, commonly known as the Milk Marketing Act. The question submitted to the electors is the approval of Act 369, Public Acts of 1941, commonly known as the Milk Marketing Act, creating a Milk Marketing Board, defining its powers and duties, authorizing the board to levy assessments on milk producers and dealers for administrative expenses and to provide penalties for violations of provisions of said Act and declare its effect, under Article V, Section 1, of the Constitution.

Managing Your State Government Is a BIG Job

EVEN IN ORDINARY TIMES the Governorship calls for competent leadership. Now with the Nation at war and with Michigan's important role in the war effort, the responsibilities of the Governorship can only be met by a man who has the vigor to get things done. Governor Van Wagener's experience as Governor and as State Highway Commissioner for eight years assures you that he will get things done - and RIGHT!

Here's What It Means to You

- 1. Ability to pay off the State's $27,000,000 debt means value received for your tax dollars. 2. Well directed Civilian Defense means protection for you, your home and your family - no matter what comes. 3. Close co-ordination of Michigan's all-out war effort means all-out delivery of war tools to our men on the fighting fronts.

PERFORMANCE PROVES HE GETS THINGS DONE!

Re-elect Van Wagener MICHIGAN'S WAR GOVERNOR

Harry F. Kelly has made his position clear on three more important issues:

ON EFFICIENCY:

"If I am elected Governor, I shall see that no unnecessary manpower is wasted in government while Michigan pleads for manpower in industry and on farms during these critical days."

ON SMALL BUSINESS:

"I shall seek to remove the yoke gradually crushing small business, by eliminating the needless State governmental interferences now imposed upon it. I shall enlist the good judgment of small business representatives in the administration of State affairs."

ON GOVERNMENT:

"I contend that the Governor owes a very definite duty to every political subdivision of his State; that every one of Michigan's 83 counties deserves from its Governor an awareness of its individual problems and a willingness to help in their successful solution."

HARRY F. KELLY Republican Candidate for Governor

Elect REDMOND M. BURR Democratic Nominee To CONGRESS Honest - Sincere - Dependable

10 Years an Alderman, 2 Years a Legislator. Saved his city some $54,000 in 10 years in insurance costs.

Led the movement which electrified some 185,000 rural homes in the past few years, thus removing drudgery on farms.

Has been a Labor Leader for 35 years without one single strike, yet gained reasonably satisfactory results.

Secured restoration of a 15 per cent wage cut for all Ann Arbor city employees in 1933 without additional tax levy although the budget had been cut.

He Believes: the annual $17,000,000,000 cost of crime in the United States as compared with $3,000,000,000 for Education must be reversed. IT CAN BE DONE!

That Democratic processes of Jefferson and Lincoln must be maintained.

In cancellation of all Poll-tax laws, in the proper care for the aged, and a better standard of living for all.

That social security and unemployment insurance must apply for all workers.

That war must never again be permitted.

If you believe as he does—Vote for Him and for Victory in War and Peace.

Why We Were Unprepared HOW MICHENER VOTED ON PRE-WAR MEASURES AND AGAINST HIS GOVERNMENT

Table with 2 columns: Measure and Vote (YES/NO). Measures include Fortifying of Guam, Repeal Arms Embargo, Neutrality Revision, Military Aeroplanes, Conscription Act, Lease-Lend Policy, Draft Extension, Repeal Ban to Arm Ships, Lift Belligerent Zones, WPA Bill, Public Works Bill, NYA Bill, Food Stamp Bill, Property Seizure Bill, Power Bill, Smith Anti-Labor Spy Bill, Dies Committee Extension, and Drastic Labor Amendments.

The Record of 18 votes against our country, according to the Union For Democratic Action. Is this not Aiding the Enemy? Did even Max Stephan do as much as this?

Do the Japs or Hitler need clearer evidence of opposition within our government? Do you want to live under Japanese rule? Or do you prefer that such as many of the Nations of Europe must endure? France, Denmark, Belgium, Norway, Holland, and Greece?

Is it not Time for Clear Thoughts and Action instead of Partisan Hatreds? Let's be Americans!

In opposing the fortifying of Guam, Michener not only voted against the bill, but also urged other Congressmen to do likewise, stating at that time: "I voted against the Authorization of the additional Battleships when the 1938 act was up. I should do likewise today."

His voting against building 1,283 planes in 1939 causes us to wonder how many Husbands, Sons and Brothers have lost, or will lose, their lives.

Do you recall Michener's utterance when the Commander-in-Chief, after waiting for months, informed Congress if they did not enact anti-inflation laws within 30 days he would issue a decree? According to the Ann Arbor News, Michener stated he was going to see if the Commander-in-Chief would keep his promise. Instead, however, he voted for an Inflation Amendment which would have increased the cost of living $3,500,000,000 yearly to help 240,000 farmers employing ten or more hands. Approximately 8,760,000 smaller farmers and the rest of us would be compelled to suffer that burden according to the Republican Detroit Free Press. Is this not dastardly opposition to our country and our people?

How much must we endure? Why not have Patriotism instead of Prejudice? Will your ballot be cast in opposition to our nation and our people? Or, will you vote to win the war and the peace? A just and lasting peace? If so, vote for REDMOND M. BURR.

America Unite! Use Ballots Instead of Bullets! Elect BURR to CONGRESS!

for farm vehicles or farm machinery. Applications for domestic, institutional and agricultural uses of fuel oil, Diesel oil and kerosene for other purposes than heating such as cooking and lighting on farms, and operation of farm vehicles and machinery, must be made on Form OPA R-1103.

Fuel oil dealers will have for their customers the right kind of kind of application blanks, and will include with the blanks certified statements of the amount of fuel oil consumed in the last year. This information, states Mr. Burke, when returned by mail from the consumer to the rationing board, will form the basis upon which his present ration will be computed.

All suppliers and dealers handling oil for sale to consumers must register with Rationing Board No. 81 in Ann Arbor before Saturday noon, October 31.

All fuel oil consumed since October 1, 1942, will be deducted from the total amount allotted for the year to the consumer when ration books are distributed, states Paul R. Kempf of Ann Arbor, who is connected with state and national regulation of petroleum products.

Curtailling of fuel oil consumption actually commenced October 1, Mr. Kempf advises, although total individual rations will not be fixed until coupon books are prepared in the near future. Consumers are warned by him to cut their heat at once without waiting for the actual ration allotments, to close off certain rooms, and use every possible means to conserve. "You are being rationed right now," he declares.

Problems in connection with filling out application blanks for fuel oil rations, which cannot be solved by the applicant may be discussed with dealers or with our local consultant, Maynard Knickerbocker. Mr. Knickerbocker will receive complete instructions from the office of Price Administration to persons unable to solve problems in their applications before mailing them to the rationing board in Ann Arbor.

REMEMBER — Individual applicants, after receiving the necessary assistance, must then fill out the blanks — in full — and MAIL, NOT BRING, them to the rationing board, Ann Arbor, as directed on the blanks. This procedure insures the quickest means of issuing coupon sheets to consumers. When the coupon sheets are ready, applicants will be notified by mail when and where to call for them.

These sheets cover five heat periods as follows: October 1 to November 29, November 29 to January 6, January 6 to February 3, February 3 to March 17, March 17 to September 30. Coupons will be relinquished by the consumer upon purchase of oil and the allotment decreased or increased according to cold or warm periods. One sheet of coupons covers one heat period but if sheet one, for instance, is not entirely used up, the consumer will be given two additional weeks in which this quota may be purchased.

CHAPTER XVI

For several minutes neither man moved. Gradually Curt edged himself into deeper blackness, got closer, put the figure between himself and light, the light from the Commandancia not far distant. The outline looked like Collins.

He called the name softly. No answer. He tried again.

"Yes," came the low acknowledgment.

Curt approached. "Looking around, huh?"

No answer.

"Find anything?"

Silence. Then, "No."

"Well, my friend, it's time for you and me to have a talk. First, your credentials. Let's see them."

No move from the other at first, then an amiable "Sure," and Collins reached into a pocket. He handed over a leather card holder which had three insignias, partitions. Curt squatted, played his flashlight on the exhibit, low against the ground, then snapped off the light. He rose and handed back the case.

"That's better. Lieutenant, Naval Intelligence, eh? Glad to have you. Shake."

It was the handclasp that turned the trick. Collins unbent. "I need a friend here," he confessed.

"You armed?"

"Yes. Had my service pistol cached."

"Good. It's nearly eleven. The village will be asleep by midnight. I expect. Go back to your room. Unhook your rear window screen to be sure you make no noise later."

"I did. Got out that way."

Curt grunted. "Well, go back to bed for a while. You've likely sussed up the place and know who's here?"

"Sure."

"Then when they're all abed and have had time to get to sleep, wake up Morahan. He's in the last room."

"I know."

"Bring him out along the main track to the motorcar shed, middle—" Curt broke off, started toward the mess-hall. Some groups were breaking up for the night, judging from the sounds. "Middle of the yards. Got that? Enough for now. Get back to your room, I'll see you later."

Curt returned to his bungalow, Collins disappeared into the night. Outside the mess-hall Emilio was having a few last words with his erstwhile partners before heading for the engineering bungalow. Curt had barely time to climb in, hook his window screen behind him, hang his clothes over a chair as they had been earlier, and stretch out under the mosquito bar. He'd have to leave the magazine against the door and hope that Emilio would give it no thought, or at worst suppose a freak burst of wind had knocked it to the floor.

He heard Emilio fumble at the lock, the slight scrape of the magazine as the door pushed it back over the floor. A shadow blocked out the light at his bedroom door. He simulated deep breathing and closed his lids until he could see only through his lashes.

Emilio looked and listened, then withdrew. Presently the porch light snapped off, the front door clicked shut, and Curt heard the man's steps headed for the bachelor quarters. They sounded sharp on the asphalt walk.

The luminous dial of his watch told Curt it was 11:30. Later than he'd thought. He lay relaxed for a few minutes, but dared not close his eyes, afraid he would fall asleep after his full day.

Soon he got up, dressed again, this time taking his hat, and let himself out the front way. He reconnoitered carefully. The lights that lined the walks of the village were on, would be all night. A light burned at the rear of the mess-hall, the rest of the building was now dark. The few lights still showing in various living-quarters were being closed one by one. The Commandancia remained lighted, but there would be no patrolman on the walks of Tempujo.

Avoiding the street lamps, Curt made his way to the rendezvous and waited impatiently until at least two figures, little darker than the background itself, came toward him. He recognized Morahan's stride.

"Good man, Slats," he said when they were close enough. "This will do you out of your sleep, but it can't be helped. Got yourself a cudgel and keep alert. Collins and I will be gone three or four hours. We mustn't be longer, for the place'll be stirring to life soon after that. Hang out at my bungalow, Slats. Anyone starts snooping around, conk him. Tie him up, only don't let anyone find out I'm missing, and don't be recognized yourself. Got me?"

"Got you."

"If we know any way to protect Collins from being missed, I'd take it. But there are too many under the one roof at his lodging. Anyway, he's only solo here. If he becomes suspected, he can skip. I've my family—"

"Sure, no questions, Curt. You're on the trail of what killed Mitch. That's enough for me. All I can say is, be careful. Reckon you know what you're doing."

"Thanks, Slats. Let's go, Collins. We can talk on the way."

The motorcar shed was an open front building with three short tracks. His own car was headed out, fortunately the first car on its track. Curt remembered the speedometer and disconnected it. There must be no mileage record of this trip. With Collins on one side, still unquestioning, the two men rolled the car forward onto the main track, and pushed it slowly, to make the less noise, down the yard. When several hundred feet beyond the limits of the town, Curt stepped up the pace but didn't yet use the motor.

"Can't risk it," he grunted.

"Sound carries over these flats."

Not until a full kilometer from Tempujo did Curt speak again.

"Okay. Starter on this car whines pretty loud. Keep pushing and I'll switch on the engine. It'll catch. Then hop in and we're off."

Curt didn't open the car wide. The engine was smooth enough, but iron wheels on iron rails in this still night air rang alarmingly loud to men who needed silence. Further, in running without lights at high speed over an uneven roadbed, even a snake unseen on the track might derail them.

Under way, Collins turned to Curt in the seat beside him. "I've followed blind so far. Where are we headed?"

Curt chuckled mirthlessly. "The one spot you want above all to visit. After a moment—" He better have it out, Collins. Suppose we begin with you. How did you get in on this? I reckon I know, but I'd rather you told me."

"I had a note from Bill Henderson. He enclosed a letter from Mr. Mitchell—"

"One thing. Did you know of Mitchell's murder before you left the zone?"

"Yes. That's the reason I was sent. Mitchell hinted in his letter at a Nazi movement here which would endanger the Canal, and he wanted someone sent to confirm some serious discoveries he'd made and take action."

"But the letter was so involved and guarded and vague that we thought it crank stuff. We got more of that than you'd suppose. Nevertheless, we put out some feelers. No matter how wild the yarn that comes in, we can't ditch it in the waste basket."

"Naturally we have some pretty good sources of information here and here throughout these countries."

This lower gate was locked.

First thing was to check up on Mitch—the type of man, how responsible he was, and so on. Well, while we were doing that we got word of his murder. So that seemed to indicate a pretty thorough investigation was needed—I drew the detail.

"While over in Soledad getting the lay of the land, I heard of the other two deaths. That clinched it. The next step was to get in here on the ground, ferret out what was going on."

"Is that what you were doing, snooping around the docks at Tempujo tonight?" Curt chuckled. "What did you think you could learn there?"

"Listen, man," retorted Collins in a huff. "I couldn't just walk in here, look around, and ask questions. I had to get established first, so as to be accepted. You've planted me up river where there's obviously nothing to see. I've had one definite objective since our plane faked trouble the other day, but it's at San Alejo. Meanwhile, until I can get to it, there's no harm looking around where I can."

"Okay, okay," Curt apologized.

"No offense. We'll give you a crack at that objective right now. Mitchell wasn't hitting the pipe. I've been smelling trouble myself for two weeks I've been here, but only tonight did I click on it."

Homemaking Survey

Last week a class from the Homemaking Department took an inventory of the high school. The purpose of this was to find out what kind of food our pupils were getting.

This report was shocking. A great per cent of the children failed to eat their breakfast in the morning, which is one of the most essential meals of the day. Fourteen per cent did not get one hot meal a day.

Now that cold weather is coming on we need more substantial meals. This energy will carry us to and from school and will build up our resistance against sickness during the winter months.

Office News

The following high school boys helped in the scrap drive: Duane Hafley, Chas. Walker, Philip Vogel, Ronald Gentner, Roland Roberts, Chas. Smith, Robert Breitenwischer, Walter Freysinger, Bill Masten, Roy Mench, John Wellnitz, Dick Richards, Harold Balmer.

John W. Hall from the Department of Agriculture, Michigan State College, visited our school on Tuesday afternoon.

Milan plays a football game here at the local athletic field tomorrow at 4:00. The final game of the season will be against Manchester here on November 18.

The Kiddies' Halloween party will be on Saturday night, October 31. The program will include the parade, bonfire, cider, doughnuts, and moving pictures.

Student Council

Bob Edgar made a report on the nickelodeon which the school is trying to get. He found that the one at the community hall is not available.

There was no report from the program committee.

The following committees were appointed for the All-Hi party on Nov. 18:

Seniors—Senior stand and entertainment.

Juniors—Clean-up.

Sophomores—Decorations.

Freshmen—Tickets.

Mr. Richards suggested that we appoint a committee to make some rules and regulations for our parties and assemblies. The following people were appointed for this committee: Eleanor Harper, chairman, Bob Edgar and Veryl Steinway.

Senior News

Last week twelve members of the Senior class were awarded certificates of achievement for their excellent citizenship in the Senior magazine campaign. These certificates were awarded by the Curtis Publishing Company to the following Seniors: Luther Kusterer, Robert Strieter, Edith McDonald, Caroline Breitenwischer, Marilyn Lyons, Margaret Feldkamp, Helen Grabowski, Virgiline Bell, Mary Forner, Wilma Schweinfurth, Dwight Gadd, Dorothy McClear.

The Senior stand was a great success at the Tim Doolittle party Friday night.

Chorus

The chorus is going to have a joint concert with the band on November 17. The concert is to be held in the gymnasium of Chelsea public school. The purpose of the concert is to sell War Bonds and Stamps. The students hope the people attending the concert will be magnificent. No doubt each and everyone in this country feels the same way.

Mrs. Ross Ludenslager, the chorus director, has ordered some new chorus music for the occasion, the names of which are:

"Can't You Hear Me Calling, Caroline," "At Dawning," and "The Blind Blow Man."

The students hope everyone will like the concert.

Defeat Romulus

Last Friday afternoon the Chelsea High football team journeyed to Romulus, where they chalked up their third Huron League victory by defeating Romulus 14-0.

Chelsea opened the scoring in the second quarter when Kern caught a pass in the end-zone for a touchdown. Later in the quarter Romulus started a march and they had the ball on the 5 yard line as the first half ended.

After a scoreless third quarter, Chelsea again scored in the fourth quarter as Gadd raced 45 yards behind beautiful blocking to score. Edgar converted after both touchdowns, Merkel and Downer at the tackles stood out with their vicious blocking and hard tackling.

On Friday, Chelsea plays Milan at the local athletic field, the game beginning at 4 o'clock. A victory for Chelsea would boost them into second place in the Huron League standings.

Graduates of '43 (?)

Evelyn Lehman, our very blonde vice president, is 5 ft. 3 in. tall. She has light blue eyes and weighs 115 lbs. At every football game you'll find Evelyn along the sidelines cheering at her favorite sport for her favorite football team, the Bull Dogs. Her favorite pastime is sewing and she is very good at it. She likes Italian spaghetti very much and hopes that her mother will read this and take the hint.

Hi-Y News

A regular meeting of the Hi-Y club was held Thursday afternoon. An election of new officers was held, and the following will take over immediately:

President—Bob Strieter.

Secretary—Donald West.

Treasurer—Dick Kern.

Chaplain—Robert Edgar.

Service Chairman—Donald Schanz.

Publicity Chairman—Dick Ford.

Sergeant-at-Arms—Donald Alber.

The Hi-Y club will again sell Christmas cards. This year there will be a bigger and better assortment, and the sales will begin in the near future.

The new members that were inducted are: Dick Ford, Donald Alber, Tom Lyons, Irwin Slane.

Homemaking News

Do you know that 32 per cent of our students are coming to school without eating breakfast? Do you know that 44 per cent of our students are failing to include at least one fresh fruit in their daily diet?

These and many other facts were discovered this week when the girls in the Homemaking Class conducted a survey in our high school.

The kind of survey we made was questionnaires mimeographed on paper. The high school students filled out what they had for morning (breakfast), noon, evening meal, and in between meals.

The girls who conducted the survey were Audrey White, Jane Downer, Marilyn Schooley, and Barbara O'Hara.

The results of the survey from 190 students were as follows:

Green vegetables, 90 students—45.3 per cent.

Fresh fruit, 106 students—56 per cent.

One serving of meat, 140 students—84.4 per cent.

One hot dish, 163 students—86 per cent.

At least one pint of milk, 129 students—68 per cent.

One whole grain daily, 27 students—14.7 per cent.

Breakfast, 130 students—68 per cent.

F. F. A.

The F. F. A. boys had a "game" supper Tuesday, October 27. The boys greatly enjoyed the eats prepared by the mothers. Afterwards entertainment was furnished by the committee, Duane Noah, Joe Merkel and Charles Dowler. Harold Oslor, the county agricultural agent, was there. Also, the boys' chorus sang. The boys went home feeling ready as ever for school (?) Wednesday morning.

Elementary News

Seventh Grade (By Gerald McHenry)

The grade is now reading for book reports which will be due during book week.

Stamp sale was $3.65.

The Safety Patrol is now in possession of warning whistles. They have organized for regular weekly meetings.

Patricia Keeney and Douglas Vogel had birthdays on Monday.

Tuesday, the girls started to sew together on the afghan.

Sixth Grade

(By Deloris Joy Eisenmann)

Betty Fielder's birthday was last Saturday.

Last week we had a geography test. Some of the girls have been painting pictures lately. They are very pretty.

A few weeks ago the sale of Defense stamps went way up. Last week it went way down again.

Fifth Grade

(By Peggy Schaible, Secretary)

The fifth grade elected new officers. They are: President, Robert Vogel; vice-president, Joe Joseph; secretary, Peggy Schaible. There was a tie for treasurer, between Jean McClure and Danny Maroney. We voted over and Danny Maroney got to be treasurer. We have $1.83 in the treasury.

The fifth grade has a new boy. His name is Billy Enkerman.

We have bought a total of $40.70 in defense stamps for the past seven weeks.

Wednesday, the report cards went out. Some were pleased and some were not so pleased.

Our room earned a new book for having the most people on the summer reading program. The name of the book is "Who Goes to the Woods". The book is very interesting.

First Grade

The children in the first grade have been busy buying defense stamps. Twenty-four children are now buying stamps each week. Last week the total sale of stamps amounted to $11.05.

Raised Flag

Capt. Gaines Moseley of the United States marines raised the first American flag on the banks of the Rhine in Germany in 1918.

Conservation Club

The Conservation club held its weekly club meeting Thursday, with Joe Merkel as its president. There were no problems to vote on but President Merkel promises us many activities in the coming year. We hope this promise will be carried out.

All people wishing to join the Conservation club be in Mr. Bust's room on Thursday during activity period.

Band News

The band will play for the Halloween party and parade Saturday night. This is the party for the kiddies, sponsored by the Kiwanis club.

Home Ec. Club

Homemaking club's candlelight initiation took place Oct. 27. Eighteen were initiated, as follows: Marilyn Schooley, Mary Lou Platt, Jessie McAtee, Mary Ball, Shirley Dorer, Dorothy Hafner, Joanne Moore, Mary Ottoman, Helen Ridley, Mildred Schabbe, Jane Downer, Virginia Lesser, Shirley Platt, Caroline Beal, Audrey White, Barbara O'Hara, Rosemary Lyons, Theresa Lyons.

The president, Madelyn Rowe, and vice-president, Mary Ottoman, entered the room wearing formals and carrying candles. The president welcomed the girls and introduced four girls representing the aims of the club. These girls, also in formals, were: Jean Dexter, representing health; Pat Burg, courtesy, Anna M. Armstrong, friendship; and Virginia Sullivan, service.

Each girl pledges to be loyal and uphold the aims and ideals of the Chelsea Homemaking club, the school and their homes. As they finished they lighted their candles from those of their leaders.

Mary Jane Eder furnished the piano music during the initiation.

A pot-luck supper was served by the following committee appointed for the party: Mary Jane Eder, Rose Marie Clark, and Anna Marie Armstrong.

The club has been asked to become an affiliated member of the State and National Home Economics Association. The club's program, constitution and award system has been set up and are ready for state approval. Approximately 80 per cent of the Homemaking clubs in high schools are affiliated members of the State Home Economics club.

Girls' Athletics

The girls who belong to the Girls' Athletic Association are having their physical examinations. The girls will be weighed and measured this week and we DO hope some of the short ones have grown taller. They are continuing to do exercises and have begun playing volleyball.

Speaking of GAS RATIONING

With minimum driving, any motor oil contaminates faster, because the motor doesn't run hot enough to evaporate the water that condenses in the crankcase.

Even with driving limited, under sloppy winter conditions grease is washed off lubrication points. Protect from rust by keeping points grease-filled, lubricate every 2 months or at 1000 miles whichever comes first.

Your car needs better care now!

A little better care per mile is the safe car service program for gas rationing. Your Standard Oil Dealer offers expert help, now very important with winter coming up. See the list of vital services below. You'll want the complete protection they insure. And you'll also want to use top quality Iso-Via, first choice of Midwest motorists. High in protective qualities, Standard's Iso-Via (10-W) is the fastest starting winter motor oil you can buy.

✓ Radiator—drain and flush. ✓ Anti-freeze—get yours today. ✓ Battery—inspect and test. ✓ Battery Cables—clean and grease. ✓ Spark Plugs—clean and regrip. ✓ Front Wheel Bearings—repack with grease. ✓ Body—polish and wax. ✓ Lights—check for safety. ✓ Air Cleaner—clean. ✓ Tires—inspect, switch. ✓ Transmission and Differential—drain, clean and refill. ✓ Chassis—lubricate. ✓ Crankcase—drain, flush and refill with Standard's Iso-Via, Quaker State, Poliarid or Stanolind. ✓ Oil Filter—check, replace if necessary.

Might Cause Radio Trouble

Some radios are particularly sensitive to disturbances caused by the ignition of an oil burner. The condition can be corrected by the installation of intermittent ignition with proper controls.

Lansing—Despite a shortage of labor and higher operating costs, Michigan farms are enjoying a year of prosperity. But low-price years are coming.
Rains have been abundant this summer. Prices rose 30 per cent during 1941, and they have continued on an upward trend in 1942.
Lend-lease needs for food are creating a sustained demand. War has upset the normal balance of supply and demand.
It's an abnormal situation. Better plan accordingly.

Yankee Spirit Still Lives In War Crisis

Merchants and School Boys Turn Out To Help; C. I. O. Lags
By Gene Alleman
Yes, the old Yankee spirit still lives!
This observation is prompted by the shortage of labor on Michigan farms. It is a serious situation.
The other week a newspaper in the Thumb carried an item as follows: "Four thousand acres of sugar beets in... county are without labor to harvest them. If means are not found at once to harvest this valuable crop, more than 12,000,000 pounds of sugar will be lost forever."

portion to what we consider a fair day's work."
You can write the finish to this. We're too downright disgusted to do it.
High school boys leave their classes to harvest crops for farmers.
And the school principal says, "The idea of this isn't money, it's getting the crops in."
Merchants lock the doors to their stores and man trucks to collect scrap. School is dismissed; children canvass the homes.
A woman carries on as publisher of country newspaper when her husband goes to war.
This is the real spirit of America. Some industrial workers will have much to answer when the prisoners of Bataan return, if they do. And a hearty shout of approval will go up from the throats of the Michigan farmers when they hear the astounding news of this Michigan revival of Yankee resourcefulness, courage and sacrifice.

Machinery means power, when prices and wages are rising, farmers with the most machinery make the highest farm earnings, the experiment station reports.
In depression or low-price years the farmer with the most machinery suffers the greatest losses. Thus, while farmers are justified in spending to buy badly needed new machinery and in making needed repairs, they should guard against becoming over-mechanized because there will be a day.
The mechanized Michigan farm must make wide use of its machinery "to keep down the cost per hour of use." Before investing in new machinery, farmers are urged to consider the size of business, topography of their farms, and the farm layout itself.
"Buying good second-hand equipment often pays, if there is not too much work to be done."
Cooperative purchase and use of machinery is also recommended as a means of assuring a low production cost.
When farm prices are high, make needed repairs or improvements in the farm plant, is another recommendation. They will enable efficient operation for several years during a period of low prices.
"Remodeling of buildings now being fully used is sometimes the best economical procedure. Unused barn space can be made into cow stables, or the upstairs of an old building might be made into a poultry house. Dairy barns and poultry houses should not exceed the value of the animals housed."
Low-income years are coming, just as surely as the night follows day. The college study recommends making "hay while the sun shines" with regard to today's increased farm income.
"Surplus funds, which may develop as a result of higher farm prices, might well be used for the following purposes:
1. Reduction of debt obligations, particularly those of a long-term nature.
2. Purchase of defense savings bonds.
3. Providing for the education of the children.
These would build up the reserve for low-income years and tend to reduce farm overhead expenses." (Source: "Farm Management Aspects of the War", Circular bulletin 182, M. S. C.)

MEMORIES!

A. E. Johnson, a local weather prophet with "hindsight" recalls that 39 years ago on October 27, 1903, winter really started in earnest in this section of the country.

He states that on the morning of the 27th he went to Sylvan Center and the mud was ankle deep.

The weather took a sudden turn for the worse and before evening the ground was frozen solid and three or four inches of snow fell that night.

The snow stayed all winter and A. E. says there were 110 days of sleighing that winter.

Although we believe all of this gentleman's statements we hope there is someone with a good memory to verify that statement.

P. S. "Akie" might have added that there were six weeks of good sleighing in January.

HUSBANDS GUESTS OF CLUB

The husbands were guests of the Young Mothers Club at their meeting on October 27 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Bernath.

The speaker of the evening was Professor Lewis Brumm of the U. of M., who spoke on the subject "Education for Living."

Beautifully decorated boxes of lunch were brought by the club members and later auctioned off to the men, with proceeds amounting to $31.80.

Prizes for the prettiest box and the one receiving the highest bid went to Mrs. Armin Schneider and Mrs. Russell McLaughlin.
