Spoken New Year's Day

Palms and bouquets of white flowers adorned the altar of St. Matthias church, Detroit, on New Year's day for the wedding of Miss Mary Jane Evans, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William John Evans of Detroit and Frank M. Edgar, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Edgar of Chelsea. The Episcopal ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by the Rev. Ernest E. Björ, and Mendelssohn's Wedding March was played by Mr. Ridout.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an ivory satin gown, fashioned with a scalloped V-neckline and a long tight-fitting torso, edged with a double row of horizontal scallops. The gathered skirt extended into a train. The finger-tip veil fell from a scalloped crown covered with seed pearls and the bridal bouquet was formed of white carnations and lilies of the valley.

The maid of honor, Treva M. Evans, sister of the bride, wore a dress of light blue net with long torso, sweetheart neckline and full gathered skirt. Her flowers were Talisman roses. The bridesmaids, Kay Giddings of Detroit, Shirley O'Dea of Cleveland Heights, O. and Martha Jane Edgar of Chelsea, the groom's sister, were attired alike in dresses of dusty rose, made in the same style as the gown of the maid of honor. They carried Johanna Hill roses.

Robert A. Edgar attended his brother as best man and the ushers were Paul Shellabarger of Springfield, O., William J. Evans, Jr., and James Burstrom of Detroit and Waldemar Grossman of Chelsea.

Following the ceremony a reception for 100 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents, 18213 Northlawn Ave. Mr. and Mrs. Edgar will make their home in Chelsea.

The bride attended Hillsdale College, where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma Sorority, and has been employed as stenographer for the Mutual Benefit Insurance Co., Detroit. The groom, who attended Michigan and Purdue universities, is employed in the material control department at the Federal Screw Works.

Employment Service
To Function Saturdays

Beginning January 2 all offices of the United States Employment Service will be open for business on Saturdays, it was announced by John L. Craig, USES director for Michigan.

"We were glad to adopt the 48 hour week," Craig said, "since this will make it possible for us to provide more adequate service to the area's war industries, most of which now are working on a seven day week schedule."

The six-day working schedule is in accordance with legislation recently passed by Congress which provides that all governmental employees are required to work 48 hours a week beginning immediately.

The office at 312 E. Huron street, Ann Arbor will also be open from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. each Thursday evening to handle persons called into the office as a result of occupational questionnaires.

At the present time there are a number of job openings for both men and women. All persons who are available for work are urged to call at the office.

Driver's License Test
To Be Held Here Today

In line with the National Rubber Conservation Program, Sheriff John L. Osborn announces that driver's license tests will be held in the various towns throughout Washtenaw county once a month.

Sheriff's officers will hold the first test in Chelsea this afternoon, Thursday, January 7, at the Chelsea State Bank, from 1:00 to 4:00 o'clock, and they will be here the first Thursday of each month until further notice. This action by the sheriff's department will be a real service to residents of the county who would otherwise have to use their tires and gasoline to drive to Ann Arbor for the test.

Check up on your driver's license and if the expiration date is drawing near take advantage of the opportunity to get the test here.

Farmers Face
Real Test In ProductionIncrease Expected In Spite Of Machinery
And Labor Shortage

By Gene Alleman

"I'm not a pessimist by nature, but Claude Wickard's radio announcement about a coming food shortage was a historic understatement of fact."

Coming from E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture for Michigan State College, these plain words carry weight. For Anthony knows his stuff. He is Michigan's outstanding authority in the field of agriculture.

"It was just two weeks ago that Secretary Wickard conferred with a number of agricultural leaders at Chicago. He put his cards on the table for us, and he talked plain turkey. The facts as he presented them to us are a lot worse than he has given to the public. I suppose the rest of the news will come gradually."

Mother Nature was mighty good to Michigan farms in 1942. Blessed by favorable weather, the land yielded bumper crops. This production drained from the land a degree of soil fertility which cannot be replaced by available commercial fertilizers, for nitrogen fertilizers are hard to get.

Despite the possibility that the 1943 growing season may be less favorable, Uncle Sam is counting on Michigan farmers to grow more food.

More food with less labor, too. And no more farm machinery either.

Uncle Sam is pledged by circumstances more than anything else, to feed millions of people in England and Russia and Africa, all in addition to the hungry men in the American armed forces and those of our Allies.

This demand for food is without precedent. It will be tremendous. High wages in cities and the selective service have drained large farms (Continued on page two)

Lower Grades To Start
School Half Hour Later

The time for the opening of school at the Chelsea public schools for the kindergarten and grades through the 5th will be changed from 8:30 to 9:00 a. m., starting Monday, January 11. The remainder of the school will remain on the old opening time of 8:30. The first and second grades will be in session until about 11:20 and the kindergarten pupils will be excused at 11 o'clock.

In the fall the school sent questionnaires to the parents asking their opinion of the time for opening school in the morning, as through the winter it would be dark at the time the children would have to start for school. The results of the questionnaires showed that the parents were divided with respect to the opening hours of school. The parents of the smaller children were in favor of opening school at 9:00 o'clock.

At the Board meeting on Monday night several mothers of the smaller children were present and asked if it would be possible to change opening hour to 9:00. The Board decided that the above named grades, with the exceptions listed, would be in session from 9:00 to 11:30 a. m. and the afternoon session will stay at the old time. These opening hours will be in effect until such time as it seems advisable for the opening hours to be changed back.

Local Men Report For Induction Into Army

Kenneth M. Exelby and Norman H. Niehaus of Chelsea will report at Ann Arbor this morning for induction into army service, and will be sent to Camp Grant, Ill.

Kenneth, who resided in Chelsea the past three years, was born Dec. 25, 1922 in Royal Oak, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Exelby. He has recently been employed at the Federal Screw Works. On January 24, 1942 he was married to Dorothy Kaupt of Manchester and they have a daughter, Eileen Marie, nine weeks old.

Norman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Niehaus of Lima township. He was born in Freedom township on Nov. 26, 1922 and has been employed at the plant of the Central Fibre Products Co.

James Ahearn has been called to service in the U. S. army and will report this week. He came here two years ago from Bad Axe, where he was born Feb. 7, 1920, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Ahearn. He has recently been employed with the Ford Motor Co., Detroit. Mr. Ahearn is married and has a daughter, one year old.

Military Information
Must Be Kept Secret

On battle fronts every day men risk their lives to discover the location and strength of the military units of the enemy. Yet at home, too many of us are presenting the enemy with information of the same military value, the Office of Censorship says in a statement.

This is the information which newspapers and individuals are asked not to tell the enemy.

DO NOT TELL the names of ships upon which sailors serve.

DO NOT TELL the troop units in which soldiers serve overseas.

There is no objection to revealing that Pvt. John Jones is in Australia or that Seaman Tom Brown saw action in the Atlantic, but there is military information which endangers the lives of American fighting men in stating that Pvt. John Jones, "Company C, 600th Infantry," is in Australia, or Seaman Tom Brown, "aboard the U. S. S. Wisconsin," is in the Atlantic.

The Office of Censorship says: "We ask editors not to publish these troop identifications, and we ask parents and relatives not to reveal them. Don't give the enemy anything that may lengthen the war."

THE HOME FRONT IN MICHIGAN

A coast-to-coast survey of drinking conditions in and around army camps has just been completed by the Office of War Information. These explicit conclusions emerge: There is not excessive drinking among troops; the sale of 3.2 beer in camp post-exchanges is a positive factor in army sobriety; no American army in all history has been so orderly. Best selling beverages around army camps are coffee, milk, malted milk and bottled soft drinks.

Beginning in February, many staple foods and food products will be rationed, including canned fruits and vegetables, frozen fruits and vegetables, and dried fruits and vegetables. Vast quantities of such foods must go to the armed forces and lend-lease allies. The balance will be distributed by means of War Ration Book Two under the new "point" system. Scarce products will have a higher point value than the more abundant, and point values may change as supply increases or lessens. But the total number of coupon points for each ration period will be the same for every civilian everywhere—even for the soldier's wife who buys her food at army stations.

"The price of bread is being kept under control by new government measures. Varieties of bread sold during a given week are limited. The new order also provides for enrichment of white bread according to approved nutritive standards. Sale of packaged sliced bread is halted and other economies have been ordered to prevent a rise in bread prices."

Housewives of Michigan and the rest of the nation have received high commendation from the Office of Price Administration for the orderly manner in which they responded to the government's appeal to avoid "scare" buying and hoarding of canned fruits and vegetables in advance of rationing.

Beware of new Axis espionage tricks. Recently Axis powers added a new espionage weapon—a system of placing together bits of information to fit them together in ferreting out United Nations war plans. The system consists of gathering gossip from hundreds of unrelated and mostly innocent sources, then putting them into a mosaic pattern which points to an unmistakable line of military action. Every American should remember that careless talk costs lives.

Alleged violations of the "whipping cream order" are under investigation by the War Production Board in Michigan. It has been reported to WPP that some dairy farms are selling cream that has a milk fat content in excess of 19 per cent. The order restricting whipping cream was issued several weeks ago to help relieve the critical butter and fluid milk shortages.

The deadline for tire inspections for passenger automobiles is Jan. 31. But OPA urges motorists not to wait until the last minute. Drive to your nearest official tire inspection station this week. The cost is nominal—25 cents per car. This inspection is part of the national gasoline mileage program and is strictly for the motorist's benefit. Your government is trying to keep essential transportation alive by keeping your car on good rubber. But without your cooperation, you—the motorist—are the loser.

Thinking Straight

By Ruth Taylor

In our hurry, in our patriotic fervor, in our zeal to be of service at this crucial hour, we must not overlook the fact that there is a need to think as well as act. Just as we drop peace-time luxuries from our lives, just as we concentrate all our efforts on work that will help in winning this war against the powers of darkness—so must we think straight toward our goal, so must we drop fears, prejudices, petty hatreds and personal preferences from our mind.

Now most of all must we learn to think straight. Elmer Davis, the director of War Information, made a statement some time ago which every one of us who fight for democracy must well remember: "Not only does our future, and probably the world's future, depend on our ability to fight straight on through to victory; it depends as well on our ability to think straight through to the end of the war and afterwards."

This is a time of complete re-orientation. We must realize that even history is speeded up these days. The changes that are taking place are rapid and we must be able to keep up with them mentally, and adjust ourselves to the idea that the way we had thought, things out may not be the best way to work things through. We must ruthlessly discard old habits of thought. We must think in broader terms. We must praise the right action—no matter who does it; and we must condemn the wrong, no matter whose it is. We must not detour for selfish motives, whether that selfishness be a selfishness of an individual or a group. We must think straight through toward the high end of victory both of the war and of the peace; and we must recognize the source of all efforts to divide us and create hates and dissension.

We must not be led astray by those who are seeking their own personal gain or the fulfillment of their ambition in this war, or the satisfaction of their grudges and hates. We cannot even afford to spend time hating them. We have our job to do—and we must think straight to it.

We have a mental code to guide us. The Four Freedoms are not just a statement of national policy, but a challenge to all of us, a call to the minds of men, to think straight through to these goals, and to put them into practical application—not merely at some future date when victory rests on our banners, but here and now in our daily lives.

The war will be won by those who have fought straight through to the victory of the United Nations. The peace will be won by those who have thought straight through to the victory of the Four Freedoms.

TB DEATH RATE DECREASES

The reduction in Michigan's tuberculosis death rate, since the Christmas seal work began, has saved the lives of 48,400 people, according to the January issue of HEALTH, official publication of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association.

"There would have been 139,262 lives lost in Michigan in the past 34 years had the tuberculosis death rate of 1908 continued," the Magazine states. "Actually there have been 90,861 tuberculosis deaths. This means that in Michigan 48,400 lives have been saved by the purchase of Christmas seals—more than live in Bay City, or Muskegon or Battle Creek."

February 21 marks the 35th anniversary of the founding of the Michigan Tuberculosis Association—a voluntary agency with the purpose of stamping out this greatest disease hazard.

Farmers Face Real Test In Production

Increase Expected In Spite Of Machinery And Labor Shortage

(240 acres and up) of about 25 per cent of their labor, and all farms of an average running 6 per cent, according to a college survey just completed in Montcalm, Eaton and Lenawee counties.

Farm wages are going up, too, along with about everything else. It all puts the farmer at a disadvantage in delivering the goods.

The 1943 farm objectives, as announced for Michigan, call for the following:

Crops—Corn, 105 per cent of 1942 yield; hay, 100 per cent; oats, 93; barley, 100; wheat, 93; white beans, 108; soy beans, 94; potatoes, 123; soybeans, 100.

Livestock—Cattle and calves, 111 per cent; sheep and lambs, 117; hogs, 112; milk cows, 102; hens, 103; milk, 103; and eggs, 100.

Livestock brings in two dollars for every dollar of field crops.

The three-county survey revealed that farmers expect to plant the same acres of field crops in 1943, but anticipate an increase of 8 per cent in livestock. All this despite the decline of labor averaging 6 per cent.

If food is so essential to win the war, where does the farmer get on, so to speak?

Farm income in the nation is at an all-time peak, grossing $18,500,000,000 in 1942 as compared with $14,213,000,000 in 1941 and around 11 billions annually between 1936 and 1940.

In 1937 the farm population constituted 24.5 per cent of the total population while agricultural income produced only 8.9 per cent of total national income. The war has changed the proportion. The 1942 net income was 45 per cent over 1941; double that of 1935-39. The farm surplus population of only a few years ago has vanished overnight.

The net farm income for 1942 is estimated at 136 per cent of parity (1935-39). When you recall that the highest farm income during the first World war was 14.6 billions in 1919, the staggering 1942 yield of 18.5 billions is a happy omen. Farmers today have a genuine financial inducement to produce the food.

Michigan's farm income is soaring. Here are the figures as cited by Dean Anthony at the college:

1937—256 millions; 1938—215 millions; 1939—228 millions; 1940—247 millions; 1941—309 millions; 1942—325 millions.

The 1943 farm income should top 1942, unless drought or excessive rainfall interferes. It presents an opportunity and a challenge: To plan farm work more systematically, to stimulate greater production through use of fertilizer and better seed, to utilize labor and machinery more efficiently.

"Crops should be planted even if labor is not in sight to harvest them. Michigan must deliver the food! And Michigan farmers will not fail."

The dean's broad jaws reflected the determination of thousands of farmers as he said it.

Livestock farmers were not benefited by development of combines and high test seed—two technological improvements which have helped the grain farmer to attain higher income despite non-parity prices.

Consequently, parity for the crop farmer is not parity for the livestock farmer, according to Dean Anthony.

Production costs are proportionately higher for livestock than for grain, he points out. If meat prices seem high and good steaks are hard to get, think of the farmer's problem and you will understand the reasons.

What are Michigan farmers doing with this new prosperity?

Yes, your guess is right. They are putting new dollars into their capital investment—farm buildings, for example—and reducing their indebtedness as fast as they can.

Dean Anthony says that Michigan

farmers remember the last boom. They know this crazy inflationary paradise is false, abnormal, and cannot last. But it is a heaven-sent opportunity to pay off the mortgage, paint the barn, or fix up the buildings with FHA assistance up to 1000, while helping Uncle Sam to win the war.

17-YEAR-OLDS JOINING NAVY

Still free to choose their branch of military service, 17-year-old men currently are joining the Navy in unprecedented numbers.

According to Lieut. Comm. Byron E. Flechtner, Officer in Charge of Navy recruiting in lower Michigan, over 400 17-year-old Michigan men joined the Navy during December.

Naval service now offers more inducements than ever before to 17-year-olds, he said.

Men of this age who can pass a radio examination may qualify for ratings as high as Radio Technician, Second Class, which pays $96 per month, plus living expenses and uniforms. Such qualified men receive these ratings as soon as they enlist. They then get eight months' training at a Navy radio school.

Another inducement is the new Navy policy of giving increases in rating and pay to all Apprentice Seamen as soon as they complete a brief period of recruit training. No other service offers this automatic increase.

Navy recruits receive training in 49 different trades and specialties and thus can continue their education in the Navy. Because they are specialists, Navy-trained men get high-paying jobs later in private industry.

CARD OF THANKS

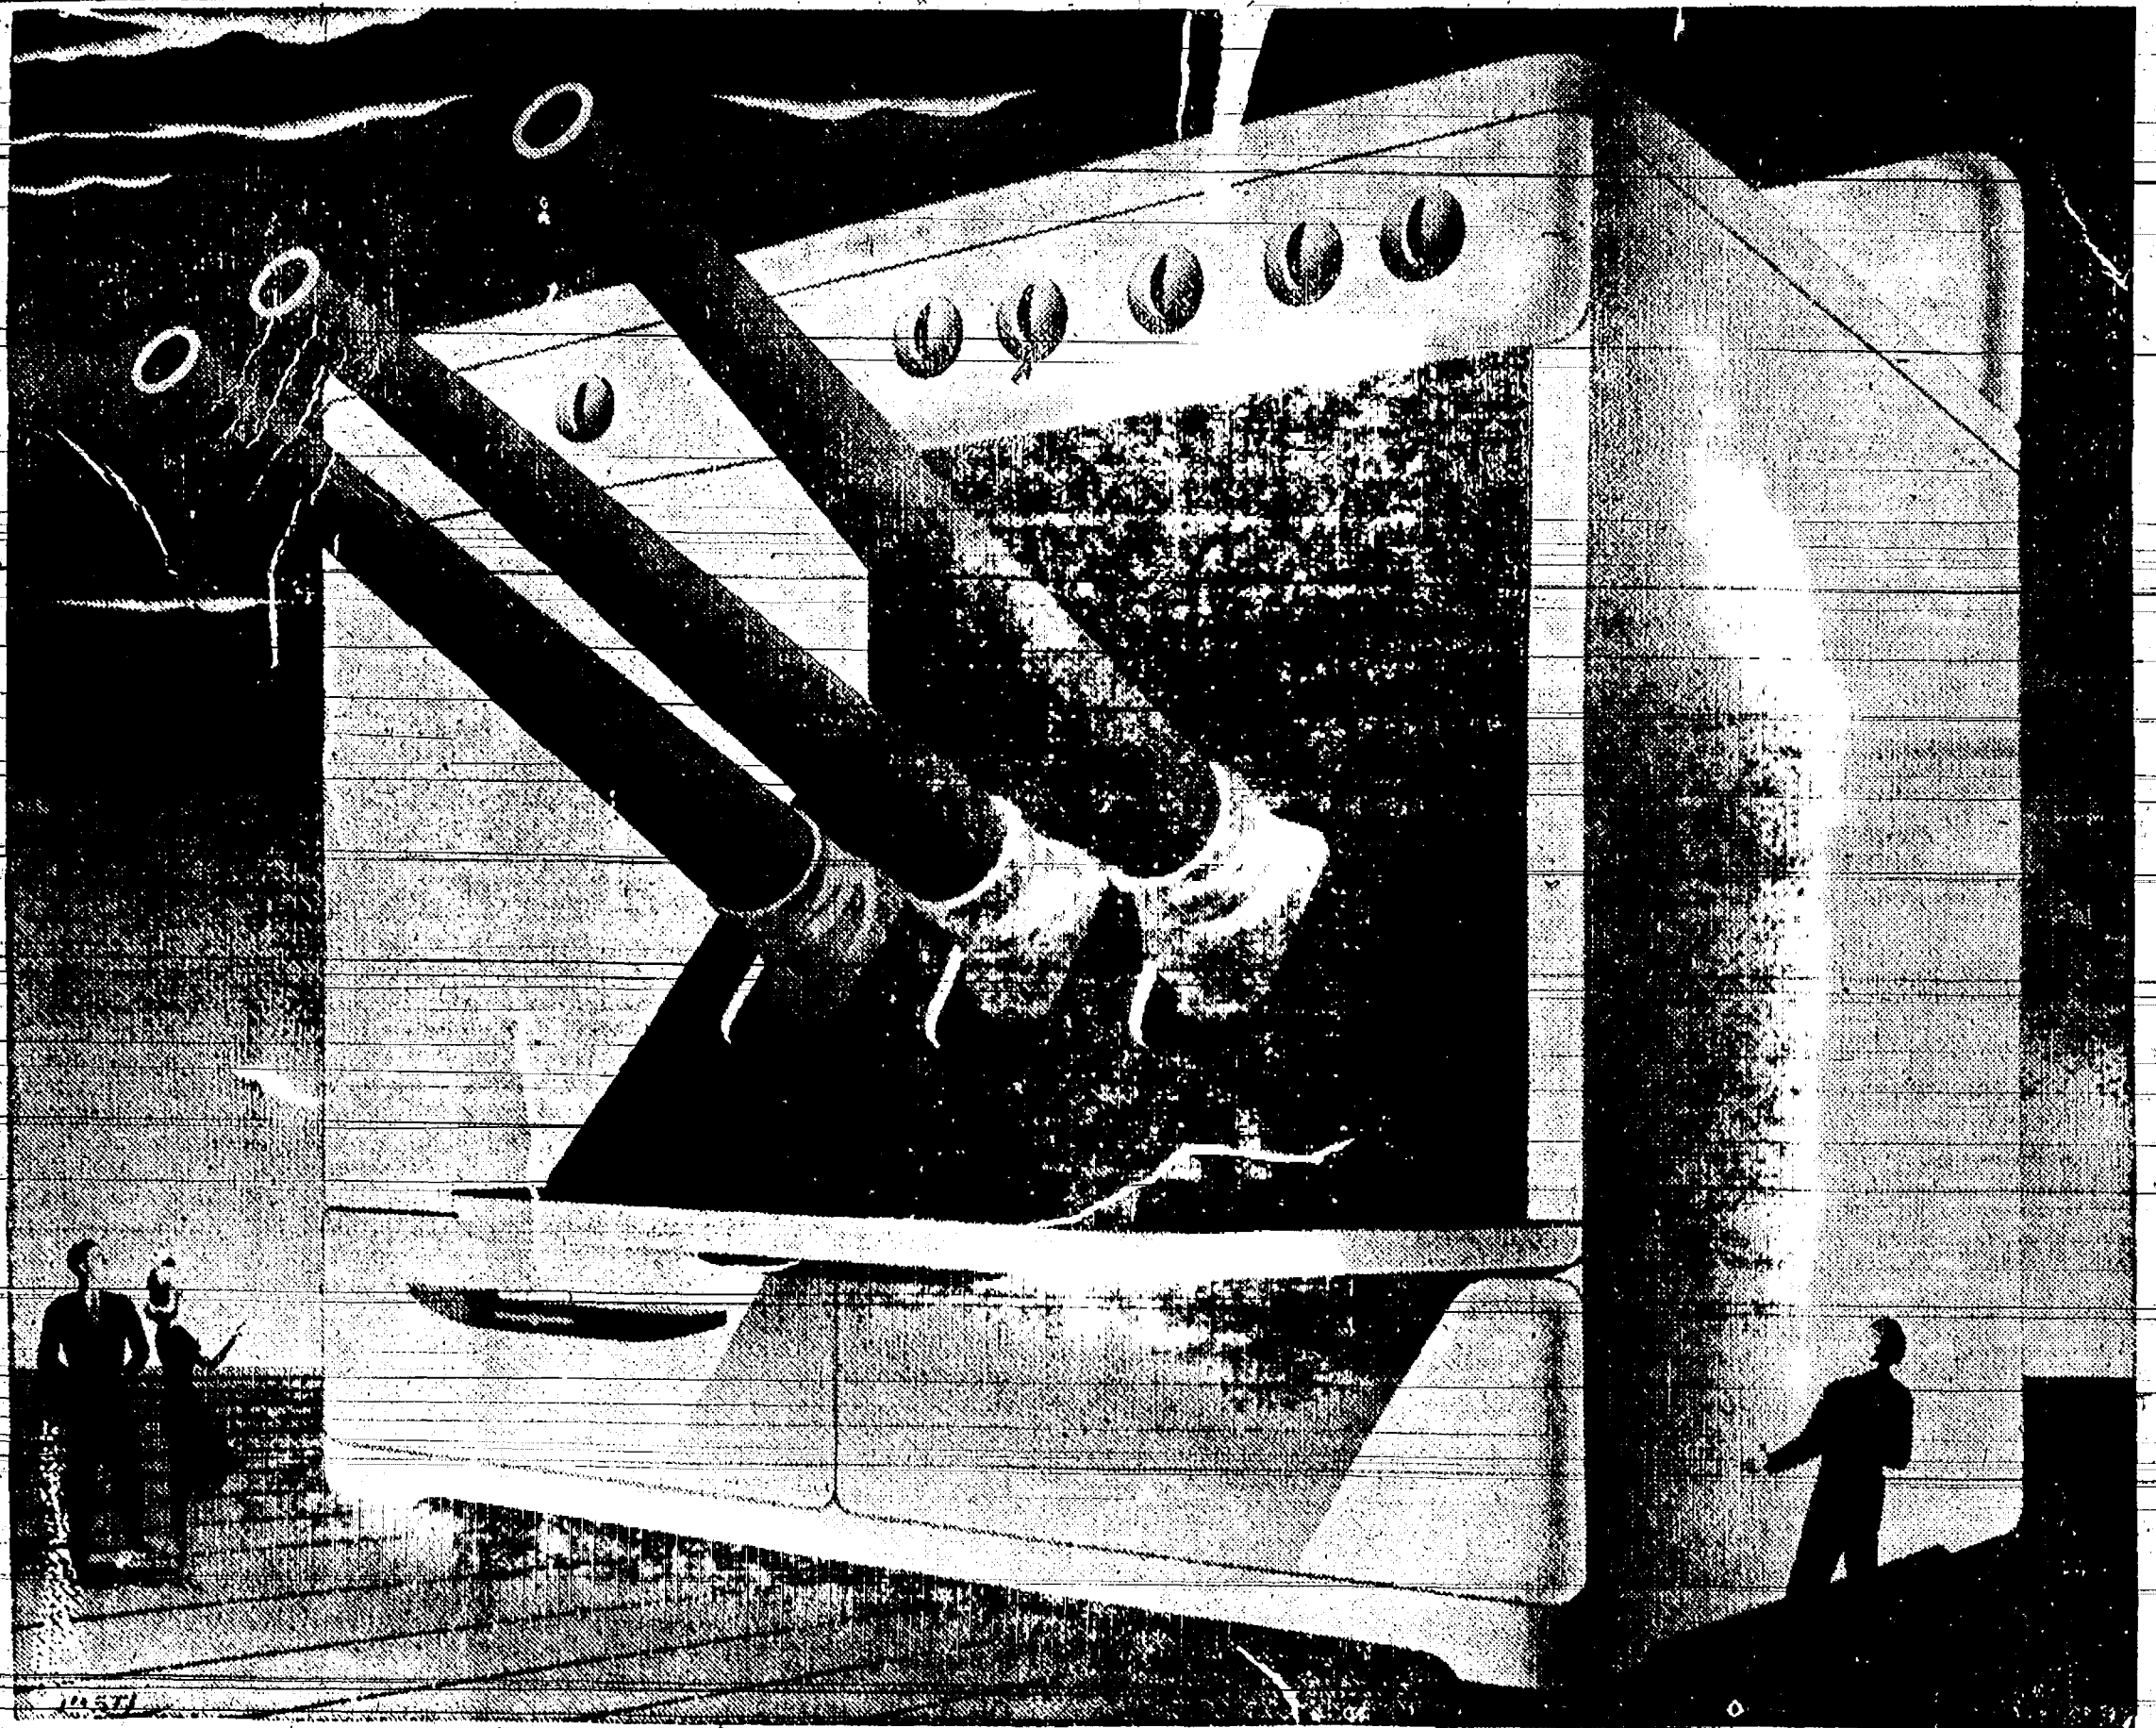

We wish in this way to thank our friends, relatives and neighbors for their many acts of kindness during our recent bereavement.

Battleship Turrets ... baked like a Cake ... with Gas!

You, and 85,000,000 Americans, know the speed Gas gives to cooking ... But think what it means when whole battleship turrets are cooked at one time in Gas ovens as big as a 5-room house!

You know the economy of Gas ... But think of the millions of dollars it's saving the country in heat-treating metal for tanks, guns, planes, ships!

You know how much easier Gas heat is to control ... But think of steel for shells heated to such a fine point it is forced through molding holes like spaghetti dough!

You know the greater dependability of Gas ... But think what it means today when every minute counts ... when furnaces must not grow cold ... when uninterrupted production is necessary for Victory!

TO THE WOMEN: Gas saves time, money and food in every cooking operation. It assures a supply of hot water, economically, instantly. And it helps conserve food safely in silent Gas refrigerators! But remember the importance of Gas for war production. Use what you need—use it wisely—don't waste it!

My attention has been called to a recent railroad crossing accident. Some motorists seem to think that there has been a curtailment in railroad traffic because there has been a driving curtailment. On the contrary, more freight trains are being run on a greater number of schedules. It behooves all of us to be more alert than ever at these crossings.

Reduce your speed when you see a sign indicating a railroad crossing. Look carefully in both directions before crossing the track. Keep the windshield and windows clean and free from frost. Never change gears while crossing tracks. Obey the signals of flagmen, automatic signals, or gates, if there are any, at the crossing. To the good driver it is always train time at railroad crossings. Train your mind to mind the trains.

Beef Fed On Pasture Show Greater Profit

Now that beef production means war effort and farm profit in Michigan, livestock farmers can take heart in new proof that an improved pasture provides the best margin per head-over-feed-costs. In a recent test of 210 head of steers, the pastured cattle made gains worth $24.04 over feed costs, a dry lot group paid $13.07 and a pasture and self-feeder group of steers showed gains of $18.80 per head.

Tests were commercial, on the Upjohn-Richland farm, Richland, Michigan. Working with the farm superintendent, H. A. Fleck, were G. A. Brannaman of the Michigan State College animal husbandry department and C. M. Harrison of the college farm crops department.

Eighty steers were in the lot turned onto 3 1/2 acres of alfalfa-brome pasture mixture. The cattle were charged $7 an acre for the pasture for 109 days. They gained 11,960 pounds appraised at $11.60 per hundred pounds or a return of $1,375.40 for the pasture.

Conditions were not ideal. Temperatures at the nearby Kalamazoo weather station indicated 1.8 degrees above normal in July and more than an inch deficiency from normal rainfall.

During the July and August period a similar lot of cattle on pasture had access to self-feeders. In contrast to the gain from pasture alone, 149 pounds per animal, those with pasture and self-feeding put on 287 pounds. The other lot in dry lot feeding gained 229 pounds from the May 15 to August 28 test period.

Cattle coming off pasture do not have the market grade or finish credited to well finished animals, yet sponsors of the project indicate it is cheaper to feed Michigan-grown pasture than imported corn and other supplements.

Small Game Hunters Nearly Equal Record

Lansing.—In spite of travel troubles, shell shortages and lack of leisure, nearly as many small game hunters took to the field this year as were out in the record season a year ago, before the war, state conservation department license records reveal.

Small game license collections at the beginning of this month for 1942, 1943 licenses were less than one per cent behind collections at the same time a year ago, and within about 80,000 of the 1941 peak. Non-resident licenses, at 3,145 to date, show a remarkable 12-per-cent increase over 1941 sales in the same period and a 57 per cent increase over the number of non-residents hunting here in 1940.

Some may be war workers who have not yet lived here for six months. While it still is too early to compare deer hunting license sales, first collections amounted to more than at a corresponding date a year ago. The new $5 non-resident archers' licenses were sold to 67 hunters, twice as many as a year ago. Sales of trapping licenses (in which the interest is commercial rather than recreational) are definitely down.

Resident sport fishing licenses continue to run two per cent less than a year ago and are now about 73,000 short of the 1941 total of 600,000, while non-resident licenses remain at 12 per cent less than in 1941. Hunting, fishing and trapping licenses collected for the 1942 season to date total more than $1,480,000.

Keep Water Warm During Cold Weather

With electric water heaters difficult to obtain, farmers are confronted with the problem of keeping an ample supply of warm water before their livestock during winter. Ingenuity and care will repay the farmer for the extra work involved. D. E. Wiant, Agricultural engineer at Michigan State college advises:

Providing plenty of warm water (40 to 50 degrees F.) is better for livestock than ice water, requires less feed to offset the cold water, and makes possible use of the feed for gains in weight, or for milk production.

Water as it comes from the well is at the correct temperature for livestock, Wiant explains, and if it can be kept at that temperature, needs no heating. Several methods are feasible.

If possible, the tank should be located inside a building or in a protected place, even to the extent of exposing only a small part of the tank to the stock.

The tank should be well insulated, and a cover provided for it. Use a float to control water delivered to a small tank, thus utilizing water as it is delivered.

Another method Wiant suggests is to run water as needed, and drain the tank after the stock is watered. This requires management and the time of the operator, plus means of disposing of the water remaining after stock drink.

If the farmer prefers, he may change the water in the tank several times a day. This method is different only in that the water would be available at all times. It still makes necessary the disposal of extra water. The cost of operation would be for pumping, instead of for heating. A shallow well pump will deliver about 1000 gallons of water for each kilowatt hour of electricity used.

War-Time Problems Of Women

(By the Consumers' Interest Committee of the Washtenaw County Defense Council)

New fabrics are appearing in the stores in such great variety that we shall all need to be re-educated in our judgment of values. Many mothers thought the rubber shortage spelled the end of waterproof crib sheeting and baby pants, but Yankee ingenuity has come forward with several substitutes used in smaller quantities for some years past. Plastics, synthetic resins and other compounds, now being made into military raincoats and windbreakers, also are used as coatings on ordinary cotton fabrics, and these are manufactured into baby pants and crib sheeting. These fabrics are waterproof, and can be cleaned, like rubber, with warm water and mild soap. They should not, however, be wrung or twisted in any way. These new products, like most other things mothers must buy, carry ceiling prices. Whatever happens in the textile field next year, the government is going to do everything possible to meet the demands of the rising birthrate.

Be sure of the right clothes load for your washing machine. Don't overload it and strain the motor or blow a fuse. The materials, machinery and manpower formerly used to make household articles now are turning out weapons of war. Proper use and care of these articles are the homemaker's weapons in the war on the home front. By prolonging the life of her washing machine, for example, the housewife can save not only rubber and metal, but clothes, soap, electricity, fuel and other things that make up the nation's wartime resources.

The Office of Price Administration and the Bureau of Home Economics of the Department of Agriculture have issued a free pamphlet, "How to Make Your Washing Machine Last Longer", which may be secured by writing to either of the above-mentioned agencies in Washington, D. C. Here are a few of the rules selected from the publication's detailed and illustrated instructions:

1. Know your washing machine. Read the directions that came with it.
2. Make a periodic checkup to see that all bolts and screws are tight. Have the machine looked over by a serviceman at least once a year.
3. Before washing see that the machine is level and steady.
4. Make the wringer the right pressure for the thickness of the clothes.
5. The minute you are finished, release the pressure on the wringer to save the rubber.

ART OF STORY TELLING WILL BE SUBJECT AT NEXT YMSC

Mrs. Travis Cash of Ann Arbor, who is Michigan organizer for the Story Telling League, will speak to the Young Mothers' Child Study club next Tuesday evening, January 12, at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Heydlauff, 151 Orchard St.

She was manager of a large book firm in Chicago and at this time she became interested in books and the telling of stories. She became a member of the National Story League and at the present time is the organizer for the state of Michigan.

Mrs. Cash will illustrate the points of The Art of Story Telling with several stories.

Less Tularemia Cases In Michigan This Year

Lansing—Tularemia cases in Michigan this season have been reduced markedly compared with the previous year when an extensive outbreak established the state's high record of 75 persons infected, according to Dr. S. C. Whitlock, pathologist of the conservation department's game division.

Very few cases have been reported to date, though most of the season's rabbit hunting is past. Hunting in northern lower Michigan until the end of January and in the upper peninsula until March 1 is mostly for snowshoes, which transmit the fever to humans much less often than do cottontail rabbits.

Most unusual case of the season is one in Lake Linden, the first of its kind recorded in Houghton county and contracted, apparently, from a sick snowshoe hare. No cases of infection from outstate rabbits shipped to Michigan markets are on record this year.

Gasoline rationing after December 1, which limited hunting, and the early date at which winter set in may account for some of the drop in tularemia cases, but no completely satisfactory explanation of the decline is available yet. Because of the frequent delay in recognizing the disease, records for the season cannot be closed until some weeks after the hunting period ends.

Michigan Farmers To See College At War

Farmers attending the 28th annual Farmers' Week February 2, 3, 4, at Michigan State College will find the college staff, students and equipment reflecting wartime, but offering tested tips and shortcuts on how to produce the volume of crops, livestock, dairy products and poultry needed in the war effort.

Packed into three days will be the highlights of the practical short course in agriculture that farmers in other years have had available through a five-day period.

A theme and a slogan are announced by E. L. Anthony, dean of agriculture and general chairman of the event. The theme is "Mobilizing Michigan Farm Resources for Effective Production". The slogan is "Feed 'em for Freedom".

Dairy events are scheduled for Tuesday, Feb. 2. An afternoon feature will be the annual horse sale.

Wednesday highlights include a sale of swine and of sheep breeding stock, the annual short course banquet and the crops banquet and an oral picture of Nazi cruelty by Ernest Winkler, refugee, now a lecturer.

Thursday's program includes the appearance of Governor Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota to pay tribute to the hundreds of Michigan farmers selected for their outstanding wartime productions of 1942. In the afternoon, a special cavalry show will be offered from 4 to 6. The annual beef, cattle sale is scheduled during the day. An evening program will open at 7 o'clock with moving pictures from 1942 college football games. At 7:30 a physical fitness demonstration by students will show phases of student training. A concert by the college military band at 8:30 will precede a Spartan basketball game played against a team from Romulus, Mich., ferry pilot trainees.

Departmental programs through the three days will give an open house aspect to offering useful information on horticulture, dairying, poultry, agricultural engineering, soils, farm crops, animal husbandry, plant and animal diseases, home economics, conservation, farm management, forestry, entomology and landscaping.

Improvised Shower Baths

Where there's a will there's a way to a shower bath, even if neither a bathroom nor running water are available. Fill a good-sized sprinkling can with warm water, and fasten the handle over a strong nail driven into a tree or pole or barn door. Slant the sprinkler so that a steady stream of water flows down on the bather. Have soap handy so he can lather himself thoroughly.

INDUSTRY AND BUSINESS AFTER THE WAR

Every American knows that the manufacture of automobiles has ceased for the duration of the war.

The great automobile industry which in 1940 produced and sold more than 3 1/2 million cars, has been re-tooled to produce airplanes, guns, tanks and munitions of war. Where will these companies get the money necessary to resume the manufacture of automobiles when the war is ended?

The automobile industry happens to be important, and there are thousands of smaller industries which will also face the same problem.

What will the millions of workers do when the demand for war machines ceases?

What will happen to the domestic market for farm products when those millions of war workers no longer have jobs?

The stage seems set for an even worse depression after World War II than we suffered after World War I unless right now we start to plan about these surpluses.

It is comforting to learn that Congress is now considering some plan to prevent, or at least to ease, any after-the-war depression.

War Profits for Peace-Time Recovery.

The best plan seems to contemplate the dedication of a portion of war profits for the purpose of providing industry with the ready cash on hand to quickly change to peacetime activity and thus lessen the shock to manufacturing and agricultural surpluses when the war is ended.

A Recovery Bond program has been suggested whereby each industry, big and little, will be required to invest at least 20 per cent of its war profits in Recovery Bonds which do not bear interest until the war is ended and which cannot be sold by the purchaser until peace is declared.

Such a plan would build, at the rate of almost a billion dollars a year, a huge recovery reserve to convert war industries to peace production, launch new products and maintain employment. It would place this reserve immediately and automatically in the hands of those businesses and industries with the greatest after-the-war needs.

The moment peace is declared the "time lock" automatically releases this recovery reserve, the bonds become negotiable and begin to draw interest. Purchasers holding them will then treat them like any other Government bonds, to be sold or used to borrow money. There would be no waiting for a post-war Congressional appropriation, no red tape, and no delay in launching the business and industry offensive that must be launched to prevent depression from unrelievedly threatening.

The plan is simple, practical and fair.

During late years science and research have discovered many new uses for present major farm crops and many new crops which can be used in industry. A plan of this character placed immediately in the hands of industry the resources which can be used to finance further research and to plan for the conversion of surplus crops, surplus factory buildings and the employment of war workers in new and useful enterprises whenever the war shall cease and normal peacetime industry, business and agriculture shall be resumed.

This problem deserves the thoughtful consideration of every American. If we can have the assurance of reasonable security in the after-the-war recovery period we can throw ourselves into an all-out effort to win the war and feel that by so doing we have secured "the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

THREE CHEERS FOR YOU from our men in uniform!

And thanks to you from Greyhound

★ for postponing your trip until after the Holiday rush ★

Thanks to you, a most critical period in wartime bus transportation has been passed with flying colors.

Just before Christmas, Greyhound asked you to "Give your Holiday trips to men in the service". And you who have learned to depend upon Greyhound for travel responded wholeheartedly.

Because you postponed such trips, thousands of men and women in the armed forces were able to go home by bus for Holiday leaves and furloughs. They thank you for the precious hours spent with loved ones—and Greyhound thanks you for cooperating so patriotically.

While helping men in uniform, you also made travel smoother and more convenient for war workers and others whose trips could not wait. It's cooperation like this that makes it possible for Greyhound and other bus lines to carry on the tremendous mass-transportation job so essential to winning the war.

Now that the Holiday rush is past, Greyhound will make every effort to see that the service you count on is available when you need it—and with all the comfort and convenience that war conditions will permit.

We suggest, however, that you phone or call on your Greyhound agent well in advance of any trip. He can help you choose days and schedules that will be most convenient for you—and best for wartime travel.

Pulling together this way, we'll keep America's highways at work for Victory!

Michigan Youths To Be Trained for Farm Work

Lansing—Michigan's civilian defense organization is being called upon by the War Manpower Commission to handle two important assignments in agriculture and industry.

County councils of defense are being asked to form Youth Labor Committees to carry out a program of recruiting, organizing, training and placing young people to assist with farm work in the 1943 season.

C. V. Ballard, chairman of the Agriculture Advisory Committee of the Michigan Council of Defense, is a member of the special state committee set up under War Manpower Commission auspices to direct the work.

Dorr Stack, of the Department of Public Instruction, is chairman of the committee, on which the United States Employment Service, the Farm Security Administration and a number of other agencies are represented.

Members of the State committee are to meet with the county committees in the near future to help them plan their programs in the light of local needs. Complete instructions and forms and printed materials will be given to each committee.

Members of Victory Speakers Bureaus in a number of industrial cities faced with an impending shortage of manpower are preparing to carry on a special recruiting campaign with the assistance of the U. S. Employment Service. Speakers will make theater appearances a key part of their campaigns.

Our Neighbors

DEXTER—The accident that failed to happen is the kind the editor likes best to write about. That pleasure comes to us in a large dose this week as we are able to report the following incident to our readers. Thursday afternoon while an eastbound extra was pulling into a siding here, Agent Ira C. Ott heard a pounding noise from the rails. When investigation was made it was found that 6 1/2 inches of rail was missing from the north rail.

Two passenger trains were also on the siding and the agent's observation a possible accident was avoided.

BRIGHTON—Speaking of weather, which hasn't been sufficiently cold to freeze the ground to any great depth, N. R. Morlan, of Brighton Lake Road went into his garden on Christmas day and dug a mess of potatoes, which had been overlooked in the fall. They were just fine, and were greatly enjoyed. He also brought in some gladioli bulbs, none the worse for their late outdoor experience. Not content with all this, Nate proudly displayed a can of angleworms, just as nice and wriggly as in the good old summertime. If anyone can beat this with a better story, let us hear from you. —Argus.

MILAN—Announcement was made this week by Stanley Dannison, Worshipful Master of Milan Lodge No. 323, F. & A. M. that the Masonic hall would be closed for two months, during January and February. All meetings of masonic orders and affiliated organizations will be suspended during this time. This will include the Order of the Eastern Star, York Chapter, Royal Arch Masons and the Blue Lodge. The action was taken by the Blue Lodge as a patriotic move to conserve fuel and transportation during the cold weather when heat would be needed to continue the operation of the lodge. —Leader.

Office News

Physical Fitness Institutes sponsored by the Federal Government and Department of Public Instruction are planned for high schools in various sections of the state. The Institute for this area is to be held at the University of Michigan, starting this afternoon. Representatives of our school plan to attend the Institute.

Our basketball team plays the Alumni here tomorrow night and the next home game will be January 22.

The Junior play is scheduled for January 29.

Junior Play

Have you heard of Papa Nebo? What is an Ounga? How do you conjure up the dead? Don't know? Then see "Mumbo Jumbo", the new play which the Juniors are presenting on January 29. It is filled with authentic Voodoo folklore as practiced in Haiti, and is the result of much research in this religion by Jack Barnard, the author. He has taken Voodoo out of its mystic West Indian jungles, and placed it in a New England farmhouse, not way off nowhere, but on a busy state highway, and surrounded it with normal human beings. As a consequence, Mumbo Jumbo is, according to Miss Grumbach, who is directing the production, one of the most unusual plays ever given. One moment it's the tensest of mysteries, the next the most nonsensical of farces. One moment it's rib-tickling, the next spine-tickling. But see for yourself, the cast asks. It promises to be a great performance.

Christmas Vacation

Because of gas rationing, not many students from C. H. S. took trips over vacation. They found John's a most welcome spot to while away the dead afternoons and evenings.

James Gaken went to Harrison street for his everyday Latin (?) tutoring.

Margaret Feldkamp just ate, slept (2) and was merry.

Don Alber spent New Year's eve different than most of us—he spent it with a bed and the mumps.

Graduates of '43 (?)

Another member of the most outstanding Senior class Chelsea High has ever had is Richard A. Umstead. He is 5 ft. 7 in. and tops the scales at

Alumni

Christmas Party

A Christmas party for the high school was held Wednesday afternoon, December 23. The Sophomores were in charge of the program, with Jim Gaken as master of ceremonies.

The program was opened by three numbers by the Band, the last of these being a Christmas number. Next on the program was the Chorus, which sang several Christmas Carols. After this Santa Claus came and distributed gifts among the teachers and student body.

This program was enjoyed by everyone.
