W. P. Schenk Taken By Death Last Thursday

William P. Schenk, one of the pioneer business men of Chelsea, was born on a farm in Sylvan township, January 6, 1856, the son of Michael and Mary Webber Schenk and died on June 10, 1943, at the age of 86 years.

He received his early education in the Chelsea schools and later attended Boreas College. His business career was started in the general store at Sylvan Center and in 1877 he came to Chelsea to work for George Wackenhut and later for H. S. Holmes in the present Vogel & Wuester store. In 1885 he formed a partnership with Geo. H. Kempf and B. Parker and in 1892 this partnership was dissolved, with Mr. Schenk continuing in the boot and shoe business until 1894. In 1893 Mr. Schenk built the present store building and organized the firm of W. P. Schenk and Company, which he managed until his death.

He was united in marriage to Jessie P. Curtis on February 6, 1884 and is survived by two sons and three daughters: Rollin J. of Chicago, Ill.; Sidney W. and Mrs. Paul Becker of Chelsea; Mrs. Grace Thayer of Dearborn and Mrs. Don Waller of Clare. Four brothers, John of Chelsea, Adolph of Ann Arbor, Adeline of Kalamazoo and Edwin of Flint, four sisters, Mrs. Minnie Kirkby of Jackson, Mrs. Bertha Pickell of Detroit, Mrs. Herman Dancer of Chelsea and Mrs. H. D. Litteral of Dearborn, fifteen grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

The Rev. Henry Lentz officiated at the funeral services which were held at the Miller funeral home on Sunday, June 13, with burial in Oak Grove cemetery.

Summer Music Classes

Called To The Colors

Chelsea men who left Ann Arbor on Monday morning to report for active duty with the U. S. Army were:

Carlisle A. Atkinson, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Atkinson of North Lake. He was born Aug. 24, 1911 in Greenfield, Mich., and was married July 4, 1941 to Miss Helen Lantis of Stockbridge. He took the oath in Detroit on May 31. Mr. Atkinson has been employed at the Central Fibre Products Co.

Ren L. Hutzler, who has always lived in Chelsea, was born here on Dec. 25, 1914, and graduated from the local high school in 1933. He is the son of Ernest Hutzler and Mrs. Clara Hutzler. On June 24, 1939 he married Miss Janet Maus. Formerly with the Central Fibre Products Co., he has recently been employed at the Federal Screw Works.

George Dale Rabley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rabley, was born March 6, 1914 in Spessardville, Ohio. He graduated from the high school in Shepherd, Mich., Class of 1933, and married Miss Bernice Hummel on Sept. 26, 1936. He has been employed at the Federal Screw Works since coming to Chelsea two years ago.

Since coming to Chelsea seven years ago he has been employed at the Chelsea Spring Co., the Shedd Creamery, and recently at the Federal Screw Works. On Sept. 30, 1939 he was married to Miss Anna Ferguson of Clinton and they have a son, Walter, Jr., three years old.

James H. Rudd, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Rudd of Chelsea, was born Sept. 23, 1915, in West Liberty, Ky. He was married June 23, 1935 to Miss Lois Stinehelfer of Bucyrus, Ohio and they have resided in Chelsea since 1938. They have two children, Ronald, seven, and Maxine, six years old.

Village To Drain Peat
Marsh With New Sewer

Arrangements are being made by the village council for a drain connection which will lower the water level in the peat marsh. This drain will be a continuation of the 18-inch storm sewer which runs from Mill Creek south and follows Grant street to the old D. U. R. right-of-way; then east to Congdon street. The new sewer will be continued east through the Federal Screw Works property, and will follow Van Buren street to connect with the county drain coming out of the peat marsh.

Some of the sewer tile have been received by the village and it is hoped to have the remainder within a week or two so the work can be started. The H. L. Workman Co. of Jackson will dig the trench and village employees will lay the tile.

Homemaking Club Gets Award for Excellence

Members of the Chelsea Homemaking Club received word from the Michigan Home Economics Association that they had received an award of excellence for their work during the past school year.

This award is granted on the basis of service, social and educational activities and the development of leadership. There are 108 high school clubs affiliated with the association. Ten clubs were given this honor this year. Other clubs were Central high school, Grand Rapids; Wayland, Cassopolis, Coldwater; Grand Rapids; Junior College, Wayne University; W. K. Kellogg school, Augusta, and Grand Blanc Consolidated schools.

The Chelsea club is three years old and had a membership of 20 girls this year. Some of the outstanding activities of the year have been the supervision of the Junior Red Cross in the public schools; the style show in December; the Young Mothers' Club dinner in January; and the Mother-Daughter Reception in May. They also sponsored the Home Nursing demonstrations given by Miss Haisel.

This is the first year that the group was affiliated with the National and Michigan Home Economics Association. The Certificate of Excellence was awarded to Madelyn Rowe, club president, at the annual Class Night. Jean Dexter, vice-president, Anna Marie Armstrong, treasurer, and Mildred Schaeble, secretary, with Miss Julia Davies as advisor guided the organization this year.

Next year's officers have been elected and have been installed in a candlelight service. They are: Barbara O'Hara, president; Shirley Platt, vice-president; and Jane Downer, secretary. Keeper of the scrapbook and club treasurer will be announced in the fall.

Foundry Destroyed By Fire On Friday Night

The foundry plant of the Peninsular Furnace and Foundry Co. was destroyed by fire which was discovered about 7 o'clock Friday night.

W. H. Loft is president and Wm. A. Fersch, Jr. is vice president of the company, which employed about 30 men, engaged in war production.

While the cause of the fire has not been determined, Mr. Loft believes that a spark from the cupola might have started the blaze, which spread so rapidly that the local fire department found it difficult to control. There were no employees in the plant when the fire was discovered.

The main foundry building, including patterns and machines, were destroyed, but the office, the mill room, pattern and machine shops were saved, although the roofs were damaged.

The damage, estimated at approximately $50,000, is partly covered by insurance. The company plans to start rebuilding immediately, if necessary materials can be procured.

The wall of the Chelsea Spring Co. building adjacent to the burning foundry was badly scorched and a number of windows were damaged.

A large crowd of spectators gathered to watch the fire, which was the largest conflagration experienced here in many years.

Gives Inspiring Talk To Graduating Class

A very inspiring Commencement address entitled "How To Fail Successfully" was given to the 1943 graduating class of the public schools last Thursday night by Rev. Marshall Reed of the Nardin-Park Methodist church, Detroit.

Rev. Reed emphasized the point that too many people fail because they are guilty of defending and covering up their mistakes and weak points; that the chances for failure will be greatly reduced if one learns to face mistakes and certain personal weak points openly and squarely.

Diplomas were presented to the 31 graduates by Henry C. Schneider, president of the Board of Education, and Supt. A. C. Johnson. Musical selections were rendered by the High School Band and Chorus, and the invocation and benediction were given by Rev. Lee Laige and Rev. Wm. H. Skentelbury respectively.

Women In Industry

NOTE: This is the first of a series of articles contributed by the Washtenaw County Child-Care Committee.

new County Child-Care Committee, dealing with women in industry and the services available for their children. Today's article is on the employers' need for women in their plants.

Many people are asking whether it is really necessary for mothers of young children to enter industry. Members of the County Child-Care Committee accordingly interviewed this week a number of the industrial employers in each locality. They are unanimous on one point: there can be no doubt as to the need of women working in local war industries. At present 88 per cent of the women in Washtenaw county of 16 years or over are engaged in industry, as compared to the state average of 12 per cent. Since this figure includes a very large number of mothers, it can be seen that if women with children under 16 were to withdraw from present employment, our local war industries would be badly crippled. Indeed it appears that many more women will be needed during the next six months, if essential war production is not to be curtailed. As more and more men are called into the armed forces, their places can only be filled by women, and mothers from the largest proportion of the remaining employables.

Lowell Davidson, of the Chelsea Spring Company, said when interviewed this week, "Seventy women are working in our plant at the present time. We expect to employ 35 or 40 more within the next three months." The Dexter Machine Products Company now employ 17 and expect to increase this by 12 in the near future. Added to these are the 600 or more women employed at the Federal Screw Works at the present time.

Industry needs all the help it can obtain. Local employers, however, prefer not to hire a mother with young children unless the children are adequately cared for. The employers interviewed firmly believe that cases of neglect of children by working mothers are few and far between, compared to the many mothers who do see that their children have adequate care. Personnel and employment managers feel that many more women could avail themselves of the day nurseries, foster homes, and after-school canteens which have been established as war services for children in Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti. The clearing house for all such information is the Family and Children's Service, 330 Packard, Ann Arbor (telephone 2-3157), or the Family Service Bureau, City Hall, Ypsilanti (telephone 638).

Each employer stressed the importance of making suitable and lasting arrangements for children before taking on the responsibility of a job, instead of afterward. Otherwise a working mother may become a liability to industry through absenteeism, or because she cannot give her best efforts to her work. She cannot do her job either at home or in industry if she is continually worried about little Johnny or Sue. It follows that proper arrangements for their care are an integral and important part of the war effort.

The silver loving cup and bronze shield which the Chelsea high school basketball team won at the state tournaments at the Ypsilanti Normal and Michigan Agricultural College, have just arrived and are on exhibition in H. H. Fenn's drug store. Saturday afternoon an airplane landed in the field across the road from Geo. T. English's residence just south of the village. Word had been sent to F. H. Lewis of its coming and he had arranged for a landing place and had it marked for the aviator, Mr. Baker, of Detroit. After remaining here for some time the trip to Jackson was resumed, with Mr. Lewis in the mechanic's seat. The trip to Jackson was made in 15 minutes.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Breitenwischer was the scene of a double surprise Sunday in honor of Clarence Breitenwischer's return from overseas, at the twenty-first birthday of Wilbert Breitenwischer. 30 relatives and friends were present and the occasion was a very enjoyable one.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"How about joinin' us in a game, Judge? I'll drop out for a while."

"Sorry, Phil, but I can't today... I'm on my way up to the hospital to see how Frank's wife is coming along. I just dropped by to give you the answer to that question you asked me about synthetic rubber yesterday in the barber shop. I looked it up and found out that the beverage distilling industry's facilities for producing grain alcohol make it possible to include 200,000 tons of rubber from grain in the government's 870,000 ton synthetic rubber program."

"I also verified the fact that no distiller is making whiskey today. They all stopped making whiskey last year and are working night and day, 7 days a week, producing war alcohol for the government... for smokeless powder, chemical warfare materials, medical supplies, as well as for synthetic rubber. It's a mighty good thing these distilleries were in existence ready to do this important job."

BUSES ROLLING

Keep Production Rolling

YOU CAN HELP BUS TRANSPORTATION do its full wartime job by timing your travel wisely—going before or after the July and August rush period, departing and returning on mid-week days rather than on week-ends, getting tickets and information in advance, taking less baggage than usual.

● Buses bound for busy war plants are doing one of their most vital jobs—moving the manpower that keeps the assembly lines moving. Taking men and women to their work in factories or on farms, carrying travelers on trips essential to the war effort, transporting selectees and men in uniform—that's how Greyhound is serving the home-front today.

Almost as important as getting war workers to work is getting them away from work when "civilian furloughs" are in order—when rest and change are needed to get these men and women back to top efficiency.

TOWN AND FARM IN WARTIME

Lower Meat Prices

Effective June 21, meat prices at retail will be lowered from 8 cents to 7 cents a pound by order of the OPA. New prices for cured and processed pork will go into effect on July 5. Reductions in price are smaller on cheaper cuts and larger on the more expensive. As in the case of the roll-back of prices on butter, the lowering of meat prices will not directly affect the farm producer. Subsidies, which begin June 7, will be paid to anyone who slaughters 4,000 pounds of meat or more per month.

Write to Men in Iceland

"American soldiers in Iceland are not getting nearly enough mail from home," said Chaplain (Captain) Peter E. Culom, who recently returned to the U. S. after two years of duty with Icelandic garrisons. "In spite of the fact that the army delivers the mail with promptness and regularity to every army post in Iceland, folks at home are not taking full advantage of this service," Chaplain Culom said.

More Farm Machinery

A total of 300,000 tons of carbon steel with other materials in proportion has been allocated to the farm machinery program for the quarter beginning July 1. An additional 200,000 tons of steel have also been approved for each of the three quarters from October 1, 1943 to July 1, 1944. During the third quarter of this year, special emphasis will be given to the manufacturer of harvesting machinery for this year's crops. The whole farm machinery program has been stepped up.

Data On Prisoners

American soldiers officially reported as prisoners of war in enemy countries to date total 17,088, the War Department has announced. Of these, 11,087 are held by Japan; 3,812 by Germany; and 2,464 by Italy. However, these reports are incomplete. Information in the hands of the War Department indicates that the basic diet of an American soldier in German prison camp is largely potatoes, cabbage, fish, and an indefinite amount of meat.

Leather for Civilians

Manufacture of many civilian leather products, which was prohibited after June 1, can be continued through 1943 out of manufacturers' inventories, under a recent WPB amendment. Among products affected are dress gloves and mittens, brief cases, new upholstery, radio cases, pocketbooks, handbags, cigar and cigarette cases, key cases, tobacco pouches, watch straps and dog furnishings.

Electricity to Farms

Rural electrification loans to 26 systems in 18 states have been made to a total of $1,790,000 for immediate extension of service to more than 1,000 farms qualifying under present WPB regulations permitting connections to farms producing livestock, dairy and poultry products.

Materials for Underwear

Materials for knit underwear for men, women and children will be made available by an action of WPB. Manufacturers have been assured of supplies of cotton yarn, thread, fabrics and other materials to meet essential civilian requirements.

SCOUTS ENROLLING FOR CAMP

With numerous Scouts already enrolled from troops in Ypsilanti, Ann Arbor, Gregory, Saline, Milan, and Howell, indications are that the Newkirk Scout Camp for training Scouts from the 52 troops in Washtenaw and Livingston counties is headed for a busy season, according to a prediction made by O. E. Roszel, chairman of the camp committee. Camp director will be Walter MacPock and waterfront director will be Kenneth Creamer. Other staff members are being arranged for. The 1943 season runs from June 27 to August 15.

Old-Age Assistance To Ag Workers Continues

The Michigan Social Welfare Commission has revised its policies in making new liberalized provisions for old-age assistance to persons engaged in agricultural labor.

Due to the pressing need for farm workers, under the new policy the grant of a person who received old-age assistance in April, 1943, cannot be reduced from the amount he received that month because he is now earning an income from agricultural work.

If there are persons who received old-age assistance in April, 1943, whose grants have since been reduced or cancelled because of earnings from agricultural employment, the grant will be adjusted in accordance with the new policy upon application.

The grant can be made larger than the amount paid in April, 1943, if needed, as established by current bureau standards, taking into consideration all income including that from farm work is greater. However, the grant may be reduced or cancelled if income from other sources increases, or if needs, as for example medical care, are less.

This new ruling has been made in order to encourage recipients of grants, who are physically able to work, to seek employment in agricultural work.

IF YOUR LONG DISTANCE OPERATOR SAYS—

"Please limit your call to 5 minutes.
Others are waiting."

It's because . . .

. . . telephone circuits to the point you are calling are overloaded and your help is needed to clear the lines for other necessary calls.

Much of the time there's an extra-heavy load on many lines, especially those to war-busy centers. And sufficient materials can't be had with which to expand the telephone system.

You can help improve the critical service condition, if you will . . .

1. Make only the most necessary long distance calls.
2. When you must telephone long distance, limit your call to 5 minutes or less.

The sailors said goodbye with beer.
The sturdy tars liked beer a lot,
But you'd have thought it not so hot.
The brewers didn't seem to care
If vats were open to the air.
The flavor changed from day to day,
But no one knew a better way!

Almost a hundred years had passed,
When better beer appeared at last.
For Altes with determination,
Set out to lick the situation.
If we could keep the flavor in,
And keep out air and dust—we'd win!
From first to last we sealed our brew,
That's why it tastes so grand to you!

Father's Day—and Father's Job

Time was when Father's day observance was a more or less standardized procedure. It meant a day of leisure complete with pipe, slippers, his favorite dinner and the usual assortment of gift ties and/or handkerchiefs.

Times have changed. This year, when father has his annual day of homage on June 20, he probably will spend it following up on his early spring Victory Garden plantings. He will be getting healthful exercise combating weeds and bugs in his Victory Garden. Too, those follow-up plantings of vegetables mean a continuous supply of garden fresh food. And father, with an eye on his pocketbook, is willing to exchange his day of rest for a few hours profitably spent in his garden.

WALWORTH & STRIETER

By Gene Alleman

State Treasurer D. Hale Brake recently computed the debts of Michigan local governments and produced this good news:

Governmental indebtedness decreased $87,000,000 between June 30, 1941 and June 30, 1942. In seven years local governments have paid off approximately $100,000,000. Out of the $532 million dollar IOU's existing one year ago, $455 millions were in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties—the Detroit metropolitan area.

The governmental units include 6,353 school districts, 1,266 townships, 309 villages, 165 cities and 83 counties.

When new restrictions are imposed on gasoline use in Michigan, don't be surprised. Unless Washington can figure out ways to get more supplies into the East, Michigan motorists will get fewer coupons and the coupon values will be deflated. Invasion requirements are said to be tremendous and shocking. Eastern Congressmen have also raised the cry of "discrimination".

Michigan Republicans are interested in the statement by Wendell L. Willkie, recent visitor in Detroit, that Michigan and Ohio were key states for 1944. Willkie's stock is reported to be increasing here, despite the Owosso boom for Tom Dewey. Possible reason: The war importance of foreign relations.

Bonus recommendation by Governor Harry F. Kelly at Columbus, Ohio: State governments should supplement federal payment to returning servicemen, but only after Washington acts. Kelly favors an "adequate" bonus payment for every veteran.

The Michigan governor's talk at Columbus stressed the theme, "We won the war and lost the peace," and he urged the Republican party to retreat from isolationism on the premise that "the United States is inescapably a part of world civilization."

Brig. General LeRoy Pearson, state selective service director, announces that 40,000 Michigan men face military service by the end of 1943. Approximately 50,000 men have been deferred to date for occupational reasons.

Capt. Donald S. Leonard, state director of civilian defense, objects to federal policies restricting use of gas masks, helmets and similar protective equipment for air raid personnel. Distribution is now limited to cities. Said Leonard: "It is impossible for a bombardier in a plane three miles high to tell where a city ends and an abutting township begins." Leonard has a feud with Washington's OWI for painting a too-rosy picture of the war.

C. W. Lucas, state highway department public relations expert, decided he couldn't work for a Republican commissioner without being tagged as a "turncoat" by his Democratic friends. His new job: Assistant to Manfred Burleigh, president of the Great Lakes Greyhound Lines. "Lucas goes to Flint for a year, thence to Detroit headquarters."

Michigan's War Fund campaign next fall will emphasize benefits to Michigan servicemen through the USO.

Beef sugar prospects improve with better weather. Little corn planted in southern and central Michigan, and livestock feeding problem is bound to become acute by fall. Farmers may resort to cull beans for feeding. Governor Thomas Dewey's emergency food committee brings a report of impending "crisis", plowing 30 per cent completed by June 10 in New York state. Farm Bureau in Battle Creek advertises for "farm army"; appeals to high school students and office workers for vacation work.

Disease-free kidney bean is developed in California by State University in cooperation with Michigan State College. A carload of bean seed was recently shipped to Michigan.

Strawberry growers will get premium prices this year—possibly double, advises Charles Figy, state commissioner of agriculture. Cherry prices are due to rise also over 1942. Michigan canners are worried about the labor shortage; ask the regional War Labor Board to grant an increase of 15 cents an hour to canner workers.

And don't forget to include root vegetables—carrots, beets, potatoes—in your Victory Garden! Michigan homes will need food next winter and next spring. Plant now before it's too little and too late.

Can Fruits - Vegetables As They Are Plentiful

From now on whenever any fruit is plentiful in the market and as rapidly as vegetables ripen in your Victory Garden, you must can, store, dry, salt, or freeze all that you do not eat fresh for use next winter and through the season—if you want your family to keep well fed all the year round.

People to whom canning is a new experience will be puzzled to know just how much food will be needed to take care of the family needs through the winter and early spring months. Here is a list showing average amount needed for one person:

Fruits and vegetables canned—Tomatoes, 30 to 35 quarts; fruits, 50 quarts; greens, string beans, asparagus, 54 pints; green peas—lima beans and corn, 54 pints.

Fruits and vegetables stored—Cabbage (some may be made into kraut), 20 to 30 pounds; beets, carrots and squash, 50 to 60 lbs.; rutabagas, parsnips and turnips, 25 lbs.; onions, 25 lbs.; potatoes, 1½ to 4 bu.; apples, 2 or more bushels.

People to whom canning is new will not know just how much raw fruit or vegetables they will need to fill their jars. Here is a table of quantities that will help you:

10-qt. crate blackberries, 12 to 14 quarts; 16-qt. crate cherries, pitted, 9 to 10 qts.; 1 bu. apples, 20 to 22 qts.; 1 bu. peaches, 18 to 20 qts.; 1 bu. pears, 25 to 27 qts.; 1 bu. plums, 24 to 28 qts.; 1 bu. tomatoes, 16 to 20 qts.; 1 bu. green beans, 16 to 18 qts.; 1 bu. greens, 6 to 8 qts.; 1 bu. corn, 16 to 24 pints; 1 bu. peas (unshelled), 12 to 16 pints; 8 lbs. of asparagus (whole), 6 pints.

The quality, size of products and method used in canning will of course cause a variation in the amount one can get from a given quantity.

Food for Red Army

Only a small percentage of U. S. lend-lease food sent to Russia is distributed to civilians, the rest goes direct to the Russian army. Since November, Russia has received more food from the U. S. than has England. The Ukraine, North Caucasus, and Crimea in normal times produced two-thirds of the total Russian harvests.

GRASS LAKE—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Serviss were pleasantly surprised by 12 guests Sunday on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary, arranged by Mr. and Mrs. George Wolfe. Dinner was served at the Derby hotel and the afternoon was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Serviss. Guests were present from Chelsea and Alma. A number of gifts were received by the honor guests.—News.

MORENCI—At a special meeting of the City Council Monday evening, it was voted to turn the clocks ahead one hour, starting at midnight, June 13, but only until September 1. The meeting was called to consider a change in the time when a petition signed with about 80 names was presented to the Council asking that Morenci change over to the faster time system which all the rest of Lenawee county and most of Michigan now uses. There has been much debating and some confusion ever since early in the year when the Morenci Council voted to stand with the farmers and the State Legislature and returned to the slower time.—Observer.

BRIGHTON—Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Teeple were treated to an unusual sight the other day, while driving on US-23, near what is known as the Max Buck place in North Brighton. Mrs. Teeple noticed what appeared to be a good-sized flock of turkeys, and called Mr. Teeple's attention to them, when it was discovered that it was a flock of 34 turkey buzzards.—Argus.

WILLIAMSTON—Although of much greater severity, last week's storm did not reach into this immediate vicinity. It came within a mile and a half of the farm owned by W. O. Waters of this place and damaged the buildings on the farm owned and occupied by Clare Hammond, former local barber. The weight of the storm apparently struck between Perry and Bancraft where it was estimated that there were 285 buildings down, including 39 houses and two school houses. Last year's storm south of Williamston did not seriously damage any houses. The loss in Shiawassee county was estimated to be in excess of a half a million dollars.—Enterprise.

Not Too Late For Planting of Vegetables

Farm, suburban and city vegetable gardens still offer good prospects for helping solve the food problem in 1943, advises Paul Krone, chief of the Victory Garden section of the Michigan office of civilian defense and on loan from the Michigan State College horticulture department.

Early lettuce, radishes and green onions may not have been coming out of gardens on schedule and their season is about over.

But, says Krone, there still is plenty of time right now to plan and plant important crops like tomatoes, carrots, beets, corn, beans, potatoes, cabbage, turnips, squash, rutabagas, broccoli and cauliflower.

Peas sown this late probably wouldn't pod well in summer, spinach likely would go to seed in hot weather and in southern counties it's too late to get head lettuce headed before summer heat arrives.

This is a reasonable period on the calendar to put in green and yellow beans and to set out early and late cabbage plants. The early cabbage should take 65 to 90 days to mature. Late cabbage will take about 100 days from transplants.

Beets should be sown now with a second sowing about July 1 and, in southern Michigan, a third beet sowing late in July or early August. The latest beet planting in northern Michigan should be made in mid-July. Rutabagas and turnips should be on the schedule for early July planting, according to Krone.

Cut Seed Use
University agronomists say that the amount of clover and alfalfa seed ordinarily sown per acre can be reduced somewhat if the seed is sown at the proper time and when the soil conditions are suitable. Two the soil conditions are suitable, two pounds of red clover seed per acre will provide 10 or more seeds for each square foot of ground, which would be enough for a good stand if every seed grew.

Almost 60 million pounds of butterfat are being released by the ice cream industry for use on the war fronts. The same action is making available nearly 70 million pounds of defatted milk solids for the use of our fighting forces.

MURDER at PIRATE'S HEAD

By ISABEL WAITT

WALT RELEASE

CHAPTER XIX

The leaky boat in which he had tried to escape was sinking fast, as Albert Parker told us more of his story.

No longer the meek little artist, Albion Potter, who had appeared to share our fears, Parker spoke with the determined accents of a man who has at last accomplished something he had set his heart on doing.

Clustered on the shore, we listened as Parker, just a little way off shore, talked quickly and without any sign of either fear or remorse.

What was done was over with, finished, and that was that.

Parker had told him he threw Roddy Lane's revolver over the cliff. That was what Lily Kendall saw. He knew right away, of course, what it was that had frightened her, and so he killed her.

And he had told us about old man Brown. It seems there wasn't any such person. The body found in the charred ruins of the shed was Roddy Lane's.

His wife, Arlene, had come home to die after Lane cast her off for another pretty face. And Parker loved his wife so much that he had sworn revenge.

Prompted by Victor's questions, he talked on and on as the police boat drew nearer.

"Tell me," Victor said. "You killed Lane the night he came to the Head, didn't you? Rigor mortis must have set in, judging from the way Judy described that hand. How did you happen to leave him there?"

"Yes, when the sea was so handy," Hugh cried.

"I wanted the body. Had to have a body for Brown. Used all Mrs. Gerry had in her kerosene can and the gas from Lane's car. That was stupid of me, but I wanted a big fire, and De Witt's breaking the window of the garage made it easy. She burned like tinder, as you say. Took off the ring and put it in Judy's bag. Sorry, my girl. I was pretty desperate and nearly beyond thinking. Otherwise, I wouldn't have risked that fingerprint in the compact."

"Hurry, man! It was you that Quincy and Judy saw running along the bluff last night?"

"No, that must have been Norcross," he said. "He'd gone the back way, through the woods, up the strip of beach and climbed to the church."

"But you took me to town!" Wylie objected.

"Be quiet!" commanded Victor. "Hurry, Potter. You drove to town three times, didn't you? Afternoon to the movies, for the stub alibi. Again with Wylie and De Witt after supper, when you knew your chances had come because Lane had come to the Head. But you only stayed until dark. Then you came back, after phoning the milkman to cooperate for a reward. Told him it was a Fourth of July prank at the bridge."

"Right. He said the old bridge needed repairing and that was one way to get it done."

"So you left the time bomb, knowing you'd pick up Wylie Gerry, and the only other car out was the minister's?"

"De Witt had said he'd be back early. Wasn't much of a chance. Left my car in the woods, off the road near Gerry's barn. Luckily, I met no one on the neck, and no one at the Head saw me. Kept my lights out. Then I made for the church, after reconnoitering a bit, through the basement door via my pass key. Miss Kendall was asleep on the church steps, worse luck, but I had to take a chance to get Lane out of the chest and into the shed."

"He was in the chest, then? Since the night before? While the auction was going on? Why?"

"Listen, will you? Can't you see the way this tub's filling? The night Lane came I was hidden in the church basement. I was disguised as Old Man Brown. I watched Lane digging where his treasure had been taken out by me. Then I came out of the shadows and told him who I was. 'Get up and fight like a man!'

I cried. 'He was an awful coward. He fell at the first blow of my fist, then he pulled a gun. But I got it away from him and struck him with it. He went down and didn't get up again. I had a skeleton key that would unlock anything. I wanted to go get my little cart from the shack and drag Lane's body there, but I heard someone coming. That Kenial woman was always hanging around the church steps. So I opened the chest and dumped him in. He was quite dead. As evidence against Lane, the gun might come in handy, so I kept it. Later it seemed best to huff it into the sea. I was afraid to fire it for fear of being heard by the person out side, and I wasn't sure it had been fired to make it look like a murder weapon. Besides, I had to be sure the body wouldn't be recognizable before leaving the gun. Then poor Miss Kendall—' he broke off.

What Potter was saying about the gun as he stood off from shore in the boat didn't make sense to me. Later Victor went over it again: How Albion couldn't tell in the dark basement whether it had been discharged, and therefore though it would have been damaging evidence against Lane if found by the supposed body of Brown—a risky weapon to have found on himself. He'd locked the chest with Roddy's body before he remembered the gun.

But Lily Kendall had seen it on the rocks near the Pirate's Mouth, just as Victor had; only Victor'd kept still about it, while Lily showed her suspicion. In a way it was my fault, for if I hadn't made Victor go down to hunt for Bessie's key after our reshuffle of the auction, Lily might not have come upon Potter trying to retrieve the gun.

"And she thought it was yours, Quade," Potter was saying. "She believed you'd killed Lane with it. She never had any fear of me, when I asked her to show me where. But when she leaned over, I struck her with a rock I had ready. She screamed once and my heart stood still. She didn't scream again. I had Norcross' blue scarf in my pocket, and you know what I did with it. Then I scrambled around the cliff, to the beach, to the woods, to my car in Gerry's barn. Heaven alone knows why none of you caught me, though the beach isn't visible from the inn. Same as the night before, after dragging Lane from the chest to the shed in the cart I'd bought for the purpose, which burned up in the shed. Then I put out the shed light and went through the woods to my car, drove to town and picked up Gerry. Saw De Witt's car and got him to help me persuade Gerry, who was tight, to come home. Strengthened my alibi. But Judy nearly caught me in the church basement. If she'd come out the rear door she'd have stumbled over my little wagon."

That squeaky door I shuddered as Potter half-grinned at me. If I'd taken the cliff path!

"While you were pushing Quincy's chair out the front way, I was loading my burden onto the wagon. I knew it was now or never. I'd meant to go back the night before and finish the hiding of that body in the shed, but—well, maybe I got cold feet. The little cart was right behind you on the path—at a safe distance, of course. It was well

But Victor said not a word.

The police boat was almost upon the Eleanor. Would it reach there in time? Just as I was wondering, she slipped into the sea.

Hugh Norcross yanked off his coat, but Victor and Uncle Wylie only exchanged understanding inclinations of the head. The minister began to pray—"Dust to dust! Ashes to ashes!"

Bessie grabbed Hugh's legs and hung on. Aunt Nella and I stood weeping together.

After the wash of the boat—well, I won't go into it. We saw him again for a moment. Then a few bubbles floated on the water.

"Better so," Victor said. "He's paid his debt to society," Hugh said.

"Vengeance is mine!" saith the Lord," murmured De Witt. "It was Aunt Nella who brought us down to earth with 'Lookit!—what he done to Wylie's nice boat!'"

The police launch came chugging up after it was all over. From then on confusion reigned at Pirate's Head. I think I answered a million questions, not that I did any good.

How well had I known Roddy Lane? Was it true that I had sold a radio script about Pirate's Head?

And who was this man Brown? "Just one more picture of you alone, miss."

Wasn't I simply terrified when I saw that hand? (Well, frankly I was, but I'd be darned if I'd say so.) "Where's Mr. Quade or whatever his name is?"

People came from everywhere. Aunt Nella found herself swamped for the rest of the summer. True, some of her guests left the Head—the Norcrosses and Mr. De Witt, but others came to take their place. Pirate's Head Inn had become famous.

Regardless of where an accident occurs, the home, the highway, or any other location, the war production effort suffers.

Falls on stairways are the most frequent type of home accident. Here are four questions you might check into carefully in regard to the condition of the stairways in your home:

1. Are the stairs in your home well lighted?

2. Are they in good repair?

3. Is there a strong handrail on at least one side?

4. Are they kept clear of toys, mops, pails, and other articles which should be put away?

Do not answer yes until you have carefully made a check of each item on every stairway in your home. Accidents are costly no matter where they happen.

NURSE RECRUITING PROGRAM

The American Red Cross has been designated by Congressional enactment to serve as the official recruiting agency for the Army and Navy nurses. We all want every one of our men to return, and an assurance that this will be possible is to supply them with the very best nurses this nation can afford. The great need is for war nurses. The present recruitment program calls for 30,000 graduate registered nurses to serve in the Army or Navy Corps. Qualified nurses, both married and single, between 21 and 45 years, are urged to sign up in the Red Cross War Reserve through the nurse recruiting station at the Red Cross headquarters at North Hall, Ann Arbor. The Nurse Recruitment committee is at the present time making plans for the registration of all graduate registered nurses. The time of this registration is to be announced soon.

The Army Air Forces, because of its diversified activities, offers numerous opportunities for qualified nurses. A considerable portion of these nurses will serve with air base hospitals within the continental limits of the United States. Many, however, will be chosen primarily on a voluntary basis to serve with station and general hospitals overseas. By reason of the large number and wide variety of Army Air Force medical installations, and their organization on the basis of specialized services, it will be possible in most instances to provide nurses with the duty assignments of the kind desired.

The Army Nurse Corps provides the nursing care for all the men in the United States Army wherever they may be assigned. It offers an excellent opportunity for a most interesting career. The Navy Nurse Corps represents a group of carefully selected nurses. The Navy nurses provide nursing care for the Navy personnel and are responsible for teaching and supervising the large group of hospital corps men during their training period. All the actual nursing on vessels of the fleet other than the hospital ships is carried on by these men. Victory comes first, and for this reason nurses must be released to serve with the armed forces. These nurses must be replaced by retired nurses and Red Cross Nurses' aides. Let us bear in mind that every one in this great army, whether she be serving an isolated hospital far overseas or right here in Washtenaw county is actively doing her part as a woman working for victory. It is up to each of you to determine where you can best fit and thus serve the nation.

Expansion of chemical industries on account of war work has made the problem of acid waste disposal more acute. These wastes cause sewer corrosion, and interfere with biological sewage treatment processes, fish life, and self purification of receiving waters.
