Parents Liable Under Chelsea Curfew Law

A curfew ordinance with some teeth in it has finally been adopted by the village council and if the law is properly enforced this new ruling should do much to remedy the growing child delinquency problem in Chelsea.

The most encouraging part of this ordinance which was adopted by the council on Monday night is the fact that responsibility of controlling the behavior of youngsters is placed upon the parents, with severe penalties for laxity in such control.

According to the provisions of this ordinance all persons under seventeen years of age are prohibited from loitering or remaining upon the streets or other public places in the village of Chelsea after 11:00 o'clock p. m. or prior to 6:00 o'clock a. m., unless accompanied by a parent, or unless such person is in the pursuit of a lawful business.

It is a well known fact that delinquency has been increasing at a rapid rate in Chelsea as well as in all parts of the country, and law enforcement officers who are in close touch with the situation know that to a great extent the blame can be placed on the parents, who are so busily engaged with their own amusements that they turn their children loose to roam the streets at night. Liberal expenditure of funds for public recreational facilities will not solve the problem unless parents assume their share of the responsibility in the care of their children.

The village council is to be commended for recognizing this important problem and for passing an ordinance which places the responsibility where it should be, with penalties included which should awaken some parents to the responsibilities which they should have assumed years ago.

The complete ordinance is published in this issue of The Standard and should be read by everyone who is interested in the welfare of the community's children.

Industries Will Provide Emergency Farm Labor

Without a single exception, all factory executives in Chelsea who have been consulted concerning the Kiwanis Emergency Farm Labor program have expressed a willingness to cooperate.

Two companies will each have a list of 25 men who can be called upon when needed. Their regular wages will be continued while they are doing farm work. Farmers will not be expected to pay more than they have been accustomed to paying for relatively inexperienced help. This money can go into the company employee benefit funds or be used in some other way to be decided upon later. Another company will have two tractors and a combine available when emergency arises.

Permanent headquarters have been established in the E. J. Claire & Son store, North Main St., where farmers needing help may call. The telephone number is 2-1611.

Village Lets Contract For Street Resurfacing

A number of streets are included in the village council's program of improvement for this year, with some to be resurfaced and others to be graded in preparation for surfacing next year.

Completion of curbing on Madison street is now under way, and when street work is started the old blacktop surfacing will be torn up and the street will be resurfaced. The blacktop on North street will be torn up and re-sealed. Wilkinson street will be graded and gravelled in readiness for blacktop surfacing next year, and Van Buren street surfacing will be torn up, the street graded and made ready for surfacing next year. It is also planned to curb McKinley street.

The contract for this street work has been let to the T. P. Flynn Co. of Detroit, with the work to be done in August. According to village officials about $6000 will be spent on the streets this year.

He graduated from Chelsea high school with this year's class, and for three years has been employed part time at the Chelsea Quality Bakery. He was inducted into service, reporting to Detroit on Wednesday, and will receive his boot training at Great Lakes, Ill.

Wesley C. Philipp was inducted in Detroit on Monday, June 21 and will report to Fort Custer on July 5. He was born in Jackson on Oct. 9, 1921, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Philipp, and was married to Miss Gwen Fulton on March 7, 1942. They have one son, Barry, born Dec. 1, 1942. Since May 1 they have resided in the Schenk apartments, 208 South St. Mr. Philipp is office manager for the Dexter Machine Products, Inc.

RECREATION NEWS

The summer recreation program begins at 10:00 a. m. every morning and continues Monday through Friday. Miss Grace Riemenschneider and Charles Cameron will direct the activities of the day. See that your children partake of this recreation by sending them to the playground at the Chelsea high school. As soon as the Winters lot is cleaned up it will also be used for daytime play.

The first dance sponsored by the council will be held at the high school gym Friday night, June 25, beginning at 9:00 o'clock. The admission price will be 15c and the record player will furnish the music. The newest song hits have been secured for your enjoyment.

If you are looking for a place to take your lunch to eat outside remember that a fireplace has been constructed at the athletic field. The council will have a table out there very soon.

If you desire to play on one of the softball teams get in touch with Charles Cameron or any manager of a team. There is still room on some of the teams for players.

The girls have been doing some fine singing and fancy fielding on Wednesday and Thursday nights. Better come out to the athletic field and watch these girls play.

Don't forget the story telling hour at the Chelsea Library—at 3:00 o'clock on Tuesdays for 5 to 8-year-old children, and Wednesdays at 3:00 for 9 to 12-year-old children.

Plan on using the tennis court during the day if you are not working. Working people will have a priority on the court after 6:00 p. m.

ATTENTION, H. S. STUDENTS!

As has been done in recent years, the library will again carry out a "Summer Reading Project" during the months of July and August.

The trend, however, is somewhat of a different nature this year. Previously the interest has been promoted through grade children who entered enthusiastically into the project. This summer the reading schedule is offered to high school students who will find book lists at the library compiled by the Book Committee with the cooperation of the high school teachers. These lists will be very valuable in that they will embody material which the students will be able to use as "Book Reports" during the immediate school year. A certain number of book reviews are required of the high school students during the school months and with this in mind, the Library Board is offering this opportunity to that age group this year.

See your Librarian at the Public Library and obtain the book lists that will aid you in future assignments.

HOSPITAL BED AVAILABLE

The Odd Fellow Lodge urges anyone who has sickness in the family to make use of the hospital bed which they have purchased for loaning free of charge. This bed is of the most modern design and should aid greatly in care of the sick. Application should be made to any member of the committee: Floyd Allhouse, Raymond Canine, and Hazen Lehman.

JOSEPH KASTL PROMOTED

Word has been received that Joseph Kastl of the United States Marines has been promoted to Private First Class.

USE TAX STICKERS READY

Federal use tax stickers for motor vehicles are now available at the local post office. These stamps must be on all motor vehicles by July 1.

Recreation Program Opened Monday Night

The summer recreation program, sponsored by the Chelsea Recreation Council, opened with a bang on Monday night at the athletic field, with a crowd of about 300 in attendance.

Three softball games were played simultaneously while the crowd was gathering. The All-Stars and Fibre company split a double-header—the All-Stars taking the first game 2-1 and Fibre taking the nightcap, 6-5. Henry Orbring doubled in the last of the seventh to score Alber from second base with the deciding tally. Walt LaSavage's timely hits brought victory to the Fibre Co. in the second game.

Knickerbocker's Bears downed Holbrook's Lions in a free hitting game by the score of 12-10. The Chelsea Spring girls' team smothered the Federal Sewer girls' team, 17-5.

Kiwanis club members went to the field in a body and immediately put the croquet sets to use. It is rumored that Al Johnson and Rev. Grabowski can beat any two-man team in town. Some of the fellows assisted the young ladies in the fundamentals of pitching horseshoes.

The younger lads busied themselves in playing badminton—a game similar to badminton except paddles instead of racquets and a smaller court are used.

Many of the lads used archery sets for the first time. All evening the youngsters were lined up waiting their turn to shoot at the target. These archery sets may be used any evening and will be placed on the athletic field.

The gaiety of the occasion was brightened by the appearance of the band, although an abbreviated concert was played because of threatening weather. Concerts by the band will be played every Saturday night in the business district for your enjoyment. The band program is under the able direction of Mr. Richards.

The auspicious start of the recreation program is very gratifying to the members of the Council and it is hoped that the interest will grow as the program continues.

First Band Concert To Be Presented June 26

The Chelsea Summer Concert Band will present its first program on Saturday night, June 26, starting at 8 o'clock. This summer the band will be stationed near the main business section of Chelsea.

Individual attendance rewards, amounting to between $5 and $10, will be given to all band members who have good attendance records. Membership in the band will not be confined to high school students, and other musicians in the community will be welcomed. Rehearsals are on Tuesdays at 8:00.

There will also be special classes for beginners and advanced players on Tuesday and Friday morning at the high school. For many reasons the summer is an ideal time to start work on a band instrument. Any who are interested are invited to contact Marshall F. Richards, high school principal.

Women In Industry

NOTE: This is the second of a series of articles contributed by the Washtenaw County Child Care Committee. This article deals with the best way to prevent psychological injury to children when a mother goes into industry.

Women are needed in war industries in increasing numbers as more men leave for the armed forces. So many women are now being faced with the question "to work or not to work" that it is important for them to consider carefully all of the factors involved in making this decision. An impulsive decision may turn out badly for all concerned, and a woman may fatigue the war effort because of the fatigue and distraction with family troubles that may result. Turnover and absenteeism in industry are costly and time consuming. Factories deplore training women who soon have to return to their unsolved problems at home.

What, then, should be considered? First, an inventory of one's family should be made. How does the husband feel about the homemaker leaving her household duties? Is he agreeable to giving up some of his home comforts? Will his own children suffer if his mother is less carefully prepared or his home responsibilities increased? A woman accustomed to factory work and long hours is an easy prey to fatigue and should not hope to carry on both a job and her usual household and family duties. A complete shift in the family pattern is usually necessary. Husbands and children should be consulted about the changes and each encouraged to help make the necessary plans. Mothers of children under the age of 24 years are probably needed more urgently at home than in the factories.

These children are too young for day nurseries and changes are harder for them than for older children. Even older children may feel deserted, neglected, unloved, unless their care is most carefully talked over with them. If the father of a family must be away for military duty, the mother is left with full responsibility for keeping a family unit intact. If she, too, leaves the home, the children may feel that they no longer have a family to whom they are accountable. Children who have been moved to new communities are especially vulnerable, for they feel no ties with neighbors or old family friends. A child at loose ends is a problem to himself and to others. The U. S. Children's Bureau urges that "care and supervision must be available during the entire time of the mother's absence from the home, unless some other responsible adult is in the home during any part of this time."

These are some of the problems which every woman must face and solve before she applies for a job. Otherwise she will take her problems to work with her where they will actually sabotage the war effort.

Once the decision to work has been made, a mother must thoughtfully prepare her children for the change. Even very young children can be proud of their mother's contribution to the war effort. If a child is to stay with another family, he should have plenty of time to get acquainted, perhaps visiting several times accompanied by his mother before she finally leaves him there and goes to work. He may be allowed to take along his own familiar toys.

The same plan can be followed if the child is to go to nursery school. Thus, he can make friends with teacher and children while still feeling secure in his mother's presence. When she must leave, he knows he is with friends. He should be told that his mother will return for him at a definite time so that he has no fear of losing her entirely. Nursery schools in Washtenaw county are manned by trained teachers who can help the child adjust to his new experience.

Older children are better able to understand the mother's absence but even they can feel resentful unless they are consulted and their wishes considered in plans for their care. No child enjoys coming home to an empty house and if at all possible plans should be made for after school care. Lunches are most important, and children's health may suffer unless provisions are made for substantial meals.

Even when children are most carefully planned for, we know that they sometimes react to mother's absence by reverting to babyish behavior—bed-wetting, thumb-sucking, inability to get along with others. These are trouble signals which may be only temporary, and parents can consult with teachers about individual attention to help bridge the difficult period. A child may need repeated assurance that his parents still love him even when they are away. Extra attention during the time at home together will show this. Should the behavior persist, however, it is a definite indication that the mother's absence has inflicted too deep a scar to be easily healed. That mother may be serving her country best by staying at home and personally attending to the wholesome childhood of a future citizen.

By Gene Alleman

For more than a generation there has been walling about the future of small town and rural America. Michigan has had its share of tears shed.

Last Saturday we attended a war conference of the National Editorial Association at Cincinnati, and we heard a remarkable talk about the American Main Street—those thousands of small towns of less than 10,000 population scattered from coast to coast, from Canada to the Gulf, and their surrounding farm regions.

The speaker was the publisher of a small town newspaper, L. A. Rossman, publisher of the Herald-Review at Grand Rapids, Minnesota, presents facts about Main Street which are worth repeating—and we know of no better theme for this week's Michigan Mirror than the small towns and rural sections of Michigan which are bearing the brunt of the 1943 food burden and making a significant contribution to Victory without benefit of "P" awards or publicity balloons.

"Fifty-two per cent. over half of the people of the United States live in rural areas or in villages and cities of less than 10,000 population," said Country Editor Rossman.

"This fact, of vital importance to the case to be presented, is readily established from the census of 1940.

"Distribution of population—In 92 cities of more than 100,000 population, 27,987,989; 29 per cent; in 985 cities of from 10,000 to 100,000—24,727,908; 19 per cent; in 15,675 villages and cities of less than 10,000, and in unincorporated areas, 68,953,378—52 per cent.

"Such figures need no explanation. They are eloquent."

"It has been charged that the automobile and motor vehicle is destroying the smaller communities and building the larger cities.

"Such predictions ought not to be discussed on the basis of sentiment, though that element is involved, generalities or ill founded opinion. There is a better basis, that of fact and thoughtful observation.

"Available to every citizen is the census of 1940 and its comparisons with previous years. Therein population is divided into two classifications, with rural which includes all villages and cities up to 2500 people, and the urban which includes those communities of more than 2500. Here is a table showing the comparative increase in urban and rural population by decades:

Decade	Urban	Rural
Ending 1910	39.3%	9.0%
1920	29.0%	8.2%
1930	27.3%	4.4%
1940	7.9%	6.4%

"These facts show the general trend of population from rural to urban over a period of 40 years.

"That general change came from certain obvious causes. The primary reason was the great development of industry which thrives upon cities and tends to build great centers of employment and population. At the same time that industry was passing through its great mechanical changes, agriculture was also becoming mechanized. The great farming frontiers were nearing development.

"One of the greatest developments in the economy of the nation is the change of trend in population from country to city and a condition of obvious stability in the balance of these two great parts of the nation's population.

"In truth, it is interesting to hear the dire predictions of today that the large cities are to lose in population and prestige. The cities are disturbed because so many of their people are moving into outlying areas. This condition has its particular effects upon the cost of government and the value of property in metropolitan communities.

"In the last census period six out of twenty of the largest cities of the nation lost in population, six had but insignificant gains and the whole group had a population increase but approximately half that of the rest of the nation.

"In the decade ending in 1940 the population of the whole nation increased by 7.2 per cent, the population of the rural areas increased by 6.4 per cent and the population of the twenty largest cities increased by 4.7 per cent.

The assumption that the automotive age was to adversely affect rural and small town America has never been reasonable or warranted.

"People in smaller communities or rural areas depend more upon transportation than those of large centers of population. To improve, to revolutionize, transportation facilities cannot help but aid those people and those communities dependent upon them.

"It is true that the automobile sometimes takes people from a smaller community to trade in a larger center. But at the same time it brings the whole countryside in closer contact with local centers of trade. The farmer who was once perhaps hours from the nearest village now finds himself but a few minutes distant from town.

"There is still another factor. The smaller community of a generation ago had its lively stable, a noisome and interesting institution. Today the sale and servicing of automotive equipment is the largest commercial enterprise in town. There is a gasoline filling station on every other corner. It requires more people, spread throughout America, to sell and service automotive vehicles than are needed to manufacture them in the large centers of industry.

"Again, look at the facts. The trend in population, from rural to urban, in the last generation was largest in the first decade of the century at a time when the automobile was just being developed. It was less in the next decade. That trend was less apparent in the years from 1920 to 1930 despite the great activity in industrial centers. In the last decade, when the number of motor vehicles was greater than ever before and the highway system of the nation most adequate, the trend from country to city had practically disappeared."

Yes, times have changed, and the Michigan small town today has many advantages which formerly were in the exclusive possession of large cities.

City and country know of no general distinctions in merchandise. The silver screen reflects the same Hollywood films. The same radio program comes into the homes.

And, as every politician knows, control of government in America rests with rural small town and small city America. Proof: In 29 states of the union the rural population exceeds the urban.

When you start to bemoan the fate of small towns, think twice. The facts tell an entirely different story.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Mornin', Judge... meetin' someone?"

"No, Sam, I'm just going up the line away on business. Wasn't that a troop train that just pulled out?"

"Sure was, Judge... stopped over here for ten minutes and what a swell bunch of fellows they were."

"That's true all over, Sam. Our present Army is the best trained, best disciplined, best behaved in American history. That's why I get my hair up when I hear of some people trying to dry up the areas around

Army camps. Why, in a recent report made by the government, it said the Army usually prefers its camps to be located in wet instead of dry communities. And there's a sound reason. In a wet community the Army can control drinking. In dry communities where bootleggers run wild it's almost impossible. We know that from our nearly 14 years of experience with national prohibition.

There's no getting away from it, prohibition does not prohibit.

ODT has defined trips for the following purposes as non-essential: (1) To other cities to visit friends; (2) Home for the weekend; (3) Sightseeing; (4) To the theater, races, or other places of amusement; (5) Any social travel or travel for pleasure; (6) Travel merely for the sake of going somewhere.

seas or children born after the father has departed for overseas may be sent by V-mail under certain conditions, the War Department has announced. The regulation form must not be altered in any manner and the photograph is limited in size to not more than one-third of the correspondence space on the V-mail form. The photograph must appear on the upper left portion of the correspondence space. It may include the mother or some other person holding the child.

Victory Tax Collections

The Victory Tax, which to date has been withheld from wages and salaries above exemptions, at the rate of 5 per cent, will be included in the 20 per cent withholding plan provided for in the current tax payment act, on or after July 1. Total Victory Tax collections as of June 5 were $682,382,023.20.

Gas and Tires for Farm Machines

To assist grain farmers in harvesting 1943 crops, the War Food Administration has made arrangements with ODT and OPA to assure owners of custom-operated machinery sufficient gasoline and tires to run their equipment, especially itinerant combine operators who will soon be working in the wheat harvest.

Tax Workers Will Be Needed

Between 10,000 and 15,000 new employees will have to be added to the Bureau of Internal Revenue as a result of the new system for the pay-as-you-go income tax law which goes into effect July 1. Most of these employees will be placed in the various field offices and the majority of them will be women.

Tools for Farmers

Wrenches, pliers, screwdrivers and other mechanics' hand service tools should be more generally available to farmers and home mechanics as a re-

Apply for Fuel Now

Occupants of oil-heated homes should apply now to their ration boards for next year's fuel oil allowances to assure adequate supplies before winter, declares OPA. About one-third of the coupons in each consumer's ration sheet will be valid on July 1 to enable householders to get deliveries, even months in advance of cold weather.

Barbed Wire Available

Approximately 20,000 tons of barbed wire with extra-long bars, made for military purposes, will be used to meet a shortage of barbed wire on farms, according to WPB. The action is part of the Office of Civilian Requirements' program to make needed supplies available to farmers. The wire shortage was aggravated by the recent midwestern floods which washed out many miles of fence.

National Honors Won By Herds At M. S. C.

Two Michigan State College dairy herds, in addition to their wartime service in research and education, have been awarded top national honors by breed associations.

For the second consecutive year the Michigan State College Jerseys have been admitted to the Constructive Breeders' Registry. Requirements include a type classification scoring at least an average of 82. The college Jerseys scored an average of 83.3, which is better than a breed "good plus" rating.

Nine of the Jerseys in production had an average of 8,280 pounds of milk testing 5.1 per cent fat or yielding 420 pounds of butterfat in a year of testing, according to R. E. Horwood, college staff member in charge of the herd records.

The other high honor went to the college Holsteins, the third time the East Lansing animals have been given the Progressive Breeders' award by the Holstein-Friesian association of America. Only 51 herds in the United States have ever received this award.

Eleven of the college Holsteins were considered in the merit test. Production averaged 498 pounds of butterfat in 13,705 pounds of milk. According to type classification, the college Holsteins on test average nearly 82 compared with the 79.3 score for the rest of the herds officially classified by the national breed association.

Other Michigan herds previously awarded the honor one or more years include the Michigan State College experimental station herd at Chatham; the Ionia State Hospital and the Michigan Reformatory herds at Lonia; B. A. Eldridge, Crystal; State House of Correction, Marquette; Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, Rochester; and State Prison of Southern Michigan, Jackson.

Our Neighbors

DEXTER—Walter Breuninger, of Marshall road, near Dexter, was injured recently in an explosion, and lost the sight of one eye. Since that time he has been confined to his bed much of the time. Monday of this week his neighbors got busy with an old-fashioned "bee," plowed the ground and planted 35 acres of corn on the Breuninger farms. Thirteen tractors with the necessary crews, did the work while neighbor wives baked good things to feed the workers. Mr. and Mrs. Breuninger have lots of friends in this neighborhood who hope soon to see Walter out and around again.—Leader.

WILLIAMSTON—The planting of sugar beets in the Williamston area is about 75 per cent of the acreage planted here last year, according to K. G. Brown, of the Michigan Sugar Co., speaking before the local Kiwanis club Monday night. About 450 acres are contracted for this year, he said, as against about 600 last year. He attributed the decline to both labor and weather conditions. In spite of shortage of labor for the harvest, Brown said that last year's harvest in this area was the largest ever harvested here.—Enterprise.

One of our every two families have at least two workers. Figure it out yourself how much beyond 10 per cent of your family income you can put into War Bonds every payday.

He Travels with 10½ Tons of Luggage

Johnny Jones is about to take a sea-trip. Whether his destination is the Arctic, the Tropics or an unnamed port on the Continent, he is the best-equipped traveler that ever stepped up a gangplank.

For an average of 10½ tons of supplies and equipment goes overseas with every American soldier... and after he lands on the other side, he'll get another ton-and-a-half a month to keep him going!

Almost every pound of these military supplies speeds over America's hard-working rails... in addition to organized troop movements totalling 2 million men monthly, and about the same number traveling on furlough.

Add this to the tremendous volume of freight that flows to and from the nation's war plants... plus the increased number of civilian passengers traveling on essential war-business. Then you can understand why passenger and freight traffic on the New York Central—which serves the busy heart of industrial America—has more than doubled since World War II began.

But although the Central's traffic load today is more than twice as great, it must be carried with limited new equipment. That's why we suggest that, if you are planning a trip, you consider:

Our soldiers can't travel light... but most of the rest of us can!

Troop movements must go through on schedule... but most of us, with little inconvenience, can plan ahead to travel during the week instead of on crowded weekends.

Our soldiers must travel at certain times to make the most of their few days' furlough. Therefore, the rest of us should cancel reservations immediately when plans change... so that they may use the seats or berths that might otherwise be wasted.

Every locomotive, every car, every seat, every berth must do a full-time job. With your help and understanding, it will be done!

LAST CHANCE —for a long while

"DEAREST MOM," he wrote from a camp in California, "it looks like we'll be moving out soon. Can't tell where we're headed, of course. But I've got a 24-hour leave next Saturday, and I'll be visiting your friends, the Wrights, in Pasadena. You can call me there, on long distance, about 7 o'clock, your time. Gee, Mom, I've been homesick to hear your voice, and maybe this is the last chance for a long while..."

His mother cried a little as she went to the telephone at 7 o'clock, but her voice was steady when she asked for the Pasadena number.

"I'm sorry," said the long distance operator, "all our lines are busy now. I'll call you as soon as there's a circuit open."

So she waited, thinking of the things she wanted to tell her boy. An hour—two hours—three. And when at last the call got through it was too late. The young soldier's leave was up. He had gone back to camp.

With long distance lines overloaded night and day, urgent civilian calls often are delayed. You and you alone can judge whether your call is vitally necessary.

Please make only the most necessary long distance calls.

If you must make a long distance call, be as brief as possible.

Girl Scouts Enjoy Camp

By Jean McClure

The Girl Scouts of Chelsea, consisting of Troops One and Two, arrived at Camp Lakona, Clear Lake, at 6:30 on Sunday night, June 13, a very excited and happy group. We got partly settled (7) that night. The program for the next day (and all the week) went as follows:

7:30—Reveille.
8:00—Flag raising.
8:05—Calisthenics.
8:15—Breakfast.
9:00—Camp-capers.
10:00—Assembly.

Swimming—10:30, swimmers; 11:00, beginners; 11:30, non-swimmers (with classes in the meantime).

12:15—Dinner.

1:00—Canteen.
1:00 to 2:00—Camp-capers.
2:00 to 3:00—Rest hour.

6:30—Boating and camp-capers.
8:30—Campfire.

On Monday night we wrote silly poems about each other. Some were very good and all were funny.

On Tuesday night we had an Indian powwow in which some girls acted out the play "How the Indians Saved John Smith." On Wednesday the rain almost spoiled the day but we went on the hike. We had planned to the county park. Some went back to camp rather wet.

Thursday night was a stunt night in which each cabin gave a stunt. Cabin One had a bathing beauty wedding; Camp Two, Camp Lakona; Canteen Girls; Cabin Three did Snow White and the Three Dwarfs; Cabin Four, The Light House; and Cabin Five, Cincinnella (instead of Cinderella).

Friday was ghost night, but before we went to the ghost-house we roasted marshmallows (say "Louie" how did "Pinkie" come back to life so suddenly?).

Saturday was the water carnival from 10:30 to 12:00. We had races in all classes, also fancy diving.

We came home at 5:00 in the afternoon. We enjoyed every minute of the week.

"Last, but not least, in transferring to the child his cultural heritage, we must not neglect story-telling, and the reading to him of well-selected stories . . . Nothing will lay a better foundation for the child's own reading ability later on . . . it does the building up of his whole personality, is actually preparation for life."

SOFTBALL LEAGUE (Men's League)

Standings

	W	L
All Stars	2	0
Central Fibre	2	1
Cassidy Lake	0	1
Chelsea Spring	0	2

Last week on Monday the All Stars gained their second victory by defeating Central Fibre, 6-5.

With Bob Eaton pitching some splendid ball and the great hitting by Jim Gaken the All Stars won victory number two. Fibre took a 5-2 lead going into the last half of the sixth when the All Stars scored 4 runs. Two hits, an error and two bases on balls followed by Gaken's double with Alber and Kusterer on base put the game on ice for the All Stars.

Central Fibre came back to pound out a 17-8 win over Spring on Thursday. Fibre did some real hitting, along with some spring errors, to win their second victory.

The Cassidy Lake vs. All Stars game scheduled for Tuesday was washed away.

Mrs. Charlotte Van Ness, Mrs. Lila Thelan, daughter, Albena, and Miss Phyllis Bennett of Jackson, Howard Thelan of Great Lakes, Ill., and Henry Thelan of the U. S. Navy spent Sunday afternoon and evening as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Lindauer.

BUT WINDSTORMS DO!

READ THE STORY BELOW THIS PICTURE

This is a picture of the second wreck on this property, belonging to Dora Westfall and located two miles west and four miles south of Fowlerville. The first wreck occurred May 29, 1942, loss $2,568.94, and the other loss caused by this year's storm, April 27, was $6,465.00. The Michigan Mutual Promptly Paid these losses. It is interesting to note that these two buildings stood on exactly the same spot.

TWO STORMS — TWO LOSSES — ONE SPOT

There is no telling where the next windstorm will strike!

Although windstorm losses have been very heavy each year since 1939 ($2,367,145.74 in the last five years) this company has paid its policyholders losses without borrowing money or increasing the annual assessments of 15c per $100.

Federal Game Control Is Opposed By MCC

Lansing—A congressional move permitting control of wild life by federal agencies on federally owned land will be vigorously opposed by the Michigan conservation commission, it was revealed this week. The commission was unanimous in its criticism of the McCarran bill, recently introduced in Congress, which would give federal agencies authority above that of state agencies in controlling wild life on government properties.

Effect of passage of the bill in Michigan would be to force the state to relinquish control of wild life on 2,000,000 acres of northern forest lands owned by the U. S. Forest Service, as well as on several federally owned waterfowl refuges.

The conservation commission at its June meeting voted to protest passage of the measure and authorized Director P. J. Hoffmaster to appear before the senate committee if it should become necessary.

The bill provides that any government department or agency supervising any public lands or reservation may ask the states to permit reduction of wild life populations on such lands, should it be deemed necessary. If the states refuse the requested permission, the federal department or agency may, of its own volition, take such action regardless of the state's decision. The federal agency could issue special hunting and trapping licenses and accept fees for them to take wild life on the federal lands.

Cooker Ration Plans For County Announced

Pressure cooker ration plans are now completed according to the Advisory Committee for rationing pressure cookers which has been appointed by Fred Blumhardt, chairman of the County U.S.D.A. War Board. This advisory committee functions under the county farm machinery rationing board which is headed by Leo Heatley.

To obtain a pressure cooker for canning, an application, Form M.R. 20a, must be filled out and sent to the Farm Machinery Rationing Board, 201 E. Liberty St., Ann Arbor. Both city and rural applications must be turned in to this board. Applications may be obtained by calling or writing to one of the following:

Farm Machinery Rationing Board, 201 E. Liberty, Ann Arbor.

Home Demonstration Agent, Court House, Ann Arbor.

Home Service Dept., Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., Ann Arbor.

Home Economics Dept., Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti.

The application when filled out may be returned by mail. All applications must be submitted on or before July 10, if they are to be acted on for early summer canning.

If your application is approved by the advisory committee for rationing pressure cookers a purchase certificate will be issued to you which must be presented to the store before they are allowed to sell you the cooker. It is probable that the price of these cookers will range from $13.50 to $15.00.

Purchase certificates will be issued to those families or organizations who will be able to obtain the greatest possible amount of home canned non-acid vegetables and meats. If you intend to share the cooker with neighbors or relatives, each individual entering in to the agreement to use the cooker is required to sign the application form in the space provided.

Here's the clincher for me

THIS is my kid.

He's a pretty good kid.

I always used to figure he'd get along all right in the world, the same way I did.

But a war starts you thinking.

Nobody knows for sure just what kind of a world my kid will have to grow up in. But whatever kind of a world it is, a little money behind him will help.

That's why I'm salting money away for him now.

I'm not taking any chances with his future. I'm guaranteeing it in the best way I know how.

Every pay day, nearly a quarter of what I make goes into War Bonds. Not just when I can spare it. But every single pay day—week in, week out.

It's taken right out of my pay, on the Payroll Savings Plan. That way, I hardly miss it. But it mounts up fast.

And every one of those War Bonds will pay back four dollars for three.

Pay it back when my kid may need it most.

Sure, I'd be buying bonds anyway. I know the Government needs money to win the war. And, it's the least sacrifice a guy can make for the country that's been good to him.

But the clincher with me is my kid.

CHANCES ARE, you're already in the Payroll Savings Plan—buying War Bonds—doing your bit. But don't stop there. Raise your sights! Do your best!

How millions of Americans have done their bit—and how they can do better:

Of the 34 million Americans on plant pay rolls, nearly 30 million of them have joined the Payroll Savings Plan. (If you aren't in yet—sign up to-morrow!)

Those Americans who have joined the Plan are investing, on the average, 10% of their earnings in War Bonds. (If you haven't reached 10% yet—keep trying!)

But

America's income this year will be the highest in history—about 125 BILLION dollars! In spite of all taxes and price rises, the average worker will have more money than last year—more than ever before!

That is why Uncle Sam has a right to ask us, individually, to invest more money in War Bonds, through the Payroll Savings Plan. He asks us to invest 10% or 15% or 20%, but all we can!

YOU'VE DONE YOUR BIT --- NOW DO YOUR BEST!

I have repeatedly warned motorists about the careless practice of backing up without looking.

Hindsight is as important as foresight. The rear view mirror should be so adjusted that you will always have a clear view of the road behind you. This is not only advisable for truck drivers but also for the passenger car operator.

Many drivers park their cars near the curb and leave it for a few minutes. Upon returning they find that someone has driven ahead of them and in order to get into the road they make a sudden backward movement only to find that there has been an accident.

Keep your rear view mirror clean and so adjusted that it will give you a clear view of the road behind you.

Many drivers park their cars near the curb and leave it for a few minutes. Upon returning they find that someone has driven ahead of them and in order to get into the road they make a sudden backward movement only to find that there has been an accident.

Keep your rear view mirror clean and so adjusted that it will give you a clear view of the road behind you.

PRIORITY FOR FARMERS—For over 40 years farmers have enjoyed A-1 priority on foot comfort in Wolverine Shell Horsehide work shoes. They're literally kid-soft even when brand new and stay soft always—even dry soft after soaking. That's because the leather is triple-tanned to amazing softness by Wolverine's secret process which retains all the wear-defying toughness for which Shell Horsehide is famous. See 'em—try 'em on at Quality Shoe Repair.
