Pfc. Prinzing Tells Of North Africa Invasion

Pfc. George J. Prinzing, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Prinzing, has written an interesting letter to his parents which tells of his trip across the Atlantic last fall and also of the invasion of North Africa, in which he participated. This censored letter, written by George, who was inducted July 24, 1941, and is a member of the Coast Artillery Anti-aircraft Division, follows:

North Africa. Since the campaign has ended restrictions have been lifted quite a bit. It seems that we can mention all the places we've been at up until a certain specified date.

We embarked from the States on the 26th of September with a large heavy escort. The trip was uneventful except for the few instances in which we were told that the navy had spotted and sunk Axis submarines. One of our chief diversions during daylight hours was watching the boats in the convoy change positions. The swells were tremendous, almost engulfing the boat on several occasions and due to that fact many of the boys were "riding the rails." On board ship we were able to enjoy the last few luxuries afforded in the States such as ice cream, candy and the like. Of course you had to sweat out a line for a few hours.

Our boat finally pulled into the docks at Belfast, Ireland. We've endured the most miserable weather of the whole trip at this place. It was well named as being the land of liquid sunshine. It rained at least once every day of our short stay, and that once lasted all day. On the few occasions we had to visit the city we had a very enjoyable time. Being all good things come to an end we were ordered back to the boat after one week. We sailed with a much larger convoy this time and the destination was a matter of guessing. We had no idea what we were headed for. After traveling quite a few days at sea, seemingly in circles, we passed the large boulder that was the Rock of Gibraltar. After seeing this most wonderful sight we guessed our future destination was somewhere along the Mediterranean. The Mediterranean itself was truly a beautiful sight. Our last few days on this sea were spent mostly by basking in the hot sun. During the last days Axis reconnaissance (Continued on page two)

QUIETER, PLEASE!

Two weeks ago we published an article asking people to quiet their radios at night and suggesting that sounding of train whistles at night be discontinued. These suggestions have brought to light problems of others who work nights and try to sleep during the day. Following is a communication from one such worker:

Last week there was an article in your paper about the complaints of people who are being kept awake at night. Did these people ever work at night and try to sleep in the daytime when every child in the neighborhood can't find any place to play or carry on their quarrels except under your bedroom window? Or listening to a radio bleating as loud as it can on how to keep the waistline down or to one of the serial stories? The women can't go to their neighbor's house to visit—they have to stand in their yards and "holler," and it is always to someone about three houses away. There are always cars being driven around, some clatter so you wonder what is holding them together. If these people who are complaining so about a train going through town were to change shifts they would soon thank God for a chance to go to bed at night.

Here's another communication from an irate citizen who doesn't enjoy the howling of dogs during the night:

How oft in the still night, 'gainst the background of suburban silence and darkness, and just when, after counting the prescribed number of sheep, you have finally fallen into peaceful slumber, yack, yack, comes the sharp staccato and insistent yapping of the neighbor's dog.

At first you are very patient—you think he'll yip a few times and then stop, but ohhh no, brother, you don't know this dog—he is indefatigable, his lungs are excellent and he's prepared to go on and on ad infinitum. You can't miss this—it's worse than an alarm clock, because you can't reach out, shut it off and go back to sleep. Ohhh, if you could get your hands on that dog! A half hour passes—he's still at it—you decide to give him an hour, then call the police. How oft, I said, and add, with emphasis, too damned oft!

Speaking of train whistles, automobile horns, and what-not, let's class this among them as public pest No. 1. And not only at night is this thing a nuisance, for as we all are very well aware, people are sleeping, or trying to, during these hectic war days when they must return to the factory and work during the wee small hours to do their bit in giving Hitler and Tojo a kick in the pants.

Neighbor, is this your dog?

We give up! Of course we know that there are many unnecessary noises to disturb the slumber, whether it be by day or night, and many of these annoyances could and should be stopped. However, there are many noises which may be annoying to some and which are unavoidable in the normal functions of everyday life, either at night or during the day.

It might be well to choke a few dogs, smash a few radios, muffle the train whistles and arrest a few people who insist upon sounding their automobile horns just for the sake of being heard. After that, we believe it would be difficult to eliminate all normal noises, such as the sound of leather heels on the sidewalk (it is said there is a shortage of rubber), children will play, women will talk with neighbors, and cars will rattle with old age—and don't forget—we were all children once upon a time and we no doubt disturbed some of our neighbors, but they survived.

After all, our boys who are in Sicily, in the Southwest Pacific or any other battle front aren't getting their regular rest either, so why should we complain if we are somewhat disturbed at times. There are no noises in Chelsea that wouldn't be welcome to the boys that the hundreds of boys whose names appear on our Roll of Honor—let's forget these little inconveniences and go about our business of helping to win the war. When hostilities come to an end we'll all have a big celebration and then settle down to our normal life again.

Miss Dorothy Beach is spending a week in Chicago as the guest of Miss Eva Jean Peplinger.

Pfc. Prinzing Tells Of North Africa Invasion

planes were spotted and alerts were sounded as had been done many times during the trip across.

During one of the early morning hours one of the ships, called the "Stone", was hit by a torpedo which knocked a hole in the stern of the ship, making it founder helplessly. It had to be abandoned by the convoy since our mission was not to be delayed as our entire mission was tied to a rigid schedule. On November 1, 1942, we were informed that we were to invade North Africa. A few important French phrases were taught to us at these last moments. Intensive studies of maps and our duties were explained two nights before the zero hour. We learned that we were to invade Algeria and open the second front the entire world was awaiting. On the eve of Nov. 8 we finally reached our destination. The ship was buzzing with the excitement and preparation. The Rangers and Commandos were scheduled to leave the ship during the last wave of the assault. A fort on shore opened fire at the convoy, but luckily none of the shots ever reached their objective. All the forts on shore but one were silenced by these Ranger raiders. All of us waited impatiently for our turn to go over the side. Our turn came at last. We scrambled down the rope ladders into bobbing assault barges. Some search lights were repeatedly lighting up the barges but the situation was soon well in hand due to the excellent cooperation of the navy and the Rangers. We landed at our designated beaches after being on the sea for 42 days. As soon as daylight broke our anti-aircraft guns were unloaded and transported to the beaches. With a great deal of unison the guns were dragged through the sandy beaches to battle stations along the coast.

During these early hours of the invasion enemy planes were frequently trying to interrupt operations. An Axis torpedo plane dove in between the Leedstown (formerly the Santa Lucia of the Grace Line) and another ship under intense fire and succeeded in sending one of its missiles into the stern of the Leedstown, injuring an entire gun crew and disabling the ship. The plane was immediately destroyed by machine gun fire from the Leedstown. Some of our forces proceeded to Maison Blanche Airport on the outskirts of Algiers. This objective had to be taken by 10 o'clock that morning due to the fact long range Spitfires were expected at that time and they carried fuel enough for a one-way trip. Our orders were to take this field and hold it at any cost. Our mission was successful. During all of these operations a few of the task force were rendered casualties.

Sunday at dusk a formation of JU88's came over at a very high altitude. They held their formation over the harbor and started to peel off, one by one, heading for the ships. A tremendous barrage was sent up by the ships in the harbor, causing the planes to veer off course. A few of the planes continued on the deadly mission despite the heavy anti-aircraft fire, but luckily no direct hits were made. The concussion of the bombs landing nearly smashed every pane of glass on board. Then and there we realized that early morning and evening bombings would be a usual occurrence with an interlude of reconnaissance planes dropping flares. This premonition came true with the boats being attacked the very next morning. Through all of this the unloading of boats at the docks continued under the most hazardous conditions. Most of our day was spent digging in and scanning the skies for enemy planes. During all this all types of Allied fighters and planes were gathering at the airport. It all resembled a gigantic beehive of activity. That evening on schedule the Heimles appeared for the attack on the harbor and the airport. They succeeded in sinking the Leedstown during which every assistance was given to the remaining survivors. This sinking resulted in the loss of all of our equipment.

During the many days at Maison Blanche that followed we were constantly harassed from the sky. Little by little we gained superiority and for that reason above all this campaign was successful.

ST. PAUL'S MISSION CLUB

The July meeting of St. Paul's Mission Club was held on Thursday at the home of Mrs. Albert Widmayer, where the members enjoyed a picnic dinner, served at one o'clock. Mrs. Maria Eppler conducted the devotionals which opened the afternoon meeting, and readings were given as follows:

Poem—"We Are At War"—Mrs. J. Oesterle.

"Uncle David's Summer Boarders"—Mrs. A. Eppler.

Poem—"Winning the Peace"—Mrs. A. Vail.

Extracts from "Evangelical Mission Pioneers"—Mrs. Oesterle.

The remainder of the afternoon was devoted to mission work.

By Gene Allemen

If Detroit's chickens are just coming home to roost, they sure took their sweet time.

Just 110 years ago, this very month, a company of federal troops was dispatched from Fort Gratiot (Port Huron) to Detroit for the express purpose of suppressing an insurrection of Negroes.

Good citizens of Detroit, like those of San Francisco after the "big fire", were inclined to minimize the disturbance by calling it "The Negro riot." But it was a riot—noisy, lusty affair in which the Negroes stormed the jail, paraded the streets, shot the sheriff and otherwise had the white people in a dither of panic.

And like the 1943 rumors that whites had killed three Negroes on Belle Isle, the exaggerated reports in 1833 grew until "business was at a standstill. Women dared not venture out of doors. Merchants put up their shutters, shoving the bolts into place, and stood gun in hand in their darkened shops, guarding their goods."

Who said history doesn't repeat itself?—It did in Detroit!

In those pre-civilized days, Detroit was the capital of the Territory of Michigan. The frontier peninsula had not yet attained the stature of statehood which came in 1837.

When Congress enacted the Ordinance of 1787, creating the Northwest Territory out of the region between the Ohio and Mississippi rivers and the Great Lakes, the federal lawmakers inserted this significant provision:

"There shall be neither slavery nor involuntary servitude in the said territory, otherwise than in the punishment of crime, whereof the party shall have been duly convicted."

General Lewis Cass was appointed governor of the Territory of Michigan following the War of 1812, and when the Negro insurrection took place, he had been elevated to secretary of war at Washington.

Lewis Cass knew his Michigan and his Detroit, and so when Mayor Chapman of the French community "on the streets" (which is the origin for the French designation of "de Troit", the prefix being pronounced "day"), made an appeal on July 25 for a detachment of the United States troops, Cass acted with dispatch.

The 1833 outbreak was caused by Negro protests against the arrest of a Negro slave named Blackburn who had escaped from Kentucky with his wife and had sought refuge in Detroit while waiting a chance to slip into Canada.

Acting on legal precedence set by Judge Woodward in 1807, the sheriff at Detroit put the Kentucky slaves in jail.

When the Negroes stormed the jail, the worried sheriff decided to elude the mob and take his prisoner to a steamboat. The plan was discovered, and the Negro mob seized Blackburn and transported him jubilantly by canoe to the Canadian shore. Incidentally, the sheriff recovered from his wounds.

During the early frontier days in Michigan the practice of slavery was fairly common, and even Stephen T. Mason, Michigan's first governor, is said to have brought Negro slaves with him from Virginia, his native state. However, the anti-slavery sentiment grew, and by 1850 the southern part of Michigan had many "stations" of an "underground railroad" by which Negro slaves were encouraged to escape through Michigan to Detroit, the border terminal. From Detroit it was easy for them to cross the river into Canada.

Michigan was settled by sturdy New Englanders. Their Puritan zeal embraced a fanatical hatred of slavery. Many July Fourth orations, a century ago, dealt on the sentimental theme of the downtrodden Negroes, human chattels in the South.

Erastus Hussey, a Quaker leader at Battle Creek, was one of the evangelists in this crusade to free the slaves. In fact, the Negro housing project in Detroit (which was so protested by whites a year or so ago that Governor Van Wagner sent state troops to Detroit to protect Negro families as they moved in), was named in honor of Sojourner Truth, the famous ex-slave who made her home in Battle Creek.

In the village of Marshall, a Kentucky plantation owner, accompanied by a deputy sheriff, sought to seize a family of Negroes. A Paul Revere of Marshall, riding a horse through the village, awakened the inhabitants with a bell. A force of 200 "determined men" held the Kentuckians at bay. The Negro family was spirited hurriedly to Detroit and thence into Canada, and the slave-hunters returned to Kentucky as heroes and martyrs. The Michigan people were denounced as barbarians and traitors.

And, of course, the birth of the Republican party itself at Jackson on July 6, 1854, was a part of this anti-slavery sentiment in Michigan which invited Negroes of the South to seek a haven here.

Whenever industry is confronted with a shortage of workers, the historic solution has been to import cheap labor from elsewhere. The Southern plantation owners imported the Negroes from Africa. When the first World War created a labor shortage in Michigan, industrialists encouraged a notable migration of Negroes from the south into Detroit and other factory centers. Today, the Mexicans and Jamaicans are "summering" in Michigan for the same economic reason.

Where the Negro population in Michigan was only 17,115 in 1910 and more than one-third of these were in Wayne county, it had grown by the first year of the World War to about 23,000 in Detroit alone, and by 1920 it had reached 60,000. In 1930 it was 169,000. Today the Negro population is estimated to be close to a quarter of a million and it is still mounting.

Perhaps it is a bit trite, after reviewing a century's history of how Negroes have been encouraged to migrate to Michigan, to make a simple observation that the "chickens" are coming home to roost.

The Negroes are here because, historically at least, we invited them to come. Putting blame on mythical Axis agents or Ku Klux Klanners won't change this collective social responsibility of ours one iota.

It's our job, not theirs, to find the solution.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. J. Bacon on East Middle street was badly damaged by fire about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. The blaze started in the attic and when discovered the room was filled with smoke and almost instantly was a mass of flames. The roof was entirely burned off and the second story was considerably charred, while the first floor was flooded with water.

The housewives of Chelsea have been in a flutter the past week on account of being unable to get granulated sugar. It is said that the shortage is due to the purchase of large quantities by people who thought there might be a shortage when the canning season arrived.

Fred Wellhoff, who lives on the Cummings farm, while working in his garden uncovered a United States copper one-cent piece, which was coined in 1818. The coin is about the size of a ten dollar gold piece and while it is discolored with age, it is so well preserved that every letter and figure is plainly visible.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Swickerath and family, who have been living in Boston, Mass. for several years, are making arrangements to move to Chelsea.

Seal Closets
Trunks, chests or closets for storage should be thoroughly aired, scrubbed or disinfected if necessary. Trunks and chests should have tight fitting lids. The door of a closet which is used for storing woolens should have a gasket on the door in order to fit tight all the way around. Any cracks in the plaster on around the baseboards should be filled with crack filler.

For Brighter Basements
Many basements are troubled not only with darkness but with an infiltration of insects around and through the window sash. Because both can be dangerous, the installation of glass block panels in existing windows, to replace rotting or insected sash, is a practical solution to such basement blues. These blocks not only transmit light but literally throw it into the interior.

The Gas He'll Burn This Morning
Would Take You
7500 Miles!

The skipper of "Fighter X" is going hunting . . . for the next five hours he'll be combing the skies for signs of Jap marauders.

And on his patrol, he will burn 500 gallons of gasoline . . . enough for a year of peacetime driving in the average family car!

Maybe that will give you some idea of the enormous amount of oil—for aviation gas and other petroleum products—that it takes to win a war.

Oil to fuel 100,000 planes . . . a quarter million tanks and motorized vehicles . . . the world's greatest fleet of warships and transports . . . the furnaces of thousands of roaring war plants.

Oil that must be carried from the wells of the Southwest to the refineries, factories and ports of the East.

And, though it's one of the war's toughest jobs, the oil is coming through! Rolling like a mighty river over America's rails . . . almost a million barrels a day! It's coming in trains a half-mile long . . . in old tank cars, rebuilt tank cars, box cars loaded with drums—and a few tank cars that are new . . . all pinch-hitting for the coastwise tankers now in trans-Atlantic service.

The New York Central alone hauls nearly a third of the oil that moves into the eastern area. And this extra load is in addition to the Central's regular war job of transporting military supplies, troops, essential freight and passengers on war business.

How can you help win this vital home-front battle? In two ways:

Save every precious gallon of gasoline and heating oil that you possibly can!

When planning a trip or shipping by rail, remember that every inch of railway space is vitally important today. Please don't waste it!

Maternity Care for Servicemen's Wives

More than three-fourths of the states have received approval by the Children's Bureau Department of Labor of programs for medical and hospital maternity care for wives of men in the four lowest pay grades of the armed services. The programs also include medical care for babies. A serviceman's wife may make application for complete medical care during pregnancy and childbirth, and for six weeks after childbirth. She may also apply for medical care for her child to extend throughout the child's first year of life. To get such care, all that the wife needs to do is to fill out simple forms, which, if her own doctor is unable to furnish copies, she can get from the State health department.

No Gas To Go To Gardens

Special rations of gasoline for travel to Victory Gardens were discontinued July 12, although rations already issued for this purpose may be used as long as valid. This action was taken by OPA upon advice of the Department of Agriculture that gardens planted after that date would be too late to produce enough food to warrant extra use of tires and gasoline in cultivating them.

Can't Send Recordings Overseas

Discs of recordings containing personal messages cannot be sent to soldiers stationed outside the continental limits of the U. S., the War Department has announced. There is no objection to sending discs of personal messages within the continental United States.

Rations for Sick

Although the need to conserve rationed foods is great, no hospital patient's health need suffer, the OPA has announced. Local rationing boards have been given authority to provide supplementary allotments to meet the dietary requirements of patients in hospitals—whether or not such patients are on special diets.

Coal Production Lags

Coal production for the first half of 1943 was an estimated 1,729,000 tons less than for the same period in 1942, Solid Fuel Administrator Harold L. Ickes has reported. "The gravity of this loss of production is emphasized by the fact that the Nation will need an estimated 25,000,000 tons of coal more this year than last," he said.

Casualties of War

Casualties of the United States Armed Forces from the outbreak of the war to July 3 total 91,644. This total, based on War and Navy Department reports, includes: dead, 16,696; wounded, 21,828; missing, 31,579; prisoners of war, 21,541. Of these, Army casualties total 64,621; Navy, 27,023.

Farm Supplies Pro-Rated

A distributor of farm supplies is now authorized to pro-rate deliveries on the basis of normal shipments in cases where the amount of farm supplies set aside by him does not completely cover all the orders he receives. Before this recent amendment to General Preference Order M-330, a distributor was required to fill orders solely on the basis of preference ratings.

More Fertilizers To Be Available

From 5 to 10 per cent more chemical fertilizer will be available in the year ahead according to WPA officials. It is estimated that U. S. farmers used about 10 million tons of chemical fertilizer during the 12 months beginning July 1, 1942. Although the supply of nitrogen and phosphates will be greater, potash is expected to be less plentiful.

THE MARINES

You can have your Army Khaki, You can have your Navy Blue, But there is still another That I'll introduce to you.

The uniform is different, The best I've ever seen; The Huns call him the Devil Dog, But his real name is Marine.

He is trained in San Diego, That land that God forgot, Where the sand is 18 inches deep And the sun is scorching hot.

He has set so many tables And many a dish he's dried; He has learned to make a bed, And a broom he sure can ride.

He's peeled a million onions And twice as many spuds; He spends his leisure time A-washing out his duds.

Now girls take a little tip I'm handing it to you; Find yourself a good Marine—There's nothing he can't do.

And when he goes to Heaven To St. Peter he will tell: A good Marine reporting sir, I've spent my time in Hell.

"IN 2 HOURS YOUR FACTORY WILL BE FLOODED!"

It had been raining for a week, back in the hills. A farmer, hunting for a stray cow along the creek, looked up and saw water pouring through a widening crack in the reservoir dam. He ran half a mile to the nearest telephone and made a long distance call to the munitions plant down the valley where his son worked.

"You've got about two hours before your factory is flooded," he told them. Because that call got through in time, scores of workers and tons of vital war material were moved to safety, before the crest of roaring water could reach the plant.

Long Distance lines are crowded with calls as never before. Many are war calls which must go through promptly. Others are civilian calls, some vitally urgent, some less urgent. You and you alone can judge whether your call is really necessary.

Please make only the most essential long distance calls.

If you must call by long distance, do all you can to be brief.

Nutrition Committee Gives Advice On Food

The Washtenaw County Nutrition Committee of the Civilian War Service makes the following suggestions on utilizing every bread crust and crumb as part of wartime economy.

A recent survey reveals that from 10 to 16 per cent of the food bought for household use is wasted. Of this waste one pound in every six is bread. Bread made from enriched flour ranks high in food value needed by men, women and children—soldiers and civilians.

To keep bread properly a clean, well ventilated box is taken for granted. Loose scraps should not be thrown in to it unwrapped. Instead, it is suggested that you collect left-over bread, crumb it, and place in a covered container. If there is danger of mold, the bread may first be toasted or dried in the oven. Old bread can be toasted and used for croutons in soup or stewed tomatoes; it can be used in a variety of bread puddings and as stuffing in vegetables and meat.

The following recipe for stuffed frankfurters may suggest a use new to your family:

For six frankfurters, use 1½ cup bread broken in small pieces;

3 teaspoonfuls finely chopped onion; 3 teaspoonfuls butter, or fortified fat;

Small amount of American cheese; 1 teaspoonful chopped parsley, fine; Salt and pepper.

Put the frankfurters partially through lengthwise. Make a stuffing of the bread, onion, butter and seasoning, with enough water to make the combination moist. Put the stuffing in the opening in each frankfurter, lay a thin slice of the cheese on top and sprinkle with the parsley. Bake in a shallow pan in a moderate oven (375 degrees) for 30 minutes.

KEEP 'EM ROLLING. If we are to insure our national security, we need a lot of guns, tanks, planes and fighting equipment.

Much has been said and done about the fifth column. We are all helping the fifth column if we are careless in our driving, in our habits at home, and in our conduct in our industrial plants.

A moment of carelessness or a foolhardy chance may cause an accident in which frequently more than one person is involved as a result of which a gun, plane or tank or some fighting material or equipment is delayed for the soldier at the front who really needs it.

If all accidents could be prevented for just thirty days, the production of equipment needed by our fighting forces would increase tremendously. You can contribute to that effort by working safely, driving safely, and being on the job every day.

Soldiers, sailors, and marines do not lay-off!

That is sound advice when given to a person having a tendency to act impulsively but it will be harsh words when uttered by the Secretary of State to those motorists who do not have Liability Insurance.

After July 30, 1943 Motorists unable to furnish financial security after having been involved in an automobile accident causing Bodily Injury or Death lose their driving privileges.

Keep in mind that many people are getting excited about Automobile Insurance for the first time. Don't act impulsively—Buy your Insurance Advisedly—Our agency is synonymous with good Automobile Insurance.

Will Register Civilian
Protection Workers

Complete registration of all civilian protection workers in Washtenaw county by September 1 is the aim of John R. Meadows, personnel officer of the Washtenaw County Citizens' Defense Corps.

All individuals who are required by the nature of their services to be on duty during an emergency or during an authorized practice incident are eligible, if injured, for compensation under the War Civilian Security Program. This includes air raid wardens, emergency medical personnel, Red Cross disaster committee workers, demolition squads, auxiliary firemen, etc.

In order to meet eligibility requirements workers must be properly authorized members of the U. S. Citizens' Defense Corps. This entails registration on cards provided by the personnel officer, being fingerprinted and taking the oath of the defense corps.

The Civilian War Security Program, set up at the direction of President Roosevelt, provides compensation in three forms to civilian defense workers:

1. Civilian War Medical Care, administered by the U. S. Public Health Service, may include all medical services and supplies essential for the treatment of the injury.

2. Civilian War Benefits are cash payments to the disabled civilian defense worker injured in the line of duty, and benefits to the widow or dependent of one who dies as a result of his injuries. They will be paid according to a specified schedule by the Social Security Board.

3. Civilian War Assistance, administered by the Social Security Board, is public assistance to civilian defense workers injured on official duty, or to their dependents, who are in financial need pending receipt of Civilian War benefits.

Chiefs of all services in the county have been instructed by Mr. Meadows regarding registration. Personnel in all services will be contacted within the next few weeks.

RECREATION NEWS

A group of young "Robin Hoods" met at athletic field Friday night to match their skills with the bow and arrows. Each boy shot 21 arrows at a distance of 40 yards. Jerome Burg, hitting the target consistently, compiled a score of 395, to win the contest. Philip Roy placed second with a score of 255 and Lee Wyatt placed third. The prizes will be awarded to the tournament winners at the end of the summer recreation program.

The third dance of the program was held Friday evening at the high school gym. The swing band, composed of young musicians of Chelsea, made its debut and were well received. The band will play for the dance on July 23. The Victoria furnished the music for the remainder of the dance. Floyd Clark entertained the dancers with a few "hot" numbers on the piano.

The next dance will be held at the gym July 16, beginning at 9 o'clock. The village police officers stated that the young people under 17 could not dance until 12 o'clock if they went home immediately afterward. The Recreation Council cordially invites parents to visit these dances. You are all welcome to attend.

University Announces
New Scholarship Plan

Eleven Washtenaw county high schools will each be able to send an outstanding graduate to the University of Michigan every year with no tuition charge under a huge new scholarship plan just approved by the Board of Regents and announced by President Alexander G. Ruthven.

Under the terms of the new arrangement, a full tuition scholarship is established in the name of every one of the 629 accredited high schools and preparatory schools in Michigan.

This country's accredited schools, all of which will benefit from the plan, are: the public schools in Ann Arbor, Chelsea, Dexter, Manchester, Milan, Saline and Ypsilanti; and St. Thomas high school and University high school in Ann Arbor.

Established by the Regents as a "reaffirmation of their faith in the permanent value of education for the individual and the importance of an educated citizenry for the State," the new scholarships are intended to aid and encourage promising students, particularly those of limited financial means.

Scholars coming to the University under these grants will have a wide range of choice for their fields of study. Undergraduate offerings of the University which they may elect include the liberal arts and sciences, engineering, pharmacy, architecture and design, education, forestry, nursing, music and pre-professional study for medicine, dentistry, law and business administration.

To be known as the "University List Scholarships," the new grants will be awarded on the basis of demonstrated academic ability, desirable personal characteristics, good citizenship, health and need for financial assistance in order to attend college.

From the outset, individual counseling by trained members of the University staff will aid the new students in planning their study program and other University activities constructively and in attaining the greatest possible development through their University experience.

The first students to enter with the new scholarships will enroll in the University's fall term, October 25. Applications for the scholarships and for admission to the University will be available from the principals of all accredited high schools and preparatory schools in Michigan.

RECORD DRIVE CONTINUES

The Legion Old Phonograph Record Drive has a good start, but many more are needed to give "Music from Home to our Fighting Men". Have you made a mental comparison of yourself in natural, comfortable surroundings, enjoying your radio, or new records as often as you please, with those who have gone to protect us possibly in barren posts, facing they know not what? Often records are their only entertainment and diversion from routine and danger, and you can help provide them.

Many are cooperating in this effort to get the old records to make it possible to have new ones—Musicians, Legionnaires, Girl Scouts and individuals are devoting time and effort. Take time now to see how many you can find in your attic or basement, and eliminate the ones you seldom play in your collection. Good ones will not be scrapped but sent direct to Percy Jones Hospital at Battle Creek, Camp Custer, and to our local men who can use records.

If you have the address of one of these men, please print it and mail to Herbert J. McKune Legion Post, No. 31, Chelsea.

The Chelsea Girl Scouts are coming to your door Friday—save their time and yours by having your records ready for them or if you live out of town, bring them to the barrels for same at Sylvan Theatre, post office, factories, or Heydlauff's.

A message for you...from 1953

(Today, John Jones is just an average American, wrestling with all the doubts, and worries and problems that beset every one of us right now. But let's skip ahead 10 years. Let's look at John Jones then—and listen to him...)

"SOMETIMES I feel so good it almost scares me.

"This house—I wouldn't swap a shingle off its roof for any other house on earth. This little valley, with the pond down in the hollow at the back, is the spot I like best in all the world.

"And they're mine. I own 'em.

Nobody can take 'em away from me.

"I've got a little money coming in, regularly. Not much—but enough. And I tell you, when you can go to bed every night with nothing on your mind except the fun you're going to have tomorrow—that's as near Heaven as a man gets on this earth!

"It wasn't always so.

"Back in '43—that was our second year of war, when we were really getting into it—I needed cash. Taxes were tough, and then Ellen got sick. Like most everybody else, I was buying War Bonds through the Payroll Plan—and I figured on cashing some of them in. But sick as she was, it was Ellen who talked me out of it.

"Don't do it, John! she said. 'Please don't! For the first time in our lives, we're really saving money. It's wonderful to know that every single payday we have more money put aside! John, if we can only keep up this saving, think what it can mean! Maybe someday you won't have to work. Maybe we can own a home. And oh, how good it would feel to know that we need never worry about money when we're old!

"Well, even after she got better, I stayed away from the weekly poker game—quitting dropping a little cash at the hot spots now and then—gave up some of the things a man feels he has a right to. We made clothes do—cut out fancy foods. We didn't have as much fun for awhile but we paid our taxes and the doctor and—we didn't touch the War Bonds.

"We didn't touch the War Bonds then or any other time. And I know this: The world wouldn't be such a swell place today if we had!"

Symbols of a Free World

The American flag and the Statue of Liberty mean more to liberty loving people today than at any time in the past. Silent spokesmen of freedom, they symbolize the united battle against the forces of tyranny and evil. To immigrants and to the many nations friendly to the United States, the flag and the "Lady With a Torch" stand as bulwarks of safety in a storm-tossed world.

Firsts For the Flag

The flag was first carried in battle at the Brandywine, September 11, 1777. It first flew over foreign territory on January 28, 1778, at Nassau, Bahama Islands, F. L. Nassau having been captured by the Americans in the course of the war for independence. The first foreign salute to the flag was rendered February 14, 1778, when John Paul Jones, in command of the USS Ranger, entered Quiberon bay, near Brest, France, and received a salute of nine guns, ordered by the French admiral, La Motte Piquet. The United States frigate Essex was the first warship to fly the American flag in the Pacific, January 26, 1813. It was first displayed officially over Alaska at Sitka, October 18, 1867, and was first saluted by the British at the surrender of Burgoyne's army, October 17, 1777.

The photographer captured the spirit of America as he took this picture of Old Glory through the upraised, saluting arm of a service man.

Colors of Flag Have Symbolic Significance

The colors of the flag may be thus explained: red is for valor, zeal and fervency; white is for hope, purity, cleanliness of life and rectitude of conduct; blue, the color of heaven, for reverence to God, loyalty and sincerity, justice and truth. The star, an ancient symbol of divinity, Persia and Egypt, symbolizes dominion and sovereignty, as well as lofty aspirations. The constellation of the stars within the emblematic star for each state, is emblematic of our federal Constitution, which reserves to the states their individual rights.

Spring Is Fireman's Headache
Spring is the busiest time of year for most firemen because of the frequency of grass and brush fires. This year it is more important than ever to nip potential brush fires in the bud. The three leading causes of brush fires are cigarettes along roadsides, faulty outdoor incinerators and careless brush burning.

WOMEN AT WAR

Janey closed the bedroom door and locked it. Alone at last! She threw back her head and heaved a deep sigh. Then she peeked out of the corner of her eye at the mirror to see whether she really did look like Hedy LaMarr. Quite a lot, she decided.

And now to business. She drew forth from the bottom of her top bureau drawer the sheet of pink writing paper and the envelope that she had been saving for this day. She sat down at the table by the window and dipped the pen into the bottle of green ink that her sister Rose was such a pig about.

She wrote, with beautiful arabesques, "Dear Mrs. Montgomery, and hold her head back to admire this effort of the best pupil in penmanship class."

"Here are my stamps for a bond. $18.75. I started last Christmas when I got $3.00. Not counting 50 cents, I have earned all the rest, working one or more days a week at a local grocery store, and I'm quite proud to say I worked hard to get it."

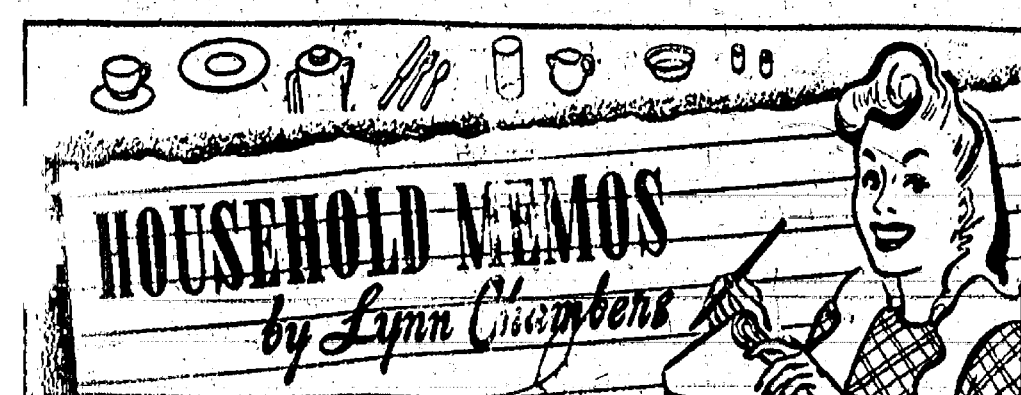

Janey stared out of the window at Peterson's house and beyond at the big yard where the kids were playing football. She held her pen close.

"Sitting here looking out the window, I see a peaceful little town, and I wonder how the world can be in such a turmoil and the people of this world can have such hate for their fellow men. So I'm proud to send these stamps because I know I'm helping to make the whole world peaceful again like our little town."

She signed her name with an important flourish, not forgetting a conspicuous "Miss" in front of the "Janey." After she had signed the letter she went on staring out of the window. It really was awfully peaceful. Overhead she heard a plane go humming by through the sunny afternoon air.

Then the voice of her best friend, Betty, called from outside—"Janey!" In an instant Janey was on her feet and tearing downstairs and out. She was not Hedy LaMarr for a deep philosopher any more, but exactly twelve years old.

Get Your Protein!

There's no reason why you should not be getting your necessary protein into your daily menus, or why using meat alternates, i.e., foods you use alternately with meat, should become a dull or difficult problem.

Here's your opportunity to show your family what a really smart homemaker you are—for you can keep up their admiration for you by serving an endless variety of good egg and chicken dishes, and fish in all its variety. These foods are protein-rich and with a little ingenuity you can make a star performer out of many of them.

Chicken comes beautifully to the rescue for it's a good, complete protein and the supply is good, especially at the present time. Use chicken wisely, however, a little bit of it combined with other foods can make a meal of more out of one chicken. Here's an example:

*Chicken Chowder
(Serves 6)
1 cup cooked, diced chicken
2 ounces salt pork, finely diced, or
4 tablespoons chicken fat
2 to 4 tablespoons onion, finely chopped
2 1/2 cups potatoes, diced
1 cup celery, diced
2 cups chicken stock
1 No. 2 can kernel corn
1 tall can evaporated milk
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons chopped parsley

Cook salt pork in sauce pan over low heat until lightly browned. Add chicken and onion and cook until onion is soft, but not browned. Add potatoes, celery and chicken. Simmer until vegetables are tender. Add corn, milk and seasonings. Heat thoroughly, stirring occasionally. Season to taste with additional salt and pepper, if desired. Serve very hot with crackers, hard rolls or toast.

Make good use of crisp, cool vegetables to go into a salad with the Chicken Chowder to round out the meal.

*Chef's Salad
(Serves 6)
1 head lettuce
2 tomatoes, cut in quarters
4 spring onions, cut fine

Lynn Says:

The Score Card: Consumers can do a lot in stamping out the illegal sale of meat by making sure that all meat they buy comes from a carcass which carries the necessary stamps—the permit number of the slaughterer and a grade stamp.

Ceiling prices are in effect in many areas for meat. They are posted by the butcher near meat counters and you can consult them when buying your meat.

Changes have come about on the bread situation. No more double or triple wrapping is allowed for bread and rolls. No more leftover bread or rolls can be returned to the baker, nor can there be any fancy racks for displaying bread.

Retail bakers are limited to 15 varieties of bread and nine varieties of rolls in one week. Many of these measures are designed to keep bread prices down.

Although outwardly, bread trimmings have been stripped, the insides are better. All white bread must now be enriched. Each loaf of white bread must contain, not less than three parts nor more than four parts of milk solids to 100 parts of flour.

Beverage
*Recipes Given

2 hearts of celery, cut fine
2 hard-cooked eggs, quartered
Wash lettuce, and dry in towel. Break lettuce apart, but do not cut. Place in chilled bowl and add remaining ingredients. Toss lightly together with French dressing.

Another good dish using chicken, a complete protein food, and spaghetti—usually classified as a second class protein food, is combined in this way:

*Spaghetti and Chicken Casserole
(Serves 8)
1 cup chicken fat or shortening
1 cup chopped onion
1/2 cup flour
2 cups chicken stock
1 cup grated cheese
1 cup cooked tomatoes
2 cups diced chicken
1 8-ounce package spaghetti, cooked
1/4 cup buttered bread crumbs

Melt fat and cook onions slowly for 10 minutes. Add flour, stir well, add stock, stir constantly until thickened. Blend in tomatoes and chicken. Place chicken mixture and spaghetti alternately in greased casserole. Cover with buttered crumbs. Bake for 25 minutes in a 375-degree oven.

Ever think of creaming, deviled eggs? They make a delicious main dish on warmer nights.

*Creamed Deviled Eggs
(Serves 4)
4 hard-cooked eggs
1 1/2 teaspoons vinegar
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon sugar
1 1/2 tablespoons melted butter
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 cup white sauce

Cut eggs lengthwise into halves. Combine egg yolks with next seven ingredients. Beat together until well blended and smooth. Fill whites with yolk mixture, place in baking dish and cover with white sauce. Bake in a moderate (350-degree) oven 15 minutes. Serve hot on biscuits or toasted English muffins.

If desired, use 1/4 cup condensed mushroom soup thinned with 1/4 cup milk instead of the white sauce. A dessert can take the place of a protein food for a meal and help you along in getting important body building and maintaining material, if it's a dessert like this:

*Oatmeal Peach Pudding
(Serves 6)
2 cups canned peaches, fresh rhubarb or apples
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon butter
1/4 cup melted shortening
1/4 cup brown sugar
1/4 cup sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon soda
1/2 cup quick-cooking oatmeal
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Arrange fruit in shallow, greased baking dish. Sprinkle with lemon juice and cinnamon and dot with butter. Combine melted shortening and brown sugar. Sift flour, salt and soda together and mix the oatmeal. Blend in sugar mixture, crumbling well, then add vanilla. Spread over fruit and bake for 45 minutes in a 350-degree oven. Serve warm with pudding sauce or top milk.

STOCKBRIDGE—Frank Rose was born Feb. 14, 1880 in Lyndon township, Washtenaw county, and passed away at the age of 63 years, four months and 17 days, on July 2, 1943 at St. Joseph's hospital, Ann Arbor. He was the son of the late Henry De Witt and Kate Rose. He was one of a family of nine children. On June 17, 1911 he was united in marriage to Galista Boyce of Lyndon. To this union was born one daughter, Rella Miller of Millville. Nearly all their married life was spent on their farm in Lyndon. He leaves his wife, Calista, daughter Rella, granddaughter Patty, a nephew, Kenneth, who has been a member of the family since his mother's death, and three brothers, Fred of Leslie, Jack of Jackson, Claude of Unadilla and a half-brother, Bert, of Pontiac; several nieces and nephews, and many other relatives and friends. He will be greatly missed by all who knew him. He was a member of the Methodist church at Stockbridge. Funeral services were held from the Milner funeral home, with Rev. Edwin Stephens officiating. He was laid to rest in Oak Lawn cemetery, Stockbridge. —Brief-Sun.

Krone Reports Garden Output Hit By Weather

Unfavorable weather this spring resulted in a reduction of 10 per cent in the 800,000 Victory Gardens that had been planned while production of planted gardens has been cut 15 to 20 per cent, according to Paul R. Krone, Chief of the Victory Garden Section of the Michigan Office of Civilian Defense.

Krone bases his estimates on a personal survey of the Southeastern part of the State and reports received from other sections.

Many prospective gardeners lost their enthusiasm when they were unable to get their land plowed until mid-June or later, Krone said. In other cases, land plowed before the prolonged spring rains was grown over with quack grass before it could be planted.

Late planting also resulted in early crops being skipped entirely in thousands of gardens.

Krone says every effort should be made to stimulate new gardeners to complete the programs they have started. He points out that in southern Michigan it is still possible to plant carrots, beets, Swiss chard, kale, turnips and corn. Likewise, spinach, lettuce, radishes, Chinese cabbage and mustard greens for fresh consumption from the fall garden can still be planted in August.

"With our food supply prospects becoming more serious every day," he said, "we must overlook no opportunity to get all of the produce that we can from the fall gardens."

As added advice, he recommends that gardeners benefit from this year's experience by having unused garden plots plowed now and "summer fallowed" to get rid of quack grass and other weeds so that they will be in good condition next spring. He also urges that planted gardens be plowed this fall after they have yielded their crops.

Charm Against Evil
The "lucky hunchback" was a favorite charm of the Egyptians against all manner of evil. Like the Phoenician god Bes, also a hunchback, he ward off demons and malignant spirits by frightening them with his grotesque gestures or by making them laugh at his deformities and the forces of evil intentions. The weapons he carried, together with his manner of dancing about like a madman, screaming, spitting, sticking out his tongue and rolling his eyes, were thought to strike terror.

Nitrogen Scarcity
Interruptions of imports of nitrate of soda from Chile, greatly increased demands for nitrogen, in munitions and for industrial purposes, and the necessity for accumulating larger and larger stocks of nitrates to meet war demands, are the three principal reasons for the present nitrogen shortage, as applied to fertilizers.
