Retired Business Man Taken By Death Friday

Archie Byron Clark, life-long resident of this community and a business man in Chelsea for 40 years, died Friday afternoon, September 17, at his home, 140 Park St., as the result of a stroke suffered a few days ago.

The son of Dick and Nancy (Purchase) Clark, he was born March 23, 1877 in Lyndon township. He attended Cleary Business College, graduating in 1893. In 1898, he was united in marriage to Emily Fidelia Bronson and they resided on the farm in Lyndon until 1903, when they moved to Chelsea. Mrs. Clark died September 23, 1936.

For several years Mr. Clark was one of the proprietors of the Chelsea Elevator Co., and later was associated with J. N. Dancer and H. R. Schoenhals in the Chelsea Hardware Co. In 1932 he entered the grocery business, from which he retired in June, 1942.

Mr. Clark was a member of the Knights of Pythias and the Methodist church. He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Jessie M. Schenk of Ann Arbor; a son, A. Gilbert Clark, also of Ann Arbor; a sister, Mrs. Myra Musson of Chelsea; and six grandchildren.

LOCAL RATIONING INFORMATION

The rationing board will be closed Saturday evenings because of the necessity for conserving fuel.

The gas, tire and stove board is open Fridays from 1:00 to 3:30 o'clock.

The board which takes care of industrial, institutional, and consumer rationing of food, shoes, the issuing of War Books I and II, and the making out of applications for Ration Book III, and kerosene and fuel oil for everything but heating, will be open Fridays from 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock.

Organization Planned For War Chest Drive

Setting in motion the machinery for raising the 1943 War Chest quota in Lyndon, Dexter, Sylvan and Lima townships, Leigh Beach, chairman, has called an organization meeting to be held at Sylvan town hall, Chelsea, at 8:00 p. m. on Friday, September 24. Every person in these townships who is interested in this important undertaking is urged to be present.

With a national quota set at $125,000,000, the State of Michigan is called upon for $4,500,000, and Washtenaw county for $113,000. Of the latter figure, the county outside the cities of Ann Arbor and Ypsilanti, has been asked to raise $28,700. The quota for the City of Ypsilanti is $20,500; Ann Arbor is $39,000.

The county, for the purposes of the drive, has been divided into districts, under Supervisors Leigh Beach, Carl E. Mast, Otis A. Toole, Ernest M. Gilbert and Charles E. Waltz. They will have as their lieutenants the supervisors of the townships included in their respective districts. The latter will be subdivided into school districts, under committees appointed by the township supervisors. These committees will ask the individual teachers to aid in bringing the message of the War Chest Drive to each school child.

Actual solicitation of funds will not commence for several weeks, but the leaders, recognizing the importance of the movement, are spending much time in preparation.

Ammunition Rationing Will Start On October 1

Rationing of civilian ammunition to hunters will be on the basis of the stocks the hunters now have on hand; the war production board has informed P. J. Hoffmaster, state conservation director.

Sale of ammunition to hunters will begin October 1, and no ammunition will be sold after November 15, according to a ruling of the war production board.

WPB officials explained to Hoffmaster that when buying ammunition, the hunter will be required to sign an affidavit stating that he does not now have in his possession more than 100 rounds of 22-caliber ammunition, 20 rounds of center fire rifle ammunition, and 50 shot gun shells. If his present supply is not more than these amounts, he will be permitted to buy 50 rounds of 22-caliber ammunition, 20 rounds of center fire rifle ammunition, and 25 shot gun shells.

Farmers will be allowed to purchase 100 rounds of 22's, 40 rounds of rifle ammunition, and 25 shot gun shells. Michigan was allotted 6,250,000 shot gun shells, and 850,000 center fire rifle cartridges for this fall's hunting seasons by the WPB, and rationing is necessary to insure equal distribution of this ammunition among the state's 850,000 hunters, WPB officials explained.

BEEMAN BROTHERS OVERSEAS

On September 8 word from Pfc. Wilbur Beeman was received by his wife and parents, stating that he had arrived safely somewhere in England. He is connected with the Radio Intelligence Division of the Air Corps. He told of meeting two Chelsea boys—Wilfred Lane, who is in the same camp, and Robert Allhouse, who is stationed very near.

Last week Cpl. George Beeman wrote his parents, informing them of his safe arrival somewhere in North Africa. He is in the Mechanical Ordnance Company of the Army. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Beeman of Waterloo.

PROMOTED TO CAPTAIN

Dr. Paul F. Reichert, who is stationed at the Army Flying Field, Yuma, Ariz., has been promoted from the rank of First Lieutenant to Captain, according to word received by his mother, Mrs. Anna Reichert of Lima township.

With only one week remaining in which to participate in the 3rd War Loan Drive, Chelsea is lagging far behind the record of sales in the county and nation as a whole. With more than two-thirds of the county and national quotas having been reached, Chelsea sales so far are less than one-half of the quota of $325,000.

According to H. C. Schneider, chairman of the local drive, totals for Chelsea sales to Tuesday were: "E" bonds $77,050, quota $120,250; "F" and "G" bonds $32,200, quota $42,250; Treasury Bonds $38,500, quota $162,500.

There is at least one bright spot in Chelsea's report so far, and that is from the Central Fibre Products Co., where the quota of $14,000 assigned to that plant has been exceeded by no small amount. When this quota for Central Fibre was announced previous to the opening of the drive, officials of the company expressed doubt that this amount could be sold to their employees. However, the assignment was accepted and the 130 employees were all contacted personally by members of the factory personnel in charge of the drive. The total sold in that plant as announced Tuesday was $15,150—an average of more than $100 for each employee—and it is expected that the final report will be a larger figure. Congratulations to the employees and management of Central Fibre Products Co.

If Chelsea's quota is to be met in this final week of the drive, every employee, manufacturer, business man, farmer, and all others must dig and dig deep into their earnings or resources. This job must be done and there isn't any time to lose. If we all make a little extra effort Chelsea will go over the top as it has done in the past and we will have no regrets.

A letter received by Mr. Schneider from Frank N. Isbey, state chairman, reads as follows: September 20, 1943. To All County and Executive Chairmen:

In the last 48 hours, our casualties on the Salerno beaches were greater than during the whole time since Pearl Harbor. Our boys are engaged in a desperate struggle—ready to sacrifice everything to win our battles for us.

And in the face of this crisis, some of us still hesitate to come through. Our drive is lagging behind. It is "spotty." We appeal to the fathers and mothers, sisters and brothers of those who died on the Salerno beaches to go out and ask their neighbors and their friends—"What did you do today that my son was killed tonight?"

Everybody must invest in War Bonds.

An extra $100 War Bond is not killing you—but if you don't buy it, it might kill one of our boys.

BACK THE ATTACK—TODAY!

Frank N. Isbey, Chairman, United States Treasury War Finance Committee for Michigan.

ARTICLE TELLS OF DR. WALTER KOELZ' ACTIVITIES IN IRAN

Mrs. Theresa Koelz, of Waterloo, recently received a newspaper clipping from a friend in Austin, Texas, which tells of her son, Dr. Walter N. Koelz, who is in Iran. Believing that it will be of interest to the many friends of Dr. Koelz in this vicinity, we reproduce the article.

Karaj, Iran—Surja Dawa, the Nono or Tibetan prince, and Dr. Walter N. Koelz, the eminent Michigan-born naturalist, were on their knees weeding onions when I first saw them. Not just ordinary onions, but rare Asiatic strains.

They were both barefooted. The Nono had a sun helmet but the scientist wore only a knotted white handkerchief to shield his scholarly pate from the beating sun.

I had come to Karaj looking for Koelz, and wondering if the stories I had heard of his way of life. When I left, I was still wondering, but I was convinced that I had met one of the world's happiest men.

Koelz, 48, one-time professor at the University of Michigan, and naturalist with the first Byrd-MacMillan Arctic expedition, has been roving the Asiatic hinterland almost continuously for the past 13 years, shunning the foreign colonies, living a humble life among the people. He had been working as agricultural explorer, employed by the United States department of agriculture until after the outbreak of war.

The war, somewhat against the doctor's wishes, has planted him at Karaj, village site of the Iranian Agricultural college, 30 miles west of Teheran. The college has given Koelz and the Nono quarters, and a plot of experimental earth to do with as they wish.

Koelz and I sat in the shade of a little mulberry tree, and talked about such things as Afghan eggplant, wild

Iranian potatoes, a Kurdish strain of sugar peas, and of an ugly duckling sort of Indian muskmelon which once saved the Imperial valley's melon industry. It seems that the seeds from this melon, furnished by Koelz, provided a strain of resistance to a disease which was threatening to bankrupt the California growers.

Somehow, the talk got around to animal life in general and a wild boar named Piggy in particular. Piggy, as a piglet, had been given to Koelz by a farmer when the doctor was camping out two years ago in the mountains of Louristan province.

"Piggy grew up to be 300 pounds," Koelz said. "He was like a puppy, always following me about, the smartest beast I have ever known. But other wild boars would smell him and come rooting into camp at night. Finally, we had to shoot him, poor thing."

Koelz has also tamed partridges and now has a pet rabbit named Bunty. He took me to see his pet. Taggar, an Iranian tiger which looks as if she might have come from Bengal, but actually she was captured in Iran's Elburz mountains.

Monday was just the right sort of a day for the Victory Day celebration at which time the people of Chelsea, and the townships of Sylvan, Lima, Lyndon and Dexter gave expression to their feelings toward the returned service men. Activities started with a parade at 10:30 o'clock. In the afternoon the Hollier Band gave a concert, which was followed by sport contests. Speeches were delivered by Rev. H. G. Pearce, Rev. P. W. Dierberger, Sgt. Carl Lehman of Ann Arbor and Col. Gansser of Bay City. At 6:30 one hundred ex-service men were given a banquet. In the evening there was another band concert, followed by a pavement dance and later dancing at the Macabee hall.

The barn and silo on the George Ward farm southwest of Chelsea were burned to the ground between 9 and 10 o'clock Saturday forenoon. There were more than 50 tons of hay in the barn and a large stack adjoining the barn, all of which burned. There was a small insurance, so the loss to Mr. Ward will be a large one. The cause of the fire is unknown.

J. N. Dancer has purchased the Roy Ives farm just west of Chelsea, and will take possession of it about Oct. 1. Senior class: President, Edgar Mayer; vice-pres., Esther Faust; treasurer, Henry Grau; secretary, Irene Vail.

W. P. Schenk & Co. have had the interior of their store rearranged and greatly improved during the past few weeks. The dry goods department has been enlarged to double the capacity of its former size. Large clothing cabinets have been installed to take the place of the tables and large show cases have been placed in front of each display window. On the second floor nearly all of the partitions have been removed and cabinets for ladies' suits, cloaks and furs have been placed in position to take the place of the tables. The carpet and rug department has also been enlarged. When all the alterations are completed, W. P. Schenk & Co. will have one of the finest department stores in Washtenaw county.

A kick from a cow caused the death of William Monks, a Sharon farmer, in the University hospital last Saturday. While feeding the stock in the barnyard a cow kicked and the hoof struck Mr. Monks in the abdomen. At first he did not regard the injury as serious but later collapsed and was taken to Ann Arbor. An examination showed that one of the intestines had been ruptured. He was 48 years old and is survived by the widow, one son and one daughter.

The common council is having the East street sewer extended to Letts Creek. The work is started on the property of J. J. Raftery, near E. "Me, too, Judge. Pretty tough spot we were put in gettin' our supply of rubber cut off just when we needed it most. But, we'll be gettin' plenty of synthetic rubber real soon. Say, is it true, Judge, that the beverage distilling industry has a part in producing it?" "Yes, a very important part, Jim. That industry's facilities for producing grain alcohol make it possible to include 200,000 tons of rubber from grain in the government's 870,000-ton synthetic rubber program. Pretty important contribution to our war effort, isn't it, Jim?"

"It certainly is, Judge. Wonder how many people really realize it?"

THIS YEAR It's different!

This year we carry our own bundles, get along with less meat, spend our vacation in our back yard, hoe our own radishes, travel and telephone only when urgent, and discover that little paper ration coupons are more important than money.

And we do it all cheerfully, too, knowing that it's necessary in order to supply the fighting forces with what they need to speed the day of Victory.

This year, too, instead of buying that new Certified Performance Gas Range as you had planned—or the gas automatic water heater the family has been wanting—you are learning to take good care of your present gas appliances, so that they will continue to give you satisfactory service for the duration.

Your present gas range is durably made and with reasonable care will serve you faithfully until the war is over. Call and obtain a free copy of a helpful booklet giving simple directions for cleaning your gas equipment.

Look into Your Heart before you give me your Answer!

MY NAME isn't important. I'm just one of the millions of fellows over here fighting for America. I'd like to speak for these fellows—to you folks back home.

You see, I think I know what's in their minds, because we often talk things over among ourselves. Mostly we talk about home—about the places we came from and the things we plan to do when we get back. Right now, especially, we're thinking a lot about home, for we're in the bloodiest battles of history—and we know that some of us will not come back. Some of us will never see again the ones we love.

But—we've got a job to do and we're going to do it. What I want to say to you folks back home is this: we'd like to think that you are with us in this bitter struggle of invasion. It would help a lot to know that you are really behind us, backing us up 100 per cent. It's going to take a heap of ammunition—and ships and planes, tanks and guns, to beat the Axis. That's what the 3rd War Loan is for; it's for INVASION. Most of us fellows in the service are putting every dollar we can into War Bonds. But you folks back home will have to carry the big load. We've got to depend on you. Don't fail us, will you?

Yes, it's to you this boy is looking in this critical hour. Today America calls upon you to do your part in the 3rd WAR LOAN. And your part is at least one EXTRA $100 War Bond during the drive. AT LEAST $100. That's in addition to your regular War Bond subscriptions. Invest more if you possibly can—some of you must invest thousands in order to reach our national quota. Invest out of your income—invest out of your idle or accumulated funds.

Remember, this money must come from individuals like yourself. Each and every one must do his share.

Let's do it the American way—willingly, gladly. Do it with the knowledge that you are putting your money into the safest investment in the world—to be paid back with interest by your government.

Sacrifice today—you will be richer for it tomorrow. Back the invasion now—buy at least one extra $100 War Bond in September.

Your Answer is Either "Yes" or "No" in this Roll Call of the Nation—

YES

I will honestly do my best to invest in at least one extra $100 War Bond during the 3rd War Loan Drive. I will lend my Government this money gladly to back up our fighting men.

NO

I am not lending any of my money to my country, I'm spending it. Sure, I know the boys who are fighting for me need support, but let somebody else make the sacrifices.

Your answer will be given in the number of EXTRA War Bonds you invest in during September.

By GENE ALLEMAN

If you crave a bear-skin rug for your living room floor, take a tip from this peripatetic columnist.

Oil up the family musket and start hitch-hiking, or mushing by dog-team, for the most northerly part of Michigan's vast Upper Peninsula—the slender, scenic Keweenaw peninsula with its wilderness of mountains and forests—all closer to the Arctic circle than Quebec, Canada. Yes—there's bar up there!

When you finally reach Keweenaw, the noisy and playful black bears may greet you on the lonely streets of Copper Harbor. Make sure that the sports calendar is right, as proclaimed by the state conservation commission, and that the 1943 deer season has been officially opened. Then instead of watching capricious bears push over garbage cans in a quest of food, or feed from the hospitable hands of Joseph Matthews, elderly proprietor of the Beauty View general store, which is Copper Harbor's sole retail establishment, just fire your gun and bag your bear. That is, of course, if you're not too excited or too ashamed to shoot.

It's going to be "as easy as pie" to get your bear this fall. For unless the county board of supervisors registers under a steady fire of criticism from the county road commission and the commercial resort owners, the season will be lifted soon in Keweenaw.

"Don't leave any food outside at night," Donald Dow warned us, the first night we pitched a tent at the Fort Wilkins state park, right next to Fanny Hooe lake. "The bears may be attracted to your tent by the food, and you will have trouble." Dow is caretaker at the park; resides summer and winter at the Fort with his wife and two children.

My wife, who was nicknamed "Toots" years ago because of her petite size, looked at me in dismay. "I had bid a gallant farewell to John W. Rice, publisher of the Houghton Mining Gazette, announcing jauntily our expedition to the Fort. Darkness was falling, and it was too late to retreat, ignominiously or otherwise. We were stuck."

Dow continued with more cheer. "A few days ago a mother and her two children were followed by a bear while they were picking thimbleberries in the park, near Lake Superior. They ran into the lake to escape. Of course, the animal was hungry, and wanted their berries. This story was broadcast over the radio."

"Last summer a family arrived late in the day, just as you did. I told them also not to put food outside. 'We've camped all through Yellowstone Park,' replied the husband, 'so I assumed they were experienced campers. The next morning when I visited the park, I noticed the campers had left. Later I heard the story. They had put a portable cupboard up on an outdoor table. It contained all their food, including some bacon, and their dishes. A bear had been attracted by the smell of bacon. He knocked the cupboard to the ground, banged it around until it broke open, and then devoured the meat. The family, panic-stricken, had fled at daylight.'"

"Late in the summer, after the rush of the tourist season here, a hungry bear invaded the picnic grounds while a family was about to enjoy a picnic spread on an outdoor table. The picnicers fled, crying for help. As I arrived, the bear was seated upright on the table, feeding himself with both paws."

"When the bear started to move toward me, I fired my shotgun low at him. The bear ran, and later I saw a bear with two toes missing from a foot. It was the same animal."

At Eagle Harbor, another Keweenaw village, we heard the story of how a bear had tried to invade the log cabin of the Robert Van Pelt, just west of the lighthouse.

Mr. Van Pelt, an official of the Museum of Science and Industry in Chicago, was in Washington. His wife and two children were alone. One evening she heard a scratching sound on a screen. Walking over to the window, she beheld the face of a bear. Frightened, she turned off the electric lights. The children were asleep, upstairs, on a ledge. The bear then went to the other side of the cabin and scratched a window screen. Finally he went to the back door and pawed it.

Mother instinct told Mrs. Van Pelt the bear was after her two children. Next day, relating the incident to neighbors, she mentioned she had put the garbage pail inside the kitchen.

Animal tales of this kind can be found readily in the Keweenaw country, and in fact in many other parts of Michigan's northland. They prove nothing except that semi-tame bears get lazy when spoiled by human kindness and prefer old, smelly garbage to nice fresh berries.

Joseph Matthews, the Copper Harbor store proprietor, is fond of the critters. "Pal is my favorite bear," he explained. "He comes to my home nearly every evening, and I feed him from my hand, like a pet dog. Pal is about three years old and weighs about 300 pounds. Teddy, another bear, weighs 175 to 200 pounds."

In the front window of Mr. Matthews' emporium is a display of men's bathing suits with legs to the knees and buttoned shoulder straps. All kinds of chocolate bars were on display. Also, fresh bananas.

Harold Westcott, who runs the Pointe Lodge, Copper Harbor resort and postoffice, is inclined to favor the bears as a tourist attraction, but he gets hopping mad when they eat up his apples and damage the orchard.

Mrs. Montimer North of Chicago, who has been spending the summer in a cottage east of the park, reported that bears growled at her when she ventured outside at night.

This evidence all points to one conclusion. "Until the Keweenaw bears discovered five years ago that food could be obtained easily from a garbage dump or that strange tidbits were awaiting in or near the civilized domiciles of people, the animals were content to subsist on succulent roots and choice nuts and berries and fruits, all provided generously by a bountiful Creator."

J. H. Stephenson, assistant chief of the state conservation department's game division, said that rangers at Yellowstone Park fed the semi-tame bears and erected bear-proof fencing for protection of tourists. The Keweenaw bears were first noticed in 1938 at a garbage dump maintained by the Keweenaw road commission for its lodge and cabins at Copper Harbor. Tourists were delighted, and they sent many postal cards to friends.

At the request of county supervisors, the state commission closed the Keweenaw bear season. Since then, a policy of home rule has been followed.

The Keweenaw controversy is even divided. The pro-bear faction maintain that bears are a valuable tourist attraction; no one has been hurt. The anti-bear group insist that bears are dangerous, a threat to nerves, and a nuisance. You can't argue with an excited mother that a bear wanted left-over food, not her innocent babes.

GET LETTER FROM AUSTRALIA

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Knott are in receipt of a letter from friends of their son, Pvt. Evan "Slim" Knott, who is with the U. S. Marines in Australia. Believing that the letter will be of interest to "Slim's" many friends in Chelsea, we are publishing the letter, which follows:

North Melbourne N. I., Victoria, Australia.
Dear Mr. and Mrs. Knott:

No doubt you will get a surprise to hear from me.

Evan was at my home to dinner last Wednesday evening, also his buddy, and they are two fine boys and are both in fine spirits and the best of health, and they are having a wonderful time. Evan sends his best love to you and the family.

The weather here is very cold and windy and I notice it very much owing to being on duty at night. I am a "cop" as Evan calls me. My job is a Commonwealth peace officer. I am married and have two boys, one 20 and the other 18 years. I will send you an "Aussie" paper to read. I am a very poor hand at writing letters.

We are having an election in this country this month and I hope the Curtin Government remains in office, as they have done a grand job during these troublous times. The Curtin Government is a Labor Government and no doubt you know are led by John Curtin.

My wife is going to add a few lines to this note.

Well friends, my husband's just gone on duty, so I'll try and finish your letter. Say, does your lad like apple pies? I'll say he does. Dad's taking two pies down to work in his bag. Evan kept us in screams of laughter all the time he was here, and believe me he enjoys life to the utmost, and why shouldn't he—if you don't make your own fun there's no one to make it for you. We're hoping to see more of Evan. He's a terror for the fire. We had a cake fire here the day he came to tea and he squatted down on the mat with his long legs crossed and quite happy.

It's been nice and sunny here today, but is getting quite chilly now.

Nearly every week-end we have young folks here and I love having them around us. It makes one feel still young, tho' we're not so very old, only in our forties.

Well, I can't think of any more news this time so will close, hoping to hear from you when you have a chance to write a few lines.

Trusting you are both enjoying the best of health, we remain,
Yours sincerely,
A. and D. Jessett.

Barley Converts Starch

At present, malted barley is employed in grain alcohol production because of its high concentration of diastase, an enzyme whose function is to convert the starch of cereals into sugar to serve as a digestible nutrient for the growing plant.

German Marriages Up 3 Per Cent

State Embarks On Plan For Post-War Period

Following four months of study and research Michigan's Planning Commission has embarked on a program which reaches out and includes cities, villages, counties, townships and school districts, Governor Kelly has announced.

"In recognition of Michigan's foremost efforts in planning for the present and post-war needs, this state has been selected as the first state where a collective program between the state and the American Society of Planning Officials, the American Municipal Association and the International City Managers Association will be put into effect."

"The plan contemplates dividing the state into different institutes or clinics based upon the types of interest and the sizes of the political subdivisions. Some institutes will consider the problems of large cities and others those of smaller communities."

"It is planned that regional meetings will be arranged for the industrial and agricultural sections; also one in the northern part of the lower peninsula, and one in the upper peninsula."

A manual is being prepared covering state planning, planning organization, local city and village planning, county and township planning, financial planning, and other related subjects to assist local agencies.

"Limited resources of the state will meet only a fraction of the needs of the state. Local programs will provide the most good to the greatest number of people. Practically every community has a definite need for some public improvement that has been delayed because of the war or was never made because of lack of finance. This cessation of public improvements has made possible the reduction of the public debt throughout the state and many public agencies are now in a position to proceed."

"Public improvements for a post-war program should be based upon need established by the willingness of the local agency to furnish funds. The length of the program may be based upon the ability of the governing agency to finance it, and if approved on this basis outside aid can then be used to accelerate or enlarge the program," Kelly concluded.

HOLD SEPTEMBER MEETING

The September meeting of St. Paul's Women's Guild was held Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 15 at the church hall.

The Guild members are invited to help can for the Detroit Orphanage, and cans are available at the parsonage.

Following the business meeting, a social hour and lunch were enjoyed in the dining room, with Mrs. Elmer Mayer and Mrs. Elmer Lohman as hostesses.

The next meeting will be held Friday, October 15, at 8 o'clock. Husbands will be invited and there will be a food sale among the members.

THANK YOU!

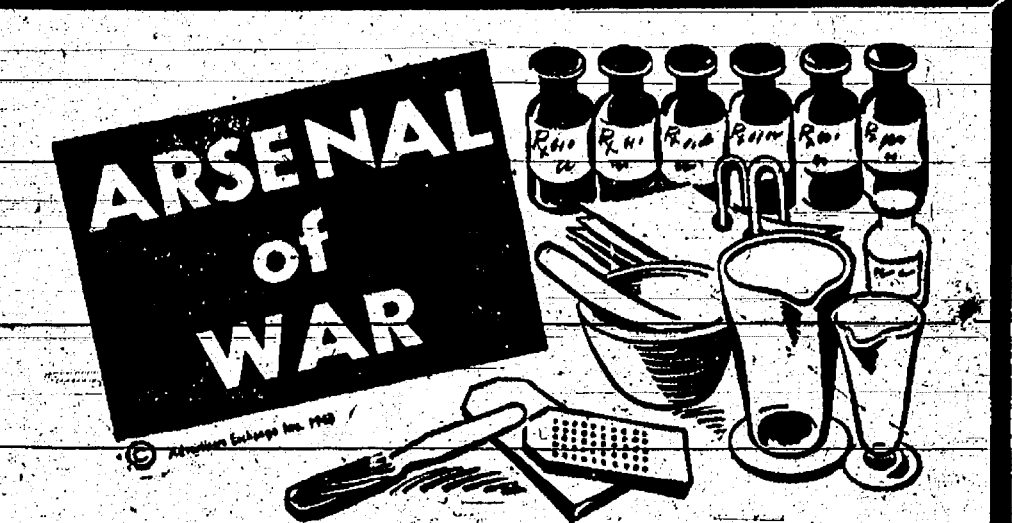

I wish in this way to thank all those who so kindly remembered me with cards, fruit and flowers during my recent illness; all were deeply appreciated.

Hog slaughter last year showed an increase of about 21 million head and sheep and lamb slaughter about 12 million head over the average annual slaughter of World War I.

We aim to be prompt and progressive.

Our prescription laboratory is fully stocked with the drugs and chemicals physicians require in their ceaseless war against illness. Just as faulty ammunition can lose a battle, so, too, can ingredients of sub-standard strength cause a prescription to lose its effectiveness. We guard against this by stocking only the preparations of America's leading pharmaceutical houses among which are such synonyms for dependable quality as Squibb, Merck, Lilly, and Parke-Davis. This is your guarantee of quality and our own reputation is your assurance of accurate compounding.

A SUGGESTION

The opening of a new school year always brings with it many new faces. Many of the old familiar faces have disappeared and in their places we find new ones. This opening seemed to bring forth more new faces than any opening for some time.

The beginning of any new enterprise is always accompanied by many problems. Everything looks so strange at the beginning and there are certain things that can be done to help newcomers become acclimated. In the first place a newcomer will be more happy if he feels that he is welcome and that he belongs to the group. Introducing yourself and your friends will help him greatly in getting acquainted and making him feel at home. It will also help him with certain problems that may be bothering him. So give a little of your time in helping him over the rough beginning.

Most people can remember a little lift that was given them when they were starting out on a new venture. Older persons can look back over life's path and pick out a few incidents that completely changed the course of their lives. A suggestion or a word of encouragement by someone who took a personal interest in them may have been a factor. The little lift you can give a newcomer may mean a lot to him.

CHELSEA 18—DEXTER 7

By Doc Alber

Last Friday Chelsea won their opening football game by defeating Dexter 18-7.

Dexter won the toss and chose to receive. Modack started the game off with a very nice kick to about the Dexter 20-yard line. After they had seen the ball to about the 40-yard line they had to punt and was taken on about Chelsea's 35-yard line. On the first play Four tossed a pass to Modack who went all the way for the first score.

The attempt for the extra point failed. Score, Chelsea 6, Dexter 0.

The two teams battled back and forth until the end of the first quarter. Score: Chelsea 6, Dexter 0.

In the second quarter both teams tried every possible way to score but were unsuccessful. Modack was hurt and had to leave the game. McClear was playing a grand game at end. Score at half: Chelsea 6, Dexter 0.

In the third quarter Chelsea was first to score when Modack took the ball around his right end and with some nice blocking went 65 yards for another touchdown. The attempt for the extra point again failed.

Score: Chelsea 12, Dexter 0.

Both teams again played some more defensive ball, with Chelsea still holding the edge. Score: Chelsea 12, Dexter 0.

About half way in the fourth quarter Dexter grabbed one of Modack's passes and went all the way for a touchdown. The extra point was good. Score: Chelsea 12, Dexter 7.

Coach Cameron sent in the rest of the starting team and they started on their way for a touchdown when Four went 6 yards for the score. For the third time they missed the extra point. Score: Chelsea 18, Dexter 7.

With only two minutes left Dexter tried to score by throwing some long passes but Knickerbocker intercepted one and Chelsea had time to run only one play when the final gun sounded.

Final score: Chelsea 18, Dexter 7.

This week there is a ball game at Milan, when Chelsea opens their Huron League season. There was a very good crowd at the Dexter game, and if you can possibly make it try to go over to Milan and you sure will get your money's worth. See you at the game!

FIRST ALL-HI

On last Friday evening at 8:30 Leota Kohsman was almost pulling her hair out by the roots. It seems that Andy Modack hadn't showed up yet and it was his job to get the "Vic" which couldn't be found. Meanwhile the students were sitting around twiddling their thumbs and wondering what was to happen. The Freshmen kept coming in and to everyone's surprise there were more Freshmen present than any members of the other classes in school.

Well, we were about to pick up and go home when in walks none other than Andy, and then there was a sigh of relief. With Andy there things happened. A Grand March which was a big march for our first party started. Then the curtains on the stage were drawn back and then the Freshmen were brought forward to be introduced to the members of classes.

During the introductions Marilyn Schooley tap danced; Angelina Merkel, Rosemary and Chelsea Lyons sang a song, and to close the program Tess Wengron twirled.

Almost forgot—three of our new teachers were present and they were introduced and asked questions.

That was the end of that. The students then enjoyed the rest of their time dancing. This was the first of the parties that will follow and if all the rest are as successful as this one we will all have something to be proud of. I'll bet you thought I was going to say that the girls outnumbered the boys, but for once the boys outnumbered the girls.

WAR COUNCIL

This year the War Council will have Miss Stevens as an advisor. The following officers were elected last year:

President—I. Loeffler.
Secretary—B. Eaton.
Treasurer—R. Trinkle.

A meeting has not been held yet, but there will be one next Friday.

The purpose of the War Council is to plan war activities for the school. It will supervise the sale of war stamps and bonds in the high school.

THE SERVICE LETTER

Last year at this time the journalism club took it upon themselves to inform the boys in the service from Chelsea high school of happenings and events about school.

This project has been very successful and the club has received many letters of appreciation in return. Some of these letters traveled half way around the world and their contents show that the service men want to hear from their home town.

These letters inform the school of sports events, school happenings and give as close as possible addresses of former students who are now in the service of their country.

As soon as the mailing list is completed the journalism club is again going to sponsor the service letter program.

The club would appreciate any help in completing the mailing list, so if anyone knows the correct address of former Chelsea High students they would be helping everyone concerned by leaving the name and address at the school.

CHORUS NEWS

Sixty-three people signed up for Chorus last Wednesday afternoon. Fifty-one were girls and twelve were boys. The new music teacher, Miss June Betterly, introduced herself and told them how glad she was to see so many people there. After the pupils registered they sang songs for the rest of the period. They expect to organize at a later date and Miss Betterly says, "We are looking forward to a swell year."

ELEMENTARY NEWS

Seventh Grade
(Mary Jane Jarvis)

Our stamp sale for this week was $13.05, which was less than last week. We received our spelling and English books the fore part of the week. Now we are "all set" for real work.

We regret very much that one of our pupils, Lone Beck, is moving back to Detroit on Sunday. We sang goodbye and had a collection for her. Our enrollment is now 34.

Last Friday Miss Brown sent us several library books, and over the week-end several new shelves and a new bulletin board were built into our room. We appreciate the books and the accommodation very much.

Our flag, which we bought last year, is now on display. We are beginning to knit for an afghan. We are busy looking up words and tabulating song choices for the community sing next Monday. We hope that many people come, and that many people buy stamps.

Fifth Grade

We have elected new officers. They are: President, David Crocker; vice president, Roma Jean Vaughn; secretary, George Heydlauff; treasurer, Georgia Ann Salzgeber.

We have six new people in our room. They are: Marjorie Kleiner, Mary Joan Pope, Hazel Stewart, Louise Walz, George Alpervitz, and Joan Schneider.

Our stamp sale for this week was $13.75.

Some of the boys in this grade are working for activity tickets.

Third Grade

William and Roy Petch entered third grade last week.

The third graders are now working in new spelling books.

Mrs. Cutler and Mr. Johnson visited our room last week.

Handrails installed on stairways would prevent many falls in the home. The National Safety Council says there were 30,500 accidental home deaths last year and that about half were caused by falls. The greatest number of falls in the home occur on stairs, many of which could be avoided by installing handrails. The stairways should be inspected very carefully to be sure the stairs are solid, clear of tripping hazards and well lighted. The pads, rugs or carpets on the stairs should be securely fastened down.

Especially nowadays, all people should be extremely careful as all workers are needed on their jobs every day. An accident to a defense worker can be just as serious and costly at home as it is at the plant.

Stairways can be extremely dangerous, so be sure to watch your step and don't run. Keep your hand on the rail and use a flashlight if the light is out.

Trace Straw Hats to Romans

Straw hats have been traced to the Romans who made them with high crowns and stiff brims after Macedonian models. Roman statues are hatless; hats were too difficult to sculpture. Romans generally went bareheaded, but hats were worn at the theater for protection from the sun; also by fishermen and sailors, and by travelers generally.
