Rigid Dog Quarantine Will Be Enforced Here

As the result of three local people being bitten by a mad dog two weeks ago, the village council took action at their meeting on Monday night to curb the stray dog nuisance in Chelsea, as a precautionary measure designed to prevent a recurrence of such an incident.

An ordinance was adopted by the council which makes it unlawful for "any owner, keeper, or person in charge of any dog or dogs, to permit, allow, or let such dog or dogs to stray or go beyond the premises of such owner, keeper, or custodian, except and unless said dog or dogs are under the reasonable control of some person, and no dog shall be allowed to run at large within the corporate limits of the Village of Chelsea."

In addition to the ordinance the council also ordered a quarantine, effective October 8, with strict and rigid enforcement to start next Monday, October 11, when the ordinance also becomes effective. Police officers have been instructed to catch and impound or shoot all dogs running at large.

Dr. Otto Engelke, head of the County Health Department, attended the council meeting Monday night and recommended the quarantine of all dogs as the most effective means to control rabies.

Charles Pigy, State Secretary of Agriculture, has been notified of the temporary quarantine and will investigate to determine the length of time the quarantine shall be effective.

Dr. C. C. Lane was named by the council to act as custodian of dogs which are impounded. According to provisions of the ordinance, any person whose dog is impounded may redeem such dog by paying the sum of $3.00 for the first day and $1.00 per day thereafter for each day the dog is impounded. Any dog unclaimed after forty-eight hours from the time of impounding shall be killed and buried by the pound master.

Dr. Engelke emphasizes the point that if your dog acts peculiar or changed, contact a veterinarian at once and do not rely upon some home remedy.

Although this action by the council may not meet with the approval of many dog owners, it should be an effective method of controlling rabies within the village. Stray dogs have been growing in numbers and some official action was necessary to control the situation. People who do not think enough of their dogs to take care of them will have to suffer the consequences as provided for in the ordinance and in the quarantine.

The complete ordinance will be found on another page of this issue.

RECRUITING SEABEES—WAVES
Chief Boatwain's Mate Allan Kay of the recruiting service for southern Michigan, stationed at Jackson, visited Chelsea last Thursday in the interest of Seabee and WAVES recruiting. Chief Kay stated that a time limit has been placed on Seabee recruiting. Any men interested in obtaining Petty Officer ratings should contact the recruiting office at their earliest convenience. An officer of the Construction Corps of the Navy will be in Jackson every Friday. Applicants are requested to present three letters of work reference to assist him in his rating. WAVES recruiting in southern Michigan set a new record in September, according to Chief Kay.

Called To The Colors

Clifford W. Fauser, who was inducted into service September 15, reported yesterday and was sent to Fort Custer.

Clifford was born June 9, 1925 in Lima township, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Fauser. He attended Chelsea public school and since the death of his mother in 1942, he has made his home with his brother, Clarence. Two weeks ago the family moved to Jackson.

He was employed with the Dexter Machine Products, Inc.

Duane L. Weiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Irven Weiss, was born in Chelsea on Oct. 21, 1920, graduating from Chelsea high school in 1937. For two years he has made his home in Detroit, where he was employed by the Packard Motor Co. He married Miss Elsie Wilson on Feb. 8, 1941.

Inducted into service September 20, Duane will report for duty at Detroit on October 11.

Street Surfacing Will Not Be Done This Year

Surfacing of a number of Chelsea's streets which was scheduled to be done in August has not been started because of the inability of the contractor, T. L. Flynn, of Detroit, to get materials and sufficient labor to fulfill his contracts according to schedule.

Because of the lateness in the season village authorities have decided to cancel the surfacing contract for this year. Instead, Mr. Flynn will be here this week-end with a force of men and equipment for essential patchwork on several streets which should put them in fairly good condition for the winter.

Curbing has been completed on several streets and it is hoped the surfacing can be done early next summer.

Woods Observe Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Wood held open house on Friday night at their home on Kilmer Rd., Sylvan township, in celebration of the 50th anniversary of their marriage.

On Sunday, nearly all the members of their family group, including their son, Harold Wood of Wayne, their three daughters, Mrs. Harry French of Dexter, Mrs. Edwin Hosking of Highland Park and Mrs. Henry Jensen of Detroit, also 14 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren, assembled at their home for an anniversary dinner. Two of their grandsons, of whom they are particularly proud, Leonard and Harry French of Dexter, are in the United States Army, the former in Texas and the latter in California. Several gifts were presented as souvenirs of the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Wood were married Oct. 1, 1893 at Jasper. Mr. Wood was employed in construction work in Detroit for 45 years and later worked on one of the University buildings in Ann Arbor. They have been residents of this community for about five years.

ONLY ONE WEEK LEFT TO MAIL PARCELS OVERSEAS

Postmaster H. D. Witherell states that apparently the public has not been impressed with the necessity of mailing their packages early in order to have them delivered to overseas service men, on or before Christmas day.

To insure delivery at Christmas, parcels to army men MUST be mailed before October 15, and to the navy men before November 1.

No parcel can be over 15 inches in length, and not over 36 inches in length and girth, and the weight cannot be more than five pounds. Parcels must be especially well packed and securely tied, and strong enough that they cannot be crushed.

Don't delay—mail your parcels before October 15!

LOCAL RATIONING INFORMATION

The rationing board will be closed Saturday evenings because of the necessity for conserving fuel.

The gas, tire and stove board is open Fridays from 1:00 to 3:30 o'clock.

The board which takes care of industrial, institutional, and consumer rationing of food, shoes, the issuing of War Books I and II, and the making out of applications for Ration Book III, and kerosene and fuel oil for everything but heating, will be open Fridays from 1:00 to 5:00 o'clock.

Chelsea Almost Doubles Quota In 3rd War Loan

With the 3rd War Loan Drive completed, final figures will show that Chelsea almost doubled the quota of $325,000 assigned to the village. Figures now available total $588,075 in all types of bonds purchased here during the month of September, and with credits from Willow Run and some other sources yet to be reported, the final amount will be well over $600,000.

Complete credit for Chelsea's buying must go to each and every individual who bought bonds. No matter how good the canvassing organization, the success of any such sale must depend on the buyers, and they met the call of their government in a way that was very gratifying to everyone in our village.

The Michigan War Bond committee has given the name "Gallant" to each of the more than sixty thousand persons in Michigan who acted as canvassers during the drive, and Chelsea is proud of our representatives in this army of workers. Their names follow:

Winifred Palmer, Margaret Hesel-schwerdt, June McKeivie, Marjorie Tuel, Marian Rutledge, Minnie Jones, Mary Adam, John J. Abber, Martha E. Kist, Anna McLeod, Wesley C. Smith, C. L. Athanson, Paul C. Maroney, J. A. Park, R. A. McLaughlin, Leroy I. Lord, A. D. Mayer, H. D. Witherell, F. W. Merkel, P. G. Schable, Robert Rankin, L. R. Heydlauff, Mabel Fox, Gertrude Daniels, Dillon Wolverson, Robert W. Wagner, Ira E. Johnson, M. W. McClure, Lewis Haselswerdt, John L. Fletcher, John P. Keusch, J. N. Strieter, D. R. Downer, W. A. Harper, Dr. A. L. Brock, Marian Eisele, Willard Ferguson, Norman Phelps.

Many other persons did exceptionally good work, and while it is not feasible to name them all here, they as well as the Gallants, deserve and have the Thank You of our community for a work well done.

—War Bond Committee.

Graduates From Army Air Force Flying School

Aviation Cadet John E. Fletcher, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fletcher of Chelsea, is a member of class 48-1 of Student Officers and Aviation Cadets recently graduated from the Army Air Forces Advanced Flying School at Yuma, Arizona.

The graduates were commissioned as Second Lieutenants and Flight Officers in the Army of the United States and were given the coveted silver wings, symbolic of the aeronautical rating of pilot. They have been placed on active duty in their new rank with the Army Air Forces.

Before entering the final and advanced training course at Yuma Army Air Field, Lt. Fletcher completed his primary and basic training at Twenty-nine Palms, California, and Polaris Flight Academy, Lancaster, Calif.

While attending Chelsea high school he was very active in sports, receiving 10 numerical awards. Lt. Fletcher also attended the University of Michigan, where he was elected president of the Michigan Phi Delta Theta Fraternity.

Lt. Fletcher spent Monday and Tuesday in Chelsea, leaving Tuesday evening for Norfolk, Va., where his marriage to Miss Margaret Jane Wright will be an event of the week.

Pooling of Gas Sought For State's Sportsmen

Capt. Donald S. Leonard, Michigan Director of Civilian Defense, has sought amendment of OPA gasoline regulations to permit hunters to pool their A-book pleasure driving allowances so that they may travel to the north woods in quest of deer during the annual season in November.

Leonard has based his request on the fact that a substantial deer kill would aid materially in relieving the meat shortage.

"Figures compiled by the State Conservation department for last year show that 61,722 deer were killed in Michigan," Capt. Leonard said. "This amounted to not less than 5,000,000 pounds of meat—There were 200,000 licensed hunters."

"It is our suggestion that three or four hunters be permitted to pool their A gasoline allowances—now prohibited—so that the combined mileage would be sufficient for a trip to the woods. The value of the arrangement would lie in the contribution it would make to the relief of the meat shortage."

Similar pooling arrangements were approved so that cherry pickers and other harvest workers could travel to their places of employment.

BAKE SALE

The Young Mothers' Child Study Club will hold a bake sale at Schneider's Grocery on Friday, October 8, starting at 3 o'clock.

Sgt. Paul Frayer, stationed at Camp McCain, Miss. is spending a five-day furlough at his home here.

D. L. Rogers has resigned his position as assistant cashier at the Kempt Commercial and Savings Bank, and is now employed in the office of the Hoover Steel Ball Co., Ann Arbor.

Miss Agnes Weber is taking a course in physical culture in the Ypsilanti Normal College. Others from here attending the Normal are: Misses Bernice Prudden and Wilhelmina Burg.

Warren Coe, Robert Lawrence, George Lawrence, Herbert Vogel, Reuben Wagner, Jessie Clark and Izora Foster.

The new smokestack for the Chelsea Screw Co.'s heating plant was brought here Sunday. The workmen had it almost in position to place on the base when a guy wire broke and the stack fell to the roof of the building and was broken in three pieces. The stack had to be taken to Jackson to be straightened and riveted together again.

THE WASHINGTON METHOD OF GETTING THINGS DONE

WASHINGTON - An expose of how things are done in Washington, intimate in its frankness, was received by a business man in his mail one morning, paper-clipped to the back of a letter from the office of Milo Perkins, the ex-genius who functioned as a guiding star for Vice President Wallace before the elimination of the Wallace control over the Bureau of Economic Warfare.

It alone might have furnished the reason for the transfer of that bureau had it been paper-clipped to any letter received at the White House from that direction.

Primarily, it tells how the liberals (meaning everyone who agrees with the author about what should be done) should build a fire under Mr. Roosevelt to sweat him over their way—or the way of the author. Or, as the memo stated, "to counter the sewer gas that now annoys his olfactory tract," and caused him to abandon liberalism—meaning the author.

"The definite atmosphere of conservatism has been in large measure created and it is the only air Mr. Roosevelt is breathing and the tune he hears," the Perkins memo declared—concerning its top Washington boss.

"Not only to offset but overcome the propaganda on the other side so that the President, the country, and congress will have before them strong statements in the press, radio and the magazines setting forth the liberal viewpoint, should we not again adopt this technique," (having Charlie Michelson prepare statements and speeches for members of the house and senate and officials in a campaign pitch).

"I understand Lyndon Johnson, Texas representative, will be the new head of the congressional campaign committee. He would be a useful man to work through. He might be induced to arrange for the Democratic National committee to send a good man to the South to focus opposition to the Farm Bureau in the South and make it vocal."

"The few remaining liberal 'spots' in some departments, it listed as 'Justice, Agriculture, Board of Economic Warfare, Civilian Supply, Interior and Manpower.'"

"If we could do this in some manner, the aroma of liberalism might again reach the nostrils of FDR and he perhaps would be better prepared to resist the pressure of the Jones, the National Manufacturers association, the O'Neals, and the rest."

The technique suggested by the memo is, of course, customary here, but it is not often that anyone comes right out and says so. At least, no one has mistakenly included such a memo in a letter to a Republican business man.

SLIGHTLY ALTERED

Wendell Willkie has given some signs of becoming a slightly altered man since his long sit-and-talk sessions on the Ellwood rail fence with the Hoosier Republicans.

Little wisps of unplayed statements from him show him denying the Wallace kind of globalism represents his "one world" views; also announcing he will campaign for the Republican party candidate for lieutenant governor of New York.

The Hoosier homefolk politicians and the 27 national committeemen who visited him in Indiana, are being given credit within the party for having inspired these developments. The politicians talked gently to Willkie because they were not sure how strong he is, but made little secret of their current opposition to him.

They know he has a powerful organization and many friends and, they like everyone else, always want to be with the winner. But they told Willkie he must do two things if he is to get more than a minority of his ex-home state delegation to the Republican convention.

First: He must prove by actions that he is actually a Republican, drop his individualistic rule and do something to help the party and other people in it.

Second: He must show also that his policies are not a rubber stamp of the New Deal in international affairs.

Willkie came back at them trying to justify his position. Victory next year, he said, rested less upon parties than upon getting the big independent vote. He also said he had nothing in mind like Wallace, and would make the difference clear.

What he has done since is in line with these Hoosier conference developments, but there must be more if he is to start with Indiana.

INSIDE JAPAN

Unofficial talk has been heard here that Japan may break internally after Germany falls, and bring a swift conclusion of the world war a long time before the six years forecast by our admirals.

The idea is founded on the supposition that Jap shipping losses have prevented her from consolidating her newly won empire and from getting her vast stores of raw materials into war production. No one here can have any conclusive evidence in that respect.

Agriculture Preparing for 1944

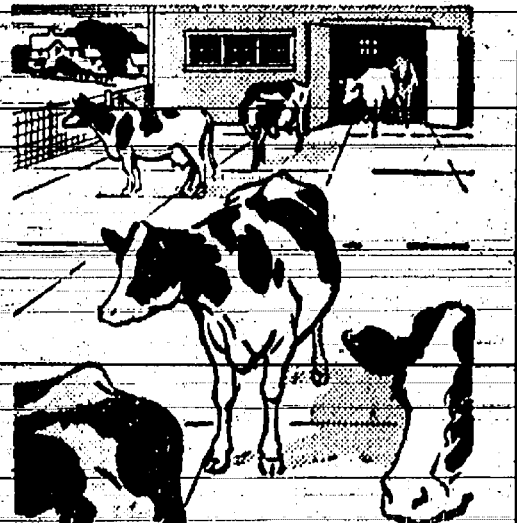

Easing of the rationing restrictions on farm machinery, increased production of new farm machinery, and a campaign among farmers to "Keep Your War Equipment Fit and Fighting" are indications of plans now being laid by the War Food Administration to meet increased production goals for 1944. Suggestions for expanded wartime production have been sent for consideration to State Agricultural War Boards and other farm representatives. State boards have been asked to set 1944 goals. The national program calls for a record-breaking 380 million acres in crops. Problems relating to labor, machinery, supplies, conservation practices, and prices will be considered at 43 state meetings of state groups with representatives of WFA during October.

Potato Ceilings

Specific ceilings for white potatoes of the late 1943 crop have been set by months for October, 1943, through June, 1944. These prices continue the general price level set for the spring crop of potatoes at the country shipper and intermediate seller levels with allowances for graduated monthly increases to take care of storage charges. Because of the large crop this year, it is expected that potatoes generally will sell substantially below the retail ceilings.

About RH Club Livestock Sales

Livestock produced and sold under the auspices of 4-H clubs is governed by the meat rationing regulations the same as other livestock, according to OPA. This means that the only persons who may obtain custom slaughtered meat point free are livestock producers. However, OPA permits such recognized boys' and girls' farm organizations as 4-H clubs to sell their livestock at a fair, exhibition, or an animal show at premium prices, as money from such sales usually helps provide educational funds for club members.

Germany Far From "Collapse"

The German Army has nearly three times as many combat divisions in the field today as there were when the attack on Poland began four years ago, Major General George V. Strong, Assistant Chief of Staff G-2 (Military Intelligence) declared recently. Discounting any likelihood of an early collapse of either Germany or Japan, General Strong disclosed that the Germans had replaced the 20 divisions lost at Stalingrad last winter, and that the German Luftwaffe was larger now than in 1939. He said also that the weapons the Germans are making are in some cases better than any which the United Nations have.

When he's ready
his shovel

★ Someday, those lads of ours over there are going to "spade under" the last hope of the Axis. Then, they'll be home, expecting to enjoy the comforts of home... and deserving them.

It's going to be what seems the small things that give them the biggest kick. Things like getting out to the trout stream again. Like going to the ball game. Like a pleasant poker session in the recreation room where just a glance at the automatic gas heating unit is a gratifying reminder that shoveling days at home are over, too.

If yours is one of the homes fortunate enough to have gas heating—protect your investment by having the equipment serviced when necessary. If you have not yet enjoyed the comfort, convenience, cleanliness and economy that gas heating can bring into your home, make up your mind now to install gas equipment as soon as the war is done.

Do it for yourself, your family, and for the boy who'll be coming back to his comfy slippers, his easy chair... and to "turn in" his shovel for good and all.

Ann Arbor, Michigan

"Aim for the heart and head!"

The following is paragraph (f) from a captured order issued by the headquarters, 125th German Infantry Regiment regarding mass executions.

(F) The execution is to be carried out in a very regimental manner with an officer in charge. Two to four men are to be detailed for each man to be shot. Aim for the heart and head. After the volley the officer responsible will, on orders from the attending medical officer, fire a final shot into the body of each with a regulation pistol. Death is to be certified by the medical officer.

Read it again. And again, until you have it memorized by heart. But don't shiver there in the security of your comfortable home. Borrow a cup of courage from this band of patriots who fell in graves... unmarked on their native heath, somewhere in Yugoslavia.

For their deeds they paid with their lives. Deeds which helped to bring victory to their allies in the desert there, across the Mediterranean. For their guerilla warfare tied up Nazi borders, Italian divisions and all their fighting equipment and supplies that otherwise might have been ferried across to stem the rising tide of defeat.

But what keeps men like these—and their compatriots from Norway to China—fighting on? Your generosity helps. Your spare dollars buy the aid that keeps their fighting hearts pumping!

Call it charity if you dare. Better to call it your war job. And this job is on three fronts. For your dollars must maintain the morale of our own men—wherever they may fight. They must be used to help our allies—to keep them in the fight. Nor can they forget the needy here at home. Social agencies on the home front have, among their vital tasks, those of keeping up morale and keeping down divorce, desertion, broken homes and child neglect. Overtaxed hospital facilities must be reinforced by community home nursing programs. The stabilizing influence of essential recreational services is more important than ever.

Because today's job is a three-front job for your dollars, the seventeen American war agencies have banded together into the National War Fund—and joined with our local agencies in a single united campaign. They are asking you to give only once this time—instead of coming to you separately throughout the year.

This way, it is easier for you. It assures maximum effective use of the contributions you give—for one and all.

And because you will be asked to give but once... we ask you to give unstintingly for victory. Give in one sum the contributions you would normally make for these causes in a year. And then ask yourself if that is enough to pay for your share of the victory.

Honestly now... is it enough? You're right, brother! Doubling your contribution this year would be a good beginning.

KIWANIS NEWS

The annual reception for the public school teaching staff by the Kiwanians and their wives was held at the Tower Cafe on Monday night, with 75 in attendance. After the informal welcome at the door and the delicious dinner that followed, President Lloyd Heydlauff turned the program over to the chairman, Dr. Russell Huber, who presided with wit and wisdom. From the first words of greeting to the last song of farewell, surprise and excitement kept the interest of all. Seldom has such oratory been heard in our city as gushed forth from the gifted lips of Charley Cameron, Pete Peterson, Dinty Moore and Harold Jones, although the speeches could have been better understood (but perhaps no more appreciated) if the artists had not all talked at the same time; the toast of Mrs. Warren Daniels was packed with spice and repartee and was graciously given; Prof. Paul Schable Nut's learned discourse on the A.B.C.'s of Matrimony showed a depth of practical knowledge and extensive research; Robert Wagner, supervising the Adventures in Psychology revealed the astonishing laxity in moral standards in the group present and also a corresponding high morality in the unusual individual record set by Lowell Davidson, who received the coveted red ribbon prize of Perfect Liar; Tom Smith displayed unusual talent in conducting his Quiz for the ladies who answered the hard questions in a way that brought credit to themselves and rewards for two of their number; George Staffan managed with consummate adroitness the difficult feature "Hats of Hollywood" but brought out the fact that the three clergymen present, by no means limited their technique to theology but could trim with skill and precision the modern hats worn by the ladies and make them look like fairy creations even on the heads of Albert Johnson, Dinty Moore and Henry Schneider; and to close the staid and melancholy evening, Jerry Niehaus, assisted by his able Wilhelmina on the melodian, led solemnly and sedately the singing of the old songs with modern versions.

The gathering adjourned early that the teachers might have a long night's rest and thus in no way interfere with the school duties of the morrow.

Various revisions of standards have been made from time to time.

Nation's Leaders Urge Support for War Fund

With messages of encouragement and inspiration spurring them on, thousands of Michigan men and women will voluntarily take their posts in October and November to campaign for the first state-wide appeal of the Michigan United War Fund, state representative of the National War Fund, to which the USO, United Seamen's Service, War Prisoners' Aid and fourteen United Nations War Relief agencies look for support.

President Franklin D. Roosevelt said, "A share in the War Fund is a share in winning the war."

In a recent statement, Governor Harry F. Kelly of Michigan told a group of War Fund workers, "It is my earnest hope that everyone will meet the War Fund appeal with an open-heartedness and generosity worthy of the magnificent cause it represents."

Albert S. Goss, Master, National Grange, urged each Grange to "serve the cause to the best advantage."

All American Legion organizations, Auxiliary and other affiliate groups have been asked to support and contribute to the War Fund by Roane Waring, former National Commander.

"Any benefit our service men receive through their families is a contribution to our war effort because it makes them better fighting men," said Admiral E. J. King, United States Navy, American Labor is solidly behind the War Fund, according to statements made by William Green, President of the American Federation of Labor and Philip Murray, president of the Congress of Industrial Organizations.

County War Fund organizations in Michigan have set a total state quota of $5,749,415 to be used in late October and early November.

THANK YOU!

I wish in this way to thank those who so kindly remembered me with flowers, cards, letters, gifts, and those who volunteered in my behalf, during my recent illness. All were deeply appreciated.

Belleville 26 — Chelsea 0

Before a very fine crowd Chelsea was defeated for the second straight week by Belleville, 26 to 0. The Chelsea lads were at their worst, with their spirits still over at Milan.

First Quarter — Belleville received the kick-off and started on a march toward Chelsea's goal line which Chelsea finally stopped on about their own 30.

Belleville kicked out on about the Chelsea 5 yard line, and when our boys could do nothing they booted out to Belleville who came right back and when they were finally stopped they were on the Chelsea 10 yard line. It was the clock that saved them.

Score: Chelsea 0, Belleville 26.

Second Quarter — Chelsea was again the loser. They were again stopped on about their own 30.

A. of Chelsea was a very good player. He was the only one who was able to get the ball back to their 45 yard line.

Chelsea had their own when they got the ball. It looked like they were going places until the 10:00 o'clock whistle blew. They were offside about five times in a row, and finally lost the ball. Neither team scored in this quarter but Belleville played the better ball. Score: Belleville 7, Chelsea 0.

Fourth Quarter — As soon as the fourth quarter started Belleville scored on a pass to the left end for their second touchdown. The extra point failed. Chelsea got the ball and again was offside on every other play and before long Belleville went over for their third touchdown on a line plunge. The extra point was good, making the score 20-0. In about another minute Belleville intercepted a Chelsea pass and went 20 yards for another touchdown. The extra point failed. The final score: Belleville 26, Chelsea 0.

Although none of the Chelsea boys were great stars in the game there were some who played fair ball. Porter, May and Knickerbocker played

Columbus, History's Man of Mystery, Remains Puzzle to World's Scholars

ALTHOUGH 451 years have passed since an intrepid navigator named Christopher Columbus sailed westward to unknown horizons, the world still knows almost nothing of that sailor whose discovery has been termed the most important event since the birth of Christ.

Less is known about Columbus than almost any other great figure of history. Who was he? Where and when was he born? What was his early life? What did he look like? Was he educated? Was he a sailor? Where and when did he die? Where is he buried? These and many other questions cannot be answered by today's historians with any degree of accuracy.

As to his identity, some scholars would have us believe that he was Spanish. Others say he was Portuguese, others Jewish. This point likely will never be cleared up.

Columbus' Birthplace.

There are at least 15 cities in Italy where the tourist of more peaceful times can see the "birthplace" of Columbus. Outside of Italy, Columbus was "born" in a dozen places in Spain, Portugal and France. Other "birthplaces" are being discovered every few years.

The date of his birth is controversial. The best authorities believe he saw the light of day between 1446 and 1451. His early life remains as historically obscure. It has never been proved that he attended a university, or that he ran away to sea, or that his father was a wool-comber, as is often alleged. Legend, myth and fiction crowd each other in the early pages of his life, making interesting reading but unreliable history.

There are more than 40 different portraits of Columbus, no two of which seem to depict the same individual, and none of which seems to have been painted during his lifetime. These portraits show many varied characteristics, and range from a lace-collared dandy to a gaunt, stern-visaged individual who appears to be chiseled out of unyielding rock.

Death at Valladolid.

After the return from his fourth voyage Columbus seems to have been ill physically and mentally. Many authorities agree that he died on May 20, 1506, at Valladolid, Spain, but his death appears not to have been noted in the records of that city until 27 years later.

One version of the story of Columbus' final resting place has it that he was buried in Valladolid, his bones later being removed to Seville, thence to Santo Domingo and then to Havana.

During the Spanish-American war, when the Spaniards thought the Americans might capture the bones of America's discoverer, they went back to Seville.

You can take your choice of many stories concerning almost any phase of his life—or his death.

Perhaps the only thing which can be said with any degree of certainty is that Columbus was not an American.

good ball in the backfield, as did McClear, Busler and Dietle in the line.

That I went on last week broke and I fell hard. But again I pick Chelsea to win over Saline by a score of 13 to 7. Saline won their opening game and were favorite in their second game, but I have seen our boys in practice and I know they can play better ball than they have been playing.

As many of you as possible go over and see the game and cheer for the boys. When a team is having hard luck it needs the support of everyone to back it up and turn it back on the road to victory.

LATIN CLUB

A meeting of the Latin Club was held Monday, September 27. The meeting was called for the purpose of completing the plans for the initiation party which was held Wednesday, September 29. The party appeared to be very successful.

The party began at 7:00 p.m. with the students straggling until about 8:00. The new Latin students were then lined up in the gym and they each drew a slip of paper from the hands of Angeline Morkel. On these slips were different assortments of things for them to perform. For instance, Nancy Booker did a very good job of the Hoola; Neal Beach proved how musical he was when he sang with the accompaniment of crackers, and John Wellnitz did an exceptional job of the Hoola. They did a very neat job of sweeping the gym floor, with tooth brushes and then sang "God Bless America." All were very good sports.

Following the initiation those present were honored with the singing of a few numbers by the Latin Club Quartet, consisting of Thomas McClear, Robert Eaton, Donald Alber and Richard Foor. The games which followed were enjoyed by all.

Refreshments were served in the gym. The evening was finished off with dancing. An enjoyable evening was spent by all.

But inside, things were getting plenty hot; the music was loud but danceable. Over in one corner was a weak, fake moon. In fact if a Sophomore hadn't said something about "How do you like our moon?" people would have just gone on thinking it was Miss McDonald's third degree lamp.

The decorations were in one corner of the gym. It was a wishing well in which a penny was to be thrown and then a wish made. The Sophomores, who invented it, thought they could make some money to buy their donation for the Bond Auction. They haven't made a statement yet, of how much they took in, but if any Sophs get together they're sure to be debating on what you can get for twelve cents.

The Seniors, who were in charge of entertainment, taught us a clever new game, but then a teacher came along and said no dice, so we played something else. All kidding aside, though, the games were a lot of fun.

The Triple Trio gave their version of Pistol Packing Mama which beats every other version (except maybe Frankie's). But Irma, was that accent cultivated or is there something you haven't told us?

The refreshments were Dixie Cups, and very refreshing too. And no one is saying that anyone got more than his share, but Tom R.'s nickname has recently changed from Rat to Hog.

Of course the rest of the time was spent dancing, and then everyone went home (or otherwise) at 11:00, saying how much they liked the party.

ELEMENTARY NEWS

Eighth Grade

Friday afternoon we had a farewell party for Allen Ray Krontz. We presented him with a very nice pen. The class hopes he will write to us. The committee who arranged the party was: Helen Hochrein, Ruth Fox, Dorothy Grob and Opal O'Dell.

Last Thursday after school all the children in the class had a ride in a "jeep." We all enjoyed it.

October fourth the seventh and eighth grade boys will play football with the ninth grade boys.

Seventh Grade

(Doris Downer)

The Community Sing, for which we worked so hard for so long, is now over. About one hundred forty people came, and what they lacked in numbers they made up in the enthusiasm and volume of their singing. A vote was taken at which it was decided to hold more community sings in the future. The group bought about $131.75 worth of stamps for admission. Mr. Schneider asked the master of ceremonies, Mr. Niehaus, to announce that Chelsea had "gone over the top" in its sale of bonds. Mrs. Niehaus supplied the accompaniment.

Our stamp sale for the week was $34.40.

At week's close, we have sold nearly all of our half of the football pencils. The money from this source is to be used for wool for the knitting. We collected $436 for the eighth grade at the "sing" and Mrs. Dave Miller generously offered us the clipping from her pet lamb, for which we were very grateful.

New pupils are Jack Chriswell, who came to us indirectly from Jackson, and Mary Caroline Matheny, who came from Campaign, Tenn. We are very glad to have them.

The grade voted to contribute a gift to the high school bond auction, and chose Mary K. Palmer, Beverly Booker and Joyce Hughes to buy it.

ALL-HIGH PARTY

Outside the gym, cars were parked; an orange siver represented the moon. And if you got far enough away, the music sounded sweet, and beautiful. The air was black and cool.

Illness Cuts Manpower

The loss of time from work through illness totals about 480 million hours of lost manpower a year.

"Hi, Mom it's Joe!"

The call home means a lot to a man in the service. Most of the time he's too busy to get near a telephone, but between 7 and 10 in the evening he sometimes has a chance to make a call.

You can imagine what a disappointment it is for him if he finds all the long distance lines are busy.

By avoiding the use of long distance during those hours — 7 to 10 P. M. — you're giving soldiers and sailors a break they surely deserve. And if you have a man of your own in the service, remember it's better to let him do the calling. If you place the call, it may be difficult to locate him.

OCD Will Be Mobilized For Natural Disasters

Lansing—Plans for speedily mobilizing the protective units of the U. S. Citizens Defense Corps of Michigan for service in time of natural disasters as well as during air raid alerts have been announced by Capt. Donald S. Leonard, Director of Civilian Defense.

The increased protection will involve no expansion in organization, but is intended to more efficiently utilize the forces that have already been trained to render aid in emergencies.

"Most communities of Michigan are better prepared for an air raid than they are for a natural disaster," Capt. Leonard said. "Our new plans contemplate the correction of this situation."

Because use of air raid sirens to mobilize civilian defense for any other purpose than air raid alerts is both impractical and prohibited, it is proposed to set up substitute systems by which the protective services can be summoned for duty according to the classification of services desired, such as auxiliary police, auxiliary firemen, emergency medical, etc.

The definite mobilization plan will have to be worked out for each community in accordance with its communications facilities and other factors," Capt. Leonard stated. "In general, the plan calls for key leaders to be notified by the authorities when certain services are wanted, and fanning out this notification to the members of each service."

Civilian defense in Michigan has seen action the last year in fire, storm, flood and riot emergencies, and the new plans provide for more prompt mobilization in future natural disasters.

NUTRITION TIPS

Cabbage Is Not a "Common" Vegetable

The Washtenaw County Nutrition Committee declares that cabbage is one of our best and most useful native vegetables. It is plentiful and comparatively low in cost, but we must stop thinking of it as common in the sense that it is ordinary. Cabbage can be most uncommonly good if the trouble is taken to dramatize its presentation at the table.

There are a number of ways in which cabbage can be served—as salad either raw or cooked, scalloped, in soups, as sauerkraut, eaten in wedges raw as an accompaniment to, sandwiches.

Many people would enjoy cabbage more if it were not so frequently overcooked. Five to six minutes is long enough to make it tender and retain color, natural flavor and shape. Long cooking causes cabbage to become soggy in flavor and gives it an unattractive color. Serve it with butter, with pork or ham for seasoning, with cream or milk, or with vinegar.

Here is a cabbage recipe you will enjoy.

Scalloped Cabbage and Apples

2 quarts shredded cabbage, 1 quart sliced tart apples, 1 tablespoon sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 2 tablespoons fat, 1 cup bread crumbs.

Grease baking dish, make alternate layers of cabbage and apple, sprinkling with sugar, salt and dots of fat. Repeat until all ingredients are used. Sprinkle the crumbs on the top layer. Cover and bake until the cabbage and apples are tender. Remove cover for the crumbs to brown. Serve from the dish.

Another different way to serve cabbage that will please the most epicurean taste is scalloped cabbage with cheese, a good main dish for dinner or supper.

Another different way to serve cabbage very fine. This makes it more attractive and easier to eat. Almost any dressing is good for cabbage salad—sugar, sour cream and vinegar, sugar and vinegar, French or boiled dressing, or mayonnaise. A little onion chopped fine or onion juice adds to the flavor.

Cabbage keeps well if stored properly. Some people may prefer to make kraut of the surplus from their Victory gardens. For this, select solid

State of Michigan, the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw.

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, in said County, on the 23rd day of September, A. D. 1943.

heads that are fully matured. Shred and place in containers—stone jars are best. Alternate cabbage with salt, one pound of salt to every 40 pounds of cabbage. Be sure salt is evenly distributed. Pack firmly, cover with a clean cloth and a board or plate on which a weight is placed to make brine come over the top of the cabbage. Keep at about 80 degrees F. to cause fermentation, which takes about 10 days. Remove scum that has formed on top and store the kraut in a cool place or transfer to jars and seal. Be sure it is covered with brine. For long keeping it is better to process jars of kraut in a boiling water bath: heat to simmering; pack in hot jars and process pints for 25 minutes, quarts for 30 minutes in the boiling water bath, or pints 35 minutes and quarts 45 minutes in the oven at 275 degrees F.
