Local Group Meets With Warden at Honor Camp

A group of men representing local industry, business, churches and schools met with Warden Harry H. Jackson of the State Prison of Southern Michigan, Berry Beaman, a member of the State Corrections Commission, and Lieut. Geo. F. Parish at the Cassidy Lake Vocational School on Saturday night, where they received first-hand information concerning operation of the camp.

Warden Jackson, Mr. Beaman and Lt. Parish explained the purpose of establishing this "honor camp," how it would be conducted, and it was stated that the number of students to be in training there would not exceed fifty for at least one year. A joint statement released for publication contains the following pertinent facts: "The camp will be conducted under semi-military rule and regulation discipline. The boys who come to this camp will not be hardened criminals with long records, or any men serving in the prison and being sent here to finish their present sentence. At the present time we do have some of the older inmates, which are only being used to place the camp in proper condition. The plumbing and all the buildings require considerable repairs. These men have all made parole and are eligible to go home any day. Therefore they would not commit any crime to jeopardize their freedom. The young boys will be picked with a high standard of I.Q. and their crimes will be such that we call first-time offenders. We hope to be able to train and teach these boys a trade so that they will be good citizens when they leave this camp.

"These boys will first serve a period in quarantine of approximately forty days. During this time they will be classified by the psychologist, sociologist, and the medical staff, together with the classification board. These boys that come here could be boys from the community in which this camp sets.

"This camp is always open to the inspection of the citizens of the community. There is no reason for fear that any of these boys will cause trouble to the community. They are restricted to stay in the camp at all times. They are not allowed on the highways. They are under guard twenty-four hours a day. We have five officers on duty at all times. ## Dr. C. C. Lane Killed Sunday In Auto Crash

Dr. Chandler C. Lane, Chelsea veterinarian for the past 42 years, was killed in an automobile accident about 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon at US-12 and M-92, when his car was struck by a machine driven by Germain G. Bush, who lives in southern Michigan, a mile north of the Indiana state line.

The Bush car, while going west on US-12, struck Dr. Lane's machine, which had been traveling in a northerly direction on M-92, causing it to roll over several times after the collision. Bush told officers that after the veterinarian had stopped his car at the intersection he started it up again, driving directly in the path of the oncoming car.

Dr. Lane died almost immediately after the crash, while the four passengers in the Bush car, which included his wife and daughter Elsie, also Mr. and Mrs. Bulaski Krake of Benton

In 1901 he graduated from the Grand Rapids Veterinary school and had practiced in Chelsea since that time. He was married in Detroit to Miss Caroline Schurz of Erie, Pa., on July 9, 1917. # Can You Picture MICHIGAN without its Industries?

All of us who live in Michigan—no matter what our jobs may be—would have a hard time even imagining this State of ours without its great industries in operation. In peacetime they wrote a big chapter in the history of America's industrial progress—now in wartime they are one of the most powerful "arsenals of Democracy".

These great industries—the largest among them being the motor vehicle, steel, paper, chemical and baking industries—directly or indirectly affect us all. They give jobs to people we know, utilize the services of thousands of others, use the produce of our State, pay taxes—and provide the things we, our armed forces and our Allies need.

In the last peacetime count, 6311 individual manufacturing establishments were employing far more than half a million fellow citizens of Michigan to turn out goods valued at billions of dollars yearly. Today many of these plants are manufacturing products far removed from their usual merchandise—building well the tools of total war for use on fighting front and home front alike.

We who keep Greyhound buses rolling across our State take pride in the industrial achievements of our fellow citizens of Michigan—and take part in them too! Our job is a big one—transporting Michigan's manpower to factories, foundries and farms, keeping essential wartime travel on the move, making near neighbors and good neighbors of all the communities our buses serve in Michigan.

THE NAVY needs it more

The reason you are asked by the Government to make your present gas range and other gas appliances do for the duration, is the greater need for metal and manufacturing facilities by the armed forces.

If you had expected to buy a new gas range this year, invest the money instead in War Bonds which can be used later to purchase the latest advanced model of the Certified Performance Gas Range.

Meanwhile, your present gas range will continue to give you satisfactory service if you clean it regularly and keep it in good condition.

Wipe the enamel with a damp cloth while still warm to keep it spotless and new-looking. If burners become clogged, use a stiff brush or insert a wire gently in the openings. Do not slam the oven door or drawers.

A booklet has been prepared on the care and use of gas appliances. You are welcome to a copy. It is to our mutual interest to see that your gas appliances work properly and give satisfaction.

TO FAYE

Sometimes, before the lamps are lit,
In the still twilight gloom I sit
And dream that you are here.
I seem to feel your presence near.
Almost, I feel, within my own,
Your strong, dear hand, I wake—alone—
And slow tears tremble out and fall
Across my cheek and—that is all.
My heart I could not hold. Only
The shell—the shell of memory.

WEDDINGS

Markey-Rogers

The marriage of Miss Marion Harriet Markey, daughter of Edward J. Markey of Washington, Pa. to Lieut. Claude Sears Rogers, United States Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dorman L. Rogers of Chelsea, took place Saturday night, December 4 at the home of the bride's father, on East Beau street extension.

The ceremony was performed at 6:30 by the Rev. M. J. Hughes of the Immaculate Conception church, in the presence of the immediate families and a few friends.

The fireplace in the living room of the Markey home, before which the marriage vows were exchanged, was banked with palms and ferns, flanked by tall lighted candelabra. An arrangement of white chrysanthemums on the mantel centered the wedding decorations.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory lace and satin, made with a lace bodice and satin hoop skirt with full train. Two bands of lace were inserted at the top of the skirt. Her full-length veil of tulle fell from a crown of orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of white orchids, white roses and stephanotes.

Miss Edna Markey was maid of honor for her sister and another sister, Miss Ruth Markey, was bridesmaid. They were gowned alike in champagne-colored heavy satin, made with long pointed sleeves and hoop skirts. Seed pearls were used across the front of the bodices, extending on the sleeves. Their headresses were laced with bands of matching material and they carried bouquets of pink roses and blue and purple iris.

Captain Kent M. Quantius, a fellow officer of the bridegroom, was best man.

Miss Laura Leyland wore a coral-colored crepe trimmed with silver beads and Mrs. Rogers, mother of the bridegroom, was attired in a green crepe gown made with a beaded bodice. Both wore corsages of orchids.

A reception and a wedding dinner followed the ceremony.

OPEN FORUM

153 East Middle Street,
Chelsea, Michigan,
December 12, 1943.

The Chelsea Standard,
Chelsea, Michigan.

To the Editor:
The writer, having lived in or near Chelsea for almost a score of years, is knocked into a state of bewilderment whenever he picks up your paper and sees on the front page a protest by the "Local Petitioners."

Their latest is the condemning of Governor Kelly and Warden Harry Jackson's judgment and experience with penal institutions, in locating an Honor Camp approximately six miles from Chelsea. Who is more qualified in deciding this issue—men of experience, or local petitioners?

In the years of 1930 to '34, page seven of your paper was filled with mortgage foreclosures and in some instances ran over to preceding and following pages. I note with pleasure that you have almost completely eliminated this feature from your paper. Has this been possible by the efforts of the "Petitioners?"

They have petitioned the New York Central Railroad to cease running noisy trains or get out. They have refused the air over our city to be used by our armed forces. Men of foresight brought industry to our city; petitioners have objected to its smoke and noise. Juke boxes playing "Pistol Packing Mama" have been muted to a mere whisper. Automobile horns have become a mere ornament within the city limits, instead of an accident preventive.

Isn't it possible for this small minority to realize that all this is the sign of outward appearance of progress? Without trains, factories, airplanes overhead, smoke, yes and a little soot, would Chelsea be able to boast of such fine homes as we enjoy, four well-established churches to worship as we please, two fine schools with playgrounds, and surfaced streets?

For example, let us look at the Methodist Home, which we are fortunate to have located in our city. While not being connected even in the remotest way with its operation, still I've never heard a single complaint from that source concerning the noisy old freight cars rumbling through their front yard. Can it be they more fully realize its usefulness than we?

Or are they still of that good old pioneer stock, who demand that service, and endure its shortcomings as the just fee.

Certainly it would be a source of joy and the greatest satisfaction of our life if we should hear of a bombardier saying after a mission over Berlin, that he learned the art of using a bombsight over Chelsea, Michigan, by getting the ball of our flag-pole beneath his sight.

Why don't we more fully welcome anything that is placed in our community, which will increase our overall payroll? Or by petitioning against them, and thereby admitting our inability to cope with a bigger and more progressive city, we immediately stop anything that will add even a small particle to our wealth.

What are we to give the boys, whose names appear on the Honor Roll on Park street, after the war? A city full of noise and action, with its opportunities for re-employment, or a hill with its quiet and dignity as is located on the eastern border of the city. For mine, give me the noise, the smoke, and the responsibilities—the quiet of the hill will come all too soon.

Yours Truly,
(Signed) A. L. Juergens.

Basketball
Girls: The Chelsea girls battled Pinckney on Tuesday afternoon for their first game of the season. Miss McDonald has been putting her girls through secret practices all year in preparation for this game.

I picked the Chelsea girls to bring home their first victory.

Boys: With no game until last Tuesday Chelsea's basketball team had a full week of practice. The boys were put through their paces in preparation for the game with Pinckney which was played on Tuesday. Pinckney brought over a veteran team, most of which played last year.

I also picked Chelsea to win both games.

Scores were not available when this went to press.

Schedule: Jan. 7, Alumni vs. Chelsea.

GAA

The girls taking girls' athletics elected Virginia Lucht for their captain of the basketball team. The Chelsea girls played the Pinckney girls Tuesday at 4:00 in the local gym.

A final test will be given Thursday to all the girls taking First Aid.

BOND AUCTION

Tuesday, December 7, a bond auction was held during activity period in study hall. Each class and club donated an article. Some of the articles were as follows: a hand grenade sent by Joe Hale, stationery, a box of candy, coca-cola, candles and candle holders, pens, records, hosiery, and articles from the lost and found department. The total amount was $833.

The War Council discussed plans for the box social for January 26 during the regular meeting today.

HOME EC. CLUB

The Homemaking club is planning for a Christmas party. The Christmas party will be held next Tuesday. The Silent Sisters will exchange their gifts at this time.

CONSERVATION CLUB

The Conservation club held a meeting a week ago Wednesday night. They are planning to have a basketball team. The Red and Gun club is planning a rabbit hunt and all boys interested should come. Night meetings will be held every third Wednesday of the month.

HI-Y CLUB

Jim Gaunt and Dick Richards were the two delegates sent to the Older Boys' Conference in Lansing last Friday and Saturday. They are going to prepare reports for the local Hi-Y club. The service chairman planned the first snack given after the Pinckney game Tuesday night.

SHOP

The boys are making mail boxes, croquet sets, end tables, and dust pans.

BAND

A small instrumental ensemble is preparing Christmas music for a program at the Methodist church on Wednesday.

The band is working on music for the school program Dec. 23. They are working on a special number, "White Christmas."

Last week, George Ambler, who played with the summer band, visited rehearsals. He is in the Army Air Corps at Denver, Colorado.

JUNIOR PARTY

Why are all the Juniors out of this world this week? Of course they are planning for the super big Christmas party to be held Dec. 17. Don't tell anyone but it is rumored that Harry James and Frankie Sinatra are to be present at the gala affair. Kids take note—Santa Claus is coming all the way from the North Pole just for the day Chelsea's basketball team had a full week of practice. Plans have been made for refreshments that are absolutely OK. Ruth Ann and Dick are planning the entertainment and Nancy and Angelina, the decorations, so everything is bound to be super. Well, kids, that's just a preview of what's to come so don't forget to come and see for yourself what a swell party it's going to be.

ELEMENTARY NEWS

Eighth Grade

The eighth grade is having a Christmas party Friday, Dec. 17, from 7:30 to 10 o'clock. The committees are:

Entertainment—Donald Baldwin, Bud Freysinger, Richard Carlson.

Refreshments—Helen Hochrein, Opal O'Dell, Dorothy Grob.

Clean-up—Clare Knickerbocker, Mary Paul, Douglas Vogel, Patricia Mohrlock.

Donald Baldwin is going to furnish the Christmas tree. We drew names and will exchange gifts at the party.

We have a new pupil in our class. She is Dixie Reffelt, from the Red school in Washtenaw county.

Seventh Grade

By John B. Shepherd

At 8:30 on the morning of December seventh we held a stamp auction. Some of our members forgot to bring their money, but by the end of the week our sales of bonds and stamps had risen to $373.50, purchased by 65 per cent of our membership. We feel pleased at achieving an average of over $10 per room member.

Perfect attendance records at the end of second marking period were held by Doris Downer, Ellen Jane Geddes, Marlene Heydlauff, Helen Jarvie, Rowena Lentz, David Slane, and Myrna Robards.

Work is really getting hard; our geography test was really difficult, and English, with its work on cause and construction, is getting harder too. However, we feel pleased because we heard indirectly that the seventh grade had almost as high an average on the national current events test as the Juniors had. Our girls are learning how to make cookies.

Billy Lyons stayed after school one night and varnished all but twelve of our desks. We wish you had had more varnish, Bill.

The sixth grade presented us with twenty-four finished blocks for our arghian recently. We wish to thank them publicly for this generous gesture. We now have enough blocks for our first arghian. Mrs. A. B. Stewart will sew it together for us.

Committees have been appointed to definite tasks for clean-up day. It is both patriotic and sensible to take good care of the equipment we have, so we are going to put everything in our room in tip-top condition, during the last hour on Friday.

We are still collecting knives for Father Flanagan at Boys Town. We are now trying to sell season basketball tickets.

Sixth Grade

By Geraldine Hale

This week we elected officers. The new president is Bob Vogel; vice-president is Geraldine Hale; secretary is Helen Eschelbach; treasurer, Merilyn Johnson.

We talked about our Christmas plans. We have decided to have a small Christmas tree. We are going to play some games like bingo and have prizes for the winners. Jean McClure is chairman for a Christmas play. We are going to buy some Dixie Cups and cookies for our Christmas party.

We had an auction on Dec. 7 and are happy to say we raised $64.75. Our stamp sale was $66.75.

Third Grade
We are making Christmas decorations for our room.

We are reading about grains in social studies. The third graders are planning a play, "The Sleeping Beauty," from a story in the reading books. A number of children have been absent because of sickness.

VISION and SUCCESS

Vision is one of Nature's greatest endowments. Not alone the perception of objects with the eye but the vision which enables us to create high ideals, strive for greater things, and take the proper steps toward success.

Successful men, men with vision, learned long ago that a connection with a strong, reliable banking institution was essential for success.

We believe we fulfill the requirements for men with the keenest of vision and cordially invite you to allow us to cooperate with you.

HONOR CAMP

is true the officers do not wear uniforms. The reason is that we are trying to keep the atmosphere of the prison out of the community.

Following an informal discussion a majority of those present endorsed the project, although several of the men opposed the operation of such a camp in this community. It was proposed that a mass meeting be held in Chelsea in the near future when the director of the Corrections Commission could be present, as well as Warden Jackson and others engaged in penal work. If such a meeting can be arranged ample notice will be given through these columns.

Lieut. Parish, director of the camp at Cassidy Lake, has had considerable experience in handling men and boys. He served twelve years in the U. S. Army, one year in Mexico with General Pershing, two years in France and fought on all five major fronts in World War I. He is a member of the American Legion and Past Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars. On returning to the States, to civilian life, he took up criminal work and has served with the Lansing police department, with the Ingham county sheriff's department. He has served 18 1/2 years in the State Prison of Southern Michigan, starting as an officer and has worked up to the present rank of Lieutenant.
