4TH WAR LOAN

TREASURY DEPARTMENT
DEFENSE SAVINGS STAFF

TO THE MEN, WOMEN AND CHILDREN OF MICHIGAN:
LET'S ALL BACK THE ATTACK!

That is the national slogan of the Fourth War Loan Drive. It is up to us to prove with our dollars that it is not merely a slogan. We can't win this war with brave words.

Backing the attack to the limit of our ability would mean an avalanche of dollars that would make our Fourth War Loan quota of $440,000,000 look like a mere minor objective on the tough, hard, and long road to Victory.

Backing the attack means putting into War Bonds and Stamps the dollars and dimes and pennies that would otherwise go toward things we can well do without.

Backing the attack means wanting to win the war so much that we are all willing to do something about it!

Backing the attack means saying "yes" to the members of the volunteer War Bond army who will ask you to buy -- saying it quickly and eagerly so that they can go without loss of time and with quickened pulse to the next patriotic American to whom they offer the best investment in the world.

Backing the attack means just exactly what it says. The men of our fighting forces will soon be engaged in the greatest attack in the history of the world. Are we with them?

Backing the attack by buying War Bonds means that we are --

Backing the attack with dollars which mean Victory.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Sincerely yours,

Frank N. Isbey

Three Men Killed By M.C. Passenger Train

Three men, all maintenance mechanics of the Michigan Central railroad, were instantly killed at 9:43 Monday morning when the truck in which they were riding was struck by eastbound passenger train No. 346 at the east Guthrie crossing, three and a half miles west of Chelsea.

The victims were: Daniel J. Pothoof, 18, of Michigan Center; Stanley J. Gallas, 37, and Chester Macheynski, 33, both of Jackson.

The men were en route to begin work in Chelsea and continue eastward, and the truck is believed to have been driven by Pothoof, A. E. Rowley of Jackson was engineer of the train and the conductor was A. H. Beckman of Chicago.

Sheriff's deputies said that apparently the truck driver did not see the fast approaching train on the east-bound track and he drove onto the crossing directly in the path of the locomotive. The truck was demolished and the bodies of the victims were hurled to the right-of-way between the tracks.

The train was not derailed by the crash but the front of the engine was damaged by the impact and another locomotive was brought from Jackson to replace it, and the train proceeded about two hours later.

The bodies of the three men were brought to the Miller funeral home here and later were taken to Jackson. Daniel Pothoof was valedictorian of the 1943 graduating class at Michigan Center high school.

Fourth War Loan Drive Is Opened In Chelsea

Chelsea War Bond solicitors, or "Gallants," met with the Kiwanis club on Monday evening to hear Rev. Fred Cowin-of Ann Arbor in an address opening the Fourth War Loan Drive here, which started January 18 and will end February 15.

Possessed of mature judgment, a ready wit, a genial outlook, as well as a wide experience and knowledge of life, the speaker held the rapt attention of all present.

He called attention to the fact that the benefits of our citizenship in this free country, being ever present with us, often go unnoticed, but are fully recognized and appreciated by newcomers. He cited the case of Jacob Rils-who came to this country as a poor immigrant, but rose to a very high position of power and respect, and acknowledged publicly on every occasion that he could that this would not have been possible in any other than this free country.

Rev. Cowin stressed the idea that in victory, no matter what the cost, we will be able to start anew to build a free world, but in defeat, we would not be able to build in our way. Defeat is unthinkable.

The speaker led his hearers on a high plane of thinking, always stressing those values that are ours only through constant effort, and the sale of War Bonds is one such effort.

He praised Chelsea's previous records in the sale of bonds, and emphasized the fact that these bonds are an investment, and an investment in our country.

The whole matter of the war, our participation in it, and the raising of funds to back the attack being made by our soldiers, impressed all persons present, and their reception of the speaker's words, indicated that they would do everything in their power (Continued on page four)

THINK IT OVER

How about doing a little cold turkey thinking after you lay aside this newspaper tonight?

You've got a good job. The chances are there in someone else's family. Perhaps two or three, working. Your son or your brother may be away at war.

This war must end sometime. Your whole family, your neighbors, are praying it ends soon and those fighting boys of yours will come home safely.

But will you be ready for what ever happens when peace comes? Will you have something laid away? We're all hoping there'll be jobs aplenty, jobs which mean making something for somebody's happiness and not for somebody's sorrow. That's where your War Bonds come into the picture. Sure, Americans own billions of dollars of War Bonds now, and before this 4th War Loan ends they will have put away billions more. But how about you? You're the one that counts. The bigger the pile of War Bonds you have, the more peace comes, the bigger chance you'll have to slip right into the post-war world you're dreaming about tonight.

So "Let's All Back the Attack."

THE EDITOR.

We Fight Persecution

By RUTH TAYLOR

In going over the papers this Sunday, one thing struck me most forcibly. That is the deep and earnest appeals for aid for the persecuted nations. The heart of America is warm for the down-trodden. The compassion of America extends to all people all over the world.

There was only one thing I did not like and that—because it was wasteful—was too great a divergence of appeals. This great and powerful force of good will was not coordinated as well as it might have been. It was scattered in a dozen different directions because the emphasis was placed not upon the root of the evil but upon the flower—not upon destroying persecution itself but only upon aid for the persecuted.

That keen critic and analyst—R. L. Duffus of the New York Times—put in his word of protest against this tendency when he wrote: "Many of us in these days believe in humanity rather than in races and would rather fight for justice in all cities than set aside a few cities of refuge."

It is persecution that is important—more so than who is persecuted. We can never find a safe dwelling place for the persecuted until we destroy the persecution. Tyranny and oppression are the yellow fever plagues of the world. And like yellow fever, the cause must be eradicated to make the cure complete—and to avoid the spreading of the disease.

As Americans we have set our faces definitely against all persecution. We hold that no man has the right to be a master over any other men; that all men are created equal, and entitled to equal rights and opportunities. This is our faith as a people. This is our credo as a nation.

As Americans we take our stand on the side of right, not of might. We condemn the persecution of any race. We legally abolished slavery and through both legislation and education we are wiping out discriminatory practices. We condemn the persecution of any creed—we respect the religious beliefs of Jews, Catholics and Protestants equally.

Therein lies the proof of the sincerity of our position as a people and as a nation. It is persecution which we hate and which we mean to destroy. We know that there is no safety for our democratic institutions—nay, even for our republic itself—in a world in which persecution is allowed to flourish—that the protection of the weak is the self-preservation of the strong, and that as our President has said, "The practice of brotherhood we, as Americans, need more than armaments and armies to make safe our democracy."

It is persecution that we hate and fight—and united in this common cause we will destroy it, that all men may be free.

NEWS
THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

Released by Western Newspaper Union.

'NEW DEAL' IS DEAD;

HERE'S WHY:
WASHINGTON.—Mr. Roosevelt's dismissal of fourth term questions as "picaresque" seems to me practically an avowal of his candidacy. No other conclusion is reasonably possible in the light of the facts.

Consider what he might have said as an alternative. He could have said "no," "yes," or "perhaps." Instead, he chose to shunt aside the question as too small for his consideration, a time-worn and obvious stratagem he employed four years ago when he told third term inquirers to go stand in a corner with a dunce cap.

But what seals this interpretation was his simultaneous announcement of a new program—apparently the beginnings of a change of political front forecast in this column last month.

He is dropping the phrase "New Deal" (but not any New Dealers), can thus forget the economic failures and unsuccessful policies of same, and can cover them over with a new world program based on an agreement with Russia to promote a revolutionary new world.

Mr. Roosevelt is not only dead right in consigning "New Deal" to the limbo of obsolete terms, but he could have gone much further. The terms "liberalism," "conservatism," "internationalism," and "isolationism" within the next year or two, will be smothered similarly by greater events which are at hand.

The orthodox, unimaginative policies of professional liberalism (directed economy, security, leisure, etc.) already have been overwhelmed by the greater events of the war. So have the stodgy doctrines of conservatism (get back to normalcy).

It is no longer a question of which road to take. But what road you can get, if any. Our thinking may have less to do with our future than events force us to do. Already, we see we cannot contrive a Utopia, but soon we may be forced to do what is necessary to prevent chaos, revolutions and a greater war.

People do not understand yet that the rise of Russia already decrees a revolutionary new world, although the statesmen dealing with the detailed conflicts and prospects (which cannot easily be discussed in public in wartime for diplomatic and patriotic reasons) obviously can already see it.

'DEAD' FOR TWO YEARS

The New Deal, of course, has been dead for two years. It was knocked out by the war while dying on its feet. Its theories and its personnel were not sufficiently competent or efficient for the tremendous war job of production and marshalling of war forces.

But what we are coming into is not as easy to recognize, apparently not even to Mr. Roosevelt, as he did not attempt to define it very clearly. Indeed, it would be necessary to hear from Mr. Stalin and possibly also Mr. Churchill to find that out, if they yet are certain.

A Russian victory will place Stalin in at least indirect control, economically as well as politically, of Europe and no doubt Asia as well.

Our capitalistic countries will come out of the war saddled with great debt for generations, but Russia has no debt and will emerge with greater productive capacity than when she started. She also will have the superior world army, we the navy (3 to 1 over Britain and more over Russia).

This situation in itself will require revolutionary changes on our part all along the line.

PUTTING AN END TO JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

The incontestable answer to all this juvenile delinquency in the news is one word—discipline.

This is not old-fogeyism, but ultra modern psychiatric doctrine. The instinctive tendencies of children must be curbed by discipline until they have reached the age where self-restraint enables them to conform to social customs and to take advantage of social opportunities.

Too many parents and children themselves erroneously believe that modernism permits free expression of their instincts. This leads to the current savage, eyesore of our vaunted civilization in which prostitution has been flaunted conspicuously in cities by grade school girls, thefts and crime before the age of reason has been reached, and murder of parents by children who find them troublesome.

I have seen, in Times square, New York, girls barely past puberty with soldiers and sailors, not in small groups, but in droves, while police look on shaking their heads in apparent helplessness. I could break that up in 15 minutes. And here is the method:

Everywhere that soldiers and sailors go, there are MPs. If the military police were ordered to detain and question every serviceman accompanying a girl of doubtful age, and terms in the guardhouse were provided, the practice would soon lose its current trend.

Everyone recognizes the need of speeding the war effort. One way the government asks us all to help is by using Natural Gas wisely in the home. This is because Natural Gas is being used so extensively in the manufacture of war materials.

One way to conserve on gas heat is to close off unused rooms. Another is to place a rug before your bedroom door at night before you open your window. Keep the damper closed when not using your fireplace. Turn down your thermostat when no one is to be at home.

STUDENT COUNCIL

Mr. Johnson attended the meeting and made the suggestion that there be a little chapel of no denomination set up for the student body. They voted in favor of such an organization.

Mr. Johnson also said that pep-meetings must be planned well. The assembly committee will assign the pep-meetings and turn the list over to Mr. Richards so the students can be informed far enough ahead of time.

A court to enforce the Council's laws was discussed but nothing definite was decided.

ASSEMBLY

On Monday, Jan. 10, a former resident of Chelsea and a graduate of Chelsea high school gave a short talk to the members of the student body and faculty. He was Harrie Blecker, Jr., now in the Navy Air Corps.

Harrie read a letter which he had written to his closest friend. The letter was very interesting, telling about things he had seen and experienced since coming back to the States. He explained that he and this fellow had planned and applied for officers' training school together. When Harrie received his orders to go to the school, he also learned that he would be the only one going, since his friend had died the day before. So Harrie would be unable to send this letter to him, but he was sending it to Father O'Brien, who knew both boys' very well.

Also present that afternoon was Lt. George Winans of the Army Air Corps, who spoke a few words.

WAR COUNCIL

The War Council had a meeting on Friday, Jan. 14. After much discussion they decided to hold a bond auction in the near future to help with the Fourth War Bond Drive. The exact date has not been set. It will be announced later.

G.A.A.

The girls are practicing basketball very hard as they have a game with U. High on January 21. It will be played at U. High. The girls are trying to schedule more games with outsiders, but as yet have not been very successful in their attempt.

Much has been said about the effects of alcohol on persons who drive motor vehicles. Regardless of the completeness or incompleteness of statistics, one thing has been demonstrated again and again—alcohol reduces the driver's skill.

A "slowing down" of mental and physical responses has been shown conclusively in laboratory tests on persons under the influence of liquor. Their responses to signals are slower and less dependable; their calculations of distance, inaccurate; and their feeling of responsibility for themselves and others, nil.

Can YOU say, truthfully, that YOU don't become cocky, over-confident, and careless, that YOU don't take chances, and become a show-off, when you have over-indulged?

The most likely "chasers" for drunken drivers are squad cars, the most likely "pickups", ambulances.

REV. O. R. GILLIGAN, Pastor

By GENE ALLEMAN

"Sure, Michigan is on the fighting front! Don't forget for one minute that Michigan, as well as being the arsenal of democracy, is one of the five states in the Nation which were responsible in 1943 for fully 50 percent of all vital essential war food-stuffs."

Dean Ernest L. Anthony, head of the school of agriculture at Michigan State College and recognized leader of the state's agriculture, punched his fist on the desk. His jaws were firm. His eyes flashed a spirit of determination that was, next to belligerence itself.

"It's about high time that the consumer in our industrial centers realized the importance of the Michigan farm battle front," he continued. "Of course, Michigan factories produce needed weapons of war—airplanes and tanks and cannons and the like. They're all mighty important in the coming invasion fronts of Europe and in the Pacific fronts, too."

"Too many people overlook the significant fact that Michigan, while being a key industrial state in the production of war material, is recognized nationally as being one of five states which account for half of all essential foods that are needed most for war. Here they are: First, livestock products—meat, milk, eggs, and butter. Second, white beans—the old dependable protein food which is non-perishable and can be moved readily with fighting armies. Third, potatoes, for which we rolled up a bumper crop in 1943. Fourth, fruits with all their vitamin values. True, the 1943 yield was low due to the unseasonable weather but nevertheless the state is a topper in ordinary production. And fifth, all of the vegetables which go into the millions of cans at dozens of canning plants in the state."

The fighters on this Michigan front are the operators of 188,000 farms of which 107,000 are regarded as being commercial farms. Michigan's farm population totals 865,000—men, women and children—quite a sizeable host.

Visualize this home front army, said the dean. You have 75 county agricultural agents throughout the state as key commanders. Nine of these men, all of whom are members of the college extension teaching staff, have full-time assistants. Cost of the service is financed cooperatively by federal, state and county governments.

"The county agricultural agent has come into his own in public recognition and esteem, especially during the past year, as an indispensable man and service in this war battle for foods," said Dean Anthony. "I am happy to pay them this tribute in behalf of the farmers of the state."

The farm prospects of 1944 are both good and bad, as the dean analyzes them. The manpower shortage still continues critical with little relief in prospect until Germany collapses and military demobilization begins in the United States. However, the college extension service did a "masterful" job in mobilizing emergency labor for the 1943 season which was complicated by the bad spring weather, he added, and this organization work will carry over for 1944.

"Farm machinery situation is not radically different than last year," continued Dean Anthony, "except for repair parts. Some restrictions have been removed. Machinery, on the whole, is a year older, and hence there will be a greater demand for repair parts. The farm trucking situation isn't a bit good, to be frank about it. A survey was made recently in Wisconsin showing the average truck had 65,000 miles of wear. No doubt Michigan trucks would show the same. Garages are short of help, and transportation is congested for delivery of needed parts. The result is costly delays for farmers, often at times when trucks are needed most."

"The feed situation is bad in Michigan for all classes of livestock, especially milk cows, while production of milk is down, we are short 40,000,000 bushels of oats, 20,000,000 bushels of corn, and 5,000,000 bushels of barley. This adds up to only one-half of the needed feed for dairy cows in Michigan. The livestock picture just isn't bright, and the recent adjustment of the corn price ceiling made it worse. Farmers must pay more for livestock feed, much of which they simply cannot get because it isn't being shipped into the state. It's like paying more for something you can't get."

"On the other hand, nature favored the Michigan farmer last fall, and he is ahead of his usual farm work as of one year ago. More fall plowing was done, which will greatly help out next spring. We have had little snow, and farmers have been able to haul fertilizers to their fields. The fertilizer situation is easing up a bit, by and large.

"Generally speaking, the average Michigan farmer is better off financially than he was a year ago, although he may have no more—if even as much—money in his pocket. This sounds paradoxical, but it's true. Farmers had higher income, despite increased production costs, and most of them used this revenue to pay off (Continued on page seven)

Rural Schools To Help In 'Clean Plate' Drive

Rural schools will play a large part in the new "Clean the Plate" program for which plans are now being made under the direction of Miss Frieda Huggett, County Nutrition Chairman. Washtenaw county is one of several counties in the state which has been asked to inaugurate this campaign. Howard Thayer, rural supervisor, who is also a member of the county nutrition committee, has promised the active aid of the rural schools.

"We plan to make the 'Clean the Plate' program a continuous one in Washtenaw county," said Miss Huggett. "We have very capable nutrition chairmen throughout the county and their energy and enthusiasm, with the cooperation of teachers and parents, should make this important program a success. Saving food is recognized as a vital part of our war effort."

WAR LOAN DRIVE

to make this Fourth War Loan Drive the best yet for Chelsea.

Warren Cook, of Ann Arbor, chairman of Washtenaw County War Bond Committee, gave a short outline of the goals set for Chelsea, commended the community for its excellent past records, and stated that the results of Chelsea's drive are being closely watched.

Chelsea's Organization

As every person in Chelsea is interested in the success of the War Loan Drives, the general plan of our organization is being described with the idea that, in knowing the plan, you will be able to cooperate in carrying it out, and also calling attention to any flaws that may occur to you.

The best that can be said for this plan is that it has worked and that it is based on the idea of trying to have everyone contacted and given a chance to purchase bonds; and also save time for solicitors and purchasers by avoiding the duplication and confusion that would result where the solicitation is promiscuous.

In this plan every factory and larger unit has its own solicitors appointed from among their number, and they solicit every person employed in their plant.

S. R. Booker and Deane Rogers head the solicitation in the Federal Screw plant, with Gallants Mary Dodge, Mary Kniss, Ruth Bristle, Winifred Palmer, Eleanor Tucci, Mary Adam and Margaret Hesselshwerdt.

Miss Anna McLeod serves as Gallant for the Peninsular Foundry.

Howard Holmes serves as Gallant for the Chelsea Milling Co.

Harold Jones, with Gallants Marian Eisele, Horace Bacon and Robert Rankin represent the Central Fibre Products Co.

Al Mayer serves as Gallant for the village council and village employees. Miss Mabel Fox serves as Gallant for the Chelsea schools and employees.

Rev. Leroy I. Lord serves as Gallant for the Chelsea Methodist Church.

In the downtown area, the division is as follows, each Gallant soliciting every person living or working in the area, except that he does not solicit any factory employee: Dr. Brock, for the block from the railroad to the town hall; Walter Harper, self and from the telephone company to the alley south of the Library; Lloyd Heydlauff from the alley to Recreation Tavern; P. G. Schaible and John Fletcher, the bank and others; H. Withersell, the post office employees and others; Dillon Wolverton, self and others; F. W. Merkel, from McKune's to Staffan's; J. Strister, from the Tower Cafe to Chelsea Bakery; M. W. McClure, from Kolb's to Dr. Huber's; James Park, from Schatz's to Ives' feed mill.

Darwin Downer is the Gallant for the farming area within the Chelsea school districts.

P. G. Schaible solicits the corporations for Corporation Bonds.

Mrs. Warren Daniels, Paul Maroney, Russell McLaughlin, Lewis Haselwerdt and some of the Gallants listed above solicit all other individuals not covered by the plan as outlined above.

This plan and organization is subject to change, and addition, but where overlapping occurs each Gallant understands about the situation, and we feel that we have had as near 100 per cent cooperation as we could expect under any plan of organization.

Chelsea War Bond Committee, H. C. Schneider, Chairman.

ANNUAL MASONIC PARTY

The annual Masonic banquet celebrating the founding of Olive Lodge No. 150, F. & A. M., will be held on Tuesday, January 25, with dinner being served at 7:00 o'clock sharp.

The committee on arrangements for the party have planned an evening of fun—cards, singing and dancing.

Pfc. Aschenbrenner of Pinckney will give an informal talk on his experiences in the Buna and Gana campaigns in New Guinea. His regiment was one of the first to encounter the Japs on the island.

The ladies of the Order of Eastern Star and all Masons and their families are cordially invited to attend. The committee is certain you will enjoy every minute spent at the party.

THANK YOU
I wish to thank all my relatives, neighbors and friends for the plants and cards, and many acts of kindness shown me during my stay at the hospital and at home. It was deeply appreciated.

Mrs. George Steele.

March of Dimes Drive Will Be Held Jan. 24-31

(By County Chairman)

From January 24 to 31 the residents of Washtenaw county will be asked to give their dimes to fight the dread disease called infantile paralysis. No one knows when he or she may be stricken. Although the common name infers that it is a child's disease, adults are stricken as often.

Last year Washtenaw county gave $9888. This year we hope for an even $10,000. Half of the money collected stays in the county to help those stricken in that county. This 50 per cent is used for medical care and hospitalization, to obtain iron lungs, pay for surgical care, orthopedic equipment and the training of doctors and nurses in the Kenny treatment.

The 50 per cent which goes to the National Foundation is used for Virus research, after-effects research, epidemic research, and educational activities such as publications and lectures telling of the results of all this research.

Our own University of Michigan receives a grant from the National Foundation to carry on research at the School of Public Health to blot out this disease. The University has also sent nurses, doctors, and technicians to study with Sister Kenny at Minneapolis, Minn.

Help now by sending in your dimes. Remember, from each dime you send in 5c remains here at home to help those who need the help.

Mrs. Philip Olin is in charge of the Chelsea drive.

TROOP HAS NEW SCOUTMASTER

The committeemen for the Chelsea Boy Scout troop have selected Edmund A. Kayser as new Scoutmaster of the troop. Mr. Kayser specialized in Forestry at the University of Michigan and is very much interested in outdoor activities. He states that the Scouts will have many hikes. The committeemen are H. T. Moore, chairman; Chas. Cameron, Rev. W. H. Skeltonbury, L. Davison and A. C. Johnson.

JERUSALEM SCHOOL NEWS

The third term of school closed for the Jerusalem school on January 14. The following were neither absent nor tardy during the term: Norman and Carl Koch, Leona and Harold Moore.

Our Christmas program and other work kept us busy during much of this term. We made pictures, fly swatters, and soap powder shakers for our parents.

The lower grades studied about the Eskimos. They made a scene in the sandbox about Eskimo life. The upper grades helped them. They also made a booklet of Eskimo stories, drawings, and clippings.

We have a farm scene in our sandbox now.

For Art work since Christmas we have made some cardboard crepe paper baskets.

Our teacher went to the teachers' meeting at Manchester last Wednesday and got the Standard Tests which we will take next week. They will tell us how we rate in all our work.

During this term we bought $16.20 worth of defense stamps.

The president of our Health Club is Robert Koch, the secretary is Shirley Moore. Mr. O'Brien of the County Health Department inspected our school December 12.

Fifth of Recreational Acreage In Washtenaw

Almost a fifth of the Department of Conservation's proposed 100,000-acre Southeastern Michigan Recreational project lies within Washtenaw county, figures released last week show.

Of the proposed purchase of 100,000 acres of park and recreational land, 18,300 acres are within this county's boundaries. The acreage is broken up into five areas, the largest of which is 9,100 acres and the smallest 500 acres.

Governor Harry F. Kelly and the Conservation Department are proposing to the January special session of the legislature a program that calls for the eventual expenditure of about $5,000,000 spread over a period of seven years. The 1944 session will be asked to appropriate $1,500,000 to start off the project. The lands in question designed to relieve the need for outdoor recreation for the 3,000,000 people in the southeastern counties. He along the moraines from southern Lapeer to northern Hillsdale counties. Much of it is now waste land and in abandoned farms.

The areas indicated for purchase in Livingston county have been designated by nearby landmarks. These areas, together with the acreages planned for purchase in Washtenaw county are:

Pinckney area, 9,100 acres; Sharonville area, 2,700 acres; Sylvan area, 500 acres; Wampler's Lake area, 4,000 acres; Waterloo area, 1,400 acres.

The Department emphasized that the acreages listed were only tentative and that in many instances solid blockings of public property would be impossible because operating farms and intensively developed areas would not be bought, at least for the present.

As soon as land is purchased, plans for development will be made for post-war work.

The state pays a tax of 10 cents an acre on lands used for park and recreation purposes.

Appointed Director Of Manpower In This Area

Appointment of Frederick M. Mitchell as area director for the War Manpower Commission in the Washtenaw county area has been announced by Edward L. Cushman, acting state director for the manpower agency.

In his new job, Mitchell will coordinate the activities of the various governmental and other agencies concerned with manpower.

His appointment as area director in Washtenaw county follows successful administration in a similar capacity in the Pontiac and Monroe areas. He retains his position as area director for these two districts.

Mitchell has been in governmental service continuously since December 1936 when he joined the staff of the National Reemployment Service as an interviewer. When the Michigan Unemployment Compensation Commission took over the functions of the NRS, he became branch manager of the MUCC office in Redford. Later he was appointed chief of the industrial referral department at the central placement office for the Detroit area.

Following adoption of employment stabilization plans in Michigan's larger industrial areas, he served for several months as supervisor of the WMC stabilization advisory service.

The new WMC area director for Washtenaw county was graduated from the University of Michigan in 1931 with Bachelor of Arts and Master of Business Administration degrees. He is 35 years old.

The Washtenaw county area takes in all of the county.

Selective Service Changes

Occupational deferments generally will be denied 18 to 22-year-old registrants, other than those in agriculture, fathers and non-fathers alike, unless they are engaged in activities in which deferment is specifically authorized, according to Selective Service. Furthermore, all registrants will be given pre-induction physical examination at least 21 days before being inducted. Therefore, the period of three weeks in the enlisted reserve now granted by the army and the one-week period granted by the navy will be eliminated. These changes become effective February 1.

Social Security for Farmers

Social insurance for farm operators, farm workers, business and professional men, household workers, and employees of government and non-profit organizations was recommended by the Social Security Board in its eighth annual report. The Board urged inclusion of these groups in an expanded social security program which would include insurance against costs of medical and hospital care without disturbing the present principle of free choice in selection of physicians or hospitals. The Board recommended that a comprehensive social insurance system should be set up now while earnings are "at record levels" in order to have it in full operation for the post-war period.

To Stabilize Ration Buying Power

Under the new ration token plan effective February 27, the housewife will be able to buy about the same amount of rationed processed foods and meats as she can now. Point values will be adjusted so the individual's allotment of 60 points for buying meats and fats will buy the same amount as the present allotment of approximately 64 points. Similarly, under the token plan the 50-point allotment for processed foods will buy an amount equal to the present 48-point allotment.

Pre-War Baby Carriages Back

Pre-war baby carriages, strollers, walkers, and pushchairs will reappear on the market in about six weeks, according to WPB. Greater availability of steel makes possible the production of these pre-war models.

Asks Farmers' Help In Woods

To mobilize farmers on farm woodlands and for work in forest industries, the War Production Board, War Food Administration, and War Manpower Commission have combined forces. Farmers and farm workers are asked to devote their spare time, particularly during the slack winter-spring period, to work in the woods and wood industries. Production of 14 million cords of domestic pulpwood will be necessary in 1944 to supply the needs of our armed forces overseas and meet essential home front war requirements, according to WPB's paper division. Farmers have nearly 180 million acres of farm woods which annually produce about one-third of all forest products and 88 per cent of the country's pulpwood.

Tractor Production Up

Production of wheeler tractors in December was the largest for any month in two years—in excess of 20,000 as compared with 4,200 in December, 1942. However, according to the WPB, the current rate of production must be maintained in order to meet the tractor quota of 200,000 for the 12 months that will end June 30. This will not be easy because many of the parts needed for tractor production are also used in landing craft, now in urgent demand by the armed services.

To Speed Veterans' Payments

Action has been taken to eliminate delays between the date a soldier is discharged for physical disability and the time he may begin to receive a pension or other veterans' benefits, according to the War Department. Steps have been taken so that before the soldier leaves the army, he may get not only competent advice on the merits of individual claims, but also a decision on them.

Pigs on U. S. Farms

On January 1, 1942, there were 60,377,000 hogs on U. S. farms. It is estimated that the 1943 pig crop may total 125,000,000 as compared with 105,000,000 last year. Somebody better grow some extra feed.

Harry Benter, who has been home a number of weeks, is improving, and is able to be about again.

The Herman Bohne family was in Jackson on Sunday to see Mr. Bohne, who is a patient at Mercy hospital, Jackson.

THANK YOU

I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my relatives, friends and neighbors, St. Joseph's Academy in Adrian, the girls on the night shift of the Federal Screw plant, for the flowers, gifts and cards while I was in the hospital and since my return home; and special thanks to Ellis Push, Hazen Lehman and Kenneth Immel for the donations of blood.

Mrs. Ray Culhane.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our friends and neighbors for their many acts of kindness during our recent bereavement; Rev. Lewis Green for his comforting words; Mrs. O. W. Kalmbach and Walter Kalmbach for their songs; also Mr. and Mrs. Martin Miller.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Lehman and family, Brothers and Sisters.

GRASS FIRE DAMAGES TREES

A grass fire which started in the marsh along Taylor St. and west US-12 summoned the local firemen at 4:30 Monday afternoon. The blaze spread to adjoining fields and the evergreens and fruit trees in the Schneider orchard on S. Main St. were considerably damaged.

A roof fire which caused no damage called the fire department to a building near the old Hoover Ball plant about 8:30 Tuesday morning. The fire was extinguished by neighbors.

THANKS FOR YOUR RESPONSE!

The response to the appeal for more surgical dressings workers has been most gratifying to the committee in charge.

Last week we were asked to pledge 3600 dressings by January 31. To date we have made 1600 of those dressings.

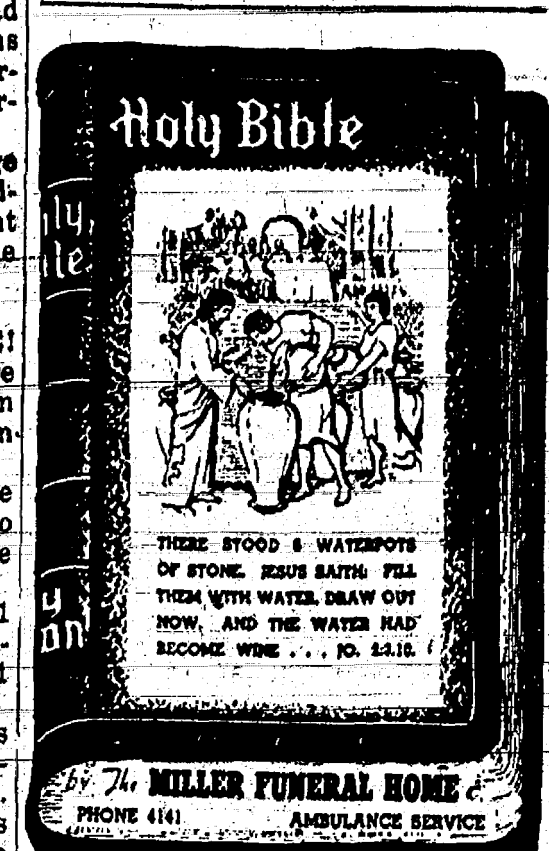

Monday night's attendance was 81 women, the largest number of workers since Pearl Harbor Day—871 dressings were made.

The committee wishes to express its thanks both to the women of Chelsea and to the members of Rev. Brueckner's and Rev. Fontana's churches for making this attendance possible.

This record gives us a good start on our new chart, and we are positive if the attendance keeps up, we will reach the top by Jan. 31.

Pin-up picture for the man who "can't afford" to buy an extra war bond...

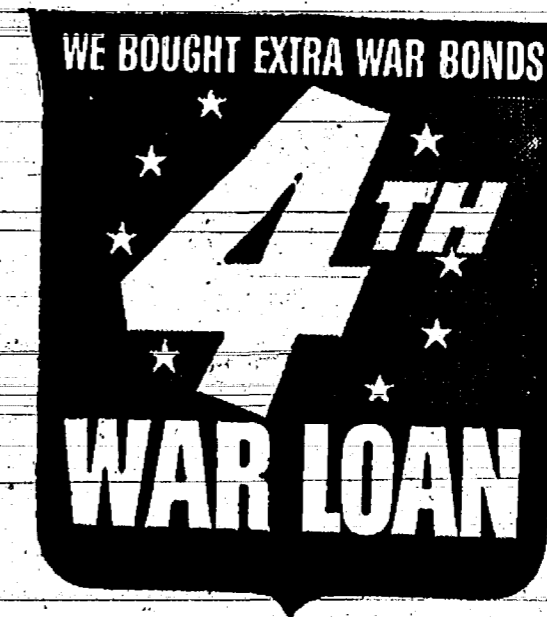

YOU'VE HEARD people say: "I can't afford to buy an extra War Bond." Perhaps you've said it yourself... without realizing what a ridiculous thing it is to say to men who are dying.

Yet it is ridiculous, when you think about it. Because today, with national income at an all-time record high... with people making more money than ever before... with less and less of things to spend money for... practically every one of us has extra dollars in his pocket.

The very least that you can do is to buy an extra $100 War Bond... above and beyond the Bonds you are now buying or had planned to buy. In fact, if you take stock of your resources and check your expenditures, you will probably find that you can buy an extra $200... or $300... or even $500 worth of War Bonds.

Sounds like more than you "can afford"? Well, young soldiers can't afford to die, either... yet they do it when called upon. So is it too much to ask of us that we invest more of our money in War Bonds... the best investment in the world today? Is that too much to ask?

Let's all BACK THE ATTACK!

Michigan Warned to Strengthen Polio Defenses

Abner E. Larned, Directing Appeal for Funds to Fight Menace, Cites Recent Near-by Epidemic

Michigan's offensive against infantile paralysis, the dread scourge which stretches out its withering hand so mysteriously to blight the lives of young and old, rich and poor alike—in metropolises, hamlets and on the farm—is being stepped up this year to the tensest point in the history of the 11-year-old nationwide fight against the disease.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, spearhead of America's war of extermination against polio, has sent out a call from its headquarters to the chairmen now on guard in about 3,000 of the country's 3,070 counties urging them to redouble efforts during the 1944 drive for funds to carry their fight to victory.

Abner E. Larned, of Detroit, generalissimo of the annual campaign in this state, told the people of Michigan today why the renewed offensive against one of mankind's most stealthy enemies must be pushed by them with fiercer intensity this year than ever before.

"Our sister city of Chicago was invaded with more than 1,200 cases, resulting in more than 120 deaths, last summer and fall," Mr. Larned said in his clarion warning against the menace that hangs over every home in Michigan.

"To every man and woman in this state with the welfare of his community at heart," he continued, "enlistment in the fight against infantile paralysis is today an imperative duty."

This cause merits the generous support both in dollars and dimes as well as in voluntary activity, of every individual, of every corporation, of every business institution and of every organized group, whether of labor or some other kind, within the state.

"The Kenny method of treatment, developed by the famous Australian nurse, saved thousands of children during last year's epidemic from the frightful crippling after-effects of infantile paralysis. We are training laywomen, many with practical nursing experience, in the Kenny hot pack technique, and are paying for their services while they care for the patients in our hospitals."

"We are financing the trips of doctors, physiotherapists and nurses to Minneapolis where the Kenny technique is being taught in courses under the direct supervision of Sister Kenny."

Urgency of Situation
Dr. Don W. Gudekunst, Michigan's former Health Commissioner who is now medical director of the National Foundation, supervising its extensive research and educational programs, points out one vital, and often overlooked aspect of polio's danger: the fact that when the disease strikes a major blow hardly any locality is at present prepared to counter the attack effectively.

"Wherever an epidemic has hit," he told a meeting at the Wayne County Medical Society, "the community has been found unprepared to take care of it. There has always been a shortage of personnel with the special training needed to care for the stricken, or a dearth of sufficient hospitalization facilities or inadequate equipment and supplies. Often, all three of these shortages have handicapped overworked epidemic fighters."

"One of the major objectives of the National Foundation is to end forever this nationwide unpreparedness for the fight against polio. How great the danger is today is disclosed by the simple statement that in 1943 12,000 Americans were stricken with infantile paralysis. Roughly one out of ten of these died of the disease; thousands of them are still crippled to varying degrees."

No Safety Anywhere
"The fact that polio may strike anywhere is made clear by the fact that California alone had 2,500 of these 1943 cases. Other communities seriously hit were in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Utah and Washington with a scattering of casualties along the eastern Atlantic seaboard. No state can feel that it may not be the next to feel polio's blow."

As witness the Chicago epidemic within a few hundred miles of Michigan's borders.

"Wherever an epidemic emergency develops, the National Foundation, in cooperation with local health authorities, does everything within its powers, and the limits of its financial resources, to hold the line against polio. The National Foundation recruits trained personnel and technicians and rushes them to epidemic areas. It meets part of the financial burden of caring for victims of the disease."

Where Michigan's Contributions Go
Mr. Larned, who is chairman both of the Wayne County Chapter and of the Michigan State Headquarters of the National Foundation, pointed out today that more than 90 per cent of the funds raised by the committee in charge of the President's Birthday Celebration during the 1943 campaign were actually disbursed within the borders of this state.

"Michigan was proportionately a direct beneficiary of a larger part of the contributions of its citizens than were a majority of the states," he explained, "because of large grants and appropriations made by the National Foundation to the University of Michigan, the Department of Health at Lansing and Wayne University College of Medicine to carry on their conquest of polio, a major enemy of man."

"Funds raised through the annual appeal, which this year runs from Jan. 14 through Jan. 31st, are apportioned as follows: half of the total remains in the hands of the chapters within whose territories it is raised; the other half goes to headquarters of the National Foundation to support the magnificent fight being made in the research laboratories and medical institutions of America, and for the epidemic reserve that can be so potent when the resources of any state are inadequate to cope with the terrifying onrush of an epidemic."

Mr. Larned closed a recent dramatic appeal before a great meeting in Highland Park, Michigan, with this ringing challenge: "Every father, every mother should contribute to this cause because in so doing he may be insuring the lives of his own loved ones."

old debts and to make needed farm repairs. They may not have any more dollars in the bank, but they're better off just the same.

"Of course, I'm prejudiced in my love of farmers, because agriculture is my specialty. I'm mighty proud of the important contribution that the farmers of Michigan are making for Victory. Truly, the Michigan farm is going to be a leading battle front in 1944."

The farmer doesn't get into the front page headlines as often as his city brother. Farmers are not striking for higher wages. They may grumble, as is their traditional right when nature goes into reverse and bureaucrats go hay-wire, but you can count on them to get up hours before sunrise and to finish their chores by artificial light in the evening, day by day, all without fan-fare of publicity or organization ballyhoo.

The dean didn't say this, but we do. It seems a logical observation to make in January 1944, to these wartime fighters on our Michigan home front.

NUTRITION TIPS
(Submitted by Miss Estelle Bauch, member of the Washtenaw County Nutrition Committee)

Conserve
It is not enough to produce more food, if we continue to waste it in preparation and serving. We have been enthusiastic about our gardens and now it behooves us to turn with equal enthusiasm to the saving of the food we have raised.

If more food is cooked than the family can consume, some of it is almost sure to be wasted; either because it is such a small portion to be saved, or because it does not lend itself to leftover dishes. If we must have leftovers they should be stored in a cold place and used as soon as possible.

All members of the family should cultivate the doctrine of the clean plate. A large part of the food waste is found here in crusts of bread, bits of butter, lettuce from salads, and small portions of food. Children should be given smaller portions instead of too large ones.

Much food value is lost in preparation. Vegetables should be used as quickly as possible after harvest. If storage is necessary, it should be at a low temperature. Parsings should be very thin or, better still, many vegetables may be cooked with the skins left on. They should be shredded or cut just before cooking and should not be allowed to soak in water. They should be placed in boiling water and brought back to boiling as quickly as possible. They should be cooked quickly in only a small amount of water. When done, they should be served immediately.

Junior Farm Bureau Buys 4th Loan Bonds

Albert Gall, Katrene Boyce, Lillian Haas, Donald Smith, Leonard Burmeister, Mary Lesser and Guerdon Frost of Washtenaw county were present January 8 at Lansing, when the Michigan Junior Farm Bureau purchased $13,500 in series F war bonds, one of the first purchases in the fourth war loan campaign.

Governor Kelly, Charles Figg, state commissioner of agriculture, and Clarence Bolander, deputy commissioner of agriculture, attended the meeting of county officers of 42 Junior Farm Bureaus at which the bond purchases were made.

Richard Nelson of Free Soil, president of the State Junior Farm Bureau, said that the $10,000 paid for the bonds was earned during the past year by 2,000 members through drives for scrap metals, serving meals to groups, and other projects, which included contributions by farmers of a bushel of wheat.

Nelson said that the bond will become part of the Junior Farm Bureau's fund for developing agricultural leadership among Michigan's rural young people. Bonds and other funds are being accumulated to begin this work after the war. The fund will be administered by a Junior Farm Bureau trust fund committee. Members are: Roland Young, Buchanan, chairman; Richard Nelson, Free Soil; Herbert Fierke, Saginaw; Mrs. Earl Richards, Earl Seybert, Jr., Dr. David Trout, Mt. Pleasant; Lloyd Ruesink, Adrian; Albert Gall, Saline; B. F. Hennink, East Lansing; C. J. Reid, Avoca; C. L. Brody, Lansing.

REVIVAL SERVICES
Revival services are being conducted each evening at 7:30 at the Chelsea Gospel Center on West Middle St. Everyone is invited to attend. These services are open to the public of Chelsea and vicinity. Rev. Robert N. Ball, son-in-law of Mrs. J. W. Van Riper, is the evangelist. Rev. Ball has had several years in pastoral and evangelistic work, starting at the age of 18. He has traveled all over the United States and also made missionary trips to Holland and Puerto Rico. Rev. Ball worked with the Methodist Episcopal church for a while but he is now working as an independent preacher, relying solely on faith in God. These services are open to all denominations. Be seeing you at the Chelsea Gospel Center, West Middle St. —Rev. Ball.

On the Cuff
Trousers being now women's concern, it is of interest to both sexes that the cuffs from 21 pairs of trousers will make one army uniform. Furthermore, the steel used in metal coat hangers in 1941 would be sufficient to build at least eight destroyers or three cruisers.
