With Our Men In Service

Pfc. Earl C. Koch, son of Chris Koch, writes:

Dear Dad:

I am in a resting place somewhere in Italy. Just a few lines to let you know I am still okay. Everything is just fine over here. We just came back from the front a couple days ago. You should have seen us boys—we could all have joined the House of David, with the whiskers we had, so we hired an Italian to give us a shave. He really did a pretty good job.

One really thinks of many things while out there in a fox hole. The first thing you do is pray and hope that there isn't any shell coming in your fox hole. Then you wonder what is going to happen next. We got a few back home. His name is Burr, or at least that is his nickname.

I get the Chelsea Standard and enjoy the news and happenings of the vicinity and the letters from the fellows in Europe. Cpl. Berry of Jackson, Mich., who is known quite well in Chelsea, and myself, usually work together and find him tops in anything that comes up. He helped me bring in 24 bunches of bananas one day and they go over pretty good when the fellows get hold of them.

Well here it is September 3 and soon will be time for the hunting season and I sure miss that pheasant and deer season. Well, maybe next year will see us back and enough shells and gas for a good hunt.

As ever,
Cpl. Alfred F. Eiseaman.

PFC. EARL C. KOCH

Jerry: while we were up there, I even helped bury some Jerry one night. You can tell when there is a Jerry around, because you can tell by the odor.

It seems good to sit down and relax and write a letter and know that there isn't any shell coming in at you. Believe it or not, we have been sleeping on soft beds, which is quite a relief from sleeping on the ground.

I just got done eating chow. This really tasted good to get a few hot meals under our belt.

Don't have any idea where we are going or what we are going to do. Things aren't too bad over here. They could be a lot worse. Things are beginning to look better every day. If God was ever on our side it was when we were out there in our fox holes.

When I look out of the window, I can see some beautiful scenery. I would like to come back to Italy in peace time and go sight-seeing.

The Italians over here will do anything for you as long as you give them cigarettes or soap. These are very scarce articles for them over here.

Will write you as often as I can. Tell everybody I said hello.

With love, your son—Earl.

Cpl. Alfred F. Eiseaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Eiseaman, wrote the following letter to The Standard from somewhere in the Pacific:

Dear Mac:

Here are a few lines to say hello, and do hope we soon can move at the rate the boys are moving in Europe. We have moved a lot more miles than they, but our distance is on water. If we don't hit places like Saipan and Guam too often we will have this thing over here where we want it in short order.

I met Waldo Horning a few weeks ago. Stayed all night with his outfit. He was the first one from Chelsea I have seen in all my time "down below" and here. I found him O.K. and full of life as usual.

I have heard that several of the fellows from Chelsea and Dexter are over here, but have seen only one boy from Dexter, who is in the Navy, and sure enjoyed talking over old times, and how they were going in the town

I thought I would drop you a line or two just to be different. The last time I wrote to you I was on the "Dark Continent" but that was months and months ago.

Since then I have gone a long way, and most of it by foot—due to the fact that I transferred out of my old outfit. (Continued on page five)

Hold Larger 4-H Show Despite Long Drought

Michigan 4-H club boys and girls haven't permitted the summer drought to hamper their food production projects. That fact was definitely demonstrated at the annual 4-H Club Show at Michigan State college September 5 to 8, where vegetable and farm crop displays were on a quality standard not below that of previous normal rainfall years.

This year's show surpassed all others in size in virtually all departments. Additional tents were necessary to house the huge influx of livestock, estimated to value at least $150,000. Approximately 3,000 members were present from nearly every county in the state to participate in contest and place exhibits.

The huge livestock show and the plentiful exhibits of vegetables, grain crops, sewing, cooking, preserving, and handicraft were proof enough that the majority of Michigan 4-H members are living up to the slogan "Feed a Fighter in '44."

This year's beef-cattle department was nearly twice as large as last year, and despite the unfavorable feed ratio the swine entries were somewhat larger than in 1943. A substantial increase in dairy cattle also was noted.

A new feature this year was the military display arranged by the Military Department of Michigan State college. Much of the equipment used for training and in battle was on exhibit.

LAST DAY FOR "A" BOOKS

He first settled in Detroit, moving to Dexter and then to Chelsea. He was united in marriage with Sarah Staffan in 1861 and settled in Chelsea in 1863, engaging in the cooperative business which he carried on until this time. Process Sawdust
As late as 1930, fully 80 per cent of every tree was wasted. Now, just one of the by-products—sawdust—is processed into a material which is literally "hard as nails," for you have difficulty driving a nail through its dense surface. It makes sawdust plaster to replace gypsum. It is compounded into staple war-needed acids such as oxalic, one of whose uses is in laundries for acid rinses.

By GENE ALLEMAN

This may be news to some folks: There's going to be an election in Michigan November 7.

With Generals Ike Eisenhower, Blood & Guts Patton, Omar Bradley and a million or so Yanks on the victorious march in France, Belgium and Germany, newspaper headlines have been dominated by happy war news. Approach of V-Day in Europe has put domestic affairs into near total eclipse. When do we celebrate?

World history is rushing past with breath-taking speed.

Even a prospect of 16 years' residence by one president at the White House—something we would not consider seriously in normal times—scarcely evokes more than a mild discussion from the Man on the Street.

It's the war, war, war—and a fervent hope for a quick victory—that we're thinking about this September, 1944.

When you go to the polls November 7, you will receive a presidential ballot and a general election ballot for state and local candidates.

This change in voting was authorized by the Michigan state legislature at the suggestion of Republican legislative leaders who suspected that too many people were in the habit of riding presidential land slides.

To put the state ticket on its "own feet," free from any influence of a national political trend, legislators provided for a separate ballot that listed nominees for President and Vice-President.

Now the same Republicans are beginning to wonder.

In the first place, will the average voter remember to mark TWO tickets instead of one?

The democratic column on the state ticket will carry, as its party insignia, the picture of President Roosevelt. Nervous Republicans wonder if Joe DeLoe will mark an "X" along side Roosevelt's picture, thinking they are voting for Mr. Roosevelt.

If enough people do this, then any advantage enjoyed by Governor Kelly as the incumbent at Lansing might be nullified, so goes the reasoning. It's a bit hard to stretch your worrying this far, but such is the honest case of one Republican nominee on the general ballot.

Secondly, there is the much-discussed Detroit News public opinion poll, known as "Detroit Speaks."

Conducted along the established methods of the Gallup polls, whereby a cross-section of population is used by trained interviewers to determine mass trends, the Detroit study has revealed a 54.36 per cent preference for President Roosevelt and a 45.64 per cent preference for Governor Kelly among Metropolitan Detroit citizens who have an opinion.

Roosevelt's popularity in Detroit is not surprising in view of the city's recent record of Democratic election majorities. In terms of votes, as we pointed out last week, the Detroit swing would require an upstate majority for Dewey of around 250,000 to put Michigan safely in the Dewey column.

Kelly's popularity in Detroit is subject to interpretation on many angles. Is it because more people today know Kelly than they do Edward Fry, nominee of the Democrats? Perhaps they would prefer Fry, if they knew more about him. Such is the campaign speculation, and time is a big factor.

Certainly the high command of Michigan Republicans do not consider that Michigan is in the bag, politically.

Starting Sept. 19, Governor Kelly and one or two other party candidates are going to make a 1800-mile swing of northern Michigan, going as far west as Ironwood. Nominee Edward Fry and other Democrats are rolling up their sleeves, too, for a vigorous campaign, hopeful that the voters will lend an ear long enough for presentation of the candidates' messages.

A third ballot for Nov. 7 will contain four proposed amendments to the state constitution.

Three were sponsored by the state legislature, as follows:

No. 1—Permitting a municipality to supply and sell water to houses outside the city limits.

No. 2—Permitting state legislators to run for state office and still continue as members of the legislature. The present law requires a resignation when a legislator becomes a candidate for state office.

No. 3—Increasing the compensation of state legislators from $3 to $5 per day.

No. 4 amendment would give home rule to Wayne county.

Running an election and running a war is the double responsibility imposed on American democracy this Fall.

If public opinion polls of recent years are any index, domestic issues still are of more interest to American voters than international affairs. Despite our newest venture into world politics, we're concerned primarily about the things which are immediately about us and which concern our daily living. Self-interest remains the key to much of our thinking.

That boy who is overseas, our gasoline rationing, shortage of sugar for canning, overtime wages and food prices—these are part of our war-time thinking.

How much will the war influence our judgment on Nov. 7?

A lot of Michigan candidates would like to know the answer.

DAIRY FEED PAYMENTS

Federal dairy feed subsidy payments for the months of May and June have been completed, according to Harry M. Cole, secretary of the Washtenaw County Agricultural Conservation Association.

Payments of 35¢ per hundred for butterfat and 25¢ per pound for butterfat for the months of July and August will be made any time after September 15, to October 15.

Producers of dairy products may mail or bring their records or statements from their local dairy to the county office, 201 E. Liberty St., Ann Arbor, for the months of July and August.

Payments for September and October will be increased to 60¢ per hundred for milk and 10¢ per pound for butterfat.

Civilians will be able to buy four out of every five pounds of butter manufactured in September. In other words, 20 per cent will be set aside for processors for war uses. The sale for September is 10 per cent lower than in August and is the same as it was in September 1943. However, the sharp drop in butter production so far this year will make it necessary for the government agencies to continue buying butter during October. Last year, set-aside orders stopped at the end of September.

Lettuce Leaves
Lots of us have gotten into the habit of throwing away the outer, dark green leaves of lettuce, yet they are good for us. Actually, they are richer in vitamins and minerals than the inner bleached leaves. Shred them into the salad bowl or serve them wilted with a hot bacon dressing. Another trick is to put these outer leaves into the soup pot.

Owners of the silent gas refrigerator at all times, and especially in hot weather, appreciate its sustained good performance in keeping perishable foods at healthful and appetizing temperatures.

Because the silent Servel has no machinery to wear out or break down, this gas refrigerator is establishing remarkable records of uninterrupted performance during these critical war years.

Owners congratulate themselves on having acquired this fine home appliance while Servels were still available. Other families look forward to possessing a new silent gas refrigerator as one of their first purchases after the war.

Owners are advised to defrost their Servel once a week and by giving it considerate care to help their appliance continue to give satisfactory service.

WEDDINGS

Maute-Dorr

Miss Kathryn Marie Maute, daughter of Mrs. Jacob S. Maute, and DeForest Dorr, son of Mrs. Rex Dorr, both of Grass Lake, were married Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The yows were spoken before about 100 guests in St. Paul's Evangelical church, Chelsea, with Rev. P. H. Grabowski reading the service. Palms, gladioli and candelabra formed the background for the ceremony.

The bride, who was escorted to the altar by her brother, Carl Maute, was attired in a white satin gown, with fitted bodice and full skirt. A ruffle of French lace formed a sweetheart yoke effect, extending to a point in the back, and this was filled in with marquisette to form a high neckline. Her finger-tip veil of tulle was caught with a bow of the same material and she carried a prayer book topped with gardenias, from which fell streamers of white.

Mrs. John Beal attended the bride as matron of honor. Miss Doris Dorr, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid and Miss Betty Maute, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid. They wore dresses of white taffeta. Miss Dorr combining a blouse of taffeta with a skirt of net. Their bouquets were formed of roses and chrysanthemums, and they wore circlets of matching flowers in their hair. Each wore a necklace, which was a gift of the bride. Best man for the wedding was the groom's brother, Duane Dorr, and the ushers were John Beal and Eugene Hackerman.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Carl J. Mayer accompanied Mrs. Anna Welsh of Jackson, who sang "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer." She also played the wedding march.

A reception was held in the church hall after the ceremony. For her wedding trip the bride wore an army blue suit with black accessories.

Mrs. Dorr, a graduate of Grass Lake high school and Jackson Business University, has been employed at the Consumers Power Company, Jackson.

Mr. Dorr, also a graduate of Grass Lake high school, has a position with the General Motors Corporation, Detroit.

After September 25 they will make their home in Detroit.

Uncle Sam

"Uncle Sam" apparently originated in Troy, N. Y., in the War of 1812. A government meat inspector, Samuel Wilson, known throughout the city as "Uncle Sam Wilson," marked all cases "U.S.E.A." which meant, United States-Eliot Anderson (contractor supplying rations). It was popularly reported that he marked Uncle Sam on the cases and the story gradually spread around the country. The first American cartoon of Uncle Sam, however, did not appear until 1852.

Elliott Urges Boys and Girls To Attend School

A letter received from Eugene B. Elliott, Superintendent of Public Instruction, says, in part:

"Everyone is urged to unite in an effort to get every high school boy and girl back in school.

"During the war period almost 150,000 students have dropped out of Michigan high schools for jobs in industry, on the farm, and in the service agencies. In other words, out of every five youths of high school age in Michigan, two have left school. We realize the most important work being done by these youths; we recognize the attitude of many that this is the time to work and earn money; that the war facing its closing days, school becomes second to a job. But in spite of the value of their work, the place for every boy and girl in Michigan, from five to eighteen years of age, or up to high school graduation, is in a good school.

"It is more important now than ever before that these boys and girls get back into high school than for them to continue to manufacture tanks, guns and airplanes. Military officials have informed me many times that under the new type of warfare a good high school or college background is the first essential to a good soldier.

"It is very easy to talk about dropping out of school and returning when the easy money is gone. But the records of many years show that less than five per cent of those who dropped out of school ever return. In other words, of the 150,000 who have dropped out of school, approximately 100,000 will cheat themselves out of a high school education unless strong effort is exerted now to get them back in school.

"With the return of peace, education will assume more importance than ever before. The postwar period, with its thousands of new inventions and new developments, will open up many new kinds of jobs in radio, aviation, television, and building, industry and service occupations to those who are educationally prepared. Our youth must be ready to meet these new demands. Therefore I urge the cooperation of all individuals and organizations—to assist this back to school effort."

From this it is plain that national as well as individual purposes can be served best by returning to school.

"SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE"

Rise up early in the mornin'; work till late at night. And after ridin' down the dusty roads, you surely look a sight; Sleepin' in a fox-hole or right out on the ground. In a little field with the hedgerows all around.

Standin' in a chow line waitin' for our chow. I'd give a thousand francs for a home-cooked meal now; That's the situation where I am today. But, "Somewhere in France" is all that I can say.

As for insects and spiders, we have 'em by the score. The yellow jackets eat our food and then come back for more; They surely aren't particular where they plant their feet. And I wish they'd find some other place than in the stuff we eat. When you try to sleep at night in a cozy (?) bed, Acorns from the trees above keep bouncin' off your head; No, I cannot tell you where I slept today. Just, "Somewhere in France" is all that I can say.

No Saturday inspections, Retreat, or Reveille, No floors to scrub on Friday night and also no K.F.; No need to have your trousers creased or shoes with glossy shine, No "gigs" for buttons open or foot-lockers not in line.

Of course there are no passes for we have a job to do; No holidays or furloughs and leisure hours are few; But it's only because we're not in the U.S.A.,

Just, "Somewhere in France" is all that I can say.

Now you know that I would like to tell all I see and do, And give you all the latest dope on everything that's new; Such as, how far I am from here or there or what I saw last night, These are but few of many things of which I cannot write.

So please be content in knowing that I am safe and well, And when the war is over there'll be lots that I can tell; For when the censor makes a rule, there's no choice but to obey, So, "Somewhere in France" is all that I can say.

FBI Conference Theme Is Post-War Problems

The keynote of the FBI Law Enforcement Conference which will convene at 7:30 on the evening of September 14 at the Horace H. Rackham Memorial Auditorium, Ann Arbor, is "Law Enforcement in the Post-War Period."

All police officers have been invited to attend this session, under the direction of R. A. Guerin, Special Agent in Charge of the Detroit FBI office. The conference will afford a means to define the various types of problems that may arise in the readjustment of the post-war era and plan for closer cooperation with all law enforcement in meeting any emergencies.

"We have already seen indications of what may confront us," said Mr. Guerin, "as we review the sporadic outbreaks of crime and gangland killings in our larger cities, reminiscent of the hoodlum era of a decade ago." To emphasize the fact that law enforcement may again be faced with post-war gangsterism, the famous Roger Touhy case will be reviewed by a special agent of the FBI.

One of the highlights of the conference will be a demonstration of "Judo" disarming and defensive tactics, stressing the physical requirements vital to an officer for the efficient discharge of his duties.

Other features of the conference include an Army film, titled "Brief for Invasion," depicting actual battle scenes of the Normandy invasion, and an exhibition of slides of fugitives wanted by local law enforcement agencies and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"We feel that this is the most opportune time to prepare for whatever problems ensuing months may bring. By means of exhibits, demonstrations, educational programs and free exchange of ideas, law enforcement can form the nucleus of an organization that may easily expand to meet any emergencies. In this way it can best serve to assure the security of the public," concluded Mr. Guerin.

DEATHS

Jack Blanchard

Word has been received by Mrs. Irma E. Blanchard of Dexter that her husband, Jack Blanchard, of the Merchant Marines, died September 1 of pneumonia in a hospital in London, England. It was reported that he was buried in a London cemetery.

Mr. Blanchard, who was born Aug. 22, 1907 in Brooklyn, Michigan, moved to Dexter when five years of age and was a graduate of the high school there. He founded the first bus line between Dexter and Ann Arbor, and later extended the line to Lansing. He was associated in business with his father, Harvey R. Blanchard, for many years. He left the employ of the Willow Run plant last March and enlisted in the Merchant Marines.

Surviving are his wife, a son, Jack; his parents, two brothers and a sister. The deceased was a member of the Dexter Kiwanis club and the Ann Arbor Elks, Moose and Eagle lodges. Memorial mass in his honor will be held at 10 o'clock Saturday morning at St. Joseph's church, Dexter.

Mr. Blanchard had many friends in Chelsea.

Mrs. Alice Stapish

Mrs. Alice Stapish, wife of Joseph Eugene Stapish of Detroit, formerly of Chelsea, died Sunday afternoon at Delray hospital of a heart attack, following a few days' illness.

Mrs. Stapish, formerly Alice Stoner, was born Sept. 1, 1899 in Emmetsburg, Md., and since her marriage to Mr. Stapish on June 25, 1919 they have made their home in Detroit. She was a member of All Saints church.

Besides the husband, she is survived by five sons, Cpl. Joseph E. Stapish, Jr., serving in France, S-2C George E. Stapish of the U. S. Bureau, New Guinea, Benjamin G. James W. and John W. Stapish, of Detroit; four daughters, Mrs. Alton J. Pedley, Mrs. Chas. E. Krappitz, Misses Ethel T. and Patricia Ann Stapish, all of Detroit; three sisters, Mrs. Benjamin Stapish of Chelsea, and Mrs. Alfred Stapish and Mrs. Lincoln Abram, both of Hubbard Lake; a brother, Charles Stoner of Bradenton, Fla., and five grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Wednesday forenoon at St. Mary's church, with Rev. Lee Laige officiating. Burial was in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Clayton H. Vicary

Clayton H. Vicary, 44, of 3401 Gregory Rd., Jackson, formerly of Waterloo, director of the Jackson County Welfare, was stricken Friday afternoon following a meeting at his office on E. Ganson St., and died Saturday morning of a cerebral hemorrhage at Mercy hospital.

Mr. Vicary had been acting director of welfare before he was named director on Nov. 30, 1942, and had served in various capacities, such as payroll supervisor, chief accountant, bookkeeper and director of the county transient bureau.

He is survived by his wife, four children, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vicary, and a brother, Kenneth, all of Jackson. Funeral services were held on Monday, with burial in Fifield.

KIWANIS NEWS

For the third time this season the Kiwanians defeated a Cassidy Lake aggregation of ball players in a game at the athletic field on Monday evening. Preceding the game, 30 members of the Honor Camp were guests of the Kiwanis club at dinner served in the Tower Cafe.

Cassidy Lake's only tally was a home-run by their catcher, "Eddie." The Kiwanis sluggers collected 10 runs. The defense of the Kiwanis team was functioning well, especially in the outfield, where Al Johnson and Doc Sharrard made a few outstanding catches. Infield play was featured by at least one good stop by Russ McLaughlin at third, and Doc Huber had his usual good luck at first base in his pick-ups of poor throws from the left side of the diamond. Bill Wolverton was on the mound for the home team and entertained with one of his famous "awan-dives" which was a beauty!

fit to an "Infantry" unit as an aid man. My reason was that I wanted more excitement and I got my wish. And how!—in fact, just a bit too much. But I'd still rather be where I am than where I was.

You know, I thought I knew how to pray before I came overseas, and even up until the time we went up front. But I didn't. Whoever it was that said "there are no atheists in foxholes" was quite right. In fact, he doesn't know how right he was. No fooling, it's plain "hell" when you have to sweat out the "big stuff." Don't get the idea that the "little stuff" is any fun either. It all kills. Believe me, more than once I thought my number was up.

You people at home talk about the cruel way the Krauts treat the people over here in the conquered countries. Well, up to a few weeks ago I never had seen it. But I did then. You wouldn't believe it unless you saw it for yourself. It was in the town of Son Miniato, and how it was there! It was the worst sight I ever saw. The Krauts gathered all the people in the town and put them in the cathedral of Son Miniato and then cut loose on them with an "88" (cannon). By the time we took the town a few days had passed, and you can guess what it smelled like then. They had removed all but about 40 or so of the bodies and buried them, but what still remained—ghew!

If some of you people back there could only see it, I rather think they would do more to end this. But I guess as long as there is a dime to be made off of us boys' lives they will let it go on. I guess it's no use though. I wish some of you people could see what we do—me more than most. Due to the fact I have to fix the boys up when they get hit. And believe me, it's no fun to do it, and sometimes I have to watch kids die—my age too, and I can't do anything for them. But you all can't see it. So what's the use of my going on?

I guess I have sounded off enough, so I'll sign off with the hope that I hear from you soon.
Give my best to your wife and all the rest of the people of C.H.S.
Yours truly—P. D. Werner.

Sgt. Elizabeth L. Doe, serving with the WAC somewhere in France, writes to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Doe:

Dearest Mom and Dad:
Yes, your roaming daughter is now in France—just like a summer vacation at somebody else's expense. Hope you won't be too unhappy with me for not writing too recently but it seemed like there was so much to do in getting prepared to leave.

Our trip here was sweet—we flew over and it was no time at all until we were here.
We're living in pyramidal tents—five to a tent—eating out of mess kits and washing out of our helmets. We don't have any lighting facilities outside of our own flashlights. The food is much better than I presumed it would be.

I wish I had a picture of myself in these clothes to send you—wool shirt, no tie, combat trousers, leggings, field jacket, field shoes, wool socks, and helmet—no need for silk hose and khaki shirts here. Truthfully, I'm enjoying every minute of it though. Let me know how long it takes my letters to get to you now.
Don't worry about me because I'm well, happy and healthy. Give my love to all.

Your daughter—Elizabeth.

How much does it cost to move a pin?

On a war map of the South Pacific, the little red-white-and-blue pins march steadily westward.

Tarawa... Makin... the Marshalls... Saipan... and each move brings the pins closer to Tokyo.

Each move is mighty expensive business. The cost is high in dollars... the cost is high in men.

To plant the Stars and Stripes on Saipan cost the lives of more than 2000 American boys... plus some 12,000 wounded and missing.

Naturally, these losses cannot be summed up in dollars and cents... there is not enough money in the world to bring back 2000 dead Americans.

But in guns, ammunition, and other equipment, it is estimated that Saipan cost us many millions of dollars. Each of the many steppingstones remaining between our forces and Tokyo may cost as much or more.

Where is the money coming from?

It's coming from you, and millions of Americans like you... from the taxes you pay, and from the War Bonds you buy.

And while it may pinch a little, buying those Bonds is the smartest thing you ever did.

For the dollars you put in Bonds not only help win the war. They come back to you later—and bring more dollars with them.

In this postwar world we're going to build, they'll be the most valuable dollars anybody ever owned.

Get all you can of them—now!

ORDER APPOINTING TIME FOR HEARING CLAIMS
 No. 3409.

State of Michigan, the Probate Court for the County of Washtenaw.

At a session of said Court, held at the Probate Office in the City of Ann Arbor, in the said County, on the 7th day of September, A. D. 1944.

Present, Honorable Jay G. Pray, Judge of Probate.

In the Matter of the Estate of N. Ethel BeGole, deceased.

It appearing to the Court that the time for presentation of claims against said estate should be limited, and that a time and place be appointed to receive, examine and adjust all claims and demands against said deceased by and before said Court;

It is Ordered, That creditors of said deceased are required to present their claims to said Court at said Probate Office on or before the 1st day of December, A. D. 1944, at ten o'clock in the forenoon, said time and place being hereby appointed for the examination and adjustment of all claims and demands against said deceased.

It is Further Ordered, That public notice thereof be given by publication of a copy of this order for three successive weeks previous to said day of hearing in the Chelsea Standard, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Sept 14-28
 Jay G. Pray, Judge of Probate.

RED CROSS SURGICAL DRESSING REPORT

The annual report of the Red Cross surgical dressing committee is as follows:

From Sept. 1, 1943 to Sept. 1, 1944 there were 37,292 dressings made by our unit in Chelsea.

The required quota of Chelsea unit was filled each month.

The committee in charge wishes to thank all workers who so generously gave of their time and help to make this report possible.

Although victory is within sight, the war is not over, and will not be over until no more shells are being fired, and no more men are dying in combat. Our Red Cross work must continue until final victory. Our surgical dressing unit here in Chelsea must do our part. It is hoped that with vacations over and canning almost done, that we can have all our workers back on the job.

A note of interest to our workers will be that all our boys going to the front now carry little individual water proof bags with the 2x2 dressings for their own use in case of being wounded. Hence the necessity for more 2x2 dressings. This is one way we can all help to send the work of our own hands, to our own boys.

Committee—
 Virginia Brock, Chairman.

Check Medicine Chest
 Medicine chests need periodic cleanings, not only to check up on supplies of first-aid materials but also to make sure that the shelves are spotless. Empty the chest, wash the walls and shelves with soap and water, dry thoroughly with a soft clean cloth, and replace all the needed articles that have a proper place in the chest. An uncluttered chest is a godsend when an emergency arises, and a clean one is the only suitable receptacle for medical supplies.
