Open House To Be Held At School On Nov. 2

Report cards are to be given out at Chelsea public school for the first time this school year on Wednesday, Nov. 2. The card contains valuable information about your child. It gives you his academic mark and a mark for his citizenship or his behavior and attitude in class. Parents should insist that these report cards be brought home. It is the responsibility of parents to see how their children are progressing in school.

On Thursday evening, November 2, all teachers will be in their rooms from 7:30 to 8:30 o'clock to consult with any parents who wish to confer with them regarding the work of their boy or girl. All parents are cordially invited to visit the school to learn more definitely about their child's work and his or her interest and progress in school work.

It is hoped that parents will avail themselves of this opportunity to acquaint themselves with the work and personnel of the school.

Burn Your Leaves -- But Not On Blacktop

Village authorities wish to warn residents that it is illegal to burn leaves on streets that are surfaced with blacktop. However, if the leaves can be burned in gardens, driveways or extensions it will be a real saving to the village in expense and time, and such disposal of leaves will be appreciated. Those who have no place to safely burn leaves may rake them to the curb and they will be hauled away in trucks furnished by the village.

MOMS TAG DAY SATURDAY

One of the objects of our MOMS organization is to do everything we can to aid the boys and girls in Service, both here and across the seas. The small comforts which we can send them are important, in that they aid much toward making their lives a bit more as they would be lived at home. This, of course, cannot be done unless there is a fund from which to draw. Permission has been given to hold a Tag Day on the streets of Chelsea, Saturday, October 28. The Girl Scouts will wait on you then. Will you kindly drop in a coin and wear a Tag for the MOMS? Thank you! Adv.

POPULAR PARTY

A popular party will be held at the UAW-CIO hall on Saturday, Nov. 4, starting at 8 p.m. Admission 50c. Public invited.

Plant No. 2 Will Be Enlarged and New Equipment Added In Anticipation of Increased Post-War Business; Employment To Top Pre-War Level

With Our Men In Service

On Tuesday, October 24, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene McKernan of Lyndon received a telegram from the War Department stating that their son, Pvt. Mark McKernan, had been seriously wounded on October 5, in Holland.

Pvt. McKernan was inducted into the army on Sept. 21, 1943 and was sent to Camp Blanding, Fla. for his basic training. After a short furlough in February he was sent to Fort Geo. Meade, Maryland, eastern port of embarkation, thence to England, France, Belgium and Holland.

He was serving with the 119th anti-tank division of the infantry at the time of his injury.

Mark was graduated from the Chelsea high school, class of 1937, and at the time of his induction was employed at the Willow Run bomber plant.

Dwight R. Gadd, S-1C AMM, stationed in California with a Carrier Aircraft Service Unit, suffered a painful injury on October 15 by having both hands and wrists severely crushed and bruised. A moving tractor accidentally knocked the supporting block out of a folding wing section of the plane on which Dwight was working, causing the wing to snap shut, catching both his hands and arms.

His service ring was smashed into the flesh to the extent that it had to be cut from the finger and his watch was so badly crushed that the back of it was imbedded between the bones of his left arm, causing a very serious injury. There were two broken fingers on the right hand and several broken bones in the back of the left hand.

Dwight phoned his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Gadd, on Tuesday of this week and said that although the injury had been serious and painful, the doctors believed he would have only one little finger stiffened permanently.

Somewhere in the Southwest Pacific—Lt. Col. Dwight E. Beach of San Antonio, Texas, and Chelsea, Mich., has been awarded the coveted Silver Star for his conspicuous bravery on the field of battle while serving through a recent engagement of the famed 41st Division. The decoration was bestowed by Major Gen. Jens A. Doe, commander of the slashing "Sunset" Division.

The valorous feat which earned Col. Beach the award was to crawl forward into range of Jap rifle and mortar bursts so he could direct the fire of a battery of heavy artillery. He remained in this perilous position until he had directed 160 rounds of shells. The fire-power he was responsible for bringing to bear wiped out completely a Jap strong-point.

Mrs. Dwight E. Beach, wife of the colonel, resides at 112 Mary Drive, San Antonio. Commissioned at West Point in 1932, the artillery officer was educated preparatorily at the Chelsea high school, and spent two years at the University of Michigan, where he was a member of Sigma Chi.

The colonel has served overseas since June, 1940. In military circles he is quite noted for his horsemanship.

E. W. Beutler has received word that his son, Lt. Leon L. Beutler, USNR, who has been on active duty in the Pacific for the past year, is now in command of USS LST 815.

MONEY ORDER FEES REDUCED

The Postoffice Department is pleased to report and the public will be pleased to learn that the money order fees, beginning Nov. 1, 1944 will be restored to the same fees in effect March 20, 1944, or the same fees as formerly printed on the back of all money order applications. There has also been some slight changes in the insured, C.O.D. and special delivery fees to more closely conform to the cost of such service.

NAME COUNTY OFFICERS

County officers for the coming year were elected by the board of supervisors at a meeting held on Thursday of last week. Among those named are: John Wals of Chelsea, member of the board of auditors; Adolph Gross of Lima, county canvasser.

Miss Mary Jane Bahnmiller has accepted a position on the staff at St. Joseph's hospital in Flint.

The Board of Directors of Federal Screw Works at its regular meeting held October 20 at the offices of the company's Chelsea Division, authorized the expenditure of a substantial sum for the purpose of an addition to the company's main plant at Chelsea, and for the purchase of new equipment which will ultimately amount to from $300,000 to $400,000.

William A. Thomas, Factory Manager at Chelsea, and Stuart R. Booker, Vice President and Secretary of the corporation, the company executive residing in Chelsea, have for some months been engaged in ascertaining the company's post-war needs in plant facilities and equipment, and planning the expansion to be undertaken immediately.

The company plans to concentrate its increased peacetime production at its enlarged Plant No. 2 and at the smaller Plant No. 5. Post-war plans now under consideration do not include the operation of either Plants No. 6 or 4 or the warehouse now designated as Plant No. 7.

Statements by Mr. Booker and Mr. Thomas indicate that the company anticipates peacetime employment at its Chelsea Division to far exceed any number the company employed before the war.

The Board meeting at Chelsea on October 20 represented the first time in the company's history that such a meeting has been held here rather than at the main office in Detroit, which is indicative of the growing importance of the Chelsea Division to the Federal Screw Works organization. The meeting was attended by the full Board, which includes Ralph W. Ballantine, Sr., of Lansing; Stuart R. Booker of Chelsea, Vice President of the company; Fred L. Day, of Detroit; Joseph Gibson, Jr., of Nashville, Tennessee; B. L. Norton, of Detroit; Vice President of the company, Earl W. Stewart, of Detroit; President of the company, and W. T. Zuerchmiede of Detroit. Visitors at the meeting included Peter Gilbert of Detroit, General Counsel of the company; William A. Thomas of Chelsea, Factory Manager of the Chelsea Division, and Robert W. Webster, of Nashville, Tennessee.

Federal Screw Works has been an important cog in the wheel of Chelsea's industrial development during the past few years, and the community will welcome the news that this important industry has sufficient faith in Chelsea and in the future to warrant a huge expenditure in anticipation of business volume to greatly exceed that of former peacetime years. Mr. Booker states that one of the reasons for expansion in Chelsea is the fine record of their local employees, which has enabled the company to turn out war-time products which have repeatedly been given special recognition by the Army Ordnance and Navy Departments.

This company is one of the outstanding manufacturers of precision parts, including aircraft engine parts, projectiles, fuses, tank and gun parts, etc. They have the distinction of being one of the less than half-dozen companies in Michigan to receive the Joint Army and Navy "E" award with four stars affixed, for excellence of production since the beginning of the war.

At the meeting of the Board of Directors on Friday the usual Christmas bonus was voted for salaried and hourly-paid employees. The latter are paid a bonus of 40 hours' pay if they have been with the company from six months to a year, and 80 hours' pay if they have been employees there for more than a year.

Announcement of the expansion program by Federal Screw is only the beginning of Chelsea's peacetime industrial development. Other local industries will announce similar plans in the near future. The question which now faces the village is: Will the village meet its obligation of keeping pace with this increased industrial growth? It would seem that the opportunity for community growth is to come within the next few months, or as soon as hostilities cease. Progressive foresight on the part of those in responsible positions will be necessary if the community is to realize the benefits which can be ours.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"We can't argue with the Judge on that point, can we Mabel? It's not fair to penalize the many for the actions of the few."

"That, folks, is exactly what we would be doing in this country if we ever voted for prohibition again. Authorities who have made a careful study of the problem, report that only about 5% of those who drink abuse the privilege occasionally...95% drink sensibly. Probably doesn't compare with the number of folks who overeat and do other things to excess. Prohibition certainly isn't the answer. It's not that simple. We had nearly 14 years proof of that, didn't we?"

"The real answer is education and better control. In fact, the responsible members of the distilling industry are working constantly toward that end. They don't want anybody to abuse the use of their product any more than the three of us do."

"If everybody would take that sensible attitude, Judge, and cooperate as more and more are now doing, we'd be a lot better off a lot quicker."

that will
BRIGHTEN

Natural Gas is one of the most useful servants in the home. Because of its unfailing dependability and efficiency, we are in the habit of taking this silent and invisible servant for granted. It heats our homes, cooks our meals, supplies us with instant hot water, and operates the gas refrigerator with the "flame that freezes."

The Gas Industry is constantly studying new ways and means to utilize Natural Gas for more automatic services in the home. After the war, these new and improved gas appliances will be developed and made available.

SPORTSMANSHIP—A CHALLENGE

Students of Chelsea are to be congratulated upon the fine quality of sportsmanship they have shown at athletic contests this year. Other tests of sportsmanship face the group, however; upon their answers depends the reputation of the school.

Each year the Kiwanis club goes to considerable trouble and expense to entertain the young people during Halloween season. Good sportsmanship requires that children do as the club asks, and refrain from activities that require time or expense to remedy, such as soaping windows, damaging property, moving outbuildings, etc.

Various organizations stage parties and entertainment features from time to time. Good sportsmanship requires that children act appropriately at each. This includes being quiet at movies, concerts, or plays; it includes proper care of furniture, walls, dishes, etc. It includes avoiding such things as throwing paper plates, spilling refreshments, failing to "clean up" after parties.

Can the student body meet these tests?

MARKS—REPORT CARDS

Next Thursday each child in the Chelsea public school will receive a report card, which will bear a "mark," or an evaluation of the student's academic accomplishment as well as a similar evaluation of his "citizenship," which means simply his social adjustment, his co-operation, his attitude toward work, his dependability.

Many students are pleased with the evaluation placed upon them; others are not. In the world of work, similar reactions are met daily. It is a part of the process of education to have the child face situations with varying degrees of success. Easy tasks, easy jobs, easy success, make for smug, self-satisfied, unprogressive individuals and equally unprogressive communities and nations.

The expression of some dissatisfaction with our own achievement is a healthy sign of ambition; it is also an attempt, sometimes, to cover up our own inadequacies, either of equipment or effort. Parents are urged to consider carefully the cards brought to them for their signature.

DR. RECTOR SPEAKS

On Friday morning, October 20, Dr. Frank I. Rector spoke to the student body on the dangers of cancer. Dr. Rector is the cancer consultant for the Michigan Department of Health and has for many years been engaged in public health work.

Dr. Rector explained that cancer is a very dangerous, but none the less, curable, non-contagious ailment if it is brought under control in early stages. Five symptoms of cancer are: (1) hard, painless lumps under the skin; (2) an unnatural continuous loss of blood; (3) any skin sore that fails to heal in the allowed time; (4) moles that have a blue or blue-black color; (5) persistent indigestion.

Cancer is curable by surgery, radium, and X-ray treatments, and radiation (a combination of radium and X-rays).

Dr. Rector impressed in our minds the importance of correct medical diagnosis and treatment. There are many supposed "cure-alls" but these treatments are always detrimental and sometimes fatal. We were warned never to be taken in by private unknown organizations but to go directly to a credited physician.

ALL HI PARTY

On Friday night, October 20, the gym at the Chelsea high school was filled with students having a good time. "What was the occasion," you ask. An All-Hi party given by the Hi-Y club was taking place.

Dancing by artificial moonlight took up most of the evening. James Carraher operated the nickelodeon which furnished the music.

About nine o'clock everyone got hungry, so a pie-eating contest took place, which was very enjoyable. It is reported that the pies were very good. Veryl Steinaway and Henry Orthing won the contest and as prizes they received a pie and a free ticket to the next All-Hi party. The unlucky contestants and the rest of the people attending the party ate potato chips and drank coca-cola. After a little more dancing everyone went home happy, with one more All-Hi party to remember.

PEP MEETING

This is station C.H.S. calling attention to the pep meeting of last Friday. The Sophomores are to be congratulated, as that pep meeting was a credit to them.

Our C.H.S. announcer, Bob Daniels, called plays from his study hall press box, where he called upon Mr. Cameron for a few words. Then a cheer was led by those two glamorous ladies of the Sophomore class, Jack Wellnitz and Ray Knickerbocker. They were dressed in short navy blue skirts, with school sweaters, and wore "kerchiefs" on their heads.

We were impressed by a speech from Rev. Major, in which he wished us luck and honored our coach, Mr. Cameron. The student body gave a cheer for Mr. Cameron, followed by one from the teachers for him.

Our announcer then switched us to the playing field, where we heard from a few of the players. Another cheer was given and the pep meeting closed with the singing of the school song.

FOOTBALL

By John Wellnitz

Chelsea 12—Flat Rock 0
Flat Rock and Chelsea played on October 20.

First Quarter—Chelsea won the toss and Capt. Gaken chose to defend the north goal. Flat Rock chose to kick off. Flat Rock's kick was not too long; our little quarterback, Bragdon Barlow, got the ball and drove to Chelsea's 46-yard line. Not much happened in the next plays as we could not make the yardage for a first down. Gaken punted out of Flat Rock's end zone; the ball was put on the 20. Flat Rock made a first down in three plays. Chelsea's center, Colquhoun, was knocked out on the play. Slane intercepted a pass to give Chelsea the ball. Dietle took the ball behind good blocking, 25 yards. Slane took the ball another 4 yards. Knickerbocker did not quite make a touchdown. Slane then took the ball and dove over Chelsea's center for the touchdown. Carraher's kick for the extra point was blocked. Gaken kicked the ball into the end zone. Elsemann and Wellnitz stopped Flat Rock's line plunge. Chelsea did not make ten yards so Gaken dropped back into the backfield to punt into the end zone again. Slane, Gaken and Wellnitz all stopped plays of Flat Rock. Chelsea 6—Flat Rock 0.

Second Quarter—Chelsea had the ball on Flat Rock's 49-yard line. Knickerbocker took the ball 6 yards. Knickerbocker threw a beautiful 33-yard pass to Dietle. Knickerbocker went over behind good blocking. Carraher's kick was wide. Gaken's kick was an end over end to Flat Rock; they returned to their 35. Colquhoun intercepted pass to give Chelsea the ball. Chelsea could not make 10 yards. Dietle and Colquhoun and a host of other players from Chelsea are stopped by Flat Rock. Chelsea 12—Flat Rock 0.

Third Quarter—Gaken kicked off to Flat Rock; return stopped by Wellnitz. Dietle threw Flat Rock for a from getting a first down. Slane, Knickerbocker, May and the quarterback, Bragdon Barlow, could not make much gain. Flat Rock could not gain much against Chelsea's line. Final score: Chelsea 12, Flat Rock 0.

The next game at Chelsea is with Milan in November at the Chelsea athletic field. Come out and enjoy yourselves.

Beware of hot hay in the barn. One hundred and fifty-eight degrees is the critical temperature for hot alfalfa hay, say agricultural engineers. If hay has to be removed, have a fire engine or power orchard sprayer and water supply at hand.

OCD To Again Issue Certificates for Coal

Lansing— Acting upon request of Solid Fuels Administration in Washington and the Michigan Retail Coal Dealers Association, the Michigan Office of Civilian Defense is again placing in effect its Certificate of Necessity plan to enable all consumers to purchase coal this winter, and in conjunction therewith will direct the state's participation in the nationwide fuel conservation program.

Information that the certificate plan is again to be set up was sent this week to County Defense Council Chairmen by Captain Donald S. Leonard, State Director of Civilian Defense. The plan was developed during the critical coal shortage last fall by Capt. Leonard in consultation with representative coal dealers of the state. Because of limited supplies, dealers had sometimes found it necessary not to accept new customers or to refuse orders because they had too many ahead. In some instances, they were out of coal.

Inasmuch as dealers were not in a position to determine the relative necessity for coal among those placing orders, but also wanted everyone to have at least a minimum supply, they welcomed the certificate plan as the answer to a difficult problem. Under the plan, persons without more than a five-day supply of coal and unable to obtain an additional amount, were issued certificates by OCD agents. Dealers then honored these certificates by giving the individuals priority on the delivery of coal, the certificates being allocated to yards which had stocks available.

The plan was used in 27 counties in which there was an acute fuel situation and worked out so successfully that its repetition this year was requested. Thousands of persons, particularly newcomers to communities, were benefited and suffering and rationing were averted.

In view of its experience and the effective work done last year, the Governor has given this assignment to the State Civilian Defense organization and the program is expected to get under way soon.

WHY

Thoughtful Voters of Michigan Who are Interested in Good Government and Responsible Home Rule Will Vote "NO" on Proposal No. 4 on Nov. 7.

BECAUSE

1. This Amendment DOES concern the whole state, not Wayne alone, as its sponsors contend. It is aimed at BREAKING DOWN local government. Attempts to pass a similar amendment applying to all counties were heavily defeated in 1934 and 1936. Then, two years ago, the effort to take one county at a time began. Again they failed, but the defenders of local government must now rally to decisively reject this proposal for all time.

2. Proposal No. 4 would destroy the two-party system of government. American as the liberty bell, by substituting "nonpartisan" candidates for county offices, all of whom would be elected AT LARGE and responsible to no group!

3. Detroit's present city and legislative officials, now elected AT LARGE, have been notoriously inefficient and corrupt. In grand jury action one-third of the city council, the MAYOR and most of police officers were indicted and convicted. The majority of Detroit state legislators in 1944 were indicted and convicted of graft!

4. By giving two-thirds control to Detroit, Proposal No. 4 would destroy home rule for 11 cities and 16 townships in Wayne county. Detroit's debt has soared—over 1,000 per cent since 1919! Wayne county's debt, due to this city government, has increased 18 per cent!

That's why the Michigan Institute for Local Government and the Committee for Representative Government join in urging you to

Halloween Brings Apple Ducking

Ducking for apples at a Halloween party is more fun if there is a pretty girl on the opposite side of the "pond." The idea is to get your teeth into the bobbing apple and hang on until you get it ashore. If the sailor were a submariner, he'd have a better chance.

By GENE ALLEMAN

As a Michigan commentator who is limited in the field of politics to non-partisan observations, we have been watching for some time the efforts of the Michigan CIO-sponsored Political Action Committee to swing the urban CIO vote to Roosevelt and Fry.

Here is definitely something new to the Michigan scene. Not that labor organizations have not plunged previously for candidates, for their leaders have. But not until 1944 has any labor group in Michigan engaged so actively in the field of politics with an aggressive campaign to get out the vote on Nov. 7 and to put over certain favored candidates.

In fact, the CIO prominence in the Democratic camp is a matter of considerable speculation among Michigan Democrats as well as Republicans. They are all wondering what may be next.

What is the Political Action Committee? It had its origin at Cleveland in March, 1943. CIO President Philip Murray invited 200 key leaders to consider the problems of the rising cost of living, the threatened swing to the right at Washington and elsewhere, and the possibility of post-war reprisals by industrial managers weary over labor troubles.

Fattened wages had made labor a bit complacent. Workers no longer listened to the appeals of business agents and organizers with usual attentiveness.

Murray and others frankly felt the need for a pressure agency which would express the workers' views and represent their interests in the field of politics, much as the unions speak for workers in collective bargaining. Sidney Hillman was named chairman.

Here was a legal way to circumvent the restrictions of the Smith-Connally act which barred contributions to political parties by unions. The PAC would do it. Political education were the words of the hour.

First objectives were the national and state conventions of the Democratic party. The CIO committee in mid-May of this year openly pledged support to the President for a fourth term. It insisted that "a small but powerful minority" in the nation sought to "prevent the complete liquidation of fascism" through the defeat of the President.

At the Democratic national convention in Chicago CIO leaders were admittedly effective. They blocked the naming of James F. Byrnes for vice-president; failed to help push through the renomination of Vice-President Wallace; and finally gave their support to Truman whom they regarded as "acceptable" on his record.

The Grand Rapids convention of the Michigan Democrats likewise saw the CIO at the front. Here was something daring on the Michigan political scene—an organized campaign by a major labor organization to achieve its goals through political action. Following the traditions of Samuel Gompers, the American Federation of Labor through its non-partisan political committee has largely limited its national program to the assembly of labor records of members of the senate and house at Washington and its transmission to state and local organizations. The CIO scorns this, going directly to Democratic conventions to obtain candidates favorable to their interests and then appealing directly to the CIO workers themselves.

That the Political Action Committee has been successful in getting a heavy registration of workers in urban centers is being freely conceded.

It points to a basic strategy in the Michigan Democratic party: To concentrate on the industrial centers where reside the so-called "low income" group which has been the backbone of the New Deal.

Recent polls of the Detroit News again emphasize the likelihood that Detroit's tremendous urban vote will swing heavily toward the Democratic column. If the Republicans are to counter-balance it, they must get out the vote in upstate counties.

The two separate ballots—one for president and vice-president, and the second for the governor and others including Congressmen—offer another factor in 1944 which may put Kelly ahead of Dewey in the final tally. Another complication is the fact that in about 35 counties the Democrats have no county ticket. Thus a lack of ballot interest may tend to keep Republicans at home in areas which are predominantly Republican, while the CIO Political Action Committee swells the Democratic vote in centers which are apt to go Democratic.

As an observer studies the 1944 scene, he can find few logical reasons for believing that as a nation we are due for a sharp swing to the right towards so-called conservatism, old-time capitalism, uncontrolled free enterprise—call the "right" whatever you may.

At San Francisco on Sept. 21, G.O.P. Nominee Dewey declared that "we are not going back to the days of unregulated business and finance. We are not going back to the days of unprotected farm prices . . . to the leaf-raking and the dole." He said government control was necessary, favored a peacetime economy halfway between regimentation and uncontrolled business.

On the following day (Sept. 22) Dewey favored an extension of old-age pensions and survivors' insurance to farmers, domestic workers, government workers and self-employed; extension of unemployment compensation to similar groups; and assurance of medical service to those who cannot afford it. He pledged retention of collective bargaining and other rights of the workers.

It seems significant to us that every representative public opinion survey in recent years has repeatedly affirmed the public's favor of freedom from want by old-age pensions, job insurance, health insurance and even aid for students.

The conservative may snort and call it "communism," but the fact still stands that the American people—as tested by accurate polls—is not going to the right in terms of opposition to social benefits. Even Dewey's declarations add weight to this trend. More benefits—not less—are on the horizon.

The question is more as follows: How much to the left shall we go? Voters will furnish the answer, to a large degree, on Nov. 7.

Many Schools Sponsor Hot Lunch Programs

Michigan school authorities, parents and civic groups are welcoming the opportunity to sponsor community school hot lunch programs for the 1944-45 school year in cooperation with the War Food Administration, according to Angus C. Doane, District Representative.

"Up to September 19, we have received applications for more than 800 schools and sponsoring groups to operate community school lunch programs in Michigan schools in cooperation with the War Food Administration. This is more than twice as many as we had received at the same time last year. Approximately 102,665 children attending these schools can count on a nutritious lunch every noon-day during the coming school year, and I think the youngsters will like that," Doane stated.

The community school lunch program is essentially a community undertaking, relying on local initiative, administration, and sponsoring, according to Doane. School boards, Parent-Teacher associations, women's clubs, church groups, American Legion posts, civic organizations such as Kiwanis and other service clubs, authorized by the school authorities, may sponsor local lunch programs.

Applications will be accepted from local groups wishing to sponsor these programs as long as allocated funds are sufficient to meet the federal government's anticipated share in the feeding operations, Doane stated.

PIN CHATTER

(October 11)

The ladies bowling league is going along fine so far. We have ten ladies' teams this year.

B. Babley is our highest average bowler. She is leading with 160.

That Dixie Gas has "Power to Pass." They have won 11 games out of 12. Nice going gals.

M. Birch had five strikes in a row for a 204 game. Nine spares for a 194. Her three-games series were 529. Not bad!

P. Wedemeyer run into a little tough luck Wednesday night, she had five splits in one game. She picked up the 5-7 perfect. Maybe her luck will change now.

The Old Maids (our young gals) are sorta down now, but cheer up girls, the season is still young.

C.I.O. really rolled up a nice score. They had 826, with their handicap.

The league has finished pretty much on time, thanks to the pin boys; and the girls are always ready to bowl when their turn comes.

Let's have some good, high scores, and don't let those splits discourage you. We all get 'em sometime.

P. Alexander rolled high three-games series last week. She had 212 for her last game, with a total of 513.

That's a nice game in any league.

P. Wedemeyer bowled 19 frames without a blow, then her bad luck started with 6 splits in last game.

M. Jarvis picked up the 5-10 split very nicely; maybe Eisenman's praying helped!

J. Dexter is bowling in R. Gracey's place on the Old Maids' team. They won three games last week.

Foster's Tavern won two from Dixie Gas, but just by luck, not by good bowling.

Jean Hubbert is bowling for J. Perine the rest of this half. We miss you, Jane.

Mary Smith, who has bowled with the Milling team for four years, is moving away. We all wish Mary lots of good luck, and hope she comes back to see us.

The Five Crowns were pretty happy Wednesday night—they won three games.
So far our Foul boy hasn't called many fouls—guess we are all a little more careful since we have a Foul boy.

Pickle Troubles Can Be Avoided, Says Specialist

Making good pickles is an art that some homemakers have difficulty acquiring, but the avoiding of a few common faults that crop up each fall during pickle season will usually bring satisfactory results, believes Miss Roberta Hershey, Michigan State college nutrition specialist.

Here are a few of the difficulties and methods of solution, as outlined by Miss Hershey:

Hollow pickles—This may be caused by improper curing, or may be due to faulty development of the cukes. They should not be allowed to stand too long before brining—not more than 24 hours.

Lack of crispness—This is due to the omission of the proper brining process. The use of alum as a hardening agent is not necessary.

Softening—This is caused by bacteria action. Some of the reasons are: Having the brine too weak; keeping pickles in too warm storage; boiling vinegar too long; overcooking; exposing pickles above brine. Once they have become soft they cannot be restored to firmness and crispness.

Shriveling—Having the vinegar too hot or too strong when poured over the cucumbers causes this. Too strong a brine or too much sugar will also cause shriveling. Sweet pickles very often shrivel due to the combination of overcooking, too much sugar, and too strong a vinegar.

Scum—Top layers of vegetables fermented in brine will spoil unless the scum is removed frequently. If allowed to remain, the vegetables underneath are attacked—and broken down. The lower layers of the pickles may be saved by removing the top layers, adding a little fresh brine, and pouring hot paraffin over the surface.

Bitter flavor—Generally caused by boiling the spices in vinegar too long or by using too much spice.

Poor color—Also due to the omission or shortening of the brining process upon which the dark green color and translucent appearance depend.

For proven recipes for homemade pickles and relishes, write to the Bulletin Office, Michigan State college, for Extension Bulletin 145.

Fresh Air
More than 30 billion cubic feet of fresh air is pumped into the coal mines of America every shift.

Navy Day Finds U. S. With Powerful Fleet and Personnel

Navy day, October 27, 1944, finds the youngest nation in the world, the United States, with much of its great strength reflected in the largest navy afloat.

Today's mighty fleet is a far cry from the original six frigates authorized in 1794 to protect American shipping from the ravages of Algerian pirates, and it has grown tremendously even in the last five years to more than double its prewar combat strength.

With the navy's fundamental aim being "... to support the national policies, commerce, and to guard the continental and overseas possessions," the U. S. fleet can be found in every major theater of World War II, in the forefront of the nation's struggle against Axis aggression.

Whole Nation Helped.
Utilizing the unbounded natural wealth of this country, and employing the courage and ingenuity of the American people, the navy has developed the most modern instruments to cope with the scientific progression of the times. Taking the place of the old man o' wars are the mighty 35,000-ton battleships; the sleek, powerful cruisers, and the speedy, dangerous destroyers; and supplementing these surface craft are approximately 100 aircraft carriers, from which bomber and fighter planes can be brought up close to take off and hammer enemy defenses.

With over 1,150 combat vessels in service, a vast array of tankers, oilers, and cargo and ammunition ships are needed to attend them, and with the navy required to bring invasion troops and their equipment ashore against enemy fire, thousands of sturdy landing craft have been built into service.

Since the war began, the United States navy has tripled the number of its warships, added 65,000 vessels of all types, brought its air strength up to 57,600 planes; increased its arsenal of antiaircraft guns to more than 425,000 of 20-millimeter and 40-millimeter caliber, and developed a force of 3,717,000 men, with a goal of over 4,000,000.

Naval Chiefs In Charge.
Heading this overwhelming aggregation of naval power is Adm. Ernest J. King, commander-in-chief of the navy and chief of naval operations, with Adm. Harold Stark in charge of the European theater, Adm. Royal Ingersoll of the Atlantic, and Adm. Chester Nimitz of the Pacific.

If the navy is part of our strong right arm today, it was not always that way, for, oddly enough, the fleet has had its fight for obtaining proper recognition as not only a surety of our water-borne commerce, but also as a barrier to any coastal assault against us.

Farmers Asked To Help In Lumber Production

Michigan farmers, loggers, and sawmill operators can be of valuable assistance in the war effort by helping fill the great demands for lumber and wood products needed by our armed forces to bring our enemies to their knees in the shortest possible time.

The problem facing the industry at present, as Lester E. Bell, assistant extension forester of Michigan State college, sees it, is the labor shortage.

The majority of Michigan's small sawmills are located in agricultural areas and must depend largely upon farmers as a source of labor. For this reason farmers are urged to help in this great cause of getting lumber to the armed forces by seeking off-season employment in the sawmills or working in their own woodlots. By calling on the farmers for help it is hoped that the lumber bottleneck may be broken.

Even though total production of lumber in Michigan is higher than it was last year, it still is not high enough to meet the demands for lumber. There are more mills now in production, more farmers cutting logs, high log inventories, and more efficient use of labor and equipment; but the best must be better, it is pointed out.

The small lumber mills—those cutting less than one million board feet per year—are highly seasonal in operation. Many of these mills, which produced more lumber in the first half of 1944 than either the medium or large size mills, closed down during busy farm months because of lack of labor. They can open now, if the farmers respond to the call for help.

MICHIGAN BELL PLANS HUGE POST-WAR EXPANSION PROJECT
Detroit—On the basis of a healthy business outlook following the reconversion period, George M. Welch, president of the Michigan Bell Telephone Company, forecasts a $120,000,000 post-war expansion program by the company.

Welch said such a program would require five years for completion after the war and that its accomplishment will depend upon general business conditions and the availability of manpower, materials, and investment funds.

Requirements of the proposed program, largest ever undertaken by the company in a similar period, call for the erection of 46 new buildings or building additions costing more than $8,000,000, the placing of 13,500,000 conductor feet of exchange cable and 250 miles of long distance cable, and the installation of more than 100 long distance switchboard positions.

A major problem will be to answer the demands of those waiting for service. To wipe out that waiting list—now close to 90,000 mark—will require $18,000,000 of new construction.

Other requirements would include an estimated outlay of $46,000,000 toward restoring plant margins in order to place the service on a peacetime basis and for added long distance facilities.

The company also expects to resume its rural expansion program, which started late in 1940 only to be interrupted by the war. That program provides a liberal method of financing farmline construction under an installment payment plan worked out by the company and Michigan agricultural leaders. The company, Welch said, looks forward to the day when "there will be a telephone on every farm in Michigan-Bell territory."

In addition to providing service once again on a basis of when and where wanted, Welch said the company has in mind the post-war responsibility of returning its employees now in the armed forces to jobs "best suited to their ability, experience, and well-being."

Wiring Circuits
A lighting circuit is usually wired with No. 14 wire and should have not larger than a 15-ampere fuse; an appliance circuit is usually wired with No. 12 wire and should have not larger than a 20-ampere fuse.

Is War Too Costly?

By RUTH TAYLOR

"War is the most expensive form of education." I read that sentence a week or so ago and, frankly, I've puzzled over it ever since. Is war really a great educator? Do we need war to reassess values?

True, we learn in war. War teaches us cooperation. War arouses ingenuity. War stimulates thought. War breaks down mental barriers. I grant you all of that.

Of course, we learn from war—but war IS the most expensive form of education. Are we so weak minded that we need a crisis to make us work constructively or live intelligently?

Common suffering welds people together in time of war. Cannot common aims, aspirations, ambitions, weld people together in time of peace? If we worked one tenth as hard and as selfishly for peace as we work for war, we could make peace permanent and assure to all the peoples of all the earth a healthy adventurous life.

It is not impractical idealism to look ahead. The really practical souls are those who plan for peace; who create something toward which to work; who admit imperfections; so, striving always toward perfection, try to correct mistakes, not by tearing down what has been built, but by salvaging the good and building upon it.

There is a paragraph from the speech of Philip Marshall Brown that I think pretty well expresses the situation: "Peace is indivisible. It does not emanate from governments but from people. This has been called a 'People's War.' There must likewise be a People's Peace. Tranquility of order results from the sum total of human relationships. If men and women cannot agree to live justly and peaceably in their own homes and in their communities; if employer and employees wage an increasing and undeclared war; if racial hatreds are fostered; if religious denominations are antagonistic; all that can only conduce to general unrest, disunity and demoralization."

Peace can be made by governments. It can only be kept by people—and people means you and me, every one of us no matter what we are or at what task we work. War is too expensive education. It is up to us to prove that peace can also teach!

Election Day Results May Puzzle U. S.

Possible for Candidate to Lose After Winning Most Popular Vote.

WASHINGTON. — The constitution of the United States apportions electors to each state on the basis of their membership in congress. These electors, constituting an electoral college, are selected by each state, their names usually appearing on the ballots directly under the presidential candidate.

This year's electoral college will have 531 votes apportioned among the 48 states. New York with 47; Pennsylvania, 35; Illinois, 28 and California and Ohio with 25 each lead. Delaware, Nevada, Vermont, and Wyoming will have three each, one for each of their senators and one for their lone representative in congress.

The number of persons who actually vote, or are qualified to vote has no influence on the number of electoral votes cast by that state. It is possible for 15,000 votes in one state to have one electoral vote, while in another state the number may be 150,000 or more.

Pronounced in 1944.

This will be even more pronounced in 1944 elections where some states have lost a large percentage of their electorate, while others like California have had large increases in eligible voters, although in both cases the number of electoral votes assigned will not be affected.

In case of a close election it is possible for a president to be elected who does not receive a majority of the popular vote. This has happened in the past and may happen again.

In 1932 Herbert Hoover received 59 electoral votes with a popular vote of only 15,761,841. Four years later Alf Landon, who received a larger popular vote, came out with only eight electoral votes.

In 1940 Wendell Willkie, with more than 22 million votes, received 82 electoral votes. The popular vote was close in 16 of the states that a small number in each of these states could have changed the electoral vote for a defeat for President Roosevelt instead of a large electoral majority.

The Great Seal

The reverse of the Great Seal of the United States appears at the left of the reverse of the one dollar bills. Above the eye is the Latin motto "Annuit Cœptis," translated as "He (God) favored our undertakings." The motto below the base of the pyramid is "Novus Ordo Seclorum," translated as "A new order of the ages." Both mottos are condensations of excerpts from Virgil's "Aeneid."

The unfinished pyramid is a symbol of strength; its unfinished condition denotes the belief of the designers of the Great Seal that there was still work to be done. The eye in a triangular glory, surmounting the pyramid, symbolizes an all-seeing Deity.

Economic Loss

Public accidents cost $2,700,000,000 in lost wages, medical expense and insurance overhead in 1943. Production delays, property damage, fire losses and incidental lost time accounted for another $2,200,000,000—a total of $4,900,000,000.

THOMAS E. DEWEY

JOHN W. BRICKER

Congressman

Earl C. Michener

When you go to the polls Nov. 7 to select national, state and county officers, your ballot takes on an immense importance that cannot be over-estimated. How you use it will determine:

Whether this country continues as a democracy;

Whether more sacred traditions are to be broken;

Whether you and your children retain that priceless heritage of freedom;

Whether this country takes another step down toward absolute dictatorship.

You have an opportunity to protect America from the vicious assaults made on the very foundations upon which this great country was built. Use that opportunity by voting for Thomas E. Dewey for president and for all other Republicans seeking national, state and county offices. Protect America and save democracy.

ENTERTAIN AT SHOWER Miss Lillian Allhouse and Miss Virginia Barr entertained at a pre-nuptial shower at the home of the former on Saturday evening, honoring Miss Grace Merkel, who is to be married to Pvt. William Hitchingham of the U. S. Army, stationed in California. Guests included their graduating classmates of '42, and a few relatives of the bride-to-be.

The evening was spent playing bridge and other games, at which prizes were won by Mrs. Helen Allhouse of Detroit, Mrs. Nancy Wood, and Miss Pearl Alexander of Chelsea, and they presented them to Miss Merkel.

A delightful dessert lunch was served by Miss Barr and Miss Allhouse at the table decorated in pink and blue candles with an umbrella made of pink crepe paper as a centerpiece, after which Miss Merkel opened her gifts which were many and beautiful. The balance of the evening was spent visiting and wishing Miss Merkel a long and happy married life.

GIVES TALK ON MUSIC Thirty-five members and guests of the Chelsea Study club met at the home of Mrs. Kent Walworth on Tuesday evening. The program was given by Glenn D. McGeech, A.M., Associate Professor of the History of Music at the U. of M., on "How To Listen To Music." The talk was most interesting and instructive and was greatly enjoyed.

A social hour was held after the program. The tea table was centered with a low bowl of chrysanthemums in the fall shades. Mrs. George Miller and Mrs. Philip Olin poured. The assisting hostesses were Mrs. Wilbur Hinderer, Mrs. Carl Mayer and Mrs. E. R. Major.

The next meeting of the club will be held at the Public Library on Tuesday evening, November 14.
