Third Blood Bank Held Here Monday

Chelsea's third Blood Bank, set up at St. Paul's church hall on Monday, January 29, was the most successful thus far.

The Detroit-based Cross Mobile Unit conveyed all necessary materials to the local headquarters, with Peter Ephem, Homer Nixon, Wilbur Riemenschneider and Otto Schanz assisting in the installation of this equipment. There were twenty workers with the unit.

Under the direction of Mrs. Paul Maroney, local canteen chairman, a hot luncheon was served to the visiting unit workers. Local volunteer canteen workers served waters and orange juice to the blood donors previous to the donation, and sandwiches, tea, coffee, or milk following each completion.

One hundred ninety-three pints of blood were received and there were two hundred fifty-one registered volunteers.

The efficiency of all committees, with the congenial cooperation of the local factory chairmen, made the visiting Blood Bank function very easily and systematically. The Detroit Unit was most pleased with Chelsea's excellent response from blood donors and all volunteer workers.

The Chelsea Red Cross greatly appreciates the assistance of all who participated in the outstanding success of this Blood Bank.

Local Raid Nets Twelve Gamblers, Some Money

Rumors of professional gambling in Chelsea have been prevalent for some time, but not until Sunday night was a raid carried out which may be the beginning of a crusade to clean up the situation which is said to exist in and near the village.

Following a tip that a game was in progress, Police Officer George Doe and Deputies Schlanderer and Peterson from the sheriff's department raided the John Holbrook residence, 210 North street, about 10:30 Sunday night and caught 12 people in the midst of a crap game.

The officers confiscated $63.49, representing the "take" and arrested the following persons: John Holbrook, charged with operating the game; Albert Chambers, Lewis Alexander, Henry Blackley, Geo. Sims, Marilyn Bell, Maxine Ballard, Alza Baxter and Lela King, all negroes; and Fred Howard, Morgan Joseph and Jack Kind.

When the officers raided the house Kind tried to escape but four shots over his head from the gun of Deputy Schlanderer stopped him.

The gamblers were all taken to the county jail in Ann Arbor. They were arraigned before Judge Payne in municipal court Monday morning, where Holbrook's bond was set at $1000, which was not furnished, and he was bound over to circuit court. The others were assessed fines of $35 each or 30 days in jail.

According to reports, losses of some local factory workers amount to several hundred dollars in recent gambling operations here. It is hoped that the success of this raid may give the sheriff's department and local police officers the incentive to investigate questionable "hang-outs" in the community.

Back The Attack—Buy More Bonds

By GENE ALLEMAN

Ranking fifth in the nation, the University of Michigan looks forward to the post-war period with anticipation of an enrollment of 18,000 to 20,000 resident students, according to Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, president.

"Preparation for the opportunities which the post-war period will bring is the dominant idea today here at the University of Michigan," said Dr. Ruthven. "Both the administration and the faculty realize fully these coming years will bring problems and difficulties which will be as great or greater than those we have had to confront and overcome since 1940.

But we are going ahead with plans and preparations in the belief that if the University gives its full measure of service to Michigan, then the citizens of the state will back the University in solving its problems.

"All our work at the University falls into one of two classes. It is either research or education; either seeking out new knowledge or imparting present knowledge. I believe that our opportunities to serve Michigan in the years ahead can be divided the same way.

"In the research field, the demand both on and off the campus will be staggering. Industry will want to know how the new processes developed during the war can be applied to peacetime production. The government already is laying plans to continue a great deal of its present research. The engineer, biologist, chemist, physicist, electronic expert—all will be called on for new discoveries and applications.

"Business will be asking for marketing studies. Labor and management already are calling on the University for leaders and for educational programs. School men are asking how they can best utilize the lessons which our war training programs have taught us.

"All these are just a few of the op-

Groundhog Prophet

According to tradition, if the groundhog comes out of his burrow on February 2 and sees his shadow, there will be six more weeks of winter. If the day is cloudy there will be an early spring. Master Boris Musulin knows that Mr. Groundhog is usually right, and is waiting for that shadow, so he can use his Christmas sleigh some more.

opportunities to serve which will be offered to the University by men and institutions off the campus. Great as this field will be, I believe a still larger one will lie in the other, the educational.

"The University's first responsibility, of course, will be to offer the young men and women of Michigan a chance to acquire as fine an education as can be had at any institution of higher learning. In this connection, I hope to see our counseling and guidance programs extended. By learning what abilities, what aptitudes a student has when he first comes to college, we are able to help him make a wiser choice of courses and often of a career. An enlarged program will save wasted effort, cost, and time.

"Veterans are returning to our colleges in constantly greater numbers. Already with comparatively few discharged from service, the University has 350 enrolled. These men and women need and deserve special help. Not special courses where they are segregated, but extra counseling, time to become readjusted to civilian and academic life, refresher work, testing and guidance. All these items require added staff and added outlay, but with the veteran turning to us for an education, the University is glad of the opportunity to give this service.

"It is becoming more and more evident over the world that training of the young folks is not enough; that our schools have not had the final results for society that we hoped; that we must begin to provide educational opportunities for adults. The University recognizes this work as one of its major responsibilities.

"Even now through its many off-campus services it is reaching far more citizens each year than come to Ann Arbor. And this program must constantly be expanded.

"I want to mention just a few of the newer lines this development is taking. The correspondence study program is growing rapidly. New extension centers, like those at Flint and Grand Rapids, are being added wherever there is a community need for one. New branches in labor education and in race relations have just been started.

"Besides these there are the many special services which the University will give Michigan citizens: the community leadership work, the forestry school with its meetings and programs for lumbermen and farmers, the School of Education with its counseling service to public schools; the lecture bureau and the visual education office with its loan films.

"I have mentioned a lot of details but by means of them I have tried to give a picture of a great university—the fifth in the nation now—working and planning for the future. The University of Michigan is doing all it can to be ready to serve the citizens of Michigan, no matter where they live or what they do.

"These opportunities, however, are only one side of the picture. The post-war years which will bring these possibilities for great service likewise will bring greater problems.

"The University must expect and prepare for greater enrollment, one of 18,000 to 20,000 resident students at least. This will mean more classrooms and laboratories. The last new building constructed with public funds was Angell Hall, put up in 1924. Several of the oldest class buildings must be replaced in the interest of safety. "Housing is an ever-present trouble. Dormitories can be built on a self-liquidating basis but first we must buy the land for them and this is costly.

"The University has a faculty of men and women with national and international reputations as teachers and investigators. We cannot keep this exceptional staff at pre-war salaries. While the cost of living has increased 25 per cent, the salaries of the faculty have gone up only 9 per cent. The result is that other institutions are offering our people more than we can, and our most valuable staff members are thus being drawn away. So there is the University's outlook on the future: greater opportunities than ever before to serve Michigan, and the problem of meeting the cost of the enlarged program and the larger plant which will be needed. We of the University, however, are going ahead with preparations for the future, confident in the belief that as long as this institution is faithful to the trust and responsibility placed in it, the people of Michigan will provide it with the tools to do its work well and meet the obligation owed to the future generations of students, young and old."

Heads up, Mr. Pedestrian—before you step off a street curb, stop—look—listen.

The signal at a street corner may be set in your favor, but in just a second it might change. The dangerous steps for the pedestrian are the first few that he takes away from the curb. Thousands of pedestrians walk diagonally across the street at intersections, and insist upon walking from behind parked cars in the middle of the block.

Take those few extra minutes, walk to the intersection—stop, look, and listen—before you cross—those extra minutes may mean additional years of life to you.

Troop 25 operates under the direction of a Troop committee, or board of directors, composed of H. T. Moore, Charles Cameron, Rev. W. H. Skentelbury, A. C. Johnson, L. Davison and Rev. E. R. Major, who have chosen Norman Phelps to act as Scoutmaster, or general manager of the Troop, with Al Mshar and John Alber as assistants.

Four or five boys make up a Den, meeting for an hour, one afternoon each week with their Den Mother and Den Chief. The Dens of each Pack have an assembly or Parents' Night Pack meeting once a month. All tests or achievements are OK'd by the Cubes' own parents.

Boys nine years old are Wolf Cubs; those 10 years old are Bear Cubs, and 11-year-old boys are Lion Cubs.

During 1944 twenty-five new Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Senior Scout groups have been organized in the Council, bringing the total number of groups served by the Council to 84.

Paul Uber, president of the Washtenaw Livingston Boy Scout Council, has announced the following coming events on the Inter-Troop calendar of Scout Troops and Cub Packs: Monday, Jan. 29, 7:30 p.m., Howell school, Livingston District Court of Honor; Tuesday, Jan. 30, 7:30 p.m., Lincoln school, Training Course; Wednesday, Jan. 31, 7:30 p.m., Fowlerville school, Fowlerville Cub Pack Parents; Thursday, Feb. 1, 7:30 p.m., Michigan Union, Middle District Planning Meeting; Monday, Feb. 5, 7:30 p.m., Tappan Auditorium, East Neighborhood Court of Honor; Monday, Feb. 5, 7:30 p.m., Chelsea school, Copeland Section Rally; Tuesday, Feb. 6, 7:30 p.m., Whitmore Lake Methodist church, Northeast Section Rally; Thursday, Feb. 8, 7:30 p.m., Michigan Union, Middle District Scout Leaders' Round Table; Tuesday, Feb. 13, 7:30 p.m., Milan high school, Patrol Leaders' Conference; Thursday, Feb. 15, 7:30 p.m., McKenny Hall, Scout Leaders' Round Table; Thursday, Feb. 22, 7:30 p.m., Michigan League, Middle District Cub Leaders' Round Table; Monday, Feb. 26, 7:30 p.m., Howell school, Livingston District Planning meeting.

"Supplementing other efforts each Boy Scout Troop and Cub Pack in Washtenaw county is preparing to swing into action on March first to give an extra push to salvaging waste paper," Ira M. Smith, member of the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America and chairman of the forthcoming Scouts' campaign for waste paper, said this week.

ENTERTAIN FARMERS' CLUB
The January meeting of the Western Washtenaw Farmers' club, was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Miller on Friday evening and a supper was served at 7 o'clock to 19 members. The program, which was informal, consisted of community singing of "When You and I Were Young, Maggie," "Silver Threads Among the Gold," "America, the Beautiful," and "Home on the Range," with Mrs. F. E. Storms and Mrs. P. M. Broesamle as accompanists; miscellaneous quotations by the members; reminiscences of Chelsea, by S. P. Foster, T. G. Riemenschneider, F. W. Notten and N. W. Laird; and a poem, "As Men Pray," by E. M. Broesamle.

"This point is further emphasized," he continued, "by the fact that approximately one out of every three retired beneficiaries has a wife who also is receiving monthly benefits on his account."
Summing up the situation on the social security front, Mr. Morrison said there is one serious cause of concern to the Board's field officers: some people do not know their rights under the old-age and survivors insurance program, and so may lose some benefits through failure to act at the right time. To correct this he issued the following advice: "Whenever a person, who has worked at any time in a job covered by the law, reaches the age of 65, he should come in to see us and find out how to protect his benefit rights, even though he does not plan to retire. Whenever a worker dies, after working for some period in jobs covered by the law, some member of his family should communicate at their earliest convenience with the nearest office of the Social Security Board. This is the only way to make sure that no benefits are lost."
The Board is concerned also, said Mr. Morrison, because some 20,000,000 Americans, including the self-employed, are excluded from the protection of the system. He called attention to the Board's recommendation to enable excluded groups to build insurance protection for themselves and their families.

RACING DOG FINISHES THIRD
 Freddie Hoffman drove his hound dog home across the finishing line in third position at the Tenth Annual Dog Derby in Detroit last Sunday. In the qualifying heats "Jumpin' Jim" placed second.

The race was run over ice and the track was oval shaped. This proved to be a handicap to Jim as he was trained to run on a straight course. It was on the curves that he lost ground. In the home stretch, Freddie took Jim on the outside and tried hard to overtake the pace setter but it was too late.

A crowd of 20,000 people witnessed the program.

TOWN AND FARM IN WARTIME

CALL TO ARMS
 Your Government needs and asks its citizens in this 165th week of the war to:

1. Answer the emergency call for 8,000 medical W.A.C.s. Women from 20 to 50 are needed immediately for non-professional medical work in U. S. Army hospitals.
2. Help to relieve the doctor and nurse shortage by taking a Red Cross Nursing Course to learn how to care for your own family.
3. Remember—1944 income tax return forms do not provide for payment of the unforgiven portion of your 1942 tax due March 15. Separate statements are being mailed.
4. Write your serviceman cheerful, reassuring and frequent letters. Use V-Mail when you write overseas.
5. Beware of complacency. When the war news is good, redouble your efforts on the home front. Set an example your boy/can be proud of.

Reminders
 Meats, Fats—Red stamps Q5, R5, S5, good until March 31; Red stamps T5, U5, V5, W5 and X5 good until April 28; Red stamps Y5, Z5, and AA, BB, CC, DD, good until June 2.
 Processed Foods—Blue stamps X5, Y5, Z5 and A2 and B2, good until March 31; Blue stamps C2, D2, E2, F2 and G2, good until April 28; Blue stamps H2, J2, K2, L2, and M2 good until June 2.
 Sugar—Stamp 34 good until Feb. 28; stamp 35 good until June 2.
 Fuel Oil—Periods 4 and 5 become good February 5, 1945.
 Shoes—Airplane stamps 1, 2 and 3 in book three, good indefinitely.

Civilian Supplies Will Be Low
 Supplies of meat, butter, sugar, canned and packaged foods, clothing, and many durable goods will be smaller in 1945, OPA advises. Record buying and increased military demands in 1944 greatly reduced reserves, which have so far helped meet demands. The present scarcity of metal household equipment and appliances will remain acute until peace-time production can be resumed. At the same time more people will be eager to replace equipment and household furnishings that are now more nearly worn out. Shortages always generate an urge to pay higher prices to get more. This increases the dangers of inflation. In 1945, OPA states, supplies will be large enough to meet essential civilian needs but much smaller than the amount people could buy with the money they will have to spend. The OPA program to meet this situation asks rigid compliance with rationing regulations and price ceilings, plus restraint in buying and a high level of savings, including war bond purchases.

SCHOOL TESTING PROGRAM
 (Catholic School Office Release)
 At the end of January children in the elementary grades of Parochial schools will bring home their individual progress charts for parents' inspection.
 The chart will show the result of the mid-year tests given this week as well as the grades the student achieved last September. Parents should pay particular attention to subjects in which their child was below par last September. The January testing should indicate an improvement if the student has been regular in his attendance and applied himself to his school work.
 The five subjects in which the pupil is tested are spelling, handwriting (which is marked according to speed and quality), arithmetic (based on fundamentals and problems), reading (judged by the pupil's speed and comprehension), and English (determined by word-usage-and-punctuation).
 These tests are not made out by the Sisters who teach the child. They are composed by national experts. These same tests are used by Catholic schools throughout the country. The double advantage of this testing method is that the child is able to compare his present standing with his own previous standing by means of the individual progress chart and discover just what personal achievement he has made, and also the general achievement of the pupils in St. Mary's school, is measured against the achievement of pupils in other schools of the Archdiocese as well as in different cities.
 There is no way for a teacher to coach her own pupils since different tests are used each year.
 After each test the pupil is told his grade and allowed to mark it on his individual chart before he brings the chart home to his parents. Parents see these charts in September, January and June. In the alternate months, October, December, February, April and June, elementary school students in the Parochial schools receive their report cards.
 This schedule means that scarcely a month goes by when parents do not see a record of their child's school grades. In eight months, during the nine months the child is in school, his parents receive a report of his progress.

EXTINGUISH ROOF FIRE
 The fire department was called to the Paul Messner home on North St. last Thursday to extinguish a small roof fire, which was caused by a chimney burning out. The damage was slight.

Summer Squash
 Summer-squash is in reality a pumpkin and if you plant summer squash and the common pumpkin near together you might get a cross, but there would be no evidence the first year.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

Mrs. L. E. Riemenschneider entertained 10 little guests at a party on Tuesday afternoon, for the pleasure of her son, Earl Lawrence, on his fifth birthday. The supper table was centered with a birthday cake in pink, yellow and green, and the favors were baskets of candy, and paper haha. Terry Boyce of Ann Arbor was an out of town guest.

One of the brightest pages in The History of Human Progress

Modern funeral service ranks with other professional contributions to public welfare. In safeguarding public health and in alleviating the sorrow of bereavement it serves rich and poor alike.

The story of the funeral service profession is one of steady advance in the face of entrenched custom, ignorance and reactionary prejudice. Its establishment of scientific methods of caring for the dead and comforting the living constitutes one of the brightest pages in the history of human progress.

— Excerpt from the PUBLIC RELATIONS OF A PUBLIC SERVANT by Evan B. Johnson

Our service reflects every advancement made by the modern every arts and sciences, yet it costs no more to call us.

The candlelight service was read at 4 o'clock in the Presbyterian church by the chaplain and the bride was given in marriage by her father. Her wedding dress was of white marquisette with lace bodices and her finger-tip veil was caught in a point lace cap. She carried a bouquet of white roses centered with an orchid and tied with white streamers. Miss Caroline Breitenwischer, who was maid of honor, wore blue net with a lace yoke, while Grace and Evelyn Phillips, sisters of the groom, who attended as bridesmaids, were attired alike in pink satin and net. All carried pink roses. The groom was attended by his pilot, of Ripley, Tenn., as best man. A reception was held after the ceremony at Cordell Hull hotel. Red Cross Has Kit Bags Ready for Distribution

More than 2,000 kit bags are now ready for distribution at the Red Cross production rooms, 1185 East Catherine St., Ann Arbor. "Although our local quota is only a small part of the total number of kit bags needed, our workers feel that it is their personal responsibility to see that no serviceman leaves port without these useful and popular gifts," said Mrs. M. D. Bullard, chairman of the production corps. Mrs. Bullard pointed out that although the kit bag program is a continuous activity of Red Cross production units it is being emphasized at present because stocks now at ports of embarkation are barely meeting shipping schedules. Quotas filled by the Washtenaw county Red Cross production corps since the work was begun here total more than 10,000 bags, and more than half of these were filled before shipping, she said. Standard contents of the bags are: razor blades, pocket books of fiction, pencils, soap and soap boxes. Because playing cards are increasingly difficult to get, one deck is included in every other bag filled; while the alternate bag contains either a comb, a game, or an extra package of cigarettes. Each bag contains the name of the Red Cross chapter.

SHE'S STILL YOUR BABY! And she's some baby!... ninety million dollars worth of mass and might and majesty... and a mighty handy thing for Uncle Sam to have around.

She's yours—all yours. Your War Bonds helped buy and pay for her. So don't let her down now.

Don't sell her out by selling out a single bond you've bought. For she still needs your dollars. Needs them for food. And fuel. And ammunition.

Remember—she'll keep on fighting for you! You keep on saving—for her!

THAT OTHERS MIGHT LIVE! We students of Chelsea High can be very proud of our parents and older brothers and sisters this week!

Not one of those people considered it a sacrifice, but rather a privilege. The privilege of perhaps saving their son's, husband's, brother's, or sweetheart's life on the field of battle.

However, the real praise goes to the actual contributors and we who were unable to give our blood would like to add our thanks among those of our boys.

Increased Fats Salvage Is Urged By Official

A strong appeal for increased home salvage of used kitchen fats was directed to Michigan homemakers this week by Angus C. Doane, Michigan district representative of the War Food Administration.

"Used fat salvage has shown a sharp decline during the past few months," Doane said.

Doane referred to the statement recently issued by General Eisenhower appealing for "myriads of shells, guns, tires and planes for our fighting men."

and General Somervell's declaration that arms and equipment production are lagging 40 per cent behind schedule.

"Every item of equipment called for by America's top military leaders requires fat either in its production or its operation," Doane said.

"Failure to meet these requirements can result in only one thing, and that is actual necessity for using more edible fats in the direct war effort, and thus reducing the supply of those now available for civilian consumption.

Local fat salvage committee members continue to operate very much as they have in the past."

Body Paint
Automobile bodies are each flooded, in modern treating methods, with more than 4,000 gallons of solution before they are painted, it is said. This process produces on the metal surface a protective phosphate coating, which prevents corrosion, and makes the paint stick better when applied. First introduced in 1936, when 850,000 bodies were treated, over 2,000,000 are undergoing the treatment this year.
