Pvt. Duane A. Hafley Killed At Camp Hood

Funeral services for Pvt. Duane Andrew Hafley, who was accidentally drowned on April 11 while in training at Camp Hood, Texas, will be held this (Thursday) afternoon at 2 o'clock E.W.T. at St. Paul's church, preceded by a private prayer service at 1:30 at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hafley, in Sylvan township.

Rev. P. H. Grabowski will officiate and burial will be at Maple Grove cemetery, Sylvan Center. Uniformed men of the armed forces will be pall-bearers.

PVT. DUANE A. HAFLEY

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock this afternoon at St. Paul's church, followed by a private prayer service at 1:30 at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hafley, in Sylvan township. Burial will be at Maple Grove cemetery, Sylvan Center. Uniformed men of the armed forces will be pall-bearers.

The body of Private Hafley arrived here on Monday morning and was accompanied to the Miller funeral home by an escort of ex-service men. Pvt. Hafley was born in Sylvan township Sept. 28, 1926. He graduated from Chelsea high school in 1944 and was an employee of Bowser, Inc. until his induction into the U. S. Army on December 26, 1944. He was first sent to Fort Sheridan, Ill., then to Camp Hood, Texas, where he was placed in the Infantry Reserve Training Corps.

Surviving Pvt. Hafley besides his parents, are four brothers, Meryl Hafley, S-1C, stationed at Whidbey Island, Wash., Cpl. Voryl Hafley, at Tyndall Field, Fla., Pvt. Glen Hafley, in service overseas, and Don Hafley, at home; and two sisters, Mrs. Gale Hartman of Ann Arbor and Miss Arlene Hafley, at home.

Another brother, S-Sgt. Earl Hafley, was killed in action in Germany on December 6, 1944.

Seaman Meryl Hafley and Cpl. Voryl Hafley have arrived to attend the services.

Blood Bank Coming On Monday, April 30

Have you registered yet? Will you give a pint of blood for someone who may give his all for you?

The Red Cross Mobile Unit from Detroit will be at the Methodist church on Monday, April 30—from 12:30 until 5:00 o'clock.

To date the number of donors who have registered has been small. More are urgently needed as there must be at least 200 accepted registrants. The unit asks for 30 donors to be there at 12:30 o'clock and that there be 30 there at 4:30 o'clock.

It is believed that George W. Lubahn holds the record here for the amount of blood donated, as he has been a donor eight times.

Minors from 18 to 20 years of age inclusive cannot be accepted without the permission of their parents or legal guardian. All donors are asked to omit fatty foods such as fats, butter, cream, eggs, fat meat, and soup from their diet on the day of donation.

Following is a personal message from a former local boy, Pfc. Gaylord Wayne Green, now serving somewhere in the Pacific:

"My wife has donated blood twice that I know of," Pfc. Green declared. "When I was lying on the Guam shore, I was grateful that back home there were plenty of persons who had given their blood so that my buddies and I could be given transfusions. If more folks realized how much they would be doing towards saving a life by donating blood, I know the banks would be well stocked."

Register at once with the local committee: Mrs. Elmer Lindemann, Mrs. Martin Miller or Mrs. John Hale, or at the factory where you are employed.

ELECTED ROAD COMMISSIONER
James C. Hendley, local attorney, was elected last week by the county board of supervisors to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of C. E. Ferguson. The term expires in 1946. George Gill, of Ypsilanti, and Herbert L. Frisinger, of Ann Arbor, are the two other county road commissioners.

Called To The Colors

Miss Marjorie E. Sott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reuben W. Sott of Sharon township, who enlisted in the U. S. Army Nurse Corps in December, 1944, is leaving today for Camp McCoy, Wis. to begin her basic training. Born Nov. 26, 1917 in Freedom township, she is a graduate of Chelsea high school, class of 1935. She attended Nurses' Training school at Foote hospital, Jackson, completing the course in 1939. For the past two years she was employed as industrial nurse at Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Company, Jackson.

Mrs. Edward Freiermuth and Mrs. Bruce Lindley of Jackson gave a farewell party for Miss Sott on Tuesday evening of last week, entertaining 25 friends at the home of Mrs. Freiermuth. Mrs. R. W. Sott and Mrs. Lowell Spike of Chelsea were attendants at the party.

With Our Men In Service

Capt. John E. Fletcher, Command Pilot and Flight Commander with an 8th Air Force Heavy Bombardment group, returned home on April 5 after a year's service overseas. With his wife he is spending a 21-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Fletcher, and will report May 1 to Miami Beach, Fla. He expects to return to the European theatre of operations in the very near future.

Pvt. Richard Beal, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Beal, wrote the following letter to his father, which he received last week:

Somewhere in Germany, March 30, 1945.
Dear Dad,
I am feeling fine and getting along swell; am with a swell bunch of fellows, and have been up on the front lines with them. I hope things keep moving as they have been.

I had some Coca-Cola tonight and seem to have plenty of wine all the time, even champagne by the bottles full.

Have seen a lot of German people and the country, but I will take the U.S.A. any day.

The mail is quite a problem, to catch up with us, because we are moving all the time; also keeps us from writing very often, but will drop you a line every chance possible.

Get candy quite often but is always small bars. Mary, send all the gum and candy you can get together.

Clothing Pickup To Be Held Next Thursday

According to George Doe, local chairman for the United National Clothing Collection, this community's response to the appeal for clothing to be sent to the needy and destitute peoples of war-devastated countries has not been very generous.

In an effort to accelerate the clothing collection during the last two weeks of the drive, the Kiwanis club has been asked by Mr. Doe to take charge of a clothing pickup on Thursday afternoon, April 26. Those who have clothing to contribute may take the articles to the police station on Friday afternoon, or call A. D. Mayer, phone 7131, and some member of the Kiwanis club will call next Thursday.

A thorough canvass of the village will be made and anyone who cannot conveniently telephone Mr. Mayer may place their cartons or bundles of clothing at the curb or on the front porch and they will be collected there.

Mr. Doe states that boxes are being placed in each factory and in both St. Mary's and public schools, to make it more convenient for those who can deliver their articles to a collection center.

Let's all do our part in this great humanitarian project!

New V.F.W. Post To Be Mustered In Friday Nite

The newly organized Chelsea Post No. 4076, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, will be formally instituted at a public ceremony to be held in St. Mary's gymnasium at 8 p.m. Friday evening.

Residents of this community will be given an opportunity to witness the beautiful and impressive V.F.W. initiation ritual, conducted by the crack ritual team from the Wolverine Post No. 171 at Detroit. Until recently, this rite was performed only in closed meetings, but an amendment to the V.F.W. national by-laws adopted at the last national encampment of the Order permits its performance in meetings open to the public. The change was made with a view of promoting greater understanding of the aims and principles of the V.F.W., and wider public support of its national program.

The new post will be officially mustered in by the Department Commander, Maurice F. Cole of Ferndale, with George H. Gee, Deputy Chief of Staff at Large, who assisted local veterans in the organization of the post, acting as chairman.

Chosen as first Commander by the new post is a veteran of the present war, Charles S. Ritter, Jr., who served a year in Africa. Other officers to be installed Friday evening include Leon D. Fox, Senior Vice Commander; Robert C. Reed (another World War II veteran), Junior Vice Commander; Julius L. Eisele, Quartermaster; Edmund K. Miller, Chaplain; Floyd D. Rowe, Post Advocate; Dr. E. J. Quirk, Post Surgeon; Albert Doll, Adjutant; William G. Kolb, Dewey C. Bruns and Albert Kasper, Trustees. Appointments of Officer of the Day and Guard have not yet been announced by the Commander-elect.

Charter of the new post is still open, and applications for membership will be accepted up to 7 p.m. Friday evening. The organizer, Mr. Gee, may be contacted at the Sylvan Hotel any time after noon Friday. Parents and wives of overseas veterans still in the service may obtain charter membership for their sons or husbands by presenting a letter showing the APO address or other satisfactory evidence of foreign service. Civilian applicants are asked to bring their discharges.

Legion Asks Village To Honor War Casualties

Following is a communication from Herbert J. McKune Post 31, American Legion, to the Village Council:

April 16, 1945.
To the President and Council of the Village of Chelsea:

A suggestion from the members of the Herbert J. McKune Post 31, American Legion, asking your consideration of the following:

We the members of the Herbert J. McKune Post No. 31 of the American Legion, feel that any member of the armed services from the village or immediate vicinity, and who has paid the supreme sacrifice, should be honored by the respect of our flag; and that upon official notice of death to next of kin; that the village flag should be flown at half mast for three days, and that name of said service member be placed on flag pole.

Thanking you for your consideration, we are

Members of the American Legion, Post 31.

Local Officers Told To 'Liquidate' Stray Dogs

Officers from the sheriff's department were in Chelsea on Saturday to investigate the effectiveness of the current county-wide dog quarantine which was ordered several weeks ago.

Local officers were ordered to shoot any stray dogs, or to prosecute the owners of such dogs, or both. A number of new cases of rabies have been reported in some sections of the county, which prompts renewed efforts by law-enforcement officers to "liquidate" all stray dogs.

Although notices of the quarantine have been published and posted in conspicuous places, the number of stray dogs roaming village streets has not diminished to any great extent, but if local officers carry out orders there should be fewer dogs very shortly.

A dog worth owning is a dog worth caring for!

FIRE DAMAGES CLARK HOUSE
Local firemen were called to the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George Clark on East Summit St. about 4:30 Tuesday morning to extinguish a blaze which started in the attic and is believed to have been caused by defective wiring. The fire was confined to the upper story, a portion of the roof and attic were burned, and considerable damage was done by water.

PURCHASE 20,000 ACRES
Lansing—Conservation department land buyers have pushed purchases of recreational lands in southeastern Michigan above the 20,000-acre mark in their first eight months of activity. The conservation commission at its April meeting approved purchases of 1,532 acres in Brighton, Highland, Holly, Onsted, Ortonville, Pinckney, and Waterloo localities, running the total of lands acquired to date to 20,715 acres. The legislature early last year voted $3,000,000 to launch a land purchase and development program that will eventually provide 100,000 acres of recreational lands stretching from Jackson to Oakland counties and serving three-fifths of the state's population.

HOLD GET-TOGETHER
The Hi-Neighbor Club assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Steele on Friday evening for their April get-together and after the business meeting, progressive euchre was played. Holders of high score were Mrs. William Luban and Henry Orbring, while Mrs. Charles Rabley and William Luban received the consolations. Mrs. Fred Gentner won the traveling prize and Mr. Luban the door prize. The supper was pot-luck.

PIN CHATTER
(April 11 and 13)
By Rena Johnson

D. Ashley was really in the groove this week. She started right off with 200 her first game; she had 518 for her series. Nice stuff, Doris.
J. Roy was also doing mighty nice. Her second game was 211 and she had 505 for her series.
M. Breitenwischer didn't quite find a 200 game this week, but her scores totaled a 503 series. Good bowlin', Mildred.
H. Dvorak was pretty much thrilled by her last game, in which she had a triple and a double for 205. This also helped the team score high game with handicap of 831.
The Five Crown won their first game from the Milling by four pins, then lost their last game by ten pins. The Milling team had 21 splits.
J. Hubbert had high series Friday night, with a 505 series. She had only one split in the three games.
G. Klumpp bowled 208 her first game, and she also picked up the 2-3-7 split.
P. Wedemeyer and H. Horning both had nice series. 496 is a good series any old time.
We had two close games. The Old Maids won their first game by three pins, and the Five Crown won their last game by three pins.
Friday the 13th didn't stop P. Wedemeyer from winning that dollar, even though Phyllis did have seven splits.
We had three girls who did some nice split picking. R. Jaskot the 6-8-10, N. Artz the 5-9-10, and J. Roy the 5-9-10.
A. Harris got robbed three times Friday night. She got strikes on her first ball, but they looked mighty good on the paper.

please. Sure can use some. I figured I would be scared stiff when I got up here on the front, but it didn't seem to bother me very much at all.

It sure is nice weather here, and bet it is really swell back home. Hope everyone is feeling fine. I guess the girls will be out of school soon and start their vacation; and also Paul—I bet he will like that. I hope they are keeping you busy.

Will sure be glad to get some letters from home, so I can get some news of what is going on. The fellows are sure loaded down with German pistols and watches. I hope to get one of each before it is over, for a souvenir. The only thing is, it is that much more to carry around.

Germany is a great country—people living in the same home with the cattle and chickens! I will take the States any day. And food—there sure is no shortage here. Mary ought to have a few of the pounds of butter I have found—all kinds of it.

Well, lots of love. Will write again soon.

WEDDINGS

Patrick-Heim

At a nuptial mass on Saturday morning, April 14, at 9:00 o'clock in St. Mary's Church, with Rev. Fr. Lee Laige officiating, Josephine Patrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah Patrick, became the bride of Warren Heim, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heim.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of the best man, wore a gown of white satin fashioned on Princess lines, with a sweetheart neckline, lily tip sleeves and extending into a train in back. From a tiera of orange blossoms fell a full length veil edged in lace, and a bouquet of white carnations and gardenias tied with blue satin ribbon completed the costume.

Florence Heim, sister of the groom, who attended the bride as maid of honor, wore an aquamarine taffeta dress fashioned after the bride's, with which she wore fuchsia mitts and carried yellow rose buds. She wore a matching Juliet cap with shoulder length veil.

The four bridesmaids were—Miss Mary Iachini of Ann Arbor, Mrs. James Evisizer of Manchester, Mrs. Robert Lucas, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Anthony Savickas of Chelsea. Gowned in identical frocks of yellow taffeta with full skirts and sweetheart necklines they wore single strand pearls and lime mitts. They carried bouquets of pink roses and wore yellow bows in their hair.

Albert Forner, cousin of the groom, attended him as best man. The guests were seated by Roland Heim, cousin of the groom, of Ypsilanti, George Merkel, Donald Doll and Jack Merkel, of Chelsea.

The mothers of the bridal couple wore corsages of red roses.

Following the church ceremony a wedding breakfast was served to the members of the bridal party and immediate family at the Tower Cafe.

For traveling the bride chose a black pin-striped suit with black and white accessories, and wore a corsage of gardenias. On their return, Mr. and Mrs. Heim will make their home south of Chelsea.

City Youth To Fill Gaps In Farm Labor Shortage

Many Michigan farmers are looking toward the cities for the solution of their help shortage problems.

On the basis of experiences in the state during the past two or more critical labor supply years, a larger number will use city youth during 1946. So reports Doris Gillespie, state Victory Farm Volunteer supervisor of Michigan State college.

Some 700 boys and girls of teen age passed the acid tests on farms last year. As a whole, employers were surprised at how quickly these Victory Farm Volunteers "caught on." Only a small percentage of the youthful workers seemed unadapted to farm occupations.

Requests for "repeats" are coming in from all parts of the state. Typical of the comments are those by Dr. D. J. Munroe, of Elkton, and O. F. Moeckel of Stockbridge. Said Dr. Munroe of Frank Thompson, Detroit boy: "This boy was an industrious young man, and he made good on the farm." Said Mr. Moeckel of his V.F.V. boy, Russell Turner, of Jackson: "A real worker—the best I've ever had."

Farmers who have used city boys and girls are in agreement that most of them are strong and willing hands, needing only a little patient instruction and guidance. Some are "green" at first, but they soon learn to do most of the routine tasks about the farm.

Recruitments to date are well ahead of requests. County agricultural agents are handling applications from farmers in each county. Those desiring helpers, either for short periods or for the entire spring and summer, are urged to file applications at once.

SURPRISED ON ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rowe were very pleasantly surprised Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Bollinger when about fifty neighbors and friends gathered to help them celebrate their silver wedding anniversary.

Pedro furnished entertainment for the early part of the evening, after which Mr. and Mrs. J. Vincent Burg sang a few selections and Mrs. N. W. Laird gave a very suitable reading for the occasion.

Mrs. Ray Franklin, on behalf of the company of friends, presented the honor guests with several pieces of silver plate.

Refreshments were served, including a three-tiered wedding cake in pink and white with a miniature bride and groom gracing the top. A large beautiful cake in pink and white with a bride and groom ornament honoring Mr. Rowe, it being his birthday, was also enjoyed.

Mrs. Raymond Hammill and Miss Sarah Bender of Grass Lake, sisters of Mrs. Rowe, were out of town guests.

CLINIC STARTS THIS MORNING

The immunization clinic for diphtheria and smallpox is being held at the public school gym starting at 9:00 this morning and continuing until all have been served.

The Washtenaw County Health Department emphasizes the need for having children immunized, particularly for diphtheria. The diphtheria rate in the state is on the increase, particularly in the age group from five to 14 years. All children under 10 years should have the serum this year, regardless of when they received the last dose.

Parents bringing children to the clinic who are not enrolled in school are asked to bring them as early as possible.

TROUT LIMIT REDUCED

Lansing—Opening of the trout season April 28 on Michigan's 194 designated trout lakes will find anglers limited to a catch of 10 trout or 10 pounds and one trout. Previous regulation permitted 15 trout or 10 pounds and one trout, a limit which is still effective on streams.

The conservation commission last September acted to reduce the allowed take on all designated trout lakes for a three-year period when it was shown that the larger limit was seriously reducing trout populations in many of the lakes. Most trout fishing in these lakes is afforded by the department's trout planting operations.

Exclusive Planting of Hybrid Corn Advocated

Michigan farmers can increase the state's 1945 corn crop by two and one-half to three million bushels of shelled corn through exclusive planting of adapted hybrids, says A. A. Johnson, extension farm crops specialist, at Michigan State college.

Hybrids outyield open-pollinated varieties from 15 to 25 per cent. Although all but 30 per cent of the state's acreage in 1944 was in hybrids, the number of acres that did go into open-pollinated was enough to hold down the total yield by from two to three million bushels.

Michigan grown certified hybrid seed corn is available in nearly all parts of the state where corn is grown successfully, Mr. Johnson points out. He recommends Extension Folder F-67 (Revised), which can be obtained from all county agricultural agents. This folder lists hybrids adapted to Michigan.

By GENE ALLEMAN

The "little red school house," traditional recipient of rural affection and a target of modern educators, is rapidly becoming one of the Michigan casualties of World War II.

The reason is economic. Teachers are being lured to other occupations, where compensation is more attractive.

"The shortage of teachers in Michigan this year is estimated to be 3,500," said Dr. Eugene B. Elliott, state superintendent of public instruction. "Next year it will increase, we estimate, to around 5,000. The average salary of a teacher in Michigan is $1,841 a year. This means that many teachers receive less than the medium sum."

"Approximately 100 communities in Michigan are now reorganizing their school districts. Parents are demanding better programs for their children, and only the larger schools can afford such courses as music, art, domestic science, and manual training, and can pay salaries adequate for skilled teachers."

The house of representatives has approved a bill which would permit school districts to create a study commission to investigate the advisability of school consolidations. The bill, if enacted by the legislature, would legalize a voluntary procedure and would not compel a school consolidation where taxpayers did not want it.

Dr. Elliott said the bill was patterned closely after a measure enacted by Washington state where school districts have been widely reorganized.

"We do not advocate the closing of all one-room schools in Michigan," he added. "Consolidation is not practical in all cases, and it should be effected only where benefits can be realized by the taxpayers in behalf of their children. It is our hope that the one-room school, even if abandoned, may continue to serve as a rural community center to meet the social needs of the rural community."

Modern transport whereby a bus replaced the horse and buggy in rural school districts is one of the economic changes which has favored consolidation of school districts. The state public education commission submitted recommendations two years ago for reorganization of Michigan 6,000-plus school districts. Summary: That no elementary school child shall walk more than one and one-half miles; that no secondary school student shall walk more than two miles; that districts if reorganized, shall permit bus transportation whereby an elementary school child would not be on a bus more than 30 minutes and a secondary school student more than 45 minutes.

The commission recommended that each consolidated district should have at least $3 millions in equalized state property valuation "except in those cases where the population density is relatively low and the percentage of first class land for general agriculture is less than 20 per cent."

Nearly eclipsed by the rush of European war news are the 1945 war protective activities of the Michigan Office of Civilian Defense. Did you know?

That planes of the Michigan civil air patrol, whose paid personnel is financed directly by the Michigan OGD, recently flew critically-needed tank parts to Newfoundland for immediate rush shipment by air to the American military front in Germany? (The big push into Germany was held up by order of General Dwight G. Eisenhower until these Michigan-made parts were available.)

That the training of 300 civil air patrol cadets at Selfridge Field last year was one of the indirect benefits realized by the OGD program in Michigan?

That 110 auxiliary firemen, policemen and air raid wardens, all covered by federal insurance in the event of mishap, were summoned by the OGD in Muskegon to combat a series of seven fires that broke out the same day in March? (Because auxiliary members function under the OGD, the federal government extends protection of insurance which otherwise would be denied to them.)

That the Victory Garden program of the Michigan OGD has received a Washington priority for 1945 because of the current shortage of foodstuffs? That in areas of coal shortage, such as Detroit, the OGD serves as a clearing-house for dealers to certify necessity of fuel? This action was taken at the request of Washington.

The OGD is strictly a war function, and under the state law it will cease at the conclusion of the war. The activities just enumerated are only a few out of many. The legislature gave it an appropriation of $447,000 in 1943; yet the OGD turned back an unspent balance of $161,000. This "saving," plus the 1944 appropriation of $100,000, gave a total budget of $261,000.

Did the OGD spend this $261,000? No, it did not. The unexpended balance on July 1, 1945 is estimated today at $128,645; the expended sum at $132,355.

These savings have been effected by reduction of the state personnel from 104 persons on Jan. 1, 1944 to 28 persons on Feb. 1, 1945. Interesting enough, the OGD budget for 1945-46 is $2,600 less than the $126,000 which the OGD "saved" last year! We know of no other state agency which can equal this record.

That some legislators at Lansing have been complaining because of the "lack of leadership" by Governor Harry F. Kelly was a topic recently covered by this column.

James Gallery, editor, Tuscola County Advertiser at Caro, comments editorially as follows:

"If Governor Kelly had prepared a bunch of bills and presented them for passage, most of these same politicians would have howled 'dictator' until the skies rang. When he didn't do that, they howl 'lack of leadership' until the same skies do the same thing. It seems to us as if the Governor has presented many problems to the legislature. He has made suggestions for laws which he considers desirable, but he has issued no orders. The legislators have, therefore, been put on a spot where they must use their own judgment—and how some of them do hate to do it."

Setting of Grass Fires Results In Convictions

Lansing—Careless setting of grass and brush fires in downstate counties has resulted in the arrest and conviction of 18 persons as violators of state fire regulations.

Stiffest penalty was given Joseph S. Cooper of Muskegon who must serve 90 days in default of payment of a $100 fine for setting a fire that resulted in a $20,000 loss. Cooper set the fire on a small garden plot without providing a sufficient break to prevent its spread.

A Tuscola county resident was fined $100 when a fire set by him burned over 600 acres.

Courts in 10 downstate counties have announced sentences on similar charges in recent weeks. Fines totaling more than $500 have been assessed.

Fires that burned over 13,000 acres of forest and grass lands in lower

Michigan last week have strengthened the state conservation department's determination to bring all violators of fire regulations into court.

Rich Source

Forests will be the source of rubber, alcohols, dyes, baking powder, tooth paste, medicines, paints, perfumes, chewing gum, plastics, sugars, yeast and ink in the future, says a Yale expert. He says when lumber alone is made from trees more than half of it is wasted.

Record Kill of Bucks Reported for Last Year

Lansing—A record kill of bucks—68,316—by Michigan residents who hunted deer with guns last November is reported by the conservation department.

A near-record total of Michigan residents—224,461—bought licenses. The adjusted figure, estimated kill is based on reported sales of li-causes for the 1944 season as of March 1, this year, and on hunters' kill reports.

Thirty and four-tenths per cent of Michigan hunters got their bucks. Only previous season when more hunters were licensed and more deer were killed was 1941 when shooting of does for camp use was permitted. In that season, 224,581 hunters were licensed and a total of 75,682 deer was taken, of which 58,585 were bucks. Last season, 58,417 Michigan hunters killed 25,041 bucks in the upper peninsula, 42.9 per cent of those hunting above the Straits getting their deer. Total of hunters below the Straits was 166,044, bucks killed totaled 43,275, and success percentage was 26.1.

Above the Straits, most bucks (2,442) were taken in Iron county. Marquette county was in second place with 2,352, Ontonagon third with 2,181, Schoolcraft fourth with 1,996, and Chippewa fifth with 1,960. Below the Straits, most bucks (4,000) again were taken in Roscommon county. Ogemaw county was in second place with 3,176, Alcona third with 2,989, Montmorency fourth with 2,780, and Oscoda fifth with 2,766.

TOWN AND FARM IN WARTIME

Civilians At War
The Government needs and asks its citizens in this 175th week of the war to:

1. Put the idle used clothing, shoes and bedding in your closets to work for war victims abroad, by taking them to the collection depot nearest your home.
2. Help relieve today's nursing crisis, if you are an inactive, trained nurse, by returning to your profession on a full or part-time basis.

Proper Use of Farm Income Important Factor in Stable Economy

During World War I and in the period immediately following it, food prices soared to more than double by 1920, and inflated land values were accompanied by a great deal of speculative buying, says the Department of Agriculture and the Office of Economic Stabilization. This momentary farm boom was followed by a collapse. Between 1919 and 1921 the net income of the average farmer shrank from $1,360 to $460. This collapse brought with it a land crash which eventually saw one farmer out of every four lose his farm through foreclosure. Today farm income is at a record high—estimates placing the liquid assets held by farmers at about 12 billion dollars. There are three ways in which the farmer can help to prevent inflation and maintain prosperity for himself and all America: (1) He can avoid speculation in land, which means that he should consider the long-time earning capacity of farm land before he buys at today's inflated prices; (2) He can use his wartime income to build up reserves to replace worn-out machinery, to repair and improve buildings, to safeguard against crop failure and livestock losses, etc.; (3) He can keep his own prices stable. A further rise in farm commodity prices which would inevitably be passed back to the farmer in the form of higher living costs. The farmer's best hope for the future is to put every extra dollar into war bonds.

A few weeks ago in this column I mentioned to you the forthcoming nation-wide brake emphasis program for traffic safety that will be inaugurated by the International Association of Chiefs of Police.

To avert a threatened increase in motor vehicle accidents and to conserve the nation's dwindling supply of cars, the Association has developed this brake emphasis program. It will be sponsored in each state and community by chiefs of police and sheriffs. Each state will have its own organization for conducting the program. The program will begin April 15 and end June 1. This particular time was chosen since it covers a seasonal period when sharp increases in traffic accidents usually occur.

We urge your newspapers and community organizations to cooperate with the police chief, marshal, or sheriff, in making this an outstanding and successful campaign.

A MEMORIAL

When word was received that President Franklin D. Roosevelt died the world was shocked. The nation mourned for a great man who strived for peace and final victory. President Roosevelt was the first President to die during war and the seventh to die while in office. He also was the first President to have a fourth term. This man for twelve years put his soul into making the United States and its possessions free and democratic. Franklin D. Roosevelt is a man that will live in the hearts of Americans.

ASSEMBLY

A short memorial service for Franklin D. Roosevelt was held Monday morning in study hall. Tom Smith acted as chairman and Neil Beach and Jack Winans read the 46th and 121st Psalms. The assembly sang "America" and "America the Beautiful," after which two minutes of silent prayer were observed. The service was closed by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner."

POST-WAR CONSCRIPTION

Recently the Journalism Club made a survey of how the high school boys felt about the question of military conscription after the war. The members thought that other people would like to know just how this survey turned out, so here is a brief summary of the results:

From a total of fifty-seven Freshman and Sophomore boys, twenty-seven were against military conscription and the remaining thirty were in favor of it. Some of the reasons given for the negative were that it would be too costly to carry out such a program; it would not be democratic; it would arouse the suspicion of other countries and lead to another great war; it would disrupt boys' plans for college.

On the affirmative the prominent reasons were that it would make us prepared in case of future sneak attacks on our territory; it would benefit the boys physically and would prepare them for later life by teaching them responsibility, discipline, and a trade; it would give valuable training to boys who ordinarily couldn't afford it; it would relieve the post-war work shortage.

The Journalism Club was very pleased with the success of the poll, and most of the answers showed that the boys had done some very serious thinking. Thank you, boys, for your cooperation and congratulations on your sound reasoning.

MY COUSINS

(By Marilyn Schooley)

"Cry Babies" were they, I've oft heard said, When it was time they go to bed; This was the story when they were small, But they grew up to be staunch and tall. Right home from school they always came To re-construct their toy aeroplane, Then came the day when planes they flew, From "Cub" to "Mustang," each they knew. When Uncle Sam called them they were there— Each ready and willing to do his share. One taught young men to fly in the air, The other flew supplies 'cross the ocean barge. Who are these heroes of whom I tell, Who did their duty and did it well? My cousins brave were Charles and John, Now John is missing and Charles is gone.

Six Ifs To Remember When Picking Wild Flowers
(By Evelyn Woods and Jana Lou Weinberg)

1. If most or all of the wild flowers are picked, there will be no seeds until another flower comes from the root. If they are pulled up by the root, no seeds will come from the plant.
2. If plants are pulled up by the roots and thrown away after a while, there will be no flowers left.
3. If the whole Jack-in-the-pulpit is picked with the flower, the plant can't make any food because it makes its food by its leaves.
4. If fruit dealers continue to decorate their stands and baskets with branches and leaves of laurel bushes, the laurel will slowly disappear because it stores its food in the leaves.
5. If we continue to decorate with evergreen and holly, we must cut them with care.
6. If we see the flowers in the woods, fields, and along the roadsides and are satisfied to let them stay where they are, there will be plenty of wild flowers.

Lack of Oxygen Kills 150 Game Fish Per Acre

Lansing—Lack of oxygen killed 150 legal-size game fish per acre of water in seven lakes in Washtenaw, Jackson and Oakland counties last winter.

The conservation department reports that severe weather of the recent winter was responsible for the heaviest kill of fish in downstate lakes in the last nine years.

A check of lakes has been completed by Louis Krumholz of the department's institute for fisheries research, Ann Arbor.

Counts of dead fish were made in the seven lakes. Not all of the fish were counted that were washed up on beaches, but sample areas representative of various parts of the shoreline were examined in detail and the total number of dead fish in each lake was estimated on the basis of these rather generous samples.

Few fish under four inches in length were counted. Smaller fish do not always come to the top, as has been shown by previous studies conducted by the institute; disintegrating, instead, on the bottoms of lakes. This accounts for the high percentage of legal-size game fish in estimates of populations killed by suffocation when ice and snow stopped oxygen production in lake waters.

The total area of the seven lakes is 912.5 acres. The total number of dead fish in these seven lakes was estimated as 440,331. Of this total, 408,478 were game fish. Of the game fish, 137,079 or 33.6 per cent were legal size.

Entire Nation Mourns Death Of Franklin D. Roosevelt; Vast Tasks Face Truman

FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT
JANUARY 30, 1882—APRIL 12, 1945.

AS THE guns of America's fighting forces sounded ever closer the doom of Nazi Germany and Imperial Japan, Franklin Delano Roosevelt died in Warm Springs, Georgia, where he had been resting for 10 days.

Death resulted from a cerebral hemorrhage at 4:35 p. m. on April 12. Mr. Roosevelt was 63. He had been President for 12 years, one month and nine days. The White House was announced as the site of the funeral, with interment at the family estate at Hyde Park, N. Y.

Less than four months had elapsed since he had taken his historic oath of office for a fourth term. Only a few weeks before he had returned from the Yalta conference where in company with Marshal Stalin of Russia and Prime Minister Churchill of Great Britain he had labored to build an enduring peace.

Fate denied Franklin Roosevelt the chance to enjoy the fruits of victory over the Axis. Yet history seemed destined to enshrine him as one of the immortal American Presidents. And every citizen who mourned the untimely passing of the Commander-in-Chief felt that he was a casualty of the war just as every G. I., Marine and Sailor who had fallen in battle.

Never before had an American President died in wartime. Abraham Lincoln fell under assassin's bullet just five days after the surrender of General Lee's army at Appomattox in 1865. Woodrow Wilson, elected to see victory over Germany in World War I, but he fought a losing battle for the League of Nations and died early in 1924, a defeated leader. Many historians believe Lincoln's greatness might have been dimmed in the conflicts over reconstruction that followed the War Between the States, just as Wilson's prestige was lost in the conflict over the league that followed World War I. Thus Franklin Roosevelt, dying at the height of his career just as victory was to be achieved over Germany, seemed likely to live in history as a great man.

As the American people from Main Street to Riverside Drive mourned the death of Franklin Roosevelt, their prayers went up to his successor, Harry S. Truman. For on the shoulders of this slight, gray, 60-year-old Missourian had been laid a responsibility such as no American President had ever borne.

What the consequences of the President's death would be to the United States and the world, time alone would tell. But as Americans recovered from their first shock at the news, they quickly determined two things. The war must be prosecuted to as speedy and victorious a finish as possible. Lasting peace must be established.

And so, regardless of party or of past political differences, the people have rallied behind Mr. Truman. The new President faces the immediate task of directing American participation in the United Nations' blueprints for a permanent world organization. He likewise faces the responsibility of establishing working relations with other members of the Big Three, so that the personal cooperation which existed between Franklin D. Roosevelt, Josef Stalin and Winston Churchill in leading the Allies toward victory.

PRECEDENTS OUT:

Throughout his career as President, Franklin D. Roosevelt was known as the "precedent breaker." That title was first conferred in 1932 when he flew out to Chicago from Albany, N. Y., to address the Democratic convention that had nominated him. It continued after his election as a result of his informal methods of transacting business. But it reached a climax in his decision to seek a third term in 1940 and a fourth term in 1944.

HARRY S. TRUMAN

may be maintained in helping win the peace. He faces the long-range job of guiding the nation to postwar economic prosperity once Nazi Germany and Japan are finally defeated.

Known as a plain, modest man who has not dramatized himself personally, President Truman nevertheless has demonstrated on many occasions that he can be a leader of force and determination. His work as chairman of the Truman committee in the U. S. senate investigating the conduct of the war is cited as an example of this. And his conduct of the Vice Presidency has shown that he can work successfully with political leaders of both parties in getting needed measures passed and in reconciling opposing points of view.

The 33rd President was born in Lamar, Mo., May 6, 1884, although the home of the family for four generations had been on a farm near Independence, Mo.

Served in World War I. When World War I broke out, Truman became captain of Battery D in the field artillery of the 35th Division and saw action at St. Mihiel and in the Meuse-Argonne offensive.

Back in Independence, Truman and a war buddy opened a haberdashery business. He married his childhood sweetheart, Bess Wallace, and they have one daughter, Mary Margaret.

Truman later turned to politics for a career, which started with his election as County Judge of Jackson county, Mo. In 1920 he became the presiding judge of Jackson county, with the endorsement of Tom Pendergast, political boss of Kansas City. He studied law at night and supervised the construction of a great highway system.

President's Life Was Characterized By Vigorous Action

Unlike the "log-cabin" presidents, Franklin Delano Roosevelt was not born into poverty. When Franklin arrived at Hyde Park, N. Y., on January 30, 1882, he came into a family that had possessed wealth for many generations. The Roosevelts had been thrifty land-owners in the Hudson valley since the first of the family came over from Holland. On his mother's side also there was a substantial fortune. Among his ancestors were many men who had served the state in various capacities.

Young Franklin attended the very fashionable Groton school, where he prepared for Harvard university. After completing the liberal arts course he entered Columbia U. law school, from which he was graduated in 1907. Two years earlier, however, he married his distant cousin, Anna Eleanor Roosevelt. Eleanor was a niece of Theodore Roosevelt, at that time in the White House.

After two years of legal practice, Franklin entered politics, running on the Democratic ticket for the New York state senate. He unexpectedly defeated a strong Republican candidate. From the beginning of his career he identified himself with reform movements, opposing the powerful Tammany organization in the statehouse. He was re-elected in 1912, by which time he had become a leader of the anti-Tammany faction.

Woodrow Wilson appointed Roosevelt assistant secretary of the navy. When World War I broke out Roosevelt proved himself an efficient administrator, handling billions of dollars' worth of contracts for ships and supplies. He served in this post throughout the war.

Ran for Vice President. In 1920 the Democratic national convention chose him as running mate for James Cox. While campaigning for the vice presidency Roosevelt made many acquaintances valuable in later political life. Cox being defeated, F.D.R. returned to legal practice.

The following year the great tragedy of his life struck him—infantile paralysis. The big, strong young man became a bedridden invalid. For months he lay without ambition, almost without hope. Slowly his powerful will took command, however, and by persistence he partially regained the use of his muscles. It was during his convalescence at Warm Springs, Ga., that he determined to do what he could to eradicate the scourge that had almost ruined him. The "March of Dimes" campaign was the result.

At the Democratic conventions of 1924 and 1928, he aligned himself with the group supporting Alfred E. Smith, New York's governor. When Smith was nominated in 1928, Roosevelt ran for governor of his state and was elected. At the end of his two-year term he was again elected, this time by the greatest majority ever given to a New York governor.

As governor he continued the reform and improvement policies of his predecessor Smith. His achievements attracted nationwide attention. As the depression that began late in 1929 deepened, his efforts to control the mounting business failures, unemployment and distress in his state revealed his abilities as a vigorous leader in grave times.

Swept in as President. When the national convention met in Chicago in 1932 Roosevelt was quickly chosen. He was swept into office by a plurality of seven million votes, carrying 42 states. Both houses went Democratic.

Before he could take office a wave of bank failures threatened the whole economic structure. The famous "bank moratorium" order, one of Roosevelt's first official acts, closed all banks until they could be reorganized on a sounder basis, thus preventing disastrous runs. In the spring of 1932 came the repeal of the 18th, or prohibition amendment. Then came the National Industrial Recovery Act, or "NRA," under which extensive emergency powers were granted to the President. A series of public works were authorized to combat unemployment, together with huge appropriations for direct relief.

The numerous executive and legislative acts of this first term were approved in general as necessary in the face of widespread suffering. A phrase from one of the President's speeches, "a new deal," developed into a title for the whole Roosevelt program. In 1936 the convention in Philadelphia nominated Roosevelt by acclamation on the first ballot. He carried 46 states in the elections. This second term majority was so overwhelming that many New Dealers began to call it a "mandate from the people." During this second term a great number of measures were passed to increase the economic security of the individual, particularly the workers, farmers and small businessmen.
