C. S. Ritter Installed As VFW Commander

Chelsea's new Post, No. 4076, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the U. S., was formally instituted Friday evening at a public ceremony in St. Mary's hall. The official roster of the new chapter included an even 50 names, with several last-minute applications being filed. Twenty-eight of these are still in active service. A number of additional applications were made after the close of the meeting.

1ST LT. (RET.) C. S. RITTER

The ritual team from the Wolverine Post No. 171 at Redford, which has officiated at the institutions of several new posts of the V.F.W. in southeastern Michigan in recent weeks, conducted the new members through the beautiful and impressive V.F.W. initiation rite, and the post was officially mustered in by the Department Commander, Maurice F. Cole of Ferndale.

In his brief address, Commander Cole reminded his listeners that after World War I, government and public alike forgot their obligations to the veteran. He called attention to the responsibility of the veterans' organizations to the men who will return from the present war, to insure against a recurrence of the mistakes made after the last war, and a square deal for the disabled, and the dependents of those who fail to return.

Another prominent official visitor was Merle E. Hopper of Lansing, Chief of Staff of the Department of (Continued on page four)

Chelsea Ration Board Needs Volunteer Help

Functions of the local rationing board will be sharply curtailed in the near future unless volunteers offer their services for a few hours each week to help process the applications. Prof. A. E. R. Boak of Ann Arbor, who supervises the work of the Chelsea ration board, submits the following letter in which he outlines the need for such volunteers:

Ann Arbor, Michigan
April 20, 1945

Mr. M. W. McClure,
Editor, Chelsea Standard,
Chelsea, Michigan.

Dear Mr. McClure:

As a member of Washtenaw County Ration Board—3381-1, I feel that I may venture to bring to your attention some problems of rationing administration which should concern the Chelsea community. You probably know that from the time rationing of certain commodities was introduced, the Board has maintained an office in Chelsea in order to spare residents of the Village and surrounding townships the trouble of going to Ann Arbor for information and for aid in filling out the various forms required by the OPA. For this work, quarters have been generously provided by the village authorities. But from the first, the actual operation of the office has only been made possible through the loyal cooperation of a small group of Chelsea residents who have generously, faithfully, and patriotically volunteered their services. It so happens that several of these volunteers, through circumstances beyond their control, are now no longer able to continue in this work. Unless the services rendered by the Chelsea office are to be curtailed seriously, several more volunteers must be found to carry on in the future. Of course, the residents of Chelsea may feel that it is unnecessary to keep the office going as at present, in which case there is nothing more to be said. In (Continued on page five)

The buildings were struck by lightning and almost instantly were one solid mass of flames. Six horses, 8 cattle, 90 sheep, harnesses, hay, grain and all the farm tools were burned. Increase Income

In the four years ending January 1, 1944, the highest increase in farm income occurred in the Great Plains states—North and South Dakota, Nebraska and Kansas.

By GENE ALLEMAN

Inclination of the Michigan state legislature to accept Governor Kelly's recommendation that additional state aid for local governments be financed in part by a substantial hike in the state liquor profits may be regarded as a complimentary recognition of the basic merits of Michigan's liquor monopoly system.

The legislators' action is not being taken in any mood of sentiment.

Eighteen months ago a wave of criticism began to rise against the state set-up. Consumers were complaining of a lack of supplies under the rationing system; druggists were decrying lack of adequate enforcement. Frank McKay, former Republican national committeeman, began a personal crusade to abolish the monopoly system.

Public criticism was growing. One year ago, a two-faced "no man," General L. A. Künz, was hired as business manager. Last December William F. Edmonson, former city manager of Pontiac, was replaced by John P. Aaron, the governor's personal secretary, as chairman of the commission. These moves were frank admissions that Michigan's monopoly plan was on trial. Critics were predicting dire things would happen by time the legislature met at Lansing.

What happened to cause a reverse of public opinion?

Nothing else than the power of information as gathered by Clarence W. Lock, state deputy revenue commissioner and Charles A. Parrish, chief of the liquor commission enforcement division, in a fact-finding survey of six nearby states.

Whether the reversal is permanent or temporary remains to be seen. Michigan travelers who visit New York City and Chicago in wartime years invariably return home with glowing accounts of the abundance of liquor in those cities. But for the most part they say little, if anything, about how much consumers were paying for liquor in those cities.

It was the Lock-Parrish report that emphasized such facts as these: Michigan bottle prices average 67 cents less than Illinois bottle prices and 70 cents less than New York prices. Michigan is a monopoly state whereby government functions as both wholesaler and retailer; Illinois and New York are open states whereby private dealers pocket the profit.

"Even with the wartime 10 per cent increase in liquor prices, as proposed by the state legislature, Michigan bottle prices will average less than those in open states," reports Chairman Aaron.

"Basically, Michigan's system is sound. Our problem is one of control, rather than of revenue. The public must insist upon law enforcement by local governments which receive 85 per cent of the liquor license fee revenue just for that specific purpose. We have nothing to hide under the rug, and we welcome the public's cooperation."

Aaron indicated that the state commission had a responsibility in imposing stiffer penalties on law offenders whose licenses are subject to revocation.

The special survey report, written by Lock, contains a wealth of comparative information about how liquor is handled in the open states of New York, New Jersey, Illinois and Indiana and in the monopoly states of Pennsylvania and Ohio. Listen to Lock as he reports:

"I undertook this survey without bias as to any particular system of control and I returned with two convictions: (1) If the primary motive is to make a larger supply of liquor available to the public more conveniently then the open system is preferable, and (2) If control and regulation is the primary motive then the monopoly system is the more desirable."

"It has been alleged by some critics of the monopoly system that politics plays too important a part. However, in this survey the two states where politics was most obvious and its influence most openly admitted were both open states."

"Enforcement does not necessarily depend upon either system. Stanley Bar of the Allied Liquor Institute, a national organization, in a recent speech discussing the two systems stated as follows: 'Both systems are at a disadvantage because of the high and increasing basic tax structure for legal spirits and both systems are niggardly in their enforcement expenditures.'"

"Either system can be policed satisfactorily; however it has been true in certain areas in open states that individuals of very undesirable background have practically taken over the wholesale liquor business and when this has been true frequently serious repercussions have followed."

"Under present conditions with the existing shortage, which is definitely a very real one and one which will continue to be progressively worse before any material change for the better can be expected, it would seem very dangerous for any state to seriously consider a change either from the monopoly to the open system or from the open to the monopoly plan. It is impossible in a few paragraphs to cover the many aspects of this many sided question. In brief, however, it may be stated that in the open states greater supplies to a minor degree are available at greater convenience to the public in more attractive retail establishments.

"In the monopoly states the citizens enjoy lower prices, greater revenues to the state and greater control over the industry from distiller to consumer."

It is Lock's belief that the legislature should not over-emphasize the importance of revenue. Rather the legislature should "keep in mind that the first necessity is to make it possible for the liquor traffic to be adequately and completely policed so that abuses may not develop with the resultant social evils. Profits should be secondary to this aim."

It is likely that law enforcement will be strengthened in Michigan simultaneously with a continuation of the monopoly system which enjoys more public acceptance than it did six to eighteen months ago.

The reversal of thinking illustrates the power of information. We have discovered we're better off than we thought we were.

Your Victory Garden

Gardening This Week

This calendar is especially prepared by your Civilian Defense Victory Garden Committee to remind you of the things to be done in your Victory Garden each week.

Plants of early cabbage, head lettuce, onions, broccoli and cauliflower can be set out this week. These plants will all stand some frost, but if a hard freeze threatens better be sure that they're covered with plant protectors such as hot caps or row covers.

Planting three or four varieties of early cabbage that vary in the number of days necessary to ripen may extend the maturing period enough so that you'll be able to use all of the heads before they split. For instance, Early Jersey Wakefield matures in 60 days, Golden Acre in 65, Copenhagen Market in 70 and Glory of Enkhuisen in 75.

Sweet Spanish onion plants can now be purchased at most greenhouses. Set them out this week to get the advantage of the cool growing days when onions do best.

Broccoli and cauliflower like cool weather. They do best in the fall, but if planted out early a good spring crop can be obtained.

Seeds of carrots, beets, chard, parsnips and salsify can be sown as soon as the soil is ready. Treat the seeds with Semesan, Aresan or Spergon to reduce the damping off or seedling rot. These materials can be purchased in small packets. Merely place the amount that will stick on a flat toothpick in a package of small seed, shake thoroughly and sow the seed.

Waterloo

Rev. and Mrs. Schade were called to Six Lakes last week by the serious illness of his mother, Mrs. Casselman. We are sorry to report the Schades leaving us soon, to take up work with the Church of the Nazarene at Lansing.

Mrs. Louise Marquardt returned to her home at New Baltimore after two weeks spent with her daughter, Mrs. W. Vicary and family.

Dr. H. E. Fott of Detroit spent Saturday at the Vicary home.

Mrs. Annabelle Woolley has rented her home to Mr. and Mrs. D. L. An-nison. Mr. Annison is fire marshal with the conservation department.

Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Beaman spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kellogg at Marine City.

The first meeting of the Waterloo Victory 4-H Club will meet at the home of Miss Amelia Hess on Apr. 27.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Schafer and daughters, Mildred and Bernice, will Sauer and Theodore Koels of Jackson spent Sunday with Mrs. Theresa Koels.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Marsh and family and Mr. and Mrs. Francis Marsh and family of Jackson spent Sunday afternoon with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Marsh. Mrs. Leon Marsh and son of Chelsea also spent Saturday afternoon and Sunday with them.

Shallow Cultivation

Cultivation should be shallow to kill the weeds when they are small. This is best done with a scuffle hoe, or wheel hoe with scuffle attachments, which work the top layer of soil, getting the little weeds and not injuring the roots of the crop plants. This saves much hand weeding along the rows, because the little fellows are killed by slight covering with soil.

Small Cornes

The cornes of the human eye is relatively small, with a curved area of only about one-sixth of a circle. The cornes of a cat's eye, for example, has a curved area two-thirds greater than a man's cornes. For this reason a cat can see farther to the side than can a man.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Judge, remember that place up in the mountains where we went trout fishing last year?"
"I sure do, George. We had a great time up there, didn't we?"
"I'll never forget it. But this will interest you, Judge. I heard just yesterday that the revenue men raided a big still right near there. Guess that's where all that high-priced moonshine we heard about has been coming from."

"Sounds sort of reminiscent, doesn't it, Judge?"
"Exactly and it's not hard to figure out. As soon as the distillers stopped making whiskey and devoted their entire facilities to the production of industrial alcohol for the Government... the racketeers muscled in again."
"I hate to think of how that might have spread, Judge, if the Government hadn't found it possible, without interfering with our war effort in any way, to permit a short resumption of legal whiskey production recently."

The
ARE MERE INFANTS
BY COMPARISON

"As old as the pyramids" is a common phrase to express antiquity. The most ancient pyramid is at Saggara, tomb of Zoser, built about 3000 B. C.

Yet the pyramids, compared with the Natural Gas you used today to cook your meals, are mere infants. Because Nature as far back as 100 million years began her preparations deep within the earth to produce the invisible fuel you are using today.

No servant in the home, however, is more modern or up-to-date in its convenience. Natural Gas and modern gas appliances add to the comfort and convenience of living. They heat your home automatically, keep you supplied with instant hot water, cook your meals and operate your silent gas refrigerator with "the magic flame that freezes."

With Our Men In Service

The following letter was written by M. Sgt. Richard G. Lyons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lyons, who is serving with the American Air Forces in India, to his aunt, Mrs. Pauline Etienne, of Jackson, who is the mother of Sgt. James F. Etienne, who was killed in action in France Feb. 9, 1945.

Dear Aunt Pauline and all:
Mom wrote and told me about Jimmy. I can't tell you how sad I felt about it and I know that it must be hard for all of you to bear.

To Jimmy, fighting couldn't have come easy—he wasn't the kind who could learn to hate. His nature must have made him abhor the task that he was called upon to do. But the land in which Jimmy was born had long ago set forth the Christian principles, that all men are created equal—they are endowed by their creator with certain inalienable rights—that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

In giving his life, Jimmy helped to guarantee these things to millions of his fellow-men, and on a higher plane, he guaranteed them for himself. Life—not the life of this world but everlasting life in Heaven. Liberty—yes, Jimmy has won his freedom, freedom from the mud, the sweat, the noise of battle. And happiness—he has gained the supreme happiness of being with Jesus and His blessed Mother—the happiness which we all hope for in eternity.

God, too, has an Army—an Army whose qualifications are far above the scope of any earthly forces. Jimmy had the qualities necessary to enter into those heavenly legions.

Perhaps it's easier to think that Jimmy hasn't really gone—he's just been transferred into the Lord's Army.

Love, Dick.

An Eighth Air Force Bomber Base, England—Sergeant John B. Meehan, 26, of Chelsea, Mich., tail gunner on an Eighth Air Force B-17 Flying Fortress, has been awarded the Air Medal.

The award was for "meritorious achievement" during bombing attacks by Lieut. Colonel Chester C. Cox' 388th Bomber Group against Nazi war industries and military targets in cooperation with Allied ground forces.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Meehan of 107 East 20th St., Pittsburg, Kansas, and his wife is Mrs. Ruth E. Meehan of Chelsea, Mich.

Among the volunteers who recently carried out a dangerous rescue mission to within 25 yards of a German-held village to rescue a wounded American was Pfc. Erwin A. McHenry.

An infantry platoon had raided the Alsatian town, encountering thick mine fields. When Americans pulled back, they believed there were no wounded left behind. However, early next morning outposts reported a man moving in the field. Pfc. McHenry, with one other man volunteered to lead a group of medics thru the mine field to the wounded man. After crossing a stream and wading thru mud they eventually reached the man and returned safely.

Pfc. McHenry, a former Sylvan township resident, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ray McHenry of Jackson. He was graduated from Chelsea high school with the class of 1938.

A brother, John Ray, Jr. is with the Navy and is somewhere in the Pacific.

Pfc. Clifford Fauser, formerly of Chelsea, who is serving with the 91st division of the Fifth Army in Italy, recently helped foil an attempt of a German raiding party to blow up a building on the Italian front, occupied by Americans.

The doughboys had reinforced the building with several layers of sandbags and two demolition charges hurled by the Germans left the Americans unhurt.

Pfc. Fauser has been in the Army since September 1943, and has been awarded the Purple Heart, Bronze Star Medal and the combat infantryman badge. He is the son of the late George and Lula Fauser.

New Orleans, La.—Stanley Anthony Policht, USNR, of Chelsea, Mich. has been advanced in rating to boatswain's mate second class, it has been announced by the US Naval Armed Guard Center here.

During his 19 months at sea as a member of a Navy gun crew protecting vital war materials aboard merchant ships, he has visited ports in Africa, Italy, England, India and South America.

Before his enlistment in the Navy in February, 1943, Policht was employed as a drill press operator by the Central Fibre Products Co., in Chelsea.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Policht of Chelsea.

Mrs. W. D. Pearson submits the following excerpts from letters received from her husband, Cpl. Willard D. Pearson, who is on Okinawa with the 96th division:

I hope you haven't worried too much about not hearing from me these past weeks. I have been traveling for some time and couldn't write. I am O.K. and feeling great. I hope things are as well with you as when I last heard. We have air fields here now so I should be hearing again soon. As you can tell by the heading we are getting closer to Japan right along. This is a much larger operation than the invasion of Leyte. As before, I saw many interesting things such as naval bombing and shelling. They really poured it on for the first few days. From where I was on the ship I could see probably 15 miles of beach and by the end of the second day it was ashore from one end to the other.

Yesterday morning our ship shot down a Jap suicide Zero who was attempting to bomb and strafe. After he was knocked out he made an effort to dive into the ship next to us but failed to make it. I don't know how many were shot down but it must have been a great number as we had hundreds of planes in the air continuously for two or three days. Wrecked Jap planes line the white beach.

The buildings here are fairly substantial, much different from those in the Philippines. They are mostly of wood and stone although some have thatched roofs. All are patterned after the style peculiar to the Japanese. They have a neat appearance from the outside but from the inside they aren't much better than the shacks on Leyte.

The natives here are of a low caste. They are a mixture of Japanese, Chinese, Korean and Malay. They are not so hostile to us because they haven't been so well treated by the Japs. However we take no chances. They have been pumped with so much Jap propaganda that they took all precautions to avoid capture at first. However they are coming in by the hundreds now to surrender. They are then released and sent back to work their farms.

Water has been pretty scarce but we are finding more right along and today I am going to heat some for bathing and shaving and laundry. We didn't have to eat C rations this time. We have 10 in one ration. They contain bacon, green beans, roast beef, corn, etc., which we can heat over small stones which are furnished. We get lots of fresh vegetables too. The gardens are just ready to harvest and since the natives have gone and left them we are caring for them. There is plenty of cabbage, sweet potatoes, carrots, onions and garlic. Most all the land around here is in gardens. Back home it would be just hills but these people have terraced it and make good use of it. Most of them are about half the size of our lots there and very irregular in shape. Two acres is considered a large farm here. Wheat and beans are raised but I have not yet seen any corn or Irish potatoes.

There are no cemeteries here. The hills are full of vaults carved in solid rock. Some of them are large enough to hold two or three hundred people. They are buried in these in a sitting position for two or three years and then the bodies are taken out, the bones are purified in alcohol. This is done in the homes. The bones are then placed in earthenware urns and placed on shelves. Some of the urns are very ornate. Some of them have been shattered, leaving the bones lying around. I have not yet seen any skulls so I am wondering what they do with them. This practice of saving bones is an odd one, but since ancestor worship is their religion, it seems the proper thing to do.

I've seen lots of beautiful chinaware and red lacquer ware. I'm going to get some and send to you as soon as I can. I've seen many other things which I know you'd like as souvenirs.

It rained all day yesterday and I began to think that we were in for a siege of Philippine weather. But if anyone can take it, we can. We've worked in it all the way from Oregon to Japan. But it only lasted one day. Today has been beautiful. This is the first place I've seen that I thought I'd like to visit in peacetime. It's real hilly like Southern Illinois and nicely wooded. There are many evergreen trees around. The climate is like late October back home. I'm afraid I'll lose my sun tan as I have to wear a shirt to keep warm. The nights are cool. It gets down to around 60 degrees or less in temperature.

As for my own personal experiences the most outstanding one was while leaving the ship for the beach. The island is surrounded by a coral reef extending about three or four hundred yards from the beach. The landing boats could come only to these, leaving the men and vehicles to come in through supposedly shallow water. I came in with a wrecker, the last vehicle to leave the ship. It was very dark when we hit the reef. The landing boat stopped and the crew dropped the ramp and told us to take off in the wrecker. We did, into about eight feet of water. We happened to hit a hole instead of the shallow water we expected. Believe me, we did some scrambling. We got our field packs and equipment from the cab and hung it on the boom, which was still above water; about that time the wrecker turned over and everything I had floated away except my bed roll. We finally made it to an amphibious tractor and clung to its side in about 16 feet of water, to the beach. I spent a very wet and uncomfortable night on the beach but the sun soon dried me out next day.

"Boy,
how we miss
a telephone!"

"We've just moved into a new home, and have no telephone. We asked for one, but they say it may take a long time to fill our order."

"Of course, we know why we can't have one. The boys overseas need nearly every bit of telephone equipment that can be made, and they're mighty welcome to ours."

We in Michigan Bell can add that we're installing some telephones every day as present users give them up. These are few, indeed. But telephones alone wouldn't solve this problem. To give everyone service who wants it would mean erecting more buildings, making more switchboards, stringing more wire, and so on. And that's impossible now.

As soon as war permits, we plan to launch an expansion program costing $120,000,000 in the first five years, so we can fill waiting and new orders... extend rural service... and adopt wartime improvements developed by Bell Laboratories. But even with that big program, it may take two years or longer before service can be installed generally without delay.

We appreciate the patience of the 100,000 Michigan families that are waiting for telephones.

my opinion, however, a good many people benefit from it, and I cannot believe that public spirit is so lacking in Chelsea that no volunteers will offer themselves for this public service.

There is also another aspect of the rationing program which may well be mentioned in this connection, namely the question of price checking. In other communities this is done by local volunteers who have a sympathetic interest in the problems of their fellow citizens. In Chelsea, however, it has so far been impossible to find anyone willing to undertake this work, which after all is not very difficult or time-consuming. So far from this being a form of snooping into other people's business, it is simply a way of saving one's fellow townsmen from getting into trouble through overlooking or misunderstanding OPA regulations. Elsewhere, merchants prefer to have the checking done by people whom they know. Why should it not be so in Chelsea, and why is no one there willing to volunteer to serve as a checker, if the merchants do not object?

Do you think that an appeal through your paper would cause some patriotic citizens to volunteer for one or the other of these services?

Sincerely yours,
A. E. R. Boak.

HI-Y ANNUAL PARTY
On Friday evening, April 20 the Hi-Y Club put on a dance in the high school gym. There was more laughter and gaiety at this dance than at many a party. The gym was decorated with a low false ceiling, making it very cozy for dancing. There was an excellent band to furnish the music. They also had a beautiful songstress, who sang the lyrics for the evening. Most of the boys brought girls to this dance instead of forming the stag line somewhere in the corner of the gym.

The care in planning the decorations and the entertainment was rewarded by the added enjoyment of the guests and also by their more-than-usually decorous behavior. Everyone so enjoyed themselves that they are making the Hi-Y dance an annual dance.

A SENIOR'S VIEW
A boy or girl graduating from high school usually faces the world and its problems for the first time alone. He is like an unpolished ship on the high seas.

Up to this time, whether or not he was conscious of the fact, his parents were the major factors in his every decision.

Now comes service in the armed forces for the boys and some of the girls; college or jobs for the majority. In these new lives they must have to judge character and in making friends use this judgment. To be a successful person in life he will need to handle money carefully and grow to be totally dependent on himself.

Wait—the gloomy and difficult side of life is not the only side present after high school. With the meeting of people and the making of friends, interests develop and life takes on a more realistic meaning.

However, this period of adjustment is complicated and frightening. Home and Dad and Mom would seem a haven of refuge.

ATHLETIC BOARD

It was decided that the cheerleaders' sweaters would be cleaned and put away for the year. They passed several bills and agreed to charge ten and fifteen cents admission for baseball games. Loren Munro was appointed to see that there were ticket-takers for the Chelsea-Pinckney game.

A program in study hall: A violin selection, a solo, a monologue, and other selections were given.

On Friday morning, a movie on Victory Gardening was shown in the gym. After the movie, Dr. Rose of Michigan State College gave a talk. He brought pamphlets with him on gardening.

BASEBALL

"Lard and Giggly"
Pinckney 5—Chelsea 0

Chelsea opened the baseball season April 18 by playing seven innings with our friends from Pinckney. The day was rather cold and very windy.

Chelsea started with Slane pitching, Gaken catching, Daniels first base, Weir second base, Munro shortstop, Knickerbocker third base, Miller left field, Carragher center field, and Smith right field.

Slane pitched the first four innings, allowing 4 runs, 6 hits and struck out 5. At the top of the fifth, Chelsea changed Carragher to pitching and Slane to center field. Carragher allowed 1 run, 2 hits, and struck out 7. Slane got the only hit of this game for Chelsea.

Ann Arbor High 7—Chelsea 0
Chelsea's varsity nine traveled to Ann Arbor to take on the Pioneers at West Park Friday afternoon.

Cocher Cameron started the same lineup except Vogel in right field and Carragher pitching. Ann Arbor scored one run in the first on a walk, a stolen base, and a fly out. No more scoring was done until the fourth inning when Ann Arbor scored another run without a hit. At the end of the fourth inning Ann Arbor had two runs and no hits. The Pioneers had a big inning in the fifth, scoring 4 runs on 2 hits. They scored one more in the sixth on a double, a stolen base and came home on a fly ball to left field.

Slane again got the only hit for Chelsea when he batted out a single in the first inning. Chelsea batters whiffed 18 times and Carragher sent 11 Pioneers down on strikes. Final score was Chelsea 0 runs, 1 hit and 7 errors; Ann Arbor 7 runs, 3 hits, no errors.

Chelsea played Dexter yesterday and will play at Milan tomorrow.

CLASS NEWS

The Juniors are still waiting (and not so patiently) for their rings. Committees have been appointed for planning the Junior-Senior Reception. The Sophomores decided to have

Fourth Grade
We have a poster showing a soldier without any equipment. We are buying stamps each week to buy this equipment. Our $29.90 for this week will buy his rifle.
Our room has brought many bundles of clothing for war victims.
Several of us had the Schick test at the clinic Thursday.
Eleanor Schmidt brought a beautiful luna moth for us to see.
Our lessons in geography are about Eric and Inger in Norway.
We are glad Miss Brown is back in school.

Sixth Grade

(Mary Joan Pope)
We saw three movies on April 16. One was on posture and the other two were on Hawaii. They told about the people, their work, the land, their food, their clothing, and sports.

Our teacher has divided our reading classes into from two to five daily classes. The advanced group is divided into three classes. In Arithmetic we are learning percentages.

The girls were playing the boys Friday morning and afternoon. The boys are electing a new baseball captain, David Crocker.

Seventh Grade

(Virginia Chriswell)
The hayride planned at Jim Clark's farm was postponed until April 27 because of wet weather.

Stamp sale was carried on by 24 per cent of our enrollment and totaled $11.80.

Tests have been given all week, in preparation for card-marking.

Eighth Grade

(John Copren)
For nearly two weeks now we have been preparing for a visit from rural eighth-graders in the vicinity of Chelsea. So far we have received word from twelve of the schools that they will attend on May 4. The schools were Collins Plains, St. Mary's, Freer school, Pumpkin College school, Lima Center, McLaren, Jerusalem, Sylvan No. 7, Jewett Stone, North Lake, Spiegelberg, and Rogers Corners. The purpose of this program will be to acquaint the eighth grade pupils of this vicinity with Chelsea high school. A part of the day will be spent in school where there will be a tour of classes and a short program in the gym. Then we will go to the athletic field where everyone will take part in various activities.

Last Thursday morning the following children of the eighth grade had vaccinations for smallpox or immunization tests for diphtheria: Helen Jarvie, Robert Taylor, Audrey Taylor, Ellen Jane Geddes, and Joanne O'Dell.

We are planning to have individual pictures taken of pupils from the kindergarten through the eighth grade soon.

Four Billions In E Bonds Goal In 7th War Loan

WASHINGTON, D. C.—"In the seventh war loan your government is asking for the largest sum in the history of individuals in the history of America. Of the $7,000,000,000 individual goal, $4,000,000,000 is to be in E-Bonds, the remainder in U.S. Savings Bonds. The Treasury Department is announcing the advance payroll savings drive. The Secretary further stated: "To meet this unprecedented but really necessary E-Bond quota, the American worker, through the payroll savings plan, is being called upon for increased allegiance and a cash war bond purchase to a greater extent than in any previous drive."

"War is the greatest and most grimmest and greatest of human endurance tests. The side that wins in the final analysis is the side that is working and fighting at the end—the side with the stamina and the spirit to endure the long and terrible struggle."

"The present war imposes its test no less upon civilians than upon the men in the armed services. Victory goes inevitably to the side whose men and women, in and out of uniform, stick longest and most unflinchingly to the performance of their jobs. There has been a fundamental change in the nature of the war. The objective is total victory. The nearer we drive toward the enemy's heart, the costlier the war becomes. We begin to go all out against Japanese, so will our coats increase due to greater distances. I know that Americans need no appeal to meet the demands of the seventh war loan. The way for each of us here at home to meet these demands is through increased war bond purchases. Increased devotion to his duty and his job and through a vivid knowledge that to win we must sacrifice. Our response to the seventh war loan will be the vindication of these men of their faith in us."

PIN CHATTER

(April 18-20)
By Rena Johnson

With the bowling season almost over, seems as if some of us are really bowling our very best now. Foster's team bowled high series Wednesday night: Honeck 501, Eisenman 508, Harris 525, Jarvis 402, Johnson 585, for a team total of 2537. They were all very happy, including yours truly, who needed 4 pins for her first 600-series.

P. Wedemeyer has really been doing some mighty fine bowling lately. She had a 535 series. Her last game was 213. Swell!

M. Breitenwischer had some mighty fine games also; she had a 519 series. P. Alexander helped her average boost up this week by a 505 series. The Gophers had tough luck by losing their last game by one pin. Central Fibre lost their second game by three pins.

H. Hornung picked up the 5-8-10 Friday night, very nicely. A. McClear had some tough luck when she ran into six splits. Too bad, Nita.

We had two real good series rolled Friday night. R. Honeck was high with 526 and M. Jarvis had 516. P. Wedemeyer had 477, V. Lucht had 460. R. Jaskot had 465, M. Birch had 460.

These last two nights of bowling should prove very interesting, especially, with three teams tied for fourth place, and three tied for seventh. Let's really have some fun.

A certain young lady really took a head over heels spill, and she resolved to wear different bowling attire next year. You know, it might be a good idea.

N. Eisenman has raised her average 12 pins, J. May 10 pins, and R. Lienhart 10 pins. Any one of these girls can still win the prize money for girl raising average most.

Use Green Ones

If some of your immature green tomatoes are caught by early frost you can make use of them by stewing, frying, broiling, scalloping or baking them. They require about 10 to 15 minutes longer cooking than ripe tomatoes, and they have better flavor if about one tablespoon of sugar is added for six medium-sized stewed or scalloped tomatoes. If you stew them, add onions and celery. If you bake them, stuff them with a bread dressing. You can combine them with meat or fish. Use your green frost-caught tomatoes generously for a new-tasting flavor.

Ascorbic Acid

As with spinach, the amount of ascorbic acid lost in cooking depends a great deal upon the amount of water used. To retain the maximum amount of vitamins, the cabbage should be cooked in a small amount of water until just tender.

Fried Apples and Carrots
Sometime try frying apples and carrots together. Use equal amounts of each. Slice the apples about 1/4 inch thick, cut the carrots in lengthwise slices and spread over the bottom of the frying pan in a small amount of fat. Cover and cook slowly until nearly tender. You'll need to stir often to prevent scorching. A little before the carrots and apples are done, sprinkle on a tablespoon of sugar and a little salt and let brown.

DO YOU REALIZE—
That the average age of motor vehicles in the U. S. before the war was 4 1/2 years?

That many of these cars are still on the highways in spite of the number that have gone out of service?

That vehicles lost to service through traffic accidents or carelessness cannot be replaced during these war times?

That highways have deteriorated due to the lack of repair materials and the lack of manpower?

That serious personnel shortages exist in our traffic and public safety departments?

That recognizing these wartime conditions, the International Association of Chiefs of Police started their National Brake Safety campaign recently?

That properly adjusted brakes and safe driving habits can reduce the toll of lives and the damage to property—two essentials in the continuance of our Home Front fight for freedom?
