Proudly It Waves on Flag Day

Rising over the once-conquered islands of the Pacific, Old Glory, on June 14, salutes its people with more courage, faith and promise than since the dark days of Pearl Harbor. Flag Day, June 14, will be more honored in battle, upon the seas and on islands and territory than ever before.

Announcing the restoring of liberty, Old Glory waves in the breeze over two Iima, Luzon, as well as other Pacific islands and foreign European soil. In this war as in all others, the flag, representing freedom, has never given way to defeat.

Auto Collision Is Fatal

To Mrs. John Sullivan

An automobile accident at 6:45 Friday morning at Joslin Lake and N. Territorial Rds., six miles north of Chelsea, resulted in the death of Mrs. John Sullivan of Lyndon township, shortly after 10 o'clock at St. Joseph's Mercy hospital, Ann Arbor. Sheriff's deputies, who investigated the accident, reported that Mrs. Sullivan, en route to Chelsea, where she was employed, was driving south-east on Joslin Lake Rd. and as she turned onto North Territorial Rd. her car was struck by a Wayne County Creamery Co. truck headed west and driven by Emmett H. King of Detroit. Evidently neither driver saw the other until too late to avoid the accident, and there is no stop sign at the intersection.

Mrs. Sullivan was thrown to the pavement by the impact and never regained consciousness. The truck swerved across the road, stopping in a field beyond the highway. Formerly Cecelia L. Kolb, Mrs. Sullivan was born in Chelsea on May 28, 1895, the daughter of Catherine (Barthel) Kolb and the late Joseph Kolb. She married Mr. Sullivan on October 19, 1920 and they have since made their home on the farm in Lyndon township. She was a member of St. Mary's church.

Survivors include her husband; her mother; two daughters, Mrs. Charles Murphy of Kalamazoo and Miss Virginia Sullivan of Detroit; a son, Charles Sullivan, at home; a sister, Mrs. George Steele of Sylvan township; and two brothers, William G. Kolb of Chelsea and Rev. Francis P. Kolb of Detroit.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Monday forenoon at St. Mary's church. Rev. Lee Laige officiated and burial was in Mt. Olivet cemetery.

Leo Maloney Escapes From Jackson Prison

Two inmates of State Prison of Southern Michigan, Jackson—Charles Langdon, 37, sentenced from Kalamazoo in 1938 to life for murder, and Leo Maloney, 31, alias James Stark, sentenced from Chelsea in 1942 to 40 to 50 years for assault—escaped Monday by hiding in boxes for shell cases, which were loaded on a truck bound for Grand Rapids.

The escape was discovered when Bernard DeHand, driver of the truck, found on arriving in Grand Rapids that a large hole had been cut in the rear door of his truck. The only long stop he had made en route was in Leslie, where he went into a restaurant for breakfast. Investigating police at Grand Rapids disclosed that the boxes in which the men hid had false bottoms, which must have been nailed over the prisoners by other men, the officers said. Tools, including three hammers, five punches, a crowbar and two tin snips, taken by the prisoners to cut their way out, also were discovered. Prison officials were notified immediately.

Maloney and Langdon were captured Wednesday morning at Lake Odessa by state police from Rockford as they were waiting to board a bus for Battle Creek.

Summer Recreation

Dances Start June 16

The summer recreation dances will start on Saturday, June 16 at 8:30 at the public school auditorium. This will be the only dance held on Saturday, as all the other dances are to be held every Friday at 8:30, beginning June 22. Refreshments will be sold at every dance.

It is expected that Nick Jake and his orchestra of fourteen will be here on July 6. This orchestra has played in Chelsea several times and is well liked by everyone who has heard them. If this dance is profitable they will be back at a later date.

Proceeds from the dances will be turned over to the Athletic Board to buy new football and basketball equipment for the coming year. If you like to dance the sponsors of this project invite you to come to the public school and dance every Friday night.

Hammonds Celebrate Golden Anniversary

A reception was given for Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Hammond at their home, East Middle St., on Sunday afternoon, June 10, the occasion being the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage. Many friends and relatives called to congratulate them and leave their best wishes for the future, and many useful gifts.

Dainty refreshments were served around the dining table, the center of which held a beautiful arrangement of golden lilies on a round mirror and on either side stood tall golden candlesticks and lighted candles. Mrs. A. L. Steger, Mrs. F. Brossamle and Mrs. Geo. P. Staffan of the W.S.C.S. of the Methodist church, presided at the table and poured.

Previous to her long residence in Chelsea, Mrs. Hammond lived in Parma and Jackson, and Mr. Hammond has spent his entire life here. They were married in Jackson on June 11, 1895 and have resided since that time in the same location where they now live.

The couple have been active in the various organizations, and members of the Methodist church for more than forty years.

Helen Naomi Miller, daughter of Mrs. Chester Miller, who is enrolled in the University's School of Education, was among those honored by the Tenth Annual Convocation, which was held Tuesday afternoon in the auditorium of University high school. The Convocation honored the candidates for the teacher's certificate.

ATTENDS BOYS' STATE

Eldean Elsiele has been chosen by the American Legion as a delegate representing the local Post to attend the Wolverine Boys' State held at East Lansing for one week beginning Thursday, June 14.

Electors Will Vote On Sinking Fund Proposal

The annual meeting for the Chelsea public schools and for rural schools is to be held on Monday, July 9, this year. In addition to the routine business, one of the items which will be decided at the meeting of the Chelsea public school is whether or not the electors want to establish a sinking fund for the purpose of the purchase and improvement of building sites and erecting and equipping school buildings. A sinking fund is a plan for raising in advance a part or all of the funds for capital improvements.

For some time parents and members of the Board of Education have been concerned about the condition of the basement in the elementary school. Lack of proper light, ventilation, heat and head room and the flooding of the basement during rainstorms are some of the problems. The Board has considered the problem at length and has sought the advice of competent advisers in finding a solution. A competent architect, the head of the School Plant Division of the Department of Public Instruction and the sanitary engineer of the County Health Department, have inspected the building on separate occasions and each man advised the Board against investing any large amount of money for the improvement of the basement, which would be necessary to overcome present conditions. Each man expressed the opinion that the community should consider a plan for a more modern structure as soon as conditions are more favorable.

Faced with this problem the Board of Education believes the community should be informed about the situation and that the electors be given an opportunity to decide whether or not they wish to establish a sinking fund of three mills per year, earmarked for the purpose stated above.

NOTICE
Monday, July 9, 1945
High School Auditorium
8:00 P. M.

The electors of School District No. 3 Fr., Sylvan and Lima Townships, will be asked to vote on the following two proposals:

Proposal One

(Two-thirds majority of those present and voting is required. All electors may vote, whether taxpayers or not).

Proposal Two
Shall the School District No. 3 Fr., Townships of Sylvan and Lima, County of Washtenaw, State of Michigan, levy three (3) mills to create a sinking fund, for the purpose of the purchase and improvement of building sites, and erecting and equipping school buildings, for a period of five years from 1945 to 1949, both inclusive?

(Simple majority of those present and voting required. Only taxpayers vote).

Board of Education,
Chelsea Public Schools.

Good Entertainment - - But Bond Sales a Flop!

By 8:30 o'clock Saturday evening a large crowd had assembled on Main St., between Middle and Park St., in anticipation of an evening of very fine entertainment, to be presented by artists from the Ford Motor Co. This entertainment was under the direction of Haze Bennett and featured the Mercury Rangers and Rube Band, in addition to vocal soloists and a tap-dancer. From the viewpoint of the entertainment the evening was a success and the crowd was most appreciative.

However, the best efforts of Irving Kalmbach, auctioneer, in addition to the very fine prizes donated by local merchants and farmers, brought but weak and spasmodic response on the part of the bidders. About $10,000 net was the total amount realized from the auction.

George Doe, chairman, and others on the committee wish to thank those who so generously donated prizes, and all individuals working either on committees or who otherwise helped to promote this project. Chelsea's quota of "G" bonds in this Mighty 7th War Bond drive is $120,000. Up to and including June 9 the total "G" bond sales amounted to $72,524.00, which does not include the proceeds from the Saturday evening auction. By doing a little mental arithmetic it can be readily seen that the people of Chelsea and community will have to put forth much more of an effort if previous records in these drives are to be maintained.

WILL ACT AS OPA CHECKERS

Mrs. M. L. Richards and Mrs. E. W. Eaton have consented to act as checkers for the OPA for Chelsea and Dexter. The bond check will be on the spot situation in an endeavor to do away with black markets.

Natural Gas is one of the most useful servants in the home. Because of its unfailing dependability and efficiency, we are in the habit of taking this silent and invisible servant for granted. It heats our homes, cooks our meals, supplies us with instant hot water, and operates the gas refrigerator with the "flame that freezes."

The Gas Industry is constantly studying new ways and means to utilize Natural Gas for more automatic services in the home. After the war, these new and improved gas appliances will be developed and made available.

With Our Men In Service

Mr. Vincent Hafner, who is stationed in Germany, recently sent the following letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hafner:

Germany, May 22, 1945.
Dear Mom, Dad and All,

The censorship regulations have been lifted considerably so I'll try to tell you a few things about my army career.

It was along about the 28th of April, 1943 when I left Hammer Field, Fresno, Calif. and arrived at Camp Shanks, N. Y. on May 2. We were on the move there day and night, drawing new clothing and equipment and drinking all of the beer that we were able to get. As darkness drew near on the night of May 9 (Mother's Day) we lined up and marched to the rail station. It was just a short ride to the pier. We answered roll call about four different times and were served doughnuts and coffee by the American Red Cross before getting on the boat. I had never seen a big ship like that and was really amazed. Later I found out that it was the "Aquatania." It is a British ship and rates third largest. I really enjoyed the trip except for the chow, which was really rotten. I didn't even get seasick although a lot of the boys were about to die.

We landed in a harbor near Glasgow, Scotland on the night of May 19 and got off the next afternoon. It was about four o'clock when we got on a little train and headed for our destination which was Stansted, England. We arrived there about nine o'clock the next morning. A couple of days later we were all settled and began working. It wasn't long before the place was getting shaped up and before we left we had built one of the largest and best bomber bases in the United Kingdom. It was really a pleasure to see those B-26's take off loaded with bombs and come back empty. We felt then as though we had done a little bit to help bring this war to an end.

Along about the first of April, 1944 we loaded up all of our equipment and moved near Whitney, a small town about twelve miles out of Oxford. We didn't do much there except repair our equipment and get it up in shape.

We were taught how to waterproof our vehicles and had the opportunity to go to South Hampton and load our equipment on an L.C.T. just for a little run. We sat out in the channel for two days, then drove off into about four feet of water. We then de-waterproofed and conveyed back to our camp. A couple of weeks later we were alerted and again began waterproofing. We figured then that D-Day wasn't far off. The next morning we heard the news—the invasion had begun. A few days later we were moved out and ended up in a marshalling area just outside of South Hampton. We stayed there but a few days, then moved down by the docks. We had to wait for three days for the L.C.T.'s to come in.

Well, anyway we landed on Omaha Beach. We conveyed to Chef Du Pont (near St. Mira Eglice) where we set up for a few days to wait for the fall of Cherbourg, which was to be our next move. We built two fields there, then began to travel across France at a fairly rapid pace, stopping off at Vannes, Alencon, Vitre La Francs and up to Nancy. It was there that we spent most of the winter doing a job that looked almost impossible. It turned out to be one of the best fields on the continent despite all of the rain and mud that we worked through.

Along about the first of April we moved up and crossed the Rhine. Since being in Germany, some of the largest cities that I have seen are Worms, Darmstadt, Frankfurt and on up to Nuremberg. Right now I am at Herzogenawrach, about 15 miles out of Nuremberg.

I am still in pretty good health and getting along about as well as can be expected, so don't worry about me.

I can't think of anything else to write about right now so I'll sign off hoping that this finds you all well and happy.

Love always,
Vince.

A Ninth Air Force Bomber Base, France—Staff Sergeant Roy W. Jones, 37-year old armored gunner, a former Chelsea, Michigan resident, recently had an extraordinary experience—the B-26 Marauder in which he was flying was shot at by Germans, while attempting to land at an airfield many miles behind the Allied front lines in Germany.

His wife, Mrs. Helen Jones, and two children, Michael and Sheryl Kay, reside at Danville, Ill., and his mother, Mrs. Charles Carty, and grandmother, Mrs. Carrie Cushman, live at 617 Taylor St., Chelsea.

S-SGT. ROY W. JONES

His sister, Mrs. K. M. Caldwell, lives in Mt. Pleasant.

Sgt. Jones was flying in combat with the 397th Bombardment Group, then Ninth Air Force B-26 Marauder group famed as the "Bridge Busters," commanded by Col. Richard T. Coiner, Jr.

The "Bridge Busters" mission, on an early April day, was a railroad yard in the town of Jana, 20 miles east of Erfurt, Germany.

Sgt. Jones was flying in the Marauder named "Hell Buster Henry." The mission was a very deep penetration of Germany, two runs had to be made on the target before bombs could be dropped, and "Hell Buster Henry" was having gasoline trouble. Owing to these factors, "Hell Buster Henry" dropped out of formation immediately after bombs were dropped and headed for home alone, losing altitude. The plane's gasoline supply became so low that it was clear that a landing would have to be made soon. Visibility was very poor.

At an altitude of only 1000 feet, and with three-quarters of an hour of gasoline left, the pilot saw what looked like a fine airfield to land at. He circled, "buzzed" the field to get a better view of it and was greeted by various volleys of uncomfortable accurate flak and 50 cal. machine-gun fire.

The astounded B-26 swooped out of range of the anti-aircraft fire and the crew discussed the situation over the interphone. They decided that since they knew they were many miles behind the Allies' front lines, "Hell Buster Henry" must have been mistaken by Allied AA crews for a German plane. They debated the advisability of circling again, dropping flares of the Allied "colors of the day," and trying again to land. The possibility of attempting to land on one of the wide straight "Autobahn" highways below was also discussed—rather gingerly.

Luckily, just at that instant, the plane's "air to ground" radio began to function again. Contact was established with Allied flying control, and directions for reaching an Allied airstrip near Liege, in Belgium, was received.

On landing, with two teaspoonsful of gasoline left in each tank, the perspiring crew asked about the airfield that had shot at them. They learned that—due to the bad visibility and their faulty radios—they had gotten off course and had tried to land at a German-held airdrome several miles east of Bonn, in the heart of the "Ruhr pocket." "Hell Buster Henry" was gassed up at the Belgium strip, took off, and, that same afternoon, returned home to the "Bridge Busters," base in France.

Later, Sgt. Jones had this to say about his experience, "I was in the radio compartment all the time, twirling the dials like mad trying to get contact with our Flying Control. I heard the bullets going by at one point, and the flak, but I couldn't imagine what it was and had no time to be pondering about it. I was baffled, that's all. But I must have thought about it without knowing it, for when we finally landed I found I had cushioned myself as though for a crash landing. You can believe it or not, but I still don't remember doing that."

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Bauer, RFD 2, Chelsea, received word that their son, Richard Bauer, S-2C, had arrived on an island across the Equator. He spent one day at Pearl Harbor and thought it was a very pretty place. Richard, who is 18 years old, was inducted into the Navy on January 2. On completion of his boot training at Great Lakes he spent a week's leave with his parents, then was sent to Shoemaker, Calif., leaving there six weeks ago.

Jack R. Barry, Motor Machinist's Mate First Class, of the U. S. Coast Guard, left Thursday, June 7 for Pennsylvania to visit a brother-in-law, Buddie Bollinger, also of the Coast Guard, who is home from the Southwest Pacific. With Jack are his wife Ida, and son Russell. Jack, veteran of 22 convoy trips across the North Atlantic and the Normandy invasion, spent two weeks of his thirty-day rehabilitation leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Murphy.

Russell Barry, Mo-MM2C, U. S. Coast Guard, stationed at Operating Base, City Island, N. Y., and his wife spent the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Murphy.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Steinaway entertained at a party on Thursday evening for their son Veryl, following his graduation, the guests including Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Steinaway and Mr. and Mrs. Alton Steinaway of Dexter, Mr. and Mrs. Gustav Esch and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Steinaway of Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bauer and son of Ann Arbor.

GIRL SCOUT NEWS

Fair weather, Girl Scout Campers! Fifty-five Girl Scouts and leaders are enjoying a week of camping at Camp Birkett, Big Silver Lake.

With the weather in their favor, the girls got off to a good start, with the week crammed full of exciting events—from "camp capers," swimming, handicraft, dramatics, nature study, games, etc. Each day closes with a special program of fun and inspiration. An Indian "pow-wow" was the lead-off program, scheduled for Monday night.

The camp is divided into three age groups or units, for the purpose of instruction and supervision.

Miss Mabel Fox is acting as camp director, with Miss Mary Beam, Mrs. Deane Rogers and Mrs. Morris Alpert as unit leaders.

Miss Doris Ashley and Miss Wilma Schweinfurth are the swimming directors. Mrs. Franklin Gee directs nature study and Miss Barbara McMahon supervises the handicraft work.

The Junior counselors—June Vail, Rosemary Hummel, Jean Eisenbeiser and Barbara Eaton—are assistants to the unit leaders and help with the many activities of our camp. Last, but not least, Mrs. Lawrence Fowler and Miss Jane Downer, provide the camp with three square meals a day.

With this fine schedule, it is assured that each girl will return home from her week at camp with some precious token of remembrance—be it the dearly coveted reward for the best all-around camper, winner of the swimmer's badge, or just an overdose of sunburn or a generous supply of mosquito bites.

34 Years Ago

Thursday, June 8, 1911

Chelsea was the scene of a severe wind storm about 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening and considerable damage was done. Building No. 8 of the Flanders Manufacturing Co. was badly damaged. Many windows were blown in around town, shade and fruit trees uprooted, and many telegraph and telephone poles are down. At about 9:00 o'clock a small cyclone struck the A. B. Skinner farm, leveling fences, uprooting trees and damaging buildings. A tool shed was completely blown down and a large hole torn in the barn roof. In the vicinity of Unadilla the loss from the storm reached several thousand dollars. Everywhere in this vicinity highways were blocked with fallen trees and telephone poles and wires.

The large barn on the farm of Herbert Harvey, Waterloo township, was struck by lightning and completely destroyed, Sunday night. Mr. Harvey succeeded in getting his horses out of the burning building but four cows were consumed by the flames. The contents of the barn, consisting of buggies, harnesses, farm tools, grain and six tons of hay were burned. The barn was erected last year at a cost of $1,200, and was insured for $900.

The C.E.S. track team, accompanied by Supt. Hendry, went to Plymouth on Friday to participate in the annual meet between the schools of Plymouth, Wayne and Chelsea, and came back with the coveted cup that they had heretofore tried many times to win. Chelsea gained nine firsts, two seconds, five thirds, and five fourths out of thirteen events. The point winners were Walworth, Kuhl, Jensen, L. Prendergast, J. Prendergast, E. Patterson and R. Kalmbach. Miller Sisters are having the basement walls built for a new residence which they will have erected on East Summit St.

Special Sunday Dinner with table service.

When the war began, we enlisted in the homefront fight against inflation. We nailed down prices—and we've kept them nailed down at pre-war levels. You pay no more today for nationally advertised drug store products than you did in 1939—and for some, you actually pay less. Our prices never went to war—which is why you enjoy peacetime economy today and EVERY DAY when you shop at BURG'S for health and beauty aids.

He can't ask you now!

• • • He's an American hero. After fighting bloody battles in the Pacific, he was home on leave two years ago.

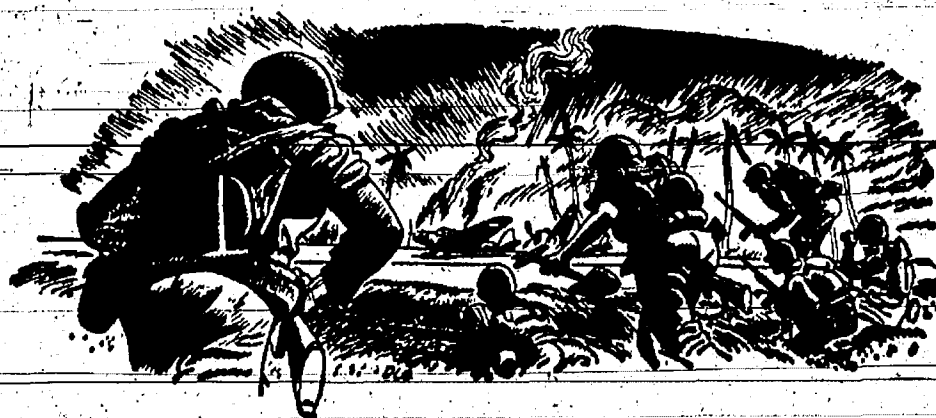

• • • You may remember seeing his picture. His name is John Basilone, Marine Gunnery Sergeant. He traveled all over America, urging every American to buy more bonds.

• • • He said: "You don't know—you can't know—how much it means to the boys out there when they hear the folks back home have just put another War Bond Drive over the top."

• • • They gave him the Congressional Medal of Honor and offered him a commission. He didn't want it. "I'm a plain soldier," he said. "I want to stay one."

• • • Well, he stayed a plain Marine—like Joe and Bill and the fellows down the street. He can't ask you to buy bigger bonds during the Seventh. He was killed a few weeks ago on Iwo, just after he had led his assault team to the edge of an airfield we needed desperately.

• • • We can't let him and all our other fighting heroes down. Remember, last year we had two War Loan Drives by this time,

The Seventh is our personal call to arms—two drives in one. That's why our quota is large.

• • • We must meet it—we will meet it—for the hero of Iwo—for Victory—for pride in America.
