Lakes Under-Fished And Over-Populated

By Gene Alleman

Are Michigan's inland lakes under-fished and over-populated?

With the panfish season opening next Monday (June 25), it's going to be pretty hard to convince some Michigan sportsmen, especially if they return home with a poor catch, that this was the reason.

And yet the conservation department's institute of fisheries research at Ann Arbor suspects it to be the sober truth. As reported last October, findings of Dr. Albert Hazzard and other scientists tend to prove that the natural limit of food in lakes controls fish population. Since the food supply is limited, if fish are not removed all fish become stunted, too small for legal catches. Result: Fishing is poor!

This whole idea, radical and unorthodox, caused many legislators to wag their heads in doubt and outright incredulity in 1945 when a bill, adopted by the state senate, arrived in the house of representatives for committee deliberation.

The measure would have given the conservation department discretionary power to remove size and creel limits, if and when lake and stream conditions exist indicating over-population of fish.

Fearful that local sportsmen would rebel against such topsy-turvy business, the representatives cautiously amended the bill to permit the department to try it out on twenty lakes and ten streams, but not more than one lake to any county. Then if results should be gathered to sustain the new beliefs, the legislature might consider extension to other lakes, and perhaps to the entire state. So went the reasoning, and it was good common sense.

Lending support to the research conclusion is the fact that fishing in nine Ogemaw county lakes at Grousehaven, newly acquired by the state, has been exceptionally poor. This condition was a surprise to sportsmen, for the lakes had been closed to the public for more than a decade.

According to old-fashioned concepts, fishing should be better the longer fish were left undisturbed to grow up. Actually the opposite is true at Grousehaven. But since all nine lakes are in Ogemaw county, the experiments will be confined to one lake. If fishing improves in this lake, while it continues to be poor in others, then sportsmen should be convinced that Dr. Hazzard of the research institute knows his stuff. It'll be an interesting experiment.

Bear lake in Hillsdale county is the first inland lake in southern Michigan to be so designated by the state for a similar control. Tests show this lake to be overpopulated with fish that are stunted and under-size.

Instead of fishing being better when Michigan service men come home, the opposite may be the case. Less fishing, under present restrictions, may have encouraged over-population, whereas increased fishing, perhaps liberalized as to size and creel limits, may actually make fishing better. It's a funny world!

Farmers Face Penalties On Poultry Profiteering

The Office of Price Administration, through the County Rationing Board in Ann Arbor, has issued the following warning to farmers:

"We are receiving repeated and continuing complaints that farmers in this area are selling eggs and chickens to consumers who drive out from Detroit and elsewhere, for prices far above the ceiling.

"Ceiling prices for both of these commodities are sufficiently high to allow the farmer a fair profit while still operating within OPA regulations. Unless the line is held with regulated prices, gross unfairness results and inflation grows.

"The OPA Enforcement Division has authority, which it is now using in numerous cases of proved violation, to assess the violator three times the amount of the overcharges, or $25.00, whichever is greater. This is in the case of a first offense. Second offenses are assumed to be voluntary and are assessed $50.00 or are taken over by legal enforcement."

Bond Sales Report

We of Chelsea are today $152,613.75 short of our Bond Goal of $315,000.00. To date the investments have totaled: $91,667.25 in "E" bonds; $59,000.00 in "Corporation" sales; $11,718.00 in "Other" issues.

With only eleven days remaining in the Seventh War Loan, we must join the Yankee Forces and instigate a new invasion whereby we may reach the top and keep our colors flying. The sum must be made up through the purchase of bonds by persons who have not yet invested or by the buying of extra bonds by those who have already rallied to the call.

Chelsea has never yet failed to conquer the effort to raise its quota, but with 48 per cent of our total still outstanding, we will have to function in a big way.

LET'S HELP THE BOYS BOOZT THE FLAG!

With Our Men In Service

Aboard the Destroyer Murray in the Pacific—Vincent E. Dorer, seaman, first class, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. August A. Dorer, 303-East Middle St., Chelsea, Mich., is serving aboard this gallant destroyer of Uncle Sam's "Sheepdog Fleet," which has taken part in more than a dozen major Naval engagements in Pacific waters since being commissioned two years ago.

She first went into combat when she took part in the big raid on Wake Island in October, 1943. Later she participated in actions at Bougainville and Rabaul.

In November, 1943, she joined the Gilberts invasion force in time to go into Tarawa with it. While there, she gave burial at sea, with full military honors, to some of the marines killed in the beach assault.

The Murray struck close to the Japanese mainland in February of this year, acting in a screen for the carriers making strikes on Tokyo. To celebrate being in sight of the snow-capped mountains of the enemy homeland, the Captain, Cdr. Paul L. Devos, Miami, Ariz., ordered a special treat of ice cream for all hands.

Eight American pilots shot down at sea have been rescued by the Murray. She has shot down many enemy planes.

With Sixth Army on Luzon—First Lieutenant Ellis C. Boyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd S. Boyce, Chelsea, Michigan, who received the Silver Star for gallantry in action on D-Day in Normandy, has been awarded the Presidential Unit Citation.

Lieutenant Boyce is a member of the 293rd Joint Signal Assault Company, a combined operations group which participated in the invasion of Normandy and were the first combat group to leave the European theater to take part in operations in the Pacific.

They land with the assault forces, set up and maintain communications and direct naval and air bombardment at enemy targets. As part of General Walter Krueger's Sixth Army they landed at Lingayen Gulf and helped to reduce Japanese strong points, making possible the fast advance of the infantry troops.

A graduate of Jackson high school, Lt. Boyce was employed by the Chelsea Spring Company before joining the army in 1941.

Great Lakes, Ill.—Roland James Richards, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. A. Richards, Chelsea, Michigan, is receiving his initial Naval indoctrination at the U. S. Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

His recruit training consists of instruction in seamanship, military drill and general Naval procedure. During this period a series of aptitude tests will be taken by the recruit to determine whether he will be assigned to a Naval Service School, to a shore station or to immediate duty at sea.

When his recruit training is completed, the seaman will receive a period of leave.

First Lt. Eugene Czaplak, who is eligible for a discharge, has re-enlisted with the U. S. Army. He is now stationed at Avenger Field, Sweetwater, Texas, where he is instructor on the Thunderbolt P-47. Lt. Czaplak's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Czaplak, of Sylvan, received a communication from the 376th Fighter Squadron Headquarters in New York, advising them of the Battle Participation credits awarded Lt. Czaplak. They are Bronze Service Star campaign "Normandy," Bronze Service Star campaign "Northern France," and Bronze Service Star campaign "Germany." Lt. Czaplak has many other medals, including the Aid Medal, five Oak Leaf Clusters, and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Sgt. Robert Allshouse received his honorable discharge from the Army on June 15. He trained at Fort Custer and Camp Dix in the states before being sent to Iceland for 19 months. From Iceland he was sent to England for two months, then to Ireland for 11 months; hence to France.

He was wounded at Etampes, France, August 21, 1944 and was hospitalized in England for some time, arriving in New York on November 27. Since that time he has been a patient at Percy Jones hospital and has been at Fort Custer.

The total length of time Sgt. Allshouse served in the Army was four years and two months. He was awarded the purple heart.

Pvt. Duane Weiss, who recently received his honorable discharge from the U. S. Army, returned to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Iren Weiss, on Friday. He had been in the service a year and eight months, and was injured Sept. 26, 1944 in Italy.

Sinking Fund Proposed For School District 3 Fr.

At the annual school meeting on July 9, electors in the Chelsea public school district will have the opportunity of deciding whether or not a sinking fund of three mills per year for five years is to be established. If established, the receipts obtained from this source would be set aside in a separate account earmarked for the purpose of future capital improvements as discussed in previous issues of The Standard.

Under present Michigan laws, school building programs are very difficult to carry out, except as plans are made for such programs in advance. The 15-mill Constitutional Amendment provides that all bonded indebtedness be levied over and above the 15-mill limitation for a five-year period only. This in turn limits the bonds to five years and places an exceptionally heavy burden on taxpayers for the five-year period.

The solution which many school districts are finding to the problem is to establish sinking funds so that a part or all of the funds for a building program can be collected before the construction is started. The plan not only distributes costs over a longer period of time but eliminates interest charges.

A school system which is an outstanding example of this plan is the Lansing system. For years they have followed the policy of not starting a construction job until the funds were available. School systems in this area using the plan are Ann Arbor, Ypsilanti 2 Fr. and 12 Fr., Northfield and Manchester, Ann Arbor and Manchester electors voted, during the past winter, to establish sinking funds.

Story Hour At Library Starts Next Wednesday

By the Librarian

Several of our little library friends have asked when the story telling lady would be coming again. Well, boys and girls, here is the date. Starting on Wednesday, June 27, from 3:00 to 4:00 p.m. and on every Wednesday (omitting July 4) until August 15, Miss Dorothy Beach, of the Jackson city elementary schools, who knows fairy tales, folk tales, animal stories, Indians and many others, will be in the library to tell these stories to all who will be here at that time.

Better be there, for with your help Miss Beach will also dramatize some of these stories and it's fun when you can take part in it yourself.

On Thursday evening of last week Miss Evelyn Parks, consultant from the Michigan State Library at Lansing, and Ridden Harrell, librarian at the University of Michigan Museum Library, were at the Chelsea Public Library.

Miss Parks inspected the library and advised the Board of Trustees on general matters of library procedure. She spoke very highly of the library's location, saying it was the best of any small library she had visited in Michigan. She advised a re-arrangement of furniture and equipment and suggested purchase of some pieces of furniture. She was very much pleased with the extension service that the library has evolved.

Mr. Harrell talked to the board about a county library set-up for this county. The trustees had many questions to ask about the effects a county library would have on the present library and its service which Mr. Harrell most ably discussed and answered.

Miss Nina Belle Wurster was a guest member of the library's book committee at its June meeting. This is the committee which does all the purchasing of books, magazines and pamphlets. She was a most enthusiastic contributor and gave the committee some valuable ideas and suggestions.

Relative to the Dumbarton Oaks exhibit, below is a compiled list of books available at the library:

Your Victory Garden

By O. I. Gregg, M.S.C. Extension Garden Specialist.

One of the best ways to increase production of vegetable crops in the garden is by mulching.

A mulch can be applied any time during the growing season. Later as the crops are harvested, the partially decayed material may be spaded or plowed under. This adds much-needed organic matter to the soil.

Leaves, straw, spoiled hay, grass clippings, or even weeds can be used. Spread the mulch three to four inches deep between the rows.

Results are quickly seen. The plants take on new vigor, better color, and develop more and better vegetables. Cleaner fruit is harvested. Weed growth is almost entirely stopped, thus saving work of cultivating.

If the mulching material left on the garden is spaded under the following spring, spread some nitrogenous fertilizer of the ground before spading. This replaces nitrogen that is temporarily taken from the soil as the mulch decays.

FRED: "Is it true, Judge, that a war can't be won without the use of war-alcohol... the kind the beverage distillers have been producing for the government for over two years?"

OLD JUDGE: "That's right, Fred. It is a basic ingredient in the smokeless powder used in virtually every firearm from a pistol to a 16-inch gun. And, in addition, it plays a more human role. The medical supplies which our military doctors use to alleviate pain, combat infection, save lives are prepared with war-alcohol."

FRED: "No wonder, then, more and more people are recognizing the great contribution our beverage distillers have made to the winning of the war with their double-duty product."

Through the Ages the Flag Has Spoken of Freedom

THE FLAG SPEAKS

Born during the nation's infancy, I have grown with it, my stars increasing in number, the domain over which I have expanded until the sun on my flying folds now never sets.

Filled with significance are my colors of red, white and blue into which have been woven the strength and courage of American manhood, the love and loyalty of American womanhood.

Stirring are the stories of my stars and stripes. I represent the Declaration of Independence. I stand for the Constitution of the United States. I reflect the wealth and grandeur of this great Land of Opportunity.

I signify the Law of the Land.

I tell the achievements and progress of the American people in art and science, culture and literature, invention and commerce, trade and industry.

I stand for peace and good will among the nations of the world.

I believe in tolerance.

I am the badge of the nation's Greatness, and the emblem of its Destiny.

Threaten Me and Millions Will Spring to My Defense.

I AM THE AMERICAN FLAG.

Congressional Committee Reports on Meat Situation

The Congressional committee has completed its investigation of the meat situation and made its report. Some of its findings and conclusions are as follows:

Cattle now arriving in the Chicago district are running from 600 to 800 pounds which dress out about 450 pounds of meat. In previous years they run from 1200 to 1400 pounds and dressed out about 1000 pounds. This change is caused by the high price of feed, which does not permit feeding animals the usual fattening rations.

Hogs, which were a drug on the market in 1944 caused the government to order curtailment of hog production 30 per cent and which caused the farmer to curtail 50 per cent because of reduction of hog ceiling prices, and feed costs too high.

Coupled with the fact that in 1944 government requirements were that hogs weigh a certain amount and over and under that weight farmers were penalized to reduce costs to packers.

Poultry and eggs were in great surplus in 1944, and the government, in an effort to support the prices, lost over a million 30-dozen cases of eggs because of lack of knowledge about storage. Producers were again asked to limit production for 1945, and feed prices raised.

The Results

In New York City it is estimated that 90 per cent of all meats were sold on the black market, and such operators often failed to declare their income taxes on their large profits.

Boston, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, and other cities had big black market sales. In New York it was found that steaks cost 75c to one dollar per pound; that poultry was selling at $1.00 per pound; that many former shops selling meats were ostensibly closed yet did a large business through the back doors at fabulous prices.

Cattle growers claim that there should be a ceiling price of at least four cents more for fat cattle than on the skinny lot now being marketed.

It was found that large chain stores have purchased packing houses and now buy direct from the farmers, thus concentrating all the chances to make a profit into one organization.

In a mistaken effort to increase pork production permits were issued in great numbers to farmers and others to slaughter hogs and other animals but this made it much easier for black markets, and restaurants and night clubs found it easy to get plenty of meats without points.

The OPA issued subsidies of a small sum to slaughterers who obeyed their orders but when a man could get but two cents a pound subsidy and on the other hand could get from 5c to 20c more without asking any questions, he did not apply for any subsidy.

When the report reached the president he at once asked for the resignations of Jones and Wickard, whose management of the matter had been so totally wrong.

Committee Recommendations

The committee recommended that all matters pertaining to food matters be placed under one single control which would have charge of all phases, which would eliminate from the much-censured OPA its control over foods.

That the support price of hogs should be increased at once to $13.50 per hundred, drove weight.

Inducements should be made to feeders to fatten cattle to saleable sizes and better grading.

Inducements should be given to poultry raisers and fishermen to produce much larger portions of needed foods.

They state that the ten-point program issued April 23 by the Office of War Information and OPA would not work as the producer and consumer do not have confidence in the OPA or food department.

Sugar Situation

The report of the congressional committee investigating the sugar situation has been made public. Mr. Wickard and Mr. Jones have resigned. Here are some of the facts the committee found.

Reduced American production from 1,500,000 tons to 1,000,000 tons.

The loss of the Philippines caused the loss of over one million tons.

Washington Bureaucrats bought 2,700,000 tons from Cuba with the agreement that Cuba should not produce but 225,000 tons in excess of the order.

In 1943 the larger part of the Porto Rican sugar cane was left on the ground because of lack of transportation of sugar.

Due to a short crop in Peru a lot of Cuban sugar went to Peru.

Where Did the Sugar Go?

In 1944, 1,025,200 tons was set aside for civilian use, but ration boards let out 800,000 tons more than the allotment.

Bakeries and candy and ice cream factories exceeded their allotment 600,000 tons.

900,000 tons used in making alcohol, 400,000 tons used in home canning.

Special sugar stamp number 40 took 850,000 tons.

125,000,000 gallons of molasses in Cuba was lost because of argument about price. This meant a loss of 450,000 tons of sugar.

During the first three months of 1945, civilians bought 102,419 more tons of sugar than in the same period in 1944, because of fear of loss of point value as occurred in December 1944.

The Committee Recommends

Immediate purchase of Cuba's entire 1946 sugar crop.

Provide machinery to produce more sugar in Hawaii.

Provide additional machines to increase beet sugar production.

Change sugar board controls from a total of 20 different bureaus, to the control of but one board.

Ration sugar production as follows—First priority: Army, Navy, Air Forces; Hospitals.

Second priority: Civilians of the United States.

Third priority: Foreign demands and lend-lease if any remains.
