Capt. Beach Killed In Action On December 15

Mrs. D. E. Beach received a telegram from the War Department on Tuesday, informing her that her son, Captain Kenneth O. Beach, had been killed in action in the Pacific area on December 15, 1944. The telegram follows:

"The Secretary of War deeply regrets to inform you that your son, Captain Kenneth O. Beach, was killed in action in the Pacific area on Dec. 15, 1944, while being transported aboard a Japanese vessel. Confirming letter follows."

CAPT. KENNETH O. BEACH

training Medical Corps officers. He was assigned to the 31st Infantry in June, 1941, and was sent to Nichols Field, Manila, Philippine Islands, spending ten weeks in maneuvers on the islands.

Transferred to Regimental staff, Post of Manila, in August of the same year, he was given the assignment of post surveying and investigating officer and auditor of the 31st Infantry, also serving as fire marshal of the post and supervisor of the non-commissioned officers' club.

Captain Beach was taken prisoner by the Japs when Corregidor fell on May 7, 1942. He survived the "March of Death" from Bataan to Manila, later he was sent to Davao Prison Camp No. 2 on Mindanao Island, where he was held for two years; he was returned to Manila in June, 1944, and according to the telegram received Tuesday was being transferred to another destination when his transport was sunk.

Captain Beach was born Nov. 9, 1912 at Lima Center, the son of Mrs. D. E. Beach and the late Mr. Beach. He graduated from Chelsea high school in 1931, and in 1935 received his Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Michigan, where he was commissioned a Second Lieutenant in the U. S. Reserves. After his graduation he was employed in the book-keeping department of the Ann Arbor Commercial and Savings Bank. In 1940 he graduated from the University of Miami, Coral Gables, Fla., with an L.L.B. degree, and was admitted to the practice of law in Florida.

Surviving are his mother, and two brothers, Lt. Col. Dwight E. Beach, serving in the Pacific, and David A. Beach, of Chelsea.

Capt. Beach was a member of the First Congregational church, Chelsea, where memorial services will be held during the morning service on Sunday, August 5. He was also a member of Olive Lodge 156, F. & A. M.

M-92 Improved North And South of Chelsea

Highway M-92, north and south of Chelsea, has been macadamized during the past week under the direction of the State Highway Department. The improvement was made from Stockbridge to Lyndon Center, from Winkner Road to Chelsea, and south of Chelsea from old US-12 to new US-12. The highway from Lyndon Center to Winkner Road is being graded, with some relocation, following which it will also be given the same surfacing.

Three layers of tar and gravel were used in improving the highway, which should give good service on this route which does not carry exceedingly heavy traffic.

Lt. George Winans was home from Romulus for the week-end.

Chelsea Spring Co. and Central Fibre Products Co. Will Add Over 60,000 Sq. Ft. Floor Space to Meet Post-War Manufacturing Demands.

With Our Men In Service

Pfc. Elden Harris received his honorable discharge from army service on July 10 and has returned to his home in Ann Arbor.

Entering the service in November, 1943, he was in training at Camp Wolters, Texas, Fort George Meade, Md. and Camp Rucker, Ala. He went overseas in August, 1944, serving in General Patton's Third Army and was injured in Belgium in October.

He was hospitalized in England until March, when he was brought to Clinton, Iowa and later was transferred to Percy Jones hospital, Battle Creek.

Pfc. Harris is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Harris and son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dwyer of Chelsea.

Navy Lt. Leon L. Beutler and his bride, the former Coula Psaras of Chicago, returned to Chelsea the first of last week after spending a week with their father, E. W. Beutler and other relatives in Chelsea and vicinity.

Lt. Beutler has been on active duty in the Pacific for 20 months, participating in seven invasions. He will be reporting at a west coast Naval Station later this month.

Dudley Foster, GM-2C, who recently completed a course in Ammunition Handling at Camp Peary, Va., spent a four-day leave with his family here, leaving on Sunday for Norfolk, Va., where he will complete his training at a Destroyer's school. His mother, Mrs. Harry Foster, gave him a farewell dinner on Saturday evening, the guests including Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Verma Foster and daughter of Detroit and Mrs. Robert Foster of Chelsea.

An Advanced Fourteenth Air Force Base, Western China.—The promotion to corporal of Pfc. Robert N. Perkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman W. Perkins of 503 East street, Chelsea, whose wife, Mrs. Melvia Jean Perkins, resides at 20337 Old US-12, Chelsea, has been announced by the commanding officer of the "Globe Trotters" air service group at an advanced Fourteenth Air Force base in Western China. Build More Houses!

(An Editorial)

With Chelsea's industries embarking upon a program of expansion for post-war activity which will dwarf the pre-war period here, it is obvious that this village's greatest need in order to keep up with this accelerated industrial activity will be adequate housing for the workers who are to be employed by local factories.

It is true that war-time employment has been high in Chelsea, perhaps greater than will be required during the period ahead, but more skilled labor will be required and these skilled workmen, or many of them, must be induced to come here from other communities. With an acute shortage of housing, as already exists, there is no inducement. On the other hand, even if workmen continue to drive into the village to work the village at large does not receive the benefits which would come from them if they were a part of the community.

Many local residents are making plans for building residences as soon as restrictions are lifted, and this will relieve the situation to some extent. Others must be encouraged to make plans now for building homes of their own. There are a number of desirable sites available, and perhaps new subdivisions will be opened.

With the need so great, it is hoped that the post-war period will bring a reasonably large house-building boom in Chelsea!

EMPLOY NEW CUSTODIAN

The Board of Education has employed Russell Altstetter, as custodian of the Chelsea public schools to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Ed. Gantner. Mr. Altstetter will assume his new duties on August 20.

Max Roedel of Detroit is spending several days at the home of his mother, Mrs. Alice Roedel.

Manufacturing facilities in Chelsea's factories will be increased by more than 60,000 square feet of floor space within the next few months, with the addition of large units by two local industries, both of which were started this week.

Largest of the additions is being constructed by the Chelsea Spring Co., with a new building containing approximately 42,000 square feet of floor space. This addition will be one story, brick and steel sash construction, and it is expected that the building will be ready for occupancy in November. New equipment has been ordered for installation in this unit.

This expansion is being made by Chelsea Spring to facilitate their post-war manufacture of automotive and farm implement springs, with large orders already on their books. They anticipate an increase in employment of at least 100 above their war-time peak.

Central Fibre Products Co. also started construction of a new building this week, with about 20,000 square feet of floor space. Located on North Main street, between the street and the present saw-tooth building, the new structure will be one-story brick with structural steel frame and gypsum roof. The building will be completed this fall.

Additional space is required by Central Fibre because of expansion of their Detroit plant which necessitates the manufacture of all their products in the Chelsea plant, and also to relieve the present overcrowded condition in their plant.

A large increase in post-war work is anticipated by this company, which will also result in an increase in employment.

Third Concert To Honor Civic Groups, Churches

This Saturday evening at 8:30 the Chelsea High School Band will present its third of a series of six concerts, which will be given in the downtown business district.

Civic organizations and churches will be honored, for their valuable contribution in making Chelsea such a wonderful place in which to live. Organizations such as Kiwanis, the American Legion, V.F.W., the various women's clubs and the lodges contribute much each year in time and money to support local, state and national projects, which contribute greatly in community betterment. Sponsoring of services on Memorial Day and the annual Halloween party for the kiddies are examples of the many activities of importance of civic organizations to the community.

Faithfully, day in and day out, the churches, Protestant and Catholic, minister to the spiritual needs of Chelsea and surrounding community. It is to the ministers and their church laymen that the band also dedicates their third program.

Jerry Edwards Dance Was Very Successful

The dance, Friday, July 20, was very well attended as there were over 200 people there and we are very sure everyone had the time of their life.

There were many more towns people who attended this dance and we are very sure there will be many more towns people at the dance, August 3, with Jerry Edwards and his orchestra. We want to thank Mrs. L. D. Rogers and Mr. and Mrs. Deane Rogers for chaperoning the dance; also we want to thank Mrs. Noll for letting us use her store fan.

We want to remind people that these dances are for the pleasure of all who like to dance, no matter how old they are.

All the proceeds from these dances are to be spent for new equipment for the football team.

WEDDINGS

Allhouse-Sanderson
Miss Lillian E. Allhouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd J. Allhouse, became the bride of Carl J. Sanderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Sanderson, at a ceremony which took place at the First Congregational church on Saturday evening, July 21, with the Rev. W. H. Skentelbury officiating at the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated simply with an arrangement of white flowers and palms at the altar. Tall candelabra holding many lighted tapers, placed on both sides of the altar and lighted tapers at each window of the church made an impressive background for the ceremony.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a wedding gown of slipper satin, candlelight shade, fashioned with a long torso, sweetheart neckline and Princess sleeves with very full skirt and a circular train. The gown had maple leaves of cutwork appliques throughout the skirt. Her fingertip silk illusion veil fell from a beaded crown princess effect. She carried a Colonial bouquet of white lilies.

Lillian was attended by her sister, Mrs. Arnold Lehmann, as matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. John Arend, sister of the groom, and Miss Lois Rietmiller. Their frocks were designed alike in white lace bodices, full marquisette skirts with sweetheart necklines and three-quarter length sleeves. The matron of honor wore a pale blue veil caught at the crown with blue ostrich feathers. The bridesmaids wore matching veils in pink. Their colonial bouquets were of pink and white roses.

Corporal Arnold Lehmann served as best man and seating the guests were Robert Allhouse, brother of the bride, and Leon Sanderson, brother of the groom.

Little Sharon Ann Allhouse, niece of the bride, was flower girl and was dressed identically to the attendants, wore a blue heart-shaped bonnet and carried pink and white flowers in her basket. Tommy Allhouse was his aunt's ring bearer. He wore a white gabardine suit and carried the rings on a white satin heart-shaped lace covered pillow with white satin ribbon streamers.

Preceding the ceremony a recital of bridal music was rendered by Mrs. Lawrence Wacker. Solos, "I Love You Truly," and "Oh Promise Me," were sung by Mrs. M. J. Baxter.

The bride's mother chose a black sheer dress with pink accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses. The groom's mother wore navy with fuchsia accessories and a pink corsage.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The house was decorated with lovely summer flowers. In the dining room the bride's table was covered with a quaker lace cloth and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake with silver candelabra holding lighted tapers on either side.

Serving at the reception were Mrs. Henry Smith of Adrian; Mrs. Leon Sanderson and Miss Marilyn Meyers of Grass Lake.

The newlyweds left on a wedding trip with the bride wearing a dark brown suit with white accessories. She wore a white corsage of roses. Upon their return the couple will be at home on Notten Road.

Both the bride and groom graduated from the Chelsea high school, the groom with the class of '41 and the bride with the class of '42. The bride is employed at the Central Fibre Products Co. and the groom farms.

Pre-nuptial showers for Mr. and Mrs. Sanderson were given by the Rebekah Lodge, Mrs. Wm. Hitchingham, and Mrs. Wm. Sanderson. The couple received many lovely gifts.

Shook-Reed

Miss Gladys Shook, daughter of Walter Shook of Statesville, N. C., became the bride of Robert Reed, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Reed, of Chelsea at a ceremony which took place on Saturday evening at the home of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Wm. H. Skentelbury, 211 East Middle St. The marriage service was read at 8 o'clock in the presence of the immediate families.

For her wedding the bride wore a gown of light blue satin, fashioned with sweetheart neckline and pointed three-quarter length sleeves. Her veil of shoulder length fell from a crown of lace and Johanna Hill roses, gypsophila and bachelor buttons formed her bouquet.

Her only attendant, Miss Lois Bryan of Plymouth, was attired in pink taffeta and carried Tailsman roses. Kenneth Titus of Plymouth assisted his cousin as best man.

Mrs. Reed, mother of the groom, wore a rose dress, with a corsage of white carnations.

Following the ceremony refreshments were served the wedding party at the Sugar Bowl Restaurant, Ann Arbor.

The bride, who attended Sharon school at Statesville, N. C., has recently been employed by the Duchess Throwing Co. in that city.

The groom, who entered the Army Paratroopers in August, 1943, was wounded in Italy in July, 1944, receiving his honorable discharge in November. He is employed by the Hoover Ball and Bearing Co., Ann Arbor.

For the present, Mr. and Mrs. Reed will make their home at 121 North St., Chelsea.

High Island, Lake Michigan.—An abandoned deserted village, complete to a church, school, saw mill, barns and numerous cabins, silently greets the traveler today as he visits High Island in Lake Michigan, the one-time summer colony and hide-out for King Ben Purnell and his House of David of Benton Harbor.

Like its nearby island neighbor, Beaver Island, where the Mormons once practiced polygamy under purported divine sanction, High Island was the offshoot of a strange religious sect featured by King Ben and his harem of young pretty girls.

The two islands, off the beaten path of modern tourists, have much in common as to their past history.

Today, the Irish Catholic fisher-folk dominate St. James, the former Mormon colony. And today the House of David settlement on High Island is slowly decaying into the sandy soil, its wooden buildings standing gaunt like silent sentinels to remind the visitor of the bustling activity 25 to 35 years ago.

From the captain's cabin of the conservation patrol boat No. 1, we had our first view of the small island, about two miles wide and four miles in length, as we rounded the northern coast of Beaver Island on a circular route back to Charlevoix.

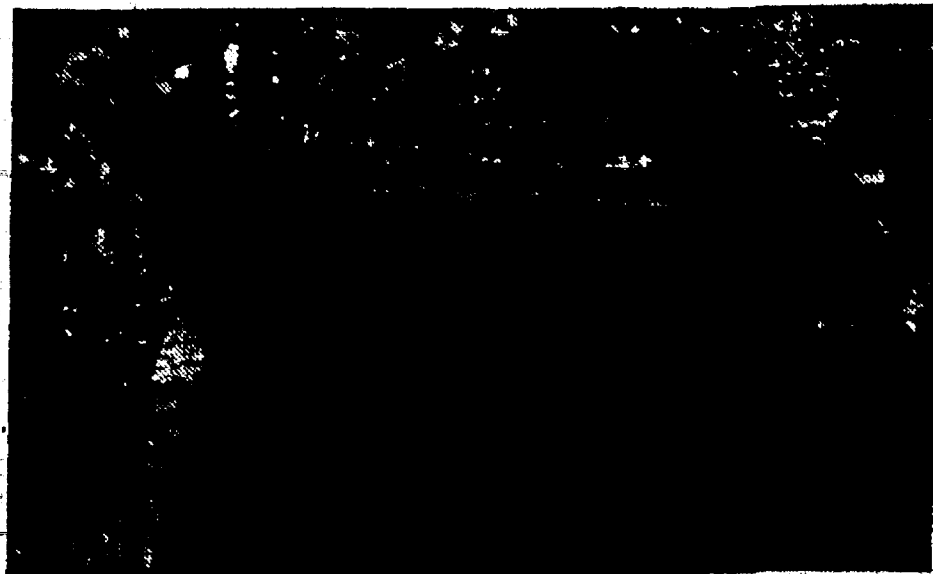

Erwin Belfy, first mate, was at the wheel.

"About the turn of the century High Island was the home of Ottawa and Chippewa Indians," he related. "They lived in log cabins along the small bay at the northern end. The harbor is not a good one, but it does offer shelter under favorable winds. I recall the time when the Indians traveled by water in sailing boats, known as Mackinacs. That was about 1906, as I recall it."

From a marine map, Belfy piloted the 75-foot, marine-powered boat toward the harbor. We tied up to a floating dock, used to load timber, and after lunch of delicious white-fish, prepared by Emil Pischner, the engineer, Captain Charles J. Allers rowed the party ashore.

Along the semi-circle of the bay was the deserted settlement, about 20 buildings in all. Other than the gulls

Hand-Hewn Wagon on Deserted Island

Primitive in its hand-made design is this two-wheel farm wagon, among the decaying remains of a deserted village on High Island, west of Beaver Island, in Lake Michigan off the Charlevoix-Petoskey coast. The settlement was first used by Chippewa Indians, and about 25 to 35 years ago by the "King" Ben Purnell's House of David at Benton Harbor as a summer colony. (For details, see the "Michigan Mirror" this week.)

in the sky, the scene was void of life. The quietude amid the buildings had a haunting fascination. We felt like explorers who had suddenly discovered a forgotten city—the first persons to walk upon the scene.

The air was laden with sweet perfume. Lilies were just in bloom. Outside of a large barn stood an ancient hand-hewn farm wagon. Inside was an ice cutter for two persons. Nearby were two sties for hauling timber.

One of the most unique buildings in the settlement was a seven-sided log stockade, round in appearance, with a narrow entrance leading to an inner room. Leading out from the inner room were seven bedrooms, all identical in dimensions. A brick chimney was suspended from the roof by iron supports, indicating that dwellers of the seven rooms had depended upon the central heating plant for warmth on winter nights.

Not all of the buildings on High Island were constructed by King Ben's followers. A half century ago the Indians resided there, and the Roman Catholic church maintained a mission and a school, probably an offshoot of the old mission at Cross Village, north of Petoskey, known to the French as L'arbre Croche, the oldest settlement of continuous occupancy in the state of Michigan.

After the Indians moved to St. James, attracted by steady wages of the fishermen and availability of liquor, King Ben and his bearded tribe moved to the seclusion of High Island, first to exploit the remaining good timber there and then to enjoy the perfect safety of the island as a hide-away from snooping police officers.

Set by repeated charges of immorality, King Ben finally disappeared early in 1923, and the Berrien county sheriff twice raided the House of David colony in Benton Harbor in search of the vanished leader. We recalled the year and this incident as we noticed, upon the walls of the High Island women's dormitory, a two-story structure, pages from an issue of the Chicago Herald and Examiner, a newspaper. The date on the yellowed pages was April 1, 1923.

We recalled, too, how a detachment of state police in 1926, four years after King Ben's disappearance, broke down the doors of the Diamond House at Benton Harbor and captured the missing king, garbed only in a night cap and underwear, along with three women who were clad only in nightgowns.

The authenticity of these historic details is vouched for by the eminent Detroit historian, Dr. Milo M. Quaife.

Captain Allers, who was a young man on Beaver Island when King Ben frequently visited High Island, told us how one pretty wife protested against the king's rule that a bride must wait seven years to reside with her husband. She finally fled from High Island.

"The men at the settlement were suspicious of visitors," Captain Allers added. "They would not let us get out of their sight."

CELEBRATE BIRTHDAY

Sunday, July 22 was a very happy day at the Everett home, when 26 relatives assembled to help Mrs. Irene Everett—Bennet—celebrate her birthday. Due to travel restrictions, those from a distance could not come. Surprise telephone calls from Mr. and Mrs. Fred Everett and Dr. and Mrs. Herbert Coe of Seattle, Wash., and Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Everett of Chicago, Ill., made them a part of the party. Those present were Miss Marian Fenner of Santa Barbara, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Wallace McKee and Mrs. Myrtle Everett of Grand Rapids; Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Smith and family of Auburn, N. Y.; Mr. and Mrs. Harmon Everett and family and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Everett of Lansing; Mr. and Mrs. Merle Everett, their daughter, Mrs. Bogue and son of Kalamazoo; Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey E. Gay and daughter, Mrs. Hardin of Detroit; Mrs. Jerry Miles of Ann Arbor and Miss Jessie Everett, who keeps the old home in Chelsea. Mrs. Fenner received many cards and letters from friends and absent relatives, and enjoyed visiting with one and all. Several of late years, has she been at their family gatherings, so this one was a rare treat. All enjoyed a hymn-sing after lunch, just before separating.

Glick's 5—Cassidy 1

In a battle for first place, Glick's Bulldogs handed Cassidy their second defeat of the season by the score of 5 to 1. Picking up two runs in the second inning the Bulldogs led all the way. The win was a costly one for the Bulldogs as they lost the services of their red-hot third baseman, Bob Adams, who sprained his ankle in the last inning and will be out of the lineup for about 3 or 4 weeks.

Spring 13—Federal 10

Spring Company moved into third place by downing Federal by the score of 13 to 10. After the lead changed several times during the game, Spring pushed across three runs in the seventh for the victory.

Bowser 12—Fibre 11

Bowser pulled an upset as they defeated the powerful Fibre squad 12 to 11. Errors paved the way for most of the runs on both sides. The win moved Bowser out of the cellar and the loss pushed Fibre down into a tie for third.

Counties Get Funds From Highway Dept.

Lansing. — Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has sent the auditor general vouchers for distribution of $875,877.08 in 2nd quarter motor vehicle weight tax returns to the counties and cities of Michigan. All weight tax money is returned to the counties, who turn over approximately one-third to the cities and villages for use in building and maintaining their roads and streets. The rest is retained by the counties for use on county roads.

The 2nd quarter weight tax returns are approximately $29,000 less than in the 2nd quarter of 1944. However, the total for the first two quarters this year is $1,444,662.75 or $493,260.75 more than the first two quarters in 1944. It indicated the increase for the first half of this year plus the fact more full-year plates were bought in the first quarter of 1945 than in the first quarter of 1944. This probably will mean a decline in weight tax payments during the next two quarters as compared to last year, thus reducing the present increase over 1944.

Washtenaw will receive $16,081.34 from this fund.

Highway Commissioner Chas. M. Ziegler has sent vouchers to Auditor General John D. Morrison for return of $1,275,000 of gas tax money to the various counties of the state, which will turn over part of this money to the cities and villages. All this money is used for road and street purposes. A total of $6,750,000 in gas tax money is returned to the counties and cities each year, $200,000 of this amount to counties having the heaviest snowfall to compensate them for snow-removal costs. The rest of the gas tax goes to the state highway department and is its sole source of revenue to meet road, maintenance and construction and also administrative costs.

Washtenaw county will receive $24,016.02 of the current gas tax return.

Osler Answers Queries On Combustion Danger

Several farmers have made inquiry about the danger of spontaneous combustion in hay not sufficiently cured, reports H. S. Osler, County Agricultural Agent. If there is cause for alarm, Mr. Osler states that temperature should be checked. This can be done by the use of a home-made prod consisting of an electrical conduit 6 to 10 feet in length with a pointed wooden plug in one end. A few quarter-inch holes should be bored through the conduit just above the end of the wooden plug. The prod can be forced into the hay where the danger appears and a dairy thermometer can be lowered into the conduit by means of a cord.

After three or four minutes the thermometer can be withdrawn and temperatures noted. If the temperature continues to rise over 180 degrees there is apt to be danger. The mow or stack should be tested in several different places. Arrangements should be made for fire control and the hot spot removed from the mow or stack.

Mr. Osler reports that a stack of hay outdoors which was checked a few years ago showed that there was rise in temperature from June 16 to September 5 when the stack burst into flames. Just before the flames appeared the temperature rose to 288 degrees.

Hay naturally heats some when it is put into the mow but continual rise indicates trouble ahead and it may take place soon after the hay is put in or several weeks later. Mr. Osler reports that his office has plans for making the hay prod mentioned above.

Army Training Course To Start August 1st

Qualified young men of 17 who will be 18 in November will be called to active duty to begin training in the Army Specialized Training Reserve Program by the first of August. Many such applicants who qualified for the government paid for ASTRP college training in the April exams have failed to appear for enlistment.

Those young men eligible for the August class at Michigan State College must enlist in the Army within the next few days. Because vacation time has made many qualified applicants careless about enlisting, the closing date for this class has been extended another few days. This is for young men who will be 18 in November of this year.

Major Sidney A. Moore, Army recruiting officer for Michigan says: "Don't miss this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity for college training at no expense to you. I sincerely urge every young man who has qualified for ASTRP training to contact your Army recruiting office now, before it is too late, and enlist."

Guess this kind of puts it up to you, Mrs. Jones-to-be!

It's up to you, honey.

I'll do all I can—but they don't pay privates in the Army very much.

So—it's up to you. It's your turn now, to wear the pants, hold down a job, and take care of the Jones' future finances.

You're smart enough to do it, too. To realize that if you'll take every cent that you don't need to live on and take away in those same War Bonds I've been buying—we'll do all right.

I'll be coming back someday. I know that. I don't think anything could happen to a fellow who's going to marry you. And when I do come back...

With what I've saved in War Bonds, and what you're going to save in War Bonds, and with the extra money those Bonds are going to bring—well...

We'll have a stake. A stake that'll help us to make up for all the time I've been away.

And we'll have something else, too—something that we wouldn't want to be without. Between my fighting and your buying, we'll have the knowledge that we both toed the line and did our share.

So buy those Bonds, honey. And hang onto them. Till the day when I get back—it's up to you!

Keep faith with our fighters—buy War Bonds for keeps!

BATTLE SURGEON

By Frank Slaughter

Out of the North African campaign has come this fast moving, romantic novel paced with the speed of desert warfare. Exciting.

There are two very good reasons for automobile accidents occurring at intersections. According to studies made by experts, they are:

1. Those drivers who try to beat the other fellow to the intersection.
 2. Those drivers who race through intersections, gambling that no one else will enter at the same time.
- You will live longer if you remove your foot from the throttle and slow down before entering an intersection. When you approach a green traffic signal, do not step on the throttle and race toward the intersection. You will live longer if you are prepared to stop should the light change. You can't be too careful at intersections.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received from our kind friends, neighbors and relatives during our recent bereavement in the loss of our husband, father and son. We especially want to thank Rev. Robert Vander Hart for his comforting words, also Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kaimbach.

Mrs. Carrie Benter and family, Mrs. Bertha Benter.

ENTERTAINS PNC CLUB

Mrs. Lawrence Fowler entertained the Past Noble Grand at her home on Wednesday evening, July 18. A pot-luck supper was served to 40 members, after which games and stunts furnished amusement. Mrs. C. McBride of Hopkins, former member of the club, was a guest at the meeting.

New at Pressing
If you're comparatively new at pressing, work with the wrong side except where outside treatment is obviously a must—with your husband's trousers, for instance. It's not that the right side pressing is always a disadvantage. It's just that most fabric take better to wrong side pressing and is safer, too!
